IMPROVED 'A' BOMB OUTPUT ANNOUNCED

AEC Says Production of Better Weapons Is Now 'On Industrial Basis.'

HAS NEW URANIUM SOURCES

It Also Reports Development of Radioactive Cobalt as Cheap Treatment for Cancer.

By FRANK CAREY.

Associated Press Science Writer.

Washington, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—The Atomic Energy Commission announced today that its new and more effective atomic bombs—proof-tested at Eniwetok—are being produced "on an industrial basis."

It also said uranium and plutonium for bombs and other atomic energy uses are being produced "in greater quantities than ever before."

Relating "advances in all phases of the national atomic energy program," the AEC in its sixth semi-annual report to Congress also listed progress on the medical front, including indications that relatively inexpensive radioactive cobalt may eventually prove to be a better cancer treatment than radium.

At the same time the AEC disclosed that it had found ace-in-the-hole sources of uranium in this country that could be used at some future time for military applications—in case the uranium we now get at home and abroad should cease to be available.

U. S. Extensively Prospected.

This country now gets most of its uranium from the Belgian Congo and Canada, which have ores of a high uranium content. Some of the precious stuff also comes from the low-grade carnotite ore of the Colorado plateau—an ore relatively low in uranium content.

The commission told today of extensive exploration and prospecting by the AEC and the United States Geological Survey all over the country. This involved "comprehensive examination of virtually every rock formation in this country, and of mine and smelter products, gas and oil wells, and other places where uranium might occur," the AEC said, adding: "By midyear this work had revealed enormous tonnages of very low-grade materials (that is, materials low in uranium content).

"They cost more to process, but they could be utilized in the future to sustain an atomic energy program for military purposes should lower-cost uranium cease to be available."

No Reference to Controversy.

The report said earlier that in connection with the production of fissionable materials for weapons and other uses "actions have been taken to improve and make more certain the supply of . . . (uranium) ores both from abroad and from sources in the United States."

The 202-page report made no reference to current discussions concerning American-British-Canadian relations in the atomic energy field. And a member of the commission's staff said the report's reference to the newly found domestic uranium sources had no connection with recent speculation concerning American-British-Canadian relations.

One report growing out of the recent Blair House meeting of American atomic and other officials was that AEC Chief Lilienthal feared a cutback in our supplies of uranium from Canada and the Belgian Congo, unless we shared atomic secrets with the British and the Canadians. This report drew a "no comment" from the AEC.

The commission staffman told a newsman that the semi-annual report had been written before the discussions about our relations with our atomic allies had drawn public attention.

A 'Potential' for the Future.

He also said the possible use of very low-grade materials was a "potential" for the future—something that would be used only as an emergency measure. He did grant that it was a potential that could be employed if lower-cost uranium, domestic or foreign, ceased to be available for any reason.

Referring to current production of atomic weapons, the report said:

"New and more effective weapons which were tested at Eniwetok in 1948 are in production. Under the commission's direction, components of these weapons are being produced on an industrial basis by competent manufacturing concerns or special Government facilities throughout the country."

It also said operations in the field of military application of atomic energy "have continued to accelerate during the last six months," adding: "An important development during this period has been the obtaining of a suitable contractor to take over management of the Sandia laboratory near Albuquerque, N. M.."

Sandia is a branch of the Los Alamos scientific laboratory—center for the devolpment of atomic weapons. The Sandia laboratory works closely with the armed forces.

New Cancer Treatment.

And, in the field of medicine and biology involving atomic energy materials and their effects, these were some of the highlights reported:

1. Development of a still-on-trial treatment for the relief of pain and distress in two types of heart disease—angina pectoris and congestive heart failure.

2. First human trials of radioactive cobalt—which shows promise of being an inexpensive substitute for radium in the treatment of cancer. About fifteen cases of five different types of cancer have been treated by Ohio State University researchers with some tumors being destroyed and others temporarily arrested.

3. Research at the University of Michigan, seeking to work out a blood test, similar to a test for syphilis, to diagnose radiation injuries quickly.

Use of Hornets Explored.

4. The possibility of using hornets to detect radiation "leaks" in atomic energy devices—because these insects readily absorb one of the by-products of atomic fission.

5. The possibility of using bacteria to help remove dangerous radioactive materials from atomic energy waste products—just like any ordinary sewage is treated.

6. Successful use of radioactive materials to diagnose male sex hormone deficiencies in victims of the "march of death" on Bataan during the war. Some of these men, said the AEC, had developed breasts like women as a result of malnutrition and tests showed that starvation had reduced their production of normal male hormones.

Russian Uranium From Czech Areas

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—Retired Rear Admiral Ellis M. Zacharias says the chief sources of Russian uranium lie in the areas of two Czechoslovakian cities.

The wartime deputy chief of the office of naval intelligence said in a broadcast that in Yachimov and its "sister city," Przibram, deposits of uranium oxide are "found in veins, without the impure mixture of other materials."

"This raw material is the foundation of the U.S.S.R.'s atomic energy research," he said.

"In the Soviet Union proper," he said, "there are uranium deposits in central Asia, primarily in the Fergana Valley and Turkestan. There are three deposits in Saxony, and two in Hungary, all areas controlled by the Soveit Union."

British Cruiser Hails Amethyst

WAYNE REYNOLDS

Aboard H.M.S. Jamaica, off Tung Yung Island, East China Sea, Aug. 1 (AP)—The patched and listing British sloop Amethyst crept toward Hong Kong today to the tune of a lusty salute from this cruiser for her escape down the Yangtze River under Chinese Communist shore gunfire.

[At Hong Kong the Amethyst's skipper, Lieut. Com. John S. Kerans, is to receive the medal of the Distinguished Service Order with personal approval of King George VI. The British Admiralty has asked the Far Eastern Naval Command to make any further recommendations for crewmen who showed exceptional valor.]

The 1,490-ton Amethyst escaped Saturday night from moorings 60 miles below Nanking, where Communist shore guns had held her pinned since a confused battle between British warships and Communist armies last April 20.

Fueled By Other Units

She came under gunfire from shore twice while running 140 miles down the river in darkness to safety in the Saddle Islands off the Yangtze mouth. She fired back once.

Other fleet units met the battered sloop in the islands and fueled her for the 1,000-mile voyage to Hong Kong.

This cruiser drew alongside the Amethyst as she was slowly cruising down the East China Sea headed for the Formosa Strait.

More than 700 officers and enlisted men cheered at the sight of the Amethyst. The Royal Marine Band played "Cruising Down the River on a Sunday Afternoon" and "The Conquering Hero Comes."

Most of the crews of both the Jamaica and the Amethyst are from England's West Country, and there were signals of "Welcome Back, Tiddy Oggie" (a Devonshire pastry).

Due In Hong Kong Tomorrow

From the Jamaica, observers could count seven patches where the Amethyst had taken artillery hits and there were numerous punctures from smaller weapons fire. The Amethyst had a list to port and reported she was slowing down to repair oil-line troubles. She was expected to pull into Hong Kong Wednesday.

A crew member who came aboard the Jamaica said the first three months of entrapment in the Yangtze were spent mainly in repairing damage inflicted by the Communists in the April 20 fighting. Forty-four British sailors were killed aboard the Amethyst and three other British warships in that engagement.

Torpedo Officer T. J. D. Grant, of the destroyer Concord, which met the sloop after her escape, estimated the Amethyst got 30 hits in the original attacks.

British Ship Greets Amethyst

WAYNE RICHARDSON

Makes Contact With Shell-battered Sloop That Escaped From Reds on Yangtze.

Aboard the H. M. S. Jamaica off Tung Yung Island, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—This 8,000-ton cruiser made contact today with the shell-battered British sloop Amethyst, amid lusty cheers from the cruiser's 700 men.

The Jamaica's mission was to meet the Amethyst, whose bold escape from Chinese Communist captivity in the Yangtze River on Saturday made naval history.

Signal flags displayed by the Jamaica read: "Welcome Back Tiddy Oggie." Tiddy oggie is a Devonshire pastry and the crews of both the Amethyst and the Jamaica are west country lads.

From the Jamaica we were able to count seven places where artillery hits had been patched up by the Amethyst's crew. There were numerous smaller caliber hits on her sides. She had a slight list to port.

With a Royal Marine band playing "Cruising Down the River" and "The Conquering Hero Comes," a boat was launched from the Jamaica to carry mail to the Amethyst.

Has Oil Line Trouble.

The Amethyst signalled she was having ai line trouble and would have to slow up until she made the necessary repairs.

Lieut. P. E. C. Berger of Hatfield, Hertfordshire, wounded veteran of the original attack on the sloop, was transferred with two bags of mail from the Jamaica, to resume his duties as the Amethyst's navigator for the rest of the trip to HongKong. She is due there Wednesday morning.

Dramatic details of the Amethyst's dash for freedom were recounted by Vice Admiral A. C. G. Madden, second in command of the British Navy's Far Eastern station.

The vessel had been pinned down by the Communists in the Yangtze since April 20, when she was caught in a disastrous duel with Red shore batteries.

Madden said the escape was "all very well planned and conducted; the timing also was a vital factor."

"The Amethyst slipped cable Saturday night, at 10.12 Honk Kong time, making as little noise as possible," Madden said. "She followed astern of a steamer."

The ship was challenged and, ironically, a Red gunboat also in the same area was set afire by the Reds' gunfire.

The Amethyst replied to the shore batteries with one round of her main armament and a large amount of fire from her Bren and Oerlikon guns, Madden said.

Forced Draft Indicated

Madden said the sloop turned in an amazing performance, covering 140 miles through varying currents and shifting sandbanks and sharp turns in an effort to get past the Woosung forts before dawn.

The British sloop had only nine tons of fuel left out of a 50-ton supply when she started her dash, Madden said. He said the nine tons were enough to steam for twelve hours at twelve knots and that this indicated the sloop was traveling at forced draft during the dash.

A British Navy spokesman in Hong Kong said yesterday that the Amethyst would refuel at her anchorage in the Saddle Islands, off the Yangtze mouth, from a tanker sent from Japan with three destroyers as escort, and proceed to Hong Kong.

The British were jubilant over the new turn in the "Amethyst affair," which started in April with a confused battle in the Yangtze between the Amethyst and three other British warships and the Communists ashore.

In Hong Kong, British naval authorities met today to decide on a program for the reception of the Amethyst, due here Wednesday. The Navy appealed to local residents to extend hospitality to the officers and men of the sloop, who will be granted leave upon their arrival.]

King Orders Extra Rum

The Admiralty in London announced King George VI had radioed a royal order for the Amethyst's crew to serve an extra ration of rum to all hands in celebration.

An Admiralty spokesman in London said the navy anticipated no trouble on the voyage to Hong Kong from Chinese Nationalist warships reported blockading the Yangtze mouth. He said the Saddle Islands are well out of the river and that at least four British destroyers are near enough to the Amethyst to protect her.

Reported April Losses

Forty-four British sailors perished in the April 20 fighting. Afterward the Communists trained shore guns on the Amethyst, lying at anchor off Rose Island, 60 miles downstream from Nanking, and refused to let her leave until the British paid reparations for 254 Red troops they said were killed.

Negotiations were difficult because the Communists as yet have no recognized government.

Decision Left To Skipper

The British Foreign Office and Admiralty in London said in a joint statement that the escape dash finally was ordered because conditions for the Amethyst's crew were deteriorating while negotiations for her release hung fire.

The decision of how and when to make the break were left to the judgment of Lieut. Com. J. S. Kerans, the Amethyst's skipper.

The statement declared Britain has been and still is ready "to discuss responsibility for the April incident on an appropriate level."

Madden ordered the destroyer Concord to escort the Amethyst in the rendezvous with the Jamaica.

Aboard the Jamaica are 45 enlisted men and the three officers who were crew members of the Amethyst during her April 20 battle.

Last night Capt. Raymond Lowe conducted a 35-minute thanksgiving service for the safety of the Amethyst crew.

Medal For Skipper

London, Aug. 1 (AP)—King George VI approved today an award of a Distinguished Service Order medal to Lieut. Com. John S. Kerans, who commanded the Amethyst on her escape from a Chinese Communist trap on the Yangtze. The medal, one of the top British decorations, is to be given him in Hong Kong, the Admiralty said.

ATTLEE CONFINED TO HOME BY CHILL

Joins Bevin, Cripps In Illness; Condition Not Serious

CHARLES WHITING

London, Aug. 1 (AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee joined two of his chief Labor Government lieutenants on the sick list tonight, as Britain struggled through an economic crisis.

The bald, scholarly Attlee, who is 66, was confined at his official country home near London with "a bad chill," his wife said.

A spokesman at 10 Downing street—the Prime Minister's London residence—said Attlee was not seriously ill but gave no furtther details of his ailment. He said Attlee was keeping in touch with affairs and there was no question now of his delegating some of his duties.

The Prime Minister has been filling for ailing Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer as well as carrying on his own tasks.

Cripps is in a Swiss clinic for treatment of a chronic digestive ailment. Bevin, who suffers from heart trouble and high blood pressure, is resting in a resort at Evian, France.

Most Of Leaders In 60's

Attlee apparently became ill shortly after making a political attack against Winston Churchill at a rally Saturday.

Attlee, Bevin and Cripps all came down ill at a time when the Government is struggling with grave labor and economic problems and as the date for a general election nears.

Most of the leaders of Britain's Socialist experiment are in their 60's and all have been constantly in Government harness since the wartime coalition Cabinet was formed in mid-1940.

Their only period of comparative rest was a two-month respite in 1945, when the country was run by a "caretaker" Cabinet pending the general election that brought the Socialists into power.

The only one of the Government's "big four" left in commission is Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister, but Morrison, himself, is not exactly hale and hearty. He was operated on a year ago for a thrombatic leg condition.

Expected Up Soon

Attlee's associates said they expected him up "in a day or two." No medical bulletins will be issued, they said.

Bevin, at 68, is the senior member of the "big four." Morrison is 61 and Cripps, 60.

Attlee was treated last September for eczema of his feet and a duodenal ulcer. In January, his physicians said the ulcer was no longer visible under X-ray examination but they cautioned him to "take it easy."

In 1939, he was stricken during a Labor party conference and later successfully underwent a major operation.

Attlee was to have officiated at a labor-club sports arena opening in Dorset today. Mrs. Attlee appeared in his stead and told the gathering of 3,000:

"My husband is very sorry not to be able to come, but he is in bed with a bad chill."

Prime Minister Attlee Is Sick

London, Aug. 1 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee has fallen ill, becoming the third of Britain's "Big Four" leaders to go on the sick list.

"Mr. Attlee is ill at Chequers with a chill," said a spokesman at No. 10 Downing street, the Prime Minister's official residence.

Chequers south of London, is the country home of the Prime Minister.

Additional Duties

The British Press Association said Attlee, 66, had been bedfast since he went to the country home after delivering a Labor party election campaign speech in London Saturday. He is reported, however, to have kept in close touch with governmental affairs here.

In addition to his regular duties, Attlee has been supervising the Foreign Office and the Treasury recently. He took them over when Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps went to continental Europe for medical attention and rest.

One Fit For Duty

Only Herbert Morrison, Deputy Prime Minister and fourth ranking member of the Labor Government Cabinet, remains fit for duty. Morrison himself was hospitalized a year ago for a blood clot in one leg.

Associates in London said "it is hoped the Prime Minister will return to his office in a day or two."

Attlee was in a London hospital for several weeks a year ago for treatment of a skin disease.

Pact Delegates From Balkans Are Asked

London, Aug. 1 (AP)—Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary were asked today to name delegates to meet with United States and British representatives on Western charges that the three Soviet satellite nations violated their peace treaties.

A Foreign Office spokesman here made the announcement. Britain and the United States have charged the three nations with violating peace treaty clauses concerning freedom of press, assembly and religion.

Russia, also a signatory to the three treaties, has insisted there was no evidence of violations. Romania and Hungary themselves denied the charges.

Notes Sent June 2

The British and Americans sent notes June 2 to Bucharest, Sofia and Budapest. The British-American charges grew out of prosecutions of religious and opposition leaders in the three countries, wartime Axis allies which came under Soviet domination after the war.

Today's notes asked each of the three countries to name its member of a committee to engage in talks with the Americans and British. Each, in addition, was asked to name a disinterested delegate who, under the treaty terms, must be a national of a country not directly involved in the dispute.

3-Sided Talks

In effect, the meetings proposed by the West would be a series of three-sided talks. Treaty terms provide that if Britain, the United States and the accused nation cannot agree on a disinterested delegate, such a member is to be named by the United Nations.

The Conciliation Commission machinery was set up in the peace treaties to deal with such disputes when direct negotiations failed. This is the first dispute in which the use of such commissions has been invoked.

The treaties provide that the findings of such conciliation commissions "shall be accepted by all parties as definitive and binding."

STAFF CHIEFS STUDY ITALY

Preliminary Talks Held On Atlantic Defense Role

BLACKOUT

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 1 (AP). American and Italian military chiefs reported a satisfactory preliminary exchange of views today on how to fit Italy into western Europe's defenses under the North Atlantic treaty.

Italy's army and navy chiefs of staff conferred for 75 minutes with the United States joint chiefs of staff in the tightly guarded war room of Frankfurt's headquarters building.

No details were disclosed, but there were some indications the opening talks revolved in part around Italy's naval position in the Mediterranean.

Peace Pact Limits Navy

Admiral Louis E. Denfield, United States chief of naval operations, pointed out afterward that Italy has a "relatively small navy" under her peace treaty.

"We haven't worked out Italy's role," Admiral Denfield said, but added there was a "good understanding" of problems on both sides.

Lieut. Gen. Efisio Marras, Italian Army chief of staff, said Denfeld and the United States Army and Air Force chiefs, Gen. Omar N. Bradley and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, "displayed a friendship on which we can rely without question."

Before seeing the Italians the Americans met with senior officers of the Luxembourg armed forces.

First Scheduled Meetings

These were the first of scheduled meetings by the joint chiefs with military leaders of the Atlantic-treaty nations. They will move on to London, Paris and Vienna later this week for further conferences.

Vice Admiral Emilio Ferreri, Italian Navy chief of staff, commenting on Admiral Denfeld's reference to his country's depleted navy, said Italy's naval forces now total about 67,500 tons not including 47,000 tons of battleships. Italy's 1946 peace treaty specified that she could build no more battleships and could not maintain more than 67,500 tons in other warships in her fleet.

"From 1950 on," Admiral Ferreri said, "Italy can construct new naval ships under the peace treaty. We hope in a short time to reach the full allowed strength. Our tonnage figures now are near the limit, but the ships are old."

Admiral Denfeld said the Italians did not bring up the question of United States arms aid for western Europe. President Truman's proposal for a $1,450,000,000 arms-aid program is being debated by Congress.

U.S. Staff Chiefs Start Series Of Talks Abroad

P DONNE

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 1 (AP). The United States joint chiefs of staff conferred today with army officers of Italy and Luxembourg in the first of a series of talks with European military representatives.

Lieut. Gen. Efisio Marras, Italy's army chief of staff said at the conclusion of the talks the American chiefs "displayed a friendship on which we can rely without question."

General Marras added "we discussed problems of mutual interest. . . . There is no doubt these discussions will be of great mutual benefit."

Arms-Aid Not Discussed

Admiral Louis Denfeld, United States chief of naval operations, said the Italians did not raise the question of United States arms aid for western Europe.

Earlier, a spokesman for the joint staff said the Luxembourg group did not bring up the arms-aid question at their session either.

The American chiefs—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army; Admiral Louis Denfeld, Navy, and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force, flew in from Washington Saturday for a ten-day study of European defenses and potentialities under the Atlantic pact.

Set To Inspect Airlift

The Duchy of Luxembourg lies in a border area between France and Germany. She has little more than 1,000 square miles, even with territory gained from Germany through a recent frontier revision. The 1945 population estimate was 281,572.

Later in the day the United States staff chiefs will inspect the Berlin airlift operations at Frankfurt's Rhine-Main Airport. Then they will go to United States Army headquarters in Heidelberg for further talks with American commanders in Germany.

They visited informally yesterday with commanders of the United States Army, Navy and Air Force in Germany.

Admiral Denfeld inspected American naval units and took a short boat ride on the Rhine.

In London Later In Week

General Bradley spent the day with Lieut. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, commanding general of the United States Army in Europe. General Vandenberg visited Lieut. Gen. John K. Cannon, commander of the United States Air Force in Europe.

When they go to London later this week the American chiefs will hear two separate plans for Western European defense. Both involve the use of American dollars for arms and equipment.

One group of military leaders will tell the Americans that only a large army — containing up to 1,500,000 combat troops mentioned in Washington debate on the arms fund—can prevent Soviet aggression if the Russians substitute military for political pressure.

British Expect Compromise

Another group will contend that a better answer is a small, mobile but well trained and equipped force of some twenty divisions—perhaps 250,000 men — backed by enough planes to guarantee air control.

London experts believe the upshot will be a compromise.

European pact-members already have, at least on paper, more than 2,000,000 men in all their armed forces. They lack modern stores and equipment, however. They hope American aid will fill that need.

Ouster Hearing Bares Dispute On Smashing German Trusts

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 1 (AP). America's two top trust busters in Germany were at loggerheads over important policy issues for months, Charles H. Collison's hearing before a grievance board disclosed today.

Collison bared the dispute in a clash with his former boss, Richardson Bronson, who fired him last May as deputy chief of the United States decartelization branch of the American Military Government.

Called Progress Too Slow

In appealing his dismissal, Collison charged he was fired because of his testimony before an Army-appointed committee investigating the anti-trust program. Collison had complained progress in breaking up Germany's big businesses was too slow.

Bronson denied today he fired Collison because of that testimony. He admitted he was irked by it and considered it "disloyal to me, to Gen. Lucius D. Clay (then military governor) and to the program."

"Sabotage" Charged

"But I didn't remove you until you accused me to my face of sabotaging the decartelization program," Bronson testified.

Bronson, a veteran administrator from Waterbury, Conn., revealed he himself had been trying for months to resign. He said he was staying on only until the new State Department administration in Germany can find a successor.

The grievance board has not yet ended its hearing on the appeal of Collison, who is an attorney from Staten Island, N.Y.

Leaflets Call For New Hitler, Urge Germans Boycott Polls

DPA DONNE

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 1 (AP). Reminders of Nazism entered western Germany's first federal election campaign today.

Swastika-decorated leaflets calling for the return of a Hitler were distributed in Duesseldorf, West Prussian city, German police reported. The pamphlets attacked Jews and present German political leaders and urged Germans to stay away from the polls August 14. Police said they had no clues as to who may have distributed the leaflets.

One of Hitler's former cabinet ministers, Hjalmar Schacht, made an impromptu plea for the defeat of socialism at a rally of the right-wing Germany party (Deutsche Partei) in Luenenburg. The powerful Social Democrat party advocates the socialization of basic industries.

Attacked By Christians

Socialism also drew fire from speakers of the rival Christian Democratic Union, (CDU). Prof. Ludwig Erhard, addressing a CDU rally at Bochum in Westphalia, blamed Britain's economic troubles on her governing Labor party's socialistic program. He said the British military government's policies "make life difficult for Germans in economic matters." Bochum is in the British occupation zone.

Erhard also criticized the European recovery program, claiming it had failed to provide Germany enough raw materials.

Konrad Adenauer, C.D.U. party chairman, in a speech at Osnabrueck in Prussia, said the West Germans "are far from being politically free" under the occupation. He added they had fewer rights than a colony. Adenauer accused the British of favoring the Social Democrats.

Says Money Is Misused

Franz Bluecher, chairman of the Free Democratic party (LDP), fired another blast at the European Recovery program. LDP, like CDU, stand for private enterprise.

He told a rally in Duesseldorf that recovery money is being misused to over-industrialize Europe without proper regard for market conditions. Bluecher called on the United States to use its big gold reserve to back western Europe's currencies.

In Munich, Dr. Wilhelm Hoegner, former Bavarian minister-president, sharply criticized Allied dismantling of German factories. He also pointed to the danger of "new Nazis," defending Allied fear of a newly rearmed and militant Germany. Addressing an SPD rally, he said:

"This (Allied) fear is the fault of new Nazis, who think they may be in power again two years from now."

Munich is in Bavaria, an American zone state.

HOWLEY QUITS AS BERLIN HEAD

Taylor Slated As Successor To U.S. Commandant

R DONNE

Berlin, Aug 1 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley, who jousted with the Russians for four years as American military commandant of Berlin, is quitting to go back to civilian life.

The United States Military Government for Germany announced it had acceded to his request to be relieved so he can go back home with his family next month.

Sources in the military government predicted his successor in Berlin would be Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chief of staff for American Army forces in Europe and ex-superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.

Howley won praise from John J. McCloy, the new United States military governor for Germany. The tough decisions he had to make in long dealings with the Russians earned him some respect from them as well.

Criticized In Russian Press

Howley was criticized bitterly by the Russian command at times in the Berlin blockade and other squabbles over four-power control of the city. He was denounced at other times in the Soviet press as a symbol of cold-war enmity to the Russian masses.

But he often made decisions without time to consult superiors in Washington on the possibly grave consequences. The Soviet commandant, Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, once prefaced a letter with a remark that "General Howley is a man who likes a fight."

McCloy, in accepting his resignation today, said Howley was entitled to a retirement preference now "in the light of service rendered by the general during a critical period in the history of the city."

Not Career Army Man

Howley once before left the military government but came back at the urging of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, then United States military governor for Germany.

Howley, who is 46 and a former advertising executive, explained that he was not a career Army man and had no future in the State Department, either. Some friends predicted he would stay in public life, however, probably in Philadelphia politics. He was a colonel until a few months ago, dealing with high brass on all sides and making his decisions stick.

ed nation, a just peace and subsequent withdrawal of occupation troops."

Ulbricht, regarded by many observers as the strongest figure in the East German economic commission and the politburo of the Socialist Unity (Communist) party, admitted "not a few former active Nazis are doing responsible tasks in the Russian occupation zone today."

Comparison Made

He compared them favorably to some members of the splinter Christian Democratic and Liberal Democratic parties in eastern Germany who, he said, "keep on looking to Washington and London."

These latter elements, he charged, "busied themselves with negative no-propaganda at the last election."

Four million "no" votes were registered in eastern Germany in May against a Communist-dominated single slate of candidates for the Soviet-sponsored German People's Congress.

On the eve of the congress voting, Soviet authorities permitted

Belgian Socialists Visit King Leopold

Geneva, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—A delegation of Belgian Socialist leaders met last night and today with exiled King Leopold III at his home near Geneva. The delegation is headed by former Premier Paul Henri Spaak. It is expected to leave for Brussels tonight or tomorrow.

Leopold has been in exile since the war and his duties have been taken over by Regent Prince Charles, his brother. The return of the monarch to his throne is a top political issue in Belgium, with the Socialists generally against it.

BUCHAREST CURBS CHURCH

Catholic Welfare Groups Are Ordered Disbanded

Bucharest, Romania, Aug. 1 (AP). Romania's Communist-led government today gave all Roman Catholic welfare orders in the country until August 15 to wind up their affairs.

An official announcement said Catholic monks and nuns are no longer needed for welfare work, because the state now takes care of all their former functions.

It said the personnel of some fifteen organizations devoted to charity, hospital and other social work among Romanian Catholics are dissolved as of today.

Given Three Choices

Their members are given fifteen days to decide on:

1. Retiring to three cloisters and two monasteries set aside for them.
2. Entering old age homes.
3. Quitting clerical life and registering for regular jobs at local employment bureaus.

Catholic sources said the ban would affect about 1,400 nuns and 100 monks, all Romanians except for about twenty foreigners. The Nursing Sisters of St. Vincent de Paul is one of the best known organizations affected.

Most religious Romanians belong to the Orthodox church, but there are a number of Roman Catholic churches and religious centers.

No Surprise To Vatican

[Vatican sources said that while the church had no notification of the action, it came as no surprise. One source said recently that the Romanian Government aims to wipe out the Roman Catholic faith "from the ground up."]

Catholic sources said foreign members of the orders have been leaving Romania regularly under the present regime. Those who remain will have to register with the militia as foreigners, a procedure from which they have been exempt.

The sources said the quarters assigned by the Government for retiring monks and nuns will be "very cramped" for 1,500 persons.

The Nunciature and all other Catholic authorities declined to comment officially. The papal charge d'affaires, Bishop Gerald P. O'Hara, could not be reached tonight but aides said he did not wish to make a statement.

Bishop O'Hara, formerly Bishop of Savannah, Ga., and before that Auxiliary Bishop of Philadelphia, has been regent (charge d'affaires) of the Nunciature here since January, 1947. He was denounced in official Romanian newspapers in May, on charges of instructing bishops to adopt political activity.

[The bishop did not reply to the charges. Vatican sources said he had not been allowed to exercise his official functions as regent for some time.]

The government said the ban on the Catholic welfare orders was decided July 29, on the basis of a report by the ministry of education holding that "all obligations arising from teaching, health and public insurance fall, in accordance with the existing laws, entirely and exclusively upon the sttae."

Orangizations Affected

The ban applies to:

The Congregation of the Brothers of the Christian School.

The order of Piarists.

The Congregation of Notre Dame de Sion.

The Congregation of St. Maria.

The Order of St. Ursula.

The Order of St. Ursula of the Romanian Union.

The Congregation of the Sisters of Notre Dame.

The Misericordian Order.

The Congregation of the Nursing Sisters of St. Vincent de Paul.

The Congregation of the Poor Franciscan Sisters of the Holy Family.

The Congregation of the Nursing Sisters.

The Congregation of Daughters of Charity of St. Frances d'Assisi.

The Congregation of the Social Sisters.

The Congregation of the Franciscan Sisters del Giglio.

The Congregation of the Benedictine Sisters of Sancta Lioba.

Any similar organization not named in the decree also is outlawed.

Rome, Aug. 1 (AP)—Communist Rumania struck a new blow today in the spreading war between communism and the Roman Catholic Church.

A decree of the Rumanian Government dissolved fifteen Roman Catholic welfare orders and directed the priests, monks and nuns of the orders either to leave the religious life or to isolate themselves in cloisters or old-age asylums.

Church's Latest Move

The church delivered its latest counterattack yesterday, with western Germany as the arena. Catholics there were told in a pastoral letter read in the churches to vote only for "Christian" candidates in the August 14 parliamentary elections.

The pastoral letter lumped all Leftists together under the blanket term "Socialist," and recalled to West Germans the recent edict of the Vatican warning Catholics to avoid contamination by communism under pain of excommunication.

Schumacher Reply

The letter drew a quick attack from Socialist Leader Kurt Schumacher, who accused the Vatican of interfering in the election in favor of the Christian Democrats, Rightist rivals of the Social Democrats. The two are about evenly divided in West Germany, where the Communists are relatively weak.

The church also was attacked in West Germany by Communist Leader Max Rimann, who addressed 80,000 persons at Dortmund, in the Ruhr. He charged the church had aligned itself with "the old powers of war and social injustice."

Czechs Marking Time

Parties to the church-state war in Czechoslovakia marked time. Dr. Oldrich John, chairman of the Czechoslovakia National Parliament, flew to Moscow yesterday. He is the eighth high-Government official to go to the Soviet Union in the past two weeks for an extended stay. The previous group included three Cabinet Ministers closely identified with the church-state conflict.

Before Czechoslovakia's Parliament this fall will be a bill to give the State complete control over the administration, funds and appointments of all churches. Three-quarters of Czechoslovaks are Catholic.

Catholic priests, monks and nuns enrolled in the orders were told to choose within fifteen days whether they will retire to three cloisters and two monasteries assigned to them, enter an old age asylum, of quit their orders and join the lay public, applying for jobs at local employment bureaus.

The decree was published in the official Government bulletin.

Red Accuses Papal Regent.

The Roman Catholic Church has been under attack for some time in Romania, as in other Eastern European countries. Recently the official Communist newspaper Scanteia accused the papal regent here of having instructed Roman Catholic bishops to adopt "anti-democratic political activity." (Anti-democratic means anti-Communist in eastern European terminology).

The Catholic priests of Romania, in common with the clergy of several other denominations, are paid by the State. Before the Scanteia article appeared, two Catholic bishops and 130 priests had been taken from the State pay roll for "anti-democratic activity."

About 8 per cent of Romanians are Catholics. About 70 per cent of the population belongs to the National Romanian Orthodox Church. The Government has seized church properties for redistribution to the peasantry, and for the most part social welfare institutions have been taken over by the State. Religious publications are restricted and religious meetings are under the supervision of the Ministry of Interior.

All property of the Uniate Catholic Church has been seized by the Government by a decree of last December. The Uniate church uses the Romanian language rite rather than the Latin rite but gives allegiance to the Vatican.

Torture Laid to Communists.

Vatican informants have charged that two leading bishops of the Uniate church were tortured by Communist officials in efforts to break their allegiance to the Pope. The sources said the Romanian Government is bent on wiping out Catholics by any means of terror and oppression.

Anti-U.S. Former Nazis Offered Jobs By Red

Berlin, Aug. 1 (AP)—A Communist leader of eastern Germany today offered big public jobs to former Nazis who are anti-American.

Walter Uubricht, initiator of the two-year industrialization plan for the Soviet zone, said in an interview with the Russian-licensed Nacht-Express:

"The time has now come for us in the zone to grant national-conscious Germans the positions they deserve in rebuilding our economy.

"Since the end of the Hitler regime, many people who were once active Nazis have changed their previous views. Even if these former Nazis have not finally concluded their conversion, they clearly realize now that the aggressive forces in the United States aim at destruction of the German nation. The West German occupation statute serves this purpose.

Forget Former Party

"In view of this acute danger to the whole nation, we must no longer consider former party memberships of individuals, but whether they have the honest will to cooperate with every national-conscious German, who desires a united nation, a just peace and subsequent withdrawal of occupation troops."

Ulbricht, regarded by many observers as the strongest figure in the East German economic commission and the politburo of the Socialist Unity (Communist) party, admitted "not a few former active Nazis are doing responsible tasks in the Russian occupation zone today."

Comparison Made

He compared them favorably to some members of the splinter Christian Democratic and Liberal Democratic parties in eastern Germany who, he said, "keep on looking to Washington and London."

These latter elements, he charged, "busied themselves with negative no-propaganda at the last election."

Four million "no" votes were registered in eastern Germany in May against a Communist-dominated single slate of candidates for the Soviet-sponsored German People's Congress.

On the eve of the congress voting, Soviet authorities permitted the National Democratic party, organized by former Nazis, to participate. It is now part of the Russian-approved national front, which seeks to enroll all Germans in support of Moscow's policies in Germany.

One Qualification

Ulbricht made only one qualification in his invitation to ex-Nazis to seek important posts in the socialized East German economy:

"If I thus advocate full recognition of people willing to rebuild a democratic Germany, though they once were members of a Hitler organization, it is not meant the way it is done in western Germany—that every super-Nazi gets a free passport for the East zone. He must have proved in the past four years that he is really prepared to take his stand for a free and peaceful Germany."

Ulbricht said he had received many employment applications from "members of the technical intelligentsia, who held responsible positions under the fascist regime."

Yugoslavs Hit At Vatican And Russians Also

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 1 (AP). The official organ of Yugoslav Communists has denounced the Vatican's excommunication of Communists as "a political tool of the reactionaries."

Ever mindful of the feud with other Communist countries, which contend the Yugoslavs have strayed from the path of pure Marxism, the newspaper Borba could not resist the opportunity for a thrust at the Moscow-style Reds.

Borba said the excommunication decree might prove a headache in those Communist parties "who recuit members without considering whether or not they have accepted the principles of Marxism and Lenninism."

The newspaper said the Vatican action was aimed at the world's "progressive forces" and repeated old charges that the Vatican helped Fascists during the war.

Belgrade Vice Consul Dies Of Paralysis

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 1 (AP). Robert G. Braden, 29, third secretary and vice counsul of the United States Embassey in Belgrade, died today. He was stricken with poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) three days ago.

During Braden's brief illness, Yugoslav authorities dispensed with ordinary formalities in order to speed delivery of serum rushed here in an effort to save him. Burial will be in the United States.

Braden was a native of Pasadena, Cal., and a graduate of Stanford University. He served five years in the United States Navy during the war as a lieutenant before joining the foreign service in 1947. He was married and had one child.

Czechs And Argentines Sign New Trade Pact

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 1 (AP) — Czechoslovakia today announced signing of a new trade agreement with Argentina providing for exchange of goods valued at $29,000,000 on each side during the next year.

Czechoslovakia arranged to import chiefly wool, wheat, meat, hides, fats and other animal products.

The list of Czech exports included primarily machinery and industrial equipment, chemicals, paper, textiles, ceramic goods, glassware and hops.

SOVIET LOSES D.P. REQUEST

U.N. Committee Won't Give Up Lists Of Those In Camps

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 1 (AP). The United Nations Economic and Social Council's Social Committee rejected today a Soviet demand that it furnish complete lists of 418,000 displaced persons living in camps of the International Refugee Organization.

Walter Kotschnig, United States delegate, told the committee he found "something sinister" in the Soviet request.

"What do they ask?" he inquired. "That information be delivered to police authorities which would help them in their work of repression?"

Held Against Will, He Says

Anatoli G. Kulajenkov, Soviet delegate, presented the resolution asking for this information and other data concerning the location of camps, the nationality and other aspects of the refugees. He charged that displaced persons were being held against their will.

Kulajenkov claimed that a large number of these refugees were Russian and that "certain obstacles were being raised to their repatriation."

The Soviet Union, he said, had repatriated 22,000 Americans, 24,000 English and 113,000 French citizens, but these countries had not repatriated Soviet citizens.

The IRO, he said, had refused the Soviet Union access to the camps and the right to distribute literature.

Called "Really Slaves"

The displaced persons, he said, are "really slaves. They are recruited only for the heaviest labor."

William Hallam Tuck, director general of IRO, in a statement to the council said "opportunities for repatriation have been readily available for several years during which time more than 7,000,000 refugees have returned to their countries of origin."

The Soviet resolution was defeated, 13 to 3, with only the Soviet Union, White Russia and Poland supporting it.

Mrs. Kirk Calls On Mrs. Vishinsky

Moscow, Aug. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Lydia Selden Kirk, wife of the new United States Ambassador to Moscow, Alan G. Kirk, has paid a social call on the wife of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

It was Mrs. Kirk's first such diplomatic visit since her arrival here last June. Diplomatic sources said the two chatted for some time in French.

The Ambassador had suggested to Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that Mrs. Kirk would like to pay a call on Mrs. Vishinsky, and the invitation came shortly thereafter. Mrs. Kirk is the sister of Seldin Chapin, former United States Minister to Hungary.

Pasha Pledges Action To Oust British Troops

Cairo, Aug. 1 (AP)—Hussein Sirry Pasha, new Egyptian Premier, pledged before the Chamber of Deputies tonight that his coalition government will "do its best" to achieve the "immediate evacuation of British troops and the unification of Egypt and the Sudan."

In a speech presenting the Cabinet to the Chamber he said the government also will do everything in its power to "hold the forthcoming election in an atmosphere of peace, justice and equity." A general election will be held in October.

Indonesian War Ends Tomorrow

Batavia, Java, Aug. 1 (AP)—The end of fighting between the Dutch and Indonesian Republicans will be proclaimed Wednesday, the United Nations said today.

The statement from the United Nations commission for Indonesia (UNCI) said the actual cease-fire would be set for some days after the announcement of terms by the Dutch and the republic.

The formal action will halt the hit-and-run fighting that began last December, when the Dutch seized the Republican capital, Jogjakarata, in what they called police action. There has been little actual fighting since the Dutch agreed to allow President Soekarno and other Republican leaders to return to Jogjakarta early last month.

Central Board To Act

The UNCI announcement said orders to the forces would "call on everyone concerned to banish all thought of enmity or revenge and remove any vestige of fear or distrust and to refrain from sabotage, terrorism . . . and prevent provocations of incidents of any kind."

The cease-fire will be policed by a central joint board comprising four Republic representatives—four from non-Republican areas of the East Indies, four Dutchmen, three civilian and three military representatives of the UNCI. The chairmanship will rotate among the UNCI civilians.

This will be the third cease-fire order of general nature for Indonesia since 1946. Previous ones were violated by both sides but there was optimism among the negotiators that this one would stick.

Chairman Congratulates All

The basis for optimism was the restoration of the Republican regime in Jogjakarta and the agreement to settle the future of Indonesia in a rounds table conference at The Hague.

Australian Delegate T. K. Critchley, serving his turn as UNCI chairman, said congratulations were due to all participants in the long negotiations.

The Republic's delegation chairman, Mohammed Rum, said the Dutch military action of last December had shaken the faith of the Indonesian people but through the UNCI efforts there has been "opening of hearts which were closed, restoration of confidence which had been lost."

Cease-Fire Edict In Indonesia Set Wednesday

Batavia, Java, Aug. 1 (AP)—The United Nations Commission for Indonesia today announced that an order to cease hostilities in Indonesia will be issued Wednesday.

The announcement said the order will become effective "some days later" at a time to be announced by the Dutch and Republicans.

The cease fire was formalized at a meeting of the United Nations commission today.

The commission said the Dutch and Republican governments will issue the cease-fire to their respective forces at the same time.

Plan Joint Proclamation

"The orders call for taking all measures to cease fire and to terminate all acts intended to harm the other party," the announcement said.

The two governments also will put out a joint proclamation. The commission said it "calls on everyone concerned to banish all thought of enmity or revenge and to remove any vestige of fear or distrust, to refrain from sabotage or terrorism, or from all acts which might be harmful to mutual co-operation and to prevent provocations or incidents of any kind."

The opposing parties agreed May 7 to work out a cease-fire order after the Dutch restored the Indonesian Republicans to their capital, Jogjakarta.

Ends 7-Month War

The order would end some seven months of warfare between Indonesian guerrillas and Dutch forces who overran the republic last December.

The announcement said today's meeting was under the auspices of the United Nations Commission, Republican and Dutch delegates and representatives of the non-Republican Indonesian states and territories.

A third document was announced which calls for establishment of a central joint board to see that the cease-fire is carried out.

Third Such Order

This board comprises four Republicans, four Dutch, four non-Republican Indonesians, three civil and three military representatives of the United Nations Commission.

This is the third cease-fire issued in Indonesia since 1946. The other two ended in violations by both sides and finally in two Dutch military actions.

Australia's T. K. Critchley, temporary commission chairman, said: "With today's agreement the three main objectives of the Security Council's directive of March 23 have been reached."

Chinese Nationalists Gain In Drive To Head Off Reds

Canton, China, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists announced today their counterattacking forces in Central China had reached the outskirts of Anfu, 150 miles east of Hengyang and 300 miles northeast of Canton.

This would represent an advance eastward of 100 miles in the last three days since the Nationalists lashed out to stop the Communist drive on Hengyang, vital junction point on the railway that runs south to Canton.

The Nationalist report said one counterattacking column had branched off toward Yungshin, 25 miles southwest of Anfu, and was heavily engaging the Communists there.

Changsha Rail Lines Open

Foreign quarters were perplexed by the apparent Communist withdrawals. They also were puzzled by a railway administration announcement that rail traffic had been ordered restored to Changsha.

That city, 365 miles north of Canton, remains in imminent danger of being cut off by the Reds, who last were reported only 6 miles to the east.

Meanwhile, Government dispatches reported the Reds had thrown 200,000 men into an offensive against Kansu Province, some 700 miles northwest of the Central China fighting zone. These reports said the Reds had struck west and northwest across the border from neighboring Shensi Province.

General Ma Seeks Arms

Kansu is governed by Gen. Ma Hung-kwei, famous Moslem commander who now is on Formosa, presumably seeking arms from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. His cousin, Gen. Ma. Pu-fang, was appointed Nationalist commander of the entire northwest area only five days ago.

The Mas have been fighting the Reds sporadically along the Shensi border for six weeks.

Chinese Forces Reported At Anfu Edge

Canton, Aug. 1 (AP)—Nationalist troops trying to cut Communist supply lines in South Central Kiangsi province said today they had reached the outskirts of Anfu. Anfu is 150 miles each of Hengyang.

A column which branched off toward Yunghsin, 25 miles southwest of Anfu, reported heavy fighting. They said the Reds brought up reinforcements from points east of Yunghsin.

Foreign quarters here were puzzled by a reported Communist withdrawal to Anfu and Yunghsin.

Rail Traffic

A spokesman for the Canton-Hankow railroad administration said Gen. Chen Ming-jen, deputy commander of Central China, had demanded immediate resumption of rail traffic to Changsha and beyond the Milo River north.

Foreign quarters were unable to reconcile this with private reports that Changsha was in danger of being cut off at any moment by the Reds.

In Moslem Northwest China seven Chinese Communist armies invaded Kansu province, official dispatches said. The Reds moved into Kansu from Shensi province with an etsimated 200,000 men.

Advances were being made on Hwating by three Red armies, with four others heading toward Pingliang, the dispatches said.

Evacuation Ship Okay Sought

Shanghai, Aug. 1 (AP)—Floyd Downs, Shanghai manager for the American President Lines, said today the liner General Gordon may come to Shanghai about September 15 to remove 900 foreigners from China.

Downs said "at the behest of the United States State Department a request for safe passage for the Gordon has been asked of the Nationalist Government." The Nationalists are blockading all China ports under Communist control.

If safe conduct is assured, then the question will be whether sufficient foreigners can obtain exit visas from the Communists in time. Already hundreds of foreigners have applied for permission to leave.

"Face" Is Involved

Downs will ask Communist authorities tomorrow for an entry permit for the Gordon. Normally, this is merely routine but "face" is involved. The Communists may balk at admitting a ship which first had to get permission from the Nationalists to enter the biggest port in Asia.

Downs said between 300 and 400 Americans definitely want to leave. The remainder of the 900 are British, Dutch, French, Scandinavians and various other foreign nationals.

Red-Controlled Press Silent

Shanghai, Aug. 1 (AP)—The foreign colony today continued to buzz with the news the British sloop Amethyst escaped Saturday from Communists on the Yangtze River.

The news got around by word of mouth. The Red-controlled Chinese newspapers have not printed a word on the escape of the sloop.

So far, there has been no reaction from the Communists.

Consular Officer Free In Shanghai

Shanghai, Aug. 1 (AP)—Reuben Thomas, United States consulate administrative officer, was free to leave the consulate today after being held in the building for 30 hours by former United States Navy employés.

He had not left the building late today, however.

The workers—Chinese, some Indians and white Russians—blocked Thomas and other American officials from leaving the building on Friday. They demanded severance pay and bonuses of six and a half months' wages as navy employés discharged when the navy pulled out of Shanghai upon the approach of the Communists.

Further Talks Slated

Still in the building late today with Thomas were Commander Morgan Slayton, navy attache, and Walter McConaughty, acting consul general.

The men were to go to the Communist labor board building for further negotiations some time today.

Only a handful of the more than 100 former employés remained in the consulate building.

Thomas had been questioned more than 30 hours before he was permitted to get some sleep.

China Reds Celebrating Army Date

Shanghai, Aug. 1 (AP)—Communists today celebrated the twenty-second anniversary of the establishment of a Chinese Red army.

Pro-Communist Chinese newspapers said the army had grown from 20,000 men to 4,000,000.

In Peiping, Communist leader Mao Tze-tung said the backbone of the Chinese Red army is the farmer. He said the army grew as the farmers were liberated and "this is different from any other Chinese army in history."

Mayor Chen Yi, of Shanghai, predicted that within "one more year China will be completely liberated, then the enemy blockade will end automatically."

Nationalist Chinese forces are blockading all Red-held Chinese ports.

Jap Repatriates Balk At Filling Out Forms

Tokyo, Aug. 10 (AP)—Kyodo news agency reported today 2,000 Japanese repatriates from Siberian prisoner-of-war camps had refused to fill out required forms upon their arrival in Japan.

The agency said they were being held aboard ship at Maizuru.

Communist-indoctrinated repatriates recently back from Russian prisoner-of-war camps have staged several demonstrations in Japan.

U.S. Demands Three Permit Inquiry On Rights Charges

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—The United States demanded today that three Russian satellite states permit impartial, on-the-spot inquiries into charges that they are violating basic human rights.

The three are Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary, which are accused by the United States of breaking the terms of the peace treaties they signed at the end of the war.

Britain also sent similar notes to the three Balkan nations. The demands are expected to be rejected and in that event the United States and Britain probably will carry their case to the United Nations.

Follow Moscow Refusal

Virtually identical American notes were delivered to the foreign offices of the three countries. This step followed a refusal by Moscow two months ago to join in an investigation of how human rights are treated in the three countries.

Russia informed this country and Britain she regards the three governments as completely democratic and sees no need for an investigation.

The peace treaties with the three provide for appointment of commissions to inquire into charges of broken treaty promises.

The United States wants a commission set up in each country. It would include one American, one representative of the satellite country and a third whose nationality would be decided by the first two. The United Nations would be asked to step in if they could not agree on a third member.

Outgrowth Of Church Trials

Britain wants three commissions of the same character.

The latest move was the outgrowth of repeated United States denunciations of religious trials and of general curbs on the press, on assembly and political activity.

The State Department said it hopes Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary will go along with the proposal to set up commissions so that "the responsibility for violation of the treaty may be clearly assessed." It said the three governments have a clear obligation to do so.

The two Western powers have also accused the three Balkan states of violating their treaties by building up armies larger than are provided for. Today's notes made no reference to this complaint, however.

TRUMAN SEES GREEK ADVANCE

Tells of Progress Toward Winning Civil War.

Washington, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—President Truman told Congress today that the Greek Government, with American help, is making "solid progress" toward winning its civil war with the Communists.

He attributed this to improved Greek leadership, accumulating United States military supplies, months of training of Greek soldiers, and "determination, decisiveness and aggressiveness" in the orders of the Greek High Command.

Despite the reported progress militarily and in the Greek economy, the President declared that guerrilla forces are still strong. He said they are still receiving help from Albania and Bulgaria and that the Greek Government remains entirely dependent on the United States for weapons to prosecute the war.

Forces Are Reduced.

The Chief Executive, in a report to Congress covering the first quarter of this year, said that on March 31 the strength of the guerrilla forces was estimated at 19,830 as compared with 26,000 a year earlier.

He estimated Greek guerrilla losses for the total period of the civil war from June, 1946 to March, 1949 at 70,028, killed, surrendered or captured and exclusive of wounded. In the same time the Greek Army was shown to have suffered losses of 37,934 killed, wounded or missing.

The casualty figures of the guerrillas, the President told Congress, show that in order to maintain an average guerrilla force of 20,000 the entire force has had to be replaced three and one half times in the last three years. He added that surrenders are increasing.

Villagers Get Arms.

Mr. Truman reported that villagers who wanted to return to the homes which they had fled under guerrilla attack were being given arms in many instances with favorable results.

Of the Turkish aid program, Mr. Truman said the Turkish armed forces have made steady progress in improving their efficiency with American help, but that they will require "additional United States assistance to continue their progress toward a desirable standard of effectiveness."

TRUMAN CITES GREEK GAINS

Report To Congress Tells Of Progress With U.S. Aid

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—Greek soldiers and American weapons now are making "solid progress" in the civil war against Communists, President Truman told Congress today.

He reported a 23 per cent decline from a year ago in the numerical strength of the Communist-led guerrillas and an increasing number of surrenders to Greek Government forces.

Depend On U.S. Arms

The report on the Greek-aid program, covering the first three months of this year, warned that the guerillas are still strong and still getting help from Bulgaria and Albania. The Greeks, Mr. Truman said, remain "entirely dependent" on America for weapons.

He attributed the growing Greek successes to better leadership, mounting military supplies, months of training of Greek soldiers, and "determination, decisiveness and aggressiveness" in the Greek high command.

The President rated Greek military efficiency as being at its highest state since 1941, when the Greek Army was overwhelmed by Nazi force "after having rolled back Mussolini's invasion of Greece."

Greek Losses 37,934

He reported Greek losses from the start of the civil war—June, 1946, to March 31 of this year—at 37,934 killed, wounded or missing. Guerrilla losses for that period were estimated at 70,028, exclusive of wounded, for which reports were lacking.

Guerrilla strength was estimated at 19,830 on March 31, as against 26,000 a year earlier. The rate of loss indicates, Mr. Truman noted, that the entire guerrilla force has had to be replaced 3½ times in order to maintain a strength averaging 20,000

WORLD BANK LOAN GOES TO FINLAND

Washington, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—The World Bank today granted a $12,500,00 loan to the Bank of Finland.

The purpose is to finance purchase of equipment and materials required for reconstructing and modernizing Finland's wood products industries, for an electric power development and for expanding production of limestone powder for agriculture.

Eugene R. Black, the World Bank's president, noted at a news conference that 'Finland has a great debt record."

This referred in part to Finland's status as about the only country which has never defaulted on payments to the United States for credits granted in the early post-world war era.

The bank observed with approval that Finland's 15 per cent devaluation other currency last month "will have a salutary effect" in reinvigorating Finnish exports.

The loan to Finland, guaranteed by that country's government, is for a fifteen-year period. It will cost Finland 3 per cent interest plus a 1 per cent annual commission the bank charges on all loans for allocation to a special reserve against losses. Amortization repayments are to commence February 1, 1953.

Black revealed that his bank is actively working on a loan to India. Discussions in progress center about locomotives and a steam power plant, as well as eradication of a weedlike grass to increase the area of farm land. The bank also is sending a special mission to Yugoslavia on August 10 to make preliminary studies on the feasibility of loans to increase output of copper, lead and manganese.

There also have been discussions with th eBritish Government about a loan to the Colonial Development Corporation to make machinery available for agricultural development in Kenya. Black said the bank is discussing loans with more countries than ever before and that it now has a mission in the Middle East and another in Colombia.

MARAGON BANK FUNDS CHECKED BY SENATE BODY

Ex-Bootblack Tells Press the Group Seeks Data on San Antonio Account.

$40,000 TOTAL REPORTED

He Won't Say How Much It Was —Investigators Ask About Surplus-property Deals.

Washington, Aug. 1 (A. P.).—John Maragon told reporters today that a Senate committee investigating Washington "five percenters" is checking the records of a bank account he had three years ago in San Antonio. Tex.

The dapper Maragon called a news conference to deny reports that he had been fired from the American mission to Greece in 1946. But he conceded the Senate Expenditures Committee may have subpœnaed records of his bank accounts.

Maragon, a one time Kansas City bootblack who once had a pass to the White House, told the committee in previous closed sessions, members said, that his only bank account was in Washington.

Asked by reporters if he had maintained a $40,0000 account in Texas, Maragon at first refused to answer.

Silent on Total.

Later, however, he said he had an account in San Antonio about three years ago. He wouldn't say how much he had on deposit, or say what business he was in at the time.

Maragon denied that he is "connected with any one percenters, five percenters, fifty percenters or million percenters."

He said the question of his bank accounts was not how much may have been on deposit, but how much of the money was his.

"You may have a $500,000 bank account and the question is how much of the money is yours," he declared. "You can be in business and make transactions and the deposit ledger will show big amounts, but the question is how much of it is yours."

It was learned earlier today—from the official record of the hush-hush investigation—that Maragon's testimony dealt in part with the disposal of Government surplus property.

Maragon contended at the news conference that his reports to Henry F. Grady, head of the mission, on drinking and "orgies" among the staff members of the American Mission to Greece may have caused Grady to say that Maragon was sent home because he was a "nuisance."

He said he had helped put to bed one member of the mission who came into the Grand Bretagne Hotel in Athens drunk.

Maragon said he reported the incident to Grady, now Ambassador to Greece, and the latter called a staff meeting to forbid mission members from attending parties.

"But the orgy of drinking and all that stuff continues," Maragon told reporters.

Denies Vaughan Helped Him.

Maragon denied published reports that Major-Gen. Harry S. Vaughan, President Truman's military aid, helped him get his $6,200 yearly job with the mission to Greece. He said he got it in the regular way—by applying to the State Department for it.

He also denied that Grady had fired him. He said he didn't know anything about published stories that President Truman had ordered him sent home.

Maragon denied that he had carried about with him pictures showing President Truman with Maragon's arms about the President. He said he had no such picture.

'5 PERCENTER' LINK DENIED BY MARAGON

Senate Committee May Have Subpoenaed Bank Accounts, He Says

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—John Maragon, who rose from bootblack to man-about-Washington, today denied any link with "five percenters." But he said a Senate committee may have subpoenaed his bank accounts.

Maragon said he kept an account in San Antonio three years ago. He wouldn't say how big it was, or what business he was in them.

Meanwhile, a Senate expenditures subcommittee which quizzed Maragon behind closed doors last week disclosed that his testimony dealt in part with sales of surplus was property.

Maragon called a news conference of his own to deny that he had been fired from the American Aid Mission to Greece in 1946. He might have been dubbed a "nuisance," he said, because he reported drinking and "orgies" on the part of mission officials.

Other Reports Denied

As reporters poured on questions, Maragon denied a half dozen other reports and rumors which have been published since his once-frequent, visits to the White House made him a public figure.

Among them were reports that President Truman took him to the Potsdam Conference in 1945, also, that the President's military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry S. Vaughan, got Maragon the post on the Greek mission.

The Senate committee is delving into activities of "five percenters"—those, who carge fees for helping business men get Federal contracts. The practice is not illegal but has been officially denounced.

Maragon told the senators in the closed sessions that his only bank account was in Washington. That testimony was made public today. Reporters asked Maragon whether he had maintained a $40,000 account in Texas.

At rst he refused to answer. Then he said he had an account in San Antonio about three years ago. He thought it was at the Commercial National Bank, but a check-up showed the city has no bank of that name.

Public Hearings Next Monday

He conceded the committee may have subpoenaed his bank records. But the important question is not how much is on deposit, he said. He continued:

"You may have a $500,000 bank account and the question is how much of the money is yours. You can be in business and make transactions and the deposit ledger will show big amounts, but the question is how much of it is yours."

Maragon denied he is connected with any "one per centers, five per centers, 50 per centers or million per centers."

The hearing record shows that Maragon testified he once took two men to the New York office of the War Assets Administration to help them buy $30,000 worth of surplus machinery, but he said he didn't get paid for it.

The subcommittee will start public hearings next Monday. Chairman Hoey (D., N.C.) said it has found evidence more important tha nthat given by Maragon.

COMMUNIST TRIAL LAWYER SILENCED

Judge Medina Calls Marshal To Make Him Stop Talking

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—A fast-talking defense attorney refused to sit down and stop arguing at the Communist conspiracy trial today until a United States marshal advanced on him. Then the lawyer did both.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, unable to silence Attorney Richard F. Gladstein, told him:

"Will you sit down or must I call an officer to put you down? Your field day is over."

As Gladstein continued to object to prosecution questions to a defense witness, Medina said:

"Mr. Marshal, will you please see—"

As the marshal walked toward him, Gladstein sat down silent. This was broken a moment later when other defense attorneys rose to their feet with new objections.

Trial In 27th Week

Medina's latest clash with the defense came shortly before a new witness was called to the stand on behal fof eleven top Communist leaders accused of conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the United States Government.

The new witness was Edward Joseph Chaka, of Cleveland, a foundry worker and minor Communist politician.

During the long trial, now in its twenty-seventh week, Medina has expressed exasperation with defense tactics a number of times.

Four of the defendants have been sent to jail for contempt. Three still are behind bars when not in court.

Three times Medina has left the bench to stop arguments. Last week he said he intended to limit testimony of defense witnesses to try to speed the lagging hearing.

Gladstein provoked Medina today by offering an objection and then trying to back it up with legal arguments. The Judge has ruled that defense attorneys must merely place their objections on the record and keep their reasons to themselves unless he gives them specific leeway.

Account Called Inaccurate

The new defense witness, Chaka, said he is a molder at the Cuyahoga foundry in Cleveland. He said he joined the Communist party eighteen years ago after becoming interested as a youngster in the theories of his father, "an old Socialist."

Chaka said he is running for the Cleveland City Council on a non-partisan basis.

The 1946 Communist party school, the witness testified, was held at Eintracht farm at so-called Camp Solidarity about 5 miles west of Cleveland.

His testimony is intended to refute that of a government witness, John La Blanc, who appeared early in the trial. La Blanc said he was planted in the Communist party by the FBI.

Chaka said La Blanc's account of the goings-on at the school is inaccurate. The Government witness called it a furitve class in Communist ideology.

The previous defense witness, Mrs. Yolanda Hall, a Chicago Communist, left the stand after admitting under cross - examination that she told lies "under certain circumstances."

APPROVAL FOR THE TRAPPED FRIGATE AMETHYST TO SLIP ITS CABLES AND ESCAPE DOWN THE YANGTZE MEANT THE OBVIOUS POSSIBILITY OF REPRISALS AGAINST BRITISH SUBJECTS AND BRITISH INVESTMENTS IN CHINA, FOREIGN OFFICE SOURCES CONCEDED.
"BUT THOSE ARE THINGS YOU DON'T THINK ABOUT UNDER THESE CIRCUMSTANCES," ONE SUCH SOURCE SAID. "WHAT HAS BEEN DONE HAD TO BE DONE. THERE COULD BE NO TOUGHT OF CONSEQUENCES."
FOREIGN OFFICE SOURCES SAID THERE HAD BEEN NO HINT OF REPRISALS FROM COMMUNIST CHINA AS YET. THEY DECLINED TO SPECULATE FIRST, IF COMMUNIST COMMANDERS IN NANKING AND SHANGHAI WOULD SEEK REVENGE FOR THEIR LOSS OF FACE IN THE AMETHYST'S ESCAPE; SECOND, WHETHER REPRISALS, IF THEY CAME, WOULD BE DIRECTED AGAINST BRITAIN'S INVESTMENTS IN CHINA.
BRITISH AMBASSADOR SIR RALPH STEVENSON AND HIS STAFF IN NANKING WOULD BE THE OBVIOUS TARGETS OF COMMUNIST ACTION, IT WAS CONCEDED HERE. MOST OF THE BRITISH OFFICIALS IN NANKING ARE CONCENTRATED IN THE EMBASSY COMPOUND, WITHIN RIFLE SHOT OF THE YANGTZE.
DIRECT REPRISALS AGAINST EITHER THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT OR ITS NATIONALS IN CHINA WOULD HAVE ONE CERTAIN EFFECT. THAT WOULD BE TO DRIVE THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT INTO COMPLETE COOPERATION WITH WASHINGTON ON NON-RECOGNITION OF THE RED REGIME.
AMERICAN OFFICIALS HAVE AT TIMES BEEN DISTURBED BY THE ANXIETY OF THE BRITISH TO MAINTAIN COMMERCIAL CONTACT WITH THE CHINESE REDS. THEY HAVE URGED A "GO SLOW" POLICY IN DEALING WITH MAO TZE-TUNG'S FORCES. AT TIMES DIFFERENCES OF AMERICAN AND BRITISH OPINION HAVE LED TO CONFERENCES ON THE SUBJECT OF CHINA'S FUTURE.
SOME INFORMANTS WHO ARE FAMILIAR WITH THE ORIENTAL MIND--AND MORE SPECIFICALLY WITH SUCH COMMUNIST MILITARY LEADERS AS ARE NOW GOVERNING NANKING AND SHANGHAI--PREDICT REPRISALS IN STME FORM.
SERITUS INTERFERENCE WITH BRITISH NATIONALS STILL IN CHINA COULD, EXPERTS ON THE CHINA SITUATION HERE SAID, MEAN SOME FORM OF MILITARY PROTECTION FOR THOSE AND OTHER FOREIGNERS. SUCH EXPERTS RECALLED THE 1927 INCIDENT IN WHICH BRITISH AND AMERICAN GUNBOATS SHELLED NANKING TO PROTECT THE FOREIGN COLONY THERE.
BRITAIN IS ESPECIALLY VULNERABLE TO REPRISALS SHOULD THE COMMUNISTS DECIDE ON SOME "FACE SAVING" PRESSURE. THERE ARE ONLY SEVERAL HUNDRED BRITISH IN NANKING BUT MORE THAN 4,000 IN SHANGHAI. THERE ARE LARGE BRITISH COLONIES IN COMMUNIST-HELD TIENTSIN AND HANKOW, AND NUMEROUS BRITONS ELSEWHERE IN RED CHINA.
THE BRITISH ALSO HAVE EXTENSIVE MATERIAL INVESTMENTS IN CHINA--LARGE WAREHOUSES AND FACTORIES IN SHANGHAI, EGG PACKING PLANTS IN HANKOW AND NANKING, COAL MINES IN NORTH CHINA.
FOREIGN OFFICE SOURCES ADMITTED THEY ARE AWAITING DEVELOPMENTS IN CHINA WITH SOME ANXIETY.

AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT SOURCES SAID MAJ.GEN. MAXWELL D. TAYLOR, NOW CHIEF OF STAFF FOR AMERICAN ARMY FORCES IN EUROPE, WILL SUCCEED HOWLEY. THIS WOULD BE A RETURN TO THE AMERICAN POLICY OF HAVING MILITARY GOVERNMENT AND TROOP COMMAND POSTS HELD BY A SINGLE OFFICER IN BERLIN.
HIS REQUEST FOR RELEASE, HOWLEY EXPLAINED, IS BASED ON A NUMBER OF FACTORS. HE IS NOT A MEMBER OF THE REGULAR ARMY OR OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT, WHICH IS ABOUT TO TAKE OVER AMERICAN SUPERVISION IN GERMANY. HE HAS SPENT THE PAST NINE YEARS AWAY FROM BUSINESS AND HAS HAD FOUR YEARS OF DUTY IN BERLIN. tel aviv, i rael, aug. 1-(ap)-israeli foreign minister moshe sharett told the knesset (parliament) today israel is prepared to place the problem of arab refugees first on the agenda if the israeli-arab talks at lausanne, switzerland, became a "real peace conference."

the conference at lausanne has been deadlocked over the refugee problem. israel has wanted the boundary problems settle before discussion of the refugee question. the four arab nations participating - syria, lebanon, egypt and hashemite jordan (trans-jordan) have taken the opposite position.

sharett did not indicate how many arab refugees israel would allow to return to israeli territory which they fled during the israeli-arab war. The estimates of the number of arab refugees run as high as 800,000.

reviewing the refugee problem, sharett told parliament a solution "must be sought not through return of the refugees to israel but through their resettlement in other states."

"There has been no change in this basic (israeli) attitude," the foreign minister added.

Sharett indicated that the israeli delegation in lausanne has not yet been empowered to propose any figure on arab refugee returnees. He confirmed reports, however, that some 25,000 already have returned and added there would be "thousands who presumably will have returned meanwhile under the plan to reunite arab families separated by the war." This, he indicated, would be included as a part of the israeli contribution to solving the problem. Varying figures of up to 150,000 returnees have been mentioned unofficially as the number israel would take back. #

NEW YORK,AUG.1-(AP)-THE FEDERAL JUDGE AT THE COMMUNIST CONSPIRACY TRIAL HAD TO SUMMON A MARSHAL TODAY TO MAKE A DEFENSE LAWYER STOP TALKING AND SIT DOWN.

THE LATEST DIFFICULTY BETWEEN JUDGE HAROLD R.MEDINA AND THE BATTERY OF DEFENSE ATTORNEYS CAME WHEN DEFENSE COUNSEL RICHARD F.GLADSTEIN CONTINUED A LENGTHY OBJECTION. THE COURT HAS RULED SUCH ARGUMENT PROHIBITIVE WITHOUT SPECIFIC PERMISSION.

GLADSTEIN OBJECTED AS FRANK H.GORDON, SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE U.S. ATTORNEY, SOUGHT TO LEARN FROM MRS.YOLANDA HALL, CHICAGO COMMUNIST, WHO SIGNED PAY CHECKS SHE RECEIVED WHILE DIRECTOR OF THE CHICAGO WORKERS SCHOOL.

"WILL YOU SIT DOWN OR MUST I CALL AN OFFICER TO PUT YOU DOWN?" MEDINA SAID TO GLADSTEIN. "YOUR FIELD DAY IS OVER."

GLADSTEIN KEPT TALKING.

"MR.MARSHAL," SAID THE JUDGE, "WILL YOU PLEASE SEE--"

AS THE MARSHAL APPROACHED GLADSTEIN, THE LAWYER DROPPED TO HIS SEAT.

OTHER DEFENSE ATTORNEYS LEAPED TO THEIR FEET, OBJECTING.

EARLIER MEDINA RULED THAT DEFENSE WITNESSES MUST STOP ACCUSING OTHER PEOPLE OF USING--OR FAVORING--FORCE AND VIOLENCE.

MEDINA MADE THE RULING AFTER MRS.YOLANDA HALL, COMMUNIST PARTY OFFICIAL FROM CHICAGO, TESTIFIED THAT SHE HAD REFERRED IN LECTURES TO VIOLENCE EMPLOYED AGAINST WORKING PEOPLE.

"AMONG OTHER THINGS I WILL NOT PERMIT ANY MORE," THE JUDGE SAID, "IS THE PRACTICE OF WITNESSES' MAKING COUNTER-CHARGES OF FORCE AND AGAINST SOCIETY.

"THE CHARGE IS NOT WHETHER ANYONE ELSE COMMITTED FORCE AND VIOLENCE.

"IT SEEMS TO ME THAT EVERY TIME THE QUESTION IS ASKED WE HEAR ANOTHER OF THESE SPEECHES OF FORCE AND VIOLENCE ON THE PART OF OTHERS."

THE 11 COMMUNIST LEADERS ON TRIAL ARE CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO ADVOCATE THE OVERTHROW OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT BY FORCE.

SEVERAL DEFENSE WITNESSES HAVE SAID THE COMMUNISTS DO NOT ADVOCATE THE USE OF FORCE BUT THAT "REACTIONARIES" AND ENEMIES OF WORKING PEOPLE DO.

MEDINA'S STATEMENT FOLLOWED HIS RULING LAST FRIDAY THAT HE INTENDED TO "CURTAIL THE EXPANSIVENESS" OF DEFENSE TESTIMONY. THE TRIAL IS NOW HALF-WAY THROUGH ITS SEVENTH MONTH WITH NO INDICATION WHEN IT WILL END.

IN HER TESTIMONY TODAY MRS.HALL SAID SHE HAD TAUGHT A CLASS IN COMMUNIST TACTICS THAT WHITE WOMEN HAD A RESPONSIBILITY TO WORK WITH NEGRO WOMEN "TO ELIMINATE THE FORCE AND VIOLENCE" EMPLOYED AGAINST THE LATTER.

THE CLASS, MRS.HALL SAID, WAS PART OF A FIVE-DAY COURSE HELD AT THE FINNISH WORKERS HALL IN CHICAGO IN JULY, 1948.

MRS.HALL SAID SHE TOLD A CLASS OF 10 OR 12 WOMEN THAT WOMEN FORMED AN IMPORTANT PART OF "THE PEOPLE'S COALITION AGAINST WAR AND FASCISM."

SHE SAID SHE WAS APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF THE ILLINOIS DISTRICT WOMEN'S COMMISSION FOR THE COMMUNIST PARTY IN JANUARY, 1946.

(250) MCCARRAN-SUBVERSIVES

WASHINGTON,AUG.1-(AP)-COMMUNIST AGENTS ARE ENTERING THE UNITED STATES IN "UNTOLD NUMBERS" THROUGH DEVIOUS WAYS, CHAIRMAN MCCARRAN (D-NEV) OF THE SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE ASSERTED TODAY.

MCCARRAN SAID TESTIMONY BEFORE HIS COMMITTEE HAS DISCLOSED THAT SOME ARE COMING IN DISGUISED AS SEAMEN AND THEN JUMPING SHIP, SOME ARE BEING TAKEN OFF SHIPS IN SMALL BOATS BEFORE THE VESSEL ENTERS A HARBOR AND THEN TAKEN TO ISOLATED PLACES ALONG THE COAST FOR ENTRY, AND STILL OTHERS ARE COMING ACROSS THE CANADIAN AND MEXICAN BORDERS.

HE ASSERTED THIS IS MADE POSSIBLE BECAUSE OF THE LAXITY OF THE IMMIGRATION LAWS AND OF SCREENING PROCEDURES.

"NOTHING IS MORE CONDUCIVE TO THE BRINGING IN OF SUBVERSIVES THAN THE IMMUNITY GRANTED TO DIPLOMATIC SERVICES ABROAD, INCLUDING THE UNITED NATIONS," MCCARRAN SAID.

HE TOLD REPORTERS HE IS NOT IN POSITION TO GIVE THE FIGURES ON THE NUMBER OF ILLEGAL ENTRIES EACH YEAR "AND NEITHER IS ANYONE ELSE." THAT IS WHY, HE SAID, HE USED THE PHRASE "UNTOLD NUMBERS" BECAUSE THE NUMBER "MAY BE LARGE OR IT MAY BE SMALL."

THE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE HAS BEEN INVESTIGATING THE ENTRY OF FOREIGNERS INTO THIS COUNTRY AND HAS HEARD TESTIMONY THAT DIPLOMATS FROM THE RUSSIAN SATELLITE COUNTRIES, BOTH IN EMBASSIES AND IN THE UN, HAVE BEEN ENGAGED IN ESPIONAGE ACTIVITIES.

MCCARRAN SAID HE KNEW OF NO SPECIFIC INSTANCES WHERE AN AGENT HAD BEEN LANDED ON THE COAST AFTER HAVING BEEN TRANSFERRED FROM AN OCEAN-GOING VESSEL TO A SMALL BOAT. BUT HE ADDED THAT THE COMMITTEE HAD HEARD TESTIMONY TO THAT EFFECT.

MCCARRAN SAID AGENTS ARE COMING HERE WITH "PREPARED MISSIONS" AND UNDER SPECIFIC DIRECTIVES AS PART OF A SYSTEM "HEADED BY THE KREMLIN."

NIGHT LEAD ATOMIC

BY FRANK CAREY

ASSOCIATED PRESS SCIENCE REPORTER

WASHINGTON, JULY 31-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES HAS GONE INTO PRODUCTION OF THE MORE EFFECTIVE ATOMIC BOMBS TESTED AT ENIWETOK IN 1948, AND HAS MADE ADVANCES ON OTHER ATOMIC FRONTS, CONGRESS WAS TOLD TODAY.

THE INFORMATION WAS PRESENTED BY THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION IN ITS SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT. PRESIDENT TRUMAN SAID IN A STATEMENT THAT THE NATION HAS "REASON FOR REASSURANCE AND FAITH" THAT THE ATOMIC PROGRAM IS BEING EFFECTIVELY PRESSED, BOTH FOR DEFENSE AND HUMAN WELFARE PURPOSES.

THIS APPARENTLY WAS HIS ANSWER TO THE CHARGES OF "INCREDIBLE MISMANAGEMENT" WHICH SENATOR HICKENLOOPER (R-IOWA) MADE AGAINST AEC CHAIRMAN DAVID E.LILIENTHAL. A CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION OF THE CHARGES HAS BEEN IN PROGRESS.

THE AEC REPORTED:

1. ITS ENIWETOK-TESTED BOMBS--MORE EFFECTIVE THAN THOSE USED BEFORE 1948--ARE BEING PRODUCED ON AN "INDUSTRIAL BASIS." THIS MEANS THAT THEY HAVE PROGRESSED BEYOND THE LABORATORY-MADE STAGE, AND ARE BEING TURNED OUT BY PRIVATE MANUFACTURING COMPANIES WORKING FOR THE AEC, AND IN AEC PLANTS.

2. FISSIONABLE URANIUM AND PLUTONIUM--THE SOURCES OF ATOMIC ENERGY FOR ALL PURPOSES--ARE BEING PRODUCED IN GREATER AMOUNTS THAN EVER BEFORE.

3. INCREASING ATTENTION WAS GIVEN IN THE PAST SIX MONTHS "TO REACTOR DEVELOPMENT, AN ITEM OF PRIME MILITARY AND EVENTUAL CIVILIAN IMPORTANCE."

(A REACTOR OR PILE IS A DEVICE FOR THE CONTROLLED RELEASE OF ATOMIC ENERGY. IT IS WITH SUCH DEVICES THAT SCIENTISTS HOPE EVENTUALLY TO ACHIEVE PROPULSION FOR AIRCRAFT AND SHIPS, AND ALSO FURNISH ELECTRICAL POWER FOR INDUSTRY.)

4. THIS NATION HAS FOUND NEW SOURCES OF PRECIOUS URANIUM IN ITS OWN BACKYARD--"ENORMOUS TONNAGES" OF MATERIALS HAVING A VERY LOW CONTENT OF URANIUM. THESE MATERIALS COST MORE TO PROCESS THAN THOSE OF HIGHER URANIUM CONTENT, SAID THE AEC, "BUT THEY COULD BE UTILIZED IN THE FUTURE TO SUSTAIN AN ATOMIC ENERGY PROGRAM FOR MILITARY PURPOSES, SHOULD LOWER-COST URANIUM CEASE TO BE AVAILABLE."

AN AEC STAFF MAN TOLD A REPORTER THAT THE EMPHASIS WAS ON THE "IN THE FUTURE" PART OF THE STATEMENT. HE SAID THE AEC WAS NOT TOOLED AT THIS TIME TO TAP THESE VERY LOW-GRADE SOURCES, AND THAT ANY FUTURE USE OF THEM WOULD BE ON AN EMERGENCY BASIS.

HE DECLARED THERE WAS NO CONNECTION BETWEEN THE COMMISSION'S STATEMENT ON THESE SOURCE MATERIALS AND RECENT UNOFFICIAL SPECULATION REGARDING THIS NATION'S RELATIONS WITH THE BRITISH AND CANADIANS IN THE ATOMIC FIELD.

WE GET MOST OF OUR URANIUM NOW FROM CANADA AND THE BELGIAN CONGO. ONE UNCONFIRMED REPORT HAS BEEN THAT AEC CHAIRMAN LILIENTHAL FEARS A CUT-BACK IN OUR SUPPLY FROM ABROAD UNLESS WE SHARE OUR ATOMIC SECRETS WITH THE BRITONS AND CANADIANS. WE ALSO GET SOME URANIUM FROM LOW-GRADE URANIUM-BEARING CARNOTITE ORE OF THE COLORADO PLATEAU.

THE 203-PAGE REPORT ALSO LISTED SEVERAL NEW BUT STILL-PRELIMINARY APPLICATIONS OF ATOMIC ENERGY MATERIALS IN THE MEDICAL FIELD--NOTABLY THE FIRST TRIALS OF RADIOACTIVE COBALT IN THE TREATMENT OF HUMAN CANCER.

RADIOCOBALT HOLDS PROMISE AS A SUBSTITUTE FOR RARE AND EXPENSIVE RADIUM, THE REPORT SAID. IT DESCRIBED LIMITED CLINICAL TRIALS AT OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY AND ADDED:

"INDICATIONS ARE THAT, DUE TO THE FLEXIBILITY AND COMPARATIVE SAFETY OF RADIOCOBALT, THE UNIVERSITY WILL BE ABLE TO ACHIEVE ITS ORIGINAL OBJECTIVE OF BETTER TREATMENT FOR CANCER. EVLUATION OF RESULTS WILL REQUIRE FURTHER LARGE SCALE WORK AND SOME YEARS OF TIME."

THERE HAD BEEN SOME CRITICISM OF THE COMMISSION'S LAST REPORT IN JANUARY ON THE GROUND THAT IT CONTAINED PICTURES OF ATOMIC INSTALLATIONS THAT WOULD BE VALUABLE AS TARGET GUIDES FOR ENEMY BOMBERS. THE CRIGICS PRESUMABLY WILL FIND LITTLE TO SHOOT AT IN THE PICTORIAL LINE IN THE LATEST NUMBER.

PICTURES SHOW SUCH SUBJECTS AS:

A WHITE MOUSE NIBBLING ON RADIOACTIVE FOOD IN A GLASS VESSEL; A HORNET THAT MAY BE PROVE USEFUL IN DETECTING RADIATION "LEAKS" FROM ATOMIC ENERGY DEVICES; SOME CATTLE INADVERTENTLY EXPOSED TO RADIOACTIVE DUST IN THE FIRST ATOMIC BOMB EXPLOSION IN NEW MEXICO AND NOW BEING WATCHED FOR ANY EVIDENCE OF ILL EFFECTS; AND A FISH THAT PICKED UP SOME RADIOACTIVITY IN THE BIKINI LAGOON.

30.24- 4753

WASHINGTON,AUG.1-(AP)-FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S STATEMENT TODAY ON THE ATOMIC ENERGY PROGRAM (ABOUT 300)

THREE YEARS AGO I APPROVED THE ATOMIC ENERGY ACT OF 1946, WHICH ESTABLISHED POLICIES TO GUIDE THIS NATION'S DEVELOPMENT OF ATOMIC ENERGY.

FOR THE PAST THREE YEARS, THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION IN COOPERATION WITH THE ARMED SERVICES, HAS BORNE THE MAIN BURDEN OF RESPONSIBILITY FOR PRESERVING AND STRENGTHENING OUR PRE-EMINENCE IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF ATOMIC ENERGY FOR BOTH MILITARY AND PEACETIME PURPOSES. IN THIS EFFORT, THE GOVERNMENT HAS HAD THE FULL COOPERATION OF PRIVATE INDUSTRY AND OUR INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING.

EVERY AMERICAN SHOULD KNOW, WITHIN SECURITY LIMITS, OF THE SPLENDID PROGRESS WHICH IS BEING MADE IN THIS HUGE UNDERTAKING. THIS PRINCIPLE OF RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT IS BASIC TO OUR POLITICAL SYSTEM. OUR PROGRESS IS SUMMED UP IN THE SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT SUBMITTED TODAY TO THE CONGRESS BY THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION.

NOTEWORTHY ADVANCES HAVE BEEN MADE IN EVERY SECTOR OF THE ATOMIC ENERGY PROGRAM. GAINS HAVE BEEN MADE IN THE PRODUCTION OF FISSIONABLE MATERIALS AND IN THE DESIGN AND PRODUCTION OF ATOMIC WEAPONS, IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PARAMOUNT OBJECTIVE OF ASSURING THE COMMON DEFENSE AND SECURITY. FUNDAMENTAL RESEARCH IS BEING PURSUED ON A LARGE SCALE, BECAUSE IT CONSTITUTES THE BASIS FOR FUTURE APPLICATIONS OF ATOMIC ENERGY. THE COMMISSION IS ENERGETICALLY CARRYING FORWARD ITS PROGRAM OF APPLIED RESEARCH LOOKING TOWARD THE USE OF ATOMIC ENERGY IN WAYS THAT WILL MATERIALLY IMPROVE HUMAN WELFARE. ALL THE PEOPLE WILL BENEFIT FROM THE INCREASING USE OF THE PRODUCTS OF ATOMIC ENERGY TO FURTHER THE HEALING ARTS, TO BRING ABOUT BETTER FOOD PRODUCTION, AND TO INCREASE OUR UNDERSTANDING OF THE BASIC FORCES OF LIFE ITSELF.

IT IS IMPORTANT THAT THIS PROGRAM CONTINUE TO GO FORWARD WITH UNDIMINISHED MOMENTUM AND EFFECTIVENESS.

"I BELIEVE THAT OUR NATIONAL POLICY FOR THE VIGOROUS DEVELOPMENT OF ATOMIC ENERGY IS SOUND. IT IS A BALANCED POLICY WHICH MAKES US STRONGER FROM A MILITARY STANDPOINT WHILE AT THE SAME TIME IT PROMOTES OUR PEACETIME GOALS. IT IS A POLICY WHICH HAS THE OVERHWELMING SUPPORT OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

AS I REVIEW THE STATE OF THIS NATION'S ATOMIC ENERGY PROGRAM, I FIRMLY BELIEVE THAT THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES AND ALL WHO RELY ON THE STRENGTH OF THIS NATION HAVE REASON FOR REASSURANCE AND FAITH.

MIGHT LEAD ARMS

BY JOHN B.OWEN

WASHINGTON,AUG 1-(AP)-GENERAL GEORGE C.MARSHALL URGED CONGRESS TODAY TO SEND ARMS TO WESTERN EUROPE NATIONS QUICKLY. "I AM VERY FEARFUL OF DELAY," HE SAID.

BACKING THE FULL $1,450,000,000 ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM OF MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO FRIENDLY NATIONS, THE WARTIME ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF TOLD THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE IT IS "JUST A BEGINNING" IN ESTABLISHING A FIRM FRONT TO FORESTALL ANY RUSSIAN PUSH. COMMITTEE MEMBERS HAVE INSISTENTLY ASKED WITNESSES HOW MUCH COOPERATION FOR MUTUAL DEFENSE COULD BE EXPECTED FROM RECIPIENT NATIONS.

SOME REPUBLICANS HAVE SPOKEN FOR POSITIVE ASSURANCE BEFORE SUPPORTING EVEN A REDUCED ARMS PROGRAM.

MARSHALL SAID IT WOULD BE "A VERY DANGEROUS THING" TO HOLD UP ON THE PROGRAM UNTIL CONGRESS IS ASSURED THAT WESTERN EUROPE HAS A PROGRAM WORKED OUT. HE SAID HE DOESN'T BELIEVE THERE WILL BE ANY DIFFICULTY IN GETTING EUROPEAN NATIONS TO COOPERATE.

IN FACT, HE SAID, HE THINKS "THE FORMAL CONCLUSIONS" FOR SUCH COOPERATION HAVE ALREADY BEEN REACHED.

"THEY'RE ALL IN SUCH A DELEMMA," MARSHALL SAID OF THE EUROPEAN NATIONS, "THAT I DO NOT THINK THAT WE HAVE TO FEAR THAT THEY WON'T MAKE PROGRESS IN MUTUAL COOPERATION."

COULDN'T THE PROGRAM BE CUT UNTIL COOPERATION IS GUARANTEED? REP. JUDD (R-MINN) ASKED. MARSHALL ADVISED NO. "YOU'RE TRYING TO START THE ENGINE UP," THE FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE SAID.

REP. JAVITS (R-NY) TOLD MARSHALL HE PLANS AN AMENDMENT REQUIRING PRESIDENT TRUMAN TO REACH AGREEMENTS WITH SIGNERS OF THE ATLANTIC TREATY THAT THERE BE A UNIFIED COMMAND IN DEFENSE OF WESTERN EUROPE AND OTHER UNIFICATION STEPS.

MARSHALL ADVISED JAVITS THAT SUCH A REQUIREMENT "MAY LEAD US INTO SOMETHING WE'RE NOT ANXIOUS FOR. X X X I CAN'T EXPRESS MYSELF."

OTHER WITNESSES BEFORE THE COMMITTEE HAVE DECLINED PUBLIC DISCUSSION OF COORDINATION DETAILS. SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON HAS SAID THERE WOULD BE AN UNDERSTANDING AND "WORKING AGREEMENT." MARSHALL NOTED THAT FIVE WESTERN EUROPEAN NATIONS, ENGLAND, FRANCE, THE NETHERLANDS, BELGIUM AND LUXEMBOURG, ALREADY HAVE A UNIFIED COMMAND.

MARSHALL SAID THAT EVENTUALLY THE MEN IN THE KREMLIN WILL DESTROY THEMSELVES "BUT THIS GENERALLY TAKES SOME TIME." HE DECLINED TO ESTIMATE THE SIZE OF THE ARMS PROGRAM AT FULL SCALE. OTHER WITNESSES HAVE PREDICTED IT MAY REQUIRE ASSISTANCE UP TO FIVE YEARS TO BUILD DEFENSES STRONG ENOUGH TO DISCOURAGE ANY ASAULT ON WESTERN EUROPE.

A FIRM FRONT IS THE BEST DEFENSE, MARSHALL SAID.

THE RUSSIANS HAVE "A DANGEROUS ADVANTAGE," THE WITNESS SAID. HE EXPLAINED THAT THEIR LEADERS CAN MAKE THEIR OWN DECISIONS WITHOUT HAVING TO CONSULT ANY CONGRESS.

TWO OR THREE YEARS OF AID SHOULD PUT THE EUROPEANS IN A POSITION WHERE THEY CAN HELP THEMSELVES, HE SAID. NO PROVISION IN THE PROGRAM IS FOR AID IN ARMS PRODUCTION ABROAD.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS ASKED WHAT MARSHALL THOUGHT IS "RUSSIA'S ATTITUDE TOWARD A HOT WAR."

HE REPLIED HE DOESN'T KNOW; "THEY ARE UNPREDICTABLE."

IN REPLY TO REP. MERROW (R-NH), MARSHALL SAID HE DOES NOT THINK THE ARMS PROGRAM WOULD BEGIN A WORLD ARMAMENTS RACE.

HE SAID THE AIM IS TO GET "THE RESPECT OF RUSSIA."

GG-PF306PED NH BJT

WASHINGTON, AUG.1-(AP)-GEN.GEORGE C.MARSHALL TOLD CONGRESS TODAY THAT IT WOULD BE "A VERY DANGEROUS THING" TO DELAY PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S PROGRAM OF FOREIGN ARMS AID.

HE ADVISED THE LAW-MAKERS ALSO AGAINST CUTTING THE $1,450,000,000 PROGRAM UNTIL THE U.S. HAS IRONCLAD GUARANTEES THAT WEST EUROPE WILL COOPERATE FULLY.

"YOU'RE TRYING TO START THE ENGINE UP," MARSHALL TOLD THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE. THE PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM DOES NOT GO "WHOLE HOG", HE DECLARED.

THE FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE, WHO WAS ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF DURING WORLD WAR II, APPEARED AT THE COMMITTEE'S HEARING ON THE HISTORY-MAKING PLAN OF ARMS AID TO EUROPEAN MEMBERS OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC ALLIANCE AND TO GREECE, TURKEY, IRAN, KOREA AND THE PHILIPPINES.

SOME REPUBLICAN MEMBERS OF CONGRESS HAVE PROPOSED THAT FOREIGN ARMS AID BE LIMITED TO A SMALLER STOP-GAP PROGRAM UNTIL THE NORTH ATLANTIC ALLIES ORGANIZE A DEFENSE COUNCIL AND ADOPT AN OVER-ALL PLAN. SENATORS VANDENBERG (MICH) AND DULLES (NY), WHO HAVE BEEN LEADING SUPPORTERS OF THE BI-PARTISAN FOREIGN POLICY, HAVE BEEN AMONG THOSE MAKING THIS SUGGESTION.

UNDER QUESTIONING BY REP.MERROW (R-NH), MARSHALL SAID HE BELIEVED IT WOULD BE "A VERY DANGEROUS THING" TO HOLD UP THE PROGRAM UNTIL CONGRESS CAN ASSURE ITSELF THAT WESTERN EUROPE HAS EVOLVED A DETAILED PLAN FOR MILITARY COORDINATION, COOPERATION AND UNITY.

MARSHALL SAID HE DOES NOT BELIEVE THERE WILL BE ANY DIFFICULTY GETTING THE BENEFITTING NATIONS TO COOPERATE. HE SAID HE THINKS "THE FORMAL CONCLUSIONS" FOR COOPERATION HAVE BEEN REACHED ALREADY.

"THEY'RE ALL IN SUCH A DILEMMA," HE SAID, REFERRING TO EUROPEAN NATIONS, "THAT I DO NOT THINK THAT WE HAVE TO FEAR THAT THEY WON'T MAKE PROGRESS IN MUTUAL COOPERATION.

REP.JUDD (R-MINN) WANTED TO KNOW IF THE PROGRAM COULD NOT BE CUT UNTIL THERE IS AN IRONCLAD GUARANTEE OF MUTUAL COOPERATION.

MARSHALL DIDN'T THINK SO.

"YOU'RE TRYING TO START THE ENGINE UP," HE SAID, ADDING THAT THE PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM IS "NOT GOING WHOLE HOG."

MARSHALL DECLARED IT WOULD BE "VERY DANGEROUS TO UNDULY PROLONG THE SITUATION OF MILITARY WEAKNESS" AMONG FRIENDLY NATIONS. BY RELIEVING THAT SITUATION, HE ADDED, THE ARMS PROGRAM WOULD TEND TO "DISCOURAGE AGGRESSION."

ASKED BY REP.MERROW WHY NON-COMMUNIST CHINA SHOULD NOT BE INCLUDE IN THE PROGRAM, MARSHALL SAID THAT QUESTION WAS ANSWERED LAST WEEK BY SECRETARY ACHESON, WHO SAID IT IS NOT FEASIBLE AT THIS TIME.

"IT IS THE MOST PUZZLING SITUATION," MARSHALL COMMENTED, REFERRING TO THE CHINESE PICTURE.

MERROW WANTED TO KNOW IF THE PROGRAM WOULD START A WORLD ARMAMENTS RACE.

MARSHALL SAID HE DID NOT THINK SO.

"SUCH A RACE, IF STARTED IN THE FUTURE, COULD ONLY BE BETWEEN OURSELVES AND SOVIET RUSSIA," HE ADDED.

"WHAT WE'VE GOT TO GET IS THE RESPECT OF RUSSIA," THE FORMER SECRETARY SAID, RATHER THAN GIVE ANY IDEA OF "AGGRESSION AGAINST RUSSIA."

MARSHALL TESTIFIED THAT, WHILE FAILURE TO APPROVE THE PROGRAM AT THIS TIME WOULD RESULT IN "A MINOR ECONOMY," IT ALSO "MIGHT RESULT IN THE POSSIBILITY OF A MAJOR OUTLAY LATER ON."

ENDORSING PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S $1,450,000,000 PROGRAM, MARSHALL AGREED WITH PREVIOUS STATEMENTS BY SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON AND THE ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF, GENERAL OMAR N.BRADLEY.

MARSHALL TOLD THE COMMITTEE THAT HE HAD NOT SAT IN ON CONSULTATIONS WHILE THE PLAN WAS BEING WORKED OUT, BUT THAT HE WAS BRIEFED ON IT AT THE STATE DEPARTMENT LAST FRIDAY.

"I HAD BEEN STRONGLY OF THE OPINION X X X THAT ACTION OF THIS NATURE WAS URGENTLY NECESSARY," HE ADDED. "AS TO THE FUNDAMENTAL POLICY INVOLVED THERE IS NO DOUBT IN MY MIND AS TO THE DESIRABILITY OF ACTION OF THIS NATURE IMMEDIATELY."

IT IS NECESSARY, HE SAID, FOR THE NATIONS OF EUROPE WHO ARE FRIENDLY TO THE UNITED STATES AND ARE RESISTING RUSSIA TO HAVE "MUTUALLY COOPERATIVE ACTION AGAINST AGGRESSION."

IN THE LONG RUN, MARSHALL TESTIFIED, THE PROGRAM WILL STRENGTHEN RATHER THAN WEAKEN THE MILITARY POSITION OF THE UNITED STATES AND WILL GIVE MOMENTUM TO OUR FOREIGN POLICY.

MARSHALL SAID THAT IN 1939, IF THE MILITARY REQUIREMENTS STATED BY THE ARMED SERVICES COULD HAVE BEEN MET "EVEN TO A MODEST DEGREE, WE COULD HAVE WHITTLED AWAY AT LEAST SIX MONTHS OF THE DURATION OF THE WAR."

HE EMPHASIZED THAT HE WAS NOT CRITICIZING CONGRESS ON THE ADMINISTRATION WHEN HE SAID THAT.

HE SAID "T

HE SAID "THE REAL ISSUE" AT THAT TIME WAS THE ATTITUDE OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, WHICH WAS AFFECTED BY "A REAL, AGGRESSIVE AND VOCAL MINORITY."

MARSHALL STRESSED THE VALUE OF "TIMING" IN THE PENDING PROGRAM AND SAID THE PSYCHOLOGICAL EFFECT OF ITS REJECTION WOULD NOT BE GOOD AMONG THE DEMOCRACIES.

HE WAS THE ONLY WITNESS SCHEDULED TODAY BY THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE (9:30 A.M. EST) IN ITS STUDY OF THE PLAN TO HELP ATLANTIC PACT AND OTHER NATIONS RESIST POSSIBLE SOVIET AGGRESSION. HIS APPEARANCE WAS EXPECTED IN ADVANCE TO TOUCH OFF A LIVELY DISCUSSION OF WHY CHINA WAS EXCLUDED FROM THIS ARMS AID.

MARSHALL REPRESENTED THE UNITED STATES AS SPECIAL AMBASSADOR TO CHINA FOLLOWING THE WAR AND IS CONSIDERED BY MANY COMMITTEE MEMBERS AS A FOREMOST AUTHORITY ON FAR EASTERN POLITICS.

QUESTIONING OF OTHER WITNESSES, INCLUDING SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON AND SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON, HAS FAILED TO SATISFY CRITICS SEEKING THE REASONS FOR NOT CUTTING WHAT REMAINS OF NON-COMMUNIST CHINA IN FOR A CHUNK OF THE PROPOSED HELP. ABOUT THE ONLY INFORMATION GIVEN TO DATE IS THAT THE FAR EASTERN SITUATION IS NOW BEING REVIEWED.

SPAIN ALSO IS NOT INCLUDED IN THE LIST OF NATIONS FOR WHICH ARMS ARE PROPOSED, AND SOME COMMITTEE MEMBERS DON'T LIKE THAT. WITHOUT ENLARGING THE PROJECTED COST OF THE PROGRAM--ABOUT $1,450,000,000 IN ALL--THEY WANT ITS SCOPE EXPANDED.

THE COMMITTEE MAY CONCLUDE ITS PUBLIC HEARINGS THIS WEEK AND START EXECUTIVE SESSIONS TO DRAFT DETAILS OF LEGISLATION. IT WANTS TO HEAR AGAIN FROM THE U.S. CHIEFS OF STAFF WHEN THEY RETURN FROM AN INSPECTION TOUR OF EUROPE NEXT WEEK.

SO FAR, ONLY A FEW PERSONS HAVE ASKED TO BE HEARD IN OUTRIGHT OPPOSITION, AND NO DECISION HAS BEEN MADE ON WHETHER TO LISTEN TO THEM. COMMITTEE SOURCES SAID THEY LARGELY REPRESENT SMALL GROUPS WHICH IN THE PAST HAVE OPPOSED ALL FOREIGN LEGISLATION AND ONE OF WHICH HAS BEEN LISTED BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL AS A SUBVERSIVE PRO-

SOVIET ORGANIZATION.

DESPITE STIFF COMMITTEE OPPOSITION, CHAIRMAN KEE (D-WVA) TOLD NEWSMEN HE BELIEVES THE COMMITTEE WILL APPROVE THE PLAN IN SUBSTANTIALLY THE FORM REQUESTED BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN.

MAJOR OPPOSITION HAS COME FROM A GROUP DEMANDING A SHAVED-DOWN "INTERIM" PROGRAM OF LESS THAN $1,000,000,000(B) AND GUARANTEES FROM BENEFITTING NATIONS THAT THERE WILL BE COORDINATION AND UNIFICATION OF ACTION IN THE EVENT IT BECOMES NECESSARY TO USE THE ARMS PROVIDED.

"WITHOUT THAT GUARANTEE, IT WOULD BE FOOLISH TO HAVE THE PROGRAM AT ALL," SAID REP. VORYS (R-OHIO).

AUG

(350) MIGHT LEAD FOREIGN AID

WASHINGTON,AUG.1-(AP)-THE CONFUSED AND BITTER WRANGLE OVER THE BIG FOREIGN AID MONEY BILL IS ALMOST CERTAIN TO BREAK OUT AGAIN IN THE SENATE TOMORROW. THE BILL IS ONE OF ABOUT $30,000,000,000 WORTH OF JAMMED-UP APPROPRIATIONS ALREADY A MONTH OVERDUE.

MAJORITY LEADER LUCAS OF ILLINOIS SAID HE WILL TRY TO HAVE THE INDEPENDENT OFFICES APPROPRIATIONS BILL SET ASIDE SO THE SENATE CAN RE-OPEN DEBATE ON THE $5,647,724,000 FOREIGN AID BILL WHICH INCLUDES FUNDS FOR THE MARSHALL PLAN.

HE WARNED HE WILL CHALLENGE DISPUTED AMENDMENTS WHICH THE SENATE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE LEFT IN THE BILL AFTER IT WAS BOUNCED BACK FOR REVISION TO CONFORM TO SENATE RULES.

EVEN THOUGH THE RIDERS HAVE BEEN RE-WRITTEN, LUAS SAID THEY STILL CONSTITUTE NEW LEGISLATION IN AN APPROPRIATIONS MEASURE AND FOR THIS REASON VIOLATE SENATE PROCEDURE.

THIS SAME DISPUTE LAST WEEK HALTED ACTION ON THE BILL WHICH CARRIES FUNDS FOR THE EUROPEAN RECOVERY PROGRAM; FOR OCCUPATION COSTS IN GERMANY, AUSTRIA, JAPAN, AND THE RYUKYU ISLANDS; AND FOR AID TO TURKEY AND GREECE.

THE COMMITTEE LEFT THREE CONTROVERSIAL AMENDMENTS IN THE REVISED BILL. THEY WOULD:

(1) REQUIRE THE ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION AND THE ARMY TO EARMARK $1,800,000,000 FOR BUYING SURPLUS AMERICAN FARM PRODUCTS.

(2) EARMARK $50,000,000 IN ECA FUNDS FOR LOANS TO SPAIN.

(3) LIMIT AID TO FRANCE BECAUSE OF ALLEGED DISCRIMINATION AGAINST AMERICANS IN FRENCH MOROCCO.

"THESE AMENDMENTS ARE JUST AS OBJECTIONABLE NOW AS THEY WERE BEFORE," LUCAS TOLD A REPORTER. "THE COMMITTEE MERELY RE-PHRASED THEM AND IS TRYING TO ACCOMPLISH THE SAME PURPOSE BY COMING IN THE BACK DOOR.

CHAIRMAN MCKELLAR (D-TENN) CONTENDED, HOWEVER, THAT THE BILL'S FORM NOW CANNOT BE CONTESTED SUCCESSFULLY.

IF LUCAS RAISES A POINT OF ORDER (CHALLENGE) AGAINST THE AMENDMENTS, IT WILL CALL FOR A RULING BY VICE PRESIDENT BARKLEY AS TO WHETHER THE RIDERS CONTAIN NEW LEGISLATION.

THEN THE BARKLEY RULING WILL BE SUBJECT TO APPEAL WITH THE PROSPECT OF EVEN GREATER CONFUSION OVER THE ISSUE.

BARKLEY HAS TOLD THE SENATE ITS RULES AGAINST NEW LEGISLATION IN A MONEY BILL ARE "MUDDY" AND SHOULD BE CLARIFIED. HE SAID IT IS AN ABSURD SITUATION WHEN ONE SENATOR CAN CHALLENGE AN APPROPRIATIONS BILL RESULTING IN SENDING THE ENTIRE MEASURE BACK TO COMMITTEE.

MOST SENATORS AGREE WITH BARKLEY ON THIS POINT. BUT THE IMMEDIATE ISSUE IS HOW TO GET ACTION ON THE FOREIGN AID BILL AND BREAK THE LOG-JAM WHICH IS HOLDING UP THE BIG APPROPRIATIONS MEASURES.

CONGRESS-ECA

WASHINGTON,AUG.1-(AP)-SENATOR LUCAS OF ILLINOIS, THE DEMOCRATIC LEADER OF THE SENATE, CALLED TODAY FOR PASSAGE OF A FARM BILL. HE INCLUDED IT ON A LONG LIST OF "MUST" MEASURES THAT MAY KEEP CONGRESS IN SESSION WELL INTO SEPTEMBER.

LUCAS TOLD A REPORTER HE SEES LITTLE CHANCE THAT CONGRESS CAN GET AWAY BEFORE LABOR DAY (SEPTEMBER 5), AT THE EARLIEST. IF IT TAKES MUCH LONGER THAN THAT TO GET ACTION ON ADMINISTRATION BILLS PILED UP ON THE CALENDAR, THE LAWMAKERS WILL JUST HAVE TO STAY HERE, HE SAI

AMONG MEASURES LUCAS SCHEDULED FOR ACTION ARE THE HOUSE-APPROVED RECIPROCAL TRADE AGREEMENTS BILL, A MEASURE TO LIFT THE MINIMUM WAGE LEVEL TO 75 CENTS AN HOUR, A HOUSE-APPROVED PROPOSAL TO INCREASE GOVERNMENT SALARIES FROM CABINET MEMBERS DOWN THE LINE, THE PENDING FOREIGN ARMS PROGRAM, A DISPLACED PERSONS BILL, APPROPRIATIONS MEASURES AND A CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

REPUBLICAN SENATORS WILL DISCUSS TOMORROW A PROPOSAL BY SENATOR MORSE (R-ORE) THAT THEY BACK A PLAN FOR CONGRESS TO WIND UP ITS PRESENT WORK AUGUST 20 AND COME BACK NOVEMBER 15.

LUCAS SAID HE WOULD RATHER GO ON THROUGH THAN TO HAVE ANY SUCH RECESS. SENATOR TAFT OF OHIO, CHAIRMAN OF THE GOP POLICY COMMITTEE, ALSO IS AGAINST RETURNING TO WASHINGTON IN NOVEMBER.

LUCAS SAID HE WILL KEEP THE SENATE WORKING ON APPROPRIATIONS BILLS UNTIL ALL OF THEM HAVE BEEN PASSED. THE MINIMUM WAGE PROPOSAL WILL COME UP THEN, WITH RECIPROCAL TRADE AGREEMENTS LEGISLATION BEHIND IT.

THE SENATE MAY UNTANGLE ITSELF EARLY THIS WEEK FROM A PARLIAMENTARY KNOT WHICH HAS HELD UP FINAL ACTION ON THE $5,500,000,000 FOREIGN AID FUNDS BILL, MOST OF WHICH IS FOR EUROPEAN RECOVERY.

THE MEASURE WAS SENT BACK TO COMMITTEE TO STRIP OUT AMENDMENTS THAT HAD BEEN CHALLENGED AS VIOLATING THE RULE AGAINST POLICY-MAKING PROPOSALS IN MONEY BILLS. IT COMES BACK TO THE SENATE TODAY WITH SOME OF THE AMENDMENTS REWORDED.

LUCAS SAID HE WILL CONTINUE HIS FIGHT TO FORCE A REQUIREMENT FOR TWO-THIRDS APPROVAL ON TWO OF THEM. ONE WOULD EARMARK $1,800,000,000 (B) IN ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION AND ARMY FUNDS FOR PURCHASE OF SURPLUS FARM CROPS, AND THE OTHER WOULD SET ASIDE $50,000,000 FOR LOANS TO SPAIN.

LUCAS'S CALL FOR PASSAGE OF A FARM BILL COLLIDED WITH REPUBLICAN CHARGES THAT THE DEMOCRATS DON'T WANT ANY COMPROMISE MEASURE APPROVED, SINCE THE HOUSE KILLED THE BRANNAN FARM SUBSIDY PAYMENT PLAN.

SENATOR BUTLER (R-NEB) TOLD A REPORTER HE IS CONVINCED THE DEMOCRATS WANT TO CAMPAIGN ON THE BRANNAN PLAN ISSUE IN 1950 AND THEREFORE WILL STYMIE EFFORTS TO REACH A COMPROMISE.

SENATOR MCGRATH OF RHODE ISLAND, THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CHAIRMAN, SAID OVER THE WEEK-END THAT THE BRANNAN PLAN ISN'T DEAD. HE PREDICTED THAT IT WILL BE APPROVED BY THE NEXT CONGRESS.

DESPITE THESE CONFLICTING VIEWS, LUCAS SAID HE THINKS CONGRESS MUST ACT IN THIS SESSION ON SOME PLAN TO SUPPLANT THE FLEXIBLE PRICE SUPPORT PROGRAM VOTED BY THE REPUBLICAN 80TH CONGRESS, WHICH OTHERWISE WILL GO INTO EFFECT NEXT JANUARY.

DEMOCRATS EXPECT LENGTHY DEBATE OVER THE RECIPROCAL TRADE AGREEMENTS PROGRAM. THEY HAVE BEEN WARNED, TOO, BY MEMBERS OF THEIR OWN PARTY AS WELL AS THE REPUBLICANS, THAT THE PRESIDENT'S $1,450,000,000 (B) FOREIGN ARMS PROGRAM IS GOING TO PROVOKE A LOT OF TALK.

IT NOW IS BEING PUSHED IN THE HOUSE, WITH PROSPECTS THAT THE SENATE WILL TRY TO WORK OFF PART OF ITS LEGISLATIVE JAM BEFORE IT TAKES UP

THE ISSUE.
AS A FURTHER COMPLICATION, SENATOR WHERRY OF NEBRASKA, THE GOP FLOOR LEADER, HAS DEMANDED THAT CONGRESS ACT TO BAR THE GIVING OF ATOMIC BOMB SECRETS TO ANY OTHER NATION.
WHERRY SAID IN A STATEMENT YESTERDAY THAT THESE SECRETS ARE BEING PRESERVED NOW ONLY THROUGH A "GENTLEMAN'S AGREEMENT" ON THE PART OF THE PRESIDENT AND THE SENATE-HOUSE ATOMIC COMMITTEE THAT MR. TRUMAN WON'T SHARE THEM WITH ANYBODY ELSE UNTIL HE CONSULTS WITH CONGRESS.
WHERRY INSISTED THAT ISN'T ENOUGH PROTECTION.

GOP ACTS TO CURB TRUMAN'S POWER UNDER ARMS PLAN

President's Right to Send Aid to Any Nation Is Protested

ACHESON LAUDS BILL

Committee Meets Again on Friday, Hearings Will Start Monday

BY MAX BOYD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—A movement to deny President Truman the power to arm any nation he thinks necessary developed in the Senate's powerful combined Committee on Foreign Relations and Armed Services today.

Members said that Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), led the drive to strip such powers from the president's $1,450,000,000 program to arm "free nations" abroad.

Although the senators did not want to be quoted by name, some of them gave reporters this account of what happened at a closed session of their joint committee with Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson:

Vandenberg Protests

Vandenberg, who has been a strong supporter of the bi-partisan foreign policy, objected vigorously to language in the foreign arms bill that would let the president supply arms to any nation and permit him to recognize a group of persons as a nation for this purpose.

The influential Republican contended this is the greatest grant of power ever asked by a president in peacetime.

Secretary Acheson defended the bill in its present form, but agreed reluctantly to discuss possible changes. He made no promise of modifications, but it was understood that the State department would report to the committee Friday on the outcome of these discussions.

Secretary Johnson told the committee he thinks it will take five years to rearm our allies fully, but that the $1,450,000,000 now proposed will be the largest single year's contribution the U. S. will have to make.

Some committee members questioned a provision of the bill which they said would permit heads of government departments, rather than the chiefs of staff, to determine what military supplies and equipment are surplus. Under the administration's program, existing surplus weapons and supplies that originally cost $450,000,000 would be sent to U. S. allies.

Meets Again Friday

Senator Connally (D-Tex), chairman of the joint Senate committee, told reporters after its meeting with Acheson and Johnson:

"We are trying to meet the objections of committee members, to the end that within the scope of the bill and its objectives we may get as large an agreement as possible."

The Senate committee will meet again in closed session Friday and begin hearing witnesses next Monday.

Three of the administration's top men in Europe recorded their support of the President's program before the House Foreign Affairs committee, which went ahead with its own hearings today.

They were Lewis Douglas, the ambassador to Britain; Henry F. Grady, ambassador to Greece, and W. Averell Harriman, the Marshall Plan's roving ambassador.

In a statement sent to the House committee, Douglas urged Congress to approve full military aid to western Europe because "this is the language which is understood" in Moscow.

He said the communists in western Europe have been losing ground during the past 18 months and that the Russians "now apear to be receptive to at least minor adjustments of our differences."

Say Would Reverse Trend

Douglas expressed belief, however, that any "slackening or faltering" on the part of the United States would reverse this trend.

He emphasized that, if the United States does not build up the western European armies, navies and air forces, it will have to build defense forces of its own capable of holding the west.

Grady appeared personally to read a statement urging Congress not to cut the military aid proposed for Greece.

He declared a policy of "too little and too late" would be the most unwise and uneconomic from the viewpoint of American interests, and the most cruel to the people of Greece.

"The provision of less than the minimum amount of aid needed to do the job would perpetuate the fighting in Greece to no purpose," the ambassador added. "We simply cannot afford the policy of the shoestring."

Grady did not specify the amount of military assistance Greece should get, but he said the best estimate of the executive branch is that Greek needs can be met within the $300,580,000 which the foreign arms bill provides for countries outside western Europe, and with help—"in the event of special contingencies"—from a proposed $45,000,000 fund for meeting emergencies wherever they may arise.

Harriman said the arms aid program is necessary to maintain the confidence that has begun to replace fear of Russia among some 200,000,000 European people.

"I believe that it is our duty to make the present sacrifices which may be necessary to protect the growing generation from war," he declared in a prepared statement.

Warns Against Delay

The ambassador said the will and ability of the North Atlantic allies can be greatly strengthened by our assistance, but that "if we turn aside today or put off action on the proposed assistance, doubts may well arise again." He added:

"The voices of the subversive elements, the appeasers, those who would trust 'neutrality,' would rise again and have an effect on the confidence and determination which now exists."

Discussing suggestions that the program be delayed until the joint military organization contemplated under the North Atlantic Alliance is set up, Harriman said he knows from his own experience that the Western Union countries have been working for over a year on a unified plan of mutual defense. U. S. military officers have sat as observers in the development of these plans, he added.

The Western Union countries are the United Kingdom, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

"As to the other countries concerned," Harriman continued, "it is my understanding the program is based on minimum needs to equip their smaller existing forces and to provide the first step in their contribution towards combined action."

Other Nations Eligible

The other European members of the North Atlantic Pact, which would be eligible for military assistance grants under the bill, are Italy, Norway, Denmark, Iceland and Portugal.

In addition, the administration's measure provides for grants to other nations whose "increased ability to defend themselves" is important to the security of the U. S.

The State department has mentioned Turkey, Greece, Iran, Korea and the Philippines as countries to which aid under this provision is now contemplated.

The president could add other countries to the list, however, if he found that their increased ability to defend themselves was important to American security.

Asked about the progress of European recovery, Harrimaun told Congressmen:

"We are ahead of what we thought could be accomplished. We find a weakening going on behind the Iron Curtain. I had not expected such a weakening for several years."

Senators Delay Foreign Arms Hearings

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Senators today postponed hearings from tomorrow until Monday on the Administration's $1,450,000,000 foreign arms program amid indications that they will atempt to reduce it in size and scope.

Chairman Connally (D., Texas) said the joint Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees will seek "the widest possible area of agreement" among members on the foreign arms plan before asking Senate action.

Harriman Urges Action

He spoke out as W. Averell Harriman, the Marshal plan's roving Ambassador in Europe, urged the House Foreign Affairs Committee to approve the arms program. He said it is needed promptly to "protect the growing generation from war."

The actual bill before the House committee would authorize $50,000,000 less than was asked by the Administration.

Connally's announcement came after Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson were closeted with the Senate group behind closed doors.

Powers Too Wide, Some Say

Some senators were reported to have told the two Cabinet members bluntly that the bill involves too wide a grant of powers to the President and more than the stopgap program on which they have been insisting.

They object primarily to a provision which would authorize President Truman to make arms available to any nation in the world.

Connally conceded that the senators discussed possible modification of the Administration bill "in some small particulars." He would not elaborate.

Modification Discussed

"We are trying to meet the objections of committee members, to the end that within the scope of the bill and its objectives that we may get as large an agreement as possible," Connally said.

He said the combined committees will meet again Friday in a closed session. This will delay the start of Senate hearings until Monday.

Harriman told the House Committee that "I earnestly believe we are winning the struggle for peace and freedom in Europe."

But, he emphasized, any delay in shipping arms to America's European allies would create doubts which might reverse this trend.

"Our Duty To Sacrifice"

"The voices of the subversive elements, the appeasers, those who would trust 'neutrality' would rise again and have an effect on the confidence and determination which now exists," he said.

Harriman, who was once the American Ambassador to Moscow, added: "I believe that it is our duty to make the present sacrifices which may be necessary to protect the growing generation from war."

The Ambassador spoke out as Democrats joined with Republicans on the committee in calling for more details on President Truman's request for approval of a $1,400,000,000 program to help friendly nations arm against Soviet aggression.

Fears Unfounded, He Says

Harriman told the congressmen their fears that the proposed program would jeopardize European recovery are unfounded.

He said the ECA is satisfied the arms program "will not impair European recovery, but on the other hand will strengthen it, since confidence is an essential condition for men to work, invest and plan for the future.

"The contribution of the European military establishments, when developed, will add immeasureably to our security and affect the size of our own security forces that we must maintain in the future."

A Full Alliance

Harriman testified that through the arms program and the North Atlantic pact the United States is not only aliying itself with the manpower of the Western nations but also with the "skill and productivity of their workmen."

He said this is "far greater than Russia and her satellites."

Harriman cited steel as an example. He said the United States has a capacity of 90,000,000 tons, to which would be joined the 40,000,000-ton output of the North Atlantic pact countries.

Russia and her satellites together, he said, probably have a production today of "less than 30,000,000 tons."

Results Of U.S. Strength

As for recovery in Europe, Harriman said during the past two years there has been "great and encouraging growth of political stability and economic progress, and above all the growth of confidence and determination."

The principal reasons for this, he said, have been the policies advocated by the United States Government—the European Recovery Program, the signing of the North Atlantic pact, the strengthening of American armed forces and now the proposal for military assistance.

"I have never been as optimistic as I am today, that the maintenance of peace and freedom is within our reach in Europe, provided we carry out vigorously the policies and programs in which we are engaged, including the military assistance program," Harriman said.

Can't Afford To Relax

"We face forces determined and persistent, which must be met with equal determination and perseverance. We cannot relax because of early successes. The task is not easy and requires continuing present-day sacrifices.

"If this arms program is not adopted, valuable time will be lost. It will cost more in the long run and put off the day when we can count on the European nations' contribution to our security."

Harriman also sought to meet criticism from congressmen who want to delay arming western Europe until a definite defense plan has been worked out.

Text of Harriman Statement Asking U. S. Military Aid to Europe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Following is the text of the statement made by Ambassador W. Averell Harriman before the House Foreign Affairs Committee today:

I have had the opportunity to listen to the testimony of the distinguished witnesses before this committee on the military assistance program. . . . . Secretary Acheson, Secretary Johnson, General Bradley and General Marshall. I will attempt to supplement their statements, based on my own experience during the last year as United States special representative in Europe for the Economic Cooperation Administration, and from that of our missions in the different countries. I speak also from my earlier experiences during the past nine years in which I have been in Government service at home and abroad.

On previous occasions in the past four years I have had the privilege of appearing before this committee and of talking personally with many of you, to discuss the motivations of the Kremlin and the threat to freedom and peace that comes from that source. On these occasions I have stated my concern and yet expressed my belief that peace can be maintained and the freedoms and democracy of the Western World preserved and strengthened, provided that we clearly understood the threat of internal and external aggression to us and to other free peoples, that we took the steps necessary to give leadership in uniting the common strength and purpose of nations, of like mind, and that we were willing to make the present sacrifices to attain our prime objectives.

Peace, Freedom Within Reach

I wish to state that I have never been as optimistic as I am today that the maintenance of peace and freedom is within our reach in Europe, provided we carry out vigorously the policies and programs in which we are engaged, including the military assistance program; provided we recognize that we face forces determined and persistent, which must be met with equal determination and perseverance. We cannot relax because of early successes. The task is not easy and requires continuing present-day sacrifices.

My confidence comes in the first place from the rapidity of the growth of understanding of the people of the United States and the steps they have supported, and secondly, from a similar response in Europe. I need not dwell on what would have happened if we had not given the leadership and assistance already provided. I can say that during the past two years there has been great and encouraging growth of political stability and economic progress, and above all, the growth of confidence and determination.

The principal factors have been the European Recovery Program, the strengthening of our own military establishment, the development of the great concept of the North Atlantic community finding expression in the North Atlantic Treaty, and now the proposal for military assistance. May I quote from my testimony before the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate given on April 29, while that committee was considering the Atlantic Pact:

"I have traveled in many of the participating countries during the period when the North Atlantic Treaty has been under consideration. I can testify that a new factor has developed—a growth of confidence, based on the belief that through the North Atlantic Pact security from external aggression can be attained. Fear is a contagious and frustrating emotion: but confidence, too, is contagious, and is a constructive and creative human emotion. Confidence is essential for the eventual success of the recovery program and the maintenance of determination to resist internal and external aggression.

Base of Pact Decision

"We are dealing with some 200,000,000 people facing varying problems, but all with a tradition of liberty and freedom. Discussions in these different countries leading up to the decision to sign the Atlantic Pact were sober and searching. This decision was based on the acceptance of the principle that neither appeasement nor neutrality could be relied upon — that it was only through unity of purpose and action of free men that there could be hope for future peace and security. This was a momentous decision. The decision was based on the two principal articles of the Pact—namely, Article 5 and Article 3—first, '* * * that an armed attack against one * * * shall be considered an attack against * * * all;' and secondly, the parties will, by '* * * means of continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid' maintain and develop their individual and collective capacity to 'resist armed attack.'

"In the European mind these two concepts have been, I feel, inseparable. The first is that unity of purpose among the free nations would be a powerful deterrent to any aggressor, and the second that, through self-help and mutual aid, effective military establishments can be developed as an assurance of defense.

"The participation of the United States in the Pact is of course the factor which is developing confidence. The Brussels Pact, entered into a year ago between Britain, France and the Benelux countries, was a search for common security measures. Yet the Europeans know that, without the United States, no association among the free peoples of Western Europe would be effective. The strength of the United States gives strength and meaning to the Pact—the Europeans have confidence in us—have confidence that in any war we would eventually be victorious.

"But they recognize only too well that as things now stand today, they would be over-run, and when their countries were again liberated, the life of their people would be irreparably destroyed European nations are prepared, I believe, to contribute their share in self-help and mutual aid. They cannot, however, develop an effective military establishment alone. They need military equipment and raw materials from us to supplement what they can do for themselves. Assistance from us is vital to the growth of mutual confidence. It will be concrete evidence that we have real concern for their problems of defense.

Security Hugely Increased

"From our standpoint, I feel that our security can be immeasurably increased as time goes on and as the military forces of the Western European countries are strengthened. I think we should look at the productive capacity of the signatories of the Atlantic Pact. For example, between us, we have four times the coal and steel production of the Soviet Union and its satellites, and a labor force substantially greater. The productivity of our mutual labor force is far greater than that of the backward countries of the East. The Western European participants alone have greater productive capacity than the countries behind the Iron Curtain. It does not seem unreasonable to me to have confidence that in time an effective defensive force can be developed which would provide a real sense of security. It is well to bear in mind that no one has any thought of an armament program for aggression. The only thought in anyone's mind is the thought of defense. A defensive force is relatively small and cannot be a threat.

"In looking at the world today, I feel we need strong and vigorous partners, of like mind and intentions. The North Atlantic Treaty gives us this association with like-minded people. They are help in rebuilding their strength. Of prime importance is the European Recovery Program. All agree that nothing should be permitted to interfere with that. But alongside of it, I earnestly believe we should help our associates in their own efforts to build up means to defend themselves."

I spoke then of the prime importance of the European Recovery Program. Economic recovery is essential to check and turn back, as has in fact happened, internal aggression. Sound economic conditions are the foundations on which any military establishment must be based. Those of us in ECA who have been working in Europe with representatives of the State Department and of the National Military Establishment are satisfied that the proposals for the strengthening of the European military forces on which our military assistance program is based will not impair European recovery, and on the other hand, will strengthen it, since confidence is an essential condition for men to work, invest and plan for the future.

From our own standpoint, the stronger our associates are, the greater is the deterrent to aggression. I believe that it is our duty to make the present sacrifices which may be necessary to protect the growing generation from war. We are considering military assistance to nations who have indicated by joining the North Atlantic Treaty their readiness to fight in the common cause to resist aggression. Their will to fight and their ability to fight can be greatly strengthened by assistance from us. If we turn aside today or put off action on the proposed assistance, doubts may well arise again. The voices of the subversive elements, the appeasers, those who would trust "neutrality," would rise again and have an effect on the confidence and determination which now exist.

"We Should Act Now"

For our own security, for the interests of our young people who have to deal with the conditions that our actions create, it is my conviction that we should seize this opportunity to strengthen the will and ability of these nations both to deter aggression and to reinforce them as allies.

It is not alone the size of their populations, but we should remember too that the skill and productivity of their workmen are far greater than those of Russia and her satellites. The industrial potential on which, as General Bradley said, military strength rests, is greater, and combined with ours, enormously greater. Take steel as an example. The United States has today a capacity of 90,000,000 tons. The participants in the North Atlantic pact have about 40,000,000 tons. Russia and her satellites together have probably a production today of less than 30,000,000 tons.

It does not seem unreasonable to me to believe that the free countries of Europe can develop over a period of time defensive military forces which, joined together through the Atlantic pact with our part therein, will be able to withstand aggression. The contribution of the European military establishments, when developed, will add immeasurably to our security and affect the size of our own security forces that we must maintain in the future.

It has been suggested that we should wait until the military organization of the North Atlantic Treaty be developed. From my own experience I can testify that the Western Union countries have been working for over a year on the development of a unified plan of mutual defense. These countries are the hard core of European defense. Their current military budgets provide for the equivalent of nearly $5,000,000,000. As far as they are concerned, work has already been done in remedying armament deficiencies for the first phase, namely, the equipping adequately of existing units. Our military officers have sat as observers in the development of these plans.

As to the other countries concerned, it is my understanding the program is based on minimum needs to equip their smaller existing forces and to provide the first step in their contribution toward combined action. If this program is not adopted, valuable time will be lost. It will cost more in the long run and put off the day when we can count on their contribution to our security.

It is hard also to estimate how much the uncertainty will weaken the present determination in Europe. The proposed military assistance program is designed as an immediate program to be initiated prior to the establishment of the Atlantic Pact military organization, but it is my judgment that the work already done by Western Union can give us assurance that our military authorities have ample information to screen the requirements and to assure themselves that the needs are real and that another year's study is not required. As General Marshall emphasized so forceably yesterday, action should be taken now.

In closing, I want to state that I earnestly believe that we are winning the struggle for peace and freedom in Europe.

To succeed, America must be resolute and steadfast.

U.S. Chiefs In London

London, Aug. 2 (AP)—The United States joint chiefs of staff arrived here this afternoon for two days of conferences with top military leaders of Britain, Norway and Denmark.

Flying in Truman's personal plane, Independence, Admiral Louis Denfield, chief of naval operations, Army General Omar N Bradley and Air Chief of Staff Hoyt S. Vandenberg landed at suburban Northold Airfield between rainstorms which swept the area.

U.S. TO MAINTAIN FORCES IN EUROPE

Staff Chiefs Say Jets Will Strengthen Defenses

London, Aug. 2 (AP)—Present United States armed forces in Europe will be maintained, ready for any emergency, and will be strengthened by an all-jet fighter air defense in Germany, American military chiefs disclosed today.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff gave out this news in Grafenwoehr, Germany, shortly before flying here for their second stop on a military fact-finding tour of North Atlantic treaty countries.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army Chief of Staff, said there was no prospect "that I know of" that American occupation forces in Germany will be reduced. They constitute the bulk of American land forces in Europe.

Ready For Emergency

"Occupation troops are prepared for any emergency," Bradley said of the Americans who police the United States zone and guard the demarcation line with Soviet eastern Germany.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force Chief of Staff, disclosed that jets will replace all propeller type American fighters now in Germany.

Air Force officials in Washington said there are now two fighter groups in Germany, one of F-80 Shooting Star jets and one of F-47 Thunderbolt propeller craft, each of 75 planes with five or more spares. They said jets would replace the Thunderbolts, with the bulk of the transfer taking place after January 1, 1950.

Vandenberg said the big United States Air Force base at Burtonwood, England, will remain in full operation after the Berlin airlift is cut back to skeleton size this fall. Burtonwood was established more than a year ago to service airlift planes during Russia's Berlin blockade.

Two Days In London

Bradley, Vandenberg and Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, United States Chief of Naval Operations, arrived in London tonight to continue their survey of needs for bringing the twelve-nation Atlantic treaty into military effect.

They saw Italian, Luxembourg and American occupation force military leaders in Germany and will spend two days here with British, Norwegian and Danish staff chiefs. On Thursday they will fly on to Paris to see the French, Belgians, Dutch and Portuguese.

Responsible big-power informants here said the Americans are seeking, above all, assurances that the Atlantic allies will accept big-scale unification of strategic planning, command and functioning of their armed forces.

Hope To Eliminate Doubt

The American chiefs are not discussing the $1,450,000,000 foreign-arms-aid program now before Congress in Washington. But official sources said they hope to eliminate, by the results of their tour, any doubt in congressional minds that the Atlantic treaty countries might not pull together as a team in case of aggression.

These sources said one result they hope for is that the five "Brussels pact" countries will agree to merge their own alliance into a tightly knit whole of all twelve Atlantic pact nations.

Britain, France and the Benelux countries—Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—already have a joint military staff under the western European alliance signed at Brussels March 17, 1948.

It is headed by British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery and has worked out a strategic plan for the five countries' defense.

Bradley was asked at Grafenwoehr today if the Brussels alliance is to be superseded by the Atlantic treaty and replied:

"That is one thing to be considered."

Denfeld, speaking for the three as they arrived in England tonight, called their progress so far in the tour "encouraging." Admiral Richard L. Conolly, commanding the United States Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean Fleet, welcomed the staff chiefs at the airport. Denfeld said they had been "most impressed by the appearance of our troops" in Germany.

17,000 March In Parade

Seventeen thousand battle-ready soldiers marched before them at Grafenwoehr in a farewell parade set off by a flight of Shooting Star jets. It was after this display that the Americans gave their assurances the United States will maintain and strengthen its European forces.

Vandenberg denied a report published abroad that the staff chiefs had said the United States air and land forces in Germany may become a part of a permanent defense plan under the Atlantic treaty.

"I'm sure none of the chiefs would have said that," he said. "We don't know ourselves. We still have to work out such things."

Official sources here said the Brussels powers have sent Washington a list of the arms they will need, classified into categories of priority, through an informal committee of American military and diplomatic officials.

They said this committee was set up about three months ago and consists of Lewis W. Douglas, Ambassador to London; W. Averell Harriman, roving ambassador for the European Co-operation Administration, Lieut. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner and one or two other experts.

It meets "casually," they said, and functions as a clearing house to see that western Europe's rearmament activities do not clash with the European Recovery Program.

The committee already has passed on several "urgent" requests for equipment to Washington, the sources said.

The requests were said to include five or six groups of American B-29's or B-17 Flying Fortresses (about 150 to 180 aircraft) for Britain's RAF, light armor and field equipment for France and the Benelux countries and radar for Norway, Denmark and Italy.

Trade Talks Break Down

Hungarian Team Leaves London After Failure on Pact

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP).—Talks between Britain and Hungary for an estimated $100,000,000 two-way trade pact have broken down. A Board of Trade spokesman said today the Hungarian trade team which has been in Britain for several weeks went home over the week end. "There are no plans for resuming the talks," he added.

Reason for the breakdown is understood to be failure of the Hungarian authorities to reach a settlement with private British firms on future operations in the Communist-led country. The British government made agreement on this question a precondition of any trade pact.

U.S. Will Replace Planes In Germany With Jets

Grafenwohr, Germany, Aug. 2 (AP).—The United States joint chiefs of staff disclosed today that jet planes will replace all standard-type American fighter aircraft in Germany.

The military leaders also declared that American troops here are ready for any emergency. Gen Omar N. Bradley declared there will be no reduction of American troops in Germany "that I know of."

Bradley, Air Force Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg and Admiral Louis Denfeld of the Navy reviewed American combat troops at the former German Army training ground here.

Study Of Defenses

Attack planes and bombers and a Navy contingent joined 17,000 troops of the 1st Infantry Division and constabulary units in honoring the military leaders.

Bradley, Vandenberg and Denfeld arrived in Germany Saturday for a ten-day study of European defenses and potentialities under the Atlantic pact. They flew to Grafenwohr from Frankfurt today in President Truman's personal plane, the Independence, and then went to London to continue discussions with British defense chiefs and other European leaders.

Asked if the joint chiefs will discuss sharing atomic secrets with Britain during their visit to London, Bradley said: "We haven't come to that question." Britain and Canada have sought more information from the United States on atomic weapons.

Year After Ratification

Bradley said he hoped the military organization envisaged in the Atlantic pact will be functioning one year after the pact is ratified by all signatories.

Referring to the position of the Western European Union—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—in the Atlantic pact, Bradley said: "All members of the Western Union are members of the Atlantic pact. It is to be expected that they will function within the pact."

Asked if the union will be superseded by the Atlantic pact, Bradley replied: "That is one thing to be considered."

Vandenberg made the disclosure concerning the replacement of standard fighters with jet planes. It came just a few minutes after 35 Shooting Star jets zoomed across the field to start the huge combined review. The jets were followed by 48 P-47 Thunderbolts and 24 new-type liaison planes.

Major-Gen. Frank W. Milburn, acting commander of American troops in Europe, and Brig.-Gen. Ralph J. Canine, acting commander of the First Division, greeted the joint chiefs upon their arrival.

Before the review began, the group toured the Grafenwohr area, where American troops hold some of their biggest training exercises in Germany. These exercises will be climaxed this fall in combined Army, Navy and Air Force maneuvers designed to test the readiness of American forces in Germany to repel any attack.

Vandenberg denied published reports that American troops and planes based in Germany might become part of the permanent defense under the Atlantic pact.

"I'm sure none of the chiefs would have said that," he asserted. "We don't know ourselves. We still have to work out such things.'

Germans Picket McCloy Office; He Is Away

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 2 (AP). Seventy Germans claiming to be "victims of Nazism" demonstrated for an hour today before the headquarters of United States Military Governor John J. McCloy in Frankfurt.

But McCloy wasn't there. He left today for two weeks' talks with Government officials in Washington.

It was the first demonstration by Germans before the huge building that has been American headquarters in Germany since 1945.

The men, women and children, in two groups, bore signs protesting that American authorities had delayed restitution of property to persons persecuted by the Nazis.

To Seek Interview

The piekets jammed the driveway to the huge former I. G. Farbenindustrie building, before military police asked them to continue their picketing out of the way of arriving and departing automobiles.

The two groups filed up and down quietly, carrying their signs. When they learned that they had missed McCloy by half an hour they said they would return and seek an interview with him when he comes back from Washington.

German-Citizenship Aspirant To Be Freed

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 2 (AP). Daniel McCarthy, the former GI who wanted to become a German citizen, today was granted clemency which will free him from jail on August 8. He is serving his sentence in army disciplinary barracks at Fort Hancock, N.J.

McCarthy, from New Hyde Park, N.Y., was sentenced June 13 to eight months for illegal entry into Germany, where he tried to give up his United States citizenship.

Dr. James R. Newman, United States military governor in Hesse, today ordered his early release because, he said, "McCarthy's offense was caused by youthful impetuousness and thoughtlessness rather than by criminal inclination."

Americans' Visits To Bonn Curbed

Berlin, Aug. 2 (AP)—The United States Military Government notified its employés today they must show a compelling reason in order to visit Bonn, capital of the German Republic.

This notice was published in the daily bulletin issued by headquarters in Berlin.

Informed sources said the step was taken to avoid any possibility of American pressure on the fledgling German Government.

United States Military Governor John J. McCloy, meanwhile, announced the appointment of two men to his staff.

McLain Named

Chester A. McLain, who is at present on leave from the World Bank which McCloy formerly headed, was appointed as a special adviser to McCloy.

McLain was formerly a partner in the New York law firm of Cravath, Degersdorff, Swain & Wood.

Lieut. Col. Harrison A. Gerhardt was appointed a special assistant to McCloy. He served as executive officer to McCloy from November, 1943, to October, 1945, when McCloy was Assistant Secretary of War.

Reds Quote Mann On East-West Status

Berlin, Aug. 2 (AP)—Thomas Mann thinks there is room in a peaceful world for both Soviet communism and Western capitalism, the Communist press reported today.

The German-born author was quoted to that effect in an interview published by the Soviet-licensed Neues Deutschland, official newspaper of the Socialist Unity (Communist) party in Germany.

The interview was at Weimar, where Soviet-zone Germans awarded Mann the Goethe Bicentennial Prize. Mann once lived in Weimar. He fled Hitler's Germany in 1933 and is an American citizen now.

"Generous Approach"

"The different and opposing social systems of the Soviet Union and the United States seem to me unnecessarily an obstacle for peaceful co-operation." Mann was quoted as saying.

"There are certain similarities between the two peoples, such as the passion for technical progress. They also have in common a generous approach to life. I, therefore, deem an understanding between the two nations as by no means impossible.

Germans Warned

"I believe the danger (of another World War) will soon lose its menace," the interview continued.

"There would be no victors emerging from this future war . . . only survivors."

Mann warned the German people against trying to "derive advantages from the tension between the Soviet Union and the United States."

VATICAN ATTACKS REDS IN EUROPE

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 2. — (AP) The Vatican radio said today the communist governments of eastern Europe, like the Roman Emperor Nero, are trying to wipe out Christianity.

The broadcast stressed that the Roman Catholic church can not yield to efforts to make it "harmonize" itself with the communist regimes, declaring:

"If at the times of Nero and Diocletian the Christian church had 'harmonized' itself with the laws of the Roman state, we probably would have had fewer martyrs, but no Christianity."

Nero was Roman emperor from 54 to 68 A. D. and Diocletian from 284 to 305 A. D. Both persecuted the early Christian church.

Romania, which dissolved all its Roman Catholic welfare orders yesterday, ordering 1,500 monks and nuns to retire or become laymen, thereby took another step toward "total de-Christianization," the Vatican radio said.

Warns Orthodox Church

It warned Romania's majority Orthodox church—Roman Catholics are a minority there, with about 2,800,000 of the 16,000,000 population—against the consequences of compromising with the communist regime.

Romania is "at the vanguard of all the countries dominated by Russia in the implacable work of de-Christianizaton," it said.

Details were lacking here on the situation in Romania. Bishop Gerald P. O'Hara, formerly of Savannah, Ga., is regent (charge d'affaires) of the Holy See's nunciature at Bucharest. Vatican sources reported several weeks ago he had not been allowed to carry on his diplomatic functions "for some time."

VATICAN CONDEMNS ROMANIAN REGIME

Vatican City, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—The Vatican radio charged today that Romania's Communist Government is wiping out Christianity in that country.

Commentjng on yesterday Romanian Government decree abolishing Roman Catholic orders, the Vatican broadcast called it "another step toward the total dechristianization of Romania." It added that Romania is "at the vanguard of all the countries dominated by Russia in the implacable work of dechristianization."

"While in the other countries there are attempts to mask religious persecution under specious political motives, in Romania open warfare is waged against the Catholic Church," the broadcast said.

The broadcast charged that the Romanian Government was taking advantage of the fact that the Catholics are a minority in the country, while the orthodox majority "has deemed it opportune to adjust itself in the social order created by the popular democratic state."

Pope Receives Douglas

Vatican City, Aug. 2 (AP)—Pope Pius XII today received in private audience Justice William Douglas, of the United States Supreme Court.

Czechs Say Church Plot Is Foiled

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Communist press said today a joint Vatican-American plot to provoke civil war in Czechoslovakia over the church-state controversy had been foiled.

The charge was made by the Communist party organ, Rude Pravo, which said an "Organization X," allegedly under an American high command, was working to "organize espionage, sabotage and diversion in countries that have abandoned the capitalist system."

Czechoslovakia has been under Communist domination since the Prague Coup D'etat of February 1948, in which the Communists, with the aid of "action committees," took over the administration.

Name Brother Of Dulles

In a long article entitled "The Vatican Fifth Column," Rude Pravo's foreign commentator, Andre Simone, named Allen Dulles, brother of Senator John Foster Dulles, as chief of "Organization X."

Simone also listed Francis Cardinal Spellman, of New York, whom he described as "the Pope's Hjalmar Schacht," as one of the organization's members.

[In New York, Dulles said he knew nothing about the report. He said he is chairman of the executive committee of the National Committee for Free Europe, whose purpose is to further the cause of liberty and peace and to support in America political leaders who have been driven from their homes by communism.]

Identified By Vatican

"The Vatican spy service, led by a general of the Jesuit Order, Janson, and under the direct control of the state secretary of the Vatican, Montini, co-operates directly with Organization X in its endeavor to cause chaos in the people's democracies," the Communist writer said.

[The Vatican today identified a Father John Baptist Janssens as general of the Society of Jesus. He was born in Malines, Belgium, and is the twenty-seventh general of the society. He was elected to the post in September, 1946, to succeed the late Polish Father, Vlodimiro Ledoschowski.

[Msgr. Giovanni Battista Montini has been the Vatican's acting secretary of state, together with Msgr. Domenico Tardini, since the death of Luigi Cardinal Maglione, secretary of state, in 1944.]

Charge Clashes Were Provoked

The Rude Pravo article said: "Only thanks to the eternal watchfulness of the peoples' democratic governments have the attempts of Organization X been foiled."

In Czechoslovakio, it asserted, the plot of "the Vatican's fifth column—the Roman Catholic hierarchy," was to provoke "clashes throughout the nation."

"Unrest and riots," it said, were to be stirred up by having Archbishop Josef Beran lock himself in his palace and pretend to be a "martyr," and then have the Catholic faithful rise and fight the Communists in his defense.

Commentator Simone said after the alleged church Putsch failed, the Vatican "tried again with its decree excommunicating Communists—but this also proved a splash on the surface."

He concluded that although the plot had been foiled, "further Vatican fifth-column activities will continue."

Civil-War Plot Laid To Church By Czechs

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 2 (AP)—Rude Pravo, the Czechoslovak Communist organ, today accused the Vatican and the Roman Catholic hierarchy of trying to provoke civil war in Czechoslovakia over the state-church strife.

The newspaper cought to implicate Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, and what it called the "American organization" in the alleged plot.

The charges were made in a long article by Andre Simone, the paper's foreign commentator. It was entitled "The Vatican Fifth Column."

After Week's Lull

The attack appeared after a week's lull in press assaults on the Church.

Simone claimed the Vatican was working in co-operation with the "American organization" whose task, he said, is to organize espionage and diversions in those countries which have deserted the capitalist system.

"To this organization belongs Cardinal Spellman, who is the Pope's Schacht, because he raises 80 per cent of the Vatican income and is potentially the mightiest man of world Catholicism next to the Pope," the article declared.

Dulles's Brother Named

Allen Dulles, brother of Senator John Foster Dulles (R., N.Y.), was named as a director of the alleged organization.

[In New York, Dulles said he knew nothing about the report. He pointed out he is chairman of the executive committee of the National Committee for Free Europe. The purpose of that organization, he said, is to further the cause of liberty and peace and to support in this country political leaders who have been driven out of their own homes by communism.]

Albania, Bulgaria Seen As Allies By Yugoslavia

Tito Says They Falter, May Join In Fight Against Comintern In Break With Russia

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 2 (AP). Premier Marshal Tito predicted today that both Albania and Bulgaria will repudiate the Cominform and join Yugoslavia in a crusade for developing communism at home.

Albania and Bulgaria are members of the Cominform—the association of eastern Communist states from which Yugoslavia was expelled for allegedly failing to hew to the true Marxist-Lenin line.

Tito spoke at Skoplje in Yugoslav Macedonia before an audience estimated by Yugoslav officials at 350,000.

Applies To Albania

Tito declared the Bulgarian people ultimately will ignore the "slanders against Yugoslavia and extend their fraternal hand to us." He said Yugoslavia will help the Bulgarians remove any individuals who have set up obstacles "to the creation and preservation of brotherly relations."

He said this applied also to Albania—tiny southern neighbor of Yugoslavia which has become isolated from the rest of the Cominform nations in its allegiance to the Cominform cause.

Tito spoke at the observance of the fifth anniversary of the People's Republic of Macedonia—the federal state within Yugoslavia.

Fighting Independently

Tito, who desires to maintain peace at home, has gone to considerable lengths to assure Yugoslav Macedonia of equal treatment.

However, he dealt sternly today with the question of an independent Macedonia. As he has done before, he pointed out in detail benefits he said Yugoslav Macedonians enjoy under Yugoslav rule. He outlined problems they would encounter should they become a separate nation with a population containing Bulgarian and Greek minorities.

Since World War I, Macedonia has been divided between Yugoslavia, Greece and Bulgaria. Greece has the largest share and Bulgaria a remnant of her former holdings. Bulgaria still claims that part taken from her and given to Greece.

Bulgaria has proposed a United Macedonia. This has been denounced in Yugoslavia as an attempt to stir up trouble in the Balkans.

Whispering Heard

At one point Tito declared the Cominform campaign against Yugoslavia had given rise to "chauvinistic passions" in both Romania and Hungary.

"Do not think that there are no leading Communists in Hungary and Romania who are quite audibly whispering—since their countries are 'socialist' and Yugoslavia is 'capitalist'—that something could be wrenched from Yugoslavia?

"We tried with the greatest sacrifices to create the closest relations with the peoples of those countries. But it was in the interests of some people to spoil these relations."

DUTCH TO STUDY INDONESIA PLAN AT HAGUE PARLEY

BATAVIA, Java, Aug. 2 — (AP) Representatives of the Indonesian republic and 15 Dutch-backed states of the East Indies agreed today to form a United States of Indonesia which will accept sovereignty under the Netherlands crown.

The agreement still needs Dutch approval. It will be submitted at a forthcoming round-table conference on Indonesia's future which is scheduled to be held at the Hague.

The agreement calls for a European-type provisional government to be formed as soon as possible, covering all 72,000,000 inhabitants of the islands the Dutch once ruled as colonies.

Marks Final Step

It marks, presumably, one of the final steps toward ending the revolt against Dutch rule that has resulted in sporadic fighting since Indonesia's liberation from the Japanese in 1945.

The United Nations commission for Indonesia has announced that a formal cease-fire between the Dutch and the Republicans will be proclaimed tomorrow and go into effect a few days later.

The new country will be called "Republik Indonesia Serikat" (Republic of the United States of Indonesia). Its flag will be the republic's red and white.

To Elect Assembly

The provisional government will rule under a temporary constitution until a constituent assembly is elected.

It will consist of a president to be named by the conference delegates and an inner cabinet of five ministers, to be supplemented later by a two-house provisional parliament.

A provisional constitution will be drafted as soon as possible by a joint committee of the Republic and the Dutch-backed states.

Elections for the assembly to write a permanent constitution are to be held within a year after the Dutch transfer power to the provisional regime.

The transfer date and terms of the future union with the Netherlands are left to be worked out at the round-table conference.

Similar To British Setup

The plan is to establish the United States of Indonesia as a free and sovereign partner of the Netherlands in a union under the Dutch crown. The relationship presumably will be somewhat like that of Britain and members of the British commonwealth.

The delegates agreed that all Dutch troops should be evacuated, but left the time and other details to the Hague conference. The new country's army will be built around the existing Republican army and Indonesians who served with the Dutch.

The conference of Republicans and Federalists met July 20, 21 and 22 at Jogjakarta, the Republican capital, and reassembled here Sunday.

Jewish-Arab Talks Gain

Lausanne, Switzerland, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Jewish-Arab Peace Conference here recorded its first major progress today since the talks opened last April.

Israel's four Arab neighbors told the United Nations Palestine Conciliation Commission at a private meeting they are prepared to begin discussion of the Palestine refugee problem on terms proposed by Israel last week.

The fate of Arabs who fled from Israeli-held territory during the Palestine war has been the major problem deadlocking the conference during the past two months.

Israel's newly appointed chief delegate, Ruven Shiloah, told the commission July 29 that Israel was prepared to discuss large-scale repatriation of the refugees to Israeli-held territory on two conditions. ADD

CHINA REDS PUSH DRIVE INTO VITAL HUNAN RICE BOWL

5 MOCA

CANTON, Aug. 2—(AP) Four Chinese communist columns plunged deeper into the rice growing region of south-central China today. One column reached a town only 235 miles from this refugee nationalist capital.

The operations threatened to isolate the "rice bowl" bastion of Changsha, 363 miles north of Canton. They also menaced a government counterdrive east of Changsha.

Counter Drive Endangered

The government had lashed out east from Changsha and reached Anfu, which is 300 miles northeast of Canton. This was to put pressure on a communist column east of Anfu.

Now official Nationalist dispatches indicate this government force in turn is endangered by a Red sweep to the south of Anfu. One column was driving on Suichwan, 235 miles north of Canton.

Other Nationalist dispatches reported the Reds again had cut the railway between Changsha and Canton at Lukow about 50 miles south of Changsha.

Two other columns were cutting around the strong natural defenses of Changsha on the northwest.

Planes Hit Red Headquarters

One spearhead neared Yiyang, 50 miles northwest of Changsha. The other was closing on Yuangling, 170 miles west of Changsha.

The official dispatches asserted Nationalist planes Monday destroyed the headquarters in Hankow of Gen. Lin Piao, Red commander on this front.

The communists also were reported driving deeper into Kansu province in the far northwest.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Embassy reported that Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart had reached Okinawa. Stuart is returning to Washington by plane to report.

Red Spearheads Move Deeper In Central China

Canton, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Communists drove their multiheaded southward offensive deeper into Central China today. Their gains were acknowledged by the Nationalists.

In the rice-bowl province of Hunan the Reds again severed the Canton-Hankow railway, this time 313 miles north of this refugee Nationalist capital. They pushed their drive to outflank the main Hunan defense force.

In neighboring Kiangsi province, the spearheads threatened Nationalists, who had pushed from Hunan in an attempt to cut the foes' supply lines.

Gain In Kansu Province

Far away from the main fighting front, the Communists also pressed deeper into Kansu province in a new offensive against the vast area of northwestern China ruled by Moslem warlords.

This was the picture in Hunan given by official Nationalist dispatches:

Communists driving from the east took the rail town of Lukow. This is between Changsha, the provincial capital, and Hengyang, junction point for the Canton-Hankow line and the Kiangsi railway. The Reds gave up Chuchow on the line in the same area Sunday.

Outflanking Threatened

Other Red forces moving down from the north into Hunan carried the threat of outflanking Gen. Pai Chung-hsi's Nationalist armies from the west.

One spearhead neared Yiyang, 50 miles northwest of Changsha. Another took Taoyuan in a highway drive southwest toward Yuanling, 170 miles west of Changsha.

In Kiangsi, the Reds seemed to be endangering Nationalist forces which yesterday were reported at Anfu, 150 miles east of the Canton-Hankow railway between Changsha and Yi[illegible]g. ADD

Reds Outlaw Mah Jong, China's Favorite Game

Shanghai, Aug. 2 (AP)—Now mah jong is taboo in Shanghai.

Communist authorities today decreed it was a waste of time to play China's favorite game.

Sixty-eight players were arrested, fined up to 40,000 Communist dollars each, sentenced to four hours in jail and made to sweep the streets.

Mah jong, a game with tiles, was popular in the United States in the late twenties.

Communists Clear Navy Employes

Shanghai, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Chinese Communist labor board today cleared demonstrating former employés of the United States Navy from the American consul general.

The board then put forward an arbitration plan for settlement. It asked Reuben Thomas, consulate administrative officer, to cable the terms to Washington.

Approximately 800 former employes, mostlf Chinese (but including some Indians and White Russians), besieged the consulate Friday.

The workers demanded 6½ months' wages as severance pay. The Communist terms provide for three months' severance pay. There would be a ceiling of $300 and a floor of $150 on severance pay.

[The State Department announced in Washington that the consulate would be open for business again tomorrow.]

CHIANG DELAYS PARLEY ON PACT AGAINST REDS

SEOUL, (Wednesday), Aug. 3—(AP) Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek today postponed his visit to South Korea to discuss a Pacific pact against the Communists in the Orient.

The veteran Chinese nationalist leader advised President Syngman Rhee of the postponement. He was expected today. It is believed he will arrive in two or three days although he set no new date.

Rhee went ahead with plans for receiving the Generalissimo at Chinhae, on Korea's southern coast. Rhee had asked for a delay in Chiang's arrival to give him more time to prepare for the visit. ADD

Japs Happy To Get U.S. Blond Hair

Tokyo, Aug. 2 (AP)—So sorry, the Mizusawa Observatory said today, its gratitude really belongs to another blonde.

It is Mrs. Frank Williams, of Detroit, who sent strands of hair from her 3-year-old daughter's head—not Mrs. Frank Willis.

An observatory official explained through an interpreter:

"So sorry we got the name wrong yesterday. The first donor was Mrs. Frank Williams, in care of Williams Welding Company, 3145 Meldrum street, Detroit 1, Mich. Maybe that Meldrum isn't right—that's how it looks. (IT is O.K.)

"She sent five blond hairs. Today we received six more air-mail letters postmarked Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Minnesota and Canada, all containing hair.

"One was from Gerald Schierenbeck, whose address is tenth floor of a building at 1501 Broadway, New York 18. The hair was his wife's.

"Another was from a 57-year-old woman who lives in Minnesota. She wrote her life has been miserable but if some of her hair could be put to good use that would make her happy.

"Many thank yous."

The observatory wanted a fine hair for its hygrometer, a sensitive instrument for measuring moisture in the atmosphere. The coarse black hair of Japanese wouldn't do at all.

U.S. REJECTS RUSS PROTEST

Charge Italy Broke Treaty To Join Pact Called False

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—The United States today formally rejected Russia's protest against Italy's participation in the North Atlantic defense pact.

Dean Acheson, Secretary of State branded as "utterly without foundation" Russia's accusation that Italy violated its peace treaty by joining the defense arrangement last April 4.

At the same time, he again denied Moscow's oft-repeated charge that the twelve-nation alliance was "aggressive" in aim.

The State Department made public the American reply to Moscow's note shortly after it was delivered to Russia's ambassador, Alexander Panyushkin.

Protest Made Before Vote

Russia made its accusation two weeks ago just as the Italian legislature was about to vote on whether to ratify Italy's membership in the North Atlantic treaty.

Despite the Russian blast, the Italian Chamber of Deputies approved the pact, 323 to 60. The Italian Senate followed suit last week.

Acheson said there is nothing in the Italian peace treaty to bar Italy's participation in regional defense arrangements.

He cited testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last April 28 to prove it was clearly understood by all—including the Russians—that Italy's assigned role in the pact would be within the military restrictions of the peace treaty.

Troops Limited

The peace treaty limits Italy to an army of 185,000 men. A police force of 65,000, and an air force of 200 fighters, reconnaissance plans and 150 transport and air rescue craft. No bombers are allowed.

Acheson assured the Russians "no changes in the military requirements of that treaty are now being sought by Italy as far as the United States Government is aware."

The secretary denied there is any secret deal with the Italian Government hidden in the exchange of notes between Italy and the United States on April 6 and 7 of this year. These notes were made public at the time and consisted of a statement by the Italian Government that the need for military assistance "continues to be very urgent."

lished by the Soviet Foreign Office last January—before the text had been decided.

"Other Considerations"

"It would thus appear that the views of the Soviet Government on this subject do not arise from an examination of the character and text of the Atlantic pact but from other considerations," Acheson wrote.

"The text makes clear the completely defensive nature of this pact, its conformity with both the spirit and letter of the Charter of the United Nations, and also the fact that the pact is not directed against any nation or group of nations, but only against armed aggression."

The American note flatly refuted Russia's contention that the peace treaty prevents Italy from joining the North Atlantic pact.

change was recommended by former President Herbert Hoover, who headed a commission that surveyed reorganization of the executive branch of the government.

Broad Powers

The secretary would have broad powers under the bill, but would not be able to transfer combat functions on the services or assign officers and men in such a way as to alter their present combat functions.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services committee said this curb was written into the measure to protect the Marine corps and Naval aviation.

Passage of the bill takes President Truman's proposal for reorganizing the armed forces out of the picture, Vinson told the House. The president submitted it last month, but this bill, Vinson said, includes all changes recommended by Mr. Truman.

Asked Scrap Shipments

2. Hunt's request that he (Woods) go to the Commerce department to try to get steel scrap shipped from Europe to this country.

Woods said he told the investigators what he had already reported—that he did tackle the Commerce department, but didn't accomplish much. He went, he said, because scrap was sorely needed for the manufacture of soil pipe used in home construction.

The name of John Maragon, another key figure in the investigation, entered the race track questioning, Woods told reporters.

Maragon's name showed up on a list of persons who attended a meeting with housing officials on the Tanforan case, the expediter said. Otherwise, he added, he had no information that Maragon was involved.

Wood's meeting was with the staff of the Senate's special investigating commitee. The committee wants to learn about persons who charge businessmen five per cent—or some other fee—for helping them get federal contracts. The practice is deplored officially but is not illegal.

Woods said the questioning was friendly, adding:

Loopholes in Regulations

"I told them influence wasn't needed under the building rules. Once you had the regulations, anybody could find the loopholes."

The housing official, in a weekend interview, had disclosed that Hunt asked for favorable consideration of the construction job at Tanforan. At that time federal clearance was requested for all building.

Hunt also "sought our opinion," he said, as to whether Foxborough could qualify for a clearance. The agency advised him the track was eligible.

The Senate staff wanted to know about the files in these cases, Woods said after today's meeting, and about the regulations which applied.

Woods said he replied "I thought generally that the whole construction was a farce; it had so many loopholes—so many legal loopholes."

When reporters asked particularly about the clearance given Hunt in the Foxborough case, Woods said: "Anybody could have come in and got the same thing. All they had to do was get our regulations together and read the fine print, including the exemptions."

The regulations were drawn up before he became expediter in October, 1947, Woods went on. He said he told the investigators he thought that if there was to be any regulation, it should have been an effective one.

Says He Paid Hunt

In both the Tanforan and Foxborough cases, Woods added, the preliminary work on the building applications had been done before he took office.

Hunt's alleged activities in Washington were the immediate cause of the Senate investigation. Paul Grindle, a Massachusetts manufacturer, has stated that he paid Hunt, a former army officer, $1,000 for help in landing a government contract.

Grindle charged—and Hunt has denied—that Hunt claimed to have influence with government officials. Two Army major generals named by Grindle were recently suspended as a result of the Army's own investigation.

Woods, in the weekend interview, said he has known Hunt for years. He was "a friend of my family" in Chicago, he said.

And he stated that Hunt's name, so far as he knows, did not figure in either of the racetrack cases in any incriminating or improper way.

Woods said he did not know the identity of the client who paid Hunt the reported $15,000 fee in connection with the Foxborough track.

Uniform Maker Called

Rep. Hebert (D-La) announced late today that he will call Stanley J. Cummings, executive secretary of the National Association of Uniform Manufacturers, Inc., before a House Armed Services subcommittee tomorrow to ask him about a meeting with Hunt.

Hebert is chairman of a subcommittee which is investigating policies of the armed forces on supplying officers with uniforms.

Cummings will be questioned in a closed session, Hebert said. He will be asked about a report that Hunt once offered to try to get Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, suspended head of the army quartermaster Corps, to reverse an order affecting the purchase of officers' uniforms. Hunt asked a $25,000 fee, Hebert said, but the uniform manufacturers refused to pay it.

The order in question would change the traditional system under which Army officers buy their own uniforms directly from retailers or tailors. Its intent is to have the quartermaster general procure officers uniforms and then resell them to officers at cost. Operation of the order has been held up temporarily pending a study by the House subcommittee.

U.S. Formally Rejects Pact Protest

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—The United States today emphatically rejected a Russian protest against Italy's membership in the North Atlantic defense pact.

Secretary Acheson termed the charges "utterly without foundation" in a note delivered to the Russian Embassy shortly before noon.

"The text of the treaty itself is the best answer to such misrepresentations and allegations," the American reply said.

Russian Charges

The Soviet Government had charged that Italy violated its peace treaty by joining in the twelve-nation defense treaty last April.

Acheson had denounced the Russian charges at his news conference last Wednesday, foreshadowing today's formal rejection of Russia's latest accusations.

In his written reply, Acheson noted that the views expressed in the Russian note of March 31 are "identical in their misinterpretation" of the nature and intent of the Atlantic treaty with those pub-

HOUSE APPROVES UNIFICATION BILL, GOES TO TRUMAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—(AP) House approval, by 356 to 7, today completed Congressional action on a bill giving Secretary of Defense Johnson new powers as boss of the armed forces.

The measure went to President Truman for his signature.

The bill would:

1. Tighten Johnson's authority over policies and operations of the services by making it direct authority. The 1947 unification law gives him only "general" authority.

Civilian Business Manager

2. Set up a civilian business manager over the services' money matters. The new comptroller will be an assistant secretary of defense, and will be in charge of establishing uniform budget and accounting practices throughout the military departments.

3. Give the joint chiefs of staff a permanent chairman. They operate now without a chairman, except when one is asked to act temporarily—as General Dwight D. Eisenhower was recently.

The bill changes the present national military establishment into a new department of national defense, with the three services as military department under it. This

PROBERS QUESTION HOUSING HEAD ON RACE TRACK DEALS

5 Pct. Investigators Quiz Woods on Foxborough, Tanforan Permits

INFLUENCE WORTHLESS

Expediter Asserts Anyone Could Find Loopholes in Building Laws

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods today said two race tracks got a construction permit from his agency not because of influence but because postwar building controls were a "farce."

Woods spent 90 minutes closeted with the Senate's "five per cent" probers. He told newsmen their questions included the dealings of his office with James V. Hunt, Washington "management counselor," in these two matters:

1. The race track jobs. Woods has said he understands a client paid Hunt $15,000 for his services in 1947 in getting a construction clearance for one of the tracks, Foxborough, near Boston. The other

Woods Admits Building Rules Were Farce

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Housing Expediter Tighe Woods said today he told Senate "five per center" investigators that his agency's postwar building regulation was a "farce."

Woods spent 90 minutes with the staff of the Senate's special investigating subcommittee and afterward told newsmen that the names of both James V. Hunt and John Maragon figured in the closed-door session.

Hunt And Maragon Discussed

Hunt, a former army officer who now is a "management counselor" here, is a key figure in the Senate inquiry.

Maragon, fabulous former Kansas City bootblack who now calls many top Government officials by their first names, appeared before the staff of the special investigating subcommittee three consecutive days last week.

Woods said that over the week end that committee investigators had found Hunt mentioned in the housing agency's files in connection with postwar construction work at two race tracks—Tanforan, at San Bruno, Cal., and Foxborough, near Boston.

Race-Track Building

Woods said then that in the Tanforan case, Hunt asked the housing agency to give favorable consideration to a 1947 application for a go-ahead on construction work at the track.

He also said that Hunt "sought our opinion" as to whether the Foxborough track could qualify for a green light on construction work. Hunt was advised, Woods said, that the track was eligible.

The housing expediter said he understands that Hunt was paid a $15,000 fee by his client in the Foxborough case. He could not name the client.

Wanted Explanation

After today's session with the Senate investigators, Woods told newsmen:

"They just wanted to know about the files in the Tanforan and the Foxborough race-track cases. They asked me to explain the (building materials) regulations under which we operated at the time."

Woods said he told the investigators that "I thought generally that the whole construction regulation was a farce." He added:

"It had so many loopholes—so many legal loopholes."

Anyone Could Have Done It

Woods said the regulation never was intended to open the way for use of scarce building materials in race-track construction.

But, he said, "anybody could have come in and got the same thing" that Hunt got in the way of construction clearance.

"All they had to do was get our regulations together and read the fine print, including the exemptions," Woods said.

He added that the regulations had been drawn up before he took over as Housing Expediter in October, 1947, and that all the preliminary work in both the Tanforan and the Foxborough cases had been done before he came on the scene.

Woods said the investigators asked whether Maragon had figured in any way in the Tanforan case. Woods said he told them he had no information that he did.

Maragon Involved "Slightly"

The official record of Maragon's secret testimony to the subcommittee shows that Maragon was questioned at length on the Tanforan case. The record shows Maragon testified that he was involved in the case to a slight degree.

Meanwhile, committee investigators were reported to be looking into the handling of postwar priorities on steel and cement, as the result of a lead furnished indirectly by Maragon.

three years, 7,025 were made to researchers in this country.

Twenty-one foreign countries that have recived them so far are: Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Finland, France, Iceland, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Peru, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, Union of South Africa, and the United Kingdom.

Program Has Grown

Also, these other eight countries have qualified to receive shipments but have not yet placed orders, the AEC said: Chile, Cuba, Quatemala, India, Ireland, Lebanon, Mexico and Uruguay.

"The program has grown to such an extent," said the anniversary announcement, "that the Atomic Energy Commission is constructing a special area at the (Oak Ridge) laboratory to facilitate the processing and packaging of the radioactive isotopes.

"Research laboratories for improving present processing techniques are also being constructed and will soon be ready for use."

Here are some of the latest uses of radioactive isotopes outlined by the commission:

1. In medicine: Scientists are using radioactive iodine as the "tracer" material in a dye called "diiodofluorescein". This is used to locate brain tumors before a surgeon operates. The dye is taken up more selectively by brain tumor tissue than by normal brain tissue—and thus, tell-tale "signals" of radioactivity enable the operator to locate the tumor.

2. In industry: Piston rings are being made radioactive as a means of measuring engine wear. A radioactive material is incorporated into the piston rings. When the engine runs, the radioactive particles worn off the rings drop into the lubricating oil. Technicians then measure the amount of radioactivity in the oil and get a measurement of the wear on the rings.

3. In agriculture: The U. S. department of agriculture, in cooperation with the AEC, is conducting research in 14 states this summer to determine to what extent plants use phosphorous contained in fertilizer.

AEC Reports Heavy Demand For Atom Research Material

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Aug. 2 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission today reported a rushing business on its third anniversary of setting up shop in the radioactive isotope line.

Since Aug. 2, 1946, a total of 7,613 shipments of the isotopes have gone to various institutions in this country and abroad.

Used In Research

Radicactive isotopes are ray-emitting forms of many common materials, such as carbon, iodine and phosphorous. They are important as "tracers" in research—that is, the rays they emit enable scientists to study processes that would otherwise be difficult to follow.

Some radioactive isotopes are also used in the direct treatment of certain diseases, such as some types of cancer.

Senate Votes Full FBI Check On Atom Student Candidates

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Senate voted today to require a full FBI check of all students recommended for research fellowships under the Atomic Energy Commission.

The provision was inserted by voice vote into an independent offices appropriations bill at the request of Senator O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.). Earlier, the Senate by voice vote had approved another O'Mahoney amendment. This one put a checkrein on the AEC's spending authority.

Chairman McMahon (D., Conn.) of the Joint Senate-House Atomic Committee did not oppose either amendment. The FBI check for AEC fellowship candidates is a direct result of the disclosure last May that a fellowship had been awarded to Hans Freistadt, an avowed Communist at the University of North Carolina.

Require Loyalty Oath

Shortly after the Freistadt case became public, the National Research Council, which administers the multimillion dollar fellowship program for the AEC, agreed to require a loyalty oath and non-Communist affidavit from fellowship candidates.

But many senators thought this did not go far enough. So O'Mahoney prepared a stronger safeguard.

His amendment specifies that no part of any appropriation for the AEC shall be used to confer a fellowship on "any person who advocates or who is a member of an organization or party that advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence."

Punishment Provided

It provides for FBI check of candidates and makes violation of the amendment a felony punishable by a $1,000 fine, one year imprisonment, or both.

McMahon pointed out that fellows having access to secret atomic information already are subject to full FBI checks. He said the amendment would apply to those entering nonsecret research fields.

O'Mahoney said the spending amendment provides for "closer supervision" by the Budget Bureau and Congress over funds granted to the AEC.

McMahon called it language "under which the AEC can function without loss of efficiency," while giving more information to Congress.

House Unanimously Passes Bill Raising Veterans' Aid

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Without a single vote in opposition, the House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill raising veterans' pensions and disability payments by more than $112,000,000 a year.

The measure sailed through despite objections from the White House. The Budget Bureau informed Congress that the legislation was not in accord with President Truman's program.

Even though no House member opposed the bill, there was a roll-call vote and 354 congressmen got on record as favoring the increases.

Chief Provisions Listed

The first year's cost was estimated at $112,597,300 by the Veterans Administration. It made no estimate of the cost in subsequent years.

Veterans Administration estimated that 2,024,000 veterans of the first and second World Wars and of the Spanish-American War would be affected by a section increasing disability and death payments.

Principal provisions of the bill are:

Disability and death compensation rates and basic rates for service-connected disability would be increased. The rate for total disability would go up from $138 a month to $150, with corresponding raises for partial disability.

Raises Dependents' Benefits

The monthly payments to widows and dependent children of wartime casualties would be increased from the present $100 for a widow with one child to $105. The payment for each additional child would be $25 instead of $15.

World War I veterans with disabilities legally presumed to be service-connected would get full compensation instead of the present 75 per cent.

Dependents of veterans with service-connected 50 per cent disabilities would get additional compensation benefits. At present such payments are made only if the disability is 60 per cent.

Boosts Tuberculosis Benefits

Where veterans are receiving compensation for tuberculosis, full benefits would be paid for two years after the disease is fully arrested, 50 per cent benefits for an additional four years and 30 per cent for five years more.

Under existing regulations the full payments are made for six months after the presumed cure, then half payments for four and a half years and 30 per cent for the next five years.

Backers of the bill pointed to the increased cost of living.

The Budget Bureau raised the question that if compensation payments are increased to meet rising living costs, there might be a demand to cut them when living costs decline. It would appear to be more in the interest of the veteran, the bureau said, to have a stable rate since most veterans need the money less in time of high prices and full employment than they will when jobs are harder to get.

Opposition Listed

In opposition to liberalization of payments for arrested tuberculosis cases, the Veterans Administration said the present scale is "liberal and medically sound."

Furthermore, the administration said, the legislation discriminates against veterans with more serious disabilities because it does not increase special rates provided now for them.

From 1939 until now, the administration said, 29 laws have been enacted to increase pension rates or liberalize pension requirements in specific cases.

survivors of G. I.'s killed in the war.

Chairman Doughton (D.-N. C.) said that "discrimination against veterans because of their military service" would be removed. It would be assumed—for social security credit purposes—that they would have earned an average of $160 a month during the period of their military service.

Social security insurance is paid in old age, and to dependent survivors if an insured person dies, on the basis of a person's earnings and contributions, and the duration of such payments.

President Truman signed into law yesterday a bill giving prisoners of war a year in which to file claims for veterans pensions and benefits. Their claims would run from the time they might have filed them if they had not been detained by the enemy.

WOULD GIVE VETS SOCIAL SECURITY

Washington, Aug. 2 (A. P.).—Veterans of world war I would be given social security wage credits for time spent in the service, under legislation agreed upon today by the House Ways and Means Committee.

If the House and Senate approve the legislation, it will mean not only larger retirement benefits for veterans in their old age but also increased payments to

Truman Urged To Press For '52-20'

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Representative Noland (D., Ind.) urged President Truman today to use his influence to obtain House passage of the bill reviving the "52-20" veterans' unemployment-compensation payments.

Noland said he asked Mr. Truman to get the House Democratic leadership behind an effort to force Chairman Rankin (D., Miss.) to bring the bill up before the House Veterans Committee.

Stalling Alleged

Noland said that Rankin "is stalling" to prevent action on the measure, which extends for another year the payment of $20 weekly benefits to unemployed veterans up to a maximum of 52 weeks. The measure expired July 15.

Noland did not say what the President might do, but he said Mr. Truman thinks the payments to jobless veterans "are more important now" than they were last year due to increased unemployment.

SAN FRANCISCO,AUG 2 (AP)-THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS ACCUSED THE BRITISH SLOOP AMETHYST TODAY OF SHELLING A RIVER STEAMER AND DROWNING SEVERAL HUNDRED CHINESE IN SATURDAY'S DRAMATIC ESCAPE DOWN THE YANGTZE.

THE BRITISH NAVY IN JONG KONG SAID SUNDAY A COMMUNIST WARSHIP

WAS HIT BY RED SHORE BATTERIES, WHICH WERE FIRING TO TRY TO STOP THE 1,400-TON SLOOP.

A PROPAGANDA BROADCAST, FROM NANKING, WAS THE FIRST COMMUNIST REACTION TO THE AMETHYST'S ESCAPE.

THE SLOOP HAD BEEN A VIRTUAL HOSTAGE IN THE YANGTZE SINCE APRIL UNDER COMMUNIST GUNS. SHE HAD BEEN SHELLED AND RUN AGROUND BY COMMUNIST ARTILLERY ON A VOYAGE FROM SHANGHAI TO NANKING.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR HER RELEASE GOT NOWHERE. SATURDAY THE SLOOP SLIPPED ANCHOR AND ESCAPED DOWN RIVER UNDER FIRE.

THE BRITISH IN HONG KONG SAID THE AMETHYST SAILED IN DARKNESS JUST AFTER A CHINESE COMMERCIAL SHIP PASSED DOWNSTREAM.

THE COMMUNIST VERSION IS THAT THE AMETHYST FORCED THE CHINESE STEAMER KIANGLING TO ACCOMPANY IT AS A SHIELD.

THE BROADCAST ASSERTED COMMUNIST TROOPS ON THE YANGTZE BANK DISCOVERED THE ESCAPE AND SIGNALLED FOR THE AMETHYST TO STOP.

THEN, THE COMMUNISTS ALLEGED, "THE AMETHYST OPENED FIRE ON THE S.S.KIANGLING, WHICH CAUGHT FIRE AND SANK."

THE BRITISH SAID THE SLOOP RETURNED THE FIRE OF RED SHORE BATTERIES.

THE COMMUNIST BROADCAST, HEARD BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS AT SAN FRANCISCO, ALSO ACCUSED THE SLOOP OF FIRING ON AND SINKING "MANY JUNKS" WHICH WERE TRYING TO SAVE PASSENGERS FROM THE KIANGLING.

THE RED RADIO QUOTED GEN.YUAN CHUNG-HSIEN, COMMUNIST COMMANDER IN THE AREA, AS SAYING THE BRITISH HAD "ADMITTED" ON JULY 27 THAT THE AMETHYST HAD SAILED INTO FRONT LINE AREAS LAST APRIL WITHOUT COMMUNIST PERMISSION.

YUAN SAID A CABLE HAD COME FROM VICE ADM.E.J.PATRICK BRIND, BRITISH NAVY COMMANDER IN THE FAR EAST. THE COMMUNISTS HAD ACCUSED THE AMETHYST OF "CRIMINAL ACTION" IN FIRING ON THE RED BATTERIES IN THE APRIL FIGHTING. THEY HAD DEMANDED REPARATIONS.

GENERAL YUAN ACCUSED THE BRITISH OF CONDUCTING THE NEGOTIATIONS AS A "TRICK" TO OBTAIN TIME FOR PLANNING THE ESCAPE.

"I FIRMLY BELIEVE," GENERAL YUAN WAS QUOTED AS DECLARING, "THAT THE PEOPLES LIBERATION ARMY (COMMUNIST) AND THE PEOPLE OF THE WHOLE COUNTRY WILL NEVER FORGET TO AVENGE THOSE SACRIFICED...

NIGHT LEAD PEACE TALKS (330)
BY MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
LAUSANNE,SWITZERLAND,AUGUST 2-(AP)-THE FIRST MAJOR PROGRESS TOWARD PERMANENT PEACE IN PALESTINE WAS MADE TODAY AFTER FOUR MONTHS OF NEGOTIATIONS.

EGYPT, SYRIA, LEBANON AND HASHEMITE JORDAN (TRANS-JORDAN) SAID THEY ARE PREPARED TO BEGIN IMMEDIATE DISCUSSION OF THE ARAB REFUGEE PROBLEM ON TERMS PROPOSED LAST WEEK BY ISRAEL.

THE ARAB REPRESENTATIVES TOLD THE UNITED NATIONS PALESTINE CONCILIATION COMMISSION THEY ARE READY TO ACCEPT THE CONDITIONS OF THE ISRAELI PROPOSAL WITHOUT RESERVATION.

ON JULY 29, ISRAEL TOLD THE COMMISSION, WHICH IS TRYING TO WORK OUT FINAL PEACE TERMS, IT IS PREPARED TO READMIT TO ISRAELI TERRITORY A SIZABLE NUMBER OF THE ESTIMATED 800,000 ARAB REFUGEES.

A COMMISSION SPOKESMAN SAID THEN THE EXACT NUMBER OF REFUGEES ISRAEL WOULD ACCEPT WAS NOT CONTAINED IN THE ISRAELI PROPOSAL. A SPOKESMAN IN HAIFA, ISRAEL, SAID, HOWEVER, ISAREAL'S ENVOY TO THE U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT HAD INDICATED THE JEWISH STATE IS READY TO ALLOW SOME 150,000 REFUGEES TO BE REPATRIATED. IN ORDER TO DO THIS, THE MONTHLY QUOTA OF JEWISH IMMIGRANTS WOULD BE REDUCED TO PERMIT 8,000 ARAB REPATRIATES TO BE ADMITTED MONTHLY, THIS SPOKESMAN SAID.

THE FATE OF THE ARABS WHO FLED FROM ISRAELI-HELD SOIL DURING THE PALESTINE WAR HAS BEEN THE CHIEF PROBLEM CONFRONTING THE U.N. COMMISSION FOR THE PAST TWO MONTHS.

PRIOR TO ITS NEW PROPOSAL, ISRAEL HAD INSISTED THAT FINAL PEACE TERMS SHOULD TAKE PRECEDENCE OVER THE REFUGEE QUESTION. ARAB REPRESENTATIVES STEADFASTLY REFUSED TO DISCUSS PEACE ISSUES BEFORE THE REFUGEE PROBLEM WAS SETTLED.

THE CONDITIONS OF THE ISRAELI PROPOSAL ARE:

FIRSTLY, THAT ANY REPATRIATION TO ISRAEL SHOULB FORM PART OF AN OVERALL RESETTLEMENT PROJECT FOR THE REFUGEES IN ARAB COUNTRIES AS WELLAS IN ISRAEL.

SECONDLY, THAT ANY RESETTLEMENT SCHEME SHOULD EVENTUALLY BE AN INTEGRAL PART OF A "GENERAL PEACE SETTLEMENT" TO BE WORKED OUT LATER.

A COMMISSION SPOKESMAN CALLED THE ARAB ACCEPTANCE OF THE ISREALI OFFER "THE FIRST DEFINITE, PRACTICAL STEP FORWARD SINCE THE CONFERENCE OPENED ON APRIL 26, AND A DEFINITELY HOPEFUL SIGN."

ISRAEL'S WILLINGNESS TO CONSIDER READMITTING A SUBSTANTIAL UMBER OF REFUGEES "MAY WELL START THE BALL ROLLING TOWARD FINAL PEACE IN THE MIDDLE EAST," THE SPOKESMAN ADDED.

—LAUSANNE,SWITZERLAND—XXX CONDITIONS

FIRST THAT IT WOULD BE PART OF AN OVERALL RESETTLEMENT PROJECT FOR THE REFUGEES IN ARAB COUNTRIES AS WELL AS IN ISRAEL; SECOND, THAT ANY RESETTLEMENT SCHEME WHIGH MIGHT BE WORKED OUT WOULD EVENTUALLY FORM AN INTEGRAL PART OF A "GENERAL PEACE SETTLEMENT" LAYING DOWN THE TERRITORIAL FRAMEWORK FOR ANY FUTURE PEACE TREATY.

THE FOUR ARAB DELEGATIONS CONSIDERED THE ISRAELI OFFER OVER THE WEEKEND AND INFORMED THE COMMISSION THAT THEY WERE PREPARED TO ACCEPT THE ISRAELI CONDITIONS WITHOUT RESERVATION.

A COMMISSION SPOKESMAN DESCRIBED THE ARAB ACCEPTANCE AS "THE FIRST DEFINITE, PRACTICAL STEP FORWARD SINCE THE CONFERENCE OPENED ON APRIL 26 AND A DEFINITELY HOPEFUL SIGN."

ISRAEL'S READINESS TO DISCUSS THE REPATRIATION OF A SUBSTANTIAL NUMBER OF REFUGEES "MAY WELL START THE BALL ROLLING TOWARD FINAL PEACE IN THE MIDDLE EAST," THE SPOKESMAN SAID.

THERE IS NO QUESTION OF A FINAL PEACE TREATY BEING SIGNED AT THE LAUSANNE CONFERENCE, THE SPOKESMAN DECLARED. A FULL PEACE TREATY MUST DEAL WITH CULTURAL, ECONOMIC AND OTHER MATTERS, WHICH THE DELEGATES HERE ARE NOT PREPARED TO DISCUSS, HE SAID.

AN AMERICAN FEDERATIONOF LABOR OFFICIAL HERE SAID THE LATIN AMERICAN LABOR CONFEDERATON LIKE THE WFTU, IS COMMUNIST-DOMINATED.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE COMMISSION HAD BEEN DEBATED FULLY IN COMMITTEE BEFORE REACHING THE COUNCIL, AND OPPONENTS OF THE SOVIET RESOLUTION DID NOT CHALLENGE ARUTIUNIANS ACCUSATIONS AGAINST THE ILO, EXCEPT BY THE FINAL VOTE. THE NEWS AGENCY SAID THE ACCUSED ADMITTED THEY HAD WANTED TO LEAVE ROMANIA ILLEGALLY FOR VIENNA AND THAT THEY WERE BEING HELPED BY SARREL.

IT MADE NO MENTION OF "SMUGGLERS," SUCH AS THE ROMANIAN NEWS AGENCY DESCRIBED IN ITS REPORT FROM BUCHAREST.

SHANGHAI,AUG.2-(AP)-DEMONSTRATING FORMER EMPLOYES OF THE U.S. NAVY WERE CLEARED FROM THE UNITED STATES CONSULATE GENERAL TODAY THROUGH DIRECT ACTION OF THE COMMUNIST LABOR BOARD.

THE BOARD'S ORDERS FREED U.S. OFFICIALS WITHIN THE BUILDING.

THE BOARD SET UP TERMS FOR SETTLING THE DISPUTE, WHICH AROSE WHEN THE EMPLOYES WERE DISCHARGED AFTER THE NAVY LEFT SHANGHAI.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER REUBEN THOMAS OF THE CONSULATE WAS ASKED TO CABLE THE BOARD'S TERMS TO WASHINGTON.

THESE TERMS CALL FOR THREE MONTHS SEVERANCE PAY FOR EACH OF THE 800 CHINESE, INDIAN AND WHITE RUSSIAN WORKERS. THE MINIMUM WOULD BE $150, THE MAXIMUM $300.

THE WORKERS HAD DEMANDED SIX AND A HALF MONTHS BONUS AS SEVERANCE PAY. THAT WAS ESTIMATED TO AMOUNT TO MORE THAN $250,000.

PAY ADJUSTMENTS HAVE BEEN GETTING INTO LARGE FIGURES SINCE THE COMMUNISTS TOOK OVER SHANGHAI. ONE FOREIGN OWNED FIRM RECENTLY PAID MORE THAN $110,000 IN BACK PAY TO CONTRACT LABOR WHICH WAS NOT DIRECTLY EMPLOYED BY IT. THERE HAVE BEEN REPORTS OF OTHER SETTLEMENTS RUNNING HIGHER.

WASHINGTON,AUG 2-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES HAS PROTESTED TO CHINESE COMMUNIST AUTHORITIES ABOUT THE DELAY IN TAKING ACTION TO HALT MOB VIOLENCE AT THE SHANGHAI EVENING POST AND MERCURY LAST WEEK.

IT SAID THE POLICE AT FIRST DID NOT RESPOND TO APPEALS FOR HELP.

STATE DEPARTMENT PRESS OFFICER LINCOLN WHITE GAVE THESE ADDITIONAL REPORTS ON CHINA AT A NEWS CONFERENCE:

1. THE AMERICAN CONSULATE GENERAL BUILDING AT SHANGHAI WILL BE OPEN FOR "NORMAL BUSINESS" TOMORROW. A SIEGE OF THE BUILDING BY CHINESE FORMERLY EMPLOYED BY THE U.S. NAVY HAS BEEN LIFTED. THEY WERE SEEKING A SETTLEMENT OF WAGE CLAIMS AGAINST THE NAVY.

2. WHITE DENIED REPORTS IN SHANGHAI'S CHINESE LANGUAGE NEWSPAPERS THAT AMERICAN NEGOTIATORS TRYING TO SETTLE THE WAGE ARGUMENT HAD AGREED TO THREE MONTHS SEVERANCE PAY. WHITE SAID THE TWO AMERICAN OFFICIALS HAD POWER ONLY TO NEGOTIATE. HE SAID THERE HAVE BEEN NO AGREEMENTS BUT THAT NEGOTIATIONS ARE CONTINUING.

3. PUBLISHED REPORTS THAT AN AMERICAN SHIP IS BEING PERPARED AT HONGKONG TO PICK UP AMERICANS WHO WANT TO FLEE FROM SHANGHAI ARE "NEWS TO US," WHITE DECLARED.

IN THE CASE OF THE PROTEST, THE STATE DEPARTMENT MADE PUBLIC A NOTE WHICH AMBASSADOR J.LEIGHTON STUART SENT TO NANKING OFFICIALS LAST SATURDAY.

STUART, NOW EN ROUTE HOME, REMINDED COMMUNIST AUTHORITIES THAT EDITOR RANDALL GOULD AND CHARLES F.MINER, REPRESENTATIVE OF THE OWNER OF THE SHANGHAI EVENING POST AND MERCURY, HAD BEEN CONFINED IN THEIR OFFICES FOR MORE THAN 48 HOURS BY THEIR WORKERS.

POLICE DID NOT AT FIRST RESPOND TO APPEALS FOR HELP, THE NOTE SAID, TO STOP WHAT THE DEPARTMENT CALLED "MOB ACTION."

THE MAIN SECTION OF STUART'S PROTEST:

"ALTHOUGH EVENTUAL INTERVENTION OF THE POLICE, ENABLING SETTLEMENT, IS GRATIFYING, THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA HAS ISSUED INSTRUCTION THAT A STRONG PROTEST BE LODGED AGAINST THE FAILURE OF AUTHORITIES TO TAKE ACTION PROMPTLY ONCE THEY HAD BEEN INFORMED OF THE FACTS.

"IRRESPECTIVE OF THE INTRINSIC MERITS OF THE DISPUTE, IT IS DIFFICULT TO BELIEVE THAT THE ARBITRARY USE BY EMPLOYES AGAINST EMPLOYERS OF WEAPONS OF HUNGER, THIRST AND MENTAL ANGUISH IS APPROVED BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES. NOR DOES SUCH ACTION SEEM IN HARMONY WITH DECLARATIONS OF THE HIGHEST COMMUNIST LEADERS THAT FOREIGN LIVES AND PROPERTY WOULD BE PROTESTED."

NEW YORK, AUG.2-(AP)-"TWO MAJOR OPERATIONS"--MORAL AND MATERIAL AID--CAN STILL SAVE ALL OF CHINA SOUTH OF THE YANGTZE RIVER, DR. H.H.KUNG, LEADING CHINESE DIPLOMAT FOR MANY DECADES, ASSERTS.

AND IN SAVING CHINA, THE REMAINDER OF SOUTH-EAST ASIA WILL STAY OUT OF COMMUNIST HANDS, HE SAID, ADDING:

"IF ALL OF SOUTH CHINA GOES TO THE COMMUNISTS YOU CAN BE SURE ALL SOUTH-EAST ASIA WILL FOLLOW. AND THEN WHATEVER THE UNITED STATES MAY DO FOR EUROPE WILL NOT GUARANTEE ITS SAFETY."

BREAKING HIS OFFICIAL SILENCE WHICH HE HAS MAINTAINED SINCE COMING TO THE UNITED STATES IN THE LATE SUMMER OF 1947, DR.KUNG SAID, IN AN INTERVIEW, THAT "MORAL AID WOULD BE VERY EASY."

"WE ARE STILL OFFICIALLY AT WAR WITH JAPAN--BOTH CHINA AND THE UNITED STATES, AS A TREATY WITH JAPAN HASN'T BEEN MADE, "HE SAID. "THEREFORE WE ARE STILL ALLIES. IF THE PRESIDENT OR SOME RESPONSIBLE PERSON IN THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT WERE TO PUT THEIR PRESTIGE BEHIND MORAL AID TO THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT IT WOULD HAVE A VERY GREAT EFFECT IN CHINA."

AS TO MATERIAL AID, DR. KUNG, FORMER CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF THE BANK OF CHINA DN NOW AN EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE BANK, PROPOSED THAT THE UNITED STATES SHOULD MAKE A LOAN TO CHINA OF 569,000,000 OUNCES OF SILVER ORIGINALLY BOUGHT FROM CHINA, HE SAID, AT AN AVERAGE OF 46 CENTS AN OUNCE. THIS SHOULD BE SOLD BACK TO CHINA AT THE SAME PRICE, HE SUGGESTED, WITH THE STIPULATION THAT PAYMENT WOULD BE MADE GRADUALLY IN DOLLARS.

AS THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT IS NOW USING SILVER AND NOTES EXCHANGEABLE ON SILVER--IN OTHER WORDS A SILVER STANDARD--DR. KUNG DECLARED THIS ACTION WOULD STABILIZE THE CHINESE CURRENCY, BOLSTER MORALE, AND CONTRIBUTE MIGHTILY TO THE WAR EFFORT AGAINST THE COMMUNISTS.

THE INTERVIEW WAS CONDUCTED IN THE BANK OF CHINA OFFICES ON WALL STREET WHERE DR.KUNG, BELIED HIS 68 YEARS WITH A VIGOROUS DEFENSE OF NATIONALIST POLICIES. SHORT AND STOCKY, HE WORE A BLUE SUIT, WHITE SHIRT WITH A BOW-TIE AND WORE A HEAVY GOLD RING AND A GOLD WRIST WATCH. HE LAUGHED OFF THE REPORT OF HIS BEING ONE OF THE WORLD'S RICHEST MEN, SAYING ALL THE FAMILY PROPERTIES HAD BEEN CONFISCATED IN MANCHURIA AND OTHER PARTS OF CHINA AND THAT HE WAS JUST A SMALL SHAREHOLDER OF THE BANK OF CHINA.

DR. KUNG SAID THAT WHEN HE WAS MINISTER OF FINANCE FROM 1933 TO 1937, THE CHINESE CURRENCY WAS KEPT AT THE RATIO OF 20 CHINESE DOLLARS TO ONE AMERICAN DOLLAR, THAT THE BUDGET WAS BALANCED AND THIS WAS KNOWN AS "THE GOLDEN AGE OF CHINA." HE SAID THAT DURING THIS TIME CHINA WAS ABLE TO CONTINUE HER WAR AGAINST JAPAN "WITHOUT SEVERE INFLATION."

"YOU CAN'T ASK A SOLDIER TO FIGHT WHEN HE KNOW HIS PAY IS NO GOOD, THAT ITS VALUE WILL BE NOTHING BY THE NEXT DAY," HE ELABORATED. "SHOULD THE UNITED STATES MAKE A LOAN OF THAT SILVER TO CHINA, THE CURRENCY COULD BE STABILIZED AND A REAL FORWARD STEP TAKEN IN OUR BATTLE."

HE SAID WHEN HE RESIGNED DUE TO ILL-HEALTH FROM THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE IN 1944 THAT HE LEFT GOLD AND FOREIGN EXCHANGE IN THE NATIONAL TREASURY AMOUNTING TO OVER $1,000,000,000 UNITED STATES DOLLARS. HE CONTENDED THAT THE SUBSEQUENT INFLATION WAS "DUE TO MANY REASONS; ONE OF WHICH WAS THE FREQUENT DEPRECIATION OF THE CURRENCY CAUSING THE PEOPLE TO LOSE CONFIDENCE IN IT."

DR.KUNG SAID HE BELIEVED THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT HAD PREPARED A PROGRAM IN CASE THE UNITED STATES GRANTED FURTHER AID AND ADDED THE GOVERNMENT "WOULD NO DOUBT WELCOME CLOSE AMERICANCO-OPERATION TO AS-SURE EFFICIENT HANDLING."

TALES OF CHINESE GOVERNMENT INEFFICIENCY AND CORRUPTION, DR.KUNG ASCRIBED TO THE CLEVER "MALICIOUS SMEAR PROPAGANDA" CAMPAIGN OF THE COMMUNISTS IN THE UNITED STATES. WHILE ADMITTING DURING WAR DAYS "A CERTAIN AMOUNT OF BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION COULD NOT BE AVOIDED," DR.KUNG SAID THEY MADE EVERY EFFORT TO PUNISH OFFENDERS--BOTH ON THE GIVING AND RECEIVING ENDS.
ASKED ABOUT PROMISED NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT REFORMS, DR.KUNG, WHO HAS ALSO HELD THE OFFICE OF PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE YUAN (PREMIER) REPLIED:
"THE MAIN OBJECTIVE OF THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT HAS ALWAYS BEEN THE INSTITUTION OF REFORMS TO CREATE A DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT BASED ON DR. SUN-YAT-SEN'S 'THREE PEOPLE'S PRINCIPLES.' MANY REFORMS WERE CARRIED OUT BEFORE THE JAPANESE INVASION IN 1937.
"AS SOON AS THE WAR WAS OVER, OUR GOVERNMENT ADOPTED ITS PERMANENT CONSTITUTION AND TERMINATED THE SO-CALLED ONE PARTY GOVERNMENT. HAD IT NOT BEEN FOR THE COMMUNIST TROUBLE, NUMEROUS POLITICAL, SOCIAL, AND ECONOMIC REFORMS WOULD HAVE BEEN CARRIED OUT."
ASKED IF IN HIS OPINION GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK AND ACTING PRESIDENT LI TSUNG-JEN ARE CO-OPERATING WHOLE-HEARTEDLY IN THE FIGHT AGAINST THE REDS, DR. KUNG ASSERTED THERE WAS NO DOUBT OF THEIR COOPERATION. HE ADDED, "RECENT STATEMENT MADE BY BOTH OF THEM AND CURRENT EVENTS HAVE CONFIRMED THIS FACT."
HE EXPLAINED THAT UNDER THE CHINESE CONSTITUTION CHIANG WAS STILL PRESIDENT OF CHINA..."AND LI IS THE VICE PRESIDENT WHO IS NOW ACTING AS PRESIDENT BECAUSE THE CONSTITUTION DOESN'T PROVIDE FOR THE RESIGNATION OF THE PRESIDENT."
ASKED IF HE BELIEVED THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT WOULD ISSUE A STATEMENT SHOULD THE U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT ISSUE A WHITE PAPER ON CHINA THIS WEEK, AS HAS BEEN REPORTED, DR.KUNG SAID: "I PRESUME THE FORTHCOMING WHITE PAPER ON CHINA WILL STATE PROVEN FACTS CONCERNING AMERICAS RELATIONSHIP WITH CHINA. IF THERE ARE POINTS OF DISCUSSION OR DISAGREEMENT, I THINK THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT MAY MAKE STATEMENTS TO CLARIFY."
QUESTIONED ABOUT BANK DEPOSITS IN THE UNITED STATES HELD BY CHINESE NATIONALS, DR.KUNG SAID WHILE HE WAS MINISTER OF FINANCE HE HAD BEEN INFORMED BY THE U.S. TREASURY DEPARTMENT THAT THE TOTAL DEPOSITS OF CHINESE NATIONALS, INCLUDING BUSINESS ORGANIZATIONS, WAS LESS THAN $80,000,000. THIS DID NOT INCLUDE CHINESE GOVERNMENT FUNDS.
DR.KUNG, A BROTHER-IN-LAW OF CHIANG KAI-SHEK, SAID HE HAD NO IMMEDIATE PLANS TO RETURN TO CHINA. HE SAID HE ORIGINALLY CAME HERE BECAUSE HIS WIFE WAS ILL AND HE HIMSELF HAD HAD TWO MAJOR OPERATIONS IN THE PAST TWO YEARS. MADAME CHIANG, WHO IS NOW STAYING WITH HIM IN NEW YORK WOULD RETURN TO CHINA BUT JUST WHEN DR.KUNG COULD NOT SAY.
AS TO THE POSSIBILITY OF WAR. DR. KUNG SAID, "THE MENACE IS THERE. AND IF IT COMES, DON'T YOU THINK IT WOULD BE GOOD FOR THE UNITED STATES TO HAVE SOMEONE FIGHTING ITS BATTLES IN OUR PART OF THE WORLD?"

THIS WAS THE OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE END OF ONE OF THE MOST CONTROVERSIAL PROGRAMS UNDERTAKEN BY THE ALLIED OCCUPATION. FROM THE BEGINNING IT HAD BEEN UNDER FIRE HERE AND ABROAD AS "SOCIALIZATION" AND "FRAGMENTATION OF INDUSTRY". SOME OBSERVERS CALLED IT A SUCCESS, OTHERS A FAILURE.
A HEADQUARTERS PRESS STATEMENT SAID EXAMINATION HAS BEEN COMPLETED OF ABOUT 1,200 COMPANIES WHICH HAD BEEN AFFILIATED WITH THE ZAIBATSU HOLDING COMPANIES "THROUGH WHICH A SMALL NUMBER OF FAMILIES EXERCISED ALL - PERVASIVE CONTROL OVER THE INDUSTRY, COMMERCE AND FINANCE OF JAPAN."

BOARD CHAIRMAN JOSEPH ROBINSON SAID 11 GIANT JAPANESE CORPORATIONS WERE RECOMMENDED DECONCENTRATED OUT OF 325 DESIGNATED FOR EXAMINATION. NINE OTHER COMPANIES WERE RECOMMENDED FOR DIVESTMENT OF CERTAIN HOLDINGS.

MANILA,AUG.2-(AP)-THE PHILIPPINES WILL COME OUT THIS WEEK WITH ITS IDEAS ON HOW SOUTHEAST ASIA CAN COUNTERACT AND CONTAIN COMMUNISM WITH A PACIFIC UNION.

PRESIDENT ELPIDIO QUIRINO WILL DISCUSS BOTH ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL MEASURES IN A STATEMENT SHORTLY BEFORE HE LEAVES ON A TRIP TO THE UNITED STATES.

AT THE SAME TIME HE IS EXPECTED TO MAKE IT CLEAR HE WILL NOT TAKE UP FORMALLY HIS PET PLAN FOR AN ANTI-RED ASIAN PACT DURING HIS STAY IN WASHINGTON.

THE U.S. HAS MAINTAINED ALOOFNESS TO THE PROJECTED PACIFIC COUNTERPART OF THE ATLANTIC ALLIANCE. IT HAS, HOWEVER, ENCOURAGED ASIAN NATIONS TO GO AHEAD ON THEIR OWN IF THEY CHOOSE.

THERE MAY BE PRIVATE CONVERSATIONS AT HIGH LEVEL ON THE MATTER AFTER QUIRINO ARRIVES IN WASHINGTON NEXT WEEK. BUT THE PACIFIC UNION PLAN HAS NOT PROGRESSED TO A POINT THAT IT IS READY FOR IMPLEMENTATION.

BIGGEST OBSTACLE TO THE ALLIANCE, SOME INFORMED OBSERVERS HERE SAY, IS THAT NATIONALIST CHINA IS ONE OF THE FOUNDERS. ITS GROUNDWORK WAS LAID BY GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK AND QUIRINO EARLY IN JULY WHEN THE CHINESE LEADER FLEW TO THE PHILIPPINES FOR THE BAGUIO CONFERENCE.

THESE SOURCES REFER TO THE FADING NATIONALIST REGIME AS A "DEAD ALBATROSS." AND UNLESS IT IS CAST LOOSE, THEY FORESEE GREAT DIFFICULTY IN BRINGING BRITISH COMMONWEALTH COUNTRIES INTO THE UNION.

THEIR PARTICIPATION IS CONSIDERED ESSENTIAL TO AN EFFECTIVE ALLIANCE.

THE TROUBLE IS THIS: UNDER TERMS OF THE BAGUIO ACCORD EACH MEMBER OF THE UNION WOULD BE PLEDGED TO AT LEAST THE MORAL ASSISTANCE OF NATIONALIST CHINA.

IN VIEW OF THE RED THREAT TO HONG KONG AND MALAYA, THIS MAY BE FARTHER THAN THE COMMONWEALTH COUNTRIES ARE PREPARED TO GO AT THIS TIME.

NEW YORK, AUG.2-(AP)-NATIONAL COMMUNIST CHAIRMAN WILLIAM Z.FOSTER WAS QUOTED IN COURT TODAY AS SAYING "IMPERIALIST AMERICA" WOULD FIND NO ALLIES AMONG THE PEOPLE'S GOVERNMENTS OF EUROPE IN THE EVENT OF WAR WITH THE SOVIET UNION.

EDWARD JOSEPH CHAKA, A COMMUNIST OFFICIAL FROM CLEVELAND, APPEARED FOR THE DEFENSE IN THE COMMUNIST CONSPIRACY TRIAL TO GIVE HIS VERSION OF WHAT FOSTER SAID TO AN OHIO CONVENTION OF THE PARTY IN JULY, 1948.

WILLIAM CUMMINGS, A GOVERNMENT WITNESS, HAD QUOTED THE NATIONAL CHAIRMAN AS SAYING THAT IF WAR CAME THE "FREE COUNTRIES OF EUROPE" WOULD RALLY TO THE SUPPORT OF THE SOVIET UNION.

CHAKA SAID THAT WASN'T WHAT FOSTER SAID.

"MR. FOSTER SPOKE ON THE PEOPLE'S GOVERNMENTS," HE TESTIFIED, "AND SAID THAT IN CASE OF AN IMPERIALIST WAR BETWEEN THE SOVIET UNION AND THE UNITED STATES, IMPERIALIST AMERICA WOULD NOT FIND ANY ALLIES AMONG THOSE PEOPLE IN EUROPE."

FOSTER AND 11 OTHER TOP COMMUNIST LEADERS ARE UNDER INDICTMENT ON CHARGES OF CONSPIRING TO ADVOCATE OVERTHROW OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT BY FORCE. THE 11 OTHERS ARE ON TRIAL BUT FOSTER HIMSELF WON A POSTPONEMENT ON GROUNDS OF ILL HEALTH.

CHAKA TESTIFIED EARLIER THAT STEEL WORKERS WERE A PRIME TARGET FOR RED ORGANIZERS AND THAT HE HAD SERVED AS "STEEL COORDINATOR" FOR THE PARTY TO PUSH SUCH ORGANIZATION.

HE SAID GUS HALL, ONE OF THE DEFENDANTS, HAD TOLD HIM STEEL WORKERS WERE STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF TRADE UNIONS BUT THAT IT WAS NECESSARY TO "DEVELOP THEM POLITICALLY."

HALL, HE SAID, WAS OHIO CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY.

NEW YORK,AUGUST 2-(AP)-AMERICAN STEEL WORKERS WERE DESCRIBED BY A COMMUNIST TRIAL DEFENSE WITNESS TODAY AS A PRIME TARGET OF RED ORGANIZERS.

THE WITNESS, EDWARD JOSEPH CHAKA OF CLEVELAND, SAID DEFENDANT GUS HALL TOLD HIM A FEW YEARS AGO:

"WE MUST GENERALLY TRY TO INTEREST THE STEEL WORKERS IN SOCIALISM AND BRING THEM INTO OUR PARTY."

THE REASON, CHAKA QUOTED HALL, WAS THAT "THAT IS WHERE LARGE SECTIONS OF WORKERS ARE CONCENTRATED."

HALL WAS OHIO CHAIRMAN FOR THE COMMUNIST PARTY AND TGE WITNESS SAID HE (CHAKA) WAS NAMED "STEEL COORDINATOR" FOR THE PARTY IN AN EFFORT TO PUSH SUCH ORGANIZATION.

CHAKA SAID HALL TOLD HIM STEEL WORKERS WERE STRONG FOR TRADE UNIONISM AND, ONCE ORGANIZED IN LABOR UNIONS, "IT WAS NECESSARY TO DEVETOP THEM POLITICALLY."

CHAKA, A COMMUNIST POLITICIAN IN CLEVELAND, WAS CALLED AS DEFENSE WITNESS YESTERDAY TO CHALLENGE TESTIMONY OF AN FBI UNDERCOVER AGENT ABOUT A PARTY SCHOOL NEAR THE OHIO CITY.

THE FOUNDRY WORKER TOOK THE STAND WITH THE TRIAL IN ITS 29TH WEEK BEFORE FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD R.MEDINA AND A JURY.

HE DENIED PROSECUTION TESTIMONY THAT A 1946 COMMUNIST PARTY SCHOOL HELD AT EINTRACHT FARM WAS AN UNDERGROUND GROUP ENGAGED IN COMMUNIST REVOLUTIONARY IDEOLOGY.

THE PROSECUTION TESTIMONY WAS GIVEN BY JOHN LA BLANC, WHO SAID HE WAS PLANTED IN THE COMMUNIST PARTY BY THE FBI.

CHAKA TESTIFIED HE JOINED THE COMMUNIST PARTY 18 YEARS AGO AFTER BECOMING INTERESTED AS A YOUTH IN THE THEORIES OF HIS FATHER, WHOM HE DESCRIBED AS "AN OLD SOCIALIST."

THE WITNESS SAID HE IS A CANDIDATE FOR THE CLEVELAND CITY COUNCIL FROM THE 13TH WARD ON A NON-PARTISAN BASIS. HE SAID THAT IN 1943 HE RAN UNSUCCESSFULLY FOR THE SAME OFFICE WITH "THE OPEN ENDORSEMENT OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY."

CHAKA SAID HE RAN FOR OHIO STATE REPRESENTATIVE IN CLEVELAND WITH COMMUNIST BACKING IN 1946.

CHAKA TOOK THE STAND AFTER MRS.YOLANDA HALL, A CHICAGO COMMUNIST, HAD COMPLETED HER TESTIMONY FOR THE ELEVEN TOP COMMUNIST LEADERS ON TRIAL ON CHARGES OF CONSPIRACY TO ADVOCATE VIOLENT OVERTHROW OF THE GOVERNMENT.

SHE ADMITTED UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION THAT IN THE PAST SHE HAD TOLD LIES "UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES."

SHE SAID SHE HAD BEEN "BLACKLISTED" FOR UNION ACTIVITY AT THE BENDIX AVIATION CORPORATION PLANT, AND SOMETIMES AFTER THAT MADE FALSE STATEMENTS WHEN APPLYING FOR JOBS.

"A PERSON HAS TO MAKE A LIVING, AND YOU ARE SOMETIMES FORCED TO LIE," SHE EXPLAINED.

JUDGE HAROLD R.MEDINA, WHO INVOKED NEW CURBS ON DEFENSE COUNSEL YESTERDAY IN ANOTHER SERIES OF BITTER CLASHES WITH THEM, TOOK OVER THE QUESTIONING OF BOTH MRS.HALL AND CHAKA AT TIMES.

JAMESTOWN, N.Y., AUG.2-(AP)-CHARLES A. DOYLE, FORMER INTERNATIONAL VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE CIO UNITED CHEMICAL WORKERS, WAS CONVICTED TODAY ON A CHARGE OF ENTERING THE UNITED STATES ILLEGALLY.

THE 44-YEAR-OLD NATIVE OF SCOTLAND, WHOSE DEPORTATION AS AN ALIEN WITH ALLEGED COMMUNIST CONNECTIONS HAS BEEN SOUGHT BY THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT FOR MORE THAN A YEAR, WAS CONVICTED ON THE ENTRY CHARGE BY A FEDERAL DISTRICT GRAND JURY AFTER A THREE-HOUR TRIAL.

JUDGE JOHN KNIGHT WILL SENTENCE DOYLE AUG.15. THE MAXIMUM PENALTY IS A YEAR'S IMPRISONMENT OR A $1,000 FINE, OR BOTH. MEANWHILE, DOYLE IS FREE IN $2,000 BAIL.

DOYLE WAS TURNED BACK AT THE CANADIAN BORDER AFTER ATTENDING A LABOR

MEETING AT WINDSOR, ONT., IN JANUARY, 1948. HE APPEARED IN NEW YORK CITY FEB.20, 1948, HOWEVER, AND FACED A DEPORTATION HEARING. THE HEARING WAS ADJOURNED SUBJECT TO RECALL.

MEANWHILE, THE GOVERNMENT CONDUCTED A LENGTHY INVESTIGATION TO LEARN HOW DOYLE HAD RE-ENTERED THE COUNTRY. HE WAS INDICTED IN BUFFALO LAST MARCH ON THE ILLEGAL ENTRY CHARGE AND WAS ARRESTED WHEN SEEN THERE JUNE 28.

DEFENSE COUNSEL SOUGHT ACQUITTAL TODAY ON THE GROUND THE GOVERNMENT STILL HAD NOT SHOWN HOW, WHEN OR WHERE DOYLE RE-ENTERED THE COUNTRY.

WASHINGTON CROTDSTRX YEATS

THREE OF THE ADMINISTRATION'S TOP MEN IN EUROPE RECORDED THEIR SUPPORT OF THE PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM BEFORE THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE, WHICH WENT AHEAD WITH ITS OWN HEARINGS TODAY.

THEY WERE LEWIS DOUGLAS, THE AMBASSADOR TO BRITAIN; HENRY F.GRADY, AMBASSADOR TO GREECE, AND W.AVERELL HARRIMAN, THE MARSHALL PLAN'S ROVING AMBASSADOR.

IN A STATEMENT SENT TO THE HOUSE COMMITTEE, DOUGLAS URGED CONGRESS TO APPROVE FULL MILITARY AID TO WESTERN EUROPE BECAUSE "THIS IS THE LANGUAGE WHICH IS UNDERSTOOD" IN MOSCOW.

HE SAID THE COMMUNISTS IN WESTERN EUROPE HAVE BEEN LOSING GROUND DURING THE PAST 18 MONTHS AND THAT THE RUSSIANS "NOW APPEAR TO BE RECEPTIVE TO AT LEAST MINOR ADJUSTMENTS OF OUR DIFFERENCES."

DOUGLAS EXPRESSED BELIEF, HOWEVER, THAT ANY "SLACKENING OR FALTERING" ON THE PART OF THE UNITED STATES WOULD REVERSE THIS TREND.

HE EMPHASIZED THAT, IF THE UNITED STATES DOES NOT BUILD UP THE WESTERN EUROPEAN ARMIES, NAVIES AND AIR FORCES, IT WILL HAVE TO BUILD DEFENSE FORCES OF ITS OWN CAPABLE OF HOLDING THE WEST.

GRADY APPEARED PERSONALLY TO READ A STATEMENT URGING CONGRESS NOT TO CUT THE MILITARY AID PROPOSED FOR GREECE.

HE DECLARED A POLICY OF "TOO LITTLE AND TOO LATE" WOULD BE THE MOST UNWISE AND UNECONOMIC FROM THE VIEWPOINT OF AMERICAN INTERESTS, AND THE MOST CRUEL TO THE PEOPLE OF GREECE.

"THE PROVISION OF LESS THAN THE MINIMUM AMOUNT OF AID NEEDED TO DO THE JOB WOULD PERPETUATE THE FIGHTING IN GREECE TO NO PURPOSE," THE AMBASSADOR ADDED. "WE SIMPLY CANNOT AFFORD THE POLICY OF THE SHOE-STRING."

GRADY DID NOT SPECIFY THE AMOUNT OF MILITARY ASSISTANCE GREECE SHOULD GET, BUT HE SAID THE BEST ESTIMATE OF THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH IS THAT GREEK NEEDS CAN BE MET WITHIN THE $300,580,000 WHICH THE FOREIGN ARMS BILL PROVIDES FOR COUNTRIES OUTSIDE WESTERN EUROPE, AND WITH HELP--"IN THE EVENT OF SPECIAL CONTINGENCIES"--FROM A PROPOSED $45,000,000 FUND FOR MEETING EMERGENCIES WHEREVER THEY MAY ARISE.

HARRIMAN SAID THE ARMS AID PROGRAM IS NECESSARY TO MAINTAIN THE CONFIDENCE THAT HAS BEGUN TO REPLACE FEAR OF RUSSIA AMONG SOME 200,000,000 EUROPEAN PEOPLE.

FROM MY OWN EXPERIENCE, HE SAID, "I CAN TESTIFY THAT THE WESTERN UNION COUNTRIES HAVE BEEN WORKING FOR OVER A YEAR ON THE DEVELOPMENT OF A UNIFIED PLAN OF MUTUAL DEFENSE. THESE COUNTRIES ARE THE HARD CORE OF EUROPEAN DEFENSE." WASHINGTON XXX OUT.

HE RECALLED THAT AMERICAN MILITARY OFFICERS HAVE SAT AS OBSERVERS IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THESE PLANS. IN ADDITION, HE SAID, WORK HAS ALREADY BEEN DONE BY THE EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTS THEMSELVES IN DETERMINING WHAT WEAPONS AND EQUIPMENT ARE NEEDED.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS HAVE BEEN ASKING SPECIFICALLY WHETHER THERE IS AN IRONCLAD AGREEMENT THAT NATIONS RECEIVING AMERICAN ARMS WILL USE THEM AS A TEAM IF ACTION BECOMES NECESSARY.

REP.MANSFIELD (D-MONT) TOLD NEWSMEN HE STILL ISN'T CONVINCED THAT A PLAN OF COORDINATED ACTION HAS BEEN WORKED OUT AND WILL BE EFFECTIVE.

LIKE OTHER DEMOCRATS ON THE COMMITTEE, HOWEVER, HE SAID IT MAY BE NECESSARY TO TAKE THE PROGRAM ON FAITH UPON THE ASSURANCES OF SUCH MEN AS SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON, SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON AND FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE MARSHALL THAT THE PROGRAM IS A "MUST."

"I THINK THE ANSWERS TO OUR QUESTIONS ON THE SUBJECT OF UNIFIED ACTION WILL BE GIVEN BEFORE THE HEARINGS ARE ENDED," SAID REP.GORDON (D-ILL).

GORDON JOINED CHAIRMAN KEE (D-WVA) IN PREDICTING THAT THE COMMITTEE WILL APPROVE THE BILL EVENTUALLY IN SUBSTANTIALLY THE FORM REQUESTED BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN.

REPUBLICANS STILL INSISTED THAT SOMETHING DEFINITE IN THE LINE OF ASSURANCES OF COORDINATED ACTION BE PROVIDED. UNLESS IT IS, THEY SAID, THEY WON'T BE INCLINED TO FAVOR THE PROGRAM BUT WILL VOTE FOR AN INTERIM SETUP OF ABOUT HALF THE AMOUNT REQUESTED.

MILITARY HEADS OF THE ARMY, THE NAVY AND THE AIR FORCE NOW ARE IN EUROPE CONFERRING WITH LEADERS OF SOME OF THE NATIONS LISTED FOR AID UNDER THE PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM. THEY ARE SCHEDULED TO TESTIFY WHEN THEY RETURN NEXT WEEK.

MARSHALL EASED SOME OF THE FEARS OF COMMITTEE MEMBERS YESTERDAY WHEN HE SAID HE FELT CERTAIN THAT CONCLUSIONS ON THE SUBJECT OF UNIFIED ACTION HAVE BEEN REACHED.

THE EX-SECRETARY OF STATE AND WARTIME ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF WHOLEHEARTEDLY ENDORSED THE ARMS-AID PROGRAM IN AN OFF-THE-CUFF DISCUSSION WITH THE COMMITTEE YESTERDAY.

WHILE REFUSAL TO APPROVE IT, HE SAID, MIGHT BE A MINOR ECONOMY NOW, IT COULD RESULT IN THE EXPENDITURE OF UNTOLD BILLIONS LATER.

BACK IN 1939, MARSHALL RECALLED, CONGRESS WAS RELUCTANT TO PROVIDE FUNDS TO MEET THE REQUESTS OF THE ARMED SERVICES. HAD THE REQUESTS BEEN MET, HE SAID, BILLIONS OF DOLLARS AND THOUSANDS OF LIVES COULD HAVE BEEN SAVED THROUGH THE WHITTLING OF AT LEAST SIX MONTHS FROM THE LENGTH OF WORLD WAR II.

HE EMPHASIZED THAT HE DIDN'T BLAME CONGRESS OR THE ADMINISTRATION FOR THAT STATE OF AFFAIRS BUT RATHER PUBLIC SENTIMENT FANNED BY A VOCAL MINORITY.

SO FAR THE COMMITTEE HAS HEARD NO OPPOSITION TO THE PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM, BUT COMMITTEE SOURCES SAID SEVERAL PERSONS HAVE REQUESTED AN OPPORTUNITY TO TESTIFY IN OPPOSITION. THE COMMITTEE WANTS TO FINISH HEARINGS AND START WRITING A BILL IN TIME FOR HOUSE ACTION AROUND THE MIDDLE OF THIS MONTH.

SAID ACHESON: WASHINGTON XXX FACT

"ITALY IS LEFT QUITE FREE BY THE PROVISIONS OF THE PEACE TREATY TO JOIN WITH OTHER STATES IN A COLLECTIVE DEFENSE ARRANGEMENT."

AND HE CONCLUDED:

"IN VIEW OF THE FOREGOING CONSIDERATIONS THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT MUST REJECT AS UTTERLY WITHOUT FOUNDATION THE CHARGES CONTAINED IN THE SOVIET NOTE."

THE BRITISH AND FRENCH FOREIGN OFFICES ALSO ANNOUNCED REJECTION OF THE SOVIET NOTE.

(430) FOREIGN AID-APPROPRIATIONS

BY DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON,AUG.2-(AP)-SENATE LEADERS TRIED HARD TODAY TO BREAK LOOSE THE $30,000,000,000 PILE-UP OF MONEY BILLS.

SENATOR LUCAS (D-ILL), THE DEMOCRATIC LEADER, SAID HE WOULD MOVE TO GET THE $5,647,724,000(B) FOREIGN AID MEASURE BACK TO THE FLOOR SOMETIME DURING THE DAY.

THIS IS A KEY LOG IN THE JAM BUT EVEN IF RELEASED IT MAY GET TIED UP A SECOND TIME IN A CONFUSED PARLIAMENTARY TANGLE.

THE SENATE ORDERED THE BILL RETURNED TO THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE LAST WEEK ON THE GROUNDS THAT FIVE DISPUTED AMENDMENTS CONTAINED POLICY-MAKING LEGISLATION--WHICH AMENDMENTS TO APPROPRIATION BILLS AREN'T SUPPOSED TO DO.

THE COMMITTEE PUT TOGETHER A REVISED BILL WITH ABOUT THE SAME MONEY CONTENT--BUT IT KEPT THREE OF THE AMENDMENTS IN THE BILL IN RE-WRITEN FORM.

LUCAS TOLD A REPORTER HE WILL RAISE A POINT OF ORDER (A CHALLENGE) AGAINST THESE AMENDMENTS IN AN EFFORT TO HAVE THEM THROWN OUT.

BUT SENATOR MCCLELLAN (D-ARK) SAID IF LUCAS MAKES A POINT OF ORDER, THEN HE (MCCLELLAN) MAY FIGHT TO HAVE THE BILL SENT BACK TO THE COMMITTEE AGAIN.

LUCAS IS CENTERING HIS ATTACK ON TWO MAJOR AMENDMENTS: ONE WOULD REQUIRE THE ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION AND THE ARMY TO EARMARK ABOUT $1,800,000,000(B) FOR BUYING SURPLUS AMERICAN FARM COMMODITIES. IT WAS DRAFTED BY MCCLELLAN. THE SECOND WOULD FREEZE $50,000,000(M) OF ECA FUNDS FOR LOANS TO SPAIN.

"THEY RE-WROTE THESE TWO RIDERS," LUCAS SAID, "BUT THEY STILL ARE LEGISLATION. ALL THEY DID WAS TRY TO BRING THEM IN THE BACK DOOR."

WHEN LUCAS RAISES A POINT OF ORDER--VICE PRESIDENT BARKLEY WILL BE REQUIRED TO RULE WHETHER OR NOT THE RIDERS CONTAIN NEW LEGISLATION.

WHATEVER HIS RULING, SENATORS SAID AN APPEAL IS ALMOST CERTAIN. AND THIS COULD PLUNGE THE FOREIGN AID PROGRAM INTO DEEPER CONFUSION.

MCCLELLAN DENIES HE IS TRYING TO FORCE THE DUMPING OF SURPLUS FARM PRODUCTS ON THE EUROPEAN MARKET. ECA CHIEF PAUL HOFFMAN SAYS SUCH A RESTRICTION WOULD JUST ABOUT WRECK THE RECOVERY EFFORT AND AT THE SAME TIME GIVE COMMUNISTS GROUNDS FOR THE CHARGE THAT AMERICA WANTS TO DUMP ITS SURPLUSES ON EUROPE.

LUCAS SAID HE WILL ASK THAT THE $7,600,000,000(B) INDEPENDENT OFFICES MONEY BILL BE SET ASIDE FOR THE FOREIGN AID BILL.

THE SENATE IS MOVING SLOWLY THROUGH THE INDEPENDENT OFFICES BILL WITH AN ECONOMY BLOC TRYING TO PARE DOWN ALMOST EVERY ITEM.

THE LATEST SCRAP WAS OVER THE MARITIME SCHOOLS FOR TRAINING MERCHANT SEAMEN AND OFFICERS.

THE HOUSE VOTED $6,586,000(M) FOR THE SCHOOLS BUT THE SENATE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE TRIMMED THIS TO $3,151,000(M) ON THE GROUNDS THE MERCHANT MARINE NEEDS NO MORE SEAMEN AND OFFICERS.

A MAJORITY IN THE SENATE DISAGREED. THEY PUT THE BILL BACK AT $6,586,000.

THE SCHOOLS ARE LOCATED AT KINGS POINT, N.Y., SHEEPSHEAD BAY, N.Y., PASS CHRISTIAN, MISS., ST.PETERSBURG, FLA., ALAMEDA, CALIF., AND THE U.S.MARITIME SERVICE INSTITUTE.

ES338AED

WASHINGTON,AUG.2-(AP)-SENATOR YOUNG (R-ND) SAID TODAY THERE IS GRAVE DANGER THAT APPROVAL OF THE ADMINISTRATION'S $1,450,000,000 (B) FOREIGN ARMS PROPOSAL MIGHT PROVOKE AGGRESSIVE ACTION BY RUSSIA.

THE NORTH DAKOTAN SAID HE IS OPPOSED TO THE PROGRAM AND ADDED "IF CONGRESS APPROVES ANY SUM AT ALL IT WILL BE FOR A FAR SMALLER AMOUNT."

YOUNG, A SUPPORTER OF THE MARSHALL PLAN AND OTHER FOREIGN AID PROGRAMS, VOTED AGAINST THE ATLANTIC TREATY WHEN IT WAS RECENTLY APPROVED 82 TO 13 BY THE SENATE.

"MY VOTE AGAINST THE PACT WAS DIRECTLY DUE TO THE FACT THAT THE ARMS PROGRAM BECAME TIED RIGHT IN WITH IT," YOUNG TOLD A REPORTER.

"IF THE ARMS PROPOSAL HAD NOT BEEN IN THE PICTURE, I WOULD HAVE VOTED FOR THE ATLANTIC PACT."

HE ALSO SAID:

"IF THERE WAS FAIR ASSURANCE THAT THE $1,450,000,000 ASKED BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN WOULD ACTUALLY ACT AS A PHYSICAL BAR TO RUSSIA IN THE EVENT SHE EVER DECIDED TO MOVE AGAINST WESTERN EUROPE, THEN I WOULD LOOK AT IT IN AN ENTIRELY DIFFERENT MANNER.

"IN MY OPINION, HOWEVER, IT WOULD NOT DO THIS AND ZOULD MEAN MERELY THAT MUCH MORE OF A DRAIN ON THIS COUNTRY.

"EVEN A FIVE OR TEN BILLION DOLLAR ARMS PROGRAM WOULD NOT PUT THE PACT NATIONS ON AN EQUAL FOOTING WITH SOVIET RUSSIA WHICH HAS BEEN ARMING ITSELF SINCE THE END OF THE WAR.

"I HAD ORIGINALLY INTENDED TO VOTE FOR THE ATLANTIC TREATY. BUT WHEN IT BECAME PLAIN THAT THE TREATY ACTUALLY COMMITTED US TO THE ARMS PROGRAM, THEN I DECIDED I COULD NOT SUPPORT IT."

YOUNG SAID THIS COUNTRY "SHOULD USE EVERY EFFORT TO REACH AGREEMENT WITH RUSSIA "ON DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE TWO.

"IN ANY CASE," YOUNG SAID, "WE CAN AT LEAST WAIT UNTIL THE NEXT SESSION OF CONGRESS BEFORE DECIDING ON AN ARMS PROGRAM FOR WESTERN EUROPE."

(350) WASHINGTON,AUG 2-(AP)-THE ARMY GAVE A CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH TODAY TO SAM L.WAHRHAFTIG, WHO WAS FIRED AS A POLITICAL ANALYST FOR THE AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT IN GERMANY EARLIER THIS YEAR AFTER CHARGES OF DISLOYALTY HAD BEEN MADE AGAINST HIM.

THE NATIONAL MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT ANNOUNCED THAT THE ARMY SECURITY REVIEW BOARD WHICH INVESTIGATED THE CHARGES RECOMMENDED UNANIMOUSLY THAT THE 33-YEAR-OLD POLISH-BORN AMERICAN BE REINSTATED.

DETAILS OF THE CHARGES WERE NOT MADE PUBLIC.

GORDON GRAY, SECRETARY OF THE ARMY, CONCURRED IN THE BOARD'S RECOMMENDATION. THE MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT SAID THIS MEANS THAT WAHRHAFTIG, WHOSE HOME IS IN BROOKLYN,N.Y. (1527 LINCOLN PLACE), WILL BE REINSTATED TO HIS OLD POSITION IN GERMANY, OR TO A SIMILAR ONE, IF SUCH JOBS STILL EXIST. IF THE RAPIDLY CHANGING SITUATION OF THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT IN GERMANY LEAVES NO SUITABLE PLACE FOR HIM, THE ANNOUNCEMENT ADDED, HE WILL STILL BE REINSTATED FOR THE PURPOSE OF BEING REIMBURSED FOR THE SALARY LOST SINCE HIS SUSPENSION LAST JANUARY AND HIS DISMISSAL IN MARCH.

MILITARY GOVERNMENT IN GERMANY WILL DEAL DIRECTLY WITH WAHRHAFTIG IN CARRYING OUT THE DECISION.

FOLLOWING ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE RULING, WAHRHAFTIG ISSUED A STATEMENT TO THE PRESS AND RADIO EXPRESSING GRATIFICATION AND SAYING HE EXPECTS TO RETURN TO HIS JOB. HE PROMISED TO DO EVERYTHING HE CAN WITHIN THE SCOPE OF HIS DUTIES "TO SERVE THE INTERESTS OF MY COUNTRY IN THE TROUBLESOME SITUATION IN GERMANY."

"NO ONE CAN FEEL MORE DEEPLY THAN I A COMPLETE SENSE OF LOYALTY AND DEDICATION TO THIS COUNTRY AND TO ITS DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS," HE

SAID. "I HAVE NEVER IN THE SLIGHTEST DEVIATED FROM THIS BELIEF OR FROM ITS PRACTICE."

WAHRHAFTIG SAID THE LAW FIRM OF ARNOLD, FORTAS AND PORTER REPRESENTED HIM IN THE CASE WITHOUT COST, BUT THT RESISTANCE TO THE CHARGES NEVERTHELESS CAUSED HIM TO SPEND THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS, INCLUDING THE EXPENSE OF A TRIP TO GERMANY TO SECURE EVIDENCE.

THE CHARGES MEANT MUCH SUFFERING AND SADNESS FOR HIMSELF, HIS FAMILY AND FRIENDS, HE SAID, AND HE HOPES ONE RESULT WILL BE TO BRING HOME TO GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES "THE URGENT NECESSITY OF AVOIDING CARELESS AND RECKLESS CHARGES AGAINST ANY EMPLOYEE'S LOYALTY."

(400) WASHINGTON,AUG. 2-(AP)-ARMY OFFICIALS HAVE REJECTED A POINTED PROTEST BY SEVEN REPUBLICAN SENATORS AGAINST A BARTER DEAL FOR ABOUT 7,000,000 BUSHELS OF RYE FROM POLAND, A SATELLITE OF COMMUNIST RUSSIA.

THE POLISH RYE WOULD BE OBTAINED FROM ENGLAND IN A SWAP FOR AN EQUAL AMOUNT OF UNITED STATES CORN.

IF OBTAINED, THE RYE WOULD BE USED FOR BREAD GRAIN IN OCCUPIED GERMANY.

TRACY S.VOORHEES, ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE ARMY, INFORMED THE ANGRY SENATORS--ALL FROM RYE PRODUCING STATES--THAT PRELIMINARY DISCUSSIONS ARE BEING HELD ABROAD ABOUT TRADING U.S. CORN FOR POLISH RYE BUT THAT NO AGREEMENT WILL BE MADE WITHOUT APPROVAL FROM WASHINGTON.

THE ARMY DEPARTMENT MEMORANDUM DENIED THAT THE UNUSUAL BARTER DEAL WOULD "DEPRIVE THE AMERICAN FARMERS OF A MARKET FOR RYE" OR THAT IT WOULD TURN OVER PART OF THE POSSIBLE MARKET FOR U.S. GRAINS TO A RUSSIAN SATELLITE NATION.

TWO OF THE PROTESTING SENATORS--YOUNG (R-ND) AND MCCARTHY (R-WIS)--TOLD A REPORTER THAT THE ARMY REPLY INDICATES THAT SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE BRANNAN IS FORCING THE ARMY INTO THE BARTER DEAL. THE AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT DOES THE BUYING FOR THE ARMY AND SENATORS SAID BRANNAN REFUSES TO PAY HIGH ENOUGH PRICES TO OBTAIN THE SURPLUS RYE IN THIS COUNTRY.

"IT SEEMS INCREDIBLE THAT SECRETARY BRANNAN CAN'T MAKE RYE AVAILABLE TO THE ARMY WHEN WE HAVE A SURPLUS HERE THAT IS DEPRESSING PRICES BELOW GOVERNMENT SUPPORT LEVELS," YOUNG SAID.

MCCARTHY SAID "EVERY BUSHEL OF RYE SOLD BY THE RUSSIAN-DOMINATED AREA IS COSTING FARMERS AND TAXPAYERS A LOSS IN THIS COUNTRY."

MCCARTHY SAID BRANNAN HAD BEEN SUPPORTING RYE IN THIS COUNTRY AT "ABOUT $1.20 A BUSHEL OR 72 PER CENT OF PARITY AND FARMERS CAN'T AFFORD TO SELL IT AT THAT LEVEL."

THE REPUBLICANS PROTESTED IN A LETTER TO SECRETARY OF ARMY GRAY ON JUNE 27 BUT IT WAS NOT MADE PUBLIC UNTIL TODAY. IN ADDITION TO YOUNG AND MCCARTHY THE LETTER CARRIED THE NAMES OF SENATORS WHERRY (R-NEB), THYE (R-MINN), MUNDT (R-SD) AND LANGER (R-ND).

VOORHEES IN HIS REPLY DATED AUGUST 1 SAID THE ARMY HAD ASKED FOR PURCHASE OF 120,000 TONS OF RYE IN THIS COUNTRY BUT WAS NOTIFIED BY THE AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT THAT "ONLY ABOUT 27,000 TONS COULD BE PROCURED" AT PRICES FIXED BY THE AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT.

IT ADDED THAT THE "BRITISH HAD SUGGESTED INFORMALLY" THE TRADE O: POLISH RYE FOR U.S. CORN. THE ARMY NOTED THAT RYE IS A BREAD GRAIN COMMONLY USED IN GERMANY AND SAID THAT THE SAME TONNAGE OF RYE WOUL' PRODUCE ABOUT 22 PER CENT MORE ACTUAL FLOUR THAN THE SAME TONNAGE O: CORN.

VOORHEES TOLD THE SENATORS THAT BEFORE ANY SWAP OF CORN FOR RYE IS ARRANGED, "WE WILL MAKE SURE THAT T ; WILL NOT OCCASION ANY OF THE DELETERIOUS EFFECTS UPON THE AMERICAN FARMER ENVISAGED BY YOUR LETTERS."

CONGRESSIONAL APPROVAL OF THE MEASURE WAS HAILED AS A SIGNIFICANT FORWARD STEP FOR THE UNITED STATES AND "BAD NEWS IN MOSCOW" IN A STATEMENT ISSUED BY ROBERT L.JOHNSON, CHAIRMAN OF THE CITIZENS COMMITTEE FOR THE HOOVER REPORT.

HE SAID IT PAVES THE WAY FOR SAVINGS OF AT LEAST A BILLION DOLLARS A YEAR, MAYBE MORE, AND DEMONSTRATES THAT AMERICANS CAN BE "TOUGH-MINDED, UNITED AND STRONG IN A COLD WAR."

"WE CAN NOW COUNT OUR MILITARY PENNIES AND KEEP OUR POWDER DRY IN THE BEST NATIONAL TRADITION," JOHNSON SAID.

WASHINGTON,AUG.2-(AP)-DEFENSE SECRETARY JOHNSON TODAY DIRECTED THAT ALL MILITARY SA TRANSPORT BE CONSOLIDATED UNDER NAVY CONTROL AND THAT THE ARMY BEGIN TURNING OVER ITS OCEAN-GOING VESSELS OCT.1 TO THE NEW AGENCY.

THIS NEW AGENCY, THE MILITARY SEA TRANSPORT SERVICE (MSTS), IS TO BE COMMANDED BY A FLAG OFFICER APPOINTED BY THE CHIEF OF NAVAL OPERATIONS WITH APPROVAL OF THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

THE MSTS IS SIMILAR IN OBJECTIVES TO THE MILITARY AIR TRANSPORT SERVICES SET UP MORE THAN A YEAR AGO UNDER CONTROL OF THE AIR FORCE BUT SERVING THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE. A PLAN IS UNDER WAY TO GIVE THE ARMY RESPONSIBILITY FOR ALL MILITARY TRANSPORTATION ON LAND.

ASSIGNMENT OF SEA TRANSPORTATION TO THE NAVY AND LAND TRANSPORTATION TO THE ARMY WAS RECOMMENDED LAST DECEMBER IN A REPORT TO THE LATE DEFENSE SECRETARY FORRESTAL. HE APPROVED IT AND ASKED THAT A PLAN OF PROCEDURE BE WORKED OUT.

UNDER THIS PLAN, NOW ENDORSED BY JOHNSON, THE MSTS INITIALLY WILL OPERATE 223 PERSONNEL TRANSPORTS, CARGO VESSELS AND TANKERS. PART OF THESE WILL COME FROM THE NAVY'S TRANSPORTATION SERVICE AND PART FROM THE ARMY'S.

THE VESSELS ASSIGNED FROM THE NAVY TO MSTS INCLUDED NINE PERSONNEL TRANSPORTS, 12 CARGO VESSELS AND 73 TANKERS--A TOTAL OF 94.

NOW UNDER ARMY OWNERSHIP AND TO BE TRANSFERRED TO MSTS ARE 129 OCEAN-GOING VESSELS, INCLUDING 66 PASSENGER TRANSPORTS, 58 CARGO TRANSPORTS AND FIVE TANKERS.

THE ARMY ALSO HAS NOW UNDER CHARTER 191 VESSELS ON WHICH MSTS CAN RENEW THE CHARTERS IF THEY ARE NEEDED.

MARAGON WAS SAID TO HAVE GIVEN A SENATOR, NOT A MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE, A STORY OF PRIORITIES TRANSACTIONS INVOLVING CERTAIN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS WHOSE RELATIVES ALLEGEDLY RECEIVED FAVORS FROM THE BUSINESS FIRMS INVOLVED. WASHINGTON - 5 - REPORTERS XXX MARAGON, COMMITTEE MEMBERS SAID THE INFORMATION, TRANSMITTED IMMEDIATELY TO THE INVESTIGATING STAFF, PROBABLY WILL REQUIRE EXTENSIVE CHECKING.

THEY ADDED THIS MIGHT PROVIDE A NEW SLANT FOR THEIR INQUIRY INTO THE ACTIVITIES OF PERSONS WHO CHARGE BUSINESSMEN A 5 PER CENT FEE FOR USING CLAIMED INFLUENCE IN HELPING GET GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS. THE PRACTICE ISN'T ILLEGAL, BUT THE COMMITTEE IS INTERESTED IN THE QUESTION OF INFLUENCE ON PUBLIC OFFICIALS.

MEANWHILE, SENATOR MUNDT (R-SD) TOLD A REPORTER THE COMMITTEE EXPECTS TO CHECK THOROUGHLY ON BANK ACCOUNTS SAID TO HAVE BEEN MAINTAINED BY MARAGON. THE LATTER HAS DENIED HE EVER ACTED AS A FIVE PERCENTER.

MARAGON ALREADY HAS BEEN QUESTIONED IN CLOSED COMMITTEE SESSIONS ABOUT HIS INCOME TAX RETURNS. MUNDT SAID THAT IF BANK RECORDS SHOW WHAT THE COMMITTEE BELIEVES TO BE DISCREPANCIES BETWEEN MARAGON'S REPORTED INCOME AND THE AMOUNT OF MONEY ON DEPOSIT UNDER HIS NAME, THE INFORMATION WILL BE TURNED OVER TO THE INTERNAL REVENUE BUREAU FOR FURTHER INVESTIGATION.

MARAGON TOLD REPORTERS YESTERDAY THAT HE MAINTAINED AN ACCOUNT IN A SAN ANTONIO, TEX., BANK UNTIL ABOUT THREE YEARS AGO. HE REFUSED TO SAY WHAT BALANCE WAS INVOLVED.

MUNDT SAID THIS ACCOUNT HAD BEEN UNDER INVESTIGATION BY THE COMMITTEE BECAUSE MEMBERS WONDERED WHY MARAGON, WHOSE BUSINESS INTERESTS SEEMED TO BE CENTERED IN WASHINGTON AND THE EASTERN SEABOARD SHOULD HAVE HAD AN ACCOUNT IN TEXAS.

MARAGON IMPLIED THAT WHATEVER DEPOSITS WERE SHOWN, THE MONEY WAS NOT NECESSARILY HIS.

"YOU CAN BE IN BUSINESS AND MAKE TRANSACTIONS AND THE DEPOSIT LEDGER WILL SHOW BIG AMOUNTS, BUT THE QUESTION IS HOW MUCH OF IT IS YOURS," HE SAID.

MARAGON TOOK OCCASION TO DENY THAT HE HAD OBTAINED A JOB ON A 1946 MISSION TO GREECE THROUGH EFFORTS OF MAJ.GEN.HARRY VAUGHAN, PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S MILITARY AIDE. HE ADDED THAT HE HADN'T BEEN FIRED FROM THE MISSION AT MR.TRUMAN'S INSISTENCE, AS FAR AS HE, MARAGON, KNEW.

MARAGON SAID HE HAD SEEN U.S. AMBASSADOR HENRY F. GRADY QUOTED AS SAYING HE WAS GETTING READY TO DISCHARGE MARAGON WHEN ORDERS CAME FOR HIS RETURN TO WASHINGTON.

"I AM GOING TO SUGGEST TO THE SENATE COMMITTEE," SAID MARAGON, "THAT SINCE GRADY FOUND AN OPPORTUNE TIME TO ATTACK ME, THAT THE COMMITTEE THROW ITS SPOTLIGHT ON MR.GRADY'S AND GEORGE KILLION'S ACTIVITIES IN TAKING OVER THE DOLLAR STEAMSHIP LINE AND ON THE PRIVATE ACTIVITIES OF GRADY AS AMBASSADOR TO GREECE."

GRADY, NOW IN WASHINGTON, TOLD REPORTERS HE HAD "NO IDEA WHAT MARAGON WAS DRIVING AT."

IN SAN FRANCISCO, KILLION, FORMER DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL TREASURER, SAID IN A STATEMENT:

"I SUCCEEDED HENRY F.GRADY AS PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN PRESIDENT LINES AUGUST 12, 1947 UNDER PROVISIONS ESTABLISHED IN THE MERCHANT MARINE ACT OF 1936. THE RECORDS CONCERNING MY ELECTION ARE ON FILE WITH THE UNITED STATES MARITIME COMMISSION IN WASHINGTON, AND ARE AVAILABLE TO THE SENATE COMMITTEE AT ALL TIMES."

WASHINGTON,AUG.2-(AP)-MILITARY MAIL-ORDER BUSINESS WILL BE ABANDONED AT ONCE, AND COMMISSARIES WILL BE CLOSED IN METROPOLITAN AREAS BY THE END OF THIS YEAR, THE HOUSE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE WAS ADVISED TODAY.

REP.PHILBIN (D-MASS), CHAIRMAN OF A SUBCOMMITTEE ASSIGNED TO INVESTIGATE RETAIL ACTIVITIES BY THE MILITARY FORCES, REPORTED THAT THE SERVICES HAVE AGREED TO FOLLOW RECOMMENDATIONS MADE BY HIS GROUP.

THE AGREEMENT WAS REACHED, HE SAID, AFTER THE SUBCOMMITTEE THREATENED LEGISLATIVE ACTION.

PHILBIN SAID THE SERVICES OPERATED 215 COMMISSARIES--GROCERY STORES --DURING 1948. AND DID A GROSS BUSINESS OF $79,670,000 IN THE UNITED STATES. THEY RAN 374 POST EXCHANGES AND SHIPS' SERVICES STORES, WITH A GROSS BUSINESS OF $291,386,000 AND A NET PROFIT OF $19,455,000.

AN INVESTIGATION WAS ORDERED BY THE COMMITTEE AFTER CIVILIAN RETAILERS COMPLAINED OF UNFAIR COMPETITION. THE SERVICES DO NOT PAY FEDERAL OR LOCAL TAXES, AND MANY OF THEIR OPERATING COSTS, SUCH AS RENT AND UTILITIES ARE PAID BY THE GOVERNMENT.

"THERE CAN BE NO QUESTION THAT THE ARMED FORCES ARE ACTIVELY COMPETING WITH ESTABLISHED PRIVATE BUSINESS," PHILBIN SAID. "IT IS INEVITABLE THAT THESE STORES CAN SELL MERCHANDISE AT A MUCH LOWER PRICE THAN MERCHANTS IN THE SAME VICINITY."

AS A RESULT OF THE SUBCOMMITTEE'S WORK, PHILBIN SAID, THE FOLLOWING MAJOR CHANGES IN POLICY HAVE BEEN AGREED TO BY THE SERVICES:

1. THEY BEGAN THIS MONTH COLLECTING THE FEDERAL EXCISE TAX ON LUXURIES.

2. COST LIMITS HAVE BEEN SET ON ITEMS SOLD OVER THE COUNTER SO AS TO EXCLUDE EXPENSIVE GOODS SUCH AS JEWELRY, SILVER TABLEWARE, AND CLOTHING.

3. SPECIAL ORDERS--ORDERS BY MAIL THROUGH POST EXCHANGES AND SHIPS'

SERVICE STORES--WILL BE DISCONTINUED AT ONCE. THE ARMY AND AIR FORCE HAVE LIMITS OF $300 PER PURCHASE ON THESE ORDERS, BUT THE NAVY SETS NO LIMIT.

4. THE SERVICES WILL INSTITUTE NEW SYSTEMS FOR MAKING SURE THA UNAUTHORIZED PURCHASERS DO NOT TRADE AT SERVICE STORES, AND DO NOT BUY GOODS FOR GIFT OR RESALE TO UNAUTHORIZED PERSONS.

5. ON JANUARY 1,1950, ALL STORES WILL BECOME EXCHANGES. THE DIFFERENCES IN NAMES BETWEEN THE VARIOUS SERVICES WILL BE DROPPED.

6. COMMISSARIES IN METROPOLITAN AREAS WILL BE CLOSED BY THE END OF THIS YEAR. EACH SERVICE WILL DETERMINE FOR ITSELF WHICH ONES WILL BE CLOSED.

7. ALL RETIRED PERSONNEL, AND WIDOWS, WILL BE ALLOWED TO TRADE AT EXCHANGES AND COMMISSARIES. THE NAVY AND MARINE CORPS EXTEND THIS PRIVILEGE NOW, BUT THE ARMY AND AIR FORCE DO NOT.

NIGHT LEAD TOKYO ROSE
BY KATHERINE PINKHAM

SAN FRANCISCO,AUG.2-(AP)-A FORMER NAVY PETTY OFFICER TESTIFIED TODAY THAT TOKYO ROSE IN WARTIME URGED U.S. SERVICEMEN:

"WAKE UP, YOU BONEHEADS. WHY DON'T YOU SEE YOUR COMMANDING OFFICER AND DEMAND TO BE SENT HOME? YOU DON'T WANT TO STAY OUT IN THIS STINKING, MOSQUITO-INFESTED JUNGLE ANY LONGER AND LET SOMEONE ELSE RUN OFF WITH YOUR GIRL FRIENDS." THAT WAS IN MID-FEBRUARY, 1944.

"IF YOU BONEHEADS WANT TO GO HOME, YOU BETTER GO PRETTY SOON. OR HAVEN'T YOU HEARD YOUR FLEET IS PRACTICALLY SUNK?" THAT WAS LATE IN FEBRUARY, 1944:

THE WITNESS WAS MARSHALL HOOT, 49, ALHAMBRA,CALIF., MEAT DEALER AND WARTIME CHIEF BOATSWAIN'S MATE.

THE GOVERNMENT, TRYING IVA TOGURI D'AQUINO, 33, ON EIGHT CHARGES OF TREASON, SAID SHE MADE THE BROADCASTS OVER RADIO TOKYO WITH INTENT TO WEAKEN AMERICAN FIGHTING MEN'S MORALE.

HOOT AND JULES I. SUTTER,JR., OF BURBANK,CALIF., WERE TWO OF THE STAUNCHEST WITNESSES YET TO TESTIFY AGAINST THE DEFENDANT. THEY TOLD OF SEVERAL BROADCAST ITEMS NOT CONTAINED IN RECORDINGS MONITORED BY THE GOVERNMENT. THEY STUCK TO THEIR TESTIMONY DURING A VIGOROUS GOING-OVER ON CROSS EXAMINATION.

SUTTER WAS A SIGNAL CORPS LIEUTENANT ON SAIPAN IN 1944 AND 1945. HOOT WAS ON SAIPAN OR ABOARD SHIP IN THE GILBERT ISLANDS VICINITY FROM DECEMBER, 1943 TO AUGUST, 1944.

SUTTER TESTIFIED THAT HE HEARD THIS BROADCAST ABOUT SEPTEMBER 4, 1944:

"THE ISLANDS OF SAIPAN IS MINED WITH HIGH EXPLOSIVES. YOU'LL HAVE 48 HOURS TO CLEAR THE ISLAND. IF YOU DON'T DO IT, YOU'LL BE BLOWN SKY HIGH."

IN THE SPRING OF 1945, HE QUOTED HER: "IT'S FUTILE TO FIGHT THE JAPANESE. YOU'LL ONLY LOSE YOUR LIFE. THE JAPANESE HAVE THE WILL TO WIN. THEY NEVER GIVE UP."

BESIDES THESE, HE TESTIFIED AS OTHERS HAVE ALREADY DONE ABOUT THE NUMEROUS REFERENCES TO FORGETFUL SWEETHEARTS AND WIVES, BIG STEAKS, SODAS AND BEER.

HOOT WOULD NOT BE SHAKEN ON HIS IDENTIFICATION OF THE ANNOUNCER'S VOICE. "THE VOICE ON THOSE RECORDS IS THE VOICE OF THE WOMAN I HEARD IN THE PACIFIC," HE ASSERTED.

SAN FRANCISCO,AUG 2 (AP)-A FEDERAL JURY HEARD TRANSCRIPTIONS OF TOKYO ROSE WARTIME BROADCASTS TODAY AS THE GOVERNMENT CONTINUED ITS PROSECUTION OF MRS.IVA TOGURI D'AQUINO ON TREASON CHARGES.

THE RECORDS WERE PLAYED TO SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT'S CONTENTION THAT THE 33-YEAR-OLD LOS ANGELES BORN "TOKYO ROSE" USED THIS PROPAGANDA MEDIUM IN AN EFFORT TO UNDERMINE THE MORALE OF U.S.FIGHTING MEN.

AFTER THE RECORDS WERE PLAYED, THE PROSECUTION CALLED JULES I. SUTTER JR., OF BURBANK, A SIGNAL CORPS LIEUTENANT ON SAIPAN IN 1944 AND 1945. HE SAID THE VOICE WAS THE ONE HE KNEW WELL ON RADIO TOKYO'S "ERO HOUR" PROGRAM. HE RECALLED SEVERAL BROADCAST ITEMS THAT THE RECORDINGS DIDN'T CONTAIN.

IN THE EARLY SPRING OF 1945, HE SAID, THE SOLDIERS HEARD:

"WONDER WHO YOUR WIVES AND GIRL FRIENDS ARE OUT WITH TONIGHT? MAYBE A 4-F, OR SOMEBODY FROM A WARPLANT, MAKING A LOT OF MONEY, WHILE YOU ARE OUT FIGHTING, KNOWING YOU CAN'T SUCCEED."

"IT'S FUTILE TO FIGHT THE JAPANESE. YOU'LL ONLY LOSE YOUR LIFE. THE JAPANESE HAVE THE WILL TO WIN. THEY NEVER GIVE UP."

ABOUT SEPT. 4, 1944:

"THE ISLAND OF SAIPAN IS MINED WITH HIGH EXPLOSIVES. YOU'LL HAVE 48 HOURS TO CLEAR THE ISLAND. IF YOU DON'T DO IT, YOU'LL BE BLOWN SKY HIGH."

IN MARCH OR APRIL, 1945:

"HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE SITTING DOWN TO A NICE, BIG THICK STEAK, WITH ALL THE TRIMINGS?"

SUTTER RECALLED, IN THAT CONNECTION, THAT THE ONLY MEAT THEY HAD HAD FOR A LONG TIME WAS "STRONG NEW ZEALAND MUTTON."

IN THE LATE SPRING, 1945, HE SAID, THEY HEARD THIS TOKYO ROSE BROADCAST: "I'LL HAVE TO BE GOING NOW. I'M GOING TO GET MY LOVING TONIGHT. HOW ABOUT YOU?"

THIS WAS THE SECOND DAY OF RECORD-PLAYING.

BUT ONLY JUDGE MICHAEL J. ROCHE, THE JURY, THE ATTORNEYS AND REPORTERS WERE FURNISHED EARPHONES TO HEAR THE RECORDINGS YESTERDAY IN MRS. D'AQUINO'S TREASON TRIAL. SO THE "ZERO HOUR" PROGRAM ON PLAYBACK WAS DULL BUSINESS FOR THE SPECTATORS.

DEFENSE ATTORNEYS SEEMED NOT A BIT WORRIED OVER THE CONTEXT OF THE PROGRAMS, AND MOST NEWSMEN EXPRESSED THE OPINION THE SPOKEN FEMININE VOICE CARRIED LESS IMPACT THAN DID THE PRINTED TRANSCRIPT.

THE STUFF WAS FRANKLY LABELED PROPAGANDA BY THE SPEAKER IN ONE SIGNOFF. IT WENT THIS WAY:

"ACCORDING TO UNION HOURS, WE'RE ALL THROUGH TODAY. WE CLOSE UP ANOTHER CHAPTER OF SWEET PROPAGANDA IN THE FORM OF MUSIC FOR YOU, MY

British, American Commanders Speed Plans to Protect Pact Nations

LONDON Aug. 3—(AP)—Plans for defending the Atlantic Pact nations of Western Europe took form today at the first conference of top-level British and American commanders here since the end of the war.

Following a closely guarded, four-hour conference, Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, U. S. chief of naval operations, said the completion of a defense setup under the North Atlantic treaty "might be done before the end of the year."

"I should not think it would take too long," Denfeld said, reporting "considerable progress" by the joint chiefs of staff of the two nations.

Three Hour Session

Denfeld, Gen. Omar Bradley, Army Chief of Staff, and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, U. S. Air Force chief, met formally for three hours, then chatted informally an hour longer with British commanders. They were accompanied by Maj. Gen. A. M. Gruenther, U. S. joint staff secretary.

The four Americans flew here last night after talks in Germany with Italian and Luxembourg military chiefs and U. S. occupation commanders. They will see Danish and Norwegian armed forces leaders here tomorrow, then proceed to Paris for talks with the French, Belgians, Dutch and Portuguese.

The Americans and the Danish and Norwegian staff chiefs were received by King George VI at Buckingham palace tonight for what a palace source called a "friendly, informal talk."

Details of today's discussions at the British cabinet offices in Whitehall were not disclosed.

It was known, however, that they centered on two problems:

1. The type and size of land, sea and air forces necessary to keep the peace in Europe against any threat of Communist aggression.

2. The extent of financial and military aid necessary from the United States—and to a lesser extent from Britain—to insure the creation of such forces.

Montgomery on Hand

Another problem is fitting the existing five-nation Brussels Alliance —Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—into the broader framework of the 12-country Atlantic treaty.

British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, the Brussels Alliance chief of staff, is visiting London from his headquarters near Paris and was called in briefly at today's meetings. He will see the Americans again in Paris.

Gen. Bradley said after the meeting: "We have been discussing the details of the organization and I am very happy about the course the talks have taken."

The British defense ministry said in a communique:

"The chiefs of staff have discussed problems concerning the military organization to be established in the implementation of the provisions of the North Atlantic Pact."

Prompt, Large-Scale Aid Seen As American Aim

London, Aug. 3 (AP)—American and British military leaders met today to talk over plans for speedy unification of western Europe's armed forces under the Atlantic pact.

Responsible officials said the United States joint chiefs of staff want Britain and other pact partners to promise prompt, large-scale military unity in a common defense program.

The United States military staff chiefs—Army Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Air Forces Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg and Navy Admiral Louis E. Denfeld—arrived last night from Germany for two days of conferences in London before going to Paris late Thursday.

Western Pact A Factor

Denfield said the British and Americans were considering how the twelve-nation Atlantic alliance would absorb the military staff already set up by the five-nation western European union. Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg last year established a joint military committee headed by Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery.

Informed sources here said the United States chiefs of staff want the five western union powers to merge their forces and defense resources into the Atlantic framework.

Some reluctance against such a full-scale merger has been unofficially reported among the western union partners.

Keep Congress In Mind

The informants said the United States military chiefs hope to get an agreement on unification to allay any doubt among members of the United States Congress that the Atlantic treaty partners might not act as a team in case of aggression.

Denfeld, Bradley and Vandenberg have said their tour does not include discussion of President Truman's $1,450,000,000 arms aid program because it is still being debated by Congress. But other officials here feel that failure to agree on unification would jeopardize congressional approval of such aid.

The United States chiefs were scheduled to see Montgomery at his headquarters in Fontainebleau, France, on Friday. But they might talk with him earlier because Montgomery arrived here last night without advance notice on what his aides described as a routine visit.

Talks Scheduled

Talks today were scheduled with Field Marshal Sir William Slim, chief of the imperial general staff; Admiral of the Fleet Lord Frazer, first sea lord, and Marshal of the Royal Air Force Lord Tedder, chief of the air staff.

Tomorrow they are scheduled to meet Norwegian and Danish military leaders who are here. The United States military chiefs plan to leave late tomorrow for Paris where they will confer with French, Belgian, Dutch and Portuguese chiefs of staff.

The American and British chiefs held a three-hour meeting behind closed doors. A spokesman said their formal discussions were "fully completed." Denfeld told reporters: "We made good progress in a very cordial atmosphere."

Lord Tedder To Be Host

The top commanders will gather again tonight at an official British government dinner, with Lord Tedder as host.

A spokesman for the American officers said attempts were being made to arrange a news conference tomorrow following the joint chiefs meeting with the Danish and Norwegian military commanders.

The joint chiefs will inspect headquarters of the American Air Force Third Division in suburban Ruislip before flying to Paris.

Wartime Security Measures

At Paris the chiefs of staff are expected to confer with Belgian, Dutch and Portuguese leaders as well as with the French high command.

Security precautions reminiscent of wartime days have been attending the meetings. All visitors to the conference building had been screened and even British and American officers in uniform were carefully questioned at the doors.

BRADLEY EXPECTED TO BE NEW HEAD OF STAFF CHIEFS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. — (AP) The appointment of General Omar N. Bradley as the nation's highest ranking military officer—chairman of the joint chiefs of staff—was predicted confidently at the Pentagon today.

Officials said they expect President Truman to make the appointment shortly after signing new legislation tightening the military unification law.

The legislation, which completed its journey through Congress yesterday, establishes the post of permanent chairman of the joint chiefs and makes several other far-reaching changes in the military establishment. It gives the secretary of defense greater direct control over the Army, Navy and Air Force, and provides for the installation of a business-type budgeting and accounting system expected to save hundreds of millions of dollars.

Bradley Top Choice

Bradley is viewed as the standout claimant for the chairmanship of the chiefs of staff—the operating heads of the three fighting services.

By virtue of his present assignment as army chief of staff, he now is a member of the group along with Adm. Louis Denfeld of the Navy and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg of the Air Force. He has a distinguished war record as commander of the First Army and later of the 12th Army group. He was the spokesman for the three chiefs last week in explaining the foreign arms proposal to Congress.

The new permanent chairman of the joint chiefs would have no vote or command authority. But his prestige would be enormous. The group he heads would serve as chief military advisers to the president and the secretary of defense.

Eisenhower Temporary

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, wartime supreme allied commander in Europe, has been serving as chairman of the joint chiefs on a temporary basis.

If Bradley gets the job, some army officer must be named to fill his assignment as army chief of staff. Among the possibilities are Gen. Thomas Troy Handy, 4th Army commander; Gen. Mark W. Clark, 6th Army commander; Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, former ambassador to Russia; Lt. Gen. George C. Wedemeyer, wartime commander in the China-Burma-India theater; and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, vice chief of staff.

The new unification legislation creates three assistant secretaries of defense. Wilfred J. McNeil, who has worked with Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson as a special assistant on budget matters, is expected to get one of these positions, with special authority as comptroller.

Marx Leva, another of Johnson's special assistants, may get one of the assistant secretaryships. The third appointee is anybody's guess.

Other vacancies in the defense set-up include undersecretary of the Army, assistant secretary of the Army, and assistant secretary of the Navy for air. Assistant Army Secretary Tracy Voorhees is expected to be moved up to undersecretary.

FOREIGN AID BILL FARM AMENDMENT BEATEN IN SENATE

Attempt to Limit Spending on Farm Surplus by ECA Is Rejected

DEBATE OPENS TODAY

Decision Removes Principal Threat to Passage of Big Money Measure

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. — (AP) The administration won an important victory on the big foreign aid appropriation bill today when it beat back an attempt to require that $1,350,000,000 of European recovery funds be spent for surplus U. S. farm crops.

A similar amendment to so obligate $450,000,000 of army funds for relief in occupied areas remained pending, but the Senate's decision made its chances dim.

The farm amendment went out on a point of order, upheld by the Senate 52 to 32 when it was appealed.

Vice President Barkley, the Senate's presiding officer, ruled that the amendment offered by Senator McClellan (D-Ark) was an attempt to write new legislation into an appropriation bill, forbidden by Senate rules.

Lucas Raises Point

Senator Lucas of Illinois, raised the point of order. Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) appealed from Barkley's ruling.

The decision, taken late in the day, removed the biggest threat to final approval of the measure, now confidently anticipated by its backers. A similar but somewhat more involved parliamentary dispute last week had sent the $5,647,724,000 measure back to the appropriations committee.

But the possibility still remained that the big money bill may be forced back into the Appropriations committee a second time before a final vote.

McClellan sent the bill back to committee last week on a technical point. And he said he may do the same thing again.

"I want to give Senator McCarran (D-Nev) a chance to get a vote on his aid-for-Spain amendment," McClellan told reporters. "Then I may raise a point of order against the entire bill."

Debate Opens Today

The McCarran amendment would earmark $50,000,000 in ECA funds for loans to Spain. The Senate will open debate on it tomorrow.

The bill contains $3,628,380,000 for Marshall plan spending in the current fiscal year by the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA), as well as $1,074,000,000 ECA money for the last quarter of the 1949 fiscal year, $900,000,000 for the army's government and relief expenses in occupied areas, and smaller sums to furnish economic aid to Greece and Turkey.

In a lengthy speech, McClellan insisted on consideration of his crop amendment. If adopted, none of the money set up for the purchase of surplus crops could have been used for any other purpose.

McClellan called his proposal a taxpayers' amendment.

"It relieves them of paying out dollars for farm surpluses and the paying out extra dollars for Europe to buy those same products elsewhere," he said.

He said the opponents of his amendment seemed to take the position that "we've just got to get rid of these dollars somehow" even if Europe doesn't need the farm products it asked last February.

Administration Fought Plan

The administration fought the proposal with everything it had. ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman contended its adoption would tie his hands and threaten the success of the entire recovery program. He stood in the corridor outside the Senate chamber and conferred frequently with opponents of the amendment.

Senator Clinton Anderson (D.-N. M.), former Secretary of Agriculture, denounced the proposal on the floor and urged its rejection. He said the United States should obtain its farm markets throughout the world on a basis of merit, not compulsion.

The ECA takes the stand that it should not be obliged to spend money for foodstuffs in the exact quantity and kind specified in estimates months ago, if they are not needed now.

Senator Vandenberg (R.-Mich.), upholding ECA's position, declared the actual result of adopting the McClellan amendment would be to reduce the appropriation by $500,000,000.

Would Protect Taxpayers

McClellan said, however, that he was merely trying to protect the American taxpayers. He said that Congress does not allow other government agencies to obtain appropriations for one purpose, then spend them for something else.

Chairman McKellar (D.-Tenn.) of the Senate Appropriations committee was on McClellan's side. He said if American farmers have a surplus, and the United States is making gifts to Europe, then it is "reasonable, fair and just" to specify that a portion of the gifts be in the form of crop surpluses.

Before the farm dispute bobbed up a second time, the Senate had made a little progress on the bill. Repeating action taken last week, the senators voted a 10 per cent cut in the European recovery program for the current year, making $3,628,380,000 available. It also approved $1,074,000,000 ECA spending in the last quarter of the year which ended June 30. AP

TRUMAN'S POWER UNDER ARMS PLAN MAY BE TRIMMED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—(AP) Republicans predicted tonight that power for the President to arm any nation will be stripped from the $1,450,000,000 foreign arms bill before it gets out of the House Foreign Affairs committee.

The committee spent today behind closed doors, questioning Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer of the Army, Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner of the State Department, and a battery of assistants.

When it quit for the day, two Republican members told reporters that broad presidential powers to decide what nations shall get arms and how much they shall receive will be cut from the bill before the committee sends it to the house for action.

GOP Confident

"I can guarantee that section won't be in the bill when it is reported out," declared Rep. Judd (R-Minn).

Rep. Fulton (R-Pa) agreed, saying:

"The bill can't get out of the committee with that section in it."

Both expressed concern as to why the provision was put in the bill in the first place.

"Either there is a situation much more serious than anyone has even suggested to us," Judd said, "or there is a bureaucratic attempt to get more power."

Fulton said that administration spokesmen who urge prompt action "refuse to say it is an emergency, but do say this plan is immediately necessary."

Republican members said also that a full day of testimony by experts from the State department, armed services and the Economic Cooperation Administration failed to convince them the president's plan should be approved without changes.

Dr. Berkner of the State department told newsmen after the session that the officials outlined "just what's in the program."

He said this information included "what we will have to buy and where it is going to go."

May Trim Spending

One Republican member of the committee said he is "not convinced" that the entire $1,450,000,000 is necessary at this time.

Some of the Republicans who contend the arms bill is a blank check that would let the president arm any country suggested Congress should write in the payee nations.

The administration's bill to authorize its $1,450,000,000 program provides armys grants to European members of the North Atlantic Pact and to other nations whose "increased ability to defend themselves" is important to the security of the U. S.

As a possible way to meet their own objections, several Republican members of the House Foreign Affairs committee suggested that Congress limit the arms aid specifically to the North Atlantic Allies and the other countries which the state department has mentioned for assistance: Greece, Turkey, Iran, Korea and the Philippines. ECA-FUND BILL GETS CAUGHT IN A FRESH SNARL

State Department Protests That It Now Bars Reich Occupation Transfer.

SENDS A MEMO TO SENATE

Asks Restoration of Amendments —10 P. C. ECA Cut Again Is Voted by Chamber.

Washington, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—The State Department has protested to Senate leaders that the new foreign aid bill would block the Army from turning over German occupation duties to civilian control.

This surprise development cropped up as the Senate met to try to untangle the snarl over the $5,647,724,000 foreign aid measure. Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois said the State Department protested the action of the Senate Appropriations Committee in stripping House amendments from the bill.

He predicted that these amendments will be restored to eliminate this threat. But until the action is taken the transfer, scheduled to take place in a few weeks, would be impossible, he added.

Lucas showed reporters a memorandum from the State Department saying the committee's action "would block current plans for the transfer to the Department of State of responsibility for the Government of Germany." The memo added that the President would be denied the authority to transfer any of the functions or funds given the Army to any other Government agency.

House Amendments Deleted.

The foreign aid measure was sent back to the committee last week in a confused fight over rules—and the committee proceeded to strike out amendments made by the House.

The reason given by Chairman McKellar (D.-Tenn.) was that the House amendments contained new legislation in violation of rules. This was the objection raised against certain Senate amendments in the bill.

The House amendments were designed in part to clear the way for the Army to transfer its duties to the State Department. This striking-out of House amendments is a technical move which means they would have to be restored, McKellar said, in a conference between Senate-House members.

Lucas had no doubt that this problem will be ironed out. But it pointed up the confusion which still exists in the foreign aid program.

The deleted House amendments affecting the possible transfer appear in the appropriations for the military establishment to carry out occupation duties in Germany, Austria, Japan and the Ryukyu islands. The bill contains $900,000,000 for this work.

10 P. C. ECA Cut Again Voted.

By voice vote, the Senate quickly repeated its approval of a 10 per cent cut in the European Recovery Program. It voted $3,628,380,000 to carry ECA through the current year and approved ECA spending of $1,074,000,000 in the last quarter of the year which ended July 1.

But at this point the Senate bumped into the troublesome amendment which should require ECA and the Army to earmark $1,800,000,000 for surplus American farm commitments. This was the issue which sent the bill back to the Senate Appropriations Committee last week for some rewriting.

The Senate voted a total of $7,663,231,873. The House had approved $7,103,506,553. So the bill now goes to conference.

The Senate vote took a large chunk out of the $30,000,000,000 in money bills which had been piled up in the Senate and which are five weeks overdue.

Senators wrote in a requirement that all Atomic Energy Commission research fellows be subject to a full FBI check. The House is expected to agree to it.

Freistadt Case Cited

The requirement is a direct outgrowth of the disclosure last spring that Hans Freistadt, an avowed Communist at the University of North Carolina, had been awarded an AEC scientific research fellowship.

It would prevent the use of any AEC funds to finance the fellowship of any person "who advocates or who is a member of an organization or party that advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence."

The scrap over the aid bill centered largely around two amendments. One is backed by Senator McClellan (D., Ark.) and would require the Economic Cooperation Administration and the Army to earmark about $1,800,000,000 for buying surplus American farm products.

Funds For Spain

The other is sponsored by Senator McCarran (D., Nev.) and would freeze $50,000,000 of ECA funds for loans to Spain.

Senator Lucas, of Illinois, Democratic leader, challenged the McClellan amendment last week on the grounds it contained legislation. This led to the Senate forcing the measure back to the committee.

The committee revised the bill, but it retained these two amendments in rewritten form designed to side-step Lucas's objections.

Lucas argued they still were objectionable and said he would try a second time to have them eliminated.

Arms Aid Curbs Proposed

Washington, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Restriction of United States arms aid to Atlantic alliance nations and certain other designated countries was proposed today by Republican members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Several Republicans suggested the restriction to meet objections to what they called too broad grants of power for President Truman proposed in the administration's $1,450,000,000 arms aid program.

Under the President's plan, these members said privately, arms could be supplied to any nation even though the idea of the program is to aid only friendly nations. Their suggestion was that Congress restrict aid to nations that have signed the North Atlantic pact, plus the Philippines, Korea, Greece, Turkey and Iran. Within that area the President would be given a free hand to supply arms.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee has been studying the arms aid program since last week. For several hours today behind closed doors the committee heard two experts who helped draft the plan. Chairman Kee (D.-W. Va.) told newsmen the committee received helpful information from these witnesses—Major-Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer of the Army and Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner of the State Department.

General Backing

The committee has already received general indorsements of the plan from high administration officials and military men. The testimony they gave dealt largely with generalities and stressed the need to strengthen friendly nations against Soviet advances.

"We have not yet received the answers to the questions bothering us," said Representative Vorys (R., Ohio). "We hope to get down to brass tacks now."

Vorys and most of his Republican committee colleagues as well as some Democrats said they aren't willing, on the basis of evidence to date, to approve the entire program.

Wants It Cut In Half

Vorys wants it cut about in half and put on an interim basis while the Atlantic pact nations are working out military agreements. He also wants an ironclad guarantee that the arms sent abroad will be used in a co-ordinated program if war comes.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee postponed from today until next Monday its hearings on the arms program after Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson had conferred behind closed doors with the Foreign Relations Committee and the Armed Services Committee. The two groups will handle the bill jointly in the Senate.

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), top GOP member of the Foreign Relations Committee, reportedly told Acheson and Johnson that the Presidents program won't be approved in its present form. Vandenberg was represented as feeling that the bill goes too far in delegating powers to the President.

One provision of the legislation has been interpreted by Republicans as enabling the President to provide arms to any nation in the world.

Chairman Connally (D., Texas), of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said possible changes were discussed.

To Meet Objections

"We are trying to meet the objections of committee members, to the end that within the scope of the bill and its objectives we may get as large an agreement as possible," he said.

Republicans made clear that they do not want to kill the program entirely and favor some military assistance to friendly nations. They say they don't like the scope or the cost of the President's plan.

"The bill will be so changed when we get through with it that even its mother wouldn't recognize it," a GOP House member said.

BRITAIN AND BRAZIL SIGN NEW TRADE AGREEMENT

LONDON, Thursday), Aug. 4—(AP) Britain and Brazil have reached a trade agreement to exchange $256,498,000 worth of goods this year, the Board of Trade said today.

Payment in sterling, under the agreement of May 21, 1948, will remain in force.

Britain to Pay More for Meat

Buenos Aires, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—The Economy Ministry announced today Argentine meat producers will receive a 38.6 per cent increase for the best grade of export meat under the terms of the new British-Argentine trade pact. The pact was signed June 27.

The Government announced a long list of new meat prices, which will be retroactive to the expiration of the Andes agreement, the old pact, on March 31. Under the new agreement, Great Britain will pay an average of about 44 per cent more for the meat she receives from Argentina.

Greeks Slaving In Tito's Mines, Soviet Says

London, Aug. 3 (AP)—Russia accused Marshal Tito today of using Greek Communist refugees as slave labor in the Yugoslav iron and copper mines.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said the metal is sold to Americans and "made into guns for the Greek Royalist-Fascists."

At one time the Western Allies regarded Yugoslavia as a main refuge and jumping-off place for Greek rebels ducking back and forth across the border in their skirmishes with Government troops.

Recently, Tito ordered the border sealed. He said the Greek Communists had taken sides against him along with the nations of the Russian-dominated Cominform.

The Cominform denounced Tito last year for putting nationalism above the Communist party line.

Petain's Wife Given Ile D'Yeu Apartment

Ile D'Yeu, France, Aug. 3 (AP)—The wife of former Marshal Henri Phillippe Petain has been given an apartment in the fort here where her husband is serving a life sentence. Authorities said the Petains would be allowed to have luncheon together every day.

Petain has been a prisoner here since his conviction of collaboration with the Germans four years ago. He was head of the French Government at Vichy.

Caviar To Dark Cellar Life Bared As Frau Raeder Flees

Berlin, Aug. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Erika Raeder, wife of the admiral who built Hitler's fleet, has fled from eastern Germany and revealed that her living conditions during four years of Russian captivity ranged from caviar rations to dark cellars.

"I was considered a special prisoner of the Russian secret police," the 61-year-old woman said today, "but I never was told why."

During her period in Soviet custody, Mrs. Raeder said the Russians: fed her caviar in Moscow; let her go hungry in Minsk; had her peel 700 potatoes a day in Sachsenhausen; questioned her almost endlessly, and finally released her without explanation.

"The whole thing was without rhyme or reason," she said.

Released July 1

She was freed from Sachsenhausen, one-time Nazi death camp, on July 1—exactly four years from the day she and the former admiral were taken to Moscow by Soviet officers whose troops overran the Raeder home in Babelsberg, adjoining Berlin.

When they released her, the Russians gave her two orders, she said. They were to stay in the Soviet occupation zone, and never to speak to others about the Russians.

Mrs. Raeder's whereabouts were cloaked in Soviet secrecy since September 1946, when the Russians were ordered by the Nuernberg war crimes tribunal to grant her a "final visit" with her husband. She never appeared in Nuernberg and the Russians never explained her absence.

Admiral Raeder was found guilty of waging war, chiefly in the 1940 Nazi invasion of Norway which was mainly a naval operation. He is serving a life sentence in the four-power Spandau prison in Berlin.

Afraid To Visit Husband

Mrs. Raeder said because of the Russian warning that she stay in the Soviet zone, she has made no attempt to visit her husband in Spandau, which is alternately under United States, British, French and Russian guards.

She said she was told she could live in Potsdam, bombed-out seat of the Hohenzollern emperors, but could not find a room there. Hatless, carrying a small knapsack and wearing a pair of men's shoes—a souvenir of Sachenhausen—she rode a Berlin elevated train into the American sector of the city.

Mrs. Raeder survived postwar imprisonment in Moscow and Minsk in Russia, and in the Birnau, Luckenwald and Sachsenhausen concentration camps of Germany.

German Camps Better

At one time, she said, she was thrust into a dark, poorly ventilated cellar and kept there nearly four months.

"When they released me, I couldn't see for a while. The cellars were awful. But the East German concentration camps such as Sachsenhausen, were 'livable.'"

"We had very good doctors and dentists, but the food was so-so," Mrs. Raeder added. "Sometimes the working hours were extremely long. Sewing and tailoring, mostly, and there was no pay."

Mrs. Raeder is en route to Neumuenster, near Kiel, to join her son, Hans, whom she has not seen since July, 1945.

She said her home in Babelsberg was looted and that her worldly possessions consisted of about $20 in East marks, some clothing and five sleeping tablets.

"I kept those tablets hidden for four years in case I'd need them," Mrs. Raeder said with a wry smile. "But I never gave up hope and did not have to use them."

31 Former Nazis Sentenced

Berlin, Aug. 3 (AP)—A Soviet zone court at Halle today sentenced 31 former Nazi Storm Troopers to prison terms ranging from one year to life. The Soviet-licensed news agency ADN said the men were found guilty of attacking and brutally maltreating Socialist and Communist party officials in February, 1933, after Hitler's rise to power.

German Destruction Saddens Thomas Mann

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug 3 (AP). Thomas Mann, leaving Germany after his first visit in sixteen years, said today his impressions "were in part melancholic because of the destruction in the cities."

Leaving for Amsterdam to board a ship for the United States, Mann said:

"My visit however was encouraging because I found a strong will for spiritual reconstruction and a will to live."

Asked about his impresion of Soviet-occupied Eastern Germany, where he accepted a Goethe memorial prize, Mann said: "I wasn't there long enough to study living conditions but I got the impression that life is easier in Western Germany. However, Eastern Germany impressed me very much and I do not regret going there."

CZECHS IMPRISON CATHOLIC PRIEST ON TREASON COUNT

Charge Fr. Fajstl Refused to Administer Last Rites to Dying Communist

GIVEN 8-YEAR TERM

Action Seen as First Test of Vatican Excommunication Decree

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 3—(AP) The communist-led Czech government announced tonight sentencing of a Roman Catholic priest on charges of treason for allegedly refusing to administer the last sacrament to a sick old woman because she held a communist membership card.

The Rev. Alois Fajstl was sentenced by a state court to eight years imprisonment, the official Prague radio said. The priest denied the charge.

First Test of Vatican Decree

It was the first test here between the government and the Vatican on its recent decree excommunicating communists and those who willingly aid the communist cause. Under the decree they are denied such church privileges as receiving the final sacrament.

The government announced through communist Minister of Justice Alexei Cepicka on July 15 that anyone attempting to enforce the Vatican decree would be prosecuted for treason.

The radio said Father Fajstl refused to administer the sacrament in accord with the Vatican decree.

It was only after the woman sent her membership card back to party headquarters "in mortal fear" that the priest agreed to administer the rites, the radio added.

Woman Recovered

The 67-year-old woman recovered from pneumonia to denounce the priest and bring about his conviction, the radio said.

In addition to denying the charge the priest refused to relate the contents of his bedside talk with the woman because it was a confessional secret.

The radio said he was brought to trial "upon demand of Catholics" and was convicted "on evidence of witnesses."

This was the way the official Prague radio put it:

The incident occurred on July 16 when Father Fajstl, of the small town of Sebranice about 90 miles east of Prague, was summoned to the bedside of Zofie Paclikova, who was desperately ill of pneumonia.

The priest asked the woman whether she belonged to the Communist party.

"When she replied in the affirmative Father Fajstl declared that according to the Papal decree of July 13 communists and their collaborators are excommunicated out of the church and refused to administer the last sacrament to the sick woman," said the radio.

Returned Membership Card

The woman sent her membership card back to party headquarters by her son and the Priest then administered her.

In addition to being sentenced to prison the priest suffered confiscation of his property and loss of civil rights for 10 years.

Later the official press bureau carried an account of the sentencing. It claimed the priest had been accused previously of "spreading false rumors" and "misusing the pulpit for inflammatory speeches against the People's Democratic Order" on the issue of government-controlled schools.

He had been saved from prosecution of this charge by government amnesty, the bureau said.

Dr. H. Richter, president of the state court, pronounced sentence and then followed with a bitter assault on the Vatican. He termed it "the main enemy of our national interest and especially our national independence."

Previously Accused

Later the official press bureau carried an account of the sentencing. It claimed the priest had been accused previously of "spreading false rumors" and "misusing the pulpit for inflammatory speeches against the People's Democratic order" on the issue of Government-controlled schools.

He had been saved from prosecution on this charge by Government amnesty, the bureau said.

Dr. H. Richter, president of the state court, pronounced sentence and then followed with a bitter assault on the Vatican. He termed it "the main enemy of our national interest and especially our national independence."

The press bureau distributed 1,000 words of the judge's criticism. He called the excommunication decree "an open attack upon the foundations of our People's Democratic order."

He said that any priest who obeyed the papal decree and refused religious rites to any person because of political party membership "or their loyalty to the People's Democratic Republic is in the service of an enemy power—the Vatican—aiming to destroy the People's Democratic regulations of our state."

Says Third Are Members

The judge said that in the priest's activities are found "all the signs of the true character of high treason according to the law for the defense of the People's Democratic Republic."

The judge said a full third of the (9,000,000) Catholics in Czechoslovakia are members of the Communist party and through other political parties, and nation-wide organizations more than four fifths of the Catholics are members of the national front."

[The judge was either in error or was misquoted. The Czech Communists have never claimed more than 2,250,000 members in the country.]

The judge asserted that "millions of Catholics in Czechoslovakia have proved themselves builders of socialism." He reiterated many charges against the Vatican which have appeared recently in the Government-controlled press.

These included the charge that the Vatican supported fascism, and made deals with Hitler and is now the "defender of capitalism and the sworn enemy of socialism and the working people."

Czechs Jail Priest as Traitor

Say He Refused Last Sacrament to Woman Till She Gave Up Communist Party Card.

Prague, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—The official Prague radio announced tonight that the State Court had sentenced a Roman Catholic priest to eight years in prison for high treason for refusing to administer the last sacrament to an old woman because she was a Communist.

This was the first such sentence in the Communist Government's war with the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

The Communist Minister of Justice, Alexei Cepicka, threatened two weeks ago to prosecute for treason any Roman Catholic clergyman who attempted to carry out the Vatican decree calling for excommunication of Communists or denial of the sacraments to those who aid Communists.

The court sentenced the Rev. Alois Fajstl to eight years and ordered confiscation of all his property along with ten years' loss of civil rights. His parish is at Sebranice, east of Prague.

The radio announcement and the official Czech press bureau said father Fajstl refused the last rites to Zofie Paclikova, 67, who "was fighting death of pneumonia."

According to the official version, the priest was summoned to the woman's bed on July 16. It was only after the woman surrendered her Communist party membership card that the priest gave her the last sacrament, the official radio report said. Thereupon the priest was prosecuted for following the decree of the Pope, it said.

Gave Up Card 'in Mortal Fear.'

The broadcast said when the priest told the ailing woman about the papal decree she—"in mortal fear"—gave her Communist party membership card to her son to return to the party secretariat. Thereupon, the radio said, the priest administered the last sacrament. The woman did not die.

The official version was that the priest was convicted on her evidence. The radio said the priest denied the charge and refused to relate the contents of his talk with th woman because of his vows to keep confessional secrets.

4 YANKS URGE CZECH TRADE

Educators, Clergymen Issue Report On 8-Day Tour

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 3 (AP)—A group of four American educators and clergymen suggested today that the United States relax its restrictions on trade with Czechoslovakia in the interest of "friendship and understanding."

The Americans spent eight days here. They said they found the country divided on the issue of the Communist-led government's controversy with the Roman Catholic Church.

They observed that the government had confiscated income-bearing lands of the churches and now proposed to increase its subsidies and pay the salaries of all priests and pastors.

Government Controls

This is a provision of the new church bill which would give the Government control over the administration, funds and appointments of the churches. This bill will come up in Parliament at the end of its summer recess.

Members of the group are: Jerome Davis, former journalist; Henry Pratt Fairchild, a prominent member of the National Council for American-Soviet Friendship; Benjamin Mays, president of Morehouse College at Atlanta, Ga.; and the Rev. George E. Paine, listed on the register at his hotel as from Cambridge, Mass.

Davis left a written statement signed by himself and his three companions before they departed for Budapest.

Church Subsidized

The statement said:

"In our brief stay in this country we have tried to interview all sides of the situation as far as possible. We find a great industrial country which is trying to socialize its economy. . . .

"We found considerable differences of opinion as to the religious situation. It must be remembered that the state long has been subsidizing the Catholic Church. Following the confiscation of the church lands it is now proposed to increase this subsidy and pay the salaries of all priests and pastors. Some religious people are for this and some against. The future alone can tell how it will finally work out.

Saw No Malnutrition

"Naturally, after the war and drought of 1947, there is not as much of everything as could be desired. On the other hand, workers in the factories are getting an excellent two- or three-course dinner with coffee for from 12 to 14 cents. Rationing enables all to share alike in the necessities of life and we saw no evidence of malnutrition.

"We believe the situation would be improved if the United States would relax its restrictions upon trade with Czechoslovakia and we feel certain that the people of Czechoslovakia wish to have friendship and understanding with America. We are confident that an increase of trade between the two countries, which the Czechoslovakia authorities ardently desire, would be to the interests of the entire world."

RED SLAVE LABOR DESCRIBED IN UN

British Delegate Charges Russia Has Organized Mass Slavery

L. HEIZERLING

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 3—(AP) British charges of a new slavery in Russia, organized on a mass production basis, today touched off a bitter debate in the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

Amazasp Arutiunian, Soviet delegate to the 18-nation council, immediately accused British delegate Corley Smith of trying to emulate the late Nazi propaganda minister, Joseph Goebbels, "by repeating the same lies and slanders which Goebbels disseminated."

The Russian spokesman gave several reasons for the British charges, most startling of which was that the accusations were a smokescreen to cover the activities of the American chiefs of staff who now are visiting western Europe.

Smith's speech before the council was, Arutiunian declared, very carefully prepared to create a smokescreen for the military acts which United States militarists are carrying out to create a unified military plan for Europe.

The Russian spokesman said Anglo-American ruling circles are making military preparations for the purposes of aggression and the joint chiefs of staff, now in London are elaborating a solid unified plan for the participants in the Atlantic Pact.

During debate on a proposed investigation of forced labor, the British delegate presented to the council a copy of the "corrective labor codex" of the Soviet Union, describing in detail how citizens of Russia may be sent to forced labor camps for political differences with their government. He estimated there were about 10,000,000 such persons in Russia.

Ask Investigation

Smith, without disclosing how the copy of the codex came into Britain's possession, asked the Russian delegate for a straight "yes or no" answer as to whether the Soviet Union would permit an investigation of its labor practices.

"Why must the Soviet Union guard its forced labor camps like some shameful secret?" The British delegate asked. "Is it that they dare not reveal the truth because it would strip the last shreds of credibility from their claim to being a progressive country where the workers are decently treated?"

Referring to the codex, Smith said that in Russia, "people are condemned to forced labor without trial in a court of law" and are condemned "for holding opinions contray to those of the government and ruling class."

Replies To Pole

Referring to a previous argument used in support of Russia's position by Juliusz Katz-Suchy, Polish delegate, that if there had been 10,000,000 slaves in Russia the Soviet Union would not have been able to wage war for four years,

30.24- 4787

Smith said:

"I was much impressed by his forceful argument until I suddenly remembered that it was by no means impossible. In fact, it had already happened once in the last ten years. The Nazis fought for six years and yet they must have had ten millions in their concentration camps and doing other forced labor in Germany."

Arutiunian struck back at the British delegate with a charge that England is the classical country of slavery and bondage in all forms. The majority of the population in Britain, the Russian said, "are hired slaves, compelled to work for the capitalistic class."

He said Soviet penal policy is humane and progressive, aiming at the "re-education of the people." The object of it is to put sentenced persons "in conditions which make it impossible for them to do anything hostile to Soviet society," Arutiunian said.

He said the British accusation was the start of a campaign of "chaining public opinion in the Anglo-Saxon countries for an aggressive policy" in Europe. It also was an effort to distract attention from increasing unemployment and economic difficulties in the capitalist world, and to "neutralize the increased popularity of the Soviet Union, the Russian spokesman added.

The United States delegation proposed that the Council create an eleven-man commission to conduct an inquiry into "the nature and extent of forced labor" throughout the world, with primary emphasis on "situations involving large numbers of persons or widespread practices of forced labor."

U. S. ASKS AN INVESTIGATION

Soviet Delegate Says Charge Is Made Only to Hide Woes of Labor Regime.

Geneva, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Britain formally accused Russia today of maintaining 10,000,000 slave laborers in "a new slavery organized on a mass production basis." Russia retorted in the United Nations Economic and Social Council here that the charge was a smokescreen to hide Britain's own labor troubles.

The United States proposed appointment of a United Nations Commission of eleven to inquire into "the nature and extent of forced labor" throughout the world. The resolution suggested emphasis be placed on "situations involving large numbers of persons or widespread practices of forced labor."

The British charges were made by Corley Smith, British delegate, who presented what he described as a copy of a "corrective labor codex of the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic" on rules for labor camps in the Soviet Union. The R. S. F. S. R. is Russia's largest republic, with Moscow as its capital.

Russia retorted that the codes represented a humane system with "re-education of the people" as one aim. The Soviet delegate said the code's object was to place persons sentenced to penal servitude "in conditions which make it impossible for them to do anything hostile to Soviet society."

Smith had demanded that the Russian delegate give a straight answer, yes or no, on whether the Soviet Union would permit an investigation.

Russian Reply.

Soviet Delegate Amasasp Arutiunian countered with the charge that Britain's Labor Government had initiated a hostile campaign against the Soviet Union to detract attention from its own economic difficulties. He said the corrective labor codex quoted by Smith was published in England in an English translation in 1936.

He said Smith's statement became necessary "because the economic situation of the United Kingdom has grown so much worse during the period of power of the Labor Government, that, in order to continue receiving United States assistance, the Government must show its validity and good faith and must show that its policy is directed against the working classes."

Smith charged that the Soviet slave labor system was spreading to "the so-called popular democracies of eastern Europe." AP

Holland Ratifies Treaty As Last Of 12 Countries

The Hague, Aug. 3 (AP)—Ratification of the North Atlantic treaty by the Dutch upper house today brought the 12-nation pact within one step of becoming formally effective.

The treaty will go into effect when the instruments of ratification of the seven founding nations are deposited in Washington.

The Dutch first chamber's action today completed the ratification of the accord by all the original partners—the United States, Britain, France, Canada, Belgium, Luxembourg and Holland.

The Dutch upper house approved ratification by 29 votes to 2, the negative ballots being cast by Communists. The lower house accepted the pact July 19 by a 67-to-7 vote.

D. U. Stikker, Dutch Foreign Minister, said in defending the pact, that because of the circumstances under which it was born there is no wholehearted enthusiasm for it.

Yet, Stikker added, this treaty gives the European countries a strong feeling of security owing to the fact that the American partners have committed themselves to lend immediate assistance in case of an armed attack. AP

Israeli military police joined civil police in restoring order. The camp was one for soldiers of the Arab and Druse minorities in Israeli.

CEASE FIRE ENDS WAR IN INDONESIA AFTER FOUR YEARS

K Likes

BATAVIA, Java, Aug. 3 —(AP) The Dutch and Indonesian Republicans formally ended their four years war today, but both sides made clear it was an armed truce for the present.

Republican President Soekarno, in a fiery brodacast tonight from his capital at Jogjakarta, ordered his guerrilla armies to observe a cease-fire proclaimed today, but to hold their positions.

"No Indonesian will ever forget the Dec. 19 event," Soekarno said.

It was last Dec. 19 that the Dutch launched what they called a "police action" through territory controlled by the republic. They overran most of the republic's cities and took Soekarno and other government leaders prisoner, releasing them only last month under demands by the United Nations.

Fight for Independence

Soekarno said the Indonesians would never be satisfied until they gain their own sovereignty and the Dutch army is withdrawn.

The Dutch for their part delayed setting the date of a roundtable conference to be held at the Hague, to work out details of a proposed new "republic of the United States of Indonesia."

(At the Hague, an overseas ministry spokesman said no date would be set until the Dutch government is satisfied that today's cease-fire order has been carried out. The conference originally was set for Aug. 1, but had been postponed.)

The new "United States of Indonesia" would provide self-rule for 72,000,000 inhabitants of former Dutch colonies in the East Indies, in equal partnership with the Netherlands under sovereignty of the Dutch crown.

Representatives of the republic and 15 non-Republican Indonesian states agreed yesterday to form a provisional government for it, thus compromising on Republican demands for independence that have caused sporadic fighting with the Dutch since 1945.

UN Aided Settlement

The cease-fire orders, worked out with cooperation of the UN Commission for Indonesia (UNCI) went out from both sides to local commanders in Java and Sumatra.

They will not become effective until midnight, local time, Aug. 10 in Java and Aug. 14 in Sumatra, to allow for slow communications and prevent what a Dutch spokesman called "misunderstandings."

Today's cease-fire is the third signed by the two parties in their long struggle. Both previous ones were broken. The new orders, long and carefully detailed, provide for the two armies to refrain from attacks or propaganda against each other and cooperate in preserving law and order.

"The present cease-fire is not similar to the previous ones," Soekarno told his guerrillas. "It does not order you to leave your positions.

"Your task is now changed from waging guerrilla warfare to securing peace and order for your own people. You will be their guardians.

"This cease-fire is indeed a test case for us all. Let us prove we are equal to the task."

Shrunken To Tiny Area

The President said that in the negotiations with the Dutch the republic, now shrunken to a tiny area around its capital at Jogjakarta, will demand control of all its former territory. It once controlled most of Java and Sumatra.

The cease-fire provides for the release of all persons imprisoned as a result of the independence struggle.

"Henceforth the endeavors of everyone must be dedicated to banishing any thought of enmity or revenge and to removing any vestige of fear or distrust," the joint proclamation said.

Warning By Dutch Commander

Lieut. Gen. D. C. Buurman Van Reeden, Dutch army commander, warned his soldiers in a radio speech not to expect the order to result in immediate peaceful conditions. He said elements who joined the Republicans only for "robbery and looting" were likely to violate it, and expressed satisfaction that the Republican army would help put down "outlaws."

Unless there is a hitch, the cease-fire will mark a big step toward final elimination of one of the Far East's five major "legacy conflicts" dragging on since the end of World War II.

China's Communists and Nationalists are still slugging it out on a broad front. Burma has a bitter civil war. The British are still fighting Communist rebels in Malaya and the French still are struggling with rebel Viet-Minh forces in Indo-China.

Dutch, Indonesia Formally End War Status

Batavia, Java, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Dutch and Indonesian Republicans formally ended their armed conflict today and issued cease-fire orders to local military commanders in Java and Sumatra.

The cease-fire proclamation is to become effective in Java at midnight local time next Wednesday, August 10, and in Sumatra at midnight Sunday August 14.

The long-sought agreement is expected to put an end to the fighting that first broke out in 1945 when Indonesian Republicans, liberated from Japanese occupation, sought independence from Dutch rule.

Captured Chiefs Freed

Fighting flared anew last December when Dutch troops crushed the Indonesian Republican Government at Jogjakarta and interned many of its leaders in a self-styled police action. Premier Mohamed Hatta and other Republican chiefs were released last month and the Republican Government was re-established during peace negotiations.

Republicans and leaders of fifteen non-Republican states agreed yesterday on plans for establishing a United States of Indonesia as a sovereign government in partnership with the Netherlands under the Dutch crown. Details remain to be worked out later this month at a round-table conference at The Hague. AP

China Reds Capture Gate City

Canton, China, Aug. 3 (AP)—Chinese Communist troops have captured the gateway city to Lanchow, stronghold of the Moslem warlord, Gen. Ma Hungkwei in northwest China.

Nationalists today admitted that the city, Pingliang, had fallen. An army spokesman said, however, that the open country there made Pingliang hard to defend.

The rest of the 240 road miles on westward to Lanchow will be tougher. The way is mountainous. The Nationalists defense line is set up in the Lu Pang mountains due west of Pingliang.

[The fall of Pingliang puts the Reds 40 miles inside Ma's province of Kansu. The drive by 200,000 Red soldiers into Kansu first was reported Monday.

Reds Claim Road Center

[The Communist radio in Peiping said that in addition to Pingliang the Red drive had overrun Tsingshui, a road control town 200 miles southeast of Lanchow.]

On the south-central China front, both sides seemed to be shadow boxing. There were no significant Communist advances reported toward this refugee Nationalist capital.

In fact, press dispatches asserted the Reds had abandoned Lukow, the town which they seized yesterday in cutting the railway from Canton to Changsha, Nationalist stronghold to the north.

suited for defense. He said the Nationalists in that area, mostly Moslems, took up positions in the Lu Pang mountain range, which runs north and south across Western Kansu.

Where Kubla Khan Died

The great Mongol leader, Kubla Khan, died in those mountains in ancient times.

In both Hunan and Kiangsi provinces east of the Canton-Hankow railroad the Reds and Nationalists sparred without coming to serious grips at any point. Dispatches said the Reds had abandoned Lukow, rail town between Changsha and Yengyang, after a brief occupation.

Chiang Off For Talks On Anti-Red Treaty

Canton, China, Aug. 3 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek left Formosa today for Korea to discuss a Pacific pact against the Communists, the official central news agency announced.

The agency said he would make one stop en route to Seoul for discussions with President Syngman Rhee of the South Korean Republic. It wouldn't say where.

[The most logical stop would be Tokyo. There has been no hint, however, that Chiang might visit Japan.

[Chiang originally had planned to reach Korea today. He delayed his trip at Rhee's request. Rhee said only that he needed more time to prepare for his guest's arrival.]

China Announcement Due Today

Washington, Aug. 3 (AP)—The State Department said today there will be an announcement tomorrow on the schedule for publication of its "White Paper" on relations with China.

Lincoln White, press officer, declined to go into detail on the release of the 1,000-page book but told reporters they would be able to obtain copies a few hours in advance of the publication time. This, taken with tomorrow's announcement on scheduling, indicated that the White Paper will be released for publication sometime Friday.

On another aspect of the China situation, White said he knew of no plan now for sending an American ship to Shanghai to remove American citizens from that part of Communist China.

He said surveys now being made of the Americans who want to leave and those who want to stay must first be completed and decisions must be made by business firms as to whether they want to withdraw their representatives.

Amethyst's Yangtze Flight Ruse

Hong Kong, Aug. 3 (AP)—The skipper of the sloop Amethyst told today how the Chinese Communists were outwitted in the escape down the Yangtze from virtual captivity Saturday.

Lieut. Com. John S. Kerrans held a press conference after the 1,400-ton British warship arrived at this British crown colony and was given a hero's welcome.

Kerrans said he gave himself only a 50-50 chance of running the gantlet of Communist shore batteries. But weeks of talks with the Communists after the Amethyst was driven ashore by Communist artillery fire last April had got nowhere.

Double Talk Messages

The Communists would not allow any exchange of messages in code. So Kerrans and the British Navy command in the Far East used messages in plain English but with double meanings.

Thus he obtained approval of his superior before he risked the lives of the 86 surviving members of the crew.

Kerrans ordered all cables padded to reduce noise that might tip off the Chinese gunners on the shore.

Followed River Steamer

Then as a river steamer passed, the Amethyst slipped cable and set out behind. It was without a pilot for the treacherous channel of the Yangtze.

[Kerrans did not go into the Communist shelling that ensued. British sources in Nanking said at least one artillery shell, possibly a 75, hit the Amethyst forward. There was some flooding, but no casualties.]

Kerrans reported he had eleven meetings with the Communists. They kept insisting that he admit British "guilt" in the April episode, and that the British apologize and pay compensation for Communists killed by the Amethyst's return fire.

Quirino Honors American Teacher

Manila, Aug. 3 (AP)—President Quirino last night honored an American who taught him 38 years ago at Manila High School—E. Joe Albertson, an editor of Peekskill, New York.

More than 100 of Quirino's classmates joined in the observance.

One classmate, however, declined to attend.

He is Jose P. Laurel, who is running against Quirino for the presidency. He sent word he would not come to Malacanan Palace, the Philippine White House, until after the November 8 election.

Economic Sway Of Few Broken Up In Japan

Tokyo, Aug. 3 (AP)—General MacArthur's controversial program for breaking up Japan's economic giants ended today. The Allied occupation commander said it was "accomplished effectively."

Eleven big corporations were tagged for deconcentration by a five-man review board which came here from Washington fifteen months ago to make recommendations on 325 firms listed as "excessive concentrations." The board recommended divestment of certain holdings for nine others.

The 325 companies were selected for board action out of about 1,200 which had been affiliated with the Zaibatsu holding companies.

Caused Hot Debate

Through this powerful setup, headquarters said, "a small number of families exercised all-pervasive control over the industry, commerce and finance of Japan."

From its beginning, the deconcentration program was a matter of hot international and domestic debate. In the United States as well as Japan some called it "socialization." Others criticized it as "fragmentation of industry."

A press statement issued today by MacArthur's headquarters said:

"The elimination of monopolistic economic power which dominated prewar Japanese life has been accomplished effectively without adverse effect upon, and no 'fragmentation' of, finance or industry.

Production Increased

"On the contrary, competent observers point to the 50 per cent increase in production along with considerable progress toward stabilization during the past year as evidence of the growing health of the Japanese economy."

Some observers in Japan have called the program a success. Others have labeled it a failure.

Board Chairman Joseph Robinson held a news conference after MacArthur announced the board's task was completed and its final report submitted. Robinson declared:

"I feel there is in Japan today no excessive concentration of economic power. I know of no job where a monopoly has been dealt with so successfully without adverse effect on finance or industry."

Undercover Grip Denied

Robinson was asked if he felt former tycoons of Japanese industry had maintained control under cover or through puppets. He replied:

"If any still exercises any degree of control over industry, I'd be greatly surprised."

The final result of the board's work is this:

"Eleven enterprises were recommended for structural reorganization, three were required to dispose of specified plants or stock holdings, two were referred to the Fair Trade Commission with specific recommendations regarding their trade practices, two were recommended for complete reorganization through industry-wide action, one was required to divest itself of governmental prerogatives."

Top Network Destroyed

Robinson said much had been done to break up the tenacious grip of the few families on Japan's economic life before his board was created. Imperial ordinances and anti-Zaibatsu measures completed by other agencies destroyed the top holding companies, he said.

Robinson cited industries for which deconcentration was recommended as including heavy industry, steel, beer, paper, mining and electrical.

Kim Koo Killing Trial Opens

Seoul, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—Lieut. Ahn Doo Hi went on trial today on a charge of assassinating Kim Koo, president of the Korean government in exile in China during world war II. Kim was slain on June 26.

The prosecution charges Ahn killed Kim when he learned the political leader sought to unseat President Syngman Rhee of the Korean Republic.

ACHESON DEFENDS LIE, DENIES REDS 'TERRORIZE' UN

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 3—(AP) Secretary of State Dean Acheson today expressed "great confidence" in UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie who recently was attacked by a mystery witness before a Senate Judiciary sub-committee as pro-communist.

Acheson's views were expressed in a note to acting Secretary-General Byron Price who protested July 27 against publication of what he called "irresponsible and unfounded attacks" on the secretary-general.

The anonymous witness, identified only as "witness 8," charged Lie permitted communist agents to terrorize the secretariat. Lie is now on vacation in Norway.

Can't Stop Publication

Acheson said "I am confident that a situation like that described by the anonymous witness wouldn't be tolerated."

At the same time, he pointed out there was nothing the State department could do to stop a congressional group from publishing reports such as that issued by the subcommittee on immigration and naturalization, headed by Senator McCarran, (D-Nev).

Acheson told Price, former director of censorship in the United States, that the United Nations "is aware, I am sure, of the traditions and practices of the United States in the matter of freedom of expression."

"You are also aware of the principles of the separation of powers under which the United States operates and of the manner in which the legislative branch conducts its affairs," he said.

Not Committee's Business

Price had reminded the State department in his protest that the internal affairs of the UN secretariat were not the business of the Senate sub-committee, but were the responsibility of the UN General Assembly and its 59 members.

He also called attention to article 100 of the UN-charter in which all governments agreed to "respect the exclusively international character of the responsibilities of the secretary-general and his staff and not to seek to influence them in the discharge of their responsibilities."

Acheson replied:

"The United States has subscribed to these provisions and continued to support them wholeheartedly."

He added that the U. S. government also would continue to use the methods and procedures which the United Nations had established for criticizing and correcting any "questionable practices on the part of the United Nations secretariat."

"So far as the particular incident is concerned," Acheson said, "I am not aware of the identity of the secret witness before the subcommittee and can not say, therefore, what might have motivated this person to make such a statement.

"You may be assured, and you may assure Secretary-General Lie, that my government has great confidence in his ability and integrity, and in his administration of the secretariat."

not illegal, though it is officially frowned upon.

Senators Ferguson (R-Mich) and Mundt (R-SD) offered separate bills to discourage the practice.

Ferguson's bill would require holders of government contracts to state in the contracts whether they paid a commission for help in getting the order, the amount paid and who received the money.

Mundt's measure would force five percenters to register under the lobbyists act. They would list names of their clients and their fees.

Both bills would set up contract information offices in Washington and over the country. The intent is to make it unnecessary for small business firms to employ Washington agents.

Meanwhile Rep. Herbert (D-La) heading a House Armed Services subcommittee, linked the names of James V. Hunt, management counselor who has denied selling "influence," with Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, Jr., suspended army quartermaster general.

Army Uniforms Involved

Hebert said he had been told by Stanley J. Cummings, executive secretary of the National Association of Uniform Manufacturers, Inc., that Hunt had offered to try to get General Feldman to rescind a pending army order. The order involved plans for the army manufacture of officers' uniforms.

Cummings was quoted as saying Hunt asked a $25,000 fee. His proposition was rejected by the Uniform Manufacturers Association as being too costly.

Cummings had been expected to appear for testimony today before the House subcommittee, but Hebert explained that he was on vacation.

in touch with him.

Cummings is on a vacation, Hebert said, and is not expected back at his Brooklyn, N. Y., home until August 15. The subcommittee will decide after talking to Gray whether it then wants to question Cummings.

Told of Hunt's Offer.

Hebert said Cummings told him personally three weeks ago of having been approached by James V. Hunt, a former Army Quartermaster colonel, in connection with a pending Army order relating to the manufacture of officers' uniforms.

Hebert said he was told that Hunt offered—for $25,000—to try to get Major-Gen. Herman Feldman, former Quartermaster General, to rescind an order relating to Army plans for manufacturing uniforms.

Cummings turned the deal down because his association could not afford the fee, Hebert said, adding:

"I asked Cummings whether he ever had been approached by Hunt and he told me the whole story.

"I told him I would like to have him consult his people and decide whether he would be willing to tell his story again to the subcommittee on the record. He said he would confer with them and let me know. He hasn't yet."

weeks.

Senate investigators are covering the field of agents who help business men get Government contracts—for a fee, usually five per cent of the contract figure—which is legal.

Plans Held Up

The House subcommittee ordered General Feldman to hold up plans until a complete study could be made. The Army was permitted, however, to go ahead with manufacture of 53,000 coats and 160,000 pairs of trousers for which contracts had been awarded.

Feldman is one of the two major generals now under suspension in connection with the Five Per Center case.

Republican Senators Ferguson (Mich.) and Mundt (S.D.) meanwhile, completed the drafting of separate bills designed to discourage the activities of Five Per Centers. Mundt said he and Ferguson plan to get to pool their ideas, then introduce a single bill later this week.

To See New-Agency Head

As the first step, Mundt said they intend to confer with Jess Larson, Chief of the new General Services Agency set up to handle much of the Government's buying and contract-letting.

Ferguson's bill provides for a fine of up to $10,000 and up to two years in jail in the event any person who obtained a Government contract failed to set forth in the document whether he paid a commission to anyone for help in securing the contract. The contract would have to state the amount of any fee paid, as well as the name of the person who received it.

Mundt's bill would require Five Per Centers to register under the lobbyist act. They also would have to list the names of persons they represent and the amount of any fees they received, including expenses.

Provides New Office

Mundt's measure also would set up an Office of Contract Information to aid business men get details about contract prospects, so it would not be necessary to work through commission men.

Among others, the subcommittee has been questioning John Maragon, familiar Washington figure who once had a pass to the White House.

Senator Hoey (D., N.C.), the subcommittee chairman, told reporters the group has received full information about Maragon's bank accounts. He made it clear that includes one which Maragon said he had in a Texas bank three years ago.

BILLS WOULD CURB 'FIVE PERCENTERS'

Senators Offer Measures to Discourage Practice; Hearing Continues

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. — (AP) Bills to curb "five percenters" were introduced by two senators today while a House committee invited Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray to testify Friday in a widening investigation.

The committee wants any information Gray may have as to five percenters' activities in connection with the military uniform business.

Five percenters are persons alleged to be collecting fees for acting as middle-men between government and businessmen seeking government orders. The practice is

Washington, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—A House Armed Services sub-committee voted today to ask Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray for information on any 5 percenters who may have been connected with the military uniform business.

Representative Hebert (D.-La.) told reporters that Gray would be heard tomorrow behind closed doors.

Stanley J. Cummings, executive secretary of the National Association of Uniform Manufacturers, Inc., was to testify today, but Hebert said the subcommittee has been unable to get

Hebert's subcommittee, which has been studying policies of the armed forces on supplying officers' uniforms, jumped into the Five Per Center investigation alongside the special Senate investigations subcommittee headed by Senator Hoey (D., N.C.). M'CLOY CONFERS IN WASHINGTON ON GERMAN CABINET

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 — (AP) John J. McCloy, American high commissioner for Germany, opened a round of talks with top government officials today on organization of a 10-man cabinet to handle American policies in Germany.

McCloy is now acting as American military governor. He succeeded retiring General Lucius D. Clay in that post a month ago. Following creation of a German government for the western zones he will become the first American civilian high commissioner about Sept. 15.

He came here by plane after spending several weeks in Germany.

Sees Truman Today

Shortly after his arrival, McCloy went to defense headquarters to confer with Assistant Secretary of the Army Tracy Voorhees and Ambassador Robert Murphy, the chief of the State department's German affairs section.

Tomorrow he will meet with other State department officials. He is expected to see President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson soon. When western Germany switches from military to civilian control, Acheson will take over direction of German affairs from Secretary of Defense Johnson.

McCloy told newsmen he is here for 'a very short visit to check up with the Army, State department and Economic Cooperation Administration on administrative matters in Germany, including appropriations."

He added that he hopes to return before the German elections begin on Aug. 14.

Three High Commissioners

The elections will be held preliminary to formation of the German government which will have extensive powers over the conduct of German affairs in the western zones, subject to the supervision of McCloy and the British and French High commissioners.

McCloy said it is too early to say whether continuing talks between the western powers and Russia will be successful in solving outstanding east-west problems there.

Ralph Nicholson, former New Orleans publisher who will head McCloy's public affairs section, came back with the high commissioner. Nicholson and the men chosen to hold the economic and the political affairs positions in the new 10-man cabinet will form an "inner cabinet" on which McCloy expects to rely constantly for advice and help on major German policy questions.

Russ Supersonic Plane Reported At Air Show

Washington, Aug. 3 (AP)—A public demonstration at Moscow of a plane said to fly faster than the speed of sound is described in the current issue of the Russian Embassy's information bulletin.

The flight, the bulletin said, occurred at the July 17 Stalin Aviation day celebration at Tushino Airfield.

About midway of the display, the information bulletin says, "a supersonic plane appeared in the air" at an altitude of about 660 feet. The speed of sound is 762 miles per hour at sea level; it would be a little slower at higher altitudes.

"Its wings flashed across the aerodrome and only when the plane had passed out of sight did the crowds hear the roar of its engines. [Apparently jet engines.]

"The plane soared up like a rocket, flying almost straight, and then performed three successive barrel rolls. The speed was so great that no eye could folow its flight. Leveling out at its ceiling, the plane shot down lower and lower and finally straightened out just over the ground."

News reports from Moscow at the time of the air show said it presented three types of single-engined fighters and one two-engined aircraft in what the Russian air force called the "superspeed jet aircraft" class.

NAVY GROUP WINS BOMBING CONTEST

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 3 (AP)—A Navy dive-bomber team of four planes hit a 50-foot bulls-eye with 90 per cent of its bombs to win the Pacific fleet championship today.

Lt. Cmdr. William H. House of Higgins, Tex., led the attack squadron 115 from San Diego Naval air station.

The Douglas Skyraider attack planes, latest type of dive-bombers delivered to the fleet, each made 16 dives from 15,000 feet at a 200-foot circle in the desert target area near El Centro, Calif.

90 Per Cent In Target

Highest individual score was made by Ensign Edward F. Christensen of Redfield, S. D., member of Attack Squadron 155 from Alameda, Calif., Naval air station. He landed 90 per cent of his bombs in a 40-foot bulls eye.

Christensen's own plane developed a fuel leak on his first run.

He borrowed the plane of a team alternate and went on to set the high score.

Marines Second

Marine Corps' Night Fighter Squadron 513 from El Toro, Calif., base was second in team scoring. The Marines flew converted F6F Hellcat fighters.

The Alameda team was third. A jet plane squadron participated for evalulation purposes. Its performance was declared classified and not disclosed.

Other members of the winning team: Lt. Edward G. Gendron of 34 Euclid avenue Bridgeport, Conn.; Ens. William G. Sizemore of Lawrenceville, Ill., and Ens. Don Miller of Tarzana, Calif.

The competition was the first since the war and was directed under the command of Vice Adm. H. B. Sallada, commander air force, Pacific fleet.

MEDINA ACTS TO STOP TALK

Marshals Also Called On At Trial Of Communists

New York, Aug. 3 (AP)—United States marshals were called on in the Federal courtroom today to shut off floods of oratory at the Communist conspiracy trial.

It took Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, however, to slow the busy tongue of a woman defense witness, Mrs. Geraldyne Lightfoot, a Chicago Negro Communist.

Apparently enjoying the proceedings, Mrs. Lightfoot confided to Judge Medina that she could "talk for a week" about Communist activities.

"I'll give you ten minutes," Judge Medina told the witness.

Judge Medina discovered earlier this week that the advance of a marshal had a quieting influence on defense attorneys.

Calls For Marshals

So today, when defense attorneys Richard F. Gladstein and Abraham J. Isserman, could not be silenced, Judge Medina said:

"Mr. Marshal, get busy."

When quiet was restored the judge told Isserman:

"I am not going to stand for any more nonsense from you or any of your colleagues."

The argument arose when Mrs. Lightfoot was asked whether as a Communist class teacher in 1948 she referred to "dictatorship of the proletariat, imperialism, just and unjust wars."

Gladstein accused Judge Medina of badgering the witness and the court replied:

"No matter how much leeway I give you, you try to put the whole administration of justice in disrepute. I now tell you in the most emphatic way I can you must desist from that."

Demands Direct Answer

Judge Medina added that "I've had enough of this contemptuous conduct."

Later, Judge Medina wagged a finger at a witness and demanded a direct answer to a question.

Gladstein rose to object and two marshals rose with him and moved toward him.

Overruling the objection, Judge Medina told Gladstein:

"I know what you are up to. You and your colleagues are making false statements for the record to make me appear biased and prejudiced."

Gladstein denied making any false statements. Eugene Dennis, a defendant acting as his own attorney, moved for a mistrial "on the basis of the hostile, malignant and disrespectful attitude of the court toward this witness."

Mistrial Motion Denied

Judge Medina denied the mistrial motion, the marshals went back to their seats and the trial droned on.

The eleven top Communist leaders on trial are accused of conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the United States Government.

Mrs. Lightfoot said she joined the Communist party in 1940 and was a member of its Illinois State committee from 1945 to 1948.

She said that for most of last year she was a section organizer in Chicago's First, Second, Third, Fourth and Twentieth wards where Negroes outnumber whites.

She testified that Gilbert Green, one of the defendants, as Chicago district chairman of the party, proposed splitting up Communist clubs with memberships of 30 to 50 persons to smaller units.

Sees Underground Plan

The Government contends the purpose of such a split was to ready the party members to go underground if necessary.

However, Mrs. Lightfoot testified Green's purpose in reducing their size was to give organizers closer contact with members.

Mrs. Lightfoot went over in detail what she said Green told her about Communist activity concerning packinghouse workers, nursery schools, health regulations, high rents and admission of Negroes to white schools.

She took the stand after another defense witness, Edward J. Chaka, a Cleveland Communist, was finished.

Chaka, winding up his testimony, refused to give full names of persons identified in his testimony only by their first names. To do so, he said, would make him a "stool pigeon."

HOUSE BODY SIFTS ELECTRICAL UNION

Washington, Aug. 3 (A. P.).—The House Committee on Un-American Activities is investigating the United Electrical Workers Union, C. I. O., in Pittsburgh, a committee official said today.

Counsel Frank S. Tavenner said: "Information has been received indicating Communist influence in the union in the Pittsburgh area, affecting some vital and strategic industrial plants.

"Hearings are planned with a view to determining whether legislation should be proposed requiring industrial plants engaged in certain work for the Government to set up security standards to protect Government secrets."

Tavenner said union records have not been subpoenaed, "and so far as I know at the present time they will not be."

The hearing probably will start on August 9 or soon after, he said. 4 DI)

NEW YORK,AUG 3-(AP)-WALDEMAR J.GALLMAN, U.S. AMBASSADOR TO POLAND, SAID TODAY HE HAD NOTED "A MARKED RELAXATION OF TENSION" AMONG THE POLES SINCE THE RECENT PARIS CONFERENCE OF FOREIGN MINISTERS.

RETURNING FROM WARSAW ABOARD THE CUNARD LINER QUEEN ELIZABETH, GALLMAN SAID HE WAS EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON FOR "A ROUTINE CONSULTATION" WITH THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

GALLMAN SAID THE AVERAGE POLE "IS BY TRADITION ANTI-RUSSIAN. ANYTHING STEMMING FROM MOSCOW--EITHER IDEOLOGY OR PROPAGANDA--WOULD NOT BERECEIVED ENTHUSIASTICALLY BY THE AVERAGE POLE."

HOWEVER, THE ENVOY SAID THE POLES "ARE GOING ABOUT THEIR WORK WITH A WILL AND A HAPPY FRAME OF MIND. REGARDLESS OF THE COLOR OF THE REGIME OR GOVERNMENT, THE POLISH PEOPLE RESPOND WILLINGLY TO THE WORK AT HAND."

AMONG THE ELIZABETH'S PASSENGERS WERE FRANCOIS ERASMUS, MINISTER OF DEFENSE FOR THE UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA, AND GEN.LEN BEYERS, SOUTH AFRICAN DEFENSE CHIEF. BOTH SAID THEY WERE GOING TO OTTAWA FOR TALKS WITH CANADIAN OFFICIALS.

ERASMUS ALSO SAID THEY WOULD CONFER WITH GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AT WASHINGTON. HE SAID THE TRIP WAS DESIGNED "TO ASCERTAIN WHAT MILITARY EQUIPMENT WOULD BE SUITABLE AND AVAILABLE TO THE DEFENSE FORCES OF THE UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA FOR TRAINING PURPOSES."

NEW YORK, AUG. 3-(AP)-HITTING BACK AT GOVERNMENT EVIDENCE, THE DEFENSE AT THE RED CONSPIRACY TRIAL HAS RANGED INTO A NEW FIELD--BASEBALL.

BUT THE GOVERNMENT GOT THE LAST HIT.

THE CENTER OF THE SIDE-PLAY WAS NATIONAL COMMUNIST CHAIRMAN WILLIAM Z.FOSTER.

TESTIFYING FOR THE DEFENSE, EDWARD JOSEPH CHAKA SAID YESTERDAY THAT FOSTER TALKED BASEBALL, AND NOT VIOLENT REVOLUTION, AT A PARTY CONVENTION IN 1948.

THIS DIDN'T TALLY WITH THE GOVERNMENT SCORESHEET. TWO PROSECUTION WITNESSES PREVIOUSLY HAD TESTIFIED THAT FOSTER ROOTED FOR RUSSIA, AND SAID "FREE COUNTRIES" WOULD BE ON THE SOVIET SIDE IN EVENT OF WAR.

CHAKA, A CLEVELAND PARTY OFFICIAL, SAID FOSTER HAD PRAISED THE CLEVELAND INDIANS AND COMMENDED THEM FOR "BREAKING DOWN JIM CROW."

"HE CONGRATULATED THE PEOPLE OF CLEVELAND," SAID CHAKA, "ESPECIALLY ON THE QUESTION OF SATCHELL PAIGE, ONE OF THE GREATEST PITCHERS IN YEARS, WHO HAD BEEN OVERLOOKED FOR YEARS."

PAIGE, A NEGRO, WAS SIGNED BY THE INDIANS LAST YEAR.

THE GOVERNMENT SCORED IN ITS CROSS-EXAMINATION.

U. S. ATTORNEY JOHN F. X. MCGOHEY TOSSED THIS ONE AT THE WITNESS: "WELL, JUST WHAT DID FOSTER SAY"--ABOUT RUSSIA AND THE U. S.?

"HE SPOKE ON HIS EXPERIENCES IN EUROPE," CHAKA SAID. "HE SAID THE PEOPLE WANT PEACE AND THAT IN CASE OF A WAR, IMPERIALIST AMERICA WOULD NOT FIND ANY ALLIES AMONG THESE PEOPLE."

FOSTER HIMSELF, OUT WITH A HEART AILMENT, WAS NOT ON THE DEFENSE BENCH WITH THE 11 OTHER TOP U. S. RED LEADERS.

HE WAS INDICTED WITH THEM ON CHARGES OF CONSPIRING TO ADVOCATE VIOLENT OVERTHROW OF THE GOVERNMENT, BUT HIS TRIAL WAS POSTPONED.

FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD R.MEDINA AGAIN YESTERDAY RULED OUT DEFENSE TESTIMONY CONCERNING "PERIPHERAL ISSUES" SUCH AS WHAT THE COMMUNISTS CLAIM THE CAPITALISTS ARE DOING TO THE WORKERS, AND WHAT THE COMMUNISTS CLAIM THEY ARE DOING FOR THE WORKERS.

OVER PROTESTS FROM THE DEFENSE, HE FORBADE ANY TESTIMONY ABOUT ALLEGED ATTACKS AND USE OF VIOLENCE BY CAPITALISTS AGAINST WORKERS.

EUGENE DENNIS, PARTY GENERAL SECRETARY WHO IS ACTING AS HIS OWN LAWYER, ARGUED THAT SUCH TESTIMONY WAS PART OF THE CASE.

"I THINK IT IS VERY GERMANE TO THE ISSUE," HE SAID. "ALL OF US ARE FAMILIAR WITH THE STORY OF THE RUBBER WHO CRIED THIEF TO AVOID UNMASKING."

"A ROBBER DID THAT?" ASKED THE JUDGE.

"YES," REPLIED DENNIS.

"VERY INTERESTING," COMMENTED THE JUDGE.

"ACTUALLY," SAID DENNIS, "THOSE WHO BROUGHT THIS CHARGE ARE THE ADVOCATES OF FORCE AND VIOLENCE."

"THAT STORY," SAID THE JUDGE, "CUTS BOTH WAYS."

WASHINGTON,AUG 3-(AP)-SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON TOOK STEPS TODAY TO MESH THE NATION'S MILITARY MACHINE WITH FEDERAL AGENCIES FIGHTING POLITICAL BATTLES ABROAD.

HE SET UP AN OFFICE OF FOREIGN MILITARY AFFAIRS TO HELP KEEP THE NATIONAL MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT IN STEP WITH THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL, THE STATE DEPARTMENT AND OTHER AGENCIES IN THE FIELD OF "POLITICO-MILITARY AFFAIRS."

N.F. HALABY, A FORMER STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIAL WHO BECAME FOREIGN AFFAIRS ADVISER TO THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE IN 1948, HEADS THE NEW SETUP. HE IS A NATIVE OF DALLAS, TEXAS.

AT THE SAME TIME JOHNSON CALLED MAJ.GEN.JAMES H.BURNS OUT OF RETIREMENT TO BE HIS SPECIAL CONSULTANT ON POLITICO-MILITARY MATTERS. BURNS, THEN A COLONEL, WAS EXECUTIVE TO JOHNSON WHEN THE LATTER WAS ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF WAR IN 1939. LATER HE BECAME EXECUTIVE OF THE POWERFUL BRITISH-AMERICAN MUNITIONS ASSIGNMENT BOARD THAT HARRY L.HOPKINS HEADED DURING WORLD WAR TWO.

THE NATIONAL MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT SAID THAT BURNS WILL ADVISE THE SECRETARY ON POLICY AND DISCUSS RELATED POLICIES WITH OFFICIALS OF THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL, THE STATE DEPARTMENT AND OTHER AGENCIES. THE ROLE OF THE GENERAL, WHO IS NOW 64, IS WIDELY EXPECTED TO GROW INTO THAT OF AN "ELDER STATESMAN." HE WILL HAVE NO EXECUTIVE OR ADMINISTRATIVE DUTIES AND WILL NOT BE RESPONSIBLE FOR HANDLING DAY-TO-DAY PROBLEMS.

OFFICIALS SAID THE NEW OFFICE OF FOREIGN MILITARY AFFAIRS HAS GROWN OUT OF THE INCREASING CONTACTS BETWEEN THE MILITARY DEPARTMENTS AND THE STATE DEPARTMENT IN CARRYING OUT AMERICAN POLICY LAID DOWN BY THE PRESIDENT, CONGRESS AND THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL.

AS AN EXAMPLE OF THE TYPE OF WORK IT WILL DO, A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT OUTLINED THIS HYPOTHETICAL CASE: POLICY ADVISORS MIGHT CONSIDER IT WISE, FROM THE STANDPOINT OF THE COUNTRY'S SECURITY, TO ESTABLISH CERTAIN MILITARY BASES ABROAD. THE NEW OFFICE WOULD APPRAISE THE FEASIBILITY OF THE BASES AND ESTIMATE THEIR VALUE FROM A MILITARY VIEWPOINT.

THE OFFICE WILL NOT BE CONCERNED WITH POLICY MATTERS IN THE OCCUPIED AREAS OF GERMANY, AUSTRIA AND JAPAN. TRACY S.VOORHEES, ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE ARMY, WILL CONTINUE TO HANDLE THEM. NEITHER WILL THE NEW SETUP HANDLE PROBLEMS REGARDING FOREIGN MILITARY ASSISTANCE UNDER THE BILL NOW BEFORE CONGRESS. MAJ.GEN.L.L.LEMNITZER, OF THE ARMY, WILL CONTINUE TO DEAL WITH THEM.

IN ANOTHER MOVE TO STRENGTHEN THE MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT, JOHNSON NAMED WILLIAM T.FARICY, PRESIDENT OF THE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN RAILROADS, TO HEAD A NEW CIVILIAN RESERVE POLICY BOARD.

THE BOARD WILL COORDINATE THE POLICIES AND PROGRAMS OF THE ORGANIZED RESERVE. THIS INCLUDES THE RESERVES OF THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE AND THE NATIONAL GUARD, BOTH GROUND AND AIR.

AUTHORITIES ALSO PREDICTED CONFIDENTLY THAT GENERAL OMAR N. BRADLEY, ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF, WILL BE APPOINTED SOON AS THE NATION'S HIGHEST RANKING MILITARY OFFICER--CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF.

(320) FIRST LEAD UNIFICATION

WASHINGTON,AUG.3-(AP)-WILLIAM THOMAS FARICY, CHICAGO ATTORNEY AND RAILROAD OFFICIAL, TODAY WAS NAMED HEAD OF THE NATIONAL MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT'S NEW CIVILIAN RESERVE POLICY BOARD.

FARICY'S APPOINTMENT BY SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON IS ANOTHER STEP IN EFFORTS TO STRENGTHEN ORGANIZATION OF THE NATION'S MILITARY SETUP.

LEGISLATION GIVING THE DEFENSE SECRETARY ADDITIONAL POWERS IN CONSOLIDATING THE ARMED FORCES WAS PASSED BY CONGRESS AND SENT TO THE WHITE HOUSE YESTERDAY.

ONLY PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S SIGNATURE IS NEEDED TO MAKE THE MEASURE LAW.

IN STILL ANOTHER MOVE TO COORDINATE ACTIVITIES OF THE ARMED SERVICES, JOHNSON HAS ORDERED THE NAVY TO TAKE OVER THE ARMY'S OCEAN-GOING VESSELS. THIS MEANS THE NAVY WILL DIRECT A NEW MILITARY SEA TRANSPORT SERVICE (MSTS) FOR ALL BRANCHES BEGINNING OCT.1.

IN A SIMILAR ACTION SOME TIME AGO, ALL MILITARY AIR TRANSPORT WAS SIWTCHED TO A SINGLE AGENCY--AIR TRANSPORT SERVICE (MATS). THIS NOW SERVES ALL THREE BRANCHES UNDER AIR FORCE CONTROL. THE NEXT STEP WILL BE A LAND TRANSPORTATION SERVICE UNDE

SERVES ALL THREE BRANCHES UNDER AIR FORCE CONTROL. THE NEXT STEP WILL BE A LAND TRANSPORTATION SERVICE UNDER ARMY CONTROL.

JOHNSON'S ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THE CIVILIAN COMPONENT POLICY BOARD TO BE HEADED BY FARICY WILL COORDINATE THE POLICIES AND PROGRAM OR THE ORGANIZED RESERVE. THIS INCLUDES THE ORGANIZED RESERVE. THIS INCLUDES THE RESERVE OF THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE, AND OF THE NATIONAL GUARD, BOTH GROUND AND AIR.

OTHER SIMILAR MOVES ARE EXPECTED UNDER THE NEW LEGISLATION PASSED BY CONGRESS AND AWAITING MR.TRUMAN'S SIGNATURE.

JOHNSON ACTUALLY SET UP THE CIVILIAN BOARD MAY 20 ON PERMANENT BASIS. BESIDES A CIVILIAN CHAIRMAN, THE BOARD INCLUDES A MILITARY EXECUTIVE OFFICER AND 18 OTHER MEMBERS REPRESENTING THE VARIOUS SERVICES UNDER THE MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT.

A SIMILAR TEMPORARY BOARD MADE A STUDY OF RESERVE FORCES FOR NATIONAL SECURITY UNDER THE LATE DEFENSE SECRETARY JAMES V.FORRESTAL.

FARICY, 56, HAS BEEN HEAD OF THE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN RAILROADS SINCE 1947. HE IS A NATIVE OF ST.PAUL, MINN. HE SERVED OVERSEAS AS AN OFFICER IN WORLD WAR I.

THE HOUSE FINISHED CONGRESSIONAL ACTION ON AN ARMED FORCES UNIFICATION BILL YESTERDAY BY A 356 TO 7 VOTE OF APPROVAL.

THE MAIN FEATURE OF THE MEASURE GIVES JOHNSON SPECIFIC--INSTEAD OF "GENERAL"--CONTROL OVER THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE. IT ALSO SETS UP A NEW ACCOUNTING SYSTEM INTENDED TO CUT ARMED SERVICES BUDGET EXPENSES.

THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF--THE TOP STRATEGY GROUP COMPOSED OF THE COMMANDERS OF THE THREE BRANCHES--WILL GET A PERMANENT CHAIRMAN UNDER THE BILL.

MOST OF THE CHANGES WERE RECOMMENDED BY THE HOOVER COMMISSION AND WERE SUPPORTED BY MR.TRUMAN, JOHNSON, AND THE LATE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JAMES V. FORRESTAL.

EVEN BEFORE TODAY'S DEBATE BEGAN, THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAD PROTESTED THAT AS THE BILL CAME OUT OF THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE A SECOND TIME, IT WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE ARMY TO TURN OVER ITS GERMAN OCCUPATION DUTIES TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

TO MEET OBJECTIONS THAT THE BILL CONTAINED LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS, WHICH UNDER SENATE RULES ARE NOT PERMITTED IN APPROPRIATION BILLS, THE COMMITTEE HAD KNOCKED OUT SOME HOUSE AMENDMENTS WHICH WOULD HAVE PERMITTED THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT TRANSFER.

DEMOCRATIC LEADER LUCAS SAID THE PROVISION WOULD HAVE TO GO BACK IN THE BILL SOMEHOW. MCKELLAR SAID IT WAS A TECHNICAL MATTER WHICH COULD BE IRONED OUT IN A CONFERENCE BETWEEN THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE.

THE MCCLELLAN FARM AMENDMENT IS NOT THE ONLY NEW PROPOSAL TO CAUSE THE ADMINISTRATION HEADACHES. ANOTHER PROPOSED AMENDMENT WOULD FREEZE $50,000,000 OF THE ECA FUNDS FOR A LOAN TO SPAIN. THE MONEY COULD NOT BE USED FOR ANY OTHER PURPOSE.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT, ARMED SERVICES AND THE ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION SENT 31 REPRESENTATIVES TO SUPPORT THE PROGRAM BEFORE THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE TODAY.

MAJ.GEN.LYMAN LEMNITZER OF THE ARMY AND DR.LLOYD V.BERKNER OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT HEADED THE GROUP, WHICH THE HOUSE COMMITTEE QUESTIONED BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS SAID THE INFORMATION THEY SUPPLIED WAS MOSTLY CONCERNING THE BACKGROUND OF THE PROGRAM.

"IT MAY TAKE SEVERAL DAYS TO BRING OUT ALL THE ANSWERS WE WANT," SAID ONE MEMBER, WHO DID NOT WANT TO BE QUOTED BY NAME. "WE ARE FAR FROM CONVINCED, AND THAT GOES FOR DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS ALIKE."

IN LONDON, ADMIRAL LOUIS E.DENFELD, U.S.NAVAL CHIEF OF OPERATIONS, SAID IN RESPONSE TO A REPORTER'S QUESTION THAT A DEFENSE ORGANIZATION UNDER THE ATLANTIC PACT MIGHT BE ESTABLISHED "BEFORE THE END OF THE YEAR."

ROME, ON THE OTHER HAND, HAS OFFERED THE FAO AMPLE BUILDING SPACE FOR NO COST AT ALL. COPENHAGEN HAS OFFERED SOME SPACE AND A LOAN TO HELP FINANCE ADDITIONAL SPACE.

SINCE THE FAO IS EXPECTED TO PLAY AN EVEN LARGER ROLE IN DEVELOPMENT OF WORLD AGRICULTURE, THE U.S. GOVERNMENT IS PARTICULARLY ANXIOUS TO HAVE ITS HEADQUARTERS LOCATED IN THIS COUNTRY.

TEMPORARY FAO HEADQUARTERS ARE LOCATED HERE NOW. A COMMITTEE SET UP TO RECOMMEND A PERMANENT SITE IS DUE TO START FINAL WORK ABOUT SEPT.30.

WASHINGTON,AUG.3"(AP)-MAJORITY LEADER LUCAS (D-ILL) SAID TODAY THE SENATE WILL CONSIDER A HOUSE-APPROVED PAY BOOST FOR THE MILITARY SERVICES BEFORE THE PRESENT SESSION ENDS.

"I AM CERTAIN THE MILITARY PAY BILL WILL COME UP FOR ACTION BUT I CAN'T SAY WHEN THAT WILL BE," LUCAS TOLD A REPORTER.

CHAIRMAN TYDINGS (D-MD) OF THE SENATE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE ALSO HAS PLEDGED ACTION ON THE MEASURE, WHICH WOULD RAISE THE PAY OF MOST OF THE 1,600,000 OFFICERS AND MEN AND WOMEN IN THE UNIFORMED SERVICES.

PREVIOUSLY TYDINGS HAD QUESTIONED SENATE ACTION UNTIL BOTH THE HOUSE AND SENATE AGREED UPON A UNIFICATION MEASURE THAT NOW LACKS ONLY PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S SIGNATURE.

SENATOR KNOWLAND (R-CALIF), A MEMBER OF THE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE, TOLD A REPORTER HE EXPECTS THE SENATE TO "PASS THE BILL UNLESS THEY START LOADING IT DOWN WITH AMENDMENTS."

SOME SENATORS HAVE THREATENED TO ATTACH PAY BOOSTS FOR CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT EMPLOYES TO THE MILITARY BILL.

AS PASSED BY THE HOUSE THE MEASURE WOULD ADD AN ESTIMATED $302,000,000 TO ANNUAL PAY FOR THE SERVICES, ALTHOUGH THE FIRST YEAR COSTS WOULD BE ABOUT $273,000,000.

THE SENATE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE MADE MINOR CHANGES IN THE HOUSE BILL WHEN IT WAS FAVORABLY REPORTED JULY 20. THESE INCLUDED A SLIGHTLY LARGER INCREASE IN THE PAY BOOST FOR GENERALS AND ADMIRALS WITH A DECREASE IN THE EXTRA FLIGHT PAY OR HAZARD PAY FOR OFFICERS COMPARED WITH THE HOUSE FIGURES.

WASHINGTON, AUG.3-(AP)-DR.RICHARD L.MEILING HAS PUT 25,000 MILES OF AIR TRAVEL AND RESEARCH BEHIND HIM SINCE HE TOOK OFFICE ON JULY 6 AS DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF THE MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT'S MEDICAL SERVICES DIVISION.

SATURDAY THE COLUMBUS, OHIO, PHYSICIAN-EDUCATOR WILL LEAVE FOR EUROPE WITH A MEDICAL RESEARCH MISSION ON ANOTHER INTENSIVE STUDY OF THE ARMED FORCES' MEDICAL NEEDS, THIS TIME IN THE EUROPEAN THEATRE.

DR.MEILING ALREADY HAS BEEN CHOSEN BY LOUIS JOHNSON, SECRETARY OF DEFENSE, TO HEAD OF THE MEDICAL DIVISION WHEN DR.RAYMOND B.ALLEN STEPS OUT AS DIRECTOR ON OCT.1. THAT WAS THE ARRANGEMENT WHEN THEY TOOK OFFICE TOGETHER TO SUPERVISE UNIFICATION OF THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE MEDICAL SERVICES.

DR.MEILING, NOT LOOKING VERY TRIED, GAVE A DESCRIPTION OF A PRETTY BUSY FELLOW WHEN HE TOLD A REPORTER TODAY OF HIS FIRST 28 DAYS ON THE JOB.

HIS TRAVELS, HE SAID, HAVE TAKEN HIM BY PLANE TO PANAMA, TRINIDAD, PUERTO RICO AND CUBA, IN ADDITION TO A SIMULATED COMBAT MISSION FROM NEBRASKA TO CALIFORNIA, NAVAL COMBAT MANEUVERS OFF THE ATLA TIC COAST, AND VARIOUS OTHER ASSIGNMENTS IN THE UNITED STATES.

HIS OBJECTIVE ON THESE TRIPS TO U.S. ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE BASES, HE SAID, IS TO HELP TO "MAKE SURE THAT WE HAVE MEDICAL TEAMS JUST AS CAPABLE AS THE COMBAT FORCES THEY SUPPORT."

BUILDING A MEDICAL SERVICE FOR THE ARMED SERVICES GOES FAR BEYOND MERELY GROUPING ENOUGH DOCTORS TO CARE FOR THE WOUNDS AND AILMENTS OF FIGHTING MEN, DR.MEILING SAID.

FOR INSTANCE, HE EXPLAINED, HE FLEW THE SIMULATED COMBAT MISSION AS PART OF A STUDY OF FATIGUE AND NERVOUS STRAIN ON AIRMEN COOPED UP FOR 10 TO 20 HOURS IN MEAGRE SPACE WHILE TENDING TO THEIR DUTIES AT GUNS, RADAR SCREENS, DIALS AND INDICATORS. THAT WAS ONLY PART OF THE STUDY INVOLVED IN THAT TRIP, HE ADDED.

THE ENGINEERING OF PLANES SO THAT THE MACHINE IS ACCOMMODATED TO THE PHYSICAL LIMITS OF THE MAN IN COMBAT, DEVELOPMENT OF NAVAL-AIR RESCUE TEAMS, THE MEDICAL MAN'S ROLE IN ACTUAL LAND, SEA AND AIR BATTLE, THE TRANSPORT CASUALTIES BY AIR FOR MEDICAL TREATMENT AT HOME, AND MYRIAD OTHER PROBLEMS AND DETAILS FALL INTO THE DEPARTMENT HE WILL HEAD. DR.MEILING, LIKE DR.ALLEN, IS A FIRM BELIEVER IN GETTING INFORMATION AT FIRST HAND. BOTH ARE STICKLERS FOR DETAIL.

DR.MEILING EXPLAINED CAREFULLY THAT UNIFICATION OF MEDICAL SERVICES DOES NOT MEAN HAVING ONE SERVICE FOR ALL THREE BRANCHES, BUT GIVING EACH ITS OWN MEDICAL DEPARTMENT, ALL WORKING AS A TEAM AND SHARING FACILITIES AS MUCH AS PRACTICABLE.

DR.MEILING HAS A KNACK FOR GETTING TEAMWORK. HE HAS AN EASY PERSONALITY, AND A REPUTATION FOR EFFICIENCY IN THE ARMY AND MEDICAL FIELDS THAT LEND WEIGHT TO HIS OPINIONS.

IN WORLD WAR II HE ORGANIZED AND DIRECTED THE AERIAL TRANSFER OF PATIENTS FROM BATTLE AREAS AND HOSPITAL AROUND THE WORLD FOR TREATMENT IN THE UNITED STATES. HIS WORK WON HIM DECORATIONS, AND A NAME FOR BEING AN EXPERT CUTTER OF RED TAPE, WILLING TO GET TOUGH IF OCCASION MERITS.

HE WAS A MEMBER OF THE STAFF OF THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF MEDICINE BEFORE TAKING ON HIS NEW ARMY TASK.

SAN FRANCISCO, AUG.3-(AP)-THE GOVERNMENT GOT INTO THE TOKYO ROSE TREASON TRIAL RECORD TODAY A SERIES OF POINTED STATEMENTS ATTRIBUTED TO DEFENDANT IVA TOGURI D'AQUINO.

THE FEDERAL COURT JURY HEARD THE LAST OF SIX PROSECUTION WITNESSES WHO SAID THEY HAD HEARD TOKYO ROSE IN THE PACIFIC. EACH IDENTIFIED THE VOICE ON GOVERNMENT MONITORED RECORDINGS AS THAT OF THE WOMAN WHO CAME TO THEM OVER THE AIR WITH POPULAR MUSIC AND COMMENT.

THE GOVERNMENT CONTENDS MRS. D'AQUINO--33 YEAR OLD LOS ANGELES BORN AMERICAN-JAPANESE--MADE THOSE BROADCASTS. IT ACCUSES HER OF TREASON BY TRYING TO UNDERMINE MORALE OF ALLIED FIGHTING MEN.

WILLIAM HALBERT THOMPSON, RIVERSIDE, CALIF., MECHANIC, SAID THAT ON CAPE CLOUCESTER IN MARCH, 1944, HE HEARD A VOICE ON THE RADIO WHICH IDENTIFIED ITSELF AS ORPHAN ANN:

"JUST IMAGINE YOU WERE SITTING BESIDE YOUR GIRL AT A DRIVE-IN IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. YOU COULD BE IF YOU WOULD ONLY GIVE UP THIS FRUITLESS FIGHT."

MARSHALL HOOT, 49, ALHAMBRA, CALIF., A CHIEF BOATSWAIN'S MATE IN THE WAR, SAID HE WELL REMEMBERED THE DAY A COMMANDER PERRY LANDED ON ABEMAMA ISLAND.

"SHE (TOKYO ROSE) BROADCAST THAT DAY: 'CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR SAFE LANDING, COMMANDER PERRY. BUT YOU'LL BE SORRY IF YOU DON'T LEAVE NOW."

SAM M.CAVNAR, VAN NUYS, CALIF., RADIOMAN, TESTIFIED HE WAS ON AN INVASION SHIP HEADED FOR SAIPAN IN AUGUST 1944 WHEN HE HEARD:

"HELLO, YOU BONEHEADS OUT IN THE PACIFIC. THIS IS ORPHAN ANN, TALKING TO YOU OUT THERE ON YOUR MOSQUITO INFESTED ISLANDS."

"THEN SHE PLAYED A RECORD," CAVNAR CONTINUED. "THEN SHE SAID, 'WASN'T THAT NICE? DOESN'T IT REMIND YOU OF DANCING WITH YOUR GIRL IN THE COCONUT GROVE IN LOS ANGELES?"

DENFELD SPOKE AFTER HE, ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF GEN. OMAR N.BRADLEY AND AIR FORCE CHIEF OF STAFF GEN. HOYT S.VANDENBERG MET FOR MORE THAN THREE HOURS WITH THE BRITISH CHIEFS OF STAFF.

BERLIN, AUG. 3-(AP)-MRS.ERIKA RAEDER, WIFE OF THE GRAND ADMIRAL WHO HEADED HITLER'S FLEET, TOLD TODAY OF FOUR YEARS OF CAPTIVITY IN RUSSIAN HANDS.

IN THAT TIME, MRS.RADER SAID, THE RUSSIANS FED HER CAVIAR IN MOSCOW, LET HER GO HUNGRY IN MINSK, SET HER TO PEELING POTATOES IN SACHSENHAUSEN CONCENTRATION CAMP, AND QUESTIONED HER FREQUENTLY. FINALLY THEY RELEASED HER--WITHOUT EXPLANATION.

"THE WHOLE THING WAS WITHOUT RHYME OR REASON," SHE SAID.

SHE IS GOING TO THE HOME OF A SON NEAR KIEL, IN THE BRITISH ZONE OF OCCUPATION. HER HUSBAND, ERICH RADER, IS SERVING A LIFE TERM IN SPANDAU PRISON, RUN BY THE FOUR OCCUPATION POWERS. HE WAS CONVICTED AT NUERNBERG OF WAGING WAR. THE RUSSIANS TOOK THE RADERS TO MOSCOW WHEN TROOPS OVERRAN THEIR HOME NEAR BERLIN IN 1945.

MRS.RAEDER SAID AT ONE TIME SHE WAS KEPT IN A CELLAR FOUR MONTHS. WHEN SHE WAS RELEASED FROM SACHENSENHAUSEN, JULY 1, SHE WAS ORDERED TO DTAY IN THE RUSSIAN OCCUPATION ZONE. SHE SAID SHE COULD NOT FIND A ROOM IN POTSDAM, WHERE SHE WAS TOLD SHE COULD LIVE. SHE RODE AN ELEVATED TRAIN INTO THE AMERICAN SECTOR OF BERLIN.

BERLIN, AUG. 3-(AP)-THE RUSSIANS TODAY REJECTED AN ALLIED PROTEST THAT THEY HAD BROKEN THEIR WAGE AGREEMENT WITH WEST BERLIN RAILWAY WORKERS.

WEST BERLIN'S LONG RAILWAY STRIKE ENDED JUNE 28 WHEN THE RUSSIAN-CONTROLLED REICHSBAHN AGREED TO PAY 60 PER CENT WEST MARK WAGES TO WORKERS LIVING IN THE WESTERN SECTORS. THE ANTI-COMMUNIST STRIKERS HAD ASKED 100 PER CENT WEST MARK PAY.

ON JULY 20 THE WESTERN ALLIES WROTE TO THE RUSSIANS, PROTESTING THAT WORKERS WHO LIVE IN WEST BERLIN BUT WHO WORK IN THE SOVIET SECTOR WERE NOT BEING PAID ACCORDING TO THE AGREEMENT.

LAST NIGHT THE WESTERN ALLIES AUTHORIZED THE WEST BERLIN CITY GOVERNMENT TO PAY THE 1,922 WESTERN BERLIN WORKERS AFFECTED 100 PER CENT WEST MARK PAY.

THE RUSSIAN REPLY SAID THE WESTERN ALLIES HAD NOT INTERPRETED THE AGREEMENT CORRECTLY.

IT SAID NO STRIKE HAD BEEN CONDUCTED IN THE SOVIET SECTOR, AND THAT TERMS OF THE STRIKE-ENDING AGREEMENT AFFECTED ONLY WORKERS WHO LIVED AND WORKED IN WEST BERLIN.

A BRITISH MILITARY SPOKESMAN TERMED THE RUSSIAN REFUSAL "A DELIBERATE BREACH OF CONTRACT."

"IT IS DIFFICULT TO UNDERSTAND THE SOVIET CONTENTION THAT NO STRIKE TOOK PLACE IN THE EASTERN SECTOR WHEN APPROXIMATELY 2,000 TO THE 15,000 STRIKERS WERE EMPLOYED IN THE EASTERN SECTOR," HE SAID.

W.T.BABCOCK, DEPUTY U.S. COMMANDANT OF BERLIN DECLARED "AT NO TIME WAS THERE ANY MISUNDERSTANDING VERBALLY OR IN WRITING ABOUT THE RAILROAD MEN WHO WERE INVOLVED," HE SAID.

THE WORKERS IN QUESTION WILL BE PAID FROM A FUND OF 6,000,000 WEST MARKS MADE AVAILABLE BY THE WESTERN COMMANDANTS, BABCOCK ADDED.

"THIS IS NO DOUBT ONE OF THE MAIN REASONS FOR THE TREMENDOUS EXODUS FROM EASTERN EUROPE AND THE SOVIET ZONE OF GERMANY WHICH WE HAVE WITNESSED IN RECENT YEARS AND WHICH STILL CONTINUES--A FLIGHT OF MILLIONS TO THE WEST". WHY, HE ASKED, SHOULD WORKERS FLEE FROM "THE WORKERS' PARADISE"? CENTRAL EUROPE

THE COUNCIL IS DISCUSSING MEASURES FOR THE ABOLITION OF FORCED LABOR AND THE POSSIBILITIES OF MAKING A SURVEY OF ITS EXTENT.

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAS NOT EXPLAINED HOW THE COPY OF THE CODEX CAME INTO ITS POSSESSION.

"WHY MUST THE SOVIET UNION GUARD ITS FORCED LABOR CAMPS LIKE SOME SHAMEFUL SECRET?" SMITH ASKED. "IS IT THAT THEY DARE NOT REVEAL THE TRUTH BECAUSE IT WOULD STRIP THE LAST SHREDS OF CREDIBILITY FROM THEIR CLAIM TO BE A PROGRESSIVE COUNTRY, A COUNTRY WHERE THE WORKERS ARE DECENTLY TREATED?"

SMITH SAID THAT ACCORDING TO THE BEST BRITISH INFORMATION THERE ARE "RATHER MORE THAN TEN MILLION" VICTIMS OF THE SOVIET SYSTEM.

AS SMITH SPOKE, JULIUS KATZ-SUCHY, THE POLISH DELEGATE WHO EMPHATICALLY SUPPORTED THE SOVIET UNION ON THIS QUESTION AT THE LAST SESSION OF THE COUNCIL, READ A NEWSPAPER. HE WAS SEATED BESIDE THE BRITISH SPEAKER.

KATZ-SUCHY ARGUED AT THAT TIME, SMITH SAID, THAT IF THERE HAD BEEN 10,000,000 SLAVES IN RUSSIA, THE RUSSIANS WOULD NEVER HAVE BEEN ABLE TO WAGE WAR FOR FOUR YEARS.

"I WAS MUCH IMPRESSED BY HIS FORCEFUL ARGUMENT UNTIL I SUDDENLY REMEMBERED THAT IT WAS BY NO MEANS IMPOSSIBLE," SMITH SAID. "IN FACT IT HAD ALREADY HAPPENED ONCE IN THE LAST TEN YEARS. THE NAZIS FOUGHT FOR SIX YEARS AND YET THEY MUST HAVE HAD TEN MILLIONS IN THEIR CONCENTRATION CAMPS OR DOING OTHER FORCED LABOR IN GERMANY."

REFERRING TO THE CODEX, SMITH SAID THAT IN THE SOVIET UNION "PEOPLE ARE CONDEMNED TO FORCED LABOR WITHOUT TRIAL IN A COURT OF LAW," AND THEY ARE CONDEMNED" FOR HOLDING OPINIONS CONTRARY TO THOSE OF THE GOVERNMENT AND RULING CLASS." HE READ A PARAGRAPH PROVIDING THAT RUSSIANS COULD BE SENT TO CAMPS ON AN OPEN WARRANT.

"SUCH DESPOTIC PROCEDURES HAVE BEEN KNOWN IN THE PAST, BUT IT IS HUNDREDS OF YEARS SINCE THE STAR CHAMBER WAS ABOLISHED IN ENGLAND," SMITH SAID.

SMITH SAID THE "MAIN SOURCE OF SUPPLY OF FORCED LABOR IS CONSTITUTED BY POLITICAL OFFENDERS."

FH853AED

"THE SITUATION APPEARS TO BE", SMITH SAID, "THAT IF THE GOVERNMENT DOES NOT LIKE YOUR OPINIONS, IT CONDEMNS YOU TO FORCED LABOR UNTIL SUCH TIME AS YOU RENOUNCE YOUR OPINIONS OR UNTIL YOU DIE IN A CAMP. THIS, MR. PRESIDENT, IS PERSECUTION RAISED TO THE DIGNITY OF A SYSTEM."

SMITH THEN READ A PASSAGE FROM THE CODEX:

"THE TASK OF THE PENAL POLICY OF THE PROLETARIAT DURING THE PERIOD OF TRANSITION FROM CAPITALISM TO SOCIALISM IS THE DEFENSE OF THE DICTATORSHIP OF THE PROLETARIAT AND THE SOCIALIST CONSTRUCTION BEING CARRIED OUT BY IT AGAINST THE ENCROACHMENTS BY CLASS-HOSTILE ELEMENTS AND INFRINGEMENTS NOT ONLY ON THE PART OF THE DECLASSE ELEMENTS BUT ALSO OF UNSTABLE ELEMENTS AMONG THE WORKERS."

SMITH COMMENTED:

"IF FURTHER CLARIFICATION IS REQUIRED OF THE BIAS OF THE SOVIET LEGAL SYSTEM AGAINST POLITICAL NON-CONFORMISTS I SUGGEST THAT DELEGATES SHOULD LOOK AT THE CRIMINAL CODE OF THE RSFSR, WHICH IN ARTICLE 46 DIVIDES CRIME INTO POLITICAL AND OTHER CRIMES. FOR POLITICAL CRIMES MINIMUM SENTENCES ARE LAID DOWN. FOR ALL OTHER CRIMES MAXIMUM SENTENCES ARE LAID DOWN AND MAY NOT BE EXCEEDED BY THE COURT."

HE SAID THE CODEX PROVIDED FOR THE GUARDING OF POLITICAL PRISONERS BY COMMON CRIMINALS, ADDING, "WE CAN ONLY SUPPOSE THAT THE NUMBER OF POLITICAL PRISONERS IN THESE COLONIES IS SO IMMENSE THAT THERE ARE NOT ENOUGH WARDERS TO GO AROUND AND CRIMINALS HAVE TO BE EMPLOYED TO GUARD THEM."

THIS, SMITH SAID, "WAS ONE OF THE NASTIEST FEATURES OF THE NAZI CONSENTRATION CAMPS."

SMITH SAID THE SOVIET LABOR CAMP SYSTEM "INCLUDES VAST ENTERPRISES LIKE THE REMOTE MINING REGION OF DALSTROI IN EASTERN SIBERIA AND KARAGANDA IN THE DESERTS OF CENTRAL ASIA WHICH HAVE BEEN PEOPLED IN THIS WAY."

"THE UNITED KINGDOM DELEGATION HAS NO OBJECTION TO PRISONERS DOING USEFUL WORK BUT WE MUST SOLEMNLY PROTEST AGAINST THIS EXPLOITATION OF MILLIONS OF WORKERS, MOSTLY FOR OFFENSES WHICH WOULD NOT BE CONSIDERED AS OFFENSES IN OTHER COUNTRIES, EXCEPTING POSSIBLY IN FRANCO SPAIN."

SMITH SAID THE CODEX DIVIDED FORCED LABOR INTO THREE CATEGORIES: FORCED LABOR WITHOUT DEPRIVATION OF FREEDOM, FORCED LABOR COMBINED WITH EXILE AND FORCED LABOR WITH DEPRIVATION OF FREEDOM. THIS THIRD CATEGORY, HE SAID, IS THE "SOVIET COLONIAL SYSTEM."

"ALL IN ALL IT CONSTITUTES A VAST RESERVOIR OF REGIMENTED LABOR WHICH CAN BE MOVED ABOUT AT WILL, EVEN TO THE REMOTEST ARCTIC REGIONS OR TO THE DEPTHS OF SIBERIA, WHERE FREE WORKERS COULD ONLY BE INDUCED TO GO IN SMALL NUMBERS, WITH GREAT DIFFICULTY AND FOR HIGH WAGES," HE SAID.

"SOME OF THE ACHIEVEMENTS OF THESE MASS LABOR COLONIES ARE NO DOUBT IMPRESSIVE. SO ARE THE PYRAMIDS, WHICH WERE BUILT BY SIMILAR METHODS. SO TOO WAS THE WEST WALL, WHICH THE (NAZI) TODT ORGANIZATION WITH ITS SLAVE LABOR ERECTED ALONG THE ATLANTIC COAST TO DEFEND HITLER'S CONQUESTS AGAINST THE ALLIED LANDING FORCES." SMITH CHALLENGED THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT TO ACCEPT "AN IMPARTIAL INQUIRY."

"IF THE SOVIET UNION IS PREPARED TO OPEN ITS DOORS WE SHALL BE ONLY TOO GLAD TO DO LIKEWISE," HE SAID. "WE HAVE NOTHING TO HIDE. IF THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT IMPOSES ITS VETO ON THE VISIT OF A UNITED NATIONS MISSION, THEN THERE SEEMS LITTLE POINT IN SETTING UP A COMMISSION. WHAT THE UNITED KINGDOM WANTS IS A STRAIGHT ANSWER FROM THE DELEGATE OF THE SOVIET UNION."

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA, AUG 3-(AP)-PREMIER MARSHAL TITO FORECAST YESTERDAY THAT BULGARIA AND ALBANIA WOULD QUIT THE MOSCOW-LED COMINFORM AND OFFERED THEM A HELPING HAND IN SHAKING OFF RUSSIAN DOMINATION.

TITO HAS BEEN TILTING WITH THE COMINFORM (COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL INFORMATION BUREAU) SINCE JUNE OF LAST YEAR, WHEN YUGOSLAVIA'S COMMUNISTS WERE EXPELLED FOR NATIONALISM AND OTHER DEVIATIONS FROM THE MOSCOW BRAND OF MARXISM-LENINISM.

BOTH BULGARIA AND ALBANIA HAVE HAD RECENT PURGES AMONG HIGH COMMUNIST LEADERS WHO WERE CHARGED WITH HERESIES SIMILAR TO THE ACCUSATIONS LEVELLED AGAINST TITO.

THE YUGOSLAV LEADER SPOKE YESTERDAY AT SKOPLJE BEFORE AN AUDIENCE ESTIMATED AT 350,000 BY YUGOSLAV OFFICIALS. IT WAS THE FIRST TIME IN RECENT MONTHS HE APPEARED IN MACEDONIA, WHICH HAS BEEN SUBJECTED TO PROPAGANDA FROM ANTI-TITO FACTIONS URGING AN INDEPENDENT STATE MADE UP OF YUGOSLAV, BULGARIAN AND GREEK MACEDONIA.

TITO DECLARED THE BULGARIAN PEOPLE ULTIMATELY WOULD IGNORE "SLANDERS AGAINST YUGOSLAVIA AND EXTEND THEIR FRATERNAL HAND TO US AND WE WILL HELP THEM REMOVE WHATEVER INDIVIDUALS HAVE SO FAR PUT OBSTACLES IN THE PATH OF THE CREATION AND PRESERVATION OF BROTHERLY RELATIONS."

HE SAID THIS STATEMENT ALSO APPLIED TO ALBANIA, YUGOSLAVIA'S TINY NEIGHBOR TO THE SOUTH.

TRAICHO KOSTOV, FORMER VICE PREMIER OF BULGARIA AND FORMER MEMBER OF THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE BULGARIAN COMMUNIST PARTY, WAS EXPELLED FROM THE PARTY IN JUNE AFTER BEING CHARGED WITH NATIONALISM AND AN UNFRIENDLY ATTITUDE TOWARD THE SOVIET UNION.

AT ABOUT THE SAME TIME, FORMER DEPUTY PREMIER KOCI XOXE OF ALBANIA WAS EXECUTED AFTER BEING CONVICTED OF TREASON. XOXE HAD BEEN REPORTED SIDING WITH TITO IN HIS QUARREL WITH THE COMINFORM.

REFERRING TO TWO OTHER COMMUNIST NEIGHBORS OF YUGOSLAVIA, TITO SAID THE COMINFORM CAMPAIGN AGAINST HIM HAD UNLEASED "CHAUVINISTIC PASSIONS" IN HUNGARY AND ROMANIA.

HE SAID LEADING COMMUNISTS IN THOSE COUNTRIES WERE "QUITE AUDIBLY WHISPERING" THAT SOMETHING COULD BE WRENCHED FROM YUGOSLAVIA BECAUSE IT WAS "CAPITALIST," WHILE THEIR COUNTRIES WERE "SOCIALIST."

"WE TRIED WITH THE GREATEST SACRIFICES," TITO DECLARED, "TO CREATE THE CLOSEST RELATIONS WITH THE PEOPLES OF THOSE COUNTRIES. BUT IT WAS IN THE INTERESTS OF SOME PEOPLE TO SPOIL THOSE RELATIONS."

HE SAID THE YUGOSLAV PEOPLE "CANNOT BE SHAKEN NOR INTIMIDATED FROM FIRMLY PERSISTING IN THEIR STRUGGLE FOR THE FREEDOM, INTEGRITY AND INDEPENDENCE OF THEIR SOCIALIST HOMELAND."

THE OCCASION FOR TITO'S SPEECH WAS THE FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF MACEDONIA, A FEDERAL STATE WITHIN YUGOSLAVIA.

HE HAS GONE TO CONSIDERABLE LENGTHS TO ASSURE THIS PART OF THE COUNTRY OF EQUAL TREATMENT, BUT HIS SPEECH DEALT STERNLY WITH THE QUESTION OF AN INDEPENDENT MACEDONIA.

TODAY'S BELGRADE PRESS, MEANWHILE, HEAPED SCORN ON RUSSIA'S EXCUSE FOR NOT PARTICIPATING IN THIS COUNTRY'S INTERNATIONAL FAIR OPENING AT ZAGREB NEXT MONTH. TASS, THE SOVIET NEWS AGENCY, HAD SAID THE DECISION WAS PROMPTED BY YUGOSLAVIA'S JAILING OF RUSSIAN CITIZENS CHARGED WITH SPYING AND SABOTAGE.

BORBA, THE OFFICIAL YUGOSLAV COMMUNIST NEWSPAPER, SAID THE RUSSIAN DECISION, ON THE CONTRARY, WAS PART OF A CAMPAIGN OF ECONOMIC DISCRIMINATION AGAINST YUGOSLAVIA.

ROME, AUG. 3-(AP)-YUGOSLAVIA AND ITALY WILL SIGN A MAJOR TRADE TREATY HERE TOMORROW.

SOME $90,000,000 WORTH OF GOODS WILL BE EXCHANGED BY THE TWO NATIONS WHICH HAVE BEEN AT SHARP ODDS PERIODICALLY SINCE THE WAR.

ITALY BROKE OFF THE TRADE TALKS RECENTLY AFTER YUGOSLAVIA'S PREMIER-MARSHAL TITO SUDDENLY ORDERED SUBSTITUTION OF HIS NATION'S OFFICIAL DINAR FOR YUGOSLAV OCCUPATION MONEY IN THE YUGOSLAV-CONTROLLED ZONE OF TRIESTE.

ITALY PROTESTED TO THE WESTERN POWERS AND THE UNITED NATIONS THAT THE CURRENCY CHANGE VIOLATED THE PEACE TREATY. LATER A SETTLEMENT WAS REACHED.

A FOREIGN MINISTRY SPOKESMAN SAID TOIGHT HE KNEW NOTHING OF REPORTS THAT PREMIER DE GASPERI OF ITALY PLANNED A MEETING WITH TITO IN THE NEXT 10 DAYS. THE REPORTS WERE SAID TO HAVE ORIGINATED IN VIENNA AND WERE THE BASIS FOR WIDE SPECULATION IN THE ITALIAN PRESS.

ECONOMIC OBSERVERS VIEWED THE ITALO-YUGOSLAV TRADE DEAL AS A FURTHER INDICATION OF TITO'S NEED TO REACH WESTWARD AND BETTER HIS ECONOMIC RELATIONS. HE HAS BEEN LARGELY SHUT OFF IN TRADE DEALINGS WITH EASTERN COMMUNIST NATIONS.

BUCHAREST, ROMANIA, AUG 3-(AP)-THE ROMANIAN GOVERNMENT YESTERDAY REQUESTED THE RECALL OF RODERICK SARREL, BRITISH CHARGE D'AFFAIRES HERE FOR "ACTIVITY CONTRARY TO THE LAWS OF THE ROMANIAN POPULAR REPUBLIC AND DIPLOMATIC CUSTOM."

(LAST WEEK IN LONDON A FOREIGN OFFICE SPOKESMAN DESCRIBED SARREL'S ARREST BY ROMANIAN POLICE AS "INEXCUSABLE." A FOREIGN OFFICE SOURCE SAID LAST NIGHT THE AFFAIR APPEARED TO BE "AN OBVIOUS PLANT DESIGNED TO DISCREDIT SARREL AND THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT.")

(SARREL'S REPORT ON HIS ARREST SAID ROMANIAN OFFICIALS CONFRONTED HIM WITH AN ALLEGED CONFESSION OF A MINOR EMPLOYE OF THE BRITISH LEGATION, ASSERTING THE LEGATION WAS BEING USED TO HELP SEVERAL ANTI-GOVERNMENT NATIONALS TO ESCAPE ROMANIA.)

THE ROMANIAN NEWS AGENCY SAID THE REQUEST FOR SARREL'S RECALL FOLLOWED THE ARREST LAST WEEKTVGANG

THE COMMUNIQUE SAID WHEN THE ARMY CAPTURED A HEIGHT ON THE GREEK-ALBANIAN BORDER IT WAS OPPOSED BY A BARRAGE FIRED "BY ALBANIANS FROM ALBANIAN TERRITORY." THE GREEK ARMY HAS CHARGED THAT THE MAIN ASSISTANCE TO GUERRILLA FORCES IS COMING FROM ALBANIA.

THE COMMUNIQUE SAID THAT THE ARMY SUFFERED FIVE KILLED AND 10 WOUNDED IN THE VITSI MOUNTAIN AREA.

THE INDONESIAN SETTLEMENT FOLLOWED RELEASE BY THE DUTCH LAST MONTH OF REPUBLICAN PRESIDENT SOEKARNO, PREMIER MOHAMMED HATTA AND OTHER LEADERS THEY HAD HELD ON BANGKA ISLAND FOLLOWING THE DUTCH WINTER "POLICE ACTION." BATAVIA  INDO CHINA.

THE U.N. SECURITY COUNCIL HAD DIRECTED THE RELEASE OF THE REPUBLICAN LEADERS AND URGED FURTHER NEGOTIATIONS. THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY POSTPONED DEBATE ON THE INDONESIAN QUESTION IN NEW YORK LAST MAY, PENDING THE OUTCOME OF UNCI'S EFFORTS TO BRING THE TWO SIDES TOGETHER.

THE NEW PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT PLAN REPRESENTS A MARKED ADVANCE, IN THE REPUBLICANS' FAVOR, OVER A PLAN WORKED OUT BY REPRESENTATIVES OF NON-REPUBLICAN STATES AT THE BANDOENG CONFERENCE IN JULY, 1948, AND COMPLETED LATER LAST YEAR AT THE HAGUE.

THE BANDOENG PLAN PROVIDED FOR FINAL AUTHORITY TO REST WITH THE DUTCH QUEEN AND TO BE EXERCISED THROUGH A CROWN REPRESENTATIVE DURING AN INTERIM PERIOD, WHILE A PERMANENT GOVERNMENT WAS BEING FORMED.

THE PROVISIONAL FEDERAL GOVERNMENT WOULD HAVE BEEN HEADED BY THREE INDONESIANS NAMED BY MEMBER STATES. THESE THREE WOULD HAVE NAMED A FEDERAL COUNCIL TO ADVISE THEM AND AN ADMINISTRATIVE "COUNCIL OF SECRETARIES OF STATE" AND SUPERVISED THE CHOICE OF A THIRD BODY OF FEDERAL REPRESENTATIVES.

ALL APPOINTMENTS WOULD HAVE BEEN SUBJECT TO DUTCH APPROVAL, HOWEVER, AND THE CROWN REPRESENTATIVE WOULD HAVE RETAINED SUPREME AUTHORITY OVER ALL ARMED FORCES, INCLUDING DUTCH TROOPS.

THE NEW PLAN CALLS FOR A SOVEREIGN STATE DURING THE INTERIM PERIOD, WITH A PRESIDENT AND A WESTERN EUROPEAN-TYPE CABINET CONTROLLING ITS OWN ARMED FORCES. IT ALSO CALLS FOR A CONGRESS ON THE AMERICAN MODEL--A HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES BASED ON POPULATION AND A SENATE WITH EACH MEMBER STATE HAVING AN EQUAL VOTE.

THE INDONESIAN REPUBLICANS CLAIM THE RIGHT TO CONTROL OF ALL JAVA, SUMATRA AND MADOERA, RULED BEFORE THE WAR BY LOCAL GOVERNMENTS UNDER DUTCH CENTRAL AUTHORITY.

THE BANDOENG PLAN VIRTUALLY IGNORED THEIR CLAIMS, REFERRING TO THE REPUBLIC ONLY AS ONE OF THE UNORGANIZED TERRITORIES WHICH WOULD BE INVITED LATER TO JOIN THE FEDERATION.

THE NEW PLAN INCLUDES THE REPUBLIC AS A MEMBER STATE AND STIPULATES THAT IT SHALL HAVE AT LEAST ONE-THIRD OF THE MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. IT CONSIDERS THE REPUBLIC TO COVER THE AREAS HELD UNDER THE JANUARY, 1948, RENVILLE AGREEMENT--ABOUT ONE-THIRD OF JAVA AND MOST OF THE INTERIOR OF SUMATRA--BUT WITHOUT PREJUDICE TO REPUBLICANS' BROADER CLAIMS. FINAL BOUNDARIES ARE SUPPOSED TO BE DETERMINED LATER BY PLEBISCITES.

THE PROVISIONAL SENATE UNDER THE NEW PLAN CAN BE OVERRULED BY A TWO-THIRDS VOTE OF THE HOUSE, WHERE THE REPUBLIC WILL BE STRONG. THE REPUBLICANS WERE SAID TO HAVE WON AN ARGUMENT THAT THEY FEARED A POWERFUL SENATE IN WHICH SMALL AREAS WITH LITTLE POPULATION COULD DOMINATE.

(A DUTCH OFFICIAL IN THE HAGUE SAID TONIGHT THE REPUBLIC'S INFLUENCE IN THE LEGISLATURE WOULD BE VERY GREAT. HE SAID IT COULD BE TAKEN AS CERTAIN THE PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT WOULD BE A REPUBLICAN).

NEITHER PLAN INCLUDED DEFINITE POINTS ON THE CRUCIAL QUESTION OF THE EXACT RELATIONSHIP WITH THE NETHERLANDS UNDER THE DUTCH CROWN. THAT WILL BE TAKEN UP AT THE HAGUE ROUND-TABLE CONFERENCE.

HA654PED

THE JOINT CEASE-FIRE PROCLAMATION SAID "HENCEFORTH THE ENDEAVORS OF EVERYONE MUST BE DEDICATED TO BANISHING ANY THOUGHT OF ENMITY OR REVENGE AND TO REMOVING ANY VESTIGE OF FEAR OR DISTRUST."

BOTH DUTCH AND REPUBLICAN FORCES WILL RETAIN THEIR ARMS. THE CEASE-FIRE AGREEMENT PROVIDES THAT COOPERATIVE ARRANGEMENTS WILL BE MADE FOR ARMED PATROLS BY BOTH SIDES TO MAINTAIN LAW AND ORDER.

THE AGREEMENT ALSO PROVIDES FOR THE RELEASE OF ALL PERSONS ARRESTED AS A CONSEQUENCE OF THE DUTCH-REPUBLICAN FIGHTING. A CENTRAL JOINT BOARD UNDER THE CHAIRMANSHIP OF A MEMBER OF THE UNITED NATIONS COMMISSION ON INDONESIA IS TO BE ESTABLISHED TO SUPERVISE THE CEASE-FIRE ARRANGEMENTS. BATAVIA- XXX THE HAGUE

COMMENTING ON THE PROCLAMATION, A.H.J. LOVINK, HIGH REPRESENTATIVE OF THE DUTCH CROWN, SAID IT MEANT FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN INDONESIA AND THE NETHERLANDS IS ABOUT TO BE REBORN.

IN A RADIO MESSAGE TO DUTCH SOLDIERS AND SAILORS IN THE INDIES, LOVINK SAID THE "FIGHTING, SORROW AND BLOOD" OF THE LAST FEW YEARS HAD NOT BEEN IN VAIN BECAUSE EXCEPT FOR THE USE OF DUTCH FORCES IN THE INDONESIAN CONFLICT, "NO REBIRTH OF FRIENDSHIP WOULD HAVE BEEN POSSIBLE NOW OR IN THE FUTURE."

"THERE NEVER HAS BEEN REAL HOSTILITY BETWEEN THE NETHERLANDERS AND THE INDONESIANS," HE SAID. THEN, SPEAKING TO INDONESIANS, HE SAID THEY CAN BE ASSURED OF DUTCH GOOD WILL. HE URGED THEM TO END THEIR FIGHTING, AND TO GUARD AGAINST SABOTAGE OF GOODS WHICH WILL BE ASSETS IN THE FUTURE FEDERATION.

NANKING, AUG 3-(AP)-OFFICIAL BRITISH SOURCES SAID TODAY THE SLOOP AMETHYST WAS HIT AT LEAST ONCE BY ARTILLERY FIRE LAST SATURDAY NIGHT AHS SHE RAN A GAUNTLET OF CHINESE COMMUNIST SHORE GUNS ALONG THE YANGTZE.

THESE SOURCES SAID A COMMUNIST SHELL HIT AND SET AFIRE WHAT APPEARED TO BE A CHINESE GUNBOAT ON THE RIVER IN AN EFFORT TO CRIPPLE OR SINK THE AMETHYST. THE SLOOP HAD BEEN HELD HOSTAGE ON THE RIVER SINCE LAST APRIL 20.

(THE COMMUNIST RADIO IN PEIPING YESTERDAY SAID THE AMETHYST SANK A CHINESE SHIP ON THE RIVER CAUSING "SEVERAL HUNDRED" PERSONS TO DROWN.)

A 75 MILLIMETER SHELL HIT THE AMETHYST FORWARD AS SHE RACED DOWN THE RIVER, THESE SOURCES SAID. NO CASUALTIES RESULTED BUT PARTS OF THE SHIP WERE FLOODED, THEY SAID.

THE AMETHYST CAME UNDER HEAVY FIRE FROM MACHINEGUNS AND ARTILLERY IN HER DASH FOR THE SEA. THE COMMUNIST OFFICER IN CHARGE OF THE SHORE BATTERIES HAD WARNED THE AMETHYST SHE WOULD BE SUNK IF SHE ATTEMPTED TO ESCAPE.

BRITISH SOURCES SAID THE AMETHYST, NAVIGATING WITHOUT A PILOT, HAD BEEN FOLLOWING A STEAMER DOWN THE RIVER WHEN THE SHORE GUNS HIT WHAT APPEARED TO BE A CHINESE GUNBOAT.

OFFICIAL BRITISH SOURCES SAID:

"THE DECISION TO TRY TO ESCAPE FROM THE VIRTUAL IMPRISONMENT TO WHICH THE SHIP HAD BEEN LONG EXPOSED WAS TAKEN IN VIEW OF THE STATE OF EXHAUSTION OF THE CREW AS THE INEVITABLE RESULT OF CONDITIONS OF LIFE, THE EXTREME SUMMER CLIMATE OF THE YANGTZE AND THE RAPID CONSUMPTION OF THE FUEL RESERVE.

"REPLACEMENTS OF FUEL AND SUPPLIES REQUIRED PERMITS FROM THE COMMUNISTS. FAILURE OF THE SHIP'S POWER WOULD HAVE PUT THE AMETHYST OUT OF WIRELESS CONTACT WITH BRITISH NAVAL HEADQUARTERS.

"THE SHIP'S CREW HAD TO EXIST UNDER UNBEARABLE CONDITIONS--- THE SHORTAGE OF SUPPLIES AND OTHER AMENITIES AGGRAVATED BY INSUFFICIENT FUEL TO OPERATE ELECTRIC POWER ALL OF THE TIME. WITH DRASTIC RATIONING OF FUEL, THE HEAT BETWEEN DECKS REACHED INTOLERABLE TEMPERATURES FROM WHICH NO RELIEF COULD BE PROVIDED."

THE AMETHYST'S CAPTAIN, LT.COMDR.JOHN S.KERRANS, EARLIER HAD EXPRESSED FEAR THE SHIP MIGHT BE STRUCK AT NIGHT BY OTHER SHIPS ON THE RIVER. THE COMMUNISTS HAD FORBIDDEN THE SHIP'S LIGHTS TO BE SHOWN.

THE SLOOP'S POSITION GREW STEADILY WORSE LATE LAST MONTH. BRITISH SOURCES SAID, "IT BECAME EVIDENT THE ISSUE OF SAFE CONDUCT WOULD BE MADE CONDITIONAL TO THE SIGNATURE OF KERRANS ON A DOCUMENT ADMITTING BRITISH RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE APRIL 20 INCIDENT."

THE BRITISH POSITION WAS SUCH AN ADMISSION WAS "UNACCEPTABLE AND THEREFORE NO PROGRESS WAS POSSIBLE."

AGAINST THIS BACKGROUND KERRANS MADE HIS DECISION TO RUN THE COMMUNIST GANTLET.

THESE SOURCES SAID THE SLOOP CAME UNDER GUNFIRE SHORTLY AFTER SLIPPING HER CABLES. IN SELF DEFENSE, THEY SAID, THE AMETHYST WAS "FORCED TO FIRE ONE ROUND FROM A SINGLE FOUR INCH GUN. THIS WAS FOLLOWED BY BREN AND POMPOM FIRE."

A HUNDRED MILES DOWNRIVER FROM HER ANCHORAGE THE AMETHYST RADIOED "A HUNDRED UP" -- A CRICKET TERM COMMONLY USED TO SHOW 100 RUNS HAVE BEEN BATTED.

AT THE KIANGYIN FORTS ALONG THE YANGTZE THE AMETHYST AGAIN CAME UNDER FIRE AND REPLIED WITH HER BREN GUNS, BRITISH SOURCES SAID.

THE SLOOP PASSED WOOSUNG FORT AT THE CONFLUENCE OF THE YANGTZE AND THE WHANGPOO RIVERS AT 5:30 A.M. SUNDAY, HAVING MAINTAINED AN AVERAGE OF 20 KNOTS NAVIGATING BY NIGHT AND WITHOUT A PILOT.

AS SOON AS SHE WAS IN THE OPEN SEA SHE FLASHED A MESSAGE TO BRITISH FAR EASTERN NAVAL HEADQUARTERS: "REJOINED FLEET. NO CASUALTIES. GOD SAVE THE KING."

SHANGHAI, AUG 3-(AP)-CHINESE COMMUNISTS THROUGH THEIR CONTROLLED RADIO AND PRESS TODAY CHARGED THE BRITISH SLOOP AMETHYST SANK THE CHINESE STEAMER KIANGLING DURING THE SLOOP'S ESCAPE FROM THE YANGTZE LAST WEEK END.

(THE ADMIRALTY IN LONDON CATEGORICALLY DENIED YESTERDAY THAT THE AMETHYST SANK THE KIANGLING.)

NEWSPAPERS AND RADIO CHARGED SEVERAL HUNDRED CHINESE FROM THE KIANGLING WERE DROWNED. THE TWO MEDIUMS DEMANDED THAT "PUNISHMENT BE METED OUT FOR ATROCITIES OF THE AMETHYST."

PRO-COMMUNIST NEWSPAPERS CALLED THE AMETHYST ESCAPE "A CRIMINAL ACTION WHICH MUST BE PUNISHED."

THE OFFICIAL LIBERATION DAILY CALLED FOR "REVENGE OF THE MARTYRS OF THE BRITISH SLOOP" AND DEMANDED DAMAGE FROM THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

SIN WAN JIH PAO SAID THE AFFAIR WAS "ANOTHER SHAMEFUL OUTRAGE BY BRITISH IMPERIALISTS--THE AMETHYST REPAYS GOODNESS WITH EVIL--SINKS MERCHANTMAN WITH FUNGIRE AND ESCAPES."

HONG KONG, AUG 3-(AP)-SIMON, A CAT ABOARD THE BRITISH SLOOP AMETHYST, SUFFERED FOUR WOUNDS IN THE APRIL BATTLE WITH CHINESE COMMUNISTS THAT COST 18 BRITISH LIVES. THE SLOOP ARRIVED HERE TODAY AFTER BEING HELD FOR WEEKS ON THE YANGTZE UNDER RED GUNS.

PETTY OFFICER JOHN MCCARTHY OF ULSTER, IRELAND, SAID THE WOUNDED CAT CRAWLED AROUND THE SHIP LICKING ITS WOUNDS UNTIL IT WAS ABLE TO RESUME ITS RAT CATCHING DUTIES.

AND ON THAT SCORE, AMETHYST CREWMEN SAID, SIMON PERFORMED IN A NOBLE MANNER AVERAGING FOUR RATS WEEKLY.

HONG KONG, AUG. 3-(AP)-LT.CMDR.JOHN KERRANS, CAPTAIN OF THE BRITISH SLOOP AMETHYST ON ITS FLIGHT FROM CHINESE COMMUNISTS, SAID TODAY HE GAVE HIMSELF A 50-50 CHANCE WHEN HE DECIDED TO RUN THE GANTLET OF RED SHORE BATTERIES.

KERRANS, WHO WAS BORN IN COUNTY OFFALLAY, IRELAND, SAID HE HAD TRIED FRUITLESSLY FOR WEEKS TO GET THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS TO RELEASE THE SHIP. IT WAS HELD ON THE YANGTZE RIVER MIDWAY BETWEEN NANKING AND SHANGHAI AFTER A BATTLE IN MID-APRIL THAT RESULTED IN THE DEATH OF THE SHIP'S CAPTAIN AND 17 CREWMEN.

THROUGHOUT THE LONG NEGOTIATIONS THE COMMUNISTS WERE "EXTREMELY DIFFICULT," KERRANS SAID. HE WAS INTERVIEWED ABOARD THE CRUISER BELFAST, FLAGSHIP OF THE BRITISH FAR EASTERN FLEET.

HE SAID COMMUNIST GEN.YUAN CHUNG-HSIEN WAS ADAMANT ON THREE DEMANDS -- THAT THE BRITISH APOLOGIZE AND COMPENSATE THE CHINESE FOR THE RESULTS OF THE SHIP-SHORE BATTLE, THAT AN INFRINGEMENT OF CHINESE SOVEREIGNTY BE ADMITTED BY THE PRESENCE OF THE AMETHYST ON THE YANGTZE AND THAT THE BRITISH ADMIT AN INVASION OF THE COUNTRY.

KERRANS SAID HE HAD 11 MEETINGS WITH THE REDS WITH EACH MEETING LASTING FROM FIVE TO SIX HOURS. THE MEETINGS TOOK PLACE AT CHINKIANG, KIANGSU, PROVINCIAL CAPITAL AND OTHER COMMUNIST RULED TOWNS.

THE MOST DIFFICULT MAN BEHIND THE TALKS WAS COL.KANG MAO CHAO, POLITICAL COMMISSIONER OF THE RED THIRD ARTILLERY REGIMENT OF THE COMMUNIST FRONTIER HEADQUARTERS, SAID KERRANS. HE SAID KANG INSISTED ON TRYING TO FORCE HIM TO ADMIT FUNDAMENTAL BRITISH GUILT.

THE COMMUNISTS ALLOWED THE SHIP TO BUY FOOD AND SUPPLIES AT FANTASTIC PRICES, THE CAPTAIN OF THE AMETHYST SAID. KERRANS SAID HE CAME TO THE CONCLUSION THE ONLY SOLUTION WAS TO ESCAPE.

KERRANS SAID HE HAD COMPLETE APPROVAL OF THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE BRITISH FAR EAST STATION IN HIS PLANS.

(THIS DISPATCH DID NOT MENTION ANY FIGHT WITH THE COMMUNISTS IN ESCAPING FROM THEM. THE RED RADIO IN PEIPING YESTERDAY CHARGED THE AMETHYST SANK A CHINESE VESSEL IN ESCAPING.)

THE AMETHYST COMMANDER RECEIVED AT LEAST 100 CONGRATULATORY MESSAGES AFTER HIS ARRIVAL HERE TODAY.

MOSCOW, AUG. 3-(AP)-PRAVDA PREDICTED TODAY THAT THE UNITED STATES, BY ARMING WESTERN EUROPE, WOULD EXPERIENCE THE SAME RESULTS IT DID IN CHINA.

"AMERICAN CONQUISTADORES OF WALL STREET" ARE AS MISTAKEN IN WESTERN EUROPE AS THEY WERE IN CHINA, THE COMMUNIST PARTY NEWSPAPER SAID, ADDING:

"THEY ARMED THE 'NATIVES,' COUNTING ON THEIR BECOMING THE TAMERS OF CHINA, AND ITS BOSSES. BUT THE CHINESE 'NATIVES' TAUGHT AMERICAN GENERALS A LESSON IN REAL GEOGRAPHY. IF AMERICAN GENERALS DO NOT WANT TO LEARN FROM BOOKS, THEN LEFT WILL TEACH THEM."

PRAVDA SAID WESTERN EUROPE HAS PEOPLE WHO DO NOT WISH TO BE "BLIND TOOLS IN THE HANDS OF UNLEASHED YANKEE WARRIORS." THE NEWSPAPER CHARGED THAT AMERICAN GENERALS ARE TRAVELLING THE SAME ROAD AS HITLER AND WITH "HIS SAME STUPID SELF CONFIDENCE."

PRAVDA ALSO CARRIED THIS HEADLINE TODAY: "TITO DEAL WITH AMERICAN MILITARISTS." THE STORY, A TASS DISPATCH FROM ROME, QUOTED ITALIAN NEWSPAPER RUMORS OF A MEETING IN WESTERN GERMANY BETWEEN EMISSARIES OF PREMIER MARSHAL TITO OF YUGOSLAVIA AND THE AMERICAN JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF.

SOVIET NEWSPAPERS LATELY HAVE PUBLISHED STORIES THAT SOVIET CITIZENS IN YUGOSLAVIA ARE MISTREATED, THAT YUGOSLAVIA IS MAKING DEALS WITH THE GREEK NATIONALISTS AND THAT TITO'S EMISSARIES ARE MEETING IN SECRET WITH THE BRITISH.

KOBE, JAPAN, THURSDAY, AUG.4-(AP)-THE BRITISH STEAMER ANCHISES, DAMAGED BY CHINESE NATIONALIST PLANES NEAR SHANGHAI LATE IN JUNE, ARRIVED HERE IN TOW OF A TUG. SHE LEFT THE YANGTZE FRIDAY, THE DAY BEFORE THE BRITISH SLOOP AMETHYST MADE HER DASH TO FREEDOM.

"ONE STAYED UP ABOVE AND THE OTHER CAME DOWN AND BOMBED AND STRAFED EACH DAY," WATSON SAID.

"ON THE FIRST DAY ONE BOMB MISSED AND THE SECOND HIT AMIDSHIPS AT THE WATERLINE. FOUR MEN IN THE ENGINE ROOM WERE INJURED. A HOLE 10 FEET IN DIAMETER HALF OF IT BELOW THE WATERLINE, WAS BLOWN IN THE SIDE OF THE SHIP. THEN THE PLANE CAME BACK AND STRAFED WITH 50 CALIBER MACHINE GUN FIRE."

THE DAY AFTER THE SECOND ATTACK THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT APOLOGIZED TO BRITAIN FOR THE INCIDENT. THE CANTON GOVERNMENT CALLED IT AN ACCIDENT AND SAID IT WAS IN NO WAY CONNECTED WITH THE NATIONALIST BLOCKADE OF THE COMMUNIST HELD CHINA COAST.

ALEX SIMPSON, SECOND ENGINEER ROM BIRKENHEAD, ENG., RECOVERED A PIECE OF THE BOMB WHICH CRASHED INTO THE ENGINE ROOM. SIMPSON AND OTHERS WITH WARTIME EXPERIENCE IDENTIFIED THE BOMB AS A 500-POUNDER OF AMERICAN OR CANADIAN MANUFACTURE.

A NATIONALIST PATROL SHIP MET THE ANCHISES NEAR THE MOUTH OF THE YANGTZE. H.M.S.HART, A SISTER SHIP OF THE SLOOP AMETHYST, LATER ESCORTED THE ANCHISES TO A POINT NEAR THE JAPANESE COAST. THE MOTOR VESSEL GLENGYLE, ALSO OWNED BY THE BLUE FUNNEL LINE, ALSO ACCOMPANIED THE DISABLED SHIP MOST OF THE WAY TO HELP IN CASE OF EMERGENCY.

THE ANCHISES PROBABLY WILL GO INTO KAWASAKI SHIPYARD FOR REPAIRS.

MOSCOW,AUG 3-(AP)-NEW TIMES SAID TODAY RECENT BRITISH CRITICISM OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER POLICY IN WORLD WAR II IS PART OF AN OVER-ALL PLAN AIMED AT THE SOVIET UNION.

THE FOREIGN AFFAIRS WEEKLY CITED STATEMENTS MADE IN THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT JULY 21 BY FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN AND WINSTON CHURCHILL. CHURCHILL SAID ROOSEVELT USED THE TERM WITHOUT PREVIOUSLY CONSULTING WITH HIM. BOTH CHURCHILL AND BEVIN QUESTIONED THE WISDOM OF THE UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER POLICY, ANNOUNCED BY ROOSEVELT AT CASABLANCA IN 1943.

THIS CRITICISM BY THE BRITISH LEADERS, NEW TIMES SAID, CONSTITUTES A PREPARATION FOR AN UNDERSTANDING WITH GERMANY AIMING AT A WESTERN WAR COALITION DIRECTED AT THE SOVIET UNION.

IT IS A RETURN TO THE POLICY SUPPORTED IN THEIR TIME BY NEVILLE

CHAMBERLAIN, PIERRE LAVAL AND OTHERS, NEW TIMES SAID.
THE PUBLICATION ADDED THAT THE SAME POLICY FINDS EXPRESSION IN THE ATLANTIC PACT, THE WESTERN EUROPEAN UNION AND THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A WESTERN GERMAN GOVERNMENT.

PRAGUE,AUG 3-(AP)-RUSSIA IS BOYCOTTING THE CANNES AND VENICE FILM FESTIVALS THIS YEAR BECAUSE THEY CONCENTRATE ON QUANTITY PRODUCTION FOR COMMERCIAL PURPOSES INSTEAD OF QUALITY PRODUCTION FOR ART'S SAKE, V.R.SHCERBINA, SOVIET DEPUTY MINISTER OF CINEMATROGRAPHY, SAID TODAY.
THE SOVIET OFFICIAL MADE HIS REMARKS IN A NEWS CONFERENCE AT MARIANSKE LAZNE (MARIENBAD), SCENE OF THE FOURTH INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL. THEY WERE REPORTED BY THE OFFICIAL CZECH PRESS BUREAU.
AT MARIANSKE LAZNE, RUSSIAN FILMS ARE MAKING THEIR ONLY COMPETITION THIS YEAR AGAINST THE PRODUCTS OF HOLLYWOOD, BRITAIN AND FRANCE. AN ALL-CZECH JURY IS DOING THE JUDGING.
SPEAKING OF THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SOVIET AND WESTERN CINEMATIC ART, SHCERBINA TOLD CORRESPONDENTS THAT SOVIET FILMS DREW THEIR INSPIRATION FROM "THE NEW LIFE AND IDEAS OF THE LIBERATED PEOPLE IN A SOCIALIST ORDER."
"SOVIET ARTISTS," HE DECLARED, "ARE FREE TO CREATE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THEIR CONSCIENCE AND COMMON SENSE AND THE NEEDS OF THE SOVIET PEOPLE. THE PLANNING OF WORK DOES NOT IMPAIR THIS CREATIVE FREEDOM. THE SOVIET ARTIST IS AT THE SAME TIME A GREAT STATEMAN."
DISCUSSING THE SOVIET BOYCOTT OF THE VENICE AND CANNES FILM FESTIVALS, SHCERBINA SAID THAT THE NEW RULES OF THOSE EXHIBITIONS WERE BASED ON "THE PRINCIPLE OF QUANTITY OF PRODUCTION, WHICH CONSIDERED FILMS TO BE COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTS AND NOT WORKS OF ART, WHICH IS CONTRARY TO THE SOVIET VIEW."

CHINA AID URGED

12 Senators Join in Demand That $175,000,000 Go to Chinese

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Faced with growing opposition, President Truman today abandoned a section of the foreign arms bill giving him sweeping power to allot arm aid anywhere in the world.

He is not interested in blank check powers, he told a news conference, but he insisted that the full $1,450,000,000 he requested should be voted quickly.

All he wants is to see that the European countries in the North Atlantic Pact are properly taken care of, he said. Several legislators have talked of restricting the president's proposed authority by spelling out which nations shall be eligible for the arms aid, which is designed as a bulwark against communism.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee told reporters the president had made an "admirable statement" on the arms program.

Makes Action Easier

He said the clause giving authority to re-arm "any nation" will be deleted.

Senator Dulles (R-NY) said he believed the president's attitude would make it easier to get action on an arms program.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said: "This looks like encouraging progress toward a bill that can be passed. That is the number one necessity."

Vandenberg told reporters "there remain some other hurdles" but he declined to go any further along this line.

Twelve senators joined today in a demand that $175,000,000 of the amount be earmarked for non-communist China.

This move came in the form of an amendment to the arms bill, offered by Senator Knowland (R-Calif). The $175,000,000 would become available after the president named a mission to advise the nationalist government on the use of the sum.

Ends Big Objection

Mr. Truman's stand met one of the principal objections to the program which have sprung up as it moved through hearings in the House Foreign Affairs committee. Republican committee members were predicting flatly that the president could not get the right to allot the funds as he saw fit.

In presenting the program, Mr. Truman gave Congress a projected outline of where the funds might go. He named principally the European pact nations. But he urged that he be allowed to spot arms aid wherever the interests of the nation would be served best.

He told reporters that he is content to let Congress work out the details.

Influential Republicans have been hammering at the amount of the program ever since it was disclosed. The suggestion frequently is heard that the funds be held to about half that asked by the administration.

One argument is that the pact nations are committed to working out an overall defense plan for staving off a Russian attack. All that now is needed is an interim arms program pending the cooperative pact approach, it is contended.

Amount Seen Minimum

The administration answer is that the arms aid proposed is the minimum to meet an emergency situation and that in itself it is only an interim plan.

Some committee members proposed that the program be limited to next March 31, with the expectation that Congress would look the situation over again when it returns in January.

Mr. Truman asked funds for a year, but the arms it provides would be delivered over a two year period. Leaders expect the need for aid to continue perhaps five years.

Members of the House committee expressed gratification at the President's statement he would not press for inclusion of broad powers to decide when and where to send aid.

"I'm still not ready to vote for it," said Rep. Javits (R-NY), however, after another long closed-door session at which men who drafted the bill explained its provisions to the committee.

He added "I'm not satisfied that the concept of unified command and overall strategy has been adequately covered by the bill."

Javits also said that before agreeing to vote for the plan he wanted to be completely convinced that "this will not shift emphasis from the Marshall Plan."

Chairman Kee (D-WVa) told newsmen he was "very hopeful" that the committee will approve the entire $1,450,000,000 requested.

"I feel it has been justified by all the evidence that we had before us," he said. "But some members of the committee may disagree with me on this."

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—President Truman today rejected suggestions that he compromise in his request for $1,450,000,000 for arms aid to friendly nations.

Mr. Truman indicated at his news conference, however, that he does not oppose suggested congressional curbs on his broad authority to allocate the funds and specify nations to receive the aid.

He said the arms-aid bill to implement the Atlantic alliance should be passed by Congress as soon as possible and that the full amount sought should be granted.

Appear Determined

Democrats and Republicans alike have agreed that Mr. Truman may not get all that he wants in the request for arms aid.

House Foreign Affairs Committee members appeared determined to trim the amount asked even after they received figures on Soviet military strength.

They had a full day of closed-door sessions yesterday with arms and State Department experts who helped draft the big arms-aid program.

Important Thing

Mr. Truman said he does not care anything about blank-check authority to allot the arms-aid money.

He said he is content to let Congress work out the details.

The important thing, he said, is to provide the money and provide it quickly.

Situation Analyzed

The situation shaped up like this after the first full week of committee consideration of the program sent to Congress last week by Mr. Truman:

1. There is heavy sentiment to curb the broad grants of presidential authority proposed and spell out, as closely as possible, the amount of assistance to be given, the nations to receive it, and the conditions under which it shall be provided.

2. There is substantial sentiment for a sharp cut in the amount and duration of the program.

No Timetable Set

Instead of approving an arms-aid plan to run through June 30, 1950, many committee members favor limiting it to next March 31, with the idea that Congress can take another look in January and extend it if necessary. Those supporting this proposal would cut the financial authorization at least in half.

House leaders have not set a timetable for full House debate. They hope to have the bill on the House floor around the middle of the month.

The expert witnesses who testified yesterday were recalled today. They are Maj. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, Edward T. Dickinson, Jr., and Dr. Lloyd Berkner, members of the Government's Foreign Assistance Correlation Committee.

Detailed Information

A formal committee announcement at the end of the session said they gave "detailed information about the specific types of equipment" proposed to be given to friendly nations fearful of Soviet encroachment.

NEW ROW DELAYS FOREIGN AID BILL

Action Balked in Dispute Over Treatment of Americans in French Morocco

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. — (AP) The $5,647,724,000 foreign aid appropriation bill carrying funds for the second year of the Marshall Plan was held up today by a Senate dispute over the treatment of American businessmen in French Morocco.

As a result of the alleged discrimination against Americans there, the Senate threatened to shut off many millions of dollars in aid to France.

The issue was still unsettled when the administration took a hasty overnight recess. Just before that move, the Senate by a vote of 44 to 42 had overturned a ruling by Vice President Barkley that the proposed amendment denying aid was improper new legislation in an appropriation bill.

Amendment Vote Today

That opened the way for a vote on the amendment, probably tomorrow.

Before the French Morocco issue arose, the Senate appeared to be making fast progress on the measure which contains funds for the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA), government and relief activities in occupied areas, and economic assistance for Greece and Turkey.

The administration had succeeded in knocking out a proposed $50,000,000 loan to Spain, sponsored by Senator McCarran (D-Nev). Barkley ruled that it was new legislation, and as such outlawed. When McCarran appealed, the Senate upheld its presiding officer's ruling, 55 to 36.

But a slim majority overruled the vice president on the French Morocco matter. Senator Russell (D-Ga) led the fight against Barkley's ruling.

37 Americans Affected

Russell told the Senate that 37 Americans in French Morocco claim they have been discriminated against by the French. He said ECA chief Paul Hoffman conceded there was a matter of principle at stake "but that there were only 37 Americans" involved.

"Something in that statement gagged me," Russell said. "I don't care if only one citizen was involved. He is entitled to the protection of the American government."

Senator Hayden (D-Ariz) said he believed the Americans there were merely "fronts for French and Moroccan interests" to bring goods into Morocco.

Specifically, the amendment now pending would deny aid in counterpart funds to any nation violating a U. S. treaty. The counterpart funds are local currencies put into a special account to match ECA aid. About $100,000,000 in French counterpart funds remained unobligated June 30, ECA records showed.

The exact form of discrimination was not brought out in the debate. In hearings on the bill, however, it was charged that the French were making it almost impossible for the Americans to do business in French Morocco.

One major threat to the bill was removed when Senator McClellan (D-Ark) said he would not raise a point of order against the whole bill as he did last week. His action then sent the measure back to the Appropriations committee.

The Arkansas senator said he realized that he could accomplish nothing by raising a second point of order and that he would make no further fight. However, he said that if future appropriation bills contain legislation, he expects to challenge them.

McClellan tried unsuccessfully yesterday to write in an amendment to the pending bill requiring the purchase of $1,350,000,000 worth of surplus U. S. crops. AP

BARKLEY CUTS LOAN TO SPAIN FROM ERP BILL

Decides McCarran's Move to Supply Aid Violates Senate Rules.

TURNS DOWN AMENDMENT

Vice-President Declares Madrid Is Not Entitled to Help Under ECA Act.

Washington, Aug. 4 (A. P.).—Vice-President Barkley today ruled $50,000,000 in loans to Spain out of the European Recovery Program.

He held that an amendment sponsored by Senator McCarran (D.-Nev.) violated Senate rules against writing new legislation into an appropriation bill. Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois challenged the McCarran amendment, and then McCarran appealed the Barkley ruling.

The Senate later upheld Barkley's ruling by a roll call vote, 55 to 36.

Barkley then told the Senate that Spain was not entitled under the Economic Co-operation Administration act to participate in the recovery program. Spain has not adhered to the basic requirements of the act, the Vice-President said, and to admit Spain into the program would be a violation of the act.

The ruling came as Senate leaders strove to free the big foreign aid money bill from the threat of another blockade. Lucas said he hoped to get final approval late in the day for the bill, which carries funds for Europe's recovery, Army occupation costs and aid to Greece and Turkey. AP

How the Senate Voted On Two Barkley Rulings

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Following are the two roll-calls in the Senate today on rulings by Vice President Barkley. In the first the Senate voted by 55 to 36 to sustain his ruling that an amendment to include Spain in the Economic Cooperation Administration was out of order. In the second the Senate overturned by 44 to 42 his ruling on a treaty amendment:

STAFF CHIEFS REPORT FULL AGREEMENT

Americans Fly To Paris After London Talks With 3 Nations

Paris, Aug. 4 (AP)—The American joint chiefs of staff reported today they have reached complete agreement with European leaders approached thus far on defense lines to be laid by Atlantic treaty nations.

They hopped over to Paris from London this afternoon. In London they met with army, navy and air force heads of Britain, Norway and Denmark.

In Paris and at Fontainebleau they will meet for two more days with similar leaders of France, Holland, Belgium and Portugal, and Britain's Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery.

All Are Optimistic

They already have visited Germany, and on Sunday will leave for Vienna.

All three Americans were optimistic. Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, Chief of Naval Operations, told a news conference they are in complete understanding with the British, Norwegians and Danes on mutual defense measures to be undertaken.

As spokesman in London for the three, he said the defense setup might be functioning by the end of this year "because I felt we were getting along so well it would not be too tough to work out an organization by that time. But it is a guess," he added.

No Ready-Made Plan

Denfeld told the London news conference the final forming of the organization would be done at a future high-level meeting on the basis of the current talks. He said the Americans had not come over with a ready-made plan but to exchange views and that was going most satisfactorily.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, of the Army, and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief, answered questions about the atom bomb.

The first was whether the United States would be dropping bombs while the western European powers were holding the line with ground forces.

"That refers to my statement before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in Washington," Bradley said. "In those discussions we have had to present some assumed use of collective defense. In such an assumed siutation we would have to do the strategic bombing while other nations closer to the center of emergency would provide, initially, the other forces."

Denies Intending Monopoly

Vandenberg told a questioner the American Air Force does not want to monopolize the strategic bombing.

"I would favor everybody getting into that to the maximum of the limitations imposed by exchequers and manpower," he said. "British strategic bombing in the last war made a wonderful record."

Denfeld said sharing of the atom bomb with other Atlantic treaty nations was not mentioned and there was no discussion of any arms aid at this stage.

Arriving in the afternoon at Orly Airfield in President Truman's plane, the Independence, the chiefs were met by a blast of "Old Folks at Home" played by a French air force band.

Bradley Speaks On Network

Bradley, speaking over the French national network at the airfield, said:

"As spokesman for the chiefs of staff, I am glad to have the opportunity of exchanging opinions on methods of organizing the military part of the Atlantic pact."

A questioner asked Vandenberg whether the chiefs were thinking of superseding the defense plans of the Western European Union—France, Britain and the Benelux countries—with Atlantic pact measures. The Fontainebleau conferences will include the headquarters personnel of the Western Union headed by Montgomery and its four commanders in chiefs.

"We are discussing all possible types of organization under the pact," Vandenberg replied. "That's what we're making this trip for."

Welcomed By French

The party was welcomed by the three French chiefs: Gen. Georges Revers, army; Vice-Admiral Andre Leonnier, navy, and Maj. Gen. Charles Lecheres, air force. David Bruce, United States Ambassador, and others were present.

Three busloads of Paris police filed around in response to false reports there would be a demonstration by the Communist-led General Federation of Labor (CGT).

The CGT has, however, scheduled an anti-pact demonstration for tomorrow in front of the United States Embassy. The Government has forbidden the demonstration and masses of police are expected to turn out. At the demonstration hour, the chiefs will be 40 miles away, at Fontainebleau with Montgomery and his Western Union chiefs. AP

U.S. Chiefs Move To France For Pact Talks

Paris, Aug. 4 (AP)—The American joint chiefs of staff arrived in Paris today from London, where they had announced they reached a complete understanding with Britain, Norway and Denmark on organization for mutual defense under the Atlantic treaty.

The exploratory talks of the joint chiefs continue now with French, Belgian, Dutch and Portuguese military leaders.

Before boarding President Truman's private plane in London, the chiefs had talked for two days with the British, Danish and Norwegian military leaders.

Speaking for his colleagues, Admiral Louis E. Denfeld said understanding had been achieved and there was a possibility of getting a defense organization into operation before this year's end.

Reds Accuse Chiefs

In Germany, meanwhile, the Communist-controlled German People's Council of the Soviet zone accused the chiefs of staff of having held "war conferences" on German soil. This referred to the four-day visit of the group to the American zone. The council, according to the Soviet news agency ADN, adopted a resolution calling the visit to Germany an "abuse of occupation authority."

As the chiefs' plane landed in Paris, a French military band played the American and French national anthems. Denfeld was first off the plane, followed by Air Force General Hoyt S. Vandenberg and Army General Omar Bradley.

Bradley said he was glad to be in Paris to "have the opportunity of exchanging opinions on methods of organizing the military part of the Atlantic pact."

Refers To Invasion

Wartime commander of the United States 12th Army Group, he noted that his last visit to France was "under slightly different circumstances." He was in the Normandy invasion in 1944.

Denfeld was asked whether the Atlantic defense plan would supersede the western European defense organization. He replied that all types of organization are being studied before a decision is reached.

Denfeld gave no detailed information after the London meetings.

"We are going home, I am sure, with a very much better understanding of the situation than we had when we came over," the United States chief of naval operations told a news conference following meetings with Norwegian and Danish military commanders.

The subject of sharing the atom bomb with other Atlantic treaty signatories was not mentioned in the staff talks, Denfeld told a questioner.

Reveals Purpose Of Visit

"There was no general discussion of arms aid," he added. "Our purpose in coming here was to exchange ideas on proper organization."

Gen. O. E. Berg, chief of the Norwegian joint services, told the reporters:

"We have discussed defense programs and we are finding a very good solution to our problem." AP

WAR RECORD DIMS CLARK'S HOPE FOR CHIEF OF STAFF

D WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 — (AP) A bloody repulse suffered by American troops in Italy threw a shadow today over the chances of Gen. Mark W. Clark to become the Army's chief of staff.

A lot of Texans were killed in that battle on the Rapido river when the 36th Division charged toward Cassino. A lot of Texans haven't forgotten Clark was commanding the operation.

Texas' veteran Senator Tom Connally made it clear to reporters he will oppose Clark if he should be nominated to succeed General Omar N. Bradley.

Knows Better Officers

"I didn't like Clark's mistreatment of the 36th division and other Texas troops in Italy," Connally told reporters. "I think there are other officers better qualified for the job."

Whether Connally could persuade the Senate to his views was questionable, however. In 1946 he and Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex) tried in vain to block a promotion for Clark. Other senators praised Clark as an excellent officer. Army spokesmen have said that the Rapido attack was a necessary diversionary operation ordered, not by Clark, but by his superiors.

Clark has been mentioned prominently as a possible successor to Bradley, who may become chairman of the joint chiefs of staff under the new unification program. Such an appointment must be approved by the Senate.

Was Bloody Battle

Survivors of the Rapido battle in the cold January of 1944 returned home from the war voicing publicly their bitterness toward Clark. The 36th division association of veterans has been particularly vocal.

The battle at the Rapido was one of the bloodiest of the Italian campaign.

The American and British troops had landed at Anzio trying to break the German defenses before Rome. The plan called for an attack across the Rapido to break the German defenses at Cassino and link up the Anzio beachhead with the main allied armies.

The 36th Division ran into a withering cross-fire from the Germans' long-prepared positions. The attempt to cross the Rapido failed.

Military men will argue for many years the tactics at the Rapido and the battle plans to push the Germans out of Rome.

"For ten long years we have adhered to all price regulations, even though at times they have been unfair.

"But this latest cut is so inequitable, so vicious and so obviously political that for the first time in the history of price control, there is every likelihood that retailers will revolt."

British Shopkeepers Aroused

London, Aug. 4 (AP)—A quarter of a million British shopkeepers, galled by ten years of government controls, threatened outright rebellion today against an order to cut prices. They are members of the National Chamber of Trade.

The merchants objected to a directive issued last week by Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, for retailers to slash prices of utility clothing, footwear and household textiles five per cent. The order is effective next month.

An association of clothing dealers said its members would go to jail rather than conform.

The National Shoe Retailers' Council announced it had informed Wilson it would advise its members to continue to charge present prices. The council declared in a statement it was prepared to face court action rather than give way.

Want To Share Reduction

The Management Council of the National Association of Outfitters also issued a statement warning of a prospective revolt.

The utility clothing involved in the order is a line of plain garments whose production cost is subsidized by the Government to keep prices down for the low-salary classes.

A. F. Hopkinson, general secretary of the Outfitters Association, explained the shopkeepers did not object to price cuts as such, but want the profit margins of manufacturers and wholesalers reduced so that the whole slash does not come out of the shopkeepers' profits.

"Vicious . . . Political"

The Outfitters' Association Council said in a statement:

"When the orders become operative, many thousands of retailers will not only have to work for nothing, but also sell at a net loss.

Attlee 'Quite Recovered'

London, Aug. 4 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee has "quite recovered" from a cold which had confined him to his country home since last Saturday, an official spokesman said today. The cold forced him to cancel a week-end speaking engagement.

German Research Gets Radio-Active Isotopes

Goettingen, Germany, Aug. 4 (AP). Britain is sending radio-active isotopes to German universities for atomic research, Prof. Otto Hahn, the German atomic scientist revealed today.

He told an audience of international students here the isotopes are being used for medical and biological research in the atomic field. He said they have been delivered in the past two months by Britain's Harwell Atomic Research Station.

Italian Troops Take Part In Maneuvers

Turin, Italy, Aug. 4 (AP)—About 20,000 Italian troops were locked in mock battle on the plains of Piedmont today in the first large Italian Army maneuvers since the war.

Saboteurs, guerrillas and parachutists were thrown into the mock fight between the "Reds" and the "Blues."

The "Red" guerrillas are commanded by expartisan fighters, now officers in the regular army.

Labor Inquiry Facing Delay

L HITHERLING

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 4 (AP). The failure of the Soviet Union to approve an "on-the-spot" investigation of forced labor probably will postpone for six months, if not permanently, the creation of a commission of inquiry by the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

Sentiment was growing in the eighteen-nation council for delaying action on the inquiry and late today three members — Brazil, Denmark and India—introduced an amendment which would set the project back until the next session of the council.

Would Change Instructions

The amendment said answers received by the United Nations to inquiries concerning the readiness of governments to participate in the investigation "do not provide the conditions under which a commission of inquiry could operate effectively."

The amendment was made to an American resolution calling for a joint United Nations-International Labor Organization commission of eleven members to undertake the inquiry. It would substitute new instructions to the secretary general for the operative clauses of the American resolution.

The secretary general, under the amendment, would be asked "to request governments which have not as yet stated that they would be prepared to co-operate in such an impartial inquiry to consider whether they, before the next session of the council, can give a reply to that effect."

Believed Certain Of Passage

The Soviet Union, which has been accused of operating a massive forced-labor program, is the most important state which has not agreed to the "on-the-spot" investigation.

The United States is expected to continue pressing for its resolution and the establishment of the commission. But Great Britain, France and Belgium are expected to favor the amendment. It is regarded as almost certain to obtain enough other suppo[illegible] for passage.

The United States view is understood to be that, even without Russia taking part, a commission could get considerable evidence from available documents and from escaped victims of labor camps in public hearings.

Corley Smith, British delegate, said today "if we cannot investigate on the spot in the Soviet Union, there is not much point in carrying on this investigation."

ADD

U.N. Slave-Labor Probe Held Unlikely

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 4 (AP). Prospects dimmed today for a world-wide United Nations Commission on-the-spot investigation of forced labor.

Several speakers told the United Nations Economic and Social Council that such an inquiry would be useless unless the commission had access to all countries, including the Soviet Union.

A probe of forced labor was proposed yesterday by the United States after Britain formally accused Russia of maintaining 10,000,000 laborers in "a new slavery organized on a mass-production basis."

Polish Delegate Julius Katz-Suchy sought today to ridicule the British presentation of the Soviet "Correct Labor Codex."

"In Own Kitchen"

He said the British Foreign Office should get a refund from the intelligence agent who turned in the Soviet regulations for forced-labor camps because the codex was obtainable in London in 1936.

"All the intelligence agent had to do," Katz-Suchy said, "was go to the Sweet and Maxwell bookstore in Chancery lane (off London's Fleet street) and buy the same document."

"The British Foreign Office, instead of buying it there, prefers to cook up something in its own kitchen," Katz-Suchy added sarcastically. He said the Foreign Office had "falsified a few passages in translation, just to keep up the tradition."

The Polish delegate described the codex as "just prison regulations." He described British regulations for the flogging of prisoners and quoted documents which he cited as proof that compulsory labor exists in British colonies.

Peonage System

Katz-Suchy also criticized what he described as the peonage system in the Southern States of the United States. In Tokyo under United States military occupation, he said, desperate peasants are selling their children.

The American resolution on forced labor, he said, was an instigation of hatred and incitement to war propaganda.

The resolution calls for the naming of an eleven-member commission. It suggests that emphasis in such an inquiry be placed on situations involving large numbers of persons or widespread practices of forced labor.

Commenting on the prospects for such a probe, Fernand DeHousse, of Belgium, said:

"If there is not a survey on the spot we might as well not set up an investigating commission at all."

New Czech Arrests Reported

R FOSISCAFE

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 4 (AP)—Catholic authorities reported several new arrests of priests here today as the controlled Czechoslovak press threatened further treason trials against the clergy.

Reports from Rome also told of new fights between police and Slovak Catholics seeking to protect their parish priests from arrest. A Vatican source said in one such clash police fired on the people, killing one and wounding many others.

These reports could not be directly confirmed in the Czech capital. It has been generally believed in Prague that the Communist Government would try to keep things calm in strongly Catholic Slovakia until the harvest season ends. At least ten Catholics were known to have been jailed or fined for such clashes in Slovakia six weeks ago.

Warns Of Fight To Finish

The Prague press declared the Government was determined to wage a finish fight with the Czech Catholic hierarchy and clergy over the recent Vatican decree excommunicating militant Communists.

The press attacks indicated that the Government might be preparing to bring treason charges against top church figures. One religious leader singled out for attack today was Archbishop Josef Matocha, of Olomouc. He was accused of having excommunicated a priest who chose to side with the Government in the church-state controversy. Archbishop Matocha ranks second only to Archbishop Josef Beran, of Prague, in the Catholic hierarchy of Czechoslovakia.

Alexei Cepicka, Communist Minister of Justice, and other Government spokesmen already have informally hurled treason charges at Archbishop Beran.

"Merciless" Fight Predicted

The newspapers said the sentencing yesterday of the Rev. Alois Fajstl to eight years in jail for high treason was only the beginning of a "merciless" fight against the papel excommunication decree. Father Fajstl, a small-town priest, was accused of having refused to administer the last sacrament to a desperately ill 67-year-old woman until she surrendered her Communist party membership.

[The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano termed the Prague court's action an example of outrageous miscarriage of justice in the Cominform countries.]

A high Catholic authority in Prague expressed the belief in an interview that priests would not be frightened by the fate of Father Fajstl or by the new threats. He said reports had been received of several additional arrests of priests on undisclosed charges.

Skeptical About Trial

"We are sure that the priests will faithfully do their duty," the Catholic spokesman said, "because they have expected such persecution. Nor will our faithful people be frightened into abandoning their church, their priests or their bishops."

This churchman expressed skepticism over the Government's account of the trial and conviction of Father Fajstl. He said no priest ever would make such conditions to a person said to be dying, and that he doubted that any militant Communist would call in a priest anyway.

Red Attack Just Rumor

He prefaced his remarks by saying his former comrades in east Europe's Communist nations are following the west's action in spreading rumors of a possible Soviet attack on Yugoslavia.

Tito, conceding these reports are "nothing but ordinary rumors," added:

"Nevertheless, we are not unvigilant here x x x we are prepared to prevent all provocations, to defend our country against everyone because anyone who might endeavor to hinder our peaceful socialist construction and threaten our integrity would be our enemy, no matter who he might be.

"We can, comrades, build socialism in our country, never forgetting our duties toward the socialist countries. We shall never do anything which might to the very least extent hamper the construction of socialism in those countries, but we shall not allow them to hamper the construction of our country."

Boast Unity

In his toughest speech to date, delievered in what is perhaps the most ticklish part of his federated country, Tito boasted of the unity of Yugoslavia and bluntly made it plain he is not scared.

He said Yugoslavia is "prepared to prevent all provocations and defend our country against everyone."

He was bolstered in his speech by the knowledge that today Yugoslavia concluded a five-year $93,000,000 trade pact with Italy. The pact offset, at least in part, a cominform economic squeeze play to bring him to task and perhaps replace him with an official more subservient to Moscow's rule.

Yugos Prepared to Fight 'Any Foe,' Tito Asserts

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 4 —(AP) A confident Premier Marshal Tito has served notice Yugoslavia is ready to defend herself against any foe, "no matter who he might be," who tries to stop the nation's socialist development.

The warning was issued yesterday at a dinner given in his honor by army officers and Macedonian political leaders at Skoplje, Macedonia. It was reported tonight by Tanjug, official Yugoslav news agency.

Tito told the army officers they are "in a state of alert in order to safeguard the peaceful construction of our socialist country."

Tito told his army chiefs representing, as he put it, the "chosen men" of his fighting forces, and leaders of the Yugoslav republic in Macedonia who also were present:

"You are in a state of alert in order to safeguard the peaceful construction of our socialist country."

He said that on several occasions Yugoslavia's soldiers have met "the enemy" face to face and shed their blood in defense of their land.

Don't Threaten Anyone

In tart terms Tito said his soldier-citizens "will know how to give a worthy reply to every attempt to infringe upon our socialist country." He added:

"We do not threaten anyone x x x. To the contrary, we seek always brotherly cooperation with all men astride our frontiers."

He said, in reference to Yugoslavia's position between the east and west, professing allegiance to neither, that "today it might look as if we are alone."

Then he went on to say that "many of those who slander us tell us so"—that Yugoslavia stands alone.

"It is not true that we are alone," he added. "A majority of the people of all countries of the east and of the progressive peoples of all the world are with us."

Tito acknowledged the existence of rumors the Red army will attack Yugoslavia, but he denied them. He said the Red army would not attack a socialistic country without sabotaging the whole philosophy of Marxism-Leninism. Tito said that the only thing of which Yugoslavia is frightened is attacks of nature—drought, hail and similar calamities.

Attack Would End Socialism

"We today are not yet sure that someone has not any pretensions toward us," he said. "Rumors were heard and are still being heard about this. At first these rumors were spread by western quarters, thinking that we would believe their tales about the Red army attacking us.

"We did not believe in this because we knew that would be impossible. We knew that would mean the end of socialism in the world.

"We knew that the capitalists thought and wanted when they tried to intimidate us with such tales. But today those in the east are also trying to intimidate us, disseminating various rumors thrugh the so-called black-market on so many and so many Soviet divisions in one place or another, on so many Soviet artillery forces on this or that place.

"But, comrades, we are not men one can frighten with such things. We can only be afraid of things as elemental forces—drought, hail and the like, but not of other things. Those we do not fear, those we do not fear."

"We did not believe in this because we knew that would be impossible. We knew that would mean the end of socialism in the world.

"We knew what the capitalists thought and wanted when they tried to intimidate us with such tales.

Notes Rumors From East

"But today those in the East are also trying to intimidate us, disseminating various rumors through the so-called black market on so many and so many Soviet divisions in one place or another, on so many Soviet artillery forces on this or that place.

"But, comrades, we are not men one can frighten with such things. We can only be afraid of things as elemental forces—drought, hail and the like, but not of other things. Those we do not fear, those we do not fear."

"Nevertheless, we are not unvigilant here, either. We are prepared to prevent all provocations, to defend our country against everyone because anyone who might endeavor to hinder our peaceful socialist construction and threaten our integrity would be our enemy, no matter who he might be."

No U.S. Talks

London, Aug. 4 (AP)—Yugoslavia officially denied reports tonight that Premier Marshal Tito had met American military leaders in western Germany.

Tanjug, official Yugoslav news agency, said the reports were carried yesterday by some Italian newspapers and the Moscow radio.

"Tanjug is authorized," the agency said, "to say that this report is being fabricated from beginning to end and is being intentionally invented as part of the customary slander campaign against Yugoslavia."

ITALY, YUGOSLAVIA SIGN 1 YEAR PACT TO TRIPLE TRADE

PHILIP CLARKE

ROME, Aug. 4 (AP)—Italy and Yugoslavia, at odds politically since the war, today signed a one year-trade treaty calling for an exchange of $93,000,000 worth of goods.

A foreign ministry communique said the agreement, which forms part of a five-year economic collaboration pact signed Nov. 1947, will approximately triple last year's trade between the two nations.

Under terms of the treaty, Italy will ship $46,500,000 worth of machinery, transport equipment and other goods to the communist Balkan country.

Yugos Send Minerals

Yugoslavia, hard hit by an economic boycott applied by Russia and the cominform nations of eastern Europe, will send mainly timber, minerals and other raw materials to Italy.

The signing ended months of negotiations between commercial representatives of the two countries. The talks broke down last month when Yugoslavia suddenly switched currencies in its occupation zone of the Trieste free territory.

Italy and the western powers protested that the substitution of the official Yugoslav dinar for the occupation Yugolira had violated terms of the Italian peace treaty. The negotiations were resumed later, however, when leaders of both countries expressed a desire for friendship.

An American trade expert with the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) said "Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia seems willing to talk with the west. It is making a number of agreements with western countries." He did not elaborate.

Ban Not Violated

The trade expert added that ECA mission officials here had followed the on-and-off Italo-Yugoslav talks with extreme interest.

"Within limits," he added, "Yugoslavia is a natural trade area for Italy."

The ECA official said he had not examined terms of the agreement. He expreseed the opinion Italian machinery and other industrial exports did not violate bans against shipment of war-potential products into Iron Curtain countries.

He would not say whether such bans might be lifted in the case of Yugoslavia which has looked to the west economically since the Soviet-led cominform countries clamped their boycott on Tito.

Principal Italian exports to Yugoslavia include agricultural products, cork, wool, cotton and silk textiles, pharmaceutical and medicinal products, chemical products, telephone and electrical equipment, automobiles, trucks, electric buses, street cars, motorcycles, bicycles, industrial machinery and motors and parts.

Yugoslav exports include wood, corn, iron, bauxite, chrome, zinc, lead, copper magnestite and other minerals.

The exchange will be in terms of lire, totalling 50,000,000,000 divided equally between the two countries.

CHANGSHA TAKEN BY CHINESE REDS

CANTON, (Friday), Aug. 5—(AP) The nationalists today officially admitted the loss of Changsha, rice bowl bastion 365 miles north of this refugee capital.

An official announcement carried the hint that the city, which communist armies slowly were encircling, fell by treachery.

The statement said the government had ordered the arrest of Gen. Cheng Chien, who was thrown out of the governorship of Hunan province last week. Changsha is the capitol of Hunan.

It said that to save himself and his family Cheng tried to arrange a local peace in Hunan province. Fearing arrest, he left Changsha July 31. The statement said the city was turned over to the communists the next day.

Cheng, 57, once was chief of China's general staff and was a close associate of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

The cabinet on July 30 approved Cheng's "resignation." Other reports earlier said he had been forced to leave Changsha because he was suspected of disloyalty.

Earlier there were rumors that Changsha had fallen. Most of the nationalist forces had withdrawn to Hengyang, railway city 100 miles to the south.

Nationalist Bombers Smash Shanghai Shipyards

Hong Kong, Aug. 4 (AP)—A Central News dispatch from Formosa today said five Nationalist heavy bombers yesterday severely damaged the Kiangnan shipbuilding yards at Shanghai.

The news agency quoted a Nationalist air force communiqué as saying the planes dropped heavy bombs all over the sprawling plant. The communiqué said Kiangnan's electrical shop, wood works and dockyards were turned into a "sea of fire and smoke."

Are China's Best

The ship building yards are the best in China.

30.24- 4809

The control yuan in Canton recently censured the Ministry of Communications for not destroying the Kiangnan plant when the Nationalists fled Shanghai.

Meanwhile, an independent Chinese report received here from Foochow said the Nationalists were planning to develop Pingtan Island, in the Formosan Strait, into an important naval air base.

The island is off the mouth of Fukien province's Min River. It has a population of about 10,000 persons and was taken from Red guerrillas in May by the Nationalists.

In Canton, Nationalist China's emergency council adopted Premier Yen Hsi-shan's plan for aggressive war against the Communists.

Push Anti-Red Effort

Informed sources said the plan calls for the creation of task forces for mobile warfare in an effort to turn from the defensive to the offensive.

On the Central China front, however, the initiative today still remained with the Communists. The Reds are trying to catch Gen. Pai Chung-hsi's forces in a trap by outflanking movements in Kiangsi and Hunan provinces.

An army spokesman in Canton said the old American bomber base at Suichwan, 240 miles north, had fallen to the Reds. He scoffed at reports Changsha had been taken. He said the Nationalists were firmly in control there.

U. S. TO PUBLISH 'FACTUAL' REPORT ON CHINA TODAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 — (AP) President Truman announced today that the State department will publish tomorrow a "frank and factual record" of American relations with China.

America's role in China has been "subject to considerable misrepresentation, distortion and misunderstanding," he said. He expressed hope that publication of the white paper will provide a new basis for an "informed and intelligent public opinion" on the whole situation.

Plan New Policy

Mr. Truman issued his China statement at a news conference. Shortly afterward the State department distributed for publication at 10 a.m. Eastern Standard Time tomorrow a thick volume dealing with the whole history of American-Chinese relations over more than a cenutry but concentrating on the last five years, which culminated in communist conquest of much of China.

In his statement Mr. Truman made clear that a chapter in American policy toward China is ending and that Secretary of State Acheson and he are now confronted with the task of working out new policies to deal with the situation created by the communist conquest.

The American government up to now, he said, had been "reluctant to reveal certain facts" about China because their publication might have "served to hasten the events in China which have now occurred."

"In the present situation," he said, "the mutual interests of the United States and China require full and frank discussion of the facts. It is only in this way that the people of the country and their representatives in Congress can have the understanding necessary to the sound evolution of our foreign policy in the far east."

Friendship Still Strong

American friendship for the people of China "is as strong today as it has ever been," the president added, but the problem now is to "find ways to give practical expression to that friendship."

Lincoln White, State department press officer, said the white paper, totaling more than 1,000 printed pages, would contain a letter from Secretary Acheson to the president, a running account of the history of American-Chinese affairs, and scores of documents, heretofore secret, dealing with American aid, proposals for Chinese reform and reports of American diplomats on conditions in China.

Other general topics included, said White, are relations between China and Russia, the missions of Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley and General George C. Marshall and the ambassadorship of J. Leighton Stuart, the present envoy to China.

White Paper Due On U.S. Policy In China

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—President Truman said today that the United States will publish a white paper on its relations with China to clear up "misrepresentation, distortion and misunderstanding."

In a formal statement, the President said that the friendship between the people of the United States and the people of China "is as strong today as it has ever been."

He said the problem is to find ways "to give practical expresssion to that friendship" and that this is receiving "the closest attention of this Government."

At Weekly Conference

The statement was given out at his weekly news conference.

A short time after Mr. Truman spoke out, a group of Senators moved to earmark $175,000,000 of the Administration's $1,450,000,000 arms program for military aid to non-communist China.

Senator Knowland (R., Cal.) introduced an amendment to the arms bill calling for an American mission to direct the program.

A reporter recalled that there has been criticism that the United States Government has been "too slow" in its aid to the Chinese Nationalist Government because of reported Communist influences within the State Department.

Called Erroneous

Mr. Truman said that this entirely erroneous criticism would be covered in the volume the State Department is publishing tomorrow.

He said in his statement that some of the "misrepresentation, distortion and misunderstanding" arose because this Government "was reluctant to reveal certain facts, the publication of which might have served to hasten the events in China which have now occurred."

Wedemeyer Report

The President said, under questioning, that the white paper on China would include the Wedemeyer report as well as reports made by former Secretary of State Marshall when he went to China as a special Ambassador for the President.

The Wedemeyer report, so-called because it was prepared by Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, has been under Administration study for some time but has not been made public.

In his statement, the President said that the mutual interests of the United States and China "require full and frank discussion of the facts."

Policy Understanding

"It is only in this way that the people of our country and their representatives in Congress can have the understanding necessary to the sound evolution of our foreign policy in the Far East," he said.

He added that the report covers our relations with China dating back to the 1840's. It not only includes the Wedemeyer and Marshall reports, but also the reports of Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, former Ambassador to China.

A Heavy Volume

He would not say whether any new steps were proposed in the document. He held up a heavy volume, which he said was being made available to newspaper men this afternoon for publication tomorrow.

He said that if the reporters read it and understood it, they would know as much about Chinese policy as he did, and he thought he knew more about it than anybody else right now.

Sloop Amethyst's Cat Gets A Medal

London, Aug. 4 (AP)—For catching rats in a time of extreme danger, Simon, the sloop Amethyst's cat, is to get a medal.

It's the Dickin Medal which, to animals, ranks with the Victoria Cross, Britain's highest award. The Allied Forces' Mascot Club will present it.

Among the 53 mascots already holding the medal, Simon will stand out. He's the first cat. The others are dogs, horses and pigeons.

Simon was aboard the British sloop when it ran the Chinese Communist gantlet down the Yangtse last week end after three months of virtual captivity. He had been wounded by Communist shrapnel when the ship was first attacked in April, but kept right on catching the rats that theatened the ship's meager supplies.

Uranium In Honduras

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Aug. 4 (AP) — The newspaper Diaro Commercial said today that uranium ore had been found in Honduras and that samples had been sent to the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

BIG 3 URGE END OF ARMS EMBARGO ON MIDDLE EAST

M. HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 4. — (AP) The United States, Britain and France led a move in the UN Security Council today to scrap the middle east arms embargo imposed during the Palestine conflict.

Despite protests from Israel, it appeared certain a majority of the delegates would accept acting Mediator Ralph J. Bunche's view that the fighting stage is over and the embargo no longer is necessary.

Debate Bunche Report

The council debated Bunche's final report. The acting mediator has recommended that all council restrictions in the various UN cease-fire and truce resolutions be cancelled.

Most important of these restrictions was the arms embargo.

Canadian delegate Gen. A. C. L. McNaughton formally moved the adoption of Bunche's proposals, after they previously had been endorsed by three big western powers. These latter were joined by others, including China, Egypt and Cuba.

Neither Russia nor the Soviet Ukraine took part in today's talks. Debate will be resumed tomorrow.

Israeli's delegate Aubrey S. Eban told the council lifting of the embargo would touch off an armaments race between Israel and her Arab neighbors. He warned that Israel could not permit herself to become militarily inferior to Arab countries.

Charge Israel Violations

Egyptian delegate Mahmoud Bey Fawzie countered with a charge that Israel had violated the embargo from the time it was put into effect, despite the fact that UN observers were on hand.

British delegate Sir Terrence Shone said Britain had agreements with Iraq and Hashemite Jordan (Trans-Jordan) to supply military goods to those countries and she felt she could not hold up deliveries any longer.

Sir Terrence said Britain intended to supply only arms needed for internal security and hoped there would be no arms race.

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin said he believed conclusion of the armistice agreements between Israel and her Arab neighbors had removed the need for the arms embargo. He urged all governments, however, to use prudence in shipping arms.

"The United States", Austin said, "does not intend to allow the export of arms which would permit a competitive arms race in the area."

All the delegates, including Jewish and Arab representatives, praised Bunche for his mediation efforts and agreed that the time had come to transfer his functions to the three-nation conciliation commission set up by the General Assembly last fall.

SHAW DISCOURAGES U.N. PRAYER PLAN

"Get To Business," His Advice On Assembly Proposal

Lake Success, N.Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw's advice to the United Nations is: No prayer.

The writer's views were published in the August issue of the United Nations World tonight, along with the views of other prominent persons on a proposal that United Nations meetings be opened by 60 seconds of silent prayer or meditation.

The United Nations World is published by a private corporation and is not connected with the organization.

Advises "Get To Business"

Shaw said:

"There is no form of prayer that would satisfy Catholic, Protestant, Quaker, Jain (Hindu religion), Moslem, Buddhist, Brahman, agnostic, atheist, rationalist, creative evolutionist, determinist, etc., etc., etc., or that would not intensely annoy some of them.

"Meditation should occupy many years to qualify for membership of the Assembly. A silence under such a pretext would be supremely ridiculous. The watchword should be get to business."

Sees No Hope Of Unity

The Archbishop of Canterbury said: "It is not easy to see how representatives so diverse in their religious views, and including some committed to atheism, would unite in an act of joint prayer to Almighty God."

He added: "There should be no attempt to impose from outside upon the Assembly in this matter."

Among those who favored the idea for a minute of prayer or mediation were James A. Farley, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee in the United States, and the American-born Lady Astor.

Mrs. R.'s Offer To Quit U.N. Rejected

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—President Truman said today that he had rejected an offer by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt to resign from her United Nations post. He said she will return to the next General Assembly as a delegate.

The President said that no reference to Mrs. Roosevelt's controversy with Francis Cardinal Spellman over Federal benefits to parochial schools was contained in her letter.

Just A "Routine" Letter

He described it as the routine formal offer to resign that virtually all holders of diplomatic posts send in regularly.

A reporter brought up the subject at Mr. Truman's weekly news conference. The newsman said he had been told that the widow of the late President had offered to resign her post with the United Nations (she is a member of the Human Rights Commission) because of her controversy with the Catholic prelate in New York.

Offered Each Year

Mr. Truman replied promptly that Mrs. Roosevelt offers her resignation every year. In the last case, he said, she expressed no reason.

Asked if he will accept the resignation, Mr. Truman replied she's going back to the United Nations.

HUNT DENIES LINK TO '5 PERCENTERS'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(AP)—James V. Hunt, Washington management counselor whose business dealings are under scrutiny by Senators investigating "five percenters", said today he once saved a client $400,000 by getting the army to repossess a million DDT "bombs."

He said he got $5,000 from the transaction, or about 1 1/4 per cent of the money he claimed he saved his unnamed client.

Hunt broke his silence on the investigation in an interview, printed and copyrighted by the Washington Evening Star.

In it, he declared emphatically that he had never sold his services to clients on the basis of inside information or inside contacts, and said he didn't know anybody in the government who can be influenced in the slightest degree.

$150,000 Gross

Since opening his office three years ago, he estimated he had grossed between $150,000 and $200,000.

"And in all that time and with all this talk about five percenters," he said, "I have never been paid a 5 per cent commission on any contract. I have never collected on any contract involving a contingent fee based on any sale to the government."

A Senate investigating subcommittee headed by Senator Hoey (D-NC) will open hearings Monday after weeks of preliminary inquiry into the operations of Washington's "five percenters." The term refers to persons who undertake to get government contracts for others and charge a fee for doing it—usually 5 per cent of the gross.

Congress members generally have said there is nothing illegal about "middlemen" collecting a commission for help in getting contracts for others.

Members of the Senate investigations subcommittee said, however, that their attention has been called to two laws dealing with government procurement contracts. One of the laws covers contracts negotiated by the armed services, the other covers contracts negotiated by other government agencies.

Two Laws Cited

In both laws there is a provision that every contract negotiated without advertising shall contain a statement by the contractor that "no person or selling agency has been employed or retained to solicit or secure such contract upon an agreement or understanding for a commission, percentage, brokerage or contingent fee, excepting bona fide employes or bona fide established commercial or selling agencies maintained by the contractor for the purpose of securing business."

The laws also state in the case of breach or violation of the contractor's warranty "the government shall have the right to annul such contract without liability, or in its discretion to deduct from the contract price x x x the full amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage or contingent fee."

Will Study Provisions

Subcommittee members said the language would require some study to determine whether it has any application in connection with contracts under investigation.

A spokesman for the Army's legal staff declined comment on the ground it is a matter for clarification by Government officials.

An official of the General Services Agency expressed the opinion that a violation of the provision would constitute a breach of contract.

The General Services Agency official noted, however, that another statute makes it a criminal offense for contractors to conceal information they are required by law to disclose. That provision, he added, has not been very well tested."

Paper Matches Listed

A consignment of 2,500 books of paper matches, inscribed "swiped from Harry S. Truman," entered into the story today. Hunt's lawyer said they were purchased at the request of the White House for use on Mr. Truman's presidential campaign trip last fall.

When the President was asked about the matter at his news conference, he said he isn't acquainted with Hunt and hadn't received any matches from him.

In the Star's interview, Hunt said he worked out the deal for the Army to take back the D.D.T. bombs his client couldn't sell, after a conference with Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, then Army quartermaster general.

Feldman Has Been Suspended

Feldman since has been suspended, along with Maj. Gen Alden H. Waitt, in connection with the five-percenter inquiry. Hunt formerly was a lieutenant colonel in the Quartermaster Corps.

Hunt was asked whether friendship with Feldman helped him work out the D.D.T.-bomb deal. The Star quoted him as replying:

"These people came to me and said they had bought from WAA the War Assets Administration) slightly over 1,000,000 aerosol bombs. While they had sold some, they still had almost 1,000,000 left. They had paid 40 cents apiece for them and they told me WAA had sold another quantity of them for 28 cents. . . . They wanted me to see what could be done about relieving them of the balance of deliveries.

Speaks From "Memory"

"This is all from memory, you understand, but I recall we went to WAA and talked to the people in charge of that item. . . . They also said the Army had been repossessing millions of dollars worth of items and if the Army needed these, they might be repossessed by the Army.

"We went to the Quartermaster's office and talked to the chief of supply—yes, General Feldman—and I asked if it might be possible that the Army was in the market for this item. General Feldman called the people in charge of that item and they said the Army was in the market for some bombs. General Feldman told me he would talk to WAA about it.

"I think it was a wonderful deal for everybody. The Army could repossess the bombs at 40 cents and didn't need to move them from where they were when the price for new bombs was a dollar.

Feldman Declines Comment

"If the Army hadn't needed them, my friendship with General Feldman wouldn't have made any difference."

The newspaper said that General Feldman declined to comment when told of Hunt's statement about the aerosol bombs.

The transaction appeared to have taken place in 1947, according to other information cited by the Star.

The newspaper said Hunt was asked whether he had ever asked the help of Maj. Gen. Harry S. Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, in getting favors for anybody.

Hunt replied:

"I don't remember anything of any importance that I asked him to do for other people or for me."

He said, however, that Vaughan is "one of my very good friends."

Doesn't Know Hunt

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—President Truman said today he is not acquainted with James V. Hunt, a former army officer who has been mentioned in a Senate committee's inquiry into operations of "Five Per Centers."

Mr. Truman made the statement at his news conference when he was told that a case of 2,500 books of pocket matches inscribed, "Swiped from Harry S. Truman" was purchased last December by Hunt from the Universal Match Company in St. Louis.

The President said anybody could purchase those matches. He added, in answer to questions, that the matches he frequently passes to White House guests were not given him by Hunt.

First He's Heard Of It

He said the reporters' information that Hunt had made the purchase of 2,500 such match folders was the first he had heard about it.

Roger White, attorney for Hunt, told a newsman the matches were bought at the request of the White House for use on Mr. Truman's presidential campaign trip last fall.

When a reporter asked Mr. Truman if he had received any of the match folders from Hunt, the President replied no, he had not.

Mr. Truman said he did not know Hunt, who is reportedly a friend of Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, Mr. Truman's army aide.

Reports Saving Client $400,000

Hunt was quoted today as saying he once saved a client $400,000 by getting the Army to purchase a supply of D.D.T. "bombs." Hunt's fee was $5,000.

In a copyrighted article, the Washington Evening Star said Hunt found the Army was in the market for D.D.T. bombs, and that the transaction was negotiated after he had conferred with Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, Army Quartermaster General, who recently was suspended in connection with the Five Per Center investigation.

Hunt, a former lieutenant colonel in the Army Quartermaster Corps, now is a management counselor in Washington.

The Senate's Special Investigations subcommittee plans to start public hearings Monday in the Five Per Center case.

Asked About Vaughan

The Star said Hunt was asked whether he ever had sought the help of General Vaughan in getting favors for anyone.

"I don't remember anything of any importance that I asked him to do for other people or for me," Hunt replied, adding that he considers Vaughan as "one of my very good friends."

Vaughan has refused to comment on what relations, if any, he has had with Hunt.

Denies Using Advantages

The Star said Hunt declared emphatically that he has not sold his services to clients on the basis of inside information or inside contacts. He added:

"I don't know of anybody in Government who can be influenced in the slightest degree."

The Star said Hunt was asked whether friendship with Feldman helped him work out a deal whereby the Army agreed to repossess $400,000 worth of D.D.T. bombs. The newspaper quoted Hunt as replying:

"These people [not further identified] came to me and said they had bought from WAA slightly over 1,000,000 Aerosol bombs. While they had sold some, they still had almost 1,000,000 left. They had paid 40 cents apiece for them and they told me WAA had sold another quantity of them for 28 cents. The rug was pulled out from under them and they still had $400,000 worth. They wanted me to see what could be done about relieving them of the balance of deliveries.

Talked To WAA, He Says

"This is all from memory, you understand, but I recall we went to WAA and talked to the people in charge of that item and they said if we had another customer wanting the bombs at the same price they might be able to sell, but they did not believe this was so. They also said the Army had been repossessing millions of dollars' worth of items and if the Army needed these they might be repossessed by the Army.

"We went to the quartermaster's office and talked to the chief of supply—yes, General Feldman—and I asked if it might be possible that the Army was in the market for this item. General Feldman called the people in charge of that item and they said the Army was in the market for some bombs.

"General Feldman told me he would talk to WAA about it.

Calls It Good Deal For All

"I thing it was a wonderful deal for everybody. The Army could repossess the bombs at 40 cents and didn't need to move them from where they were when the price for new bombs was a dollar.

"If the Army hadn't needed them, my friendship with General Feldman wouldn't have made any difference."

The Star said that Feldman, when informed of Hunt's statement about the Aerosol bombs, declined to comment.

A check of army and War Assets (WAA) records, the Star said, showed the Quartermaster Corps made several attempts to get the bombs back from WAA but was told they had all been sold.

The Star said a general staff policy decision of April 19, 1947, directed withdrawal of surplus of certain supplies to meet increased military requirements. In August, 1947, the Star said, the records showed WAA notified the Army that 850,000 bombs were now available at Richmond, Va., because of default of the purchaser. These were the bombs held by Hunt's client.

FRAUDS REVEALED IN WAR CONTRACTS

Army Officers Accepted Bribes for Awarding Jobs, Probe Shows

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren said today that fraud or bribery involving Army officers and other government employees was indicated in award of "numerous" wartime contracts.

A merely sampling of contracts, he said, turned up $6,280,000 in fraudulent payments on contract settlements, he said, indicating that the overall total would be much greater.

Citing the award of contracts for writing wartime training manuals, he said there were signs of fraud or bribery in a number of cases.

The disclosures were the result of regular checkups made by the comptroller general's office whose task is to adult government accounts.

Contracts Duplicated

Warren estimated, at least $274,273 was obtained fraudulently in settlement of the contracts at the end of the war.

On top of that, he said, evidence indicated that at least 25 of the contracts, priced at $505,597, were for duplications or were unnecessary.

Warren referred to contracts for preparation "by various commercial writing agencies in the New York city area" of technical manuals concerning maintenance and operation of equipment.

He cited these cases in summarizing the general accounting office's examination of 9,195 contract settlements of all kinds which he said disclosed "overpayment or waste of more than $11,500,000."

This was only a sampling of the total settlements, he said, but it turned up excessive or fraudulent payments in over 12 per cent of those examined.

Criticizes Law

Warren criticized again the 1944 contract settlement act which authorizes contracting agencies to settle their terminated contracts without prior independent audit by another government agency.

The act should have prevented fraud instead of providing only for recovery of payments found later to have been induced by fraud, Warren said. He compared it to locking the barn "after the horse is stolen."

Of more than $6,280,000 fraudulent payments reported, Warren said, apparently only $107,882 has been recovered and he predicted not much more will be. He said the Justice department is not to be criticized on this because of the problem of establishing in court at this late date that fraud actually existed.

No Names Used

Warren included the manual-writing cases in a report of those he has certified "as having been induced by fraud." No names were used in his summary.

Warren gave the following details of the manual-writing cases:

In one instance, he said, "it appears that an Army officer divulged to one of the bidders for government business the prices quoted by other firms as a result of which the bidder" obtained a $40,375 contract. In settling the contract the government paid $34,343, notwithstanding that the contractor's actual costs were only $7,053, Warren said.

"It is not surprising to find, as an aftermath," he went on, "that this officer subsequently became an employe of the contractor and is shown by the contractor's payroll records to have been paid $7,600 for 'services.'"

FIRST AIRLIFT PLANE RETURNS TO U.S. TODAY

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass., Aug. 4 (AP)—The first Berlin airlift plane to be returned to the United States in the folding up of "operation vittles" is due here tomorrow.

A big four-engined C-54 transport is expected to land at 7:15 a.m. (eastern daylight time). The plane was scheduled to arrive tonight but was held over in the Azores to give the crew a rest.

The two pilots and the engineer aboard will be welcomed by Col. Joseph E. Barzynski, base commander.

Draft Expiration Next June Likely

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—Unless an unforeseen emergency develops, the peacetime draft of manpower for the armed forces is expected to expire June 25, 1950.

A closed-door conference on the subject was held today by the Senate Armed Service Committee with Gordon Gray, Secretary of the Army, and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, vice chief of staff for the Army. There have been no draft calls by the armed forces since last January because there have been sufficient voluntary enlistments.

No action appears necessary now relative to continuance of the Draft Act, Senator Tydings (D., Md.), chairman of the committee, commented, because Congress can consider an extension or revision when it meets next January.

WOULD CANCEL FINN DEBT

Blatnik Offers House Bill to End World War I Obligation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Representative John A. Blatnik, Democrat, of Minnesota, proposed today "the immediate cancellation of the $8,000,000 World War I debt owed by the Republic of Finland to the United States."

He introduced legislation to cancel the debt. He said in a statement that Finland never had missed an installment and had not received any Marshall Plan funds.

"I want to do something to help this hard working and industrious little country and to demonstrate America's feelings of good will toward her people," Mr. Blatnik said.

TOKYO ROSE ILL, TRIAL DELAYED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4 (AP)—The slow-moving treason trial of Iva Toguri D'Aquino, charged with being the taunting "Tokyo Rose" of wartime broadcasts to the south Pacific, fell further behind schedule today.

Mrs. D'Aquino is in the county jail sick bay with an attack of diarrhea.

Not Serious

Dr. A. A. Berger, who attends federal prisoners at the jail, said her condition was nothing serious. She should be back in the courtroom Monday. Federal Judge Michael J. Roche ordered a continuance until then.

The trial will go into its sixth week next Tuesday. The prosecution so far has called 32 of its 71 witnesses. Defense Attorney Wayne Collins has announced he would require "equal time" with the prosecution to present his client's case.

Many Delays

Special prosecutor Tom DeWolfe, one of a staff of three Department of Justice attorneys assigned to the case from Washington, said at the outset the government hoped to round out its case in three weeks. But lengthy cross-examinations of prosecution witnesses by Collins, plus delays for interpreting testimony of Japanese-speaking witnesses, have shattered this estimate.

Mrs. D'Aquino will round out her second year in custody this month. She was arrested in Japan at request of the Department of Justice in the present proceedings last August 26. She was held in custody a little over a year, from October '45, to October, '46, by the U. S. Army in Tokyo.

NIGHT LEAD COMMUNISTS (370)
NEW YORK, AUG.4-(AP)-ANOTHER COMMUNIST CONSPIRACY TRIAL DEFENSE
WITNESS REFUSED TODAY TO NAME IN PERSONS CONNECTED WITH PARTY
ACTIVITIES. HE SAID IT MIGHT JEOPARDIZE "THEIR VERY LIVES."
THE WITNESS WAS SAMUEL J.HALL, JR.,' OF BIRMINGHAM, ALA.,' COMMUNIST PARTY DISTRICT ORGANIZER IN' ALABAMA, TENNESSEE AND MISSISSIPPI.
FOR A TIME IT APPEARED HIS REFUSAL MIGHT CAUSE HIM TO BE JAILED FOR CONTEMPT BUT HE COMPLETED HIS TESTIMONY WITHOUT ANY ACTION OF THIS KIND.
WHILE HALL WAS TESTIFYING ON DIRECT EXAMINATION, U.S. ATTORNEY
JOHN F.X.MC GOHEY URGED THE COURT TO FIND OUT IN ADVANCE IF DEFENSE WITNESSES INTENDED TO REFUSE ON CROSS-EXAMINATION TO TELL WHO TAUGHT AT PARTY SCHOOLS THEY ATTENDED.
THE PROSECUTOR ASKED THAT HALL'S TESTIMONY BE SHUT OFF IF THIS WAS HIS PLAN. HE SAID THE DEFENSE HAD ADOPTED A SCHEME WHEREBY
IT PUT IN EVIDENCE WHATEVER IT WISHED ABOUT PARTY TEACHINGS BUT BLOCKED THE GOVERNMENT FROM REFUTING THEM BY DIRECTING WITNESSES NOT TO REVEAL THE NAMES OF TEACHERS.
FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD R.MEDINA REJECTED MC GOHEY'S MOTION. BUT HE SAID HE WOULD HAVE NO ALTERNATIVE BUT TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT ON CROSS-EXAMINATION ANY WITNESS WHO "REFUSES TO ANSWER WITHOUT ANY VALID AND CONSTITUTIONAL BASIS."
LATER, WHEN HALL WENT ON CROSS-EXAMINATION, HE REFUSED TO NAME
TWO MEMBERS OF THE ALABAMA DISTRICT COMMITTEE' OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY WHO HAD TOLD HIM HE HAD BEEN SELECTED TO ATTEND A PARTY SCHOOL NEAR BEACON, N.Y.
HE CITED THE FIRST AND FIFTH AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION
AS THE BASIS FOR HIS REFUSAL, AND ADDED:
"I'D RATHER NOT ANSWER THAT QUESTION. I WAS BORN AND BRED IN THAT STATE (ALABAMA) AND I KNOW THAT NOT ONLY THEIR JOBS BUT THEIR VERY LIVES ARE AT STAKE."

HE REFUSED ALSO TO ANSWER QUERIES ABOUT THE NAMES OF TEACHERS AT THE BEACON CAMP. MCGOHEY DID NOT RAISE THE QUESTION OF CONTEMPT AND THE JUDGE SAID NOTHING FURTHER.

THE WITNESS SAID THE TWO-WEEK SESSION AT THE BEACON CAMP IN JANUARY, 1946 WAS FOR SOUTHERN COMMUNISTS ONLY.

HE SAID THE TEACHERS ADVOCATED "FULL EQUALITY" AND "FIRST CLASS CITIZENSHIP". HE DENIED A STATEMENT OF GOVERNMENT WITNESSES THAT THE PARTY FAVORED "A SEPARATE NEGRO REPUBLIC IN THE BLACK BELT" OF THE SOUTH.

THE 11 COMMUNIST LEADERS ON TRIAL ARE CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO ADVOCATE THE FORCIBLE OVERTHROW OF THE GOVERNMENT.

A SECOND WITNESS WAS CALLED DURING THE DAY BY THE DEFENSE, ROBERT MANEWITZ, 32, OF (25510 CAPANNE ST.) ST.LOUIS, MO., A MEMBER OF THE MISSOURI STATE BOARD OF HIS PARTY.

MANEWITZ SAID HE JOINED THE PARTY IN 1935 WHEN HE WAS 18. HE SAID HE WORKS AS A PATTERN MAKER AND METAL FINISHER AT BRONZE FABRICATORS.

HE TESTIFIED ONLY BRIEFLY BEFORE COURT ADJOURNED UNTIL TOMORROW.

THE WOMAN WAS ARRESTED AT A NECKTIE FIRM WHERE SHE WORKS, ON DEPORTATION CHARGES ACCUSING HER OF BEING AN ALIEN MEMBER OF AN ORGANIZATION ADVOCATING FORCIBLE OVERTHROW OF THE GOVERNMENT.

THE COMMITTEE SAID MISS GOTTESMAN TRIED TO BECOME AN AMERICAN CITIZEN "BUT WAS DENIED THAT RIGHT." HER ARREST, THE COMMITTEE SAID, WAS BASED ON "HER FORMER MEMBERSHIP IN THE COMMUNIST PARTY."

NEW YORK, AUG. 4-(AP)-A FIVE-POINT "PRICE FOR PEACE" SAID TO BE IN THE MIND OF GENERALISSIMO STALIN, INCLUDING A $2,000,000,000 (B) U.S. LOAN TO RUSSIA, WAS OUTLINED TODAY IN THE AUGUST ISSUE OF THE UNITED NATIONS WORLD, A PRIVATELY PUBLISHED MAGAZINE.

THE MAGAZINE QUOTED AN UNIDENTIFIED "TOP-RANKING AMERICAN BUSINESSMAN WHO IS ALSO A RESPECTED REPUBLICAN, CHURCHMAN AND CIVIC LEADER," ON THE BASIS OF A CONVERSATION THE PERIODICAL SAID THE AMERICAN HAD IN THE SUMMER OF 1948 WITH ANDREI A.GROMYKO. THE LATER THEN WAS SOVIET DELEGATE TO THE UNITED NATIONS AND NOW IS DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER OF THE U.S.S.R.

STALIN'S FIVE CONDITIONS FOR PEACE WERE JOTTED DOWN BY THE AMERICAN, THE MAGAZINE SAID, WITHIN AN HOUR AFTER HIS "OFF-THE-RECORD" TALK WITH GROMYKO. THE FIVE POINTS, THE MAGAZINE SAID, WERE:

1. A TREATY BETWEEN THE U. S. AND THE U.S.S.R. FORMALIZING THE COMMITMENTS OF BOTH COUNTRIES AS SET FORTH IN THE YALTA AND POTSDAM DOCUMENTS.
2. FOUR-POWER UNANIMITY ON ALL QUESTIONS CONCERNING GERMANY.
3. WESTERN GENEROSITY ON REPARATIONS FOR THE U.S.S.R.
4. IMMEDIATE CESSATION OF THE U.S.-U.K. (UNITED KINGDOM) SUPPORT OF "SUBVERSIVE FASCIST AND HITLERITE ELEMENTS."
5. ELIMINATION OF ALL ALLEGED DISCRIMINATORY TRADE PRACTICES ON THE PART OF THE U.S. AND RESUMPTION OF NORMAL TRADE RELATIONS, STIMULATED BY A $2,000,000,000 LOAN ON TERMS SIMILAR TO THOSE OF THE U.S. LOAN TO BRITAIN IN 1946.

IN FACT, HE ADDED, THE SOVIET HAS ADDED THE EQUIVALENT OF 100 DIVISIONS OF TROOPS THROUGH CONTROL OF SATELLITE NATIONS.

ANOTHER COMMITTEE MEMBER, REP.FULTON (R-PA), TOLD NEWSMEN THE FIGURE ON SOVIET MIGHT WAS "MORE LULLING THAN IT WAS ALARMING."

REP.JUDD (R-MINN) CHAFED AT THE COMMITTEE'S DECISION TO GET DETAILS IN CLOSED SESSION. THE PUBLIC, HE TOLD NEWSMEN, HAS TO FOOT THE BILL AND SUPPORT THE PROGRAM AND OUGHT TO BE LET IN ON THE FACTS, AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE. JUDD SAID 90 PER CENT OF THE SECRET TESTIMONY COULD HAVE BEEN MADE PUBLIC WITHOUT HARM.

ARGUING FOR HIS SPANISH LOAN AMENDMENT, MCCARRAN DECLARED THAT SPAIN OCCUPIES A STRATEGIC POSITION FROM BOTH A MILITARY AND ECONOMIC STANDPOINT. WASH-FOR AID-XXX CROPS

"WHAT IS THE SPIRIT BEHIND THIS MOVE TO DENY AID TO SPAIN?" HE ASKED. "SHOULDN'T WE LOOK FORWARD TO THE DANGER OF WAR? AND IF WE DO, HOW CAN WE ISOLATE SPAIN WHO IS CLAMORING AT OUR DOORS TO HELP BRING ABOUT A STABLE ECONOMY?"

SENATOR VANDENBERG OF MICHIGAN, TOP REPUBLICAN ON THE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE, TOLD THE SENATE "THIS IS NOT THE TIME OR THE PLACE" TO SETTLE THE SPANISH QUESTION.

VANDENBERG SIDED WITH BARKLEY'S RULING ON THE MATTER, BUT HE ALSO TOOK OCCASION TO DECLARE THAT THE ECA PROGRAM MUST BE "POLICED" MORE EMPHATICALLY DURING ITS SECOND YEAR'S OPERATION. HE DID NOT ELABORATE.

AFTER THE SENATE ACTED ON THE SPANISH AMENDMENT, DEMOCRATIC LEADER LUCAS (ILL) RAISED A POINT OF ORDER AGAINST AN AMENDMENT WHICH WOULD PENALIZE ANY MARSHALL PLAN NATION THAT BROKE A TREATY WITH THE UNITED STATES. HE SAID THIS WAS ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO WRITE IN NEW LEGISLATION.

THE AMENDMENT WAS DESIGNED TO LIMIT AID TO FRANCE BECAUSE OF ALLEGED DISCRIMINATION AGAINST AMERICAN BUSINESSMEN IN FRENCH MOROCCO.

SENATOR MCCLELLAN (D-ARK) TOLD REPORTERS HE MIGHT FORCE THE BILL BACK INTO THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE FOR THE SECOND TIME. HE COULD DO THIS BY CHALLENGING IT ON THE GROUNDS IT CONTAINS POLICY-MAKING LAWS IN VIOLATION OF SENATE RULES.

MCCLELLAN TOOK A BEATING LATE YESTERDAY WHEN HE FAILED TO GET APPROVAL OF AN AMENDMENT WHICH WOULD HAVE EARMARKED $1,350,000,000 (B) OF EUROPEAN RECOVERY FUNDS FOR BUYING SURPLUS AMERICAN FARM COMMODITIES. WASH-FOREIGN AID-XXX TURKEY

LUCAS CHALLENGED THE COMMODITY AMENDMENT ON THE GROUND THAT IT WAS NEW LEGISLATION AND VIOLATED THE RULES.

WHEN VICE PRESIDENT BARKLEY UPHELD LUCAS CHAIRMAN MCKELLAR (D-TENN) OF THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE APPEALED THE RULING.

THE SENATE VOTED 52 TO 32 TO UPHOLD BARKLEY, THUS STRIPPING THE MCCLELLAN COMMODITY RIDER FROM THE BILL.

IN A SIMILAR SITUATION LAST WEEK, MCCLELLAN CHALLENGED THE ENTIRE BILL BY RAISING A POINT OF ORDER AND FORCED IT BACK INTO THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE. THIS TIME HE MADE NO SUCH MOVE.

HE SAID HE WOULD WAIT TO SEE HOW SENATOR MCCARRAN (D-NEV) FARED WITH HIS SPANISH LOAN AMENDMENT.

"I MAY RAISE A POINT OF ORDER AGAINST THE BILL," MCCLELLAN SAID. "I'VE STILL GOT PLENTY OF TIME."

ONE DEMOCRATIC LEADER SAID MCCLELLAN WOULD FACE AN ANGRY SENATE IF HE THREW THE BILL BACK INTO COMMITTEE. MORE THAN [illegible]0,000,000,000 (B) IN APPROPRIATIONS IS BACKED UP BEHIND THE MEASURE--AND SENATORS ARE ANXIOUS TO WIND UP THE SESSION AND GET HOME.

WHEN THE DISPUTE BOILED OVER YESTERDAY, THE SENATE HAD COMPLETED ACTION ON PART OF THE FOREIGN AID BILL. IT HAD:

(1) APPROVED $3,627,380,000 (B) FOR THE ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION--ROUGHLY 10 PER CENT LESS THAN ECA ASKED.

(2) VOTED $1,074,000,000 (B) FOR ECA'S EXPENSES IN THE LAST QUARTER OF THE YEAR ENDED JULY 1.

(3) APPROVED $344,000 FOR A CONGRESSIONAL WATCHDOG COMMITTEE TO KEEP A CHECK ON FOREIGN SPENDING.

THIS AMOUNTED TO A CONFIRMATION OF THE VOTES TAKEN LAST WEEK ON THE BILL.

THE BILL AS IT NOW STANDS TECHNICALLY BARS THE ARMY FROM TURNING OVER TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT ITS OCCUPATION DUTIES IN GERMANY, BUT THE SENATE IS EXPECTED TO REMEDY THIS SITUATION.

THE SITUATION AROSE WHEN THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE DELETED SOME AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE. THE STATE DEPARTMENT PROTESTED THIS ACTION WIPED OUT AUTHORITY TO MAKE THE TRANSFER OF OCCUPATION DUTIES.

BESIDES FUNDS FOR ECA, THE BILL CONTAINS $900,000,000 (M) FOR OCCUPATION COSTS IN GERMANY, AUSTRIA, JAPAN AND THE RYUKYU ISLANDS. THERE IS ANOTHER $45,000,000 (M) FOR AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY.

DENFELD TOLD THE REPORTERS A DEFENSE ORGANIZATION MIGHT BE FUNCTIONING BY THE END OF THIS YEAR. HE ADDED THIS WAS JUST A GUESS, BASED ON A FEELING THAT "WE WERE GETTING ALONG SO WELL IT WOULD NOT BE TOO TOUGH TO WORK OUT AN ORGANIZATION BY THAT TIME."

"WE HAVE HAD A COMPLETE UNDERSTANDING AND A FINE EXCHANGE OF VIEWS ON THE ORGANIZATION OF THE ATLANTIC PACT," HE SAID "NOTHING FINAL HAS BEEN DETERMINED. FINAL ORGANIZATION WILL BE THE TASK OF A FUTURE HIGH LEVEL MEETING. PARIS- STAFF CHIEFS - EXPLAIN

"WE ARE LOOKING FORWARD TO MEETING THE FRENCH, BELGIANS, DUTCH AND PORTUGUESE IN FRANCE TOMORROW AND THE NEXT DAY."

THE NAVAL CHIEF SAID THE U.S. COMMANDERS DID NOT COME HERE WITH ANY READY MADE PLAN. RATHER, HE SAID, THE MISSION WAS TO EXCHANGE VIEWS AND REPORT BACK TO THE U.S. GOVERNMENT.

U.S. ARMY GEN. OMAR BRADLEY, EMERGING WITH DENFELD FROM THE HEAVILY GUARDED CONFERENCE ROOM, DECLINED TO DISCUSS WHAT FORM THE ATLANTIC PACT DEFENSE PLAN WOULD TAKE, WHO MIGHT BE ITS COMMANDER OR WHERE ITS HEADQUARTERS MIGHT BE.

BRADLEY WAS ASKED IF, IN THE EVENT OF WAR, THE UNITED STATES WOULD BE DROPPING ATOM BOMBS WHILE WESTERN EUROPEAN NATIONS PROVIDED GROUND FORCES. BRADLEY ANSWERED:

"THAT REFERS TO MY STATEMENT BEFORE THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE IN WASHINGTON. IN THOSE DISCUSSIONS WE HAVE HAD TO PRESENT SOME ASSUMED USE OF COLLECTIVE DEFENSE. IN SUCH AN ASSUMED SITUATION WE WOULD HAVE TO DO THE STRATEGIC BOMBING WHILE OTHER NATIONS CLOSER TO THE CENTER OF THE EMERGENCY WOULD PROVIDE, INITIALLY, THE OTHER FORCES."

THE AIR CHIEF OF STAFF, GEN. HOYT VANDENBERG, SAID THE U.S. AIR FORCE DOES NOT SEE A MONOPOLY ON STRATEGIC BOMBING.

"I WOULD FAVOR EVERYBODY GETTING INTO THAT TO THE MAXIMUM OF THE LIMITATIONS IMPOSED BY EXCHEQUERS AND MANPOWER," VANDENBERG SAID. "BRITISH STRATEGIC BOMBING IN THE LAST WAR MADE A WONDERFUL RECORD."

IN FRANCE, WHERE THE STAFF CHIEFS WILL BE AT WEEK'S END, CONFERENCES WILL BE HELD AT FONTAINEBLEU WITH BRITISH FIELD MARSHAL VISCOUNT MONTGOMERY AND WITH COMMANDERS FROM FRANCE, BELGIUM, LUXEMBOURG AND THE NETHERLANDS--THE OTHER MEMBERS OF THE WESTERN EUROPEAN UNION.

THE SCANDINAVIAN DELEGATIONS MET THE AMERICAN OFFICERS IN SEPARATE CONFERENCES AT U.S. NAVAL HEADQUARTERS IN LONDON. EACH GROUP SPENT MORE THAN AN HOUR WITH THE AMERICANS.

THE CONFERENCES WERE CONDUCTED UNDER THE SAME CONDITIONS OF SECRECY AS YESTERDAY'S MEETING WITH BRITISH MILITARY LEADERS. ARMED GUARDS MADE CERTAIN ONLY ACTUAL PARTICIPANTS ENTERED THE CONFERENCE ROOM.

THE AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVES WILL LEAVE FOR PARIS THIS AFTERNOON ON THE NEXT LEG OF THEIR 10-DAY AIR TOUR OF EUROPE.

THE U.S. LEADERS--ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF GEN. OMAR BRADLEY, NAVY CHIEF OF OPERATIONS ADM. LOUIS DENFELD AND AIR FORCE CHIEF GEN. HOYT S. VANDENBERG--CONFERRED WITH THEIR BRITISH OPPOSITE NUMBERS AT LENGTH YESTERDAY.

AFTER THE CLOSELY-GUARDED CONFERENCE, DENFELD SAID THE MILITARY ORGANIZATION OF THE ATLANTIC PACT NATIONS MIGHT BE SET UP BEFORE THE END OF THE YEAR."

HE SAID THERE HAD BEEN "CONSIDERABLE PROGRESS" DURING THE BRITISH-AMERICAN MEETING.

THE AMERICAN, BRITISH, DANISH AND NORWEGIAN MILITARY LEADERS ALL MET KING GEORGE VI AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE LAST NIGHT FOR A "FRIENDLY, INFORMAL TALK."

THE DANES FLEW HERE TUESDAY, THE NORWEGIANS ARRIVED YESTERDAY.

LIEUT. GEN. OLE BERG, NORWEGIAN CHIEF OF STAFF, SAID AT NORTHOLT AIRPORT HIS GROUP WAS INTERESTED IN:

1--COOPERATION UNDER THE ATLANTIC PACT.

2. EQUIPMENT FOR ALL THREE SERVICES "WHICH WE HOPE TO GET FROM BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES."

3. EXCHANGE OF IDEAS ON MILITARY TRAINING.

ALTHOUGH VERY LITTLE HAS SIFTED OUT OF THE CONFERENCES WHICH THE U.S. STAFF CHIEFS HAVE HELD WITH EUROPEAN LEADERS, IT IS KNOWN THE TALKS HAVE CENTERED ON THE TYPE AND SIZE OF FORCES CONSIDERED NECESSARY TO KEEP THE PEACE IN EUROPE AND THE EXTENT OF FINANCIAL AND MILITARY AID NEEDED. MOST OF THE AID WOULD HAVE TO COME FROM THE UNITED STATES, WITH BRITAIN HELPING OUT TO A LESSER EXTENT.

WHILE THE TALKS ARE NOT DIRECTLY TIED TO THE $1,450,000,000 FOREIGN ARMS AID PROGRAM BEFORE THE U.S. CONGRESS, THEY WILL PROVIDE INFORMATION AS TO HOW MUCH MONEY WILL BE NEEDED TO BRING THE ATLANTIC PACT MILITARY ORGANIZATION INTO EXISTENCE.

(250) UNIFICATION

WASHINGTON, AUG.4-(AP)-SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON TODAY PRESSED FORWARD WITH HIS PLANS FOR A STRONGER MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT, FOLLOWING CREATION OF TWO NEW POLICY POSTS.

JOHNSON LATE YESTERDAY SET UP AN OFFICE OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS TO HELP HIM WORK OUT "POLITICO-MILITARY" MATTERS WITH THE STATE DEPARTMENT AND OTHER FOREIGN POLICY AGENCIES. HE NAMED N.E. HALABY TO HEAD THE NEW OFFICE.

HALABY HAS BEEN FOREIGN AFFAIRS ADVISER TO THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE. HE FORMERLY WAS A STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIAL.

THE DEFENSE SECRETARY ALSO ANNOUNCED APPOINTMENT OF A MAJ.GEN. JAMES H.BURNS TO BE HIS CONSULTANT IN THE FIELD OF FOREIGN POLICY. THE 64-YEAR OLD GENERAL, WHO HAS BEEN IN RETIREMENT, SERVED AS EXECUTIV TO JOHNSON WHEN HE WAS ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF WAR IN 1939.

THE SECOND POLICY AGENCY CREATED WITHIN THE DEFENSE ESTABLISHMENT YESTERDAY WAS A CIVILIAN RESERVE POLICY BOARD, TO COORDINATE PROGRAMS OF THE ORGANIZED RESERVE. WILLIAM T.FARICY, PRESIDENT OF THE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN RAILROADS, WAS PICKED TO HEAD IT.

STILL FURTHER TIGHTENING UP OF THE MILITARY MACHINE WAS IN PROSPECT AS SOON AS PRESIDENT TRUMAN SIGNS THE NEW BILL GIVING JOHNSON GREATER CONTROL OVER THE THREE ARMED SERVICES.

THE MEASURE SETS UP A PERMANENT CHAIRMAN FOR THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF. PENTAGON REPORTS WERE THAT ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF GEN.OMAR BRADLEY WAS SLATED FOR THAT JOB--WHICH WOULD MAKE HIM THE NATION'S HIGHEST RANKING OFFICER.

BRADLEY HAS BEEN A MEMBER OF THE JOINT CHIEFS, ALONG WITH ADM. LOUIS E.DENFELD, COMMANDER OF THE NAVY, AND GEN.HOYT VANDENBERG, WHO HEADS THE AIR FORCE. GEN. DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER HAS BEEN SERVING AS TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN OF THE GROUP.

VAUGHAN HAS SAID HE KNOWS ABOUT 300 PERSONS IN WASHINGTON OPERATING IN CONTRACT DEALS, BUT HE HAS REFUSED TO DISCUSS WHAT RELATIONS, IF ANY, HE HAS HAD WITH HUNT.

THE SENATE SUBCOMMITTEE HAS BEEN TRYING TO FIND OUT WHETHER HUNT HAD ANY PART IN GETTING GOVERNMENT CLEARANCE FOR CONSTRUCTION WORK AT TANFORAN RACE TRACK SHORTLY AFTER THE WAR WHEN BUILDING MATERIALS WERE SCARCE.

THE STAR QUOTED HUNT AS SAYING IN CONNECTION WITH THAT INCIDENT:

"I WAS NOT INVOLVED WITH TANFORAN IN THE SLIGHTEST WAY. I WAS CHATTING WITH GEN.VAUGHAN IN HIS OFFICE AND HE MADE A COMMENT THAT SOME FRIENDS OF HIS HAD COMPLAINED TO HIM THE DAY BEFORE THAT THEY HAD GOTTEN THE RUN-AROUND FROM SOME OF THE PEOPLE IN THE OFFICE OF THE HOUSING EXPEDITER WHEN THEY WENT IN TO INQUIRE ABOUT THEIR RIGHTS TO BUILD AT A TRACK IN CALIFORNIA.

"GEN.VAUGHAN SAID IT BOTHERED HIM THAT FELLOWS I SPOKE SO HIGHLY OF AT HOUSING HAD TREATED HIS FRIENDS LIKE SCHOOLBOYS. I TOLD HIM I WOULD BE AT HOUSING IN A DAY OR TWO AND I'D TALK TO THEM ABOUT IT BUT I DIDN'T THINK THEY PUSHED PEOPLE AROUND BECAUSE THEY HAD BEEN SO COURTEOUS TO ME.

"WHEN I WENT DOWN THERE I ASKED A MAN NAMED MAHER ABOUT THE THING AND HE CALLED IN TWO OR THREE OTHERS WHO HAD BEEN PRESENT AT THE OTHER MEETING AND THEY DISCUSSED IT WITH ME FULLY AND FRANKLY AND WENT OVER THEIR CONVERSATION.

"I TOLD GEN.VAUGHAN I THOUGHT HIS FRIENDS HAD BEEN ACCORDED COURTESY AND PROPER TREATMENT AND OFFERED TO SHOW HIM A MEMO I HAD WRITTEN ABOUT IT. I GOT NO FEE. I JUST DIDN'T WANT TO SEE ANY MISUNDERSTANDING BETWEEN TWO OFFICIALS OF THE GOVERNMENT."

HUNT ALSO TOLD THE STAR:

1. THAT HE REPRESENTED DOROTHY DRAPER, AN INTERIOR DECORATOR, IN TRYING TO GET HER A CONTRACT FOR PART OF THE WHITE HOUSE REDECORATING. HUNT SAID THE ONLY CONNECTION VAUGHAN HAD WITH THAT WAS A CALL MADE FROM HUNT'S OFFICE TO VAUGHAN'S OFFICE TO FIND OUT THE PROPER PERSON TO SEE ABOUT IT. HUNT SAID VAUGHAN'S OFFICE REFERRED HIM TO THE WHITE HOUSE ARCHITECT.

2. THAT HE GOT AN $80,000 FEE FOR HIS HELP IN GETTING THE LIDO BEACH HOTEL ON LONG ISLAND BACK TO ITS ORIGINAL OWNERS AT SUBSTANTIALLY LESS THAN THE FIRST PURCHASE PRICE.

3. THAT HE NEVER HAS CLAIMED HE WAS "VERY CLOSE" TO SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON.

4. THAT HE HAS KNOWN GENERAL WAITT FROM BOYHOOD. HUNT SAID HE NEVER HAS OBTAINED ANY CONTRACTS FOR CLIENTS FROM THE CHEMICAL CORPS HEADED BY WAITT, BUT HE ADDED "THERE IS PRESENTLY ONE UNDER CONSIDERATION X X X."

5. THAT HE AND JOHN MARAGON, ANOTHER KEY FIGURE IN THE FIVE PERCENTER INQUIRY, HAVE "MET BRIEFLY SEVERAL TIMES, BUT I HAVE HAD NO SOCIAL, BUSINESS OR ANY OTHER CONTACTS WITH HIM."

IT APPEARED TODAY THAT THE PRINCIPAL EMPHASIS AT THE START OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE HEARINGS WILL BE ON THE EVENTS WHICH LED UP TO THE SUSPENSION OF GENERALS FELDMAN AND WAITT.

ORDERS FOR THEIR TEMPORARY RELIEF FROM DUTY WENT OUT JULY 17 AFTER PAUL GRINDLE, MASSACHUSETTS MANUFACTURER, SAID HE HAD PAID HUNT $1,000 FOR HELP IN SEEKING A GOVERNMENT CONTRACT, AND THAT HUNT CLAIMED INFLUENCE WITH FELDMAN AND WAITT.

SENATOR HOEY SAID HE HAS BEEN ADVISED HUNT HAS ENTERED A HOSPITAL HERE FOR AN OPERATION TO REMOVE A BLOOD CLOT ON HIS LEG. THE SENATOR SAID THAT WOULDN'T DELAY THE HEARINGS, HOWEVER, AS IT WOULD BE POSSIBLE TO GO ON WITHOUT HUNT'S TESTIMONY AT THE VERY START.

ANOTHER FIRM ASKED A GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL FOR AN INCREASE IN ITS CONTRACT PRICE, GOT IT, AND PAID THE OFFICIAL $500, WARREN SAID.

"IN YET ANOTHER CASE," THE REPORT SAID, "TWO FORMER ARMY OFFICERS, WHILE ON ACTIVE DUTY CHARGED WITH CARRYING ON THE TECHNICAL MANUAL PROGRAM ON BEHALF OF THE GOVERNMENT, RECEIVED SHARES OF CORPORATE STOCK VALUED AT $2,000 IN RETURN FOR PURPORTED 'PART-TIME SERVICES' TO A FIRM WHICH SHORTLY THEREAFTER RECEIVED GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS AT PRICES TOTALLING IN EXCESS OF $100,000.

"IN ADDITION TO THE FOREGOING, NUMEROUS INSTACES WERE FOUND INVOLVING THE ACCEPTANCE BY GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL OF ENTERTAINMENT, LUNCHES, DINNERS, LIQUORS, ETC., FROM CONTRACTORS, WHO, IN RETURN, SEEM TO HAVE BEEN FAVORED WITH GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS AND LIBERAL TERMINATION SETTLEMENTS."

WARREN REPORTED THAT THE INVESTIGATION TURNED UP "AN APPARENT SCHEME WHEREBY 20 PERCENT OF THE CONTRACT PRICES WAS TO BE 'KICKED-BACK' TO CERTAIN GOVERNMENT REPRESNTATIVES EITHER DIRECTLY, THROUGH THEIR RELATIVES, OR THROUGH DUMMY CORPORATIONS."

IT MAY BE ASSUMED, HE ADDED, THAT THE CONTRACT PRICES WERE PADDED ENOUGH TO COVER THIS ADDED EXPENSES.

WARREN SAID IT APPEARS THAT AT LEAST EIGHT CONTRACTORS HID FACTS ABOUT THEIR TERMINATION CLAIMS TO GET EXCESSIVE PAYMENTS FOR THEMSELVES OR OTHERS--"INCLUDING PRESENT OR FORMER GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL."

THE CLAIMS INCLUDED AMOUNTS PAID GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL FOR AIDING THE CONTRACTOR OBTAIN THE AWARD, WARREN SAID.

IN MANY CASES THE SETTLEMENTS WERE APPROVED ON THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE SAME INDIVIDUALS WHO PARTICIPATED IN IRREGULARITIES SURROUNDING THE AWARD OF THE CONTRACTS, WARREN ADDED.

NIGHT LEAD MRS.ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, AUG.4-(AP)-PRESIDENT TRUMAN SAID TODAY MRS. FRANKLIN D.ROOSEVELT HAS MADE HER ANNUAL ROUTINE OFFER TO RESIGN FROM HER UNITED NATIONS POSITION BUT HE ISN'T GOING TO ACCEPT IT.

THE WIDOW OF FRANKLIN D.ROOSEVELT IS ONE OF THE U.S.DELEGATES TO THE UNITED NATIONS GENERAL ASSEMBLY. SHE IS ALSO A MEMBER OF THE U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION.

THE SUBJECT CAME UP AT MR.TRUMAN'S NEWS CONFERENCE WHEN A REPORTER ASKED IF IT WAS TRUE THAT MRS.ROOSEVELT HAD OFFERED TO RESIGN BECAUSE OF HER RECENT CONTROVERSY WITH FRANCIS CARDINAL SPELLMAN OF NEW YORK CITY.

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CARDINAL CRITICIZED MRS.ROOSEVELT AFTER SHE HAD OPPOSED FEDERAL AID FOR CHURCH-OPERATED SCHOOLS. HE SAID HER "RECORD OF ANTI-CATHOLICISM" IS "UNWORTHY OF AN AMERICAN MOTHER." SHE REPLIED THAT SHE HAS NO BIAS AGAINST THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND THAT GOD IS THE FINAL JUDGE OF THE WORTHINESS OF ALL HUMAN BEINGS.

THIS EXCHANGE CREATED CONSIDERABLE TENSION WITHIN THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF NEW YORK STATE.

MR.TRUMAN, REPLYING TO THE QUESTION, SAID MRS.ROOSEVELT EVERY YEAR OFFERS TO RESIGN BUT BECAUSE--WITH HER CUSTOMARY COURTESY TO HIM--SHE THINKS THE PRESIDENT OUGHT TO HAVE A FREE HAND TO APPOINT ANYONE HE WANTS TO.

MR.TRUMAN SAID HER OFFER THIS YEAR CAME AT THE USUAL TIME, AND SHE EXPRESSED NO REASON FOR IT.

QUESTIONED FURTHER, THE PRESIDENT SAID MRS.ROOSEVELT IS GOING BACK TO THE NEXT UNITED NATIONS ASSEMBLY IN HER SAME JOB.

THE NEXT GENERAL ASSEMBLY WILL BE SOMETIME IN THE FALL.

NIGHT LEAD REPARATIONS (350)

BY ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON, AUG. 4-(AP)-DIPLOMATIC SOURCES SAID TODAY THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN ARE TALKING OVER AN IDEA FOR STOPPING REPARATIONS DELIVERIES FROM WESTERN GERMANY TO RUSSIA.

THESE SOURCES, WHO REFUSED TO BE IDENTIFIED FOR PUBLICATION, EMPHASIZED THAT THE IDEA WAS INITIATED BY THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT IN A TENTATIVE WAY AND THOUGHTS ON THE SUBJECT ARE STILL BEING EXCHANGED IN WASHINGTON AND LONDON.

THE BRITISH ARE AGAINST THE PROPOSAL IN THE FORM BROACHED BY THE AMERICANS DURING TALKS WITH BRITAIN ON GERMAN REPARATION POLICIES. INSTEAD, THE BRITISH ARE TENTATIVELY FOR CONTINUING PART FULFILLMENT OF DELIVERIES TO RUSSIA.

THE MAIN PRIZES ARE INDUSTRIAL PLANTS DISMANTLED IN WESTERN GERMANY AND MOSTLY IN BRITISH HANDS. AROUND 20 HAVE BEEN ALREADY TAKEN DOWN AND SOME ARE CRATED AND MARKED FOR RUSSIA.

RUSSIA AND POLAND TOGETHER WERE ASSIGNED 25 PERCENT OF DISMANTLED PLANTS UNDER THE POTSDAM PACT FOR DISPOSAL OF THE SPOILS IN THE THREE WESTERN ZONES. TEN PERCENT WAS ALLOCATED UNCONDITIONALLY AND THE OTHER 15 PERCENT WAS TO BE EXCHANGED FOR GOODS FROM RUSSIA.

COUNTERING THE ORIGINAL AMERICAN PROPOSAL TO CUT OFF ALL FURTHER REPARATIONS SHIPMENTS TO RUSSIA, BRITAIN PROPOSED THE SHIPMENT OF 10 PERCENT IF RUSSIA WILL RENOUNCE CLAIM TO THE OTHER 15 PERCENT.

BRITISH OFFICIALS EXPLAINED THAT RUSSIA IS NOT KEEPING UP WITH EXCHANGES OF GOODS IN PAYMENT FOR MAINTAINING PLANTS. HOWEVER, THE WESTERN POWERS WERE SUPPOSED TO COMPLETE SHIPMENTS TO RUSSIA WHILE THE RUSSIANS WERE GIVEN FIVE YEARS TO PAY IN GOODS.

THE WESTERN POWERS ARE KNOWN TO HAVE TURNED DOWN RUSSIAN OFFERS TO DRAIN GOODS FROM EASTERN GERMANY TO PAY THE WEST.

THERE APPEARED TO BE TWO ALTERNATIVES IN THE EVENT OF A STALEMATE: 1-WESTERN GERMANY MIGHT BE ALLOWED TO KEEP PLANTS MARKED FOR RUSSIA, BUT THIS WOULD RAISE A CLAMOR AMONG OTHER WESTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES; AND 2-THE 18-NATION INTER-ALLIED REPARATIONS AGENCY BASED IN BRUSSELS MIGHT DISTRIBUTE THEM IN WESTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES AS NEEDED.

IN THE LATTER EVENT, THE UNITED STATES MIGHT BE EXPECTED TO PROTEST BECAUSE OF A DESIRE TO STRENGTHEN WESTERN GERMANY ECONOMICALLY. THE BRITISH MIGHT BE FOR IT AS A STIMULUS TO EUROPEAN ECONOMIC RECOVERY GENERALLY.

BY ARTHUR GAVSHON (350)

LONDON, AUG.4-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES HAS TENTATIVELY PROPOSED ENDING ALL FURTHER REPARATIONS DELIVERIES TO RUSSIA FROM WEST GERMANY, RESPONSIBLE DIPLOMATIC OFFICIALS SAID TODAY.

THE INFORMANTS, WHO REFUSED TO BE IDENTIFIED BY NAME OR NATIONALITY REPORTED THE AMERICAN IDEA CAME UP IN TALKS WITH BRITAIN OVER GERMAN POLICIES.

THE OFFICIALS STRESSED THE AMERICAN PROPOSAL DOES NOT REPRESENT A FINAL STAND. THE EXCHANGE OF IDEAS IS STILL GOING ON IN WASHINGTON AND LONDON, THEY SAID.

THE BRITISH OPPOSE THE U.S. PROPOSAL AS IT NOW STANDS.

UNDER THE POTSDAM PACT, RUSSIA AND POLAND TOGETHER WERE TO GET 25 PER CENT OF ALL INDUSTRIAL PLANTS DISMANTLED IN THE THREE WESTERN ZONES OF GERMANY. OF THIS PROPORTION, 10 PER CENT WAS TO BE SENT EASTWARD UNCONDITIONALLY AND THE REST --15 PER CENT -- TO BE SUPPLIED IN RETURN FOR RECIPROCAL DELIVERIES OF GOODS FROM RUSSIA.

IF THE AMERICAN IDEA IS ACCEPTED, IN EFFECT IT WILL MEAN THE WESTERN POWERS REPUDIATE RUSSIA'S RIGHT TO FURTHER COMPENSATION BY GERMANY FOR DAMAGE INFLICTED DURING THE WAR.

BRITAIN HAS PROPOSED THE WESTERN POWERS FULFIL THEIR POTSDAM AGREEMENT TO SEND RUSSIA ONE-TENTH OF THE DISMANTLED PLANTS -- PROVIDED RUSSIA RENOUNCES HER CLAIMS TO THE OTHER 15 PER CENT.

ABOUT 20 PLANTS ARE ALREADY DISMANTLED, SOME IN CRATES AWAITING SHIPMENT, EARMARKED FOR RUSSIA IN THE WESTERN ZONES, THE INFORMANTS ESTIMATED. THESE WOULD BE DELIVERED UNDER THE UNCONDITIONAL ALLOCATION.

THE OFFICIALS SAID RUSSIA IS BEHIND IN DELIVERING RUSSIAN GOODS IN EXCHANGE FOR CAPITAL PLANTS SENT TO HER UNDER THE RECIPROCAL DELIVERIES -- 15 PER CENT -- ARRANGEMENT. THE WESTERN POWERS WERE, HOWEVER, SUPPOSED TO COMPLETE THESE DELIVERIES WITHIN TWO YEARS, WHILE RUSSIA WAS GIVEN FIVE YEARS IN WHICH TO REPAY IN GOODS. THE WESTERN POWERS, MOREOVER, ARE KNOWN TO HAVE TURNED DOWN RUSSIAN OFFERS TO SEND SUCH GOODS AS RADIO SETS. THEY INDICATED A PREFERENCE FOR FOODSTUFFS.

TWO POSSIBILITIES CONFRONT THE WESTERN POWERS IN THE EVENT OF RUSSIA TURNING DOWN THE BRITISH PROPOSAL, THE INFORMANTS SAID.

ONE WOULD BE TO LET WEST GERMANY KEEP THE PLANTS EARMARKED FOR RUSSIA. FRANCE, BELGIUM AND OTHER EUROPEAN COUNTRIES WOULD NOT FAVOR THIS, HOWEVER. NOR WOULD BRITAIN.

THE OTHER POSSIBILITY -- AND THE STRONGER ONE -- WOULD BE TO TURN OVER ALL THE PLANTS ALLOCATED TO RUSSIA TO THE BRUSSELS-BASED 18-NATION INTER-ALLIED REPARATIONS AGENCY FOR DISTRIBUTION TO OTHER EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

IN THE THREE YEARS ENDING IN JUNE 1948, RUSSIA HAD RECEIVED THE EQUIVALENT OF ABOUT $16,000,000 WORTH OF REPARATIONS FROM THE BRITISH-AMERICAN ZONES.

ADDITIONALLY, UP TO JUNE, 1948, RUSSIA HAD RECEIVED 11 NON-WAR PLANTS AND ONE WAR PLANT FROM THE BRITISH ZONE ALONE, OUT OF A TOTAL 496 PLANTS THEN DUE FOR DISMANTLEMENT. ALSO, THE BRITISH HAD SENT TO THE INTER-ALLIED REPARATIONS AGENCY 137 PLANTS, 85 OF THEM WAR PLANTS.

OFFICIALS SAID AMERICAN AND ZONAL FIGURES OF REPARATIONS DELIVERIES TO RUSSIA WERE NOT AVAILABLE. THERE WERE FEW DELIVERIES OF CAPITAL PLANT TO RUSSIA DURING THE PERIOD OF THE BLOCKADE FROM THE WESTERN ZONES.

THE SOZIALDEMOKRAT OF BERLIN, ORGAN OF THE WEST GERMAN SOCIALIST PARTY, ESTIMATED LAST JANUARY THAT RUSSIAS HAS TAKEN GOODS WORTH $7,000,000,000 (B) OUT OF GERMANY IN THE LAST THREE YEARS. THE NEWSPAPER SAID IT BASED ITS ESTIMATE ON GERMAN RAIL SHIPMENTS TO THE SOVIET UNION.

LONDON, AUG. 4-(AP)-YUGOSLAV PREMIER MARSHAL TITO TOLD A GROUP OF HIS ARMY OFFICERS YESTERDAY IT IS YUGOSLAVIA'S DUTY "TO DEFEND THE PRINCIPLES OF MARXISM-LENINISM AGAINST EVERYONE, AND EVEN AGAINST THE CREATORS OF THESE PRINCIPLES SHOULD THEY GO AGAINST THEM."

HIS SPEECH TO GARRISON OFFICERS AND GENERALS STATIONED AT SKOPLJE, IN MACEDONIA, WAS REPORTED TONIGHT BY TANJUG, OFFICIAL YUGOSLAV NEWS AGENCY.

TITO, WHO WAS KICKED OUT OF THE RUSSIAN-DOMINATED COMINFORM BECAUSE OF HIS "NATIONALISTIC" TENDENCIES, TOLD THE GATHERING:

"YOU ARE ON A SECTOR OF DEFENSE OF OUR LAND WHICH IS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE, ON WHICH DIFFERENT PROVOCATIONS FREQUENTLY TAKE PLACE AND ON WHICH THEY ARE STILL OCCURING TODAY AND WILL PROBABLY TAKE PLACE IN THE FUTURE.

"YOU ARE IN A STATE OF ALERT IN ORDER TO SAFEGUARD THE PEACEFUL CONSTRUCTION OF OUR SOCIALIST COUNTRY."

TITO ALSO SAID IT IS NOT YUGOSLAVIA'S FAULT THAT "LASTING BROTHERLY COOPERATION AMONG THE COUNTRIES OF THE PEOPLES' DEMOCRACIES AND THE U.S.S.R. HAS NOT BEEN ESTABLISHED."

YUGOSLAVIA'S AIM, HE ADDED, IS "TO BUILD UP SOCIALISM, TO STAY CONSISTENTLY LOYAL TO THE SCIENCE OF MARX, ENGELS, LENIN AND STALIN, NOT TO DEVIATE BY ONE STEP FROM THIS SCIENCE AND NOT TO PERMIT ANYONE TO REVISE THAT SCIENCE AND DISTORT IT IN PRACTICE."

TITO ASSURED HIS ARMY OFFICERS THAT A MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE OF THE EASTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES ARE BEHIND HIM.

PRAGUE - XXX ANY WAY.

THE CHURCH OFFICIAL DESCRIBED AS RIDICULOUS THE OFFICIAL PRESS BUREAU'S ACCOUNT ABOUT THE WOMAN'S SPEEDY TRANSITION "FROM THE POINT OF DEATH" ON JULY 16 TO AN APPARENTLY HEALTHY PERSON TWO WEEKS LATER. THE OFFICIAL VERSION WAS THAT THE WOMAN GAVE A DETAILED ACCOUNT OF HER CONVERSATION WITH THE PRIEST, WHICH RESULTED IN HIS CONVICTION.

MEANWHILE, ARCHBISHOP BERAN REMAINED SILENT AND SECLUDED IN HIS PRAGUE PALACE. HE HAS NOT LEFT THE BUILDING SINCE JUNE 19 WHEN COMMUNIST HECKLERS SHOUTED DOWN HIS SERMON IN ST. VITUS CATHEDRAL.

A HIGH CHURCH SOURCE SAID THE ONLY CATHOLIC OFFICIAL IN THE COUNTRY WHO HAS BEEN ABLE TO SEE BERAN IS THE VATICAN'S DIPLOMATIC REPRESENTATIVE, AND EVEN HE WAS ADMITTED BY A DETECTIVE WHO LOCKED THE ARCHBISHOP'S DOOR WHEN THE VISITOR LEFT. OTHERWISE, BERAN REPORTEDLY IS COMPLETELY ISOLATED FROM OTHER MEMBERS OF HIS HIERARCHY.

THIS SOURCE SAID BERAN IS IN GOOD HEALTH BUT "HE DOES NOT KNOW WHAT EVENTUALLY WILL HAPPEN TO HIM -- WHETHER HE WILL BE FORMALLY ARRESTED AND TRIED OR JUST NEUTRALIZED UNTIL THE GOVERNMENT CAN IMPOSE ITS CONTROL OVER THE CHURCHES."

THE PRESS ATTACK ON MATOCHA WAS LED BY MLADA FRONTA, ORGAN OF THE COMMUNIST-DOMINATED YOUTH FRONT. THE PAPER ALSO CHARGED THAT PRESIDENT TRUMAN AND HIS VATICAN ENVOY, MYRON C. TAYLOR, WERE URGING THE VATICAN ON WITH "THE SPIRITUAL TERROR AND METHOD OF THE MEDIEVAL INQUISITION -- THE EXCOMMUNICATION."

EXCOMMUNICATION

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA, AUG 4-(AP)-CZECHOSLOVAKIA'S COMMUNIST-RULED GOVERNMENT HAS CARRIED OUT ITS THREAT TO IMPRISON ROMAN CATHOLIC PRIESTS ACCUSED OF SUPPORTING THE VATICAN DECREE EXCOMMUNICATING CATHOLICS WHO ARE MILITANT COMMUNISTS.

CATHOLIC AUTHORITIES HERE REPORTED SEVERAL NEW ARRESTS OF PRIESTS, AND ROME REPORTS QUOTED AN UNOFFICIAL VATICAN SOURCE AS SAYING CLASHES BETWEEN CATHOLICS AND CZECHOSLOVAK POLICE HAVE OCCURRED AT FOUR PLACES IN DEVOUTLY CATHOLIC SLOVAKIA. IN ONE SUCH CLASH, THE VATICAN SOURCE SAID, ONE PERSON WAS KILLED AND MANY OTHERS WERE WOUNDED BY POLICE WHILE TRYING TO PROTECT A PRIEST FROM ARREST. THE SOURCE GAVE NO DATE.

THESE REPORTS COULD NOT BE CONFIRMED DIRECTLY HERE. IT IS KNOWN THAT THERE WAS A CLASH AT LEVOCA SIX WEEKS AGO AND THAT AT LEAST 10 CATHOLICS HAVE BEEN JAILED OR FINED IN CONNECTION WITH SUCH CLASHES IN SLOVAKIA AT ABOUT THAT TIME.

THE OFFICIAL PRAGUE RADIO ANNOUNCED LAST NIGHT A VILLAGE PRIEST HAD BEEN SENTENCED TO EIGHT YEARS IMPRISONMENT FOR TREASON. HE WAS ACCUSED OF REFUSING TO ADMINISTER THE LAST SACRAMENT TO A SICK OLD WOMAN UNTIL SHE RESIGNED FROM THE COMMUNIST PARTY.

THE PRIEST, REV. ALOIS FAJSTL, DENIED THE CHARGE.

IT WAS THE FIRST TEST OF THE CZECH GOVERNMENT'S DEFIANT STAND AGAINST THE EXCOMMUNICATION DECREE. THE VATICAN ANNOUNCED LAST MONTH THAT ALL CATHOLICS WHO MILITANTLY SUPPORT COMMUNISM WOULD BE EXCOMMUNICATED--A CHURCH PENALTY BARRING THEM FROM RECEIVING THE SACRAMENTS AND ASSOCIATING WITH FAITHFUL CATHOLICS.

THE GOVERNMENT, THROUGH JUSTICE MINISTER ALEXEI CEPICKA, PROMPTLY THREATENED THAT PRIESTS WHO CARRIED OUT THE EXCOMMUNICATION DECREE WOULD BE TRIED ON TREASON CHARGES.

DR. H. RICHTER, PRESIDENT OF THE STATE COURT WHICH SENTENCED FATHER FAJSTL, CALLED THE PRIEST'S ACTION HIGH TREASON. HE SAID ANY PRIEST REFUSING RELIGIOUS RITES TO ANY PERSON BECAUSE OF POLITICAL PARTY MEMBERSHIP OR LOYALTY TO THE STATE "IS IN THE SERVICE OF AN ENEMY POWER--THE VATICAN--AIMING TO DESTROY THE PEOPLE'S DEMOCRATIC REGULATIONS OF OUR STATE."

IN ROME, A VATICAN SOURCE SUGGESTED THE CZECH TRIAL MAY HAVE BEEN A "COMMUNIST TRICK TO TRY TO DISCREDIT THE CHURCH AND ITS FAITHFUL." VATICAN OFFICIALS HAVE SAID THAT EXCOMMUNICATION IS PRIMARILY DIRECTED AT THE CONSCIENCES OF WAYWARD CATHOLICS AND REQUIRES NO OFFICIAL EXECUTION BY PRIESTS.

THE PRAGUE RADIO GAVE THIS ACCOUNT OF THE CHARGES AGAINST THE PRIEST:

FATHER FAJSTL, A PRIEST IN THE VILLAGE OF SEBRANICE, 90 MILES EAST OF PRAGUE, WAS CALLED ON JULY 16 TO ADMINISTER THE CHURCH'S LAST SACRAMENTS TO ZOFIE PACLIKOVA, 67, WHO WAS GRAVELY ILL OF PNEUMONIA.

THE PRIEST ASKED THE WOMAN WHETHER SHE BELONGED TO THE COMMUNIST PARTY.

"WHEN SHE REPLIED IN THE AFFIRMATIVE," THE RADIO ACCOUNT DECLARED, "FATHER FAJSTL DECLARED THAT ACCORDING TO THE PAPAL DECREE OF JULY 13 COMMUNISTS AND THEIR COLLABORATORS ARE EXCOMMUNICATED OUT OF THE CHURCH AND REFUSED TO ADMINISTER THE LAST SACRAMENT TO THE SICK WOMAN."

ONLY AFTER THE WOMAN--"IN MORTAL FEAR," ACCORDING TO THE RADIO REPORT--SENT HER MEMBERSHIP CARD BACK TO HEADQUARTERS DID THE PRIEST AGREE TO ADMINISTER THE CHURCH RITES.

THE WOMAN LATER RECOVERED AND TESTIFIED AGAINST THE PRIEST AT THE TRIAL.

IN ADDITION TO DENYING THE CHARGE, THE PRIEST REFUSED TO DISCLOSE THE NATURE OF HIS BEDSIDE TALK WITH THE SICK WOMAN BECAUSE OF CHURCH VOWS AGAINST TELLING CONFESSIONAL SECRETS.

THE COURT ALSO SENTENCED FATHER FAJSTL TO LOSS OF CIVIL RIGHTS FOR 10 YEARS AND ORDERED HIS PROPERTY CONFISCATED.

THE CZECH ARMY NEWSPAPER OBRANA LIDU SAID JAILING OF FATHER FAJSTL WAS ONLY THE START OF THE GOVERNMENT'S FIGHT AGAINST THE EXCOMMUNICATION DECREE.

"THIS JUST SENTENCE," THE PAPER SAID, "MUST BE A DECISIVE PROOF TO THE VATICAN THAT WE ARE NOT AFRAID OF ITS DECREES AND THAT WE SHALL BE MERCILESS IN THE DEFENSE OF OUR PEOPLE'S DEMOCRATIC REGIME."

THE PUBLICATION OF THE CZECH AUTHORS' UNION, LIDOVE NOVINY, CONTENDED: "THE HORRIFYING CHAIN OF EVENTS WHICH RESULTED IN FAJSTL'S DEED IS A FRUIT OF REACTION--A TERRIBLE FRUIT OF HATE AGAINST WHICH WE FIGHT, AGAINST WHICH WE SHALL FIGHT TO THE END AND SWEEP OUT."

MEANWHILE, A GROUP OF FOUR AMERICAN EDUCATORS AND CLERGYMEN ENDED AN EIGHT-DAY VISIT TO CZECHOSLOVAKIA SAYING THEY FOUND CONSIDERABLE DIFFERENCES OF OPINION AMONG THE PEOPLE ABOUT THE CHURCH-STATE CONFLICT. THEY RECOMMENDED THAT THE U.S. RELAX TRADE RESTRICTIONS AGAINST CZECHOSLOVAKIA TO PROMOTE FRIENDSHIP AND UNDERSTANDING.

MEMBERS OF THE GROUP, WHO LEFT FOR BUDAPEST, ARE JEROME DAVIS, THEOLOGIST; HENRY PRATT FIRCHILD, MEMBER OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR AMERICAN-SOVIET FRIENDSHIP; BENJAMIN MAYS, PRESIDENT OF MOREHOUSE COLLEGE, ATLANTA, GA., AND THE REV. GEORGE E. PAINE OF CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

"WE FOUND CONSIDERABLE DIFFERENCES OF OPINION AS TO THE RELIGIOUS SITUATION," THE FOUR SAID IN A STATEMENT. "IT MUST BE REMEMBERED THAT THE STATE HAS LONG BEEN SUBSIDIZING THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

"FOLLOWING THE CONFISCATION OF CHURCH LANDS IT IS NOW PROPOSED TO INCREASE THIS SUBSIDY AND PAY THE SALARIES OF ALL PRIESTS AND PASTORS. SOME RELIGIOUS PEOPLE ARE FOR THIS AND SOME AGAINST. THE FUTURE ALONE CAN TELL HOW IT WILL FINALLY WORK OUT."

CATHOLIC CHURCH LEADERS IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA HAVE CHARGED THAT THE GOVERNMENT, BY PAYING THE SALARIES OF PRIESTS, WOULD HAVE A STRANGLEHOLD OVER CHURCH POLICY.

LAKE SUCCESS, AUG.4-(AP)-ACTING PALESTINE MEDIATOR RALPH J. BUNCHE URGED THE U.N. SECURITY COUNCIL TODAY TO LIFT THE MIDDLE EAST ARMS EMBARGO WHICH WAS IMPOSED DURING THE ARAB-JEWISH FIGHTING.

BUNCHE TOLD THE COUNCIL ALL RESTRICTIONS INCLUDING THOSE ON IMPORTS AND IMMIGRATION, SHOULD BE CANCELLED AS A RESULT OF THE ARMISTICES WHICH HAVE BEEN SIGNED BY ISRAEL AND THE NEIGHBORING ARAB COUNTRIES.

BUNCHE SAID THE ARMISTICE AGREEMENTS ARE NOT A FINAL PEACE SETTLEMENT, BUT THEY SIGNAL THE END OF "THE MILITARY PHASE OF THE PALESTINE CONFLICT."

"THE OBJECTIVE NOW, CLEARLY, SHOULD BE TO RESTORE NORMAL CONDITIONS OF PEACE TO THE FULLEST POSSIBLE EXTENT," BUNCHE SAID.

THE QUESTION OF LIFTING THE ARMS EMBARGO AROSE RECENTLY WHEN BRITISH SOURCES DISCLOSED BRITAIN WAS READY TO START SHIPPING ARMS TO IRAQ AND HASHEMITE JORDAN (TRANS-JORDAN) IN ACCORDANCE WITH AGREEMENTS REACHED BEFORE THE OUTBREAK OF THE PALESTINE FIGHTING. ISRAEL PROTESTED STRONGLY AT THE TIME.

AT TODAY'S COUNCIL DISCUSSION, FRENCH DELEGATE JEAN CHAUVEL SUPPORTED BUNCHE'S PROPOSAL TO LIFT THE EMBARGO.

BUNCHE SAID: "THERE SHOULD BE FREE MOVEMENT FOR LEGITIMATE SHIPPING AND ANY VESTIGES OF THE WARTIME BLOCKADE SHOULD BE REMOVED AS INCONSISTENT WITH BOTH THE LETTER AND SPIRIT OF THE ARMISTICE AGREEMENTS."

HIS REFERENCE TO THE WARTIME BLOCKADE WAS INTERPRETED AS AN APPEAL TO EGYPT TO END HER INTERFERENCE WITH SHIPPING IN THE SUEZ CANAL. ISRAEL HAS PROTESTED AGAINST INTERFERENCE NUMEROUS TIMES.

ISRAELI DELEGATE, AUBREY S.EBAN, TOLD THE COUNCIL THAT BUNCHE'S PROPOSAL TO LIFT THE ARMS EMBARGO WOULD TOUCH OFF A BITTER ARMS RACE IN THE MIDDLE EAST.

"ISRAEL WILL NOT ALLOW ITSELF TO BE OVERTAKEN," EBAN SAID. "IT WILL NOT, UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES, SUFFER ITSELF TO REACH A STATE OF MILITARY INFERIORITY WHICH MIGHT BE A TEMPTATION TO RENEWED ASSAULT."

NEW DELHI, INDIA, AUG 4-(AP)-INDIA HAS AGREED TO REDUCE HER IMPORTS FROM DOLLAR NATIONS BY 25 PER CENT THIS YEAR IF OTHER COUNTRIES OF THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH DO SO.

THE PLAN TO STAND BY THE DECISION OF THE RECENT CONFERENCE OF COMMONWEALTH FINANCE MI ISTERS IN LONDON WAS ANNOUNCED HERE TODAY BY DR. JOHN MATTHAI, INDIAN FINANCE MINISTER.

HE SAID THE CONFERENCE HAD ACCEPTED INDIA'S FOUR POINT STAND:

1. THE PRINCIPLE OF EQUALITY OF SACRIFICE AMONG THE COMMONWEALTH COUNTRIES.

2. IMPORTS FROM THE STERLING AREA SHOULD BE MADE AVAILABLE TO INDIA TO COMPENSATE FOR CUTS IN IMPORTS FROM DOLLAR COUNTRIES.

3. THE COMMONWEALTH COUNTRIES SHOULD SET UP MACHINERY TO KEEP EACH OTHER INFORMED OF INDIVIDUAL REQUIREMENTS SO AS TO MEET THEM FROM THE STERLING AREA.

4. REVIEW THE WHOLE POSITION AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE TIME TO CONSIDER RESTORATION OF CUTS IN DOLLAR IMPORTS.

MATTHAI SAID INDIA IS DISCUSSING THE POSSIBILITY OF BUYING WHEAT FROM AUSTRALIA, INSTEAD OF THE NORTH AMERICA, TO AID IN CUTTING HER DOLLAR PURCHASES.

HE SAID THE DOLLAR AREA HAD BEEN DEFINED AS INCLUDING THE UNITED STATES, CANADA AND SOME CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES.

CHINA TEXT

WASHINGTON,AUG.4-(AP)-FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT OF A STATEMENT CONCERNING CHINA THAT PRESIDENT TRUMAN READ TO HIS NEWS CONFERENCE TODAY: (330)

THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE IS PUBLISHING TOMORROW A VOLUME ON UNITED STATES RELATIONS WITH CHINA, PARTICULARLY DURING THE LAST FIVE YEARS. I ASKED THE SECRETARY OF STATE TO HAVE THIS RECORD COMPILED AND PUBLISHED.

MY PRIMARY PURPOSE IN HAVING THIS FRANK AND FACTUAL RECORD RELEASED AT THIS TIME IS TO INSURE THAT OUR POLICY TOWARD CHINA, AND THE FAR EAST AS A WHOLE, SHALL BE BASED ON INFORMED AND INTELLIGENT PUBLIC OPINION. THIS IS THE WAY IN WHICH OUR SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT ACQUIRES ITS STRENGTH. AS I SAID IN MY SPEECH AT CHICAGO LAST MONTH, "ONLY IF MEN KNOW THE TRUTH ARE THEY IN A POSITION TO WORK FOR A STABLE AND PEACEFUL WORLD...IN THIS NATION, FOREIGN POLICY IS NOT MADE BY THE DECISIONS OF A FEW. IT IS THE RESULT OF THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS, AND REPRESENTS THE COLLECTED JUDGMENT OF THE PEOPLE."

THE ROLE OF THIS GOVERNMENT IN ITS RELATIONS WITH CHINA HAS BEEN SUBJECT TO CONSIDERABLE MISREPRESENTATION, DISTORTION, AND MISUNDERSTANDING. SOME OF THESE ATTITUDES AROSE BECAUSE THIS GOVERNMENT WAS RELUCTANT TO REVEAL CERTAIN FACTS, THE PUBLICATION OF WHICH MIGHT HAVE SERVED TO HASTEN THE EVENTS IN CHINA WHICH HAVE NOW OCCURRED. IN THE PRESENT SITUATION, HOWEVER, THE MUTUAL INTERESTS OF THE UNITED STATES AND CHINA REQUIRE FULL AND FRANK DISCUSSION OF THE FACTS. IT IS ONLY IN THIS WAY THAT THE PEOPLE OF OUR COUNTRY AND THEIR REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS CAN HAVE THE UNDERSTANDING NECESSARY TO THE SOUND EVOLUTION OF OUR FOREIGN POLICY IN THE FAR EAST.

THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN TRANSMITTING THIS RECORD HAS MADE A CLEAR AND ILLUMINATING STATEMENT OF THE SITUATION THAT EXISTS IN CHINA, THE NATURE OF THE PROBLEMS THAT ARE PRESENTED, AND THE GOVERNING PRINCIPLES OF OUR POLICIES TOWARD CHINA. THIS STATEMENT WILL ALSO BE PUBLISHED AND SHOULD BE READ, WITH THE RECORD, BY EVERYONE WHO IS INTERESTED IN PROBLEMS OF THE FAR EAST.

THE WARM FEELING OF FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES AND THE PEOPLE OF CHINA HAS BEEN ONE OF THE MOST NOTABLE FACTS IN AMERICAN FOREIGN RELATIONS. THAT FRIENDSHIP IS AS STRONG TODAY AS IT HAS EVER BEEN. THE PROBLEM OF FINDING WAYS TO GIVE PRACTICAL EXPRESSION TO THAT FRIENDSHIP WILL CONTINUE TO RECEIVE, DAY IN AND DAY OUT, THE CLOSEST ATTENTION OF THIS GOVERNMENT, AND I KNOW THAT IT WILL RECEIVE THE HOPEFUL, CONSTRUCTIVE, FORWARD-LOOKING THOUGHT OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

Acheson Writes Off China as Lost, Blames Chiang; Warns Russia; Wedemeyer's '47 Report Is Cited

CHIANG IS BLAMED FOR FAILURE TO HALT RED ADVANCE

State Department Pledges U. S. Will Work to Rebuild Nation

POLICY CRITICIZED

Senator Calls Statement an Alibi for American Failure

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Truman administration today publicly abandoned all hope of saving China from the Reds by aiding its nationalist government.

In an unprecedented blast, it labelled that government as a dismal failure in the war against communism.

Instead of aiding it, the administration laid down a policy of encouraging the Chinese people to throw off the "foreign yoke" of a Red regime which, Secretary of State Acheson charged, serves Russian imperialism.

The new turn in American policy was announced in a letter from Acheson to President Truman, presenting him with the long awaited white paper on American relations with China. It was amplified in a statement which Acheson made to a news conference an hour after the white paper was made public at 10 a.m., eastern standard time.

Emphasizes Rebuilding

In the statement Acheson laid down five "basic principles" for American relations with China, with emphasis on rebuilding "an independent" Chinese nation.

Criticism of the white paper sent by Acheson to President Truman today crossed party lines. One Democratic congressman called it an "alibi" for American failure.

A Democratic Senator, Pat McCarran of Nevada, forecast that Acheson's proposed policy of giving only one arm's-length encouragement to internal Chinese resistence would bring all Asia under communist control "in a short time".

Republicans were almost unanimously critical. But the State department course was defended by some Democrats who saw it as the only "realistic" one to follow. Said Senator Johnson, (D-Colo).

"To intervene in the civil war in China would be reckless beyond description. The State department in this instance is being realistic and sensible."

Truman Endorsed Letter

Mr. Truman had endorsed the Acheson letter at his own news conference yesterday and there was no doubt that it represented the considered views of the administration. It accepted the communist conquest of China as an accomplished fact. Acheson argued that the nationalists are militarily incapable of blocking the forward march of the Red armies into those areas of China which they do not yet actually control.

But, Acheson said in his statement, he does not at all share in "the defeatist attitude" of some. Rather he sees the communists extending themselves without being sure of their strength or of the reactions in store for them in China and elsewhere.

The secretary wrote Mr. Truman that the communist regime might try to attack China's neighbor nations in line with "aims of Soviet Russian imperialism."

The 1,054-page official record of Chinese-American relations is probably without parallel in U. S. diplomatic history for its criticism of another friendly government. It bluntly blamed China's fall to communism on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and other Chinese nationalist leaders. It said their unwillingness to win popular support for their leadership was the root cause of their "failures."

No battle was lost by the nationalists for lack of American aid, Acheson told the president in his letter. This aid since the end of the war has totaled more than $2,000,000,000, he reported.

The administration report was promptly assailed by members of Congress who have long favored greater assistance to the Chinese nationalists. Their attacks on the report as a "face saving" explanation were countered by administration supporters in Congress who described the bulky document as "realistic."

The white paper included not only Acheson's letter but also a 409-page running account of American-Chinese relations since 1844, including the famous Wedemeyer report, and a total of 186 diplomatic documents. Many of the papers were classed, until today, as top secret.

The report by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, who went on a special mission to China for President Truman in 1947, conditionally advocated in September of that year a five-year program of American aid. Wedemeyer said this government should undertake the program, even through it threatened a third world war, because establishment of Russian influence in China would be "inimical" to American interests.

The conditions which Wedemeyer laid down would have required the Chiang government to ask for a United Nations trusteeship over Manchuria to prevent that area from becoming a Soviet satellite.

Wedemeyer also stressed that if American aid was to be effective, Chiang would have to undertake extensive economic, political and military reforms.

Report Suppressed

Acheson said the report was suppressed until today because its publication, particularly in 1947, would have made trouble for Chiang's government on account of the recommendation to take Manchuria out of Chinese control.

Both Mr. Truman, in his statement yesterday, and Acheson today declared that the reason for issuing the white paper was to provide the basis for an informed public opinion.

Beyond that the administration also was evidently concerned to provide the details of the record on which it had for more than a year taken an increasingly gloomy view of the usefulness of American aid to the Chiang government. Its basic position is that this aid could not do for the Chinese what they were unwilling to do for themselves in revitalizing their government and infusing their army with the "will to fight."

In support of the argument that the failure is blamable on China's own leaders during the presidency of Generalissimo Chiang, the white paper disclosed the text of the three opening paragraphs of a letter which China's acting president, General Li Tsung-Jen wrote President Truman on May 5 of this year.

Li reviewed the history of American assistance to China and the mission of General George C. Marshall during 1945-46 in trying to make peace between the nationalists and Communists. Then Li declared:

Early Signs of Decay

"It is regrettable that, owing to the failure of our then government to make judicious use of this aid and to bring about appropriate political, economic and military reforms, your assistance has not produced the desired effect. To this failure is attributable the present predicament in which our country finds itself."

Acheson, in his letter summarizing the voluminous documents of the white paper, declared that as early as 1943, when the Chiang government was fighting the Japanese from its capital at Chungking, American observers had found signs of "decay."

Many of the documents, particularly those bearing on the Marshall mission, disclosed that Chiang had repeatedly been advised to initiate drastic reforms, that he had sometimes given assurances that he would do so, but that in fact he never took the steps which American advisors considered essential.

The nationalist-communist battles in 1948 marked the crucial stage of the long civil war, Acheson said, and it was in that year that the nationalists received their most damaging blows.

"The fact was," Acheson declared, "that the decay which our observers had detected in Chungking early in the war had fatally sapped the powers of resistance of the Kuomintang (Chang's political party). Its leaders had proved incapable of meeting the crisis confronting them, its troops had lost the will to fight, and its government had lost popular support."

For the future, Acheson indicated in his statement today that he believes the Chinese communists may have taken on a bigger job than they will be able to handle in trying to rule the country "in the interests of a foreign power." He said that they are "committing themselves deeply on the basis of unproved assumptions as to the extent of their own strength and the nature of the reactions which they are bound to provoke in China and elsewhere."

"The United States, for its part," Acheson asserted, "will be prepared to work with the people of China and of every other country in Asia to preserve and promote their true interest, developed as they choose and not as dictated by any foreign imperialism."

U.S. Willing To Help Chinese Win Liberty, Acheson Says

JOHN M. HIGGINS

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson today blasted the Chinese Communists as tools of Russia and declared United States willingness to help the people of China establish true independence.

The Secretary reviewed United States-China relations at a news conference after issuance of a State Department report, in which he wrote off China's Nationalist Government as a total failure.

In a statement he laid down the five "basic principles" which he said should govern United States policy toward China.

He declared he was not in the least "defeatist" about the Chinese situation.

Sees Reds Triumphant

Acheson met correspondents one hour after the State Department released a bitterly critical "White Paper" on its relations with Nationalist China.

The 1,054-page book contained statements by Acheson showing he is convinced the Nationalist regime is done for and the Communists can sweep over all China anytime they choose.

As for his lack of defeatism, Acheson indicated in a 1,000-word statement that it was based on a belief that the Communists are in for serious difficulties in trying to govern the Chinese "in the interests of a foreign power"—Russia.

U.S. To Help People

They are "committing themselves deeply on the basis of unproved assumptions as to the extent of their own strength and the nature of the reactions which they are bound to provoke in China and elsewhere," he said.

"The United States, for its part, will be prepared to work with the people of China and of every other country in Asia to preserve and to promote their own true interest, developed as they chose and not as dictated by any foreign imperialism."

It was in a letter to President Truman, with which he opened the White Paper, that Acheson declared that the Communist regime serves the interests "of Soviet Russia" and predicted eventually the Chinese people "will throw off the foreign yoke."

Bare Wedemeyer Report

The State Department document included the long-surpressed Wedemyer report. In it, Acheson told Mr. Truman that United States policy now must be shaped to "encourage all developments" in China which are directed to this end.

He advised the President it may "lend itself to the aims of Soviet Russian imperialism" to start an aggression against China's neighbor nations.

U.S. Action Predicted

If that aggression comes, Acheson indicated the United States would try to block it through the United Nations.

While not all China is presently under the Red Banner, Acheson said in another document of the White Paper, the Communists can take over the rest any time they want and Nationalist armies will be powerless to resist. He thus advised Chairman Connally (D., Texas) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee March 15.

For the "ominous result of the Chinese civil war," Acheson placed full blame on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and other leaders of the crumbling National Government. He said they "lost no battles" in the last crucial year for lack of American weapons.

Reason For Failure

Their failures, he said, were due to loss of popular support and loss by the armies of the will to fight. The Communists battled with "fanatical zeal." Acheson added, but the Nationalist armies did not have to be defeated; they disintegrated.

To support the position that Chinese—not American—leaders were to blame for the disaster, the State Department included among the unveiled state documents a sensational letter from China's current acting president, General Li Tsung-jen.

Li, who succeeded Chiang Kai-shek as chief of state, wrote President Truman May 5, 1949, that China was brought to its present plight by the failure of its previous government (Chiang's) to make "judicious use" of American aid to put through "political, economic and military reforms."

"Slashing" Criticism

The two-inch thick white paper (official diplomatic record) spanning more than a century, contains probably the most slashing criticism ever issued by the United States against another friendly government, even a dying one. It pours out all the known and secret reasons and arguments why the Truman Administration for more than a year now has fought all demands in Congress for any major new China aid program.

Even the two-year-old report of Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, made to President Truman in 1947, is disclosed to have tempered its proposal for China aid with a big "if." Wedemeyer advocated a five-year aid program but said Chiang should undertake drastic reforms and should place Manchuria under United Nations trusteeship to keep the Communists from taking over.

Reason For Suppression

It was this recommendation regarding Manchuria, Acheson said, which caused the report to be suppressed so long. He said the suggestion for alienation of Chinese territory would have caused trouble with the Nationalist Government if published at that time.

Acheson's letter to Mr. Truman formally presented him with the "frank record" of American-Chinese relations from their beginning in 1844 to the present. The letter itself constituted a summary review of that policy together with a brief hopeful look at the future. Acheson assured the President that no documents had been left out of the White Paper for the purpose of avoiding criticism.

The full record's 1,054 pages include 409 pages of a running account of American-Chinese relations and a total of 186 "annexes" which are in the main the texts of previously secret papers. Roving Ambassador Philip C. Jessup edited the book. Now he is working on detailed development of Acheson's new China policy.

Among the annexes perhaps the most interesting, because it has been the most publicly suppressed, is the much-debated Wedemeyer report.

The fact that the department feels it now can be released affords a clue to the publication of the entire White Paper. Mr. Truman and Acheson evidently have decided that China's Nationalist Government is beyond the point where it can be hurt even by bitter criticism.

Decision Justified

In addition they appear to believe that the record justifies their decision not to undertake any great new aid program to the Chinese Nationalists and their determination to break with the past, release the facts as they see them, and lay out new lines of anti-Communist diplomacy in the Far East.

About what can be done, Acheson spoke only in general terms. He expressed the belief that "ultimately" the Chinese people "will reassert themselves" and China "will throw off the foreign yoke." The United States, he said, "should encourage all developments in China which now and in the future work toward this end."

Acheson added that what the United States can do will depend on "the degree to which the Chinese people come to recognize that the Communist regime serves not their interest but those of Soviet Russia and the manner in which they react to this foreign domination.

American Policies

The White Paper presents American policies as stemming from a consistent effort by this Government to make China a politically stable power, peaceful and free of foreign domination. Acheson declared that these remain American objectives.

The review brings out that various means were tried to achieve those objectives in the past.

During the war with Japan, when President Roosevelt was concerned to keep all China in the fight, he tried to get Generalissimo Chiang to name the late General Joseph W. Stilwell as commander in chief of Chinese and American forces. The idea was to unify Chinese armed forces under a "neutral." Chiang agreed in principle but never did anything about it.

Stilwell Criticisms

Chiang and Stilwell fell out and Stilwell was called home. In a report to the War Department, published in the White Paper, he blasted both Chiang and United States Government diplomacy.

Chiang, he said, sought to "dominate rather than unify and lead" China in the face of the Japanese offensive. The United States, he said, failed by its "genial parental admonishments" to force Chiang into unity.

Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley next took up the task. His mission spanned the transition period at the war's end (1944-45). American policy still emphasized unity of the Communists within a China led by Chiang.

Molotov's Assurance

Hurley went to Moscow and conferred with Foreign Minister Molotov who assured him the Russians had friendly feeling toward Nationalist China and favored American help to Chinese unity.

Hurley then went to work on Chiang and soon reported to Washington. Chiang finally was persuaded, he said, that the Russians were not supporting the Chinese Communists and was convinced that he could "unite the military forces of China against Japan."

Long months of negotiation followed. Unity did not progress. Hurley fell out with the American career diplomats working with him and finally resigned with a violent denunciation of American diplomacy.

Yalta Deal Made

The United States meanwhile made the Yalta deal with Russia for restoration of old Czarist port, base and rail rights in Manchuria.

This agreement by President Roosevelt is defended by Acheson as necessary to assure Russia's entrance into the war against Japan.

Finally, Gen. George C. Marshall, with orders from President Truman to pacify and unify China, followed the trail of failure to China in December, 1945. Marshall put heavy pressures on both Chiang and the Communist leaders to make concessions, but his efforts collapsed in a full-scale renewal of the civil war in 1946.

Acheson, like Marshall earlier, blamed the final failure mainly on the "deep-seated mutual suspicion between the Kuomintang and the Chinese Communist party." Stilwell had said years before that the key to the Chinese situation was the struggle for power between the two groups.

The United States continued to give extensive help to Chiang in arms, money and advice. In a sense it thus followed a two-lane policy. On one side it urged Communist-Nationalist peace and unity; on the other it armed the Nationalists to smash the Communists. The justification given for this duality is that Chiang's government was the recognized government and fully entitled to American help.

Wedemeyer's Efforts

It was after the Marshall mission that Wedemeyer went to China (1947). Despite his recommendations for a five-year aid program, subject to reforms by Chiang, no large-scale American Government action developed.

The White Paper brings out that General Marshall, then Secretary of State, believed China's only salvation lay in political reforms that would give the Liberals real power. Chiang promised reforms but according to the record never really transferred power when, in Marshall's view, it would have done some good.

Repeated Warnings

From 1943 on, one American diplomat after another warned the State Department that unless the Nationalists reformed and recaptured popular support the Communists might some day take over China.

Acheson told Mr. Truman that in 1943-44 "American officials repeatedly brought their concern with this situation to the attention of the Generalissimo and he repeatedly assured them that it would be corrected." Acheson continued:

"He made, however, little or no effort to correct it and tended to shut himself off from Chinese officials who gave unpalatable advice."

Destruction Forecast

Another instance of Chiang's ignoring American advice was cited by Acheson in 1946. The Nationalists then embarked on an "over-ambitious military campaign (against the Communists) in the face of warnings by General Marshall that it would not only fail but would plunge China into economic chaos and eventualy destroy the Nationalist Government."

"No estimate of a military situation," Acheson said, "has ever been more completely confirmed by the resulting facts."

The critical year in the Chinese civil war was 1948, Acheson said, and he quoted American military observers as reporting that "the Nationalist armies did not lose a single battle" in that year "through lack of arms or ammunition."

Resistance "Sapped"

What happened, Acheson said, was that the "decay" which American diplomats and military men had noted in 1943-44 "had fatally sapped the powers of resistance of the Kuomintang." He added:

30.24- 4827

"Its leaders had proved incapable of meeting the crisis confronting them, its troops had lost the will to fight, and its Government had lost popular support.

"The Communists, on the other hand, through a ruthless discipline and fanatical zeal, attempted to sell themselves as guardians and liberators of the people. The Nationalist armies did not have to be defeated; they disintegrated."

Acheson reviewed the extent of American aid to China, saying that grants and credits totaled about $2,000,000,000 since the war, plus about $1,000,000,000 worth of war surplus (original cost) marked down for the Chinese to $232,000,000.

ernment, and for placing that part under an international administration to include Soviet Russia, would not be helpful."

Wedemeyer's report was contained in the State Department's 1,054-page "White Paper" documenting the Administration's past China policy.

Proposed Condition

Wedemeyer proposed that as a condition for American aid the Nationalist Government agree to accept American economic and military advisers who would make sure Chiang would carry out reforms.

The American general said he was sure Chiang was sincere in his desire to make drastic changes, but

'47 Wedemeyer China Plea Is Released

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer urged President Truman in 1947 to adopt a new five-year aid program for Nationalist China—if Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek would agree to drastic reforms in his government and army.

Wedemeyer told the President this action was necessary to defeat the Chinese Communists and block Russia's "dangerous" plans for expansion in the Far East.

He made the recommendations to the White House on September 19, 1947, after conducting an on-the-spot survey as head of a Truman-appointed investigating mission to China.

Feared Further Red Spread

The army general denounced Russia's role in the Chinese revolution and told Mr. Truman:

"Any further spread of Soviet influence would be inimical to United States strategic interests."

Wedemeyer suggested that the President urge China to appeal to the United Nations to set up a five-nation "guardianship" or trusteeship over the rich industrial area of Manchuria.

The trustees would be the United States, Britain, Russia, France and China.

Advice Not Followed

Wedemeyer's advice was not followed and the Administration suppressed his report until today. In making it public, Secretary of State Acheson gave this reason for the secrecy:

"It was decided that the publication at that time of suggestion for alienation of a part of China from the control of the Nationalist Gov-

he was not sure Chiang was determined to carry them out, "if this requires absolute overruling of the political and military cliques surrounding him."

If Chiang would meet the conditions, Wedemeyer said, the United States should expand its aid to the Nationalists "as soon as practicable," even at the risk of a third world war or turning China into another Spain. He said:

"There is always the possibility that such developments in this area, as in Europe and in the Middle East, might precipitate a third world war. An arena of conflicting ideologies might be created as in 1935 in Spain."

Wait-And-See Policy Adopted

But Wedemeyer said that to cut off American aid or to adopt a policy of wait and see—the attitude later adopted by the State Department—would have tremendous political and military repercussions throughout the Far East and the world.

The three-star General said the disappearance of a traditionally friendly China as an ally would have these very important military effects in the event of war:

"Our own air and naval bases in Japan, Ryukyus (islands) and the Philippines would be subject to relatively short-range neutralizing air attacks.

Peril Of Losing Bases

"It would result in denying us important airbases for use as staging areas for bombing attacks, as well as important naval bases along the China coast.

"Its control by the Soviet Union or a regime friendly to the Soviet Union, would make available for hostile use a number of warm-water ports and airbases."

On the other hand, Wedemeyer reported, a friendly China would not only provide important air and naval bases to the United States but would prove an "important ally" because of its manpower and size.

Had No Illusions

Wedemeyer made clear that he had no illusions that a big aid program to China would automatically insure victory for the anti-Communist forces.

He said there was proof of graft, corruption, lack of leadership and a lack of a will to fight in the Chinese Nationalist ranks, but the General expressed confidence that this situation stood a good chance of being remedied with continued, large-scale American help and close supervision.

Wedemeyer said Moscow had deliberately strengthened the Communists in China, in violation of the Sino-Soviet treaty of 1945. [Russia had promised in this pact to recognize the Nationalist regime as the sole legal government of China.]

Chief Recommendations

The General's chief recommendations were that:

1. China inform the United Nations of her request to the United States for new economic and military aid.
2. The United States, with congressional approval, provide "moral, advisory and material support" to the Chinese Nationalist Government "to contribute to gradual development of stability in China."
3. China request the United Nations to arrange a truce for Manchuria and request that it be placed under a five-power guardianship or trusteeship.
4. China agree to undertake broad economic, political and social reforms, "in order to maintain a happy and satisfied and, therefore, loyal population in Nationalist areas."
5. Chiang Kai-shek agree to reorganize, retrain and reduce his armed forces under the supervision of increased American military missions. This American assistance would be carried on "outside operational areas to prevent the criticism that American personnel are actively engaged in fratricidal warfare."
6. Chiang reduce funds earmarked to the military in the Government's national budget, with a view to greater efficiency and effectiveness of smaller forces.
7. China withdraw its occupation forces stationed in Japan.
8. Arrangements be made as quickly as possible for China to purchase military equipment and supplies, motor-maintenance parts and other stores from the United States.
9. The Nationalist Government seek to cut expenditures to balance its budget and stabilize its currency.
10. Remove civil administration of China from military control.

Acheson's Views About China

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP).—A condensation of Secretary of State Dean Acheson's letter to President Truman on United States relations with China follows:

Department of State
WASHINGTON, July 30, 1949.

The President: In accordance with your wish, I have had compiled a record of our relations with China, special emphasis being placed on the last five years. This record is being published and will therefore be available to the Congress and to the people of the United States. . . .

Since the beginning of World War II, these relations have involved many government departments and agencies. The preparation of the full historical record of that period is by no means yet complete. . . .

I instructed those charged with the compilation of this document to present a record which would reveal the salient facts which determined our policy toward China during this period and which reflects the execution of that policy. This is a frank record of an extremely complicated and most unhappy period in the life of a great country to which the United States has long been attached by ties of closest friendship. No available item has been omitted because it contains statements critical of our policy or might be the basis of future criticism. . . . Two factors have played a major role in shaping the destiny of modern China.

The population of China during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries doubled, thereby creating an unbearbale pressure upon the land. The first problem which every Chinese Government has had to face is that of feeding this population. So far none has succeeded. The Kuomintang attempted to solve it by putting many land-reform laws on the stature books. Some of these laws have failed, other have been ignored. In no small measure, the predicament in which the National Government finds itself today is due to its failure to provide China with enough to eat. A large part of the Chinese Communists' propaganda consists of promises that they will solve the land problem.

The Impact of Western Ideas

The second major factor which has shaped the pattern of contemporary China is the impact of the west and of western ideas. . . . By the beginning of the twentieth century, the combined force of over-population and new ideas set in motion that chain of events which can be called the Chinese Revolution. It is one of the most imposing revolutions in recorded history and its outcome and consequences are yet to be foreseen. Out of this revolutionary whirlpool emerged the Kuomintang, first under the leadership of Dr. Sun Yat-sen and later Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, to assume the direction of the revolution. The leadership of the Kuomintang was not challenged until 1927 by the Chinese Communist party which had been organized in the early twenties under the ideological impetus of the Russian Revolution . . . (Mr. Acheson explained that from 1927 to 1937 the Kuomintang prospered politically and in reform.) Perhaps largely because of the progress being made in China, the Japanese chose 1937 as the departure point for the conquest of China proper, and the goal of the Chinese people became the expulsion of a brutal and hated invader . . . In contrast to the unity of the people of China in the war against Japan were the divided interests of the leaders of the Kuomintang and of the Chinese Communists. It became apparent in the early forties that the leaders of the government, just as much as the Communist leaders, were still as pre-occupied with the internal struggle for power as they were with waging war against Japan. Once the United States became a participant in the war, the Kuomintang was apparently convinced of the ultimate defeat of Japan and saw an opportunity to improve its position for a show-down struggle with the Communists.

Communists Saw An Opportunity

The Communists, for their part, seemed to see in the chaos of China an opportunity to obtain that which had been denied them before the Japanese war, namely, full power in China. This struggle for power in the latter years of the war contributed largely to the partial paralysis of China's ability to resist. . . . Representatives of our government, military and civilian, who were sent to assist the Chinese in prosecuting the war soon discovered that, as indicated above, the long struggle had seriously weakened the Chinese government not only militarily and economically, but also politically and in morale. The reports of United States military and diplomatic officers reveal a growing conviction through 1943 and 1944 that the government and the Kuomintang had apparently lost the crusading spirit that won them the people's loyalty during the early years of the war.

In the opinion of many observers they had sunk into corruption, into a scramble for place and power, and into reliance on the United States to win the war for them and to preserve their own domestic supremacy. The government of China, of course, had always been a one-party rather than a democratic government in the western sense. . . . It was evident to us that only a rejuvenated and progressive Chinese government which could recapture the enthusiastic loyalty of the people could and would wage an effective war against Japan. American officials repeatedly brought their concern with this situation to the attention of the Generalissimo and he repeatedly assured them that it would be corrected. He made, however, little or no effective effort to correct it and tended to shut himself off from Chinese officials who gave unpalatable advice.

In addition to a concern over the effect which this atrophy of the central Chinese administration must have upon the conduct of the war, some American observers, whose reports are also quoted in the attached record, were concerned over the effect which this deterioration of the Kuomintang must have on its eventual struggle, whether political or military, with the Chinese Communists. These observers were already fearful in 1943 and 1944 that the National government might be so isolating itself from the people that in the postwar competition for power it would prove itself impotent to maintain its authority. Nevertheless, we continued for obvious reasons to direct all our aid to the National government. . . . When Major General Patrick J. Hurley was sent by President Roosevelt to Chungking in 1944 he found what he considered to be a willingness on the part of the National government and the Chinese Communists to lay aside their differences and cooperate in a common effort. Already they had been making sporadic attempts to achieve this result.

Hurley Assured by Stalin

Previously and subsequently, General Hurley had been assured by Marshal Stalin that Russia had no intention of recognizing any government in China except the National government with Chiang Kai-shek as its leader. It may be noted that during the late war years and for a time afterwards, Marshal Stalin reiterated these views to American officials. He and Molotov expressed the view that China should look to the United States as the principal possible source of aid. The sentiments expressed by Marshal Stalin were in large part incorporated in the Sino-Soviet Treaty of 1945.

From the war-time co-operation with the Soviet Union and from the costly campaigns against the Japanese came the Yalta Agreement. . . . At Yalta, Marshal Stalin not only agreed to attack Japan within two or three months after V-E day but limited his "price" with reference to Manchuria substantially to the position which Russia had occupied there prior to 1904. We, for our part, in order to obtain this commitment and thus to bring the war to a close with a consequent saving of American, Chinese and other Allied lives, were prepared to and did pay the requisite price. . . . In conformity with the Russian agreement at Yalta to sign a treaty of friendship and alliance with Nationalist China, negotiations between the two nations began in Moscow in July, 1945. During their course, the United States felt obliged to remind both parties that the purpose of the treaty was to implement the Yalta agreement —no more, no less—and that some of the Soviet proposals exceeded its provisions. . . . As the record shows, it was the Chinese National government itself which, prior to General Hurley's mission, had taken steps to arrive at a working agreement with the Communists. As early as September, 1943, in addressing the Kuomintang Central Executive Committee, the Generalissimo said, "We should clearly recognize that the Communist problem is a purely political problem and should be solved by political means." He repeated this view on several occasions.

Negotiations Opened in 1944

Comprehensive negotiations between representatives of the government and of the Communists, dealing with both military co-operation and civil administration, were opened in Sian in May, 1944. These negotiations, in which Ambassador Hurley later assisted at the invitation of both parties between August, 1944, and September, 1945, continued intermittently during a year and a half without producing conclusive results and culminated in a comprehensive series of agreements on basic points on October 11, 1945, after Ambassador Hurley's departure from China and before General Marshall's arrival.

Meanwhile, however, clashes between the armed forces of the two groups were increasing and were jeopardizing the fulfillment of the agreements. The danger of widespread civil war, unless the negotiations could promptly be brought to a successful conclusion, was critical. It was under these circumstances that General Marshall left on his mission to China at the end of 1945. . . .

Our policy at that time was inspired by the two objectives of bringing peace to China under conditions which would permit stable government and progress along democratic lines, and of assisting the National government to establish its authority over as wide areas of China as possible. As the event proved, the first objective was unrealizable, because neither side desired it to succeed. . . .

The second objective of assisting the National government, however, we pursued vigorously from 1945 to 1949. The National government was the recognized government of a friendly power. Our friendship, and our right under international law alike, called for aid to the government instead of to the Communists who were seeking to subvert and overthrow it.

The National government had in 1945, and maintained until the early fall of 1948, a marked superiority in man power and armament over their rivals. Indeed during that period, thanks very largely to our aid in transporting, arming and supplying their forces, they extended their control over a large part of North China and Manchuria.

By the time General Marshall left China at the beginning of 1947, the Nationalists were apparently at the very peak of their military successes and territorial expansion. The following year and a half revealed, however, that their seeming strength was illusory and that their victories were built on sand.

The crisis had developed around Manchuria, traditional focus of Russian and Japanese imperialism. On numerous occasions Marshal Stalin had stated categorically that he expected the Nationalist government to take over the occupation of Manchuria. In the truce agreement of Jan. 10, 1946, the Chinese Communists agreed to the movement of government troops into Manchuria for the purpose of restoring Chinese sovereignty over this area. In conformity with this understanding, the United States transported sizable government armies to the ports of entry into Manchuria. Earlier the Soviet Army had expressed a desire to evacuate Manchuria in December, 1945, but had remained an additional two or three months at the request of the Chinese government.

When the Russian troops did begin their evacuation, the National government found itself with extended lines of communications, limited rolling stock and insufficient forces to take over the areas being evacuated in time to prevent the entry of Chinese Communist forces, who were already in occupation of the countryside. As the Communists entered, they obtained the large stocks of material from the Japanese Kwantung Army which the Russians had conveniently "abandoned."

To meet this situation the National government embarked on a series of military campaigns which expanded the line of its holdings to the Sungari River. Toward the end of these campaigns it also commenced hostilities within North China and succeeded in constricting the areas held by the Communists.

Marshall's Peace Efforts Vain

In the spring of 1946 General Marshall attempted to restore peace. This effort lasted for months and during its course a seemingly endless series of proposals and counter-proposals had made which had little effect upon the course of military activities and produced no political settlement. . . . In his farewell statement, General Marshall announced the termination of his efforts to assist the Chinese in restoring internal peace. He described the deep-seated mutual suspicion between the Kuomintang and the Chinese Communist party as the greatest obstacle to a settlement. He made it clear that the salvation of China lay in the hands of the Chinese themselves and that, while the newly adopted constitution provided the framework for a democratic China, practical measures of implementation by both sides would be the decisive test. He appealed for the assumption of leadership by liberals in and out of the government as the road to unity and peace. With these final words he returned to Washington to assume, in January, 1947, his new post as Secretary of State.

As the signs of impending disaster multiplied, the President in July, 1947, acting on the recommendation of the Secretary of State, instructed Lieutenant General C. Wedemeyer to survey the Chinese scene and make recommendations. In his report, submitted on Sept. 19, 1947, the general recommended that the United States continue and expand its policy of giving aid to Nationalist China, subject to these stipulations:

1. That China inform the United Nations of her request for aid.

2. That China request the United Nations to bring about a truce in Manchuria and request that Manchuria be placed under a five-power guardianship or a trusteeship.

3. That China utilize her own resources, reform her finances, her government and her armies, and accept American advisers in the military and economic fields. . . . It was decided that the publication at that time of a suggestion for the alienation of a part of China from the control of the National government, and for placing that part under an international administration to include Soviet Russia, would not be helpful. . . .

Why the Nationalists Failed

The reasons for the failures of the Chinese National government appear in some detail in the attached record. They do not stem from any inadequacy of American aid. Our military observers on the spot have reported that the Nationalist armies did not lose a single battle during the crucial year of 1948 through lack of arms or ammunition.

The fact was that the decay which our observers had detected in Chungking early in the war had fatally sapped the powers of resistance of the Kuomintang. Its leaders had proved incapable of meeting the crisis confronting them, its troops had lost the will to fight, and its government had lost popular support.

The Communists, on the other hand, through a ruthless discipline and fanatical zeal, attempted to sell themselves as guardians and liberators of the people. The Nationalist armies did not have to be defeated; they disintegrated. History has proved again and again that a regime without faith in itself and an army without morale can not survive the test of battle. . . .

The distrust of the leaders of both the Nationalist and Communist parties for each other proved too deep-seated to permit final agreement, notwithstanding temporary truces and apparently promising negotiations. The Nationalists, furthermore, embarked in 1946 on an overambitious military campaign in the face of warnings by General Marshall that it not only would fail, but would plunge China into economic chaos and eventually destroy the National government.

Marshall Warned Nationalists

General Marshall pointed out that though Nationalist armies could, for a period, capture Communist-held cities, they could not destroy the Communist armies. Thus every Nationalist advance would expose their communications to attack by Communist guerrillas and compel them to retreat or to surrender their armies, together with the munitions which the United States has furnished them. No estimate of a military situation has ever been more completely confirmed by the resulting facts.

The historic policy of the United States of friendship and aid toward the people of China was, however, maintained in both peace and war. Since V-J day, the United States government has authorized aid to Nationalist China in the form of grants and credits totaling approximately 2 billion dollars, an amount equivalent in value to more than 50 per cent of the monetary expenditures of the Chinese government and of proportionately greater magnitude in relation to the budget of that government than the United States has provided to any nation of western Europe since the end of the war.

In addition to these grants and credits, the United States government has sold the Chinese government large quantities of military and civilian war surplus property with a total procurement cost of over 1 billion dollars, for which the agreed realization to the United States was 232 million dollars. A large proportion of the military supplies furnished the Chinese armies by the United States since V-J Day has, however, fallen into the hands of the Chinese Communists through the military ineptitude of the Nationalist leaders, their defections and surrenders, and the absence among their forces of the will to fight. . . . It must be admitted frankly that the American policy of assisting the Chinese people in resisting domination by any foreign power or powers is now confronted with the gravest difficulties. The heart of China is in Communist hands. The Communist leaders have forsworn their Chinese heritage and have publicly announced their subservience to a foreign power. Russia, which during the last fifty years, under czars and Communists alike, has been most assiduous in its efforts to extend its control in the Far East.

Calls American Aid Unavailing

In the recent past, attempts at foreign domination have appeared quite clearly to the Chinese people as external aggression and as such have been bitterly and in the long run successfully resisted. Our aid and encouragement have helped them to resist. In this case, however, the foreign domination has been masked behind the facade of a vast crusading movement which apparently has seemed to many Chinese to be wholly indigenous and national. Under these circumstances, our aid has been unavailing.

The unfortunate but inescapable fact is that the ominous result of the civil war in China was beyond control of the government of the United States. Nothing that this country did or could have done within the reasonable limits of its capabilities could have changed that result; nothing that was left undone by this country has contributed to it. It was the product of internal Chinese forces, forces which this country tried to influence but could not. A decision was arrived at within China, if only a decision by default.

And now it is abundantly clear that we must face the situation as it exists in fact. We will not help the Chinese or ourselves by basing our policy on wishful thinking. We continue to believe that, however tragic may be the immediate future of China and however ruthlessly a major portion of this great people may be exploited by a party in the interest of a foreign imperialism, ultimately the profound civilization and the democratic individualism of China will reassert themselves and she will throw off the foreign yoke. I consider that we should encourage all developments in China which now and in the future work toward this end.

In the immediate future, however, the implementation of our historic policy of friendship for China must be profoundly affected by current developments. It will necessarily be influenced by the degree to which the Chinese people come to recognize that the Communist regime serves not their interests but those of Soviet Russia, and the manner in which, having become aware of the facts, they react to this foreign domination.

One point, however, is clear. Should the Communist regime lend itself to the aims of Soviet Russian imperialism and attempt to engage in aggression against China's neighbors, we and the other members of the United Nations would be confronted by a situation violative of the principles of the United Nations Charter and threatening international peace and security.

Meanwhile, our policy will continue to be based upon our own respect for the Charter, our friendship for China, and our traditional support for the Open Door and for China's independence and administrative and territorial integrity.

Respectfully yours,
DEAN ACHESON.

Wedemeyer's China Proposals

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP).—The text of Lieutenant General Wedemeyer's conclusions and recommendations to President Truman on the China situation in September, 1947:

PART IV—Conclusions:

The peaceful aims of freedom-loving peoples in the world are jeopardized today by developments as portentous as those leading to World War II.

The Soviet Union and her satellites give no evidence of a conciliatory or co-operative attitude in these developments. The United States is compelled, therefore, to initiate realistic lines of action in order to create and maintain bulwarks of freedom, and to protect United States strategic interests.

The bulk of the Chinese are not disposed to Communism and they are not concerned with ideologies. They desire food, shelter and the opportunity to live in peace.

The spreading internecine struggle within China threatens world peace. Repeated American efforts to mediate have proven unavailing. It is apparent that positive steps are required to end hostilities immediately. The most logical approach to this very complex and ominous situation would be to refer the matter to the United Nations.

A China dominated by Chinese Communists would be inimical to the interests of the United States, in view of their openly expressed hostility and active opposition to those principles which the United States regards as vital to the peace of the world.

The Communists have the tactical initiative in the overall military situation. The Nationalist position in Manchuria is precarious, and in Shantung and Hopei provinces strongly disputed. Continued deterioration of the situation may result in the early establishment of a Soviet satellite government in Manchuria and ultimately in the evolution of a Communist-dominated China.

China is suffering increasingly from disintegration. Her requirements for rehabilitation are large. Her most urgent needs include governmental reorganization and reforms, reduction of the military budget and external assistance.

A program of aid, if effectively employed, would bolster opposition to Communist expansion, and would contribute to gradual development of stability in China.

Due to excesses and oppressions by government police agencies basic freedoms of the people are being jeopardized. Maladministration and corruption cause a loss of confidence in the government. Until drastic political and economic reforms are undertaken, United States aid can not accomplish its purpose.

Even so, criticism of results achieved by the National government in efforts for improvement should be tempered by a recognition of the handicaps imposed on China by eight years of war, the burden of her opposition to Communism, and her sacrifices for the Allied cause.

A United States program of assistance could best be implemented under the supervision of American advisers in specified economic and military fields. Such a program can be undertaken only if China requests advisory aid as well as material assistance.

PART V—Recommendations

It is recommended:

That the United States government provide as early as practicable moral, advisory and material support to China in order to contribute to the early establishment of peace in the world in consonance with the enunciated principles of the United Nations, and concomitantly to protect United States strategic interests against militant forces which now threaten them.

That United States policies and actions suggested in this report be thoroughly integrated by appropriate government agencies with other international commitments. It is recognized that any foreign assistance extended must avoid jeopardizing the American economy.

That China be advised that the United States is favorably disposed to continue aid designed to protect China's territorial integrity and to facilitate her recovery, under agreements to be negotiated by representatives of the two governments, with the following stipulations:

That China inform the United Nations promptly of her request to the United States for increased material and advisory assistance.

That China request the United Nations to take immediate action to bring about a cessation of hostilities in Manchuria and request that Manchuria be placed under a five-power guardianship or, failing that, under a trusteeship in accordance with the United Nations charter.

That China make effective use of her own resources in a program for economic reconstruction and initiate sound fiscal policies leading to reduction of budgetary deficits.

That China give continuing evidence that the urgently required political and military reforms are being implemented.

That China accept American advisers as responsible representatives of the United States government in specified military and economic fields to assist China in utilizing United States aid in the manner for which it is intended.

White Paper Required 5 Weeks, Staff of 80

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP).—Ambassador Philip C. Jessup and a staff of about eighty assistants worked steadily for nearly five weeks to compile the State Department's White Paper on China. The paper-back volume, officially titled "United States Relations With China," weighs nearly three pounds. It has 1,054 pages and is two inches thick.

Gist Of Acheson's Report On China

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—The gist of Secretary of State Acheson's report today to President Truman and the nation on the situation in China:

WHY THE COMMUNISTS ARE WINNING IN CHINA—The ruling Kuomintang party by 1948, the crucial year of the war, had fallen into "decay." "Its leaders had proved incapable of meeting the crisis confronting them, its troops had lost the will to fight, and its Government had lost popular support."

MORE AMERICAN AID WOULD NOT HAVE PREVENTED DEFEAT—"Our military observers on the spot have reported that the Nationalists did not lose a single battle during the crucial year 1948 through lack of arms or ammunition."

WHERE THE COMMUNISTS GOT THEIR ARMS—First they obtained captured Japanese weapons which the Russians abandoned in Manchuria; second they captured huge supplies of American equipment due to "the military ineptitude of the Nationalist leaders, their defections and surrenders and the absence among their forces of the will to fight."

WHAT AMERICAN FUTURE POLICY SHOULD BE—"Ultimately the profound civilization and the democratic individualism of China will reassert themselves and she will throw off the foreign yoke. I consider that we should encourage all developments in China which now and in the future work toward this end."

WHY THE MARSHALL AND HURLEY MISSIONS FAILED TO UNIFY CHINA—"The distrust of the leaders of both the Nationalist and Communist parties for each other proved too deep-seated to permit final agreement, notwithstanding temporary truces and apparently promising negotiations."

Li Blames China Aid Failure On Chiang Rule

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—Probably the biggest surprise in the Government's report on China policy is three paragraphs of a letter from China's Acting President, Gen. Li Tsung-jen, to President Truman last May 5. It blamed China's previous (Chiang Kai-shek) Government for failure against the Communists.

The report does not say why General Li wrote such a letter nor does it indicate what he said in the unpublished paragraphs.

Report Quotes Letter

The text of that part of the report referring to the Li letter and including the text of the three paragraphs:

"Perhaps the aptest and most tragic summary of American intentions toward China and of the reasons for the present predicament of China was given by the Acting President, Gen. Li Tsung-jen, himself.

"The first three paragraphs of a letter he wrote to President Truman on May 5, 1949, concern the events of the period with which this paper is concerned and read as follows:

"'Throughout our war of resistance against Japanese aggression, the United States of America continuously extended to us her moral and material assistance, which enabled our country to carry on an arduous struggle of eight long years until final victory was achieved.

Work "Rendered Fruitless"

"'The sincere friendship thus demonstrated by the United States has contributed not only to strengthen further the traditional ties between our two countries but to win the deep gratitude and unbounded good will of the people of China.

"'This policy of friendly assistance was continued when some years ago Gen. George C. Marshall, under instructions from your good self, took up the difficult task of mediation in our conflict with the Chinese Communists, to which he devoted painstaking effort.

"'All this work was unfortunately rendered fruitless by the lack of sincerity on the part of both the then Government and the Chinese Communists.

Failure Laid To Chiang

"'In spite of this, your country continued to extend its aid to our Government. It is regrettable that, owing to the failure of our then Government to make judicious use of this aid and to bring about appropriate political, economic and military reforms, your assistance has not produced the desired effect. To this failure is attributable the present predicament in which our country finds itself.'"

General Li came in as Acting President on January 21, 1949, when Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek retired from the presidency. Li's initial task was to make peace with the Communists, and when negotiations failed over Communist demands for unconditional surrender his job was to continue prosecuting the war. (AP)

Marshall's China Advice Ignored

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—General Marshall warned China Nationalist military leaders in advance that their 1946 military offensive was so overambitious it was doomed to disastrous failure.

Marshall repeatedly advised against the proposed campaign, warning it would "not only fail but would plunge China into economic chaos and eventually destroy the Nationalist Government."

The State Department today made public Marshall's grim prediction with the comment:

"No estimate of a military situation has ever been more completely confirmed by the resulting facts."

Advice Disregarded

Generalisimo Chiang Kai-shek disregarded Marshall's advice and ordered his troops into Manchuria only to suffer a crushing defeat later at the hands of the Communist forces.

The State Department said the wartime United States Army chief of staff correctly foresaw the outcome when he pointed out Nationalist armies would be able to capture some Communist-held cities but would not be able to destroy the Communist forces.

"Thus every Nationalist advance would expose their communications to attack by Communist guerrillas and compel them to retreat or surrender their armies together with the munitions which the United States has furnished them."

Report On China Called Alibi, Realism, Back-Door Folly

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—Here is how some Congress members reacted to the Government's "White Paper" reporting on China policy and American-Chinese relations over the past century:

SENATOR WHERRY (Neb.), Republican Floor Leader—I can't agree to writing off Nationalist China. I can't see why we lock the front door against communism in Europe and leave the back door open in Asia.

SENATOR JOHNSON (D., Col.)—To intervene in the civil war in China would be reckless and beyond description. . . . The State Department, in this instance, is being realistic and sensible.

"A Face-Saving Device"

REPRESENTATIVE COX (D., Ga.)—The China White Paper is only a face-saving device. It is an alibi and does not state the truth. . . . We took Russia, a second-class power, and made her into the terror of the world. The blame for this bad situation must be credited, in large part, to . . . our own State Department.

SENATOR McCARRAN (D., Nev.)—We still could stop communism in China, but if we continue the policy set out in the White Paper it will be only a short time until all Asia is under Communist control. . . . We should do something affirmative.

"Sorry To See Write-Off"

SENATOR SALTONSTALL (R., Mass.): "Im sorry to see the Secretary of State write off Nationalist China as a complete loss. I'd like to know more about it before I agree with him."

SENATOR KNOWLAND (R., Cal.): "The White Paper confirms and underscores the fact that this Government for several critical war and postwar years tried to encourage, induce or compel the inclusion of Communists into the Government of China. It is to the everlasting credit of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek that he stood then as he stands today—uncompromisingly against this tie-up with international communism."

FOUR POWERS MAP COMMAND UNDER TREATY

U.S., Britain, France And Canada Would Run Defense System

ARTHUR GAVSHON

London, Aug. 5 (AP)—A four-power high command is being planned for the Atlantic treaty defense system, diplomatic officials reported today.

They said the projected supreme defense council for the twelve treaty nations would be run by the United States, Britain, France and Canada. The big-four plan was said to be one of the main subjects brought up in discussions this week among the three touring American chiefs of staff and army, navy and air force leaders of European signers of the pact.

Likened To Joint Board

Diplomatic sources said Britain and Canada had given preliminary indorsement to the plan and that France was expected to agree in conferences today and tomorrow in Paris.

Informants said the supreme council would work something like the Washington-based British-American joint staff board created in wartime but still functioning.

It would have politico-military character, they added, to design and mount the grand strategy for the treaty nations and make recommendations on political and diplomatic levels as needed to complement military aims.

Advanced In Atomics

A general twelve-nation defense committee would work under the council with advisory powers.

Some observers pointed out the four countries named for the supreme council are those most advanced in atomic developments and strongest militarily. Such a setup would restrict the circle in which it might become necessary to exchange top-secret atomic information.

W. German Talk Against Britain Held Risky

London, Aug. 5 (AP)—A British official, speaking with the authority of the Labor Government, said today West German leaders risk loss of Britain's friendship by inflammatory talk against his country.

The official, who would not permit himself to be identified, was commenting on remarks he attributed to Dr. Kurt Schumacher, Social Democratic leader in West Germany.

Schumacher was quoted as having said in an election-campaign speech "the British fought the war merely as a trade war to benefit the interests of their profiteers, who wanted to rid themselves of German competition." Other German politicians also have attacked the Western occupation powers, Britain, France and the United States.

"Lying Criticism"

The British official said "lying criticism" from the campaign platforms in Germany would jeopardize the re-entry of Germany "into the comity of nations."

West Germans will vote August 14 for a parliament which will set up a federal republican government. (AP)

Cripps To Visit D.C. In Search For Aid

London, Aug. 5 (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps plans to leave London for Washington September 3 in quest of a cure for Britain's dollar crisis.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, now under treatment in Switzerland for a digestive ailment, will travel by air.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is expected to sail on the Queen Elizabeth August 27. He will arrive in Washington September 2, two days before Cripps, for British talks with American and Canadain leaders."

Groundwork Laid

The travel dates were disclosed by Government sources today.

Groundwork for the Washington conference was laid here last month during a visit of American Treasury Secretary John Snyder. Its purpose will be not only to halt the drain which cut the sterling bloc's gold and dollar reserve to $1,624,000,000 at the end of June, but to find—if possible—a long-term answer to Britain's economic ailments.

Devaluation Out

Government financial experts here decline to indicate the exact direction the Cripps proposals for American assistance will take. They insist, however, on one point which the Chancellor himself reiterated before Parliament—he will not accept devaluation of the pound.

Simply stated, the problem is to find a means for Britain and other members of the sterling bloc to earn or otherwise obtain the dollars they require for "hard currency" imports.

Paris Bars Anti-Pact March On U.S. Embassy

CARL HARTMAN

6,000 Police, Troops Control Parade Of Communists Protesting Visit Of U.S. Top Brass

Paris, Aug. 5 (AP)—Twenty-five hundred Communists marched and sang around the fringes of the police-packed Place de la Concorde today but failed to carry their demonstration against the Atlantic treaty to the doorstep of the United States Embassy.

The semi-official French News Agency reported several persons were slightly hurt and said about 100—including three women Communist deputies of the National Assembly—were arrested for refusing to move on. The disturbance was slight. Later all those arrested were released.

Chant "We Want Peace"

The Communist chorus on the outskirts of the spacious square chanted "we want peace" and sang the Communist anthem, "The Internationale."

The three American chiefs of staff, whose presence in France was the pretext for the advertised demonstration banned by police, saw none of it. They were at Fontainebleau at the time, 35 miles away, on one leg of a busy round of talks with French and European union military commanders, exploring the preliminaries for the Atlantic-pact defense system.

Six thousand police and soldiers, using the customary massing strategy to frighten off threatening Communist uprisings, kept the peace in the Place de la Concorde. The United States Embassy is in a corner of the great square.

Rebuffed By Ambassador

A small Communist delegation was permitted inside the embassy. Brig. Gen. Joseph O'Hare, of the embassy staff, received the delegation but said it was not his place to accept any petition.

Ambassador David Bruce refused to see the Communists today but said he would be glad to receive them tomorrow. Members of the delegation said they wanted to protest aggression against "peace-loving Russia."

More than 100 busses and trucks loaded with police and gendarmes armed with rifles and prepared to use tear-gas crowded into the area.

In addition to an array of command cars and radio jeeps, a police plane hovered over the areas as a trouble-spotter. A few armored cars also were on hand.

Meet French Chiefs

The American chiefs, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Admiral Louis Denfeld and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, spent more than four hours in military talks on their first full day here. In the forenoon they met with the three French chiefs of staff and lunched with them and Defense Minister Paul Ramadier.

Then they went to Western European Union military headquarters at Fontainebleau, the place where Napoleon signed his abdication.

Vandenberg said afterward: "What we were talking about was to get ideas of what type of organization is best from the military point of view."

The American chiefs made no comment on the demonstration. They re-emphasized that they were not making any big military decisions at this time, but were collecting ideas on how to organize the defense.

Call On Generals

At Fontainebleau they called on some of the victorious generals of World War II—Viscount Field Marshal Montgomery, Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny and Air Chief Marshal Sir James Robb.

An official communiqué called the Fontainebleau meeting "a useful conversation . . . in a most cordial atmosphere."

Tomorrow the United States chiefs will talk with military leaders from Belgium, Holland and Portugal.

They said they would lay a wreath on the tomb of the French unknown soldier Sunday and then hold a news conference before leaving for Vienna.

Reds In Paris Halted At U.S. Embassy

ROBERT EUNSON

Paris, Aug. 5 (AP)—Communists massed 1,500 singing marchers today in protest against Atlantic pact talks here, but the presence of 6,000 troops and police in the Place de La Concorde cooled the demonstrators' ardor.

The marchers sang the Communist anthem, the "Internationale."

They made no attempt to break through lines of police, bolstered by soldiers in battle equipment. They had intended to march on the United States Embassy in the square and protest against the presence in France of the American joint chiefs of staff who are discussing Atlantic Alliance strategy.

Went To Fontainebleau

The staff chiefs had already gone to Fontainebleau, 40 miles outside Paris, for talks with western European chiefs.

Brig. Gen. Joseph O'Hare, of the embassy, received a delegation of four Communists twice in the afternoon. They wanted a third meeting tonight, but O'Hare put them off until tomorrow.

The Communists said they had a petition to present protesting that the Atlantic meetings here were provocative actions against a peace-loving Russia and they wanted it delivered to the chiefs of staff.

In Bordeaux, United States Consul Walter Lichicun received a delegation of the Communist-controlled General Labor Confederation. The delegation expressed hostility to the Atlantic pact and told Lichicun, "French workers will not let the nation enter a new war."

Tourists Attracted

Many American tourists had gathered in the Place de la Concorde in Paris in anticipation of trouble with the Communist marchers, but there was none. The first group of marchers gathered quietly, apparently impressed by the presence of the troops and unwilling to make their attempt to march on the embassy look silly.

The soldiers and police rolled up in 100 trucks several hours before the time of the Communist march, which had been announced for noon (D.S.T.).

Military Chiefs Talk

Meanwhile, American and French military chiefs held what they described as satisfactory talks on Western European defense.

The American chiefs — Army General Omar N. Bradley, Air Force General Hoyt Vandenberg and Admiral Louis Denfeld—left here on schedule before the hour for the demonstration.

Welcomed By Monty

The party was welcomed by the union's commander in chief, British Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, and his top officers.

These are French General Jean De Lattre De Tassigny, land forces chief; Brtiish Marshal Sir James Robb, head of the Air Forces, and French Vice Admiral Robert Jaujard, chief flag officer for the naval forces.

The Fontainebleau meeting lasted less than two hours. A communiqué was issued, saying: "The United States chiefs of staff met western European commanders in their committee at Fontainebleau this afternoon at 1530 (3.30 P.M., French Time). Useful conversation took place in a most cordial atmosphere. The United States chiefs of staff left Fontainebleau at 1720 (5.30 P.M.) to return to Paris."

Chiefs Noncommittal

As on previous occasions during the Atlantic talks, the staff chiefs were noncommittal concerning their discussions.

After their sessions in Paris they had described their progress as satisfactory.

"I think we see eye to eye," United States Air Force Chief of Vandenberg said after the officers had talked for almost three hours in the French War Ministry.

No Decisions Made

Vandenberg said no decisions had been made, but that the discussions had been "very helpful."

French leaders had been reported seeking assurances that France won't be shoved into the background in drafting Atlantic pact defense strategy.

Asked if the talks get down to discussion of how far east to draw western Europe's defense line, Vandenberg said: "We were just finding things out."

He also was asked if the talks had concerned France's desire for a top role in the Atlantic defense council. He replied:

"Our discussions were on a military, not a political level."

One Of Main Topics

Diplomatic officials in London said France, along with the United States, Britain and Canada, would be named to a supreme defense council to direct the military and strategic program of the twelve-nation Atlantic alliance. The officials said this was one of the main topics under discussion by the staff chiefs.

Reds Charged With Taking Slave Labor

THOMAS A. REEDY

Berlin, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Sachsenhausen concentration camp near Berlin is being used as a depot to provid Soviet Russia slave laborers, Mrs. Erika Raeder asserted today.

The wife of the former German grand admiral was released from the camp a month ago after four years as a prisoner of the Russians and now is in western Germany.

"Every two months big transports of people who were being punished left Sachsenhausen for Russia," she said in an interview.

"There were usually 2,000 people to each transport. They were not all Germans. A large number of them were Russians who had broken some rule.

Love A Crime

"It was enough for a Russian to fall in love with a German girl. He would be on the same transport with the Germans.

"The people were stripped naked. Each was branded on the buttocks with a special indelible tatooing.

"Certain people returned from these transports and told us if branded persons were caught away from the camp they had been assigned to they were shot."

The Admiral's wife is 61. Raeder is servinig a life term on a war-crimes charge in the four-power Spandau Prison here.

When the Russians captured Raeder in June, 1945, they took him and Mrs. Raeder to Moscow.

Treated Well At First

"We were treated very well there for about three months," she said, "We lived in a small cottage and were free to move around. However, we had no rubles and could not pay a taxi fare into the central part of the city.

"We were served caviar three times a day.

"One day the Russian officers told me roughly that my husband was a war criminal and would be tried at Nuernberg. From that minute on I was a prisoner and treated very badly.

"I demanded to go to Berlin and they told me to shut up. I insisted on seeing the American Ambassador. Oddly enough, they decided I could go to Berlin. The trip was made by plane, but we stopped in Minsk with some engine trouble."

Shuttled About

Back in Germany, she was shuttled from one secret police jail to another until she wound up in Sachsenhausen, an infamous camp established by Hitler's SS but continued in operation after the war by the Soveit military administration.

She never was struck or otherwise abused physically. To her knowledge the Russians never beat prisoners, she said.

Instead, they quizzed them on such odd subjects that the prisoners became frightened, thinking themselves in the hands of madmen, she said.

"For instance, they kept asking me how much I paid my maid. And what was the dog tax in Berlin?"

Early in her captivity, she declared, the Russians made overtures to Raeder to join forces with them. He was the builder of the Third Reich's war fleet.

Honor Not Understood

"They couldn't understand when he told them his code of honor prevented that. He was a German officer, not a Russian officer.

"They expressed their admiration for the Norwegian invasion as a beautiful job. And they asked my husband who was responsible for such a good job of tactics and strategy.

"He said he was. The Russians hid a smile, but it was written all over their faces: 'We trapped him.'"

Raeder was convicted of waging aggressive war for his part in planning the Nazi naval invasion of Norway in 1940.

He contended he had to do it to beat the British to the punch.

Stopgap Aid For Germans Gets U.S.-British Approval

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 5 (AP)—American and British authorities approved today a German law that will give stop-gap financial aid to millions of Germans who have been in dire need since the war.

The law will tax owners of property heavily to pay the losses of some Germans from Nazi persecutions, Allied bombings, and the German border changes.

Forerunner Of Broader Act

The law is a forerunner of a far broader act that plans to "equalize the burdens" in helping a total of 10,000,000 people.

Under the law, the authorities will tax millions of Germans who had real property worth more than $900 when the present currency was issued in June, 1948.

3 Per Cent Property Tax

A property tax of three per cent a year has been fixed. This is in addition to huge income and corporation taxes already shouldered by west Germans.

The law will give pensions to old people in the affected groups. They will get $21 monthly, as will widows with three or more children. Orphans will get $10.50.

Certain young people will get financial support for professional and technical education.

"Household Goods"

The fraudulently documented machinery was labeled as "household goods" of Jewish immigrants to Palestine, the announcement said. Army officials called the smuggling attempt "the biggest ever discovered" at the American occupation port.

Dozens of American and German customs officials suddenly appeared on the pier this morning while the ship was half-loaded. First cases that were opened, the announcement said, disclosed that boxes labeled as household goods contained concrete mixers, automobiles, tractors and other machinery.

From D.P. Camp

Officials said the goods came from a displaced persons camp for Jews at Bergen-Belsen, near Hanover. They said the goods had been certified by officials of the International Refugee Organization as household goods.

By declaring the shipment as household goods owned by immigrants to Israel, army officials said, the owners could export the German-made goods without payment of duty.

Israeli Freighter Seized By U.S. In Smuggling

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 5 (AP)—Army authorities at Bremerhaven today seized an Israeli freighter which they said was being loaded with $1,000,000 worth of illegally consigned machinery.

An army announcement identified the ship as the Drommit, flying the Israeli flag. Her owners were not immediately identified.

September 7 First Parliament Date

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 5 (AP)—German state presidents today picked September 7 as the date for the first meeting of West Germany's new Parliament.

Members of the legislative body will be chosen August 14.

Convening of the Parliament will mark the beginning of the new West German federal republic sponsored by the United States, Britain and France in their three occupation zones. With the Russian zone left outside, it will be the nearest thing to an all-German government the country has had since Hitler's defeat in 1945.

The western republic's president will be elected September 9, by a federal assembly composed of Parliament (Bundestag) plus 400 delegates from the state legislatures.

ITALIAN UNION SIGNS MAJOR WAGE AGREEMENT

ROME, Aug. 5 (AP)—Italy's big communist-led Labor Confederation (CGIL) signed a major wage agreement with Industry tonight promising peace on the factory front.

Millions of industrial workers are affected by the agreement signed also by the non-communist Free Labor Confederation (LCGIL) and the independent Italian Labor Federation (FIL).

Small wage increases were granted in all categories of factory workers. The accord also provides for creation of a national wage price index adjustable to the rise and fall of living costs.

Agreement ended more than a year of stormy negotiations marked by numerous strikes and disorders.

The pact carries these provisions:

Workers with families receive an added 20 lire (3 1-2 cents) daily for each dependent child.

Immediate wage increase of 56 lire (9 cents) daily for specialized workers, 24 lire (4 cents) daily for qualified workers and 12 lire (2 cents) daily for specialized manual workers.

First category employes, including factory foremen, will receive an increase of 3,000 lire ($5.17) monthly, and second category, including minor factory officials, 800 lire ($1.37) monthly.

ACTION ON PROBE OF SLAVE LABOR POSTPONED IN UN

LYNN HEINZERLING

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 5 (AP) An American-supported move for investigation of forced labor in the world was postponed today by the UN Economic and Social Council.

The decision came at a stormy session during which Amazasp Arutiunian, Soviet delegate was called down sharply by James Thorn, New Zealand delegate and council chairman, for using such words as "slander and lie."

U. S. Asked Probe

The United States had offered a resolution calling for a joint UN-International Labor Organization (ILO) inquiry into slave labor conditions. But the council voted 10 to five for a Danish-Brazilian-Indian amendment which removed the operative clauses and turned the question back to the UN secretary-general.

The Secretary-General was instructed to "request governments which have not as yet stated they would be prepared to cooperate in such an impartial inquiry to consider whether they, before the next session of the council, can give a reply to that effect." This would postpone further council action for at least six months.

The Soviet Union, which has been accused of operating a massive forced labor program, is the most important state which has not agreed to an "on-the-spot" investigation.

Many delegates said that without Russian permission for an inquiry in the USSR, there is no point of making an investigation.

Reds Abstain

The postponing amendment was opposed by the U. S. and supported by Britain, Russia, Poland, and White Russia abstained.

Today's session was the stormiest since the UN moved some of its activities into the old League of Nations home here.

The argument between Arutiunian and Thorn came as the former started a speech lasting an hour and 45 minutes. In it the Russian defended the Soviet penal system and denounced "forced labor" in the U. S. and in the British colonies. Thorn broke in at the first mention of "slander and lies" by Arutiunian:

"The use of such words as slander and lie should not be permitted in this council," he said. "They convey insults. I don't believe there are any liars or slanderers here in this council."

The chairman stuck to his ruling, despite attempts by Arutiunian to shout him down. Thorn said "it is time I asserted my authority to see that this debate is conducted in an orderly manner."

Parliament Boss, Says Leopold

Brussels, Aug. 5 (AP)—Exiled King Leopold III tonight told Belgium's three leading political parties only Parliament can decide whether he should return to the throne.

While accepting in principle a popular referendum on his return, he said it "must be nothing else than an opinion expressed by the citizens to Parliament and the King."

The King's message was addressed to the Social Christian (pro-Leopold), Socialist and Liberal (anti-Leopold) parties. It was dated yesterday at Pregny, Switzerland, where the King has been living in exile, and was released tonight by the royal secretariat here.

Away Ever Since End Of War

Leopold has not lived in Belgium since the war. The King had surrendered the Belgian forces to the invading Nazis in May, 1940, and became a prisoner of war. After the country was liberated by the Allies in 1944, with the King then in Germany, Parliament elected as regent his brother, Prince Charles. In 1945, the Chamber of Deputies voted, 96 to 6, to continue the regency and to bar the King's return to his throne without Parliament's consent.

National elections June 28 of this year were interpreted as blasting Leopold's chances of returning to the throne any time soon. The Social Christians had campaigned on the issue of holding a referendum on the King's return. They held their position as Belgium's biggest party but failed to win a majority in the Chamber of Deputies.

Up To Parliament, He Says

"To get me to resume my constitutional duties," Leopold said, "Parliament must take the decision in that sense. My return to my constitutional duties must thus be directly decided by the representatives of the nation (Parliament)."

Commenting on a request by the Socialists that a percentage to bring him back be fixed in advance if a referendum is held, the King said:

"To establish a quantum (percentage) would give the consultation (referendum) an anti-constitutional character by transforming the consultation into a plebiscite, which would make Parliament's power to decide the end of the regency illusionary."

Leopold said that "to be constitutional, the consultation must be nothing else than an opinion expressed by the citizens to the Parliament and king."

Disclaims Blame For Crisis

He declined all responsibility for a 40-day Cabinet crisis still unsolved.

"If the parties cannot agree on a solution to the royal problem," he said, "Parliament should take the decision, and this decision should be loyally accepted."

In such an event, with a small but definite majority of pro-Leopoldists, Parliament could vote to end the regency and call the King back.

For such a vote a government must be formed which would get a majority in each house of Parliament.

To achieve this in the lower chamber, a coalition would be necessary. But the Socialists and Liberals are most likely to refuse collaboration with such a government.

Then He Would Abdicate

While agreeing in principle on holding a referendum, Leopold said a 66 per cent vote would not be necessary to bring him back, indicating a simple majority would be sufficient.

He continued:

"If I feel by resuming my duties I could not serve my country, I would abdicate in favor of my son, the heir prince (Baudouin).

"I do not intend to impose myself on my country. When I ascended the throne, I promised Belgium to reign and live for her. I have not for often this promise."

Return Is Parliament's Say, King Leopold Holds

Brussels, Aug. 5 (AP)—Self-exiled King Leopold told the three main Belgian political parties tonight that only Parliament could decide whether he should return to the throne.

He refused to agree to a referendum by the people on the question. If a referendum were held, he said, he alone would judge the meaning of the results.

CATHOLICS DEFY PRAGUE'S DECREE

Challenge Edict Aimed To Balk Excommunication Order

RICHARD KASLSCHKE

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Government's order that priests must defy the Vatican decree on excommunication drew a defiant rejection tonight from Catholic authorities in western Bohemia.

The episcopal vicar (diocese administrator) at Litomerice replied to the order which threatened punishment if violated. His answer said in effect: "We cannot read your signature. And what are you doing in a Catholic consistory interfering in the internal affairs of the church."

30.24- 4833

Some two months ago the Communist Ministry of Education seized Catholic consistories (administrative offices). The Czech press claimed the action was necessary to halt the issuance of pastoral letters.

NIGHT

Warning To Priests Reported

Meanwhile, in Prague, a prominent churchman said priests had been warned to beware of Communists who might come to them pretending to be Catholics and seeking sacramental ministration.

This warning was put out, he said, after a supposedly Catholic-Communist woman denounced the Rev. Alois Fajstl in court and had him sentenced to eight years in jail for high treason.

Also in the Czech capital the Ministry of Education called a meeting of the teachers of religions. At this meeting, teachers, priests and laymen were offered a 100 per cent increase in pay under Government regulations.

Pledge Loyalty To Regime

The official version was that the teachers concluded the meeting with a "promise to be loyal sons and daughters of the people's democratic regime," and dispatched telegrams of greetings to top leaders in the Communist Government.

The order to the priests was issued as a decree of the Ministry of Education but under the stamp of the local Catholic bishop's consistory. It warned priests that the Covernment considered excommunication to be illegal punishment "as long as excommunications or other ecclesiastical punishments flected not for religious but for political reasons."

The Government order said:

"Steps will be taken against those church functionaries who do not obey this notice; and furthermore we call upon all parish priests to hold up any excommunication order which they may receive from whatsoever source . . . also, every priest affected by such excommunication is bound by duty to take no heed of the punishment."

Reply From Vicar

The answer from the Episcopal vicar said:

"It has not been announced officially that the bishop's consistory in Litomerice has been taken over by a Government commissar and that his name is Dr. Janota (the name signed to the Government order). . . . Therefore the letter of this commissar cannot be recognized, all the more so since the aforesaid signature is practically illegible and concealed by the stamp of the bishop's consistory. . . .

"Your letter can only be regarded as interference in the internal affairs of the church in which a commissar is acting in purely religious matters clearly outside his competence.

"Such incompetent procedure clearly cannot be recognized by the clergy. These orders can only be issued by the competent ordinaries and executors of papal decrees on such matters as excommunication of priests and laiety in their diocese." (AP)

Czechs Intensify Vatican Attack

Prague, Aug. 5 (AP)—The controlled Czechoslovak press, stepping up its campaign against the Vatican, claimed today that the Catholic excommunication of militant Communists was being beaten.

The press asserted that the imprisonment for high treason of Father Alois Fajstl for allegedly refusing to administer the last sacrament to a Communist woman was proof "that the church must submit to the laws of the state and admit their superiority over ecclesiastical laws."

"Political Order"

Communist-controlled newspapers condemned the excommunication decree as "a political order aimed at disrupting our republic."

The political-cultural weekly Tvorba decorated its front cover with a cartoon of the Pope, wearing a swastika and firing a medieval cannon at "Fort Democracy," decorated with the hammer and sickle. The shells crash, broken and harmless, off the walls. The cartoon is captioned "Excommunication" and bears this text: "The fort was hit by a shot from a medieval weapon, straight from the Vatican, and it did not even shake."

"Honest" Communists

The Communist party daily Rude Pravo and the Communist weekly Halo Noviny accused the Pope of supporting Fascists and "blessing" black-marketers while excommunicating "honest Communist citizens."

These attacks said: "The Pope never excommunicated a single war criminal, a general or Gestapo man but attacks honest people just because they happen to be Communists."

Tito's Army Alerted To Border Foes

ALEX SINGLETON

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 5 (AP). Yugoslav troops were in a state of alert today to guard against what Premier Marshal Tito called provocations and intimidation by his Soviet-dominated neighbors.

Tanjug, the official news agency, last night quoted Marshal Tito as saying bloody clashes already had taken place in Macedonia. The Balkan region lies between Communist Bulgaria and Albania, with Greece on the southern border.

Tito said his troops were in a "state of alert in order to safeguard the peaceful construction of our socialist country."

DAY

Charges Rumors Spread

The Premier, who defied Soviet dictation a year ago in a row with the Cominform accused his eastern neighbors of trying to intimidate Yugoslavia by spreading rumors of a threatened Red Army invasion.

Tito called them "nothing but ordinary rumors," but added:

"Nevertheless, we are not unvigilant here either. . . . We are prepared to prevent all provocations, to defend our country against everyone."

In a slap at Moscow, Tito added Yugoslavia would defend the principles of Marxism-Leninism "even against the creators of these principles, should they go against them." (AP)

Russia Charged With Sell-Out In Austria Deal

Yugoslavia Sees Betrayal of Slovene Carinthians to Fatten Soviet Union

BELGRADE, Aug. 5 (AP).—Yugoslavia accused the Soviet Union today of selling out the Slovene Carinthians in Austria and trying to cover up the deal with slanders.

The Information Ministry here made public a note sent to Moscow two days ago. In it, Yugoslavia amplified previous statements denouncing the rejection by the recent Paris conference of Foreign Ministers of a Yugoslav demand for a part of Austria in the south.

The note denied and denounced a recent Soviet assertion that Yugoslavia carried on secret negotiations with Great Britain over the future boundaries of Austria. On the contrary, it declared, the Soviet tUnion itself suggested that Yugoslavia seek an independent solution with the Western powers on this point, and subsequently was kept informed of the progress made.

The note charged that Russian acquiescence in the Western stand against depriving Austria of territory was expressed with the Soviet Union itself suggested that mind." The big powers agreed at Paris to draft an Austrian independence treaty by September. As one of the terms, Russia is seeking a settlement which would give her much former German property in Austria.

Foes Of Tito May Operate Underground

Rome, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Italian news agency Astra said today that Moscow radio broadcasts monitored in Trieste had reported creation of an anti-Tito underground Communist party in Yugoslavia.

Astra said the radio broadcasts expressed pleasure at the growth of the movement opposing Yugoslavia's Premier Marshal Tito, who has broken with the Russian-led Cominform.

The agency said special instructions had been broadcast to the underground movement.

GREEKS CRACK DOWN ON RED TERRORISTS

ATHENS, Aug. 5 (AP)—Greece's minister of public order, Constantine Rentis, said tonight Athens Security police have arrested all members of a communist terrorist organization.

The organization planned to execute Dimitrios Svolopoulos, director of the Athens radio station, and other officials, Rentis said. The number of persons arrested was not announced.

'LIQUIDATE TITO,' RED RADIO DEMANDS

TRIESTE, Free Territory, Aug. 5 (AP) A Moscow radio broadcast heard here said today Yugoslav Premier Marshal Tito must be liquidated.

An appeal described as coming from Yugoslavs in Russia called for "all the world" to cooperatein "liquidating Tito in the name of human principles."

TAXES RAISED 100,000 TIMES FOR SHANGHAI

High Levies Protested; U.S. School May Have To Shut Down

FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, Aug. 5 (AP)—A number of Shanghai property owners said today they were utterly unable to pay realty tax bills presented by Communist authorities.

The taxes are, in effect, 100,000 times greater than formerly.

To try to keep up with the wildly inflated Nationalist gold yuan, the Nationalists had assessed taxes on the 1948 basis multiplied by 100. The Communists have used this formula, but are billing in Communist dollars. Since they had redeemed the old gold yuan at 100,000 to one Communist dollar, the effect is a tax multiplied by 100,000.

The American school in the old French Concession, which under the Nationalists was tax-exempt as an educational institution, has been billed for current and back taxes aggregating $76,000, United States.

Appeal For Relief

A foreign church in downtown Shanghai has been taxed the equivalent of $60,000, United States.

The Shanghai Race Club property, which includes the track, stables and adjacent buildings, has been assessed present and back taxes aggregating $200,000, United States.

These three have appealed to Communist authorities for relief. The American school and many other nonprofit institutions have said they would close and try to liquidate if the taxes were not reduced.

No differentiation appears to have been made between income and nonincome property, but the levy appears not to have been uniform. Most business properties have been heavily assessed, but some escaped with relatively light appraisals.

Warn Unemployed

On another part of the economic front, the official Liberation Daily said, "To overcome difficulties imposed by the imperialist-directed blockade, the unemployed must be repatriated from Shanghai."

This warning appeared as increasing numbers of jobless were using various stratagems to try to get more severance pay from former employers or to be put back on the pay rolls.

Most say they have no place to go and no resources. This condition is becoming desperate. Many would like to leave town if they knew how to go about it.

Economy Drive Under Way

[The Communist radio also indicated Red China was having a growing economic headache. A broadcast heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press gave a lengthy account of a geeral economy drive. It called for reductions in use of electricity and water, discharge of unnecessary employés "to free personnel for the countryside," and a broad "promotion of simple living in the cities."

[It also expressed warm approval of the recently announced trade pact between Manchuria and Russia and expressed hope that "the exchange of goods would be extended to include North China, East China and the whole country."

[It quoted the chairman of the Shanghai Students Union as saying "the aid and support given to the Chinese people by the Soviet Union will help in more clearly distinguishing between friends and foes."]

GENERAL CHEN DESERTS TO CHINESE REDS

Changsha, Part Of Army Given To Communists By Turncoat

Canton, China, Aug. 5 (AP)—Nationalist China's deputy commander on the all-important front north of Canton changed over to the Communists and handed them the fortress of Changsha last night.

This desertion, with part of his army, is expected greatly to accelerate the Chinese Red advance on this provisional capital. The Communists now are only 215 miles from Canton at one point, and the turncoat general, Chen Min-Jen, knows the troop dispositions and plans of the defense.

Pro-Nationalist reports contended 80,000 of Chen's 90,000 troops were pulled south out of Changsha before he joined the enemy," but other reports said he was able to hand over 30,000 men to the Communist. NIGHT

Chief Named As Successor

Only six days ago the Nationalist Government fired Gen. Cheng Chien as governor of Hunan province—of which Changsha is the capital—on suspicion that he was making a deal with the Chinese Reds. It named Chen to succeed him. Changsha is 365 miles north of Canton.

[The Communist radio confirmed that both Cheng and Chen had changed sides and said that on the night of August 4 they "raised the flag of uprising" and welcomed the Chinese Red troops into Changsha.]

Gen. Huang Chieh, Vice Minister of Defense, was named to succeed Chen as deputy to Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, top commander of the Central China defense.

Reds Capture Changsha

SPENCER MOOSA

Canton, Aug. 5 (AP)—The fortress of Changsha fell to the Reds today and a credible report of a Nationalist Army revolt on that front may mean the road to Canton will soon be almost wide open.

Loss of Changsha, 365 miles to the north, was bad news enough for the Nationalists. But the Reds in another lunge southeast of Changsha were only 215 miles from this refugee capital.

Both these reversals were admitted officially.

Revolt Of Chen Reported

Unofficial but credible reports said Gen. Chen Ming-jen, new governor of Hunan province, had revolted.

Chen only recently replaced Gen. Cheng Chien. The Government charges Cheng fled from Changsha and went over to the Reds on Monday. The Government ordered Cheng's arrest, accusing him of trying to arrange a local peace with the Communists.

The unofficial accounts said Chen, close friend of his predecessor, also went over to the Reds, taking at least one of his three armies with him. His armies totaled 90,000 men.

Might Affect Gen. Pai

Defection of the Hunan general would create a serious situation. It conceivably could compel Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, commander in the south, to withdraw his troops southwestward into Kwangsi province. This would leave the road to Canton open for swift Communist advance.

CHIANG IS REPORTED EN ROUTE TO KOREA

CHINHAE, Korea (Saturday) Aug. 6(AP) Unofficial reports said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek left Formosa today for South Korea and conversations with President Syngman Rhee on an anti-Communist pact in the Pacific.

Chiang's party, in two planes, is expected to fly to Pusan near this south coast port. Rhee and his party are awaiting Chiang at Chinhae.

Chiang's visit to Rhee twice has been delayed. He had been expected yesterday, and there was an official report he had left Formosa. This later was denied. The latest report that Chiang had started was strictly unofficial. Great secrecy surrounds his movements.

Koreans Report Communist Loss

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 5 (AP)—The South Korean army chief of staff reported today that an estimated 6,000 invaders from the Communist north had been repulsed.

Desultory exchanges of small-arms fire continued, however, at the scene on the Ongjin Peninsula about 90 miles northwest of Seoul.

The chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Choi Byung Duk, said his forces lost 100 killed and 90 wounded when the northerners attacked Thursday.

He said the northerners still held two points a maximum of 1,000 yards inside the southern border but had been driven back from two others. NIGHT

The northerners recovered two points north of the border that, Choi disclosed, had been occupied recently by the southern forces.

Observers expressed belief the situation had settled back to the customary frontier skirmishing, with no major move intended by either side.

India is a major bulwark against the spread of communism in Asia and as such figures in a big way in the newly stated American anti-Communist policy in the Far East.

That policy, shaped up in the American white paper issued today in Washington, wrote off any remaining hope of rallying any force to combat the triumphing Communists in China.

But in submitting the white paper to President Truman, Secretary of State Dean Acheson said the Chinese Communists may fall in with "aims of Soviet Russian imperialism" to start something against China's neighbor nations.

U. S. Would Act

In that event, Acheson told the President, the U. S. should try to block aggression through the United Nations—which had to keep hands off the Chinese situation on the ground it was an internal Chinese conflict.

Nehru told his news conference his recipe for stamping down Communist violence was in the hands of the people and they were succeeding.

Cites Recent Activity

DAY

"There is no doubt the Communist policy in India has been completely aligned for violence and the creation of trouble and chaos," he said. "That is proving unsuccessful. They have met with substantial reverses. They are now engaged in some heart searching as to what they would do about it."

Nehru cited the situation in Calcutta, one of the major hotbeds of Indian communism, before and after his recent visit there. He said there were incidents of violence and terrorism almost daily before he made the trip, but there has been practically no trouble with the Communists since.

The reason, he said, was that he told the people they must not stand by in fright, but must deal with terrorism themselves. The police should interfere less, he said. (AP)

Indian Leader Says Reds Failed In Campaign to Spread Violence

MARC PURDUE

NEW DELHI, India., Aug. 5—(AP) Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today Communists tried but failed in a campaign to spread chaos and violence over India.

His statement at a news conference was taken as a reaffirmation that India would remain on guard against any symptoms of rising communism such as that which grew powerful enough to seize China. NIGHT

He told reporters there was no doubt the Communists in India aimed solely to stir up troubles but were unsuccessful and "they now are engaged in some heart-searching as to what to do about it."

The conference was called for a review of his government's accomplishments in the two years since India gained independence from Britain in mid-August, 1947.

To Visit U. S., Canada

It also shed some light on the implications of Nehru's forthcoming official visit to the United States for high-level talks in Washington. He said he expected to arrive in the U. S. Oct. 11 and remain until the end of October. He also plans to spend several days in Canada.

For illustration, he cited what happened in Calcutta, one of the hotbeds of Indian communism and second largest city in the British commonwealth, around the time of his recent visit there.

He said beforehand violence and terrorism occurred daily and since his trip to Calcutta there had been almost no trouble with the Communists.

Nehru attributed this to the fact he counseled the people not to stand by in fright but to deal with terrorism themselves. Police should interfere less, he said.

"Mischief-making elements are successful only when people lose discipline or become frightened," the Indian leader said.

Indian Communism Beaten, Nehru Says

New Delhi, Aug. 5 (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today a Communist policy he reported aimed at creating chaos in India has failed.

NEW SNAG DELAYS SENATE ACTION ON FOREIGN AID BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5—(AP) The big foreign recovery bill was delayed again today—this time by a Senate fight over an amendment designed to halt socialism in Britain.

Leaders had thought the $5,647,724,000 measure, which includes funds to carry on the Marshall Plan of European recovery, was on the point of passage.

They had beaten, 46 to 34, an amendment to penalize France for alleged mistreatment of American business men in French Morocco. Previously other amendments had been knocked out.

NIGHT

Put Until Monday

But just as a final vote appeared imminent Senator Kem (R-Mo) introduced an amendment to deny aid to any nation which nationalizes in the future any of its basic industries. Debate on this was in progress when the Senate quit until Monday.

Kem's amendment would apply to any Marshall Plan nation—but it is aimed particularly at Britain's Socialization program.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, Democratic leader, challenged the Kem amendment as being out of order—and acting President Tydings (D-Md) upheld the challenge. Then Kem appealed the Tydings decision to the Senate.

At this point Kem launched into a speech in support of his amendment.

"I believe it is now the clear duty of Congress to protect the American taxpayer from the use of our money by socialist governments in a way that is slowing down recovery in Europe," Kem said.

The French Morocco amendment was defeated after Republican Senators Vandenberg (Mich) and Dulles (NY) had joined administration leaders in opposing it.

Claim Discrimination

The amendment was offered after 37 Americans trying to carry on businesses in French Morocco complained the French were discriminating against them. The amendment would have prevented France from using so-called "counterpart funds" in local currencies which under the Marshall Plan are put into a special account to match the dollar aid received from the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA). The counterpart funds are controlled by ECA.

Vandenberg said the discrimination charges by the 37 Americans did not warrant a penalty of such magnitude, involving millions of dollars.

Vice President Barkley upheld a point of order against the amendment yesterday, but the Senate overruled him, 44 to 42. However, the administration succeeded in tightening its lines overnight and defeated it handily today.

Approve Greek Aid

The Senate moved rapidly through the remainder of the bill. It approved $900,000,000 for Army occupation costs in Germany, Austria, Japan and Ryukyu islands, and $45,000,000 in aid for Greece and Turkey. It restored authority for the Army to turn over its occupation duties in Germany to the State department. This authority had been technically knocked out when the Senate Appropriations committee deleted a House amendment.

The Senate rejected an amendment which would have required the Army to earmark $450,000,000 of its occupation money for buying surplus U. S. farm products.

At that point, several controversial amendments were ready to be offered from the floor. These had to be disposed of before the Senate could take its final vote and send the big bill to a conference with the House.

Morocco Policy May Cost U.S. Aid To France

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Senate beat down today a move to penalize France for alleged unfair treatment of 37 American business men in French Morocco.

The action—by a 46 to 34 vote—knocked out an amendment in the big foreign-aid bill which would have had the effect of limiting Marshall plan aid to France.

DOND SHI TEHEAD

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Senate threatened today to slap a multimillion-dollar penalty on France for alleged mistreatment of 37 Americans in French Morocco.

A quarrel over the rights of Americans doing business in Morocco pushed aside any quick vote on the $5,647,724,000 foreign-aid bill.

A majority of senators appeared in the mood late yesterday to penalize France for giving the Americans what was described as a rough deal in their efforts to do business. Democratic Leader Lucas, of Illinois, avoided an immediate test by asking for a recess.

Amendment Stressed

The aid measure carries an amendment which would deny the use of counterpart funds to any Marshall-plan nation violating an American treaty.

These funds, in the case of France, are francs put into a special account to match the dollar aid received from the Economic Co-operation Administration. The ECA has control over the funds. They total millions of dollars.

The amendment was designed especially to try to end alleged discrimination against ex-soldiers who went into business in French Morocco after the war.

Unfair Method Charged

They report the French authorities use unfair methods to block their efforts to do business, and refuse to give them the rights enjoyed by French businesses.

Senator George (D., Ga.) told the Senate he had investigated the Moroccan case and he sympathized with the Americans there. He notified the State Department, he added, but the department has failed "to exercise its authority to protect these Americans."

Senator Russell (D., Ga.) said the Senate had the right to take action to protect American citizens.

Cites Hoffman Statement

He said ECA Chief Paul Hoffman had conceded that the Americans were being discriminated against but that "there were only 37 involved."

"Something in that statement gagged me," Russell said. He added he didn't care if there was only one American involved, his rights should be protected by the Government.

Senator Hayden (D., Ariz.) suggested that the American group was merely a front for French and Moroccan interests, and that they were not legitimate independent business men.

Hayden's statement stirred a heated defense from other senators.

Raises Point Of Order

The dispute reached a climax when Lucas raised a point of order against the amendment on the grounds it violated Senate rules by writing policy-making law into an appropriation bill.

Vice President Barkley upheld Lucas's challenge but Russell appealed. The Senate then overruled Barkley by a 44-to-42 vote.

The State Department has conceded that Americans in Morocco "have specific legitimate grievances that should be remedied."

But Assistant Secretary of State Ernest A. Gross advised Senator Saltonstall (R., Mass.) yesterday that the treaty rights of Americans in Morocco still are not clearly defined.

NEW ARMS AID BILL SENT TO CONGRESS

Administration Holds Out Compromise in Move to End Dispute

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 — (AP) The administration today held out a compromise to Congress in the foreign arms aid dispute—a new bill minus blank check powers for President Truman.

It makes these changes: (1) it no longer asks that President Truman be empowered to decide what nations may receive aid, (2) it names the countries getting it, and (3) it ties arms for Atlantic treaty nations in with defense plans to be worked out by the 12 pact nations.

But Mr. Truman refused to give in on one of the principal arguments. He stuck by the original $1,450 000,000 figure which a number of Republicans want to cut in half.

Drafted by Secretary of State Acheson and approved by Secretary of Defense Johnson, the rewritten bill apparently made some headway in reducing objections. Although others remained, the administration was in a better position to drive for quick passage.

In the Senate, Chairman Connally (D.-Tex.) of the Foreign Relations committee introduced the revised measure and said there was a "fine reaction" to it in his commitee. He said it was a "vast improvement."

Senator Vandenberg (R.-Mich.), ranking Republican on the committee, said the bill had "substantially narrowed the area of controversy." Some of the objections were removed, he said, but some questions "are still wide open."

Vandenberg complimented the State and Defense departments for responding "so sympathetically to the serious disagreement on the scope of the original bill and the delegation of powers."

Cut Still Urged

In the House, some Republicans stuck to their criticism of the cost of the program while welcoming other changes in the bill. Rep. Vorys (R.-Ohio) said again "the whole thing has got to be reduced."

The administration's offer to do away with its proposal for sweeping presidential authority followed quickly after Mr. Truman's news conference statement yesterday that he wasn't wedded to the idea.

The original bill would have permitted him to send arms aid wherever he decided it would best serve the national interest. It was argued that the changing international picture required flexibility in the program. The bill did not state which nations would be aided.

Truman's Arms Powers Shorn In New Bill

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Administration sent to Congress today a new arms-for-Europe bill shorn of provisions giving President Truman power to decide when and where aid should be given.

The new measure, submitted to the House and the Senate, named specifically the countries to be aided under the $1,450,000,000 program.

It made no change, however, in cost of the proposed program. The proposed outlay has been criticized sharply by both Republicans and Democrats in Congress.

The rewritten measure was submitted to the Senate by Chairman Connally (D., Texas) of the Foreign Relations Committee, and to the House by Chairman Kee (D., W.Va.) of the Foreign Affairs Committee.

DAY

Drafted By Acheson

Connally told reporters the new bill was drafted by Secretary of State Acheson and has the approval of Secretary of Defense Johnson. Connally disclosed the changes after members of his committee and the Senate Armed Services Committee had met with Acheson and Johnson.

Mr. Truman told a news conference yesterday that he did not care whether he gets authority which critics had claimed would have empowered him to give military aid to any country in the world under almost unlimited conditions.

He did make a fresh demand for the full amount of money asked, however.

AUG 6 1949

Eligible Nations Named

The revamped bill spells out that rearmament assistance should be given to the nations which have signed the North Atlantic pact, to Greece and Turkey, Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

There was no provision left, as in the original bill, to permit the President to extend aid to any other nation he believed required help in the interest of United States security.

In separate statements to the committee, the American Ambassadors to France, Italy and Norway joined in urging Congress to approve the bill.

Stress Weapons Need

They stressed that the French, Italian and Norwegian armed forces critically need modern American military equipment if they are to have a sense of security against Communist threats.

David K. Bruce, the American envoy to France, said that the French Army is "not now capable of even a delaying action of consequence against a well equipped and aggressive enemy intent on conquest."

Dunn's Plea

The American Ambassador to Italy, James Dunn, told of Italians' sense of insecurity b upon the ruthless character aggressive tactics of totalitar elements within Italy itself."

The United States envoy to N way, Charles Ulrich Bay, said No way is determined to arm, but that if she had to do it alone it would place "an intolerable burden on people who already are among the most heavily taxed of all democracies."

Connally said he is confident the new bill can be passed in this session in its present form. He pictured it as wiping out the main objection of critics to the earlier measure.

On the House side, however, some Republican members of the Foreign Affairs Committee, while welcoming the elimination of broad powers proposed for the President, repeated their criticism of the cost.

Senate Backs Move to Halt German Plant Dismantling

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 — (AP) The Senate backed a move today toward halting the dismantling of 365 industrial plants in Germany.

An amendment was tacked onto the foreign aid appropriation bill authorizing government officials to seek a second review of plant dismantling and destruction.

By voice vote and without dissent the Senate approved a technical amendment extending the authority of Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul Hoffman to review the issue. This authority was given to him last year.

NIGA

159 Plants Saved

In the first review, a committee of industrialists named by Hoffman made recommendations which enabled the State department to save 159 plants from the scrap heap—or from being moved into other countries as war reparations. But a group of senators led by Senator Bridges (R-NH) and Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) wants a further review.

Bridges told the Senate: "Today, four years after V-E day, the dismantling of German factories is still going forward and the tearing down of some of the biggest and best, from the point of view of European production is just being started."

On the basis of allied decisions after the war, Bridges said, it was decided that 914 German plants in Western Germany should be dismantled and made available for reparations.

Then the Marshall Plan came into being and Congress wrote into the ECA a section instructing Hoffman to ask the secretary of state "to obtain the agreement of those countries concerned that such capital equipment as is scheduled for removal as reparations from the three western zones of Germany be retained in Germany if such retention will most effectively serve the purposes of the European recovery program."

Britain, France Agreed

On this authority, agreement was reached with Britain and France to save 159 of the plants.

Bridges said 365 plants remain which have not been allocated to any country. He added "these are to be torn down, regardless of when or where they may be re-erected."

There are some important plants still untouched, Bridges said, and in others the machinery still is intact even though dismantling is underway.

Since most of them are not yet scheduled for delivery to any country, Bridges argued, there would be no upset in the economies of allied nations if the machinery remained in Germany.

"It certainly would be my hope, desire and expectation," he said, that the administrator would immediately review this whole situation and would see whether at this particular time some of these plants which are scheduled for dismantling x x x might be salvaged."

Acheson In Dark On Stalin's 'Price'

NIGHT

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, said today he had never heard of a purported conversation between a high Russian official and an American business man in which Premier Stalin's peace price is supposed to have been set forth.

Acheson further told his news conference he did not put much reliance in the story. It was related in a magazine, the United Nations World, a private publication.

Department officials said the terms described had never been transmitted officially.

The talk involved Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, and an unnamed American last summer, the article said. Gromyko is reported to have said that Stalin was distrustful of the United States and specific United States actions would be necessary to change his views.

These included, according to the article, (1) formally stating in a treaty the two countries' commitments at Yalta and Potsdam, (2) four-power unanimity on Germany, (3) Western generosity toward reparations for Russia, (4) an end to United States and British support of "Fascist and Hitlerite elements," and (5) a $2,000,000,000 loan to stimulate normal trade relations, eliminating alleged discriminatory trade practices by the United States.

Officials Term Stalin's Plan 'Old Stuff'

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—State Department officials said today they never heard of a five-point "price for peace" by Generalissimo Stalin until they read reports of an article published in a private magazine in New York.

The current issue of the magazine, the United Nations World, carries a summary of a talk said to have been held last summer by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko with a "top-ranking American business man."

Switch From Friendly Attitude

Gromyko, the article said, told the business man that Stalin had switched from a friendly attitude toward the United States to one of distrust and that his view be changed now only by specific actions on the part of the United States.

At a news conference, Secretary of State Acheson was asked whether he would say anything about the article.

Acheson Knew Of Story

He replied that he knew of the story but he had never heard of any such conversation and was not inclined to place much reliance on it.

Stalin's "price of peace," according to the article, as set forth by Gromyko, included:

1. A treaty between the United States and the U.S.S.R. formalizing the commitments of both countries as set forth in the Yalta and Potsdam documents.

Wants German Agreement

2. Four-power unanimity on all questions concerning Germany.

3. Western generosity on reparations for the U.S.S.R.

4. Immediate cessation of the U.S.-U.K. (United Kingdom) support of "subversive Fascist and Hitlerite elements."

5. Elimination of all alleged discriminatory trade practices on the part of the United States and resumption of normal trade relations, stimulated by a $2,000,000,000 loan on terms similar to those of the United States loan to Britain in 1946.

State Department officials said that, aside from the $2,000,000,000 loan, these points are largely a restatement of known foreign policy.

Some diplomats said that in terms of the issues in the cold war what the "price" amounts to is simply a suggestion that the Western powers surrender to Russia, accepting a Russian zone of influence in eastern Europe and giving the Soviets once more a stranglehold on the affairs of all Germany.

Once Wanted 6 Billions

As for the loan, State Department informants recall that at the end of the war the Russians wanted a $6,000,000,000 loan for Soviet trade and reconstruction.

But the paper was "lost" for several months by the Foreign Economic Administration. When it finally came to light—amid charges that it had been supressed by anti-Russian officials—the feeling of good will between Russia and the United States had worn too thin to make serious consideration of a loan possible.

State Department officials added that if this is Stalin's "price of peace," it never has been put forward in this form through official channels.

PRESIDENT NAMES VOORHEES AIDE TO ARMY SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Tracy S. Voorhees, now assistant secretary of the Army was nominated by President Truman today for promotion to undersecretary.

Archibald S. Alexander of New Jersey was nominated for assistant secretary of the Army. Alexander was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Senator from New Jersey in the 1948 election.

Voorhees, 58, is a native of New Jersey but now lives in Brooklyn, N. Y.

NIGHT

N. Y. Native

Alexander, 43, is a native of New York, but now lives in Bernardsville, N. J.

Voorhees has been assistant secretary of the Army since June 18, 1948. A lawyer, he served during World War II as a colonel. Later he was special assistant to Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson. Voorhees took over the Army's occupation problems when William H. Draper resigned as undersecretary of the Army last February.

Served in Europe

During the war Alexander was personnel and executive officer for the services of supply for Australia. Later he served with the military intelligence service in western Europe and Africa.

Alexander's last overseas assignment was as chief of civilian supply for United States forces in the European theater. He returned to the private practice of law in New York city in 1945. In 1947, he made a special investigation for the Atomic Energy Commission on personnel practices and security.

His wife is the former Jean S. Sears of Boston. They have five children.

ARMED FORCES MAY ASK DRAFT ACT EXTENSION

Request Of Congress Being Considered As 'Insurance Policy'

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—The National Military Establishment today considered whether to ask for extension of the draft act, in view of army sentiment for an "insurance policy" against sudden war.

NIGHT

The Senate Armed Services Committee has announced the act probably will be allowed to die next June unless defense leaders then anticipate an emergency.

But Lieut. Gen. E. H. Brooks, army personnel director, said today the ground forces want the law kept on the books to permit swift mobilization in case of attack.

No Stand By Navy, Air Force

The Navy and Air Force have not yet taken a stand. They have been able to maintain full strength by voluntary enlistments, but the Army is 20,000 to 30,000 under the 667,000-man strength allowed in the pending budget.

The National Military Establishment announced the joint chiefs of staff will explore the problem thoroughly before requesting an extension of Congress.

Brooks said the Army does not plan to issue a draft call in the immediate future and will not use the Selective Service Act if strength can be maintained by volunteers. A pickup in recruiting is expected.

Should Be Kept On Books

"But we still feel that it should be kept on the books, like money in the bank for use in case of emergency," Brooks said.

If a war crisis broke suddenly, he explained, Congress might be unable to pass a new law in time to cope with it. In any case, he estimated, 60 to 90 days would be required to get new draft machinery into operation.

"A month's delay might be tragic," he said.

AEC AIDES HIT FBI CHECK RULE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5—(AP) Top rank advisers to the Atomic Energy Commission said today that to require FBI clearance of all who hold atomic fellowships would do more harm than an occasional communist sneaking into the study program.

The statement of the AEC General Advisory committee was aimed at a Senate proposal to insist on an FBI checkup of all recommended for such research scholarships.

A checkup on those handling secrets is necessary in these times, the advisers said, but it is unwise and unnecessary to extend "counter espionage methods" to holders of fellowships who will not have access to confidential information.

NIGHT

"We are horrified by the prospects of moving this whole semi-police apparatus into the realm of youth," the statement added.

"We believe that the reputation of many young people of the country might be adversely impaired by rumors growing out of such a system of investigation of prospective fellowship holders."

"An atmosphere of suspicion and uncertainty is likely to be generated" as the FBI questions the candidates' friends in schools and communities, they said. (AEC)

Refugee Problem Called Dangerous

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—Senators were told today that one phase of the European refugee problem "may well constitute the dynamite cap for a future explosion endangering the peace of the world."

The statement was made to a Senate Judiciary subcommittee by J. H. Meyer, representing the Steuben Society of America, with headquarters in New York.

The subcommittee, headed by Senator McCarran (D., Nev.), is studying bills to revise the displaced persons law enacted by the last Congress.

Wants Law Changed

Meyer urged that the law be changed to permit 50,000 so-called "expellees" of German extraction to enter the United States in each of the next five years. He said only 13,685 a year can be admitted under the present law.

Meyer estimated that 12,000,000 persons of German origin were forced back into Germany after the war.

Most of the expellees have been unable to find jobs, Meyer said, in Germany and are "beginning to get desperate."

Warns Of Danger

He added:

"Unless conditions are rectified, this expellee problem may well constitute the dynamite cap for a future explosion endangering the peace of the world.

"Where people who are poor, underfed and desperate live too close together they are liable to engage in revolutionary warlike talk—followed sooner or later by warlike acts."

Senators Pledge War-Contracts Fraud Probe

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—Aroused senators today pledged a broad investigation into charges of World War II contract scandals involving army officers, government personnel and civilian contractors.

Comptroller General Lindsay Warren's report that fraud and waste in wartime contracting had cost American taxpayers millions of dollars brought a promise of action from both Chairman McClellan (D., Ark.) and Senator Hoey (D., N.C.) of the Expenditures Committee.

DAY

Data Dug Up By Norton

[Editor's Note—The Government Accounting Office in Washington has revealed that much of the information concerning fraud and possible bribery of army officers which was included in the agency's report to Congress was unearthed by Howard Norton, of the Washington Bureau of The Sun.

[The material was turned over to the GAO by Mr. Norton more than a year ago.]

Hoey, who heads a special investigating subcommittee, left no doubt that the group would probe Warren's charges.

Only A Sample Of Losses

In his report to Congress yesterday, the Government official said his audits of about $1,165,000,000 in contract settlements to date showed irregularities amounting to more than $11,500,000.

30.24- 4837

And Warren noted that this was only a "small sampling" of the total contract settlements made by Government agencies.

Warren said that $2,340,000 was lost through "improper and excessive" payments in 388 settlements —one out of every 24 examined. He added that $474,717 had been refunded "voluntarily" by the contractors at the "invitation" of the general accounting office.

Many "Induced By Fraud"

Improper payments "induced by fraud," Warren said, amounted to more than $6,280,000, of which only $107,882 had been recovered. He gave Congress a closer view of some of the 472 settlements in which he said fraud was involved.

Among them was an account of the award of contracts in the New York city area for technical manuals based on "fraud, collusion and/or bribery on the part of certain Government personnel (military and civilian) and others."

These involved what Warren called a "feathering of nests" by army officers and employés of the Government, who later were hired by the contractors.

Warren reported that investigation turned up one scheme whereby twenty per cent of the contract price was to be "kicked back."

Errors "Never Favor U.S."

Warren said that in addition to the fraud cases already certified to the Justice Department, the general accounting office has under study 75 other settlements involving more than $700,000.

"No case has been called to my attention," he noted acidly, "in which the settlement resulted in an underpayment to the contractor. In other words, all errors or inaccuracies were in the contractor's favor—not the Government's."

The comptroller general divided the blame for the situation between the 1944 Contract Settlement Act and the agencies involved in making the settlements.

FIVE PCT. PROBERS HEAR TESTIMONY OF 3 BUSINESSMEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Senate's "five per cent" investigators today took private testimony from three Detroit businessmen on defense contract dealings with John Maragon.

Maragon is the former bootblack who hit Washington's big-time, and now figures in the special committee's inquiry on go-betweens who take fees for helping companies get federal contracts.

Identifying the Detroiters as officials of Austin Metal Products, inc., Chairman Hoey (D-NC) told reporters their 90-minute testimony indicates Maragon "was not paid anything."

Entitled to Contracts

The company, he added, was "clearly entitled" to the $280,000 contract it got from the Army after asking Maragon to help them get it.

Hoey announced that secretary of defense Johnson will be the first witness on Monday, when the probe emerges from behind closed doors and becomes a full-dress hearing.

Johnson is expected to pledge his aid in ridding Washington of "five percenters." He has denounced them before business groups, and has declared no business man needs a middleman in talking to the armed forces.

Right after Johnson will come Paul B. Grindle, whose published accusations inspired the inquiry. He charged that James V. Hunt, Washington management counselor, offered for $1,000 to help him get contracts through Hunt's "influence" with certain officials. Hunt denies trying to sell influence.

The day brought these other developments:

1. The committee got from the State department records on transactions involving Maragon. The files reportedly were from the office which handled liquidation of government surpluses abroad.

2. Chairman Hebert (D-La) of a House Armed Services subcommittee announced his committee has found nothing to link army officers with any irregularities in the procurement of uniforms.

Gray Testifies

Rep. Hebert so informed reporters after hearing Armq Sec. Gordon Gray in closed session. Testimony was taken also from Stanley J. Cummings, executive secretary of the National Association of Uniform Manufacturers, Inc., New York.

Earlier, Hebert had quoted Cummings as stating that Hunt had offered—for $25,000—to try to get Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman to withdraw a pending order which would have put the Army into the business of making officers' uniforms.

General Feldman, the Army quartermaster general, was suspended last month along with Maj. Gen. Alden Waitt, chief of the Chemical corps, after a military inquiry into "five per cent" practices.

When today's session broke up, Hebert told reporters Cummings testified emphatically he had no information indicating wrong-doing by any officer. A newsman asked: "The suspension of Feldman has nothing to do with this uniform case?"

Hebert replied, without elaboration: "You could make your own deduction. That question answers itself." He did not divulge Secretary Gray's testimony.

Close of Case Near

The subcommittee will take no more testimony on uniforms and next week will "close out the case, I hope," Hebert said. The committee's primary aim is to determine whether the Army should go ahead with plans to buy textiles, have uniforms made under contract with various companies, and then sell them to officers.

The Detroit trio was questioned this afternoon on "transactions in which John Maragon participated," Senator Hoey told newsmen.

The men are Nicholas K. P'Sachos, termed by Hoey the "most important member" of the auto parts manufacturing company; Edgar Roger Snyder, vice president and general manager, and Harold Freedman, treasurer.

The Senator said the company was low bidder on the Army contract last spring. A delay developed in getting the $280,000 award, though the sum was well below the bid of General Motors, the only other candidate. P'Sachos was quoted as saying he then went to Maragon, a friend of twenty years' standing, to see what he could do.

The senator did not comment on what, if anything, Maragon was able to do. "Apparently the whole thing was on a basis of friendship," Hoey added.

The matter will be investigated further, he said, but the Detroit group will not be recalled. They came in response to subpenas.

MOTHER HALTS GI INSURANCE IN UTAH FIGHT

VA Cuts Off Checks For Woman Jailed For Defying Court

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Veterans Administration said today that on instructions from Mrs. Nettie W. Capps, of Bountiful, Utah, it has stopped life insurance benefit payments to her from a policy left by her son, who died in World War II.

A VA official said the agency holds that she alone is entitled to payments and it will wait for instructions from her before sending out any more checks.

Mrs. Capps entered the Salt Lake county jail this week to start serving a 30-day sentence rather than obey a court order she considered unjust. She has been involved in litigation over benefits of the $10,000 veteran's policy.

Son's Widow Sues For Money

The Australian widow of Mrs. Capps's son, who had been estranged from her service husband before his death, sued for the money for their children.

The court ruled that the serviceman's mother be designated the trustee of the funds for the benefit of the children, rather than continue as the beneficiary. Mrs. Capps refused to act as trustee. The First Security Trust Company in Utah then was designated trustee.

Ray Van Cott, Jr., Utah district judge, ordered Mrs. Capps to accept the $53 monthly checks from the Veterans Administration, indorse them and turn them over to the designated trustee. Mrs. Capps refused.

The VA in Utah agreed with her that she is the sole beneficiary and should be the only recipient of the checks.

Authorities here said Mrs. Capps already has had to mortgage her home to meet a court order to pay $1,500 in attorney fees and to cover the expense of an airplane trip to Washington in which she appealed to VA and Justice Department officials.

State Court Upheld

They said Mrs. Capps said she had been seeing to it that her son's children got money.

Government workers familiar with the matter here expressed the opinion the case should have been transferred from the State court to the Federal court at the outset.

However, the United States District Court now has decided that while the Veterans Administration has complete jurisdiction over payment of Federal funds to Mrs. Capps, the Utah court has jurisdiction over the woman herself and can require her to transfer the money at its order.

Concerning the court order that she indorse and deliver the checks each month to the trustee, Mrs. Capps was quoted as saying in Salt Lake City:

"My son died that we might be free, and I don't think I can be forced to pack those checks to a trust any more than I can be made to scrub the steps of the trust they set up. That would be slave labor . . . enforced labor, and in America that doesn't exist."

The Justice Department said, meanwhile, the appeal period in the case has passed and there was nothing further it could do.

It said the solicitor general also had determined there would be no appeal.

Red Denies U.S. 'Sabotage' Plan

New York, Aug. 5 (AP)—A defense witness in the Communist conspiracy trial today denied Government testimony that American Communists planned "to sabotage the war effort" in a conflict between the United States and Russia.

Robert Manewitz, of St. Louis, the witness, contradicted several statements made by Thomas A. Younglove, also of St. Louis, an FBI informant who took the stand for the prosecution.

Younglove said that Ralph Shaw, Missouri State Communist chairman, told a St. Louis party meeting that "a personal representative of Stalin" was present at a session of the party national committee in New York.

Underground Plan Told

The FBI undercover man also testified that Shaw quoted the representative as saying that "war is near and if it comes we must be prepared to go underground."

Shaw also stated, "if war comes, we will do all we can as party members to sabotage the war effort," Younglove said.

Manewitz, 32-year-old member of the party's State board and tSate committee in Missouri, declared Shaw "did not say any of these things."

Party Aim

"I said," Manewitz testified, "that the main aim of the party was to show the majority of the working class that capitalism, with its dog-eat-dog existence, could not serve the welfare of the people and that therefore there was a need for realizing that only socialism could bring about a true democracy and a secure world and America. I said that the majority of the American working class had to be convinced of this."

MIGHT LEAD WEDEMEYER

BY JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON,AUG.5-(AP)-LT.GEN.ALBERT C.WEDEMEYER TWO YEARS AGO URGED PRESIDENT TRUMAN TO SPONSOR A HUGE NEW AID PROGRAM FOR NATIONALIST CHINA PROVIDED THAT GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI CHEK FIRST AGREED TO SWEEPING REFORMS IN HIS REGIME.

WEDEMEYER PROPOSED THAT THE AID PROGRAM SHOULD LAST AT LEAST FIVE YEARS IN ORDER TO DEFEAT RUSSIA'S "AMBITIOUS AND DANGEROUS" PLANS FOR EXPANSION IN THE FAR EAST.

WEDEMEYER RECOMMENDED THAT THE PRESIDENT SET THE NEW CHINA POLICY IN MOTION BY ASKING CHINA TO APPEAL TO THE UNITED NATIONS TO SET UP A FIVE-NATION "GUARDIANSHIP" OR TRUSTEESHIP OVER MANCHURIA, THE RICH INDUSTRIAL PROVINCE THEN ALMOST ENTIRELY UNDER COMMUNIST CONTROL.

THE ARMY GENERAL'S CONFIDENTIAL REPORT, BRISTLING WITH CRITICISM OF RUSSIA, WAS GIVEN TO THE PRESIDENT SEPT.19, 1947 AFTER A TWO-MONTH SURVEY IN THE FAR EAST AS THE HEAD OF A SPECIAL INVESTIGATING MISSION.

IT WAS MADE PUBLIC TODAY AS PART OF THE 1,054 PAGE WHITE PAPER ON CHINA.

WEDEMEYER FRANKLY ACKNOWLEDGED THERE WAS SHOCKING EVIDENCE OF CORRUPTION AND INCOMPETENCE IN THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT AND ARMY BUT HE TOLD THE PRESIDENT:

"CONTINUED DETERIORATION OF THE SITUATION MAY RESULT IN ESTABLISHMENT OF A SOVIET SATELLITE GOVERNMENT IN MANCHURIA AND ULTIMATELY IN A COMMUNIST-DOMINATED CHINA WHICH WOULD BE INIMICABLE TO THE UNITED STATES' INTERESTS."

THE PRESIDENT AND THE STATE DEPARTMENT APPARENTLY DISREGARDED WEDEMEYER'S RECOMMENDATIONS. FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL SUPPRESSED THE REPORT, WITH THE PRESIDENT'S APPROVAL, ON THE GROUND THAT PUBLICATION WOULD BE "ACTUALLY HARMFUL" TO UNITED STATES RELATIONS WITH CHINA.

IN MAKING THE REPORT PUBLIC, SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON GAVE THIS REASON FOR THE PAST SECRECY:

"IT WAS DECIDED THAT THE PUBLICATION AT THAT TIME OFVA SUGGESTION FOR THE ALIENATION OF A PART OF CHINA FROM THE CONTROL OF THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT AND FOR PLACING THAT PART UNDER AN INTERNATIONAL ADMINISTRATION TO INCLUDE SOVIET RUSSIA, WOULD NOT BE HELPFUL."

WEDEMEYER HAD PROPOSED THAT RUSSIA SIT ON THE SUGGESTED FIVE-NATION GUARDIANSHIP COMMISSION ALONG WITH THE UNITED STATES, BRITAIN, FRANCE, AND CHINA.

A22WX

WEDEMEYER'S REPORT DID NOT ESTIMATE THE COST OF THE NEW PROGRAM HE PROPOSED FOR HELPING NATIONALIST CHINA. IT IS KNOWN, HOWEVER, THAT HE FAVORED SENDING AN ADDITIONAL $500,000,000 A YEAR IN MILITARY SUPPLIES.

WEDEMEYER LAID DOWN FIVE MAIN CONDITIONS FOR ADDED AMERICAN MILITARY AND ECONOMIC HELP FOR THE NATIONALISTS:

1. THAT CHINA INFORM THE UNITED NATIONS PROMPTLY OF HER REQUEST TO THE UNITED STATES FOR "INCREASED MATERIAL AND ADVISORY ASSISTANCE;"

2. THAT CHINA REQUEST THE UNITED NATIONS TO ARRANGE AN IMMEDIATE TRUCE IN MANCHURIA AS A PRELIMINARY TO SETTING UP A FIVE-POWER GUARDIANSHIP, OR A TRUSTEESHIP.

3. THAT CHINA MAKE EFFECTIVE USE OF HER OWN RESOURCES IN DEVELOPING A PROGRAM FOR ECONOMIC RECONSTRUCTION AND THAT SHE PURSUE "SOUND FISCAL POLICIES."

4. THAT CHINA GIVE "CONTINUING EVIDENCE THAT URGENTLY REQUIRED POLITICAL AND MILITARY REFORMS" ARE BEING CARRIED OUT.

5. THAT CHINA ACCEPT AMERICAN ADVISERS IN MILITARY AND ECONOMIC FIELDS.

THE GENERAL DREW THIS OMINOUS PICTURE OF WHAT A COMMUNIST-HELD CHINA WOULD MEAN FOR THE UNITED STATES IN THE EVENT OF WAR:

"OUR OWN AIR AND NAVAL BASES IN JAPAN, RYUKYUS (ISLANDS) AND THE PHILIPPINES WOULD BE SUBJECT TO RELATIVELY SHORT-RANGE NEUTRALIZING AIR ATTACKS.

"IT WOULD RESULT IN DENYING US IMPORTANT AIR BASES FOR USE AS STAGING AREAS FOR BOMBING ATTACKS AS WELL AS IMPORTANT NAVAL BASES ALONG THE CHINA COAST.

"ITS CONTROL BY THE SOVIET UNION OR A REGIME FRIENDLY TO THE SOVIET UNION WOULD MAKE AVAILABLE FOR HOSTILE USE A NUMBER OF WARM WATER PORTS AND AIR BASES."

WEDEMEYER MADE IT PLAIN THAT IT WAS MAINLY THESE LONG-RANGE MILITARY CONSIDERATIONS WHICH LED HIM TO THE CONCLUSION THAT THE UNITED STATES SHOULD EXPAND ITS AID--IF CHIANG ACCEPTED THE CONDITIONS--EVEN AT THE RISK OF A THIRD WORLD WAR.

HE SAID IT WAS POSSIBLE THAT RUSSIA WOULD RETALIATE BY INCREASING ITS AID TO THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS--PERHAPS EVEN OPENLY. BUT WEDEMEYER THOUGHT IT WAS MORE LIKELY THAT THE SOVIETS WOULD CONTINUE TO HELP THE COMMUNISTS SECRETLY.

MIGHT LEAD CHINA REACTION

WASHINGTON,AUG.5-(AP)-A BIG CHUNK OF CONGRESSIONAL OPINION TODAY OPPOSED SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON'S PROPOSAL TO ABANDON DIRECT AID TO CHINA IN THE FACE OF COMMUNIST CONQUEST.

CRITICISM OF THE WHITE PAPER SENT BY ACHESON TO PRESIDENT TRUMAN TODAY CROSSED PARTY LINES. ONE DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMAN CALLED IT AN "ALIBI" FOR AMERICAN FAILURE.

A DEMOCRATIC SENATOR, PAT MCCARRAN OF NEVADA, FORECAST THAT ACHESON'S PROPOSED POLICY OF GIVING ONLY ARM'S-LENGTH ENCOURAGEMENT TO INTERNAL CHINESE RESISTANCE WOULD BRING ALL ASIA UNDER COMMUNIST CONTROL "IN A SHORT TIME."

REPUBLICANS WERE ALMOST UNANIMOUSLY CRITICAL, BUT THE STATE DEPARTMENT COURSE WAS DEFENDED BY SOME DEMOCRATS WHO SAW IT AS THE ONLY "REALISTIC" ONE TO FOLLOW. SAID SENATOR JOHNSON (D-COLO):

"TO INTERVENE IN THE CIVIL WAR IN CHINA WOULD BE RECKLESS BEYOND DESCRIPTION. THE STATE DEPARTMENT IN THIS INSTANCE IS BEING REALISTIC AND SENSIBLE."

SENATOR TYDINGS (D-MD), CHAIRMAN OF THE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE, THOUGHT THE DEPARTMENT IS "REALISTICALLY AIMED IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION."

THE REPUBLICAN REACTION RANGED FROM REGRET TO ANGRY DENUNCIATION. MINORITY LEADER MARTIN (R-MASS.) SAID THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IS STUDYING THE REPORT AND MAY ISSUE A STATEMENT LATER.

SENATOR JOHN FOSTER DULLES (R-NY), FOREIGN POLICY ADVISER TO GOVERNOR THOMAS DEWEY IN THE LATTER'S BID FOR THE PRESIDENCY, SAW IN THE PAPER AN ATTEMPT "TO EXPLAIN AND EXCUSE PAST FAILURES."

"FORTUNATELY THE STATE DEPARTMENT IS SEEKING A NEW POLICY AND I VERY MUCH HOPE IT SUCCEEDS," HE SAID.

MORE AFFIRMATIVE ACTION WAS DEMANDED BY SENATOR WHERRY (R-NEB), REPUBLICAN FLOOR LEADER. HIS STATEMENT DECLARED:

"I CAN'T AGREE TO WRITING OFF NATIONALIST CHINA. I CAN'T SEE WHY WE LOCK THE FRONT DOOR AGAINST COMMUNISM IN EUROPE AND LEAVE THE BACK DOOR OPEN IN CHINA."

ASWX

THERE WAS NO SIGN, MOREOVER, THAT THE PAPER'S STEP-BY-STEP RECITAL OF FAILURES OF NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT LEADERS WOULD DETER A NEW SENATE MOVE TO CUT CHINA IN FOR PART OF THE $1,450,000,000 FOREIGN MILITARY AID PROGRAM. CHINA WOULD GET $175,000,000 AND ADVICE FROM A U.S.MISSION ON HOW TO USE IT.

SENATOR KNOWLAND (R-CALIF), WHO LED 11 SENATORS IN MAKING THAT PROPOSAL YESTERDAY, SAID THE WHITE PAPER PROVED THAT THIS GOVERNMENT TRIED TO "ENCOURAGE, INDUCE OR COMPEL THE INCLUSION OF COMMUNISTS INTO THE GOVERNMENT OF CHINA."

"IT IS TO THE EVERLASTING CREDIT OF GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK THAT HE STOOD THEN AS HE STANDS TODAY--UNCOMPROMISINGLY AGAINST THIS TIE-UP WITH INTERNATIONAL COMMUNISM."

REP.JOHN DAVIS LODGE (R-CONN) OBSERVED: "APPARENTLY THE ADMINISTRATION WOULD RATHER LOSE A CONTINENT THAN LOSE A LITTLE FACE."

THIS NOTE WAS STRUCK ALSO BY REP.COX (D-GA). HE CALLED THE WHITE PAPER A "FACE-SAVING DEVICE" AND AN "ALIBI."

FURTHER COMMENT INCLUDED:

SENATOR MAGNUSON (D-WASH): "I DISAGREE WITH SECRETARY ACHESON THAT WE SHOULD ABANDON ALL MILITARY AND ECONOMIC AID TO NATIONALIST CHINA. I THINK THAT IF SOME PERSONALITIES WERE ELIM

THAT WE SHOULD ABANDON ALL MILITARY AND ECONOMIC AID TO NATIONALIST CHINA. I THINK THAT IF SOME PERSONALITIES WERE ELIMINATED, THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT WOULD FURNISH A FRAMEWORK AROUND WHICH COULD BE RALLIED ANTI-COMMUNIST SUPPORT."

REP.JUDD (R-MINN): "MY FIRST IMPRESSION X X X IS THAT ON BALANCE CHINA'S RECORD IS NOT AS BAD AS EXPECTED WHILE THAT OF THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT IS WORSE. X X X CHINESE LEADERS UNDERSTOOD THE NATURE, THE OBJECTIVES, THE METHODS AND THE INSIDIOUS THREAT OF THE WORLD-WIDE COMMUNIST CONSPIRACY. THE WHITE PAPER IS A CONFESSION THAT THE LEADERS OF OUR GOVERNMENT POSSESSED NO SUCH UNDERSTANDING."

REP.CANNON (D-MO): "I HAVE THE GREATEST CONFIDENCE AND RESPECT FOR SECRETARY ACHESON. I WOULD SAY THAT APPARENTLY OUR ARMS HAVE BEEN WASTED."

CHINA-FORMOSA

(ADVANCE) WASHINGTON, AUG.5-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES "WHITE PAPER" ON CHINA, OUT TODAY, EXPRESSES CONCERN ABOUT FORMOSA, HUGE ISLAND OFF THE CHINA COAST.

THE ISLAND WAS RESTORED TO CHINESE AUTHORITY FROM THE JAPANESE IN SEPTEMBER 1945. SINCE THEN THE ECONOMY HAS GONE DOWNHILL AND THE GOODWILL OF THE PEOPLE TOWARD CHINA HAS BEEN ALIENATED BY HARSH CHINESE MILITARY GOVERNMENT, THE DEPARTMENT SAID.

"IN SUMMARY," THE WHITE PAPER CONCLUDED, "THE VIEWS OF AMERICAN OFFICIALS HAVE BEEN THAT THE ISLAND IS BADLY AND INEFFICIENTLY RUN AT A TIME WHEN THE BEST POSSIBLE EFFORTS ARE NEEDED UNLESS DEVELOPMENTS ON THE MAIN LAND ARE SIMPLY TO BE TRANSFERRED TO FORMOSA."

THE UNITED STATES IS UNDERSTOOD TO CONSIDER FORMOSA AN ISLAND OF GREAT STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC OCEAN.

CHINA-FIVE PRINCIPLES (220)

WASHINGTON, AUG.5-(AP)-SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON TODAY ENUNCIATED THESE FIVE "BASIC PRINCIPLES" WHICH HE SAID SHOULD GOVERN U.S. POLICY TOWARD CHINA:

"1. THE UNITED STATES DESIRES TO ENCOURAGE IN EVERY FEASIBLE WAY THE DEVELOPMENT OF CHINA AS AN INDEPENDENT AND STABLE NATION ABLE TO PLAY A ROLE IN WORLD AFFAIRS SUITABLE FOR A GREAT AND FREE PEOPLE.

"2. THE UNITED STATES DESIRES TO SUPPORT THE CREATION IN CHINA OF ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL CONDITIONS WHICH WILL SAFEGUARD BASIC RIGHTS AND LIBERTIES AND PROGRESSIVELY DEVELOP THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL WELL-BEING OF ITS PEOPLE.

"3. THE UNITED STATES IS OPPOSED TO THE SUBJECTION OF CHINA TO ANY FOREIGN POWER, TO ANY REGIME ACTING IN THE INTEREST OF A FOREIGN POWER, AND TO THE DISMEMBERMENT OF CHINA BY ANY FOREIGN POWER, WHETHER BY OPEN OR CLANDESTINE MEANS.

"4. THE UNITED STATES WILL CONTINUE TO CONSULT WITH OTHER INTERESTED POWERS, IN THE LIGHT OF CONDITIONS IN THE COUNTRIES CONCERNED AND IN THE FAR EAST AS A WHOLE, ON MEASURES WHICH WILL CONTRIBUTED TO THE CONTINUING SECURITY AND WELFARE OF THE PEOPLES OF THAT AREA.

"5. THE UNITED STATES WILL ENCOURAGE AND SUPPORT EFFORTS OF THE UNITED NATIONS TO ACHIEVE THESE OBJECTIVES AND PARTICULARLY TO MAINTAIN PEACE AND SECURITY IN THE FAR EAST."

(250) CHINA AID

WASHINGTON, AUG.5-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES HAS AUTHORIZED MORE THAN $3,523,000,000 WORTH OF AID FOR CHINA IN 12 YEARS--THE GREATEST PART SINCE V-J DAY, THE STATE DEPARTMENT SAID TODAY.

FORTY PER CENT OF IT WENT TO HELP CHINA FIGHT JAPAN BEGINNING IN 1937 WHEN HOSTILITIES BROKE OUT.

THE REST OF IT, AMOUNTING TO $2,007,700,000, HAS BEEN SET UP SINCE THE PACIFIC WAR ENDED. THIS INCLUDED HELP FOR REOCCUPYING LIBERATED AREAS, REPATRIATING JAPANESE, MEETING RELIEF NEEDS, SLOWING UP THE ECONOMIC COLLAPSE AND MILITARY AID, THE DEPARTMENT SAID IN ITS WHITE PAPER ON CHINA POLICY.

THE FIGURES COVERED $2,422,000,000 AUTHORIZED IN GRANTS AND $1,101,000,000 IN CREDITS. THEY DO NOT INCLUDE SOME OF THE SALES TO CHINA OF POSTWAR SURPLUS. NEITHER DO THEY TAKE IN THE U.S.SHARE OF AID GRANTED THROUGH SOME UNITED NATIONS RELIEF ORGANIZATIONS. THEY DO, HOWEVER, RECORD THE U.S.$474,000,000 SHARE OF UNRRA ASSISTANCE TO CHINA, $275,000,000 IN RECOVERY AID ADMINISTERED BY THE ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION AND $46,400,000 IN DIRECT RELIEF.

THE SUMMARY DOES NOT INCLUDE THE COST OF 6,500 TONS OF AMMUNITION ABANDONED BY THE MARINES IN 1947 AND GIVEN TO CHINA. THE ESTIMATED COST WAS NOT AVAILABLE, THE DEPARTMENT SAID.

SURPLUS PROPERTY WHICH COST $1,078,100,000 WAS SOLD TO CHINA FOR $232,000,000--ABOUT HALF ON CREDIT, THE DEPARTMENT RELATED, IT ADDED: "THERE ARE NO AVAILABLE ESTIMATES OF THE FAIR VALUE OF THIS SURPLUS PROPERTY."

(ADVANCE) WASHINGTON, AUG.5-(AP)-PRESIDENT TRUMAN DECIDED ON DECEMBER 30 LAST YEAR TO SHUT DOWN AMERICAN AID TO CHINA TO ANY AREA UNDER COMMUNIST CONTROL--EVEN CONTROL WHICH MIGHT BE EXERTED THROUGH A COALITION GOVERNMENT.

THIS IS DISCLOSED IN THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S CHINA "WHITE PAPER" WITH THE TEXT OF A MEMORANDUM BASED ON ORAL DIRECTIONS FROM THE PRESIDENT TO ACTING SECRETARY OF STATE ROBERT LOVETT. THE POLICY WAS REAFFIRMED AT A CABINET MEETING LAST JANUARY 14.

THE DOCUMENT ALSO SHOWS THAT LAST NOVEMBER 12 MR.TRUMAN TURNED DOWN A DIRECT APPEAL FROM GENERALISIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK FOR INCREASED AMERICAN MILITARY ASSISTANCE.

THE MEMORANDUM OF THE PRESIDENT'S DECEMBER 30 DECISION SAYS:

"1. THAT THIS GOVERNMENT WOULD CONTINUE TO SUPPORT THROUGH THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE CHINA AID ACT THE PRESENT CHINESE GOVERNMENT OR A LEGAL SUCCESSOR GOVERNMENT. HOWEVER, SHOULD A GOVERNMENT COME INTO POWER WHICH COMES TO TERMS WITH THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS, ALL AID SHOULD CEASE IRRESPECTIVE OF WHETHER THE COMMUNISTS ARE IN NUMERICAL ASCENDENCY OR NOT.

"2. WHEN THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS EITHER DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY THROUGH A COALITION GOVERNMENT TAKE CONTROL OVER ANY AREA, ALL ECA SUPPLIES ASHORE OR IN THE PROCESS OF BEING UNLOADED CAN BE DISTRIBUTED UNDER CONDITIONS SIMILAR TO THOSE NOW PREVAILING. HOWEVER, ECA SUPPLIES WHICH HAVE NOT YET REACHED SUCH PORTS SHOULD BE DIVERTED ELSEWHERE.

"3. THAT THE MILITARY SUPPLIES UNDER THE CHINA AID ACT SHOULD BE DELIVERED IN SO FAR AS POSSIBLE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE ADVICE OF OUR MILITARY AUTHORITIES IN CHINA."

"WHITE PAPER"
BY ARTHUR EDSON (180)

WASHINGTON, AUG 5-(AP)-THE STATE DEPARTMENT TODAY PUT OUT A WHITE PAPER ON CHINA. BUT NOBODY SEEMS TO KNOW PRECISELY WHEN A WHITE PAPER BECOMES WHITE.

FURTHERMORE, IT USED TO BE BLUE.

A WHITE PAPER, THE STATE DEPARTMENT SAYS, IS A HANDY THOUGH UNOFFICIAL WAY OF REFERRING TO AN IMPORTANT STATEMENT ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS. USUALLY IT'S DOCUMENTED, AND USUALLY IT'S LONG.

BUT EXACTLY WHEN AN IMPORTANT PAPER BECOMES IMPORTANT ENOUGH TO BE CALLED A WHITE PAPER NO ONE CAN SAY.

THE LAST U.S. PAPER TO BE GIVEN THE NAME WAS A REPORT ON THE BERLIN REPORT, ISSUED A YEAR AGO. THIS WAS PUT OUT AFTER THE MOSCOW TALKS ON THE BERLIN SITUATION HAD BROKEN DOWN.

THE TERM WAS BORROWED FROM THE BRITISH.

THE BRITISH INFORMATION BUREAU SAYS THE BRITISH USED TO PUT OUT A BLUE BOOK WHEN THEY HAD IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO RELEASE. THE BUREAU LIBRARIAN SAID IT WAS SO CALLED BECAUSE THE REPORT HAD BLUE BACKS.

BUT BLUE PAPER BECAME SHORE, THE BRITISH CHANGED TO WHITE PAPER, AND THE NAME CHANGED, TOOM

NOW THE TERM, WHITE PAPER, SEEMS FIRMLY ESTABLISHED ON BOTH SIDES OF THE ATLANTIC.

THE LATEST WHITE PAPER PUT OUT BY THE BRITISH, THE LIBRARIAN SAID, WAS THE ROYAL COMMISSION REPORT ON THE BRITISH PRESS.

"IT HAD BLUE COVERS," THE LIBRARIAN SAID.

THE WHITE PAPER ISSUED BY THE STATE DEPARTMENT TODAY HAS PALE GRAY COVERS WITH BLUE TRIMMINGS. ITS TITLE, PRINTED IN BLUE INK, IS "UNITED STATES RELATIONS WITH CHINA."

(CHINA ABSTRACT ADVANCE FOR USE AT 10 A.M., EASTERN STANDARD TIME, FRIDAY, AUG. 5--EDS: NOTE DATE)

BY JOHN M.HIGHTOWER

(ADVANCE)...WASHING.ON, AUG 5-(AP)-SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON WROTE OFF CHINA'S NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT AS A TOTAL FAILURE BEFORE THE ONSLAUGHT OF COMMUNISM. HE CHARTED A NEW COURSE FOR AMERICA'S ANTI-COMMUNIST POLICY IN THE FAR EAST.

IN A BITINGLY CRITICAL "WHITE PAPER," INCLUDING THE LONG-SUPPRESSED WEDEMEYER REPORT, ACHESON TOLD PRESIDENT TRUMAN IN A LETTER THAT U.S. POLICY NOW MUST BE SHAPED TO "ENCOURAGE ALL DEVELOPMENTS" IN CHINA WHICH ARE AIMED AT THROWING OFF THE "FOREIGN YOKE" OF MOSCOW-DIRECTED COMMUNISM.

ACHESON SAID THE COMMUNIST REGIME SERVES THE INTERESTS "OF SOVIET RUSSIA." HE ADVISED THE PRESIDENT IT MAY "LEND ITSELF TO THE AIMS OF SOVIET RUSSIAN IMPERIALISM" TO START AN AGGRESSION AGAINST CHINA'S NEIGHBOR NATIONS.

IF THAT AGGRESSION COMES, ACHESON INDICATED THE UNITED STATES WOULD TRY TO BLOCK IT THROUGH THE UNITED NATIONS.

WHILE NOT ALL CHINA IS PRESENTLY UNDER THE RED BANNER, ACHESON SAID IN ANOTHER DOCUMENT OF THE WHITE PAPER, THE COMMUNISTS CAN TAKE OVER THE REST ANY TIME THEY WANT AND NATIONALIST ARMIES WILL BE POWERLESS TO RESIST. HE THUS ADVISED CHAIRMAN CONNALLY (D-TEXAS) OF THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE MARCH 15.

FOR THE "OMINOUS RESULT OF THE CHINESE CIVIL WAR," ACHESON PLACED FULL BLAME ON GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI SHE AND OTHER LEADERS OF THE CRUMBLING NATIONAL GOVERNMENT. HE SAID THEY "LOST NO BATTLES" IN THE LAST CRUCIAL YEAR FOR LACK OF AMERICAN WEAPONS.

THEIR FAILURES, HE SAID, WERE DUE TO LOSS OF POPULAR SUPPORT AND LOSS BY THE ARMIES OF THE WILL TO FIGHT. THE COMMUNISTS BATTLED WITH "FANATICAL ZEAL," ACHESON ADDED, BUT:" THE NATIONALIST ARMIES DID NOT HAVE TO BE DEFEATED; THEY DISINTEGRATED."

TO SUPPORT THE POSITION THAT CHINESE--NOT AMERICAN--LEADERS WERE TO BLAME FOR THE DIASTER, THE STATE DEPARTMENT INCLUDED AMONG THE UNVEILED STATE DOCUMENTS A SENSATIONAL LETTER FROM CHINA'S CURRENT ACTING PRESIDENT, GENERAL LI TSUNG-JEN.

B96WX

LI, WHO SUCCEEDED CHIANG KAI SHEK AS CHIEF OF STATE, WROTE PRESIDENT TRUMAN MAY 5,1949, THAT CHINA WAS BROUGHT TO ITS PRESENT PLIGHT BY THE FAILURE OF ITS PREVIOUS GOVERNMENT (CHIANG'S) TO MAKE "JUDICIOUS USE" OF AMERICAN AID AND TO PUT THROUGH "POLITICAL, ECONOMIC AND MILITARY REFORMS."

THE TWO-INCH THICK WHITE PAPER (OFFICIAL DIPLOMATIC RECORD) SPANNING MORE THAN A CENTURY, CONTAINS PROBABLY THE MOST SLASHING CRITICISM EVER ISSUED BY THE UNITED STATES AGAINST ANOTHER

FRIENDLY GOVERNMENT, EVEN A DYING ONE. IT POURS OUT ALL THE KNOWN AND SECRET REASONS AND ARGUMENTS WHY THE TRUMAN ADMINISTRATION FOR MORE THAN A YEAR NOW HAS FOUGHT ALL DEMANDS IN CONGRESS FOR ANY MAJOR NEW CHINA AID PROGRAM.

EVEN THE TWO-YEAR-OLD REPORT OF LT. GENERAL ALBERT C.WEDEMEYER, MADE TO PRESIDENT TRUMAN IN 1947, IS DISCLOSED TO HAVE TEMPERED ITS PROPOSAL FOR CHINA AID WITH A BIG "IF." WEDEMEYER ADVOCATED A FIVE-YEAR AID PROGRAM BUT SAID CHIANG SHOULD UNDERTAKE DRASTIC REFORMS AND SHOULD PLACE MANCHURIA UNDER UNITED NATION'S TRUSTEESHIP TP KEEP THE COMUNISTS FROM TAKING OVER.

IT WAS THIS RECOMMENDATION REGARDING MANCHURIA, ACHESON SAID, WHICH CAUSED THE REPOR TO BE SUPPRESSED SO LONG. HE SAID THE SUGGESTION FOR ALIENATION OF CHINESE TERRITORY WOULD HAVE CAUSED TROUBLE WITH TV

F
UFIR INMVERN

AUG 6 1949

SUGGESTION FOR ALIENATION OF CHINESE TERRITORY WOULD HAVE CAUSED TROUBLE WITH THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT IF PUBLISHED AT THAT TIME.

ACHESON'S LETTER TO MR. TRUMAN FORMALLY PRESENTED HIM WITH THE "FRANK RECORD" OF AMERICAN-CHINESE RELATIONS FROM THEIR BEGINNING IN 1944 TO THE PRESENT. THE LETTER ITSELF CONSTITUTED A SUMMARY REVIEW OF THAT POLICY TOGETHER WITH A BRIEF HOPEFUL LOOK AT THE FUTURE. ACHESON ASSURED THE PRESIDENT THAT NO DOCUMENTS HAD BEEN LEFT OUT OF THE WHITE PAPER FOR THE PURPOSE OF AVOIDING CRITICISM.

THE FULL RECORD'S 1054 PAGES INCLUDE 409 PAGES OF A RUNNING ACCOUNT OF AMERICAN-CHINESE RELATIONS AND A TOTAL OF 186 "ANNEXES." WHICH ARE IN THE MAIN THE TEXTS OF PREVIOUSLY SECRET PAPERS. ROVING AMBASSADOR PHILIP C.JESSUP EDITED THE BOOK. NOW HE IS WORKING ON DETAILED DEVELOPMENT OF ACHESON'S NEW CHINA POLICY.

AMONG THE ANNEXES PERHAPS THE MOST IINTERESTING, BECAUSE IT HAS BEEN THE MOST PUBLICLY SUPPRESSED, IS THE MUCH-DEBATED WEDEMEYER REPORT.

THE FACTMLTHVR025.3,5

THE MOST PUBLICLY SUPPRESSED, IS THE MUCH-DEBATED WEDEMEYER REPORT.

THE FACT THAT THE DEPARTMENT FEELS IT NOW CAN BE RELEASED AFFORDS A CLUE TO THE PUBLICATION OF THE ENTIRE WHITE PAPER. MR.TRUMAN AND ACHESON EVIDENTLY HAVE DECIDED THAT CHINA'S NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT IS BEYOND THE POINT WHERE IT CAN BE HURT EVEN BY BITTER CRITICISM.

IN ADDITION THEY APPEAR TO BELIEVE THAT THE RECORD JUSTIFIES THEIR DECISION NOT TO UNDERTAKE ANY GREAT NEW AID PROGRAM TO THE CHINESE NATIONALISTS AND THEIR DETERMINATION TO BREAK WITH THE PAST, RELEASE THE FACTS AS THEY SEE THEM, AND LAY OUT NEW LINES OF ANTI-COMMUNIST DIPLOMACY IN THE FAR EAST.

B97WX

ABOUT WHAT CAN BE DONE, ACHESON SPOKE ONLY IN GENERAL TERMS. HE EXPRESSED THE BELIEF THAT "ULTIMATELY" THE CHINESE PEOPLE "WILL REASSERT THEMSELVES" AND CHINA "WILL THROW OFF THE FOREIGN YOKE." THE UNITED STATES, HE SAID, "SHOULD ENCOURAGE ALL DEVELOPMENTS IN CHINA WHICH NOW AND IN THE FUTURE WORK TOWARD THIS END."

ACHESON ADDED THAT WHAT THE U.S.CAN DO WILL DEPEND ON "THE DEGREE TO WHICH THE CHINESE PEOPLE COME TO RECOGNIZE THAT THE COMMUNIST REGIME SERVES NOT THEIR INTERESTS BUT THOSE OF SOVIET RUSSIA AND THE MANNER IN WHICH XXX THEY REACT TO THIS FOREIGN DOMINATION."

THE WHITE PAPER PRESENTS AMERICAN POLICIES AS STEMMING FROM A CONSISTENT EFFORT BY THIS GOVERNMENT TO MAKE CHINA A POLITICALLY STABLE POWER, PEACEFUL AND FREE OF FOREIGN DOMINATION. ACHESON DECLARED THAT THESE REMAIN AMERICAN OBJECTIVES.

THE REVIEW BRINGS OUT THAT VARIOUS MEANS WERE TRIED TO ACHIEVE THOSE OBJECTIVES IN THE PAST.

DURING THE WAR WITH JAPAN, WHEN PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WAS CONCERNED TO KEEP ALL CHINA IN THE FIGHT, HE TRIED TO GET GENERALISSIMO CHIANG TO NAME THE LATE GENERAL JOSEPH W.STILWELL AS COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF CHINESE AND AMERICAN FORCES. THE IDEA WAS TO UNIFY CHINESE ARMED FORCES UNDER A "NEUTRAL." CHIANG AGREED IN PRINCIPLE BUT NEVER DID ANYTHING ABOUT IT.

CHIANG AND STILWELL FELL OUT AND STILWELL WAS CALLED HOME. IN A REPORT TO THE WAR DEPARTMENT, PUBLISHED IN THE WHITE PAPER, HE BLASTED BOTH CHIANG AND U.S. GOVERNMENT DIPLOMACY.

CHIANG, HE SAID, SOUGHT TO "DOMINATE RATHER THAN UNIFY AND LEAD" CHINA IN THE FACE OF THE JAPANESE OFFENSIVE. THE UNITED STATES, HE SAID, FAILED BY ITS "GENIAL PARENTAL ADMONISHMENTS" TO FORCE CHIANG INTO UNITY.

AMBASSADOR PATRICK J.HURLEY NEXT TOOK UP THE TASK. HIS MISSION SPANNED THE TRANSITION PERIOD AT THE WAR'S END (1944-45). AMERICAN POLICY STILL EMPHASIZED UNITY OF THE COMMUNISTS WITHIN A CHINA LED BY CHIANG.

AUG 6 1949

B98WX

HURLEY WENT TO MOSCOW AND CONFERRED WITH FOREIGN MINISTER MOLOTOV WHO ASSURED HIM THE RUSSIANS HAD FRIENDLY FEELING TOWARD NATIONALIST CHINA AND FAVORED AMERICAN HELP TO CHINESE UNITY.

HURLEY THEN WENT TO WORK ON CHIANG AND SOON REPORTED TO WASHINGTON. CHIANG FINALLY WAS PERSUADED, HE SAID, THAT THE RUSSIANS WERE NOT SUPPORTING THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS AND WAS CONVINCED THAT HE COULD "UNITE THE MILITARY FORCES OF CHINA AGAINST JAPAN."

LONG MONTHS OF NEGOTIATIN FOLLOWED. UNITY DID NOT PROGRESS. HURLEY FELL OUT WITH THE AMERICAN CAREER DIPLOMATS WORKING WITH HIM AND FINALLY RESIGNED WITH A VIOLENT DENUNCIATION OF AMERICAN DIPLOMACY.

THE UNITED STATES MEANWHILE MADE THE YALTA DEAL WITH RUSSIA FOR RESTORATION OF OLD CZARIST PORT, BASE AND RAIL RIGHTS IN MANCHURIA.

THIS AGREEMENT BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IS DEFENDED BY ACHESON AS NECESSARY TO ASSURE RUSSIA'S ENTRANCE INTO THE WAR AGAINST JAPAN.

FINALLY GENERAL GEORGE C.MARSHALL, WITH ORDERS FROM PRESIDENT TRUMAN TO PACIFY AND UNIFY CHINA, FOLLOWED THE TRAIL OF FAILURES TO CHINA IN DECEMBER 1945. MARSHALL PUT HEAVY PRESSURES ON BOTH CHIANG AND THE COMMUNIST LEADERS TO MAKE CONCESSIONS BUT HIS EFFORTS COLLAPSED IN A FULL-SCALE RENEWAL OF THE CIVIL WAR IN 1946.

ACHESON, LIKE MARSHALL EARLIER, BLAMED THE FINAL FAILURE MAINLY ON THE "DEEP-SEATED MUTUAL SUSPICION BETWEEN THE JUOMINTANG AND THE CHINESE COMMUNIST PARTY." STILWELL HAD SAID YEARS BEFORE THAT THE KEY TO THE CHINESE SITUATION WAS THE STRUGGLE FOR POWER BETWEEN THE TWO GROUPS.

THE UNITED STATES CONTINUED TO GIVE EXTENSIVE HELP TO CHIANG IN ARMS, MONEY AND ADVICE. IN A SENSE IT THUS FOLLOWED A TWO-LANE POLICY. ON ONE SIDE IT URGED COMMUNIST-NATIONALIST PEACE AND UNITY; ON THE OTHER IT ARMED THE NATIONALISTS TO SMASH THE COMMUNISTS. THE JUSTIFICATION GIVEN FOR THIS DUALITY IS THAT CHIANG'S GOVERNMENT WAS THE RECOGNIZED GOVERNMENT AND FULLY ENTITLED TO AMERICAN HELP.

IT WAS AFTER THE MARSHALL MISSION THAT WEDEMEYER WENT TO CHINA (1947). DESPITE HIS RECOMMENDATIONS FOR A FIVE-YEAR AID PROGRAM, SUBJECT TO REFORMS BY CHIANG, NO LARGE-SCALE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT ACTION DEVELOPED.

B99WX

THE WHITE PAPER BRINGS OUT THAT GENERAL MARSHALL, THEN SECRETARY OF STATE, BELIEVED CHINA'S ONLY SALVATION LAY IN POLITICAL REFORMS THAT WOULD GIVE THE LIBERALS REAL POWER. CHIANG PROMISED REFORMS BUT ACCORDING TO THE RECORD NEVER REALLY TRANSFERRED POWER WHEN IN MARSHALL'S VIEW, IT WOULD HAVE DONE SOME GOOD.

FROM 1943 ON, ONE AMERICAN DIPLOMAT AFTER ANOTHER WARNED THE STATE DEPARTMENT THAT UNLESS THE NATIONALISTS REFORMED AND RECAPTURED POPULAR SUPPORT THE COMMUNISTS MIGHT SOME DAY TAKE OVER CHINA.

ACHESON TOLD MR.TRUMAN THAT IN 1943-44 "AMERICAN OFFICIALS REPEATEDLY BROUGHT THEIR CONCERN WITH THIS SITUATION TO THE ATTENTION OF THE GENERALISSIMO AND HE REPEATEDLY ASSURED THEM THAT IT WOULD BE CORRECTED." ACHESON CONTINUED:

"HE MADE, HOWEVER, LITTLE OR NO EFFORT TO CORRECT IT AND TENDED TO SHUT HIMSELF OFF FROM CHINESE OFFICIALS WHO GAVE UNPALATABLE ADVICE."

ANOTHER INSTANCE OF CHING'S IGNORING AMERICAN ADVICE WAS CITED BY ACHESON IN 1946. THE NATIONALISTS THEN EMBARKED ON AN "OVER-AMBITIOUS MILITARY CAMPAIGN (AGAINST THE COMMUNISTS) IN THE FACE OF WARNINGS BY GENERAL MARSHALL THAT IT WOULD NOT ONLY FAIL BUT WOULD PLUNGE CHINA INTO ECONOMIC CHAOS AND EVENTUALLY DESTROY THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT."

"NO ESTIMATE OF A MILITARY SITUATION," ACHESON SAID, "HAS EVER BEEN MORE COMPLETELY CONFIRMED BY THE RESULTING FACTS."

THE CRITICAL YEAR IN THE CHINESE CIVIL WAR WAS 1948, ACHESON SAID, AND HE QUOTED AMERICAN MILITARY OBSERVERS AS REPORTING THAT "THE NATIONALIST ARMIES DID NOT LOSE A SINGLE BATTLE" IN THAT YEAR "THROUGH LACK OF ARMS OR AMMUNITION."

WHAT HAPPENED, ACHESON SAID, WAS THAT THE "DECAY" WHICH AMERICAN DIPLOMATS AND MILITARY MEN HAD NOTED IN 1943-44 "HAD FATALLY SAPPED THE POWERS OF RESISTANCE OF THE KUOMINTANG." HE ADDED:

"ITS LEADERS HAD PROVED INCAPABLE OF MEETING THE CRISIS CONFRONTING THEM, ITS TROOPS HAD LOST THE WILL TO FIGHT, AND ITS GOVERNMENT HAD LOST POPULAR SUPPORT.

N100WX

"THE COMMUNISTS, ON THE OTHER HAND, THROUGH A RUTHLESS DISCIPLINE AND FANATICAL ZEAL, ATTEMPTED TO SELL THEMSELVES AS GUARDIANS AND LIBERATORS OF THE PEOPLE. THE NATIONALIST ARMIES DID NOT HAVE TO BE DEFEATED; THEY DISINTEGRATED."

ACHESON REVIEWED THE EXTENT OF AMERICAN AID TO CHINA, SAYING THAT GRANTS AND CREDITS TOTALED ABOUT $2,000,000,000 SINCE THE WAR, PLUS ABOUT $1,000,000,000 WORTH OF WAR SURPLUS (ORIGINAL COST) MARKED DOWN FOR THE CHINESE TO $232,000,000.

BUT A "LARGE PROPORTION OF THE MILITARY SUPPLIES," ACHESON SAID, HAS FALLEN INTO COMMUNIST HANDS "THROUGH THE MILITARY INEPTITUDE OF THE NATIONALIST LEADERS, THEIR DEFECTIONS AND SURRENDERS, AND THE ABSENCE AMONG THEIR FORCES OF THE WILL TO FIGHT."

CAPTURES OF U.S.EQUIPMENT, ACCORDING TO THE WHITE PAPER, CONSTITUTED A SUBSTANTIAL SOURCE OF ARMS FOR THE COMMUNISTS. THE PAPER SAID THE MAJOR SOURCE WAS EQUIPMENT OF THE DEFEATED JAPANESE WHICH THE RUSSIANS CAPTURED AND "ABANDONED IN MANCHURIA IN SUCH A WAY AS TO ENABLE THE COMMUNISTS TO GAIN POSSESSION OF THEM."

BUT ON THE QUESTION OF WHETHER THE RUSSIANS THEMSELVES DIRECTLY FURNISHED RUSSIAN ARMS TO THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS, THE WHITE PAPER IS INDEFINITE. IT SAYS SIMPLY "THERE IS SOME QUESTION AS TO WHETHER THE RUSSIANS SUPPLIED THE COMMUNISTS WITH RUSSIAN EQUIPMENT."

THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT'S ESTIMATE OF THE MILITARY SITUATION IN CHINA TODAY COMES OUT IN THE WHITE PAPER IN THE MEMORANDUM ACHESON SENT CHAIRMAN CONNALLY OF THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE ON MARCH 15, 1949. HE TOLD CONNALLY THE ADMINISTRATION OPPOSED A $1,500,000,000 CHINA AID BILL SPONSORED BY SENATOR MCCARRAN (D-NEV).

THE COMMUNISTS, ACHESON WROTE, "HOLD ALL IMPORTANT MILITARY AREAS OF CHINA FROM MANCHURIA TO THE YANGTZE RIVER AND HAVE THE MILITARY CAPABILITY OF EXPANDING THEIR CONTROL TO THE POPULOUS AREAS OF THE YANGTZE VALLEY AND OF EVENTUALLY DOMINATING SOUTH CHINA."

DESPITE ALL THE AID WHICH HAD BEEN FURNISHED BY THE UNITED STATES, ACHESON SAID, "THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT DOES NOT HAVE THE MILITARY CAPABILITY OF MAINTAINING A FOOTHOLD IN SOUTH CHINA AGAINST A DETERMINED COMMUNIST ADVANCE."

B97WX (QUE) (TEXT)

WASHINGTON, AUG 5-(AP)-FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT OF A STATEMENT ISSUED BY SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON AT HIS NEWS CONFERENCE TODAY ON THE CHINA WHITE PAPER (ABOUT 1200):

AS YOU ARE ALL AWARE, THE UNITED STATES IS CONFRONTED BY A SITUATION IN CHINA WHICH WILL TEST TO THE FULL OUR UNITY OF PURPOSE, OUR INGENUITY AND OUR ADHERENCE TO THE BASIC PRINCIPLES WHICH HAVE FOR HALF A CENTURY GOVERNED OUR POLICY TOWARD CHINA. THE BACKGROUND OF THAT SITUATION AND THE EXTENSIVE AND PERSISTENT EFFORTS OF THE UNITED STATES DURING THE PAST FIVE YEARS TO ASSIST THE CHINESE PEOPLE ARE FULLY DESCRIBED IN THE DOCUMENT WHICH THE DEPARTMENT IS ISSUING TODAY. THEY ARE SUMMARIZED IN MY LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL TO THE PRESIDENT. SECRETARY MARSHALL IN FEBRUARY 1948 CONFIDENTIALLY TOLD THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE AND THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE IN EXECUTIVE SESSION MANY OF THE FACTS WHICH ARE NOW BEING PUBLISHED AS WELL AS THE CONCLUSIONS DRAWN FROM THOSE FACTS. HE MADE IT CLEAR WHY PUBLIC DISCLOSURE AT THAT TIME SEEMED INADVISABLE AND I HAVE POINTED OUT IN MY LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT WHY WE FEEL THE INFORMATION SHOULD BE MADE PUBLIC NOW. AS I ALSO SAID IN THAT LETTER, THE STRENGTH OF OUR SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT IS BASED ON AN INFORMED AND CRITICAL PUBLIC OPINION AND IT IS IN ORDER THAT OUR PEOPLE MAY BE FULLY INFORMED IN REGARD TO THE BACKGROUND OF OUR FAR EASTERN POLICY THAT THIS RECORD IS NOW BEING PUBLISHED.

THE SITUATION IN CHINA SERVES TO EMPHASIZE A VITAL FACTOR IN CONNECTION WITH THE QUESTION OF UNITED STATES AID TO FOREIGN NATIONS--THAT IS, THAT, WHILE THE UNITED STATES CAN WITH THE BEST OF INTENTIONS CONTRIBUTE SUBSTANTIAL AID TO A FOREIGN GOVERNMENT, IT CANNOT GUARANTEE THAT THAT AID WILL ACHIEVE ITS PURPOSE. THE ACHIEVEMENT OF THAT PURPOSE MUST IN THE FINAL ANALYSIS DEPEND UPON THE DEGREE TO WHICH THE RECIPIENT GOVERNMENT AND PEOPLE MAKE WISE USE OF OUR ASSISTANCE AND TAKE EFFECTIVE MEASURES FOR SELF-HELP. WITHOUT SUCH ACTION BY THE RECIPIENT NO AMOUNT OF AMERICAN AID CAN AVAIL. THIS IS NO LESS TRUE IN CHINA THAN IN OTHER PARTS OF THE WORLD.

B98WX

OUR TRADITIONAL POLICY OF ASSISTING THE CHINESE PEOPLE TO RESIST DOMINATION BY A FOREIGN POWER OR POWERS IS NOW FACED BY THE GRAVEST DIFFICULTIES. ON THE ONE HAND, THERE IS IN CHINA A COMMUNIST REGIME WHICH, WHILE IN FACT SERVING THE IMPERIALIST INTERESTS OF A FOREIGN POWER, HAS FOR THE PRESENT BEEN ABLE TO PERSUADE LARGE NUMBERS OF CHINESE THAT IT IS SERVING THEIR INTERESTS, AND HAS BEEN ABLE TO EXTEND ITS SWAY IN CONSTANTLY WIDENING CIRCLES. ON THE OTHER HAND, THERE IS THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT OF CHINA WHICH HAS BEEN UNABLE TO RALLY ITS PEOPLE AND HAS BEEN DRIVEN OUT OF EXTENSIVE AND IMPORTANT PORTIONS OF THE COUNTRY, DESPITE VERY EXTENSIVE ASSISTANCE FROM THE UNITED STATES AND ADVICE FROM EMINENT AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVES WHICH SUBSEQUENT EVENTS PROVED TO BE SOUND.

THIS MEANS THAT UNITED STATES POLICY TOWARD CHINA IS CONFRONTED BY A SITUATION IN WHICH ALTERNATIVES ARE VERY SHARPLY LIMITED. WE MUST NOT BASE OUR POLICY ON ILLUSIONS OR WISHFUL THINKING. I AM CONVINCED HOWEVER THAT THE BASIC ELEMENTS OF OUR TRADITIONAL POLICY TOWARD THE FAR EAST REMAIN VALID NOW AS IN THE PAST AND I SHOULD LIKE TO STATE CERTAIN BASIC PRINCIPLES BY WHICH WE SHOULD CONTINUE TO BE GUIDED. THESE ARE:

1. THE UNITED STATES DESIRES TO ENCOURAGE IN EVERY FEASIBLE WAY THE DEVELOPMENT OF CHINA AS AN INDEPENDENT AND STABLE NATION ABLE TO PLAY A ROLE IN WORLD AFFAIRS SUITABLE FOR A GREAT AND FREE PEOPLE.
2. THE UNITED STATES DESIRES TO SUPPORT THE CREATION IN CHINA OF ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL CONDITIONS WHICH WILL SAFEGUARD BASIC RIGHTS AND LIBERTIES AND PROGRESSIVELY DEVELOP THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL WELL-BEING OF ITS PEOPLE.
3. THE UNITED STATES IS OPPOSED TO THE SUBJECTION OF CHINA TO ANY FOREIGN POWER, TO ANY REGIME ACTING IN THE INTEREST OF A FOREIGN POWER, AND TO THE DISMEMBERMENT OF CHINA BY ANY FOREIGN POWER, WHETHER BY OPEN OR CLANDESTINE MEANS.
4. THE UNITED STATES WILL CONTINUE TO CONSULT WITH OTHER INTERESTED POWERS, IN THE LIGHT OF CONDITIONS IN THE COUNTRIES CONCERNED AND IN THE FAR EAST AS A WHOLE, ON MEASURES WHICH WILL CONTRIBUTE TO THE CONTINUING SECURITY AND WELFARE OF THE PEOPLES OF THAT AREA.

B99WX

5. THE UNITED STATES WILL ENCOURAGE AND SUPPORT EFFORTS OF THE UNITED NATIONS TO ACHIEVE THESE OBJECTIVES AND PARTICULARLY TO MAINTAIN PEACE AND SECURITY IN THE FAR EAST.

IT IS OBVIOUS THAT THESE BASIC PRINCIPLES REQUIRE SPECIFICATION AND ELABORATION IN THE LIGHT OF THE EXISTING SITUATION IN ORDER TO BE EFFECTIVELY CARRIED OUT. AT THE DIRECTION OF THE PRESIDENT, WE ARE TAKING SEVERAL CONCRETE STEPS TO THIS END. THE OFFICERS OF THE DEPARTMENT CHARGED WITH FAR EASTERN MATTERS ARE ENGAGED IN A COMPREHENSIVE SURVEY OF THE IMPACT OF DEVELOPING CONDITIONS ON OUR BASIC POLICY. IN ADDITION, I HAVE ENLISTED THE SERVICES IN A CONSULTATIVE CAPACITY OF MR. RAYMOND FOSDICK, FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION, AND MR. EVERETT CASE, PRESIDENT OF COLGATE UNIVERSITY, WHO IN COLLABORATION WITH AMBASSADOR AT LARGE PHILIP C. JESSUP, WILL ADVISE ME AND MY STAFF IN THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE. MR.FOSDICK WILL BE HERE ON MONDAY AND MR. CASE WILL ARRIVE IN THE DEPARTMENT LATER THIS MONTH. WE SHALL BE PREPARED TO DRAW ON OTHER ASSISTANCE AS WE GO ALONG. WE SHALL OF COURSE CONTINUE TO MAINTAIN THE CLOSEST LIAISON WITH THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL AND THE NATIONAL MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT IN WORKING ON THESE PROBLEMS. ON ECONOMIC AND FINANCIAL MATTERS WE SHALL HAVE THE BENEFIT OF THE EXPERIENCE AND KNOWLEDGE OF THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT AND OF THE ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION. THROUGHOUT ALL OF OUR STUDY OF THIS PROBLEM, WE SHALL MAINTAIN CONTACT AND CLOSE CONSULTATION WITH THE MEMBERS OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN RELATIONS AND THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS. ALL OF THESE STEPS ARE DESIGNED TO BRING TO BEAR THE UNITED WISDOM AND RESOURCEFULNESS OF OUR GOVERNMENT IN MEETING THE PRESENT SITUATION AND ANY FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS IN ASIA AND THE FAR EAST.

B100WX

UNTIL THE THOROUGH REVIEW OF OUR FAR EASTERN POLICY WHICH I HAVE JUST OUTLINED HAS MAD SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS, I SHALL WISH TO RESTRICT

MY COMMENT ON PARTICULAR ASPECTS OF THAT POLICY, SINCE ANY DETAILED COMMENTS NOW MIGHT PREJUDGE THE CONCLUSIONS OF OUR REVIEW. I CAN ASSURE YOU, HOWEVER, THAT THE WORK IS BEING AND WILL BE PRESSED WITH THE GREATEST POSSIBLE SPEED. IN THE MEANTIME, WE WILL TAKE EVERY OPPORTUNITY IN THE DAY-TO-DAY CONDUCT OF OUR FOREIGN POLICY TO SUPPORT THE FIVE PRINCIPLES I HAVE STATED TO YOU. ALTHOUGH I HAVE INDICATED THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE SITUATION, I DO NOT IN ANY DEGREE SHARE THE DEFEATIST ATTITUDE WHICH SOME CURRENT COMMENTS REFLECT. THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS, IN ATTEMPTING TO ESTABLISH A TOTALITARIAN DOMINATION OVER THE CHINESE PEOPLE IN THE INTERESTS OF A FOREIGN POWER AND IN BASING THIS ATTEMPT ON A WILLFULLY DISTORTED CONCEPT OF WORLD REALITIES, ARE COMMITTING THEMSELVES DEEPLY ON THE BASIS OF UNPROVED ASSUMPTIONS AS TO THE EXTENT OF THEIR OWN STRENGTH AND THE NATURE OF THE REACTIONS WHICH THEY ARE BOUND TO PROVOKE IN CHINA AND ELSEWHERE. THE UNITED STATES, FOR ITS PART, WILL BE PREPARED TO WORK WITH THE PEOPLE OF CHINA AND OF EVERY OTHER COUNTRY IN ASIA TO PRESERVE AND TO PROMOTE THEIR TRUE INTEREST, DEVELOPED AS THEY CHOOSE AND NOT AS DICTATED BY ANY FOREIGN IMPERIALISM.

A195WX ADD WASHN (NL CHINA WHITE PAPER) X X X IMPERIALISM (HIGHTOWER)

IT WAS ON THIS THEME THAT ACHESON CONSTRUCTED HIS FIVE PRINCIPLES BY WHICH HE SAID "WE SHOULD CONTINUE TO BE GUIDED" IN RELATION TO CHINA AND THE FAR EAST. HE STATED THEM THIS WAY:

"1. THE UNITED STATES DESIRES TO ENCOURAGE IN EVERY FEASIBLE WAY THE DEVELOPMENT OF CHINA AS AN INDEPENDENT AND STABLE NATION ABLE TO PLAY A ROLE IN WORLD AFFAIRS SUITABLE FOR A GREAT AND FREE PEOPLE.

"2. THE UNITED STATES DESIRES TO SUPPORT THE CREATION IN CHINA OF ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL CONDITIONS WHICH WILL SAFEGUARD BASIC RIGHTS AND LIBERTIES AND PROGRESSIVELY DEVELOP THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL WELL BEING OF ITS PEOPLE.

"3. THE UNITED STATES IS OPPOSED TO THE SUBJECTION OF CHINA TO ANY FOREIGN POWER, TO ANY REGIME ACTING IN THE INTEREST OF A FOREIGN POWER, AND TO THE DISMEMBERMENT OF CHINA BY ANY FOREIGN POWER, WHETHER BY OPEN OR CLANDESTINE MEANS.

"4. THE UNITED STATES WILL CONTINUE TO CONSULT WITH OTHER INTERESTED POWERS IN THE LIGHT OF CONDITIONS IN THE COUNTRIES CONCERNED AND IN THE FAR EAST AS A WHOLE, ON MEASURES WHICH WILL CONTRIBUTE TO THE CONTINUING SECURITY AND WELFARE OF THE PEOPLES OF THAT AREA.

"5. THE UNITED STATES WILL ENCOURAGE AND SUPPORT EFFORTS OF THE UNITED NATIONS TO ACHIEVE THESE OBJECTIVES AND PARTICULARLY TO MAINTAIN PEACE AND SECURITY IN THE FAR EAST."

ACHESON TOLD HIS NEWS CONFERENCE THAT THE BIG PROBLEM NOW IS TO DETERMINE HOW THESE PRINCIPLES CAN BE EFFECTIVELY TRANSLATED INTO ACTION. AS A METHOD OF ATTACK ON THAT PROBLEM, HE SAID THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAS BROUGHT IN OUTSIDE CONSULTANTS TO ADVISE HIM ON WHAT MAY BE DONE. IN ADDITION, HE SAID, RESPONSIBLE OFFICIALS ARE ENGAGED IN A COMPREHENSIVE SURVEY OF THE FAR EASTERN SITUATION.

QUESTIONED ABOUT AMERICAN RELATIONS WITH THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS, ACHESON SAID THAT IF AND WHEN THEY CREATE A GOVERNMENT AND THE QUESTION ARISES OF RECOGNITION, HE WILL CONSULT FULLY WITH THE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEES OF CONGRESS. ON THE ISSUE OF AMERICAN AID, HE CITED A DIRECTIVE BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN LAST DECEMBER WHICH BARS AID TO ANY AREA OF CHINA UNDER COMMUNIST CONTROL.

EVIDENCE THAT THE CHINESE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT GREW WEAKER RATHER THAN STRONGER AFTER THE RESIGNATION OF GENERALISSIMO CHIANG LAST JANUARY AND HIS REPLACEMENT BY GENERAL LI TSUNG-JEN WAS PRESENTED IN REPORTS BY AMBASSADOR JOHN LEIGHTON STUART.

STUART HAMMERED THE POINT THAT THERE WAS A "BASIC CONFLICT OF AUTHORITY BETWEEN LI AND THE GENERALISSIMO." HE PICTURED CHIANG AS OPERATING AS AN INDEPENDENT POLITICAL POWER. ON MAY 1 A MESSAGE FROM STUART'S EMBASSY SUMMED UP THE SITUATION THIS WAY:

"THE GENERALISSIMO CAME OUT WITH A PUBLIC STATEMENT EXPRESSING CONFIDENCE IN FINAL VICTORY, THOUGH THE WAR MAY CONTINUE FOR THREE YEARS AND PLEDGING SUPPORT TO LI. HOWEVER, THERE IS NO INDICATION HE REALLY INTENDS TO RELINQUISH POWER AND LI AN

YEARS AND PLEDGING SUPPORT TO LI. HOWEVER, THERE IS NO INDICATION HE REALLY INTENDS TO RELINQUISH POWER AND LI AND PAI (ONE OF LI'S TOP ASSOCIATES) ARE INCREASINGLY BITTER. THIS STRUGGLE PROBABLY WILL CONTINUE TO HAMSTRING GOVERNMENT RESISTANCE (AGAINST THE COMMUNISTS)."

A196WX

THROUGHOUT THE OFFICIAL RECORD RUN TWO MAJOR THREADS OF U.S. FOREIGN POLICY. ONE WHICK WAS REPEATEDLY EMPHASIZED BY ACHESON AS WELL AS BY AMERICAN OBSERVERS ON THE SCENE WAS THAT THE UNITED STATES WAS SEEKING TO HELP BUILD CHINA INTO A PEACEFUL, DEMOCRATIC POWER. SIDE-BY-SIDE WITH THIS THEME RUNS THE OTHER THREAD OF WILLINGNESS TO TRY VARIOUS MEANS TO ACHIEVE THE END RESULT.

WHILE THE WAR WITH JAPAN WAS AT ITS HEIGHT AND CHINA WAS GETTING LEND-LEASE AID AND EXPERT HELP FROM THE UNITED STATES, THIS COUNTRY FAVORED UNIFYING ALL CHINESE ARMED FORCES TO FIGHT THE JAPANESE.

THE RECORD SHOWS THAT THE LATE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT PROMOTED THE LATE GENERAL JOSEPH W.STILWELL TO FULL GENERAL SO THAT CHIANG MIGHT NAME HIM COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF TO UNIFY THE FORCES. CHIANG AGREED TO THIS IDEA BUT NEVER PUT IT INTO EFFECT.

AROUND THIS ISSUE OF A SINGLE COMMANDER DEVELOPED THE STILWELL DISPUTE WITH CHIANG WHICH ULTIMATELY REACHED THE POINT WHERE STILWELL WAS CALLED HOME.

IN A REPORT TO THE WAR DEPARTMENT, CONTAINED IN THE WHITE PAPER, STILWELL BITTERLY ASSAILED BOTH CHIANG AND AMERICAN DIPLOMACY.

HE CHARGED THAT THE GENERALISSIMO WAS PRIMARILY CONCERNED WITH DOMESTIC CHINESE POLITICS, RATHER THAN WITH FIGHTING THE WAR AGAINST JAPAN. AND HE SAID THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT GAVE CHIANG ONLY "GENERAL PARANTAL ADMONISHMENTS" INSTEAD OF FORCING HIM TO "UNIFY AND LEAD" HIS COUNTRY AGAINST THE JAPANESE.

AMBASSADOR PATRICK J.HURLEY SUCCEEDED STILWELL AS THE CENTRAL AMERICAN FIGURE IN CHINA. HURLEY'S EARLY REPORTS DISCLOSED THAT HE BELIEVED HE HAD PERSUADED CHIANG TO THE VIEW THAT THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS WERE MORE OR LESS INDEPENDENT OF MOSCOW AND THAT RUSSIA WOULD SUPPORT THE CHIANG GOVERNMENT.

HURLEY HAD VISITED MOSCOW AND HAD RECEIVED ASSURANCES FROM FOREIGN MINISTER MOLOTOV THAT THE RUSSIANS WERE INCLINED TO BE FRIENDLY TOWARD NATIONALIST CHINA AND FAVORED AMERICAN EFFORTS TO OBTAIN CHINESE UNITY.

IN ONE REPORT, HURLEY SAIX CHIANG WAS PERSUADED THE RUSSIANS WERE NOT BACKING THE CHINESE REDS AND BELIEVED HE COULD "UNITE THE MILITARY FORCES OF CHINA AGAINST JAPAN."

BUT EVENTUALLY HURLEY'S MISSION ALSO ENDED IN FRUSTRATION AS FAR AS CHINESE UNITY WAS CONCERNED AND HE RETURNED TO WASHINGTON WITH A BITTER DENUNCIATION OF AMERICAN DIPLOMACY AND MANY AMERICAN DIPLOMATS IN CHINA. HE ACCUSED THEM OF WORKING EITHER FOR "COMMUNIST IMPERIALISM" OR "COLONIAL IMPERIALISM."

MEANWHILE, IN WHAT ACHESON DEFENDED AS A STEP NECESSARY TO GET RUSSIA INTO THE JAPANESE WAR, PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT MADE THE YALTA DEAL WITH GENERALISSIMO STALIN. THE SOVIET UNION WAS PROMISED RESTORATION OF RIGHTS TO PORT, BASE AND RAILROAD FACILITIES WHICH THE RUSSIAN TSARS HAD ONCE HELD IN MANCHURIA.

THIS YALTA AGREEMENT EVENTUALLY LED TO THE SINO-SOVIET TREATY IN WHICH CHINA GUARANTEED RUSSIA THESE RIGHTS. THIS TREATY ESTABLISHED AT LEAST THE OUTWARD APPEARANCE OF A FRIENDLY MOSCOW ATTITUDE TOWARD THE CHINESE NATIONALIST REGIME.

A197WX

WITH THE END OF THE WAR, THE UNITED STATES EMBARKED ON ITS POST-WAR POLICY OF SUPPLYING MILITARY AND ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE TO CHIAN ON A LARGE SCALE. THE THEORY DEVELOPED IN THE DOCUMENTS OF THE WHITE PAPER IS THAT CHIANG HAD A FULL RIGHT TO SUCH AID IN HIS EFFORTS TO ESTABLISH ORDER AND STABILITY, WHICH MEANT BRINGING THE COMMUNISTS UNDER CONTROL BY FORCE OF ARMS IF NOT BY NEGOTIATION.

THE EFFORTS AT NEGOTIATION CONTINUED, HOWEVER, AND EVEN REACHED THEIR PEAK IN 1946 WITH GENERAL GEORGE C.MARSHALL'S MISSION TO CHINA. AT ONE TIME EARLY IN THAT YEAR, IT 003-43$ 5@-5 .-4'@-))'S

CHINA. AT ONE TIME EARLY IN THAT YEAR, IT APPEARED THAT MARSHALL'S EFFORTS TO UNIFY CHINA AND GET THE COMMUNISTS TO TAKE THE ROLE OF AN UNARMED, NORMAL POLITICAL PARTY WOULD BE SUCCESSFUL. BUT THE EFFORTS BROKE DOWN UNDER THE PRESSURE OF THE STRUGGLE BETWEEN THE NATIONALISTS AND COMMUNISTS FOR CONTROL OF MANCHURIA.

AN EVENT WHICH MAY HAVE BEEN DECISIVE IN FIXING THE MORE RECENT MILITARY FATE OF THE NATIONALISTS OCCURRED AT THAT TIME. THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT PLANNED A LARGE-SCALE MILITARY CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE COMMUNISTS AND GENERAL MARSHALL ADVISED THEM THAT, IN ACHESON'S WORDS, "IT NOT ONLY WOULD FAIL BUT WOULD PLUNGE CHINA INTO ECONOMIC CHAOS AND EVENTUALLY DESTROY THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT."

THE GOVERNMENT WENT THROUGH WITH THE CAMPAIGN, HOWEVER. ACHESON, SPEAKING OF MARSHALL'S ADVICE, SAID "NO ESTIMATE OF A MILITARY SITUATION HAS EVER BEEN MORE COMPLETELY CONFIRMED BY THE RESULTING FACTS."

GG441PED

A49WX ADD WASHN (LI TSUNG-JEN) X X X WAR

THE STATE DEPARTMENT ACCOUNT IN THE "WHITE PAPER" ASSERTS THAT IN HIS EFFORTS HE HAS BEEN HAMPERED BY A SPLIT WITH CHIANG DUE TO THE GENERALISSIMO'S INSISTANCE ON CONTINUING TO EXERCISE CONSIDERABLE POWER.

AMBASSADOR J. LEIGHTON STUART REPORTED TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT AS RECENTLY AS APRIL 6 THAT LI HAD ONLY "LIMITED POWER TO ENFORCE HIS ORDERS" AND TO HOLD IN CHECK FORCES WORKING FOR THE BREAKUP OF THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT.

"THE GENERALISSIMO, THOUGH OUTWARDLY COOPERATING," STUART WROTE, "IS MAINTAINING IN EFFECT INDEPENDENT POLITICAL AND MILITARY AUTHORITY.

THE KUOMINTANG (GOVERNING PARTY) LEADERS IN CANTON ARE PLAYING THEIR OWN GAME AS ARE OTHER PROVINCIAL LEADERS.

"THOUGH LI HAS ACCOMPLISHED MIRACLES IN ASSERTING HIS AUTHORITY OVER WIDENING SECTORS, HE STILL DOES NOT HAVE UNIFIED AUTHORITY OVER NATIONALIST CHINA."

(END ADVANCE FOR USE AT 10 A.M. EASTERN STANDARD TIME, TODAY, FRIDAY, AUG.5)

VH641AED

BUT A "LARGE PROPORTION OF THE MILITARY SUPPLIES," ACHESON SAID, HAS FALLEN INTO COMMUNIST HANDS "THROUGH THE MILITARY INEPTITUDE OF THE NATIONALIST LEADERS, THEIR DEFECTIONS AND SURRENDERS, AND THE ABSENCE AMONG THEIR FORCES OF THE WILL TO FIGHT."

CAPTURES OF U.S.EQUIPMENT, ACCORDING TO THE WHITE PAPER, CONSTITUTED A SUBSTANTIAL SOURCE OF ARMS FOR THE COMMUNISTS. THE PAPER SAID THE MAJOR SOURCE WAS EQUIPMENT OF THE DEFEATED JAPANESE WHICH THE RUSSIANS CAPTURED AND "ABANDONED IN MANCHURIA IN SUCH A WAY AS TO ENABLE THE COMMUNISTS TO GAIN POSSESSION OF THEM."

A38WX ADD WASHN (DAY CHINA WHITE PAPER) X X X $232,000,000 (HIGHTOWER)

BUT ON THE QUESTION OF WHETHER THE RUSSIANS THEMSELVES DIRECTLY FURNISHED RUSSIAN ARMS TO THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS, THE WHITE PAPER IS INDEFINITE. IT SAYS SIMPLY "THERE IS SOME QUESTION AS TO WHETHER THE RUSSIANS SUPPLIED THE COMMUNISTS WITH RUSSIAN EQUIPMENT."

THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT'S ESTIMATE OF THE MILITARY SITUATION IN CHINA TODAY COMES OUT IN THE WHITE PAPER IN THE MEMORANDUM ACHESON SENT CHAIRMAN CONNALLY OF THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE ON MARCH 15, 1949. HE TOLD CONNALLY THE ADMINISTRATION OPPOSED A $1,500,-000,000 CHINA AID BILL SPONSORED BY SENATOR MCCARRAN (D-NEV).

THE COMMUNISTS, ACHESON WROTE, "HOLD ALL IMPORTANT MILITARY AREAS OF CHINA FROM MANCHURIA TO THE YANGTZE RIVER AND HAVE THE MILITARY CAPABILITY OF EXPANDING THEIR CONTROL TO THE POPULOUS AREAS OF THE YANGTZE VALLEY AND OF EVENTUALLY DOMINATING SOUTH CHINA."

DESPITE ALL THE AID WHICH HAD BEEN FURNISHED BY THE UNITED STATES, ACHESON SAID, "THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT DOES NOT HAVE THE MILITARY CAPABILITY OF MAINTAINING A FOOTHOLD IN SOUTH CHINA AGAINST A DETERMINED COMMUNIST ADVANCE."

LONDON, SATURDAY, AUG.6-(AP)-TWO LONDON NEWSPAPERS TODAY SAW A WARNING OF ARMED FORCE IN U.S. SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON'S STATEMENT ON CHINA.

IN THE STATEMENT, THE CHINESE PEOPLE WERE ENCOURAGED TO THROW OFF THE "FOREIGN YOKE" OF A COMMUNIST REGIME, WHICH ACHESON SAID SERVES RUSSIAN IMPERIALISM.

THE CONSERVATIVE DAILY GRAPHIC SAID THE STATEMENT SHOULD STRENGTHEN THE HAND OF ANY CHINESE LEADERS UNWILLING TO TAKE DOMINATION BY MOSCOW.

"DEPENDENCE ON RUSSIAN AID WILL BE LESSENED--UNLESS THERE IS AGG-

RESSION AGAINST CHINA'S NEIGHBORS," THE GRAPHIC SAID. "MR. ACHESON'S STATEMENT DOES NOT COMMIT THE UNITED STATES TO ARMED INTERVENTION IN THAT EVENT. BUT IT WILL BE READ AS A WARNING THAT THIS IS PROBABLE.

"THAT WARNING IS TIMED DRAMATICALLY. TODAY IS THE FOURTH ANNIVERSARY OF ATOMIC BOMBING."

THE COMMUNIST DAILY WORKER SAID "THIS IS A NEW DECLARATION OF WAR, FULL OF BITTER MENACE AND PRESAGING NEW INTRIGUES AND INTERVENTION." THE PAPER URGED BRITAIN TO RECOGNIZE THE CHINESE COMMUNIST REGIME.

THE INFLUENTIAL INDEPENDENT TIMES APPLAUDED ACHESON'S WARNING TO CHINESE COMMUNISTS THAT AGGRESSION ON CHINA'S NEIGHBORS WOULD BE DEEMED A BREACH OF THE UNITED NATIONS CHARTER.

"THE WESTERN WORLD COULD ADOPT NO OTHER POLICY," THE TIMES SAID.

IT ADDED THAT BY SHOWING HOW HARD IT HAD TRIED TO HELP THE CHINESE, THE U.S. "HAS EFFECTIVELY EXPOSED MUCH OF THE INDISCRIMINATE MISREPRESENTATION OF THE MOTIVES AND INTENTIONS OF AMERICA AS WELL AS OF BRITAIN, BY WHICH THE NEW MASTERS OF CHINA ARE TRYING TO BUILD A 'BAMBOO CURTAIN' BETWEEN THEIR COUNTRY AND THE ENTIRE WESTERN WORLD."

THE CONSERVATIVE DAILY TELEGRAPH SAID IT WAS "ONLY COMMON SENSE" TO TAKE ACHESON'S ATTITUDE THAT THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS' RELATIONS WITH THE U.S. MUST DEPEND ON HOW THEY USE THEIR POWER AND HOW FAR THEY STEER CLEAR OF GETTING INVOLVED IN RUSSIAN POLICY.

LONDON, AUG.5-(AP)-THE FOREIGN OFFICE SAID TODAY THE POSITION OF BRITISH FIRMS IN CHINA HAS BECOME "EXTREMELY DIFFICULT."

A SPOKESMAN PINNED THE BLAME FOR THAT DEVELOPMENT AND FOR CHINA'S OWN WORSENING ECONOMIC SITUATION ON BOTH THE COMMUNISTS AND THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT.

THE SPOKESMAN TOLD A NEWS CONFERENCE REPORTS FROM BRITISH DIPLOMATS IN CHINA SHOW THAT AUTHORITIES IN COMMUNIST-HELD AREAS ARE MAKING TOUGH TAXATION ASSESSMENTS AND EQUALLY STIFF WAGE DEMANDS FOR LOCAL CHINESE LABOR.

HE ADDEDTHAT THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT'S SEA BLOCKADE OF COMMUNIST-HELD PORTS, ESPECIALLY THE GREAT INTERNATIONAL TRADING CITY OF SHANGHAI, IS STRANGLING TRADE AND HARMING THE COUNTRY'S ECONOMY.

BRITISH INVESTMENTS AND INTERESTS IN CHINA HAVE BEEN PLACED AT NEARLY $2,000,000,000 (B).

THE SPOKESMAN COMMENTED THAT THE COMMUNISTS' TAX AND WAGE DEMANDS HAVE COME AT A TIME "WHEN WE WOULD HAVE THOUGHT INCREASED TRADING WOULD BE TO THE ADVANTAGE OF THE CHINESE PEOPLE." THE EFFECT OF THOSE DEMANDS, HE SAID, IT TO RESTRICT SUCH TRADING.

THE SPOKESMAN SAID HE IS NOT YET IN A POSITION TO COMMENT ON THE UNITED STATES WHITE PAPER ON CHINESE-AMERICAN RELATIONS, OF WHICH THE FOREIGN OFFICE HAS NOT RECEIVED A COPY.

LONDON, AUG 5-(AP)-AN ATTRACTIVE BRITISH ARMY GIRL, ACCUSED OF STABBING HER SOLDIER BRIDEGROOM TO DEATH IN AUSTRIA, NEVER CONSUMMATED HER MARRIAGE BECAUSE SHE WAS SEXUALLY ABNORMAL, THE CROWN PROSECUTOR SAID AT HER TRIAL TODAY.

THE DEFENDANT IS 21-YEAR-OLD MARGARET WILLIAMS, SKI CHAMPION OF THE WOMEN'S ROYAL ARMY CORPS. SHE WAS SENT BACK TO LONDON BY BRITISH OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES IN AUSTRIA TO FACE TRIAL FOR KILLING SGT.MAJ. MONTAGUE WILLIAMS, 34, HER BRIDEGROOM OF 12 WEEKS.

MRS.WILLIAMS, SAID PROSECUTOR F.D.BARRY, HAD "LEANINGS TOWARD LESBIANISM."

A STATEMENT ATTRIBUTED TO HER BY THE PROSECUTION SAID:

"MY MARRIED LIFE HAD NOT BEEN A NORMAL ONE BECAUSE WHEN I AGREED TO MARRY MY HUSBAND I TOLD HIM I DID NOT LOVE HIM AND THAT I DID NOT WANT TO SLEEP WITH HIM UNTIL I HAD REALLY FALLEN IN LOVE WITH HIM, AND HE AGREED TO THIS."

THE STATEMENT SAID MRS.WILLIAMS STABBED HER HUSBAND TO DEATH JULY 4 IN A Y.M.C.A. HOSTEL IN KLAGENFURT, BECAUSE HE HAD SLAPPED HER FACE AFTER SHE WAS CARRIED HOME FROM A DRINKING BOUT.

THE STATEMENT SAID THE WILLIAMSES HAD BEEN DRINKING HEAVILY THE DAY BEFORE THE FATAL QUARREL. SHE THEN WENT TO A DRINKING PLACE ALONE AND WILLIAMS WENT AFTER HER AND TRIED TO GET HER TO GO HOME, THE STATEMENT CONTINUED. HE CAME BACK WITH OTHER SOLDIERS, IT SAID, TOOK HER HOME BY FORCE AND "PROCEEDED TO BEAT ME UP."

"I SAW THE KNIFE ON THE TABLE," THE STATEMENT WENT ON. X X X HE CAME TOWARDS ME AND SLAPPED MY FACE ONCE OR TWICE. I HIT HIM WITH THE KNIFE. I THINK THE FIRST TIME WAS ON HIS LEFT ARM NEAR HIS SHOULDER AND THE SECOND WAS FURTHER DOWN ON HIS BODY. X X X

"HE SAID 'THAT'S DONE IT' OR SOMETHING TO THAT EFFECT.

"I DIDN'T INTEND TO KILL HIM. THE THOUGHT WAS FARTHEST FROM MY MIND. I JUST MEANT TO STOP HIM FROM HITTING ME SO THAT WE COULD CARRY ON THE SAME AS BEFORE."

BOTH WILLIAMS AND HIS WIFE HAD BEEN MEMBERS OF THE BRITISH OCCUPATION FORCES. BARRY SAID THE COUPLE MET SOON AFTER MRS.WILLIAMS ARRIVED IN AUSTRIA IN JUNE, 1948, AND "WILLIAMS FELL PASSIONATELY IN LOVE WITH THE DEFENDANT."

"BUT UNFORTUNATELY," THE PROSECUTOR SAID, "HIS LOVE DOES NOT APPEAR TO HAVE BEEN RETURNED BY THE DEFENDANT, OWING PERHAPS TO THE FACT THAT SHE IS ABNORMAL TO THE EXTENT OF HEAVING LEANINGS TOWARD LESBIANISM AND WAS UNABLE TO HAVE STRONG FEELINGS FOR ANYBODY.

"WILLIAMS HAD ON MANY OCCASIONS ASKED THE DEFENDANT TO MARRY HIM BUT SHE ALWAYS REFUSED. SHE FINALLY CONSENTED IN A MOMENT OF WEAKNESS WHEN SHE WAS SLIGHTLY UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF DRINK."

THE UNITED STATES, CANADA, BRITAIN AND FRANCE ARE FARTHEST AHEAD OF THE 12 NATIONS IN ATOMIC DEVELOPMENT, AND THIS MIGHT GET BY DIFFICULTIES FORESEEN BY SOME OVER THE QUESTION OF EXCHANGING ATOMIC INFORMATION.

THIS AFTERNOON ABOUT 400 ARMED MOBILE GUARDSMEN GATHERED IN THE PLACE DE LA CONCORDE IN PREPARATION FOR A COMMUNIST MARCH IN PROTEST AGAINST THE PRESENCE OF THE AMERICAN MILITARY LEADERS IN PARIS.

THE GUARDSMEN DROVE UP IN 15 TRUCKS AND DISPERSED QUIETLY ABOUT THE HUGE SQUARE, WHERE THE U.S.EMBASSY IS LOCATED. A UNIFORMED FRENCH ARMY COLONEL SET UP AN OPEN AIR HEADQUARTERS IN FRONT OF THE EMBASSY.

THE FRENCH COMMUNIST PARTY ANNOUNCED PLANS FOR A BIG ANTI-PACT PROTEST MEETING OUTSIDE THE AMERICAN EMBASSY IN THE CENTRAL PLACE DE LA CONCORDE THIS AFTERNOON. POLICE HAVE BANNED ON THE DEMONSTRATION AND SAID GENDARMES WOULD BE ON HAND TO PREVENT UNTOWARD INCIDENTS.

U.S. CUSTOMS OFFICIALS CLAIMED INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT, MACHINE TOOLS, A MOTOR CAR AND OTHER VALUABLE ITEMS WERE BEING SHIPPED TO ISRAEL FALSELY DESCRIBED AS PERSONAL AND HOUSEHOLD GOODS OF JEWISH EMIGRANTS.

TOTAL VALUE OF THE CARGO WAS NOT ESTIMATED AS ALL THE 668 LARGE PACKING CRATES HAVE NOT YET BEEN OPENED FOR INSPECTION. ON THE BASIS OF WHAT HAS BEEN FOUND, HOWEVER, INVESTIGATORS BELIEVE TENS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS WORTH OF MATERIAL IS INVOLVED.

AN AMERICAN ARMY SPOKESMAN DESCRIBED THE CASE AS THE BIGGEST ATTEMPT AT CUSTOMS EVASION SINCE THE OCCUPATION.

CORNELIS GOINGA, REGIONAL INSPECTOR OF THE U.S. CUSTOMS GROUP IN BREMEN, SAID THE CARGO WAS CONSIGNED BY A COMMITTEE FOR LIBERATED JEWS IN THE BRITISH ZONE OF GERMANY TO HAIFA, ISRAEL, FOR DISPLACED PERSONS WHO ARE EMIGRATING FROM GERMANY TO ISRAEL.

"INVESTIGATIONS HAVE SHOWN THAT THE CHARACTER OF THE GOODS HAS BEEN MISREPRESENTED IN THE CUSTOMS PAPERS," GOINGA SAID. "THIS, IN FACT, IS AN ILLEGAL SHIPMENT OF INDUSTRIAL MATERIAL."

GOINGA SAID WHEN PROHIBITED GOODS WERE DISCOVERED, LT.EDGAR M. JONES OF THE MILITARY POLICE CUSTOMS UNIT, ORDERED THE CARGO SEIZED. HE ORDERED ALL CRATES STILL SITTING ON THE DOCK AND 390 OTHERS ALREADY ABOARD THE DROMIT TO BE OPENED FOR INSPECTION.

ONE CRATE DISCLOSED AN AUTOMOBILE IN GOOD CONDITION. ANOTHER CONTAINED AGRICULTURAL EQUIPMENT. COMPLETE EQUIPMENT FOR A SHOE FACTORY ALSO WAS FOUND, PLUS VARIOUS TYPES OF MACHINE TOOLS AND CEMENT MIXERS. GOINGA SAID SOME OF THE ITEMS WERE BRAND NEW AND STILL IN PACKING CRATES FROM FACTORIES.

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, AUG.5-(AP)-JAMES THORN, CHAIRMAN OF THE UNITED NATIONS ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL, ORDERED THE SOVIET DELEGATE TODAY TO STOP USING WORDS SUCH AS "SLANDER AND LIE" IN COUNCIL DEBATE.

AMAZASP ARUTIUNIAN, REPRESENTING RUSSIA IN THE 18-NATION COUNCIL, ACCUSED BRITISH DELEGATE CORLEY SMITH OF UTTERING "LIES AND SLANDERS" IN A HEATED DEBATE WEDNESDAY. SMITH HAD CHARGED THE SOVIET UNION CONDUCTS HUGE SLAVE LABOR CAMPS.

ARUTIUNIAN WAS ABOUT TO SPEAK AGAIN ON THE SUBJECT TODAY WHEN THORN, NEW ZEALAND'S HIGH COMMISSIONER IN CANADA, STOPPED HIM.

"THE USE OF SUCH WORDS AS SLANDER AND LIE SHOULD NOT BE PERMITTED IN THIS COUNCIL," THORN SAID. "THEY CONVEY INSULTS. I DON'T BELIEVE THERE ARE ANY LIARS OR SLANDERERS HERE IN THIS COUNCIL."

ARUTIUNIAN ATTEMPTED TO SHOUT THE CHAIRMAN DOWN, BUT THORN CONTINUED HIS RULING: "IT IS TIME I ASSERTED MY AUTHORITY TO SEE THAT THIS DEBATE IS CONDUCTED IN AN ORDERLY MANNER."

ARUTIUNIAN FINALLY BROKE IN TO SAY:

"I HAVE A RIGHT TO SPEAK WITHOUT YOUR PERMISSION. I REPRESENT A SOVEREIGN STATE. I AM NOT FROM SOME PRIMITIVE TRIBE SOMEWHERE IN NEW ZEALAND. I REQUEST THAT I NOT BE INTERRUPTED."

"YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO SPEAK WHEN I CALL ON YOU," THORN ANSWERED. "AND AS TO A PRIMITIVE TRIBE IN NEW ZEALAND, IT HAS THE SAME RIGHTS AS WHITE MEN THERE. AND FURTHERMORE, THAT IS NOT QUITE FAIR."

THORN CONTINUED: "A DELEGATE CAN USE FORCEFUL LANGUAGE, BUT WORDS SUCH AS LIE AND SLANDER ARE NOT PERMISSIBLE."

"MR.PRESIDENT," ARUTIUNIAN SHOUTED, "I DON'T KNOW WHAT YOU ARE THINKING OF, BUT YOU ARE NOT SHOWING OBJECTIVE BEHAVIOR. WHAT I SPEAK HERE IS THE TRUTH. THE ARGUMENTS BROUGHT OUT BY OTHERS ARE PRACTICALLY POLITICAL BLACKMAIL."

AS ARUTIUNIAN CONTINUED HIS SPEECH, BRITISH DELEGATE SMITH ROSE ON A POINT OF ORDER. HE DISPUTED THE ASSERTION OF THE SOVIET DELEGATE THAT HE (SMITH) HAD DESCRIBED SLAVERY AS A "NATURAL THING" IN SOME BRITISH COLONIES.

THORN SAID HE AGREED SMITH HAD NOT MADE SUCH A STATEMENT.

ARUTIUNIAN SHOUTED: "YOU HAVE TO RESPECT OUR PROCEDURE HERE, NOT ONLY FOR YOUR FRIENDS, BUT FOR THE MINORITY." HE ADDED: "I KNOW YOU ADVOCATE FOR HIM, BUT I ASK YOU AGAIN, PLEASE, DO NOT INTERRUPT MY SPEECH."

THE SOVIET DELEGATE THEN CONTINUED WITH A STATEMENT ON BARIOUS PROPOSALS SUBMITTED FOR AN INVESTIGATION OF FORCED LABOR CHARGES.

"YOU ARE IN A STATE OF ALERT IN ORDER TO SAFEGUARD THE PEACEFUL RECONSTRUCTION OF OUR SOCIALIST COUNTRY...

HE SAID RUMORS OF A THREATENED SOVIET ARMY ATTACK ON YUGOSLAVIA WERE FIRST SPREAD BY PEOPLE IN WESTERN COUNTRIES WHO THOUGHT "WE WOULD HELTER-SKELTER FALL ON THIS BOSOMS TO SAVE OURSELVES." HE ADDED:

"WE KNEW THAT THE RED ARMY CANNOT ATTACK A SOCIALIST COUNTRY BECAUSE THAT WOULD MEAN THE END OF SOCIALISM IN THE WORLD."

"BUT TODAY," HE CONTINUED, "THOSE IN THE EAST ARE ALSO TRYING TO INTIMIDATE US, DISSEMINATING VARIOUS RUMORS OVER THE SOCALLED BLACK MARKET ON SO MANY AND SO MANY SOVIET DIVISIONS ON THIS OR THAT PLACE, ON SO MANY ARTILLERY TROOPS HERE OR THERE."

(Advance) Oslo, Aug. 5--(ap)--The year-long dispute between Britain and Norway over fishing rights off the Norwegian coast will be placed before the International Court of Justice in The Hague, a foreign office said today.

Norway agreed to do so after a sharply-worded British memorandum of July 19 had foreseen possible clashes between Norwegian and British fishing inspection ships if current regulations were to be maintained.

During the past few years several British trawlers have been seized by Norwegian authorities and fined for fishing in Norwegian territorial waters.

The Norwegian foreign office sought a solution to the question by mutual agreement. The British, however, preferred

MOSCOW, AUG.5-(AP)-MOSCOW NEWSPAPERS TODAY PUBLISHED THEIR FIRST STORIES OF THE BRITISH SLOOP AMETHYST'S ESCAPE DOWN THE YANGTZE RIVER LAST SATURDAY.

THE ACCOUNT QUOTED CHINESE COMMUNIST GEN.YUAN CHUNG-HSIEN AS SAYING THE BRITISH VESSEL TOOK A CHINESE SHIP WITH IT AS A HOSTAGE AND LATER SANK THE CHINESE SHIP, WITH THE LOSS OF SEVERAL HUNDRED LIVES.

THE AMETHYST FIRED ON JUNKS TRYING TO PICK UP SURVIVORS, THE GENERAL'S STATEMENT SAID, ADDING: "HOWEVER, NOW THE CHINESE PEOPLE AND ALL THE WORLD SEES HOW IMPERIALISTS RETURN EVIL FOR GOOD." THE GENERAL SAID THE CHINESE HAD ALLOWED BRITISH SEAMEN EARLIER TO GO ASHORE AND EVEN RETURNED TWO WOUNDED SAILORS.

--DASH--

A SIMILAR CLAIM THAT THE AMETHYST HAD SUNK A CHINESE SHIP WAS MADE TUESDAY IN A CHINESE COMMUNIST BROADCAST FROM NANKING. ANSWERING THAT CLAIM, A BRITISH ADMIRALTY SPOKESMAN IN LONDON SAID: "CATEGORICALLY DENIED." THE ADMIRALTY SAID COMMUNIST ARTILLERY FIRE HIT A COMMUNIST SHIP IN THE CONFUSION OF THE INCIDENT.

CHINESE COMMUNIST SHORE BATTERIES HAD HELD THE 1,400-TON BRITISH WARSHIP ON THE YANGTZE BETWEEN NANKING AND SHANGHAI AFTER A BATTLE IN MID-APRIL THAT RESULTED IN THE DEATH OF THE SHIP'S CAPTAIN AND 17 CREWMEN. THE SHIP GOT OUT OF THE TRAP BY MAKING A DRAMATIC DASH DOWN THE RIVER.

NANKING, AUG.5-(AP)-THIS ONCE-THRIVING CAPITAL OF NATIONALIST CHINA IS WITHERING UNDER COMMUNIST RULE TO LITTLE MORE THAN A GHOST CITY.

THE UNITED STATES EMBASSY THIS WEEK TRANSFERRED TO CANTON, WHERE IT PREVIOUSLY HAD MAINTAINED AN OFFICE. IT RETAINS ONLY AN OFFICE IN NANKING. (AMBASSADOR J.LEIGHTON STUART IS EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON TO REPORT.)

MOST OTHER DIPLOMATIC MISSIONS ARE GETTING DOWN TO SKELETON STAFFS. DIPLOMATS STILL HERE ARE ANXIOUS TO LEAVE FOR PERSONAL REASONS AND WILL THIN OUT RAPIDLY AS TRANSPORTATION BECOMES AVAILABLE. THEY ARE NOT ACCORDED THE USUAL PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITIES BECAUSE THERE ARE NO FORMAL RELATIONS BETWEEN THE COMMUNISTS AND FOREIGN POWERS.

THE RED OCCUPATION HAS STRIPPED NANKING OF ITS MAIN FUNCTION AS THE LEADING CHINESE ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER, AND THE ALWAYS-LIMITED COMMERCIAL LIFE ALSO IS GRINDING SLOWLY TOWARDS A HALT.

FOR EXAMPLE, THE AVERAGE OF CHECKS PASSING THROUGH THE BANK CLEARING CENTER IS NOW 200 DAILY, COMPARED WITH 20,000 BEFORE THE COMMUNIST TAKE-OVER IN APRIL.

HUNDREDS OF RESIDENCES AND OFFICE BUILDINGS STAND EMPTY, AS CHINESE WHO ARE ABLE TO DO SO LEAVE THE CITY. PRICES HAVE TRIPLED IN THREE MONTHS WHILE INCOME LEVELS HAVE DECLINED SHARPLY. THE COMMUNISTS NEVERTHELESS HAVE INCREASED TAXES TO LEVELS THAT SOME SMALL BUSINESS MEN CALL "UNBEARABLE."

MORALE OF THE PEOPLE ALSO HAS SAGGED UNDER THE SMALL BUT DAILY NATIONALIST AIR RAIDS. UTILITIES, THE WATERFRONT AND RAILWAYS ARE THE USUAL TARGETS.

NANKING TODAY IS WITHOUT ELECTRICITY OR RUNNING WATER WHILE THE POWER PLANT UNDERGOES EXTENSIVE REPAIRS.

PRIVATE AUTOMOBILES ARE INFREQUENT SIGHTS ON THE NEARLY EMPTY STREETS. GASOLINE COSTS ABOUT $3 A GALLON AND THE CITY LICENSE TAX IS $33 A MONTH.

FOREIGNERS ARE NOT PERMITTED TO STRAY OUTSIDE THE CITY WALLS, BUT MAY TRAVEL TO SHANGHAI AFTER OBTAINING VISAS.

AMERICAN BROADCASTS CONSTITUTE THE MAIN SOURCE OF NEWS FOR THE FOREIGN COMMUNITY. THE CONTROLLED PRESS CONTAINS ALMOST NOTHING BUT OFFICIAL HANDOUTS AND REGULAR QUOTATIONS FROM TASS, THE OFFICIAL SOVIET NEWS AGENCY.

CITIZENS HAVE ABOUT GIVEN UP HOPE THAT THE REDS WILL ESTABLISH THEIR CAPITAL HERE. THERE IS SOME VAGUE TALK OF MAKING NANKING A PRODUCTION AND EDUCATIONAL CENTER, BUT OTHERWISE THE FUTURE IS BLANK.

THE CLOSEST RED APPROACH TO CANTON, HOWEVER, CAME ON THE NORTHEAST. THE COMMUNISTS MADE A 25-MILE ADVANCE SOUTH OF NEWLY CAPTURED SUICHWAN, WHICH IS 240 MILES NORTHEAST OF CANTON.

(300) WAR SURPLUS

WASHINGTON,AUG. 5-(AP)-A HOUSE-APPROVED PLAN TO KILL OFF THE WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATION--WAS REJECTED TODAY BY THE SENATE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE.

INSTEAD, THE COMMITTEE ASKED THE SENATE TO GIVE THE NEW GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION SOME $26,500,000 (M) TO TAKE OVER WAA ACTIVITIES FOR THE CURRENT FISCAL YEAR.

IN SETTING UP THE GENERAL SERVICE ADMINISTRATION, CONGRESS DIRECTED IT TAKE OVER WAA FUNCTIONS AND THE LATTER BE ABOLISHED, SO THE SAME RESULT WILL BE OBTAINED.

JESS LARSON, HEAD OF THE NEW AGENCY AND FORMER BOSS OF WAA WHICH TECHNICALLY EXPIRED JUNE 30, TOLD SENATORS THAT BY SPENDING THE ADDITIONAL MILLIONS THE GOVERNMENT WILL COLLECT $96,500,000 (M) MORE THAN THE ADDED COSTS.

THIS WAS THE BIGGEST CHANGE MADE BY THE SENATE COMMITTEE IN A CATCH-ALL DEFICIENCY MONEY BILL FOR THE FISCAL YEAR THAT ENDED JUNE 31. THE HOUSE HAD ALLOWED $127,000,000 (M).

BUT THE SENATE COMMITTEE RAISED THE TOTAL TO $162,818,469 (M) IF THE SENATE APPROVES THE $26,500,000 FUND FOR THE RECENTLY CREATED GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION. IT WILL BE OFFERED AS A SEPARATE AMENDMENT TO AVOID RECENT SENATE REJECTIONS OF NEW LEGISLATION IN MONEY BILLS.

WASHINGTON,AUG. 5-(AP)-S.H.WILLISTON, WESTERN MINING OFFICIAL, TOLD A SENATE COMMITTEE TODAY A "EUROPEAN CARTEL" BRAGGED IN LONDON RECENTLY THAT IT THROTTLED AMERICAN PRODUCTION OF MERCURY, A MATERIAL OF STRATEGIC WARTIME VALUE.

WILLISTON IS VICE PRESIDENT OF THE CORDERO MINING CO., OF NEVADA, AND CHAIRMAN OF THE STRATEGIC METALS PRODUCTION COMMITTEE OF THE AMERICAN MINING CONGRESS.

HE WAS TESTIFYING IN SUPPORT OF A BILL PROPOSING FEDERAL AID FOR MERCURY, MANGANESE, ANTIMONY AND TUNGSTEN MINING INDUSTRIES.

THE BILL, BY SENATOR MCCARRAN (D-NEV), PROPOSES THAT AMERICAN PRODUCERS OF THOSE METALS BE PAID AMOUNTS EQUAL TO DUTIES COLLECTED ON IMPORTS OF THE FOUR METALS.

WITHOUT THOSE METALS, WILLISTON SAID, AMERICA "COULD NOT FIGHT A WAR," AND THE INDUSTRIES CAN NOT SURVIVE LONGER WITHOUT FEDERAL AID.

W.LUNSFORD LONG, VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL COUNSEL OF THE TUNGSTEN MINING CORP., OF NORTH CAROLINA, WHICH HE SAID IS THE LAST SURVIVING AMERICAN PRODUCER OF TUNGSTEN, TESTIFIED HIS COMPANY IS LOSING MONEY.

HE SAID IT IS STAYING IN OPERATION ONLY IN THE HOPE OF FEDERAL AID WITHOUT WHICH IT PROBABLY WILL HAVE TO CLOSE.

MCCARRAN TOLD THE COMMITTEE WARTIME-ESSENTIAL RESERVES OF THOSE MINERALS WOULD BE "LOST BEYOND RECOVERY" IF THE MINES HAVE TO CLOSE.

HE SAID THE MINES CAN NOT MEET THE COMPETITION OF CHEAP-LABOR FOREIGN PRODUCERS WITHOUT HELP FROM THE GOVERNMENT SUCH AS HIS BILL PROPOSES.

WILLISTON SAID HE BELIEVED SUPPORT FOR THE AILING AMERICAN COPPER INDUSTRY SHOULD BE HANDLED IN A SEPARATE FEDERAL AID BILL.

THE COPPER PRODUCERS CAN'T AGREE ON HOW FAR TO GO IN SAVING MARGINAL MINES WHOSE ORES ARE LEAN, HE SAID, AND THE FORMULA FOR HELPING THEM PROBABLY WOULD NOT BE THE SAME AS FOR THE FOUR METALS MENTIONED IN THE MCCARRAN BILL.

BUT IN SENDING THE FIRST BILL TO CONGRESS, THE STATE DEPARTMENT GAVE CONGRESS AN OUTLINE OF COUNTRIES IT WAS PROPOSED TO ASSIST AND THE AMOUNT WORKED OUT IN THE PROGRAM FOR THEM.

IN THE NEW BILL, THE NATIONS ARE NAMED. IT SPECIFIES THAT AID SHALL GO TO REARM NATIONS SIGNING THE NORTH ATLANTIC TREATY ($1,160,990,000), GREECE AND TURKEY ($211,370,000 IN ADDITION TO $50,000,000 ALREADY VOTED), AND IRAN, KOREA AND THE PHILIPPINES ($27,640,000).

HOWEVER, THE AMOUNTS FOR THE INDIVIDUAL NATIONS ARE NOT STATED.

THE BILL GIVES BROAD RECOGNITION TO THE COUNCIL OF 12 NATIONS AND THE DEFENSE COMMITTEE WHICH ARE TO BE SET UP TO CARRY OUT MUTUAL AID AND DEFENSE PLANNING UNDER THE ATLANTIC TREATY.

NOTING THAT CREATION OF THE COUNCIL AND COMMITTEE IS EXPECTED, THE BILL STATES THAT IMMEDIATE INCREASE IN THE ARMS STRENGTH OF THE TREATY NATIONS IS ESSENTIAL TO THEIR ABILITY TO TAKE PART "IN ANY PLANS FOR THE COMMON DEFENSE OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC AREA WHICH MAY BE DEVELOPED UNDER THE TREATY."

IT GOES ON TO SAY THAT SUCH AID "SHALL BE CONSISTENT WITH THE COMMON DEFENSE OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC AREA, AND SHALL BE FURNISHED SO AS TO FURTHER THE DEVELOPMENT OF DEFENSE PLANS OF THE COUNCIL AND THE DEFENSE COMMITTEE."

THE BILL THUS SOUGHT TO MEET ONE OF THE MOST INSISTENT CRITICISMS WHICH HAVE BEEN VOICED DURING HEARINGS ON THE BILL BY THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE.

MEMBERS ASKED WITNESSES OVER AND OVER WHETHER TREATY NATIONS WOULD COORDINATE THEIR DEFENSE PLANS UNDER THE ARMS BILL. WITNESSES DID NOT CHOOSE TO BE SPECIFIC IN PUBLIC BUT THEY TRIED TO ASSURE CONGRESSMEN THAT COOPERATION WAS INHERENT IN THE PROGRAM.

"THE WHOLE THING HAS GOT TO BE REDUCED."

VORYS ALSO STOOD FIRM ON HIS CONTENTION THAT AN ADMINISTRATION POLICY TOWARD CHINA SHOULD BE SPELLED OUT BEFORE EMBARKING ON THE REARMAMENT PROGRAM FOR EUROPE.

"I HAD HOPED," HE SAID, THAT REGARDLESS OF THE WHITEWASH OF PAST MISTAKES, THE WHITE PAPER WOULD END UP WITH A REALISTIC STATEMENT OF POLICIES INVOLVING OUR SECURITY IN ASIA, BUT IT DID NOT.

"IF WE DON'T HAVE A POLICY AND PLAN FOR OUR SECURITY IN HALF OF THE WORLD, IT IS HARD TO GO ALONG WITH THOSE SAME PLANNERS FOR THE OTHER HALF OF THE WORLD."

THE NEW BILL WON QUALIFIED APPROVAL FROM SENATOR DULLES (R-NY) WHO HAD BEEN WORKING CLOSELY WITH SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH) ON THE PROGRAM. DULLES SAID IN A STATEMENT THAT IT "AVOIDS MOST OF THE GLARING DEFECTS IN THE ORIGINAL BILL. X X X THE ADMINISTRATION HAS BEEN COOPERATIVE AND HAS SHOWN A DISPOSITION TO MEET THE POINT OF VIEW OF SENATOR VANDENBERG AND MYSELF. THAT WILL CONTRIBUTE TO CONTINUING BIPARTISAN COOPERATION ON FOREIGN POLICY."

THE JOINT SENATE COMMITTEES WILL OPEN HEARINGS MONDAY ON THE MEASURE WITH ACHESON THE FIRST WITNESS. JOHNSON WILL TESTIFY TUESDAY AND THE SENATORS AFTERWARD WILL HEAR FROM THE MILITARY CHIEFS OF STAFF WHO NOW ARE CONFERRING WITH MILITARY LEADERS IN EUROPE.

AS THE NEW BILL WAS DISCLOSED THE HOUSE COMMITTEE CONTINUED HEARING WITNESSES URGING APPROVAL OF AN ARMS FOR EUROPE PROGRAM.

EDGAR ANSELL MOWRER, WASHINGTON INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS WRITER, TESTIFIED THE PROGRAM IS "ESSENTIAL TO GETTING OUT OF OUR DIFFICULTIES WITHOUT WAR AND WITHOUT TROUBLE."

ANOTHER WITNESS, BERNARD WEITZER, REPRESENTING THE JEWISH WAR VETERANS OF THE UNITED STATES, SAID THAT WITH A REARMAMENT PROGRAM FOR EUROPE "THE THREAT OF AGGRESSION WILL CERTAINLY BE LESSENED. X X X OUR PROMPT ACTION WILL THUS SPEED THE DAY WHEN OUR FRIENDS WILL HAVE MADE THEIR DEFENSES ADEQUATE--AND ADEQUATE DEFENSES FOR THEM ARE OUR DEFENSES AS WELL."

"IF THE PRESIDENT HAS YIELDED ON ONE MAJOR AREA OF CONTROVERSY, HE CAN BACK UP ON ANOTHER," A TOP REPUBLICAN ON THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE TOLD NEWSMEN. "HE WILL HAVE NO CHOICE. HE WILL HAVE TO SETTLE FOR A SMALLER AMOUNT AND A MORE LIMITED PROGRAM."

REPUBLICANS AND A STRONG GROUP OF DEMOCRATS ON THE COMMITTEE, WHICH IS CONSIDERING LEGISLATION TO GIVE LIFE TO THE PROGRAM, SAID THE PRESIDENT'S DECISION NOT TO PRESS FOR THE BROAD POWERS ORIGINALLY REQUESTED AMOUNTED TO AN ADMISSION THAT THE ENTIRE PROGRAM CAN BE TRIMMED SAFELY.

MR.TRUMAN TOLD A NEWS CONFERENCE YESTERDAY THAT HE DOESN'T CARE WHETHER HE GETS AUTHORITY WHICH CRITICS HAD CLAIMED WOULD HAVE EMPOWERED HIM TO GIVE MILITARY AID TO ANY COUNTRY IN THE WORLD UNDER ALMOST UNLIMITED CONDITIONS.

THAT WAS THE MAIN THING OPPONENTS OBJECTED TO WHEN THE PLAN WAS SUBMITTED LAST WEEK. MOST OF THEM AGREE THAT THERE MUST BE SOME KIND OF PROGRAM TO HELP ATLANTIC PACT AND OTHER FRIENDLY NATIONS ARM AGAINST POSSIBLE SOVIET AGGRESSION.

SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH) SAID THE PRESIDENT'S DECISION TO DROP THE CONTROVERSIAL POWER-GRANT PROVISION "LOOKS LIKE ENCOURAGING PROGRESS TOWARD A BILL THAT CAN BE PASSED."

BUT THERE STILL ARE "SOME OTHER HURDLES," HE ADDED, WITHOUT ELABORATION.

SENATOR DULLES (R-NY), ANOTHER CRITIC, SAID THE PRESIDENT'S ATTITUDE WILL MAKE IT MUCH EASIER TO GET CONGRESSIONAL APPROVAL OF THE PROGRAM.

HOUSE COMMITTEE MEMBERS WHO WANT TO GET THE BILL ON THE HOUSE FLOOR BY THE MIDDLE OF THIS MONTH WITHHELD COMMENT ON A MOVE BY SENATOR KNOWLAND (R-CALIF) AND 11 OTHER SENATE REPUBLICANS TO EARMARK $175,000,000 OF THE ARMS PROGRAM FOR AID TO NON-COMMUNIST CHINA.

WHILE MANY HOUSE MEMBERS BELIEVE CHINA SHOULD BE INCLUDED, THEY WANT TO WITHHOLD A FINAL PLAN UNTIL THEY HAVE HAD A CHANCE TO READ THROUGH THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S CHINA WHITE PAPER" BEING MADE PUBLIC TODAY.

THEY ALSO WANT TO HEAR WHAT THE OPPOSITION HAS TO SAY ABOUT THE PROGRAM.

TO DATE, THE COMMITTEE HAS HEARD ONLY BACKERS OF THE BILL. TODAY IT LISTED TEN WITNESSES FOR AN ALL-DAY HEARING (9:30 A.M. EST) AND MOST OF THEM WERE EXPECTED TO OPPOSE THE PROGRAM.

THE VOTE WAS A THUMPING VICTORY FOR THE ADMINISTRATION IN THE REVERSAL OF A VOTE LATE YESTERDAY WHICH KEPT THE AMENDMENT IN THE BILL.

SENATORS VANDENBERG OF MICHIGAN AND DULLES OF NEW YORK LED THE FIGHT ON THE REPUBLICAN SIDE AGAINST THE AMENDMENT.

VANDENBERG ARGUED THE "PENALTY SHOULD FIT THE CRIME" IF THERE HAD BEEN ANY TREATY VIOLATION. BUT HE SAID THE DISCRIMINATION CHARGED BY THE AMERICANS IN MOROCCO DID NOT WARRANT A PENALTY OF THE MAGNITUDE PROPOSED IN THE AMENDMENT.

DULLES CONTENDED THE AMENDMENT WOULD BE IN EFFECT A UNILATERAL ACTION BY THE UNITED STATES TO INTERPRET TREATIES IN ITS OWN WAY.

HE SAID IN CASES WHERE AMERICANS ARE TREATED UNFAIRLY THE STATE DEPARTMENT SHOULD IRON OUT THE TROUBLE IN AN ORDERLY PROCESS WITHOUT INJURING INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS.

NEW YORK, AUG.5-(AP)-A ST.LOUIS, MO., COMMUNIST OFFICIAL TODAY DISPUTED TESTIMONY OF A GOVERNMENT WITNESS WHO SAID U.S. COMMUNISTS WOULD SABOTAGE THE AMERICAN WAR EFFORT IF A FIGHT COMES WITH RUSSIA.

ROBERT MANEWITZ, THE OFFICIAL, FLATLY DENIED THE STATEMENTS OF AN FBI INFORMANT, ALSO FROM ST.LOUIS, WHO APPEARED EARLIER FOR THE GOVERNMENT AT THE COMMUNIST CONSPIRACY TRIAL.

THE INFORMANT HAD SAID HIS TESTIMONY WAS BASED ON A TALK BY THE MISSOURI COMMUNIST PARTY CHAIRMAN.

MANEWITZ, 32-YEAR-OLD MEMBER OF THE PARTY'S STATE BOARD AND STATE COMMITTEE IN MISSOURI, IS THE LATEST IN A SERIES OF WITNESSES CALLED BY THE DEFENSE TO REFUTE TESTIMONY OF FBI UNDERCOVER WORKERS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY.

ONE OF THESE INFORMANTS WAS THOMAS A.YOUNGLOVE, A BUILDING CONTRACTOR, WHO TOLD OF STUDYING IN A SCHOOL AT WHICH MANEWITZ WAS AN INSTRUCTOR AND OF ATTENDING A MEETING ADDRESSED BY RALPH SHAW, THE PARTY'S CHAIRMAN IN MISSOURI.

YOUNGLOVE SAID SHAW REPORTED ON A MEETING OF THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE IN NEW YORK WHICH THE STATE CHAIRMAN SAID WAS ATTENDED BY A "PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE OF STALIN."

THE INFORMANT QUOTED SHAW AS SAYING THIS REPRESENTATIVE DECLARED "WAR IS NEAR AND IF IT COMES WE MUST BE PREPARED TO GO UNDERGROUND."

SHAW ADDED THAT "IF WAR COMES, WE WILL DO ALL WE CAN AS PARTY MEMBERS TO SABOTAGE THE WAR EFFORT," YOUNGLOVE TESTIFIED.

MANEWITZ TOLD THE JURY SHAW "DID NOT SAY ANY OF THESE THINGS." ON THE CONTRARY, THE DEFENSE WITNESS SAID, SHAW POINTED TO A NEWSPAPER INTERVIEW IN WHICH PREMIER STALIN HAD STATED HIS VIEW THAT WAR WAS NOT INEVITABLE.

THE DEFENSE WITNESS ALSO SAID THERE WERE FIVE VITAL PAGES MISSING IN A GOVERNMENT EXHIBIT INTRODUCED WHEN YOUNGLOVE WAS ON THE STAND.

THE EXHIBIT WAS A STUDY OUTLINE IN A COURSE WHICH YOUNGLOVE TOOK. MANEWITZ, AN INSTRUCTOR IN THE COURSE, SAID THE FIVE PAGES CONCERNED SETTING UP SOCIALISM IN THE U.S. BY PEACEFUL MEANS. THE DEFENSE INTRODUCED AS AN EXHIBIT OF ITS OWN A COPY OF THE OUTLINE WITH THE FIVE PAGES INCLUDED.

THE 11 DEFENDANTS, ALL TOP LEADERS OF THE AMERICAN COMMUNIST PARTY, ARE CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO ADVOCATE THE VIOLENT OVERTHROW OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT.

MANEWITZ SAID HE TAUGHT STUDENTS TAKING THE COURSE THAT "THE MAIN AIM OF THE PARTY WAS TO SHOW THE MAJORITY OF THE WORKING CLASS THAT CAPITALISM, WITH ITS BOC-KAI-BOC EXISTENCE, COULD NOT SERVE THE WELFARE OF THE PEOPLE AND THAT THEREFORE THERE WAS A NEED FOR REALIZING THAT ONLY SOCIALISM COULD BRING ABOUT A TRUE DEMOCRACY AND A SECURE WORLD AND AMERICA.

ONLY ONE WITNESS, JOHN GATES, EDITOR OF THE COMMUNIST DAILY WORKER AND A DEFENDANT, HAS BEEN PUNISHED FOR SUCH REFUSAL. HE SPENT 30 DAYS IN JAIL.

BUT THE JUDGE ADMONISHED DEFENSE COUNSEL YESTERDAY:

"IF A WITNESS IS DIRECTED BY ME TO ANSWER A QUESTION AND REFUSES, I WOULD HAVE NO ALTERNATIVE BUT TO SEND THAT PERSON TO JAIL--AS I DID IN THE CASE OF MR. GATES--WHICH IS PRECISELY WHAT I WILL DO IF THE OCCASION ARISES."

THE JUDGE SAID PREVIOUS WITNESSES HAVE "DELIBERATELY AND IN SEQUENCE REFUSED TO ANSWER QUESTIONS."

"IT'S A MOST EXTRAORDINARY THING THAT BOTH THEY AND THEIR COUNSEL PERSISTENTLY PICK THE QUESTIONS THEY WILL AND WILL NOT ANSWER," HE SAID.

THE JUDGE'S REMARKS CAME ON A DAY THAT SAW A QUICKENING IN THE TEMPO OF THE TRIAL, IN WHICH 11 TOP RED LEADERS ARE ACCUSED OF CONSPIRING TO ADVOCATE FORCIBLE OVERTHROW OF THE GOVERNMENT.

Denfeld Cites Accord On Pact Defense Plan

Paris, Aug. 6 (AP)—Admiral Louis Denfeld, United Sates Navy member of the joint chiefs of staff, today said there is "great unanimity of opionion" on the way the Atlantic pact defenses should be organized.

Denfeld spoke at a news conference in the American Embassy, which followed the talks by the American joint chiefs of staff with French, Belgian, Dutch and Portuguese military leaders.

At the conference with Denfeld were Gen. Omar Bradley, Army, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force.

Portugal Attends

Portugal's military delegation also attended.

Denfeld described as "most successful" the talks of the American officers with western European military leaders this week.

He emphasized that the talks were confined to an exchange of views "to get ideas on military organization" and said no decisions were made.

Ideas Exchanged

"What we did was to get information so that we could both advise our own governments and make up our own minds on the best military organization" under the Atlantic pact, Denfeld said of the European trip.

Asked what sort of ideas were exchanged, he said "I prefer not to go into that."

Asked about a supreme military council for the twelve-nation alliance, Denfeld said a lot of suggestions had been received. The whole thing "is very fluid," he said, and he saw no difficulty in setting it up.

"Entirely Open"

A headquarters for the pact is a matter that is "still entirely open" and a matter for political discussion, the Admiral said.

Would a supreme council be set up by the end of the year, as he indicated in London?

"Well, that was just a date I picked up out of the air," Denfeld said, "but I don't see any reason why it should ont be done."

Portuguese General Jose Felipe Barros Rodrigues was asked whether his country is still pressing for Spain's admission to the Atlantic pact. "We didn't discuss that," he said. "It is a political question."

General Bradley, in a reply to a question whether Europe's arms needs had been discussed, said no and that "the western European countries have had nine months to work out what they need, so that they have pretty well worked up their estimates."

"Very Successful"

The other Atlantic pact countries, he added, had not had time to do so. France, Britian, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg are in the Western European Union, a previous defensive alliance.

Asked about military planning by the Western European Union, Admiral Denfeld replied:

"From our talks with members of that union, we understand they have been very successful."

The situation in Asia has not been discussed, he added, because it was "beyond the sphere of the Atlantic pact."

STAFF CHIEFS END SURVEY

Accord Reported On Western Europe Defense Needs

Paris, Aug. 6 (AP)—America's three top military men completed their preliminary survey of western European defense needs today, apparently optimistic but strictly non-commital on their findings.

"We had most successful talks. There was great unanimity of opinion on almost all questions," Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, United States chief of naval operations, told a news conference at the American Embassy here.

Denfeld emphasized, however, that "no decisions were made" on key points of the future organization of North Atlantic treaty countries against aggression.

Fly To Vienna Today

The naval chief spoke for himself, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air force chief. The three since last week end have seen the military leaders of all nine western European members of the twelve-nation Atlantic accord, concluding today with the Netherlands, Belgium and Portugal.

Tomorrow they fly to Vienna, but that trip is for inspection of American occupation forces. Austria is not a member of the alliance.

The Americans gave no solid answers to a dozen or more questions fired at them by correspondents. Points on which they parried included where the Atlantic treaty organization will have headquarters and whether and where it will put up a defense line facing Soviet-dominated eastern Europe. How and when it will absorb the existing Brussels alliance of Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg also went unanswered.

Police Are Ready

Denfeld even cast some doubt on whether the Atlantic accord organiation would be completed by the end of this year, as he had indicated earlier this week in London.

"That was just a date I picked up out of the air," he said, "but I don't see any reason why it should not be done."

Denfeld said the main purpose of the three was to gather information and give information in conferences. Bradley and Vandenberg, for the most part, were silent.

Truckloads of police were parked within easy range of the Embassy to prevent any Communist demonstration, such as was attempted yesterday, but nothing developed. The Place de la Concorde, in front of the Embassy, was quiet.

Russia Attacks Tour

Before today's talks with the Dutch, Belgians and Portuguese, the Americans had seen military leaders of France, Britain, Luxembourg, Italy, Norway and Denmark, thus conferring with all the other eleven members of the Atlantic treaty except Canada and Iceland.

[Russia continued attacks on the staff chiefs' tour and the alliance itself today. The Moscow newspaper Izvestia said the United States Government conceived the tour as a means of propaganda to combat what it called growing opposition in the United States and other capitalist countries to a world armaments race.

[Izvestia forecast the chiefs of staff would return to Washington with a tale of "a western European Red Riding Hood and an awful Soviet wolf."]

A Big Question

What military men in Europe have been asking is information on how much armament will be supplied to Europe by the United States for defense, when it will start coming, who is to get what types and what the defense strategy will be.

On these questions, Admiral Denfeld was careful to say that such points had not been discussed, or at least not decided.

A big question before most Europeans is whether a defense line would be established on the Elbe, in central Germany, on the Rhine, or whether in case of Russian attack the whole of Europe would be given up with limited resistance and only Britain be defended initially.

But questions on this went unanswered by Denfeld.

"There was no discussion of strategy," he said.

Europe Council Plans Initial Conference

Paris, Aug. 6 (AP)—Leading statesmen of western Europe will assemble at Strasbourg Monday to consider proposals designed to give concrete expression to the centuries-old dream of European unity.

This inaugural session of the Council of Europe will give its attention to practical problems having to do with public works, patents and social security. One major proposal expected to be considered calls for the creation of an international European passport.

It is the hope of many of western Europe's leaders that the decisions taken will constitute a sizable advance toward a distant goal—a real United States of Europe similar to America's federal system of government.

Ground Already Broken

American dollars already have broken the ground for the building of continental unity. For more than a year the Organization for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC), an administrative agency of the Marshall plan, has been making practical decisions in its nineteen member areas.

As yet no contact has been made between the OEEC and the Council of Europe. This may be done after the council gets organized next week.

Members of the Council of Europe are: Britain, France, Belgium, Denmark, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway and Sweden. Greece and Turkey will be admitted soon.

Few Blocks Seen

In addition the OEEC has Austria, Iceland, Portugal, Switzerland, Bizonia, the French zone of Germany and the British-United States zone of Trieste. Except for Portugal and Switzerland, which take little part in OEEC anyhow, there would not seem to be much to keep the two organizations apart. Switzerland might hold back because of her traditional political neutrality. Portugal might be unacceptable to some western European governments which classify the Portuguese regime as undemocratic.

OEEC's job is economic. The Council of Europe's job is mainly political, though it can and undoubtedly will take up economic matters too. Both organizations have strictly limited powers, but may get larger ones if the sentiment for European union grows.

Monday Meeting Set

The Council of Europe's committee of ministers will meet in the Strasbourg city hall Monday. This group consists of the foreign ministers of each member country.

It will consider what the 87 delegates to the consultative assembly will work on, beginning Wednesday. The 87 delegates have been chosen from the ten member countries, roughly on the basis of population. Most of them are members of their countries' parliaments.

The main parties in each of the countries will be well represented except the Communists, who term the Council of Europe a plot against the Soviet Union. It is estimated that the largest delegation will be made up of representatives of the Socialist and the Catholic parties of the member countries.

General Discussion

Informants said subjects to be considered include a general discussion of the purposes of the Council of Europe, a joint European patent system, a unified policy on social security, creation of an international European passport and the encouragement of inter-European trade and the movement of persons and tourists.

Proposed Curb On ECA Irks Briton

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP).—A British Labor Party source expressed indignation today over a proposal in the U. S. Senate to cut off dollar aid to countries that nationalize their basic industries.

"It would be a direct violation of American high-level promises to keep out of internal policies of Marshall Aid nations," he told a reporter. The speaker refused to be identified by name.

MEDDLING BY U.S. FEARED IN BRITAIN

London Upset By Attack In Senate On Nationalization

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—Britain's Socialist Government had a new worry tonight added to its economic woes and Washington's delay in approving new dollar aid.

It was that American politicians were attempting to stick a tentative finger—via the Marshall plan—into British internal affairs.

A Labor party source expressed indignation at the proposal of Senator Kem (R., Mo.) to cut off American help from nations which nationalize basic industries. The question of nationalization is one of the hottest political subjects in England.

"That would be a direct violation of American high-level promises to keep out of the internal policies of Marshall-aid nations," he said.

Heart Of Party's Program

Well-informed quarters said this reaction represented the opinion of both the Labor party and the Socialist Government of Britain.

Nationalization is the heart of the Labor party's program. It has already become the main theme of pre-election debates between Government spokesmen and the Conservative opposition.

"Britain entered the Marshall-plan program with the distinct understanding from responsible American leaders that aid would not include interference in the internal affairs of this country," the party source added.

Official Government spokesmen, including the Foreign Office, were silent. But usually-informed sources said both Whitehall and Downing street were aroused at Kem's attempted intervention into the touchy political problem here.

That bristling was not restricted to the Socialists. The weekly Spectator—a Conservative publication—said in a dispatch from its Washington correspondent.

Drive Opened By Churchill

"Many a British Tory, though accustomed publicly to denounce the Labor Government's nationalization plans, may well have privately bristled at the idea that an American holding public office should recommend such interference in British domestic affairs."

The Kem amendment caught Britain at a particularly delicate time. Conservatives under Winston Churchill had just opened their campaign with promises to halt the Labor Government's nationalization program if they win the general elections, which must be held sometime before autumn of next year.

Laborites under Prime Minister Attlee took up the challenge with a promise to pursue their program, which already has put railroads, coal mines, airlines, communications, the Bank of England, gas and electricity under Government ownership. Nationalization of the steel and iron industry is included in a bill almost through Parliament, and Socialist leaders plan to move in on sugar, cement and some types of insurance.

Fate Of U.N. With People, Attlee Avers

Arundel, England, Aug. 6 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee said today the ultimate success or failure of the United Nations rests with the people of the world.

Attlee spoke at a United Nations Association rally on the grounds of ancient Arundel Castle, seat of the Dukes of Norfolk. He appeared completely recovered from a chill which kept him in bed last week end.

Attlee said the United Nations has not achieved all its original objectives and has become "an arena in which differences and animosities seem to be given greater emphasis."

He also said, "the great tragedy of the iron curtain" is that "it cuts off a great part of the human race form community with the rest.

"Here is the tragedy of preaching an ideology which rejects the moral values accepted hitherto by all civilized peoples, however imperfectly they have been put into action."

Says England Needs To Eat More Meat

London, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Representative Frances P. Bolton (R.-Ohio) said today that the English look hungry and run-down. "They don't get enough meat," she said.

"During the war they worked on physical reserves they had built up during pre-war years of meat-eating. Now they are having to do as much work as ever on starches alone."

POLES ORDER PENALTIES TO CURB CHURCH

Decree Up To Death For Violations Of Ban On Vatican Edict

London, Sunday, Aug. 7 (AP)—Communist-led Poland decreed penalties up to death today for anyone violating a citizen's "freedom of conscience." The action obviously was aimed at the Roman Catholic Church.

The Vatican ordered the excommunication of all militant Communists on July 13. Two weeks later the Polish Government forbade Catholic priests from enforcing the Vatican decree and denounced it as an "act of agression." The latest Polish action was seen as putting teeth into the enforcement order.

There were seventeen articles in the Polish decree, which was passed by the Council of State and Ministers Council on Friday PAP, the Polish press agency, disclosed the articles in an English-language broadcast heard here. PAP said the decree went into force today.

Discussed By Workers, Peasants

One article says: "He who misuses the freedom of creed by refusing to let another person participate in religious ceremonies because of political, social or scientific activities or opinions is liable to imprisonment of up to five years."

The language of the articles as broadcast by PAP did not single out priests or other Catholic Church officials by name, but the broadcast said the Vatican's policy had been the subject of many meetings of workers and peasants throughout Poland.

"Many Catholic believers of both party and nonparty members stressed at these meetings that the Vatican didn't defend the church in Poland when it was persecuted by the Nazi invaders, but on the contrary blessed the persecutors.

"It was also pointed out that as the people's government protects religion, the struggle waged in Poland against the clergy engaged in political activity is fully justified."

Poland is predominantly Catholic.

Public Insults Forbidden

Other important parts of the decree included an article which provided:

"He who publicly insults, derides or humiliates a person or group of persons because of their creed, religious opinion or lack of religious affiliation is liable to imprisonment up to five years.

"The same penalty will be incurred by a person who violates the corporal integrity if another person because of his creed, religious opinions or lack of religious affiliation.

"He who commits another crime against a person or group of persons because of their creed, religious opinions or lack of religious affiliation is liable to imprisonment.

"If the crime described in Paragraph 3 results in death or serious injury, or if there has been a disturbance of normal public life or danger to public safety, the person is liable to imprisonment of no less than three years and up to life or the death penalty."

Top Statesmen to Open Europe Council Monday

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 6 (AP).—Western Europe's top political leaders meet here Monday to try to make a five-century dream of union come true. Its sponsors hope this inaugural session of the Council of Europe will be a long step toward a real United States of Europe.

For the first time in history, a permanent committee of ministers and a consultative assembly will unite Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Ireland and Luxembourg. Greece and Turkey probably will be added almost at once.

ONLY GIVES ADVICE

The council cannot bind any of its member countries. It only gives advice. It is barred from even discussing military matters. Just the same, its debate and recommendations will be heard with respect.

Winston Churchill is expected to be the star orator. In addition, the delegates will have a chance to enjoy the hospitality of a town that has not had time to get bored with international parleys and has ambitions to become the capital of Europe. The hospitality includes some of the fanciest food—and fanciest prices—in France, which is saying a good deal.

This German-speaking French city, about the size of Richmond, Va., has been fought over by the two peoples for a big part of its 2000-year history. The last war destroyed several of its hotels and historic monuments. There are plenty of monuments still but the hotel shortage is serious and there is no surplus of space for Europe's new international civil service.

The Committee of Ministers will be the first to gather at Strasbourg's ornate City Hall. It consists of the foreign ministers of each member country, meeting in secret unless they should decide otherwise—which is unlikely.

They will have some tricky questions to mull over. To begin with, are they to have the right to speak and vote at the consultative assembly, as European Governments do in their Parliaments, or is there to be a separation of powers, as in the U. S.? And what about the new West German State—can it become a member?

After a week, the committee will adjourn.

On Wednesday, the Consultative Assembly convenes in the great hall of the University of Strasbourg for a month's session. Meetings in summer, when most European Parliaments are on vacation, enable the Parliaments to elect some of their own members to be delegates to the Assembly as well.

87 ASSEMBLY MEMBERS

The Assembly is to have 87 members, apportioned roughly on a population basis, in this way:

United Kingdom, France and Italy, 18 each; Belgium, Sweden and The Netherlands, six each; Denmark, Ireland and Norway, four each, and Luxembourg three.

On a strict proportional basis, if the Big Three got 18 members, the next biggest country—The Netherlands—would rate only five and the others even fewer.

Each delegate can vote as he pleases. This provision promises to furnish some new quirks in the history of international meetings. Up to now they have always been organized on the system of one country, one vote—as in the United Nations.

The main parties in each of the countries will be well represented, except the Communists. They consider the whole thing a plot against the Soviet Union. In France, the National Assembly barred them by deciding that delegates would be elected by an absolute majority. The French Communists are the biggest party in the Assembly, but they have no majority.

STRENGTHENING OF TIES

However, plenty of British Tories, French Socialists, Italian Catholics, Belgians, Liberals, Dutch Protestants and Irish opponents of partition are on hand to spice the political pie.

Experts forsee that the Socialists and Catholics, especially, will have more in common with Socialists and Catholics from other countries than with Conservatives or Protestants from their homelands. So the session may well see a strengthening of international party ties. On some is-

Priest Is Suspended For 'Political Acts'

Lyon, France, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Rev. Marcel Grangier, a Catholic priest, has been suspended for "political activities," the office of Pierre Cardinal Gerlier, Archbishop of Lyon, announced today.

The semi-official French press agency said he was charged with speaking at Communist meetings.

A communiqué from the archbishop's office said Father Grangier persisted in his disobedience despite repeated warnings. He was then informed, it went on, that he could no longer say mass or wear a cassock.

Loan Requested For West Berlin

Berlin, Aug. 6 (AP)—Allied military leaders here have recommended an immediate long-term loan to save West Berlin from economic disaster, official American sources said today.

The three Western commanders forwarded a request for a grant of 455,000,000, West marks ($136,500,000) to the United States, British and French military governors three days ago, these sources said. It has not yet been acted upon.

The commanders told the governmental chiefs "if they are to survive," West Berlin's industries require immediate long-term credits. They described the sum they recommended as a tentative estimate and said final requirements would be higher.

Counterpart Fund Use

United States officials said part of the requested loan might come from counterpart funds of the European Recovery Program in western Germany or from American appropriations for "government and relief in the occupied areas."

The new East German republic also would be asked to furnish credits, United States spokesmen said.

West Berlin lost 80 per cent of its industrial tools and equipment as a result of the war, the Allied commanders reported. Out of a total population of 2,200,000 some 209,000 workers now are drawing either full or partial unemployment relief.

136 Million Loan Proposed For West Berlin

Berlin, Aug. 6 (AP)—Official American sources disclosed today that the three Western Berlin commandants have recommended a 455,000,000 mark ($136,500,000) long-term loan to save West Berlin from economic chaos.

The informants said the recommendation was forwarded to the American, British and French military governors three days ago, but has not yet been acted upon.

May Seek More

The commandants are reported to have said the West Berlin industries, which lost 80 per cent of their tools and equipment during the war, required immediate long-term credits if they are to survive.

The sources said the amount asked was only tentative and final requirements probably would be higher.

An American official said part of the requested loan might come from European Recovery Program funds in Western Germany or from United States appropriations for "Government and relief in occupied areas."

He said the new West German republic also would be asked to supply credits to West Berlin.

Of West Berlin's 2,200,000 population, 209,000 workers now are drawing full or partial unemployment relief. Counting in dependents, this jobless bloc totals 635,000 persons.

A. M. G. Court Sentences 5 Germans in Kidnap Case

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (AP).—Five German agents of the Soviet occupation zone secret police were sentenced today to prison terms of one to three years by an American Military Government judge, John A. Sabo, on charges of attempting to kidnap a German from the American sector of Berlin.

The defense contended the agents acted legally, on orders from the Soviet government, in an attempt to foil a German plot to blow up a Russian military leave train.

Judge Sabo said the American Military Government would not allow subversive action against another occupation power but that the defendants had entered the American sector unlawfully, with unauthorized firearms.

Russ Refuse Evidence For Ilsa Koch Trial

Bamberg, Germany, Aug. 6 (AP)—Soviet zone authorities have declined to supply either witnesses or evidence for the German trial of Ilse Koch, former "Queen of Buchenwald" concentration camp, the Bavarian prosecutor's office said today.

A German court will try Mrs. Koch on charges of crimes against German prisoners in October, when she completes her present jail sentence imposed by an American war-crimes court.

Maxwell D. Taylor Named Berlin Chief

Berlin, Aug. 6 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, wartime paratroop leader, officially was named today to command the American Military Government and army forces in Berlin.

He will be given this double-barreled authority, a formal statement said, "in order to unify the United States position in Berlin."

The statement said he would presumably assume his position in September.

Taylor will succeed both Brig. Gen. Frank Howley, Military Government commandant, and Col. James T. Duke, who has commanded the Berlin military post.

Ex-Chief At West Point

The statement, issued by the headquarters of United States Army Forces in Europe, said Taylor would be the personal representative of High Commissioner John J. McCloy and Lieut. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, acting commander in chief.

Taylor, who came to Europe last February after 3½ years as superintendent of West Point, has served until now as Huebner's chief of staff.

Dealt With Italy

He commanded the 101st Airborne Division in Allied invasions of Normandy and Holland. In 1943 he made a secret trip to Italy to negotiate with Italian military leaders a day before the Allied landing at Salerno.

As head of American Military Government here, Taylor will take over one of the most rigorous assignments in the cold war.

His predecessor, Howley, who plans to return to private business in Philadelphia, was the target of constant attack by Communist propaganda.

New Law Aids Those Nazis Persecuted

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 6 (AP). A German law to provide financial aid for thousands of persons persecuted by the Nazis has been approved by the American Military Government, German authorities in Stuttgart announced today.

The law supplements a tax measure approved yesterday, which gives financial help to millions of Germans who suffered war damages.

The law will apply only in the American zone. Special monthly pensions of financial grants will be provided for physical or property damage suffered at the hands of the Nazis. Displaced persons from other countries as well as Germans are included.

Adopted by the United States Zone Council of States last May, the law was held up for three months by lack of military government approval.

Greeks Open New Drive On Rebels In Grammos

Tanks And Planes Aid Full-Scale Offensive In Mountains Along Albanian Border

Athens, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Greek Army today unleashed a full-scale offensive, supported by planes and tanks, against the estimated 5,000 Communist guerrillas in the Grammos Mountains.

The battle started with troops attacking along two sides of a 250-square-mile triangle based on the Albanian border and with its apex at Eptahorion. The triangle is anchored on the border northwest of Nestorion and northeast of Konitsa.

The general staff, announcing the offensive, said preliminary action for two days had ended and that the battle now was in its main phase. New troops, supported by tanks and planes, are being hurled into the fighting.

Counterattacks Repulsed

Preliminary successes were scored on the northeastern front, where heavily fortified heights were captured in combined operations by the air force and infantry, the staff said. It added that "Communist bandits" counterattacked vigorously several times, but were repulsed in their efforts to retake Alevitsa, Kapsalia, Lefkadia and Tabouri heights west of Nestorion.

Other successes were scored by the army on the southwest front, where heights covering approaches to Pyrsoyanni and Kamenik were captured, the communiqué said.

The United Nations Special Commission on the Balkans reported one of its planes photographing forthcoming fortifications along the border was fired on from gun positions within Albania opposite Alevitsa. The commission said the guerrillas were using [illegible]-mm. guns apparently coming from a foreign source.

Line Of Trenches Revealed

The report also said the photographs "clearly show" the guerrillas had prepared a line of trenches extending across the Greek-Albanian frontier.

The only figures on casualties said 36 guerrillas were killed and fifteen captured when heavily fortified pillboxes on Alevitsa height were stormed by grenade-throwing infantrymen.

The general staff said the troops who captured and held Alevista were fired on from another height in Albania. The announcement added that this "attack was supported by Albanians." It also said columns of trucks were seen recently carrying supplies and troops from Albania into Greece and that the guerrilla forces were reinforced recently by 150 Communist Greek seamen.

Vitsi Battle Expected

There was no mention of impending operations against the Vitsi triangle, where more than 7,000 guerrillas are holed up west of Phlorina. Those forces are connected with the concentration in the Grammos by a slender communication line within Greek territory. Observers predict the Vitsi battle will open soon.

The staff has not disclosed the number of troops participating in the Grammos fighting under Lieut. Gen. Thrasivolos Tsakalotos, a corps commander. However, three divisions or 30,000 men are believed involved.

30,000 BELIEVED IN DRIVE

The staff has not disclosed the number of troops participating in the Grammos fighting under Lt. Gen. Thrasivolos Tsakalotos, a corps commander. However, three divisions or 30,000 men are believed involved.

Informed sources say 25 to 40 percent of some guerilla units are women and girls.

New Belgian Parliament Breakup Threatened

Brussels, Belgium, Aug. 6 (AP)—Belgium, her three chief political parties deadlocked over whether exiled King Leopold should regain his throne today faced the threat of another Parliament breakup to be followed by general elections.

Delegates of the three parties met four hours last night to study a message from Leopold declaring that his royal future rests with Parliament.

Leopold's message followed a 40-day deadlock which has left Belgium without a Government. The conferees failed to agree on a compromise to form one but will reconvene today.

Agreement "Impossible"

A spokesman for the pro-Leopold Social-Christian Party said agreement seemed "impossible." The Socialists made it clear their party is not ready to enter the coalition government.

The Liberals had no comment to make. The Socialists and Liberals are anti-Leopoldist.

Several delegates agreed that Leopold's message had done little to clarify the intricate situation.

In his message the King indicated that Parliament alone could decide whether he should be restored to the throne. Some political observers have said a popular referendum might be the solution to the problem.

"It would be useless to form a coalition government as long as agreement is not reached on the royal question," a Socialist announcement said.

Spaak Would Be Out

Refusal of the Socialists to join a coalition would mean that Paul-Henri Spaak, veteran Foreign Minister, would be out.

The Socialists told Premier-Designate Gaston Eyskens, Social Christian, they would not "agree to pursue negotiations any farther."

As a consequence threat of another Parliament breakup and new elections hung over the nation.

Eyskens said he made a desperate effort to form a three-party coalition government, but in spite of endless negotiations "there has been no progress."

Leopold Sends Message

Leopold sent a message from his residence in Switzerland yesterday, saying the question of his future rests with Parliament and that body alone should decide whether he should be restored to the throne. Some politicians have suggested a referendum. Leopold agreed to the principle of a referendum, but said it should be only a guide for Parliament.

Eyskens said the Socialists and Liberals were opposed to the King's views on a referendum. The Premier-designate's party is pro-Leopold.

Belgium has been under a regency since 1944. Prince Charles, brother of Leopold, was elected regent. In 1945 Parliament voted to continue the regency and bar Leopold's return without parliamentary consent. Leopold, who surrendered to the invading Nazis in May, 1940, has not lived in Belgium since the war.

BELGIANS FAIL TO EASE CRISIS

Socialists Block Coalition In Dispute Over Leopold

Brussels, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Socialist party, second largest in the country, said tonight it would not enter a three-party coalition government.

The announcement came after leaders of the three principal parties—Social Christians, Socialists and Liberals—had failed to break a 42-day Cabinet crisis caused by a deadlock over the question of the return of King Leopold III to the throne.

Franco Rumors Are Denied

San Sebastian, Spain, Aug. 6 (AP). Generalissimo Francisco Franco's personal attendants denied today a crop of rumors that developed yesterday while he was on a vacation-time fishing trip.

His party returned after midnight from a voyage farther out in the Bay of Biscay than he usually goes. The rumors were that the Generalissimo had fallen overboard, gotten seasick or had been the target of an assassin.

Aides who went with him on the yacht Azor said it took longer than usual to get back and Franco slept late this morning, deferring today's fishing until afternoon.

In Fine Shape

Franco is living in this resort town's royal palace with his wife and daughter and leaves only to go fishing. He is scheduled to inaugurate the Bilbao Airport August 20 while en route to his regular summer home at Pazo de Meiras, on the Galician Coast.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman also denied Franco had been attacked or had met with an accident. He said Franco caught six fish of more than 120 pounds each yesterday and was in fine shape.

The spokesman said that in the week Franco has spent here there has been no incident that might cause suspicion of an attack on him. "These reports are born in tendentious campaigns abroad," the spokesman said.

Franco Aides Deny Report Of Mishap

San Sebastian, Spain, Aug. 6 (AP). Personal aides of Generalissimo Francisco Franco today denied all reports that the Spanish leader had met with some sort of an accident.

They said he was in fine shape and had ordered his private yacht Azor to stand ready again today to take him on his daily fishing trip. Franco has gone fishing every day since he began his vacation here July 29, they said.

There had been rumors that Franco had been the victim of an assassination attempt; met with an accident at sea; fallen overboard; got seasick. All these were branded as purely rumors by a Foreign Ministry spokesman.

Franco's personal aides said his yacht sailed a little further out to sea for yesterday's fishing and took longer to return. They said the Spanish leader caught six fish in the Bay of Biscay yesterday, all salmon and each weighing more than 120 pounds.

SOFIA CABINET CHANGES MADE

Bulgaria Gets New Foreign And Interior Ministers

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 6 (AP)—Bulgaria got a new Foreign Minister and Minister of the Interior tonight. Several Cabinet changes also were announced.

Vassil Kolarov, who was named Premier on July 20 to succeed the late Georgi Dimitrov, resigned his old post as Foreign Minister. The new Foreign Minister is Vladimir Poptomov, editor-in-chief of the country's official communist newspaper, Rabotnichesko Delo, and a member of the Politburo.

Yugov Still Deputy Premier

The Ministry of the Interior—the job that controls the police and internal security of the country—went to Russi Hristozov. He succeeds Anton Yugov, who remains as deputy premier.

This dispatch from Sofia contained no speculation or mention that a Cabinet shakeup was under way. There has been a consolidation of leadership in the Communist-led nations in eastern Europe bringing to the fore men who are opposed to the so-called "Nationalist" viewpoint exemplified by Communist Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

[In Bulgaria this resulted in the ousting of Vice Premier Traicho Kostov, who was denounced for anti-Soviet "Titoism."]

Other Changes Announced

Other changes as announced by the Government press department, included:

Vulko Chervenkov was succeeded as president of the Culture, Science and Arts committee by Karlo Lukanov. Chervenkov, secretary of the Communist party in Bulgaria, remains as vice premier. He was named Vice Premier when Kolarov became premier.

Cyril Lazarov was named president of the State Planning Commission to succeed Dobri Terpeshev, who remains a vice premier.

Prof. Petko Kunin was named Finance Minister. He succeeds Prof. Ivan Stephanov, who resigned. Vulko Gochov was named Minister of Industry, replacing Kunin.

Czech Press Accuses Pontiff Of Slave Labor Profiteering

Prague, Czechoslopakia, Aug 6 (AP)—In a renewed propaganda blast aimed at discrediting the Vatican, the controlled Czech press tonight accused Pope Pius XII of profiteering from Austrialian slave labor.

The chief assault on the Vatican was made by Svobodne Slovo, a Socialist paper. It declared the Hly See has vast investments in all manner of enterprises, including armament plants.

This newspaper said the Catholic pontiff had interests in a "missionary company, Jesus Christ, Ltd., in Australia, which buys and sells Australian natives, for slave labor."

Liberal Labor Codes

The alleged enterprise was not further defined.

[The Australian Labor Government prides itself on its liberal labor codes. There are no known slaves in Australia. The Australian aborigine is protected by laws as are Indians in the United States. Australia has won United Nations approval and commendation for her administration of mandated territories in New Guinea and the southwest Pacific.]

There were persistent reports of new clashes between police and Catholics in Slovakia who defended their priests against threats of arrest, but these could not be confirmed either in church or official circles.

Speech To Troops

In a speech to troops in Slovania, Gen. Ludvig Svoboda, Defense Minister, called on the army to back the Communist government in the church-state conflict. He assailed the hierarchy and urged soldiers to support the new government-sponsored Catholic Action Movement.

"We soldiers can say that, from the view of defense of the fatherland, insurance of freedom and independence, we shall support wholeheartedly the Catholic Action," he declared.

General Svoboda sain dthe western world and the Vatican sought to disrupt Czechoslozakia. "We don't want to fight against religion," he said, "but we must unmask the true origin of the plots and the propaganda hatched abroad under the veil of religion."

Will Accuse Communists

Vatican City, Aug. 6 (AP)—A vacation source said today that the official organ of the Jesuit Order will accuse Communists of invading the religious field in disguise.

In its August issue, not yet released, Civilta Cattolica will say, according to the Vatican source:

"If the decree (of excommunication against Catholics who are militant Communists) hit the Communists, it is because they tried to enter Christ's flocks under a thousand disguises, not as lambs, but as wolves, not as true shepherds, but as thieves. . . .

"The decree serves religious aims of the church, and only these."

Czech General Tells Army To Resist Church Moves

Prague, Aug. 6 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Defense Minster called on the army today to back the Communist Government in the bitter church-state struggle.

The Minister — Gen. Ludvig Svoboda—assailed the Roman Catholic Church in a speech to troops in Slovakia. He urged the soldiers to support the new Government-sponsored Catholic Action movement. Svoboda asserted:

"The soldiers can say that from the view of defense of the fatherland, insurance of freedom and independence we shall support wholeheartedly the Catholic Action."

Churchmen Fight Back

The Czech Government ran into opposition last night in its latest bout with the Church.

A Government order to priests to defy the Vatican decree on excommunication under threat of punishment drew a sharp rejection from Roman Catholic authorities in western Bohemia.

The administrative vicar of the diocese at Litomerice sent back the Government order with an answer which said, in effect: What was the Government doing in a Catholic consistory, interfering with the internal affairs of the Church?

Cites Russian Ally

Both the order and the reply have come into Western hands.

In his address in Slovakia, Svoboda told troops their "great example" was the Russian Army, "on whose side we had the honor to fight in the second World War and with which we shall fight in the future in case of necessity."

The Defense Minister declared the Vatican and Western World sought to disrupt Czechoslovakia.

Hits Western "Diversions"

"In recent months," he said, "we noticed that internal and foreign reaction started to use some of their last legal positions to ruin us and . . . tried to stop our successful reconstruction.

"We could not watch inactively their diversionist activity even when they tried to cloak it under the guise of religion," he said. "We don't want to fight against religion, but we must unmask the true origin of the plots and the propaganda hatched abroad under the veil of religion."

Alexei Sees No Church-State Conflict

Moscow, Aug. 6 (AP)—Alexei, Patriarch of Moscow and all Russia, said today in a newspaper statement that no conflict exists between loyalty to the Soviet state and loyalty to the Russian Orthodox Church.

"Such a conflict not only does not exist but cannot exist if believers adhere to the exact meaning of teachings of the Gospel and Testaments of the Apostles," the Patriarch said. The statement was carried by Izvestia, official organ of the Soviet Government.

Izvestia said the statement was given in answer to questions put by the Moscow correspondent of Reuter, a British news agency, on July 27.

Relationship Reaffirmed

[Alexei's statement, at a time when the Roman Catholic Church has toughened its stand against communism, reaffirmed the church-state relationship which has existed in the U.S.S.R. since the Soviet Government permitted re-establishment of the Russian Orthodox Church in 1943. Critics have charged that the Russian Orthodox Church has been dominated by the Government since the Soviet Union abandoned a prewar policy of trying to suppress religion.]

Alexei was asked if he had been informed of a reported decision by Athenagoras, patriarch of Constantinople and titular head of the far-flung Greek Orthodox Church, to excommunicate from the Orthodox Church those supporting Communism.

Independent Branch

[The Russian Orthodox Church is an independent branch of the Greek Orthodox Church.]

Alexei's reply as printed in Izvestia was: "On a decision of the Patriarch to issue such an order, there is nothing known to me and to the Synod of the Russian Orthodox Church.

"In addition, we and the synod do not permit the thought that from the side of the Orthodox Patriarch there could be such a decision which basically contradicts the basic principles of the Orthodox Christian faith."

Question On Loyalty

The second question was: "Is there and conflict in your opinion between loyalty to the Soviet state and loyalty to the Russian Orthodox Church?"

Alexei's answer: "To this question there can be but one answer—such a conflict not only does not exist but cannot exist if believers adhere to the exact meaning of teachings of the Gospel and Testaments of the Apostles."

Czech European Trade Ratio Rises

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 6 (AP)—Commerce with Russia and other eastern European nations now accounts for 40 per cent of Czechoslovakia's foreign trade, Evzen Loebel, Deputy Minister of Foreign Trade, said today. He said this ratio will rise still further.

Loebel accused the United States of trying to damage Czechoslovakia's economy by trade discrimination, including stoppage of delivery on orders which had been paid for. He said these measures had "caused unpleasantness" but failed to do any real damage.

Russ Rise In '46

According to an official report issued in October, 1946, Russia held first place in exports to Czechoslovakia, selling here 716,000,000 crowns worth of goods during the first eight months of that year, and second place among Czech customers, buying goods valued at 817,000,000 crowns. (The crown is rated worth 2 cents.)

Even in 1946 the United States had fallen far from its prewar position of second or third place in Czech foreign trade.

Russia now holds first place in Czech foreign trade, with 22 per cent of the total volume, Loebel reported. He said this corresponded roughly with the prewar volume of Czech trade with Germany.

D. P. Protection Approved

U. N. Unit Acts on International Plan for Refugees

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 6 (AP).—The principle of future international protection of refugees by the United Nations was approved today by the U. N. Economic and Social Council.

The Council approved an American proposal requesting the U. N. Secretary General, Trygve Lie, to submit a detailed plan for protection of refugees to the next U. N. General Assembly.

The proposal, approved by eleven votes to three, with two abstentions, suggested the plan should contemplate establishment of either a high commissioner's office under U. N. control or a special service within the U. N. secretariat.

U. N. Defers Inquiry Into Forced Labor

Geneva, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—The United Nations Economic and Social Council postponed action yesterday on a United States proposal to investigate forced labor in the world. The postponement was voted after Russia protested that Britain and the United States were trying to smear Moscow's "corrective labor" penal system. The council voted 18 to 8 to defer action until the next meeting, early in 1950.

Reds May Ask U.N. To Stop Greek Strife

Trieste, Free Territory, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Italian news agency Astra said today that Communist guerrillas had decided to appeal to the United Nations to halt the war in Greece.

Astra said the decision was reached in an extraordinary meeting of guerrilla leaders shortly after the Greek Government launched a big drive in the Mount Grammos-Vitsi sector.

Arabs Accept Israeli Plan

Four Neighbors Agree on Freeing Fundsin Banks on Both Sides

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Aug. 6 (AP).—Israel's four Arab neighbors accepteed today the principle of an Israeli proposal for freeing blocked bank accounts on both sides.

The Arab delegations told the geneeral committee of the United Nations' Palestine Conciliation Commission that they were prepared, in principle to free Jewish accounts in Arab banks up to an amount equivalent to Arab accounts freed in Israeli banks.

The plan now goes back to the Israeli delegation for proposal of practical steps which might put it into effect.

Four Alternatives Listed In Arab Refugee Problem

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6 (AP).—Four alternatives are open to the United Nations for the solution of the Arab refugee problem, Emmet Gulley, of Portland, Ore., head of the Quaker team assigned to the Gaza area in southern Palestine, said today. Mr. Gulley arrived here after eight months of relief work in Gaza.

He listed his solutions to the refugee problem:

1. "We can go on feeding these refugee multitudes for the next twenty-five years, a costly prospect when you consider that at present there are 250,000 in the Gaza area alone costing the United Nations half a million dollars per month.

2. "Or we can go off and let them die.

3. "Or they can be permitted to return to Israel and to Jewish rule.

4. "Or resettlement elsewhere is the only prospect."

Mr. Gulley said most of the refugees wish to return home. "But if they go back," he said, "some may not be contented to stay, because their homes have been destroyed and they would be strangers in their homeland, where life is geared by the Israelis to the present century rather than to ways which the Arabs have known since biblical days."

BOMBING KILLS 6 SYRIAN JEWS

Seevral Reported Arrested In Synagogue Trouble

Damascus, Syria, Aug. 6 (AP)—Syria's Government announced today that six or seven Jews were killed and 27 injured in the bombing of a synagogue here yesterday, and that it was seeking the perpetrators as enemies of the state.

A large force of detectives and police searched the city for suspects under urgent Government orders. Several persons were reported arrested, among them a member of a prominent Syrian family.

The official explanation was that the group responsible was "probably Communist." Informed sources said, however, the bombing probably was the work of a small group of non-Communist, anti-Jewish Arab elements, who also oppose the Government.

Premier Visits Scene

Syria has signed a truce ending her part in last year's Arab-Jewish war in Palestine since Brigadier Husni Zaim, now President, seized power in a military coup last

Premier Muhsen Barazi, who visited the scene, called the crime an attack on the authority of the Government and a threat to its prestige.

Wailing women and other relatives continued hunting the dead and wounded today, hours after the explosion on the eve of the Jewish sabbath.

[A newspaper in Beirut, Lebanon, said the blast knocked windows out of buildings in a half-mile radius of the synagogue.]

The bombing was one of the worst outbreaks of violence against Jews in the Middle East since the end of the Palestine war.

More Outbreaks Feared

It came as Israel and the Jews' four principal opponents in that war — Syria, Lebanon, Hashemite Jordan (Trans-Jordan) and Egypt—reached a crucial stage in negotiations at Lausanne, Switzerland, for a final peace.

Observers here speculated the bombing may have been meant to affect those negotiations unfavorably and at the same time to foster unrest against President Zayim's regime. Zayim has pledged full legal rights to Syrian Jews and restored a number to public office.

The observers recalled that outbreaks against Egypt's government last year by the Moslem brotherhood, fanatical Arab religious organization, were preceded by attacks on Jews in Cairo. They said the Syrian Government obviously was concerned that the synagogue bombing might mark the start of a similar campaign here.

Frenchman Returns Watch

Berlin, Aug. 6 (AP)—A Dortmund schoolteacher gave his gold watch to a French watchmaker for repair in 1944, when he was in France with the German army. Recently, a Berlin newspaper reported, the Frenchman returned the property, asking the teacher to forget about payment and adding the hope that from now on there would be "only bright and happy hours" for its owner.

Hiroshima Anniversary Brings Rebuilding Plan

Hiroshima, Japan, Aug. 6 (AP)—The fourth anniversary of the first atom bombing was observed today with shattered Hiroshima's 30-year plan to make itself a model city for peaceful community living.

Mayor Shinzo Hamai told the city's survivors details of the plan after bells in the "peace tower" pealed in memory of the 78,000 who died in the blast.

The plan calls for rebuilding Hiroshima in three stages. During the first years little besides planning will be done. In the next ten it is hoped to carry out the plans. By 1977 the city is to stand as a permanent monument to peace.

Poison Booby Traps Reported in Burma

Rangoon, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—A Burmese Army spokesman said today that rebels operating within a thirty-mile radius of Rangoon are using poison-tipped spikes in booby traps laid for Government forces.

The traps usually are placed under shade trees where troops bivouac, he said. Snake venom was reported used.

New Marianas Commander.

Guam, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—Rear Admiral E. C. Ewen of Portsmouth, N. H., took over today as commander of American naval forces in the Marianas, succeeding Rear Admiral Charles A. Pownall.

Saigon As Capital

Saigon, Indo-China, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Viet Nam Government of Emperor Bao Dai announced today that Saigon will be its provisional capital. Information Minister Tran van Tyden told newsmen that Bao Dai had signed decrees defining the structure of the new Government. He said the decrees would be published soon.

Quirino Flying To See Truman

Manila, Aug. 6 (A. P.).—President Elpidio Quirino set out by plane today to make an official visit to President Truman in Washington. "I am not going to the United States to ask or beg," he told a crowd of 50,000 Filipinos gathered at the airport, "but I am going in honor and dignity to express as your spokesman the gratitude of the Filipino people to the United States."

However, it was believed in Manila that some time during the stay in Washington Quirino would broach the subject of more military and economic aid to the Philippines as a bulwark against Communism.

Quirino on Way to U. S.

GUAM, Aug. 6 (AP).—Philippine President Elpidio Quirino arrived at Guam tonight on his flight to the United States to visit President Truman. Rear Adm. Charles A. Pownall, Governor of Guam, and Rear Adm. Edward C. Ewen met Quirino at Agana Airfield.

Reds To Move 3 Shanghai Factories

Shanghai, Aug. 6 (AP)—Three factories will be moved to interior China, the pro-Communist newspaper Sin Wan Jih Pao said today.

The removals are part of the Communists' campaign to divest Shanghai of much of its industry and population to lessen its dependence on "imperialistic foreign trade."

The newspaper said the plants to be moved are the Singho textile mill, which has 40,000 spindles and employs more than 1,800 workers; the Liseng machine factory, and the Universal handkerchief factory.

Refugees Leaving City

The Communist Liberation Daily said, meanwhile, 400,000 refugees have left Shanghai for the country.

In another phase of Shanghai's economic picture, the Military Control Commission announced holders of foreign currencies will be permitted to deposit them in the official People's Bank, effective Monday.

Depositors can make withdrawals later in Communist dollars at whatever official rate of exchange prevails at the time of withdrawal.

Dog And Cat Get British Ribbons

Hong Kong, Aug. 6 (AP)—Able Seaman Simon and Guardsman Peggy received campaign ribbons today with all the modesty of heroes. In their case it was a purr and a wag of the tail.

As members of the crew of the British sloop Amethyst during the dash down the Yangtze from Communist captivity, they were honored in a ceremony at the British Navy's Fleet Club, complete with honor guard.

Said Petty Officer Griffiths, who officiated, to the ship's dog:

"Guardsman Peggy, for distinguished and meritorious service to H.M.S. Amethyst, is hereby awarded the distinguished Amethyst campaign ribbon."

Simon, the cat, also got this:

"Be it known that on April 26, 1949, though recovering from wounds, Simon did singlehanded and unarmed stalk down and destroy Mao Tze-tung, a rat guilty of raiding food supplies."

Another Mao Tze-tung is the leader of China's Communists.

Chiang in Korea to Press Anti-Red Pacific Pact

CHINHAE, Korea, Aug. 6 (AP).—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek arrived at this South Korean port today for a series of conferences with President Syngman Rhee on a Pacific Pact against the Communists.

The veteran leader of China's Nationalists plans to remain here for three days.

In separate statements, Chiang and the Korean President said they expect to discuss the projected union of Pacific powers tomorrow.

SILENT ON WHITE PAPER

Neither statement made any reference to the United States White Paper on China. Both leaders said, however, they were studying Secretary of State Dean Acheson's letter summarizing the White Paper.

Chiang's statement said in part:

"Korea and China are now, as they have always been in the past 3000 years, two sister nations with identical interests. They are receiving today the common ordeals of Communist menace.

WILL EXCHANGE VIEWS

"I shall, therefore, during a brief stay in Korea have a full exchange of views with President Rhee not only on important matters between China and Korea, but also on the question of the organization of an anti-Communism union by the Far Eastern countries."

Rhee and his wife met Chiang as his plane landed on a strip near this naval base which the Japanese used for Second World War operations.

The four miles from the airstrip to the residence where Chiang will stay were guarded by Korean sailors stationed 25 feet apart. The residence is the home of the Chinese naval commander.

Two Korean Army armored cars followed the automobile in which Chiang and the Rhees rode.

AID TO BANDITS BLAMED ON U.S.

'American Imperialism' Accused By Chinese Reds

San Francisco, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Chinese Communists charged today that "American imperialism" was arming and supplying "bandits and secret agents" to disturb the Communist rear areas.

A Peiping broadcast, heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press, declared, "American imperialists are placing great hopes on such armed bandits and secret agents and supplying them with money and arms.

"Many Plots Unearthed"

"Chinese and foreign reactionaries dream of utilizing these bandit forces to put up dying struggles and are preparing to make them work hand in glove with foreign interventionist armed forces to achieve a restoration."

[Editor's Note: The Truman Administration's plan for eventually reversing the Communist tide in China—as Secretary Acheson's White Paper indicated Friday—centers on aid to underground resistance groups which are expected to spring up.]

This broadcast gave no details, but another said that Nationalist agents in Manchuria were using "feudal superstitious societies to create armed disturbances and conduct subversive activities."

It said "many plots" in Manchuria were "recently unearthed," and named a number of alleged leaders, but did not say they had been apprehended.

CHINESE SPLIT ON POSSIBLE U.S. AID AGAIN

Official Reaction Is Not Expected For Several Days

Canton, China, Aug. 6 (AP)—Chinese opinion was divided tonight on whether there ever again would be American aid for Nationalist China.

A Government spokesman said official reaction to the United States White Paper on China—which was issued Friday in Washington—could not be expected for several days. Premier Yen Hsi-shan and other top Nationalists refused comment. Some others expressed opinions, but mostly on an anonymous basis.

Best opinion was that there would be no formal protest to Washington.

New Aid Plan Forecast

"The White Paper means we will get no more aid," said one member of the legislative Yuan. "The effect at the front will be very bad; our officers and men will be gravely discouraged."

He added that the White Paper's disclosure of Acting President Li Tsung-jen's secret May 5 message to President Truman might impair unity by being construed as an attack on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Wang Shih-tseng, spokesman for the minority Youth party, expressed belief the United States had not abandoned help for China and forecast some new aid plan.

Wang said that if America should put China outside its defense system against Russia, there would be another "Pearl Harbor." He did not elaborate, but declared all democratic elements in China were against the Chinese Reds because of their open allegiance to Russia.

First Communist Reaction

Another source took the position that the White Paper was merely a whitewash of past American action or inaction in China and would have no particular bearing on the possibility of future aid. This official insisted the United States still shared responsibility for the present Communist ascendancy.

One legislator who permitted the use of his name was Abdulla Tenan, from the northwest province of Sinkiang.

"Publication of the White Paper is untimely," he said. "It will only encourage the Communists."

[First Communist reaction was by Hwa Shiang Pao, Communist party paper in the British colony of Hong Kong. It said the White Paper was a scheme to "create the illusion the American imperialists have been so disappointed by

Days On White Paper

Chiang's reactionaries that they—the Americans—could have no part in the anti-Communist Pacific union being promoted by Chiang, President Quirino of the Philippines and President Syngman Rhee of South Korea.

Chinese Reds Massing

[The official Communist radio said nothing of the White Paper. Instead, it reported chiefly on military activities, announcing capture of Chuchow on August 3. It did not mention that Chuchow, on the railway 25 miles south of Changsha and 340 miles north of Canton, was captured previously in July but that the Chinese Reds pulled out when Nationalists threatened their supply lines.]

Official Nationalist dispatches reaching Canton said more than 150,000 Chinese Red troops were massing in an unspecified area south of newly fallen Changsha. A big battle was forecast in that region soon. The Chinese Reds took Changsha Thursday night when the Nationalist commander changed sides.

NATIONALISTS DISINTEGRATING IN SOUTH CHINA

General Goes Over to Reds as Canton Begins Study of U. S. White Paper.

ANOTHER BIG BATTLE SEEN

150,000 Communists Marching On as Changsha Fortress Is Handed Over.

Canton, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Chinese Foreign Office today began an intensive study of the United States White Paper which writes off the Nationalist Government as a failure in the war with China's Communists.

A spokesman said that because of the 1,054-page length of the White Paper, China's official reaction could not be expected for several days.

Even as he spoke, events in the field served to underline one point in the White Paper—that the Nationalist armies "did not have to be beaten; they disintegrated."

Preoccupied With Red Tide

Canton was more preoccupied with the defections on the front to the north than it was with the White Paper.

The whole defense system for South China was thrown out of gear when Gen. Chen Ming-jen, deputy commander on that front, went over to the Reds with possibly 30,000 of his 90,000 troops.

That handed over to the Reds the fortress of Changsha, 365 miles north of Canton.

Official dispatches said that more than 150,000 Red troops were massing south of Changsha. They predicted a big battle soon.

Some Deserters Return

Dispatches claimed some troops who defected with Chen had deserted him and returned to the Government fold. One of his divisional commanders was reported kidnapped by loyal troops and taken to Hengyang for trial.

Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, top commander on that front, is supposed to have an army of 200,000 men. But his turncoat deputy knows his troop dispositions and his plans for defense.

The Communists are within 215 miles of Canton on the northeast. The Nationalists say the Reds' right wing on this front now has been checked 50 miles from the border of Kwangtung province, of which Canton is the capital. (That would appear to be the nearest point of the Red advance.)

Protest Unlikely

While many quarters believe the Nationalists will be dismayed by the publication of the White Paper, best opinion in Canton is that there will be no formal protest.

Frequent forecasts of the contents of the White Paper acted as a shock absorber.

A special courier brought three unbound copies of the White Paper to Canton yesterday.

China Appeals to Tibet Over Ousting of Mission

CANTON, Aug .6 (AP).—China appealed today to the Tibetan Council of State to allow immediate reinstatement of a Chinese Nationalist mission recently ousted from Lhasa, the Tibetan capital.

The appeal was made by acting President Li Tsung-jen. A statement by Premier Yen Hsi-shan urged the Tibetan authorities "not to be utilized by others." Presumably this meant the British, who long have vied with the Chinese for influence in Tibet.

Mr. Li's statement said the Chinese constitution specifically provides self-rule for Tibet. The Chinese government claims suzerainty, a feudal control, over the remote land.

Filipinos See White Paper As Firmer Tie

Manila, Aug. 6 (AP)—Condemnation of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in the American White Paper on China was regarded today as having no effect on the Philippine plan to go ahead with the Pacific union.

Two days before the White Paper was issued, President Elpidio Quirino revised the scope and form of the Asian non-Communist alliance plan, he significantly omitted all reference to Chiang.

The feeling here is that the prospect of American support was strengthened rather than weakened by the White Paper.

Particular attention is being paid to Point 4 of Secretary of State Acheson's five basic principles guiding American policy in the Far East.

This point assured that the United States "will continue to consult with other interested powers in the light of conditions in the countries concerned and in the Far East as a whole on measures which will contribute to the continuing security and welfare of the peoples of that area."

Congress Split On China

Other News of China on Page 2

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Congress found itself about as divided as China today on what to do about stopping the advance of communism in Asia.

The State Department's White Paper explaining why Chiang Kai-shek's government failed to keep the Communists from gobbling up most of China was greeted on Capitol Hill by a volley of criticism from lawmakers who called it a confession of American failure also.

30.24- 4867

It was defended, on the other hand, as a realistic review of a situation which just about everybody here agrees is bad.

Bridges Offers Program

Senator Bridges (R., N.H.), longtime critic of the Administration's policies toward Asia, offered a three-point program:

1. Pat the Nationalist Government on the back instead of kicking it in the face.

2. Give assurance that this country doesn't intend to recognize the Communist government of China.

3. Furnish small arms and ammunition to the anti-Communist forces still willing to fight.

Senator Magnuson (D., Wash.), a member of the Armed Services Committee, said a great deal still can be done to keep western China out of Communist hands.

McCarran Hits Policies

Senator Knowland (R., Cal) scolded the department for what he said was an effort stretching over a period of years to force Chiang's Government to take in Communists.

Senator McCarran (D., Nev.) said that if the White Paper policies are continued "it will be only a short time until all Asia is under Communist control.

Bridges charged that the White Paper "is a complete effort of the State Department to scuttle the Nationalist Government and anti-Communist forces in China, adding:

"It is clear to anyone who has followed the situation that the Chinese war was lost in Washington and not in China."

Dulles Among Critics

Even Senator Dulles (R., N.Y.), who co-operates with the Administration on bipartisan foreign policies, looked upon the White Paper as "an attempt to explain and excuse past failures."

Representative John Davis Lodge (R., Conn.) said it is "a sad and bitter fact that China would probably be better off today had she been our enemy."

Realistic, Says Tydings

Chairman Tydings (D., Md.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee called the report "realistically aimed in the right direction."

As a gesture of friendliness to the Nationalists, Knowland got the Senate to agree yesterday to earmark $4,000,000 in the foreign and money bill to pay expenses of about 4,000 Chinese students studying in this country.

Arms Issue May Go To Full House

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Representative Kee (D., W.Va.) may ask the House Foreign Affairs Committee to check to the full House the hot dispute over cutting the size of the $1,450,000,000 arms-for-Europe program.

Faced by growing demands for a 50 per cent slash in the project, Kee, committee chairman, said he may urge the committee to okay the program as it stands so the issue can be fought out from scratch on the House floor.

Committee Republicans and Democrats alike are fighting for a smaller program. They have strong support in both the House and the Senate.

"Rough Road Ahead"

"Unless the amount is substantially cut there's an awfully rough road ahead" for the bill, said Representative Vorys (R., Ohio) a leading Republican on the committee.

Representative Richards (D., S.C.), ranking Democratic member of the group, agreed.

"I still think it should be cut down," he said. "I doubt the wisdom of committing ourselves to spend this much when we know they can't use it all before Congress meets again."

Vandenberg Cites Cost

The question of cost also was cited by Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), top Senate Republican in foreign-affairs matters.

The Administration yesterday submitted a new bill dropping the much-criticized provision giving President Truman discretion to send American arms to practically any nation he wished.

Vandenberg said that move leaves the program's size as one of the principal remaining problems. Another, he said, is whether the Administration is planning only a stop-gap plan or a substitute for the mutual-defense plan under the North Atlantic treaty.

Despite mounting criticism of the program's cost, Kee said he is optimistic.

Expects Approval

He added that he expects the committee to approve the bill by next Thursday with the requested amount intact.

But, he emphasized, "We still can't tell how strong opposition to the amount is going to be."

Most members of Kee's committee agree that an arms program should be approved promptly to bulwark western Europe against Communist aggression.

Of the large number—possibly a majority—who believe that the costs can be cut, some would do it by direct reduction, others by curtailing the length of the program and considering arms aid again when Congress begins a new session in January.

Lucas Predicts Strong Arms-Aid Approval

Chicago, Aug. 6 (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas (D., Ill.) predicted today that the Congress will overwhelmingly approve the military-assistance plan for North Atlantic pact members.

"There will be much debate and much argument about the details of that plan," he told the Illinois American Legion convention, "but I am convinced that the Congress of the United States will give it overwhelming approval in the end."

Tydings Demands Details Of Europe's Defense Needs

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Senator Tydings (D., Md.) called on military leaders today to spell out in terms of guns, tanks and planes the arms aid needed by western European signers of the North Atlantic treaty.

Tydings, who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he thinks President Truman's request for $1,450,000,000 to finance a foreign arms program will stand or fall on the detailed needs shown by the chiefs of staff.

Congressional criticism of the proposed program was centered on the amount involved since the State Department agreed yesterday to strike out of the bill the broad powers first asked for the President to give arms to any nation.

Many Shy At Cost

A strong segment of opinion in House and Senate clung to the idea that the sum asked is far too large. The Administration views it as the minimum needed at once to discourage any Russian idea of aggression.

Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, goes before the combined Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees Monday to testify on the revised measure.

The committees will hear the chiefs of staff Wednesday, just after their return from a survey of the western European military situation.

At that time, Tydings said, the plea for the appropriation will have to be justified thoroughly.

Must Explain

"It's up to the chiefs of staff to explain in terms of guns, tanks and planes the need for the full $1,450,000,000," the Maryland Senator said. "I think Congress will give them what they say is necessary to carry out the best defense plan."

But Senator George (D., Ga.), a Foreign Relations Committee member, said he thinks the amount is "too big."

"I am not committed to spending any such amount on this program," he said.

And Senator Taft (R., Ohio) chairman of the GOP policy committee, said that while the revised bill is more palatable to him than the original proposed grant of wide presidential powers, he still thinks he will vote against the arms program.

Action Wins GOP Praise

Senators Vandenberg (R., Mich.) and Dulles (R., N.Y.), top-rank supporters of the bipartisan foreign policy, praised the State Department's action in limiting the scope of the bill.

As it now stands, $1,160,000,000 would be available to North Atlantic treaty signers, $261,000,000 would continue the Greece-Turkey treaty program, and $27,000,000 would be available to provide arms for Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

Vandenberg and Dulles made it clear that they still think the amount set aside for the treaty signers is too large. There is no objection, even from Taft, to the Greece-Turkey proposal.

Also Vandenberg and Dulles are reported prepared to demand that the program be geared into the mutual-defense plan expected to be drafted by a military committee to be set up by the North Atlantic Council.

Not Yet Satisfied

They are not satisfied that the Administration's revised bill does this, although it states that the aid shall comform to the common defense and advance the committee's planning.

Both have said they want only a stopgap program to get rearmament under way until the Council acts to assign defensive tasks to various nations.

Senator Lodge (R., Mass.), a Foreign Relations Committee member, said he is working on an amendment that would separate more clearly the cost of obtaining new military supplies from the cost involved in turning over surplus equipment to them.

The bill now provides $77,000,000 in cash outlays for repairing and shipping about $450,000,000 in such surplus equipment.

HOUSE B-36 PROBE, CALLS WITNESSES

Defense And Manufacturing Leaders To Be Heard

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—More than 30 of the nation's highest military and civilian defense leaders and leading airplane manufacturers will testify in the investigation of the B-36 bomber which Congress will open Tuesday.

Representative Vinson (D., Ga.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, and Joseph B. Keenan, special counsel for the probe, announced the witnesses today.

They include such wartime leaders as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, Admiral W. F. Halsey and Robert P. Patterson, former Secretary of War.

Plane And Policy At Issue

The investigation, touched off by demands in Congress, will cover the history of the B-36, six-engined heavyweight darling of the Air Force, and policies of the strategic use of air power.

Robert A. Lovett, wartime Under Secretary of War for Air, will be the first witness. Following him will be Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff.

Top civilians scheduled to be called are Louis Johnson, Secretary of Defense; W. Stuart Symington, Secretary of the Air Force; A. S. Barrows, Under Secretary of the Air Force; Dr. Karl T. Compton, chairman of the Research and Development Board; Hugh L. Dryden, director of aeronautical research for the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics, and George P. Baker, chairman of the Research and Development Board's aeronatuics committee.

Military Witnesses

The military witnesses will include Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff; Admiral Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations; Gen. George B. Kenney, commander of the Air University; Gen. Curtis Le May, chief of the Strategic Air Command; Lieut. Gen. Lauris Norstad, deputy air force chief of staff for operations, and Gen. J. T. McNarney, chief of the Air Materiel Command, and other officers.

Vinson said Keenan and a subcommittee may go to Sonoma, Cal., later to take testimony from Gen. H. H. Arnold, wartime commander of the Army Air Force. His health will not permit a trip to Washington, Vinson explained.

Aircraft Manufacturers

The committee will hear from Floyd Odlum, head of Atlas Corporation, which controls the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, maker of the B-36, and Victor Emmanuel, chairman of the Aviation Corporation, which preceded Atlas in control of Consolidated.

Other manufacturers scheduled are Glenn L. Martin, head of his own firm; James H. Kindleberger, president of North American Aviation Company; and Robert Gross, president of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

In a speech last May, Representative Van Zandt (R., Pa.) told the House he had heard "disturbing reports" concerning the relations of Johnson, Symington and Odlum. These involved the B-36 purchasing program, Van Zandt said.

MARAGON GOT WHITE HOUSE AID, SAYS HOEY

Hunt Reveals He'll Sue Herald Tribune Over 'Percenter' Story

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Evidence that John Maragon turned to the White House concerning more than one Government contract for businessmen has been obtained in the "Five Percenter" inquiry, Senator Hoey (D., N.C.), said today.

Hoey discussed secret testimony on that point with reporters after Senator Mundt (R., S.D.) reported officials of a low-bidding Detroit auto parts company said they got fast clearance on a $280,000 Army contract after reaching an Army officer. This meeting was arranged, it was related, through a call to someone at the White House by Maragon, who once held a White House pass.

Meanwhile, James V. Hunt, a key figure in the Five Percenter probe, announced he has instructed his lawyers to file a libel suit against the New York Herald Tribune. It was a Herald Tribune story which led to the investigation by a subcommittee headed by Hoey. The senators seek to learn whether influence figured in award of any Government contracts.

Pulitzer Prize Stake Seen

Hunt said the Herald Tribune was trying to get the Pulitzer prize "by the most vicious kind of innuendo."

"Their irresponsible half-truths have gone a long way toward ruining my business," Hunt added in a statement issued through his attorney, Roger Q. White. White refused to disclose the damages to be asked but said it would be "in six figures."

The Herald Tribune had no statement at once.

Hunt, a former Army officer who lists himself as a management counselor was named in the Herald Tribune as the recipient of a $1,000 fee to help Paul Grindle, a Massachusetts manufacturer, obtain a Government contract.

The story went on to quote Grindle as saying that Hunt also was to get five per cent of any Government job he helped secure.

Influence Charged

Grindle said Hunt implied he had considerable influence in Washington. Hunt retorted he never tried to trade on influence and none of the people he knows in Government are subject to influence.

Hoey's special Senate investigating subcommittee is scheduled to open public hearings on the five-percenter inquiry Monday with Secretary of Defense Johnson as first witness.

As a result of the subcommittee's preliminary investigations, Secretary of the Army Gray has suspended two major generals—Alden H. Waitt, chief of the chemical corps, and Herman Feldman, the quartermaster general. In relieving them from duty temporarily, Gray said they had failed to exhibit judgment "expected of persons in their position."

Expected To Testify

Both Waitt and Feldman, as well as Maragon, are expected to testify in the public inquiry.

Maragon, once a Kansas City bootblack, knows his way around the White House and calls many government officials by their first names. He has been questioned by the committee privately.

The subcommittee yesterday questioned in private three officials of Austin Metal Products, Inc., a Detroit firm which manufactured automotive parts. Today Hoey said:

"In addition to the Detroit men, we have examined other contractors about relations with John Maragon. Some of them have testified they sought Maragon's help in getting government contracts.

"Some of them also have admitted that Maragon made White House contacts for them, but in some instances helped them deal directly with government departments."

Firm's Officials Questioned

At yesterday's session the subcommittee heard Nicholas K. P'Sachos, described by Hoey as "the most important member" of the Detroit firm; Edgar Roger Snyder, vice president and general sales manager; and Harold Freedman, treasurer.

Mundt, a member of the subcommittee, gave this summary of what they had to say:

"They testified they got in touch with Maragon to see whether he could speed up the contract.

"They said Maragon called someone at the White House and got them an appointment with an army officer who appeared to be an assistant to General Vaughan."

Aide To Truman

(Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan is President Truman's military aide. Maragon has said he and Vaughan are good friends. Vaughan has declined to comment on the Five Per Center inquiry, except to say that he knows about 300 persons in Washington contract operations.)

"They said," Mundt went on, "that they discussed the contract with this army officer, and that the whole thing had been cleared up and the contract released by the time they got back to Detroit."

Hoey has said the Detroiters were "clearly entitled" to the contract they got for a supply of windshields, since they were low bidders, and that they only were seeking to speed up final Government approval.

He also has said the evidence indicates Maragon was not paid anything by the men, and that "the whole thing apparently was on a basis of friendship."

Grindle Called

Although the subcommittee has called Grindle to follow Johnson to the witness stand Monday it is not sure whether Hunt will be able to appear any time soon because he is hospitalized as a result of an operation for a blood clot on his leg.

In his statement citing what he called the Herald Tribune's "practice of malicious distortion," Hunt said:

"Everyone knows their circulation and advertising revenues have been slipping. This pseudo-crusade is obviously designed to recapture their vanishing journalistic prestige."

Hunt asserted that the newspaper printed its first story June 21 "without making any attempt to check the facts with me first" and he said "they have continued the same tactics ever since."

No Basis For Charge

After Hunt's first statement on June 26, the newspaper said it repeatedly invited him to tell his side of the story.

He declared that although the Senate group has had "two attorneys and sixteen investigators going over my affairs for more than six weeks, they have not even suggested that anything has been found which would warrant any charge against me."

Skipper Denies He Got Medal For Eisler Trip

New York, Aug. 6 (AP) — The skipper of Communist Gerhart Eisler's escape ship said today the fact he had been awarded a medal by the Polish Government had "nothing to do" with Eisler's successful flight from this country.

Capt. Jan Cwiklinski of the Gdynia America liner Batory said his government had awarded him the gold cross of merit for "outstanding service" since the war in the Polish merchant marine.

He said the medal was presented to him July 22 in Gdynia. The Batory arrived with 816 passengers today — its third return to this country since the Eisler incident.

British Envoy's Message HelpsMarkTercentenary of Town in Connecticut

STONINGTON, Conn., Aug. 6 (AP).—Sir Oliver Franks, British Ambasasdor to the United States, today told people of this eastern Connecticut fishing town, marking its tercentenary with a twenty-four-day celebration, that "experienuce has taught us that the Atlantic (ocean) is a high road rather than a barrier."

Sir Oliver, in a congratulatory letter read at a community picnic attended by 3,000, referred indirectly to Stonington resistance to the British in two wars and cited the common sea heritage of the people of this town and the British.

Stonington, now with 11,002 population, was one of the earlier New England colonies, founded in 1649. It resisted British invasion in both the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812.

"You have in your possession as cherished and treasured evidence of an expensive visit by the British, some cannon balls left by us as calling cards, Sir Oliver said.

It was a common belief among British people that the compliment was repaid a thousandfold by a certain type of nutmeg peculiar to those parts. Let the shots or the gratings fall where they may, they are all now a part of history."

President Truman, noting that profits from the celebration will be used to establish a tercentennial scholarship fund here, said in his congratulatory letter that it was gratifying to know the celebration placed emphasis on the need for higher education for the young people of the community.

"Only with leaders carefully trained and disciplined can we hope to safteguard and perpetuate the institutions of democracy," Mr. Truman declared.

United States Brien McMahon, Democrat, of Connecticut, read the congratulatory message from President Truman; the Right Rev. John J. Hayes, chancellor of the Hartford Roman Catholic Diocese, brought greetings from the Vatican, and D'Arcy Edmonson, of the British Embassy, brought the letter from Sir Oliver in behalf of the King and people of Great Britain.

Senator McMahon, the principal speaker, also brought the greetings of Pedro T. Pereira, Portuguese Ambassador. Many of this fishing town's fleet skippers and their hands are of Portuguese extraction.

Senator McMahon, in his address, expressed the hope that through the United Nations and the Atlantic Pact, Stonington and the rest of the world may look forward to "decades of peace."

"en days ago," he said, "we signed an agreement wherein our allies will fight for us and we for them in case of an attack. I lookforward to the day in our time when the threat of force against freedom will be dissipated by a United Nations in deed and in fact, as well as in name.

"The devotion to the principles of liberty we have shown in the past justified our primary position in the world today and our responsibility to see that war shall not once again ravish this earth."

During the official opening ceremonies Miss Grace Dennison Wheeler, ninety-one-year-old local historian, cut a five-by-three-foot birthday cake bedecked with 300 candles. She used a sword carried by Major John Mason in the Pequot wars. Every person at the community picnic received at least one slice of the cake.

The tricentennial continues tomorrow night with a reproduction in the Old Road Church of a Congregational church service of 300 years ago. There will be one exception, however. Instead of delivering a three-hour sermon as was the case in colonial days, Dr. Morgan Phelps, of Montclair, N. J., will preach for fifteen minutes.

A story from Stonington telling of the town's history and describing the events of the tercentenary celebration, together with sketches made there, appear on page 2, Section II, of this section.

Japan Is Called Key To Problem In Far East

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 6 (AP)—Japan is the key to the entire Far Eastern situation, the wartime commander of the 8th Army said today.

"So long as Russia does not control the island chain, and particularly the main islands of Japan," said Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, "the further advancement of the Reds is to a very large extent stymied."

General Eichelberger spoke from a prepared speech at the opening session of the Thirty-first annual convention of the Ohio department of the American Legion.

Japan Is Balance

". . . If we can make sure that the Japanese are reasonably able to protect themselves after a peace treaty is concluded," the Ohio-born soldier continued, "the scales will be tipped the other way.

"That is why I consider Japan as the key to the entire Far Eastern situation at this time."

General Eichelberger traced the means by which Russia has been able to spread communism like a blanket over China.

"In the first place," Eichelberger said, "in the course of our overwhelming victory over Japan, we also caused the surrender to the Reds of the Japanese Army in Manchuria, estimated as high as 1,000,000 troops.

China Lay Open

"When this barrier was removed all of China lay open to ideological infiltration from the north in spite of all the wartime reinforcements of the Nationalist regime.

"A second major factor has been the existant state of what we might call the 'war weariness' of the followers of Chiang Kai-shek.

"A third, though less tangible item, is to be seen in the ideological line—the usual story of promises—offered people by Communists. The fact is that with standards of living so low that any change is welcomed as an improvement, Asiatic peoples are wide open to communistic turmoil."

Chinese Love Soil

General Eichelberger asserted Russia never would be able to control "the milling mass which we call China."

"Like farmers throughout the world, the Chinese peasant loves the soil," the Generail said. "He wouldn't want to be regimented into collective farms.

"The Chinese are the small trader of the Far East. They will require international trade in order to live. Unless the Reds cease their hymn of hate and seek friendly commercial contacts, there will be chaos in China, and the Communists will not be able to impose their regime on the vast population."

DOUGLAS ENDS IRAN HOLIDAY

Justice Back From Trip That Gave Russia A Spy Scare

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William C. Douglas and his son came back to the United States today after a mountain-climbing jaunt that set off an official uproar inside Russia.

The Russian radio protested that Douglas was accompanied by "a gang of spies" as he and his 17-year-old son, William, Jr., hiked through the mountains of Iran on Russia's southern borders.

"They dubbed me as 'the big devil from the United States,'" Douglas said, "and my son as 'the little devil.'"

The justice and his son arrived by plane after a seven weeks vacation in the Middle East and Europe.

Radio Spreads Rumor

On a pack trip through the Iranian mountains, Douglas said, the Russian radio "started blasting away to the effect that I was going up and down the sourthern border of Russia trying to find out what was going on inside Russia."

Justice Douglas said he was greatly upset by the news of Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy's death. He called Murphy's successor, Attorney General Tom Clark, "a very dear friend of mine for years."

A severe sand storm, Douglas said, forced his plane down in Iraq during one stage of his journey.

With a jurist's eye to business, Douglas said he sat in on a special session of the new Israeli Supreme Court in Jerusalem and found it impressive.

Impressed By Pope

He also saw the Pope, the justice said, and was impressed by the Pontiff's strong voice for social justice.

"He is a very strong and powerful man in world affairs today," Douglas added.

Douglas said he visited front-line troops in the Greek war and predicted that the conflict "will be resolved in a satisfactory way very soon."

Despite all this activity, Justice Douglas said he and his son collected 150 specimens of wild flowers as a present for the United States Forest Service.

TRIESTE, FREE TERRITORY, AUG.6-(AP)-A MOSCOW RADIO BROADCAST HEARD HERE YESTERDAY CALLED FOR THE LIQUIDATION OF YUGOSLAV PREMIER MARSHAL TITO.

THE BROADCAST SAID YUGOSLAV EMIGRANTS TO THE SOVIET UNION APPEALED FOR COOPERATION TO GET RID OF TITO "IN THE NAME OF HUMAN PRINCIPLES."

THE ITALIAN NEWS AGENCY ASTRA SAID RECENTLY THE MOSCOW RADIO HAD REPORTED AN ANTI-TITO UNDERGROUND ACTIVE IN YUGOSLAVIA. TITO WAS EXPELLED FROM THE SOVIET-DOMINATED COMINFORM (COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL INFORMATION BUREAU) LAST YEAR.

BY THOMAS P. WHITNEY

(ADVANCE) MOSCOW, AUG. 6-(AP)-NEW TIMES SAYS THE ECONOMIC COUNCIL OF MUTUAL AID (ECMA) HAS GREATLY INCREASED TRADE AMONG MEMBER COUNTRIES.

THE SOVIET FOREIGN AFFAIRS WEEKLY SAID IN A RECENT ARTICLE NEW SUCCESSES HAVE BEEN ATTAINED "IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF ECONOMIC TIES BETWEEN THE NATIONS OF CENTRAL AND SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE."

ECMA WAS ESTABLISHED ABOUT SIX MONTHS AGO. MEMBERS OF THE ORGANIZATION INCLUDE THE SOVIET UNION, BULGARIA, ROMANIA, HUNGARY, CZECHOSLOVAKIA, POLAND AND ALBANIA.

(ECMA WAS DEVELOPED AMONG SOVIET SATELLITES AFTER THE EUROPEAN RECOVERY PLAN OF THE UNITED STATES WAS INTRODUCED).

NEW TIMES SAID THE SOCIAL SYSTEMS OF THE SOVIET UNION AND THE OTHER MEMBERS OF ECMA EXCLUDE THE POSSIBILITY OF THE "BEGINNING OF ECONOMIC INEQUALITY OR POLITICAL PRESSURE."

ACCORDING TO THE PUBLICATION 35 TO 80 PER CENT OF THE FOREIGN TRADE OF EACH INDIVIDUAL NATION IS WITH THE OTHER MEMBERS OF THE ECMA, WHILE IN 1937 SUCH TRADE CONSTITUTED ONLY FROM 10 TO 18 PER CENT.

THIS, THE PUBLICATION SAID, IS ACCOMPLISHED BY THE "LEADING ROLE OF THE SOVIET UNION WHICH FIRMLY OCCUPIES FIRST PLACE IN THE IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF THE COUNTRIES OF THE PEOPLES' DEMOCRACY (COMMUNIST REGIMES)."

AN OVERWHELMING ADVANTAGE OF TRADE WITH THE SOVIET UNION, NEW TIMES SAID, IS THE FACT THAT IT REQUIRES NO DOLLARS.

THE PUBLICATION ALSO SAID THE SOVIET UNION WAS SELLING GOODS TO EASTERN EUROPEAN NATIONS AT LESS THAN WORLD MARKET PRICES. CZECHOSLOVAKIA ALONE REPORTEDLY HAS ECONOMIZED BY 1,350,000,000 (B) CROWNS, OR $27,000,000 (M) ON A 600,000-TON GRAIN PURCHASE.

BULGARIAN-SOVIET TRADE IN 1949 WAS FROZEN AT 1948 LEVELS. NEW TIMES (CQ) SAID THIS WAS OF GREAT ADVANTAGE TO BULGARIA SINCE PRICES ON THE WORLD MARKET OF BULGARIAN EXPORTS FELL WHILE THOSE OF MANY COMMODITIES SENT TO BULGARIA FROM THE SOVIET UNION HAD RISEN.

NEW TIMES SAID TRADE BETWEEN ROMANIA AND THE SOVIET UNION HAS INCREASED 150 PER CENT IN 1949 COMPARED WITH 1948, AND THAT OTHER NATIONS HAVE HAD THE FOLLOWING INCREASE IN TRADE WITH RUSSIA: CZECHOSLOVAKIA, 45 PER CENT; BULGARIA, 20 PER CENT NOT INCLUDING EQUIPMENT SENT ON CREDIT, AND HUNGARY, 100 PER CENT.

FURTHER, THE TRADE OF VARIOUS NATIONS OF EASTERN EUROPE WITH EACH OTHER INCREASED GREATLY AS THEIR TRADE WITH THE SOVIET UNION ROSE, NEW TIMES SAID. MUTUAL TECHNICAL HELP WAS A HIGHLY IMPORTANT PHASE OF THEIR ECONOMIC COOPERATION AMONG THEMSELVES AND WITH RUSSIA.

THE SOVIET UNION, THE PUBLICATION SAID, IS ENGAGED IN SUPPLYING INDUSTRIAL AND AGRICULTURAL EQUIPMENT AS WELL AS RAW MATERIALS TO EASTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

POLAND WAS SAID TO BE RECEIVING STEEL EQUIPMENT ON CREDIT FROM RUSSIA SUFFICIENT TO DOUBLE HER STEEL OUTPUT. A POLISH NEWSPAPER WAS QUOTED AS SAYING THAT RUSSIA IS SENDING POLAND EQUIPMENT SUFFICIENT TO ADD 500,000 KILOWATTS OF POWER GENERATING CAPACITY AND TO INCREASE CEMENT PRODUCTION BY 300,000 TONS A YEAR.

HWA SHIANG PAO'S VIEWS WERE SHARED SOMEWHAT BY TA KUNG PAO, A FORMERLY INDEPENDENT PAPER WHICH LATELY HAS BEEN EXTREMELY PRO-RED.

TA KUNG PAO SAID THAT DESPITE PUBLICATION OF THE WHITE PAPER THE U.S. WOULD CONTINUE TO SUPPORT CHIANG AGAINST COMMUNIST CHINA. IT SAID PUBLICATION WAS PROMPTED BY THREE REASONS:

1. TO CONVINCE CRITICS OF THE TRUMAN ADMINISTRATION SUCH AS RET. MAJ. GEN. CLAIRE CHENNAULT AND REP. JUDD (R., MINN.), THAT THE NATIONALISTS DO NOT DESERVE AMERICAN AID.

2. TO PREVENT CHIANG'S REPRESENTATIVES IN THE U.S. FROM SOLICITING MORE AMERICAN AID.

3. TO PUT UP A FRONT FOR AMERICAN NEUTRALITY IN CHINA'S CIVIL WAR AND "WASH ITS HANDS OF RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE PROLONGATION" OF THE WAR.

THE PAPER MADE NO EFFORT TO RECONCILE ITS PREDICTION OF CONTINUED AMERICAN AID FOR CHIANG WITH ITS SECOND REASON FOR THE WHITE PAPER'S PUBLICATION.

BY JOHN M.HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON,AUG.6-(AP)-SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON WILL DIRECT THE ADMINISTRATION'S NEW MOVES AGAINST COMMUNISM IN THE FAR EAST ALONG THREE LINES, RESPONSIBLE OFFICIALS INDICATED TODAY. THIS POSSIBLY INCLUDES HELP TO ANY UNDERGROUND FORCES THAT DEVELOP IN RED CHINA.

ACHESON MAY ALSO ADVOCATE U.S.ASSISTANCE TO ANY RESISTANCE FORCES WHICH SHOW SIGNS OF A DETERMINED STAND AGAINST THE COMMUNISTS.

DELIVERY OF AID DIRECT TO GENERALS IN CHINA'S UNCONQUERED WESTERN PROVINCES THUS WOULD BE CONSIDERED POSSIBLE, OFFICIALS SUGGESTED, NOW THAT THIS GOVERNMENT HAS WRITTEN OFF THE CHINESE NATIONALIST REGIME AS A FAILURE.

TH

NOW THAT THIS GOVERNMENT HAS WRITTEN OFF THE CHINESE NATIONALIST REGIME AS A FAILURE.

THE THREE LINES ALONG WHICH POLICY MOVES ARE EXPECTED TO BE ORDERED ARE THESE:

1. RESISTANCE TO ANY THREAT OF AGGRESSION BY THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS AGAINST CHINA'S NEIGHBORS--SUCH AS BURMA AND FRENCH INDO-CHINA.

2. PROMOTION OF POLITICAL POLICIES AMONG CHINA'S NEIGHBORS FROM KOREA THROUGH JAPAN AND THE PHILIPPINES AROUND TO INDIA WHICH WILL BETTER LIVING CONDITIONS OF THE PEOPLE AND THEREBY WEAKEN THE POSITION OF COMMUNISM WORKING FROM THE INSIDE.

3. TAKE ADVANTAGE OF ALL OPPORTUNITIES TO WEAKEN THE POSITION OF COMMUNISM INSIDE CHINA BY GIVING ENCOURAGEMENT AND, WHERE PRACTICAL, ASSISTANCE TO ANY CHINESE MOVEMENTS AIMED AT RESTORING THE COUNTRY'S INDEPENDENCE OF COMMUNISM.

IN A GENERAL WAY ALL THREE LINES OF ACTION WERE INDICATED IN ACHESON'S LETTER TO PRESIDENT TRUMAN TRANSMITTING THE WHITE PAPER ON CHINA POLICY, AND ACHESON'S NEWS CONFERENCE STATEMENT YESTERDAY. WHAT THE UNITED STATES MAY ACTUALLY DO WILL DEPEND, OF COURSE, ON THE FINAL SHAPING OF CONGRESSIONAL REACTION TO THE WHITE PAPER BLAST AT CHINA'S TOTTERING NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT.

PRECISELY WHAT MOVES THE U.S.MAY TAKE IS THE SUBJECT OF INTENSIVE STUDIES WHICH ACHESON HAS ORDERED ON THE PART OF HIS TROUBLESHOOTER, AMBASSADOR PHILIP JESSUP, OFFICERS OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S FAR EASTERN DIVISION, AND OTHER TOP ASSISTANTS.

A161WX

EVENTUAL DECISIONS WILL DEPEND, HOWEVER, ON THE WAY EVENTS MOVE IN CHINA MORE THAN ON ANY OTHER SINGLE FACTOR. IN HIS WHITE PAPER LETTER ACHESON NAILED FUTURE AMERICAN POLICY TO THE PRINCIPLE OF BEING "REALISTIC" AND OF DEALING WITH THE FACTS AS THEY DEVELOP.

ONE THING HE IS NOW TRYING TO LEARN IS WHETHER MILITARY FORCES OUTSIDE COMMUNIST CONTROL ARE UMDER DETERMINED AND COMPETENT LEADERSHIP SO THAT CAN BE COUNTED ON.

CONGRESSIONAL REACTION TO THE WHITE PAPER WAS STILL SHARPLY DIVIDED TODAY WITH SOME MEMBERS HOLDING TO THE IDEA THAT THE ADMINISTRATION'S ESTIMATE OF THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT AS A FAILURE WAS "REALISTIC"--BUT OTHERS INSISTING THAT THE REAL FAILURES WERE THOSE OF THE ADMINISTRATION IN NOT HELPING THE CHINESE NATIONALISTS ENOUGH.

AT ANY RATE CRITICS OF ALL SHADES OF VIEW APPEAR TO AGREE THAT ACHESON IS RIGHT IN SAYING THE UNITED STATES IS NOW CONFRONTED WITH THE "GRAVEST DIFFICULTIES" IN TRYING TO ACHIEVE ITS OBJECTIVE OF DEVELOPING CHINA AS A COUNTRY FREE OF RUSSIAN OR ANY OTHER FOREIGN DOMINATION.

THE WHOLE SITUATION WILL BE REVIEWED WITH AMBASSADOR JOHN LEIGHTON STUART, WHO IS DUE HERE WEDNESDAY AFTER HAVING SPENT THE LAST SEVERAL MONTHS IN COMMUNIST CHINA.

IN COMMENTING ON THE WHITE PAPER'S DISCLOSURES, SENATOR VANDENBERG SAID IT WAS OBVIOUS THAT BOTH NATIONALIST CHINA AND THE UNITED STATES HAD MADE "TRAGIC MISTAKES."

"OUR CHIEF MISTAKES," HIS STATEMENT SAID, "WERE (1) THE PRICE WE PAID AT TEHRAN AND YALTA, AT CHINA'S EXPENSE, FOR RUSSIA'S BELATED AND UNNECESSARY ENTRY INTO THE JAP WAR; (2) OUR WELL INTENTIONED BUT IMPRACTICAL INSISTENCE UPON A NATIONALIST-COMMUNIST COALITION."

"THE POST-MORTEM IS CHIEFLY USEFUL AS WARNING FOR THE FUTURE," HE ADDED.

THE TONE OF VANDENBERG'S STATEMENT WAS IN SHARP CONTRAST TO THE HEATED COMMENTS OF MAJ.GEN.PATRICK J.HURLEY (RET.), WHO WAS APPOINTED BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AS A SPECIAL WARTIME ENVOY TO CHINA WITH AMBASSADORIAL RANK. HURLEY'S ASSIGNMENT WAS TO TRY TO ACHIEVE UNITY BETWEEN THE CHINESE NATIONALISTS AND COMMUNISTS.

HURLEY'S COMMENTS ON THE WHITE PAPER ECHOED HIS BLASTS OF NOVEMBER, 1945, WHEN HE RESIGNED HIS POST WITH A BITTER DENUNCIATION OF CAREER DIPLOMATS AND A WARNING THAT A THIRD WORLD WAR WAS "IN THE MAKING."

HIS STATEMENT TODAY DECLARED THAT "PRO-COMMUNISTS" IN THE STATE DEPARTMENT ENGINEERED THE OVERTHROW OF THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT AND AIDED IN THE COMMUNIST CONQUEST OF CHINA.

"NEARLY ALL THE OFFICIALS RELIEVED BE ME IN CHINA BECAUSE THEY WERE PRO-COMMUNIST ARE NOW IN THE STATE DEPARTMENT--PRESUMABLY WRITING ALIBI WHITE PAPERS," HE DECLARED.

HURLEY SAID THE WHITE PAPER CORRECTLY STATED THAT HE NEARLY ALWAYS AGREED WITH THE ANNOUNCED POLICIES OF THE PRESIDENT AND HIS SECRETARY OF STAT.HUD, HOWEVER:

"I CRITICIZED THE WIDE DISCREPANCY BETWEEN THE POLICY STATED BY THE HIGHEST OFFICIALS AND THE POLICY MADE EFFECTIVE THROUGHOUT THE WORLD BY THE STATE DEPARTMENT ARE NOT ALIKE. THEY ARE VERY DIFFERENT POLICIES."

HURLEY SAID THE LATE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WAS A SICK MAN AT YALTA, WHEN HE SIGNED SECRET AGREEMENTS GIVING RUSSIA SPECIAL CONCESSIONS IN CHINA. HURLEY CRACTERIZED THE YALTA AGREEMENT AS A "BLUEPRINT FOR COMMUNIST CONQUEST OF CHINA."

(350) CONGRESS ROUNDUP

WASHINGTON, AUG.6-(AP)-THE ADMINISTRATION'S PUBLISHED EXPLANATION OF ITS CHINA POLICY DREW BOTH PRAISE AND CRITICISM FROM CONGRESS TODAY.

NEARLY EVERYONE, BOTH FRIENDS AND FOES OF ADMINISTRATION POLICY, AGREED THE CHINA SITUATION IS BAD BUT DISAGREED ABOUT WHAT CAN BE DONE TO KEEP THE REDS FROM OVERRUNNING ALL OF CHINA.

MEMBERS WHO DEFENDED THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S WHITE PAPER EXPLANATION OF HOW THE COMMUNISTS OVERWHELMED CHIANG KAI SHEK'S GOVERNMENT SAID IT WAS A REALISTIC VIEW.

CRITICS SAID THE REVELATION OF THE CHINESE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT'S FAILURE WAS A CONFESSION OF AMERICAN FAILURE ALSO.

SENATOR BRIDGES (R-NH) SAID WE SHOULD PAT THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT ON THE BACK INSTEAD OF KICKING IT IN THE FACE; WE SHOULD FURNIFH SMALL ARMS AND AMMUNITION TO ANTI-COMMUNISTS AND WE SHOULD GIVE REASSURANCE THE U.S. WON'T RECOGNIZE THE COMMUNISTS.

CHAIRMAN TYDINGS (R-MD) OF THE SENATE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE SAID THE WHITE PAPER "REALISTICALLY AIMED IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION."

ELSEWHERE IN CONGRESS:

ARMS FOR EUROPE PROGRAM--CHAIRMAN KEE (D-WVA) OF THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE WAS TRYING TO FORESTALL DEMANDS FOR A 50 PER CENT SLASH IN THE $1,450,000,000 (B) FUND. HE MAY ASK THE COMMITTEE TO OK THE PROGRAM WITHOUT CUTTING IT SO THE WHOLE ISSUE CAN BE DEBATED FROM SCRATCH ON THE FLOOR.

FOREIGN AID--THE $5,797,724,000 (B) BILL COMES BEFORE THE SENATE MONDAY FOR WHAT IS EXPECTED TO BE A FAVORABLE VOTE. IF THIS OCCURS, THE BILL GOES TO A JOINT SENATE-HOUSE CONFERENCE. THE SENATE HAS CUT ABOUT 10 PER CENT FROM THE AMOUNT THE HOUSE APPROVED.

EDUCATION--HOUSE LEADERS INDICATED THERE WILL BE NO ACTION THIS YEAR ON THE PROPOSAL FOR FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION, DESPITE PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S APPEAL FOR LEGISLATION.

FIVE PERCENTERS--SENATOR MUNDT (R-SD) SAID A DETROIT AUTO PARTS FIRM RECEIVED CLEARANCE ON A $280,000 ARMY CONTRACT AFTER JOHN MARAGON GOT THEM A WHITE HOUSE APPOINTMENT. BUT HE ADDED THE DETROIT FIRM WAS LOW BIDDER AND ENTITLED TO THE CONTRACT. MARAGON IS AN EX-BOOTBLACK FROM KANSAS CITY WITH FRIENDS IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

FARM BILL--THE SENATE AGRICULTURE SUBCOMMITTEE MET WITH SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE BRANNAN TO TRY AND REACH AN AGREEMENT ON A COMPROMISE PROGRAM PUT TOGETHER BY A BI-PARTISAN COMMITTEE.

FIRST LEAD CHINA POLICY

BY JOHN M.HIGHTOWER

(ADVANCE)-WASHINGTON,AUG 6-(AP)-SENATOR VANDENBERG, REPUBLICAN FOREIGN POLICY LEADER, SAID TONIGHT THAT THE UNITED STATES MUST TAKE A FRESH LOOK AT ITS CHINA POLICIES AND DETERMINE ITS COURSE "UNHAMPERED BY PAST PREJUDICES OR EMOTIONS."

SPEAKING OUT ON THE GOVERNMENT'S CHINA POLICY "WHITE PAPER," THE MICHIGAN SENATOR SAID THIS COUNTRY MUST MAKE "RELENTLESSLY CLEAR" ITS SUPPORT FOR THE CHINESE PEOPLE AND FOR FREEDOM IN THE FAR EAST.

PATRICK J.HURLEY, WHO HEADED A WARTIME MISSION TO CHINA, ASSAILED THE WHITE PAPER IN A STATEMENT AS "A SMOOTH ALIBI FOR THE PRO-COMMUNISTS IN THE STATE DEPARTMENT."

IN SEVERAL WAYS VANDENBERG'S STATEMENT COINCIDED WITH VIEWS EXPRESSED BY SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON.

ACHESON, WHO HAS ABANDONED HOPE OF SAVING CHINA BY PROPPING UP THE NATIONALIST REGIME, HAS BEFORE HIM THE PROBLEM OF SHAPING A POSITIVE NEW APPROACH.

AIDES AND ASSOCIATES EXPECTED HIM TO MOVE ALONG THREE LINES IN DIRECTING NEW ADMINISTRATION MOVES AGAINST COMMUNISM IN THE FAR EAST. THIS POSSIBLY INCLUDES ASSISTANCE TO ANTI-COMMUNIST FORCES WHICH MAY REMAIN OR SPRING UP TO OPPOSE CHINESE RED CONTROL.

VANDENBERG, TOP REPUBLICAN ON THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE, DECLARED THAT THE UNITED STATES MUST NOT ACCEPT RESULTS OF AGGRESSION IN CHINA CAN PERMANENTLY SUCCEED. ACHESON HAD DECLARED IN A STATEMENT ON THE WHITE PAPER YESTERDAY THAT HE WAS NOT "DEFEATIST."

VANDENBERG CALLED FOR "A FRESH LOOK, UNHAMPERED BY PAST PREJUDICES OR EMOTIONS." ACHESON HAS ANNOUNCED THAT HE WAS BRINGING IN OUTSIDE ADVISERS TO WORK WITH STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS ON DEVISING NEW MOVES WITH RESPECT TO CHINA AND THE FAR EAST.

VANDENBERG FURTHER DECLARED THAT THE UNITED STATES "DEAL WITH THE REALITIES" OF THE SITUATION. ACHESON LIKEWISE HAD DEMANDED THAT THE COUNTRY ADOPT A "REALISTIC" ATTITUDE TOWARD ITS PROBLEMS IN CHINA.

A176WX

IN LINE WITH WHAT VANDENBERG ADVOCATED, ACHESON HAD PINNED AMERICAN POLICY TO SUPPORT OF THE CHINESE PEOPLE WHEN, THROUGH RELEASEOF THE WHITEPAPER, HE EFFECTIVELY ENDED SUPPORT OF THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT.

THE POINTS OF AGREEMENT IN THE STATEMENTS ISSUED BY THE TWO MEN WERE REGARDED BY DIPLOMATIC OBSERVERS AS IMPORTANT. THEY INDICATED A POSSIBLE NEW APPROACH TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF CHINA POLICY WITH A DEGREE OF BIPARTISANSHIP, AS BETWEEN THE STATE DEPARTMENT AND VANDENBERG, WHICH HAS NOT EXISTED IN THE PAST.

THERE APPEARED TO BE NO DOUBT THAT VANDENBERG'S VIEWS WOULD RECEIVE CAREFUL CONSIDERATION BY ACHESON AND HIS ADVISERS.

OFFICIALS BELIEVE THAT ACHESON, IN THE EXPECTED THREE LINES OF ANTI-COMMUNIST ACTION, MAY URGE AID FOR ANY RESISTANCE FORCES SHOWING SIGNS OF A DETERMINED STAND AGAINST THE COMMUNISTS.

(450) FOREIGN AID

BY DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON, AUG.6-(AP)-A MULTI-BILLION DOLLAR FOREIGN AID BILL WAS SET TODAY FOR SWIFT PASSAGE AFTER RUNNING A GAUNTLET OF SHARP SENATE DEBATE FOR DAYS. THE FINAL VOTE IS EXPECTED MONDAY.

THE ONLY OBSTACLE STILL CONFRONTING THE MONEY BILL--AND NOT A VERY BIG ONE--IS AN AMENDMENT BY SENATOR KEM (R-MO) TO BAR RECOVERY AID TO ANY NATION IN THE FUTURE WHICH NATIONALIZES A BASIC INDUSTRY.

THE MOVE IS AIMED PARTICULARLY AT BRITAIN'S SOCIALIZATION PROGRAM.

SENATE LEADERS SEE NO DIFFICULTY AHEAD IN BRUSHING ASIDE THE KEM PROPOSAL. IT WAS RULED OUT OF ORDER LATE YESTERDAY ON THE GROUNDS IT CONTAINED POLICY-MAKING LAW IN VIOLATION OF SENATE RULES.

KEM APPEALED THE DECISION BY SENATOR TYDINGS (D-MD), WHO WAS PRESIDING, BUT LEADERS ARE CONFIDENT THEY CAN BEAT THIS MOVE.

ONCE PAST THAT HURDLE, THE SENATE IS EXPECTED TO APPROVE THE MEASURE WHICH HAS BEEN TIED UP IN A CONFUSED WRANGLE OVER SENATE RULES.

AS IT NOW STANDS, THE BILL CONTAINS:

(1) $3,628,300,000 (B) TO CARRY THE ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION TO JULY 1, 1950.

(2) $150,000,000 (M) FOR ECA LOANS.

(3) $1,074,000,000 (B) TO PAY FOR ECA OPERATIONS DURING LAST APRIL, MAY AND JUNE.

(4) $900,000,000 (M) FOR ARMY OCCUPATION COSTS IN GERMANY, AUSTRIA, JAPAN AND THE RYUKYU ISLANDS.

(5) $45,000,000 (M) IN AID FOR TURKEY AND GREECE.

(6) $344,000 FOR A CONGRESSIONAL WATCHDOG COMMITTEE STAFF TO CONTINUE CHECKING ON FOREIGN SPENDING.

THE TOTAL OF THESE FIGURES IS ROUGHLY ABOUT 10 PER CENT LESS THAN VOTED BY THE HOUSE. FOR THIS REASON, THE FINAL VOTE WILL SEND THE BILL INTO A CONFERENCE WHERE SENATE-HOUSE MEMBERS WILL WORK OUT THEIR DIFFERENCES.

THERE WAS SOME SURPRISE LATE YESTERDAY OVER THE LACK OF OPPOSITION TO A PROPOSAL DESIGNED TO HALT THE DESTRUCTION OR DISMANTLING OF 365 INDUSTRIAL PLANTS IN GERMANY.

THE SENATE APPROVED BY VOICE VOTE AN AMENDMENT WHICH IN EFFECT DIRECTS ECA CHIEF PAUL HOFFMAN TO RE-OPEN NEGOTIATIONS WITH BRITAIN AND FRANCE ON THE PLANT PROBLEM.

"IT IS THE INTENTION OF THE SENATE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE," SENATOR BRIDGES (R-NH) SAID, "THAT ONCE AGAIN THIS PROBLEM WOULD BE REVIEWED. IT CERTAINLY WOULD BE MY HOPE X X X THAT THE ADMINISTRATOR WOULD IMMEDIATELY REVIEW THIS WHOLE SITUATION AND WOULD SEE WHETHER AT THIS PARTICULAR TIME SOME OF THESE PLANTS X X X MIGHT BE SALVAGED.

"SUCH A STEP WILL IN THE END HELP TO TAKE GERMANY AND THE GERMAN PEOPLE OFF OUR BACKS AND HELP THEM BECOME SELF-SUSTAINING."

A COMMITTEE NAMED BY HOFFMAN SUCCEEDED LAST YEAR IN SAVING 159 PLANTS FROM BEING DESTROYED OR DISMANTLED. THIS AGREEMENT WAS REACHED WITH THE BRITISH AND FRENCH.

BUTBRIDGES TOLD THE

BUT BRIDGES TOLD THE SENATE THERE ARE 365 PLANTS REMAINING WHICH COULD BE KEPT IN GERMANY WITHOUT UPSETTING THE RECOVERY EFFORT OF ANY EUROPEAN NATION.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT IS REPORTED TO BE NONE TOO HAPPY ABOUT THE PROSPECT OF RE-OPENING THE PLANT PROBLEM WITH FRANCE AND GERMANY. BUT NO OPPOSITION DEVELOPED WHEN BRIDGES OFFERED THE AMENDMENT.

VH348AED

WHEN CONGRESS BEGINS A NEW SESSION IN JANUARY.

SOME MEMBERS FEEL TOO THAT THERE SHOULD BE A FIRM GUARANTEE OF MUTUAL COOPERATION BY WESTERN EUROPEAN NATIONS AS A CONDITION TO PROVIDING THE REARMAMENT AID.

THE REWRITTEN BILL SENT TO CONGRESS BY THE ADMINISTRATION YESTERDAY SPELLS OUT SPECIFICALLY WHAT COUNTRIES SHOULD BE ELIGIBLE FOR AID UNDER THE PLAN--THE ATLANTIC PACT NATIONS, GREECE, TURKEY, IRAN, KOREA, AND THE PHILIPPINES.

IT ALSO PROVIDES SPECIFIC AMOUNTS FOR EACH AREA--$1,160,990,000 (B) FOR THE TREATY COUNTRIES; $211,370,000 (M) FOR GREECE AND TURKEY, AND $27,640,000 (M) FOR IRAN, KOREA, AND THE PHILIPPINES.

IN ADDITION, $50,000,000 ALREADY HAS BEEN AUTHORIZED FOR GREECE AND TURKEY, RAISING THE TOTAL COST OF THE PROGRAM TO $1,450,000,000 (B). AMOUNTS FOR INDIVIDUAL COUNTRIES ARE NOT DISCLOSED.

WASHINGTON,AUG.6-(AP)-JAMES V.HUNT, A CENTRAL FIGURE IN WASHINGTON'S CURRENT "FIVE PER CENTER" INQUIRY, ANNOUNCED TODAY HE IS FILING SUIT AGAINST THE NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE.

HUNT DECLARED IN A STATEMENT THAT "IRRESPONSIBLE HALF-TRUTHS" PRINTED BY THE NEWSPAPER "HAVE GONE A LONG WAY TOWARD RUINING MY BUSINESS."

NOW A WASHINGTON MANAGEMENT COUNSELOR, HUNT'S ACTIVITIES CAME UNDER CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE SCRUTINY AFTER THE HERALD TRIBUNE PUBLISHED A STORY JUNE 21 SAYING HE HAD ACCEPTED A $1,000 FEE FROM A BUSINESS MAN SEEKING GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS.

"THE SENATE INVESTIGATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE, NATURALLY AROUSED BY THE SENSATIONALISM OF THE ORIGINAL HERALD TRIBUNE STORY," HUNT SAID, "HAS HAD TWO ATTORNEYS AND 16 INVESTIGATORS GOING OVER MY AFFAIRS FOR MORE THAN SIX WEEKS.

"THEY HAVE NOT EVEN SUGGESTED THAT ANYTHING HAS BEEN FOUND WHICH WOULD WARRANT ANY CHARGE AGAINST ME."

SENATOR HOEY (D-NC), CHAIRMAN OF THE SUBCOMMITTEE, SAID THERE WAS "NO EVIDENCE THAT MARAGON WAS PAID ANYTHING" BY THE DETROITERS.

IT ALSO HAS BEEN BROUGHT OUT THAT THERE IS NOTHING UNLAWFUL ABOUT ACCEPTING FEES FOR AIDING BUSINESS MEN IN DEALING WITH THE GOVERNMENT--THE INVESTIGATION REVOLVES MAINLY AROUND CLAIMS OF "INFLUENCE" IN HIGH PLACES.

ROGER Q.WHITE, ATTORNEY FOR HUNT, TOLD A REPORTER THAT THE SUIT AGAINST THE HERALD TRIBUNE WILL BE A LIBEL ACTION ASKING A SUBSTANTIAL SUM AS DAMAGES. HE SAID THE EXACT AMOUNT HAS NOT YET BEEN DECIDED BUT THAT IT WILL RUN INTO SIX FIGURES.

THE LAWYER DECLARED HE WANTS TO FILE THE ACTION AS SOON AS POSSIBLE BUT THAT HE WILL NOT HAVE TIME TO DO IT AS LONG AS CONGRESSIONAL HEARINGS ARE GOING ON IN WHICH HIS CLIENT IS LIKELY TO BE MENTIONED. IF THERE IS A BREAK OF SEVERAL DAYS IN HEARINGS AT WHICH WITNESSES MAY MENTION HUNT, HE SAID, HE WILL BE ABLE TO PREPARE AND FILE THE SUIT THEN.

AS TO JOHN MARAGON'S EFFORTS, SENATOR MUNDT SAID THE DETROIT MEN WERE LOW BIDDERS FOR THE ARMY CONTRACT AND WERE ENTITLED TO IT. HE SAID THEY TESTIFIED THEY SIMPLY WANTED TO SPEED UP FINAL GOVERNMENT APPROVAL.

(200) WASHN 1ST ADD FIVE PERCENTERS XXX MALICIOUS DISTORTION."

MEANWHILE, A NEW YORK MAN CALLED ON THE SENATE INVESTIGATORS TO INQUIRE INTO ANOTHER FIVE PER CENT PRACTICE--THE CHARGING OF A FEE FOR OBTAINING EMPLOYMENT FOR A MAN ON A GOVERNMENT PROJECT ABROAD.

JAMES H.DILLON, PRESIDENT OF THE CONSTRUCTION MEN'S ASSOCIATION, NEW YORK CITY, MADE THE SUGGESTION IN A LETTER TO HOEY. DILLON, WHO MADE THE LETTER PUBLIC, DESCRIBED HIS ASSOCIATION AS REPRESENTING MEN WHO MAKE A CAREER OF WORKING ON AMERICAN PROJECTS ABROAD.

HE SAID A FEW COMMERCIAL EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES WHICH SPECIALIZE IN FINDING JOBS WITH CONTRACTORS HOLDING U.S. CONTRACTS ABROAD "CHARGE THE EMPLOYE FOR WHOM A JOB IS FOUND A FEE OF FIVE PER CENT OF A YEAR'S WAGE, PAYABLE IN ADVANCE."

"THERE IS EVIDENCE OF COLLUSION BETWEEN SUCH PRIVATE EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES AND PERSONNEL MANAGERS OF THE LARGE CONTRACTING COMPANIES, THE AGENCIES ALLOWING THE MANAGERS A SHARE OF THE FEES," DILLON DECLARED. "THIS INDUCES THE PERSONNEL MANAGERS TO PATRONIZE THE PRIVATE AGENCIES AND ABET THE GENERAL PRACTICE."

DILLON SAID THE PRACTICE HAS BECOME SO PREVALENT THAT IT IS DIFFICULT TO RECRUIT SKILLED WORKMEN FOR CERTAIN MARSHALL PLAN PROJECTS AND FOR DEFENSE BASES ABROAD.

WASHINGTON, AUG.6-(AP)-REP.MACK (R-WASH) SAYS THAT ECONOMIC COOPERATION DOLLARS PAID TO GREAT BRITAIN ARE BEING USED TO BUY LUMBER ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY FROM CANADA TO THE INJURY OF THE AMERICAN LUMBER INDUSTRY.

HE SAID IN A HOUSE TALK YESTERDAY THAT IN THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE CURRENT YEAR GREAT BRITAIN BOUGHT 218,057,217 FEET OF LUMBER FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA WHILE LUMBER MILLS IN WASHINGTON AND OREGON SHIPPED A COMBINED TOTAL OF 7,800,704 FEET TO THE UNITED KINGDOM.

"THIS MEANS THAT OF ALL LUMBER ORDERS PLACED WITH AMERICAN ECA DOLLARS BY THE BRITISH 97 PERCENT WERE ALLOCATED TO CANADA AND ONLY THREE PERCENT OF THE ORDERS TO UNITED STATES MILLS," MACK SAID. "UNITED STATES LUMBER MILLS ARE GETTING FEWER LUMBER ORDERS FROM THE BRITISH NOW, AT A TIME WHEN THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE DONATING BILLIONS OF DOLLARS TO THEM, THAN WE DID BEFORE ECA WAS STARTED.

"I WOULD LIKE TO SUGGEST TO THE BRITISH THAT IF THEY CONTINUE THIS SELFISH POLICY OF DISCRIMINATION AGAINST AMERICAN INDUSTRIES THEY INEVITABLY WILL UNDERMINE AND ENDANGER THE WHOLE ECA PROGRAM FOR THEMSELVES AND OTHER NATIONS AS WELL.

"CERTAINLY THE AMERICAN TAXPAYERS CANNOT AND WILL NOT CONTINUE TO GIVE HUGE SUMS TO EUROPE IF AMERICAN DOLLARS ARE TO BE EMPLOYED TO DESTROY THE PROSPERITY OF THE AMERICAN INDUSTRY AND THEREBY DEPRIVE AMERICAN WORKERS OF THEIR JOBS."

(480) FIVE PERCENTERS
BY MARVIN L.ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON, AUG.6-(AP)-SENATOR MUNDT (R-SD) SAID TODAY OFFICIALS OF A DETROIT AUTO PARTS FIRMS TESTIFIED THEY RECEIVED QUICK CLEARANCE ON A $280,000 ARMY CONTRACT AFTER JOHN MARAGON GOT THEM A WHITE HOUSE APPOINTMENT.
MUNDT SAID THE DETROITERS WERE THE LOW BIDDERS AND WERE ENTITLED TO THE CONTRACT. HE SAID THEY RELATED THAT THEY SIMPLY WANTED TO SPEED UP FINAL GOVERNMENT APPROVAL.
MARAGON IS A FORMER KANSAS CITY BOOTBLACK WITH AN ENTREE TO THE WHITE HOUSE. HE WAS QUESTIONED THREE DAYS LAST WEEK BY SENATE INVESTIGATORS LOOKING INTO THE ACTIVITIES OF "FIVE PERCENTERS"--PERSONS WHO CHARGE A FEE FOR HELPING OTHERS GET GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS.
THE INQUIRY IS BEING HANDLED BY A SPECIAL SENATE SUBCOMMITTEE TRYING TO FIND OUT WHETHER ANY COMMISSION MEN HAVE ATTEMPTED TO INFLUENCE GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, AS HAS BEEN ALLEGED.
A HOUSE COMMITTEE WHICH HAS BEEN CONDUCTING A SIMILAR PROBE INTO ARMY UNIFORM PURCHASES REPORTED YESTERDAY THAT IT IS SATISFIED THERE HAVE BEEN NO IRREGULARITIES INVOLVED IN SUCH CONTRACTS.
THE SENATE GROUP PLANS TO START PUBLIC HEARINGS MONDAY. IN PREPARATION FOR THOSE SESSIONS THE SUBCOMMITTEE HAS BEEN QUESTIONING WITNESSES BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.
AT A PRIVATE MEETING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON THE SUBCOMMITTEE GOT THE TESTIMONY OF THREE OFFICIALS OF AUSTIN METAL PRODUCTS, INC., A DETROIT COMPANY WHICH PRODUCES AUTO PARTS. THEY APPEARED IN RESPONSE TO SUBPOENAS.
A FEW HOURS LATER MUNDT, A MEMBER OF THE SUBCOMMITTEE, TOLD REPORTERS:
"THEY TESTIFIED THEY GOT IN TOUCH WITH MARAGON TO SEE WHETHER HE COULD SPEED UP THE CONTRACT.
"THEY SAID MARAGON CALLED SOMEONE AT THE WHITE HOUSE AND GOT THEM AN APPOINTMENT WITH AN ARMY OFFICER WHO APPEARED TO BE AN ASSISTANT TO GENERAL VAUGHAN."
MAJ.GEN.HARRY H.VAUGHAN IS PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S MILITARY AIDE. MARAGON HAS SAID HE IS A GOOD FRIEND OF VAUGHAN.
"THEY SAID," MUNDT CONTINUED, "THAT THEY DISCUSSED THE CONTRACT WITH THIS ARMY OFFICER, AND THAT THE WHOLE THING HAD BEEN CLEARED UP AND THE CONTRACT RELEASED BY THE TIME THEY GOT BACK TO DETROIT."

A58WX
THE SUBCOMMITTEE QUESTIONED NICHOLAS K.P'SACHOS, DESCRIBED BY SENATOR HOEY (D-NC), THE SUBCOMMITTEE CHAIRMAN, AS "THE MOST IMPORTANT MEMBER" OF THE DETROIT FIRM; EDGAR ROGER SNYDER, VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL SALES MANAGER; AND HAROLD FREEDMAN, TREASURER.
HOEY SAID "THERE IS NO EVIDENCE THAT MARAGON WAS PAID ANYTHING" BY THE DETROITERS WHO OBTAINED THE ARMY CONTRACT LAST SPRING FOR A SUPPLY OF WINDSHIELDS.
"IN FACT," HOEY SAID, "THE EVIDENCE INDICATES HE WAS NOT PAID ANYTHING. APPARENTLY THE WHOLE THING WAS ON A BASIS OF FRIENDSHIP."
THE DETROITERS, HOEY SAID, WERE "CLEARLY ENTITLED TO THE CONTRACT." HE ADDED:
"THEY SUBMITTED THE LOWEST BID. THE ONLY BIDDERS WERE GENERAL MOTORS AND THIS COMPANY, AND THIS COMPANY'S BID WAS CONSIDERABLY UNDER GENERAL MOTORS'."
HOEY DISCLOSED THAT STATE DEPARTMENT RECORDS ON MARAGON WERE SUBPOENAED BY THE SUBCOMMITTEE LAST THURSDAY. HE SAID THE RECORDS ARE FROM THE DEPARTMENT'S OFFICE OF FOREIGN LIQUIDATION, WHICH HANDLED DISPOSAL OF GOVERNMENT SURPLUS PROPERTY ABROAD.
HOEY SAID MERELY THAT THE RECORDS WERE SUBPOENAED "FOR EXAMINATION." HE DECLINED TO ELABORATE.

IT IS KNOWN THAT THE SUBCOMMITTEE QUESTIONED MARAGON EXTENSIVELY LAST WEEK AS TO WHETHER HE EVER ATTEMPTED TO NEGOTIATE ANY DEALS FOR SURPLUS PROPERTY. HE TESTIFIED THAT HE ONCE TOOK TWO MEN WHO SOUGHT HIS AID TO THE NEW YORK OFFICE OF THE WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATION.
MARAGON SAID THEY BOUGHT $30,000 WORTH OF MACHINERY AND LATER SOLD IT AT A $10,000 LOSS. HE SAID HE DID NOT GET A CENT OUT OF THE TRANSACTION.

WASHINGTON,AUG.6-(AP)-FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT OF A STATEMENT ISSUED TODAY BY JAMES V.HUNT, WARTIME LIEUTENANT COLONEL WHOSE ACTIVITIES AS A MANAGEMENT COUNSELOR ARE BEING INVESTIGATED IN THE "FIVE PER CENTER" PROBE: (350)

I HAVE INSTRUCTED MY LAWYERS TO FILE SUIT AGAINST THE NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE. THEIR IRRESPONSIBLE HALF-TRUTHS HAVE GONE A LONG WAY TOWARD RUINING MY BUSINESS.

CORPORATIONS LIKE GENERAL MOTORS, U.S.STEEL, BETHLEHEM STEEL, PAN AMERICAN AIRWAYS, ETC., CAN AFFORD TO SPEND MILLIONS ON WASHINGTON REPRESENTATION. THEY MAINTAIN STAFFS COMPETENT TO ASSURE A STEADY FLOW OF GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS. THE SMALL BUSINESS MAN, THE KIND I REPRESENT, CANNOT AFFORD EVEN ONE FULL TIME WASHINGTON MAN. I ORIGINALLY THOUGHT (X) GRINDLE WAS SUCH A BUSINESS MAN, NOT A STOOGE FOR A PAPER OUT TO GET A PULITZER PRIZE BY THE MOST VICIOUS KINDS OF INNUENDO.

THE NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE RAN A 23 COLUMN STORY ABOUT ME ON JUNE 21, WITHOUT MAKING ANY ATTEMPT TO CHECK THE FACTS WITH ME FIRST. THEY HAVE CONTINUED THE SAME TACTICS EVER SINCE.

WHILE THIS STORY AND SUBSEQUENT DEVELOPMENTS HAVE BEEN WIDELY REPORTED IN THE PRESS, IT IS SIGNIFICANT TO ME THAT NOT ONE OTHER NEWSPAPER IN THE UNITED STATES HAS FOLLOWED THE HERALD TRIBUNE'S PRACTICE OF MALICIOUS DISTORTION.

THE SENATE INVESTIGATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE, NATURALLY AROUSED BY THE SENSATIONALISM OF THE ORIGINAL HERALD TRIBUNE STORY, HAS HAD TWO ATTORNEYS AND 16 INVESTIGATORS GOING OVER MY AFFAIRS FOR MORE THAN SIX WEEKS. THEY HAVE NOT EVEN SUGGESTED THAT ANYTHING HAS BEEN FOUND WHICH WOULD WARRANT ANY CHARGE AGAINST ME. BUT, TYPICALLY, ON JULY 24 THE HERALD TRIBUNE SAID IN INCH HIGH HEADLINES ON PAGE ONE "HUNT'S DIARY MAY BE CENSORED IN PUBLICATION TO AVOID SMEARS." BURIED IN THE SAME STORY ON AN INSIDE PAGE WAS A DIRECT QUOTE FROM A SENATE SOURCE THAT THIS OFFICE DIARY "CONTAINS NOTHING THAT INCRIMINATES ANYONE."

WHEN THE SUBCOMMITTEE IS READY TO RELEASE THIS DIARY TO THE PRESS, IT WILL BE QUITE APPARENT THAT THE WHOLE TISSUE OF HALF-TRUTHS, BUILT UP BY THE HERALD TRIBUNE ADDS UP TO AXACTLY NOTHING AT ALL.

ONLY LAST THURSDAY THEY RAN A STORY ABOUT MATCH FOLDERS. BY MALICIOUS DISTORTION AND HALF-TRUTHS, THEY GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT I ORDERED THOSE MATCHES FOR MY OWN USE, TO IMPRESS PROSPECTIVE CLIENTS. THAT IS A LIE. THEIR WASHINGTON STAFF KNOWS IT IS A LIE. THE FIRST ORDER OF THE MATCHES WAS DELIVERED TO THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN TRAIN IN JUNE, 1948. IN NOVEMBER, 1948, GEN.VAUGHAN'S OFFICE REQUESTED MORE, WHICH WERE ORDERED AND DELIVERED TO THE WHITE HOUSE.

THE ORIGINAL LIE THEY PRINTED TWO COLUMNS WIDE ON PAGE ONE, WITH A PICTURE. A DAY LATER, THE CORRECTION GOT HALF AS MUCH SPACE, AND OF COURSE NO PICTURE.

THE WHOLE MATCH STORY IS COMPLETELY RIDICULOUS, EXCEPT AS AN EXAMPLE THE LENGTHS TO WHICH THIS NEWSPAPER HAS GONE IN ITS CAMPAIGN OF CHEAP SENSATIONALISM. EVERYONE KNOWS THEIR CIRCULATION AND ADVERTISING REVENUES HAVE BEEN SLIPPING. THIS PSEUDO-CRUSADE IS OBVIOUSLY DESIGNED TO RECAPTURE THEIR VANISHING JOURNALISTIC PRESTIGE.

NEW YORK, AUG.6-(AP)-FIVE PAGES WERE MISSING FROM A DOCUMENT INTRODUCED SEVERAL WEEKS AGO BY THE GOVERNMENT AT THE RED CONSPIRACY TRIAL, A MISSOURI COMMUNIST TESTIFIED YESTERDAY.

ROBERT MANEWITZ, OF ST.LOUIS, SAID THE MISSING PAGES DEALT WITH HOW THE COMMUNIST PARTY SEEKS TO ACHIEVE SOCIALISM IN AMERICA BY PEACEFUL MEANS.

THE DOCUMENT, A STUDY OUTLINE ISSUED BY THE PARTY'S NATIONAL EDUCATION COMMITTEE, WAS PRODUCED IN THE TRIAL BY THOMAS A. YOUNGLOVE, A ST. LOUIS FBI INFORMANT.

THE DEFENSE INTRODUCED ITS OWN COPY OF THE OUTLINE, INCLUDING THE FIVE PAGES.

MANEWITZ, MEMBER OF THE PARTY'S MISSOURI STATE BOARD, DISPUTED YOUNGLOVE'S TESTIMONY THAT U.S. COMMUNISTS WOULD SABOTAGE AMERICAN WAR EFFORT IN EVENT OF A CONFLICT WITH RUSSIA.

YOUNGLOVE HAD SAID THIS POLICY WAS TAUGHT AT A SCHOOL IN ST. LOUIS IN THE FALL OF 1946, BUT MANEWITZ, WHO SAID HE WAS A TEACHER AT THE SCHOOL, SAID NO SUCH IDEA WAS ADVANCED.

MANEWITZ RETURNS TO THE STAND MONDAY IN THE TRIAL IN WHICH 11 TOP RED LEADERS ARE ACCUSED OF ADVOCATING THE FORCIBLE OVERTHROW OF THE GOVERNMENT.

TALKS OPEN TODAY ON U. S. OF EUROPE

J DYKEMA

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 7.—(AP) Winston Churchill of Britain, Edouard Herriot of France and Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium were mentioned today among the possibilities for first president of the Consultative Assembly of the Council of Europe.

Ministers from 10 European countries meet here tomorrow to launch the organization which may eventually produce a United States of Europe. The ten will form a committee of ministers of the Council of Europe and will meet for about a week.

Has 87 Members

The consultative Assembly, made up of 87 members, will hold its first meeting Wednesday. It is expected to be in session about a month.

Churchill, Britain's war-time prime minister, long has been an advocate of European union. Herriot is a veteran French statesman. Spaak is premier and foreign minister in a Belgian cabinet which resigned but assumed a caretaker status during the current crisis over whether exiled King Leopold should regain his throne.

The influx into Strasbourg, where a severe housing shortage already exists, started today. By tomorrow about 700 persons who have official duties in connection with the council and 300 newspapermen are expected.

One of the first items of business to come before the committee of ministers is due to be the admission of Greece and Turkey. Their applications are expected to be approved without delay. The charter members are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Italy and Ireland.

Will Write Agenda

The committee will prepare the way for the Consultative Assembly by deciding what questions should be taken up for discussion. Among items on the list are:

A proposed European passport, good for travel in all countries belonging to the council; a European charter of civil rights and possibly a European supreme court to enforce it; a European public works program, including the long-discussed underwater tunnel between France and England; a joint European patent system, and various procedural questions on the operation of the council.

The council can discuss and recommend action by the member governments, but can take no binding action itself. Public opinion is the only weapon by which it can force member governments to accede to its decisions. It cannot discuss military questions.

High Hope For Success

Many European statesmen entertain high hopes for it, however.

Georges Bidault, former French foreign minister, said in Paris upon leaving for Strasbourg today:

"We are at the beginning of a great attempt. On its success depends a large part of the security of the present generation, and even the independence and greatness of the countries which have decided to unite.

"In other times, this great novelty, which has no precedent in the history of our continent, would have been received as revolutionary. It is a sign of the new times that it appears so natural to public opinion today that no one is astonished."

On the other hand Gen. Charles De Gaulle's French People's Party criticised the council as a mere ambassadors conference and "just another fiction." ADD

STAFF CHIEFS HIT BY WEST GERMAN POLITICAL HEADS

BRACKCUFF

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 7—(AP) The U. S. joint chiefs of staff came under attack today by West German political leaders.

Dr. Konrad Adenauer, chairman of the powerful Christian Democrats, and Communist Chief Max Reimann assailed the American military chiefs in campaign addresses. The U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force chiefs visited western Germany last week on their tour of Europe to exchange ideas with Atlantic Pact chiefs of staff.

"Never again do we want to hear such talks on our soil," shouted Reimann before a crowd of 8,000 in Stuttgart.

Dr. Adenauer, speaking before 2,000 persons in Bonn, said:

Says Arms Taken

"If three American armed forces chiefs travel through western defense lines against the east, they have to listen to the opinion of the people who live in that territory.

"They took our arms from us, so they have the duty to defend these 45,000,000 people."

The drive for votes in Germany's first federal election since Hitler entered its final week today. On Aug. 14 the Germans will name the parliament of the new West German Federal Republic.

Today's speeches followed the familiar pattern of slashing assaults on the allies and only casual mention of domestic issues.

Hits Denazification

Adenauer called denazification "ridiculous" and demanded that the "libelous attacks" against what he called the honest members of the former Wehrmacht stop.

"The foreigners have to understand that the period of the collapse, and the unrestricted domination of the allies, is finished with the formation of the federal government," he said.

"The Germans have the same right to be national as other peoples. Germans should not behave like dumb dogs but must say what they think."

In Nuernberg, the fiery socialist leader, Dr. Kurt Schumacher, charged that the allies have relied mainly on former Nazis to run German affairs under the occupation.

U. S. STAFF CHIEFS TO RETURN TODAY

G R HODEN FIGD

VIENNA, Austria, Aug., 7—(AP) The United States joint chiefs-of-staff, paying a brief visit to American occupations officials here, dined tonight with top Austrian government leaders.

The three chiefs-of-staff will fly back to Washington tomorrow afternoon, after a 10-day survey of western European defense needs.

Signs along the Tullan-Vienna highway criticized the presence of the American military leaders but there were no demonstrations by communists or any other critics in Vienna.

Reds Decline

Austrian leaders who met the Americans included Chancellor Leopold Figl, Foreign Minister Karl Gruber and Interior Minister Oskar Helmer. The Russian high commissioner and his deputy were invited but sent regrets. Lt. Gen. Geoffrey Keyes, U. S. high commissioner to Austria, was host.

No formal talks are scheduled with Austrian political or military leaders because Austria is not one of the nations which signed the Atlantic Pact. Despite this fact and denials by various American sources that the U. S. is trying to bring Austria into the treaty, communists here have been insisting the government is trying to sell Austria out to American "imperialists and warmongers."

The three U. S. military leaders flew in from Paris today to Tullan, American base 15 miles from Vienna in the Russian-occupation zone, in President Truman's plane, the Independence. They are Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chief-of-staff for the Army; Adm. Louis Denfield, Navy chief of operations; and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief.

Some of the critical signs along the Tullan-Vienna highway, which American authorities said probably were painted by communists last night, read:

"Out with the American warmongers."

"Austrian boys will not fight for you."

"Bradely go home. No job for you in Austria."

The Soviet newspaper Oesterreichische Zeitung said the American high command was in Europe "to inspect cannon fodder and get rid of surplus war-material."

The staff chiefs have no conferences scheduled with Austrian Government leaders. Austria is not a member of the North Atlantic alliance.

Some top Austrian officials, however, attended a cocktail party and dinner given tonight by Lieut. Gen. Geoffrey Keys, American High Commissioner to Austria.

Austrian leaders who met the Americans included Chancellor Leopold Figl; Karl Gruber, Foreign Minister, and Oskar Helmer, Interior Minister. The Russian High Commissioner and his deputy were invited but sent regrets.

Tribute To Unknown Soldier

Before leaving Paris, the staff chiefs laid a huge wreath of yellow roses and blue asters on the tomb of the French Unknown Soldier at the Arch of Triumph. David K. E. Bruce, United States ambassador, and high French officers attended. A French army band played the two national anthems.

Briefings on the United States Army of Occupation in Austria were arranged for the chiefs, who are flying back to Washington tomorrow. They will not visit the United States occupation zone.

General Vandenberg said the group had had a fine exchange of ideas with the chiefs of staff of the Atlantic treaty nations during their visits to Frankfurt, London and Paris.

Talks Avoid Strategic Issue

He said there was no discussion of military assistance in any form nor any discussion of the strategic concept of the treaty.

For General Gruenther today's visit marked a sort of homecoming. He was Gen. Mark W. Clark's chief of staff when the American occupation of Vienna began in September, 1945. ADD

2 Italian Labor Groups Join Against Communists

Rome, Aug. 7 (AP)—Italy's two anti-Communist labor unions are planning to unite forces against the big leftist-led General confederation of labor (CGIL).

Leaders of the Free Labor Confederation (LCGIL) and the independent Italian Labor Federation (FIL) met here yesterday to map the unification, it was announced. They hope to achieve unity within a year.

Together, the two unions represent some 3,000,00 workers. CGIL has 5,000,000 to 6,000,000.

Churches Praise Archbishop On 25th Anniversary

L. ALLEN

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 7 (AP)—Catholic churches throughout Poland celebrated today the Twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of Archbishop Stefan Wesyznski, the Polish Primate.

The churches were packed.

Parishioners of at least one priest were urged in a sermon to "pray for the Pope and the nation."

[Most Poles are Catholics. Their Government is run by Communists. A Vatican decree July 13 ordered the excommunication of Catholics who are militant Communists.]

"We Fully Realize . . ."

"We meet with so many attempts to discredit the priests and the Pope," said this priest, who may not be identified by name because authorities might regard his sermon as hostile. "We fully realize where such accusations come from and why and who is spreading them.

"We are told we are not patriotic.

"Who proved their patriotism better than we Catholic priests durinng the German occupation when our priests were ordered to cease religious practices, when they were told to speak against all that is holy?

"We are accused of practicing politics and using pulpits for political purposes. We were not sent here to play politics. That is not why the church was established.'

Press Praises Decree

Editorials in the Polish press praised a seventeen-article decree newly passed by the Government ordering penalties up to death for anyone violating a citizen's "freedom of conscience."

Among other things it provides: "He who misuses the freedom of creed by refusing to let another person participate in religious ceremonies because of political, social or scientific activities or opinions is liable to imprisonment up to five years."

The Trybuna Ludu, organ of the United Workers (Communist) party, said: "The decree puts an end to the assumption of a lack of religious freedom in Poland. It opposes the intentions of all who tried to thwart such freedom or abused it."

Spanish Prelate Sees Cause Of War In East

Seville, Spain, Aug. 7 (AP)—Pedro Cardinal Seguray Saenz, archbishop of Seville, today said Communist persecution of Catholics in Eastern Europe should be considered a cause for war.

Speaking to a gathering in front of his palace, the prelate said the Western powers must regard the cases of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty and other Catholic leaders in Communist countries as casus belli (a cause of war).

Berlin Lovelorn Ads As Usual

AUG 8 1949

Berlin, Aug. 7 (AP)—Soviet-licensed newspapers in east Berlin published voluminous marriage advertisements as usual today without a hint of Russian displeasure.

Imposition of a ban similar to Czechoslovakia's would mean a severe loss of revenue for Communist newspapers.

REBELS BEATEN BACK, GREEK ARMY REPORTS

ATHENS, Aug. 7 — (AP) The Greek army today reported it is driving communist guerrilla forces out of fortified positions in a "successful series of engagements" opening the new offensive in the Grammos mountains.

The communique said 35 Greek soldiers were killed and 179 wounded by bitterly resisting guerrillas fighting from bases behind minefields. The army put guerrilla losses at 35 killed and 16 captured or surrendered, without mentioning any wounded.

The announcement said the toughest action is taking place in the Pyrsoyanni and northern Grammos areas, both east of Konitsa.

The Athens press was restricted to publication of the general staff communique without comment or detailed reporting from any other source.

Answer By Guerrillas

London, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Moscow radio today quoted Greek Communist guerrilla claims the Greek army had used artillery on its own men to halt a retreat in the Grammos Mountains battle.

The radio quoted a guerrilla broadcast, picked up in Prague, Czechoslovakia, to this effect:

"The enemy made an attempt to halt the withdrawal . . . and opened artillery fire on his own retreating troops, inflicting losses."

The guerrilla communiqué claimed Government troops were repulsed in three heavy attacks on western Mount Grammos Thursday and forced to retreat.

Synagogue Bombing Toll At Damascus Rises To 11

Damascus, Syria, Aug. 7 (AP)—The death toll from the synagogue bombing here Friday night rose today to eleven. Six persons were killed in the blast and the Government announced the death of five others from injuries.

Under orders from President Husni Zaim to get those responsible, police arrested many persons for questioning.

Informed non-Syrian sources said the Government feared the terrorist attack might disrupt the Arab-Israeli peace conference in Lausanne and was determined to make a quick cleanup.

Czechs Bar Marriage Ads, Call Them 'Capitalistic'

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 7 —(AP) Marriage advertisements have been banned from Czechoslovakia's newspapers because they "made marriage a capitalistic business transaction," the Communist organ Rude Pravo said today.

But, ban or no ban, some lonely hearts are finding ways of meeting by employing such ruses as advertising for housekeepers, the paper added.

Not only has this got to stop, Rude Pravo asserted, but the next thing to be euminated will be the marriage bureau, where mates are selected from photographs.

"It seems," said Rude Pravo, "that not everbody is satisfied with the elimination of marriage advertisements. Editors keep getting letters from men as well as women complaining that now they have no chance to obtain mates.

"Now we think marriage is too serious a thing to be negotiated by advertisement. When the Soviet people heard about our marriage advertisements they were astonished that anyone could look for a partner or offer himself in this manner. This was a capitalistic practice which made a business transaction of marriage. Unfortunately some still get into the papers veiled as advertisements asking for or offering to become a 'housekeeper.'

"Another evil still existing here are marriage bureaus where doctors, directors or rich pensioners (factory owners have lost their attraction) on the one hand or women with suitable dowries, widows with furniture apply. They are given series of photographs from which to choose a partner. We can't correct everything at once, so this "free business" is still going on. But in our new society it has no right to exist and we shall do away with it."

BERLIN, Aug. 7 — (AP) Soviet-licensed newspapers in east Berlin published voluminous marriage advertisements as usual today, without a hint of Russian displeasure. Imposition of a ban similar to Czechoslovakia's would mean a severe loss of revenue for Communist newspaper managements and probably increase the demand for advertising space in anti-Communist west Berlin dailies.

Now the approved place for love to bloom and hearts to beat in true Marxist-Lenin tune is in the 'volunteer" work brigade, which hustles folks into the harvest fields and onto other work projects for the "new democratic society."

This was the suggestion of CSM (the Communist-led youth front), which said that not only could romance blossom but folks could also contribute some real work to the reconstruction of the "people's democratic republic."

Iran Premier Charges Allies Broke Promises Made at Tehran

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 7 — (AP) Premier Maraghei Mohammed Saed declared in an interview today the United States, Russia and Britain have not lived up to their promises in the Tehran declaration of 1943 to help Iran.

He said the United States had given no positive reply to an appeal for 200,000 tons of wheat to avert a threatened famine and, in the present situation, "200,000 tons of wheat is more valuable than 200,000 field guns."

Asked U. S. Loan

At the same time Foreign Minister Ali Asghar Hekmat told a news conference Iran has asked the United States for $129,000,000 under President Truman's proposals to aid in the development of backward areas.

He said this was the immediate urgent minimum need for agriculture, industry, health and education in Iran.

Meanwhile, Iran and Hashemite Jordan (Trans-Jordan) announced in a joint communique they have reached a complete understanding concerning political, economic and trade relations. Informed sources said the understanding probably will be formalized later in a signed treaty. The communique was issued as King Abdullah prepared to end his 12-day official visit here.

The communique said the two countries will cooperate in solving "differences between Islamic (Moslem) countries by friendly and peaceful means."

U. S. Furnishes War Surplus

Premier Saed declared in the interview that the only actual post-war help furnished Iran by the United States was the sale of arms and ammunition and that Iran was paying for that.

The U. S. has a small military mission here and is furnishing about $100,000,000 worth of surplus war supplies under a $26,000,000 loan agreement.

The premier added that he had approached the U. S. last year in a "friendly manner" requesting 200,000 tons of wheat this summer because of a food shortage and promising payment by installment or repayment in wheat later.

He said the United States treated the request "purely as a business proposition, not as an economic or political question as we expected."

He said Iran needed immediate food supplies to avert serious famine this coming winter because of poor crops, and because famine leads to panic, fear and anarchy.

Foreign Minister Hekmat said Iran's war-time allies, contrary to their promises, had furnished no effective economic help thus far. Russia, he said, not only had not helped, but still owes Iran a war-time debt of about 12 tons of gold and $19,000,000.

In the Tehran declaration of December, 1943, Britain, the United States and Russia recognized Iran's aid in the war effort and agreed that "any economic problem confronting Iran at the close of hostilities should receive full consideration along with those of other members of the United Nations by conferences of international agencies held or created to deal with international economic matters."

Saed said Iran was not aware of any present aggressive intentions on the part of Russia but was determined, if necessary, to defend her independence.

At present, he added, the danger of famine is greater than the danger of invasion.

Orthodox Denial Of Communist Ban

Istanbul, Turkey, Aug. 7 (AP)—High-ranking officials of the Orthodox Church today termed absurd a report that Patriarch Athena Coras had decided to excommunicate Orthodox Church members who support Communism.

The question came up in Moscow yesterday when Moscow Patriarch Alexei said in the course of a newspaper statement that no conflict exists between loyalty to the Soviet Union and loyalty to his church.

The statement was made in reply to questions put by a British journalist earlier.

Alexei was asked if he knew of a reported decision by Athenagoras, titular head of the Orthodox faith, to turn out of the church any who supported communism.

Alexei's reply, as printed in Izvestia, said: "On a decision of the Patriarch to issue such an order, there is nothing known to me and to the Synod of the Russian Orthodox Church" (an independent branch of the Greek Orthodox Church).

"In addition, we and the Synod do not permit the thought that from the side of the Orthodox Patriarch there could be such a decision which basically contradicts the basic principles of the Orthodox Christian faith."

odist missionary. Dr. Sherwood Eddy is an International Y.M.C.A. leader.]

At the same time, an article by Prof. I. N. Zhabatin in the Orthodox Church Journal declared "orthodoxy is the symbol of the struggle for peace in the whole world; catholicism is the banner of war."

The article said the Vatican was trying to take advantage of the Soviet rift with Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia to "ruin the brotherly ties between the peoples of one faith."

[The Serbian Orthodox Church is the major faith in Yugoslavia.]

RUSSIANS RUSH HISTORY ORDER

Four 'Musts' On World War II Listed For Historians

Moscow, Aug. 7 (AP)—The magazine Problems of History has called on Soviet historians to produce, in the "shortest possible time," a history of World War II.

They are urged to "unmask any and all falsifiers of history."

The magazine said the historians must:

1. Show in all its scope the decisive role in the war of the U.S.S.R. and its armed forces.
2. The world-historical liberating role of the Soviet Union.
3. Soviet aid to the peoples under the yoke of fascism.
4. Reveal the "consistent honorable policy in relations among the allies of the anti-Hitlerite coalition and, on the contrary, the treacherous, egoistic and betraying policy of the Anglo-American imperialists in the war."

Excommunication Dictated By Myron Taylor, Reds Say

Moscow, Aug. 7 (AP)—Russia's Literary Gazette declared today that the Pope's decree excommunicating Communists and their supporters was dictated by Myron C. Taylor, President Truman's emissary to the Vatican.

The charge was contained in an article by Boris Zhirmov titled "Vatican Threatens Peace Supporters." It said also that there is a close connection between General MacArthur's administration in Japan and the papacy's plans to spread Christianity.

Zhirmov said the Japanese Christian leader, Toyohiko Kagawa, aspires to become Premier of Japan and during the last year spent 193 sleepless nights reading "Sherwood Eddy, Stanley Jones and other well-known Catholic missionaries."

CHINESE REDS FIGHT REBELS

AUG 8 1949

S. TOPPING

Deploy Troops As Guerrillas Spring Up Behind Lines

Nanking, China, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Chinese Communists are mobilizing to fight widespread guerrilla resistance that extends behind their lines from Manchuria into South China.

Thousands of Communist troops are reliably reported being moved north to augment Manchurian and North China garrisons. Their mission is to suppress guerrillas and dissidents opposing Communist officials in the countryside.

An editorial published in Nanking today by the official Communist New China News Agency calls for mobilization of large numbers of political workers and students to co-operate with the army in putting down "special bandits in liberated areas who are backed by Kuomintang — Nationalist — reactionaries and American imperialists." The editorial calls this an all-important campaign that must be given top priority.

Police Battle Underground

The police also are cracking down hard on the active underground in recently occupied cities. Hundreds have been rounded up in cities like Shanghai.

One highly placed Communist official said Nationalist agents in some cases had infiltrated into the rapidly expanding Communist party. He said these agents often posed to Left-wing extremists and thus sabotaged Communist government policies.

Neutral military observers do not regard the guerrilla movement as posing any immediate counter-revolutionary threat to the Red regime. They believe it is not coordinated by the Nationalists but is more of a localized resistance to the Communist tax collectors and to the Communist regime.

Extensive In Honan Province

These observers emphasize, however, that the Nationalists never were able to overcome a similar problem and that it is one the Communists must whip if they are to consolidate control of China.

While guerrilla resistance is officially acknowledged in Manchuria and several provinces of China proper, the most extensive resistance movement admitted by the Communists is in Honan Province. (This province is in North-Central China just south of the Yellow River.)

The Communist government of Honan two months ago began a six-month campaign against guerrillas.

The New China News Agency reports that so far it has inflicted 78,000 casualties on the guerrillas and captured huge stocks of war materials, including artillery.

Trade Pact With Soviet Protested

S. MOOSA

AUG 8 1949

Canton, China, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist Government strongly protested to Russia today against the recently announced Soviet trade pact with Communist Manchuria.

A note handed to Vladimir Vaskov, Soviet charge d'affaires, by George Yeh, acting Foreign Minister, charged the trade agreement violated the Russian-Chinese treaty of 1945. It said the Russian Government would be held responsible for all consequences.

The 1945 treaty gave Russia special privileges in Manchuria, but recognized Nationalist sovereignty over that huge northeast territory. Today's note said that under it Russia agreed to give support and aid solely to the Nationalist Government.

Violations Alleged

Yeh recalled that on August 25, 1948, the Nationalist Government had called Russia's attention to instances of asserted nonfulfillment and violation of obligations of the 1945 treaty. He said the new one-year trade agreement was a derogation of National sovereignty over Manchuria and was made with a "rebelious group attempting to overthrow by force the National Government of China."

[The Chinese Communist radio in Peiping reported the people of Manchuria were hailing the trade agreement in a series of rallies.

[The broadcast, heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press, quoted one speaker at a Mukden factory meeting as saying that under Nationalist rule, "large quantities of northeast soyabeans were sent to America in exchange for plastic belts and raincoats, but at present our soyabeans are sent to the Soviet Union in exchange for machinery to help our industrial construction.

"Our Good Friend"

["This proves that the Soviet Union is our good friend."

[Another Red broadcast said Manchuria was preparing to celebrate the Japanese surrender anniversary August 15. Quoting a directive of the Manchurian regime and the Manchurian Communist party, it attributed the Japanese defeat entirely to the Communists and to Soviet aid. It repeated approvingly the statement of Mao Tze-tung, Communist chairman:

["Internationally we belong to the anti-imperialist front headed by the Soviet Union and we can only look for genuine friendly aid from that front and not from the imperialist front."]

CHIANG, RHEE ASK PACT FOR PACIFIC

CHINHAE, Korea, (Monday), Aug. 8 — (AP) Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and Korean President Syngman Rhee today asked for a conference of Asian powers to frame a Pacific pact against communism.

The leaders of Nationalist China and the South Korean republic requested Philippine President Elpidio Quirino call the conference. In a joint statement, they said:

"We are strongly of the opinion that countries of the Pacific in general and far eastern countries in particular are facing a greater danger from international communism today than any other part of the world."

The request for the Pacific conference came as news dispatches from Manila and Washington indicated Quirino plans to drop Chiang and his nationalist regime from any Pacific allance.

Quirino is on his way to Washington to visit President Truman. The original foundation for a Pacific pact was laid last month by Chiang and Quirino. The Chinese nationalist flew to the Philippines for the talks. He flew here last week to confer with Rhee. AP

Republican Leader Warns of Danger in Maintaining Present View

KOO HITS REPORT

Ambassador Says Acheson Did Not Give Chinese Side of Situation

AUG 8 1949

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP) A Republican offer to work out a strong China policy for this government on a bipartisan basis was extended today to the administration.

It came through Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, House GOP leader and former speaker. He said it was the feeling of "most Republicans."

It followed close on a China pronouncement by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), GOP foreign policy leader, which showed his thinking on China paralleled in important ways that of Secretary of State Acheson.

Koo Hits Report

Two-party cooperation in foreign policy in meeting the Red menace in Europe has not extended to China.

The State department's publication of the China "white paper" on Friday was characterized, meanwhile, by Chinese Ambassador V. K. Wellington Koo as "an unusual step, especially at this time when my country is engaged in a desperate struggle to check the communist aggression and to preserve her independence as a nation."

It was the first official reaction from nationalist government representatives here to the diplomatic summary of U. S.-Chinese relations. Observers said it was probably unprecedented in the severity of its criticism of the Chinese government, a friendly nation.

"The big volume represents mostly the American view of the picture," Dr. Koo said in a statement. "There is, of course, a Chinese side to it. The Chinese government is studying its contents and will express its view."

Commenting that errors of judgment were not confined to China alone, Dr. Koo said he was glad that Secretary of State Acheson does not take a pessimistic view of the situation in China.

"I am glad that a new and constructive American policy is now under study and formulation," he continued.

Fighting Same Battle

"The situation calls for not only self-help on China's part but also aid and assistance from other freedom-loving nations. For a free China is indispensable to a free Asia and a free Asia is vital to the existence of a free world."

Dr. Koo said the U. S. and China are fighting the same battle against communism and he hopes that his country "may succeed in winning a better understanding from the United States x x x and in securing fully its moral and material support."

Meanwhile, far eastern talk of a non-communist regional pact was spotlighted by preparations for tomorrow's arrival of President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippines. State department officials displayed new interest in the suggestions.

Quirino has been one of the principal advocates of such a grouping of nations in the western Pacific and southern Asia. Contrary to earlier indications it now seems possible that he may discuss his ideas with President Truman. He may get a more sympathetic response than has been indicated to date in administration public statements.

(In Manila a reliable source said that shortly before Quirino's departure a message was received from the State department, lauding his effort to cement a non-military union in southeast Asia.

May Drop Chiang

(The warmer State department attitude was attributed in Manila to quiet but decisive steps by Quirino to drop Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of nationalist China as an active partner in a revised version of a Pacific union).

Martin's statement was directed at the State department's "white paper" review of China policy. Along with it, Acheson had blasted the nationalist regime of Chiang Kai-shek as a failure but proposed to support the Chinese people against communism.

The State department now is intensively at work on development of a new far eastern move expected by some officials to include aid to underground or other anti-Communist forces opposing the Red sweep.

Martin said the white paper "is a confession of inexcusable failure." He said that "our desertion of China at Yalta" is fully admitted.

After the Republican 80th Congress stepped in to revive China aid, the administration procrastinated in sending aid until after Manchuria and North China had fallen, Martin said.

The document amounts to "an oriental Munich," Martin said. Then, turning to the subject of future policy, he said he saw no intention of the State department to work out China policy on bi-partisan lines such as have been successful on the European front.

GOP Will Work Alone

"If this should continue to be the State department's attitude," Martin said, "no course will be left to the Republican party but to pursue the China question alone and in a fashion which we can only pray will awaken our government and our people to the inherent dangers in the position now taken by our government.

"x x x I think that I speak for most Republicans when I say that we stand ready to join the administration in the formulation of a strengthened China policy for peace.

"x x x We extend this offer of cooperation in the deep conviction that unless our government's course undergoes radical change the disaster that will be reaped will mean destruction for most of the globe."

Vandenberg's white paper comment yesterday made no mention of a possible bi-partisan approach. He said it must be made clear that we are backing the Chinese people, dealing with realities and refusing to accept the results of aggression.

The talk of a southeast Asian treaty is one angle of the broad problem of dealing with communism in the Pacific. The appearance of interest in it here results from a new statement by Quirino of his own position on the proposed pact, which might eventually include the United States.

Arouses Interest

This new statement was made in a letter to Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo recently ordering Romulo home to take charge of developing the proposed new convenant.

Quirino's new statement of his concept has aroused considerable interest among department officials mainly on three points:

1. Indirectly at least the Philippines leader has minimized the role which China's President Chiang Kai-shek in his opinion should play in such an undertaking. Secretary of State Acheson evidently took a dim view of the meeting several weeks ago between Chiang and Quirino in the Philippines. There appears to have been some feeling among officials here that by promoting Quirino's Pacific alliance ideas jointly with his own, Chiang was trying to enlist new commitments in support of the Chinese nationalists.

2. Emphasis is placed on what Quirino calls "forging a closer union among the people of southeast Asia" rather than on development of an over-all Asiatic-American alliance spanning the Pacific as the Atlantic alliance spans the Atlantic. Acheson has publicly taken the position that the area is not yet ready for a military treaty as all-inclusive as the Atlantic Pact.

3. The proposed regional treaty as Quirino presents it in his letter would be "essentially an act of common faith on the economic, political and cultural level x x x and x x x would involve no military commitments."

KNOWLAND WANTS M'ARTHUR'S VIEWS ON AID TO CHINA

Senator Demands 'Immediate' Return of General for Data on Far East

HEARINGS OPEN TODAY

Would Share Foreign Arms Funds with Anti-Red Nationalists

WASHINGTON, Aug., 7 — (AP) Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) today called for the "immediate" return from Japan of General Douglas MacArthur to testify on the foreign arms aid program.

Knowland and 12 other senators are trying to get $175,000,000 of the proposed $145,000,000 fund earmarked for military aid to non-communist China.

Knowland also requested that Vice Admiral Oscar C. Badger, Commander of the U. S. Naval forces in the China area, be returned with the far eastern Army chief to testify before the Senate's Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees.

Acheson to Testify

The committees open their joint hearings tomorrow with Secretary of State Acheson as the first witness on the bill intended to cool off any Russian aggressive ideas.

The House Foreign Affairs committee has some 13 witnesses lined up on the same bill including Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers, a former MacArthur aide.

The controversial measure now contains $1,160,000,000 for North Atlantic Pact nations; $261,000,000 for Greece and Turkey, and $27,000,000 for Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

Many lawmakers argue the overall amount is too large.

Fathers Chinese Aid Plan

Knowland is a member of the Armed Services group and the author of the plan to set aside $175,000,000 of the arms bill for China.

Knowland, writing to Acheson and Defense Secretary Johnson, observed that the joint U. S. chiefs of staff will not have time to make the same kind of survey in the east that they have been making in Europe.

In view of this, he "strongly urged" the two secretaries to order back MacArthur and Badger to testify "on the far eastern phases of a problem which is global in character."

The joint chiefs—General Omar Bradley, Admiral Louis Denfield and General Hoyt Vandenberg—are due to report on their European trip to the combined committees Wednesday.

Knowland acknowledged to reporters that numerous attempts have been made unsuccessfully in the past to bring MacArthur back to testify before congressional committees.

But he said the situation "is at a very critical juncture" and he is "hopeful that under the circumstances" MacArthur will consent to leave Japan temporarily.

Knowland's amendment would provide military assistance to communist foes in China provided an American mission was given authority to advise the nationalist government as to its "effective use."

Knowland Sees Support

"I think I'm going to get some very substantial support for the amendment from some unexpected places," Knowland said.

The China problem is only one of several questions raised in connection with the arms measure.

In addition to widespread dissatisfaction with the size of the $1,450,000,000 figure, there are indications that Vandenberg and Senator Dulles (R., N.Y.) want an understanding that the program is only a stop-gap affair, and geared into the defense mechanism to be set up under the North Atlantic pact.

FOREIGN AID BILL FACES NEW HURDLE IN SENATE TODAY

AUG 8 1949

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 — (AP) Billions for the ECA and U.S. Army occupation forces face one more hurdle in the Senate tomorrow.

Senator Lucas (Ill.), the Democratic leader, hopes the chamber will vote before nightfall on the foreign aid bill that it began debating July 22.

But before the final balloting, Senator Kem (R-Mo) intends to press a controversial amendment. It would withhold recovery aid from any nation which nationalized a basic industry in the future. Kem's main target is any further nationalization in England or France.

Ruled Out of Order

Senator Tydings (D-Md), who was presiding when Kem brought up the amendment Friday, ruled it out of order on the ground that it contained policy-making law in violation of Senate rules. Kem appealed the ruling to the Senate, which will decide by a simple majority vote whether Tydings is right. Should the vote go against him, Kem intends to ask the senators suspend their rules in order to act on the amendment. This would require a two-thirds majority and probably mean more debate.

Administration leaders say they are confident of killing the nationalization ban. They contend it would be an improper interference in foreign nations' domestic affairs.

As it now stands, the senate bill provides:

$3,628,300,000 to finance the economic cooperation administration to July 1, 1950.

$150,000,000 for ECA loans.

Less Than House Bill

$1,074,000,000 to pay for ECA operations during last April, May and June.

$900,000,000 for army occupation costs in Germany, Austria, Japan and the Ryukyu islands.

$45,000,000 in aid for Turkey and Greece.

$344,000 for a congressional watchdog committee staff to check on foreign spending.

The Senate bill carries about 10 per cent less than the appropriation passed previously by the House. Senate passage will send the measure to a conference for adjustment of differences.

Hoey Says Committee Will Offer Bill to Improve U. S. Buying Methods

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. — (AP) Senate "five percenter" probers said tonight they are trying to help the small businessman get government contracts without feeling he needs "a peddler of influence."

"One of the aims of the subcommittee," Chairman Hoey (D-NC) said, "is to attempt to improve methods" of government buying. It is already at work on legislation.

Just before throwing the inquiry open to the public in hearings beginning tomorrow, Hoey declared in a policy statement that abuses and improper influences won't be tolerated in government contract letting.

Checks Favoritism

The subcommittee set out to check whether favoritism has figured in activities of agents who help get contracts for others.

Recognizing the problem of the businessman in coping with the maze of government agencies, Hoey said:

"The subcommittee wants to acknowledge at the beginning that business both large and small is entitled to legitimate representation in dealing with the government.

"We are not critical of the practice itself but merely of some of the abuses which occur in the practice and it is these abuses which the subcommittee hopes to curtail.

"In some considerable measure, businessmen, especially small businessmen, due to red tape and the inherent bigness of present day government sometimes feel they must hire a peddler of influence in desperation.

"One of the aims of the subcommittee is to attempt to improve methods of procurement and to make it easier especially for the small businessmen to do business with the government."

Have Tentative Bill

The subcommittee, he said, has a bill in tentative form aimed at correcting the situation.

Secretary of Defense Johnson will be the lead-off witness at hearings expected to last at least two weeks. The subcommittee has asked Johnson to outline what the military establishment is doing concerning the activities of commission men in helping get contracts for a fee, often five per cent.

The secretary will be followed to the witness stand by Paul Grindle, Massachusetts furniture manufacturer whose statements touched off the investigation which quickly led to the suspension of two Army major generals.

Subcommittee members have reported that businessmen have testified privately that John Maragon, a key figure in the inquiry, was able to help them out with contracts by getting in touch with White House personnel. Maragon has denied any improper dealings or being a "percenter."

Maragon, a former Kansas City bootblack who once had a White House pass, is on the list of witnesses to be called for public testimony.

Will Read Statement

Hoey plans to read the subcommittee's policy statement at the start of the hearings.

"The function of this subcommittee," he said in the statement, "is to seek means to improve the efficiency and the economy of government. It is important not only that we have good government, but that the public have confidence in the integrity and the decency of its government.

"Forces which tend to create the belief that our government functions with favoritism or by conniving should, if possible, be eliminated.

"The purpose of this hearing is to consider x x x what safeguards Congress can take to prevent or minimize improper influences."

Hoey said the subcommittee plans to:

1. "Acquaint itself with specific examples which will highlight certain abuses needing correction."

2. "Serve notice on others engaged in committing like abuses that they will not be tolerated."

Hunt Denies Charge

The Senate investigation was touched off by Grindle's story that he paid $1,000 to James V. Hunt, a former Army officer and War Assets Administration employe, to help seek a government contract. Grindle also said Hunt claimed friendship with the two Army procurement officers who since have been suspended pending further investigation. They are Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt, chief of the Chemical corps, and Herman Feldman, the Quartermaster general.

Hunt contends his work is legitimate and has denied that he ever attempted to sell influence.

Secretary of the Army Johnson in relieving Waitt and Feldman from duty said they failed to exhibit judgment "expected of persons in their positions."

Both Waitt and Feldman are expected to testify at the hearings. The subcommittee wants Hunt to appear, but he underwent an operation last week and his doctor has not said whether he will be able to testify.

PRECEDE WARSAW DAY

LONDON, SUNDAY, AUG.7-(AP)-COMMUNIST-LED POLAND DECREED PENALTIES UP TO DEATH TODAY FOR ANYONE VIOLATING A CITIZEN'S "FREEDOM OF CONSCIENCE." THE ACTION OBVIOUSLY WAS AIMED AT THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH.

THE VATICAN ORDERED THE EXCOMMUNICATION OF ALL MILITANT COMMUNISTS ON JULY 13. TWO WEEKS LATER THE POLISH GOVERNMENT FORBADE CATHOLIC PRIESTS FROM ENFORCING THE VATICAN DECREE AND DENOUNCED IT AS AN "ACT OF AGGRESSION." THE LATEST POLISH ACTION WAS SEEN AS PUTTING TEETH INTO THE ENFORCEMENT ORDER.

THERE WERE 17 ARTICLES IN THE POLISH DECREE, WHICH WAS PASSED BY

THE COUNCIL OF STATE AND MINISTERS COUNCIL ON FRIDAY. PAP, THE POLISH PRESS AGENCY, DISCLOSED THE ARTICLES IN AN ENGLISH LANGUAGE BROADCAST HEARD HERE. PAP SAID THE DECREE WENT INTO FORCE TODAY.

ONE ARTICLE SAYS: "HE WHO MISUSES THE FREEDOM OF CREED BY REFUSING TO LET ANOTHER PERSON PARTICIPATE IN RELIGIOUS CEREMONIES BECAUSE OF POLITICAL, SOCIAL, OR SCIENTIFIC ACTIVITIES OR OPINIONS IS LIABLE TO IMPRISONMENT OF UP TO FIVE YEARS."

THE LANGUAGE OF THE ARTICLES AS BROADCAST BY PAP DID NOT SINGLE OUT PRIESTS OR OTHER CATHOLIC CHURCH OFFICIALS BY NAME BUT THE BROADCAST SAID THE VATICAN'S POLICY HAD BEEN THE SUBJECT OF AMNY MEETINGS OF WORKERS AND PEASANTS THROUGHOUT POLAND.

"MANY CATHOLIC BELIEVERS OF BOTH PARTY AND NON-PARTY MEMBERS STRESSED AT THESE MEETINGS THAT THE VATICAN DIDN'T DEFEND THE CHURCH IN POLAND WHEN IT WAS PERSECUTED BY THE NAZI INVADERS BUT ON THE CONTRARY BLESSED THE PERSECUTORS.

"IT WAS ALSO POINTED OUT THAT AS THE PEOPLE'S GOVERNMENT PROTECTS RELIGION, THE STRUGGLE WAGED IN POLAND AGAINST THE CLERGY ENGAGED IN POLITICAL ACTIVITY IS FULLY JUSTIFIED."

POLAND IS PREDOMINATELY CATHOLIC.

OTHER IMPORTANT PARTS OF THE DECREE INCLUDED AN ARTICLE WHICH PROVIDED:

"HE WHO PUBLICLY INSULTS, BERIDES OR HUMILIATES A PERSON OR GROUP OF PERSONS BECAUSE OF THEIR CREED, RELIGIOUS OPINION OR LACK OF RELIGIOUS AFFILIATION IS LIABLE TO IMPRISONMENT UP TO FIVE YEARS.

"THE SAME PENALTY WILL BE INCURRED BY A PERSON WHO VIOLATES THE CORPORAL INTEGRITY OF ANOTHER PERSON BECAUSE OF HIS CREED, RELIGIOUS OPINIONS OR LACK OF RELIGIOUS AFFILIATION.

"HE WHO COMMITS ANOTHER CRIME AGAINST A PERSON OR GROUP OF PERSONS BECAUSE OF THEIR CREED, RELIGIOUS OPINIONS OR LACK OF RELIGIOUS AFFILIATION IS ABLE TO IMPRISONMENT.

"IF THE CRIME DESCRIBED IN PARAGRAPH THREE RESULTS IN DEATH OR SERIOUS INJURY, OR IF THERE HAS BEEN A DISTRUBANCE OF NORMAL PUBLIC LIFE OR DANGER TO PUBLIC SAFETY, THE PERSON IS LIABLE TO IMPRISONMENT OF NO LESS THAN THREE YEARS AND UP TO LIFE OR THE DEATH PENALTY."

THE PREMIER WAS BITTER IN HIS SPEECH OVER ENEMIES WHO BOMBARDED JERUSALEM LAST YEAR. HE CRITICIZED CHRISTIANS FOR NOT INTERCEDING.

"THE CHRISTIAN WORLD DIDN'T LIFT A FINGER TO SAVE JERUSALEM."

THE PREMIER SAID BOTH ENDS OF THE RAILROAD WOULD BE ISRAELI TERRITORY, THUS PREDICTING THAT JEWISH JERUSALEM WOULD BE FORMALLY INCORPORATED INTO HIS STATE.

SHANGHAI, AUG.7-(AP)-THE HANDFUL OF FOREIGNERS IN THIS COMMUNIST CITY WHO HAVE HEARD ABOUT THE UNITED STATES WHITE PAPER ON CHINA DESCRIBED IT TODAY AS A FINAL WRITING-OFF OF THE NATIONALISTS AS A HOPE FOR A FREE CHINA.

THE COMMUNISTS HAVE MADE NO COMMENT ON THE DOCUMENT, AND THE NEWSPAPERS HAVE CARRIED NOTHING WHATEVER, EITHER OF NEWS OR COMMENT.

COMMENT ON ANYTHING CONTROVERSIAL ALWAYS AWAITS WORD FROM THE HIGH RED COUNCILS IN PEIPING.

(IN CANTON A RASH OF STATEMENTS BROKE OUT, ALONG THE GENERAL LINES THAT THE AMERICAN WHITE PAPER PLACED TOO MUCH BLAME ON THE CHINESE AND TOO LITTLE ON U.S. POLICY.

(THE HIGHEST OFFICIAL TO COMMENT WAS GEN. CHEN CHENG, NATIONALIST GOVERNOR AND COMMANDER OF FORMOSA. HE SAID, "IN THE PAST WE HAD A PSYCHOLOGY OF A SUBJECT COLONIAL PEOPLE AND RELIED ON THE FOREIGNER FOR EVERYTHING. THE AMERICAN WHITE PAPER HAS AWAKENED US. WE MUST NOW START ON THE ROAD OF SELF-HELP. HENCE, PUBLICATION OF THE WHITE PAPER WILL NOT CAUSE US HARM."

(WU TEH-CHEN, FORMER FOREIGN MINISTER, SAID THE WHITE PAPER WAS AN EFFORT TO CONFUSE THE AMERICAN PUBLIC IN THE FACE OF GROWING PUBLIC OPINION FOR MORE AID TO CHINA.)

SHANGHAI FOREIGNERS WHO WERE AWARE OF THE WHITE PAPER GENERALLY AGREED WITH ITS BROAD INDICTMENT OF THE NATIONALISTS. HOWEVER, MOST WHO HAD HOPED FOR BETTER THINGS UNDER THE REDS ADMITTED THEY HAD BEEN DISAPPOINTED SO FAR. MANY ARE READY TO ABANDON BUSINESSES AND LEAVE CHINA WHEN POSSIBLE, BUT THERE IS LITTLE APPETITE FOR A RETURN OF THE NATIONALISTS.

MOST FOREIGNERS REMAINING IN SHANGHAI BELIEVE CHINA IS DOOMED TO GO THROUGH A PERIOD OF TRAVAIL AND TROUBLE BEYOND ANYTHING YET EXPERIENCED SINCE THE JAPANESE INVASION. MOST OF THEM FEEL IT IS APT TO BE A GENERATION BEFORE CHINA CAN HOPE TO GET ON HER FEET AGAIN.

A STORY FROM LONDON SAYS THAT THE BRITISH FOREIGN OFFICE ADMITS THE POSITION OF BRITISH FIRMS IN CHINA IS BECOMING EXTREMELY DIFFICULT. TO SHANGHAI THIS IS JUST AS SIGNIFICANT AS THE AMERICAN WHITE PAPER.

BECAUSE OF THEIR HEAVY INVESTMENTS IN CHINA, THE BRITISH HAVE BEEN DOGGEDLY TRYING TO RIDE OUT THE STORM. THEY HAVE PRETENDED--SOMETIMES TO AN ALMOST CHILDISH EXTENT--THAT THINGS ARE NOT AS BAD AS THEY SEEM.

ONE BY ONE, HOWEVER, THE BRITISH ARE LOSING HEART AS THE (NATIONALIST) BLOCKADE DRAGS ON; AS MORE AND MORE MONEY HAS TO BE REMITTED INTO SHANGHAI FROM ABROAD TO PAY WAGES FOR EMPLOYES WHO ARE NOT WORKING; AND AS LAND TAXES REACH TOWARDS CONFISCATORY LEVELS.

"IF WE'RE NOT CAREFUL, WE'LL GO COMPLETELY BANKRUPT TRYING TO PROTECT OUR INVESTMENTS," SAID ONE BRITON.

THE COMMUNISTS APPEAR DETERMINED TO GO THROUGH WITH THEIR PROGRAM TO MAKE CHINA SELF-CONTAINED. MOST HARD-HEADED ECONOMISTS DON'T THINK THEY CAN DO IT, BUT IT ALMOST CERTAINLY WILL RING THE DEATH KNELL FOR THE SEAPORTS WHERE FOREIGN INVESTMENTS ARE CONCENTRATED.

EXPERTS SAY THAT IF CHINA TRIES TO LIVE WITHOUT TRADE FROM ABROAD, MILLIONS WILL HAVE TO STARVE. PERHAPS WITH CAREFUL PLANNING AND CAUTIOUS EXECUTION, AND PLENTY OF HELP FROM ABROAD, SHE MIGHT WITHIN A GENERATION OR TWO FINALLY BECOME SELF-SUFFICIENT, BUT SHE CANNOT DO IT NOW. SHE CANNOT DO IT ALONE, AND SHE CANNOT LOOK TO RUSSIA FOR THE KIND AND AMOUNT OF HELP SHE NEEDS.

IN THE EYES OF WESTERNERS HERE, THE ENORMOUS DIFFICULTIES FACED BY THE REDS SEEM TO GROW GREATER WITH EVERY SQUARE MILE THEY CAPTURE.

FROM THIS POINT OF VIEW, COMMUNISM IN CHINA FACES A DESPERATE HOLDING ACTION.

REVOLUTIONISTS ARE USUALLY NOT VERY GOOD AT THE GRUBBY PRACTICAL PROBLEMS WHICH THE HATED IMPERIALISTS AND BUREAUCRATIC CAPITALISTS HANDLED IN THE PAST. AS THEY HAVE TO SWING FROM MILITARY OFFENSE TO AN ECONOMIC HOLDING ACTION, THERE IS EVIDENCE GALORE THAT THEIR EARLY REVOLUTIONARY ZEAL IS LAGGING.

FROM THIS TORTURED TRADE GATEWAY TO HALF OF ASIA, THE SPREAD OF COMMUNISM SEEMS NOT SO DEPENDENT ON AMERICAN POLICY AS ON THE SUCCESS OR FAILURE OF THE REDS IN THE PRACTICAL JOB THEY HAVE SO AUDACIOUSLY TAKEN ON AND FOR WHICH THEY SO OBVIOUSLY ARE NOT EQUIPPED.

ROBINSON, A FACULTY MEMBER OF COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, NEW YORK CITY, SPOKE AT THE OPENING OF A PRESS-RADIO SEMINAR OF THE INSTITUTE FOR THE STUDY OF THE SOVIETY UNION AT DENVER UNIVERSITY.

HE HAS LIVED IN RUSSIA AND WAS WAR-TIME CHIEF OF THE USSR DIVISION OF THE OFFICE OF STRATEGIC SERVICES.

ROBINSON SUMMED UP HIS PERSONAL FINDINGS IN THREE MAJOR POINTS:

1. "AS FAR AS THE DOMESTIC SITUATION IS CONCERNED IN RUSSIA, THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT HAS TO A HIGH DEGREE THE ABILITY TO EMPLOY THE TOTAL POWER OF THE COUNTRY IN SUPPORT OF ANY FOREIGN POLICY IT MAY CHOOSE TO PURSUE."

2. "UNDER THE CONDITIONS OF THE 'CONTINUING PEACE' THERE IS NOT VISIBLE IN THE FORESEEABLE FUTURE ANY STRAIN ON SOVIET LEADERSHIP AND CONTROL NEARLY AS SEVERE AS THE STRESSES IT HAS SURVIVED IN THE PAST."

3. "UNDER THE CONDITIONS OF A FUTURE WAR, IT WOULD PROBABLY REQUIRE STRAINS MUCH MORE SEVERE THAN THOSE IMPOSED BY WORLD WAR II TO PRODUCE ANY DOMESTIC BREAKDOWN OF SOVIET CONTROL."

Foreign Aid Measure Voted by Senate, 63-7 After 2-Week Debate

BILL APPROVED BY HOUSE IS CUT NEARLY 10 PCT

Combined Group Is Expected to Reach Compromise Without Difficulty

ENDS BITTER BATTLE

Move to Ban Nations with Nationalized Industry Defeated 50-21

WASHINGTON, Aug., 8 — (AP) The Senate passed tonight a huge $5,797,724,000 money bill to run the European recovery program and pay U. S. occupation costs abroad during the coming year. The vote was 63-7 on final passage.

Final action came after more than two weeks of wearying debate.

The bill now goes to a conference with the House, which had voted about 10 per cent more. Senate-House conferees are expected to reach a quick compromise.

Amendment Beaten

Final passage came shortly after the Senate had knocked down, by a vote of 50 to 21, an amendment designed to withhold recovery funds from any nation which in the future nationalizes an industry.

It was aimed frankly at Great Britain.

The major point of difference between the House and Senate bills lies in the money figure.

The House voted $3,568,470,000 to the ECA for the current year—but agreed the money could be spent in 10 and one-half months if necessary.

The Senate voted a full 12-month program with no authority to spend the money in a shorter period. The Senate bill figure for the European recovery program is $3,628,380.

The bill also carries:

(1) $150,000,000 for Economic Cooperation Administration loans to Europe.

(2) $1,074,000,000 for ECA's April-May-June operations.

(3) $900,000,000 for Army occupation costs in Germany, Austria, Japan, and the Ryukyu islands.

(4) $45,000,000 for Greece and Turkey.

(5) $344,000 for a congressional watchdog committee to check on foreign spending.

On the final rollcall, the only senators to oppose the bill were Republicans Jenner and Capehart of Indiana, Kem of Missouri, Langer of North Dakota, Malone of Nevada and Williams of Delaware and Democrat Olin Johnston of South Carolina.

Long Senate debate had stymied action on a number of other government money bills totalling billions of dollars.

Spain Loan Barred

In its struggle with the bill, the Senate had defeated proposals (1) to earmark $500,000,000 for a loan to Spain, and (2) to require the ECA and the Army to earmark $2,000,000,000 for surplus U. S. farm products.

The bill as passed by the Senate earmarks $4,000,000 of unused China-aid funds to pay the expenses of about 4,000 Chinese students in this country. They are without funds because of the civil war.

The money will come out of the funds appropriated by Congress last year—and does not increase the total of the bill.

Another section provides $25,000 to finance a re-check of 365 German industrial plants now marked for dismantling or destruction. Senators believe they should be kept in Germany to aid Europe's recovery.

Controversy over the Kem amendment had lasted throughout the day, prolonging a final decision on the big money bill.

Kem frankly aimed his amendment primarily at the program of nationalization being carried out in Great Britain by the labor government.

He lost the first skirmish last week—a ruling that the amendment would be policy-making legislation in a money bill. He then appealed to the Senate to overturn the ruling and approve his amendment.

A number of Senators urged its adoption.

Ferguson Backs Kem

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said he was "pleading with the British people not to go down the road to socialism," which he called a great evil which will finally lead to dictatorship.

He said he is convinced the American people "do not understand socialism or Marxism, or they would be paying more attention to this amendment."

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, also argued for Kem's amendment. He said U. S. recovery funds are now being used to subsidize socialism in England.

"I tell you, you are investing in a socialist government that will go further to the left unless it is halted," Wherry shouted.

Administration leaders and others have objected to the amendment on grounds that it would be an interference with the internal affairs of Europe.

Wherry said under that theory they should not also oppose ECA aid to Spain "because they don't like the kind of government Spain has."

Senator McClellan (D.-Ark.) told his colleagues there is lack of mutual confidence between Congress and the State department on the European recovery program.

"We are simply dissipating the economic strength of America," McClellan declared. "We are weakening our economic structure without helping them."

Senator Mundt (R.-S. D.) said he thinks the State department has departed from its original objective of trying to stop communism everywhere in the world.

"We find ourselves in the position of strengthening the Iron Curtain countries by making it possible for western European countries to send them things they need," he said.

The current debate on the big money bill was the Senate's second. It first came up July 22, only to be sent back to the appropriations committee on July 28 on a point of order that it contained policy legislation. Appropriations bills are not supposed to under Senate rules.

Senators Press Aid Battle

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Senate leaders today began their third week of trying to get quick approval of a multi-billion dollar foreign recovery bill.

They face a stack of delayed appropriations and other necessary legislation.

Majority Leader Lucas (D., Ill.) urged senators to get the foreign funds measure out of the way before their quit for the day. But Senator Kem (R., Mo.) and others were pushing for an "anti-socialism" rider.

Aimed chiefly at England and France, the Kem amendment would bar foreign aid funds for any country that nationalized a major industry in the future.

Appeals To Senate

Kem lost his first skirmish by a ruling that the provision amounted to legislation in an appropriation bill, which is against the rules. He has appealed to the Senate.

Senator Butler (R., Neb.) said he wants to say something about nationalization and socialization of industries before the vote. Several other critics of the British Labor Government's program of taking over major industries also may speak, including Senators Wherry (R., Neb.), Jenner (R., Ind.) and McClellan (D., Ark.).

Sponsors of the European Recovery Program, which will get the big bulk of funds in the bill carrying more than $5,500,000,000, say the Kem provision amounts to telling other nations what their government policies should be.

Cites Marshall Plan

Kem agrees, contending the entire Marshall plan is "a gigantic interference" in the internal affairs of other governments.

Once the Kem proposal is out of the way, passage of the bill should come quickly. The Senate began debate on it July 22, sent it back to the appropriations committee to remove legislative provisions July 28, and resumed the current consideration August 2.

MILITARY CHIEFS FAIL TO AGREE ON DEFENSE STRATEGY

LONDON, Aug. 8 — (AP) Varying conceptions on defense strategy have cropped up among military chiefs of the western European Union, the French commander of the union's land forces admitted tonight.

The admission was made by Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny as American chiefs of staff of Army, Navy and Air Force completed their 10-day tour of Atlantic Pact countries and U. S. occupation forces in Germany and Austria.

Tentative Plan Approved

Diplomatic officials said the three U. S. chiefs of staff were flying back to Washington with tentative European approval of a plan to set up a four-power high command for Atlantic defense

Although de Tassigny admitted differences in the western European Union setup, he denied press reports that Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, the British supreme commander of the Brussels powers' defense forces, favored withdrawal across the channel to England in event of an attack.

The de Tassigny statement was distributed here by the headquarters of the permanent commission of the Brussels Pact powers—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The commission said the statement was in reply to questions concerning recent press reports "concerning differences of opinion said to have come to light at Fontainebleau."

Fontainebleau, outside Paris, is headquarters of the Brussels Pact Defense committee.

De Tassigny said:

"x x x Statements implying that Field Marshal Montgomery's idea is to withdraw the defense outside the continent are completely without foundation

Differences Revealed

"Of course some varying conceptions have been brought to light, a thing which is quite natural, but it can definitely be stated that all the members of our committee and its chairman (Montgomery) have always unanimously regarded their task as being the achievement of an effective defense of all the territories of the Brussels Pact nations."

Several London newspapers said Sunday there had been serious clashes between Montgomery and de Tassigny over both defense strategy and training of western European troops. Lord Beaverbrook's Sunday Express said "shrewd observers" believed Montgomery would not be supreme commander much longer.

The U. S. chiefs of staff, Army Gen. Omar Bradley, Air Force Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, and Navy Adm. Louis Denfeld were believed to have studied means of reaching air-tight military unity among the 10 European members of the Atlantic Pact during their tour.

En Route to U. S.

Questions which they took up in their European conversations may have concerned whether the west should stand at the Elbe in Germany the Rhine or behind the English channel, and how much and what type of military equipment America should send to bolster European forces.

The three chiefs left Vienna in President Truman's plane, the independence, at 3:37 p.m. (10:37 a.m. E.S.T.) today and expected to reach Washington at 6 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, tomorrow after stops at Shannon, Ireland, and Gander, Newfoundland.

They left Shannon at 4:30 p.m., E.S.T., for Washington.

Before leaving, Gen. Bradley said military organization was so far advanced that there should be no difficulty in setting up the committee of defense called for by the Atlantic alliance.

He said he and his colleagues found military leaders of the alliance "all thinking along the same general lines."

He carried all queries concerning strategy and supply with the reply, "those questions were not discussed."

He said the tour was purely for fact-finding purposes and that the chiefs would make up their minds later concerning "the things we have learned in Europe."

Plan Defense Council

Diplomatic officials said, however, that the U. S. chiefs and European military leaders generally approved a plan to set up a supreme defense council composed of the United States, Britain, France and Canada to give broad direction to strategy and defense policy. A 12-nation defense committee would advise the council.

Any such plan would have to be approved by the foreign ministers of all 12 powers in the alliance. The ministers are expected to meet in Washington in a month or two.

During the tour the three Americans conferred with Montgomery, and Norwegian, Danish, French, Portuguese, Dutch and Belgian military chiefs and delegations here and in Paris.

U.S. Defense Chiefs End Tour Of Europe

London, Aug. 8 (AP)—America's top military planners today concluded a tour of Atlantic pact countries, aimed at cementing them into a solid defense wall.

In ten conference-packed days, Chief of Naval Operations Admiral Louis Denfeld, Army Chief of Staff Gen. Omar Bradley and Air Force Chief Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg covered western Europe by air.

They appeared mainly to be studying means of reaching air-tight military unity among the ten pact members—unification of strategic planning and of the command and functions of their pooled forces.

Inspect Forces In Germany

They inspected the United States Army of Occupation in Germany. They met with British, Norwegian and Danish military chiefs in London and conferred with French, Portuguese, Dutch and Belgian military delegations in Paris.

They rounded off these secret meetings with a long discussion with Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, chairman of the Western European Union's five-nation military committee, representing Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

The trip ended in Vienna yesterday with an inspection of American forces in Austria.

Today they are heading back to Washington. What they report will influence the course of President Truman's $1,450,000,000 arms-for-Europe program before Congress.

"No Decisions Made"

At each stopover the military leaders emphasized "no decisions were being made." But Denfeld speaking for the group in Paris said the talks had resulted in "great unanimity of opinion on almost all questions."

They left the world guessing about the specific nature of these questions:

Would a large, pooled army or a small mobile force backed by planes numerous enough to control the air be better strategy?

Where should the West stand fast in the event of an attack: On the Elbe in Germany? On the Rhine? or behind the English Channel?

Where should the defense line begin and end?

Question Of Equipment

How much military equipment will America send to western Europe until her economically hard-pressed countries get squared away?

What type of armament will it be? And how soon will it come?

How will each country, having its own peculiar defense problems, weaknesses and strengths, fit into the overall strategy?

If these questions were taken up, the American leaders were not saying so. They would go no further at news conferences than to say that only matters of military organization under the Atlantic Pact were discussed.

Denfeld added he believed the supreme defense council foreseen under the Atlantic Pact could be set up by the end of this year.

Heckled By Reds

As the chiefs sped from capital to capital, they were heckled by the Communist press and Communist leaders, who charged they were planning for war.

In Paris, however, a Communist demonstration fizzled out in the face of a Government ban.

Anti-American signs which United States authorities said were probably painted by Austrian Reds appeared overnight in Vienna.

an inspection of United States occupation forces in Germany and Austria.

Speaking for the group, Gen. Omar Bradley, Army Chief of Staff, said the military organization of the pact is so far advanced that there should be no difficulties in setting up a committee of defense when the governments work on the problem.

Bradley said he and his colleagues found the military leaders of the treaty nations "all thinking along the same general lines" during discussions in London and Paris.

The American chiefs took off in President Truman's plane, the Independence. They are expected to arrive in Washington at 7 A. M. tomorrow. To reach the Tullin air base, where the Independence awaited them, the American chiefs traveled twenty miles through Russian-occupied territory in the private train of Lieut.-Gen. Geoffrey Keyes, American High Commissioner.

committee of Ministers of the Council. They may be compared to the government of Europe, if a federated Continent comes into being.

Consultative Assembly

Wednesday, the Council's first consultative assembly meets. The assembly is a parliament. It is made up of delegations from the parliaments of the member countries.

The Council is prepared to extend its frontiers into southeastern Europe with the formal addition of Greece and Turkey to the present membership.

British official sources said the Foreign Ministers Committee, the Council's executive arm, will approve membership for the two applicants at its first sitting this afternoon.

Both new countries will be allotted seats in the consultative assembly—eight for Turkey and six for Greece—bringing the Assembly's roster up to 101 deputies.

European Council Ready For Its First Session

Strasbourg, France, Aug. 8 (AP)—The flags of ten nations bedeck this little city on the Rhine to welcome representatives of those countries who today begin the first session of the Council of Europe.

The Foreign Ministers of Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Ireland, the charter members, meet today at the medieval Strasbourg City Hall, in a step toward a federated Continent.

Today's conferees comprise the Committee of Ministers and the Assembly half a dozen organizations that work for European unity and individual leaders of almost every political cast, except the extremes of fascism and communism.

The most colorful figure in the assembly will be Britain's war-time leader, Winston Churchill, postwar enthusiast for welding together the victor and the vanquished as one strong unit.

Churchill is expected to arrive Wednesday from Lake Garda, vacation spot in the Italian Alps.

Ernest Bevin Arrives

Churchill may make the assembly his platform for another strong appeal against the danger of Soviet expansion.

Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and his wife arrived today by car from Evian, Switzerland, where he has been resting.

Bevin, who represents official British policy, is more cautious in his approach than Churchill.

Three of the most enthusiastic supporters of European union are the Foreign Ministers of France, Italy and Belgium. Norway also favors such a project.

SCHACHT TO AGAIN FACE DENAZIFICATION COURT

STUTGART, Germany, Aug. 8—(AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former Reichsbank president, was ordered today to face another denazification court.

The Ministry of Liberation wiped out a court decision which nullified an eight-year prison sentence imposed against Schacht. The ministry said the court decision was based on "erroneous judicial opinion."

It ordered him to appear for trial before a denazification court of appeals at a date to be set.

Schacht can be tried in this American zone city only if he voluntarily appears or if he is handed over by the British. He is now living near Lueneburg in the British zone. Denazification officials of the British zone state of lower Saxony have announced that he will be tried there also.

Jobs Show Rise In West Germany

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 8 (AP) Unemployment in West Germany declined last month after hitting a postwar peak, the Bizonal Labor Office reported today.

During the last two weeks of July, the number of jobless dropped 9,812. It was the first sizeable decrease reported in more than a year. The total of unemployed at the end of July was 1,254,450.

Czechs Train Women For Security Police

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 8 (AP)—Czechoslovakia is training scores of women recruits for the state security police, the Communist government annouced today.

The women, selected mostly from factories, are being given "moral and political education" as well as training in police technique. Their job, the government said, will be to "protect the rights of the working class."

The force, training at a camp set up by the interior ministry near Karlovy Vary (Karlsbad) will be patterned after women's police units in the Soviet Union, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary. Some women also are being trained as traffic police.

RUSSIA RENEWS EFFORTS TO BAN ATOMIC WEAPONS

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 8 (AP)—Russia renewed her efforts today to persuade a 60-nation humanitarian conference to outlaw atomic weapons.

The conference has been meeting since April to draw up new conventions on the rules of war. The conventions are intended to mitigate human suffering in a possible future war by regulating the treatment of prisoners-of-war and of wounded soldiers and sailors and by protecting non-combatant civilians.

Thrown Out by Committee

A proposal to outlaw atomic weapons was submitted by the Soviet delegation last month to a committee drawing up the convention for the protection of civilians. The proposal was then thrown out by the committee on the grounds that it was beyond the committee's competence.

No agreement on outlawing atomic weapons has been reached after several years' debate in the United Nations Atomic Energy commission.

The Chief Soviet delegate, Nicolai Slawine, gave notice today that he would put the same resolution before a plenary session of the conference tomorrow.

A plenary session of the conference approved a resolution today suggesting that an international body might be set up in peacetime to fulfill the functions hitherto carried out by neutral protecting powers.

Red Objection Beaten

The suggestion was originally made by Georges Cahen-Salvador, of France. He said in a future war there might be no neutral power to protect prisoners-of-war and ensure the observance of the Geneva conventions. Slawine objected to the proposal on the grounds that it was based on "an artificial assumption," but the conference nevertheless accepted it by 32 votes to eight, with four abstentions.

A Mexican resolution to be put before the conference tomorrow expresses a hope that the conventions drawn up by the conference would never have to be used:

"The conference wishes to affirm to all the peoples of the world that its work has been guided solely by humanitarian aims, and for that reason expresses the hope that it may never become necessary to apply these conventions.

"Its greatest wish is that the powers, great and small, shall always find some means of adjusting their differences by international cooperation and comprehension, so that peace shall prevail on earth for ever."

Pravda Hits Truman As Warmonger

Moscow, Aug. 8 (AP)—Pravda accused President Truman today of fanning war hysteria and poisoning the international atmosphere.

The attack, written by Commentator M. Marinin, occupied almost a full page in the Communist party newspaper.

"History teaches us ruin is the inevitable fate of every policy based on risk-taking," Marinin wrote. "Such failure also awaits the policy of President Truman and his friends.

"The warmongers continue t rush about, for they feel time i against them. The powerful cam of peace goes forward to meet tc morrow, confident of its strengtl in its truth and in the deep reality of its purposes."

Marinin said President Truman is "incapable of harkening to the voice of fact," and is following a policy dictated by warmongers.

"This policy is one of artificially playing on nerves, poisoning the international atmosphere and speculating on fear, lack of confidence and alarm," it said. "In his message Truman sounds hysterical notes: 'Don't lose time! Pass (the arms for Europe program) in the shortest possible time!'"

Fire From Albania Is Greek Report

Athens, Aug. 8 (AP)—An army communiqué said today Greek troops fighting in the Grammos Mountains were under artillery fire from Albania. This was the second time the claim has been made since the new offensive began Saturday.

The communiqué said an artillery barrage came in all day from the Albanian village of Bozigrad west of Kastoria.

The communiqué added that fierce fighting was continuing and that rebel strongpoints had been taken. Guerrilla counter-attacks were repulsed, the report said.

The Greek Army reported yesterday it was driving the rebels out of their fortified positions, but encountering fierce resistance.

[A broadcast from Radio Tirana, mouthpiece of the Communist Albanian Government, charged that Greek Government troops have invaded Albanian territory, the Italian news agency Astra reported.]

ISRAELI, ARAB TRUCE IS REPORTED NEAR

HAIFA, Israel, Aug. 8—(AP) An informed source said here today that a peace agreement between Israel and the Arab nations may be reached within two months.

Reliable reports earlier today in Tel Aviv had said that chances of a final Arab-Israeli peace are "not unfavorable."

These reports were to the effect that Israeli's offer to accept 100,000 Arab refugees had been received favorably by President Truman and that the U. S. government was urging both sides to come to terms soon in the conferences at Lausanne, Switzerland.

There were reports here that the United Nations truce and armistice personnel will leave Israel by the end of September. The UN staff sent to Lausanne will not return here, these reports said.

James McDonald, U. S. ambassador to Israel, is expected to discuss latest Palestine developments when he arrives in Washington for a vacation.

Some U. S. State department officials believe the Israeli offer to accept Arab refugees should be increased. This has not been received favorably in Israeli government circles.

INDIA ASSUMES BHUTAN DUTIES

MAP—PURDUE

Succeeds British As Protector Of Himalayan Kingdom

New Delhi, Aug. 8 (AP)—India today took over a "white man's burden" formerly carried by the British.

The transfer was effected by the signing of a treaty of perpetual friendship with the Himalayan kingdom of Bhutan. It gives India control over Bhutan's foreign relations and pledges noninterference with Bhutan's domestic affairs.

The relationship is similar to the treaty links Britain had with 600-odd Indian princes before the British ended their rule over India two years ago.

Bhutan is a remote area of 18,000 squares miles and 300,000 people in the "lost-horizon" country between Tibet and Indian Assam.

The treaty signed at Darjeeling, hill-station capital in Upper Bengal, gives Bhutan 32 square miles of disputed territory which she claimed, provides freedom of trade and transport and gives Bhutan $150,000 as an annual subsidy.

The former British rulers of India never paid more than $60,000 tribute a year under the good-behavior clause of their treaty with Bhutan.

China, India, Tibet and the Kingdom of Nepal have tried to win control of Bhutan but the Victorian empire-builders from Britain slipped in with a treaty in 1866 and took over Bhutan's relations with the world outside. That arrangement lasted 83 years.

Tibet Cultural Source

Bhutan's Mongoloid, Buddhist people continue, however, to look on Tibet as the fountainhead of their religion, culture and language. Their spiritual head is the Dalai Lama at Lhasa, the Tibetan capital.

China in the distant past exchanged gifts with Bhutan, using the Oriental way of intended diplomatic conquest, but never able to take over. Nepal's invasion of 1792 was turned back with Chinese aid.

Britain invaded Bhutan in 1774 in pursuit of freebooters who had kidnapped the Maharajah of Cooch Behar, India, and his brother. This time, Tibet interceded with a good-will mission.

Production for export never seemed to justify the military and diplomatic scrambles for control of the remote highland country. The principal products range from grains to elephants, from fine steel swords to muzzle-loading muskets.

The ruler is Maharajah Jig-me Wang-chuk.

Shah Of Iran Will Visit U.S.

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Shah of Iran, Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, will visit the United States late in November to inspect American farming and industrial methods.

He said yesterday he planned to stay in the United States two or three weeks and to stop at Washington, New York, Detroit, Los Angeles and other major cities.

The Shah said he hoped to induce some automobile manufacturer, possibly General Motors, to set up a plant in Iran.

The Iranian ruler also said he planned to inspect projects such as the TVA and Boulder Dam, and was interested in looking into American agricultural techniques in the wheat regions of the mid-West.

The Shah said he was interested in improving the condition of Iranian peasants who form three fourths of the country's population.

Chinese General Shifts Men To Guard Flank Near Canton

5 MOOSA

Canton, China, Aug. 8 (AP)—Trustworthy reports from the Chinese war front north of Canton said tonight Gen. Pai Chung-hsi was shifting large numbers of his forces to meet a Red threat to his western flank.

Pai was said to be acting to prevent the Reds from cutting off his escape route southwestward into his native Kwangsi Province. From Pai's headquarters city of Hengyan, one railway leads south 265 miles to Canton, and other southwest into Kwangsi.

[Throughout the present campaign there has been considerable speculation on the Nationalist side whether Pai eventually would fall back into Kwangsi or would choose to defend Canton, provisional capital of the Nationalist Government.]

Defends Shaoyang

An army spokesman said Pai was firmly defending Shoyang, 60 miles west of Hengyang. (North of the railway to Kwangsi, it would be a good point from which to defend or threaten that route.)

The spokesman said troops defending Shaoyang included the 14th army, which refused to stay with the turncoat Gen. Chen, Ming-Jen, when he handed the Reds the fortress of Changsha last week.

A previous Canton dispatch had said Chen, deputy commander of the whole Nationalist defense front, was obviously familiar with Pai's troop dispositions. This would be another reason for the current shifting of forces.

Civilians Evacuated

On the Kansu Province front more than 700 miles to the northwest, the Kansu Government was reported to have ordered its civilian employés and their families to move from Lanchow, the capital.

Although the Communists were last reported 140 miles from Lanchow, the civilian employés were told to move 110 miles west to Sining, capital of Tsinghai Province, within five days.

Kanu's governor, the famed Moslem Gen. Ma Hung-kwei, is in Canton. Informed quarters said he would return to Kansu after arranging for delivery of money and arms promised him by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Lanchow Evacuation Move Is Ordered

Canton, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Kansu provincial government has ordered evacuation of all its civilian employés and their dependents from Lanchow. The order reflects successes of the Communist drive in Moslem Northwest China.

The civilians have been told to move within five days to Tsining, capital of Changhai, 110 miles west of Lanchow.

Gen. Ma Hung-kwei, governor of Kansu, is in Canton. Informed sources said he would go to Kansu as soon as details for the transfer of silver dollars and arms promised by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek have been worked out.

Situation Serious

Communist gains in the Northwest and Central China have made the Nationalist situation grave.

The old China-Russian highway has been cut by the Reds at Tienshui (Heaven Weater) 140 miles southeast of Lanchow.

In the province of Hunan in Central China, the Communists are confronting National Gen. Pai Chung-hsi with the danger of slamming shut his native province of Kwangsi.

Need Shaoyang

This danger developed with the Communist outflanking of Hengyang, pivotal point in Pai's defense system in Central China.

The Reds have only to take Shaoyang, 60 miles west of Hengyang, to offer a serious threat to the Hunan-Kwangsi railroad escape route.

Shaoyang, also known as Poacheng, is now under attack by Reds who crossed the Siang River south of Changsha. This maneuver was made easy by treachery of Pai's turncoat deputy Gen. Chen Ming-jen.

If the Reds cut the Hunan-Kwangsi railroad, Pai's only remaining avenue of escape would be into Kwangtung province along the Canton-Hankow railroad. But Red danger to this line is developing.

Chiang Requests Conference Of Asia Powers

W. MOORE

Chinhae, Korea, Aug. 8 (AP)—The leaders of Nationalist China and the Korean Republic called today for a conference of Asian powers in the immediate future to draft a Pacific alliance against communism.

The request came in a joint statement by Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and President Syngman Rhee of South Korea after a two-day conference here. They asked President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippines, to summon the nations.

Quirino, in San Francisco en route to visit President Truman, had no comment. He and Chiang laid the foundation for a Pacific pact last month in a similar conference at Baguio in the Philippines.

New Developments

Since the Chiang-Quirino meeting, the picture has been changed by these developments:

1. Quirino recast last week his entire concept of the projected Pacific union and eliminated all reference of Chiang and his crumbling Nationalist regime in China.

2. The United States issued its White Paper on China two days later and labeled the Chiang Government a failure in the civil war against the Chinese Communists.

A spokesman for the Philippine President said last night, that Quirino would make no statement on any phase of the projected alliance until he had talked with Mr. Truman.

In their call for a conference, Chiang and Rhee said:

"We are strongly of the opinion that countries of the Pacific in general and Far Eastern countries in particular are facing a greater danger from international communism today than any other part of the world.

Solidarity Need Stressed

"Solidarity and concerted action among these countries is more urgently needed than elsewhere. It is our firm belief that the world cannot be free if Asia is to go under and mankind cannot afford to be divided into half free and half slaves."

They suggested Quirino set the conference for Baguio.

After issuing the statement, Chiang boarded his plane and left, presumably for his holdout bastion of Formosa. He declined "comment at this time" on the American White Paper.

The Chiang-Rhee statement said: "We have arrived at full agreement concerning the idea of a union as set forth in the joint statement issued by President Quirino and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on July 12, 1949, at Baguio. . . ."

No Reference To Change

There was nothing noting that Quirino's concept of the pact since that time had left Chiang out of the picture. Neither was there any reference that the Philippines had declined to attend the Chinhae conference.

Quirino has been represented as believing Chiang and his regime must be dropped from the pact plans if British Commonwealth nations are to be won over to the idea. These nations are considered essential to the success of any Pacific alliance.

The rub, as seen by informed quarters in Manila, is that the commonwealth nations would not care to be identified with any project that commits them to support of the Chinese Nationalists, for instance, both Malaya and Burma are having their own Communist trobules. And the Chinese Communists constitute a threat to the British colony of Hong Kong.

U.S. Attitude

The United States, too, has been cold to the idea of a Pacific counterpart of the Atlantic alliance. Secretary of State Acheson has told the Asian nations, however, they should go ahead if they desire without American participation.

Since Quirino came out with his new non-Chiang slant, dispatches from Manila and Washington have indicated that the United States is warming up to the alliance plan.

SHANGHAI JOBLESS PUT AT 1,000,000

F. HAMPSON

Shanghai, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—Shanghai's unemployed total 1,000,000 persons, the Communist Military Control Commission announced today.

Of these 250,000 are industrial workers, 650,000 are "paupers" and the others are classified by the Communists as "land owners, wealthy farmers and lawless elements," who fled to Shanghai from the interior and are not employed. Thus the city's unemployed population numbers a sixth of its inhabitants.

The commission said those with homes elsewhere would be sent to them. Those without homes are to be sent to north Kiangsu and north Anhwei provinces to be settled on new farm areas. Only the destitute are to have their transportation paid.

The Communists, who appear to think the Nationalist blockade will last indefinitely, say they hope ultimately to move 3,000,000 persons out of Shanghai to farm areas to ease the burden caused by the loss of sea commerce. Without trade it is doubtful that Shanghai could support half its present population. The question in many minds is whether the interior is in a position to absorb such a mass of urban population.

Acheson Plans To Push New China Policy

J. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson expects to begin consultations with congressional foreign-policy committees before the end of this session on the development of a new American policy toward China and the Far East.

Officials said today that he expects to have China studies well advanced this summer. It still seemed unlikely that they would result in any requests for legislation before Congress adjourns.

Representative Martin of Massachusetts, Republican floor leader, said yesterday that Republicans "stand ready to join with the Administration in the formulation of a strengthened China policy for peace."

New Lines Of Attack

Other developments bearing on the general problem of trying to recoup the anti-Communist position and chart new lines of attack on communism in Asia include:

1. The visit of Philippines President Elpidio Quirino beginning here today seems likely to give new force to Quirino's plans for promoting a nonmilitary regional organization of countries in the Southeast Asian area. State Department officials were reported to be interested in Quirino's plans, although they would regard with disfavor any effort to form a Pacific military alliance including Nationalist China.

2. American Ambassador John Leighton Stuart and other diplomats from the Communist area of China are due here Wednesday. They will give Acheson and other policy makers reports and advice on what this country may do to accomplish anything against the Communist regime inside China.

3. Raymond Fosdick, former president of the Rockefeller Foundation, is due here tonight to begin his work with Ambassador Philip Jessup, Acheson's No. 1 trouble shooter on the new China policy. Those two will be joined soon by President Everett Case of Colgate University.

4. The State Department expects soon to receive reports from Shanghai and other Communist area cities telling how many Americans want to leave China at once.

Most Want To Leave

Indications have been that a large number of the 3,000-odd citizens (official and nonofficial) have decided there is no possibility of doing business under Communist rule and want to get out fast.

If this proves to be the case, the State Department will arrange for a relief ship to be sent to China.

If the withdrawal of Americans is as complete as some diplomatic authorities here expect, there will be little pressure from the American side to do business with the Communists. Thus one of the forces which could work against the security of the Communist regime in China might be brought into play.

That is the power, traditionally exercised by the western nations, either to help China by providing consumer goods on a large scale or to make China's supply problems difficult by permitting trade to languish.

West Help Held Reds' Need

Many experts here believe that the Communists cannot hope to solve China's economic problems without the aid of the West. These persons say that if the United States, Britain and other countries will co-operate in planning their relations with Chinese Communists they can practically control that aspect of the situation.

The extent of Communist dependence on trade with the West is one of the facts which Acheson has directed his policy survey experts to nail down as fully as possible.

Another point on which he wants full information is the extent to which local generals and war lords in the still uncommunized section of southern and western China can be depended upon to put up a prolonged anti-Communist resistance which might justify American help.

U.N.'S LEADER HAILS WORLD'S PEACE STRIDES

M HARRELSON

Lie Credits Accord On Berlin And Efforts Of His Organization

Lake Success, N.Y., Aug. 8 (AP). Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations tonight hailed the last twelve months as a "year of progress toward a more peaceful world."

In his fourth annual report, he told the 50 member nations the fear of war had definitely decreased despite big-power differences. The 159-page report was the most optimistic yet issued by the secretary-general.

In a speech delivered a few hours earlier at Bergen, Norway, Lie expressed confidence that in five more years war may become old-fashioned.

He recalled that Franklin D. Roosevelt once said it might take five years to win the war and afterward ten years to win the peace.

Cites Mediation Efforts

In his report, Lie credited the ending of the Berlin blockade with doing the most to ease world tension, but added:

"United Nations action in other parts of the world has also contributed to the progress made toward a more peaceful world by either preventing or ending wars involving 500,000,000 people."

This was a reference to United Nations mediation efforts in Palestine, Kashmir and Indonesia.

He conceded the United Nations still had not been able to resolve the differences which have caused the cold war between Russia and the western powers. He said, however, "the conflict has been kept within peaceful bounds and the way prepared for further progress toward a settlement."

The secretary-general advanced a six-point program which he said could reduce the danger of war and strengthen the United Nations. The major point is continued consultations among the big powers on such problems as the German, Austrian and Japanese peace treaties, atomic control and creation of an international police force.

Calls Negotiation Essential

"It is essential," he said, "for the great powers to keep in contact, to talk things over, and seriously to negotiate with one another."

Other points proposed by Lie were:

1. A direct United Nations trusteeship over the former Italian colonies, with an administrator responsible only to the Trusteeship Council, during an interim period before the colonies reach independence.

2. High priority to the Middle East in the United Nations program of technical assistance for economically backward areas.

3. Taking full advantage of United Nations machinery in tackling world economic problems.

4. Admission of all fourteen countries whose applications for United Nations membership are pending.

5. Creation of a United Nations field service of 300 uniformed men to aid United Nations truce, plebiscite and other peace missions around the world.

Questions Regional Agreements

Lie touched indirectly on the North Atlantic treaty, but he did not mention it by name. He said it was important "to understand that it is impossible to obtain lasting security from war by any arrangement that leaves out any of the great powers."

"While regional-security arrangements may sometimes redress the balance of power in the world," Lie said, "collective security can be achieved only by working out means by which all the great powers may live peacefully together under the charter, however long this process may take.

Held More Essential

"The events of the past four years and the existence of great power differences make the United Nations more essential, rather than less so."

In his Bergen speech he made the reservation that while regional co-operation may sometimes be welcomed under the United Nations Charter, "the supremacy of the United Nations is absolutely clear."

Introduction to Fourth Annual Report by Secretary General Trygve Lie on Work of U. N.

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 8—Following is the introduction to the annual report of Secretary General Trygve Lie on the work of the United Nations, for July 1, 1948, to June 30, 1949, made public today:

The year between 1 July 1948 and 30 June 1949 covered in this, my fourth annual report on the work of the United Nations, has been, on the whole, a year of progress toward a more peaceful world.

It is true that the world has had its full share of crises and alarms. The rival claims in an ideological conflict have been pressed as though they were the only issue of our times, while the great Powers have continued their efforts to strengthen their relative positions before the situation is brought nearer to stability by the conclusion of peace treaties. Although overshadowed by the great Power differences, movements of national independence and social upheavals in many parts of the world have unavoidably contributed to international tensions. These conditions, which have persisted since the war ended, continue to cause widespread anxiety among the peoples of the world as to the prospects for world peace and the ability of the United Nations to prevent a third world war.

Because of the great Power differences, no progress has been made during the year towards providing the Security Council with armed forces to enable it to take enforcement action, and there has been little progress towards agreement on the control of atomic energy, of other weapons of mass destruction, and of conventional armaments.

Progress Toward a More Peaceful World

Nevertheless, the fear of war has decreased since my last report was made. The breaking of the Berlin deadlock has been a main factor in achieving this resulted in a promising renewal of negotiations on Germany and Austria.

United Nations action in other parts of the world has also contributed to the progress made toward a more peaceful world by either preventing or ending wars involving 500,000,000 people. This action—in Palestine, in Kashmir and in Indonesia—did not involve the use of military or police force; indeed the Security Council has no such force at its disposal. The only force used by the United Nations has been its moral force and its power of persuasion toward reasonable compromise and peaceful settlement. In each case setbacks have been experienced from time to time, but the influence of the United Nations through the processes of mediation and conciliation has always reasserted itself and has, thus far, prevailed.

It is noteworthy that in the cases mentioned above, involving almost one-quarter of the total population of the world, the Security Council has operated with considerable success under its rule of unanimity in the most critical period of great Power tension. I do not mean to suggest that there have been no difficulties over the application of the unanimity rule. Nevertheless, so much has been said about the alleged paralysis of the Security Council and the consequent inability of the United Nations to prevent war that attention should be called to the record of the Security Council in these and in some other disputes.

It is true that the conflicts in Palestine, Kashmir and Indonesia are in some ways peripheral to the defferences over a European settlement which have almost monopolized the world's attention. But though they may be peripheral to the European conflict, they certainly are not peripheral to the welfare of the human race or to world peace.

The establishment of the State which the present ideological conflict appears to be a transitory phenomenon.

When India and Pakistan agreed to a United Nations cease-fire in the State of Kashmir, the 400,000,000 people of these two great countries, both newly independent, were spared the worst of all disasters—religious and communal warfare. In Indonesia, the United Nations has played a decisive part in efforts to secure a peaceful settlement of the conflict between the Netherlands and Indonesia, and a peaceful transition to national independence of 70,000,000 Indonesians. More people live in these countries than in the whole of Europe, the continent on which such concentrated attention has been directed since the war ended.

The United Nations a Powerful Influence for Conciliation and Mediation

In these disputes, as in the great Power conflict itself, the United Nations has demonstrated that it can exert powerful influences for conciliation and mediation. Nothing better illustrates this than a comparison of the relationships between the great Powers before and after the Berlin dispute was brought to the United Nations as being a threat to the peace.

When three of the great Powers brought the Berlin question to the Security Council last September in a complaint against a fourth many people feared that this crisis would break up the United Nations and even lead to a new world war.

Neither of these things happened. Instead, moderating and conciliating forces were set in motion immediately. The nonpermanent members of the Security Council, under the leadership of its President, sought to bring about great Power agreement on a solution of the deadlock. The General Assembly adopted a resolution calling upon the great Powers to renew their efforts to compose their differences, and the President of the General Assembly and the Secre-

Secretary General participated, then sought to break the deadlock by means of a plan for a single currency for Berlin.

None of these efforts brought immediate results, but their effect was greatly to moderate the tension, reduce the danger of war, and gain time for other factors tending to a settlement to make themselves felt. In the end, the result was the resumption of great Power negotiations on the peace treaties after seventeen months of complete stalemate during which the Council of Foreign Ministers did not meet.

It is important that we should not miss opportunities for further progress towards peace in the months ahead because of any misunderstanding of the role of the United Nations in the prevention of war or in the face of "East-West" differences. Such misunderstanding, coupled with over-emphasis on immediate as against long-range considerations, could lead to a succession of acts, or of failures to act, that would end by relegating the United Nations to a second-class role in world affairs. I do not refer here to regional or bilateral pacts or alliances as such, the effect of which depends upon the spirit in which they are concluded and the spirit in which they are carried out. What I have in mind is, rather, a false conception of the role of the United Nations—a conception which, however it may manifest itself, will have the result of weakening the United Nations. Failures to live up to the obligations of the Charter or to use the machinery of the United Nations fall in this category; genuine efforts to carry out the Charter and to make full use of the machinery it provides can but strengthen the organization.

It is important to recall once more the basic premises of San Francisco. At San Francisco the founders of the United Nations agreed that peace could be maintained only by a universal organization founded on a universally accepted Charter. They rejected the idea that anything less would do. They therefore laid the foundations of the United Nations in such a way as to include within it all the major forces at work in all parts of the world, not just in one part or another.

Contrary to misconceptions that have arisen since, it was never contemplated at San Francisco that the United Nations would or could abolish differences of interest and ideology such as we see in the world today. It was not believed that the great Powers would always act in unity and brotherhood together. What the founders of the United Nations did believe was that the United Nations would make it possible to keep disputes between both great and small Powers within peaceful bounds, and that without the United Nations this could not be done. Finally, they rejected the idea of an irreconcilable conflict that could be settled only on the field of battle, and proclaimed on the contrary the principle that all conflicts, no matter how fundamental, should and could be settled by peaceful means.

The record of the United Nations during the past twelve months has clearly confirmed the wisdom of the San Francisco concept, rather than cast doubt upon it.

The United Nations has not been able to resolve great Power differences, but the conflict has been kept within peaceful bounds and the way prepared for further progress toward a settlement.

The Leadership of the United Nations

In the meantime, the work of the United Nations has gone right ahead; it has stopped wars in different parts of the world; it has developed international cooperation in almost every field of human activity on a scale never before attempted.

The United Nations has been called upon to act in most of the troubled areas of the world. Besides the participation of the organization in the problems of Berlin, Palestine, Kashmir and Indonesia, there is a United Nations Special Committee on duty in the Balkans, and a United Nations Commission on duty in Korea. Because the great Powers failed to settle the future of the Italian colonies, the United Nations has been called upon to decide the matter.

The United Nations has proclaimed the first Universal Declaration of Human Rights in history; the history-making Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide has been approved unanimously and member states have been asked to sign and ratify it.

Through the machinery provided by the Charter, and in particular through the International Trusteeship System, the United Nations is assisting the progress of dependent peoples toward self-government or independence.

The foundations of a world rule of law are being built by the decisions and advisory opinions of the International Court of Justice, by the work of the International Law Commission and by the recommendations and conventions adopted by the General Assembly.

In spite of all political and ideological differences, the United Nations is developing an economic and social program aimed at raising the standards of living of the less-developed countries of the world and at increasing the sense of responsibility of the community of nations for the welfare of each of its members.

Through United Nations procedure of regional economic cooperation, effective assistance is being given to the countries of Europe, of Latin America, of Asia and the Far East toward the reconstruction and development of their economies.

Through the planning and execution of comprehensive programs, both in the economic and in the social fields, the providing of fellowships, the sending of missions and advisers, the organization of regional seminars, the United Nations has begun to make an effective contribution to placing the knowledge of the more advanced nations at the disposal of the less advanced.

One of the most heartening events of the year was the impetus resulting from the initiative taken by the United States of America for an expanded program of technical assistance for the economic development of the underdeveloped areas of the world, to be carried out wherever possible through the United Nations and the specialized agencies. At the request of the Economic and Social Council I prepared a report on this matter in consultation with the heads of the specialized agencies. I hope that the expanded program of assistance that is proposed in that report will be carried out, and I believe that active support by the members of the United Nations for such a program can greatly assist the peaceful transition to a more prosperous world order.

Wherever acute sufferings have resulted from international developments, the United Nations has endeavored to bring speedy relief through all the means at its disposal, particularly to those unable to rely for assistance and support on any single national community, such as the refugees and displaced persons in Europe, in Palestine and in the Far East.

Although the economic and social work of the United Nations and the specialized agencies is in its initial stages, millions of people in all parts of the world are already better off than they were before, because of the work done on problems of labor, health, nutrition, agriculture, education, refugees, child welfare, economic development and stability, finance and trade, control of narcotic drugs, and on many other related questions by the specialized agencies and commissions of the United Nations.

Without the United Nations, most of these activities could not have been undertaken, nor could the benefits from them be realized. Few of them have been seriously impeded, still less paralyzed, by the conflict between the great Powers. Finally, the tensions and other ill effects of that conflict have been greatly alleviated by many of these United Nations activities.

The Problem of Unanimity of the Great Powers

It is in connection with the problems of implementing Article 43 of the Charter, of controlling atomic energy and other weapons of mass destruction, and of regulating and reducing other armaments, that great Power differences have blocked any substantial progress. It is precisely here that unanimity of the great Powers is essential. This unanimity would be just as necessary if there were no power of veto in the Security Council. There is no solution for such problems except by agreement among all the great Powers.

I think we must now recognize that in the past a somewhat misleading emphasis has sometimes been placed on the enforcement functions of the Security Council. These functions are important, and it is a great disappointment that Article 43, which provides for the placing of armed forces at the disposal of the Security Council, has not yet been put into effect. So long as this Charter obligation remains unfulfilled the authority of the United Nations cannot be as great as it should be.

Nevertheless, it should be recognized that the experience of the past year has demonstrated that the primary instruments in the preservation of peace are those of peaceful settlement. In the words of the Charter these are "negotiation, inquiry, mediation, conciliation, compromise, arbitration, judicial settlement, resort to regional agencies or arrangements." In the use of such instruments the United Nations has already achieved substantial success.

In so far as the great Powers are concerned, these instruments of peaceful settlement are the only ones that the Security Council can, in practice, employ. The unanimity rule applies to all decisions for enforcement action and even if there were no such rule, the situation would not be changed in substance. Enforcement action against a great Power would not be police action, it would be war—in fact a new world war.

A new world war, conducted with the means now available, would bring the world only to destruction. No one system or ideology could prevail afterwards, because there would be neither victors nor vanquished. There would be complete chaos.

To prevent a new world war from breaking out is the main reason for the existence of the United Nations.

It is important for the peoples of the world to face these facts and to understand that it is impossible to obtain lasting security from war by any arrangement that leaves out any of the great Powers. While regional security arrangements may sometimes redress the balance of power in the world, collective security can be achieved only by working out means by which all the great Powers may live peacefully together under the Charter, however long this process may take.

The events of the past four years and the existence of great Power differences make the United Nations more essential, rather than less so. The only way of resolving these differences peacefully is my making the United Nations work effectively within the full range of its Charter responsibilities.

Other developments of our times are adding to the importance of the United Nations with each year that passes. Two developments to which I wish particularly to refer are the rise of many peoples in Asia and Africa from a position of dependency toward one of equality, and the growing strength of the movement to extend the observance of human rights everywhere in the world.

If the importance of these developments were correctly assessed, I believe that the world would find it possible to approach the present "East-West" difficulties with less hysteria, for they would be more easily seen in their true perspective. I believe that the rise of dependent peoples and the human rights movement will, in the long run, have far more significance and give rise to greater events in the second half of the twentieth century than will the present ideological struggle.

The Rise of Dependent Peoples

India, Pakistan, Burma and Ceylon, all formerly dependent parts of the British Empire, have achieved independence by pacific transition since the United Nations was founded, due mainly to the high degree of statesmanship exercised by the Governments of those countries and of the United Kingdom. In my report last year I noted the striking increase in the independent representation of the nations of Asia and Africa in the United Nations since the San Francisco conference. Israel has now become the fifty-ninth member of the organization. The application of four more countries of Asia—the Mongolian People's Republic, Ceylon, Nepal and Korea—are pending. Indonesia may be expected to apply after existing difficulties there are settled. The debate in the General Assembly on the Italian colonies revealed that the majority of the members expect to welcome Libya as an independent member in a few years, and Somaliland perhaps somewhat later. We can be certain that, in time, other countries in Asia and Africa will become members. There should be others, for over half the people of the world live on these continents.

The days of dependency or inferior status are fast coming to an end in Asia. Its peoples are the inheritors of some of the world's greatest cultures; they are building their own new worlds on the foundations of the old. Their influence in the affairs of the United Nations is growing. Given time, and the necessary development of their economic resources, their influence will be more nearly commensurate with their population than it is today. The idea that all this vast diversity of ancient peoples stirring to new life and power could ever become the mere reflection of any form of society in other parts of the world is unrealistic.

In Africa the movement forward is slower. There the International Trusteeship System can play an especially important role, and the beneficial effect of United Nations' supervision of the administration of the Trust Territories will be felt throughout the much wider area of the Non-Self-Governing Territories. The effects of the Trusteeship System will certainly give new impetus to the economic, social and educational advancement of the peoples of these Territories and to their progress toward self-government or independence.

The Human Rights Movement

In the struggle to extend the observance of human rights in the world the past year has seen one of the most potentially significant developments of history in the proclamation by the General Assembly of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. This is the first time that such a declaration has been written for the whole world.

It is true that this declaration is not a law, but neither have been many of the most influential documents of history. The United States' Declaration of Independence, and France's Declaration of the Rights of Man were not laws when they were proclaimed.

Nevertheless, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights has behind it the force of public opinion, and public opinion is at the source of all law whether it be national or international. The declaration sets a standard for governments to live up to. Its power for good is incalculable wherever people are deprived of freedom because of their beliefs, wherever there is discrimination because of the color of a man's skin or for any other reason, wherever people do not have a fair opportunity to enjoy a decent living standard, education for their children and security in times of illness, accident and old age.

The declaration, furthermore, is only the first, although the most important, of the steps being taken by the United Nations to extend respect for human rights more widely in the world.

The essential role of the United Nations in these great developments is now becoming more clearly defined.

On the one hand, the United Nations is assisting the movements toward greater equality of opportunity beween the peoples of Asia and Africa and the peoples of the Western World, and between the more highly developed countries and those which are less developed. It is also giving a powerful impetus to winning human rights for all peoples, wherever they live. On the other hand, the United Nations is making it possible for these fundamental changes to be carried out with far less violence than would otherwise be the case. Wherever the United Nations intervenes, it intervenes to promote peaceful development, and all its influence is exerted toward moderating the intensity of the conflicts involved and conciliating opposing views.

Evolution of the General Assembly as a Force for Peace

There has been another development in the evolution of the United Nations in its formative years which I regard as an important reason for the growing strength of the United Nations. This is the evolution of the General Assembly into one of the strongest forces for peace that the world has ever seen.

There are three main causes for this evolution:

First, because all nations are represented equally, and because many of the small nations have from the first spoken with great independence, the General Assembly has tended to act as a conciliating and moderating influence on the conflicts of the great Powers.

Second, because the attention of the world is focused on the General Assembly as on no other international body, its sessions have become the supreme testing ground of the policies of member nations. There, as nowhere else, those policies are subjected to the searching scrutiny and judgment of world public opinion. Evidence is already accumulating that when national policies do not pass this test for justice and fair dealing, they will have to be modified or changed, if not immediately, then in the long run.

Third, the General Assembly has demonstrated that it can apply the powers granted it by the Charter for conciliation and peaceful adjustment as a powerful complement to the work of the Security Council in the prevention of war.

I do not subscribe to criticisms of the General Assembly as a powerless debating society or as a propaganda forum. Most of the Assembly's recommendations are helping to build the foundations of world law and to prevent war. Whenever a government uses the rostrum of the Assembly for propaganda purposes, that government is submitting itself to the judgment of mankind. Nevertheless, I agree that the procedures of the General Assembly can be improved and that a great deal of time can be saved, mainly by the exercise of self-restraint on the part of the members in debate.

We can be certain that the degree of security against war that is attained in the world will be in proportion to the support that is given to the United Nations by the member governments. In so far as they relegate the United Nations to an auxiliary role, the danger of war will be increased. In so far as they make the United Nations the cornerstone of their foreign policies and support both by word and action the supremacy of the Charter and the universality of the organization, security against war will be strengthened.

Strengthening the United Nations

The member governments can reduce the danger of war by so acting as to strengthen and to use the United Nations in a number of ways in the months ahead. In this connection I have certain suggestions which I offer for their consideration.

Great Power Relations

The United Nations cannot force a settlement of the present conflict between the great Powers, but it has already demonstrated that it can help to conciliate the conflict, moderate it and keep it within peaceful bounds. It is essential for the great Powers to keep in contact, to talk things over, and seriously to negotiate with one another. To refuse such consultations as futile is to deny the whole concept of the United Nations. Now that the Western Powers and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics have resumed discussions in the Council of Foreign Ministers and have expressed their intention of continuing them at the time of the coming session of the General Assembly, I hope that they will not again break off their efforts to settle their differences.

Sooner or later there must be peace settlements for Germany, Austria and Japan. There must be agreement on the provision of armed forces to the Security Council, on the control of atomic energy and other weapons of mass destruction and of conventional armaments. It is necessary to keep on trying for progress in these directions, no matter how discouraging the prospect may appear to be at any particular moment or how many years it may take to complete the task.

I hope that the practice of consultation between the great Powers will become the rule and not the exception in those matters that come before the United Nations, and especially before the Security Council, as well as in matters outside the organization. The good offices of the Secretary General are always available to facilitate such consultations.

United Nations Field Service

With a view to strengthening the work of mediation and conciliation I suggested to the last session of the General Assembly the establishment of a United Nations Guard. This Guard would have no military duties but would assist United Nations missions on their peaceful errands to the world's troubled areas. In the light of suggestions made by member governments I have modified that proposal. I have now suggested to the Special Committee established by the General Assembly to examine this matter of the establishment of a uniformed United Nations Field Service of three hundred men, who would be seconded or otherwise made available, on a basis of geographical distribution, fro the services of member governments for a period of from one to three years for protective and technical duties both at Headquarters and in the field. I have also suggested the creation of a Panel of two thousand men who could be called upon for truce observation and plebiscite duties by the competent United Nations organs as the need arises. None of the men in the Field Service would carry arms, except sidearms for self-protection when this was deemed necessary. Under the revised plan the cost to the organization would be kept to a minimum, while the advantages of the original proposal would be retained. The Secretariat, which has been steadily improving its efficiency, thus would be given the means that it needs to meet its increasing responsibilities, and the power and prestige of the United Nations in the peaceful settlement of disputes would be strengthened.

ITALIAN COLONIES

The General Assembly at its third regular session did not reach an agreement on the disposition of the former Italian colonies. The question will come before the fourth regular session of the General Assembly this autumn.

The debate on this question at the second part of the third session was significant in several ways. It reflected the growing influence of the nations of Asia and Africa. Those nations played a decisive part in preventing the adoption of a compromise proposal which they felt was unsatisfactory to a majority of the inhabitants of the territories concerned. The debate also brought forth considerable support for the concept of a direct United Nations trusteeship, a proposal originally suggested by the United States Government at the first London meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers.

I recognize the political and practical difficulties involved in a direct United Nations trusteeship for the territories during the relatively brief period that may precede their independence. Nevertheless, I believe that statesmanship on the part of the Governments could lead to such a solution of the problem, and that the political difficulties could be dealt with if the practical difficulties could be overcome. The best solution, in my opinion, would be a direct United Nations trusteeship with an administrator responsible solely to the Trusteeship Council. It is, of course, for the member governments to decide, but I feel sure that such a bold forward step would help the peoples of the territories concerned to follow the peaceful path toward self-government or independence, and that it would strengthen the confidence of dependent peoples all over the world in the United Nations and in the member governments who would have made such a solution possible.

PEACE AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT FOR THE NEAR EAST

The Near East presents a challenging opportunity to the United Nations to combine political and economic action in the cause of lasting peace.

An armistice has been achieved in Palestine, and the terms of a peaceful settlement are being negotiated. Nine hundred thousand Arabs are receiving assistance from the United Nations; many of them must be resettled or repatriated. The new State of Israel has yet to establish its economic viability. Both Israel and the Arab States need a substantial, coordinated effort in economic development to raise their living standards.

I believe that this area should be given high priority in the proposed United Nations program of technical assistance for underdeveloped countries. This would make it possible for comprehensive plans to be worked out for regional economic development on a large scale in the whole area; these plans might include river valley developments, such as the Tennessee Valley Authority in the United States, in respect of the valleys of the Tigris, the Euphrates and the Jordan, and of the further development of the valley of the Nile. The first step is technical assistance, the next is financial investment. By carrying out both steps through the United Nations the burdens as well as the benefits can be shared equitably among participating countries.

Whatever is done in the Near East should not, of course, impede or delay similar programs for technical assistance and economic development in other parts of Asia and Africa and in Latin America.

ACTION TO MEET ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES

Although there have been considerable improvements in many aspects of the world economic situation the basic conditions for economic stability and orderly development have not yet been established.

Of particular importance is the continued and persistent disequilibrium in international trade and payments. Little progress has been made toward a solution of this grave problem. The consequences have been particularly harmful for the weaker and less favored countries.

Moreover, if the recent slackening of economic activity in some countries were permitted to continue, it would cause large-scale unemployment in those countries, and at the same time would aggravate the existing economic maladjustments in the world as a whole. Another world-wide economic crisis would be a tragedy that can be prevented, if the governments of the world find a common basis for concerted action. A solution for these immensely complicated problems cannot be found by single countries acting in isolation nor by any limited group of nations.

Fortunately, the member governments have, in the United Nations and the specialized agencies, the international machinery that makes it possible for them to take the necessary concerted action. It is urgent that they use this machinery to come to grips with these pressing economic problems.

UNIVERSALITY OF MEMBERSHIP

The applications of fourteen countries for membership in the United Nations are pending. These are, in the order of their applications: Albania, Mongolian People's Republic, Jordan, Portugal, Ireland, Hungary, Italy, Austria, Rumania, Bulgaria, Finland, Ceylon, Korea and Nepal. Most of these countries have been waiting for more than two years to be admitted.

Member governments are familiar with my views on the desirability of moving as rapidly as possible toward universality of membership. I have expressed them on several occasions during the past three years. I am well aware of the objections that have been raised against the admission of these states, but I believe that such objections could be better dealt with if the applicants were inside the organization rather than outside it. The applicants can in any event reasonably be considered as meeting the requirements of membership. Whatever may be said regarding the Governments of the countries concerned, their peoples, and the world as a whole, would certainly benefit if all the applicants were to be admitted to the organization at the next session of the General Assembly.

I commend to the member governments, and to the peoples of the world, the study of the full record of the United Nations during the twelve months ending 30 June 1949 as set forth in the chapters that follow. It is a record of achievement in the prevention of war and in the steady construction of the foundations of a more peaceful and prosperous world.

TRYGVE LIE,
Secretary General.

SENATE HEARS SUBVERSIVES WORK FOR U.N.

McCarran Says Disloyal Persons Go Into Its Agencies

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Senator McCarran (D., Nev.) asserted today that persons in authority on the United Nations staff have gone there "directly from fields of subversive activity" in this country. He cited what he called two typical examples.

The United Nations immediately retorted that one of them, a Polish national, holds an elected position and is not responsible to the international agency in any way.

The other, Norman Corwin, a radio writer, replied in New York that "I believe I am a vastly better patriot" than McCarran.

The Senator told his colleagues that Corwin, a member of the United Nation's radio division since last March, is or has been a member of a long list of Communist front organizations which the Attorney General has cited as subversive.

Denies He's Communist

Corwin denied, as he has in the past, that he is a Communist, and he added.

"I have worked at the job of helping to broaden an appreciation of American institutions, our democracy and our form of government. My sentiments have never been secret from anyone and are on record in print and on transcription for everyone to see."

The other person McCarran mentioned was Ludwig Rajchman whom he identified as director of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

The United Nations, in an official statement issued at Lake Success, said Maurice Pate is the UNICEF's executive director and that Rajchman is not employed by United Nations at all.

Elected Chairman

He is the Polish representative on the UNICEF's executive board, the United Nations said, and was unanimously elected its chairman by the 26 nations represented.

McCarran declared that during the war the United States State Department made "attempts to have the Polish Government, with which Rajchman was affiliated in this country, recall him because of his involvements in intrigues contrary to the interests of the United States."

He said that if the case of Corwin were an isolated one, it would not be disturbing. But he continued:

"It is unfortunately characteristic of a number of people who have been selected to serve in the secretariat of the United Nations. Included in this group are persons who have been disqualified from holding public office in the United States as a result of the loyalty investigations."

Attacks Price's Statement

McCarran is chairman of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee which recently made public testimony of an unidentified mystery witness to the effect that Communist agents have terrorized the United Nations staff.

He noted that Byron Price, acting secretary general of the United Nations, has protested to the State Department the release of what Price called "irresponsible and unfounded attacks."

McCarran said that before anyone "gives himself to irresponsible utterances attacking the investigation," he should examine State Department files on a number of individuals he has called to the department's attention.

M'CARRAN AGAIN HITS U. N. STAFF

Washington, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—Senator McCarran (D.-Nev.) told the Senate today that persons have gone "directly from fields of subversive activity" in the United States to positions of authority in the United Nations.

He declared "two typical examples" are Ludwig Rajchman, executive director of the U. N. International Emergency Children's Fund, and Norman Corwin. McCarran said Corwin's appointment as a member of the radio division of the U. N. Department of Information was announced by the international agency last March 8.

"If the case of Norman Corwin were an isolated instance," the Senator said, "it would not be so greatly disturbing. It is, unfortunately, characteristic of a number of people who have been selected to serve in the Secretariat of the United Nations. Included in this group are persons who have been disqualified from holding public office in the United States as a result of the loyalty investigations."

McCarran is chairman of a Senate Judiciary sub-committee which has been investigating the entrance of allegedly subversive persons into this country.

Jury Jobs At Red Trial Getting Monotonous

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—The hours aren't at all bad and the pay is fair to middling.

At first the work had a certain variety and the people one met were lively and interesting. But lately the whole thing has settled down into monotonous routine, just as in many another job.

That's about the situation of the jurors in the conspiracy trial of eleven top leaders of the American Communist party.

Can't See The End

They now are in their fifth month of jury service in what surely is one of America's longest criminal trials. The end is nowhere in sight.

The fifteen jurors—there were sixteen at the start including four alternates but one was excused recently because of illness—have maintained poker faces from the day they began to hear the evidence March 21.

But they have not let down in the close attention with which they follow the trial, even though much of the evidence now is repetitive.

Clashes Exciting

The clashes between Federal Judge Harold R. Medina and the defense lawyers have furnished most of the excitement in the trial. These sharpened so much in the past week that the judge began calling in marshals to put the attorneys in their seats when they defied his orders to quit talking.

But these rows, too, have been greeted by the jurors impassively. Medina has instructed them repeatedly to disregard such incidents.

He told the jurors when the trial began that calmness of mind was one of the most important things they could cultivate. Outwardly, at least, that is just what they seem to have done.

Financial Balance

Their jury service apparently has not meant direct financial sacrifice for the eight women and four men now in the jury box. In one case, the juror is ahead of the game.

Only two of the twelve had regular jobs when the trial began. One of these, James F. Smyth, an employé of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, is getting his regular salary in addition to the jury fees.

The company explains it has a policy of paying the full salary of a worker called for jury service up to a maximum of one month. Never before had the absence from work exceeded a month. When Smyth's case arose, the management decided to continue his salary for the duration.

One Gets The Difference

One of the women jurors, Mrs. Lillian Schlesinger, is a clerk at a Fifth avenue department store. The firm, in common with other New York stores, pays its employés who serve on juries the difference between their salaries and their Government fees.

The other ten include four housewives, three unemployed persons, a retired salesman, a widow and a theatrical producer and writer. The latter is able to continue his work outside of jury hours.

The jurors receive $10 a day in fees, or $50 for the usual week. Their pay checks come every two weeks. They also get mileage at the rate of 7 cents a mile, but must pay for their own lunches.

The Hours

The trial sessions begin at 10.30 A.M. each morning, Monday through Friday. The lunch hour is from 1 P.M. to 2.30 P.M. Quitting time is 4.30. There are ten-minute recesses in the middle of the morning and afternoon sessions.

Early in the trial, Medina adopted the policy of halting the trial Friday afternoons. So the jurors have long week ends.

They also have well-upholstered chairs which incline to comfortable angles. Air conditioning has kept the lofty courtroom cool in one of New York's hottest summers.

The jurors have set an exemplary attendance record. There have been only two instances of tardiness.

Businessman Tells Probers Of 'Five Per Cent' Deals

Witness Says James V. Hunt Took Fee for Landing Government Orders

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 — (AP) James V. Hunt, a key figure in the Senate investigation of alleged five per centers, was quoted by a witness today as saying that his sole stock in trade was influence and that he had access to the White House at "any time."

Furniture maker Paul Grindle testified that Hunt boasted of warm friendship with President Truman's military aide and with two army generals, both now suspended.

Grindle, testifying before a special Senate subcommittee, quoted Hunt as telling him:

"I have only one thing to sell and that is influence. My influence is based on my reputation and that is impeccable."

Called Vaughan Close Friend

The Massachusetts manufacturer said Hunt called Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, Truman military aide, "one of his closest friends" and proclaimed himself "very close," also, of Secretary of Defense Johnson.

But Secretary Johnson spoke for himself. As first witness in the jammed hearing room, he vowed to help "get rid of unscrupulous men who prey on both government and business by peddling influence" in getting federal contracts for their clients.

Johnson said he was amazed at the "audacity" of such go-betweens. He has heard that their numbers are increasing, he said, and will cooperate fully to "break their power."

Grindle, 29, owns the C. W. Laing furniture company, Framingham, Mass. His target, Hunt, was a quartermaster lieutenant colonel and an official in the surplus disposal agency, and now is a "management counselor" in Washington.

Though roundly denied by Hunt, Grindle's charges, when published in June, set off the Senate inquiry and caused the Army to suspend temporarily Major Generals Herman Feldman and Alden Waitt, chiefs of the Army's Quartermaster and Chemical Corps, respectively.

The star witness lost no time in dealing out the sensations for which newsmen crushed into the hearing chamber, leaving room for only a handful of spectators and officials.

Told of $200,000,000 Deal

Grindle related how he engaged Hunt—for $1,000 down payment—to land a government contract. While negotiating with Hunt, he said, Hunt told him about "a $200,000,000 deal for airplane parts."

"He told me that it was a deal which would make the taxpayers' blood boil if they knew about it," the furniture man testified.

Hunt explained to him, he said, that the plan was to have plane parts declared surplus and then sold for $18 a ton to a syndicate which Hunt represented. The syndicate would then resell at a profit.

Hunt offered to get him a piece of a $3,500,000 government contract for furniture, Grindle said, and he came to Washington last April 2 to talk it over. Grindle wanted to know Hunt's background, and that led Hunt to speak of his connection with General Vaughan.

Vaughan supplied Hunt with brandy—the gift of a distiller to the White House—because Hunt's wife liked that type, Grindle quoted Hunt as saying. Vaughan also gave him boxes of cigars sent to the White House, it was said.

Mentioned Waitt, Feldman

In this conversation also Hunt mentioned his "close friends," Generals Feldman and Waitt. Hunt claimed access to their offices "at any time," Grindle related.

The witness went on: Hunt had told him that two White House parties had been given in his honor, and showed pictures of himself, his wife and General Vaughan to prove it. A song he had composed was played at one party.

According to the witness, Hunt quoted General Vaughan as stating there was "no reason" why Dorothy Draper of Washington, a Hunt client, shouldn't get a contract for interior decorating of the White House now being remodeled.

And there was no reason, Hunt allegedly added, why Grindle should not get a contract for woodwork in the White House job.

Johnson Vows Drive On 'Five Per Centers'

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson promised today to help "get rid of unscrupulous men who prey on both business and Government by peddling influence" in Federal contract-letting.

Johnson was the first witness at the Senate's special investigation subcommittee opened public hearings into the activities of so-called "five percenters"—those who arrange to get contracts for a fee.

Telling the subcommittee "you can count on our wholehearted cooperation," Johnson added:

"We are in entire sympathy with your determination to get rid of those unscrupulous men who prey upon both business and government by selling—rather I would call it peddling—influence."

Amazed At Audacity

Johnson said he has been hearing for some time that "the number of so-called five percenters has been on the increase in Washington and other cities where the dollar volume of Government procurement runs high." He added:

"I was amazed at their audacity and at the extent of their operations. When I became Secretary of Defense I vowed that I would break their power, and began to measure my sights on them almost as soon as I took office."

The Senate group wants to find out whether any of the contract agents have tried to influence Federal officials.

Grindle Is Summoned

The small hearing room was packed as Johnson took the witness chair. There were only about 35 chairs for Government officials and the public.

After Johnson's curtain-raiser testimony, the investigators plan to hear the man whose statements touched off the inquiry. He is Paul Grindle, a Massachusetts furniture manufacturer who has said he paid a middle man $1,000 for help in seeking a Government contract.

Scheduled after Grindle's testimony is a searching inquiry into the Tanforan race track case. The subcommittee wants to find out just how the track at San Bruno, Cal., got Government approval for use of scarce building materials shortly after the war.

The hearings are expected to run at least two weeks, capping six weeks of private preliminary investigation by the subcommittee.

2 Generals Suspended

The group has been looking into the activities of "five percenters"—persons who charge a fee for help in getting Federal contracts for others. Their commission usually is five per cent of the gross proceeds.

The subcommittee's probe already has led to the suspension of two army major generals—Alden H. Waitt, chief of the Chemical Corps, and Herman Feldman, the quartermaster general.

In relieving them from duty temporarily, Secretary of the Army Gray said they had failed to exhibit judgment "expected of persons in their positions."

Information Sought

The subcommittee is attempting to learn:

1. Whether anyone has tried to influence Government officials in charge of buying or the administration of Federal regulations.

2. Whether Government officials have gone out of their way to be helpful to anyone seeking favors.

In a statement setting forth the purpose of the inquiry, Chairman Hoey (D., N.C.) said the Senate group is trying to help the small business man get Government contracts without feeling the needs to turn to a five percenter for help.

"The subcommittee wants to acknowledge at the beginning," Hoey said, "that business both large and small is entitled to legitimate representation in dealing with the Government.

"We are not critical of the practice itself, but merely of some of the abuses which occur in the practice, and it is these abuses which the subcommittee hopes to curtail."

Manufacturer Testifies Before Senators in 5-Percenter Hearing.

VAUGHAN VERY CLOSE FRIEND'

Key Figure in Inquiry Also Quoted as Telling of Deal That Would Make People's Blood Boil.

Washington, Aug. 8 (A.P.).—Paul Grindle, a manufacturer, today quoted James V. Hunt, key figure in the Senate's five percenter inquiry, as having said: "I have only one thing to sell and that is influence."

Grindle, head of a Framingham, Mass., furniture company, also told the Senate's Investigating sub-committee that Hunt claimed Major-Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, President Truman's military aid, was "one of his closest friends" and that he (Hunt) "could and did go to the White House at any time."

Grindle's statements to a New York newspaper last June touched off the sub-committee's inquiry into claims of influence in the awarding of Government contracts.

Hunt, now a management counselor in Washington, once was a lieutenant-colonel in the Quartermaster Corps and worked for a while for the War Assets Administration, WAA was assigned the task of selling billions of dollars worth of war surplus goods.

Grindle said he engaged Hunt to help him land a Government contract. During the course of their talks, the furniture-maker testified, Hunt told him:

"I have only one thing to sell and that is influence. My influence is based on my reputation and that is impeccable."

A 200 Million Deal.

Hunt has denied that he ever attempted to sell influence, and he has said he knows no one in Government who could be influenced.

Grindle said that while he was negotiating with Hunt, the former Army officer told him he was working on "a $200,000,000 deal for plane parts."

Grindle quoted Hunt as saying the plan was to have plane parts valued at that amount declared surplus and then sold for $18 a ton to a syndicate Hunt represented.

"He told me," Grindle testified, "that it was a deal which would make the taxpayers' blood boil if they knew about it."

Grindle took the stand after Secretary of Defense Johnson promised the inquiry group he will help "get rid of unscrupulous men who prey on both business and Government by peddling influence."

Grindle said that Hunt in sketching his background told him two White House parties had been given in his honor. He said Hunt showed him a picture purportedly taken at one of the parties, showing Hunt, Mrs. Hunt and Gen. Vaughan.

'Very Close to Johnson.'

Grindle said the matter of repairing the White House came up in the course of one of his talks with Hunt, who, he said, told him that Vaughan had informed Hunt there was "no reason" why another client of Hunt's, Dorothy Draper of Washington, should not have the interior decorating contract. Hunt, Grindle testified, said that there was no reason why Grindle should not get a contract for woodwork in the renovation of the White House.

Recounting another conversation, Grindle said Hunt told him he was "very close" to Secretary Johnson. "He said he was one of the four persons who were present when Johnson was called to the White House and told he was going to be Secretary of Defense."

Grindle at another point quoted Hunt as saying: "I don't like to boast, but I am the most influential man in Washington with the Quartermaster Corps."

Grindle opened his testimony by outlining how he happened to meet up with Hunt. Grindle said Hunt offered to get him part of a $3,500,000 Government contract for furniture and he came to Washington last April 22 to talk the matter over with him. Grindle said he asked Hunt about his background and Hunt told him that Vaughan was "one of his closest friends."

Other 'Close Friends.'

Grindle said that Hunt confided to him that Hunt's wife was fond of a certain type of brandy which a certain distiller sent to the White House each month. He said Vaughan used to give him some of the brandy with instructions to take it home to his wife. He said Hunt also told him that Vaughan frequently gave him boxes of cigars which had been sent to the White House.

Other "close friends" mentioned by Hunt during the conversation, Grindle said, were Major-Gen. Herman Feldman, chief or the Army Quartermaster Corps, and Major-Gen. Alden Waitt, chief of the Army Chemical Corps, both of whom have been suspended by the Army pending outcome of the five percenter investigation.

In their case, Grindle said, Hunt told him he had access to their offices at "any time." Grindle said Hunt also told him that he could see Jess Larson, former War Assets Administrator and now head of the Government's new general services agency, whenever he wished.

Amplifying this point, Grindle said Hunt related that he was at the White House talking with Dr. John Steelman, presidential aid and was told that Larson was to be appointed to the WAA post.

Hunt, according to Grindle, said he argued with Steelman for an hour in opposition to the appointment, saying it would be "suicide for Larson to take the job in his present state of health."

Grindle said Hunt went on to say that he later talked to Larson, wo told him he "felt it his duty to accept the job."

Discussing a Contract.

Grindle said Hunt called him to Washington to discuss the furniture contract after an inspection tour of his plant by men whom he identified as J. Leonard Michelson, A. J. Conlon and Arthur Small. They discussed, he said, a proposed $13,000,000 Government contract for footlockers.

Grindle said that Conlon at one stage telephoned a Washington number which he later identified as Hunt's. Grindle said Conlon asked Hunt about the foot locker contract and was informed that it had already been awarded.

A couple of days later, Grindle said, Conlon telephoned from Washington and put Hunt on the telephone. Hunt, he said, told him he thought he could get him part of the furniture contract and suggested that Grindle come to Washington immediately. Grindle said he flew to Washington the next morning and went to Hunt's office.

Johnson said he has been hearing for some time that "the number of so-called 5 percenters has been on the increase in Washington and other cities where the dollar volume of Government procurement runs high," He added:

"I was amazed at their audacity and at the extent of their operations. When I became Secretary of Defense I vowed that I would break their power, and began to measure my sights on them almost as soon as I took office."

The Senate group wants to find out whether any of the contract agents have tried to influence Federal officials.

The small hearing room was packed as Johnson took the witness chair. About half the space was occupied by newsmen, leaving only about thirty-five chairs for Government officials and the public.

Kefauver Seeks 'Federal Union' Of 7 Nations

MAX HALL

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Senator Kefauver (D., Tenn.), who wants seven democratic nations to join in a federal union something like our own union of 48 states, said today that "Congress is far behind the people on this subject."

On behalf of a group of twenty senators, Kefauver has introduced a resolution asking the President to invite Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg to a "federal convention" to explore how far they can apply to themselves "the principles of free federal union" within the framework of the United Nations.

Likened To Our First Conclave

The sponsors see this convention as comparable to the constitutional convention held by the thirteen original American states in 1787.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, meanwhile, came out against proposals for world federation on the ground it would "sell our American sovereignty."

D.A.R. Opposes Trend

Mrs. Lola Lee ruington, executive secretary of the D.A.R. National Defense Committee, said in a statement that 84 patriotic organizations and others in opposition "to the present trend in world government thought" have formed a patriots' executive committee. Mrs. Bruington, elected head of the new committee, said:

"Since 22 states have already passed resolutions asking for some form of world government, and with many legislators accepting the views of small groups of idealists we believe it is time for an organized campaign to educate the American people and let them know the real facts about such federation."

Kefauver, in an interview, said that during the two weeks since the resolution was introduced, "interest has been increasing tremendously all over the country."

"But Not Quite That Far"

When asked whether he thinks the seven Atlantic nations can go as far in forming a federal union as the thirteen American states did, Kefauver replied:

"Not quite that far, to begin with. But I think they might set up a common foreign policy, common defense, common currency, postal system and trade relations."

Need "Something Beyond"

He said he and other Senators are convinced that a majority of the people are ready—if not for federal union—at least for "something else" beyond the Atlantic Pact, the Marshall Plan and the piecemeal "pouring out of money" to European countries.

The Kefauver resolution has been introduced also in the House by Representative Wadsworth (R., N.Y.) and others. It has outside backing from the Atlantic Union Committee, whose officers include former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson and former Under Secretary of State Will Clayton.

For Greater Strength

It is one of several pending resolutions designed to bring nations closer together to get a firmer grip on world peace, either by strengthening the United Nations or by other methods.

One of these resolutions may be adopted by Congress next year. It may turn out to have as much influence as did the Fulbright "lasting peace" resolution of 1943, the Connally resolution of 1943, and the Vandenberg resolution of 1948.

Senator Elbert Thomas (D., Utah) has just been appointed chairman of a Foreign Relations subcommittee to study all the new proposals.

He told a reporter the subcommittee will spend the rest of 1949 getting ready and will open hearings in January.

3 Other Resolutions

Besides the Kefauver resolution, here are some of the major resolutions now pending:

1. A resolution by Thomas and Senator Douglas (D., Ill.) to strengthen the United Nations by eliminating the veto power and setting up a method by which a victim of aggression may be defended by the collective power of the other countries.

2. A one-paragraph resolution introduced by Senator Tobey (R., N.H.) for a group of nineteen senators, designed to strengthen the United Nations and "to seek its development into a world federation open to all nations with defined and limited powers adequate to preserve peace and prevent aggression through the enactment, interpretation and enforcement of world law."

Where Plans Differ

One of the main differences between this and the Kefauver resolution is that the Tobey "federation" would be open to all nations, but the Kefauver "federal union" would be open only to democratic countries—starting with the seven democracies that first sponsored the twelve-nation Atlantic pact. Other democracies could be invited to join by the original seven.

The Tobey resolution also has been introduced in the House with he claimed support of more than 00 representatives, and has the backing of United World Federalists.

3. A resolution introduced by Senator Sparkman (D., Ala.) for group of eleven senators, designed to strengthen the United Nations by removing the veto power and establishing "an effective but tyranny-proof international police force."

Armed Forces' Pay Roll Seen Resisting Cut

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D., Va.) reported today that unification of the Army, Navy and Air Forces—voted nearly two years ago—has failed to reduce the number of civilian employés compared with men in uniform.

When unification first became effective in September, 1947, Byrd said there were ten civilians employed for every eighteen men in uniform. He said the ratio was identical at the start of the present fiscal year, July 1.

Hit Wartime Peak

During the peak of the war, there were 47 men in uniform for every 10 civilian employés, Byrd noted.

His report showed the National Military Establishment employed 884,728 civilians in June this year compared with 871,778 a year ago.

Although the army services have decreased by 42,842 civilians employed overseas, Byrd said they added 55,792 civilians in the continental United States during the past fiscal year.

For the Government as a whole there were 30,680 more regular employés at the end of June than a year ago. The total was 2,114,433. This does not include persons in the uniformed services nor those paid on an hourly or weekly basis.

Military Rule Puts New Curb On Interviews

Advance Approval Needed, but Reporters May Seek Stories 'on Their Own'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP).—Advance approval of "all interviews" with Army, Navy and Air Force officials is required under a new order of the unified National Military Establishment.

At the same time, officials said today, reporters can try to get interviews on their own. Those who grant such interviews are asked to tell the department's press section about it so it can answer questions when the interview appears.

The press desks of the three services, all in one room under the reorganization, now have a form, "Request for Interview." This is to carry the reporter's name, organization and the "subject" of the requested interview. The requested time, the approved time and the name of the person who makes the arrangement are to be recorded. The advance approval must come from Lee Hargus, chief of the department's press branch.

William Frye, information director, said it was not an attempt to control news, but rather a method through which the department press section can keep informed of what is going on. He

Notables Called For Testimony On B-36

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee will begin public hearings tomorrow in its study of whether politics has mixed into national-defense policies and the B-36 bomber program.

The hearings will open with a star-packed witness list. It includes war leaders who expanded the United States Air Force, the present joint chiefs of staff, men who guide the Air Force now, big airplane manufacturers, scientists and research specialists.

Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.) of the committee announced the list over the week end. Joseph B. Keenan, special counsel for the investigation, said the witnesses have been instructed to bring in documents and records for many years.

Information Sought

This material, he explained, will cover defense policies on strategic air power, plane purchasing plans and schedules, "and any information that might relate to the use of political influence in the defense program."

The probe was ordered by the House two months ago after Representative Van Zandt (R., Pa.) said he had heard reports concerning the relations of defense leaders and political figures with plane manufacturers. The resolution authorizing the investigation is broad enough to include almost everything connected with the Air Force and purchasing of the B-36.

Lovett Is Summoned

The first witness will be Robert A. Lovett, Under Secretary of War for Air during World War II.

The war leaders to be called are Generals Dwight Eisenhower and Carl A. Spaatz, Admiral W. F. Halsey, and former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson. A subcommittee may go to Sonoma, Cal., to question Gen. H. H. Arnold, wartime chief of the Air Force.

Others called include Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, Secretary of Air Symington, Dr. Karl T. Compton, chairman of the Research and Development Board; Hugh L. Dryden, director of aeronautical research for the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics, and George P. Baker, chairman of the Research and Development Boards Aeronautics Committee.

Martin Is Called

The military list is headed by the joint chiefs—Gen. Omar Bradley, of the Army; Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, of the Air Force, and Admiral Louis Denfeld, of the Navy.

Topping the list of industrialists to be heard is Floyd Odlum, head of the Atlas Corporation. That is the company which controls the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, which makes the B-36.

Also scheduled are Victor Emmanuel, chairman of the Aviation Corporation, which controlled Consolidated before Atlas; Glenn L. Martin, whose manufacturing firm also makes big planes; James H. Kindleberger, president of North American Aviation Company, and Robert Gross, president of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

"Disturbing Reports" Heard

Van Zandt, a reserve navy officer and a member of the House Committee, said that the Air Force had concentrated on the B-36 to the detriment of other phases of its purchasing program. He said he understood contracts with other firms have been canceled so more money could be spent with Consolidated on B-36's.

He also linked the names of Johnson, Symington and Odlum, and said he had heard "disturbing reports" about them. These reports involved plane purchasing, he added, and financing of the Democratic party's national campaign last year.

Paris, Aug. 8 (A. P.).—European countries getting Marshall plan aid are thinking of holding a trade fair next year to show their products in the United States. Detroit, Philadelphia, New York, Washington and Atlantic City are being considered as the site.

TOKYO ROSE TRIAL ENTERS 6TH WEEK

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—(AP) The Tokyo Rose treason trial went into its sixth week today heading for a verdict some time in September.

Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino, 33, Los Angeles-born, is on trial accused of treasonable wartime broadcasts from Tokyo. The government says the broadcasts, on the zero hour, were designed to shatter the morale of allied forces.

Defendent Rested

Mrs. D'Aquino appeared well and considerably rested. The trial recessed last Thursday after she became ill, and she was confined to bed.

Satoshi Nakamura, who says he now is a free-lance singer, was on the stand today as a government witness under cross-examination.

He was born in Vancouver, B. C., and went to Japan in 1940. He said he was master of ceremonies on the zero hour in 1944 and 1945, while Mrs. D'Aquino was broadcasting as "Orphan Ann."

Denies Coercion

He said that after the battle of Leyte Gulf, a news announcement was read on the program, stating the allies had lost many ships. Then, he said, Mrs. D'Aquino broadcast "hello, you boneheads of the Pacific, now that you've lost so many ships, how are you going to find your way back home?"

Nakamura declared the defendant was under no coercion, threat or duress.

On cross-examination he said he was under surveillance by police. He added he had never registered as a Japanese citizen and it was common knowledge that all foreign nationals were kept under surveillance.

THEY READ: "BRADLEY GO HOME, AUSTRIAN BOYS WILL NOT FIGHT FOR YOU" AND "OUT WITH THE AMERICAN WAR-MONGERS." congregational church for 12 years, told newsmen he intended to remain an ordained minister and "live in the faith in which i believe." he said he was a communist and chairman of the dulwich branch of the british soviet society.

many members of his congregation, according to a church officer, were not offended at his communist membership but some dissidents asked for his resignation.

a statement issued by church officers said allen had concluded that "ideals of christian society are realized in the scientific socialism of marx and lenin." the statement added:

""a great majority of the members are deeply grieved at the thought of losing so popular and conscientious a minister."

NIGHT LEAD BRITISH

BY HAROLD K.MILES

LONDON,AUG.6-(AP)-BRITAIN'S SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT HAD A NEW WORRY TONIGHT ADDED TO ITS ECONOMIC WOES AND WASHINGTON'S DELAY IN APPROVING NEW DOLLAR AID.

AUG 9 1949

IT WAS THAT AMERICAN POLITICIANS WERE ATTEMPTING TO STICK A TENTATIVE FINGER--VIA THE MARSHALL PLAN--INTO BRITISH INTERNAL AFFAIRS.

"THAT WOULD BE A DIRECT VIOLATION OF AMERICAN HIGH-LEVEL PROMISES TO KEEP OUT OF THE INTERNAL POLICIES OF MARSHALL AID NATIONS," HE SAID.

AUG 9 1949

WELL INFORMED QUARTERS SAID THIS REACTION REPRESENTED THE OPINION OF BOTH THE LABOR PARTY AND THE SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT OF BRITAIN.

NATIONALIZATION IS THE HEART OF THE LABOR PARY'S PROGRAM. IT HAS ALREADY BECOME THE MAIN THEME OF PRE-ELECTION DEBATES BETWEEN GOVERNMENT SPOKESMEN AND THE CONSERVATIVE OPPOSITION.

"BRITAIN ENTERED THE MARSHALL PLAN PROGRAM WITH THE DISTINCT UNDERSTANDING FROM RESPONSIBLE AMERICAN LEADERS THAT AID WOULD NOT INCLUDE INTERFERENCE IN THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF THIS COUNTRY," THE PARTY SOURCE ADDED.

OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT SPOKESMEN, INCLUDING THE FOREIGN OFFICE, WERE SILENT ON THE MATTER OF KEM'S AMENDMENT TO THE MARSHALL FUND BILL. BUT USUALLY INFORMED SOURCES SAID BOTH WHITEHALL AND DOWNING STREET WERE AROUSED AT HIS ATTEMPTED INTERVENTION INTO THE TOUCHY POLITICAL PROBLEM HERE.

AUG 9 1949

THAT BRISTLING WAS NOT RESTRICTED TO THE SOCIALISTS.

THE WEEKLY "SPECTATOR" -- A CONSERVATIVE PUBLICATION -- SAID IN A DISPATCH FROM ITS WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT.

AUG 9 1949

"MANY A BRITISH, TORY THROUGH ACCUSTOMED PUBLICLY TO DENOUNCE THE LABOR GOVERNMENT'S NATIONALIZATION PLANS, MAY WELL HAVE PRIVATELY BRISTLED AT THE IDEA THAT AN AMERICAN HOLDING PUBLIC OFFICE SHOULD RECOMMEND SUCH INTERFERENCE IN BRITISH DOMESTIC AFFAIRS."

THE KEM AMENDMENT CAUGHT BRITAIN AT A PARTICULARLY DELICATE TIME. CONSERVATIVES UNDER WINSTON CHURCHILL HAD JUST OPENED THEIR CAMPAIGN WITH PROMISES TO HALT THE LABOR GOVERNMENTS NATIONALIZATION PROGRAM, IF THEY WIN THE GENERAL ELECTIONS WHICH MUST BE HELD SOMETIME BEFORE NEXT AUTUMN.

LABORITES UNDER PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE TOOK UP THE CHALLENGE WITH A PROMISE TO PURSUE THEIR PROGRAM WHICH ALREADY HAS PUT RAILROADS, COAL MINES, AIRLINES, COMMUNICATIONS, THE BANK OF ENGLAND, GAS, AND ELECTRICITY UNDER GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP. NATIONALIZATION OF THE STEEL AND IRON INDUSTRY IS INCLUDED IN A BILL ALMOST THROUGH PARLIAMENT AND SOCIALIST LEADERS PLAN TO MOVE IN ON SUGAR, CEMENT AND SOME TYPES OF INSURANCE.

ANOTHER AMENDMENT TO THE MARSHALL PLAN FUND BILL DREW FIRE FROM BRITISH OFFICIALS.

IT PROPOSED THAT ECA ADMINISTRATOR HOFFMAN NEGOTIATE WITH BRITAIN TO HAVE THIS COUNTRY EASE ITS PROGRAM OF DISMANTLING GERMAN INDUSTRIES.

AUG 9 1949

BRITISH SOURCES SAID THAT PROGRAM HAD THE PRIOR AGREEMENT OF BOTH THE UNITED STATES AND FRANCE AND HAD BEEN LONG DELAYED BY AMERICAN INDECISION ON A SAFE INDUSTRIAL LEVEL FOR POST-WAR GERMANY.

BRITISH SOURCES SAID THEY FELT THE SENATE AMENDMENT CAME TOO LATE. "OF 222 PLANTS IN THE BRITISH ZONE OF GERMANY MARKED FOR DISMANTLING ONLY 30 WERE STILL UNTOUCHD AT THE END OF JUNE," THEY SAID.

"REMOVAL OF SOME OF THOSE HAD DOUBTLESSLY BEEN STARTED. MOST OF THE OTHERS ARE ALREADY WELL DOWN."

BRITAIN IS WATCHING THE SLOW PROGRESS OF THE MARSHALL FUND BILL THROUGH CONGRESS WITH ANXIETY. BUT THE DELAY HAS NOT ADDED APPRECIABLE NEW ECONOMIC PROBLEMS TO THIS NATION, WHOSE 1949-50 DEFICIT MAY REACH $1,515,000,000 (B), OFFICIAL SOURCES SAID.

"WE ARE STILL RECEIVING MARSHALL PLAN SHIPMENTS AND COMMITMENTS ARE BEING MADE IN ANTICIPATION OF SOME AID FROM THE NEW ALLOCATIONS," SAID ONE SUCH SOURCE.

AUG 9 1949

FINANCIAL SOURCES SAID THEY EXPECTED "SOME FAVORABLE RESULT" FROM APPLICATION OF STEPS TO PROMOTE THE FREE FLOW OF TRADE BETWEEN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

TRADE OFFICIALS OF MARSHALL PLAN COUNTRIES, MEETING IN PARIS, HAVE DECIDED ON THE PROPER METHODS TO CUT BARRIERS TO COMMERCE. THESE WILL BE KEPT SECRET UNTIL NEXT WEEK'S MEETING OF THE ORGANIZATION FOR EUROPEAN ECONOMIC COOPERATION.

SOURCES HERE SAID THE HEART OF THE PROGRAM WOULD BE ELIMINATION OF LICENSING RESTRICTIONS WHICH WERE "LEFT OVER FROM WARTIME." THESE INCLUDE TRADE QUOTAS NO LONGER APPLICABLE TO EXISTING CONDITIONS, THEY SAID.

AUG 9 1949

M1333PED

LONDON, AUG. 6-(AP)-A BRITISH LABOR PARTY SOURCE EXPRESSED INDIGNATION TODAY OVER A PROPOSAL IN THE U.S. SENATE TO CUT OFF DOLLAR AID TO COUNTRIES THAT NATIONALIZE THEIR BASIC INDUSTRIES.

"IT WOULD BE A DIRECT VIOLATION OF AMERICAN HIGH-LEVEL PROMISES TO KEEP OUT OF INTERNAL POLICIES OF MARSHALL AID NATIONS," HE TOLD A REPORTER. THE SPEAKER REFUSED TO BE IDENTIFIED BY NAME.

HE REFERRED TO AN AMENDMENT BY SENATOR KEM (R-MO.) TO THE FOREIGN AID BILL IN THE SENATE. THE AMENDMENT WOULD DENY FUNDS TO COUNTRIES WHICH NATIONALIZE INDUSTRIES IN THE FUTURE.

RAILROADS, UTILITIES AND OTHER INDUSTRIES HAVE BEEN TAKEN OVER BY BRITAIN'S LABOR GOVERNMENT AND IT IS PUSHING A BILL THROUGH PARLIAMENT TO NATIONALIZE STEEL.

AUG 9 1949

THERE WAS NO OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT REACTION TO THE KEM PROPOSAL OR ON A PROPOSAL IN THE FOREIGN AID BILL TO STOP DISMANTLING INDUSTRIAL PLANTS IN THE WESTERN ZONES OF GERMANY, MAINLY THE BRITISH-CONTROLLED AREAS. OFFICIALS WERE REPORTED TO BE TAKING A DIM VIEW OF THE EFFORT TO STOP DISMANTLING PLANTS THAT ARE CONSIDERED WAR POTENTIALS.

A BRITISH INDUSTRIALIST, MEANWHILE, RETURNED FROM A TWO-WEEK VISIT TO NORTH AMERICA WITH THE REPORT THAT "THERE IS MUCH CRITICISM IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA OF THE LABOR GOVERNMENT."

THE STATEMENT WAS MADE TO REPORTERS BY SIR GRAHAM CUNNINGHAM, CHAIRMAN OF BRITAIN'S DOLLAR EXPORTS BOARD, MANUFACTURER, MEMBER OF THE GOVERNMENT'S ECONOMIC PLANNING BOARD AND CHAIRMAN OF ITS SHIPBUILDING ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

AUG 9 1949

"MANY AMERICANS," HE SAID, "FEEL THAT THEY ARE PROVIDING DOLLARS ONLY TO PAY FOR TEETH FOR THE BRITISH WORKING MAN."

BRITONS CAN GET FALSE TEETH FREE FROM THE NATIONAL HEALTH SERVICE, WHICH IS FINANCED BY WEEKLY CONTRIBUTIONS AND GENERAL TAXATION. THE GOVERNMENT HAS DENIED ANY OF THE COST OF BRITISH SOCIAL SERVICES IS ID WITH MARSHALL PLAN DOLLARS FROM THE UNITED STATES.

BY ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON, AUG. 8-(AP)-PUBLIC AND OFFICIAL CONCERN IS MOUNTING HERE AT THE GROWING VOLUME OF COMPLAINTS IN THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS AND THE AMERICAN PRESS ABOUT BRITAIN'S RECOVERY EFFORTS.

OFFICIAL BRITISH SOURCES SAID PRIVATE TONIGHT THEY BELIEVE MANY OF THE COMPLAINTS ARE BASED ON LACK OF KNOWLEDGE OF BRITAIN'S PROBLEMS AND ACHIEVEMENTS SINCE THE WAR'S END.

AUG 9 1949

SOME INFORMANTS EXPRESSED THE VIEW THAT MUCH OF THE CRITICISM OF BRITAIN'S LABOR GOVERNMENT STEMMED FROM DISLIKE OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S OVERALL ECONOMIC OR POLITICAL POLICIES. THIS, THEY SAID, EXPLAINED WHY THIS COUNTRY HAS BECOME THE TARGET OF ATTACK BY REPUBLICAN AND ISOLATIONIST NEWSPAPERS AND SPOKESMEN IN THE UNITED STATES.

THE U.S. GOVERNMENT, THESE SOURCES SAY, HAS NEVER FORMALLY OR INFORMALLY CHARGED THAT THE BRITISH PEOPLE ARE NOT WORKING HARD ENOUGH.

"WHEN AN AMERICAN NEWSPAPER OR SENATOR ATTACKS THIS COUNTRY FOR PAMPERING ITS WORKERS OR USING GOOD AMERICAN DOLLARS FOR ITS SOCIAL SERVICES," SAID ONE INFORMANT, "IN REALITY THEY ARE ATTACKING PAUL HOFFMAN (EUROPEAN RECOVERY PROGRAM ADMINISTRATOR) BECAUSE THEY DON'T LIKE ERP, OR THEY ARE ATTACKING PRESIDENT TRUMAN BECAUSE THEY WANT HIM TO REDUCE FOREIGN AID EXPENDITURES AND OF COURSE, INTERNATIONAL TAXATION."

ANOTHER SOURCE SAID BOTH HOFFMAN AND W.AVERELL HARRIAM, ROVING ECA AMBASSADOR, FOUR MONTHS AGO PAID TRIBUTE TO BRITAIN FOR HER RECOVERY EFFORTS.

AUG 9 1949

A TREASURY SOURCE ADMITTED, HOWEVER, THAT THE BRITISH NATION CAN DO BETTER IF IT WILL REALLY TRY. HE SAID THIS IS BORNE OUT BY THE CONSTANT URGINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT THAT THE PEOPLE WORK HARDER AND PRODUCE MORE.

"NONETHELESS," HE SAID, "WE HAVEN'T DONE TOO BADLY. WE ARE PRODUCING 31 PER CENT MORE THAN PREWAR TODAY, 21 PER CENT MORE THAN IN 1947. IT'S QUITE UNFAIR TO SAY, AS WE HEAR SO MANY AMERICANS ARE SAYING, THAT BRITONS ARE SLACKING OR LAGGING. WE'RE NOT."

AMERICAN SOURCES IN LONDON SAID THAT, WHILE HOFFMAN AND HARRIMAN IN FACT SPOKE OUT FOUR MONTHS AGO IN PRAISE OF BRITAIN, THE CURRENT PUBLIC AMERICAN CRITICISM IS BASED LARGELY ON EVENTS SINCE THEN. THE AMERICAN INFORMANTS CITED THE TERMS OF THE BRITISH-ARGENTINE TRADE PACT, OPPOSED BY THE UNITED STATES AT FIRST; BRITAIN'S LATEST DOLLAR CRISIS, AND THE COMMONWEALTH COUNTRIES' DECISION TO SLASH DOLLAR SPENDING BY A QUARTER.

IT IS AN OPEN SECRET THAT AMERICAN DIPLOMATS AND ECONOMISTS HERE HAVE BEEN SENDING WASHINGTON REPORTS RECENTLY CRITICIZING THIS COUNTRY'S EFFORTS. REPRESENTATIVES OF AMERICAN FIRMS HERE INDEPENDENTLY HAVE BEEN REPORTING TO THEIR HOME OFFICES ON THE WAY THIS NATION HAS SET ABOUT TRYING TO RETURN TO NORMAL.

ON THE WHOLE, THESE REPORTS HAVE NOT BEEN FAVORABLE, EVEN ALLOWING FOR THE CLAIM HERE THAT BRITAIN'S CRISIS HAS BEEN BROUGHT ABOUT BY FACTORS OVER WHICH SHE HAS HAD NO CONTROL.

NEW YORK, AUG. 8-(AP)-SIR OLIVER FRANKS, BRITISH AMBASSADOR TO THE UNITED STATES, SAID TONIGHT ON HIS RETURN FROM A MONTH'S STAY IN ENGLAND THAT BRITISH PRODUCTION IS HIGH.

THUS FAR, HE ADDED, THERE HAS BEEN NO RISE IN BRITISH UNEMPLOYMENT COMPARABLE TO THE RISE IN U.S. UNEMPLOYMENT.

HE DESCRIBED BRITAIN'S ECONOMIC CONDITION AS "PRETTY SOUND," ALTHOUGH HIS COUNTRY IS IN THE PROCESS OF "MAKING SOME ADJUSTMENT REQUIRED BY THE CHANGEOVER FROM A WORLD SELLER'S TO A BUYER'S MARKET."

BRITAIN'S CHIEF ECONOMIC PROBLEM, HE SAID, IS ITS DWINDLING DOLLAR RESERVE WHICH HAS CREATED A GAP BETWEEN "WHAT WE HAVE TO SPEND AND WHAT WE HAVE AVAILABLE TO PAY."

DURING HIS STAY IN LONDON, SIR OLIVER SERVED AS CONSULTANT TO THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT IN TALKS BETWEEN U.S. TREASURY SECRETARY JOHN W. SNYDER AND BRITISH AND CANADIAN MONETARY OFFICIALS ON BRITAIN'S MONETARY PROBLEMS.

IT WAS THE ENVOY'S FIRST VISIT TO ENGLAND SINCE MAY, 1948.

RETURNING WITH SIR OLIVER ABOARD THE CUNARD WHITE STAR LINER CARONIA WERE LADY FRANKS AND THEIR DAUGHTERS, CAROLINE, 10, AND ALISON, 4 1/2.

SIR OLIVER SAID HE WOULD LEAVE IMMEDIATELY FOR WASHINGTON, WHERE HE WOULD REMAIN FOR A FEW DAYS THEN LEAVE FOR A VACATION TRIP "SOMEWHERE IN THE NORTHERN UNITED STATES."

ALSO RETURNING ABOARD THE CARONIA WAS MON C. WALLGREN, FORMER GOVERNOR OF WASHINGTON, WHO HAD SPENT ABOUT A MONTH IN FRANCE, BELGIUM AND FRANCE.

WALLGREN SAID HIS BUSINESS WAS "FREE LANCING AT THE PRESENT MOMENT."

NIGHT LEAD EUROPEAN
BY FRANK O'BRIEN

STRASBOURG, FRANCE, AUG. 8-(AP)-THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE'S COMMITTEE OF MINISTERS VOTED TODAY TO ADMIT TURKEY AND GREECE. ICELAND ALSO WAS INVITED TO BECOME THE 13TH MEMBER OF THE COUNCIL, THE OLD WORLD'S MOST AMBITIOUS ATTEMPT TO JOIN IN A UNION OR FEDERATION.

THE FOREIGN MINISTERS OF THE 10 CHARTER MEMBERS -- BRITAIN, FRANCE, ITALY, THE NETHERLANDS, BELGIUM, LUXEMBOURG, SWEDEN, NORWAY, DENMARK AND IRELAND -- LAUNCHED THE ORGANIZATION TODAY AT THE FIRST SESSION OF THE COMMITTEE OF MINISTERS. THE COMMITTEE IS THE UPPER HOUSE OF THE COUNCIL.

THE COUNCIL'S LOWER HOUSE -- THE CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY, MADE UP OF 87 MEMBERS OF THE PARLIAMENTS OF THE 10 CHARTER MEMBERS, EIGHT FROM TURKEY AND SIX FROM GREECE -- WILL MEET WEDNESDAY.

TURKEY AND GREECE MAY PARTICIPATE FULLY IN THE COUNCIL FROM TOMORROW ONWARD IF THEY DEPOSIT INSTRUMENTS OF THEIR PARLIAMENTS' AGREEMENT. ICELAND'S PARLIAMENT IS NOT IN SESSION, HOWEVER, AND IS NOT EXPECTED TO TAKE HER PLACE UNTIL FALL. SHE WOULD HAVE THREE MEMBERS IN THE ASSEMBLY.

THE MINISTERS MET IN STRASBOURG'S SIXTEENTH CENTURY CITY HALL AT 3:45 P.M. WITH FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER ROBERT SCHUMAN, A VIGOROUS BACKER OF EUROPEAN UNION, PRESIDING AT THE OPENING. BELGIUM'S PAUL-HENRI SPAAK THEN TOOK THE CHAIR. THEY WERE IN SESSION APPROXIMATELY THREE AND A HALF HOURS. THEY WILL HOLD THEIR SECOND MEETING TOMORROW, BEGINNING AT 10:30 A.M (4:30 A.M., EASTERN STANDARD TIME).

STRASBOURG, PERMANENT SEAT OF THE COUNCIL AND HENCE THE POTENTIAL CAPITAL OF EUROPE, WAS DECKED OUT IN THE NATIONAL FLAGS OF ALL THE MEMBERS.

THE MINISTERS WERE RANGED ABOUT AN OVAL TABLE IN THE RECEPTION ROOM ON THE SECOND FLOOR IN ALPHABETICAL ORDER.

THE COMMUNIQUE AT THE END OF THE SESSION MADE NO MENTION OF WORK ON AN AGENDA FOR THE NEARLY MONTH-LONG MEETING OF THE ASSEMBLY WHICH WILL MEET IN THE AUDITORIUM OF THE UNIVERSITY OF STRASBOURG.

NOR DID IT MENTION SUCH PROBLEMS AS THE ADMISSION OF GERMANY WHEN THAT COUNTRY HAS ITS OWN GOVERNMENT, THE DISPUTE BETWEEN BRITAIN AND IRELAND OVER NORTHERN IRELAND, OR THE SAAR.

THESE ARE ALL ISSUES LIKELY TO COME BEFORE THE COMMITTEE, THE ASSEMBLY OR BOTH.

IT HAS BEEN REPORTED THAT FRANCE WILL ASK FOR THE ADMISSION OF THE SAAR AS AN ASSOCIATE MEMBER. THIS WOULD NOT GIVE THAT FRENCH-OCCUPIED PART OF GERMANY A SEAT IN THE MINISTERS COMMITTEE BUT WOULD ALLOW IT TO SEND VOTING DELEGATES TO THE ASSEMBLY. BRITAIN IS OPPOSED ON THE GROUNDS THAT BAD FEELING WOULD BE AROUSED IN GERMANY AND THE ACTION MIGHT BE CONSIDERED A STEP IN THE DISMEMBERMENT OF GERMANY.

NEWLY PAINTED DESKS IN A SEMICIRCLE AWAITED THE DELEGATES TO THE ASSEMBLY WHERE 250 SEATS HAD BEEN SET ASIDE FOR THE PRESS AND NEARBY 1,000 FOR THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

MEMBERS OF THE ASSEMBLY WILL VOTE AS INDIVIDUALS, NOT AS MEMBERS OF NATIONAL DELEGATIONS. THEY WILL BE SEATED IN ALPHABETICAL ORDER INSTEAD OF IN NATIONAL BLOCKS AS IS USUAL AT INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCES.

IT IS ANTICIPATED THAT THE ASSEMBLYMEN LATER WILL GROUP THEMSELVES ACCORDING TO THEIR RIGHTIST OR LEFTIST POLITICAL TENDENCIES. THE ASSEMBLY IS EXPECTED TO REPRESENT A CROSS SECTION OF EUROPEAN POLITICAL OPINION WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE EXTREMES OF FASCISM AND COMMUNISM.

IT CAN DISCUSS PROBLEMS RECOMMENDED TO IT BY THE COMMITTEE OF MINISTERS, BUT CANNOT TAKE UP DEFENSE QUESTIONS. ITS DECISIONS WILL BE ONLY IN THE FORM OF RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE GOVERNMENTS REPRESENTED.

WINSTON CHURCHILL, FORMER BRITISH PRIME MINISTER, IS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE TOMORROW. HE IS A DELEGATE TO THE ASSEMBLY.

FOREIGN MINISTER ERNEST BEVIN REPRESENTED BRITAIN TODAY. THE OTHER MINISTERS WERE JOSEF BECH OF LUXEMBOURG, GUSTAV RASMUSSEN OF DENMARK, DIRK STIKKER OF THE NETHERLANDS, SEAN MCBRIDE OF IRELAND, HALVARD LANGE OF NORWAY, OSTEN UNDEN OF SWEDEN, AND CARLO SFORZA OF ITALY.

SJ609PED

FRANCE'S FOREIGN MINISTER ROBERT SCHUMAN IS EXPECTED TO RAISE THE QUESTION OF ADMITTING THE SAAR AS AN ASSOCIATE MEMBER OF THE COUNCIL. THIS WOULD MEAN THE SAAR WOULD BE INCLUDED IN THE ASSEMBLY BUT NOT IN THE MINISTERS' COMMITTEE.

OTHER NATIONS, INCLUDING BRITAIN, ARE REPORTED OPPOSED TO TAKING SUCH A STEP WHICH WOULD BE BOUND TO HAVE UNFAVORABLE REPERCUSSIONS IN GERMANY. STRASBOURG, FRANCE XXX PROJECT

SOME COUNCIL MEMBERS FAVOR ADDING WEST GERMANY AS THE 13TH MEMBER AS SOON AS THE WEST GERMAN STATE CHOOSES A GOVERNMENT NEXT WEEK.

THIS AFTERNOON THE MINISTERS WILL FIX THE AGENDA FOR THE ASSEMBLY IN ACTING ON A REPORT FROM THEIR DEPUTIES, WHO MET LAST WEEKEND IN PARIS.

FRANKFURT, GERMANY, AUG. 8-(AP)-A CONTEST SO CLOSE THAT NO PARTY WILL WIN A PARLIAMENTARY MAJORITY WAS FORECAST BY ALLIED OBSERVERS TODAY IN WEST GERMANY'S FIRST FEDERAL ELECTION.

IT WILL TAKE A COALITION OF TWO OR MORE PARTIES TO FORM THE GOVERNMENT, THEY PREDICTED.

THIS FORECAST--UNOFFICIAL BUT FOUNDED ON NEUTRAL SURVEYS--WAS MADE AS THE CAMPAIGN ROARED INTO ITS FINAL WEEK.

TWO STRONGLY OPPOSED PARTIES ARE GENERALLY EXPECTED TO LEAD THE AUG. 14 VOTE PARADE.

ONE IS THE LEFTIST SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY, WHICH SPONSORS A PROGRAM OF SOCIALIZATION. THE OTHER IS THE CONSERVATIVE, CHURCH-LINKED CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC UNION, WHICH STANDS FOR FREE PRIVATE ENTERPRISE.

ONE OR THE OTHER OF THESE PARTIES NOW CONTROLS THE STATE PARLIAMENTS IN ALL THE ELEVEN WEST GERMAN STATES WHICH WILL MAKE UP THE NEW FEDERAL REPUBLIC.

WARSAW, POLAND, AUG. 8-(AP)-A ROMAN CATHOLIC PRIEST HERE YESTERDAY ATTACKED "ATTEMPTS TO DISCREDIT THE PRIESTS AND THE POPE."
THE PRIEST WAS NOT IDENTIFIED BECAUSE AUTHORITIES MIGHT REGARD HIS SERMON AS HOSTILE TO THE GOVERNMENT, WHICH ON SATURDAY ORDERED PENALTIES UP TO DEATH FOR VIOLATION OF A CITIZEN'S "FREEDOM OF CONSCIENCE."
CHURCHES ALL OVER PREDOMINANTLY CATHOLIC POLAND WERE JAMMED YESTERDAY FOR THE CELEBRATION OF THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ORDINATION OF ARCHBISHOP STEFAN WESZYNSKI, PRIMATE OF POLAND.
THE PRIEST WHO CAME TO THE DEFENSE OF THE POPE AND CATHOLIC CLERGY URGED HIS PARISHIONERS TO "PRAY FOR THE POPE AND THE NATION."
SPEAKING OF THE ATTACKS, HE SAID "WE FULLY REALIZE WHERE SUCH ACCUSATIONS COME FROM AND WHY AND WHO IS SPREADING THEM.
"WE ARE TOLD WE ARE NOT PATRIOTIC.
"WHO PROVED THEIR PATRIOTISM BETTER THAN WE CATHOLIC PRIESTS DURING THE GERMAN OCCUPATION WHEN OUR PRIESTS WERE ORDERED TO CEASE RELIGIOUS PRACTICES, WHEN THEY WERE TOLD TO SPEAK AGAINST ALL THAT IS HOLY?
"WE ARE ACCUSED OF PRACTICING POLITICS AND USING PULPITS FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES. WE WERE NOT SENT HERE TO PLAY POLITICS. THAT IS NOT WHY THE CHURCH WAS ESTABLISHED."
THE NEW GOVERNMENT ORDER WAS PRAISED IN EDITORIALS IN POLISH NEWSPAPERS.
AMONG THE 17 ARTICLES WAS THE FOLLOWING:
"HE WHO MISUSES THE FREEDOM OF CREED BY REFUSING TO LET ANOTHER PERSON PARTICIPATE IN RELIGIOUS CEREMONIES BECAUSE OF POLITICAL, SOCIA OR SCIENTIFIC ACTIVITIES OR OPINIONS IS LIABLE TO IMPRISONMENT FOR UP TO FIVE YEARS."
(THIS ARTICLE OBVIOUSLY WAS AIMED AT THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH AND SPECIFICALLY AT THE RECENT VATICAN DECREE EXCOMMUNICATING MILITANT COMMUNISTS. THE COMMUNIST POLISH GOVERNMENT ALREADY HAD DENOUNCED THE VATICAN DECREE AS AN "ACT OF AGGRESSION" AND THE NEW LAW WAS SEEN AS PUTTING TEETH INTO A GOVERNMENT ORDER FORBIDDING PRIESTS TO ENFORCE IT.)
TRYBUNA LUDU, ORGAN OF THE UNITED WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY, SAID OF THE GOVERNMENT DECRE THAT IT "PUTS AN END TO THE ASSUMPTION OF A LACK OF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IN POLAND. IT OPPOSES THE INTENTIONS OF ALL WHO TRIED TO THWART SUCH FREEDOM OR ABUSED IT."

prague, aug. 8-(ap)-the communists are trying to harness the energy which poets say makes the world go round.

if czech boy wants to meet czech girl, or vice versa, the place to do it is in the "volunteer" work brigade which hustles folk out into the harvest fields or other work projects for the "new democratic society."

that was the dictum laid down for romantic czechoslovakia - young and not so young - by the prague communist press yesterday.

the communist party organ, rude pravo, announced a ban on lonely hearts advertisements offering the hands of eligible bachelors or maidens in marriage.

rude prava said the newspapers had decided not to accept that type of advertising because the russians had showed them it was an undignified practice which made marriage "a capitalistic business transaction."

marriage bureaus also will be axed, rude prava warned the communist-dominated czechslovak youth front said the best substitute for such capitalistic enterprises was the work brigade, where hearts could beat in true marxist-leninist time and the lovers could at the same time contribute to the reconstruction of the people's democratic republic.

PRAGUE, AUG. 8-(AP)-THE COMMUNISTS ARE TRYING TO HARNESS THE ENERGY WHICH POETS SAY MAKES THE WORLD GO ROUND.
IF CZECH BOY WANTS TO MEET CZECH GIRL, OR VICE VERSA, THE PLACE TO DO IT IS IN THE "VOLUNTEER" WORK BRIGADE WHICH HUSTLES FOLK OUT INTO THE HARVEST FIELDS OR OTHER WORK PROJECTS FOR THE "NEW DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY."
THAT WAS THE DICTUM LAID DOWN FOR ROMANTIC CZECHOSLOVAKIA - YOUNG AND NOT SO YOUNG - BY THE PRAGUE COMMUNIST PRESS YESTERDAY.
THE COMMUNIST PARTY ORGAN, RUDE PRAVO, ANNOUNCED A BAN ON LONELY HEARTS ADVERTISEMENTS OFFERING THE HANDS OF ELIGIBLE BACHELORS OR MAIDENS IN MARRIAGE.

THE COMMUNIST-DOMINATED CZECHOSLOVAK YOUTH FRONT SAID THE BEST SUBSTITUTE FOR SUCH CAPITALISTIC ENTERPRISES WAS THE WORK BRIGADE, WHERE HEARTS COULD BEAT IN TRUE MARXIST-LENINIST TIME AND THE LOVERS COULD AT THE SAME TIME CONTRIBUTE TO THE RECONSTRUCTION OF THE PEOPLE'S DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC.

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA, AUG. 6-(AP)-COMMERCE WITH RUSSIA AND OTHER EASTERN EUROPEAN NATIONS NOW ACCOUNTS FOR 40 PER CENT OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA'S FOREIGN TRADE, IVZEN LOEBEL, DEPUTY MINISTER OF FOREIGN TRADE, SAID TODAY. HE SAID THIS RATIO WILL RISE STILL FURTHER.

AUG 9 1949

LOEBEL ACCUSED THE UNITED STATES OF TRYING TO DAMAGE CZECHOSLOVAKIA'S ECONOMY BY TRADE DISCRIMINATION, INCLUDING STOPPAGE OF DELIVERY ON ORDERS WHICH HAD BEEN PAID FOR. HE SAID THESE MEASURES HAD "CAUSED UNPLEASANTNESS," BUT FAILED TO DO ANY REAL DAMAGE.

ACCORDING TO AN OFFICIAL REPORT ISSUED IN OCTOBER, 1946, RUSSIA HELD FIRST PLACE IN EXPORTS TO CZECHOSLOVAKIA, SELLING HER 716,000,000 CROWNS WORTH OF GOODS DURING THE FIRST EIGHT MONTHS OF THAT YEAR, AND SECOND PLACE AMONG CZECH CUSTOMERS, BUYING GOODS VALUED AT 817,000,000 CROWNS. (THE CROWN IS RATED WORTH TWO CENTS.)

EVEN IN 1946 THE UNITED STATES HAD FALLEN FAR FROM ITS PREWAR POSITION OF SECOND OR THIRD PLACE IN CZECH FOREIGN TRADE.

RUSSIA NOW HOLDS FIRST PLACE IN CZECH FOREIGN TRADE, WITH 22 PER CENT OF THE TOTAL VOLUME, LOEBEL REPORTED. HE SAID THIS CORRESPONDED ROUGHLY WITH THE PREWAR VOLUME OF CZECH TRADE WITH GERMANY.

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, AUG.8-(AP)-GREAT BRITAIN CHARGED IN THE UNITED NATIONS ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL TODAY THAT THE COMMUNIST-DOMINATED WORLD FEDERATION OF TRADE UNIONS IS INSINCERE IN ITS DEMAND THAT THE COUNCIL TAKE ACTION AGAINST UNEMPLOYMENT.

THE WFTU, IN A RESOLUTION LAID BEFORE THE COUNCIL, SAID "THE DOMINANT ECONOMIC FORCES IN CERTAIN COUNTRIES PREFER TO PROVOKE A NEW WORLD WAR RATHER THAN AGREE TO MEASURES WHICH COULD ALLEVIATE UNEMPLOYMENT, BUT WHICH WOULD IMPINGE UPON THEIR PRIVILEGES AND PROFITS."

AUG 9 1949

THE RESOLUTION ASKED THE COUNCIL TO RECOMMEND TO MEMBER NATIONS SUGGESTIONS FOR INCREASING EMPLOYMENT AND RAISING WAGES.

GIUSEPPE DI VITTORIA, PRESIDENT OF THE WFTU AND SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE COMMUNIST-RULED ITALIAN GENERAL CONFEDERATION OF LABOR, SPOKE IN SUPPORT OF THE RESOLUTION. DECLARING THAT UNEMPLOYMENT IN THE CAPITALIST COUNTRIES HAD REACHED A CRUCIAL STAGE, VITTORIO SAID THE COUNCIL SHOULD GIVE "A CRY OF ALARM." THE EUROPEAN RECOVERY PROGRAM, HE SAID, CONTRIBUTES TO THE GENERAL DETERIORATION BY REDUCING THE STANDARD OF LIVING," IMPOVERISHING THE WORKING CLASSES," AND PROMOTING ECONOMIC CRISES.

CORLEY SMITH, BRITISH DELEGATE IN RESPONDING TO VITTORIO, SAID IT WAS "A GREAT PITY" THAT THE PROBLEM OF UNEMPLOYMENT SHOULD APPEAR ON THE AGENDA "IN ASSOCIATION WITH SUCH TENDENTIOUS AND BASICALLY INSINCERE DOCUMENTS AS THE WFTU COMMUNICATIONS TO THE SECRETARY-GENERAL."

"THEIR AUTHORS LIVE IN A STRANGE AND MYTHOLOGICAL WORLD," SMITH SAID, "A WORLD IN WHICH THRUSTS AND MONOPOLIES PROWL AROUND SEEKING WHOM THEY MAY DEVOUR, PLAYING VERY MUCH THE SAME SORT OF ROLE AS THE JEWS USED TO PLAY IN THE MYTHOLOGY OF HITLER. IN THIS LURID WORLD OF THE WFTU THERE ARE TWO KINDS OF STATES AND TWO ONLY -- THE CAPITALIST OR DIABOLICAL AND THE SOVIETIZED OR ANGELIC."

SMITH SUGGESTED THAT A GROUP OF THREE EMINENT ECONOMISTS BE APPOINTED BY THE UNITED NATIONS TO "TAKE A LOOK AT THE ECONOMIC AND EMPLOYMENT SITUATION AND THE PROSPECTS OF THE WORLD."

LIE MADE NO DIRECT REFERENCE TO THE NORTH ATLANTIC PACT IN HIS SPEECH IN A PUBLIC SQUARE HERE. THE ADDRESS WAS ONE OF A SERIES SCHEDULED FOR SCANDINAVIA.

AUG 9 1949

"I HAVE WISHED TO TALK ABOUT PARAGRAPH 51 OF THE CHARTER WHICH PERMITS COLLECTIVE SELF DEFENSE FOR A CERTAIN PERIOD," LIE SAID. "THAT IS UNTIL THE SECURITY COUNCIL HAS BEEN ABLE TO TAKE MEASURES IN CASE OF AN ARMED ATTACK AGAINST A MEMBER NATION. THAT PROVISION IS CLEARLY OF A TEMPORARY CHARACTER. I DOUBT IT WILL EVER BE PUT TO USE PRACTICALLY, REGARDLESS OF WHAT SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE WITH SOLE REFERENCE TO THIS PROVISION. SUCH ARRANGEMENTS CAN NO LONGER BE CALLED REGIONAL AGREEMENTS IN THE UNITED NATIONS SENSE."

LIE ADDED:

"IT IS A MATTER OF SEEING REGIONAL COOPERATION IN THE RIGHT PERSPECTIVE.

IF IT IS BEING CARRIED OUT IN ACCORDANCE WITH OR IN A LINE WITH THE UNITED NATIONS REGULATIONS AND INTERESTS, IT IS TO THE BENEFIT OF HUMANITY AS A WHOLE, BUT IF IT RUNS CONTRARY TO THE U.N., THE DAMAGE MAY BECOME IRREPARABLE. IN THAT CASE, EVEN THE MOST NARROW SELF INTERESTS WILL SUFFER IN THE LONG RUN."

LIE SAID HE IS CONVINCED MORE CRISES IN INTERNATIONAL POLITICS WIL ARISE, BUT HE EXPRESSED DOUBT THAT THESE WOULD BE AS SERIOUS AS THE CRISIS IN BERLIN, WHICH WAS EASED THROUGH USE OF U.N. FACILITIES. HE SAID HE HAD GOOD REASON TO HOPE FOR MORE PEACEFUL DEVELOPMENTS IN THE FUTURE.

HE REMARKED THAT THE LATE PRESIDENT F.D.ROOSEVELT, WHOM HE CALLED "PERHAPS THE GREATEST STATESMAN OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY," ONCE SAID IT MIGHT TAKE FIVE YEARS TO WIN THE WAR AND, AFTERWARD, TEN YEARS TO WIN THE PEACE. LIE EXPRESSED CONFIDENCE THAT FIVE YEARS FROM NOW THERE WILL BE REAL HOPE THAT WAR WILL HAVE BECOME OBSOLETE.

BELGRADE, AUG.8-(AP)-YUGOSLAVIA PLANS TO INCREASE HER COMMERCIAL SHIPPING TONNAGE 50 PER CENT BY 1951 UNDER HER FIVE-YEAR PROGRAM FOR PROMOTING ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE.

BORBA, THE NEWSPAPER OF PREMIER MARSHAL TITO'S COMMUNIST GOVERNMENT, SAID TODAY THE TARGET FOR THE MERCHANT MARINE IS 600,000 TONS. IT PREDICTED THIS WOULD BE SURPASSED.

THE ARTICLE GAVE NO SPECIFIC FIGURES ON WHAT THIS WOULD MEAN IN THE NUMBER OF SHIPS TO CART YUGOSLAVIA'S PRODUCTS, MOSTLY NONFERROUS METALS, TIMBER AND GRAINS, OVERSEAS IN EXCHANGE FOR FINISHED GOODS.

A U.S. MARITIME COMMISSION REPORT SAYS YUGOSLAVIA, JUST PRIOR TO WORLD WAR II, HAD 98 SHIPS WITH A GROSS TONNAGE OF MORE THAN 100,000 TONS, AND JUST ABOUT A THIRD OF THAT WHEN THE WAR ENDED.

BORBA UNDERSCORED THE ATTENTION THIS COUNTRY HAS BEEN GIVEN TO DEVELOPING ITS TRANSPORT SYSTEM. A BIG PART OF THIS LIES IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF CONNECTING LINKS BETWEEN PORTS AND AVAILABLE RAIL LINES, AND IS BEING DONE BY THE SO-CALLED VOLUNTEER LABOR SQUADS OF STUDENTS AND WORKERS, MEN AND WOMEN, WHO SPEND PART OF THEIR SPARE TIME ON THE BUSINESS ENDS OF PICKS AND SHOVELS.

AT LEAST PART OF YUGOSLAVIA'S PROGRAM CALLS FOR GETTING SOME OF HER SHIPBUILDING DONE ABROAD, BORBA SAID. IT REPORTED FOUR SHIPS ARE BEING BUILT FOR THIS COUNTRY IN THE NETHERLANDS AND THREE MORE IN NORWAY. IT GAVE NO FIGURES ON HOW MANY SHIPS ARE BEING BUILT ALONG THE YUGOSLAV ADRIATIC SEACOAST, BUT SAID THE COST OF BUILDING VESSELS AT HOME IS MUCH LESS THAN HAVING THEM BUILT ABROAD.

YUGOSLAVIA'S OFFICIAL PRESS, MEANWHILE, KEPT UP THE WAR WITH THE COMINFORM, WHICH HAS BEEN TRYING TO STRANGLE THIS COUNTRY ECONOMICALLY ON GROUNDS TITO IS A STRAYER FROM THE SOVIET BRAND OF COMMUNISM.

THE PRESS ACCUSED NEIGHBORING ALBANIA OF RELEASING HUNDREDS OF WARTIME ENEMY COLLABORATORS AND DECREASING SENTENCES OF HUNDREDS OF OTHERS. BORBA SAID 1,305 HAD BEEN RELEASED AND SENTENCES OF ANOTHER 1,277 HAD BEEN CUT FROM LIFE IMPRISONMENT TO TERMS OF SEVEN TO 15 YEARS. ALBANIA HAS LEVELLED SIMILAR CHARGES AT YUGOSLAVIA.

NIGHT LEAD COMMUNISTS

NEW YORK, AUG. 8-(AP)-A WOMAN COMMUNIST FROM ST.LOUIS WAS WITHDRAWN AS A DEFENSE WITNESS TODAY AFTER THE JUDGE BLOCKED QUESTIONS PUT TO HER AT THE CONSPIRACY TRIAL OF 11 TOP RED LEADERS.

THE WOMAN, HELEN MUSIL, WAS ASKED BY DEFENSE ATTORNEY HARRY SACHER ABOUT COMMUNIST BOOKS SHE RECOMMENDED TO A PARTY TRAINING CLASS IN 1945.

THE GOVERNMENT OBJECTED WITHOUT GIVING A REASON. FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD R.MEDINA HALTED THE QUESTIONING, ALSO WITHOUT STATING A REASON.

WITH THE JURY DISMISSED FOR THE MOMENT, SACHER TOLD THE COURT HE HAD NO CHOICE BUT TO WITHDRAW THE WITNESS SINCE HIS QUESTIONS WERE BLOCKED.

LATER, JUDGE MEDINA WARNED THE DEFENSE THAT IT WAS NOT PROPERLY LAYING THE FOUNDATION FOR ITS QUESTIONS. QUESTIONS WERE BEING ASKED ABOUT MEETINGS, HE SAID, WITHOUT ANY EVIDENCE AS TO WHEN AND WHERE THEY WERE HELD.

"IT APPEARS FUTILE FOR ME TO TRY TO GUIDE YOU," JUDGE MEDINA SAID. "THIS IS THE LAST TIME I'LL SAY THAT. FROM NOW ON I'LL JUST SUSTAIN THE OBJECTIONS."

MISS MUSIL, 34, TOOK THE STAND SHORTLY AFTER SHE WAS RELUCTANTLY IDENTIFIED BY A PRIOR WITNESS AS THE "HELEN" MENTIONED IN A COMMUNIST BULLETIN.

SHE IS A SAUSAGE MAKER AND A STATE ORGANIZATIONAL DIRECTOR FOR THE COMMUNISTS IN MISSOURI, SHE SAID.

THE PREVIOUS WITNESS, ROBERT MANEWITZ, ANOTHER ST.LOUIS COMMUNIST, AT FIRST REFUSED TO IDENTIFY "HELEN" BY HER FULL NAME. FINALLY, HE ADMITTED SHE WAS WAITING IN THE COURTROOM TO TESTIFY AND GAVE HER FULL NAME.

DURING HIS ARGUMENT WITH MEDINA, SACHER SAID HE CALLED MISS MUSIL TO TRY TO PROVE THAT THE COMMUNIST PARTY NEVERVPJESSED ITS LITERATURE DURING ONE STAGE OF ITS AMERICAN HISTORY.

"IF THAT WAS YOUR PURPOSE," JUDGE MEDINA TOLD SACHER, "YOU WENT ABOUT IT IN A STRANGE WAY."

MISS MUSIL WAS FOLLOWED TO THE STAND BY MRS. FLORENCE HALL OF CHICAGO, THE LATEST DEFENSE WITNESS AS THE TRIAL BEGAN ITS 30TH WEEK. SHE SAID SHE WAS NOT RELATED TO GUS HALL, ONE OF THE 11 TRIAL DEFENDANTS.

THE 11 COMMUNIST LEADERS ARE ACCUSED OF CONSPIRING TO ADVOCATE THE VIOLENT OVERTHROW OF THE U. S. GOVERNMENT.

MRS. HALL TESTIFIED ABOUT A STUDY OUTLINE PRESENTED BY HER HUSBAND, EVERARD, AT A COMMUNIST CLUB MEETING IN 1946.

SHE SAID THE OUTLINE ACCUSED THE STATE OF USING "THE ARMY," THE POLICE AND THE GOVERNMENT ITSELF TO PROTECT THE PROPERTY OF CAPITALISTS."

AS AN EXAMPLE, MRS. HALL SAID HER HUSBAND CITED THE USE OF POLICE IN STRIKES TO PROTECT COMPANY PROPERTY AND STRIKEBREAKERS "BUT NOT THE RIGHTS OF THE WORKERS ON STRIKE."

ONE OF THE STUDENTS WANTED TO KNOW WHETHER RUSSIA WAS NOT A STATE ALSO, MRS. HALL SAID.

SHE QUOTED HER HUSBAND AS TELLING THE QUESTIONER THAT IT WAS A "DIFFERENT KIND OF A STATE IN WHICH THE RULERS WERE THE WORKERS."

HER HUSBAND, MRS. HALL SAID, ADVOCATED A THIRD PARTY OF WORKERS, FARMERS, NEGROES, YOUTHS AND WOMEN TO CHECK THE POWER OF MONOPOLIES, TO HALT FASCISM AND TO ESTABLISH SOCIALISM.

"PEACEFULLY?" ASKED JUDGE MEDINA.

"PEACEFULLY," REPLIED MRS. HALL.

FIRST LEAD COMMUNIST

NEW YORK, AUG 8-(AP)-A DEFENSE ATTORNEY AT THE CONSPIRACY TRIAL OF 11 TOP U.S. COMMUNISTS TODAY WITHDREW A WOMAN COMMUNIST OFFICIAL AS A WITNESS AFTER ANOTHER CLASH WITH FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD R. MEDINA.

THE WOMAN WAS MISS HELEN MUSIL, A ST.LOUIS SAUSAGE MAKER WHO SAID SHE SERVED AS STATE ORGANIZATIONAL SECRETARY FOR THE COMMUNIST PARTY IN MISSOURI. DEFENSE ATTORNEY HARRY SACHER TOLD JUDGE MEDINA HE HAD NO OTHER CHOICE BUT TO WITHDRAW THE WITNESS AFTER THE JUDGE REFUSED TO ALLOW HIS QUESTIONS.

SACHER STARTED OFF BY ASKING MISS MUSIL IF SHE HAD RECOMMENDED A NUMBER OF COMMUNIST BOOKS TO A PARTY LEADERSHIP TRAINING CLASS IN 1945 WHEN THE PARTY WAS KNOWN AS THE COMMUNIST POLITICAL ASSOCIATION.

U.S. ATTORNEY JOHN F.X. MC GOHEY IMMEDIATELY OBJECTED. JUDGE MEDINA SUSTAINED HIS OBJECTION.

THE JUDGE MEDINA EXCUSED THE JURY WHEN SACHER SAID HE PROPOSED TO WITHDRAW MISS MUSIL BECAUSE THE COURT SUSTAINED THE OBJECTION.

SACHER SAID HE HAD CALLED HER TO REFUTE THE GOVERNMENT'S CLAIM THAT THE PARTY SUPPRESSED SOME OF ITS LIETERAURE DURING THE "POLITICAL ASSOCIATION" DAYS AND THEN PUT IT OUT AGAIN WHE THE PARTY WAS RE-CONSTITUTED IN 1945.

"IF SUCH WAS YOUR PRUPOSE, AS AN EXPERIENCED LAWYER, YOU WENT ABOUT IT IN A STRANGE WAY," JUDGE MEDINA TOLD SACHER. HE THEN RECALLED THE JURY, EXCUSED MISS MUSIL, AND TOLD SACHER TO CALL HIS NEXT WITNESS.

MISS MUSIL'S ONLY TESTIMONY WAS AS TO HER IDENTITY AND FUNCTION IN THE MISSOURI PARTY.

SHE SAID SHE IS 34, LIVES AT 410 NORTH EUCLID STREET, ST.LOUIS, AND HAS WORKED FOR THE HEIL PACKING CO. SINCE 1947.

MISS MUSIL WAS ALSO THE OBJECT OF AN EARLIER ARGUMENT IN THE TRIAL TODAY.

ROBERT MANEWITZ OF ST. LOUIS, A COMMUNIST PARTY OFFICIAL, REFUSED AT FIRST TO IDENTIFY THE WOMAN LISTED IN A MISSOURI PARTY-BUILDING BULLETIN MERELY AS "HELEN."

THEN, UNDER PRODDING OF U.S. ATTORNEY JOHN F. X. MC GOHEY, HE SAID HER NAME WAS HELEN MUSIL. SHE WAS WAITING TO BE CALLED TO THE WITNESS STAND.

HE TESTIFIED AS THE TRIAL BEGAN ITS 30TH WEEK BEFORE FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD R. MEDINA AND A JURY. THE DEFENDANTS ARE CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO ADVOCATE OVERTHROW OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT.

MC GOHEY, IN QUESTIONING MANEWITZ, REFERRED TO A DOCUMENT WHICH A GOVERNMENT WITNESS EARLIER HAD IDENTIFIED AS GIVEN HIM BY MANEWITZ.

THE GOVERNMENT WITNESS WAS THOMAS A. YOUNGLOVE, ST. LOUIS BUSINESSMAN, WHO TESTIFIED HE WAS AN UNDERCOVER CONTACT FOR THE FBI FOR FOUR YEARS WITHIN THE COMMUNIST MOVEMENT.

MANEWITZ SAID HE KNEW TWO PERSONS LISTED IN THE BULLETIN MERELY AS "RAY" AND "SUE" BUT STATED HE "WOULD NOT LIKE TO REVEAL" THEIR FULL NAMES.

WHEN HIS ATTENTION WAS CALLED TO THE NAME "HELEN," HE AGAIN

REFUSED TO IDENTIFY HER FULLY.
"IS SHE IN THE COURTROOM?" MC GOHEY ASKED.
"I BELIEVE SHE IS," MANEWITZ REPLIED.
UNDER MC GOHEY'S PRODDING, HE FINALLY IDENTIFIED HER.
JUDGE MEDINA ASKED MANEWITZ WHETHER HE CLAIMED THAT "GIVING THE NAME OF THIS WOMAN WOULD INCRIMINATE" HIM.
"MY UNDERSTANDING," MANEWITZ REPLIED, "IS THAT ANY STATEMENT MADE ON THE RECORD MAY BE USED IN A FUTURE COURT ACTION."

ONE NEGRO MAN ON THE JURY BECAME ILL AND FINALLY WAS EXCUSED 10 DAYS AGO AFTER HE ENTERED A HOSPITAL. THREE SESSIONS WERE POSTPONED BECAUSE OF HIS ABSENCE. ONE OF THE ORIGINAL FOUR ALTERNATES REPLACED HIM.
THE JURORS KNOW FULL WELL BY NOW THEY AREN'T GOING TO GET ANY SUMMER VACATION. SOME OF THEM PROBABLY WONDER IF THEY'LL STILL BE TREKKING DOWN TO THE FOLEY SQUARE COURTROOM NEXT CHRISTMAS.
BUT THEY GIVE NO SIGN THAT THEY ARE WORRIED ABOUT THIS OR THAT. THEY HAVE NOT LET PERSONAL INCONVENIENCE INTERFERE WITH THEIR CONCENTRATION ON AN HISTORIC CASE.

NEW YORK, AUG. 8-(AP)-A FEDERAL JUDGE RULED TODAY THAT ALIEN EX-COMMUNISTS ARE ENTITLED TO "REASONABLE BAIL" WHILE FIGHTING DEPORTATION.
JUDGE WILLIAM BONDY SAID THE ENTIRE QUESTION OF WHETHER A PERSON MAY BE DEPORTED BECAUSE HE IS OR WAS A COMMUNIST IS YET TO BE DECIDED IN COURT.
HE ALSO SUGGESTED THAT "MEN IN ADHERING TO A POLITICAL PARTY DO NOT SUBSCRIBE UNQUALIFIEDLY TO ALL ITS PLATFORMS OR ASSERTED PRINCIPLES."
JUDGE BONDY ACTED ON PETITIONS BY GEORGE PIRINSKY, EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF THE AMERICAN SLAV CONGRESS, AND MRS. BEATRICE JOHNSON, A FORMER PROMOTION MANAGER FOR THE DEFUNCT MAGAZINE, "NEW MASSES."
THEY ARE HELD WITHOUT BAIL FOR DEPORTATION ON CHARGES THAT THEY HAVE BEEN ALIEN COMMUNISTS.
THE COUPLE ASKED WRITS ORDERING THEIR RELEASE.
JUDGE BONDY THREATENED TO GRANT THE WRITS UNLESS THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE PROMPTLY RELEASES THEM ON REASONABLE BAIL.
THERE WAS NO IMMEDIATE INDICATION AS TO WHETHER THIS WOULD BE DONE.
JUDGE BONDY SAID THAT IN CASES OTHER THAN DEPORTATION PROCEEDINGS IT HAS BEEN DECIDED THAT MEMBERSHIP IN THE COMMUNIST PARTY IS NOT ENOUGH TO DEPIRVE AN ALIEN OF HIS RIGHT TO BAIL.

FORT HANCOCK, N.J., AUG 8-(AP)-DANIEL MC CARTHY CAME BACK TO HIS MOTHER TODAY TO SEE WHETHER HE COULD FIND HAPPINESS IN THE U.S. HE SOUGHT TO RENOUNCE FOR GERMAN CITIZENSHIP.
MC CARTHY, A 22-YEAR-OLD EX-GI WHO WAS BOUNCED OUT OF GERMANY FOR ILLEGAL ENTRY, SAID HE WOULD GIVE THE U.S. A TRY AGAIN BUT DIDN'T REALLY SEE MUCH HOPE. HE SAID HE WAS PREPARED TO RETURN AGAIN TO GERMANY.
BUT HIS MOTHER, MRS.CATHERINE MC CARTHY OF NEW HYDE PARK, N.Y., PUT HER ARM ABOUT HIM AND SAID SHE WAS CERTAIN THINGS WOULD WORK OUT ALL RIGHT ONCE HER BOY GOT BACK HOME.
"DAN IS GOING TO GET A GOOD JOB AT HOME AND HAVE A LOT OF FUN IN THE UNITED STATES WHICH WE ALL KNOW HE LOVES," SHE SAID.
SHE DROVE DOWN FROM NEW HYDE PARK TO PICK UP DAN AS HE WAS RELEASED BY ARMY AUTHORITIES AFTER HIS ENFORCED TRIP HOME. HE HAD BEEN SENTENCED TO AN EIGHT-MONTH JAIL TERM IN GERMANY BUT HAD BEEN RELEASED LATER ON THE ORDER OF DR.JAMES R.NEWMAN, DIRECTOR OF MILITARY GOVERNMENT IN HESSE, GERMANY.
"HIS OFFENSE WAS NOT ONE OF CRIMINAL INCLINATIONS," DR.NEWMAN HAD RULED, "BUT RATHER YOUTHFUL IMPETUOUSNESS AND THOUGHTLESSNESS. A FEW DAYS WITH HIS FAMILY WILL DO FAR MORE THAN THE TIME IN THE STOCKADE."
MC CARTHY, WHO HAD SERVED WITH THE ARMY OF OCCUPATION IN BERLIN FROM 1945 TO 1947, HAD SOUGHT TO RETURN TO GERMANY AFTER HIS DISCHARGE. HE WAS ARRESTED WHEN HE APPLIED AT ARMY HEADQUARTERS TO RELINQUISH HIS U.S. CITIZENSHIP.
HE SAID NOW THAT HE STILL THOUGHT OF GERMANY AS "THE COUNTRY I BELIEVE IS FOR ME." BUT, HE SAID, HE WASN'T CERTAIN WHETHER HE STILL CARED TO RENOUNCE HIS U.S. CITIZENSHIP.
"I DON'T KNOW AT THIS TIME, BUT IF I HAVE TO I WILL," HE SAID.
FIRST, THOUGH, HE SAID HE WANTED TO EARN SOME U.S. MONEY AND THEN PERHAPS "ENTER GERMANY AGAIN--THIS TIME LEGALLY."
"GERMANY ATTRACTS ME FOR PURELY SENTIMENTAL REASONS," HE SAID. AND THE SENTIMENT, HE EXPLAINED, DID NOT INCLUDE ANY GIRL.

HE SAID THAT ATTEMPTS ARE BEING MADE TO DISTORT THE OBJECTIVES OF THIS INVESTIGATION TO MAKE IT APPEAR AS AN ATTACK ON THE UN. THIS "PERVERSION" OF THE MOTIVES OF THE SUBCOMMITTEE "IS CLEARLY A SUBTERFUGE," MCCARRAN DECLARED.
HE SAID THAT CORWIN "IS CITED AS COMMUNIST AND SUBVERSIVE BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF THE UNITED STATES" AND ADDED THAT CORWIN IS OR HAS BEEN A MEMBER OF A LONG LIST OF "COMMUNIST FRONT" ORGANIZATIONS.
DISCUSSING RAJCHMAN, MCCARRAN SAID THAT DURING THE WAR THE STATE DEPARTMENT MADE "ATTEMPTS TO HAVE THE POLISH GOVERNMENT, WITH WHICH HE WAS AFFILIATED IN THIS COUNTRY, RECALL HIM BECAUSE OF HIS INVOLVEMENT IN INTRIGUES CONTRARY TO THE INTERESTS OF THE UNITED STATES."
"YET THIS MAN TODAY SITS IN A VITALLY IMPORTANT JOB IN THE UNITED NATIONS," HE ADDED.
MCCARRAN REFERRED TO THE FACT THAT BYRON PRICE, AS ACTING SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE UN, SENT A PROTEST TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT RECENTLY AFTER MCCARRAN'S SUBCOMMITTEE MADE PUBLIC AN ANONYMOUS WITNESS'S STORY THAT THE UN STAFF IS TERRORIZED BY COMMUNIST AGENTS.
PRICE SAID THE TESTIMONY INCLUDED "IRRESPONSIBLE AND UNFOUNDED ATTACKS" ON THE INTEGRITY OF SECRETARY GENERAL TRYGVE LIE AND MEMBERS OF THE UN SECRETARIAT.
MCCARRAN SAID THAT, BEFORE ANY OFFICIAL "GIVES HIMSELF TO IRRESPONSIBLE UTTERANCES ATTACKING THE INVESTIGATION," HE SHOULD ASK THE SECRETARY OF STATE TO SEE THE FILES CONCERNING NAMES THE SENATOR HAS CALLED TO HIS ATTENTION.
MCCARRAN PROMISED "TO SEE THIS FIGHT THROUGH TO THE FINISH."

FOLLOW WASHINGTON MCCARRAN-U.N. A167

LAKE SUCCESS, AUG. 8-(AP)-NORMAN CORWIN SAID TODAY "I BELIEVE I AM A VASTLY BETTER PATRIOT" THAN SENATOR MCCARRAN (D-NEV).

"AT LEAST," SAID CORWIN, A WRITER IN THE RADIO DIVISION OF THE UNITED NATIONS, "I HAVE WORKED AT THE JOB OF HELPING TO BROADEN AN APPRECIATION OF AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS, OUR DEMOCRACY AND OUR FORM OF GOVERNMENT. MY SENTIMENTS HAVE NEVER BEEN SECRET FROM ANY ONE AND ARE ON RECORD IN PRINT AND ON TRANSCRIPTIONS FOR EVERY ONE TO SEE.

CORWIN WAS ATTACKED BY MCCARRAN IN WASHINGTON AS AN EXAMPLE OF SUBVERSIVE AGENTS IN THE WORLD ORGANIZATION. CORWIN ISSUED A STATEMENT REPEATING PREVIOUS DENIALS THAT HE WAS A COMMUNIST.

MCCARRAN ALSO NAMED DR. LUDWIG RAJCHMAN OF POLAND AS ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF SUBVERSIVES IN THE U.N. HE DESCRIBED RAJCHMAN AS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE U.N. INTERNATIONAL CHILDREN'S EMERGENCY FUND (U N I C E F). U.N. OFFICIALS SAID, HOWEVER, THAT MAURICE PATE IS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF U N I C E F AND RAJCHMAN IS NOT EMPLOYED BY THE U.N. AT ALL.

RAJCHMAN, A U.N. STATEMENT SAID, IS CHAIRMAN OF THE 26-NATION EXECUTIVE BOARD OF U N I C E F AND WAS ELECTED UNANIMOUSLY BY THE COUNTRIES REPRESENTED ON THE BOARD. HE IS THE OFFICIAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE POLISH GOVERNMENT AND IS NOT RESPONSIBLE TO THE U.N. IN ANY WAY.

IN A LATER STATEMENT, CORWIN DENIED THAT HE HAS EVER BEEN CITED AS A COMMUNNIST BY THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL, SAYING:

"IT IS EITHER A CONTEMPTIBLE LIE OR ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF THE SENATOR'S DISTORTION TO SAY THAT I HAVE BEEN CITED BY THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL AS A RED. I HAVE NEVER BEEN SO CITED, AND MCCARRAN SHOULD KNOW IT."

SENATOR VANDENBERG OF MICHIGAN, THE REPUBLICAN FOREIGN POLICY LEADER IN THE SENATE, ISSUED A STATEMENT ON CHINA POLICY SATURDAY WHICH COINCIDED WITH STATEMENTS MADE BY ACHESON FRIDAY IN RESPECT TO THE NEED FOR BASING THE NEXT MOVES IN CHINA ON SUPPLY.

WASH'N - MIGHTOWER ### HELP

VANDENBERG ALSO STRESSED, AS ACHESON HAD, THE NECESSITY FOR MAKING "RELENTLESSLY CLEAR THAT WE HAVE NOT ABANDONED EITHER THE PEOPLE OF CHINA OR FREEDOM IN THE FAR EAST."

THE POINTS OF COINCIDENCE IN THE STATEMENTS OF THE TWO MEN, EVEN THOUGH VANDENBERG HAS SOMETIMES BEEN A CRITIC OF THE COUNTRY'S CHINA POLICY, LED TO SPECULATION HERE THAT THE ADMINISTRATION AND VANDENBERG MIGHT TRY TO BASE THE NEXT CHINA MOVE--TO SOME EXTENT AT LEAST--ON A BIPARTISAN STAND.

MARTIN SAID IN HIS OFFER OF COOPERATION THAT "MOST REPUBLICANS" FEE AS HE DOES. HE INCLUDED WITH IT A CRITICISM OF PAST GOVERNMENT POLICY ON CHINA, SAYING: "UNLESS OUR GOVERNMENT'S COURSE UNDERGOES RADICAL CHANGE THE DISASTER THAT WILL BE REAPED WILL MEAN DESTRUCTION FOR MOST OF THE GLOBE."

MARTIN SAID THAT THE GOVERNMENT WHITE PAPER OF LAST FRIDAY, WRITING OFF THE CHINESE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT AS A FAILURE, IS IN ITSELF "A CONFESSION OF INEXCUSABLE FAILURE" ON THE PART OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

THE CHINESE AMBASSADOR, V.K.WELLINGTON KOO, ALSO GOT OUT A STATEMENT ON THE WHITE PAPER. CALLING IT AN UNUSUAL STEP, HE SAID:

"WHATEVER MAY HAVE BEEN THE ACTS OF COMMISSION AND OMISSION ATTRIBUTABLE TO THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT IN THE PAST, IT IS A CARDINAL FACT TODAY THAT CHINA IS STRENUOUSLY FIGHTING THE COMMUNIST AGGRESSION WHICH IS AIDED AND ABETTED BY AN OLIGARCHY OF INTERNATIONAL COMMUNISM ABROAD AND BY THE COMMUNISTS THROUGHOUT THE WORLD."

NIGHT LEAD ARMS (550)

BY JOHN B.OWEN

WASHINGTON,AUG 8-(AP)-SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON REFUSED POINT-BLANK TODAY TO GO ALONG WITH THE STOP-GAP ARMS AID IDEA OF SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH). HE STUCK FIRMLY BY THE FULL $1,450,000,000 THE ADMINISTRATION HAS ASKED TO STRENGTHEN FOREIGN NATIONS AGAINST RUSSIA.

THE SUM IS NECESSARY, ACHESON SAID AT A SENATE HEARING, BECAUSE THE UNITED STATES "IS OPEN TO ATTACK ON ITS OWN TERRITORY AS NEVER BEFORE."

IN THE TWO WORLD WARS, HE SAID, WE HAD ALLIES IN EUROPE TO HOLD THE LINE WHILE WE MARSHALLED OUR FORCES. NOW THERE IS A VACUUM OF MILITAR WEAKNESS THERE, HE SAID--"THE SHIELD X X X NO LONGER EXISTS."

THE SECRETARY OPPOSED A SENATORIAL MOVE TO TAG $175,000,000 OF THE AID FUND SPECIFICALLY FOR CHINA. HE SAID IT WOULD "BE HELPFUL" TO EARMARK A SMALL SUM TO BE USED IN THE FAR EAST AT PRESIDENTIAL DISCRETION.

VANDENBERG CONTENDED THAT THE PROGRAM OF ARMING WESTERN EUROPE AND OTHER NONCOMMUNIST AREAS FIXES A PATTERN FOR MILITARY DEFENSE OF EUROPE BEFORE THE NORTH ATLANTIC TREATY COUNCIL CAN FULFILL THIS FUNCTION ALLOTTED TO IT.

SO HE ASKED ACHESON: HOW ABOUT AN INTERIM PROGRAM TO SHOW OUR INTENTIONS BUT LET CONGRESS NEXT YEAR DECIDE ON THE TOTAL PROGRAM. WOULD ACHESON RESIST THE IDEA?

"YES," ACHESON REPLIED, "I WOULD RESIST THAT. I THINK WE MUST GO FORWARD ON BOTH FRONTS;" MEANING ARMED AID WHILE STRATEGIC PLANNING IS MAPED UNDER THE TREATY.

A STOP-GAP PLAN WOULD BE VIRTUALLY A GESTURE, ACHESON SAID--"THE SOONER WE FILL THE VACUUM OF MILITARY WEAKNESS IN EUROPE, THE BETTER IT WILL BE FOR OUR OWN SECURITY."

ACHESON THUS MET HEAD-ON THE BIGGEST OBJECTION REMAINING TO THE PROGRAM--ITS SIZE. HE CONFRONTED VANDENBERG AT THE OPENING OF HEARINGS ON THE BILL BY THE SENATE COMMITTEES ON FOREIGN RELATIONS AND ARMED SERVICES, MEETING JOINTLY.

NEVERTHELESS STRONG SENTIMENT WAS DEVELOPING IN THE SENATE TO PUT A LIMITATION ON THE AMOUNT OF SURPLUS EQUIPMENT THAT COULD BE SENT ABROAD--AND TO TRIM THE $1,450,000,000 (B) FIGURE ASKED BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN.

AS THE BILL NOW STANDS, SENATORS SAY IT GIVES THE ADMINISTRATION A BLANK CHECK ON THE AMOUNT OF EQUIPMENT THAT COULD BE DECLARED SURPLUS--AND THEN SHIPPED TO EUROPE. THE ONLY CHARGE AGAINST THE PROGRAM WOULD BE REHABILITATION COSTS (IF ANY) AND SHIPPING COSTS.

CHAIRMAN CONNALLY (D-TEX) OF THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE TOLD REPORTERS HE THOUGHT THERE MIGHT BE SOME COMPROMISE ON LIMITING THE VOLUME OF SURPLUS.

"BUT I THINK WE'LL GO TO THE MAT WITH THEM ON THE AMOUNT OF MONEY," CONNALLY SAID.

SENATOR RUSSELL (D-GA) SAID HE THOUGHT A $500,000,000 (M) LIMITATION ON SURPLUS EQUIPMENT WOULD FIND FAVOR WITH MOST MEMBERS OF THE ARMED SERVICES AND FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEES.

ACHESON SAID DURING THE COURSE OF HIS TESTIMONY THAT HE HAD NO OBJECTION TO THE PRINCIPLE OF SUCH A LIMITATION BUT THAT THE AMOUNT WOULD HAVE TO BE WORKED OUT BY THE MILITARY.

RUSSELL SAID THE SURPLUS VALUE COULD BE FIGURED EITHER AT PRODUCTION OR REPLACEMENT COSTS--WHICHEVER ARE LOWER.

SENATOR SALTONSTALL (R-MASS) ALSO SAID HE FAVORED A CUT IN THE AMOUNT OF THE ARMS PROGRAM.

THE VANDENBERG LIMITATION PROPOSAL REMAINED AFTER THE ADMINISTRATION WIPED OUT SOME OF THE MAIN OBJECTIONS IN A REWRITTEN COMPROMISE BILL LAST WEEK.

SENATOR JOHNSON (D-TEX) POSED A SIMILAR IDEA. SUPPOSE A SIX-MONTH MILITARY PROGRAM IS SET UP. THEN ACHESON COULD COME BACK TO CONGRESS WITH ANOTHER PLAN IN FEBRUARY AFTER THE TREATY COUNCIL HAS BEEN ORGANIZED.

ACHESON RECALLED HIS EXPERIENCE WITH CONGRESS AND EXPRESSED DOUBT HE COULD GET QUICK ACTION.

ON THE HOUSE SIDE, THE COMMUNIST PARTY BLASTED AT THE ARMS PROGRAM AS "AN AGGRESSIVE WAR MEASURE."

ARNOLD JOHNSON, NATIONAL LEGISLATIVE DIRECTOR OF THE PARTY, IN A STATEMENT GIVEN THE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE, SAID:

"THE SOVIET UNION IS A BULWARK FOR PEACE AND IS NOT AN AGGRESSOR NATION."

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS, PLEADING FOR THE BILL, HAVE REPEATEDLY SPOKEN OF A DANGER OF RUSSIAN ATTACK AND A NEED TO STRENGTHEN WESTERN EUROPE TO MAKE THE VENTURE TOO COSTLY.

RICHARD MORFORD, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF AMERICAN-SOVIET FRIENDSHIP,INC., TOLD THE COMMITTEE IN A STATEMENT THAT WE SHOULD PLACE MAJOR RELIANCE ON NEGOTIATIONS, NOT MILITARY STRENGTH.

SENATOR SMITH (R-NJ) RAISED THE CHINA QUESTION AS ACHESON TESTIFIED. TWELVE SENATORS FAVOR AMENDING THE ARMS BILL TO GIVE CHINA MILITARY AID PROVIDED AN AMERICAN MISSION ADVISES THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT ABOUT IT. THE ADMINISTRATION HAS WASHED ITS HANDS OF THE NATIONALIST REGIME AS A FAILURE.

ACHESON SAID HE EXPECTED TO CONSULT MEMBERS OF CONGRESS IN WORKING OUT A NEW CHINA POLICY AND HOPED FOR "A SERIES OF STEPS THAT WILL BE EFFECTIVE IN THAT FIELD."

SENATOR RUSSELL (D-GA) RAISED THE QUESTION HOW MUCH IT EVENTUALLY WILL COST TO RE-ARM EUROPE. SOME WITNESSES HAVE FIGURED IT WILL REQUIRE PERHAPS FIVE YEARS. THE PRESENT PROGRAM ASKS FUNDS FOR ONE YEAR FOR EQUIPMENT TO BE DELIVERED OVER A TWO YEAR PERIOD.

ACHESON SAID MILITARY MEN WOULD HAVE TO GIVE THE INFORMATION ABOUT THE TOTAL. RUSSELL OBSERVED THAT "WE ARE BUYING A PIG IN A POKE."

"WE ARE NOT BUYING ANYTHING," ACHESON RETORTED.

RUSSELL WONDERED IF WE WOULD BE STARTING AN ARMS RACE WITH RUSSIA. ACHESON SAID THERE WAS NO INTENTION OF CATCHING UP WITH RUSSIA'S ARMED STRENGTH; IT WAS TOO GREAT ANYWAY.

THE IDEA, THE SECRETARY SAID, IS TO HOLD AN ATTACK UNTIL MORE POWER COULD BE THROWN INTO THE DEFENSE.

SECOND LEAD ARMS

WASHINGTON, AUG.8-(AP)-SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON FLATLY REJECTED TODAY A PROPOSAL BY SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH) THAT CONGRESS PROVIDE ONLY STOP-GAP ARMS AID TO WESTERN EUROPE UNTIL NEXT YEAR.

ACHESON TOLD THE MICHIGAN SENATOR, WHO HAS BEEN A LEADING SUPPORTER OF THE BIPARTISAN FOREIGN POLICY, THAT SUCH A COURSE WOULD BE LITTLE MORE THAN A GESTURE.

IN AN OBVIOUS REFERENCE TO RUSSIA, ACHESON TOLD THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS AND ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEES:

"IN DEALING WITH THE FORCES WITH WHICH WE ARE DEALING, YOU GAIN NO ADVANTAGE BY ASSUMING AN ATTITUDE. WE MUST DEAL IN REALITIES. THE SOONER WE FILL THE VACUUM OF MILITARY WEAKNESS IN EUROPE, THE BETTER IT WILL BE FOR OUR OWN SECURITY."

VANDENBERG CONTENDED THAT THE ADMINISTRATION'S $1,450,000,000 ARMS PROGRAM SETS A PATTERN FOR THE MILITARY DEFENSE OF WESTERN EUROPE BEFORE THE COUNCIL TO BE FORMED UNDER THE NORTH ATLANTIC TREATY HAS COME INTO BEING AND SET UP A DEFENSE COMMITTEE TO MAKE MILITARY PLANS.

HE COMPLAINED THAT THE UNITED STATES IS GOING AHEAD WITHOUT CONSULTING ITS NORTH ATLANTIC ALLIES. HE SAID THAT HE FAVORS INSTEAD AN INTERIM PROGRAM WHICH WILL SHOW CLEARLY THAT THIS COUNTRY INTENDS TO FURNISH ARMS, BUT WILL NOT PRECLUDE FURTHER JOINT PLANNING.

VANDENBERG ASKED ACHESON IF HE WOULD "RESIST THE IDEA" OF PROCEEDING WITH A STOP-GAP THAT WOULD "DEMONSTRATE OUR ATTITUDE AT THE MOMENT BUT WAIT UNTIL THE NEXT SESSION OF CONGRESS FOR PASSING UPON THE PATTERN OF THE TOTAL PROGRAM."

"YES, SENATOR VANDENBERG, I WOULD RESIST THAT," ACHESON REPLIED QUIETLY. "I THINK WE MUST GO FORWARD ON BOTH FRONTS."

HE FAVORED FURNISHING MILITARY AID WHILE STRATEGIC PLANS ARE BEING DRAWN UNDER THE TREATY.

ACHESON TURNED THUMBS DOWN ON PROPOSED MILITARY AID FOR CHINA'S NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT.

"WE DO NOT FEEL JUSTIFIED IN ASKING ARMS FOR CHINA OR FOR THE FAR EAST AS A WHOLE," THE SECRETARY SAID IN REPLY TO A QUESTION BY SENATOR SMITH (R-NJ).

A GROUP OF 12 SENATORS HAS INTRODUCED AN AMENDMENT TO THE ARMS BILL TO EARMARK $175,000,000 FOR AID TO CHINA.

ACHESON SAID A "SMALL AMOUNT" WHICH COULD BE USED IN THE FAR EAST AT THE DISCRETION OF THE PRESIDENT WOULD BE HELPFUL.

ACHESON TOLD THE COMBINED SENATE COMMITTEES EARLIER TODAY THAT CONGRESS SHOULD APPROVE FOREIGN ARMS AID BECAUSE "THE UNITED STATES IS OPEN TO ATTACK ON ITS OWN TERRITORY TO A GREATER EXTENT THAN EVER BEFORE."

BEFORE THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE, BONNER FELLERS, A RETIRED BRIGADIER GENERAL WHO SERVED ON GENERAL MACARTHUR'S STAFF DURIN THE LAST WAR, DECLARED THAT THE UNITED STATES SHOULD GIVE NO LARGE-SCALE MILITARY AID TO EUROPE NOW BUT SHOULD PROMISE TO BLAST RUSSIA OUT OF BUSINESS WITH AIRPOWER IN THE EVENT OF RUSSIAN AGGRESSION.

IT WOULD BE "A VERY GREAT BLUNDER TO ENGAGE THE RED ARMY ON THE GROUND," FELLERS TESTIFIED, BECAUSE RUSSIA'S MANPOWER RESERVES AND NATURAL CONDITIONS FAVOR HER ON THE GROUND.

"IF WE DON'T BUILD THE GREATEST AIRFORCE IN THE WORLD, WE'LL EVENTUALLY BE DESTROYED," THE FORMER ARTILLERY OFFICER ADDED.

WHAT THE UNITED STATES SHOULD DO, FELLERS SAID, IS TO GIVE FRIENDLY NATIONS ENOUGH MILITARY AID TO PRESERVE INTERNAL SECURITY, AND BUILD UP AND RETAIN IN OUR OWN POSSESSION AN AIRFORCE CAPABLE OF BLASTING RUSSIAN INDUSTRIAL CAPACITY AND SUPPLY LINES IN THE EVENT OF RED INVASION OF WESTERN EUROPE.

NOTHING COULD STOP THE RED ARMY FROM TAKING OVER EUROPE IF IT MADE THE MOVE, HE SAID, AND IT WOULD BE BETTER NOT TO RESIST A GROUND INVASION BECAUSE RESISTANCE WOULD RESULT IN THE DESTRUCTION OF EUROPE.

THE ONLY THING STALIN FEARS MORE THAN AMERICAN AIR POWER AND ATOMIC BOMBS, FELLERS SAID, IS THE FACT THAT, IF RUSSIAN TROOPS EVER INVADE THE FREE NATIONS OF EUROPE, THEY WILL "FIND THERE A WAY OF LIFE, A FREEDOM" WHICH WILL KEEP THEM FROM EVER AGAIN SUBMITTING TO SOVIET CONTROL.

EVEN TODAY, HE ADDED, DESERTIONS OF RED TROOPS FROM THE GERMAN-OCCUPIED AREA HAVE RUN AS HIGH AS 7,000 TO 8,000 IN A SINGLE MONTH.

"RUSSIA'S ETERNAL ALLIES--DISTANCE, WINTER AND MANPOWER--ARE IMPOTENT AGAINST AIR POWER," HE SAID. "SO LONG AS WE MAINTAIN THE LEAD IN BOMBS AND BOMBERS, THIS WAR DETERRENT IS LIKELY TO CONTINUE EFFECTIVE."

ELY CULBERTSON, NOTED BRIDGE EXPERT AND CHAIRMAN OF THE CITIZENS COMMITTEE FOR UNITED NATIONS REFORM, SAID THE ARMS AID PROGRAM IS INADEQUATE AND SHOULD BE SUPPLEMENTED BY CREATING AN INTERNATIONAL FORCE CAPABLE OF KEEPING WORLD PEACE.

FOR RUSSIA TO TRY TO OVERRUN EUROPE NOW IN THE FACE OF UNITED STATES AIRPOWER AND POSSESSION OF THE ATOMIC BOMB, HE SAID, WOULD BE "SUICIDE" FOR THE SOVIETS.

BETWEEN NOW AND THE TIME RUSSIA MAY HAVE THE BOMB, HE SAID, A PERMANENT ORGANIZATION FOR KEEPING PEACE MUST BE ESTABLISHED.

THE FOREIGN ARMS PROGRAM WAS OPPOSED AS "AN AGGRESSIVE WAR MEASURE" BY ARNOLD JOHNSON, NATIONAL LEGISLATIVE DIRECTOR OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY.

IN A STATEMENT FOR THE HOUSE COMMITTEE, JOHNSON CALLED THE PROGRAM "A KEY PART OF WALL STREET'S SCHEME FOR WORLD DOMINATION."

"MORE AND MORE PEOPLE ARE LEARNING," HE SAID, "THAT THE SOCIALIST SOVIET UNION IS A BULWARK FOR PEACE AND IS NOT AN AGGRESSOR NATION."

IN ANOTHER STATEMENT, RICHARD MORFORD, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF AMERICAN-SOVIET FRIENDSHIP, INC., SAID THE ARMS PROGRAM WOULD ENDANGER RATHER THAN PROTECT WORLD PEACE.

MAJOR RELIANCE MUST BE PLACED ON "PEACEFUL NEGOTIATIONS TO SETTLE WORLD PROBLEMS", MORFORD SAID, AND NOT "ON A SHOW OF MILITARY STRENGTH OR THE THREAT OF WAR."

SENATOR KNOWLAND (R-CALIF) SAID AT THE SENATE COMMITTEE HEARING THAT CHINA IS "THE ONE PLACE WHERE THERE IS A FOUR-ALARM FIRE AND WE ARE NOT ANSWERING THE ALARM."

HE ASKED ACHESON WHY IT WAS THE UNITED STATES HAD NO SURPLUS MILITARY EQUIPMENT FOR THE CHINESE "AT BARGAIN COUNTER PRICES" WHILE NOW THERE IS SURPLUS FOR EUROPEAN NATIONS.

ACHESON SAID THIS IS A QUESTION THAT WILL BE ANSWERED BY THE MILITARY SPOKESMEN.

MEANWHILE, LEGISLATION TO AUTHORIZE $200,000,000 IN MILITARY AID FOR CHINA WAS INTRODUCED IN THE HOUSE BY REPRESENTATIVES LODGE (R-CONN) AND WALTER (D-PA).

LODGE SAID THE BILL WAS INTRODUCED "IN ORDER TO CALL ATTENTION TO THE PROBLEM, IN ORDER TO DIMINISH THE HELP AND COMFORT TO THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS WHICH THE WHITE PAPER (THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S RECENT STATEMENT DEALING WITH CHINA) HAS BROUGHT, AND IN ORDER TO ENCOURAGE OUR CHINESE ALLIES AND FRIENDS IN THE TERRIBLE BATTLE WHICH THEY ARE WAGING."

THE LEGISLATION WOULD AUTHORIZE THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT TO SEND UP TO 500 OFFICERS, IN ADDITION TO ENLISTED PERSONNEL, TO CHINA TO SUPERVISE THE DISTRIBUTION AND USE OF THE ARMS PROVIDED AND TO TRAIN CHINESE RESISTANCE FORCES.

IN A PREPARED STATEMENT ACHESON TOLD THE SENATORS THAT THE WESTERN EUROPEAN ALLIES OF THE UNITED STATES ARE NOW SO WEAK IN MILITARY POWER THAT THEIR SITUATION IS AN INVITATION TO ANY WOULD-BE AGGRESSOR TO STRIKE.

"THE FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE IS STILL IN EUROPE," ACHESON SAID, "BUT OUR EUROPEAN ALLIES DO NOT HAVE THE MILITARY CAPACITY TO HOLD THAT LINE."

"THE SHIELD BEHIND WHICH WE MARSHALED OUT FORCES TO STRIKE DECISIVE BLOWS (IN TWO WORLD WARS) FOR THE COMMON CAUSE NO LONGER EXISTS."

ACHESON SAID SPEEDY APPROVAL OF THE ADMINISTRATION'S ARMS PROGRAM IS "IMPERATIVE" IN ORDER TO REMOVE WESTERN EUROPE'S FEAR AND "ERASE THE CONDITIONS THAT MIGHT ENCOURAGE AN AGGRESSOR TO RESORT TO MILITARY FORCE."

THE SECRETARY SAID THAT RUSSIA IS MAINTAINING THE LARGEST ARMED FORCES IN THE PEACETIME HISTORY OF ANY COUNTRY. AND, HE ADDED, MOSCOW "HAS USED OR ATTEMPTED TO USE ITS OBVIOUS MILITARY SUPERIORITY TO INTIMIDATE AND COERCE SMALLER NATIONS."

ACHESON CONTENDED MUCH WILL BE GAINED AND NOTHING WILL BE LOST "BY EXTENDING THIS MILITARY ASSISTANCE NOW." HE ADDED:

"SINCE THE PRESENT WEAKNESS INVITES THE DANGER OF WAR AND SINCE FUTURE PLANNING CAN NOT IMPAIR THE VALIDITY OF THIS PROGRAM, IT WOULD BE FOOLISH TO RISK THE POSSIBLE CONSEQUENCES OF DELAY."

THE SECRETARY DECLARED THE LEADERS OF TOTALITARIAN STATES WILL COOPERATE WITH THE WESTERN POWERS ONLY WHEN THEY ARE CONVINCED THAT THE FREE NATIONS OF THE WORLD ARE "TOO STRONG TO BE OVERCOME BY EXTERNAL AGGRESSION OR INTERNAL SUBVERSION."

"WE SHALL STAND IN CRIMINAL NEGLECT AND THE IDEALS OF THE UNITED NATIONS WILL BE SERIOUSLY JEOPARDIZED IF WE DO NOT DO ALL WHAT WE CAN, BY BOTH MORAL AND MATERIAL MEANS, TO BRING HOME TO THESE MEN (THE RUSSIAN LEADERS) THE WISDOM OF LEADING THEIR PEOPLES TOWARD WORLD COOPERATION AND WORLD PEACE," HE CONTINUED.

ACHESON SAID BOTH THE WILL TO FIGHT AND THE ABILITY TO FIGHT IN WESTERN EUROPE WILL BE INCREASED BY GIVING OUR ALLIES THE MEANS WITH WHICH TO FIGHT.

HE WENT ALONG WITH THE ADMINISTRATION'S REVISED ARMS BILL, ELIMINATING PREVIOUSLY REQUESTED POWERS WHICH WOULD HAVE PERMITTED THE PRESIDENT TO ARM ANY NATION HE THINKS NECESSARY.

BUT ACHESON URGED CONGRESS TO GIVE THOSE WHO WILL EXECUTE THE PROGRAM "SOME SMALL DEGREE OF FLEXIBILITY" IN DETERMINING THE AMOUNT OF AID TO BE SUPPLIED THE DIFFERENT COUNTRIES COVERED BY THE REVISED BILL.

"IT WOULD NOT BE WISE TO PRESCRIBE TOO RIGID A STATUTORY FRAMEWORK FOR THE EXECUTION OF THIS POLICY," HE SAID. "IF THE LIMITATIONS WERE TOO STRINGENT, THE EXECUTIVE MIGHT FIND THAT HE WAS CONSTRAINED FROM TAKING THE VERY ACTION WHICH SOME UNEXPECTED SITUATION DEMANDED IN THE NATIONAL INTEREST."

THE SECRETARY RAISED AND ANSWERED FOUR QUESTIONS AS TO WHAT THE PRACTICAL EFFECTS OF THE ARMS AID POLICY ARE LIKELY TO BE:

1. WOULD IT STRENGTHEN OR WEAKEN THE SECURITY OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC COMMUNITY? STRENGTHENING THE DEFENSES OF EUROPEAN ALLIES WOULD MAKE THEM "LESS VULNERABLE TO INTERNAL THREATS TO THEIR SECURITY AND MORE CAPABLE OF RESISTING AGGRESSION AGAINST THEIR FRONTIERS," HE SAID.

2. WOULD IT STRENGTHEN OR WEAKEN THE SECURITY OF THE UNITED STATES? "EVENTS HAVE PROVED THAT OUR NATIONAL SECURITY REQUIRES THE PRESERVATION OF THE INDEPENDENCE AND INTEGRITY OF THE FREE NATIONS OF EUROPE," ACHESON DECLARED.

3. WOULD MILITARY ASSISTANCE STRENGTHEN OR WEAKEN THE CHANCES OF WORLD PEACE? THE GREATEST DANGER TO PEACE IS THE POSSIBILITY OF AN AGGRESSOR ATTEMPTING AN EASY CONQUEST, HE SAID, AND ARMS AID IS DESIGNED TO DISCOURAGE SUCH AN EFFORT.

4. WOULD THE PROGRAM STRENGTHEN OR WEAKEN THE UNITED NATIONS? BY STRENGTHENING FREE NATIONS AGAINST THE DANGERS OF AGGRESSION, THE SECRETARY SAID, ARMS AID WILL "HASTEN THE DAY WHEN WAR WILL BE ABANDONED".

IF THE WESTERN EUROPEAN ARMIES ARE TO BE ABLE TO HOLD AN AGGRESSOR AT BAY UNTIL THE U.S. CAN GO QUICKLY TO THEIR AID, ACHESON SAID, THEY MUST POSSESS ADEQUATE DEFENSE FORCES "IN BEING, NOT PLANNED ON PAPER FOR SOME FUTURE DATE OR CONCENTRATED 3,000 MILES AWAY ON THIS SIDE OF THE ATLANTIC."

HE SAID ADDED MILITARY STRENGTH IN THE HANDS OF THE FRENCH AND ITALIAN GOVERNMENTS WILL HELP THEM PREVENT AGGRESSIVE COMMUNIST MINORITIES FROM TRYING TO SEIZE POWER BY FORCE.

THE SECRETARY DECLARED THE RECORD SHOWS THAT NO COMMUNIST GOVERNMENT HAS COME TO POWER IN ANY COUNTRY BY THE FREE CHOICE OF THE PEOPLE, OPENLY EXPRESSED IN AN HONEST ELECTION.

"THE PRESSURE OF LARGE MILITARY FORCES MAINTAINED IN READINESS AT ALL TIME BEHIND THE IRON CURTAIN IS THE CLUB IN THE CLOSET OF EVERY COMMUNIST GOVERNMENT IN EUROPE AND THERE IS LITTLE EFFORT MADE TO KEEP THE WEAPON CONCEALED," HE ADDED.

ACHESON SAID IT IS A BITTER COMMENTARY ON OUR TIMES THAT THE MOST PERSUASIVE WAY TO PEACE IS ARMED SECURITY. BUT, HE ADDED, "WE ARE CERTAIN OF OUR FACTS."

IN VIEW OF RUSSIA'S PAST POLICIES, HE DECLARED, "WE DARE NOT RISK OUR HOMES AND OUR LIVES ON A WISHFUL PREMISE"--THAT BY ARGUMENTS SHORT OF REARMING MOSCOW WILL BE PERSUADED TO CHANGE ITS COURSE OF ACTION.

THE BIPARTISAN ATMOSPHERE WHICH HAS SURROUNDED OTHER FOREIGN POLICY PROPOSALS PLACED BEFORE THE SENATE IS MISSING. EVEN SOME HIGHLY PLACED DEMOCRATS HAVE VOICED STRONG DOUBTS ABOUT ACCEPTING THE PROGRAM AS IT STANDS.

THERE ARE DEMANDS FOR (A) JUSTIFICATION OF THE $1,450,000,000 FIGURE, WHICH MANY SENATORS OF BOTH PARTIES SAY IS TOO BIG; (B) ASSURANCE THAT THE AID IS ONLY STOP-GAP IN CHARACTER, AND (C) A DEFINITE STAND ON THE PROPOSED INCLUSION OF CHINA IN THE PROGRAM.

THE ADMINISTRATION ALREADY HAS HAD TO RETREAT ON ONE IMPORTANT ASPECT OF THE PROGRAM IN THE FACE OF CONGRESSIONAL OPPOSITION. THE STATE DEPARTMENT REMOVED FROM THE BILL A PROVISION WHICH WOULD HAVE GIVEN THE PRESIDENT BROAD POWERS TO GIVE ARMS TO ANY NATION.

SENATORS VANDENBERG (R-MICH), SENATE GOP FOREIGN POLICY PACEMAKER, AND GEORGE (D-GA), BOTH MEMBERS OF THE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE, HAVE PUBLICLY STATED THEY THINK $1,450,000,000 IS TOO MUCH MONEY.

IN ADDITION, VANDENBERG AND SENATOR DULLES (R-NY), WHO ALSO HAS PLAYED A KEY ROLE IN CARRYING OUT BIPARTISAN FOREIGN POLICY, ARE REPORTED TO WANT ASSURANCES THAT THE PROGRAM IS ONLY A STOP GAP ONE.

THEY ARE SAID TO BE PREPARED TO DEMAND THAT THE PROGRAM BE MESHED INTO THE MUTUAL DEFENSE PLAN AUTHORIZED BY THE NORTH ATLANTIC DEFENSE PACT. TO THEIR WAY OF THINKING, THE PRESENT PROGRAM SHOULD REMAIN IN EFFECT ONLY UNTIL THE MILITARY COMMITTEE TO BE SET UP BY THE NORTH ATLANTIC COUNCIL CAN ASSIGN DEFENSIVE TASKS TO THE VARIOUS MEMBER NATIONS.

THE PROGRAM NOW CALLS FOR $1,160,000,000 FOR THE NORTH ATLANTIC PACT MEMBERS; $261,000,000 FOR CONTINUED AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY AND $27,000,000 TO PROVIDE ARMS FOR IRAN, KOREA AND THE PHILIPPINES.

IN MEETING (9:30 A.M., EST) WITH THE 26 MEMBERS OF THE COMBINED SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS AND ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEES, ACHESON TACKLED A TOUGH JOB EVEN FOR A DIPLOMAT.

THE BIPARTISAN ATMOSPHERE WHICH HAS SURROUNDEK OTHERSFOREIGN POLICY PROPOSALS PLACED BEFORE THE SENATE IS MISSING. EVEN SOME HIGHLY PL

SENATOR KNOWLAND (R-CALIF), BACKED BY 13 OTHER GOP AND DEMOCRATIC SENATORS, ALREADY HAS PREPARED AN AMENDMENT SEEKING TO INCLUDE CHINA IN THE PROGRAM WITH $175,000,000 EARMARKED TO FIGHT OFF COMMUNISM IN ASIA. THE CALIFORNIA SENATOR IS A MEMBER OF THE ARMED SERVICES GROUP.

IN A WEEKEND STATEMENT, KNOWLAND ALSO DEMANDED THAT GEN.DOUGLAS MACARTHUR AND VICE ADMIRAL OSCAR C.BADGER, TOP U.S. ARMY AND NAVY COMMANDERS IN THE FAR EAST, BY BROUGHT BACK TO TESTIFY BEFORE ANY ACTION IS COMPLETED ON THE PROGRAM.

TWO OTHER MEMBERS OF THE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE, CHAIRMAN TYDINGS (D-MD), AND SENATOR GURNEY (R-SD), RANKING GOP COMMITTEEMEN, CALLED SEPARATELY FOR A DETAILING OF THE MILITARY AID IN TERMS OF TANKS, GUNS AND PLANES.

TYDINGS TOLD A REPORTER THAT THE PROGRAM WILL STAND OR FALL ON THE DETAILED NEEDS SHOWN BY THE JOINT U. S. CHIEFS OF STAFF. THEY ARE SCHEDULED TO TESTIFY WEDNESDAY.

SENATOR WATKINS (R-UTAH) CONTENDED THE $1,450,000,000 IS NOT A TRUE PICTURE OF THE WORTH OF THE SURPLUS EQUIPMENT TO BE SHIPPED ABROAD, AND PREDICTED THAT ACTUALLY THE PROGRAM WOULD COST MANY TIMES THIS AMOUNT.

THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE IS NEARING THE END OF ITS HEARINGS ON THE BILL. IT CALLED 13 WITNESSES FOR TODAY (9:30 A.M., EST). THEY INCLUDE BRIG.GEN.BONNER FELLERS, A FORMER AIDE TO MACARTHUR IN TOKYO.

WASHINGTON,AUG 8-(AP)-HERE ARE SOME SALIENT QUOTES FROM TESTIMONY TODAY ON THE ARMS-FOR-EUROPE PROGRAM, WHICH IS DESIGNED AS A BULWARK AGAINST RUSSIA:

SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON--"WE MUST DEAL IN REALITIES. THE SOONER WE FILL THE VACUUM OF MILITARY WEAKNESS IN EUROPE, THE BETTER IT WILL BE FOR OUR OWN SECURITY."

"THE WORLD HAS NEVER BEEN IN A MORE TROUBLED STATE AND A MORE HAZARDOUS ONE THAN TODAY X X X."

"THE LEADERS OF TOTALITARIAN STATES WILL COOPERATE WHEN THEY ARE CONVINCED THAT THE FREE NATIONS ARE TOO STRONG TO BE OVERCOME BY EXTERNAL AGGRESSION OR INTERNAL SUBVERSION." (TESTIMONY BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEES ON FOREIGN RELATIONS AND ARMED SERVICES.)

RICHARD MORFORD, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF AMERICAN-SOVIET FRIENDSHIP--"THROUGH PEACEFUL NEGOTIATIONS POSITIVE GAINS WERE MADE AT THE RECENT PARIS CONFERENCE OF FOREIGN MINISTERS. X X X THE BIG FOUR FOREIGN MINISTERS MAY AGREE TO MAKE FURTHER ATTEMPTS ON A WORKABLE PLAN FOR A GERMAN PEACE TREATY (AT THE SEPTEMBER UNITED NATIONS MEETING). X X X IT IS EXPECTED THAT (THE AUSTRIA) TREATY WILL BE SIGNED IN OCTOBER. TENSIONS HAVE BEEN LESSENED IN PAST MONTHS." (STATEMENT GIVEN THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE).

BONNER FELLERS, A RETIRED BRIGADIER GENERAL WHO WAS ON GENERAL MACARTHUR'S STAFF, TOLD THE HOUSE COMMITTEE THAT WE SHOULD BUILD OUR AIR POWER AS THE BEST MEANS OF MEETING RUSSIAN AGGRESSION. STALIN FEARS ONLY ONE THING MORE THAN AMERICAN PLANES AND ATOMIC BOMBS, HE SAID; THAT RUSSIAN TROOPS IN AN INVASION OF FREE NATIONS WOULD FIND A WAY OF LIFE AND FREEDOM THAT WOULD CAUSE THEM TO REBEL AGAINST SOVIET CONTROL.

ARNOLD JOHNSON, NATIONAL LEGISLATIVE DIRECTOR OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY--"MORE AND MORE PEOPLE ARE LEARNING THAT THE SOCIALIST SOVIET UNION IS A BULWARK FOR PEACE AND IS NOT AN AGGRESSOR NATION." (STATEMENT HANDED THE HOUSE COMMITTEE)

REP.JAVITS (R-NY), DEALING WITH GERMAN NATIONALISM IN A HOUSE SPEECH--"THE DANGER WE FACE FROM A REVIVAL OF NATIONALISM IS A GERMAN-SOVIET ALLIANCE. LET US NEVER FORGET THAT THIS WAS THE SIGNAL FOR WAR IN 1939."

IN PARTIAL RETURN FOR THE FEE, HUNT OFFERED TO GIVE A PARTY FOR HIM, GRINDLE SAID, TO INTRODUCE HIM TO "OFFICIAL WASHINGTON." HUNT PROMISED THAT "CERTAIN SENATORS" WOULD ATTEND.

THE SENATE INVESTIGATORS PICKED UP THEIR EARS AT THIS. SEN. MCCARTHY (R-WIS) WANTED TO KNOW WHETHER THE PARTY WAS EVER GIVEN AND WHETHER THE SENATORS CAME. GRINDLE SAID THERE HAD BEEN NO PARTY.

BESIDES THE $1,000 INITIAL FEE, GRINDLE SAID, HE ALSO AGREED TO PAY HUNT $500 A MONTH FOR HIS SERVICES AND ALSO TO PAY $1,000 TO AN A.J.CONLON AND TWO OF CONLON'S ASSOCIATES WHO GAVE HIM THE CONTACT WITH HUNT. THIS WAS DESCRIBED AS A "FINDER'S FEE." IT WAS NOT PAID, HE ADDED.

WASH N- 5-PERCENTERS-TTT JOB.

GRINDLE SAID HE GOT ONE INVITATION TO BID ON A GOVERNMENT CONTRACT, WHICH HUNT SAID HE HAD ARRANGED.

SIX DAYS LATER HUNT GAVE HIM A PAPER WITH FIGURES ON IT RELATING TO THE BID. HUNT TOLD HIM "NEVER MIND WHERE I GOT THIS," GRINDLE REPORTED, AND WARNED HIM NOT TO SUBMIT BIDS IDENTICAL WITH THE FIGURES ON THE SHEET "BECAUSE SOMEONE IN THE QUARTERMASTER CORPS WILL KNOW THERE IS A LEAK."

HUNT ALSO APPROACHED HIM WITH A PROPOSAL TO REORGANIZE THE STRICKLAND FURNITURE CO., OF HIGH POINT, N.C., THE SENATORS WERE TOLD. GRINDLE WAS GIVEN TO UNDERSTAND THE COMPANY WAS IN FINANCIAL TROUBLE. HUNT TOLD HIM, HE SAID, THAT THE CHANCES WERE "PRETTY GOOD" THAT HE, HUNT, COULD PROVIDE ENOUGH FEDERAL BUSINESS TO KEEP THE PLANT OPERATING IF GRINDLE TOOK IT ON.

GRINDLE ADDED THAT HUNT ADVISED HIM STRICKLAND "DIDN'T NEED TO BE IN ON THE DEAL"--THAT HE COULD HAVE THE RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION PUT THE FIRM UP FOR AUCTION AND "FREEZE" STRICKLAND OUT.

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON FIGURED IN THIS STORY, AS RELATED BY GRINDLE TO THE INTENTLY LISTENING INVESTIGATORS:

A GROUP OF BANKERS INTERESTED IN A CONTRACT CAME TO HUNT SAYING THEY FEARED JOHNSON WOULD AWARD THE CONTRACT TO OTHERS. HUNT SAID HE ADVISED THEM TO SEE JOHNSON. THEY WENT TO THE PENTAGON, FOUND JOHNSON OUT, AND TALKED TO A MAN NAMED "LEW" IN JOHNSON'S OFFICE. "LEW" SAID JOHNSON KNEW NOTHING ABOUT THE TRANSACTION.

LATER (HUNT WAS QUOTED AS RELATING) JOHNSON WAS "HOPPING MAD" WHEN HE HEARD THE BANKERS' STORY, AND ADVISED THEM THERE WAS NO TRUTH IN THE REPORT THE CONTRACT WOULD GO TO OTHER PERSONS, AND TOLD THEM:

"JIM (HUNT) IS ABSOLUTELY RIGHT. YOU STICK WITH JIM."

DURING ONE SESSION WITH HUNT, TO WHICH GRINDLE HAD BROUGHT A LAWYER, HUNT MENTIONED VAUGHAN "AT LEAST 50 TIMES," THE WITNESS SAID. HUNT TERMED VAUGHAN WAS ONE OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S "CLOSEST FRIENDS AND I'M ONE OF VAUGHAN'S CLOSEST FRIENDS."

THE MANUFACTURER TESTIFIED THAT HUNT TOLD HIM HE HAD RECEIVED $102,500 FROM THE SEIDEN HOTEL GROUP, NOT FURTHER IDENTIFIED, FOR GETTING A HOTEL SOLD BACK TO THEM BY THE WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATION FOR $534,000. THIS HUNT DESCRIBED AS HIS BIGGEST FEE, GRINDLE SAID.

HUNT SAID THE ARMY ORIGINALLY PAID $1,300,000 FOR THE HOTEL. HE GOT THE RESALE PRICE DOWN TO $534,000, GRINDLE SAID HE EXPLAINED, BY FINDING EVERY CONCEIVABLE BIT OF DAMAGE DURING THE ARMY OCCUPANCY. THEY ADDED UP TO A TOTAL OF $1,800,000. STARTING FROM THERE, ENOUGH DAMAGES WERE ALLOWED TO BRING THE RESALE PRICE DOWN TO $534,000. THE JOB TOOK SIX WEEKS, GRINDLE QUOTED HUNT AS SAYING.

AT ANOTHER POINT HUNT WAS QUOTED AS TELLING GRINDLE:

"I DON'T LIKE TO BOAST BUT I AM THE MOST INFLUENTIAL MAN IN WASHINGTON WITH THE QUARTERMASTER CORPS."

HUNT, HOSPITALIZED AFTER A LEG OPERATION, ENTERED THE HEARING ONLY BY REMOTE CONTROL. THE COMMITTEE'S COUNSEL, WILLIAM ROGERS, ASKED GRINDLE A LIST OF QUESTIONS WHICH HE SAID WERE SUBMITTED TO THE COMMITTEE BY ROGER Q.WHITE, HUNT'S ATTORNEY.

MOST OF THEM ASKED WHETHER CERTAIN SERVICES HAD NOT BEEN RENDERED GRINDLE BY HUNT. GRINDLE SAID HE HAD RECEIVED INVITATIONS TO BID, PRESUMABLY AT HUNT'S INSTIGATION, FROM THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF SUPPLY AND, HE BELIEVED, FROM THE POST OFFICE.

BUT HE DENIED RECEIVING INVITATIONS FROM THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION MARITIME COMMISSION OR NAVY.

HUNT HAS ISSUED PUBLIC STATEMENTS DENYING THAT HE EVER ATTEMPTED TO SELL INFLUENCE OR THAT HE KNOWS ANY GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS WHO WOULD BE SUBJECT TO INFLUENCE.

GRINDLE POURED OUT TESTIMONY TO INDICATE THAT HUNT USED BIG NAMES LAVISHLY. HE QUOTED HUNT AS STATING HE WAS "VERY CLOSE" TO DEFENSE SECRETARY JOHNSON.

"HE SAID HE WAS ONE OF THE FOUR PERSONS WHO WERE PRESENT WHEN JOHNSON WAS CALLED TO THE WHITE HOUSE AND TOLD HE WAS GOING TO BE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE."

GRINDLE SAID HUNT TOLD HIM HE COULD SEE JESS LARSON, FORMER WAA ADMINISTRATOR WHENEVER HE WISHED--THAT, IN FACT, HE WAS AT THE WHITE HOUSE TALKING WITH PRESIDENTIAL ASSISTANT JOHN R.STEELMAN WHEN HE WAS TOLD THAT LARSON WAS TO BE NAMED TO THE WAA JOB. LARSON NOW IS HEAD OF THE NEW GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION, WHICH HANDLES MOST CIVILIAN BUYING.

AFTER HIS FIRST TALKS WITH HUNT HERE, GRINDLE SAID HE WENT BACK TO FRAMINGHAM TO THINK IT OVER.

"I DIDN'T LIKE WHAT I HAD HEARD AND I DIDN'T LIKE WHAT I HAD SEEN, AND I DECIDED TO FORGET THE WHOLE THING," HE TESTIFIED. BUT LATER H DECIDED TO SEE HUNT AGAIN, AND THEN HUNT BOASTED OF HIS HIGH CONTACTS

BEFORE GRINDLE TOOK THE WITNESS CHAIR, BRIG.GEN.ERNEST M.BRANNON, ASSISTANT JUDGE ADVOCATE OF THE ARMY, TOLD THE COMMITTEE THERE IS NOTHING ILLEGAL ABOUT PAYING OR TAKING FEES FOR HELP IN GETTING GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS.

COMMITTEE COUNSEL ROGERS ASKED IF THE PRACTICE COULD BE CONSIDERED CONTRARY TO PUBLIC POLICY. BRANNON SAID IT AMOUNTED TO THAT.

THE GENERAL SAID HE BELIEVED THERE SHOULD BE A LAW REQUIRING THE DISCLOSURE OF ANY FEES PAID IN OBTAINING FEDERAL AWARDS. TWO SENATE BILLS NOW ARE PENDING--INTRODUCED LAST WEEK--TO DISCOURAGE "FIVE PERCENTER" ACTIVITY.

Vandenberg Offers Plan To Spread Arms Spending

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—(AP) Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) came up today with an idea which he said would spread the cost of President Truman's $1,450,000,000 foreign arms program over a long period and make it easier to obtain action at this session of Congress.

Secretary of Defense Johnson and some Democratic senators indicated the administration would assent to Vandenberg's proposal, although not enthusiastic about it. The State department had no comment.

Vandenberg proposed that the $1,160,000,000 of cash which Mr. Truman has asked to arm western Europe allies be cut in half, and that the government be authorized to enter into contracts covering the remainder of this big item. Congress would have to appropriate money to pay such contracts eventually, but not at this session.

Wouldn't Delay Program

Vandenberg, a leading supporter of the bi-partisan foreign policy, contended the full amount of cash asked by the President cannot be spent during the current financial year, which began July 1. He argued that the unbalanced condition of the federal budget does not warrant appropriating money that cannot be spent this year.

Secretary of Defense Johnson showed no enthusiasm for the senator's proposal. But he said if the amounts of cash and contract authorizations are balanced properly, it "would get the job done as well as if we received the full amount in cash." And he said also under questioning that the idea "would not delay results of the arms program."

Johnson agreed with Senator Pepper (D-Fla), who said the plan "might give someone budgetary satisfaction by putting off the debt" but that the ultimate cost to the government would be the same.

Vandenberg told reporters the fact that his plan would take nearly $600,000,000 in cash out of the arms bill should make it easier to get a program through Congress at this session. Senator Dulles (NY), another Republican supporter of the bi-partisan foreign policy, said he would go along with the idea.

Another senator, who did not want to be quoted by name, said the Vandenberg proposal reminded him of a husband who refused to give his wife $20 in cash for a new hat—but told her to go to the store and charge it.

Would Not Cut Total

The Vandenberg plan would not reduce the $1,450,000,000 total which would be authorized by the administration's bill. It would not disturb the cash provided to arm Korea, the Philippines, Greece and Turkey, where the administration has proposed one-year programs. But it would slash the cash for arming western Europe, where a program of four or five years is contemplated, and substitute contract authorizations for the money withheld.

Another proposal to cut the president's program drastically was advanced by Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), a member of the House Foreign Affairs committee.

He proposed that the plan adopted at this session of Congress be limited to $300,000,000 in cash and about the same amount of old or new arms. He suggested also that these outlays be limited to a period of six months.

Vorys, together with many other Republicans and some Democrats, contends a large program should not be authorized until the joint military organization contemplated under the Atlantic Alliance has worked out an overall defense plan.

Staff Chiefs Return

Organization under the Atlantic Pact was discussed on a flying trip to Europe, from which the high command of the United States Army, Navy and Air Force returned to Washington today. General Omar N. Bradley, Army chief of staff; General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the Air Force, and Admiral Louis Denfeld, chief of Naval operations, made the trip in President Truman's plane.

Bradley told reporters that the European conferences were "a grand start toward organizing the unity and collective security under the Atlantic Pact."

"We discussed several forms of organization," he said, "but we didn't try to arrive at any decision." He said the military chiefs in Europe "took our coming over so soon after passage of the Atlantic Pact as an indication of our willingness to make it work."

Bradley expressed hope that the trip will shorten conferences necessary to organize under the pact.

Senator Vandenberg broached his cash-and-contracts plan of arms aid at a combined meeting of the Senate committees on Foreign Relations and Armed Services, where Secretary Johnson was testifying in support of the President's program.

Not Interested In Form

Johnson first told the senator that he is not interested in the form in which he receives authority arm European allies.

"All we want is the money and authorization to do the job," he said.

When Johnson added that foreign arms aid will extend over four or five years, Vandenberg said the administration's plan would put the main burden of cost on this year's federal spending.

"It is obvious you want to load the first year as much as possible and then be able to show lower amounts in the following year," the Michigan senator declared.

Vandenberg said he understands that President Truman's budget for the fiscal year which began July 1 carries about $400,000,000 for foreign military aid, and that cash to aid western Europe ought to be kept almost within that amount.

FIFTY P. C. ARMS AID CUT ASKED BY VANDENBERG

Senator Urges on Johnson That Only 580 Millions Be Appropriated Now.

DEFENSE SECRETARY AGREES

But Reluctantly and on Condition U. S. Can Deliver Arms Which Have Been Planned.

Washington, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Senator Vandenberg today proposed that the first year's cash outlay for the European arms program be cut in half. Secretary of Defense Johnson reluctantly agreed to go along with the idea.

Vandenberg said his plan would take about $600,000,000 in cash out of the $1,450,000,000 arms program and make it easier to get a program through this session of Congress.

Johnson was appearing before a joint session of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees when Vandenberg made his proposal.

Vandenberg had suggested to Johnson that about $580,000,000 be furnished in cash by Congress. The balance of the Administration's program could then be met with contract authorizations (to be met by later appropriations). These would not be charged against the current budget.

Johnson said, in effect, that he would go along with the Vandenberg plan if the Administration can deliver to the North Atlantic pact nations the arms which have been planned. He said his chief concern was not whether the amount should be in cash or contract authority but in getting the job done.

Johnson Hinges U.S. Safety On Arms Aid

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson said today that the security of this country demands that Europe be safeguarded with arms.

Johnson appeared before the joint Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees in behalf of the $1,450,000,000 military-aid program.

Said Johnson:

"Should western Europe be overrun by a hostile power and should its vast industrial and manpower potentials be added to those of such an aggressor, the United States would stand isolated in a dangerously insecure period.

"United States security, therefore, demands that Europe be safeguarded."

"Temptation" To Russia

"A military vacuum in western Europe," Johnson said, "is a great temptation to the Soviet Union and international communism."

He told the senators that it would take months and years for this country to mobilize, equip, train and transport troops across the Atlantic.

In the meantime, he said, the forces of western Europe must be able to resist any enemy.

"But these forces cannot hold the lines of collective defense with their present inadequate equipment largely composed of old and worn-out material," he said.

Vandenberg Amplifies Views.

Johnson told Senators western Europe already has an integrated defense plan approved in principle by the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff. Furthermore, he said, the precise needs for armaments are known.

"Every objective you ask," Vandenberg said, "can be reached with a 50 per cent reduction in the first year's arms plan."

The Vandenberg proposal would not reduce the over-all size of the arms program—it would distribute the costs over a longer period. He made his suggestion only in connection with the $1,160,000,000 earmarked for aid to the North Atlantic Pact nations.

Johnson told Vandenberg he was not interested in the form in which he receives the authority to re-arm Europe.

Planning Integrated

Johnson took notice that an objection has been raised that American aid can be effective only if it is provided under integrated plans and a unified organization for the defense of western Europe.

He said that this already exists in the western union defense pact.

Unified plans, he said, are being continuously developed by the five nations in the western union pact. Johnson said these five nations—England, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands—are now and must continue to be the hard core of any European defense.

They are the nations, he said, which, in the event of a major aggression, would have to bear the brunt of the main attack.

Actual Total Of Cost

Johnson, in defending the $1,450,000,000 figure, said it wasn't simply a number pulled out of the air.

"It is the dollar total of the cost of specific items of equipment needed for a definite number of Army, Navy and Air Force units," he said.

"Any reduction in the total will necessarily cause a curtailment in the objective of a realistic start in helping the European and other participating countries strengthen themselves."

Ceiling On Surplus Sought

In connection with the arms plan, some senators say they are confused over this question: When does a tank become surplus?

They may write a celing of $500,000,000 on the amount of military surplus that can be shipped abroad.

Their confusion arose from a disclosure by Senator Knowland (R., Cal.) that military leaders had told China two months ago there was no surplus equipment, but now say supplies that originally cost $450,000,000 are available for North Atlantic treaty signers.

Johnson was expected to be asked for an explanation.

Frankness Demanded

Secretary of State Acheson couldn't supply an answer yesterday, despite the fact members said he had been tossed the same inquiry in closed sessions last week. Acheson said the military men would have to clarify this seemingly contradictory situation.

Knowland told a reporter:

"It seems a tank that wasn't surplus for China is surplus for Europe. I think we are entitled to a little frankness in this matter."

Senator Gurney (R., S.D.) said he fears somebody has been pulling Congress's leg. He demanded that the cost of surpluses that might be earmarked for treaty signers be written into the bill.

George Goes Even Further

Senator Russell (D., Ga.) said $500,000,000 ought to cover that amount, a figure Senator Lyndon Johnson (D., Texas) also mentioned.

Senator George (D., Ga.) went even further. He said the surplus costs not only should be spelled out but that they ought to be included within the $1,450,000,000 total of aid.

That would cut back the new arms to be purchased for shipment, since the Administration bill does not count the cost of surplus materials but only the estimated $75,000,000 needed to refurbish and ship them.

Quick Foreign-Aid Bill Compromise Seen

DON WHITEHEAD AUG 10 1949

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—The multibillion-dollar foreign recovery bill sped toward final Congressional action today after a stormy passage through the Senate.

Lawmakers expected a Senate-House committee to reach quick agreement on the somewhat different versions the two branches have passed. The Senate approved its bill late yesterday by a 63-to-7 vote.

Senators ended almost two weeks of wrangling to shake the measure free from the confusion which had blocked action on more than $20,000,000,000 in money bills in addition to other legislation marked "must" by the Administration.

One Democrat Opposed

When the final showdown came, six Republicans and one Democrat voted against the $5,797,724,000 measure.

The Democrat was Johnston of South Carolina. The Republicans were Capehart and Jenner, of Indiana; Kem, of Missouri; Langer, of North Dakota; Malone, of Nevada, and Williams, of Delaware.

The Senate bill does not differ greatly from the House-approved measure. The Senate reduced the money totals about ten per cent and added some amendments, none of which is expected to cause much trouble.

Kem made the final effort to amend the bill with a move to deny Economic Co-operation Administration aid to any nation which in the future nationalized a basic industry.

The amendment was drawn to throw a brake on the British Labor Government's socialization program.

Kem's Argument

Kem argued that socialization in Britain is slowing down the recovery effort. The United States, he said, should encourage private enterprise not only at home but abroad.

Opponents said this would be an unwarranted interference by the Government in the internal affairs of Europe.

The Kem amendment was ruled out of order last Friday by Senator Tydings (D., Md.), the Senate's presiding officer at the time. He held it violated Senate rules against writing policy-making law into an appropriation bill.

Kem appealed the ruling, but the Senate voted against him, 50 to 21. He then tried to have the Senate suspend its rules to permit a vote on the amendment. This move lost, 49 to 24, thus heading the amendment to its final defeat.

Points To Be Compromised

Here are points in the Senate and House bills which must be compromised:

1. Money Amounts—The House voted $3,568,470,000 for the ECA, to be spent in 10½ months if necessary. The Senate voted $3,628,380,000, plus $150,000,000 loan authority, but spread the program over a twelve-month period.

2. German Industrial Plants—The Senate voted $25,000 to finance a review of dismantling plans for 365 German plants. A majority of senators feel these plants should be kept in Germany to aid European recovery. The House had no such provision.

3. Watchdog Committee—The Senate voted $344,000 for a congressional committee staff to keep checking on foreign spending. The House had decided this committee had wound up its job in the first year of the Marshall plan.

4. Chinese Students—The Senate voted to earmark $4,000,000 in unused China-aid funds for helping about 4,000 Chinese students who are in this country. The students have been cut off from aid because of the civil war. The House bill did not contain this amendment.

5. ECA Publicity—The Senate voted to permit ECA Chief Paul Hoffman to use local currency funds as needed to publicize in Europe the work that is being done for Europe's recovery. This question was not raised in the House.

6. Greece-Turkey Aid—The Senate voted $45,000,000. The House voted $50,000,000.

7. Army Occupation Costs—The Senate voted $900,000,000 for expenses in Germany, Austria, Japan and the Ryukyu Islands. The House had approved $925,000,000.

U. S. MAY SLASH MARSHALL PLAN AID TO BRITAIN

CARL HARTMAN

PARIS, Aug. 9—(AP) Britain may get only about three-fifths of the Marshall Plan aid she requested for this year, it was learned today.

An estimated $900,000,000 will be given to the dollar-short nation instead of the $1,518,000,000 Britain bid for last month.

European financial experts, with American assistance, are busy slashing figures after yesterday's approval by the U. S. Senate of a bill to spend $3,628,380,000 in 19 western European areas during 1949-50.

These areas themselves had estimated they would need about $5,161,000,000 so they could purchase American goods they otherwise could not afford.

Dollar Shortage Is Key

The economic experts agreed that Britain's dollar shortage remains the key to the problem of dividing Marshall Plan aid. Last year Britain got $1,239,000,000—the biggest share of a $4,756,000,000 European assistance appropriation.

An informant who has been sitting in on current secret meetings of the Program Committee of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC) said today:

"They started by giving Britain only about $780,000,000 then they found that Britain had to buy some bare essentials that couldn't be cut. They're up to about $850,000,000 now, and they'll probably reach $900,000,000 before they report to the OEEC council Thursday."

Meanwhile, in London today, speculative buying put the brakes on a slide by British government bonds which has wiped out $2,000,000,000 (£500,000,000) in quoted values in three weeks.

May Impair Credit

The financial times of London said the bond slide threatens to impair the government's credit and confidence in Britain abroad.

Earlier this year the British first estimated they would need considerably less than $940,000,000 in Marshall Plan aid. However, falling exports made it clear during the spring that Britain would not be able to earn as many dollars as expected. Toward the end of July a new bid for $1,518,000,000 was submitted.

In the OEEC Program committee, U. S. observers seem to share the feeling that if Britain's dollar needs are not satisfied out of Marshall Plan funds, the U. S. will have to supply them in some other way. Thus, they want Britain to get as large a share as possible.

Argue British Case

One continental economist said: "It was smart of the British to put in their additional bid, knowing that they wouldn't get much of it. They may have picked up another $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 that way, crying about how hard up they are and how prosperous France is for instance. Actually the French may eat better, but English food has always been bad. The British have a higher standard of living."

British officials argue it is more important for them to get all the Marshall aid they ask for than for the other nations in Europe. They finance the whole sterling area, including large sections of Asia and Africa. Last year Britain's foreign trade was twice that of France, the second biggest commercial nation in the Marshall Plan.

CHURCHILL ARRIVES FOR EUROPE PARLEYS

J DYNAM

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 9—(AP) Tanned and jovial, Winston Churchill arrived from Italy tonight to participate in the European Council's Consultative Assembly.

The Council's Ministerial committee was enlarged to 12 members today when Greece and Turkey formally joined the organization. The committee approved a nine-point program for the assembly which meets for the first time tomorrow. This Embryo parliament of Europe convenes at the University of Strasbourg.

Churchill is expected to speak. Officials of European Movement, an organization favoring unification of Europe, said they expected him to urge the admision of western Germany to the council. Churchill is head of the movement and one of the 18 members of the British delegation to the Consultative Assembly. ADD

West Germany For Council Is Churchill's Plan

J DYNAM

AUG 10 1949

Strasbourg, France, Aug. 9 (AP)—Winston Churchill was scheduled to arrive today to press his appeal for admitting western Germany to the newly created Council of Europe.

Foreign Ministers of the ten founding countries opened their first session yesterday by inviting Turkey, Greece and Iceland to the Council, which sponsors hope may some day grow into a full-fledged European union.

Churchill Is British Delegate

Churchill, chief advocate of European union, will take his place as a British delegate at the first meeting of the Council's consultative assembly tomorrow.

Associates said the wartime Prime Minister is expected to propose including western Germany—as soon as its government is established after elections this month—in the Council.

The ten charter members are Britain, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Ireland. Greece and Turkey are expected to take their seats in the assembly tomorrow, bringing the membership to 101 delegates.

Iceland Awaits Ratification

Iceland, which will have three delegates, is expected to await ratification by its parliament in the fall before joining.

The Council of Europe was established by the founding states as a forum bringing together leaders of almost all political groups except the extremes of communism and fascism. For the present it can only recommend policies to member governments. But its most ardent supporters hope it will pave the way for a United States of Europe with genuine executive powers.

Two Council Divisions

The Council is divided into two parts: the Consultative Assembly (parliament) and the Committee of Ministers made up of the Foreign Ministers of the member states. The Committee of Ministers has the authority to choose the subjects for debate and action in the Assembly. INSERT

Should Ministers Speak?

Informed sources reported that lively debate in yesterday's closed session of the Ministers prevented discussion of the agenda. The argument developed over whether the Foreign Ministers—who are not delegates to the Assembly—could speak before the parliamentary body.

Ireland's Sean Mac Bride and Sweden's Osten Unden argued unsuccessfully that the ministers should be able to speak freely on any subject. This presumably was to allow any ministers whose proposals had been rejected in closed sessions of the ministerial committee to appeal to the Assembly.

What Committee Decided

The committee voted, 8 to 2, that ministers could speak in the Assembly only after receiving permission by a majority vote of the Committee of Ministers.

The ministers yesterday approved a first year's budget of $500,000. Members will be assessed on a sliding scale according to population and economic conditions, with France, Britain and Italy each paying about one fourth of the expenses. INSERT

FRANCE FALLS SHORT OF U. S. EXPORT GOAL

PARIS, Aug. 9 — (AP) Barry Bingham, head of the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) mission to France, said today France had fallen seriously short of her goal in exports to the U. S.

"It may be that these dollar exports to the states will prove to be the weak link in a strong chain of French recovery," he told a group of American buyers and French exporters.

Bingham noted the French goal was to double by 1952 the $1,000,000,000 worth of French exports in 1947. The target had been exceeded in 1948-49 exports to all areas except the U. S., he said.

In June of this year exports to the U. S. were only $5,000,000, he said.

BRITISH RAISE $6,480 TO DEFEND EX-NAZI

LONDON, Aug. 9 (AP)—British sponsors of a defense fund for German Field Marshal Erich Von Manstein closed their money collecting campaign today with £1,630 ($6,480) in the till.

In calling for contributions July 16, Lord De L'isle and Maj. Gen. Viscount Bridgeman set £2,000 ($8,000) as their goal.

The purpose is to supply Von Manstein with British lawyers during his war crimes trial, which opens in Hamburg Aug. 23.

Wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill contributed £25 ($100) to the fund.

Cigarette Prices Ease In Germany

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 9 (AP). A sign of prosperity in Germany: The German railroad is doubling the number of smoking compartments on its trains.

The reason: Cigarettes, once so scarce and expensive they were the backbone of the black market, are now so plentiful and cheap that more people can afford to smoke them.

A pack of cigarettes which used to cost 100 reichsmarks valued at $10, now cost 2½ deutsch marks, valued at 75 cents.

Insult To Pope Is Charged To Laborite

Rome, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Communist secretary of the Perugia Chamber of Labor, Alfio Caponi, has been charged by police with offending the Pope's honor, Ansa news agency said today.

It was the first such charge since Pope Pius XII approved the Holy Office's recent decree of excommunication against militant Communists.

Hymn Singers Held

Italian law punishes persons guilty of offending the honor or dignity of the head of a foreign state. Italy recognizes the Pope as head of a sovereign state, the Vatican.

Caponi's references to the Pontiff, in a speech last Sunday, were not quoted in news dispatches.

Ansa also reported the arrest of seven youths at Castiglione del Lago, near Perugia, who were surprised while singing Fascist hymns.

They were charged with violating a law which forbids "support or apology for fascism."

Pole Priest Is Accused Of Robbery

Warsaw, Aug. 9 (AP)—The official Polish news agency said today a Catholic priest charged with membership in an illegal organization, and with assault and robbery had "admitted all charges but pleaded not guilty."

The defendant, the Rev. Wladyslaw Gurgacz, appeared yesterday before a military court in Krakow. Polish security authorities announced July 7 that the priest and four others had been arrested and accused of robbing two bank messengers in Krakow of 3,000,000 zlotys (approximately $7,500).

The news agency said the illegal organization involved in the case is known as the "Army of Liberation," an anti-government group.

Gurgacz, a Jesuit, was quoted as saying he became "leader of a criminal gang at the suggestion of church authorities who also empowered" him to say Mass in his hideout and to administer sacraments in all Polish dioceses.

Cartridges, a compass, consecrated oils and a Mass book were found on the priest when he was arreted, the news agency said.

Socialists Hit Plant Razing

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 9 (AP). Dr. Kurt Schumacher, chairman of West Germany's Social Democratic (Socialist) party, declared tonight the Germans "will not inactively look on as our greatest production plants are being destroyed."

Referring to the Allied program for dismantling German war plants, Schumacher said:

"It is not nationalism if one defends the remaining fortune of Germany against foreign Nationalists."

10,000 At Rally

He spoke before 10,000 persons at a Social Democratic rally in Essen. West Germans will elect a parliament of a new Federal German Republic next Sunday.

Noting that "foreign opinion concerning Germany has become worse, Schumacher said: "It may be easy to win a war. To understand is more difficult. Occupation statue Ruhr statute, security demands—what remains to the Germans?"

The Socialist leader again charged the Roman Catholic church with interference in politics.

Accuses Church

"It is regrettable that the church makes a difference between Christian and Social or Liberal parties," he said. "There are no Christian or anti-Christian parties—there are only political parties. The coming elections will not decide the question of religion."

Schumacher accuses the church of favoring the conservative Christian Democratic Union, biggest rival of the Social Democrats. Many Christian Democrat leaders are Catholic.

Catholic spokesmen reply that the church has the right to take part in public questions involving world ideologies.

I.R.O. IS CLEARED IN SHIPPING CASE

Bremerhaven, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—United States customs officials said today that the Army was in error in stating that an official of the International Refugee Organization had certified the contraband cargo on the Israeli Dromit as household goods.

The Dromit was impounded by Customs agents at Bremen last Friday to block an alleged illegal shipment of German goods to Israel.

An Army press release at the time charged that an I. R. O. official had certified that the goods did not include prohibited items.

"Later investigation revealed that no I. R. O. certification appeared on the documents," a Customs official said today. Pending completion of investigations, he declined to disclose the identity of the persons implicated.

The entire cargo of the 3,800-ton freighter was impounded when customs officials claimed industrial equipment, machine tools, a motor car and other valuable items were being shipped to Israel falsely described as personal and household goods of Jewish emigrants.

Italian Red Operated On.

Rome, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Luigi Longo, Italy's No. 2 Communist, underwent an appendectomy last week, the Communist newspaper Unita reported today. He has left the hospital fully recovered, the paper added.

30 U.S. War Vessels In Aegean Maneuvers

Cavea, Crete, Aug. 9 (AP)—The aircraft carrier Coral Sea and the cruiser Fargo are among 30 American was vessels starting maneuvers tonight in the southern Agean Sea, off the Cretan coast.

During the exercises, Marines landing from amphibian boats will be supported by air and naval bombardment.

Lieut. Gen. James A. Van Fleet of the United States Army will join Greek officers, including commander of the Greek fleet costas, as observers. Vice Admiral Forrest Sherman is directing the maneuvers.

Czech Reds Say They Put Down Town 'Revolt'

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 9 (AP)—Police have put down a "revolt" in a Slovakian town where Catholics defending their priest from threatened arrest had set up their own local government, a Communist weekly news magazine reported today.

Aroused villagers led by a band of fighting peasant women had beaten up the chairman of the Communist-controlled local executive board, Svet Prace, weekly magazine of the Czechoslovak Communist party said.

"Several" Arrested

Two persons were reported wounded and "several" arrested in the incident at Strecno, in northwestern Slovakia.

The magazine gave no precise date for the clash but said the offending village had its electric power cut off for several weeks, apparently as punishment.

Strecno is in the Zilina district of Slovakia, where fighting between Catholic villagers and Communist-controlled police broke out about six weeks ago. Whether this was a new incident or a report on details of former fighting now coming to light could not be definitely established.

Militia Aids Police

[Vatican sources reported last week that new clashes had occurred in Slovakia, which is strongly Catholic.]

Svet Prace called the Strecno uprising a "revolution" and disclosed that State Security Police supported by Workers' Militia units were called to quell it. Peasants wielding flails and scythes were disarmed.

The Communist organ claimed Strecno citizens had chosen an "illegal" council of their own to replace the local government "after things were changed."

Heard Priest Faced Arrest

Svet Prace gave this account of the incident:

The townspeople of Strecno beat up the chairman of a Communist-controlled local executive board from a neighboring town "who was just passing through their village."

The attack started because the Strecno villagers claimed they heard the official was going to arrest their priest.

"Thereupon, the women of Strecno gathered in front of their parson to defend him. They were joined by some men armed with flails and scythes."

Women Lead Resistance

The aroused villagers then began attacking every automobile which passed through the village. When security police and workers' militiamen arrived late that night they were met by peasant women ready to fight.

"However, there was no firing and there have been no 'martyrs.' The 'revolution' was ended in five minutes and several disturbers were arrested."

Svet Prace declared the priest had not been arrested.

Power lines were first cut by a youth who wanted to make Strecno a "focus of resistance," the magazine said. As punishment the power blackout was maintained for several weeks.

Villages "Laughed At"

Repentant villagers were reported to have sent a delegation to the district executive board expressing regret over the clash and promised to fulfill their duties to the state.

"But," Svet Prace continued, "this affair was not merely an uprising of hysterical women but a serious attempt at disrupting the public order and welfare. . . .

"Those villages where such incidents occur are now in disgrace and are being laughed at. Priests continue holding services and thousands of vacationists spent their holidays in these 'focal points of revolution.'"

RED BID TO BAN 'A' BOMB DEFEATED

Geneva, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—A Soviet effort to outlaw the atomic bomb was decisively rejected here today by a sixty-nation conference revising the Geneva war conventions.

The conference threw out the resolution, 35 to 9, with five abstentions. Israel unexpectedly voted in favor of the resolution, providing the Russians with their only non-Communist support.

The same resolution was rejected by a conference committee last month. In both cases, the principal argument of the majority was that any prohibition of atomic weapons was beyond the competence of the conference.

SAYS SOVIET HOLDS YUGOSLAV YOUNG

Belgrade, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Yugoslavia accused Russia tonight of holding captive sixty-three of this country's children sent to the Soviet Union for education after the war's end.

It described the youngsters as between ten and thirteen years old—most of them either war orphans or boys who served as Army messengers during the fight for liberation.

A formal statement issued through the Ministry of Information said that the children have been permitted to speak only the Russian language, that they are no longer allowed to receive letters from home.

It added the children have been terrorized in various ways, that they have been deceived about conditions in Yugoslavia, that their pictures of Marshal Tito have been seized.

Greeks Doom 23 In 101 Killings

Athens, Aug. 9 (AP)—Twenty three Communists, including Brigadier Badekos and his wife, were sentenced to death by two courts-martial yesterday. They were accused of responsibility for 101 killings.

Five other women are among the doomed group.

Badekos, also known as Nicolas Balalas, was convicted on five counts. He was captured a week ago at the beginning of the current Greek Army offensive against the Communist-led guerrillas in the Grammos Mountain area.

A general-staff communiqué said the offensive in the Grammos area is continuing, with the Greek Air Force hammering guerrilla positions. The army said it repulsed counterattacks and the guerrillas suffered 58 killed and 36 captured yesterday. Army losses were listed as three killed and 28 wounded.

CHINESE TROOPS ENCIRCLE 11,000 REDS NEAR CANTON

CANTON, Aug. 9—(AP) At least 11,000 communist troops by official account were encircled today on the front north of Canton. If true, the Red drive on this refugee capital should be seriously blunted.

The Reds also were reported thrown back at a second point. Nationalist bombers pounded Red military trains bound for the front.

Simultaneously, official reports from the far northwest asserted 20,000 casualties were inflicted on communist troops who have invaded Kansu province, stronghold of Moslem warlord Gen. Ma Hung-Kwei. (Chinese civil war casualties usually are overdrawn by both sides.)

One Division Surrounded

The communists said to be surrounded were identified as one division and a regiment from the 40th army of Manchurian General Lin Piao.

Official reports said they were surrounded near Suichawn, which is 240 miles northeasts of Canton. It is on this part of the front that the Reds have made their nearest approach, 215 miles, to Canton.

The Nationalists said they had recaptured Lienhwa, 60 air miles northwest of Suichwan. Communists here retreated to the east.

(Communist troops on the Lienhwa sector guard the western flank of the southbound movement around Suichwan. The two actions, if true, appear to be closely related.)

More troops of turncoat Gen. Chen Ming-Jen were said to have rejoined the nationalists. Chen's defection last week handed the central China bastion of Changsha over to the Reds.

Nationalists Lost Heavily

In the fighting in the far northwest, the government reports conceded the nationalists also had lost heavily.

These accounts said the Reds lost their huge number of men in two days of fighting near Kuyuan, 150 miles east of Lanchow, capital of Kansu province.

(Kuyuan is not on the main, direct road to Lanchow. The more direct road is supposed to be heavily defended.

(The mention of heavy fighting on the Kuyuan road indicates the Reds are taking a more circuitous route to Lanchow. While Kuyuan is 150 air miles from Lanchow, it is 220 road miles away. That is twice the distance of the direct route.)

11,000 CHINA REDS REPORTED TRAPPED

Canton, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Official reports today said that Chinese Nationalists had surrounded 11,000 Communist troops near Suichwan, in Kiangsi province, 240 miles north of Canton.

Observers felt the life of Canton as provisional capital might be extended a few days if the Nationalists were able to capture the Red troops.

In northwest Kansu province reports said the Moslem Nationalists had inflicted 20,000 casualties on Communists advancing on Kuyuan, 150 miles east of Lanchow, provincial capital. These same reports said the Nationalists had also suffered heavy losses and had yielded Yuyian, a small city, to the Reds.

British Reinforce Hong Kong

HONG KONG, Aug. 9 (AP)—Almost 1,000 men of the British Third Tank Regiment arrived here today as reinforcements to the British Crown Colony garrison.

Life Term Given Kim Koo's Slayer

Seoul, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Lieut. Ahn Doo Hi, 33, was sentenced over the week end to life imprisonment for the assassination of Kim Koo, Nationalist leader, last June 26.

Ahn testified that he shot and killed the one-time president of the Korean Government-in-exile upon learning that Kim sought overthrow of the present Government.

U.N. Unit Recommends Silent Prayer At Parleys

Lake Success, N.Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—A fifteen-nation United Nations committee recommended today that the General Assembly open and close its annual sessions with a minute o fsilence for prayer or mediation.

This idea originated with Trygve Lie, United Nations secretary general. It had been under consideration ofr some weeks, along with other isues, by the committee.

No negative votes were cast against th eproposal in the closed meeting, but it was understood Russia abstained on the ground that the committee was not the proper body to deal with the issue.

The plan now goes to the Assembly itself for a final decision.

COMMUNISTS' TRIAL DELAYED

Illness Of Defendant Brings Two Recesses

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—A defendant twice pleaded illness today, delaying the Communist conspiracy trial.

Harry Winston, a Negro, complained that his heart was bothering him during testimony by Robert G. Thompson, New York State chairman of the Communist party.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina adjourned the morning session and had Winston examined by a United States Public Health Service physician.

The doctor reported there was nothing seriously wrong with the defendant and the trial resumed in the afternoon over defense protests.

Second Recess Ordered

Again Winston said he was ill and Medina ordered a half-hour recess so he could rest.

Winston is one of three defendants committed to jail by Medina on contempt charges. He is jailed for the duration of the trial between court sessions.

Thompson, 34, also is a defendant and the fourth to testify. He said his experiences in a long series of unsuccessful strikes on the West Coast in the early 1930's led him to join the Communist party in 1935.

A native of Grant's Pass, Ore., Thompson said he worked in sawmills and lumber camps between 1929 and 1933, then was employed as a machinist by a can company and a railroad in Oakland, Cal.

Union Organizer

While living in Oakland, he said, he became a volunteer organizer for the AFL International Association of Machinists. He also joined the Communist party, and later the Young Communist League, at this time.

Thompson said the strikes in which he took part usually were "spontaneous and unorganized" and that "the employers usually succeeded" in breaking them.

He concluded, he testified, that the workers had to fight continuously against employers to protect their pay and working conditions.

Meanwhile, Thompson said he had been reading basic Marxist works from the public library.

"Fuller Understanding"

This reading, he said, taught him a "much fuller understanding of the capitalist system and how it works" and that "the type of strikes I participated in weren't isolated cases but were part of a struggle against the system of exploitation."

"I began to understand," he said, "that this system did not have to go on forever," he said, "that it could not go on forever but would have to give way to socialism.

"I read how the working class was in power in the Soviet Union and this enthused me very much."

The trial now is in its thirtieth week. The eleven defendants, members of the top national leadership of the Communist party, are charged with conspiracy to advocate the overthrow of the United States Government by violence.

Books On Revolt Disputed At Trial

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Government prosecutor at the Communist conspiracy trial used documentary evidence yesterday to support his charge that secret party schools since the war have employed textbooks on violent revolution.

The defense contends such books have long been outmoded.

United States Attorney John F. X. McGohey read to the jury excerpts from a party publication, "Strategy and Tactics."

The book described Leninism as a system of rules for the guidance of the leaders of proletarian revolution in any country at any time when a "revolutionary situation" developed. It showed how "legal" and "illegal" means could be combined by professional revolutionaries.

"Decisive Struggle"

The main task of Communist leaders in western Europe and America, according to the book, is to "educate" the masses so that they eventually will be ready to take part in "the last great decisive revoluntionary struggle."

In a situation like that in the United States today—"when the revolutionary tide is not rising"—the Communists were told in the book that they should advance "partial" slogans, legal reforms and "united front" movements.

When the "revolutionary tide rises," the book said, the party will assume leadership of the masses for "direct attack" on the Government with propaganda, for increasingly radical slogans, mass action, strikes and demonstrations. Finally, it said, there will be "the general strike conjointly with armed insurrections conducted according to the rules of war with offensive fighting operations."

Judge Harold R. Medina indicated that the trial of eleven top Communist leaders—now in its thirtieth week—will run at least into September.

Take Foster Deposition

Mason H. Bigelow, former president of the New York State Bar Association, announced he had completed taking testimony by deposition from Communist National Chairman William Z. Foster.

Foster was indicted with the eleven defendants on charges of conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the Government by force and violence, but he was not put on trial at this time because of illness.

COMMUNIST 'GIFTS' LISTED

Witness Tells Of Subsidies To Control U.S. Unions

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—A tale of lavish Communist spending in an effort to win control of American labor unions was told to the House Un-American Activities Committee today by a self-described former Communist official.

The story told by Joseph Zack Kornfeder, of Detroit, covered the period from 1919 to 1934, when he said he was a member of the Communist party. His testimony made him out to be a very important figure in Red international machinations.

He said he was consulted by Moscow on some of the "subsidies" for labor union activities in the United States, and that such subsidies were "continuous" for activities in the maritime, mining and railroad fields.

General Subsidy Listed

"In addition to the subsidies for activities in certain industries, there was a general subsidy for the Trade Unity League, then headed by William Z. Foster," Kornfeder testified.

The Detroit man was called to the stand as the committee opened a hearing on alleged Communist infiltration into the CIO United Electrical Workers in the Pittsburgh area. His prepared testimony didn't mention the electrical union, but went into considerable detail in describing the general infiltration methods he said the Communists used.

Four other witnesses — right wing members of the Pittsburgh union — also testified. They said Communists were active in the local, but did not dominate it.

Kornfeder said he was a graduate of the Lenin School in Moscow, an institution he said specialized in training Americans, British and Europeans in "political warfare." He said he had been a member of the Central Committee of the Communist party in the United States, and at one time a representative of the Communist International in Colombia and Venezuela.

30.24- 4923

Says Moscow Set Strategy

He told the committee he had personal knowledge that Moscow had charge of all strike strategy to be followed by unions under Communist control. He said that the subsidies for Communist activities flowed through the same labor union activities department of the party.

"I remember especially one discussion relating to a subsidy for activities inside the United Mine Workers, headed by John L. Lewis," he said. (Lewis is an opponent of communism.)

"The complaint was that large subsidies formerly granted has not brought the results expected, and they wanted my opinion on a new request for $50,000. The amount was cut in half."

Cites Great Contempt

Kornfeder told the committee that "Moscow had a great contempt for the abilities of American Communists and, for that reason, they always took special organization measures to see to it that they got at least a part of their money's worth."

In advance of the hearing, Louis J. Russell, senior investigator for the committee, had announced that the inquiry was concerned with local 601 of the UE at the Westinghouse plant at Pittsburgh.

Russ Nixon, Washington representative of the electrical workers, issued a statement saying "UE members have nothing but contempt for the accusation that they and their union are spies, traitors and saboteurs and that Government work being done by Westinghouse is unsafe in their hands."

AP Incorrectly Quoted McCarran

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—Senator McCarran (D., Nev.) was incorrectly quoted by the Associated Press yesterday as having told the Senate that Norman Corwin had been "cited as Communist and subversive by the attorney general of the United States."

Actually, McCarran said Corwin, a member of the radio division of the United Nations Information Department, has been associated with organizations which the attorney general has cited variously as "Communist and subversive" or "Communist front."

Corwin in New York reiterated previous denials that he is a Communist and declared: "I believe I am a vastly better patriot" than McCarran.

The Nevada Senator pointed to Corwin in his speech yesterday as "characteristic of a number of people" who he said have gone "directly from fields of subversive activity" in this country into positions of authority in the United Nations.

Corwin said, in reply to McCarran:

"I have worked at the job of helping to broaden an appreciation of American institutions, our democracy and our form of government. My sentiments have never been secret from anyone and are on record in print and on transcriptions for everyone to see."

Defense Chiefs To Report To Congress

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—The joint chiefs of staff returned today, ready to give Congress the benefit of their ten-day conferences in Europe with military chiefs of Atlantic pact nations.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff; Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, and Admiral Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, returned aboard President Truman's private plane.

They will lunch with Defense Secretary Johnson. Tomorrow they are to appear before the Senate Armed Forces committee.

Bradley described the conferences as "a grand start toward organizing the unity and collective security under the Atlantic pact."

Had Two Objectives

Bradley said the chiefs had two objectives: To inspect United States forces in Germany and Austria, and to discuss with the defense chiefs of Atlantic pact nations possible organization under the pact.

"We discussed several forms of organization," Bradley said. "But we didn't try to arrive at any decision."

He said that the chiefs with whom they conferred "took our coming over so soon after passage of the Atlantic pact as an indication of our willingness to make it work."

"We hope that these frank discussions and exchanges of views," Bradley added, "will help our respective governments and will shorten conferences necessary to organize under the pact."

M'CLOY DENIES RESURGENCE OF GERMAN NAZISM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. — (AP) Nazism is not being revived in Germany, U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy said tonight, although Hitler's former followers hod 30 per cent of the top government and industry jobs.

"There is enough sense of freedom and decency in the German people," he said, "on which can be built a healthy, peaceful state."

McCloy spoke over the Columbia broadcasting network in his first public address since he took over as high commissioner and military governor in western Germany. He is on a brief trip home in connection with his new duties.

He said it is necessary to use ex-Nazi party members in the new Germany because there were few anti-Nazis at the peak of Hitler's power.

McCloy, who succeeded Gen. Lucius D. Clay, said rising German prosperity has led to some growth in the nationalism and assertiveness of the people.

"The great majority of them feel imposed upon when they are blamed for what they consider to be the faults of others whose policies they are now prepared to disclaim," he said.

"I do not believe that new leaders today would get far if they really attempted to resurrect Nazism or reglorify Hitler. All that is too closely associated with defeat and disgraceful acts."

Among German liberals, labor and the middle class, McCloy said, he found "a strong core of freedom-seeking people."

German recovery need not carry with it the fear of fresh German aggression, McCloy said, because controls on German war-making facilities are here to stay for a long time.

He added:

"I have felt that many right-minded Germans still do not fully realize the mistrust which still pervades the world regarding their country. The result is a determination to remove permanently the menace of further German militarism and intolerance."

McCloy admitted he was disappointed by the needling of the occupation policies and leaders by German politicians.

Had it not been for the occupation of Germany, he maintained, the condition of the Germans "would be as precarious and miserable as it was in 1945."

Although some military personnel are being shifted from Berlin to Frankfurt for convenience, McCloy said "we shall continue to maintain our forces and a strong staff in Berlin."

VAUGHAN IS LINKED TO 5 PERCENTERS

Witness Says Truman Aide Interceded in Race Track Case

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 — (AP) The "five per cent" investigation reached into the White House today with testimony that Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, the President's army aide, interceded for friends seeking to use scarce materials for a horse racing plant.

Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods told the Senate's special subcommittee that Vaughan summoned him to his office in the White House on January 9, 1948, when the Tanforan track in California was seeking a building clearance.

"I want to make sure there is no prejudice in your office just because this is a race track case," Woods quoted the bluff and beribboned general. And also:

"Some friends of mine are interested and it is your duty to handle the case on its merits and on its legality."

Four days later the track, near San Bruno, got construction clearance. Other witnesses recalled that it had taken a federal court injunction to halt the building in 1947 after the track ignored a refusal by the housing agency to clear the project. There were federal restrictions on building, the idea being to save scarce materials and labor for homes and other essential purposes. The word "perjury" bobbed up as the day's fast-breaking testimony neared a close. Woods told the senators he will refer to the Justice department immediately an affidavit in the Tanforan case, to see whether perjury is involved.

The affidavit, Woods said, was the main reason he asked justice officials to modify the injunction. It certified that a new panel of directors had taken over the racing plant.

A member of the committee staff told reporters the affidavit will be explored more fully tomorrow, to ascertain whether the real ownership had changed as stated.

Hearing Room Crowded

The affidavit was signed by Samuel P. Orlando of Haddonfield, N. J., as secretary-treasurer of Tanforan Co., Ltd. It showed these directors to have been elected Oct. 7, 1947: Walter H. Donovan, Haddonfield; Eugene Mori, Camden, N. J.; Edward H. Ellis, Merchantville, N. J., and William G. Helis, Beverly Hills, Calif. Mori was listed as president.

The testimony held the rapt attention of the handful of spectators who managed to jam into the small hearing chamber where the Senate's special investigating subcommittee, under Senator Hoey (D-NC) opened public hearings yesterday.

RECORDS SHOW DEAL GOT O.K. IN SIX DAYS

Housing Expediter Says General Told Him It Was His Duty to Handle Case on Its Merits and Legality.

Washington, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Housing Expediter Tighe Woods said today that Major-Gen. Harry H. Vaughan summoned him to the White House in 1948 and told him Vaughan's friends were interested in a California race track construction case.

Woods said the track owners then were trying to get Government clearance for construction at the Tanforan track, near San Francisco, Cal. The use of scarce building materials was sharply restricted at the time.

Woods said Vaughan did not name his friends who were interested in the Tanforan case.

Senator Mundt (R.-S. D.) asked whether Woods regarded the matter as of White House interest or one in which Vaughan was personally interested.

"I had a feeling it was just Vaughan's personal interest," Woods replied.

Application Granted.

William P. Rogers, the subcommittee counsel, commented that records showed the Tanforan application was approved January 15, 1948, six days after Vaughan sent for Woods.

Woods said the application had been cleared by the Justice Department and that the clearance included lifting the court injunction still pending at that time. Because he had been in office only a short time, he said he relied on advice of people in his agency who were familiar with the case.

Restrictions on use of scarce building materials were not lifted until later in 1948.

The housing official told a special Senate Investigating Committee that Vaughan, President Truman's military aid, told him at the White House on January 9, 1948: "I want to make sure there is no prejudice in your office just because this is a race track case."

Woods said Vaughan also told him: "Some friends of mine are interested and it is your duty to handle the case on its merits and on its legality."

Vaughan Quoted as 'Damn Sore.'

Francis D. Flanagan, an attorney for the committee, previously had read a private memorandum saying Vaughan had stepped into the dispute. It quoted Vaughan as saying he was "damn sore" at Frank L. Creedon, Federal Housing Expediter in 1947, for his handling of the case.

Creedon was succeeded by Woods, who testified that he had been expediter only a little more than two months when Vaughan got in touch with him.

The Government had ordered construction work at Tanforan halted in 1947. Other witnesses testified that construction went ahead anyway and that it took a court order to stop it.

Flanagan said the memorandum, which purported to be the gist of a telephone conversation with Vaughan, came from the office of James V. Hunt.

Hunt, a business counselor here, has been a key figure in the committee's inquiry in activities of so-called 5 percenters—persons who charge a fee for help in getting Government contracts for others. Their commission is usually 5 per cent of the gross proceeds from the contract.

Hunt has said he is a good friend of Vaughan, but has denied that he ever attempted to trade on "influence."

Arranging a Meeting.

Flanagan said the memorandum was dated October 25, 1947, and was subpœnaed from the office of Hunt.

It dealt with a meeting held by three men representing the Tanforan track at San Bruno, Cal., near San Francisco, with three officials of the Housing Expediter's office.

Earlier two of the housing officials—Benjamin Shulman, special litigation attorney, and William Maher, formerly with the housing agency and now with the Atomic Energy Commission—had testified that "someone connected with politics" had arranged the meeting.

Maher identified the three men who came to see them as a "Mr. Mori," a "Mr. Orlando" and a "Mr. Maragon.' Maher did not immediately identify further the three men he named.

The committee has taken secret testimony from John Maragon, a former Kansas City bootblack who once had a White House pass. Maragon also has said he is a good friend of Vaughan.

Shulman and Maher said the trio wanted to get a permit to make repairs at the track although a court already issued an injunction against ocnstruction at the racing plant. That was at a time after the war when the use of scarce building materials was sharply restricted.

Vaughan's 'Fine Guy!'

Vaughan was represented in the Hunt memo as "remarking with vehemence, that 'your (Hunt's) friend Creedon is a fine guy,' meaning by his tone, the opposite."

The memo went on to say that Vaughan told Hunt he had sent three men to see Creedon "after arranging the meeting personally by phone." It said Creedon had turned them over to a group "headed by a lawyer named Mayer" and that the group had been given a "fine brushoff." The Hunt memo quoted Vaughan as explaining the situation in this way:

The group recently had purchased for $3,000,000 the Tanforan racetrack, which had been in trouble due to the violations of construction regulations.

The memo continued:

"The new owners, to whom Gen. Vaughan referred, wanted now to complete some unfinished buildings and do some repair work. He said these people had no part in the previous trouble and asked the Housing Expediter for permission to spend about $75,000 to protect their buildings.

Waxing Sarcastic.

"He said that these three men had a conference with four people in OOHE (Office of Housing Expediter) and that Creedon's people were not helpful and in fact, he was told that they were sarcastic and officious. He quoted one OHE man who asked them 'what do you want us to do, lead you around by the hand?' as an example of the OHE attitude.

"Gen. Vaughan said there was no excuse for Government people treating citizens in this manner and he was damn sore at Creedon for permitting it."

The memo then went on to say that Hunt said he would talk to Creedon and Maher "to see if I could straighten it out. Hunt quoted Vaughan as saying he thought that would be a good idea.

The memo ended by saying that Vaughan "mentioned that one man among the group who bought Tanforan was a 'Bill Hellis.'

Tanforan Deal Political 5 P.C. Probers Told

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—A housing official said today that "someone connected with politics" arranged a 1947 meeting with Government housing authorities in an effort to get a construction ban lifted against a California race track.

Benjamin J. Shulman, an attorney in the office of the housing expediter, made the statement to the Senate's special investigations subcommittee.

Question Tanforan Deal

The subcommittee is looking into allegations of the use of influence in connection with the awarding of Government contracts and the administration of Federal regulations.

The inquiry today centered on means by which the Tanforan race track at San Bruno, Cal., got a Government go-ahead for use of scarce building materials after the war, when their use was sharply restricted.

Shulman was called to tell what he knew of the background on the case. So was William Maher, a former housing official who now is chief construction engineer for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Knew Political Connection

Maher testified it was his understanding the 1947 meeting "was arranged by the administration, as the terms was loosely used."

Shulman said that after the 1947 meeting he heard that the meeting was set up "by some one in the administration, or in the Democratic National Committee, or by someone in Congress." He added:

"I knew it was someone connected with politics."

In conncetion with the inquiry, Senator Mundt (D., S.D.) told reporters that he feels developments make it imperative that President Truman's military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, be called to testify.

Mundt said that "in the remote event he doesn't request to be heard, in view of the way his name has been mentioned in this case, I will insist that he be called."

Would Call Vaughan

Subcommittee investigators familiar with the Tanforan case said privately that they expect Vaughan's name to figure in today's testimony, as it did prominently at yesterday's session.

They said that John Maragon, who says Vaughan is a good friend of his, is also likely to be mentioned in the Tanforan testimony.

To get the Tanforan story the subcommittee arranged to hear Housing Expediter Tighe Woods and three of his aides.

Seek Other 5 P.C. Data

The Senate group is looking into the activities of "five per centers"—persons who charge a fee for help in getting Government contracts for others. Their commission usually is five per cent of the gross proceeds from the contract.

The subcommittee also is checking into whether any of the middlemen have attempted to influence Government officials, and on whether any of those officials have been helpful to the commission men in more than a routine way.

At yesterday's session opening the public inquiry, the subcommittee heard a Massachusetts furniture manufacturer relate that a man he paid $1,000 for help in seeking a contract described Vaughan as one of his closest friends.

The testimony came from Paul D. Grindle, head of a Framingham (Mass.) woodworking company. He named James V. Hunt, former army officer and one-time War Assets Administration employé, as the man who claimed warm friendship with Vaughan.

"One Thing To Sell—Influence"

Grindle also quoted Hunt, now a management counselor in Washington, as saying: "I have only one thing to sell that that is influence."

Hunt cited specific cases, Grindle testified, to show how close he felt he was to Vaughan. Grindle said, for instance, that Hunt told him of obtaining a White House supply of brandy from Vaughan for Hunt's wife.

Hunt has said he is a good friend of Vaughan, but he has denied that he ever attempted to trade on influence. He said he knows no one in Government who could be influenced.

No Comment From Vaughan

Vaughan has had no comment on Grindle's assertions, except to say that he knows about 300 persons in Washington contract operations.

Noting that statement by Vaughan, as well as Grindle's testimony yesterday, Mundt said:

"It would seem to me that Vaughan has good cause to want to testify. If I were in Vaughan's position and felt that my activities had been misrepresented, I would be knocking on the subcommittee's door demanding to be heard."

Hoey Suggests Delay

Senator Hoey (D., N.C.), the subcommittee chairman, said the group ought to put off a decision on whether to call Vaughan "until we have finished with all these things in which he might be mentioned, as he has been by Grindle."

Hoey has said all along that if the subcommittee finds that Vaughan could contribute anything useful to the investigation, he will be asked to testify.

Hunt's Memo on Vaughan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP)—The memorandum put in Senate committee records today from the files of James V. Hunt, Washington management counselor, regarding Major General Harry H. Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, and the troubles of Tanforan racetrack at San Bruno, Calif:

"Tanforan racetrack:

"General Vaughan, while talking to me about other subjects, remarked with vehemence, that 'your friend Creedon is a fine guy,' meaning by his tone, the opposite. He went on to tell me that he had sent three men to see Creedon, after arranging the meeting personally by phone and that Creedon had turned them over to a group headed by 'a lawyer named Mayer' and that the group 'had given these people a fine brushoff'—when he explained the situation it was as follows—

"A group had recently purchased for $3,000,000 the Tanforan racetrack in California. This track had been in trouble due to violations over V. H. P. I., in the construction of the track. They had been ordered to conform to the law and when they continued to violate, the Housing Expediter had ordered them to stop construction. Upon continued violation, of the stop order the Federal attorney had filed an injunction against the track and then work stopped. The court later assessed heavy fines and sent two or three people to prison.

"The new owners, to whom General Vaughan referred wanted now to complete some unfinished buildings and do some repair work. He said these people had no part in the previous trouble and asked the Housing Expediter for permission to spend about $75,000 to protect their buildings.

"He said that these three men had a conference with four people in O. H. E. and that Creedon's people were not helpful and, in fact, he was told that they were sarcastic and officious. He quoted one man who asked them, 'What do you want us to do, lead you around by the hand?' as an example of the O. H. E. attitude.

"General Vaughan said that there was no excuse for government people treating citizens in this manner and he was damn sore at Creedon for permitting it. This being Saturday he said he was leaving the city to return next Wednesday and that upon his return he intended to tell Creedon how he felt about it.

"I told him that Creedon and his people had a reputation for most fair treatment and that I believed that there must be some misunderstanding somewhere. He said that I could tell Creedon how he felt.

"Anxious to prevent any misunderstanding that could develop into bad feeling between the White House and a good agency, I said I would talk to Creedon and Maher to see if I could straighten it out. Vaughan said that would be a good idea so I could tell him the story upon his return next Wednesday.

"He mentioned that one man among the group who bought Tanforan was a 'Bill Hellis'."

B-36 Probe Launched By House Group

Some Air Generals Favored Scrapping 100 Plane Project in 1947

POLITICS DENIED

Lovett Asserts Decision to Go Ahead with Contract 'Purely Military'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—(AP) House probers began searching the B-36 for political gimmicks today and were told some air generals thought so little of the mammoth bomber that they wanted to scrap the 100-plane project in 1947 after nearly half a billion dollars had been invested in it.

At the outset of the inquiry, Robert A. Lovett, wartime undersecretary of war for air, testified that no outside influence was exerted to put the potential A-Bomb carrier on the drafting board in August, 1941.

He also told members of the House Armed Services committee that military considerations were the sole basis for the later dicision to give Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Co., the go-ahead order in 1943 to start making the giant craft.

High Command Split

But a high Air Force officer later testified that in August, 1947, the Air Force high command was split over whether to continue the program or to drop it outright. He said the decision to continue the project was made over the dissent of Gen. George C. Kenney, former head of the strategic air command, who declared he had "no faith in the airplane."

This testimony highlighted the committee's first public hearings on the B-36 in particular and the nation's air policies in general. The investigation was ordered after Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) told the House he had heard "disturbing reports" about the relations of some top defense figures and airplane manufacturers.

Among those Van Zandt linked to the "reports" were Secretary of Defense Johnson, Air Secretary Symington and Floyd Odlum, head of Atlas corp., which controls Consolidated Vultee. He said that Johnson was an official of the plane firm before assuming the defense post last March and that Odlum helped Johnson raise funds for the Democratic party last fall.

Deny Charges

The military officials denied Van Zandt's implied charges at the time and are due to testify before the committee later.

Aside from the personalities involved the inquiry is expected to deal with the long-standing feud between the Navy and Air Force over long range bombing. This dispute reached a new peak when Johnson ordered the Navy to scrap its plans to build a super-carrier, which Air Force backers claimed would put the sea fliers into their strategic bombing preserve.

Navy air power supporters on the other hand contend that the B-36 is not the impregnable fighting machine its advocates claim it to be.

In detailing the origins of the sky giant, Lovett told the committee that Air Corps planners decided in the months before Pearl Harbor that the nation must have a bomber capable of lugging a 10,000-pound bomb load 10,000 miles. So he said Consolidated Vultee was told to go ahead with the initial designs.

Asked by Rep. Leroy Johnson (R-Calif), why the Army wanted the B-36 after the B-29 superfortress had demonstrated its power, Lovett replied:

"We were not willing to gamble on the success of the island-hopping campaign in the Pacific, which was not yet completed. We felt we had to have a bomber to strike the Japanese homeland from far away.

The B-36, however, never got that assignment. Although the original order with Consolidated Vultee called for the initial delivery by August, 1945 the first flight test was not made until August 8, 1946. (The war ended in September, 1945.)

Successful Test

The committee heard about the August, 1946, flight test from Maj. Gen. Frederick H. Smith, chief of the Air Force requirements division. He said the B-36 passed it successfully, except for the wing flap system, but that Air Force officials were split over the value of the bomber.

Smith testified that Gen. Kenney asserted that the plane was "inferior" to the B-29 except in bomb capacity and range. He quoted Kenney as saying that the B-36 should be used only for reconnaissance and anti-submarine work.

However, Smith said, Lt. Gen. N. F. Twining, then chief of the Air Material Command, took an opposite view and "strongly urged" completion of the 100-plane project. He said Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, then commanding general of the Air Force, supported Twining's recommendation.

ADD

Washington, (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee called three top Air Force leaders today to start public hearings on the history of the B-36 bomber.

Robert A. Lovett, onetime Under Secretary of the War for Air, was first on the list. Following him were Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, and Gen. Curtis Le May, commanding general of the strategic air command.

"We want to lay the groundwork for getting the full story behind the B-36, and the development of strategic air power concepts," said Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.).

Wartime Policy Maker

The committee, under orders from the House, will inquire into national defense policies on the strategic use of air power, and into all circumstances surrounding the development of the controversial B-36.

Lovett was a top air-policy maker during the war, when plans for present heavy bombers were developed. The committee also intends to call Robert P. Patterson, former Secretary of War and second in command to Secretary Henry L. Stimson during the war.

The inquiry was voted after Representative Van Zandt (R., Pa.), an Armed Services Committee member, said he had heard "disturbing reports" about the relations of some top defense figures and airplane manufacturers.

B-36 Supplants B-29

The giant B-36, a six-engine intercontinental bomber, is the Air Force's biggest heavyweight now, supplanting the B-29 of atomic bombing fame.

Air Force claims of invulnerability for the B-36 have been sharply attacked by Navy air partisans in a running word battle between the Navy and the Air Force over assignment of strategic air missions.

Van Zandt, a reserve navy officer, told the House the Air Force has canceled orders for other planes so it can buy more B-36's.

Odlum To Testify Later

For later hearings the committee has called Floyd Odlum, head of the Atlas Corporation, which controls the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation. Consolidated makes the B-36.

Van Zandt linked the names of Odlum, Secretary of Air Symington and Secretary of Defense Johnson. Symington and Johnson also are due to testify.

The Pennsylvanian said he had heard Symington planned to leave the Government to head an airplane manufacturing combine being organized by Odlum. Symington has denied this.

Campaign Funds Cited

Johnson was an official of Consolidated before he was sworn in as Secretary of Defense last March, Van Zandt said, and Odlum helped him raise campaign funds for the Democratic party last fall.

The quarrel over air strategy was refueled in April after Johnson ordered the Navy to stop work on a huge new carrier. The carrier was designed to handle heavy bombers, which the Navy claimed could carry out strategic attacks anywhere in the world.

MILITARY UNIT SETS NEW RULE ON INTERVIEWS

AUG 10 1949

Press Chief Will Pass On Questioning Of Armed Forces Officials

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP) — Hereafter all requests for interviews with Army, Navy or Air Force officials in Washingtou must have the approval of the National Military Establishment's press chief.

This applies to requests for interviews made to the press section. It applies only to the Pentagon, headquarters of the NME.

Recently, as part of the armed forces unification, the press sections of the Army, Navy and Air Force were brought together in one big room. Until then, a reported could ask the press section of one or the other service for an interview with a certain officer and it could be arranged, independently.

Changes Authority

Now, before the interviews can be set up, the request must have the approval of the overall NME press chief. This, in effect, takes away the authority of the individual service press sections to arrange interviews with their own personnel.

NME press officials deny this is an attempt to "control" news. Their view is that it enables them to know what is going on. They also argue that in this way they can facilitate requests.

However, some critics view the new arrangement as giving one man too much authority. They also note that the NME press chief conceivably could hold down news of one service branch by not approving requests for interviews.

Request Form Devised

There is nothing to prevent a reporter from attempting to arrange an interview on his own. Sometimes he succeeds. Quite frequently he is asked to get approval of the press section—and in the past it was from the press section of the service involved.

NME press officials point out that they have devised a form for their own office records. It is entitled "request for interview" and says "all interviewers must be approved in advance by the chief of the press branch." It lists the name of the reporter making the request and his organization. It lists the subject on which the interview is requested.

NME press officials said they do ask officials granting reporters interviews on their own that they inform the press section and also tell what subjects were discussed.

This, NME officials say, enables them to be in a position to answer queries from other reporters who check on the story.

GUARANTEE URGED ON FOREIGN RISKS

AUG 10 1949

Snyder Asks Congress To Aid Truman's 'Point Four'

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—John W. Snyder, Secretary of the Treasury, asked Congress today to help put President Truman's "point four" into operation by guaranteeing United States investments abroad against unusual risks.

"Point four" of Mr. Truman's inaugural address last January called for helping undeveloped areas throughout the world increase their productivity and standard of living. Private capital would be relied upon for a large share of the funds for the development.

Snyder impressed upon the Senate Banking Committee that the guarantees, which he said should be handled by the Government-owned Export-Import Bank, would not undertake to assure profits to those who invest abroad. Instead, United States investors would only be protected against what he called "risks peculiar to foreign investment."

Urges Flexibility

One of the principal risks, he said, was the inability of investors to convert their earnings in foreign currencies into United States dollars. He advocated giving the Export-Import Bank considerable flexibility in issuing guarantees.

"Guarantees may perhaps be issued against the non-convertibility of local currencies to begin with and later be extended to cover other risks if the situation seems to warrant it," he said.

Other risks he mentioned were the possible seizure of the investors' property by a foreign government without adequate and prompt compensation; and destruction of property due to war.

In effect, the Treasury chief said, the proposal to offer the guarantees would be an extension of the Marshall plan for European recovery. As in the Marshall plan, he said, the foreign countries themselves would have major responsiblities.

Up To Them

It would be up to them, he said, to do everything possible to clear the way for an inflow of private United States capital into their lands.

Although recent United States investments abroad have been very large—$660,000,000 in 1947 and $800,000,000 last year—Snyder said ehey had been concentrated geographically in Venezuela, Canada and the Near East, and for the most part concerned oil.

"There is need for investments in other countries and other industries," he asserted.

Other indorsements of the plan came from James E. Webb, Under Secretary of State, and Winthrop Aldrich, board chairman of the Chase National Bank, New York.

Check On Communism

"If democracy is to be a vitalizing force," Webb said, "its economic base must be secure. Democracy and freedom as we know them cannot grow where widespread disease, illiteracy and unrest prevail."

He expressed the belief that the program would help check communism by proving that "development can take place peacefully and with increased personal freedom."

Aldrich said he thought investors who stood to benefit from the guarantees should be charged some sort of a fee. He also said it would be "definitely desirable" to have a ceiling on the amount of Export-Import Bank funds that could be committed.

Burnet R. Maybank (D., S.C.), committee chairman, said the Export-Import Bank reports $970,000,000 of its $3,500,000,000 capital now is uncommitted. Aldrich said he thought that might well serve as an indirect ceiling on the amount that could be guaranteed.

Business Groups Urge Excise Tax Repeal

AUG 10 1949

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—Twenty-four national business organizations today urged repeal of wartime excise taxes.

Full-page advertisements in Washington and New York newspapers, addressed to "Mr. President," asked that the tax be repealed "now!" . . . "for the benefit of every business facing unnecessary loss and every person facing unnecessary unemployment."

"You have made the statement that nothing can be done to repeal the war excise sales tax during this session of Congress," the advertisement said, adding: "We must respectfully disagree!"

Sponsors Listed

Organizations listed as sponsoring the advertisement included national associations representing motion picture, jewelry, fur, clothing, furniture, hardware, toilet goods, drug, music and variety stores interests.

Congressional leaders conferred last week with President Truman on excise-tax legislation. After the conference, House Democratic Leader McCormack, of Massachusetts, said no action could be expected on repeal of the tax at this session.

In his economic message to Congress early in July, the President asked for repeal of the excise tax on freight shipments.

Bills Introduced

Several bills have been introduced in both Houses proposing repeal of the wartime taxes on the so-called luxury items, transportation and communications. Sponsors say this would stimulate buying and make new jobs.

The advertisement called the taxes "one of the main causes of growing unemployment." Congress, it said, was able to declare war on Japan in 24 hours. "It need not take more than a week for Congress to declare war on unemployment," the advertisement added.

Congressional leaders have estimated annual revenue from the taxes at $1,700,000,000.

Douglas Back, Denies He Spied on Soviet

Washington, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court today dismissed as "pure nonsense" Russian charges that he had been spying on them. Douglas, who aroused Soviet suspicions when he and his son Bill went mountain-climbing in the Middle East, talked with reporters after calling on President Truman. He said with a laugh that his seven-week journey abroad was "purely a pleasure trip."

The Justice and his son visited the front in Greece and brought back a picture of Greek guerrilla forces captured by the Government. He said about 35 per cent of the guerrilla fighters are women.

JOHNSON REFUSES M'ARTHUR RECALL

Washington, Aug. 9 (A. P.).—Secretary of Defense Johnson told Senators today that he will not order Gen. MacArthur home from Japan to report to Congress unless President Truman approves. Senator Bridges (R.-N. H.) said MacArthur should come back whether he wants to or not to give a report on the Far Eastern situation.

Johnson and Bridges clashed as the Secretary testified on the President's $1,450,000,000 arms program. Johnson said he would not take the responsibility of ordering MacArthur back. Bridges had proposed that MacArthur and Vice-Admiral Oscar C. Badger, naval commander in the Far East, be recalled to Washington.

Senator Wherry (R.-Neb.) suggested to Johnson meanwhile that MacArthur be permitted to return home to help shape a future policy on China and the Pacific. Wherry, the Republican floor leader, said: "Regardless of what has happened in the past, it is imperative that the United States now develop a forthright, clear, unmistakable policy in the interests of peace and protection of the rights of all."

'Tokyo Rose' Case Near Conclusion

San Francisco, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Government expects to conclude its treason case against "Tokyo Rose" this week.

Prosecutor Tom de Wolfe said some of the Government's 35 remaining witnesses may not testify against the defendant, Mrs. Iva Toguri d'Aquino.

Mrs. d'Aquino, who was born in Los Angeles and went to Japan shortly before World War II, is accused of treason by broadcasting from Radio Tokyo to lower morale of American troops in the Pa[illegible]. The Government says she wa[illegible] wartime Tokyo Rose.

Two former Radio Tokyo [illegible]neers testified yesterday that Tokyo Rose broadcasts were go[illegible] out to Pacific areas all right. One of them, Yoshitoshi Tanabo, said the station had "the finest equipment in Japan."

EX-MARINE TESTIFIES IN TOKYO ROSE TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9—(AP) The Tokyo Rose treason trial, dawdling along in low gear today with prosecutor Tom DeWolfe trying to wind up the government's case this week.

Only two witnesses—a former U. S. Marine and a Japanese Radio Tokyo executive—were called to the stand today.

They testified against California born Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino, the daughter of Japanese parents. She is accused by the government of making treasonable propaganda broadcasts during the war from Radio Tokyo in the role of "Tokyo Rose" and "Orphan Annie."

Kiwamu Momotsuka, member of the board of directors of the broadcasting corporation of Japan told of the directions the "zero hour" program was beamed. He professed not to know the contents of the program.

Ex-Marine David I. Gilmore, 1717 North Stanton, El Paso, Tex., now a special employe of the FBI, said that on Tinian island in late July or early August, 1944, he heard a broadcast by a woman identified as "Orphan Annie." ADD

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA, AUG 9-(AP)-POLICE HAVE PUT DOWN A "REVOLT" IN A SLOVAKIAN TOWN WHERE CATHOLICS DEFENDING THEIR PRIEST FROM THREATENED ARREST HAD SET UP THEIR OWN LOCAL GOVERNMENT, A COMMUNIST WEEKLY NEWS MAGAZINE REPORTED TODAY.

AROUSED VILLAGERS LED BY A BAND OF FIGHTING PEASANT WOMEN HAD BEATEN UP THE CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMUNIST-CONTROLLED LOCAL EXECUTIVE BOARD, SVET PRACE, WEEKLY MAGAZINE OF THE CZECHOSLOVAK COMMUNIST PARTY SAID.

TWO PERSONS WERE REPORTED WOUNDED AND "SEVERAL" ARRESTED IN THE INCIDENT AT STRECNO, IN NORTHWESTERN SLOVAKIA.

THE MAGAZINE GAVE NO PRECISE DATE FOR THE CLASH BUT SAID THE OFFENDING VILLAGE HAD ITS ELECTRIC POWER CUT OFF FOR SEVERAL WEEKS, APPARENTLY AS PUNISHMENT.

STRECNO IS IN THE ZILINA DISTRICT OF SLOVAKIA WHERE FIGHTING BETWEEN CATHOLIC VILLAGERS AND COMMUNIST-CONTROLLED POLICE BROKE OUT ABOUT SIX WEEKS AGO. WHETHER THIS WAS A NEW INCIDENT OR A REPORT ON DETAILS OF FORMER FIGHTING NOW COMING TO LIGHT COULD NOT BE DEFINITELY ESTABLISHED.

(VATICAN SOURCES REPORTED LAST WEEK THAT NEW CLASHES HAD OCCURRED IN SLOVAKIA, WHICH IS STRONGLY CATHOLIC.)

SVET PRACE CALLED THE STRECNO UPRISING A "REVOLUTION" AND DISCLOSED THAT STATE SECURITY POLICE SUPPORTED BY WORKERS' MILITIA UNITS WERE CALLED TO QUELL IT. PEASANTS WIELDING FLAILS AND SCYTHES WERE DISARMED.

THE COMMUNIST ORGAN CLAIMED STRECNO CITIZENS HAD CHOSEN AN "ILLEGAL" COUNCIL OF THEIR OWN TO REPLACE THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT "AFTER THINGS WERE CHANGED."

SVET PRACE GAVE THIS ACCOUNT OF THE INCIDENT:

THE TOWNSPEOPLE OF STRECNO BEAT UP THE CHAIRMAN OF A COMMUNIST-CONTROLLED LOCAL EXECUTIVE BOARD FROM A NEIGHBORING TOWN "WHO WAS JUST PASSING THROUGH THEIR VILLAGE."

THE ATTACK STARTED BECAUSE THE STRECNO VILLAGERS CLAIMED THEY HEARD THE OFFICIAL WAS GOING TO ARREST THEIR PRIEST.

"THEREUPON THE WOMEN OF STRECNO GATHERED IN FRONT OF THEIR PARSON TO DEFEND HIM. THEY WERE JOINED BY SOME MEN ARMED WITH FLAILS AND SCYTHES."

THE AROUSED VILLAGERS THEN BEGAN ATTACKING EVERY AUTOMOBILE WHICH PASSED THROUGH THE VILLAGE. WHEN SECURITY POLICE AND WORKERS' MILITIA-MEN ARRIVED LATE THAT NIGHT THEY WERE MET BY PEASANT WOMEN READY TO FIGHT.

"HOWEVER, THERE WAS NO FIRING AND THERE HAVE BEEN NO 'MARTYRS.' THE 'REVOLUTION' WAS ENDED IN FIVE MINUTES AND SEVERAL DISTURBERS WERE ARRESTED."

SVET PRACE DECLARED THE PRIEST HAD NOT BEEN ARRESTED.

POWER LINES WERE FIRST CUT BY A YOUTH WHO WANTED TO MAKE STRECNO A "FOCUS OF RESISTANCE," THE MAGAZINE SAID. AS PUNISHMENT THE POWER BLACKOUT WAS MAINTAINED FOR SEVERAL WEEKS.

REPENTANT VILLAGERS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE SENT A DELEGATION TO THE DISTRICT EXECUTIVE BOARD EXPRESSING REGRET OVER THE CLASH AND PROMISED TO FULFILL THEIR DUTIES TO THE STATE.

"BUT," SVET PRACE CONTINUED, "THIS AFFAIR WAS NOT MERELY AN UPRISING OF HYSTERICAL WOMEN BUT A SERIOUS ATTEMPT AT DISRUPTING THE PUBLIC ORDER AND WELFARE. . . .

"THOSE VILLAGES WHERE SUCH INCIDENTS CONCERNING THE CHURCH ARE NOW IN DISGRACE AND ARE BEIGH LAUGHED AT. PRIESTS CONTINUE HOLDING SERVICES AND THOUSANDS OF VACATIONISTS SPENT THEIR HOLIDAYS IN THESE 'FOCAL POINTS OF REVOLUTION.'"

"STEPS HAVE BEEN PREPARED," THE PAPER ADDED, "AGAINST OUR WEALTHY PEASANTS (KULAKS) WHO ALSO THIS YEAR WILL USE ALL MEANS TO SABOTAGE THEIR DUTIES AND SEEK TO INJURE THE INTERESTS OF THE WORKING CLASS IN OUR PEOPLE'S DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC."

ARUTIUNIAN WAS DISCUSSING THE FAVORITE COMMUNIST THEME OF UNEMPLOYMENT IN THE CAPITALISTIC COUNTRIES. HE WAS REPLYING TO ADDRESSES BY CORLEY SMITH, THE BRITISH DELEGATE, AND WILLARD THORP, THE U.S. DELEGATE.

ARUTIUNIAN SAID SOME OF SMITH'S REMARKS HAD BEEN TENDENTIOUS AND DISTORTED, SOME OF HIS STATEMENTS NOT FACTUAL, BUT HE DID NOT CALL THEM LIES OR SLANDERS. CHAIRMAN JAMES THORN OF THE COUNCIL RULED THOSE WORDS OUT IN A STORMY ARGUMENT WITH THE SOVIET DELEGATE LAST WEEK.

"I DO NOT WANT TO SAY THAT MR. CORLEY SMITH IS CONSCIOUSLY DISTORTING ANYTHING", ARUTIUNIAN SAID AT THE OUTSET OF HIS LONG ADDRESS. "I THINK HE MISUNDERSTOOD THE FACTS."

ARUTIUNIAN DISPUTED BRITI H AND AMERICAN FIGURES ON UNEMPLOYMENT AND SAID THAT IT WAS PRESENT IN THE CAPITALIST COUNTRIES "ON A MASS SCALE."

"STATEMENTS THAT UNEMPLOYMENT IS NOT A THREAT AT PRESENT CAN ONLY CONTRIBUTE TO ECONOMIC DISORIENTATION," ARUTIUNIAN SAID.

HE CLAIMED THAT IT WAS THE ECONOMIC RECOVERY PROGRAM AND CAPITALIST POLICIES GENERALLY WHICH WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR UNEMPLOYMENT. HE PRESENTED FIGURES QURPORTING TO SHOW THAT UNEMPLOYMENT HAD RISEN IN VARIOUS DEGREES BETWEEN 89 PER CENT AND 19[illegible] IN WESTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES IN THE LAST YEAR.

HE ACCUSED THORP OF MAKING "SILLY STATEMENTS WHICH DRAW A VEIL OVER REALITY". HE SAID "MR. THORP HAS BEEN DEVELOPING THE MYTH HERE THAT ECONOMIC POWER IS NOT CONCENTRATED IN THE HANDS OF THE MONOPOLISTS."

IN THE UNITED STATES, HE SAID, FOUR GREAT MONOPOLIES CONCENTRATE OVER 75 PER CENT OF ALL INDUSTRY IN THEIR HANDS. HE DID NOT NAME THEM.

DAMASCUS, SYRIA, AUG. 9-(AP)-PRESIDENT HUSNY ZAIM SAID TODAY HE IS WILLING TO SPONSOR FOR THE MIDDLE EAST A PACT PATTERNED ON THE ATLANTIC ALLIANCE, IF THE UNITED STATES WILL PLEDGE ECONOMIC AND MILITARY AID. HE WOULD EXCLUDE ISRAEL, HOWEVER.

SYRIA'S STRONG MAN, WHO HAS RULED THIS COUNTRY SINCE A MILITARY COUP LAST MARCH, TOLD AN INTERVIEWER HE IS WILLING TO TAKE THE LEADING ROLE IN CREATING SUCH A REGIONAL BLOC DIRECTED AGAINST COMMUNISM.

THE PACT WOULD PROVIDE A SECOND LINE OF DEFENSE BEHIND TURKEY, WHICH THE UNITED STATES NOW IS ARMING, ZAIM SAID.

HE SAID HE DOES NOT WANT ISRAEL TO JOIN IN SUCH AN ALLIANCE "BECAUSE IT WOULD CREATE A FIFTH COLUMN WITH COMMUNIST LEANINGS."

SYRIA WOULD GIVE POSITIVE ASSURANCES THAT ARMS SUPPLIED BY THE UNITED STATES WOULD NOT BE USED AGAINST ISRAEL EXCEPT IN SELF DEFENSE, ZAIM SAID. HE ADDED HE PLANS TO FORTIFY THE SYRIAN FRONTIER FULLY, AS A MEANS OF PROTECTING HIS COUNTRY FROM THE POSSIBILITY OF FUTURE AGGRESSION FROM ISRAEL.

SYRIA WAS AMONG THE ARAB NATIONS WHICH ACTIVELY WARRED ON THE NEW STATE OF ISRAEL. WHILE ARMISTICES HAVE ENDED THE FIGHTING, NO FORMAL PEACE HAS BEEN ACHIEVED.

THE PRESIDENT SAID HE HAS ASKED THE UNITED STATES, FRANCE AND TURKEY TO FURNISH MILITARY ADVISERS FOR SYRIA AND THAT SYRIAN OFFI CERS ARE BEING SENT TO THOSE COUNTRIES AND TO ENGLAND TO STUDY.

THESE OFFICIALS SAID THE UNITED STATES HAS MADE IT KNOWN IN THE PAST THAT THE ONLY REGIONAL DEFENSE ARRANGEMENT IS NOW CAN SUPPORT IS THE NORTH ATLANTIC PACT.

THEY TOOK THE POSITION THAT ADDITIONAL ANTI-COMMUNIST GROUPINGS WOULD:

1. REQUIRE SIZEABLE APPROPRIATIONS FOR AMS AND ECONOMIC AID AND CONGRESS APPEARS TO BE IN NO MOOD TO ADD TO GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES.

2. EXTEND THE UNITED STATES TOO MUCH AND INCREASE THE RISK OF INVOLVING IT IN FAR-OFF CONFLICTS.

THE ZIAM PROPOSAL WOULD HAVE AN ADDITIONAL SEROUS DRAWBACK, THEY SAID, IN THAT HE PROPOSES TO EXCLUDE ISRAEL. SUCH AN ALLIANCE -- MADE UP MOSTLY OF ARAB NATIONS - MIGHT BE TURNED INTO A POWERFUL FORCE WHICH COULD EVENTUALLY TURN ON THE NEW JEWISH STATE, THEY SAID.

(ADVANCE) LONDON AUG. 10-(AP)-RUSSIA HAS AGREED TO SEND BRITAIN ABOUT 100,000 STANDARDS OF SOFTWOOD-- OR TEN PER CENT OF HER SOFT TIMBER IMPORTS-- BY THE END OF THE YEAR, THE BOARD OF TRADE ANNOUNCED TODAY.

AUG 10 1949

THE BOARD SAID THE CONTRACTS CALL FOR PRICES LOWER THAN THOSE THIS COUNTRY PAID LAST YEAR. BUT THE ANNOUNCEMENT DID NOT DISCLOSE ANY FIGURES.

THE TIMBER WILL CONSIST OF REDWOOD AND WHITEWOOD. BRITAIN IS GOING TO USE HALF FOR JOINERY PURPOSES, AND HALF FOR BUILDING.

THE DEAL IS OUTSIDE OF CURRENT ANGLO-RUSSIAN NEGOTIATIONS FOR A GENERAL ONE-YEAR TRADE PACT. RUSSIA RECENTLY PROMISED TO SEND BRITAIN ABOUT 1,000,000 TONS OF COARSE GRAINS OVER THE NEXT YEAR IF EFFORTS TO WRITE THE OVERALL TRADE AGREEMENT SUCCEED.

LONDON, AUG 9-(AP)-BRITISH SHOPKEEPERS SHOUTED TODAY FOR A NATION-WIDE STRIKE AGAINST AN ORDER TO CUT PRICES-- AND THE LABOR GOVERNMENT SHOWED SIGNS OF GIVING GROUND.

JOHN EDWARDS, PARLIAMENTARY SECRETARY FOR THE BOARD OF TRADE, SAID

HE WELCOMED A SUGGESTION FOR THE GOVERNMENT TO TALK THE WHOLE THING OVER WITH THE TRADE BEFORE GOING AHEAD.

THE BOARD HAD BEEN EXPECTED TO ORDER THE CUTS INTO EFFECT ABOUT THE MIDDLE OF NEXT MONTH. IT WOULD REDUCE THE RETAIL PRICE OF UTILITY GARMENTS AND TEXTILES A FLAT FIVE PER CENT.

DELEGATES REPRESENTING 250,000 SHOPKEEPERS LATER VOTED AT A PROTEST MEETING NOT TO MAKE THE CUTS UNTIL THE BOARD ACTUALLY TALKS IT OVER WITH THEIR TRADE ORGANIZATIONS.

AUG 10 1949

CRIES OF "THAT'S NOT STRONG ENOUGH" AND "WE NEED A STRIKE" ROSE FROM THE CROWDED LONDON HALL WHERE THE MEETING WAS HELD.

THE MEETING WAS ORGANIZED BY THE NATIONAL CHAMBER OF TRADE. THE DELEGATES REPRESENTED LOCAL CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE AND TRADERS' ASSOCIATIONS WITH A COMBINED MEMBERSHIP OF 250,000. WHILE THIS MEETING WAS IN SESSION, REPRESENTATIVES OF THE WHOLESALE TEXTILE ASSOCIATION WENT TO THE GOVERNMENT BOARD OF TRADE TO DEMAND A HEARING FOR TEXTILE WHOLESALERS AND RETAILERS.

THE GOVERNMENT BOARD'S STATEMENT "WELCOMING" THE TRADE'S REQUEST FOR TALKS CAME WHILE THE DELEGATES AT THE PROTEST MEETING WERE STILL ARGUING ABOUT WHAT ACTION TO TAKE.

AUG 10 1949

ROBERT BRADSHAW, MEMBER OF A SHOP INDUSTRY COMMITTEE ON PRICE REGULATIONS, TOLD DELEGATES THE PROPOSED CUTS WOULD START 98 PER CENT OF THE COUNTRY'S SHOPKEEPERS ON THE ROAD TO BANKRUPTCY.

THE TENTATIVE DATE FOR THE BOARD OF TRADE ORDER ON THE UTILITY GARMENTS AND TEXTILES IS SEPT. 12.

UTILITY GOODS ARE A LOW-PRICED LINE ON WHICH THE GOVERNMENT PAYS A SUBSIDY. THE IDEA IS TO HOLD DOWN THE COST OF LIVING FOR THE POOR.

BRADSHAW SAID ONLY TWO PER CENT OF BRITISH SHOPS DO MORE THAN £100,000 ($400,000) WORTH OF BUSINESS A YEAR. THE OTHERS, HE SAID, RELY SO HEAVILY ON UTILITY SALES THAT THE CUTS WOULD FORCE THEM TO TRADE AT A NET LOSS AVERAGING HALF OF ONE PERCENT.

D. BERNARD MORGAN, PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL CHAMBER OF TRADE, DECLARED:

AUG 10 1949

"THE TRUTH IS THAT WE ARE WITNESSING A DISGRACEFUL EXAMPLE OF POLITICAL EXPENDIENNY OF THE WORST KIND."

THE 8,000,000-MEMBER TRADES UNION CONGRESS, MAINSTAY OF THE LABOR PARTY AT THE POLLS, HAS BEEN DEMANDING CUTS IN THE COST OF LIVING AS THE PRICE OF HOLDING THE LINE ON WAGES.

SHOPKEEPERS AT THE MEETING COMPLAINED THAT THE BOARD OF TRADE DREW UP ITS PRICE REDUCTION ORDER WITHOUT CONSULTING THE RETAILERS.

THE TEXTILE ASSOCIATION GROUP ALSO MADE THIS POINT IN ITS 90-MINUTE CONFERENCE WITH EDWARDS.

THE BOARD OF TRADE'S ANNOUNCEMENT AFTER THAT SESSION SAID THE DEPUTATION "DEPLORED THE ABSENCE OF CONSULTATION."

BOARD OF TRADE PRICE CONTROL ORDERS HAVE THE FORCE OF LAW. VIOLATORS MAY BE TRIED IN THE COURTS, FINED HEAVILY OR EVEN IMPRISONED.

(EEDITOR'S NOTE: BRITISH WORKERS HAVE BEEN TOLD BY THEIR GOVERNMENT THAT ONE OF THE CURES FOR BRITAIN'S ECONOMIC SICKNESS IS HIGHER PRODUCTIVITY -- THE MAKING OF MORE GOODS PER HOUR OF WORK. THEY NOW PRODUCE ONLY ABOUT ONE-HALF AS MUCH AS AMERICAN WORKERS. WHAT ARE THE REASONS FOR THIS, AND WHAT ARE THE PROSPECTS FOR IMPROVEMENT? THE PROBLEM IS DISCUSSED IN A SERIES OF THREE ARTICLES, THE FIRST OF WHICH FOLLOWS.)

AUG 10 1949

BY ALVIN STEINKOPF

(ADVANCE) LONDON, AUG. 9-(AP)--THE WORLD'S DECISION THAT A GREAT DEAL OF BRITAIN'S MERCHANDIZE COSTS TOO MUCH HAS PRODDED BRITISH INDUSTRY INTO MAKING A CRITICAL EXAMINATION OF ITS METHODS.

PRODUCTIVITY, ECONOMISTS AGREED, IS A WEAK SPOT.

TOO MANY MEN, ACCORDING TO THIS VIEW, ARE TAKING TOO MUCH TIME TO TURN OUT AN INADEQUATE NUMBER OF PRODUCTS. TIME COSTS MONEY WHICH MUST BE ADDED TO THE PRICE OF COMMODITIES.

BRITISH EXPORTS AREN'T AS WELCOME AS THEY WERE, ESPECIALLY IN DOLLAR REGIONS. LOOKING FOR THE REASON, MANY TRADE SPECIALISTS AGREED THAT SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS, THE COUNTRY'S FINANCIAL PLANNER, PUT A FINGER ON THE DIFFICULTY IN HIS DISCUSSION OF THE DOLLAR CRISIS IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THE REAL WAY OUT OF THE PRESENT ECONOMIC TROUBLES, SAID CRIPPS, IS TO INCREASE THE PRODUCTIVITY OF BRITISH FACTORIES. THE SOLUTION HE PROPOSED BOILS DOWN TO A NEED FOR MORE PRODUCTS PER WORKER PER DAY -- MORE PRODUCTION IN PROPORTION TO THE CAPITAL INVESTED IN UNDERTAKINGS.

IT WAS EMPHASIZED THAT BRITAIN MUST FIND THE KEY TO THE DOOR MARKED "LOWER PRICES." BRITISH SALESMEN OUT IN THE BUYERS' WORLD FIND MK

AUG 10 1949

MARKED "LOWER PRICES." BRITISH SALESMEN OUT IN THE BUYERS' WORLD FIND CUSTOMERS LOSE INTEREST WHEN THEY COMPARE BRITISH PRICE LISTS

WITH THOSE OF INDUSTRIALLY MORE EFFICIENT LANDS, PARTICULARLY THE UNITED STATES.

2- THE SALESMEN'S PROBLEMS ARE STILL MANAGEABLE IN STERLING AREAS, BECAUSE MANY REGIONS LACK THE DOLLARS TO BUY MUCH FROM THE UNITED STATES.

AUG 10 1949

BUT THE LATEST REPORT OF HAROLD WILSON, PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF TRADE, INDICATED THE STEEP DOWNWARD TREND OF BRITISH SALES IN THE UNITED STATES. HE DISCLOSED THAT EXPORTS TO AMERICA IN JUNE FELL TO £2,983,000 ($11,932,000) FROM £3,600,000 ($14,400,000) IN MAY.

AUG 10 1949

EXPLORING THE REASONS, SPECIALISTS AT THE TREASURY AND THE BOARD OF TRADE ENCOUNTERED EXAMPLES OF STRIKING CONTRASTS IN AMERICAN AND BRITISH INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATIONS. BEFORE THE WAR A CONVENIENT GENERALIZATION ACCEPTED BY ECONOMISTS WAS THAT THE INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTIVITY OF AN AMERICAN WORKMAN WAS ROUGHLY DOUBLE THAT OF A COMPARABLE BRITISH WORKMAN. DATA FOR ACCURATE COMPARISONS NOW IS NOT AVAILABLE BUT IT WAS ASSUMED THAT THE GENERAL PICTURE HAS NOT CHANGED GREATLY.

WITH THE SPOTLIGHT TURNED ON PRODUCTIVITY SPECIALISTS OF THE TREASURY'S ECONOMIC UNIT STUDIED THE RECORD AND DECIDED THAT, IF THE WORLD GENERALLY WERE NOT SO UPSET, THE RECORD WOULDN'T BE TOO BAD. DESPITE WELL KNOWN SHORT-COMINGS, BRITAIN IS MAKING SOME PROGRESS IN BOOSTING THE INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT PER MAN. ONE WAY OF MEASURING PRODUCTIVE EFFICIENCY IS BY A STUDY OF THE TOTAL VOLUME OF INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT, WHICH IN BRITAIN IS A PRETTY ACCURATE REFLECTION OF THE OUTPUT OF ONE MAN BECAUSE THE NUMBER OF WORKERS IS FAIRLY CONSTANT. EFFICIENCY IS ON THE UP GRADE.

THE TREASURY TAKES THE YEAR 1946, THE FIRST FULL YEAR AFTER THE WAR, AS A BASE WHICH IS GRADED 100.

THE COMPARATIVE PRODUCTION FIGURES FOR REPRESENTATIVE INDUSTRIES IN FEBRUARY, THIS YEAR, ARE:

CEMENT AND BRICKS 151, GLASS 143, METALS ENGINEERING AND VEHICLES 138, CHEMICALS 133, TEXTILES 139, CLOTHING 133, LEATHER 95, FOODS 117, TOBACCO AND DRINKS 104, WOOD PRODUCTS 125, PAPER 126, BUILDING 125 AND GAS AND ELECTRICITY 127.

MAKING A LESS SATISFACTORY SHOWING IS THE GREAT, NATIONALIZED COAL INDUSTRY. IT BARELY REACHES TARGETS AND IS CONSIDERABLY UNDER THE PRODUCTION OF PREWAR YEARS. THE OUTPUT IN 1948 WAS 208,418,000 TONS, COMPARED WITH 287,000,000 IN 1913 AND 231,336,000 IN 1939. BUT MINERS NOW ARE BRINGING OUT THE COAL AT A RATE OF SLIGHTLY MORE THAN 4,000,000 TONS A WEEK AND HAVE A GOOD CHANCE OF REACHING A TARGET OF 210,000,000 TONS THIS YEAR.

VIEWED BY ITSELF, THE GRADUAL INCREASE IN EFFICIENCY IS FAIRLY SATISFACTORY.

BUT THE OTHER SIDE OF THE STORY IS THAT BRITISH IMPORTS HAVE BEEN SO GREAT, THE POPULATION HAS GROWN SO FAST AND THE DOLLAR GAP IN SETTLEMENTS HAS WIDENED SO SWIFTLY THAT PRODUCTIVITY HAS NOT KEPT PACE WITH THE NEEDS. IT IS MOVING, BUT NOT FAST ENOUGH.

THE LARGE VOLUME OF IMPORTS CAN, IN THE LONG RUN, BE PAID FOR ONLY WITH EXPORTS, AND PRODUCTIVITY IS HELD TO BE FAULTY BECAUSE IT DOESN'T TURN OUT THE EXPORTABLE PRODUCTS AT A PRICE AT WHICH THEY CAN BE SOLD. IT IS ANOTHER WAY OF SAYING, ACCORDING TO THE ECONOMISTS, THAT THE NATION IS LIVING BEYOND ITS MEANS AND THAT IT IS NOT PAYING THE FULL BILL FOR ITS STANDARD OF LIVING WHICH, UNDER THE LABOR GOVERNMENT, EMBRACES MANY COSTLY SOCIAL SERVICES.

IT COMES BACK TO PRODUCTIVITY, CRIPPS TOLD COMMONS, AND THE POWER OF THE TREASURY HAS BEEN THROWN INTO AN EFFORT TO INCREASE THE EFFICIENCY OF BRITISH FACTORIES.

UNITED NATIONS

BY MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, AUG. 9-(AP)-U.N. SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE HAS ADVANCED A SIX-POINT PROGRAM TO STRENGTHEN THE WORLD PEACE ORGANIZATION AND REDUCE THE DANGERS OF WAR.

THE PROGRAM IS OUTLINED IN LIE'S FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT WHICH WAS PUBLISHED LAST NIGHT. THE REPORT, BY FAR THE MOST OPTIMISTIC YET WRITTEN BY THE SECRETARY-GENERAL, SAID THE FEAR OF WAR HAS DEFINITELY DECREASED SINCE HIS LAST REPORT.

LIE CALLED THE PAST 12 MONTHS "A YEAR OF PROGRESS TOWARDS A MORE PEACEFUL WORLD." BIGGEST FACTOR IN THE IMPROVED ATMOSPHERE, HE SAID, WAS PEACEFUL WORLD." BIGGEST FACTOR IN THE IMPROVED ATMOSPHERE, HE SAID, WAS THE LIFTING OF THE BERLIN BLOCKADE.

AT THE TOP OF HIS 6-POINT PROGRAM WAS CONTINUED CONSULTATION AND CONCILIATION AMONG THE BIG POWERS. HE OFFERED TO HELP BRING THE EAST AND WEST TOGETHER IN SUCH OUTSTANDING WORLD PROBLEMS AS THE GERMAN, AUSTRIAN AND JAPANESE PEACE TREATIES, ATOMIC CONTROL AND CREATION OF AN INTERNATIONAL POLICE FORCE.

"IT IS ESSENTIAL," HE SAID, "FOR THE GREAT POWERS TO KEEP IN CONTACT, TO TALK THINGS OVER, AND SERIOUSLY TO NEGOTIATE WITH ONE ANOTHER."

HIS OTHER POINTS DEALT PRIMARILY WITH CONTROVERSIES BEFORE THE U.N. SUCH AS THE DISPOSITION OF ITALY'S PRE-WAR COLONIES, THE ADMISSION OF NEW MEMBERS AND THE CREATION OF A 300-MAN U. N. GUARD FORCE TO AID PEACE MISSIONS ABROAD.

ONE OF THE HOTTEST ISSUES WAS THE ITALIAN COLONIES QUESTION WHICH COMES UP IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN SEPTEMBER. LIE JUMPED INTO THE BIG POWER SQUABBLE WITH A PROPOSAL THAT THE COLONIES BE PLACED UNDER DIRECT U.N. TRUSTEESHIP, WITH A SINGLE ADMINISTRATOR RESPONSIBLE DIRECTLY TO THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL.

RUSSIA HAS INSISTED ON A DIRECT TRUSTEESHIP OVER THE COLONIES WITH A COUNCIL OR COMMISSION DOING THE ADMINISTERING. THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN HAVE PUSHED A PLAN WHICH WOULD PLACE THE COLONIES UNDER TRUSTEESHIP, WITH INDIVIDUAL TERRITORIES BEING ADMINISTERED SEPARATELY BY BRITAIN, ITALY AND FRANCE.

ON THE QUESTION OF ADMISSION OF NEW MEMBERS, LIE URGED THE ADMISSION OF ALL FOURTEEN COUNTRIES WHOSE APPLICATIONS ARE AWAITING APPROVAL. SOME OF THESE COUNTRIES HAVE BEEN KEPT OUT BY SOVIET VETOES AND SOME BY OPPOSITION FROM THE WESTERN MAJORITY ON THE SECURITY COUNCIL.

THE CREATION OF THE GUARD FORCE IS LIE'S OWN IDEA. HE IS PRESSING FOR ACTION DESPITE SOVIET CHARGES THAT THE PROPOSAL VIOLATES THE U.N. CHARTER. THE UNITED STATES HAS GIVEN ITS SUPPORT TO THE PLAN.

LIE'S OTHER TWO POINTS ARE CONCERNED WITH ECONOMIC PROBLEMS.

FIRST, HE URGED THE U.N. TO GIVE PRIORITY TO THE MIDDLE EAST IN ITS PROGRAM OF ASSISTANCE FOR ECONOMICALLY BACKWARD AREAS.

SECONDLY, HE CALLED ON MEMBER NATIONS TO TAKE FULL ADVANTAGE OF THE MACHINERY OF THE U.N. AND ITS SPECIALIZED AGENCIES IN TACKLING WORLD ECONOMIC PROBLEMS. IN THIS CONNECTION, HE EXPRESSED SATISFACTION WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S PROGRAM OF WORKING THROUGH THE U.N. TO AID BACKWARD AREAS.

LAKE SUCCESS, AUG. 9-(AP)-THE FIVE BIG POWERS AND CANADA TODAY HELD THE FIRST OF A SERIES OF SECRET TALKS ON ATOMIC CONTROL.
THE MEETING WAS IN COMPLIANCE WITH A RECENT RESOLUTION OF THE U.N. ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION WHICH CONCLUDED THAT IT WAS USELESS TO CONTINUE THE WORK OF THE 11-NATION COMMISSION UNLESS THE BIG POWERS COULD FIND A BASIS FOR AGREEMENT.
THE MEETING WAS DIFFERENT FROM THE ORDINARY CLOSED SESSION IN THAT U.N. PRESS OFFICERS WERE EXCLUDED. ONLY TWO REPRESENTATIVES FROM EACH OF THE SIX COUNTRIES WERE PERMITTED IN THE CONFERENCE ROOM.

LAKE SUCCESS-(AP)-RUSSIA WILL NOT TAKE PART IN THE U.N. SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE ON THE CONSERVATION AND UTILIZATION OF RESOURCES, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY.
A U.N. ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THE SOVIET UNION HAD NOTIFIED ACTING U.N. SECRETARY-GENERAL BYBON PRICE THAT RUSSIAN SCIENTISTS WOULD NOT ATTEND THE TALKS, ORIGINALLY PROPOSED BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN.
THE ONLY EASTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRY WHICH HAS INDICATED IT WOULD SEND REPRESENTATIVES TO THE CONFERENCE SO FAR IS YUGOSLAVIA, WHICH AT PRESENT IS AT ODDS WITH THE COMINFORM COUNTRIES.
MORE THAN 550 SCIENTISTS, ENGINEERS, ADMINISTRATORS AND EXPERTS FROM 50 COUNTRIES AND TERRITORIES HAVE ACCEPTED INVITATIONS TO ATTEND AUG.17, THE U.N. SAID. ABOUT 300 OF THESE WILL REPRESENT THE U.S.

NEW YORK, AUG 9-(AP)-FEDERAL GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS TODAY BARRED 14 GREEKS FROM SAILING ON THE POLISH LINER BATORY--THE VESSEL ON WHICH COMMUNIST GERHART EISLER ESCAPED LAST MAY.
IMMIGRATION SERVICE OFFICIALS WOULD GIVE NO REASON FOR THE ACTION.
THE 14 PERSONS, MOST OF THEM YOUNG, WELL-DRESSED MEN WITH LOTS OF BAGGAGE, WERE HALTED AT THE GANGPLANK AN HOUR BEFORE THE BATORY SAILED FOR EUROPE. THEY WERE TAKEN TO IMMIGRATION SERVICE OFFICES. ALL HAD GREEK PASSPORTS.
EISLER STOWED AWAY ON THE LINER AFTER JUMPING BAIL ON TWO CONVICTIONS IN THIS COUNTRY. HE HAD BEEN CONVICTED OF PASSPORT FRAUD AND CONTEMPT OF CONGRESS.

NEW HYDE PARK, N.Y., AUG. 9-(AP)-AN EX-GI, RELEASED BY THE ARMY AFTER A SLAP ON THE WRIST, WAS BACK WITH HIS FOLKS HERE TODAY BUT STILL DETERMINED TO RETURN TO GERMANY AND BECOME A CITIZEN THERE.
HIS MOTHER AND SISTER AND BROTHERS HOPED DANIEL MCCARTHY, 22, WOULD CHANGE HIS MIND AFTER SOME HOME-COOKED MEALS AND A LITTLE TIME SPENT LIVING THE LIFE OF A LONG ISLAND SUBURBANITE.
MCCARTHY, WHO WAS EJECTED FROM GERMANY FOR ILLEGAL ENTRY, ARRIVED IN A TRANSPORT AT STATEN ISLAND YESTERDAY AND WAS TURNED LOOSE BY THE ARMY.
HE WAS MET AT FORT HANCOCK, N.J., BY HIS WIDOWED MOTHER, CATHARINE, AND A BROTHER, EUGENE, 24-YEAR-OLD ARMY VETERAN, WHO DROVE THERE TO MEET HIM.
HIS MOTHER, SAYING SHE WAS CERTAIN THAT THINGS WOULD WORK OUT ALL RIGHT, PUT AN ARM AROUND THE SON WHO HAD WANTED TO RENOUNCE HIS AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP AND BECOME A GERMAN.
"DAN IS GOING TO GET A GOOD JOB AT HOME," SHE SAID, "AND HAVE A LOT OF FUN IN THE UNITED STATES WHICH WE ALL KNOW HE LOVES."
BUT DAN HAD DIFFERENT IDEAS TO DISCUSS AFTER HE ARRIVED HOME, WHERE ANOTHER BROTHER, JAMES, 20, AND HIS SISTER, JOAN, 23, WERE WAITING.
"I EXPECT TO GO BACK TO GERMANY AS SOON AS I CAN SCRAPE UP ENOUGH MONEY," DAN TOLD A NEWSMAN. "I HOPE IT IS SOON.
"WHEN I GO BACK, I'LL BECOME A GERMAN CITIZEN. BUT AS LONG AS I REMAIN HERE, I'LL RETAIN MY U.S. CITIZENSHIP.
"I HAPPEN TO LIKE GERMANY AND THE PEOPLE THERE.
"I HAVEN'T ANY IDEA WHERE I'LL GET A JOB OR WHAT KIND OF WORK I'LL DO WHILE I'M HERE."
THE EX-GI SAID HE HAD "CERTAIN OFFERS" OF EMPLOYMENT IN GERMANY. HE SAID THERE WAS NO ROMANCE CONNECTED WITH HIS DETERMINATION TO GET BACK TO GERMANY--LEGALLY THIS TIME.
MCCARTHY, WHO SERVED WITH THE ARMY OF OCCUPATION IN BERLIN FROM 1945 TO 1947, SLIPPED BACK INTO GERMANY AS A CIVILIAN LAST SPRING AFTER HIS DISCHARGE. HE WAS PICKED UP IN THE AMERICAN ZONE EARLY IN JUNE AFTER HE APPEARED IN FRANKFURT AND SAID HE WANTED TO GIVE UP HIS AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP.
CONSULAR OFFICIALS TRIED TO DISSUADE HIM. HIS MOTHER TALKED TO HIM BY TRANSATLANTIC PHONE WITHOUT AVAIL.
TRIED BY AN AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT COURT IN GERMANY, HE WAS SENTENCED TO EIGHT MONTHS. HE WAS RELEASED LATER ON ORDER OF DR. JAMES R. NEWMAN, DIRECTOR OF MILITARY GOVERNMENT IN HESSE, GERMANY.
DR. NEWMAN SAID "HIS OFFENSE WAS NOT ONE OF CRIMINAL INCLINATIONS, BUT RATHER YOUTHFUL IMPETUOUSNESS AND THOUGHTLESSNESS."

SECOND LEAD COMMUNISTS
NEW YORK, AUG. 9-(AP)-THE COMMUNIST CONSPIRACY TRIAL RESUMED BRIEFLY THIS AFTERNOON AFTER A DOCTOR REPORTED THERE WAS NOTHING SERIOUSLY WRONG WITH A DEFENDANT WHO CLAIMED TO BE ILL.
HOWEVER, THE TRIAL WAS HALTED AGAIN TEMPORARILY AFTER THE DEFENDANT, HENRY WINSTON, MADE ANOTHER COMPLAINT.
THE TRIAL WAS RESUMED AT THE REGULAR AFTERNOON TIME DESPITE DEFENSE PROTESTS. ATTORNEY HARRY SACHER TOLD FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD R. MEDINA THAT WINSTON WAS IN NEED OF A DAY'S REST.
WINSTON HAD SAID HE WAS SUFFERING FROM A HEART AILMENT. MEDINA ADJOURNED THE MORNING SESSION AND HAD THE NEGRO DEFENDANT EXAMINED BY DR. SAMUEL J. HALL OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE.
AS THE AFTERNOON SESSION OPENED, MEDINA SAID HALL'S REPORT "IS THAT THERE IS NO REASON WHY WE SHOULDN'T GO AHEAD THIS AFTERNOON." THE PHYSICIAN REPORTED, THE JUDGE SAID, THAT AN ELECTROCARDIOGRAM SHOWED ACCTION OF WINSTON'S HEART TO BE NORMAL "EXCEPT FOR AN OCCASIONAL EXTRA BEAT WHICH IS NOT SIGNIFICANT."
WINSTON'S ATTORNEY SOUGHT COURT PERMISSION TO BRING IN A PRIVATE PHYSICIAN TO EXAMINE THE NEGRO DEFENDANT, ORGANIZATIONAL SECRETARY OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY. WINSTON, ONE OF 11 DEFENDANTS, IS IN THE FEDERAL HOUSE OF DETENTION WHERE HE WAS REMANDED FOR THE DURATION OF THE TRIAL LAST JUNE 3 AFTER HE WAS ADJUDGED IN CONTEMPT OF COURT.
JUDGE MEDINA TOLD THE DEFENSE COUNSEL HE HAD NO AUTHORITY TO PERMIT A PRIVATE PHYSICIAN TO SEE WINSTON, U.S. ATTORNEY JOHN F. X. MC GOHEY TOLD REPORTERS.
WINSTON WAS SENT TO THE MARINE HOSPITAL FOR EXAMINATION AT THE SUGGESTION OF THE WARDEN OF THE HOUSE OF DETENTION.
WINSTON, ONE OF THE THREE DEFENDANTS SERVING A JAIL SENTENCE FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT, WAS SO ADJUDGED AFTER HE PROTESTED IN COURT A 30-DAY JAIL SENTENCE IMPOSED ON JOHN GATES, ANOTHER DEFENDANT.
WHEN COURT IS NOT IN SESSION, THE THREE ARE CONFINED TO CELLS IN THE U.S. COURT HOUSE OR THE FEDERAL HOUSE OF DETENTION.
YESTERDAY MC GOHEY, THE GOVERNMENT PROSECUTOR, USED DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE TO SUPPORT HIS CHARGE THAT SECRET PARTY SCHOOLS HAVE EMPLOYED TEXTBOOKS ON VIOLENT REVOLUTION SINCE THE WAR.

WASHINGTON, -7& 9-(AP)-FOUR OFFICERS OF A CIO-UNITED ELECTRICAL WORKERS UNION IN THE PITTSBURGH AREA TESTIFIED TODAY THAT COMMUNISTS ARE ACTIE THERE BUT DO NOT DOMINATE THE LOCAL.

CHARLES COPELAND, BUSINESS AGENT FOR LOCAL NO. 601, WHICH INCLUDES THE WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC PLANT, TOLD THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE THAT OF APPROXIMATELY 13,500 MEMBERS OF THE LOCAL, ONLY 200 TO 300 SUPPORT THE LOCAL'S "LEFT WING."

ALL OF THESE SO-CALLED LEFT WINGERS ARE NOT COMMUNISTS, HE SAID, BUT THEY FOLLOW THE COMMUNIST PARTY LINE IN MANY MATTERS AND ARE ACTIVE IN GETTING WORKERS WHO THINK THEIR WAY TO SHOW UP AT UNION MEETINGS.

ALL FOUR WITNESSES--THEOTHERS WERE WILLIAM H. PEELER, DIVISION STEWARD AND MEMBER OF THE LOCAL'S EXECUTIVE BOARD; BLAIR SEESE, CHAIRMAN OF THE SICK AND ACCIDENT COMMITTEE, AND STANLEY E. GLASS, RECORDING SECRETARY--MENTIONED SEVERAL MAMBERS OF THE LOCAL WHO, THEY SAID, WERE LOOKED UPON AS COMMUNISTS OR AT LEAST AS CLOSE FOLLOWERS OF THE PARTY'S LINE.

MENTIONED IN THIS CATEGORY WERE THOMAS J. FITZPATRICK, CHIEF STEWARD AND FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE LOCAL; FRANK PANZINO, ASSISTANT CHIEF STEWARD, AND NATHAN ALBERTS AND MARSHAL DOUGHERTY, MEMBERS OF THE LOCAL.

THE WITNESSES SAID THEY BASED THEIR OPINIONS UPON THE ACTIVITIES OF THE PERSONS NAMED, SUCH AS ATTENDANCE AT COMMUNIST PARTY MEETINGS, SOLICITING COMMUNIST MEMBERSHIPS OR URGING ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS THAT SUPPORTED THE COMMUNIST PARTY LINE.

SEESE SAID THAT FITZPATRICK ON ONE OCCASION "PRIVATELY ADMITTED TO MI THAT HE WAS A MEMBER OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY."

OF TODAY'S FOUR UNION WITNESSES, ALL OF WHOM ARE IDENTIFIED WITH THE LOCAL'S RIGHT WING, COPELAND SAID HE HAD BEEN A MEMBER OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY FROM 1943 TO 1945, SEESE SAID HE SIGNED AN APPLICATION BLANK AT ONE TIME BUT NEVER HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH THE PRTY, AND THE OTHERS SAID THEY HAD BEEN APPROACHED NUMEROUS TIMES BUT NEVER JOINED.

COPELAND SAID HE LEFT THE PARTY WHEN HE BECAME CONVINCED IT COULD NOT HELP AMERICAN WORKERS AND THAT HE NOW CONSIDERS EVERY MEMBER OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY AS A TRAITOR TO HIS COUNTRY.

GLASS AGREED WITH THE OTHERS THAT THE LOCAL IS NOT UNDER COMMUNIST DOMINATION BUT SAID HE FELT "ABSOLUTELY" THE UNION'S DISTRICT 6, WHICH INCLUDES WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA AND WEST VIRGINIA, IS NOW UNDER COMMUNIST CONTRO).

SUBPOENAED TO TESTIFY TOMORROW ARE FITZPATRICK AND PANZINO, MENTIONED IN TODAY'S TESTIMONY, AND THOMAS QUINN AND ROBERT WHISNER (CQ). ALL ARE MEMBERS OF THE LOCAL.

IN A TELEGRAM TO THE COMMITTEE THESE FOUR SAID THEY WERE OPPOSED TO APPEARING TOMORROW BECAUSE THEY FELT THE HEARING WAS HURTING WAGE NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN THE UNION AND WESTINGHOUSE. THERE WAS NO INDICATION, HOWEVER, THAT THEY WOULD IGNORE THE SUBPOENAS.

COPELAND, IN THIS REGARD, TOLD THE COMMITTEE HE COULDN'T SEE HOW THE HEARING COULD HURT NEGOTIATIONS BECAUSE NEGOTIATIONS WERE BROKEN OFF ON JULY 21 AND THAT NO DATE HAS BEEN SET FOR THEIR RESUMPTION.

(500) COMMUNISTS

WASHINGTON, AUG 9-(AP)-A SELF-DESCRIBED FORMER COMMUNIST PARTY EXECUTIVE TOLD THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE TODAY THAT THE COMMUNIST PARTY HAS SPENT LARGE SUMS TRYING TO GAIN INFLUENCE IN THE AMERICAN LABOR MOVEMENT.

THE WITNESS IDENTIFIED HIMSELF AS JOSEPH ZACK KORNFEDER OF DETROIT. HE SAID HE WAS A GRADUATE OF THE LENIN SCHOOL OF MOSCOW AND, AMONG OTHER JOBS, WAS AT ONE TIME A MEMBER OF THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF THE UNITED STATES.

HE WAS A MEMBER OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY FROM 1919 TO 1934, HE SAID.

HE WAS CALLED AS THE COMMITTEE BEGAN HEARINGS ON ALLEGED COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF THE CIO UNITED ELECTRICAL WORKERS UNION IN THE PITTSBURGH AREA. LOUIS J. RUSSELL, SENIOR INVESTIGATOR FOR THE COMMITTEE, SAID THE INVESTIGATION CONCERNS LOCAL 601 OF THE UNITED ELECTRICAL WORKERS AT THE WESTINGHOUSE PLANT IN PITTSBURGH.

RUSSELL SAID THE FIRST INVESTIGATION OF THE UNION WAS MADE IN 1946 AND THAT THE PRESENT INQUIRY WAS BEGUN IN APRIL OF THIS YEAR.

RUSS NIXON, WASHINGTON REPRESENTATIVE OF THE UNION, CONTENDED IN A STATEMENT TO NEWSMEN, HOWEVER, THAT THE HEARING WAS HASTILY CALLED AND WAS AIMED AT INFLUENCING THE ELECTIONS OF AUG. 14 WHEN LOCAL 601 WILL SELECT DELEGATES TO NEXT MONTH'S ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE CIO ELECTRICAL WORKERS.

THE STATEMENT ADDED THAT "UE MEMBERS HAVE NOTHING BUT CONTEMPT FOR THE ACCUSATION THAT THEY AND THEIR UNION ARE SPIES, TRAITORS AND SABOTUERS AND THAT GOVERNMENT WORK BEING DONE BY WESTINGHOUSE IS UNSAFE IN THEIR HANDS."

KORNFEDER, WHO SAID HE ALSO AT ONE TIME WAS REPRESENTATIVE OF THE COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL IN COLOMBIA AND VENEZUELA, DID NOT MENTION THE ELECTRICAL WORKERS IN HIS 24-PAGE STATEMENT BUT GAVE A DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF WHAT HE SAID ARE THE INFILTRATION METHODS OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY.

HE SAID HE KNEW FROM PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE THAT THE LABOR UNION ACTIVITIES DEPARTMENT OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY AT MOSCOW "HAD CHARGE OF ALL THE STRIKE STRATEGY TO BE FOLLOWED BY UNIONS CONTROLLED BY THE COMMUNIST PARTY."

"IT HAD CHARGE OF DECIDING WHERE STRIKES WERE TO BE CALLED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE DESIGNS OF MOSCOW AND HOW THESE STRIKES WERE TO BE UTILIZED," HE SAID.

"SUBSIDIES FOR LABOR UNION ACTIVITIES HAD TO PASS THROUGH THIS DEPARTMENT. I WAS CONSULTED ON SOME OF THESE SUBSIDIES ON ACTIVITIES IN THE UNITED STATES, AND KNOW THAT THE ACTIVITIES IN THE MARITIME FIELD, IN THE MINING FIELD, AND ACTIVITIES AMONGST RAILROAD BROTHERHOODS RECEIVED SPECIAL CONSIDERATION. IN ALL OF THESE FIELDS SUBSIDIES WERE CONTINUOUS.

"IN ADDITION TO THE SUBSIDIES FOR ACTIVITIES IN CERTAIN INDUSTRIES, THERE WAS A GENERAL SUBSIDY FOR THE TRADE UNITY LEAGUE, THEN HEADED BY WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.

"I REMEMBER ESPECIALLY ONE DISCUSSION RELATING TO A SUBSIDY FOR ACTIVITIES INSIDE THE UNITED MINE WORKERS, HEADED BY JOHN L.LEWIS."

X X X

"THE COMPLAINT WAS THAT LARGE SUBSIDIES FORMERLY GRANTED HAD NOT BROUGHT THE RESULTS EXPECTED, AND THEY WANTED MY OPINION X X X ON A NEW REQUEST FOR $50,000. THE AMOUNT WAS CUT IN HALF."

THE WITNESS ADDED THAT "MOSCOW HAD A GREAT CONTEMPT FOR THE ABILITIES OF AMERICAN COMMUNISTS AND, FOR THAT, REASON, THEY ALWAYS TOOK SPECIAL ORGANIZATION MEASURES TO SEE TO IT THAT THEY GOT AT LEAST A PART OF THEIR MONEY'S WORTH."

FRANK S. TAVENNER, COMMITTEE COUNSEL, SAID OTHER WITNESSES WILL INCLUDE OFFICERS OF THE WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC CORPORATION'S LOCAL IN PITTSBURGH.

WASHINGTON, AUG.9-(AP)-THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE TODAY CALLED A SURPRISE WITNESS IN ITS INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF THE CIO-UNITED ELECTRICAL WORKERS UNION.

FRANK S.TAVENNER, COMMITTEE COUNSEL, IDENTIFIED THE WITNESS AS JOSEPH ZACK KORNFEDER OF DETROIT.

JUST WHAT CONNECTION KORNFEDER HAS WITH THE COMMITTEE'S INQUIRY INTO THE ELECTRICAL UNION, TAVENNER WOULD NOT SAY. THAT, HE TOLD NEWSMEN, WILL COME OUT DURING TWO DAYS OF HEARINGS STARTING TODAY (9:30 A.M. EST).

TAVENNER SAID OTHER WITNESSES WILL INCLUDE OFFICERS OF THE WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC CORPORATION'S LOCAL IN PITTSBURGH.

AMONG THEM, COMMITTEE SOURCES SAID, ARE STANLEY GLASS, SECRETARY OF THE WESTINGHOUSE LOCAL; THOMAS A.FITZPATRICK, CHIEF STEWARD AND FORMER PRESIDENT; FRANK PANZINO, ASSISTANT CHIEF STEWARD; CHARLES COPELAND, BUSINESS AGENT; ROBERT WISHNER, FACTORY SERVICE SUBDIVISION STEWARD; WILLIAM PEELER, EXECUTIVE BOARD MEMBER, AND BLAIR SEESE, CHAIRMAN OF THE SICK AND ACCIDENT COMMITTEE.

(300) WASHINGTON,AUG. 9-(AP)-ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG SOUGHT TODAY TO CLEAR UP SOME OF THE MYSTERY PLACED BY THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE AROUND A "MANILA ENVELOPE" HE RECEIVED FROM A JOSEPH BERNSTEIN.

THE HOUSE COMMITTEE HAD SAID BERSTEIN WAS SUSPECTED OF ENGAGING IN SOVIET ESPIONAGE.

IN A REPORT ON JULY 25, THE COMMITTEE SAID MRS.MARY JANE KEENEY, A UNITED NATIONS EMPLOYE, RETURNED FROM EUROPE ON MARCH 9, 1946, AND WAS SEEN TO PASS A LARGE MANILA ENVELOPE TO BERNSTEIN, WHO PRESUMABLY TURNED IT OVER TO TRACHTENBERG. THE ENVELOPE, THE COMMITTEE ADDED, WAS PRESUMED TO CONTAIN "AN IMPORTANT WILL FURNISHED BY A FIRST POLITICAL DEPUTY WHO HAD BEEN SHOT DOWN BY THE GERMANS."

THERE WAS NOTHING AT ALL MYSTERIOUS ABOUT THE ENVELOPE, TRACHTENBERG EXPLAINED IN A LETTER TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. TRACHTENBERG, EDITOR OF INTERNATIONAL PUBLISHERS OF NEW YORK, SAID:

"THE 'IMPORTANT WILL' REFERRED TO WAS THE TEXT OF A BRIEF AUTOBIOGRAPHY WHICH GABRIEL PERI, FOR MANY YEARS A COMMUNIST MEMBER OF THE FRENCH CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES AND FOREIGN EDITOR OF L'HUMANITE, WROTE BEFORE HE WAS EXECUTED BY THE NAZIS ON DECEMBER 15, 1941, WHILE HE WAS IN PRISON AS A HOSTAGE.

"I FIRST HEARD ABOUT IT WHEN AN ARTICLE IN TRIBUTE TO PERI X X X WAS PUBLISHED IN THE MAGAZINE NEW MASSES IN JANUARY, 1945. AS EDITOR OF INTERNATIONAL PUBLISHERS I WAS INTERESTED X X X AND ASKED SEVERAL PEOPLE--AMONG THEM MR.JOSEPH BERNSTEIN, WELL KNOWN TRANSLATOR AND SPECIALIST IN FRENCH LITERATURE, WHO HAD TRANSLATED SEVERAL BOOKS FOR INTERNATIONAL PUBLISHERS--TO TRY TO OBTAIN FOR ME THE FRENCH TEXT.

"WARTIME CONDITIONS MADE COMMUNICATIONS DIFFICULT, AND IT WAS NOT UNTIL THE SPRING OF 1946 THAT MR.BERNSTEIN BROUGHT TO MY OFFICE A COPY OF PERI'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY (ENTITLED A 'TESTAMENT') PUBLISHED BY THE FRENCH PUBLISHING HOUSE OF THE RESISTANCE MOVEMENT X X X."

TRACHTENBERG SAID THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY WAS PUBLISHED AS A PAMPHLET AND HAS BEEN WIDELY SOLD AND IS STILL IN PRINT.

"ALL WE WANT IS THE MONEY AND THE AUTHORIZATION TO DO THE JOB," JOHNSON SAID. IN ANSWER TO A QUESTION BY SENATOR PEPPER (D-FLA), HE SAID REGARDLESS OF WHICH PLAN IS USED THE ULTIMATE COST TO THE TAXPAYER WOULD BE THE SAME. WASH-ARMS-XXX EUROPE

"IT IS OBVIOUS," VANDENBERG SAID, "THAT YOU WANT TO LOAD THE FIRST YEAR AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE AND THEN BE ABLE TO SHOW LOWER AMOUNTS IN THE FOLLOWING YEAR."

VANDENBERG SAID THAT HE UNDERSTANDS THE PRESIDENT'S BUDGET FOR THE CURRENT FISCAL YEAR CARRIES ABOUT $400,000,000 (M) FOR MILITARY AID.

"THE SUGGESTION I MAKE IS TO BRING THIS PROGRAM (FOR WESTERN EUROPE) ALMOST IN THE PRESENT BUDGET," HE SAID.

SENATOR RUSSELL (D-GA) TURNED TO RUSSIA. HE SAID CONGRESS HAS BEEN TOLD THAT RUSSIA IS MAINTAINING A STANDING ARMY THAT IS THE LARGEST IN THE WORLD DESPITE ITS HEAVY LOSSES DURING THE WAR.

"IS THERE ANY LIMIT TO THE NUMBER OF MEN RUSSIA CAN KEEP IN HER ARMIES WITHOUT UPSETTING HER ECONOMY?" HE ASKED.

JOHNSON LEANED BACK AND PUFFED ON HIS PIPE BRIEFLY BEFORE ANSWERING.

"WE HAVE FIGURES," HE SAID, "BUT WE PREFER THAT THIS BE BROUGHT OUT IN EXECUTIVE SESSION."

JOHNSON, IN ARGUING FOR THE $1,450,000,000 (B) FIGURE, SAID:

WASH-ARMS-XXX SHIPTHRU

SENATOR DULLES (R-NY) SUPPORTED THE SURPLUS LIMITATION MOVE.

HE ADDED THAT HE HAS AN OPEN MIND ABOUT THE TOTAL AMOUNT OF ARMS AID. THAT POINT HAS BECOME THE CENTER OF A HOT FIGHT WITHIN THE SENATE GROUPS. IT WAS EXPECTED, TOO, TO OCCUPY MUCH OF THE TIME OF THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE AS IT STARTED FINAL WORK ON THE BILL IN A CLOSED SESSION TODAY.

DULLES SAID HE REMAINS TO BE SHOWN, HOWEVER, THAT THE FULL AMOUNT IS NEEDED. CHAIRMAN CONNALLY (D-TEX) OF THE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE, SAID HE THINKS THE ADMINISTRATION WILL STAND PAT ON THE $1,450,000,000(B) TOTAL.

DULLES AND SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH) HAVE BEEN INSISTING THAT THE PROGRAM MUST BE KEPT STRICTLY ON A STOP-GAP BASIS UNTIL TREATY SIGNERS CAN GET A COMMITTEE INTO ACTION TO PLAN MUTUAL DEFENSE.

VANDENBERG AND ACHESON DISAGREED YESTERDAY ON WHETHER THE ADMINISTRATION BILL PROJECTED SUCH A PROGRAM. VANDENBERG SAID IT BY-PASSES THIS COUNTRY'S NORTH ATLANTIC ALLIES BECAUSE THE UNITED STATES DECIDES ALONE WHAT EUROPE NEEDS.

ACHESON STUCK TO HIS CONTENTION THAT THE PROGRAM MERELY IS PRELIMINARY AND WILL BE FITTED INTO ANY OVER-ALL DEFENSE PLAN.

THE COMMITTEE IS LOOKING INTO THE ALLEGED USE OF INFLUENCE ON FEDERAL OFFICIALS AND THE ACTIVITIES OF "FIVE PER CENT MEN" WHO CHARGE FEES FOR GETTING GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS. THESE OTHER DEVELOPMENTS OCCURRED: WASHINGTON-5-PERCENTERS-XXX YESTERDAY

1. THE HOUSING WITNESSES DREW INTO THE TANFORAN CASE JOHN MARAGON, ONETIME SHOE-SHINER, PRESENT-DAY WASHINGTON GO-GETTER, AND FOR SEVERAL YEARS A FREQUENT CALLER IN VAUGHAN'S OFFICE IN THE WHITE HOUSE EAST WING.

2. SEN.MUNDT (R-SD) DEMANDED THAT VAUGHAN BE CALLED TO THE WITNESS STAND IF HE DOESN'T VOLUNTEER TO COME. VAUGHAN COULD NOT BE REACHED IMMEDIATELY FOR COMMENT.

THE MILITARY AIDE, IN A RECENT BRUSH WITH REPORTERS AT WASHINGTON'S UNION STATION, DECLARED HE KNEW OF 300 PERSONS ENGAGED IN CONTRACT OPERATIONS IN WASHINGTON.

3. A FORMER HOUSING OFFICIAL, WILLIAM MAHER, TESTIFIED HE REGARDED JAMES V.HUNT, THE CENTRAL FIGURE IN THE SENATE PROBE, AS AN UNOFFICIAL WHITE HOUSE LIAISON. HUNT TOOK A HAND IN THE TANFORAN CASE, HE SAID.

4. FROM STILL ANOTHER WITNESS, THE SENATORS RECEIVED EVIDENCE THAT GENERAL VAUGHAN TOLD HUNT HE WAS "DAMN SORE" BECAUSE A TANFORAN DELEGATION GOT A "BRUSHOFF" AT THE HOUSING AGENCY.

HUNT, WHO MAY TESTIFY IF HE RECOVERS RAPIDLY ENOUGH FROM A LEG OPERATION, IS THE MAINSPRING OF THE "FIVE PERCENT" FURORE. PUBLISHED REPORTS OF HIS ACTIVITIES LAUNCHED THE SENATE PROBE AND CAUSED THE ARMY TEMPORARILY TO SUSPEND TWO MAJOR GENERALS.

MORE

A MASSACHUSETTS MANUFACTURER YESTERDAY TESTIFIED HE PAID HUNT $1,000 TO GET HIM GOVERNMENT ORDERS. THE WITNESS, PAUL GRINDLE, SAID HUNT DESCRIBED HIMSELF AS ONE OF VAUGHAN'S "CLOSEST FRIENDS" AND AS BOASTING: "I HAVE ONLY ONE THING TO SELL AND THAT IS INFLUENCE."

TODAY WOODS SAID, "IN SOCIAL GATHERINGS WE CALLED HIM (HUNT) 'KINGMAKER.'" THAT, HE EXPLAINED, WAS BECAUSE HUNT CLAIMED CREDIT FOR WOODS' ADVANCEMENT IN THE GOVERNMENT.

A MEMORANDUM SUBPOENAED FROM HUNT'S FILES PICTURED HIM AS A GO-BETWEEN AND "PEACEMAKER" BETWEEN VAUGHAN AND THE EXPEDITER'S OFFICE ON THE TANFORAN CASE. AT THAT TIME--OCTOBER, 1947--THE OFFICE WAS HEADED BY FRANK CREEDON, WOODS' PREDECESSOR.

THE MEMO PURPORTED TO BE THE GIST OF A TELEPHONE CALL BETWEEN VAUGHAN AND HUNT. IT WAS READ INTO THE RECORD BY FRANCIS D.FLANAGAN, ATTORNEY ON THE SENATE COMMITTEE STAFF.

IT DEALT WITH A MEETING BETWEEN MAHER AND OTHER HOUSING OFFICIALS AND THREE MEN REPRESENTING THE RACETRACK. THE TRACK SPOKESMEN WERE IDENTIFIED BY THE HOUSING OFFICIALS AS A "MR.MORI," A "MR.ORLANDO," AND A "MR.MARAGON"--THE LATTER BEING FINALLY IDENTIFIED AS JOHN MARAGON.

VAUGHAN WAS REPRESENTED IN THE HUNT MEMO AS "REMARKING WITH VEHEMENCE, THAT 'YOUR (HUNT'S) FRIEND CREEDON IS A FINE GUY,' MEANING BY HIS TONE, THE OPPOSITE."

THE MEMO WENT ON: VAUGHAN TOLD HUNT HE HAD SENT THREE MEN TO SEE EXPEDITER CREEDON "AFTER ARRANGING THE MEETING PERSONALLY BY PHONE." BUT CREEDON TURNED THEM OVER TO A GROUP "HEADED BY A LAWYER NAMED MAYER' AND THE TRACK PEOPLE GOT A "FINE BRUSHOFF."

VAUGHAN EXPLAINED THAT THE GROUP HAD RECENTLY PURCHASED THE TANFORAN TRACK, WHICH HAD BEEN IN TROUBLE FOR ALLEGEDLY VIOLATING CONSTRUCTION REGULATIONS.

"THE NEW OWNERS TO WHOM GENERAL VAUGHAN REFERRED (THE MEMO CONTINUED), WANTED NOW TO COMPLETE SOME UNFINISHED BUILDINGS AND DO SOME REPAIR WORK. HE SAID THESE PEOPLE HAD NO PART IN THE PREVIOUS TROUBLE AND ASKED THE HOUSING EXPEDITER FOR PERMISSION TO SPEND ABOUT $75,000 TO PROTECT THEIR BUILDINGS.

"X X X CREEDON'S PEOPLE WERE NOT HELPFUL AND IN FACT, HE (VAUGHAN) WAS TOLD THAT THEY WERE SARCASTIC AND OFFICIOUS. HE QUOTED ONE OHE (OFFICE OF HOUSING EXPEDITER) MAN WHO ASKED THEM, "WHAT DO YOU WANT US TO DO, LEAD YOU AROUND BY THE HAND?' AS AN EXAMPLE X X X.

GENERAL VAUGHAN SAID THERE WAS NO EXCUSE FOR GOVERNMENT PEOPLE TREATING CITIZENS IN THIS MANNER AND HE WAS DAMN SORE AT CREEDON FOR PERMITTING IT."

THE DOCUMENT CONTINUED: HUNT, ANXIOUS TO AVOID ANY ILL FEELING "BETWEEN THE WHITE HOUSE AND A GOOD AGENCY" SAID HE WOULD TALK TO CREEDON AND MAHER "TO SEE IF I COULD STRAIGHTEN IT OUT." HUNT SAID VAUGHAN CONCURRED THAT THIS WOULD BE A GOOD IDEA.

FLANAGAN THEN READ AN ENTRY FROM HUNT'S DIARY DATED TWO DAYS LATER OCTOBER 27.- IT NOTED THAT HUNT HAD CALLED MAHER AND MAHER SAID HE WOULD LIKE TO DISCUSS THE MATTER. A MEETING WHICH INCLUDED HUNT, MAHER AND OTHER HOUSING MEN WAS HELD THE FOLLOWING DAY.

IN TESTIMONY PRECEDING FLANAGAN'S, MAHER HAD SAID HE HAD UNDERSTOOD THE FIRST MEETING WAS "ARRANGED BY THE ADMINISTRATION, AS THE TERM WAS LOOSELY USED."

SIMILARLY, ANOTHER OF THOSE PRESENT, BENJAMIN J.SHULMAN, AN ATTORNEY IN OHE, TESTIFIED HE HAD HEARD THE CONFERENCE WAS SET UP BY "SOME ONE IN THE ADMINISTRATION, OR IN THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE, OR BY SOMEONE IN CONGRESS."

HE ADDED: "I KNEW IT WAS SOMEONE CONNECTED WITH POLITICS."

AT THE NEXT MEETING HUNT WAS PRESENT AS A "SO-CALLED PEACEMAKER," MAHER TESTIFIED. HE SAID HE ACCEPTED HUNT AS A WHITE HOUSE LIAISON--A FIGURE WITHOUT OFFICIAL CONNECTION BUT HAVING A "CIRCLE OF FRIENDS AROUND THE WHITE HOUSE." HUNT NEVER DISCLOSED ANY CONNECTIO

TANFORAN, HE STATED.

MAHER SAID HE DIDN'T KNOW AT THE TIME WHO IT WAS, SPECIFICALLY, IN THE ADMINISTRATION WHO HAD INTERCEDED, BUT LEARNED THAT IT WAS VAUGHAN FROM A NEWSPAPER STORY LAST WEEK.

SHULMAN, WHEN QUESTIONED ON HUNT'S PRESENCE AS PEACEMAKER, SAID: "I WAS UPSET AND A LITTLE ANGRY BECAUSE HERE WAS A MAN PURPORTED TO COME FROM THE WHITE HOUSE SAYING THAT WE HAD BEEN DISCOURTEOUS WHEN I KNEW THE REVERSE WAS TRUE. THE WHOLE INCIDENT WAS UPSETTING."

AS TO THE TANFORAN AFFIDAVIT, ATTORNEY FLANAGAN TESTIFIED HE TALKED TO HELIS' SON, WILLIAM G. HELIS JR., AND TO MORI RECENTLY ABOUT THE TANFORAN OWNERSHIP. THE YOUNGER HELIS NOW MANAGES MUCH OF HIS FATHER'S BUSINESS.

THE YOUNGER HELIS TOLD HIM, FLANAGAN SAID, THAT THERE WERE SOME NEGOTIATIONS WITH MORI AND OTHERS IN THE SUMMER AND FALL OF 1947 BUT THEY "NEVER WENT BEYOND THE NEGOTIATING STATE."

TALKING TO MORI BEHIND CLOSED DOORS LAST WEEK, FLANAGAN CONTINUED, HE GOT "SUBSTANTIALLY" THE SAME STORY FROM HIM.

SENATOR MCCARTHY (R-WIS) ASKED WOODS WHETHER HE DID NOT CONSIDER IT HIS DUTY TO REFER THE DOCUMENT BACK TO THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT TO SEE IF PERJURY WAS INVOLVED.

THE HOUSING EXPEDITER SUGGESTED THAT HELIS, JR., AND MORI SHOULD BE BROUGHT BEFORE THE COMMITTEE TO GET THEIR STATEMENTS UNDER OATH.

MCCARTHY PRESSED: "IS IT INCUMBENT ON YOU TO SUBMIT THE AFFIDAVIT TO THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE?"

"DEFINITELY," WOODS REPLIED. "I WILL TAKE STEPS TO DO THAT IMMEDIATELY."

GOVERNMENT APPROVAL WAS NEEDED UNTIL MARCH 31, 1948, ON ANY CONSTRUCTION FOR AMUSEMENT OR RECREATIONAL PURPOSES.

WOODS HAS TESTIFIED, IN AN EARLIER CLOSED COMMITTEE SESSION, THAT HE REGARDED THE REGULATIONS AS A "FARCE." THEY WERE SO FULL OF "LOOPHOLES," HE SAID, THAT ANYONE WHO READ THE FINE PRINT COULD FIND A WAY TO QUALIFY FOR CONSTRUCTION. THIS, HE SAID, WAS TRUE OF THE TANFORAN PROJECT.

THE APPROVAL FINALLY GIVEN TO TANFORAN, THEREFORE, CAME ONLY ABOUT 2 1/2 MONTHS BEFORE THE CONTROLS WERE DISCARDED AND ABOUT TWO MONTHS AFTER WOODS BECAME EXPEDITER. WOODS ASKED THAT THE INJUNCTION BE MODIFIED AT ABOUT THE SAME TIME.

WOODS WAS RENT DIRECTOR FOR THE OFFICE OF HOUSING EXPEDITER BEFORE BECOMING EXPEDITER. HE TOLD THE COMMITTEE THAT WHEN HE HAD THAT JOB, VAUGHAN ONCE CALLED HIM AT HOME AND COMPLAINED THAT "SOME FRIENDS OF MINE" (VAUGHAN'S) WERE "PUSHED AROUND" IN THE AGENCY.

VAUGHAN WAS QUOTED AS BLAMING "SOME SMART ALECK ATTORNEY." BUT WOODS SAID HE WAS QUITE SURE VAUGHAN DID NOT MENTION THE TANFORAN CASE AT THAT TIME.

WOODS DISCLOSED THAT HUNT FIRST INTRODUCED HIM TO CREEDON. WOODS THEN WAS IN CHARGE OF THE CHICAGO RENT OFFICE. CREEDON BECAME INTERESTED IN HIM AND SUBSEQUENTLY NAMED HIM RENT DIRECTOR, HE SAID. HE LATER STEPPED INTO CREEDON'S SHOES.

WILLIAM ROGERS, SUBCOMMITTEE COUNSEL, ASKED THE WITNESS WHETHER HUNT TOOK CREDIT FOR THE PROMOTION. "YES, I WOULD SAY HE DID," WOODS REPLIED.

"DIDN'T YOU TELL ME EARLIER THAT YOU PEOPLE HAD A NAME FOR HUNT?" ROGERS ASKED.

"YES, WE DID," WOODS REPLIED. "IN SOCIAL GATHERINGS WE CALLED HIM 'KINGMAKER'."

"BECAUSE HE WAS ALWAYS TAKING CREDIT?"

"THAT IS CORRECT."

AUG 10 1949

LATER, MARAGON CALLED REPORTERS TOGETHER TO TELL THEM HIS ONLY ROLE IN THE CONFERENCE WITH HOUSING OFFICIALS WAS THAT HE "VOLUNTEERED TO DRIVE A MR.MORI AND MR.ORLANDO" TO THE HOUSING EXPEDITER'S OFFICE.

THE TWO MEN HAD BEEN TOLD BY A MUTUAL ACQUAINTANCE IN SAN FRANCISCO TO CONTACT HIM HERE AS "A FRIENDLY GESTURE", MARAGON SAID. HE ADDED THAT HE HAD NEVER SEEN THE PAIR BEFORE "AND I HAVEN'T SEEN THEM SINCE."

"AFTER IT (THE CONFERENCE) WAS OVER, I DROVE THEM BACK TO THE STATLER HOTEL AND THAT WAS ALL."

IN THE TANFORAN CASE UP TODAY, THE SUBCOMMITTEE WANTS TO FIND OUT HOW THE RACE TRACK AT SAN BRUNO, CALIF., GOT GOVERNMENT APPROVAL TO USE SCARCE BUILDING MATERIALS DESPITE A POSTWAR FEDERAL REGULATION DESIGNED TO PROHIBIT CONSTRUCTION AT RECREATION PLACES.

SHORTLY AFTER THE WAR THE TRACK APPLIED FOR A PERMIT ON CONSTRUCTION, BUT EVENTUALLY WAS TURNED DOWN BY THE OLD CIVILIAN PRODUCTION ADMINISTRATION, FOREBRUNNER OF THE OFFICE OF HOUSING EXPEDITER.

WOODS, THE HOUSING CHIEF, HAS SAID CONSTRUCTION WENT AHEAD ANYWAY AND WAS HALTED ONLY WHEN THE COURTS STEPPED IN.

IN OCTOBER 1947, WOODS HAS SAID, A SECOND GROUP APPLIED TO HIS AGENCY FOR APPROVAL AND GOT IT AFTER THE APPLICATION WAS CHECKED BY THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT. WOODS SAID HUNT FIGURED IN THE SECOND CHAPTER TO THE EXTENT OF ASKING THE HOUSING AGENCY TO GIVE THE APPLICATION FAVORABLE CONSIDERATION. WASH D.C. - 5 - PERCEIVED - XXX TESTIFY

IN A COPYRIGHTED STORY LAST WEEK, THE WASHINGTON EVENING STAR QUOTED HUNT AS SAYING:

"I WAS NOT INVOLVED WITH TANFORAN IN THE SLIGHTEST WAY. I WAS CHATTING WITH GENERAL VAUGHAN IN HIS OFFICE AND HE MADE A COMMENT THAT SOME OF HIS FRIENDS HAD COMPLAINED TO HIM THE DAY BEFORE THAT THEY HAD GOTTEN THE RUN-AROUND FROM SOME OF THE PEOPLE IN THE OFFICE OF THE HOUSING EXPEDITER WHEN THEY WENT IN TO INQUIRE ABOUT THEIR RIGHTS TO BUILD AT A TRACK IN CALIFORNIA.

"GENERAL VAUGHAN SAID IT BOTHERED HIM THAT FELLOWS I SPOKE SO HIGHLY OF AT HOUSING HAD TREATED HIS FRIENDS LIKE SCHOOLBOYS. I TOLD HIM I WOULD BE AT HOUSING IN A DAY OR TWO THAT I'D TALK TO THEM ABOUT IT, BUT THAT I DIDN'T THINK THEY PUSHED PEOPLE AROUND BECAUSE THEY HAD BEEN SO COURTEOUS TO ME.

"WHEN I WENT DOWN THERE I ASKED A MAN NAMED MAHER ABOUT THE THING, AND HE CALLED IN TWO OR THREE OTHERS WHO HAD BEEN PRESENT AT THE OTHER MEETING AND THEY DISCUSSED IT FRANKLY AND FULLY WITH ME AND WENT OVER THEIR CONVERSATION.

"I TOLD GENERAL VAUGHAN I THOUGHT HIS FRIENDS HAD BEEN ACCORDED COURTESY AND PROPER TREATMENT AND OFFERED TO SHOW HIM A MEMO I HAD WRITTEN ABOUT IT. I GOT NO FEE. I JUST DIDN'T WANT TO SEE ANY MISUNDERSTANDING BETWEEN TWO OFFICIALS OF THE GOVERNMENT." #

- WASHINGTON - B-36 - XXX RECOMMENDATION -

IN AUGUST, 1947,S SMITH SAID, THE NEWLY FORMED AIRCRAFT AND WEAPONS BOARD WHICH THE AIR FORCE SET UP AFTER ITS DIVORCE FROM THE ARMY TOOK UP THE B-36 PROGRAM AT ITS FIRST MEETING. SMITH, WHO WAS NAMED SECRETARY OF THIS BOARD, REPORTED THAT THE GROUP IMMEDIATELY SPLIT OVER THE PROJECT. SOME, HE SAID, WANTED TO SCRAP IT ENTIRELY, OTHERS WANTED TO INCREASE THE PLANE'S SPEED WITH A NEW TYPE ENGINE, AND OTHERS FAVORED PRIORITY ATTENTION ON THE B-50--A HIGH SPEED BOMBER SUCCESSOR OF THE B-29.

SMITH SAID THAT CONSOLIDATED VULTEE PROPOSED PUTTING IN NEW TYPE ENGINES IN THE LAST 34 PLANES ON ORDER AT AN ADDED COST OF $15,000,000 AND A DELAY UNTIL MAY 1950 FOR DELIVERY.

THE BOARD DEBATED THIS AND WITH GEN.KENNEY DISSENTING, SMITH SAID, THE GROUP DECIDED TO APPROVE THE CHANGE.

"IT TURNED OUT TO BE A COMPLETE FAILURE," SMITH SAID. "AT THE TIME IT SEEMED TO BE THE WAY TO CORRECT THE PLANE'S WEAKEST SPOT FOR VERY LITTLE EXTRA COST, AND MAKE THE BIG INVESTMENT IN THE B-36 PAY OFF. THE INVESTMENT PAID OFF LATER, BUT NOT WITH THE NEW ENGINE."

UNDER THE INITIAL ORDER WITH CONSOLIDATED VULTEE, THE FIRM WAS TO RECEIVE $154,000,000, PLUS A FIXED FEE OF $6,170,000 AND WAS TO DELIVER THE FIRST PLANE IN AUGUST, 1945 WITH THE COMPLETION DATE SET FOR OCTOBER 1946. THAT OUTLAY, HOWEVER, DID NOT INCLUDE THE GOVERNMENT-SUPPLIED ITEMS SUCH AS ENGINES, GUNS AND RADIO EQUIPMENT WHICH TOTALED ALMOST AS MUCH AS THE PLANE ITSELF.

ALTHOUGH EACH B-36 ORIGINALLY WAS ESTIMATED TO COST A TOTAL OF $2,720,000, SUBSEQUENT CHANGES IN DESIGN AND OTHER ADDED COSTS BROUGHT THE TOTAL UP TO ABOUT $3,500,000 EACH.

FOLLOWING SMITH'S TESTIMONY VAN ZANDT TOLD REPORTERS THAT HE THOUGHT THE INVESTIGATION GOT OFF TO A "VERY GOOD" START.

"GEN.SMITH CONFIRMED ONE THING THAT HAS BEEN ONLY A RUMOR AROUND HERE FOR SOME TIME THAT GEN.KENNEY OPPOSED THE B-36 FROM THE VERY START," VAN ZANDT SAID.

WASHINGTON,AUG.9-(AP)-ROBERT A.LOVETT, A FORMER ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF WAR FOR AIR, TOLD THE HOUSE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE TODAY ABSOLUTELY NO OUTSIDE INFLUENCE WAS EXERTED TO GET THE B36 BOMBER ON ITS WAY IN 1941.

LOVETT WAS THE FIRST WITNESS AS THE COMMITTEE OPENED ITS INVESTIGATION OF THE B36 AND STRATEGIC AIR POWER POLICIES.

THE B36 WAS BORN IN AUGUST,1941, HE SAID, AFTER AIR CORPS PLANNERS DECIDED THE U.S. HAD TO HAVE A BOMBER CAPABLE OF LUGGING A 10,000-POUND BOMB LOAD 10,000 MILES.

A CONTRACT FOR DESIGNING THE PLANE WAS AWARDED THE CONSOLIDATED VULTEE AIRCRAFT CO. AFTER IT AND TWO OTHER PLANE MANUFACTURERS HAD SUBMITTED PRELIMINARY PLANS, LOVETT RELATED.

JOSEPH B.KEENAN, THE COMMITTEE'S SPECIAL COUNSEL FOR THE INVESTIGATION, ASKED LOVETT WHETHER HE KNEW OF "ANY EVIDENCE OF INFLUENCE" FROM "BANKERS, INDUSTRIALISTS, FLOYD ODLUM, MR.EMMANUEL, OR ANY OTHER WELL KNOWN PERSONS."

"ABSOLUTELY NO EVIDENCE," LOVETT REPLIED. "I HAD NEVER HEARD OF MR.ODLUM OR MR.EMMANUEL AT THAT TIME."

ODLUM IS HEAD OF THE ATLAS CORP., WHICH NOW CONTROLS CONSOLIDATED. VICTOR EMMANUEL HEADS THE AVIATION CORPORATION, WHICH CONTROLLED CONSOLIDATED BEFORE ATLAS. BOTH ARE DUE TO TESTIFY BEFORE THE COMMITTEE LATER.

LOVETT, A WORLD WAR I NAVY FLIER, TOLD THE COMMITTEE "ORDINARY PROCEDURE" WAS DEPARTED FROM WHEN THE WAR DEPARTMENT SIGNED A CONTRACT FOR CONSOLIDATED TO BEGIN PRODUCTION OF THE NEW, LONG-RANGE BOMBER.

HE SAID THE COMPANY WANTED THE PRODUCTION ORDER IN JUNE OF 1943--BEFORE THE EXPERIMENTAL PLANES WERE COMPLETED.

"THE PERIOD OF GESTATION FOR A NEW, COMPETENT AIRCRAFT IS AT LEAST FIVE YEARS," HE SAID.

"BECAUSE OF THE PRESSING NECESSITY FOR A SUPER BOMBER OF EXTENSIVE RANGE,"LOVETT WENT ON, THE AIR FORCE DECIDED "TO TAKE THE BAMBLE AND GIVE AN ORDER FOR 100 B36s."

HE SAID "APPROVAL BY THE SECRETARY OF WAR, THE UNDERSECRETARY, MYSELF AND GEN.ARNOLD TOOK PLACE IN JUNE, OR JULY OF 1943."

GEN.H.H.ARNOLD WAS HEAD OF THE AIR FORCE DURING THE WAR.

KEENAN ASKED LOVETT IF GEN.ARNOLD HAS PASSED ON THE PLAN.

"HE DID," LOVETT REPLIED. "HE WAS IN FAVOR OF IT."

GENERAL HOYT S.VANDENBERG, AIR FORCE CHIEF OF STAFF; LT.GEN.CURTIS LE MAY, COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND, AND ROBERT P.PATTERSON, FORMER SECRETARY OF WAR, ARE ALSO SCHEDULED TO TESTIFY. #

WITH B-36 PROBE (860)

WASHINGTON,AUG.9-(AP)-AS IT OPENED ITS LONG-HERALDED B-36 PROBE, THE HOUSE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE TODAY PUT INTO THE OFFICIAL RECORD AN ANONYMOUS COMMUNICATION PURPORTING TO TELL THE "EFFORTS OF THE ATLAS CORPORATION TO TAKE OVER THE NATIONAL MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT."

CHAIRMAN VINSON (D-GA) SAID THE DOCUMENT WAS GIVEN TO HIM BY REP. DEANE (D-NC) WHO REFUSED TO DISCUSS WHERE IT CAME FROM. ALL DEANE WOULD TELL REPORTERS WAS THAT HE HAD RECEIVED IT THROUGH THE MAIL.

DEANE SAID HE THOUGHT IT BEST TO LET THE COMMITTEE COUNSEL JOSEPH B.KEENAN, "BRING IT OUT AS THE INVESTIGATION PROGRESSES."

IN GENERAL, THE DOCUMENT APPEARS TO BE AN EXPANSION OF THE "DISTURBING REPORTS" REP.VAN ZANDT (R-PA) SAID HE HAD HEARD ABOUT TOP DEFENSE OFFICIALS AND AIRPLANE MANUFACTURERS. AMONG THOSE VAN ZANDT LINKED TO THE REPORTS WERE FLOYD ODLUM, HEAD OF ATLAS CORP. WHICH CONTROLS CONSOLIDATED VULTEE AIRCRAFT CO., MAKERS OF THE B-36 BOMBER.

THE LENGTHY DOCUMENT OPENED WITH THIS INTRODUCTION:

"A SAD LESSON OF HISTORY IS THAT WHENEVER MONEY IN SUCH QUANTITIES IS AVAILABLE, THERE APPEAR MEN OF A CERTAIN KIND TO OBTAIN IT BY ANY MEANS.

"IT IS NEARLY BUT NOT QUITE POSSIBLE TO COVER ALL TRACKS IN PURSUIT OF THIS END. AS A COURSE OF EVENTS BECOMES EVIDENT, HONEST MEN ARE AFFLICTED WITH SHAME AND ARE RELUCTANT TO PUSH THE MESS INTO THE LIGHT. THERE IS A TENDENCY TO DRAW BACK, TO HOPE THAT A CHANGE WILL OCCUR WITHOUT SCANDAL.

"HOWEVER, THERE ARRIVES A RECOGNIZABLE MOMENT WHEN UNSCRUPULOUS MEN BECOME OVER CONFIDENT AND CREATE CIRCUMSTANCES THAT ARE INTOLERABLE. X X X

"THAT MOMENT IS CLOSE AT HAND WITH RELATION TO THE EFFORTS OF THE ATLAS CORPORATION TO TAKE OVER THE NATIONAL DEFENSE ESTABLISHMENT."

IT WENT ON:

"THIS BRIEF COMPILATION IS NOT EVIDENCE. IT IS NOT COMPLETE. X X X."

THE PAPER THEN REPORTED:

"IN 1947 THE CONSOLIDATED-VULTEE AIRCRAFT COMPANY WAS IN FINANCIAL STRAITS. ITS PRINCIPAL ASSET WAS A CONTRACT FOR 100 B-36 AIRCRAFT. "THE VERY SUBSTANTIAL CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN COMING FROM MR.ODLUM AND HIS COMPANY ARE SAID TO HAVE BEEN MADE AT THE INSTANCE OF SYMINGTON AND JOHNSON."

(THE STATEMENT INDICATED THE CONTRIBUTIONS AMOUNT TO $6,500,000.)

"ON JUNE 15, (1948) ODLUM ANNOUNCED THAT AN OFFER OF 1,159,849 SHARES OF CONSOLIDATED HAD BEEN OVERSUBSCRIBED BY STOCKHOLDERS AT $9 A SHARE.

"IN LATE JULY A PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN FOR THE B-36 OPENED UNDER VERY HIGH PRESSURE. THIS EFFORT WAS SUPERIOR IN QUALITY TO ANYTHING OF ITS KIND THEREFORE DONE BY THE AIR FORCE AND THERE WAS INTERNAL EVIDENCE OF OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE.

"THE CAMPAIGN HAD TWO IDEAS TO PUT ACGOSS.

"THE FIRST IDEA WAS AN EXTENSION OF THE OBSESSION THAT AIRPLANES CAN REDUCE WARFARE TO A CLEAN, QUICK INEXPENSIVE AND, TO OUR SIDE, PAINLESS PROCEDURE.

"THE SECOND IDEA WAS THAT THE B-36 WAS THE BEST MEANS OF WAGINT THIS FORM OF EASY WAR. X X X THESE EXTRAORDINARY EFFORTS ARE MADE ON BEHALF OF THE SAME AIRCRAFT WHICH EARLIER HAD BEEN PROVED OBSOLETE AND OF SMALL WORTH BY THE SAME PEOPLE NOW AT THE HEAD OF THE AIR FORCE."

"IN THE EARLY FALL OF 1948 THE PEOPLE IN THE AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY BEGAN TO HEAR OF A MERGER OF VARIOUS SUBSTANTIAL COMPANIES WITH CONSOLIDATED.

"THE HEAD OF THE MERGED COMPANY WOULD BE W.STUART SYMINGTON.

"THE FAVORED POSITION OF CONSOLIDATED BECAME EVIDENT EARLY IN 1948. X X X

"CONSOLIDATED SOUGHT AND OBTAINED A SUBCONTRACT IN SEPTEMBER FOR CONSTRUCTION OF 167 BOEING B-50 NOSE SECTIONS.

"TRANSFER OF ENTIRE PRODUCTION IN THIS WAY IS UNHEARD OF. FOUR MONTHS LATER, AS PART OF PLANS TO INCREASE B-36 PRODUCTION, THE B-49 CONTRACT WAS CANCELLED ENTIRELY."

"IN MID-OCTOBER CURTISS-WRIGHT, WHO HAD BACKED AWAY FROM THE MERGER PROPOSAL, WERE INFORMED THAT PRODUCTION PLANS FOR THEIR F-87 WERE CANCELLED. THE AIR FORCE IN ANNOUNCING CANCELLATION STATED THAT ITS ACTION MADE $80,000,000 AVAILABLE FOR OTHER AIRCRAFT PURCHASES.

"ON OCTOBER 29 IT WAS ANNOUNCED THAT THE PRESIDENT HAD CERTIFIED EXPENDITURE OF $80,000,000 OF WHICH THE LARGEST AMOUNT WENT TO CONSOLIDATED FOR TRAINING PLANES. X X X

"ON THE 11TH OF JANUARY (1949) THE AIR FORCE ANNOUNCED THAT IT HAD CANCELLED PRODUCTION PLANS FOR FOUR TYPES OF AIRCRAFT IN ORDER TO MAKE AVAILABLE FUNDS FOR THE PROCUREMENT OF A SUBSTANTIAL NUMBER OF B-36'S AND FOR MODIFICATION OF B-36 AND B-50 PLANES.

"THE PLANES CANCELLED WERE NORTH AMERICAN B-45. NORTHRUP RB-49,

NORTH AMERICAN F-95, THIRTY OF 53 NORTHRUP [illegible] AND TEN KELLET HELICOPTERS.

"THE MONEY INVOLVED IN THE SERIES OF CUT-BACKS WAS APPROXIMATELY $312,000,000. X X X

"THE MONEY FOR NEW CONSTRUCTION WAS, OF COURSE, ALL FOR CONSOLIDATED. OF $182,600,000 REQUESTED FOR MODIFICATION OF AIRCRAFT, $147,858,000 WAS FOR CONVERSION OF B-36'S. THIS MADE $320,488,000 FOR CONSOLIDATED'S B-36'S ALONE."

--DASH--

"THERE IS NOW IN THE INDUSTRY A WIDESPREAD CIRCUMSTANTIAL REPORT THAT MR.SYMINGTON WILL RESIGN A FEW WEEKS AFTER THE 1950 BUDGET RECEIVES APPROVAL.

"HE IS TO BECOME OPERATING HEAD OF A LARGE COMPANY TO INCLUDE CONSOLIDATED AND OTHER FIRMS WHICH ARE BEING PRESSED TO ENTER THE MERGER. X X X

"ODLUM IS MENTIONED AS THE NEXT DIRECTOR OF THE NATIONAL SECURITY RESOURCES BOARD. PRESUMABLY HE WOULD HAVE TO DIVEST HIMSELF OF HIS CONSOLIDATED HOLDINGS TO ACCEPT THAT POSITION.

"CONSOLIDATED'S EXTRAORDINARY PROGRESS SINCE HE TOOK OVER (AS CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF THE ATLAS CORP., OWNER OF CONSOLIDATED, IN LATE 1947) SHOULD MAKE IT POSSIBLE FOR HIM TO DISPOSE OF IT PROFITABLY.

SERVICE UNITY BILL IS SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

Measure Will Enable U.S. To Attain Effective National Defense

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—President Truman signed into law today a measure designed to tie the nation's fighting forces into trim, taut unity.

The President said the legislation, which strengthens and revises the unification law of 1947, should enable the United States to attain "a balanced and effective national defense."

The measure gives the Secretary of Defense more direct power to steer all military activities, provides for a permanent chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and—of possibly vast importance to American taxpayers—creates a centralized, business-type budget and accounting system which has been held capable of saving hundreds of millions of dollars a year.

Truman Uses Seven Pens

Mr. Truman used seven successive pens in signing the document in front of an assemblage of lawmakers, defense officials and Army, Air Force and Navy officers. Then he gave the pens away as souvenirs.

Signature of the measure today could not have failed to have pleased former President Herbert Hoover, who was celebrating his seventy-fifth birthday.

Hoover headed the bi-partisan Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. That commission laid heavy stress on the desirability of revisions in the defense setup, particularly the budget and accounting changes which were designed to eliminate duplication, overlapping and waste.

Billion May Be Saved

Estimates of the possible savings ran up to a billion dollars or more, once the system gets into full swing.

President Truman registered one complaint against the measure, although viewed as a whole it was just about what he and Louis A. Johnson, Secretary of Defense, ordered.

Mr. Truman said that Congress took a backward step in placing "cumbersome restrictions" on whom he might name to the National Security Council.

This council, composed of Cabinet officers and other high officials, advises the President on ways to co-ordinate foreign and domestic policies in order to strengthen national defense.

Senate Retains Power

Under the previous law, the President could add to the council the heads of any departments and of certain agencies whenever he desired. The new law fixes the regular membership and says that the President can appoint additional ones, from among the holders of specified Government posts, only with the Senate's approval.

Congress added the Vice President to the membership. The President himself heads the council.

In general, Mr. Truman said in a brief statement, the bill represents an advance that should lead to greater efficiency, economy and co-ordination among the armed services.

McNarney Heads Management

As soon as the measure became law, Secretary Johnson appointed a national-defense management committee and a management advisory group. Their task is to make the biggest possible cut in defense-department spending while at the same time maintaining top military effectiveness.

To head the management committee, Johnson selected Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, former Chief of the Air Force Materiel Command at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio. Other members are Gordon Gray, Secretary of the Army; Daniel A. Kimball, Navy Under-Secretary, and Eugene M. Zuckert, Assistant Secretary of the Air Force.

The business management firm of Robert Heller and Associates, Cleveland, Ohio, will provide the personnel for the advisory group.

While the new law raises the defense establishment to full Cabinet status, it reduces the Army, Navy and Air Force to the status of military departments. However, there could be no merger of the three services or of their component elements, such as the Marine Corps of the naval aviation branch.

Bradley May Head Chiefs

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, now Army Chief of Staff, is expected to get the nod as chairman of the joint chiefs. While the chairmanship carries no command authority, or even a vote, it is expected to be a position of tremendous prestige. The chairman will be the nation's highest ranking military officer.

The Under Secretary of Defense (now Stephen Early) gets a new title: deputy secretary, outranking the Army, Navy and Air Force secretaries. His pay will be $14,500 a year, or $500 more than theirs. The law authorizes the appointment of three assistant Secretaries of Defense.

The new fiscal administration system is to be in charge of a comptroller in the Defense Secretary's office. There will be similar officials for each of the three services.

Truman Signs Bill Advancing Merger

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—President Truman today signed the new armed services unification bill. He said that this will permit the United States to progress toward "a balanced and effective national defense."

Mr. Truman signed the measure in a ceremony in his oval room office. Senators and Representatives who handled the legislation, the heads of the defense establishment and top-ranking Army, Navy and Air Force "brass" looked on.

The legislation, which strengthens Secretary of Defense Johnson's control over the entire military setup, drew one criticism from Mr. Truman.

Restrictions Hit

"It is unfortunate that in this generally progressive legislation, at least one provision represents a backward step," the President said.

"New and cumbersome restrictions are placed on the membership of the National Security Council—whereas the desirable course would be to follow the recommendation of the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch and remove the statutory restrictions on the Council's membership."

As a whole, however, Mr. Truman said the bill "represents a great advance" and will lead to "increased efficiency and economy and greater co-ordination of our military forces."

Uses Seven Pens

He used seven pens in signing the bill. They went as souveniers to Chairman Tydings (D., Md.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee; Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.) of the House committee, Secretary Johnson and Stephen Early, who becomes the $14,500-a-year Deputy Secretary of Defense under the measure. Secretary of the Army Gray, Secretary of the Air Force Symington and Secretary of the Navy Matthews were handed the other three pens.

As soon as the bill was signed Johnson appointed a national defense management committee and a management advisory group.

Gen. McNarney Named

This new agency is to work out a program for maximum reduction of Defense Department expenditures—and still maintain military effectiveness.

Johnson named Gen. Joseph T. McNarney as chairman of the management committee. Other members will be Army Secretary Gray; Undersecretary of the Navy Daniel A. Kimball, and Air Force Assistant Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert.

McNarney will be relieved from his present assignment as chief of the Air Force Material Command and transferred to the Department of Defense. He has been on temporary duty as adviser to Johnson since the Defense Secretary took office.

Johnson said that the business management firm of Robert Heller and Associates, Cleveland, Ohio, will provide the personnel for the management advisory group.

Export Goods Stay In Britain

London, Aug. 10 (AP)—In Britain where costs of industrial production are high, domestic consumers are beginning to rear the doubtful benefits of a business boomerang that is called "frustrated exports."

Much merchandise made for sale abroad is turning up on shop counters at home.

The reason is simple—many British products cost too much for purchasers in other lands because, according to the economic planners, there is something wrong with British productivity. The difficulty had long been foreseen and for a year and a half a committee headed by Sir Henry Tizard has been studying the problem, making recommendations and conducting a campaign to make the British worker and factory operator production conscious.

"Step up your efficiency, make it for less," they are being told.

Released To Home Market

Many Britons feel the campaign is a bit unreal. It comes at a time when, for the very reason that there are frustrated exports, life is brightening a little on the heretofore drab domestic scene.

Many tea sets and textiles intended for department stores in Detroit and Des Moines are being released to the hungry home market because the foreign purchaser doesn't want them at the price demanded.

The frustrated exports make the display windows in London's West End and other shopping centers look a little brighter. The housewife is encouraged.

But economists warn that it is a false sense of well-being. In an austerity system like Britain's, they say, there should be no frustrated exports. They aren't in the plan.

The Tizard committee looked into them, and has concluded that the products Britain needs to sell could be made cheaper—if some factories were modernized, if some methods were changed, if workers tried a little harder, and especially if they did every task more efficiently.

New Designs Needed

(In New York, Edward Murphy, American buyer recently back from a purchasing assignment in Britain, brought out another angle. Murphy, director of the Hambro House of Design, said British products must be styled, designed and colored for the American market, as well as priced for it.)

The Tizard committee itself was instructed to make proposals which can be put into effect in a hurry, and which do not require large capital investments. There is a shortage, among other things, of cash for capital outlays.

Under repair and conversion in April, 1948, were 3,236,000 tons. In April, 1949, the figure was 2,830,000 tons.

There are some corners to be cut, but on the score of productivity British shipbuilding remained a lusty competitor throughout the world.

HIGH-PRICED GOODS HANDICAP BRITAIN

London, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—The world's decision that a great deal of Britain's merchandise costs too much has prodded British industry into making a critical examination of its methods.

Productivity, economists agree, is a weak spot. Too many men, according to this view, are taking too much time to turn out an inadequate number of products. Time costs money which must be added to the price of commodities.

British exports aren't as welcome as they were, especially in dollar regions. Looking for the reason, many trade specialists agreed that Sir Stafford Cripps, the country's financial planner, put a finger on the difficulty in his discussion of the dollar crisis in the House of Commons.

The real way out of the present economic troubles, said Cripps, is to increase the productivity of British factories. The solution he proposed boils down to a need for more products per worker per day—more production to the capital invested in undertakings.

It was emphasized that Britain must find the key to the door marked "lower prices." British salesmen out in the buyers' world find customers lose interest when they compare British price lists with those of industrially more efficient lands, particularly the United States.

The salesmen's problems are still manageable in sterling areas, because many regions lack the dollars to buy much from the United States.

BRITAIN'S FOREIGN TRADE DECREASES

London, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Britain's overseas trading slumped again during July, the Government announced today.

Her imports still were greater than her exports. The unfavorable balance of trade was £40,700,000 ($162,800,000). But July imports were the lowest this year with the exception of those in February and the gap between imports and exports had narrowed from June's £54,200,000 ($216,800,000).

The Secretary for Overseas Trade reported Britain imported provisionally £186,500,000 worth of goods ($746,000,000).

At the same time, despite the London dock strike, direct exports were valued at £141,500,000 ($566,000,000) and re-exported goods at £4,300,000 ($17,200,000) making total provisional exports worth £145,800,000 ($583,200,000).

July imports were £15,200,000 ($60,800,000) less than the June figure. July exports were £1,700,000 ($6,800,000) less than in June.

Deficit Spending By Britain And U.S. Compared

By Sam Dawson

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—United States government bonds have been going up as the Treasury heads into deficit financing. British government bonds have been going down as the English Exchequer's dollar deficit heads into another of its perpetual crisis.

Deficit financing means you are spending more than you are taking in and finding the cash for this way of living by various means.

One of them is by selling bonds. At the start, this has an inflationary effect on business and the financial markets. But if confidence becomes undermined, you find deficits may work the other way.

American bonds are up in price because the Administration is adjusting the money supply to make bond-buying attractive to our banks.

Reason For British Drop

British bonds are down in price because the London government cannot, or will not, take the steps that would hold them steady. Falling prices in the last three weeks have wiped out about $2 billion in their quoted values.

Americans are still sold on the financial soundness of this country. No matter how much they may differ among themselves from time to time on the wisdom of various fiscal and governmental policies.

Therefore, the United States Treasury is able to sell its securities, in increasing quantity, in the face of an announced policy of red-ink bookkeeping. People still regard them as one of the best buys. And the banks haven't many other places just now to put their money to work.

Sell And Keep Cash

Britons, on the other hand, are showing signs of being worried about the financial status of their country, as crisis follows crisis. So some of them have been selling their Government securities and keeping the cash.

The Federal Reserve Board has kept a close watch on United States bond prices. Recently, it has stopped putting its bond holdings on the market, to let the banks bid up the price of available bonds. As bond prices rise, the yield is lower—"money is cheaper."

This creates the cheap-money climate the Treasury wants when it goes into the market to raise cash through offering increased quantities of short-term bills.

The idle money from the three sources—freed reserves, the money business doesn't want, and the people's savings—can flow into the United States securities market. So bond prices rise in over-the-counter sales as the demand for them increases.

In England, however, the tide has been running the other way.

Investors Nervous

The London Government has been issuing a string of new securities in recent years to pay for the industries it nationalized. Its costs of running them have been high, too. This swells the supply of Government bonds.

At the same time, the Government's well-advertised dollar shortage makes British investors nervous. And the rumor that never dies—that England will soon devalue the pound—makes investors even more nervous, because it would also devalue their holdings.

All this is aggravated just now by the approaching showdown in Washington in September, when British and American officials will seek some way out of the current dollar crisis, brought on because Britain has been contracting to buy more goods with dollars than she has been able to sell for dollars.

Another Loan?

The first way out that comes to mind—another loan to Britain—might have hard sledding in Congress. The Senate has just clipped Marshall plan funds for this year. England got about $1¼ billion from the ECA last year.

This year she may get only $900,000,000, according to a Paris account that will make unpleasant reading in London. It indicates a change may be coming over "old uncle bountiful."

One way to cure deficit financing, of course, either here or abroad, is to cut governmental expenditures.

Critics' Views

British critics of their Government say that if costs and taxes were cut Britain's economic crisis could right itself. So far, London has shown no signs of doing either.

In this country, the mere suggestion to Congress by the Federal Reserve Board chairman that costs be trimmed and the burden of taxation lightened, brought an immediate rise in prices on the country's stock exchanges.

Cancer Outkills War In England And Wales

London, Aug. 10 (AP)—Enemy action throughout the war killed fewer civilians in England and Wales than cancer kills in a single year, the registrar general reported today.

A statistical review for six years said enemy action killed 60,342 civilians, while deaths from cancer and malignant growths in 1940 were 68,922 and in 1945 were 74,291.

Requirements Lowered

The board also has lowered bank reserve requirements. This means that money which banks formerly had to hold now can be used for investment. The banks, however, have already large sums on hand—their loans to business dropped steadily throughout the first half of the year, and deposits and savings accounts piled up.

REDS TRY TO KEEP AUSTRIAN ENGINES

London, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Russia told the Western Powers today to forget about property it removed from Austria, including 500 locomotives, in drafting the Austrian independence treaty.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Georgi N. Zarubin informed representatives of the United States, Britain and France that any consideration of Austrian movable property was outside their jurisdiction. The Western delegates insisted, however, that both movable and immovable assets must be included in settling the question of booty and reparations. Under the proposed treaty Russia will be paid $150,000,000 by Austria in place of certain physical reparations.

United States delegate Samuel Reber said that his Government would not agree to a treaty provision which did not include transport and other property removed from Austria. He demanded the return by Russia of 500 locomotives which he said were Austrian property before Hitler marched in.

Like most previous sessions, the meeting ended with this announcement: "No agreement."

American Warships To Visit France

Paris, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—The battleship Missouri and other components of United States task force 61 will visit Cherbourg Monday, American embassy officials announced today.

The Missouri will remain in port five days. The task force consists of the Missouri and nine destroyers commanded by Rear Admiral Allen E. Smith. It is on the annual midshipman's cruise.

WEST GERMAN JEWS FEW

Total in Area Declines From 500,000 in 1933 to 20,000

FRANKFORT, Germany, Aug. 10 (AP)—West Germany's Jewish population has declined from 500,000 in 1933 to about 20,000, a survey showed today.

Berlin, with 7,100 Jews, and Munich with 800, are the only two German cities with more than 500 Jews. Frenkfort, which before the war had the second largest Jewish community in Germany, now has only 365.

The survey was made by Jack Hain of Passaic, N. J., an expert on manpower problems, who was called to Germany to survey the Jewish community with particular emphasis on the employment outlook for Jews. He said that he found "little perceptible discrimination on the part of the German public employment exchanges, Government agencies and private employers" toward Jews.

Austria Property Seized By Russia

Vienna, Austria, Aug. 10 (AP)—Russia is dismantling and shipping eastward vast amounts of former German assets which are supposed to be returned to Austria at the conclusion of an Austrian independence treaty, reliable sources said today.

The foreign ministers in Paris agreed that Austria was to pay $150,000,000 for these assets, which were seized by the Russians during and after the war. The payments are to be made over a six-year period.

One Government official said today "if these shipments continue, and the West does nothing to stop them, we will be paying $150,000,000 for some empty buildings."

Thus far no inventory of the assets now in Russian hands has been submitted to the deputy foreign ministers who are writing an Austrian treaty in London. The informants said they believed the Russians are trying to ship out as much as possible before an accounting is called for.

Czech Reds Attack Protestant 'Link'

Prague, Aug. 10 (AP)—Czech Communists asserted today that under the leadership of Russia the Eastern European "peoples democracies" would defeat the Vatican excommunication decree.

The Czech press, led by the Communist party organ, Rude Pravo, returned to its bitter assault upon the Vatican, the Czech Catholic hierarchy and American "imperialists."

Rude Pravo's chief foreign commentator, Andre Simone, claimed that Pope Pius XII initiated a joint American-Vatican campaign against Russia and communism as long ago as 1936, when he visited the United States as papal secretary of state.

Czech Peasants Told To Spy On Neighbors

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 10 (AP)—The army newspaper Obranu Lidu urged farmers today to spy and informed on their wealthier neighbors in order to prevent harvest "sabotage."

The newspapers called on peasants to keep a sharp eye on the "remnant of our internal reaction—the class enemy in the village, the rich farmers—and to call the security police as soon as these people are suspected of doing anything wrong."

A "big" farmer is considered one holding a maximum of 125 acres under the land reform program, the press assault on which landowners may be the forerunner to an often predicted full-scale Government drive for collectivization of farms.

Sweden Denies Report Of Inquiries On Treaty

Stockholm, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Swedish Foreign Office has no knowledge of any American approach to sound out Sweden's present attitude toward the North Atlantic treaty, a Foreign Office spokesman said tonight.

Another official source said "any Swedish Government which demanded that Sweden join the pact would hardly survive for one day."

HUNGARY PARLIAMENT STARTS ITS SESSION

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Aug. 10 (AP)—Hungary's Communist-led Parliament met today, minus former Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk and three other deputies arrested two months ago on treason charges.

The meeting halted speculation since Mr. Rajk's arrest that other prominent Communists might have shared his fate of expulsion from the party.

Mr. Rajk, Tibor Szoenyi, another leading Communist, and eighteen

"accomplices" were thrown out of the party and arrested last June 18 on charges of spying for an unnamed foreign power.

The arrests followed charges by Matyas Rakosi, vice premier and Communist leader, that Yugoslavia's Communists — struggling against members of the Russian-led Communist Information Bureau—had established a network of spies in Hungary.

Mr. Rakosi later announced in Prague that 200,000 Hungarian Communists, about 18 per cent of the party membership—had been ousted in a campaign against "spies and provocateurs."

The Vice Premier read a draft of a proposed new Hungarian Constitution, modelled after that of the Soviet Union. He was cheered by the deputies.

Parliament met against a background of optimistic reports on Hungary's post-war recovery. Figures announced by the National Planning Office showed industrial production 27 per cent higher for the first half of 1949 than in the same period last year.

ALBANIA SAYS GREEK INVADE

Tirana Reports 4-Day Battle On 100-Mile Front

London, Aug. 10 (AP)—Albania, smallest of Russia's satellites, charged today she is being invaded by the Greeks fighting Communist guerrillas along the frontier.

Greek Government spokesmen here said "there is certainly no invasion." But they said there had been "big action" against guerrillas for the last four or five days in the Mount Grammos area on the border.

The official Albanian radio at Tirana quoted the Albanian ministry of armed forces as saying fighting had been in progress for four days on a 30-mile front and hundreds of Greek soldiers had been killed or taken prisoner.

Charges 5-Hour Shelling

Later the Albanian radio charged Greek artillerymen fired 1,000 shells into Albania for five hours late today and wounded two Albanian soldiers. It claimed two Greek planes flew over Albanian soil and one dropped bombs near a village. Both planes were driven off by anti-aircraft fire, the radio said.

At Lake Success, N.Y., it was announced that Albania has sent two appeals to the United Nations to intervene in what it termed a large-scale Greek attack. The Albanian Government protested that attacks by Greek infantry, artillery and aircraft "seriously threatens the peace."

One protest said three Greek battalions, reinforced by artillery and fifteen Spitfire planes, penetrated a quarter of a mile into Albania on August 2. On August 4 and 5, Albania charged, the Greeks fired more than 1,500 shells on Albanian territory.

Byron Price, acting secretary general, forwarded the protests to the United Nations Special Commission on the Balkans for an on-the-spot investigation.

All-Out Greek Offensive

The invasion charge coincided with an all-out Greek Government offensive against guerrillas in the mountainous Grammos region. Greece and Albania have a common frontier 100 miles long.

The Greek Government repeatedly has charged that guerrilla units use Albania as a haven when hard pressed, and as a jumping off place for fresh forays into Greece.

Albania charged that Greek Army planes and artillery have bombed, shelled and strafed hundreds of Albanians in the border zone between Leskovik and Bozhigrad. The armed forces ministry claimed Greek planes had been shot down and listed hundreds of alleged border violations by Greek forces from August 6 to 9, inclusive.

Charge To Go To U.N.

The Communist organ, Zeri I Popullit (voice of the people), said Greece will have to "give an accounting on the dock" before the United Nations for violations of the Albanian frontier.

The Greeks have charged that guerrilla troops are anchored in the rugged mountains by a string of heavy fortifications inside Albanian territory. Athens also has charged that Greek troops have been shelled from Albanian border forts.

An Athens communique today said Greek forces overcome bitter guerrilla resistance in the Grammos area and captured important heights but paid the highest toll of casualties since early March. The Communiqué said 62 soldiers were killed, 247 wounded and 14 missing, while the guerrillas suffered 116 killed and 37 captured.

Greeks Admit Heavy Loss

Since the Grammos offensive began, Government forces suffered 612 casualties as compared with 366 guerrilla casualties. Observers said the army's wounded casualties were largely due to extensive minefields.

The guerrilla radio claimed Greek troops in the western Grammos area suffered 250 killed and 400 wounded and were routed in a major battle in the western Grammos area during the past two days.

The Greeks said their air force carried out extensive attacks throughout the Grammos region.

ALBANIA REPORTS GREEKS INVADING ON 30-MILE FRONT

Tirana Broadcast Tells of Bloody Fighting—Athens Denies Charges.

London, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Albania said today that she is being invaded by Greece and that fighting is in progress along a thirty-mile front.

A broadcast by the official Tirana radio said that bloody clashes with Greek Government troops began four days ago. It added that hundreds of Greek soldiers had been killed or taken prisoner.

A spokesman for the Greek Information Service in London said, "There is certainly no invasion."

He said the Albanian report probably referred to the new offensive launched by the Greek Army against the Communist-led guerrillas in the Grammos Mountain area not far from the Albanian border.

The Albanian invasion charge, which coincides with an all-out-offensive by the Greek Government against Communist-led rebels, was made by the Albanian Ministry of Armed Forces. The official broadcast, monitored in London, also quoted the Communist newspaper Zeri I Popullit (Voice of the People) on details of the fighting.

The Greek Government has asserted repeatedly that Albania is used by the rebels as a haven when hard pressed and as a jumping off place for fresh forays into Greece.

Zeri I Popullit said hundreds of Greek "royalist Fascist" troops had been killed and captured by Albanian soldiers in the border outbreak. It added that Albanian troops had "shed pure blood" in defending their country's sovereignty.

The Government charged bitterly that Greek Army aircraft and artillery had bombed, shelled and strafed hundreds of Albanians on a thirty-mile front between Leskovik and Bozhigrad, just inside Albania on Greece's northern border. The ministry said that Greek planes had been shot down by "our brave troops."

It charged hundreds of border violations by the Greek Army during August 6, 7, 8 and 9.

Albania Denies Aiding Rebels.

The newspaper, which is a Government organ, said that the Greeks were preparing to cite the recent clashes to the United Nations as proof that Albania was aiding the rebels. This was categorically denied, and the Albanians said that instead, the Greeks would have to "give an accounting on the dock" before the United Nations of its violations of the Albanian border.

The four-day period marks the beginning of the Greek Government's announced offensive to wipe out Communist-led rebels from their last northern stronghold in Greece.

The Greeks have charged that rebel troops are anchored by a triangular base in the rugged mountains by a string of heavy fortifications inside Albanian territory. They say the rebels pass freely back and forth from Greece to Albania and that supply trucks have been seen coming from Albania. Athens has officially charged that her army has been shelled during the offensive from the Albanian border forts.

Charge Is Denied.

The Albanian Army newspaper denied in Tirana last night that Albania had given the Greek guerrillas any aid.

The Greek guerrilla radio, meanwhile, in another broadcast heard here, charged that Government troops were launching attacks from Yugoslav territory.

Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria have been accused in the past of aiding the Greek Communist rebels. Yugoslavia, however, has split with the other two over her dispute with the Russian-led Communist Information Bureau. Premier Marshal Tito recently announced closing of the southern frontier facing rebel territory.

Greece Will Get 49 U.S. Planes

Athens, Aug. 10 (AP)—Forty-nine United States Navy dive bombers will be turned over to the Greek Air Force in a few days, Lieut. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, chief of the United States military mission, announced today.

Two of the planes, known as Hell Divers, were delivered several weeks ago and United States Navy pilots have been secretly training Greek flyers in their use at Larisa.

Van Fleet said the dive bombers would play an important role in final liquidation of Communist-led guerrillas by pinpoint bombing and rocketing of mountain strongholds.

Part Of Aid Program

The plane shipment is part of the military-aid program. The bombers are scheduled to arrive within a week on the United States aircraft carrier Sicily. Previously, the Greek Air Force's only bombers were a few obsolete British-made Ansons.

The Greek Army announced that its forces, overcoming stiff resistance, captured important heights from the Communist-led guerrillas in the Grammos Mountains offensive.

However, the communiqué reported the army lost 62 killed, 247 wounded and 14 missing, the highest one-day toll since last March.

Attack In Fifth Day

The National forces killed 116 rebels and captured 37, the communiqué added. The attack has been under way for five days, in which the army has suffered 612 casualties, compared with 366 sustained by the rebels.

The high number of army casualties is accounted for by the mine fields around fortified rebel heights, which wounded many Greek soldiers, the communiqué said.

The air force carried out extensive attacks in the Grammos area yesterday.

CHINA CAPITAL SET TO MOVE

Officials Ready To Go To Chungking As Reds Gain

Canton, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Government today is hastily packing the official archives for the long, sad journey back to Chungking, the wartime capital.

Little more than three years ago, Chiang Kai-shek and his government triumphantly moved out of that far western city and returned to Nanking. Japan was beaten.

Now another of Chiang's old enemies, the Chinese Communist, threatens. Red armies are little more than 200 miles to the north.

The Red advance has put two provincial governments to flight. The Kiangsi province government fled from menaced Kanhsien to Hweichang. Kanhsien is 215 miles northeast of Canton. Hweichang is 50 miles southeast of Kanhsien.

The Hunan province government, in the path of the main Red advance, has cleared out to Chihkiang. That is 380 miles northwest of Canton.

Fall Seen Certain

The gloom is thick in this refugee capital deep in south China. Few believe Canton will remain the Nationalist capital much longer. Six weeks at the most, say some.

Some officials already have gone to Chungking. Others have left for Taipeh, capital of the island fortress of Formosa.

Unless plans are changed, Chungking again will become the Nationalist capital. But the seat of Nationalist power—as everyone knows—will remain with Chiang at Formosa.

Most of the embassies will close. Some foreign firms already have shut up. They don't like the uncertainty that Red rule brings.

The American, British, French and Dutch plan to keep consulates here.

Reds Use Fresh Forces

In the civil war fighting, the Communists were said to have thrown fresh forces into a hot battle northwest of Kanhsien. It is in this area that the Nationalists by official account assert they have 11,000 Reds encircled. Whether the fresh Red troops were sent to the relief of this force was not clear.

Communists and getting the Communists to agree to become an unarmed political party.

Marshall picked Stuart for the post because of his long years of close association with Chinese leaders, particularly those considered liberals. Many had been his students. He first went to China in 1908 as a teacher and later became president of Yen Ching University at Peiping, a post he held from 1919 until 1946.

Tried To Contact Communists

After the failure of the Marshall mission, Stuart stayed on as envoy, apparently in the hope that his influence would moderate the policies of the Nationalist Government to the extent of giving increasing power to the liberals. Some political changes were made by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, but the State Department felt there was never an adequate transfer of authority from the hands of those it considered reactionary to the hands of men whom it called liberal.

When the Communists finally swept down on Nanking several months ago, a part of the American embassy staff was moved to the new Nationalist capital of Canton, but Stuart and the rest of the staff remained in Nanking and sought to establish contact with Communist authorities.

Reds Put Fresh Troops In Fight For Canton

Canton, Aug. 10 (AP)—Communists threw fresh forces into a battle on the approaches to this Nationalist capital, today. The Kiangsi provincial government fled Kanhsien, only 215 miles from Canton.

The battle raged northwest of Kanhsien in south-central Kiangsi, perhaps as near as 50 or 60 miles to the Canton's Kwangtung province. Reports said the Reds had put a new division into the fight.

Kiangsi's provincial government transplanted the capital to Hweichang, 50 miles southeast of Kanhsien.

Reds Reported Surrounded

The Nationalists claimed yesterday that 11,000 Communist troops had been surrounded near Suichwan, 50 miles northwest of Kanhsien. It was not clear whether the fresh Red division was thrown into this sector or elsewhere on the Kiangsi front, where the Communists have penetrated as close as 215 miles northeast of Canton.

Transfer of the Capital of Hunan province, which joins Kiangsi on the west, also was disclosed. The Government set up shop at Chihkiang, 210 miles southwest of the capital city of Changsha, which was handed over to the Communists last week by turncoat Gen. Chen Ming-jen.

Chihkiang is where the Japanese surrender in China at the end of World War II was signed. Then an important American airbase, it was never reached by the Japanese in their China offensive.

Further Setback In Kansu

Far to the northwest of the Hunan-Kiangsi front, the Nationalists admitted a further setback in Kansu province, stronghold of Moslem war lord Gen. Ma Hung-kwei.

Nationalist forces retreated to a point 30 miles north of Communist-held Kuyuan, which is 150 miles east of Lanchow, Kansu's capital.

Yesterday, the Nationalists claimed they had inflicted 20,000 casualties on Red troops in Kansu.

Chungking Next Capital When Canton Falls

Canton, Aug. 10 (AP)—Best estimates here today were that Canton would continue as provisional capital of Nationalist China another three to six weeks.

Gloom reigns among Nationalist officials. Only a few weeks ago they thought something might still be done to turn the tide against the Reds. Today even the most optimistic have brave forebodings over the future.

Back To Inland Capital

There is haste in the manner in whtich official archives are being packed for the long road back to Chungking, the inland wartime capital from which Chiang Kai-shek and his Government returned triumphantly to Nanking a little over three years ago.

Every day more familiar faces are missing. Some have gone to Chungking, others to Taipeh, capital of the island redoubt of Formosa.

Chiang Staying In Formosa

Under present plans the seat of government will be established at Chungking. But the reins will be held by Chiang at Taipeh.

Several foreign firms in Canton have closed rather than face the uncertainties of doing business under Red rule. Bigger firms like Standard Vacuum, Cal-Tex and Shell Oil companies are planning to keep representatives here, but their womenfolk have been or being evacuated.

Ambassador Stuart Arrives To Help Chart Policy On China

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Ambassador John Leighton Stuart, veteran of 40 years educational and diplomatic work in China, today joined State Department policy makers charting a new anti-Communist program for the United States in the Far East.

The 73-year-old envoy arrived this afternoon by plane from San Francisco. He had left the Communist-controlled city of Nanking where he maintained his embassy more than a week ago.

Stepping from a Flying Fortress which had brought him across the Pacific and the United States, the gray-haired diplomat looked more lively and vigorous than the sweltering State Department officials who greeted him at the sunbaked National Airport.

Calls At State Department

In the company of Dean Rusk, deputy Under Secretary of State, and officers of the Far Eastern division, Stuart left the airport for a brief visit at the State Department.

He is expected to report to Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, tomorrow and to see President Truman soon thereafter.

He evidently arrived under orders not to say anything publicly until after his meetings with Acheson and the President. To all questions about conditions in China, Stuart replied, "I have nothing to say until I have reported to the Secretary of State."

First Visit In 3 Years

His return here, his first since he became Ambassador three years ago, was the latest in a series of developments bearing on the China situation. These began last week with the issuance of the State Department's White Paper, writing off the Nationalist Government as a failure in its effort to stop communism and opened the way for the development of new American policies.

Preceding Stuart's arrival, Acheson began a round of conferences with congressional committees which he hopes will result in the creation of the new policy on the firm basis of bipartisan support here. He appeared at a closed session of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and it was reported later that he had discussed the White Paper and the problems of China relations in general. It was understood that he would meet with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee tomorrow.

Others Back From Shina

Returning on the plane with Stuart were Harry A. Hinderer, administrative officer of the American Embassy in China, Col. John A. Dunning, air attache, and Philip Fugh, Stuart's personal secretary. Officials said Consul General John M. Cabot, who crossed the Pacific with Stuart, was coming to Washington from San Francisco by train.

Stuart became Ambassador to China at the time Gen. George C. Marshall, prior to his appointment as Secretary of State, was trying to unify the country by having the National Government absorb the Communists and getting the Communists to agree to become an unarmed political party.

Marshall picked Stuart for the post because of his long years of close association with Chinese leaders, particularly those considered liberals. Many had been his students. He first went to China in 1908 as a teacher and later became president of Yen Ching University at Peiping, a post he held from 1919 until 1946.

Tried To Contact Communists

After the failure of the Marshall mission, Stuart stayed on as envoy, apparently in the hope that his influence would moderate the policies of the Nationalist Government to the extent of giving increasing power to the liberals. Some political changes were made by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, but the State Department felt there was never an adequate transfer of authority from the hands of those it considered reactionary to the hands of men whom it called liberal.

When the Communists finally swept down on Nanking several months ago, a part of the American embassy staff was moved to the new Nationalist capital of Canton, but Stuart and the rest of the staff remained in Nanking and sought to establish contact with Communist authorities.

[The reports said Nationalist gunboats captured thirteen vessels and lighters owned by foreign firms off Taku bar, gateway to Tientsin. The dispatch did not give the ownership of the vessels. It said the haul included one small steamer, two tug boats and four lighters captured and one lighter sunk.

[A news dispatch from Formosa said a gunboat captured a Communist vessel in the mouth of the Yangtze, seizing seventeen Red soldiers and several British and Russian crewmen.]

Stuart To Report To President On China

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Ambassador John Leighton Stuart is arriving today from China to give a first-hand report on what the United States is confronted with there.

He will talk with President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson.

Stuart's reports, following publication of the Truman Administration's White Paper, are expected to have an important bearing on the development of new American policies toward China. The White Paper wrote off the Chinese Nationalist Government as a failure.

Estimates Important

Especially important will be Stuart's estimates of:

1. The possibilities of further resistance to Chinese Communists by Nationalist generals outside the Red area.

2. The possibility of anti-Communist forces growing up inside the Communist controlled provinces.

Acheson, meanwhile, was reported ready to begin consultations with House and Senate Foreign Affairs committees on the Chinese situation. Indications are that he is especially anxious to try to build new policies on a bipartisan basis.

Woods Admits 'Hurry' Order By Vaughan

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods said today he recalls that Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan asked him to "hurry" along a construction permit for the Tanforan race track.

Woods told a Senate investigating subcommittee that Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, came to his office January 12, 1948, to make the plea. He said Vaughan was accompanied by Eugene Mori, of Cadmen, N.J., listed as Tanforan's president.

Had Previous Meeting

Woods previosly had told the subcommittee only of being called to the White House January 9 last year by Vaughan to discuss the Tanforan matter. He quoted Vaughan as telling him at the White House meeting that "some of my friends" were interested in the case.

Woods said that at the meeting three days later he believed that Vaughan asked him to "please hurry" along the permit because there was "something" before the California race-track commission which would make Tanforan lose its franchise if the construction work could not proceed.

Asked Court Order Change

Woods sent letters to the Justice Department the next day urging modification of a court order issued against the former owners of the track to stop construction.

Meanwhile, the White House again said that Vaughan has Mr. Truman's permission to testify in the committee's so-called "five per-center" inquiry if the senators want him to do so.

Presidential Secretary Charles Ross said he had "no comment" concerning testimony linking Vaughan's name with the Tanforan race track matter.

Okay For Vaughan To Testify

When a reporter recalled that the President told a recent news conference that Vaughan has his permission to testify, Ross said that "still applies."

Committee Chairman Hoey (D., N.C.) said his group is especially interested in getting all the details as to why the Tanforan track finally got Government blessing for the construction after approval had been denied repeatedly.

Others To Be Called

The committee is checking on whether improper influence has figured in the administration of Federal regulations and in the awarding of Government contracts. In that connection the group is looking into the activities of "five percenters"—persons who charge a fee for help in getting Government contracts for others.

After hearing Woods the committee plans to call to the witness stand:

1. Albert W. Lewitt, a public relations counsel here. Until late in 1947 Lewitt served as secretary to former Senator Albert Hawkes, of New Jersey. The investigators said Hawkes has nothing to do with the situation they want to question Lewitt about.

30.24- 4945

Hotel Sold Back To Owners

2. Clarence H. Oehler, former supervisor of the War Assets Administration's storage warehouse division in Chicago. The committee said Oehler now is with the American Industrial Development Corporation of St. Louis.

Committee officials said they want to question Lewitt about a transaction in which the Government sold the Lido Beach Hotel on Long Island (N.Y.) back to its original owners after taking over the property during the war.

Hunt's Biggest Fee

The subcommittee already has heard testimony that James V. Hunt a key figure in the "five percenter" inquiry, collected a $102,500 fee for handling that deal for the owners. Paul D. Grindle, a Massachusetts manufacturer, told the senators Hunt informed him it was his biggest fee as a management counselor.

Hunt once was a lieutenant colonel in the Army Quartermaster Corps. Later he worked for the War Assets Administration.

The committee is known to be trying to find out who suggested that the Lido Beach Hotel people get in touch with Hunt.

Oehler Correspondence

Oehler is being called, a committee official said, for questioning about "certain correspondence he had with Hunt over several months starting in April, 1947."

At yesterday's session Woods testified that Hunt was dubbed "king maker" by those who knew him because, as Woods put it, he always was claiming credit for getting friends appointed to good Federal jobs.

Woods said Hunt made it clear he felt he was responsible for Woods beig named Rent Control Director and later Housing Expediter. Woods, on the other hand, said he felt he won advancement on his merits.

First Job At $6 A Week

It was the year-to-year account from $6 a week 13-year-old Kansas City bootblack to his present role in Congress' probe of "five percenters."

Maragon listed a sheaf of senators and representatives, past and present, as his friends. He talked of Sir Thomas Lipton, the British tea tycoon and yachtsman, and of the late Hugh Johnson, who ran the NRA during the early days of the New Deal. Even Kaiser Wilhelm was brought in.

Vaughan A "Close Friend"

And Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan? A "very close friend," was Maragon's description of the presidential military aide.

"To retain a good friend," he went on to say, "three things are necessary. You must be honest, loyal and not use them."

His attorney, Myron G. Ehrlich, asked:

"Have you ever accepted any money for doing anybody a favor in any Government department?"

"I have not," Maragon answered.

His Mission To Greece

Then he went into his service as a G-man. He told of a job overseas as an interpreter for an official Government mission to Greece. There were his foreign jaunts as representative for a perfume company. And his job as a traffic representative of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

But never did he make big money.

Maragon said things started looking up for him in Washington during prohibition days. As he put it, he "took the rap" for a Senator about to be arrested because the lawmaker's suitcase was dripping bootlegged gin.

SAYS BLOCKADE BOOSTED B-36'S

Gen. Smith Testifies Berlin Airlift Pushed Program.

Washington, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—An Air Force General said today that Russia's sudden blockade of Berlin last summer had a strong influence on decisions to carry out the B-36 bomber program.

Major-Gen. Frederick H. Smith, Air Force requirements chief, returned to the witness stand for his second day before the House Armed Services Committee now investigating the history of the giant six-engined bomber.

Smith told this story:

In April, 1948, there was "considerable difference of opinion" in the Air Staff as to the value of the B-36.

Gen. George C. Kenney, then chief of the Strategic Air Command, preferred refueling medium bombers for long-range missions, and had proposed using the B-36 as a tanker instead of a bomber.

During that month, however, an early model B-36 made a 6,900-mile flight carrying a simulated 10,000-pound bomb load. In May, it flew another long mission with the heavy load, covering 8,062 miles in thirty-six hours.

Smith said the majority of potential enemy targets would have been within this range. "The performance was encouraging," he said.

In June, he continued, Air Secretary Symington called a meeting of Air Force commanders and technicians to review the entire B-36 program. Symington had seen B-36's flown at the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft plant in Fort Worth, Tex., not long before, and had been impressed by performance records.

Clay Was Concerned.

As the June meeting started, the Berlin airlift was being put into operation by the Air Force, Gen. Smith said, and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. commander in Berlin, "took a most serious view of the situation."

"After review, the decision was clearly in favor of carrying out the full B-36 contract," Smith said.

Those at the meeting, he said, decided it would not be wise to drop the program and lose the industrial potential of the Government-owned Fort Worth plant.

"Just when new production miracles might be demanded, as they were after Pearl Harbor," Smith added.

B-36 Probers Call Spaatz As Next Witness

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, a pioneer of the Air Force, was called today to the witness chair in the House Armed Services Committee's investigation of the B-36 bomber.

The gray-haired Spaatz, now retired, was asked to tell the part he played as a combat commander in getting the six-engined, long-striking bomber from dream stuff to reality.

As a reporter for a weekly magazine, Spaatz yesterday heard his onetime chief, Robert A. Lovett, former Assistant Secretary of War for Air, talk about the plane's infancy in 1941.

Lovett Heard First

Lovett was the first witness called by the committee's special counsel Joseph B. Keenan. The inquiry is the result of statements made before the House on May 26 in a speech by Representative Van Zandt (R., Pa.).

The House ordered the investigation after Van Zandt told of "disturbing reports" about the relations of military leaders and industrialists connected with the B-36 program.

Lovett reviewed the steps that led to a contract with the Consolidated Aircraft Company for two experimental B-36's, and said there was "absolutely no evidence" of outside influence in the selection of the builder.

Procurement Poll Denied

In reply to direct questions, Lovett said he knew of no influence from "bankers, industrialists, Floyd Odlum, (Victor) Emmanuel, or any other well-known persons."

Emmanuel is head of the Aviation Corporation, which controlled Consolidated before it was transferred to the Atlas Corporation, under the direction of Odlum.

HOUSE PROBERS HEAR UEW AID

He's 'Uncertain' If Workers Should Defend Russia

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—A Pittsburgh official of the CIO United Electrical Workers testified today he was uncertain whether American workers should defend Soviet Russia.

He was Robert Whisner, a shop steward of the union's local at the Westinghouse Electric Company and one of three local officers who refused to give yes or no answers whether they were or had been Communists.

Whisner stated his uncertainty when Frank S. Tavenner, counsel for the House Un-American Activities Committee, suddenly handed him an article in the publication Soviet Russia today signed by "Robert Whisner."

"Duty To Defend U.S.S.R."

The witness already had testified to visiting Russia in 1934. The article's last paragraph, read aloud, said:

"I am now convinced that it is the duty of every worker in the U.S.A. to defend the U.S.S.R. in every way possible, for the Soviet workers have shown us the way out."

Tavenner asked whether his opinions have changed. Whisner said at first that they hadn't, adding "I still feel we should be friendly with the U.S.S.R."

But later, admitting uncertainty he said he didn't subscribe to the same views because conditions in the United States have changed in the fifteen years since 1934.

Other Officials

The other Pittsburgh officials were Thomas J. Fitzpatrick, chief steward at the Westinghouse plant, and Frank Panzino, assistant chief steward.

All insisted that under their constitutional rights they did not have to make "categorical" answers. They were equally insistent that the replies they gave were not refusals to answer the question.

The committee is investigating alleged Communist influence in the powerful Westinghouse local. The hearing is expected to close tomorrow. One more subpoenaed union witness remains to be heard. He is Thomas Quinn, field organizer.

Says He Was Trapped

Whisner related that he made the trip to Russia, along with other unionists, under auspices of the Friends of the Soviet Union.

When confronted with the article, which Tavenner said was published after the trip, Whisner protested that "you fellows are leading me into a trap."

He said he probably had not written the article as it appeared but acknowledged that he had had "something to do with it."

As to whether he still agreed with the entire article, he replied that there was widespread unemployment in the United States then. Consequently, he said, he had found there was little to choose between the lot of American and Soviet workers.

But regarding the final paragraph and its reference to the defense of Russia, Whisner turned again to his constitutional rights.

Declines Answer

"I wouldn't like to say if I agree with it," he said, and again expressed fear that "it looks like you're trying to get me into a political discussion." He added:

"I don't know too much about communism."

Whisner, who had a lawyer, David Scribner, of New York, sitting beside him and consulting him during much of his testimony, told the committee he was out of a job in 1934 and someone asked him if he'd like to go to Russia. He said he would, and later at a meeting of Westinghouse workers—not the union—he was elected to make the trip.

The workers provided $225 or $250 for the trip and also contributed something each week to his family during his six-week absence, he said.

Passport Destination False

The passport application said he was going to visit England and France and see some friends. He went to England, then to Russia, and returned by way of France. But he spent only passing-through time in England and France and didn't see any friends. Most of the time was spent in Russia.

The application caused considerable questioning. Tavenner wanted to know why it did not mention Russia, and who made it out.

Whisner replied he didn't know. He said it was his signature, all right, on the application, but for all the rest he said he couldn't remember.

PENTAGON AIM TO GAG PRESS FIRMLY DENIED

AUG 12 1949

Reporters Need Not Get Approval For Interviews

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Pentagon rolled out the welcome mat for newsmen today as it sent out word that reporters do not have to get advance approval from the chief of the press branch to interview defense officials.

William Frye, information director for the three armed services, issued a statement saying his office had not laid down such a requirement and had no intention of doing so.

He said the military press branch did have a form for Washington reporters to fill out when seeking interviews but that it was intended to help rather than hinder them.

Blank To Be Changed

Earlier in the week it had been disclosed that the form carried this heading: "All interviews must be approved in advance by the chief of the press branch."

This was taken to mean that the military establishment was tightening up its information policies.

Frye, however, denied that such was the aim and press branch officers said that henceforth the interview request blank would not carry the heading.

Aims To Assist

Frye said the form was put out "principally for reporters who have no established contacts within the military establishment." The aim of this system, he said was two-fold:

1. To make certain that the request actually had been transmitted to the official concerned and that his agreement or refusal to grant the interview was transmitted promptly to the reporter.

2. To prevent more than one press branch employé from approaching the same official on a single request.

Frye declared that his Office of Public Information is "neither a police department nor a barrier reef" and that its "consistent policy has been to facilitate, not to hinder, the work of reporters."

AEC Names Unit For Data Release

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission tonight announced the first step in a trial program to determine whether information about its metal-handling techniques and other metallurgical data can be given to industry without disclosing atomic secrets.

It appointed a temporary twelve-man advisory committee to recommend members for a small working party of engineers, representatives of professional societies, and members of the business press in the field of metallurgy. After members of the working party are cleared from the standpoint of security, the commission will make available to them metallurgical information which it thinks might be made public.

The working party will then recommend to the commission the data it believes should be considered for publication because of its usefulness to American industry and technology. The commission will make the final decision.

The commission said the trial program would concern information about pumps, blowers, valves, techniques of handling metals, and other metallurgical data. Any information whose release is approved will be made available for publication by established engineering and industrial journals in the field of metallurgy. If the trial program in metallurgy proves effective, the commission said, it will consider doing the same thing in other fields of technological and industrial information.

Senators Urge MacArthur Be Recalled

AUG 13 1949

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—A group of ten senators today "urgently requested" Secretary of Defense Johnson to recall General Douglas MacArthur from Japan.

Nine Republicans and one Democrat—Senator Byrd, of Virginia—said in a letter to Johnson that the pending $1,450,000,000 foreign-arms-aid bill deals with "a problem which is global in character."

Noting that the chiefs of staff have visited European countries but are not likely to have time to go to the far Pacific, the senators said they want the views of MacArthur and Vice Admiral Oscar C. Badger, naval commander in that area, before voting on the arms measure.

China Aid Proposed

Senator Knowland (R., Cal.) and twelve other senators have proposed that $175,000,000 of the bill's funds be earmarked for military aid to non-Communist China.

Those who signed the letter urging MacArthur's return included Knowland, Byrd and Republican Senators Bridges, of New Hampshire; Smith, of New Jersey; Hickenlooper, of Iowa; Morse, of Oregon; Wiley, of Wisconsin; Saltonstall, of Massachusetts; Baldwin, of Connecticut, and Gurney, of South Dakota.

Explosive Cloud Menace Revealed

Fire Prevention Official Discloses Vapor Over Houston Threatened City During War.

Houston, Aug. 10 (A. P.).—An explosive cloud once menaced Houston during the war, Hugh V. Keppers, assistant manager of the Fire Prevention and Engineering Bureau of Texas, said today.

He revealed that a dangerous vapor of butadiene gas escaped from a rubber plant near Houston when certain operations failed and workmen opened valves as a precaution against destruction of the plant.

The vapor formed a great cloud, about 1,000 feet thick and several miles in diameter, and floated above Houston.

"Luckily," said Keppers, "no airplane flew through it. Only a spark was needed to set it off."

After the danger passed, Keppers added, steps were taken to prevent it from happening again.

HOOVER SAYS NATION IS BLISSFULLY HEADED TOWARD COLLECTIVISM

AUG

Ex-President, Speaking At Ceremonies Honoring His 75th Birthday, Decries Government Spending And High Taxes

Palo Alto, Cal., Aug. 10 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover declared tonight Government spending and taxes threaten the nation with collectivism.

In a major address climaxing his seventy-fifth birthday celebration, the country's only living former President asserted that "through Government spending and taxes our nation is blissfully driving down the back road" and is "on the last mile" to collectivism.

A crowd estimated at between 8,000 and 10,000, including many old-time friends and associates, heard the address in Frost Memorial Bowl, nestled among the trees almost in the shadow of the Hoover Institute and Library on War, Revolution and Peace.

Looks Well And Robust

It was much like a large, informal family gathering. The crowd was quiet. When Hoover entered, and when he finished speaking, they sang "Happy Birthday To You."

At two or three points in his talk, he evoked laughter. There was dignified applause at the end.

Hoover looked well and robust. He wore a brown, double-breasted business suit and a four-in-hand tie. He was introduced by Fred Wickett, of Palo Alto, chairman of the Hoover Birthday Fund. Wickett presented the former President with a birthday card representing $155,182 in endowments for the Hoover Institute and Library, founded by the former President. The gifts came from 1,221 persons over the country.

Text of Hoover speech follows:

My first duty is to acknowledge your generous reception and these most generous gifts to the library.

It is now 34 years since this library on war, revolution and peace was founded. Over these years friends of the library have contributed over $3,450,000 toward its support. And of priceless value have been the millions of documents and materials furnished freely by hundreds of individuals and threescore governments.

This institution is not a dead storage. It is a living thing which over the years will correct a vast amount of error in the history of these troubled times. It will also teach the stern lessons of how nations may avoid war and revolution.

Not being a Government institution, it has never received a dime from Government sources, and its scholars therefore can be as free as the Sierra winds in its use and in the expression of objective truth.

Grave Questions Arise

In the somber situation of the world I would be derelict if today I discussed the lighter side of life instead of the serious issues which weigh on my heart.

Some of you will know that during the last two years I have added somewhat to my previous knowledge of the currents of Government in this republic. Beyond the immediate problems of efficient organization of the Federal departments, there arise from these investigations some grave questions as to our whole future as a nation.

Now, as never before, we need thinking on some of these questions. If America is to be run by the people, it is the people who must think. And we do not need to put on a sackcloth and ashes to think. Nor should our minds work like a sundial which records only sunshine. Our thinking must square against some lessons of history, some principles of government and morals, if we would preserve the rights and dignity of men to which this nation is dedicated.

The real test of our thinking is not so much the next election as it is the next generation.

Lists Items For Thought

I am not going to offer you solutions to our national ills. But I shall list some items for thought. Perhaps in Japanese-English a subhead would be "bring feet from clouds into swamp where we now are."

We must wish to maintain a dynamic progressive people. No nation can remain static and survive. But dynamic progress is not made with dynamite. And that dynamite today is the geometrical increase of spending by our governments — Federal, state and local.

Perhaps I can visualize what this growth has been. Twenty years ago, all varieties of government, omitting Federal debt service, cost the average family less than $200 annually. Today, also omitting debt service, it costs an average family about $1,300 annually.

This is bad enough. But beyond this is the alarming fact that at this moment executives and legislatures are seriously proposing projects which if enacted would add one third more annually to our spending. Add to these the debt service and the average family may be paving $1,900 yearly taxes. They may get a little back if they live to over 65 years of age.

Traces Governmental Growth

No doubt life was simpler about 147 years ago, when our Government got well under way. At that time there was less than one government employé, Federal, state and local including the paid military, to each 120 of the population. Twenty years ago, there was one Government employé to about 40 of the population. Today, there is one Government employé to about every 22 of the population. Worse than this, there is today one Government employé to about eight of the working population.

Twenty years ago, persons directly or indirectly receiving regular monies from the Government —that is, officials, soldiers, sailors, pensioners, subsidized persons and employés of contractors working exclusively for the Government— represented about one person in every 40 of the population.

Today about one person out of every seven in the population is a regular recipient of Government monies. If those of age are all married, they comprise about one half the voters of the last presidential election.

Think it over.

Working Citizens Pay

In the long run it is the average working citizen who pays by hidden and other taxes. I have made up a little table showing the number of days which this kind of citizen must work on average to pay the taxes.

	Day's Work
Obligations from former wars	11
Defense and cold war	24
Other Federal expenditures..	12
State and local expenditures..	14
Total thus far	61

But beyond this, the seriously proposed further spending now in process will take another twenty days' work from Mr. and Mrs. Average W. Citizen.

Taking out holidays, Sundays, and average vacations, there are about 235 working days in the year. Therefore, this total of 81 days' work a year for taxes is about one week out of every month.

You might want to work for your family instead of paying for a gigantic bureaucracy.

Think it over.

To examine what we are doing, we must get away from such sunshine figures as the gross national income. We must reduce our problem to the possible savings of the people after a desirable standard of living. If we adopt the Federal Government's estimate of such a desirable standard, then the actual, and the seriously proposed, national and local government spending will absorb between 75 per cent to 85 per cent of all the savings of the people. In practice it does not work evenly. The few will have some savings, but the many must reduce their standard of living to pay the tax collector.

Cites Productive System

And it is out of savings that the people must provide their individual and family security. From savings they must buy their homes, their farms and their insurance. It is from their savings finding their way into investment that we sustain and stimulate progress in our productive system.

One end result of the actual and proposed spendings and taxes to meet them is that the Government becomes the major source of credi and capital to the economic system At best the small business man i starved in the capital he can find Venture capital to develop new ideas tends to become confined t the large corporations and the grow bigger. Governments do no develop gadgets of improved living

Another end result is to expos all our independent colleges an other privately supported institu tions to the risk of becoming de pendent upon the state. The through politics we will undermin their independence which give stimulus to government supported institutions.

No nation grows stronger by sub traction.

Think it over.

Decries More Borrowing

It is proposed that we can avoid these disasters by more Govern ment borrowing. That is a device to load our extravagance and waste on to the next generation. But in creasing Government debts can carry immediate punishment for that is the road to inflation. There is far more courage in reducing our debts than in increasing them And that is a duty to our children

And there is no room for this spending and taxes except to cut the standard of living of most of our people. It is easy to say in crease corporation taxes. That is an illusion. The bulk of corporation taxes is passed on to the consumer —that is, to every family. It is easy to say increase taxes on the higher personal income brackets. But if all incomes over $8,000 a year were confiscated, it would cover less than 10 per cent of these actual and proposed spendings.

The main road is to reduce spending and waste and defer some desirable things for a while.

There are many absolute necessities and there are many less urgent meritorious and desirable things that every individual family in the nation would like to have but cannot afford. To spend for them or borrow money for them would endanger the family home and the family life. So it is with the national family.

American Mind Troubled

So long as we must support the necessary national defense and cold war at a cost of 24 days work per year to Mr. Average W. Citizen there are many comforting things that should be deferred if we do not wish to go down this road to ruin of our national family life.

Think it over.

Along this road of spending, the Government either takes over which is socialism, or dictates in stitutional and economic life which is facism.

The American mind is troubled by the growth of collectivism throughout the world.

We have a few hundred thousand Communists and their fellow travelers in this country. They cannot destroy the republic. They are a nuisance and require attention. We also have the doctrinaire Socialists who peacefully dream of their Utopia.

But there is a considerable group of fuzzy-minded people who are engineering a compromise with all these European infections. They fail to realize that our American system has grown away from the systems of Europe for 250 years. They have the foolish notion that a collectivist economy can at the same time preserve personal liberty and constitutional government.

Cites English "Austerity"

The steady lowering of the standard of living by this compromised collectivist system under the title "austerity" in England should be a sufficient spectacle. It aims at a fuller life, but it ends in a ration.

Most Americans do not believe in these compromises with collectivism. But they do not realize that through governmental spending and taxes our nation is blissfully driving down the back road to it at top speed.

In the end these solutions of national problems by spending are always the same — power, more power, more centralization in the hands of the state.

We have not had a great socialization of property, but we are on the last mile to collectivism through governmental collection and spending of the savings of the people.

Think it over.

Cites Malign Distortions

A device of these advocates of gigantic spending is the manipulation of words, phrases and slogans to convey new meanings different from those we have long understood. These malign distortions drug thinking. They drown it in emotion. We see Government borrowing and spending transferred into the soft phrase "deficit spending."

The slogan of a "welfare state" has emerged as a disguise for the totalitarian state by the route of spending. Thomas Jefferson would not recognize this distortion of his simple word "welfare" in the Constitution. Jefferson's idea of the meaning of welfare lies in his statement "to preserve our independence . . . we must make a choice between economy and liberty or profusion and servitude. . . . If we can prevent Government from wresting the labors of the people under the pretense of caring for them we shall be happy."

Another of these distortions is by those who support such a state and call themselves "liberals." John Morley would not recognize them.

Out of these slogans and phrases and new meanings of words come vague promises and misty mirages, such as "security from the cradle to the grave," which frustrate those basic human impulses to production which make a dynamic nation.

Think it over.

Hits Pressure Groups

It is customary to blame the administrations or the legislatures for his gigantic increase in spending, these levies on the nation's workdays, and this ride to a dead-end of our unique and successful American system. A large cause of this growing confiscation of the work of the people by our various governments is the multitude of great pressure groups among our citizens. Also the state and municipal governments pressurize the Federal Government. And within the Federal Government are pressure groups building their own empires.

Aggression of groups and agencies against the people as a whole is not a process of free men. Special privilege either to business or groups is not liberty.

Many of these groups maintain paid lobbies in Washington or in the state capitols to press their claims upon the administrations or the legislatures.

Urges Thinking, Debate

Our representatives must run for election. They can be defeated by these pressure groups. Our officials are forced to think in terms of pressure groups, not in terms of need of the whole people.

Perhaps some of my listeners object to somebody else's pressure group. Perhaps you support one of your own. Perhaps some of you do not protest that your leaders are not acting with your authority.

Think it over.

And finally, may I say that thinking and debate on these questions must not be limited to legislative halls. We should debate them in every school. We should resort to the old cracker-barrel debate in every corner grocery. There phrases and slogans can be dissolved in common sense and integrity.

Lauds American Qualities

A splendid storehouse of integrity and freedom has been bequeathed to us by our forefathers. In this day of confusion, of peril to liberty, our high duty is to see that this storehouse is not robbed of its contents.

We dare not see the birthright of posterity to individual independence, initiative and freedom of choice bartered for a mess of a collectivist system.

My word to you, my fellow citizens, on this seventy-fifth birthday is this: The founding fathers dedicated the structure of our Government "to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity." We of this generation inherited this precious blessing. Yet as spendthrifts we are on our way to rob posterity of its inheritance.

The American people have solved many great crisis in national life. The qualities of self-restraint, of integrity, of conscience and courage still live in our people. It is not too late to summon these qualities.

IENDS, NOTABLES ELICITATE HOOVER

Truman Among World Figures Sending Congratulations to Ex-President, Now 75

PALO ALTO, Calif., Aug. 10 (AP) —"I have had every honor to which any man could aspire," Herbert Hoover said years ago, and in that spirit the only living former President of the United States today celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary.

Mr. Hoover was among friends —more than 12,000 of them—on the campus of Stanford University, where he had been a member of the first graduating class in 1895.

"There is no place on the whole earth except here in America where all the sons of man could have this chance in life," Mr. Hoover had told his friends as they gathered before his address.

Mr. Hoover appeared well and robust. He wore a brown double-breasted business suit and a four-in-hand tie.

The orphan son of a blacksmith, Mr. Hoover became a millionaire while still a comparatively young man. And with wealth came recognition of him as a great humanitarian.

Today there came to him a telegram of congratulations from President Truman. "This should be among your happiest birthdays," Mr. Truman said, noting "the noble report" on Government efficiency which Mr. Hoover just completed, and concluding "I trust that many birthdays and many fruitful years lie ahead, all made happy by continued service in the cause of efficiency in Government and the respect and affection of your fellow countrymen."

There were thousands of other messages of greetings, from all over the world. Many came from Europe, where Mr. Hoover directed aid after World War I, and where he is well remembered.

Senators, Representatives and Governors from many states sent felicitations, as did the Mayors of many cities.

Messages From Everywhere

Congratulations came from Patrick Hurley, Mr. Hoover's Secretary of War; from Bernard Baruch; the President of Ecuador; the Mayor of Hamburg, Germany; the United States Ambassador to Venezuela; the German Secretary of State; Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France; the Chancellor of Finland, and Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate to the United Nations.

Bright sunshine bathed the Stanford campus. The Frost Amphitheatre, a natural bowl, was a beautiful green, backed by trees. Five hours before Mr. Hoover's speech, people took their seats. Some brought their lunch.

Among those present were Jeremiah Milbank, New York banker; Edgar Rickard, New York, associated with Mr. Hoover in the Belgian relief phase of his career; Dave Hinshaw, New York author, and Raymond S. Richmond of Jackson Heights, Queens, New York, of the Gannett newspapers and an associate of Mr. Hoover in relief work in Finland and Poland.

Mr. Hoover was voted an honorary life membership in the Stanford student body.

The ex-President lunched at the Stanford Union, where the faculty and students eat. He came with a family party, including all his five grandchildren.

Gov. Earl Warren of California arrived by plane, to offer his personal congratulations. He had issued a special proclamation which said of Mr. Hoover, "Few men anywhere have lived more useful lives, and none with greater devotion, both at home and throughout the world."

Hoover Is 75, Gets World Acclaim

Palo Alto, Cal., Aug. 10 (AP)—Herbert Clark Hoover is 75 years old today, and tributes for the country's only living ex-President poured in from all over the world.

Late today Stanford University will honor its most illustrious graduate in the Frost amphitheater. A crowd of 12,000 to 14,000 was expected.

The program will be climaxed by a major address by Mr. Hoover (9 P.M., E.S.T.). His topic will be "Think of the Next Generation."

Even Mr. Hoover, who once said, "I have had every honor to which any man could aspire," probably was suprised by the stir created by his birthday anniversary and by the congratulatory letters by the thousands.

Maryland Joins Acclaim

Two states, Arkansas and Maryland, proclaimed today "Hoover Day." Gov. Earl Warren, of California issued a proclamation in which he said: "Few men anywhere have lived more useful lives, and none with greater devotion, both at home and throughout the world."

The governors of New Mexico and Vermont extended greetings to Mr. Hoover in proclamations, and personal congratulations were sent by the governors of Idaho, Alabama, Virginia, South Dakota, Kansas, New York and Washington.

Mr. Hoover, born in Iowa and a member of the first graduating class of Leland Stanford University, was the thirtieth President of the Unietd States—from 1929 to 1933.

Still A Hard Worker

At 75 he is, as always, a hard worker, usually putting in a 16-hour day. His chief concern for many years has been for national and international affairs.

Even when on fishing trips or at the annual encampment of the Bohemian Club on the Russian River, he usually works at least part of the day. At his New York hotel residence, he keeps four secretaries busy.

After World War II he was called back into his country's service. President Truman sent him on a tour to determine the world's desperate food needs.

Develops Whimsical Humor

And in 1947 Mr. Truman named the former President to head the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. He accepted gladly, although he was 73 and already had devoted 40 years to public service.

A whimsical type of humor, as exhibited in some of his recent speeches, has helped somewhat to dispel the rather general impression that Mr. Hoover is a dour man.

Discussing the Hoover Commission report recently, he told of the little girl writing her thanks to a man who had sent her a book about pelicans. "This is, indeed, a very interesting thing," the girl wrote. "It contains more about pelicans than I really need to know."

"That," commented Mr. Hoover, "is the feeling of the commission at the present moment" after eighteen months of work on its report.

at 9 P. M. (Eastern daylight time). His topic will be "Think of the Next Generation."

Even Hoover, who once said "I have had every honor to which any man could aspire," probably was surprised by the stir created by his birthday anniversary and by the thousands of congratulatory letters.

And of priceless value have been the millions of documents and materials furnished freely by hundreds of individuals and three-score governments.

This institution is not a dead storage. It is a living thing which over the years will correct a vast amount of error in the history of these troubled grave questions as to our whole future as a nation.

Calls Next Generation Real Test

Now, as never before, we need thinking on some of these questions. If America is to be run by the people, it is the people who must think. And we do not need to put on sackcloth and ashes to think. Nor should our minds work like a sundial which records only sunshine. Our thinking must square against some lessons of history, some principles of government and morals, if we would preserve the rights and dignity of men to which this nation is dedicated.

The real test of our thinking is not so much the next election as it is the next generation.

I am not going to offer you solutions to our national ills. But I shall list some items for thought. Perhaps in Japanese-English a subhead would be "Bring Feet From Clouds Into Swamp Where We Now Are."

We must wish to maintain a dynamic progressive people. No nation can remain static and survive. But dynamic progress is not made with dynamite. And that dynamite today is the geometrical increase of spending by our governments—Federal, state and local.

Perhaps I can visualize what this growth has been. Twenty years ago, all varieties of government, omitting Federal debt service, cost the average family less than $200 annually. Today, also omitting debt service, it costs an average family about $1,300 annually.

This is bad enough. But beyond this is the alarming fact that at this moment executives and legislatures are seriously proposing projects which if enacted would add one-third more annually to our spending. Add to these the debt service and the average family may be paying $1,900 yearly taxes. They may get a little back if they live to over sixty-five years of age.

Rise in Government Workers

No doubt life was simpler about 147 years ago, when our government got well under way. At that time there was less than one government employee, Federal, state and local, including the paid military, to each 120 of the population. Twenty years ago, there was one government employee to about forty of the population. Today, there is one government employee to about every twenty-two of the population. Worse than this, there is today one government employee to about eight of the working population.

Twenty years ago, persons directly or indirectly receiving regular monies from the government—that is, officials, soldiers, sailors, pensioners, subsidized persons and employees of contractors working exclusively for the government — represented about one person in every forty of the population.

Today about one person out of every seven in the population is a regular recipient of government moneys. If those of age are all married, they comprise about one-half the voters of the last Presidential election.

Think it over.

In the long run it is the average working citizen who pays by hidden and other taxes. I have made up a little table showing the number of days which this kind of citizen must work on average to pay the taxes.

Day's Work

Obligations from former wars	11
Defense and cold war	24
Other Federal expenditures	12
State and local expenditures	14
Total thus far	61

But beyond this, the seriously proposed further spending now in process will take another twenty days' work from Mr. and Mrs. Average W. Citizen.

Taking out holidays, Sundays and average vacations, there are about 235 working days in the year. Therefore, this total of eighty-one days' work a year for taxes is about one week out of every month.

You might want to work for your family instead of paying for a giant bureaucracy.

Think it over.

It All Comes Out of Savings

To examine what we are doing, we must get away from such sunshine figures as the gross national income. We must reduce our problem to the possible savings of the people after a desirable standard of living. If we adopt the Federal government's estimate of such a desirable standard, then the actual, and the seriously proposed, national and local government spending will absorb between 75 per cent

Hoover, 75, Honored Today

Stanford U. Is Paying Top Tribute—He Will Give Radio Address Tonight.

Stanford University, Cal., Aug. 10 (A. P.).—Herbert Clark Hoover is 75 years old today, and tributes for the country's only living ex-President poured in from all over the world.

Late today Stanford University will honor its most illustrious graduate. A crowd of 12,000 to 14,000 was expected. The program will be climaxed by a major address by Hoover, beginning for national and international affairs. Even when on fishing trips or at the annual encampment of the Bohemian Club on the Russian River, he usually works at least part of the day. At his New York hotel residence, he keeps four secretaries busy.

After world war II he was called back into his country's service. President Truman sent him on a tour to determine the world's desperate food needs. In 1947, Mr. Truman named him to times. It will also teach the stern lessons of how nations may avoid war and revolution.

Not being a government institution, it has never received a dime from government sources, and its scholars therefore can be as free as the Sierra winds in its use and in the expression of objective truth.

In the somber situation of the world I would be derelict if today I discussed the lighter side of life, instead of the serious issues which weigh on my heart.

Some of you will know that during the last two years I have added somewhat to my previous knowledge of the currents of government in this republic. Beyond the immediate problems of efficient organization of the Federal departments, there arise from these investigations some to 85 per cent of all the savings of the people. In practice it does not work evenly. The few will have some savings, but the many must reduce their standard of living to pay the tax collector.

And it is out of savings that the people must provide their individual and family security. From savings they must buy their homes, their farms and their insurance. It is from their savings finding their way into investment that we sustain and stimulate progress in our productive system.

One end result of the actual and proposed spendings and taxes to meet them is that the government becomes the major source of credit and capital to the economic system. At best the small business man is starved in the capital he can find. Venture capital to develop new ideas tends to become confined to the large corporations and they grow bigger. Governments do not develop gadgets of improved living.

Another end result is to expose all our independent colleges and other privately supported institutions to the risk of becoming dependent upon the state. Then, through politics we will undermine their independence which gives stimulus to government-supported institutions.

No nation grows stronger by subtraction.

Think it over.

Where Will the Money Come From

It is proposed that we can avoid these disasters by more government borrowing. That is a device to load our extravagance and waste on to the next generation. But increasing government debts can carry immediate punishment for that is the road to inflation. There is far more courage in reducing our debts than in increasing them. And that is a duty to our children.

And there is no room for this spending and taxes except to cut the standard of living of most of our people. It is easy to say increase corporation taxes. That is an illusion. The bulk of corporation taxes is passed on to the consumer—that is to every family. It is easy to say increase taxes on the higher personal income brackets. But if all income over $8,000 a year were confiscated, it would cover less than 10 per cent of these actual and proposed spendings.

The main road is to reduce spending and waste and defer some desirable things for a while.

There are many absolute necessities and there are many less urgent, meritorious and desirable things that every individual family in the nation would like to have but cannot afford. To spend for them or borrow money for them would endanger the family home and the family life. So it is with the national family.

So long as we must support the necessary national defense and cold war at a cost of twenty-four days work per year to Mr. Average W. Citizen, there are many comforting things that should be deferred if we do not wish to go down this road to ruin of our national family life.

Think it over.

Along this road of spending, the government either takes over, which is Socialism, or dictates institutional and economic life which is Fascism.

The American mind is troubled by the growth of collectivism throughout the world.

Says Reds Can't Destroy Republic

We have a few hundred thousand Communists and their fellow travelers in this country. They cannot destroy the republic. They are a nuisance and require attention. We also have the doctrinaire Socialists who peacefully dream of their utopia.

But there is a considerable group of fuzzy-minded people who are engineering a compromise with all these European infections. They fail to realize that our American system has grown away from the systems of Europe for 250 years. They have the foolish notion that a collectivist economy can at the same time preserve personal liberty and constitutional government.

The steady lowering of the standard of living by this compromised collectivist system under the title "austerity" in England should be a sufficient spectacle. It aims at a fuller life but it ends in a ration.

Most Americans do not believe in these compromises with collectivism. But they do not realize that through governmental spending and taxes our nation is blissfully driving down the back road to it at top speed.

In the end, these solutions of national problems by spending are always the same—power, more power, more centralization in the hands of the state.

We have not had a great socialization of property, but we are on the last mile to collectivism through governmental collection and spending of the savings of the people.

Think it over.

A device of these advocates of gigantic spending is the manipulation of words, phrases and slogans to convey new meanings different from those we have long understood. These malign distortions drug thinking. They drown it in emotion. We see government borrowing and spending transferred into the soft phrase "deficit spending." The slogan of a "welfare state" has emerged as a disguise for the totalitarian state by the route of spending. Thomas Jefferson would not recognize this distortion of his simple word "welfare" in the Constitution. Jefferson's idea of the meaning of welfare lies in his statement "to preserve our independence . . . we must make a choice between economy and liberty or profusion and servitude. . . . If we can prevent government from wresting the labors of the people under the pretense of caring for them we shall be happy."

Another of these distortions is by those who support such a state and call themselves "liberals." John Morley would not recognize them.

Out of these slogans and phrases and new meanings of words come vague promises and misty mirages, such as "security from the cradle to the grave," which frustrate those basic human impulses to production which make a dynamic nation.

Think it over.

It is customary to blame the administrations or the legislatures for this gigantic increase in spending, these levies on the nation's work-days, and this ride to a dead-end of our unique and successful American system. A large cause of this growing confiscation of the work of the people by our various governments is the multitude of great pressure groups among our citizens. Also the state and municipal governments pressurize the Federal government. And within the Federal government are pressure groups building their own empires.

Aggression of groups and agencies against the people as a whole is not a process of free men. Special privilege either to business or groups is not liberty.

Why Pressure Groups Succeed

Many of these groups maintain paid lobbies in Washington or in the state capitols to press their claims upon the administrations or the legislatures.

Our representatives must run for election. They can be defeated by these pressure groups. Our officials are forced to think in terms of pressure groups, not in terms of need of the whole people.

Perhaps some of my listeners object to somebody else's pressure group. Perhaps you support one of your own. Perhaps some of you do not protest that your leaders are not acting with your authority.

Think it over.

And finally, may I say that thinking and debate on these questions must not be limited to legislative halls. We should debate them in every school. We should resort to the old cracker barrel debate in every corner grocery. There phrases and slogans can be dissolved in common sense and integrity.

A splendid storehouse of integrity and freedom has been bequeathed to us by our forefathers. In this day of confusion, of peril to liberty, our high duty is to see that this storehouse is not robbed of its contents.

We dare not see the birthright of posterity to individual independence, initiative and freedom of choice bartered for a mess of a collectivist system.

My word to you, my fellow-citizens, on this seventy-fifth birthday is this: The founding fathers dedicated the structure of our government "to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity." We of this generation inherited this precious blessing. Yet as spendthrifts we are on our way to rob posterity of its inheritance.

The American people have solved many great crises in national life. The qualities of self-restraint, of integrity, of conscience and courage still live in our people. It is not too late to summon these qualities.

LONDON, AUG. 10-(AP)-U.S.AIRMEN IN ENGLAND MADE PUBLIC TODAY A VOLUNTARY GOOD CONDUCT CODE WHOSE THEME IS "DON'T LET'S BE BEASTLY TO THE BRITISH."

IT ADVISES THE GI'S TO SWEAR OFF GRIPING ABOUT BRITISH FOOD, TALKING TOO MUCH, PLAYING THE BLACK MARKETS AND BOASTING ABOUT AMERICA.

THE CODE WAS PUBLISHED IN THE "UNITED KINGDOM EAGLE," WEEKLY NEWSPAPER OF THE THIRD AIR DIVISION HEADQUARTERS AT SUBURBAN RUISLIP.

IT WAS HAMMERED OUT BY THE ENLISTED MEN THEMSELVES IN ONE OF THEIR WEEKLY DISCUSSION HOURS.

SOME 8,000 U.S.AIRMEN ARE STATIONED IN ENGLAND, INCLUDING THE PERSONNEL OF THREE B29 SUPERFORT GROUPS IN THE MIDLANDS AND A BIG FORCE OF AIRCRAFT MAINTENANCE MEN AT BURTONWOOD.

THE 11-POINT GOOD CONDUCT CODE FOLLOWS:

1. DON'T BE OVERTALKATIVE AND FAMILIAR. MAINTAIN THE PROPER UNIFORM AT ALL TIMES. BE A CREDIT TO YOUR UNIFORM.

2. KEEP OUT OF BLACK MARKETS.

3. TIP SENSIBLY. LAVISH TIPPING ANTAGONIZES THE VAST MAJORITY OF PEOPLE HERE WHO CANNOT COMPETE WITH IT.

4. IF YOU GO IN FOR CLIP JOINTS BE SPORTING ENOUGH TO TAKE THE FINANCIAL CONSEQUENCES.

5. DON'T GRIPE ABOUT RATION OR CURRENCY REGULATIONS OR PROTEST ABOUT THE NON-AMERICAN SIZE OF FOOD PORTIONS. THE PEOPLE IN THIS COUNTRY DON'T LIKE IT ANY MORE THAN YOU DO.

6. DON'T JUDGE A PEOPLE BY ITS SMALL FRINGE OF SHADY CHARACTERS AND BLACK MARKETEERS. TREAT PEOPLE, ESPECIALLY WOMEN, WITH THE RESPECT THEY DESERVE.

7. DON'T JUDGE A WHOLE PEOPLE BY A FEW ANTI-AMERICAN TROUBLE MAKERS. IF YOU HAPPEN TO RUN INTO AN UNFRIENDLY INCIDENT, HANDLE YOURSELF WITH COMPOSURE.

8. STEER A MIDDLE COURSE--NEITHER BOAST ABOUT AMERICA NOR APOLOGIZE FOR IT.

9. REMEMBER THAT BRITAIN'S DISTINCTIVE CHARACTER LIES IN TRADITION AND THAT ITS PRESENT STANDARD OF LIVING IS CONSIDERABLY BELOW ITS NORMAL.

10. DON'T FLAUNT YOUR RATIONS OR BOAST OF ITS QUALITY OR PRICE.

11. THE MOST IMPORTANT THING YOU SHOULD BE CERTAIN TO HAVE AT ALL TIMES IS A SENSE OF RESPONSIBILITY AS AN AMERICAN ABROAD.

LONDON, AUG. 10-(AP)-DIPLOMATIC OFFICIALS REPORTED TODAY AN AMERICAN FEELER HAS GONE OUT TO TEST WHETHER SWEDEN MIGHT NOW BE READY TO JOIN THE ATLANTIC PACT.

THE STOCKHOLM GOVERNMENT'S REACTION SO FAR HAS BEEN NEGATIVE, THE OFFICIALS SAID.

THERE WAS NO IMMEDIATE CONFIRMATION OF THE REPORT FROM OTHER SOURCES. THEINFORMANTS ASKED NOT TO BE IDENTIFIED EVEN BY NATIONALITY

THEY DECLARED A TENTATIVE AND INFORMAL APPROACH WAS MADE IN WASHINGTON SOME TIME IN THE PAST MONTH. THEY DID NOT SAY EXACTLY WHO MADE THE MOVE. IT WAS PRESUMABLY DIRECTED TO THE SWEDISH EMBASSY.

THE INFORMANTS EXPRESSED THE VIEW A MORE FORMAL AMERICAN APPROACH TO SWEDEN TO RECONSIDER HER DECISION TO STAY OUT OF THE 12-NATION GROUPING MIGHT STILL BE MADE.

SWEDEN, TRADITIONALLY NETURAL IN FOREIGN AFFAIRS, ORIGINALLY ELECTED TO STAY OUT OF THE ATLANTIC PACT BECAUSE SHE CONSIDERED IT DIRECTED AGAINST NEARBY RUSSIA.

SHE DID HOWEVER OFFER TO JOIN DENMARK AND NORWAY IN A SCANDINAVIAN DEFENSE TREATY, PROVIDED THE THREE-NATION GROUP KEPT OUT OF THE ATLANTIC ALLIANCE AND OUT OF EAST-WEST SQUABBLES. NORWAY AND DENMARK WERE NOT INTERESTED.

THE INFORMANTS SAID THE LATEST AMERICAN TRIAL BALLOON IN WASHINGTON WAS AIMED AT ESTABLISHING WHETHER SWEDEN WOULD BE WILLING TO JOIN THE SCANDINAVIAN WING OF THE ATLANTIC PACT. THE AMERICAN ARGUMENT WAS SAID TO BE THAT MEMBERSHIP IN THAT WING WOULD AMOUNT TO MEMBERSHIP IN A PURELY SCANDINAVIAN ALLIANCE.

THE ATLANTIC PARTNERS HAVE BEEN REPORTED PLANNING TO FORM THEMSELVES INTO GROUPS--AMERICAN, SOUTH EUROPEAN, WEST EUROPEAN,AND SCANDINAVIAN, THE LAST COMPRISING NORWAY, DENMARK AND ICELAND.

SWEDEN'S ANSWER WAS SAID TO BE NO, BECAUSE SUCH MEMBERSHIP WOULD MEAN COMING INTO THE ATLANTIC PACT IN ONE FORM OR ANOTHER.

SECOND LEAD COUNCIL OF EUROPE

BY FRANK O'BRIEN

STRASBOURG,FRANCE,AUG.10-(AP)-FORMER FRENCH PREMIER EDOUARD HERRIOT SAID TODAY THE NEW COUNCIL OF EUROPE MIGHT BE ABLE TO FIND A BASIC SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM OF THE CONTINENT'S TRADE DEFICIT WITH THE UNITED STATES.

HE IMPLIED THAT HE THOUGHT THE ORGANIZATION MIGHT HAVE MORE LUCK IN THIS RESPECT THAN THE AMERICAN-FINANCED EUROPEAN RECOVERY PROGRAM (ERP).

HERRIOT ADDRESSED THE OPENING SESSION OF THE COUNCIL'S CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY. HE WAS NAMED TEMPORARY PRESIDENT OF THE BODY PENDING THE ELECTION OF A PERMANENT PRESIDENT.

JUST OVER 100 DELEGATES FROM A DOZEN COUNTRIES ATTENDED THE SESSION OF THE ASSEMBLY--A BODY WHICH HAS SOME OF THE ASPECTS OF A UNIFIED EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT.

HERRIOT, LONG AN ADVOCATE OF EUROPEAN UNITY, SAID ONLY SOME NEW POLITICAL ORGANIZATION, LIKE THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE, COULD GET AT THE ROOTS OF EUROPE'S POLITICAL, SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC PROBLEMS.

HE GAVE FIGURES SHOWING EUROPE'S TRADE DEFICIT WITH THE UNITED STATES AND SAID:

"EXPERIMENTS MADE RECENTLY TO HARMONIZE THE ECONOMIES OF DIFFERENT COUNTRIES HAVE HARDLY BEEN ENCOURAGING. THE REAL REASON IS THAT THE PROBLEM HAS BEEN DEALT WITH WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF EXISTING INSTITUTIONS. TO RELIEVE SO MANY DIFFICULTIES, THERE MUST BE A POLITICAL BODY, A POLITICAL DEMONSTRATION, AND POLITICAL ACTION."

HERRIOT SAID A DIVISION OF MINDS EXISTS ON THE QUESTION OF ADMITTING GERMANS TO THE COUNCIL. HE INDICATED WESTERN GERMANY SHOULD WORK HER WAY INTO THE ORGANIZATION WITH PROOFS THAT SHE NO LONGER HARBORS AGGRESSIVE INTENTIONS.

PAUL-HENRI SPAAK OF BELGIUM APPEARED THE LIKELY CHOICE OF THE ASSEMBLY FOR ITS FIRST PERMANENT PRESIDENT. SPAAK TOLD A REPORTER HE EXPECTS TO RESIGN AS BELGIUM'S FOREIGN MINISTER SO THAT HE CAN BE FREE TO TAKE THE ASSEMBLY PRESIDENCY TOMORROW. PAUL VAN ZEELAND WILL SUCCEED TO THE FOREIGN MINISTRY POST, SPAAK SAID.

THE ASSEMBLY, ON A MOTION OF FORMER PREMIER PAUL REYNAUD OF FRANCE, DECIDED TO PUT OFF THE ELECTION OF ITS OFFICERS UNTIL TOMORROW'S MORNING SESSION. AFTER LESS THAN AN HOUR IN SESSION, THE ASSEMBLY ADJOURNED.

TWELVE NATIONS WERE REPRESENTED IN THE INAUGURAL MEETING. THE FOUNDER NATIONS WERE BRITAIN, FRANCE, THE NETHERLANDS, BELGIUM, SWEDEN, DENMARK, NORWAY, ITALY, LUXEMBOURG, AND IRELAND. THEY INVITED GREECE, TURKEY AND ICELAND TO BE MEMBERS, AND THE FORMER TWO ALREADY HAVE TAKEN THEIR SEATS.

HERRIOT, AFTER GIVING HIS FIGURES ON EUROPE'S TRADE DEFICIT

ADDED:
"AS A RESULT OF THE MARSHALL PLAN WE ARE NOW LIVING IN AN ARTIFICIAL REGIME IN A STATE OF TEMPORARY WELL BEING."
HERRIOT SAID IT WAS A MISTAKE TO BELIEVE THAT INTERNATIONAL UNDERSTANDING MUST HAVE ITS ORIGIN IN DIMINISHING THE IDEA OF PATRIOTISM. HE SAID ONLY SOME NEW POLITICAL ORGANIZATION LIKE THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE CAN GET AT THE ROOTS OF EUROPE'S POLITICAL, SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC PROBLEMS. #

THE COMMITTEE IS MADE UP OF REPRESENTATIVES OF MEMBER NATIONS, EACH HAVING ONE VOTE. SEATS IN THE ASSEMBLY ARE APPORTIONED ROUGHLY ON THE BASIS OF POPULATION. STRASBOURG/FRANCE XX MADE.
SPOKESMEN FOR THE EUROPEAN MOVEMENT WERE EQUALLY INSISTENT ON GIVING THE ASSEMBLY MORE LEEWAY IN SHAPING ITS OWN PROGRAM.
AS THE DEPUTIES PREPARED FOR THEIR FIRST MEETING, INTEREST CENTERED ON THE ASSEMBLY'S CHOICE OF A PRESIDING OFFICER.
THE MINISTERIAL COMMITTEE IS TO RECOMMEND SOMEONE TO THE ASSEMBLY, BUT IN VIEW OF THE DELEGATES' TEMPER, THAT RECOMMENDATION MIGHT WELL BE A "KISS OF DEATH."
FORMER FRENCH PREMIER EDOUARD HERRIOT, LONG AN ADVOCATE OF EUROPEAN UNITY, WILL CONVOKE THE ASSEMBLY AND GIVE THE OPENING ADDRESS. THE ELECTION OF A PRESIDENT WILL COME IMMEDIATELY AFTER HIS SPEECH.
WINSTON CHURCHILL, WHO WAS GREETED BY ABOUT 1,000 CHEERING PERSONS WHEN HE ARRIVED FROM ITALY LAST NIGHT, ALSO IS EXPECTED TO SPEAK. HE IS ONE OF THE 18 MEMBERS OF THE BRITISH DELEGATION.

NIGHT LEAD EUROPEAN
BY FRANK O'BRIEN
STRASBOURG, FRANCE, AUG 10-(AP)-FRANCE'S ELDER STATESMAN EDOUARD HERRIOT OPENED THE FIRST SESSION OF EUROPE'S CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY TODAY WITH THE WARNING THAT "OUR MINDS ARE DIVIDED" ON ADMITTING GERMANY.
WINSTON CHURCHILL, WHO IS EXPECTED TO LEAD A MOVEMENT FOR THE ADMISSION OF WESTERN GERMANY, WAS LOUDLY CHEERED BY THOUSANDS OF STRASBOURG CITIZENS AND THE VISITOR'S GALLERY AS HE STRODE INTO THE CHAMBER FOR THE INAUGURAL SESSION OF THE OLD WORLD'S FIRST UNIFIED PARLIAMENT.
HERRIOT, WHO TOLD 101 DISTINGUISHED DELEGATES FROM A DOZEN NATIONS THEY MUST DEAL WITH PROBLEMS OF "LIFE AND DEATH" URGENCY TO EUROPE, PRAISED THE FORMER BRITISH PRIME MINISTER AS THE MAN FROM WHOSE "MIND SPRANG THE MOVEMENT WHICH HAS BROUGHT US TOGETHER HERE."
THE SESSION CLOSED IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE FRENCHMAN'S 15-MINUTE INAUGURAL ADDRESS WITH THE VIRTUAL CERTAINITY THAT PAUL-HENRI SPAAK OF BELGIUM WILL BE ELECTED FIRST PRESIDENT OF THE ASSEMBLY TOMORROW.
SPAAK, A SOCIALIST, SAID HE WOULD RESIGN TONIGHT AS BELGIAN FOREIGN MINISTER AND WOULD BE SUCCEEDED BY THE SOCIAL CHRISTIAN PAUL VAN ZEELAND. ASSEMBLY RULES DO NOT PERMIT A CABINET MINISTER TO PARTICIPATE IN ITS DELIBERATIONS. THE SHIFT WAS MADE POSSIBLE BY A SOLUTION OF BELGIUM'S 50-DAY CABINET DEADLOCK FOLLOWING RECENT ELECTIONS.
AT ONE PLACE HERRIOT APPEARED TO LEND HIS PRESTIGE TO A POTENTIAL REVOLT AMONG THE ASSEMBLYMEN AGAINST THE POWERS EXERCISED BY THE OTHER BRANCH OF THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE, THE MINISTERIAL COMMITTEE.
MANY ASSEMBLYMEN FEEL THAT THE COMMITTEE, MADE UP OF ONE MINISTER FROM EACH NATION, USUALLY THE FOREIGN MINISTER, SHOULD NOT HAVE THE RIGHT TO SAY WHAT SUBJECTS THE ASSEMBLY MAY OR MAY NOT DISCUSS.
SEAN MACBRIDE, IRISH FOREIGN MINISTER, SAID TODAY HE THOUGHT THE ASSEMBLY WOULD BECOME A "RUNAWAY CONGRESS" IN ITS RELATIONS WITH THE COMMITTEE.
THE ISSUE, TOGETHER WITH THAT OF GERMANY'S STATUS, IS LIKELY TO BE THE MOST IMPORTANT AT THE SESSION EXPECTED TO CONTINUE THE REST OF THIS MONTH.
HERRIOT SAID "THE EUROPEAN ASSEMBLY WILL BE WHAT YOUR DETERMINATION MAKES IT."
CONCERNING THE "EXTREMELY DELICATE" QUESTION OF GERMANY HE SAID "WE ARE HORRIFIED TO NOTE THE REAPPEARANCE OF CERTAIN IDEOLOGIES (IN GERMANY) BASED ON A CULT OF FORCE AND THE RIGHT OF THE MAILED FIST."
HE DID NOT MAKE CLEAR WHETHER HE WAS SPEAKING OF CURRENT POLITICAL MOVEMENTS IN GERMANY, OR OF NAZISM AND THE PAST WAR.
"IF GERMANY HAD REMAINED FAITHFUL" TO THE EXAMPLES OF HER GREAT MEN OF SCIENCE, LITERATURE AND ARTS, HE ADDED, "HOW EAGERLY WE SHOULD WORK WITH HER FOR THE ORGANIZATION OF A LIBERAL EUROPE."
BUT, HE INDICATED, GERMANY MUST PROVE THAT SHE NO LONGER HARBORS AGGRESSIVE INTENTIONS.
HE SAID THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL IS OPEN "TO THE EAST" AND IS NOT "PREPARING A MILITARY ALLIANCE." "WE MERELY DESIRE TO ASSOCIATE OURSELVES IN ORDER TO DEFEND THESE TWO GREAT ACQUISITIONS OF HUMAN CIVILIZATION: FREEDOM AND LAW," HE DECLARED.
COMMUNIST PROPAGANDA HAS REPRESENTED THE COUNCIL AS AN ADJUNCT OF THE BRUSSELS AND ATLANTIC PACTS AND AN INSTRUMENT OF AMERICAN POLICY.
HERRIOT SUGGESTED THAT THE ASSEMBLY MIGHT BE MORE SUCCESSFUL THAN THE MARSHALL PLAN IN SOLVING BASIC PROBLEMS OF EUROPEAN RECOVERY.
"AS A RESULT OF THE MARSHALL PLAN WE ARE NOW LIVING UNDER AN ARTIFICIAL REGIME IN A TEMPORARY STATE OF WELL-BEING", HE DECLARED, BUT A BASIC SOLUTION DEMANDS "A POLITICAL BODY, A POLITICAL DETERMINATION, AND POLITICAL ACTION."
MCBRIDE, WHO PREDICTED A REVOLT AGAINST THE MINISTERIAL COMMITTEE, CRITICIZED THE AGENDA WHICH IT HAS PREPARED FOR THE ASSEMBLY, THE AGENDA HAS NOT YET BEEN MADE PUBLIC.
"THE ASSEMBLY IS NOT EVEN PERMITTED TO DISCUSS HUMAN RIVHTS--THAT IS RIDICULOUS," THE IRISH FOREIGN MINISTER SAID.
HE HINTED THAT ONE OF THE FOUR IRISH DEPUTIES WILL RAISE A PROTEST ON THE FLOOR AGAINST THE SEPARATION OF IRELAND AND NORTHERN IRELAND.
IT HAS BEEN REPORTED, TOO, THAT FRANCE WILL URGE THE ADMISSION OF THE SAAR AS AN ASSOCIATE MEMBER, AND THAT THE QUESTION OF AUSTRIA'S ADMISSION

IT HAS BEEN REPORTED, TOO, THAT FRANCE WILL URGE THE ADMISSION OF THE SAAR AS AN ASSOCIATE MEMBER, AND THAT THE QUESTION OF AUSTRIA'S ADMISSION WILL BE RAISED.

THE ASSEMBLY IS MADE UP OF DELEGATES CHOSEN ON A POPULATION RATIO FROM BRITAIN, FRANCE, BELGIUM, THE NETHERLANDS, LUXEMBOURG, THE THREE SCANDINAVIAN COUNTRIES, ITALY, IRELAND AND THE TWO COUNTRIES ADMITTED EARLIER THIS WEEK, GREECE AND TURKEY.
SEATED IN ALPHABETICAL RATHER THAN NATIONAL ORDER IN THE AUDITORIUM OF STRASBOURG UNIVERSITY, THEY INCLUDED SUCH NOTABLES AS ESOBIDAULT, AUDITORIUM OF STRASBOURG UNIVERSITY, THEY INCLUDED SUCH NOTABLES AS GEORGES BIDAULT, FORMER FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER, IRELAND'S EAMON DE VALERA,VAN ZEELAND OF BELGIUM, AND FRANCE'S WAR-TIME PREMIER, PAUL REYNAUD.

ANNECY, FRANCE, AUG.10-(AP)-CUBA TODAY WALKED OUT OF THE CONFERENCE OF 23 COUNTRIES PARTICIPATING IN THE GENERAL AGREEMENT ON TARIFFS AND TRADES. SHE CHARGED THAT THE UNITED STATES HAD ELIMINATED TRADE PREFERENCES ENJOYED BY CUBA IN THE UNITED STATES.

VARGAS GOMEZ, CUBAN DELEGATE, TOLD THE CONTRACTING PARTIES THAT HE REGRETTED TAKING THIS ACTION, BUT HE FELT IT NECESSARY TO INFORM HIS GOVERNMENT OF THE TREND OF THE MEETING. THE 23 MEMBERS OF THE AGREEMENT HAVE BEEN SITTING HERE SINCE APRIL SEEKING TO LOWER TRADE BARRIERS AND EXTEND THE AGREEMENT THROUGH NEGOTIATIONS.

THE CUBAN DELEGATE CONTENDED THAT IN THE NEGOTIATIONS HERE THE UNITED STATES HAD GRANTED CERTAIN TARIFF ADVANTAGES TO HAITI.

THE EFFECT OF WHICH WOULD BE TO REDUCE OR COMPLETELY ELIMINATE THE PREFERENCES ON THESE ITEMS ENJOYED BY CUBA.

THE CUBAN ACTION CAME AFTER THE CONTRACTING PARTIES HAD VOTED THAT "THE RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS BETWEEN GOVERNMENTS ARISING UNDER A BILATERIAL AGREEMENT IS NOT A MATTER WITHIN THE COMPETENCE OF THE CONTRACTING PARTIES."

THE CUBAN GOVERNMENT TOOK THE POSITION THAT PREFERENCES GRANTED THEIR PRODUCTS BY THE UNITED STATES COULD NOT BE REDUCED OR ELIMINATED WITHOUT PREVIOUS NEGOTIATION AND AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE CUBAN AND UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

GOMEZ TOLD THE CONTRACTING PARTIES THAT HE HAD BEEN UNABLE TO CONVINCE THE UNITED STATES OF THE JUSTICE OF CUBA'S CONTENTION.

SOODBURY WILLOUGHBY, HEAD OF THE U.S. DELEGATION, EXPRESSED REGRET AT THE CUBAN ACTION AND SAID THE UNITED STATES WAS WILLING TO CONDUCT BILATERAL DISCUSSIONS WITH CUBA IN AN EFFORT TO REACH A SOLUTION OF THEIR MUTUAL PROBLEMS.

IT WAS NOT DISCLOSED JUST WHAT TRADE PREFERENCES WERE INVOLVED IN THE DISPUTE. THE CUBAN DELEGATE INDICATED THAT CUBA ALSO HAD BEEN UNABLE TO FIND RELIEF FOR SERIOUS SITUATION FACING THE CUBAN TEXTILE INDUSTRY.

THE CUBAN DELEGATE SAID HIS GOVERNMENT WOULD HAVE TO DECIDE ITS ATTITUDE AND POLICY IN THE FUTURE. THE DECISION OF THE CONTRACTING PARTIES, HE SAID, "LEFT THE MAINTENANCE OF CUBA'S PREFERENCES TO THE DECISION OF OTHER CONTRACTING PARTIES AND NOT TO CUBA."

REPRESENTED BY AN ARMY-APPOINTED COUNSEL, MAJ.RUFUS V.JONES OF CARTERSVILLE, GA., BIRD OPENED WITH A CHALLENGE OF THE COURT'S JURISDICTION TO TRY HIM.

HE CLAIMED HE WAS DENIED ANY CHANCE TO CONTACT A LAWYER OR APPEAL TO CIVIL COURTS WHEN ARMY AGENTS SEIZED HIM IN MISHAWAKA LAST MARCH AND BROUGHT HIM TO GERMANY.

"THERE IS NO LAW WHICH PERMITS THE ARMY TO WALK INTO ANY STATE AND BRING A CIVILIAN EVEN ACROSS A STATE LINE, LET ALONE INTO A FOREIGN COUNTRY, WITHOUT EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS," JONES DECLARED. "THEREFORE THIS MAN IS ILLEGALLY BEFORE THIS COURT."

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM, AUG 10-(AP)-GASTON EYSKENS, A SOCIAL CHRISTIAN, SAID TONIGHT BELGIUM'S 50-DAY POLITICAL DEADLOCK HAD BEEN BROKEN AND THAT HE WOULD HEAD A NEW GOVERNMENT OF SOCIAL CHRISTIANS AND LIBERALS.

"WE HAVE A GOVERNMENT TONIGHT, AN AGREEMENT HAS NOW BEEN REACHED," HE TOLD REPORTERS. "THE MINISTERS WILL BE SO SWORN IN TOMORROW AT NOON."

THE PREVIOUS GOVERNMENT WAS A COALITION OF SOCIAL CHRISTIANS AND SOCIALISTS HEADED BY SOCIALIST PAUL-HENRI SPAAK AS PREMIER. IN THE ELECTION OF JUNE 26 THE SOCIAL CHRISTIANS CAMPAIGNED ON A PROMISE TO CALL A REFERENDUM ON THE RETURN OF KING LEOPOLD FROM EXILE. THEY STRENGTHENED THEIR POSITION, WINNING 104 OF THE 212 SEATS IN THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES, BUT FAILED TO GAIN A MAJORITY.

THE SOCIALISTS REFUSED TO JOIN THE NEW GOVERNMENT, BUT THE LIBERALS AGREED WHEN THE SOCIAL CHRISTIANS CONSENTED TO SHELVE THE "ROYAL QUESTION" FOR THE TIME BEING. THE LIBERALS, A CONSERVATIVE GROUP, ALSO INCREASED THEIR STRENGTH IN THE ELECTIONS WITH PROMISES OF TAX CUTS. THEY HOLD 30 SEATS.

THE NEW CABINET WILL BE COMPOSED OF EIGHT SOCIAL CHRISTIANS, A CATHOLIC PARTY, AND SEVEN LIBERALS. PAUL VAN ZEELAND, A SOCIAL CHRISTIAN, REPLACES SPAAK AS FOREIGN MINISTER. ALBERT DEVEZE, A FORMER LIBERAL DEFENSE MINISTER, WILL RETURN TO THAT POST.

NEW YORK, AUG. 10-(AP)-A GREEK MARITIME UNION OFFICIAL IN NEW YORK CITY CLAIMS THAT A "BLACKLIST" SUPPLIED TO U.S. IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES BY THE GREEK GOVERNMENT IS THE BASIS FOR THE ARREST HERE OF 14 GREEK SEAMEN.

THE YOUNG SEAMEN, WELL-DRESSED AND LADEN WITH MUCH LUGGAGE, WERE SEIZED YESTERDAY AS THEY WERE EMBARKING AS PASSENGERS ON THE POLISH LINER BATORY.

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES HAVE KEPT A HEAVY GUARD AROUND THE BATORY WHENEVER IT IS IN PORT EVER SINCE COMMUNIST GERHART EISLER FLED TO EUROPE AS A STOWAWAY ON THE SHIP.

THE 14 GREEK SEAMEN, DESCRIBED BY IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS AS "ALIENS SUBJECT TO DEPORTATION," WERE TAKEN TO ELLIS ISLAND.

HERCULES ARNAOUTIS, TREASURER IN NEW YORK OF THE FEDERATION OF GREEK MARITIME UNIONS, SAID THE GOVERNMENT WAS TRYING TO TERRORIZE THE SEAMEN BECAUSE THEIR NAMES WERE ON A "BLACKLIST."

HE SAID A BLACKLIST WAS DRAWN UP BY GREEK SHIPOWNERS, WHO TURNED IT OVER TO THE GREEK GOVERNMENT, WHICH IN TURN GAVE THE NAMES TO THE U.S. IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE.

TRENT DOSER, DISTRICT ENFORCEMENT OFFICER FOR THE IMMIGRATION SERVICE, SAID OF THE SEAMEN:

"UNTIL THEIR CASES ARE COMPLETELY PROCESSED, AND ALL THE FACTS ARE KNOWN, IT CANNOT BE SAID WHETHER THEY ARE ENTITLED TO MAKE A VOLUNTARY DEPARTURE."

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS SAID THE SEAMAN HAD OVERSTAYED THE SHORE LEAVE PERMITTED ALIEN SEAMEN UNDER THE IMMIGRATION LAWS.

IT WAS REPORTED THEY ARRIVED IN THIS COUNTRY IN JUNE ABOARD THE GREEK SHIP TRITON, WHICH DOCKED IN BALTIMORE. NORMALLY, SHORE LEAVE EXPIRES AFTER 29 DAYS, IT WAS SAID.

EDWARD J.SHAUGHNESSY, DISTRICT DIRECTOR OF THE IMMIGRATION SERVICE, SAID DEPORTATION HEARINGS AGAINST SOME OF THE SAILORS WOULD GET UNDER WAY THIS WEEK AT ELLIS ISLAND. HE SAID ALL THE MEN ARE SUSPECTED OF BEING IN THE UNITED STATES ILLEGALLY.

THE DIRECTOR SAID THE CHARGES CONSTITUTED "ROUTINE SEAMEN'S CASES" AND CONSEQUENTLY COULD BE HEARD QUICKLY AT ELLIS ISLAND. HE SAID THE ONLY PROBLEM WAS FINDING ENOUGH HEARING COMMISSIONERS TO CONDUCT THE CASES.

BELGRADE,YUGOSLAVIA,AUG.10-(AP)-MARSHAL TITO'S YUGOSLAVIA FIRED A NEW SALVO AT RUSSIA AND THE SOVIET SATELLITES TODAY, WITH CHARGES RANGING FROM BETRAYAL OF THE GREEK REBEL CAUSE TO JUST PLAIN LYING.

THE ATTITUDE OF THE GOVERNMENT, AS REFLECTED BY THE TONE OF THE OFFICIAL PRESS, EMPHASIZED THE STEADILY INCREASING CHILLINESS BETWEEN YUGOSLAVIA AND HER ONE-TIME COMINFORM COMRADES. AT THE SAME TIME, IT UNDERSCORED THE GOVERNMENT'S CONFIDENCE IN ITSELF.

BELGRADE NEWSPAPERS SPLASHED THE FOREIGN OFFICE'S FORMAL CHARGE THAT RUSSIA IS HOLDING AND MISTREATING 63 YUGOSLAV YOUNGSTERS, MOST OF THEM UNDER TEEN AGE, WHO WERE SENT TO THE SOVIET UNION FOR SCHOOLING AFTER THE WAR'S END.

BORBA, THE OFFICIAL YUGOSLAV COMMUNIST NEWSPAPER, GAVE FRONT PAGE THREE-COLUMN PROMINENCE TO A LETTER FROM PARENTS OF TWO OF THE CHILDREN, COMPLAINING SUCH SOVIET ACTION WAS COMPARABLE TO THE CONQUERING TURKS.

IN A DAILY COLUMN WHICH RUNS UNDER THE HEADING "SLANDERS AND MISINFORMATION," BORBA BLAMED RUSSIA AND COMINFORM AGENTS FOR THE PLIGHT IN WHICH DISINTEGRATING GREEK REBELS FIND THEMSELVES.

MOREOVER, THE PAPER SAID PERHAPS SIGNIFICANTLY "WHEN IT WILL BE POSSIBLE TO TALK MORE OPENLY, THE ROLE OF U.S.S.R. AND COMINFORM AGENTS WILL BECOME MORE CLEAR ALONG WITH THEIR CRIMINAL PLAYING WITH THE FATE OF THE GREEK PEOPLE."

THE REPORT SAID THE COMINFORM'S ALLEGED PLAN TO END THE GREEK STRUGGLE BEGAN WITH REPLACEMENT OF MARKOS VAFIADES, REBEL CHIEF, ADDING THIS WAS DONE "UNDER THE FALSE EXCUSE THAT HE WAS ILL."

MARKOS REPORTEDLY WAS IN SYMPATHY WITH TITO'S CAMPAIGN FOR EQUAL RIGHTS AMONG COUNTRIES WITH COMMUNIST GOVERNMENTS, INSTEAD OF AUTOMATIC "YES" ALLEGIANCE TO ALL MOSCOW ORDERS. TITO HAS SINCE ORDERED CLOSING OF THE GREEK YUGOSLAV BORDER.

HE HAD AN APPOINTMENT TO GO BEFORE THE HOUSE COMMITTEE TODAY (9:30 A.M. EST) AND IT WAS UNDERSTOOD THAT HE MIGHT HAVE ANOTHER CLOSED DOOR SESSION WITH THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS GROUP TOMORROW.

STUART WAS DUE HERE BY PLANE FROM THE WEST COAST AT 3:30 P.M. EASTERN STANDARD TIME.

THIS IS THE 73-YEAR-OLD DIPLOMAT'S FIRST TRIP BACK TO THE UNITED STATES IN A LONG TIME. AN EDUCATOR BY PROFESSION, HE WAS NAMED AMBASSADOR TO CHINA AT THE TIME THAT GENERAL GEORGE C.MARSHALL WAS MAKING HIS UNSUCCESSFUL EFFORT TO UNIFY THE CHINESE COMMUNISTS AND NATIONALISTS IN 1946.

BECAUSE OF HIS MORE THAN 40 YEARS RESIDENCE IN CHINA AND HIS WIDE ACQUAINTANCE WITH CHINESE LEADERS, STUART IS REGARDED BY THIS GOVERNMENT'S TOP FOREIGN POLICY MAKERS AS AN OUTSTANDING AUTHORITY ON THE COUNTRY. IN THE WHITE PAPER REPORT, BY WHICH THE STATE DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCED THAT IT WAS GIVING UP ALL HOPE THAT THE NATIONALISTS COULD SAVE CHINA FROM COMMUNISM, STUART'S DISPATCHES TO WASHINGTON PLAYED AN IMPORTANT PART.

IN RECENT MONTHS HE HAS PARTICULARLY EMPHASIZED THE GROWING WEAKNESS OF THE NATIONALIST REGIME DUE TO DIVISIONS AMONG ITS LEADERS, INCLUDING A LACK OF COOPERATION BETWEEN ACTING PRESIDENT LI TSUNG-JEN AND GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK, THE FORMER PRESIDENT. STUART FORESAW AT THAT TIME A "FRAGMENTATION" OF THE NON-COMMUNIST AREA OF CHINA WITH THE DEFENSE OF EACH PROVINCE AGAINST RED ADVANCES FALLING MORE AND MORE INTO THE HANDS OF PROVINCIAL LEADERS.

THIS LATTER IS AN IMPORTANT POINT IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF FURTHER AMERICAN POLICIES OF TRYING TO SLOW DOWN, IF NOT TO HALT, FURTHER COMMUNIST ADVANCES. THERE SEEMS TO BE NO DOUBT THAT ONE LINE OF ACTION WHICH THE ADMINISTRATION IS CONSIDERING IS AID TO THOSE ANTI-COMMUNIST FORCES WHICH GIVE REAL PROMISE OF CONTINUING THEIR FIGHT.

IN ADDITION, ACHESON DECLARED IN HIS WHITE PAPER LETTER TO PRESIDENT TRUMAN THAT THE UNITED STATES SHOULD ENCOURAGE ALL DEVELOPMENTS IN CHINA WHICH WORKED TOWARD THROWING OFF THE "FOREIGN YOKE" OF COMMUNISM. STUART HAS LIVED IN RECENT MONTHS IN COMMUNIST-CONTROLLED NANKING AND PRESUMABLY WILL BE ABLE TO COUNSEL ACHESON AND THE PRESIDENT ON THE POPULAR ATTITUDE, INSOFAR AS HE HAS OBSERVED IT, TOWARD RED RULE.

"BUT IN AUGUST, 1946, THE REPATRIATION WAS ABRUPTLY SUSPENDED, ALL REMAINING JAPANESE BEING DETAINED BY THE CHINESE COMMUNIST AUTHORITIES FOR SERVICE IN MILITARY OR INDUSTRIAL ESTABLISHMENTS. ALTHOUGH NO EXACT FIGURES ARE AVAILABLE, THE NUMBER OF THESE DETAINED IS ESTIMATED TO EXCEED 100,000."

NIGHT LEAD COMMUNISTS (360)

NEW YORK, AUG. 10-(AP)-ROBERT G. THOMPSON, COMMUNIST LEADER AND WORLD WAR II VETERAN, POURED SCORN TODAY ON THE SLOGAN "MY COUNTRY, RIGHT OR WRONG."

HE CALLED IT A "BIG BUSINESS SLOGAN" AND "ONE OF THE MOST VICIOUS AND HARMFUL SLOGANS EVER PUT FORTH."

THOMPSON, NEW YORK STATE COMMUNIST PARTY CHAIRMAN, IS ONE OF 11 COMMUNISTS ON TRIAL ON CHARGES OF CONSPIRACY TO ADVOCATE VIOLENT OVERTHROW OF THE GOVERNMENT.

HE TESTIFIED THAT HE HATED THE "RIGHT OR WRING" IDEA BECAUSE HE HAD "TO KILL TOO MANY FINE ITALIAN, GERMAN AND JAPANESE YOUNG MEN" WHO FOUGHT FOR THEIR OWN LANDS UNDER THE SAME SLOGAN.

THOMPSON FOUGHT WITH THE SPANISH REPUBLICAN ARMY IN THE CIVIL WAR THERE AND WITH THE U.S. ARMY IN THE PACIFIC IN WORLD WAR TWO.

HIS ASSERTIONS WERE PART OF A SUMMARY HE GAVE OF A SPEECH HE MADE TO A COMMUNIST PARTY BUILDING CONGRESS IN 1947.

AT ONE POINT, HE REFERRED TO HIS ARMY SERVICE AND COMMENTED, "MY COMMANDER (GEN. DOUGLAS), MACARTHUR, WAS NOT A LIBERAL MAN X X X."

HE WAS INTERRUPTED BY FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD R. MEDINA, WHO SAID:

"YOU DON'T NEED TO TOSS THOSE DIGS IN. YOU DIDN'T TELL THAT TO THE CONVENTION, DID YOU?"

"TO THE BEST OF MY RECOLLECTION, I DID, YOUR HONOR," THE WITNESS REPLIED.

THOMPSON DECLARED HE DID NOT DESCRIBE THE UNITED STATES AS IMPERIALISTIC IN THE ADDRESS.

THOMPSON, FOURTH DEFENDANT TO TESTIFY IN THE 30-WEEK TRIAL, DENIED STATEMENTS OF BALMES HIDALGO, JR., AN FBI INFORMANT WHO APPEARED FOR THE GOVERNMENT.

HIDALGO SAID THOMPSON HAD TOLD THE CONGRESS THAT THE WORLD WAS DIVIDED INTO TWO CAMPS, ONE COMPOSED OF "THE FREE COUNTRIES OF EUROPE" AND THE OTHER MADE UP OF "IMPERIALIST" NATIONS.

THOMPSON ASSERTED THE INFORMANT'S TESTIMONY WAS FULL OF FALSIFICATIONS.

JUDGE MEDINA REPROVED HIM FOR THIS, INSTRUCTING HIM TO GIVE HIS VERSION OF THE 1947 SPEECH WITHOUT CHARACTERIZING HIDALGO'S TESTIMONY.

THE DEFENDANT SAID HE TOLD THE CONGRESS THAT THE AMERICAN PEOPLE "DO NOT WANT WAR" BUT THAT "BIG INDUSTRIAL ELEMENTS" FAVORED WAR HYSTERIA IN ORDER TO OBTAIN "ARMAMENT ORDERS AND BIG PROFITS."

HE ADDED THAT IN HIS ADDRESS HE SAID AMERICAN MONOPOLISTS WERE IMPRESSED WITH THE FACT THAT THEY HAD AT THEIR COMMAND THE GREATEST PRODUCTION MACHINERY IN THE WORLD, A TWO-OCEAN NAVY, A BIG AIR FORCE AND THE ATOMIC BOMB, AND THAT "NOW WAS THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY TO TAKE CONTROL, LOCK, STOCK AND BARREL, OF THE WHOLE CAPITALIST WORLD."

BY MAX BOYD

WASHINGTON,AUG.10-(AP)-THE STRATEGY BEHIND PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S $1,450,000,000 FOREIGN ARMS PROGRAM BECAME CLEARER TODAY AS THE MILITARY HIGH COMMAND DISCLOSED THAT THE BULK OF ASSISTANCE TO EUROPE WOULD GO TO REARM ONCE POWERFUL FRANCE.

GENERAL OMAR N.BRADLEY REVEALED THAT A STRONG FRENCH ARMY IS AT THE HEART OF THE ADMINISTRATION'S PLAN TO BUILD UP FORCES IN WESTERN EUROPE. THE IDEA, HE SAID, IS IMMEDIATE ASSISTANCE TO MAKE OUR EUROPEAN ALLIES STRONG ENOUGH TO DELAY AND HAMPER ANY AGGRESSOR UNTIL

THE UNITED STATES COULD GET INTO ACTION.

BRADLEY DECLARED THE $1,160,000,000 EARMARKED FOR EUROPEAN MEMBERS OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC ALLIANCE WILL NOT GIVE EUROPE THE MILITARY STRENGTH TO STOP AN ATTACK BY RUSSIA. THE ARMY CHIEF SAID IT WILL TAKE FIVE OR TEN YEARS--"NO ONE KNOWS HOW LONG"--FOR WESTERN EUROPE TO BUOLD UP HER ECONOMIC AND MILITARY POWER TO A POINT WHERE SHE CAN DO THAT. BUT HE ADDED THAT THE AID PROPOSED NOW WILL STRENGTHEN HER TO THE POINT WHERE THERE MAY BE NO ATTACK.

BRADLEY SAID DETAILS OF THE PLAN TO CHANNEL THE BULK OF EUROPEAN ARMS AID TO FRANCE WOULD HAVE TO BE GIVEN TO CONGRESS SECRETLY.

IT IS NO SECRET, HOWEVER, THAT THE ENORMOUS ARMY WITH WHICH FRANCE WENT INTO WORLD WAR TWO LOST MOST OF ITS EQUIPMENT DURING THAT CONFLICT. THE FRENCH AIR FORCE MET SIMILAR DISASTER, AND MUCH OF THE FRENCH FLEET WAS SCUTTLED TO KEEP IT OUT OF GERMAN HANDS. FRENCH FORCES THAT FOUGHT THEIR WAY BACK INTO EUROPE WITH U.S.AND BRITISH FORCES WERE ARMED MOSTLY WITH AMERICAN GUNS, TANKS AND PLANES.

A RECENT ASSOCIATED PRESS SURVEY OF EUROPEAN MEMBERS OF THE ATLANTIC ALLIANCE SHOWED THAT FRANCE NOW HAS THE LARGEST FORCE OF MILITARY MANPOWER ON THE CONTINENT OUTSIDE OF RUSSIA. THERE ARE 469,000 MEN IN THE FRENCH ARMY, 68,000 IN THE AIR FORCE, AND 53,000 IN THE NAVY. BRITAIN HAS FEWER MEN IN ITS GROUND FORCES BUT NEARLY FOUR TIMES AS MANY AIRMEN AND MORE THAN FOUR TIMES AS MANY SAILORS.

RIFLES, ARTILLERY, TANKS, FIGHTER PLANES, SHORT-RANGE BOMBERS AND POSSIBLY LIGHT NAVAL CRAFT ARE CONSIDERED LIKELY TO GO TO FRANCE IN VIEW OF THE RULE THAT BRADLEY ASSUMES THAT COUNTRY WILL TAKE IN CASE WEST EUROPE IS ATTACKED.

IN EXPLAINING THE FOREIGN ARMS PROGRAM TO A HOUSE COMMITTEE RECENTLY, HE SAID IT WAS ASSUMED THAT IN EVENT OF SUCH AN ATTACK "THE HARD CORE" OF EXISTING GROUND DEFENSES WOULD COME FROM EUROPE, "AIDED BY OTHER NATIONS AS THEY CAN MOBILIZE." ENGLAND, FRANCE AND THE CLOSER COUNTRIES WOULD HAVE THE BULK OF THE SHORT-RANGE ATTACK BOMBARDMENT AND AIR DEFENSE, BRADLEY ADDED. THE U.S.WOULD HAVE THE JOB OF STRATEGIC BOMBING, INCLUDING DELIVERY OF THE ATOM BOMB, OF HELPING ENGLAND, FRANCE AND THE OTHER WEST EUROPE NAVAL POWERS TO KEEP THE SEA LANES OPEN, AND OF BRINGING UP ITS OWN GROUND AND TACTICAL AIR FORCES.

MR.TRUMAN'S PROGRAM PROVIDES $1,160,000,000 TO BUY ARMS FOR WESTERN EUROPE AND STIMULATE ITS OWN ARMS PRODUCTION. IN ADDITION, IT WOULD SEND ABROAD SURPLUS ARMS THAT ORIGINALLY COST $450,000,000.

GENERAL BRADLEY SPOKE TODAY FOR THE CHIEFS OF STAFF OF THE U.S. ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE--HIMSELF, ADMIRAL LOUIS E.DENFELD, AND GENERAL HOYT S.VANDENBERG. THEY RETURNED ONLY YESTERDAY FROM A FLYING TRIP TO EUROPE, DURING WHICH THEY INSPECTED AMERICAN FORCES AND DISCUSSED THE MILITARY STAFF TO BE SET UP UNDER THE NORTH ATLANTIC ALLIANCE.

BRADLEY URGED THAT CONGRESS APPROVE THE FULL PROGRAM PROPOSED BY MR.TRUMAN.

HE FLATLY REJECTED THE IDEA ADVANCED BY REPUBLICANS AND SOME DEMOCRATS THAT A SMALLER "STOP-GAP" PROGRAM BE AUTHORIZED UNTIL A DEFENSE COUNCIL AND DEFENSE COMMITTEE CAN BE SET UP BY THE NORTH ATLANTIC ALLIES AND AN OVERALL DEFENSE PLAN ADOPTED.

"WHATEVER STRATEGIC CONCEPT IS AGREED UPON, THIS EQUIPMENT WILL ALL FIT IN," BRADLEY SAID IN RESPONSE TO QUESTIONS BY SENATOR TYDINGS (D-MD).

THE MILITARY WENT ALONG PART WAY, HOWEVER, WITH THE IDEA SUGGESTED YESTERDAY BY SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH) THAT CONGRESS VOTE ONLY $580,000,000 OF CASH FOR EUROPEAN ARMS AID AT THIS SESSION AND AUTHORIZE THE GOVERNMENT TO ENTER INTO CONTRACTS COVERING THE OTHER HALF OF THIS BIG ITEM. UNDER THE VANDENBERG SUGGESTION, THE LAW-MAKERS WOULD BE OBLIGATED TO APPROPRIATE MONEY LATER--BUT NOT AT THIS SESSION--TO PAY THESE CONTRACTS.

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON TOLD THE SENATE COMMITTEES THAT THE NATIONAL MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT IS WILLING TO ACCEPT 60 PER CENT OF THE EUROPEAN ARMS AID IN CASH AND 40 PER CENT IN CONTRACT AUTHORITY, INSTEAD OF THE 50-50 SPLIT THAT VANDENBERG DISCUSSED. HE SAID ALSO THAT THE MILITARY IS WILLING TO HAVE THE COST OF THE $1,450,000,000 PROGRAM SPREAD OVER TWO OR EVEN THREE YEARS.

REPORTERS ASKED VANDENBERG AFTERWARD WHETHER HE WOULD AGREE WITH THE 60-40 DIVISION JOHNSON MENTIONED. THE MICHIGAN REPUBLICAN REPLIED THAT HIS OWN SUGGESTION WAS "MERELY EXPLORATORY" AND THAT IT WAS NOT IN THE FORM OF A CONCRETE PROPOSITION.

AN IDEA THAT SOME SENATORS HAVE ADVANCED, OF INCLUDING ARMS AID FOR CHINESE NATIONALISTS IN THE PENDING PROGRAM, SUFFERED A JOLT DURING BRADLEY'S TESTIMONY BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEES ON FOREIGN RELATIONS AND ARMED SERVICES.

"THIS IS AN EFFECTIVE WAY TO GIVE AID TO EUROPE," THE ARMY CHIEF SAID, "BUT THERE IS NO IMMEDIATE EFFECTIVE WAY TO GIVE AID TO ASIA."

NINE REPUBLICAN SENATORS AND ONE DEMOCRAT--SENATOR BYRD OF VIRGINIA--SENT A LETTER TO SECRETARY JOHNSON URGING HIM TO RECALL GENERAL DOUGLAS MACARTHUR FROM JAPAN TO TESTIFY REGARDING FOREIGN ARMS AID.

THE SENATORS SAID THAT THE $1,450,000,000 PROGRAM IS GLOBAL IN CHARACTER, AND THAT THE CHIEFS OF STAFF PROBABLY WILL NOT HAVE TIME TO GO TO THE FAR PACIFIC. THEREFORE, THEY ADDED, THEY WOULD LIKE THE VIEWS OF GENERAL MACARTHUR AND VICE ADMIRAL OSCAR C. BADGER, NAVAL COMMANDER IN THAT AREA.

THOSE WHO SIGNED THE LETTER INCLUDED, IN ADDITION TO BYRD, REPUBLICAN SENATORS KNOWLAND OF CALIFORNIA, BRIDGES OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, SMITH OF NEW JERSEY, HICKENLOOPER OF IOWA, MORSE OF OREGON, WILEY OF WISCONSIN, SALTONSTALL OF MASSACHUSETTS, BALDWIN OF CONNECTICUT AND GURNEY OF SOUTH DAKOTA.

JOHNSON SAID YESTERDAY THAT HE WILL NOT ORDER MACARTHUR HOME WITHOUT DISCUSSING THE MATTER WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN.

PF809PED

WASHINGTON, AUG 10-(AP)-GENERAL OMAR N. BRADLEY MADE CLEAR TODAY THAT THE FRENCH ARMY WILL BE THE BACKBONE OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC DEFENSES.

THE ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF TOLD A JOINT MEETING OF THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS AND ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEES THAT THE BULK OF AMERICAN MILITARY AID PROPOSED FOR EUROPE WILL GO TO THE FRENCH.

BRADLEY URGED QUICK APPROVAL OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S $1,450,000,000 (B) ARMS PROGRAM. BUT AT THE SAME TIME HE WROTE OFF ANY PROSPECT OF AN EFFECTIVE MILITARY PROGRAM FOR CHINA.

"THIS (THE ARMS PROGRAM) IS AN EFFECTIVE WAY TO GIVE AID TO EUROPE," BRADLEY SAID, "BUT THERE IS NO IMMEDIATE EFFECTIVE WAY TO GIVE AID TO ASIA."

BARDLEY, SPEAKING FOR THE THREE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF, TESTIFIED AFTER SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON TOLD THE COMMITTEES HE IS WILLING TO ACCEPT 60 PER CENT IN CASH AND 40 PER CENT IN CONTRACT AUTHRITY TO LAUNCH THE ARMS PROGRAM.

SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH) YESTERDAY PROPOSED A 50-50 SPLIT, WITH THE CONTRACT AUTHORIZATION TO BE PAID OUT OF NEXT YEAR'S BUDGET.

JOHNSON SAID IT IS AGREEABLE TO THE MILITARY DEPARTMENT TO SPREAD THE INITIAL COST OF THE ARMS PROGRAM OVER TWO OR EVEN THREE YEARS.

ANOTHER CONGRESSIONAL PROPOSAL--TO DELAY THE MAJOR PART OF THE REARMING PROGRAM UNTIL THE PROPOSED ATLANTIC PACT SECURITY COUNCIL DRAFTS AN OVERALL DEFENSE PLAN MET A REBUFF FROM BRADLEY.

"THE PROGRAM SHOULD NOT BE DELAYED," BRADLEY SAID IN ANSWER TO A QUESTION BY CHAIRMAN CONNALLY (D-TEX) OF THE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE.

"WHATEVER STRATEGIC CONCEPT IS AGREED UPON, THIS EQUIPMENT WILL ALL FIT IN," HE SAID.

BARDLEY DID NOT EXPAND ON HIS REFERENCE TO THE PLAN TO GIVE THE BULK OF THE MILITARY AID TO FRANCE. HE SAID DETAILS WOULD HAVE TO BE GIVEN IN SECRET.

THE ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF AND HIS NAVY AND AIR FORCE COUNTERPARTS, ADM. LOUIS DENFELD AND GEN. HOYT VANDENBERG, WERE CALLED INTO A CLOSED DOOR SESSION WITH THE COMMITTEES THIS AFTERNOON.

IN PUTTING FORTH HIS FINANCING PROPOSAL YESTERDAY, VANDENBERG SAID THE SPLIT WOULD MAKE IT EASIER TO GET THE PROGRAM THROUGH CONGRESS THIS SESSION.

UNDER QUESTIONING BY SENATOR KNOWLAND (R-CALIF), JOHNSON SAID THE THREE ARMED SERVICES HAVE BETWEEN $750,000,000(M) AND $1,000,000,000 (B) IN SURPLUS EQUIPMENT FROM WHICH $450,000,000(M) WORTH CAN BE DRAWN FOR THE EUROPEAN NATIONS.

KNOWLAND ASKED WHY, IF THERE IS SO MUCH SURPLUS AVAILABLE NOW, THE ARMY TOLD THE HOUSE JUNE 21 THAT THERE WAS NO SURPLUS FOR MILITARY AID TO CHINA.

"DOLLARS OF SURPLUS DON'T MEAN ITEMS OF SURPLUS THAT WILL FIT THE NEED," JOHNSON REPLIED.

KNOWLAND SAID HE WANTS THE LIST OF ITEMS SOUGHT BY CHINA TO SEE WHETHER ANY OF THEM ARE NOW LISTED AS AVAILABLE TO EUROPEAN COUNTRIES. JOHNSON SAID THE COMMITTEE WILL GET THE LIST IN CLOSED SESSION.

KNOWLAND THEN ASKED IF AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND ARE SATISFIED WITH THE CONDITION OF PACIFIC DEFENSES. WON'T THEY BE COMING IN AND ASKING FOR SOME ARMS AID? HE INQUIRED.

JOHNSON SAID HE COULD TALK ABOUT PACIFIC DEFENSES ONLY IN A CLOSED COMMITTEE SESSION.

BUT JOHNSON SAID HIS STAFF HAS ADVISED HIM THAT 60 PER CENT OF THE $1,160,000,000 FOR WESTERN EUROPE MUST BE IN CASH. THE REMAINDER CAN BE IN AUTHORITY TO MAKE CONTRACTS WHICH WILL BE PAID FOR IN CASH LATER, HE SAID.

SENATOR SALTONSTALL (R-MASS) ASKED JOHNSON IF THIS AUTHORITY WOULD MEAN A FIRM CONTRACT TO BE PAID FOR IN FISCAL 1951-52. JOHNSON REPLIED IT WOULD BE.

SALTONSTALL ASKED IF THE RE-ARMING OF EUROPE WILL MEAN ANY REDUCTION IN THE U.S.DEFENSE PROGRAM.

JOHNSON SAID NO, IT WOULD NOT. HE SAID HE WOULD NOT AGREE TO ANY PLAN WHICH WOULD REDUCE "THE AMPLE SECURITY OF THE UNITED STATES."

THIS MILITARY PROGRAM, HE SAID, IS JUST A BEGINNING TO HELP WESTERN EUROPE AND OTHER NATIONS "BEGIN TO HELP THEMSELVES." SOME DAY, HE ADDED, THESE NATIONS MAY BE STRONG ENOUGH TO BOLSTER THE SECURITY OF THIS COUNTRY, BUT THAT TIME IS YET TO COME.

CONGRESS IS WRANGLING OVER THE AMOUNT OF MILITARY AID THAT SHOULD BE GIVEN TO THE NORTH ATLANTIC PACT NATIONS, PLUS GREECE, TURKEY, IRAN, THE PHILIPPINES AND KOREA.

IN ADDITION TO THE SENATE HEARING, SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON IS SCHEDULED FOR A CLOSED-DOOR MEETING OF THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE.

AFTER JOHNSON HAD COMPLETED HIS TESTIMONY, GEN.OMAR BARDLEY, ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF, TOOK OVER. HE SAID THAT IF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE WANT TO USE THE ADVANTAGE GAINED IN THE "COLD WAR," THEY MUST MOVE QUICKLY AT ESTABLISHING A LONG RANGE PLAN OF DEFENSE.

BRADLEY AND THE MILITARY HEADS OF THE NAVY AND AIR FORCE, ADMIRAL LOUIS DENFELD AND GEN.HOYT S.VANDENBERG, HAVE JUST RETURNED FROM A 16-DAY TRIP TO EUROPE WHERE THEY CONFERRED WITH MILITARY CHIEFS OF ATLANTIC PACT NATIONS. THEY CONFINED THEIR DISCUSSIONS TO PROBLEMS OF ORGANIZATION.

BRADLEY SAID THE FIVE NATIONS--BRITAIN, THE NETHERLANDS, LUXEMBOURG, FRANCE AND BELGIJM--WHICH SIGNED THE WESTERN UNION PACT "ARE THE NUCLEUS OF RESISTANCE ON WHICH ANY NORTH ATLANTIC DEFENSE PLANS MUST BE BASED."

"YOUR JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF HAVE EXAMINED THE DEFENSE CONCEPT OF THE WESTERN UNION AND HAVE FOUND THAT IT IS IN ACCORDANCE WITH OUR STRATEGIC THINKING," HE SAID.

BRADLEY SAID NO LONGER CAN THE U.S.GO IT ALONE ON ITS MILITARY PLANNING.

"EXHAUSTION OF OUR MORAL AND MATERIAL RESOURCES WOULD BE THE RESULT," HE SAID. "FOR THAT REASON, THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF URGE THE ENACTMENT OF THIS LEGISLATION."

BRADLEY VIGOROUSLY OPPOSED ANY REDUCTION IN THE PROPOPOSED AMOUNT. HE SAID EVERY ITEM IN THE BILL HAD BEEN CAREFULLY CONSIDERED, AND HAD BEEN FOUND ESSENTIAL.

THE TIDE OF COMMUNISM IS BEING STEMMED IN EUROPE, HE DECLARED, AND ADDED:

"WE ARE NOT IMPELLED BY CRISIS, OR DESPERATION, OR FEAR OF IMPENDING WAR."

BRADLEY SAID THAT IF THERE WERE SUCH A CRISIS HE WOULD RECOMMEND-"AND I AM SURE YOU WOULD INSIST UPON"-A GREATER EFFORT THAN IS CALLED FOR IN THIS PROGRAM.

MUCH OF THE DISCUSSION HAS DEALT WITH A PLAN THAT VANDENBERG, THE REPUBLICANS' TOP MAN IN FOREIGN AFFAIRS, THINKS MAY MAKE THE FOREIGN ARMS PROGRAM MORE ACCEPTABLE TO CONGRESS.

VANDENBERG PROPOSED THAT CONGRESS PROVIDE CASH FOR ONLY HALF THE $1,160,000,000 (B) PROGRAM FOR RE-ARMING ATLANTIC PACT NATIONS. THE OTHER HALF WOULD BE IN AUTHORITY TO MAKE CONTRACTS FOR ARMS, TO BE APPROPRIATED FOR LATER.

IN EFFECT, THIS WOULD MEAN SPREADING THE COST OVER A TWO-YEAR PERIOD WITHOUT ANY ACTUAL CUT IN THE AMOUNT OF ARMS FOR EUROPE.

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE LOUIS JOHNSON INDICATED HE COULD GO ALONG WITH THIS PLAN, ALTHOUGH NOT ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT IT, PROVIDED THERE IS NO REDUCTION IN THE TOTAL AMOUNT OF ARMS FOR EUROPE. HE SAID IT WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE ANYWAY TO DELIVER ALL THE ARMS IN ONE YEAR.

TWO DEMOCRATIC LEADERS SAID PRIVATELY THE ADMINISTRATION PROBABLY WOULD ACCEPT THE VANDENBERG PROPOSAL. THEY SAID IT WOULD GIVE PRESIDENT TRUMAN THE PROGRAM HE WANTS EVEN IF THE COSTS ARE SPREAD OVER TWO YEARS.

BUT ONE OF THEM ADDED THE VANDENBERG PLAN WAS LIKE THE OLD SHELL GAME--"NOW YOU SEE IT AND NOW YOU DON'T." HE SAID WHETHER THE AUTHORITY IS GIVEN IN CASH OR CONTRACT AUTHORITY THE GOVERNMENT--THAT IS, THE TAXPAYERS--WILL HAVE TO PAY FOR IT SOONER OR LATER.

ANOTHER SENATOR CRACKED THAT THE PLAN REMINDED HIM OF A HUSBAND WHO WOULDN'T GIVE HIS WIFE $20 CASH FOR A HAT--BUT AGREED SHE COULD CHARGE IT.

VANDENBERG ARGUED IT IS IMPORTANT THAT NO ADDITIONAL HEAVY BURDENS BE PUT ON THE GOVERNMENT'S SPENDING AT THIS TIME. HE CONTENDED THE PLAN WOULD GEAR THE FUTURE PROGRAM MORE CLOSELY TO THE PLANS MADE BY THE NORTH ATLANTIC DEFENSE COUNCIL WHICH IS TO BE SET UP.

ANOTHER PROPOSAL BY REP.VORYS (R-OHIO) WOULD CUT THE ARMS PROGRAM TO A STOP-GAP $600,000,000 (M) FOR SIX MONTHS.

VORYS FAVORS A PROGRAM THAT WOULD RUN UNTIL NEXT MARCH 31 WITH CONGRESS EXTENDING THE PROGRAM IF NECESSARY NEXT YEAR.

HE SUGGESTED $300,000,000 (M) IN CASH AND ANOTHER $300,000,000 (M)

IN NEW AND SURPLUS ARMS AND EQUIPMENT.
ACHESON HAS SAID HE WOULD NOT FAVOR ANY STOP-GAP PROGRAM.
ONE OF THE MAIN OBJECTIVES OF THE MILITARY CHIEFS IN THEIR TRIP TO EUROPE WAS TO DISCUSS WITH ATLANTIC PACT MILITARY CHIEFS POSSIBLE FORMS OF ORGANIZATION UNDER THE NEW SECURITY TREATY.
WORKING GROUPS OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE PACT NATIONS MAY CONVENE NEXT MONTH IN WASHINGTON TO BEGIN IMPLEMENTING THEIR PLANNED DEFENSE COUNCIL.

NEWS REEL CAMERAMEN AND STILL PHOTOGRAPHERS RECORDED THE SCENE AS MR.TRUMAN SIGNED THE BILL.
THE PRESIDENT PATIENTLY FOLLOWED THE DIRECTIONS OF THE CAMERAMEN AS HE WENT THROUGH THE SIGNING CEREMONY REPEATEDLY FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE "ONE MORE CLUB"--PHOTOGRAPHERS WHO INVARIABLY CRY, "JUST ONE MORE, MR. PRESIDENT."

WHITE HOUSE OFFICIALS EXPLAINED THAT UNDER THE PREVIOUS LAW THE PRESIDENT COULD ADD TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL HEADS OF ANY DEPARTMENT AND OF CERTAIN AGENCIES WHEN HE NEEDED THEM.
UNDER THE LAW SIGNED TODAY, HOWEVER, THE COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP IS FIXED, AND ANY ADDITIONS THE PRESIDENT WANTS TO MAKE WILL HAVE TO BE CONFIRMED BY THE SENATE.
THE BILL ADDS THE VICE PRESIDENT TO THE COUNCIL AS A MEMBER. WHITE HOUSE OFFICIALS SAID, HOWEVER, MR.TRUMAN FEELS THAT HE SHOULD HAVE THE POWER TO INVITE THE VICE PRESIDENT TO MEMBERSHIP AND NOT HAVE THE LEGISLATIVE BRANCH DICTATE HIS APPOINTMENTS.
THE LAW RESTRICTS ADDITIONAL MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL, WHOM THE PRESIDENT MAY ADD WITH SENATE APPROVAL, TO THE SECRETARIES AND UNDER-SECRETARIES OF THE DEPARTMENTS AND OF THE ARMED SERVICES, PLUS THE CHAIRMEN OF THE MUNITIONS BOARD AND THE NATIONAL SECURITIES RESOURCES BOARD. THE PRESIDENT FEELS THAT THIS WOULD PREVENT HIM FROM ADDING A RETIRED MILITARY FIGURE, A MEMBER OF THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION OR SOME OTHER DESIREABLE APPOINTEE.

THIS SECOND MAJOR STEP IN UNIFICATION OF THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCES MARKS A VICTORY FOR MR.TRUMAN. LAST MARCH HE APPEALED TO CONGRESS FOR LEGISLATION "TO ACHIEVE THE MOST EFFICIENT AND ECONOMICAL NATIONAL DEFENSE PROGRAM."
THAT LEGISLATION, COVERING A SERIES OF WHAT HE CALLED "URGENTLY NEEDED CHANGES" IN THE 1947 ACT THAT PUT THE THREE FORCES UNDER A SINGLE CABINET OFFICIAL FOR THE FIRST TIME, WAS WHAT WAS BEFORE THE PRESIDENT TODAY FOR HIS SIGNATURE.
IT CONTAINS MOST OF THE PRESIDENT'S ORIGINAL RECOMMENDATIONS, IN SPITE OF SOME ROUGH TREATMENT IN ITS INITIAL HANDLING IN THE HOUSE.
THE SENATE ACCEPTED MOST OF THE PRESIDENT'S PLAN BUT THE HOUSE PASSED AN ABBREVIATED BILL LIMITED TO FISCAL AND BUDGET REFORMS.
USING HIS REVIVED POWERS TO REORGANIZE GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES, THE PRESIDENT SENT UP A PLAN DEALING WITH MOST OF THE PROPOSED DEFENSE CHANGES JULY 18.
THIS SPEEDED UP SENATE AND HOUSE AGREEMENT ON LEGISLATION WHICH, AMONG OTHER THINGS, WOULD:
(1) RAISE THE PRESENT DEFENSE ESTABLISHMENT TO FULL CABINET STATUS AS AN EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT RANKING SECOND ONLY TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT. THIS WILL GIVE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE LOUIS JOHNSON MORE POWER TO FORCE GREATER TEAM PLAY BETWEEN THE THREE SERVICES.
(2) REDUCE THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE FROM EXECUTIVE STATUS TO MILITARY DEPARTMENTS. ACTUAL MERGER OF THE THREE SERVICES AND THEIR SUBORDINATE UNITS -- INCLUDING NAVAL AVIATION AND THE MARINE CORPS-- HOWEVER, IS PROHIBITED.
(3) SET UP A PERMANENT CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF. THE NEW CHAIRMAN WOULD HAVE NO VOTE OR COMMAND AUTHORITY BUT WOULD BE RANKING MILITARY OFFICER OF THE NATION. HIS PRESTIGE WOULD BE ENORMOUS. THE CHIEFS OF STAFF, TOP COMMANDING OFFICERS OF THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCES, WOULD CONTINUE AS CHIEF MILITARY ADVISERS TO THE PRESIDENT AND THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE. GENERAL DWIGHT EISENHOWER HAS BEEN ACTING TEMPORARILY AS HEAD OF THE JOINT CHIEFS. GEN. OMAR BRADLEY, NOW ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF, IS EXPECTED TO BE NAMED BY THE PRESIDENT TO TAKE OVER THIS TOP JOB ON A REGULAR BASIS.
(4) KEEP AT THE PRESENT TITLE SECRETARIES OF THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE BUT TRIM THEIR PAY TO $14,000 OR $1,000 LESS THAN THEY NOW RECEIVE.
(5) RENAME THE OFFICE OF UNDER SECRETARY OF DEFENSE--NOW HELD BY STEPHEN EARLY--"DEPUTY SECRETARY" WITH RANK JUST BELOW THE SECRETARY BUT AHEAD OF THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE SECRETARIES AND $500 A YEAR MORE PAY.
(6) MAKE THE VICE PRESIDENT A MEMBER OF THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL, TOP DEFENSE ADVISORY GROUP WHICH IS HEADED BY THE PRESIDENT. SECRETARIES OF THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE WOULD BE DROPPED FROM THIS GROUP UNLESS THE PRESIDENT ASKED THAT THEY BE KEPT ON AND THE SENATE CONFIRMED THEM FOR THIS ADDED DUTY.
(7) AUTHORIZE THREE ASSISTANT SECRETARIES OF DEFENSE.
(8) INSTALL A BUSINESS OR FINANCIAL MANAGER, KNOWN AS A COMPTROLLER, FOR THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT WITH SIMILAR OFFICIALS IN EACH OF THE MILITARY DEPARTMENTS. SPONSORS OF THE LEGISLATION SAY THEY CAN SAVE A BILLION DOLLARS OR MORE ANNUALLY BY ELIMINATING DUPLICATIONS, OVERLAPPING AND WASTE.
PRESIDENT TRUMAN HAS ASSURED CONGRESS THAT THE NEW POWERS THE MEASURE GIVES SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON "DOES NOT MEAN THE CREATION OF ONE-MAN RULE OR DICTATORSHIP."

WITH UNIFICATION
WASHINGTON, AUG.10-(AP)-FRANK L.ELMERDORF, VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE MANAGEMENT FIRM OF HELLER AND ASSOCIATES, CLEVELAND, OHIO, WILL DIRECT THE PERSONNEL FOR THE ARMED SERVICES MANAGEMENT ADVISORY GROUP.
IN ANNOUNCING THIS TODAY, SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON SAID THAT THE FIRM, IN ADDITION TO ITS HEAD, ROBERT HELLER, INCLUDES FRED E. RAACH (CQ), A COST ACCOUNTING SPECIALIST, AND FREDERICK O.ROBBINS, AN ORGANIZATION SPECIALIST.
JOHNSON POINTED OUT THAT HELLER AND HIS ASSOCIATES WILL HAVE NO DIRECT AUTHORITY BUT WILL BE ACTIVE IN ASSISTING THE ARMED SERVICES IN WORKING OUT PROGRAMS THAT ARE RECOMMENDED BY THE MANAGEMENT ADVISORY COMMITTEE.
ES1023AED NM

WASHINGTON,AUG 10-(AP)-PRESIDENT TRUMAN MADE THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT TODAY AS HE SIGNED THE ARMED FORCES UNIFICATION BILL: (ABOUT 400

"I HAVE TODAY SIGNED H.R. 5632, THE NATIONAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1949.

"THIS LEGISLATION REPRESENTS A MAJOR STEP TOWARD MORE RESPONSIBLE AND EFFICIENT ADMINISTRATION OF THE MILITARY AFFAIRS OF THE NATION. IT CONVERTS THE NATIONAL MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT INTO A NEW EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE, WITHIN WHICH THE FORMER EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS OF THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE ARE INCLUDED AS MILITARY DEPARTMENTS. IT GIVES THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE, UNDER THE DIRECTION OF THE PRESIDENT, DIRECTION, AUTHORITY AND CONTROL OVER THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE, APPROPRIATE TO HIS RESPONSIBILITY AS HEAD OF THAT DEPARTMENT. IT PROVIDES FOR A DEPUTY SECRETARY AND THREE ASSISTANT SECRETARIES OF DEFENSE, AND FOR A CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF, TO ASSIST THE SECRETARY IN CARRYING OUT HIS RESPONSIBILITIES. IT PROVIDES FOR BETTER FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT OF THE DEPARTMENT BY REQUIRING A 'PERFORMANCE-TYPE' BUDGET, ALLOWING GREATER FLEXIBILITY IN THE CONTROL AND USE OF FUNDS, AND ESTABLISHING A COMPTROLLER IN THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE AND IN EACH OF THE MILITARY DEPARTMENTS.

"THESE PROVISIONS AFFORD SOUND BASIS FOR FURTHER PROGRESS TOWARD THE UNIFICATION OF OUR ARMED FORCES AND THE UNIFIED MANAGEMENT OF OUR MILITARY AFFAIRS. I AM VERY PLEASED THAT THE LEGISLATION EMBODIES MOST OF THE CHANGES IN THE NATIONAL SECURITY ACT WHICH I HAVE RECOMMENDED TO THE CONGRESS, AND MOST OF THOSE RECOMMENDED BY THE COMMISSION ON ORGANIZATION OF THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH.

"IT IS UNFORTUNATE THAT IN THIS GENERALLY PROGRESSIVE LEGISLATION AT LEAST ONE PROVISION REPRESENTS A BACKWARD STEP. NEW AND CUMBERSOME RESTRICTIONS ARE PLACED ON THE MEMBERSHIP OF THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL--WHEREAS THE DESIRABLE COURSE WOULD BE TO FOLLOW THE RECOMMENDATION OF THE COMMISSION ON ORGANIZATION OF THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH AND REMOVE THE STATUTORY RESTRICTIONS ON THE COUNCIL'S MEMBERSHIP.

"THIS LEGISLATION AS A WHOLE REPRESENTS A GREAT ADVANCE. ACTION WILL BE TAKEN UNDER IT, BOTH IMMEDIATELY AND IN THE LONG RUN, TO ACHIEVE INCREASED EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY AND GREATER COORDINATION OF OUR MILITARY FORCES. I BELIEVE THAT THIS ACT WILL PERMIT US TO MAKE REAL PROGRESS TOWARD BUILDING A BALANCED AND EFFECTIVE NATIONAL DEFENSE." (END TEXT)

BY WILLIAM F.ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, AUG.10-(AP)-THE $5,797,724,000 FOREIGN RECOVERY APPROPRIATION BILL WENT TO A SENATE-HOUSE CONFERENCE TODAY FOR A COMPROMISE ON DETAILS.

WITH IT WENT A HOUSE DEMAND FOR REMOVAL OF $344,000 VOTED BY THE SENATE TO FINANCE THE SENATE-HOUSE "WATCHDOG COMMITTEE" SET UP BY CONGRESS TO SUPERVISE OPERATION OF THE MARSHALL PLAN FOR EUROPEAN RECOVERY.

WHILE THERE ARE OTHER AREAS OF DISAGREEMENT BETWEEN THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE ON DETAILS OF THE BILL WHICH HAS BEEN ON CAPITOL HILL FOR MORE THAN TWO MONTHS, ONLY ON THE WATCHDOG COMMITTEE DID THE HOUSE SHOW SIGNS OF ADAMANCY.

BY A VOTE OF 210 TO 164 YESTERDAY IT INSTRUCTED ITS MEMBERS OF THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE NOT TO GIVE IN ON THE WATCHDOG ISSUE WHEN THE GROUP WORKS OUT A COMPROMISE ON THE ENTIRE BILL.

THE HOUSE PASSED THE BILL LAST MAY WITHOUT ANY FUNDS FOR THE COMMITTEE. THE SENATE ADDED $344,000 WHEN IT PASSED IT MONDAY. THE "WATCHDOG" GROUP'S FRIENDS INSISTED THAT SUCH A VAST PROGRAM NEEDS CONTINUING CONGRESSIONAL SURVEILLANCE, BUT OPPONENTS SAID THERE NO LONGER IS A NEED FOR THE COMMITTEE BECAUSE OF THE EFFICIENCY RECORD OF THE ENTIRE PROGRAM.

REP.FRANKLIN D.ROOSEVELT JR., (D-NY) GOT INTO A SPIRITED EXCHANGE IN WHICH REPRESENTATIVES MARCANTONIO (ALP-NY) AND RICH (R-PA) CRITICIZED THE UNDERTAKING AS EXTRAVAGANT AND IMPERIALISTIC.

IN A HEATED REPLY, THE SON OF THE FORMER PRESIDENT CALLED THE RECOVERY PROGRAM HUMANE AND SAID THE ONLY IMPERIALISM IN THE WORLD TODAY COMES FROM "THE EAST."

HE WAS SURPRISED, HE SAID, TO FIND RICH, A PENNSYLVANIA INDUSTRIALIST, AND MARCANTONIO "BOTH SPOUTING THE SAME LINE."

THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE ARE NOT FAR APART FINANCIALLY ON THE BILL.

THE HOUSE GAVE ECA $3,568,470,000 FOR 10 1/2 MONTHS; THE SENATE RECOMMENDED $3,628,380,000 IN CASH AND $150,000,000 IN LOAN AUTHORITY FOR 12 MONTHS.

FOR SPECIAL AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY THE HOUSE VOTED $50,000,000, THE SENATE $45,000,000, AND FOR ARMY OCCUPATION COSTS IN GERMANY, AUSTRIA, JAPAN AND THE RYUKYUS ISLANDS THE HOUSE ALLOTTED $925,000,000 AND THE SENATE $900,000,000.

NIGHT LEAD B-36

BY MORGAN REYNOLDS

WASHINGTON, AUG.10-(AP)-RUSSIA WAS CREDITED WITH AN ASSIST TODAY IN THIS COUNTRY'S PRODUCTION OF THE B-36 LONG-RANGE BOMBER.

MAJ.GEN.FREDERICK H.SMITH, AIR FORCE REQUIREMENTS CHIEF, SAID THE SOVIETS HELPED INFLUENCE THE U.S.DECISION TO CONTINUE THE CONTROVERSIAL SUPER-BOMBER PROGRAM WHEN THEY CLAMPED THEIR BLOCKADE ON BERLIN LAST SUMMER.

SMITH GAVE THIS TESTIMONY TO THE HOUSE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE WHICH IS INVESTIGATING THE B-36'S HISTORY TO SEE WHETHER ANY POLITICAL OR BUSINESS INFLUENCE WAS INVOLVED IN THE 100-PLANE CONTRACT WITH CONSOLIDATED VULTEE AIRCRAFT CO.

THE AIR FORCE OFFICER WAS RECALLED TO THE STAND TO CONTINUE HIS OPENING DAY ACCOUNT OF THE UPS AND DOWNS THE B-36 PROGRAM UNDERWENT BEFORE IT BECAME THE PRIZED PACKAGE IN THE AIR FORCE'S ARSENAL.

EVEN AS LATE AS APRIL, 1948, SMITH SAID, THERE WAS "CONSIDERABLE DIFFERENCE OF OPINION" AMONG THE AIR STAFF ON THE VALUE OF THE MAMMOTH BOMBER WHICH CAN LUG BLOCKBUSTERS OR ATOM BOMBS 10,000 MILES.

HE REPORTED THAT GEN.GEORGE C.KENNEY, THEN CHIEF OF THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND, FAVORED USING THE B-36'S AS AERIAL TANK CARS TO REFUEL MEDIUM BOMBERS FOR LONG-RANGE MISSIONS RATHER THAN PUTTING THEM ON ACTUAL BOMBING ASSIGNMENTS.

SMITH SAID THAT IN JUNE SECRETARY OF AIR SYMINGTON WHO HAD JUST RETURNED FROM AN INSPECTION OF THE CONSOLIDATED VULTEE PLANT AT FORT WORTH, TEXAS, CALLED A MEETING OF THE AIR FORCE COMMANDERS AND TECHNICIANS TO GO OVER THE ENTIRE B-36 PROJECT.

JUST AS THE CONFERENCE GOT UNDERWAY THE RUSSIANS PUT THE SQUEEZE ON THE GERMAN CAPITAL, AND THE WESTERN POWERS BEGAN THE AIRLIFT OPERATIONS TO COUNTER THE SOVIET PRESSURE MOVE.

"AFTER REVIEW," SMITH SAID, "THE DECISION WAS CLEARLY IN FAVOR OF CARRYING OUT THE FULL B-36 CONTRACT."

THOSE AT THE MEETING DECIDED, HE ADDED, THAT IT WOULD NOT BE WISE TO DROP THE PROGRAM AND LOSE THE INDUSTRIAL POTENTIAL OF THE GOVERNMENT-OWNED FORT WORTH PLANT "JUST WHEN NEW PRODUCTION MIRACLES MIGHT BE DEMANDED--AS THEY WERE AFTER PEARL HARBOR."

SMITH THEN RELATED SUBSEQUENT EFFORTS TO KEEP THE FORT WORTH PLANT BUSY, INCLUDING A PROPOSAL BY FLOYD ODLUM TO MERGE ITS OPERATIONS WITH NORTHROP AIRCRAFT, INC., MAKERS OF THE B-49 "FLYING WING" JET BOMBER.

ODLUM IS HEAD OF THE ATLAS CORP. WHICH CONTROLS CONSOLIDATED VULTEE. HIS NAME FIGURED IN STATEMENTS BY REP.VAN ZANDT (R-PA) WHICH LED TO THE B-36 INVESTIGATION.

VAN ZANDT TOLD THE HOUSE HE HAD HEARD "DISTURBING REPORTS" ABOUT TOP DEFENSE OFFICIALS AND AIRCRAFT COMPANIES. AMONG THESE RUMORS HE SAID WAS ONE THAT AIR SECRETARY SYMINGTON PLANNED TO RESIGN SOON TO HEAD A BIG MERGER OF PLANE MAKERS REPORTEDLY BEING ARRANGED BY ODLUM. SYMINGTON HOTLY DENIED THE REPORT.

VAN ZANDT ALSO SAID THAT ODLUM HAD HELPED SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON RAISE FUNDS FOR THE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN LAST FALL AND THAT JOHNSON HAD BEEN AN OFFICIAL OF CONSOLIDATED BEFORE TAKING THE DEFENSE POST IN MARCH.

GEN.SMITH GAVE THIS ACCOUNT OF ODLUM'S EFFORT TO BRING ABOUT A MERGER WITH NORTHROP:

AT THE JUNE CONFERENCE OF AIR FORCE COMMANDERS, GEN.JOSEPH T.MCNARNEY, THEN CHIEF OF THE AIR MATERIAL COMMAND, SUGGESTED THAT CONSOLIDATED AND NORTHROP OFFICIALS GET TOGETHER TO SEE WHAT THEY COULD WORK OUT TO SPEED UP PRODUCTION OF THE "FLYING WING."

SMITH SAID THE AIR FORCE WANTED THE JET CRAFT FOR RECONNAISANCE AND FOR USE AS A COMPANION BOMBER TO THE B-50, A SPEEDIER VERSION OF THE B-29 SUPERFORTRESS. HE ADDED THAT NORTHROP'S PLANT AT HAWTHORNE, CALIF., WAS NOT CONSIDERED LARGE ENOUGH TO HANDLE THE DESIRED PRODUCTION.

IN JULY, HE SAID, ODLUM CONFERRED WITH NORTHROP OFFICIALS IN LOS ANGELES AND PROPOSED A MERGER TO BUILD THE B-49. THIS SUGGESTION WAS TURNED DOWN FOR THE TIME BEING, SMITH REPORTED, AND A TEMPORARY ARRANGEMENT WAS MADE WHEREBY CONSOLIDATED WOULD HANDLE PART OF THE B-49 WORK ON A SUBCONTRACT.

LATER, HOWEVER, SMITH SAID THE AIR FORCE REVISED ITS PLANS FOR BUYING THE B-49 AND THE ENTIRE PROGRAM WAS CUT DOWN TO CONCENTRATE MORE ON THE B-36.

THIS DECISION TO STEP UP USE OF THE B-36'S, HE SAID, WAS MADE LAST DECEMBER BY A FOUR-MAN BOARD OF SENIOR AIR FORCE OFFICERS WITH THE AIM OF ACHIEVING THE "ABILITY TO LAUNCH A STRATEGIC OFFENSIVE."

DESPITE THE FACT THAT GEN.KENNEY HAD OPPOSED THE B-36 WHEN HE WAS CHIEF OF THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND, SMITH SAID THAT GEN.CURTIS LE MAY, WHO NOW HEADS THAT GROUP, ASKED FOR TWO GROUPS OF B-36'S TO SUPPLANT TWO MEDIUM BOMBER GROUPS. ALSO, HE SAID LE MAY ASKED FOR ONE GROUP OF B-36'S FOR RECONNAISANCE SERVICE TO REPLACE THE FLYING WING TYPE.

SMITH FURTHER REPORTED THAT A NEW $269,761,000 CONTRACT WAS SIGNED WITH CONSOLIDATED IN APRIL OF THIS YEAR FOR 36 OF THE B-36S WHICH HAVE BEEN MODERNIZED WITH SPECIAL JETS TO GIVE THEM ADDED SPEED IF NEEDED OVER A TARGET AREA.

THIS PRESUMABLY IS IN ADDITION TO THE NEARLY HALF BILLION DOLLARS ALREADY INVESTED IN THE SUPER-BOMBER PROGRAM.

SMITH INDICATED THAT THE AIR FORCE DECISION TO PUT MAJOR STRESS ON THE B-36 AS ITS CHIEF OFFENSIVE WEAPON STEMMED FROM PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S ORDER LAST YEAR FOR A SHARP CUTBACK IN TOTAL PLANES AND PERSONNEL.

HE SAID THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE B-36 FROM 1941 TO MID-1948 WAS "INFLUENCED VERY LITTLE BY THE OVERALL AIRCRAFT PROCUREMENT PROGRAM OF WHICH THE B-36 WAS BUT A SMALL PART."

BUT HE DECLARED "THIS SITUATION WAS CHANGED COMPLETELY" AFTER MR. TRUMAN TOLD THE AIR FORCE IT WAS "NOT TO EXCEED A PERSONNEL STRENGTH OF 411,000 AS OF SEPTEMBER 30, 1948, AND AN AIRCRAFT INVENTORY OF 9,800."

ES455PED

WASHINGTON--1ST ADD FIRST LEAD B-36 (TOP A140) X X X SMITH ADDED, ~~ELIMINATING LAST PGH STARTING POEN.CARLE AND ENDING "FLYING WING."~~

SMITH BROUGHT THE NAME OF FLOYD ODLUM, HEAD OF ATLAS CORP., INTO THE HEARING IN CONNECTION WITH THE AIR FORCE'S INTEREST IN THE "FLYING WING" DEVELOPED BY NORTHROP AIRCRAFT, INC.

ATLAS CONTROLS CONSOLIDATED, MAKER OF THE B-36.

THE AIR FORCE WAS INTERESTED IN THE WING, CALLED THE B-49, AS A RECONNAISSANCE PLANE AND BOMBER COMPANION TO THE B-50, SMITH SAID. THE AIR FORCE DECIDED IN JUNE, 1948, TO BEGIN BUYING SOME B-49S.

THE NORTHROP PLANT AT HAWTHORNE,CALIF., WAS NOT BIG ENOUGH TO HANDLE THE PRODUCTION, SO AT THE SUGGESTION OF GEN.JOSEPH T.MCNARNEY, CHIEF OF THE AIR MATERIEL COMMAND, NORTHROP AND CONSOLIDATED OFFICIALS MET TO WORK OUT THE PROBLEM. THE AIR FORCE WAS INTERESTED IN KEEPING THE FORT WORTH PLANT BUSY, SMITH EXPLAINED.

AT A CONFERENCE IN JULY IN LOS ANGELES, SMITH SAID, ODLUM SUGGESTED A MERGER OF CONSOLIDATED AND NORTHROP TO PRODUCE THE B-49. THE PROPOSAL WAS TURNED DOWN FOR THE TIMTLBEING BY NORTHROP, AND A TEMPORARY ARRANGEMENT WAS MADE FOR SUBCONTRACTING PRODUCTION WO

POSAL WAS TURNED DOWN FOR THE TIME BEING BY NORTHROP, AND A TEMPORARY ARRANGEMENT WAS MADE FOR SUBCONTRACTING PRODUCTION WORK ON THE B-49 TO CONSOLIDATED.

THE AIR FORCE, THEREFORE, WORKED OUT A PLAN FOR SOME B-49 PRODUCTION AT HAWTHORNE AND THE REST AT FORT WORTH. LATER, HOWEVER, ORIGINAL PLANS FOR BUYING B-49S WERE REVISED, AND THE ENTIRE PROGRAM WAS CUT DOWN, HE SAID, AS EMPHASIS SHIFTED TO THE B-36 AS BOTH A BOMBER AND RECONNAISSANCE PLANE ON THE BASIS OF PERFORMANCE RECORDS MADE IN LATE 1948.

THE B-36 BEGAN TO GAIN IN FAVOR, GEN.SMITH SAID, WHEN AN EXPERIMENTAL PLANE WAS FLOWN AT OVER 40,000 FEET IN DECEMBER 1947. IN OCTOBER 1948 OTHER MODELS WENT AS HIGH AS 46,100 FEET AND ONE SPENT AN ENTIRE 14-HOUR FLIGHT CRUISING AT ABOUT 303 MILES PER HOUR ABOVE 40,000.

CONSOLIDATED PROPOSED IN LATE 1948 THAT JET-ASSIST "PODS," TO GIVE THE PLANE GREATER CAPACITY FOR SUDDEN BURSTS OF SPEED OVER A TARGET OR WHEN ATTACKED, BE BUILT INTO THE B-36S THEN IN PRODUCTION. THIS WAS AUTHORIZED FOR ONE PLANE IN JANUARY THIS YEAR TO SEE HOW THE IDEA WORKS OUT, SMITH SAID.

IN DECEMBER, SMITH SAID, A FOUR-MAN BOARD OF SENIOR AIR FORCE OFFICERS CALLED THE SIGNAL FOR A STEPPED UP USE OF B-36 BOMBERS.

SMITH SAID LT.GEN.CURTIS LE MAY, CHIEF OF THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND, ASKED FOR TWO GROUPS OF B-36'S TO SUPPLANT TWO MEDIUM BOMB GROUPS AND ONE GROUP OF RB-36'S FOR STRATEGIC RECONNAISSANCE SERVICE, REPLACING THE RB-49 TYPE.

HE CITED OTHER CHANGES IN BUYING PLANS WHICH MADE AVAILABLE $269,761,000 (M) FOR THE PURCHASE OF B-36S.

THE REVAMPED PROGRAM, HE ADDED, MET APPROVAL IN TOP OFFICES AND A CONTRACT FOR 39 B-36S WAS SIGNED ON APRIL 11.

HE ALSO TOLD THE COMMITTEE THE AIR FORCE WEIGHED THE MORALE PROBLEM OF THE LABOR FORCE AT CONSOLIDATED IN REACHING A DECISION.

"HAVING BEEN INFORMED OF AIR FORCE INTENTIONS REGARDING THE B-36," HE SAID, "THE CONTRACTOR WAS ABLE TO PLAN TENTATIVELY FOR A NEW PRODUCTION BACKLOG. THIS MEANT THAT DISMISSALS COULD BE AVOIDED WITH A CONSEQUENT IMPROVEMENT IN PLANT MORALE; AND THAT RELATIONSHIPS WITH SUBCONTRACTORS COULD BE STABILIZED."

SMITH SAID THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE B-36 FROM 1941 UNTIL MID-1948 "WAS INFLUENCED VERY LITTLE BY THE OVERALL AIRCRAFT PROCUREMENT PROGRAM OF WHICH THE B-36 WAS BUT A SMALL PART."

"THIS SITUATION," HE ADDED, "WAS CHANGED COMPLETELY" AFTER PRESIDENT TRUMAN ADVISED THAT THE AIR FORCES "WAS NOT TO EXCEED A PERSONNEL STRENGTH OF 411,000 AS OF SEPTEMBER 30, 1948, AND AN AIRCRAFT INVENTORY OF 9800."

GEN.CARL A.SPAATZ, A PIONEER OF THE AIR FORCE WAS SCHEDULED TO BE THE NEXT WITNESS. BUT THE COMMITTEE RAN OUT OF TIME, AND HE WILL TAKE THE STAND TOMORROW. #

MAJ.GEN.F.H.SMITH GAVE THE COMMITTEE A DETAILED HISTORY OF THE PROCUREMENT OF THE SHIP THAT WAS BUILT TO CARRY 10,000 POUNDS OF BOMBS 10,000 MILES. WASHN-SPAATZ-AAX ONLY.

HE SAID THE AIR FORCE'S ENTHUSIASM FOR THE B-36 ROSE AND FELL WITH THE PROGRESS OF THE WAR.

BUT HE SAID "THE REQUIREMENT FOR A LONG-RANGE BOMBER, CAPABLE OF STRIKING FROM BASES ON THIS CONTINENT, HAD NOT CHANGED AS A RESULT OF THE WAR."

"THE ADVENT OF ATOMIC WARFARE PROVIDED ANOTHER REASON FOR PROCURING AN INTERCONTINENTAL BOMBER," HE ADDED.

SMITH SAID A COMPARISON IN 1945 OF EFFICIENCY AND OPERATING COSTS AMONG THE B-36, THE B-29 AND THE NORTHRUP B-35 "FLYING WING" LED THE AIR STAFF TO RECOMMEND CONTINUATION OF A CONTRACT FOR 100 B-36'S.

IN DECEMBER, 1946, HE CONTINUED, GEN. GEORGE KENNEY, THEN COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND, RECOMMENDED TO GENERAL SPAATZ THAT THE B-36 PROGRAM BE RE-EXAMINED AGAIN WITH A VIEW TOWARD CUTTING THE ORDER.

"HE (KENNEY) FELT THAT THE B-36 WAS INFERIOR TO THE IMPROVED VERSION OF THE B-29 (THE B-50) IN ALL EXCEPT BOMB CAPACITY AND RANGE," SAID SMITH, "AND THAT THE RANGE ITSELF WAS INSUFFICIENT TO RECOMMEND ADOPTION OF THE B-36 AS THE STANDARD HEAVY BOMBER OF THE AIR FORCE."

ANOTHER VIEW WAS TAKEN, HOWEVER, SMITH TOLD THE GROUP, BY LT.GEN. N.F.TWINING, COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE ALASKAN COMMAND WHO WAS THEN HEAD OF THE AIR MATERIAL COMMAND.

SMITH SAID TWINING, WHO WILL TESTIFY LATER HIMSELF, DIDN'T THINK THE CRAFT SHOULD BE JUDGED ALONE ON THE EXPERIMENTAL MODEL, WHICH HAD JUST BEGUN TESTS.

TWINING WAS REPRESENTED AS ARGUING THAT "IT WOULD BE UNWISE TO ABANDON A PROJECT JUST WHEN IT IS NEARING COMPLETION MERELY BECAUSE A BETTER AIRPLANE COULD BE BUILT BY STARTING FROM SCRATCH."

SMITH SAID TWINING STRONGLY URGED COMPLETION OF THE 100 B-36'S, ADDING:

"THE DIFFERENCE IN VIEWPOINTS BETWEEN GENERALS KENNEY AND TWINING IS FOUND IN INDUSTRY AS WELL AS IN THE ARMED FORCES."

SPAATZ, HE SAID, SIDED WITH TWINING. THE ORDER REMAINED IN FORCE.

NIGHT LEAD FIVE PERCENTERS

BY STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON,AUG.10-(AP)-SENATE INVESTIGATORS WERE TOLD TODAY THAT JAMES V.HUNT WAS PAID $86,000 FOR HELPING A HOTEL FIRM REPURCHASE THE LIDO BEACH HOTEL FOR HALF WHAT IT HAD COST THE GOVERNMENT.

HUNT RECEIVED A $5,000 CHECK FROM THE HOTEL FIRM WHILE HE STILL WAS EMPLOYED BY THE WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATION AS A $50-A-DAY CONSULTANT, TESTIFIED FRANCIS D.FLANAGAN, STAFF INVESTIGATOR.

HUNT KEPT THE CHECK THREE MONTHS, THEN RETIRNED IT, QUIT HIS GOVERNMENT JOB, GOT A NEW $5,000 CHECK AND WAS PAID THE REST IN FEES FOR SERVICES TO THE SEIDEN HOTEL COMPANY, FLANAGAN WENT ON.

WITH HUNT'S HELP, THE LONG ISLAND HOSTELRY WHICH COST THE NAVY $1,300,000 WHEN IT WAS TAKEN OVER FOR WAR USE WENT BACK TO THE SEIDEN COMPANY AS SURPLUS FOR $635,000, THE WITNESS SAID. HE WAS QUOTING, HE ADDED FROM RECORDS OF HUNT AND THE WAA.

THE SPECIAL SUBCOMMITTEE LOOKING INTO PERSONS WHO ALLEGEDLY SOLD BUSINESSMEN THEIR "INFLUENCE" IN THE GOVERNMENT HEARD ALSO THAT:

1. MAJ.GEN.HARRY H.VAUGHAN, PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S ARMY AIDE, CALLED ON HOUSING EXPEDITER TIGHE WOODS ASKING HIM TO "PLEASE HURRY" THE GRANTING OF A CONSTRUCTION PERMIT TO TANFORAN RACETRACK IN CALIFORNIA. THE PERMIT WAS GRANTED THE NEXT DAY, ACCORDING TO TESTIMONY.

2. ALBERT LEWITT, FORMER SECRETARY TO EX-SENATOR HAWKES (R-NJ), FIGURED IN TESTIMONY ABOUT THE HOTEL DEAL. HE WAS PAID $5,000 BY HUNT AS A "CONSULTANT AND ADVISER," LEWITT SAID, BUT SELDOM GAVE ADVICE. HE DENIED THAT THE MONEY IN REALITY WAS A FEE FOR STEERING HUNT ONTO THE PROFITABLE LIDO BEACH TRANSACTION.

3. LEWITT, A REGISTERED LOBBYIST IN 1947, SENT LETTERS TO HIS PAYING CLIENTS DESCRIBING FICTITIOUS INTERVIEWS HE WAS SUPPOSED TO HAVE HAD WITH TOP-RANKING LEADERS OF CONGRESS. HE CALMLY ADMITTED THE TALKS NEVER TOOK PLACE, BUT SAID THIS WAS "OF NO CONCERN" TO HIS CLIENTS.

ANGRILY, COMMITTEE COUNSEL WILLIAM ROGERS BARKED AT HIM THAT THE COMMITTEE IS CONCERNED OVER "PERSONS FALSELY SELLING INFLUENCE" WHO MISLEAD CLIENTS AND REFLECT ON PERSONS IN PUBLIC LIFE.

ROGERS SAID LEWITT WROTE LETTERS TO THE NAVY IN BEHALF OF THE SEIDEN HOTEL FAMILY WHICH GAVE THE IMPRESSION THAT SENATOR HAWKES WAS INTERESTED IN THE CASE. IN REALITY, HE SAID, IT WAS LEWITT ALONE.

THE "FIVE PERCENT" SPOTLIGHT RETURNED BRIEFLY TO THE WHITE HOUSE. HOUSING EXPEDITER WOODS RELATED YESTERDAY HOW GENERAL VAUGHAN CALLED HIM TO THE WHITE HOUSE IN BEHALF OF "SOME OF MY FRIENDS," THE OPERATORS OF THE TANFORAN TRACK NEAR SAN FRANCISCO.

WOODS WAS RECALLED TO THE WITNESS CHAIR TODAY. HE SAID VAUGHAN CAME TO HIS OFFICE JAN. 12, BRINGING WITH HIM EUGENE MORI, CAMDEN, N.J., PRESIDENT OF THE TANFORAN COMPANY.

THE RACETRACK WAS THEN STYMIED BY THE EXPEDITER'S REFUSAL TO GRANT A PERMIT, UNDER THE REGULATION WHICH FORBADE THE USE OF SCARCE HOUSING MATERIALS IN AMUSEMENT PLACES. THE TRACK ALSO WAS UNDER COURT INJUNCTION, ON THE GROUNDS THAT IT HAD VIOLATED AN EARLIER STOP-CONSTRUCTION ORDER.

VAUGHAN ASKED HIM TO "PLEASE HURRY" A CLEARANCE, WOODS TESTIFIED, BECAUSE THERE WAS "SOMETHING" BEFORE THE CALIFORNIA RACING COMMISSION WHICH WOULD CAUSE TANFORAN TO LOSE ITS FRANCHISE UNLESS IT COULD DO THE REBUILDING JOB.

WOODS GRANTED THE GO-AHEAD THE NEXT DAY. HE ALSO ASKED THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT TO MODIFY THE COURT ORDER. HE GAVE THE CLEARANCE, HE TESTIFIED, ON GROUNDS OF "HARDSHIP."

THE TERM "HARDSHIP" APPARENTLY RUBBED SEN.MCCARTHY (R-WIS) THE WRONG WAY. HE ASSERTED THAT THE LAW, WHICH HE HAD A HAND IN WRITING, IMPOSED ON WOODS A DUTY NOT TO APPROVE RECREATIONAL CONSTRUCTION WHICH WOULD INTERFERE WITH HOME BUILDING.

WOODS REPLIED THAT THE "ALL-INCLUSIVE TERM HARDSHIP" WAS THE BIG LOOPHOLE IN THE LAW. IF, AS AT TANFORAN, LOCAL HEALTH AUTHORITIES CONDEMNED THE STANDS, THAT WAS "HARDSHIP" UNDER THE LAW, HE SAID.

HE WENT ON: IF HORSE RACES HAD BEEN HELD THERE "AND THE STANDS HAD COLLAPSED AND FIVE OR SIX HUNDRED PEOPLE HAD BEEN KILLED, THEN WE WOULD HAVE BEEN BLAMED."

COMMITTEE COUNSEL ROGERS INJECTED: "WHY COULDN'T THEY JUST STOP RACING THERE?"

"THAT I DON'T KNOW," SAID WOODS, "BUT APPARENTLY IN A LOT OF PLACES RACING IS IMPORTANT."

"HOUSING IS IMPORTANT, TOO," SNAPPED MCCARTHY.

TO THIS WOODS MADE ANSWER: THERE WAS NOTHING IN THE LAW TO INSURE THAT THE SCARCE MATERIALS WENT INTO HOUSING. COMMERCIAL BUILDING WAS PERMITTED TOO, AND "ANYBODY KNOWS THAT PEOPLE BUILDING COMMERCIAL STRUCTURES CAN OUTBID RESIDENTIAL BUILDERS."

THE WHITE HOUSE MEANTIME HAD "NO COMMENT" ON THE REPORTED ACTIVITIES OF THE ROBUST GENERAL VAUGHAN. MR.TRUMAN HAS STATED THAT VAUGHAN HAS HIS PERMISSION TO TESTIFY, AND PRESS SECRETARY CHARLES ROSS TOLD REPORTERS TODAY THIS "STILL APPLIES."

A FLURRY TOOK PLACE IN THE SENATE LOBBY TODAY WHEN JOHN MARAGON, A FREQUENT CALLER ON VAUGHAN AT THE WHITE HOUSE AND A MINOR FIGURE IN THE PROBE, WAS USHERED OUT ON DEMAND OF SENATOR MURRAY (D-MONT).

MARAGON MET MURRAY IN THE LOBBY AND ADVANCED WITH HAND EXTENDED.

"I DON'T WANT TO SHAKE YOUR HAND," SAID MURRAY LOUDLY. "I HAVEN'T HAD ANY DEALINGS WITH YOU. WANT ARE YOU DOING HERE?"

THEN, TURNING TO A DOORKEEPER, HE ORDERED: "THROW HIM OUT."

MARAGON WAS ESCORTED FROM THE LOBBY WHERE, BY SENATE RULE, ONLY NEWSMEN, SENATORS AND EMPLOYES ARE PERMITTED.

LATER MARAGON SAID HE WAS ONLY TRYING TO HAND MURRAY A FORM TO OBTAIN BIOGRAPHICAL FACTS FOR A BOOK PLANNED BY MARAGON'S EMPLOYERS, A CHICAGO PUBLISHING COMPANY.

YESTERDAY IT WAS TESTIFIED THAT MARAGON ACCOMPANIED MORI, THE TANFORAN PRESIDENT, TO ONE CONFERENCE WITH THE HOUSING EXPEDITER.

WITH WOODS EXCUSED, THE COMMITTEE HEADED BY SEN.HOEY (D-NC) DELVED INTO THE LIDO BEACH HOTEL DEAL FOR A POSSIBLE NEW LEAD ON "FIVE PERCENTERS"--INDIVIDUALS WHO CHARGE A FEE FOR HELPING FIRMS GET FEDERAL CONTRACTS.

HOEY CALLED THE STAFF INVESTIGATOR, FLANAGAN, TO THE CHAIR. FLANAGAN RELATED THAT LEWITT, THEN EMPLOYED BY SEN.HAWKES, INTRODUCED HUNT TO THE SEIDEN FAMILY WHO WERE TRYING TO GET THE HOTEL BACK FROM THE NAVY.

THAT WAS IN 1946, WHEN HUNT WAS ON THE WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATION ROLLS AS A CONSULTANT ON SURPLUS PROPERTY. ON LEWITT'S RECOMMENDATION, THE SEIDENS PAID HUNT $5,000 AS A RETAINER IN APRIL.

"HUNT KEPT THE CHECK WITHOUT CASHING IT," FLANAGAN TESTIFIED, "AND RETURNED IT TO THE SEIDENS THREE MONTHS LATER, JUNE 25."

JUST FIVE DAYS LATER, HUNT LEFT WAA AND FORMED THE J.V.HUNT CO., IN WHICH HE IS DESCRIBED AS A "MANAGEMENT COUNSELOR." THE SEIDENS SENT A NEW CHECK FOR $5,000.

IN AUGUST HUNT WORKED OUT A FEE ARRANGEMENT UNDER WHICH HE WOULD GET $50,000, PLUS 25 PERCENT OF THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN $1,300,000 (THE SUM PAID BY THE NAVY) AND WHATEVER PRICE THE SEIDENS HAD TO PAY TO GET THE HOTEL BACK.

HUNT OPENED NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE NAVY. FOR A TIME THE UNITED NATIONS LEASED THE BUILDING, BUT IN THE FALL OF 1947 IT WAS DECLARED SURPLUS AND AVAILABLE FOR SALE BY WAA.

UNDER THE SLIDING SCALE ARRANGEMENT, HUNT'S TOTAL FEE WAS $86,000. HE HAS RECEIVED $71,000 SO FAR, FLANAGAN REPORTED, AND HOLDS NOTES FOR ANOTHER $15,000 STILL PAYABLE.

THE SEIDEN FAMILY ALSO PAID $11,000 FOR HUNT'S SERVICES IN GETTING CONSTRUCTION CLEARANCE FOR ANOTHER HOTEL IN PALM BEACH, FLANAGAN SAID.

FURTHER, ON HUNT'S RECOMMENDATION, THE SEIDENS HIRED AS A LAWYER EDWARD HAYES OF CHICAGO, FORMER NATIONAL COMMANDER OF THE AMERICAN LEGION. HAYES' FEE IN THE LIDO BEACH NEGOTIATION WAS $32,000, SAID FLANAGAN. HE ADDED THAT HAYES WAS "RATHER CLOSE TO MR.HUNT."

THEN THE QUESTIONING SHIFTED TO LEWITT. HE FLATLY DENIED TAKING $5,000 FOR HELPING HIS "CLOSE FRIENDS," THE SEIDENS, GET BACK THEIR HOTEL.

BUT HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT HUNT HIRED HIM ON DECEMBER 1, 1947--SIX MONTHS AFTER LEWITT LEFT SEN.HAWKES' OFFICE AND SET UP A PUBLIC RELATIONS FIRM HERE--FOR $500 A MONTH FOR TEN MONTHS.

COUNSEL ROGERS ASKED IF THIS ARRANGEMENT, AS DISCLOSED BY HUNT'S PAPERS, DID NOT "PRETTY CLEARLY INDICATE" THAT THE PAYMENT WAS CONNECTED WITH THE LIDO CASE. "ISN'T IT CLEAR YOU EXPECTED A FEE?" HE PRESSED.

LEWITT SAID THAT WAS NOT "RELEVANT" AND, BESIDES, HE HAD "MADE NO REQUEST FOR A FEE."

ROGERS RETORTED THAT IT WAS RELEVANT IF PERSONS IN GOVERNMENT HAD ARRANGEMENTS FOR REFERRING CASES TO PEOPLE FOR FEES. IT LOOKED TO HIM, HE ADDED, AS IF LEWITT HAD A PRIOR ARRANGEMENT TO GET 10 PERCENT OF HUNT'S $50,000 FLAT FEE.

THE WITNESS AGAIN PROTESTED HE HAD "NO INTENTION" OF GETTING A FEE, THERE HAS BEEN NO ARRANGEMENTS, AND HE DIDN'T KNOW WHAT WAS IN HUNT'S MIND.

"I NEVER GOT ANY FEE," HE DECLARED.

DESPITE THE $500 MONTHLY PAYMENT, IT WAS DEVELOPED, HUNT NEVER CALLED ON HIM FOR "SPECIFIC ADVICE" DURING THE ENTIRE TEN MONTHS. LEWITT INSISTED THIS "HAD NO BEARING" ON THE MATTER--HE WAS AVAILABLE IF HE HAD BEEN NEEDED.

LEWITT READILY STATED HE HAD WRITTEN THE NAVY AND TAKEN OTHER STEPS IN BEHALF OF THE SEIDEN FAMILY--FRANK SEIDEN AND HIS SONS, MILTON AND LEON--WHILE WORKING FOR HAWKES. THERE WAS NOTHING WRONG ABOUT THIS, HE SAID; THEY WERE CONSTITUENTS OF HAWKES AS WELL AS PERSONAL FRIENDS OF HIMSELF.

ROGERS TOOK OVER THE WITNESS AND BEGAN PROBING INTO HIS LOBBYING ACTIVITIES. LEWITT WAS REGISTERED UNDER THE LOBBYING LAW IN 1947 BUT ASKED TO BE TAKEN OFF THE LIST JAN.21, 1948.

THE COMMITTEE COUNSEL THEN PRODUCED LETTERS WHICH HE SAID SHOWED LEWITT DID "CONSIDERABLE LOBBYING" FOR LEATHER GOODS MANUFACTURERS

AFTER BEING STRICKEN FROM THE LIST.
LEWITT SAID HE DIDN'T LOBBY--HE MERELY ADVISED THE LEATHER GOODS ASSOCIATION ON HOW TO SEEK REPEAL OF THE EXCISE TAX ON LEATHER PRODUCTS. ROGERS PROMPTLY READ A LETTER FROM LEWITT DATED LAST SEPT.29 IN WHICH LEWITT DESCRIBED HIS TALKS WITH THE CHAIRMAN OF HOUSE AND SENATE COMMITTEES AND WITH TREASURY OFFICIALS.
"DID YOU HAVE SUCH TALKS?" THE COUNSEL ASKED.
LEWITT SAID HE DID NOT, BUT HE HAD TALKED TO OTHER BUSINESS REPRESENTATIVES HERE WHO HAD TALKED WITH CONGRESSMEN ABOUT THE EXCISE TAX.
"WHEN YOU WROTE THAT, YOU MISLED YOUR CLIENT?"
LEWIS DENIED IT, ADDING:
"WHETHER OR NOT I PERSONALLY SAW THESE CONGRESS MEMBERS WAS OF NO CONCERN TO MY CLIENT. THE ONLY CONCERN WAS THAT THE SOURCE AND THE INFORMATION BOTH WERE CORRECT."
HE SAID HE HAD TALKED WITH PAUL PORTER, FORMER OPA HEAD NOW PRACTICING LAW HERE; FORMER REP.RAMSPECK OF GEORGIA, PAUL HOPKINS OF THE HOTEL ASSOCIATION, AND OTHER BUSINESS REPRESENTATIVES. HE PASSED ALONG THEIR INFORMATION, HE EXPLAINED.
ROGERS READ ANOTHER LETTER IN WHICH LEWITT QUOTED REP. MARTIN (R-MASS) AS TELLING HIM THERE WAS NO CHANCE FOR REPEAL. LEWITT ADMITTED HE HADN'T TALKED TO MARTIN, EITHER; HE HAD HOPED TO, AND HE KNEW HOW MARTIN FELT ANYWAY.
THE COUNSEL WENT ON REELING OFF LEWITT'S LETTERS AND SPEECHES DESCRIBING PERSONAL INTERVIEWS WITH MEMBERS OF CONGRESS. NONE OF THEM HAD TAKEN PLACE, LEWITT ADMITTED.
"DON'T YOU THINK THAT IS A REPREHENSIBLE PRACTICE FOR A MAN OF YOUR POSITION?" ROGERS ASKED.
LEWITT PARRIED BY ASKING WHETHER IT IS "IRREGULAR" FOR A BUSINESS EXECUTIVE TO SIGN A LETTER DRAFTED FOR HIM BY ONE OF HIS SUBORDINATES. THEN HE READ A PREPARED STATEMENT. IT REPEATED HIS VIEW THAT THE PRACTICE WAS OF "NO CONCERN" TO THE CLIENT AND WENT ON:
"THE REASON I STATED IN MY LETTERS I HAD SEEN THE LEGISLATORS IS BASED ON THE SAME METHOD OF OPERATION FOLLOWED BY TOP BUSINESS EXECUTIVES AND BY LEGISLATORS.
"IT IS NOT UNUSUAL TO HAVE LETTERS WRITTEN FOR THE SIGNATURE OF THE TOP EXECUTIVE OR LEGISLATOR, STATING CERTAIN INFORMATION WAS SECURED, EVEN THOUGH THE INFORMATION TRANSMITTED WAS INFORMATION SECURED BY AN ASSISTANT OF THE BUSINESSMAN OR LEGISLATOR.
"AGAIN LET ME EMPHASIZE THAT IT IS USUALLY IMMATERIAL TO THE RECIPIENT OF THE LETTER WHO ACTUALLY SECURED THE INFORMATION, AS LONG AS THE INFORMATION IS CORRECT."

"I DON'T WANT TO SHAKE YOUR HAND," MURRAY SAID IN A LOUD VOICE. "I HAVEN'T HAD ANY DEALINGS WITH YOU. WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE?"

SAN FRANCISCO, AUG. 10-(AP)-TANFORAN, CALIFORNIA'S OLDEST MAJOR RACING TRACK NOW FIGURING IN THE WASHINGTON "FIVE PERCENTER" INVESTIGATION, HAS CAUSED FOUR MEN TO GO TO JAIL.
THE HISTORICAL RACING OVAL, FIRST BUILT IN THE 1880'S, GOT ONE OF ITS OWNERS AND OTHERS INTO TROUBLE DURING ITS RECONSTRUCTION AFTER WORLD WAR II.
THE GOVERNMENT TOOK OVER THE TRACK IN SUBURBAN SAN BRUNO EARLY IN THE WAR TO HOUSE WEST COAST JAPANESE HEADED FOR RELOCATION CENTERS. LATER THE NAVY USED IT FOR A STAGING CENTER.
IN DECEMBER, 1945, THE PLANT WAS PURCHASED BY GUY W.STANDIFER OF SAN FRANCISCO, AND JACK RAINER, NEW YORK ENGINEER, FROM JOHN W.MARCHBANK.
A SENATE SUBCOMMITTEE TODAY IS LOOKING INTO ALLEGED USE OF INFLUENCE ON FEDERAL OFFICIALS DURING THE POSTWAR RECONSTRUCTION PERIOD.
STANDIFER, PRESIDENT OF TANFORAN CO. LTD., THE COMPANY, ANOTHER OFFICIAL AND TWO BUILDING CONTRACTORS PAID FINES TOTALING $113,500 FOR ILLEGALLY USING CRITICAL BUILDING MATERIALS. THE MEN ALSO SERVED JAIL TERMS.
STANDIFER, AFTER THE JAIL SENTENCE, SOLD HIS INTEREST IN OCTOBER, 1947, TO WILLIAM HELIS, OF NEW ORLEANS AND EUGENE MORI, CAMDEN, N.J., ANNOUNCEMENTS HERE AT THE TIME SAID.
MAJOR GEN.HARRY H.VAUGHAN, THE PRESIDENT'S ARMY AIDE, WITNESSES AT THE SENATE HEARING TESTIFIED YESTERDAY, INTERCEDED IN BEHALF OF THE TRACK OWNERSHIP IN 1948 TO GET A BUILDING CLEARANCE.
STANDIFER, W.J.LEVIN, THEN SECRETARY-TREASURER OF THE TRACK, AND EARL W.HEPLE, GENERAL CONTRACTOR, EACH WERE FINED $7,500 AND SENTENCED TO 90 DAYS IN JAIL FOR VIOLATING A CIVILIAN PRODUCTION

ADMINISTRATION ORDER. EACH EVENTUALLY SERVED 60 DAYS. THE TRACK WAS FINED $90,000. HEPLE'S PROJECT SUPERINTENDENT, A.W.BARNEWITZ, WAS FINED $1,000 AND SERVED THREE WEEKS OF A MONTH SENTENCE. THE TERMS WERE SERVED IN THE SAN FRANCISCO COUNTY JAIL.

THEY WERE INDICTED BY A FEDERAL GRAND JURY ON 13 COUNTS AND PLEADED NOLO CONTENDERE (NO CONTEST) TO THE CHARGES.

CRIMINAL CONTEMPT CHARGES AGAINST THESE FOUR MEN AND FOUR OTHERS, INCLUDING A TRACK OFFICIAL AND THREE SUBCONTRACTORS, WERE LATER DISMISSED. THE CONTEMPT CHARGES STEMMED FROM AN ALLEGED VIOLATION OF A FEDERAL COURT ORDER TO HALT BUILDING AT THE TRACK.

~~THE THEN TRACK OWNERS CONTENDED~~ THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAD AGREED TO RETURN THE PLANT AFTER THE WAR IN ITS ORIGINAL CONDITION. INSTEAD THE NAVY DEPARTMENT GAVE IT BACK WITHOUT REMODELING BUT PAID THE OWNERS $724,699.

IN 1946 THE TRACK FILED SUIT IN FEDERAL COURT AGAINST THE CPA AND THE NATIONAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION IN AN EFFORT TO BLOCK THE FEDERAL AGENCIES FROM INTERFERING WITH THE CONSTRUCTION WORK. THE TRACK LOST THE SUIT.

RACING WAS HELD AT TANFORAN FROM THE TIME OF ITS CONSTRUCTION UNTIL THE STATE LEGISLATURE IN 1912 BANNED HORSE RACE BETTING. THE TRACK HELD BETLESS RACING ON 1922-23 AND IN 1931-32 KEPT HORSE RACING ALIVE IN THE STATE WITH OPTION BETTING.

NOW TANFORAN IS ONE OF THREE TRACKS IN THE SAN FRANCISCO BAY AREA WITH REGULAR RACING SEASONS.

WASHINGTON,AUG.10-(AP)-DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN LEADERS AGREED TODAY TO TRY TO BLAST A HOUSE-APPROVED DISPLACED PERSONS BILL OUT OF THE SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE.

SENATOR LUCAS OF ILLINOIS, THE DEMOCRATIC LEADER, SAID HE AND FIVE OTHER DEMOCRATS WILL SIGN A PETITION TO TAKE THE BILL AWAY FROM THE COMMITTEE.

HE SAID SENATOR TAFT OF OHIO, CHAIRMAN OF THE GOP POLICY COMMITTEE, INDICATED HE AND FIVE OTHER REPUBLICANS WOULD SIGN THE PETITION ALSO. LUCAS PROMISED IT WILL BE BROUGHT UP FOR ACTION BEFORE CONGRESS ADJOURNS.

LUCAS SAID THE UNUSUAL ACTION WILL BE TAKEN BECAUSE CHAIRMAN MCCARRAN (D-NEV) HAS REFUSED TO PLEDGE ANY EARLY MOVE BY THE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE ON THE DP BILL.

LUCAS SAID HE SOUGHT COOPERATION OF THE REPUBLICANS "BECAUSE I CONSIDER THIS A BIPARTISAN MEASURE."

TAFT TOLD REPORTERS HE AND SOME OTHER REPUBLICANS ARE WILLING TO SEEK ACTION ON THE BILL, ALTHOUGH HE SAID SOME OF HIS PARTY MEMBERS OPPOSE THE MEASURE.

HE SAID IN AN INTERVIEW THAT:

BERGSON, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF ECONOMICS AT COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, VISITED RUSSIA IN 1945 WITH THE REPARATIONS COMMISSION, SERVING AS A CONSULTANT TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

HE SAID IN AN INTERVIEW THAT:

ALTHOUGH THE GERMAN ARMY DESTROYED NEARLY TWO-FIFTHS OF RUSSIAN PRODUCTIVE CAPACITY, A LARGE PORTION OF INDUSTRY WAS MOVED TO SIBERIA AND THE URAL MOUNTAINS. THAT PRODUCTION SHIFT GAVE THE SOVIET UNION A RUNNING START IN POSTWAR RECONSTRUCTION.

RUSSIA'S FOURTH FIVE-YEAR-PLAN, TO BE COMPLETED IN 1950, CALLS FOR OPERATIONS WELL ABOVE THOSE OF 1940 IN THE ECONOMIC SPHERE. "AND THE FACTS INDICATE THEY MAY COME CLOSE TO COMPLETING THE PLAN."

DR.BERGSON STATED THAT NEVERTHELESS RUSSIA'S PRODUCTIVE POWER LAGS FAR BEHIND THAT OF THE UNITED STATES AND THIS COUNTRY SHOULD TRY TO MAKE UP ITS DIFFERENCES WITH THE RUSSIANS BEFORE THEY BECOME MORE POWERFUL INDUSTRIALLY.

BERGSON IS HERE TO ATTEND A CURRENT CONFERENCE SPONSORED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF DENVER, A MEETING CALLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF STUDYING THE SOVIET UNION AND THE FACTORS WHICH MAKE IT TICK.

(ADVANCE FOR USE AT 6 P.M. EASTERN STANDARD TIME WEDNESDAY, AUG. 10).

(ADVANCE)..PALO ALTO, CALIF., AUG. 10-(AP)-HERBERT HOOVER DECLARED TODAY THAT "THROUGH GOVERNMENT SPENDING AND TAXES OUR NATION IS BLISSFULLY DRIVING DOWN THE BACK ROAD" TO COLLECTIVISM AND IS "ON THE LAST MILE."

THE ONLY LIVING FORMER PRESIDENT SAID ON HIS 75TH BIRTHDAY THAT WHILE "WE HAVE NOT HAD A GREAT SOCIALIZATION OF PROPERTY" THE RESULT WAS BEING ACHIEVED BY GOVERNMENT SPENDING OF THE PEOPLES' SAVINGS.

HOOVER SPOKE AT STANFORD UNIVERSITY AT CEREMONIES HONORING HIM ON HIS BIRTHDAY. HE ONLY RECENTLY FINISHED TWO YEARS OF WORK AS HEAD OF A COMMISSION WHICH PROPOSED ECONOMY IN GOVERNMENT. IN HIS ADDRESS HE LASHED OUT AT NEW FEDERAL AND STATE PROPOSALS FOR SPENDING TAXES.

AUG 12 1949

"ALONG THIS ROAD OF SPENDING," HOOVER SAID, "THE GOVERNMENT EITHER TAKES OVER, WHICH IS SOCIALISM, OR DICTATES INSTITUTIONAL AND ECONOMIC LIFE, WHICH IS FASCISM.

"THE AMERICAN MIND IS TROUBLED BY THE GROWTH OF COLLECTIVISM THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

"WE HAVE A FEW HUNDRED THOUSAND COMMUNISTS AND THEIR FELLOW TRAVELERS IN THIS COUNTRY. THEY CANNOT DESTROY THE REPUBLIC. THEY ARE A NUISANCE AND REQUIRE ATTENTION. WE ALSO HAVE THE DOCTRINAIRE SOCIALISTS WHO PEACEFULLY DREAM OF THEIR UTOPIA.

"BUT THERE IS A CONSIDERABLE GROUP OF FUZZY"MINDED PEOPLE WHO ARE ENGINEERING A COMPROMISE WITH ALL THESE EUROPEAN INFECTIONS. THEY FAIL TO REALIZE THAT OUR AMERICAN SYSTEM HAS GROWN AWAY FROM THE SYSTEMS OF EUROPE FOR 250 YEARS. THEY HAVE THE FOOLISH NOTION THAT A COLLECTIVIST ECONOMY CAN AT THE SAME TIME PRESERVE PERSONAL LIBERTY AND CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT."

BUT, HOOVER SAID, THE "AUSTERITY" IN ENGLAND SHOULD BE "A SUFFICIENT SPECTACLE" OF WHAT HAPPENS WHEN NATIONS TRY IT.

HOOVER SAID THE THINKING OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE WAS DRUGGED BY SUCH SLOGANS AS "WELTFARE SATE". HE CALLED THIS TERM "A DISGUISE FOR THE TOTALITARIAN STATE BY THE ROUTE OF SPENDING."

HOOVER PRESENTED SOME FIGURES. THE AVERAGE WORKING CITIZEN HE SAID NOW MUST WORK 61 DAYS A YEAR TO PAY TAXES SUPPORTING THE GOVERNMENT, LOCAL, STATE AND FEDERAL.

HE DIVIDED THE DAYS THIS WAY: 11 TO PAY OBLIGATIONS FROM FORMER WARS; 24 FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE AND THE COLD WAR; 12 DAYS FOR OTHER FEDERAL EXPENDITURES AND 14 DAYS FOR STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

HOOVER SAID THAT "SLO LONG AS WE MUST SUPPORT THE NECESSARY NATIONAL DEFENSE AND COLD WAR AT A COST OF 24 DAYS WORK PER YEAR TO MR.AVERAGE W. CITIZEN, THERE ARE MANY COMFORTING THINGS THAT SHOULD BE DEFERRED IF WE DO NOT WISH TO GO DOWN THIS ROAD TO RUIN OF OUR NATIONAL FAMILY LIFE."

THROUGHOUT HIS ADDRESS, HOOVER PUNCTUATED HIS POINTS WITH THE SENTENCE: "THINK IT OVER." HE PLACED ONE OF THESE AT THIS POINT.

HOOVER DID NOT MENTION WHAT THINGS HE THOUGHT SHOULD BE DEFERRED.

BUT HE SAID THAT THERE NOW WAS BEING SERIOUSLY PROPOSED ADDITIONAL GOVERNMENT SPENDING WHICH WOULD "TAKE ANOTHER 20 DAYS WORK FROM MR. AND MRS. AVERAGE W. CITIZEN."

HOOVER REMARKED ONLY IN PASSING THAT FOR THE PAST TWO YEARS HE HAS BEEN WORKING ON PROPOSALS FOR ECONOMIES IN GOVERNMENT. THE HOOVER COMMISSION INSISTED THAT $4,000,000,000 (B) A YEAR COULD BE SAVED.

HOOVER ENTITLED HIS ADDRESS "THINK OF THE NEXT GENERATION." HE SOUNDED THIS THEMESEARLY IN HIS SPEECH BY SAYING:

"THE REAL TEST OF OUR THINKING IS NOT SO MUCH THE NEXT ELECTION ELECTION AS IT IS THE NEXT GENERATION."

HOOVER EMPHASIZED THAT THE UNITED STATES MUST MAINTAIN A "DYNAMIC, PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE."

AUG 12 1949

"BUT DYNAMIC PROGRESS IS NOT MADE WITH DYNAMITE," HE CONTINUED. "AND THAT DYNAMITE TODAY IS THE GEOMETRICAL INCREASE OF SPENDING BY OUR GOVERNMENTS--FEDERAL STATE AND LOCAL."

HOOVER ESTIMATED THAT, EXCLUSIVE OF FEDERAL DEBT SERVICE, THE COST OF ALL GOVERNMENT TO THE AVERAGE FAMILY HAD INCREASED FROM $200 TO $1,300 A YEAR IN THE PAST 20 YEARS.

WITH DEBT SERVICE AND NEW EXPENDITURES NOW BEING PROPOSED, HE SAID "THE AVERAGE FAMILY MAY BE PAYING $2,900 YEARLY TAXES."

HOOVER CITED THE GROWING LENGTH OF THE GOVERNMENT PAYROLL, PENSION LISTS, AND THE LIKE.

"TODAY," HE CONTINUED, "ABOUT ONE PERSON OUT OF EVERY EVEN IN THE POPULATION IS A REGULAR RECIPIENT OF GOVERNMENT MONIES. IF THOSE OF AGE ARE ALL MARRIED, THEY COMPRISE ABOUT ONE-HALF THE VOTERS OF THE LAST PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

"THINK IT OVER."

HOOVER SAID IT WAS NECESSARY THAT THE PROBLEM OF PUBLIC SPENDING BE REDUCED "TO THE POSSIBLE SAVINGS OF THE PEOPLE AFTER A DESIRABLE STANDARD OF LIVING."

"IF WE ADOPT THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT'S ESTIMATE OF SUCH A DESIRABLE STANDARD, THEN THE ACTUAL, AND THE SERIOUSLY PROPOSED NATIONAL AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTAL SPENDING WILL ABSORB BETWEEN 75 PERCENT TO 85 PERCENT OF ALL THE SAVINGS OF THE PEOPLE."

AND IT IS FROM SAVINGS THAT "WE SUSTAIN AND STIMULATE PROGRESS IN OUR PRODUCTIVE SYSTEM," HOOVER ADDED.

UNDER SUCH A PROGRAM OF SPENDING, HE DECLARED, THE GOVERNMENT BECOMES THE CHIEF SOURCE OF CREDIT. SMALL BUSINESS IS STARVED, AND "VENTURE CAPITAL TO DEVELOP NEW IDEAS TENDS TO BECOME CONFINED TO THE LARGE CORPORATIONS."

"ANOTHER END RESULT," HOOVER SAID, "IS TO EXPOSE ALL OUR INDEPENDENT COLLEGES AND OTHER PRIVATELY-SUPPORTED INSTITUTIONS TO THE RISK OF BECOMING DEPENDENT UPON THE STATE. THEN THROUGH POLITICS WE WILL UNDERMINE THEIR INDEPENDENCE..."

HOOVER SCOFFED AT THE IDEA THAT "WE CAN AVOID THESE DISASTERS BY MORE GOVERNMENT BORROWING."

"THAT," HE SAID, "IS A DEVICE TO LOAD OUR EXTRAVAGENCE AND WASTE ON TO TPE NEXT GENERATION. BUT INCREASING GOVERNMENT DEBTS CAN CARRY IMMEDIATE PUNISHMENT, FOR THAT IS THE ROAD TO INFLATION. THERE IS FAR MORE COURAGE IN REDUCING OUR DEBTS THAN IN INCREASING THEX. AND THAT IS A DUTY TO OUR CHILDREN."

HOOVER INSISTED THERE WAS NO ROOM FOR INCREASED SPENDING AND TAXES EXCEPT TO CUT THE LIVING STANDARDS OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

"IT IS EASY TO SAY INCREASE CORPORATION TAXES," HE SAID. "THAT IS AN ILLUSION. THE BULK OF CORPORATION TAXES IS PASSED ON TO THE CONSUMER--THAT IS, TO EVERY FAMILY.

"IT IS EASY TO SAY INCREASE TAXES ON THE HIGHER PERSONAL INCOME BRACKETS. BUT IF ALL INCOMES OVER $5,000 A YEAR WERE CONFISCATED, IT WOULD COVER LESS THAN 10 PERCENT OF THESE ACTUAL AND PROPOSED SPENDINGS."

THE FORMER QRESIDENT PLACED MUCH OF THE BLAME FOR HEAVY GOVERNMENT SPENDING ON THE PEOPLE THEMSELVES AS REPRESENTED BY "THE MULTITUDE OF GREAT PRESSURE GROUPS."

"MANY OF THESE GROUPS," HE SAID, "MAINTAIN PAID LOBBIES IN WASHINGTON OR IN THE STATE CAPITOLS TO PRESS THEIR CLAIMS UPON ADMINISTRATION OR THE LEGISLATURES.

"OUR REPRESENTATIVES MUST RUN FOR ELECTION. THEY CAN BE DEFEATED BY THESE PRESSURE GROUPS. OUR OFFICIALS ARE FORCED TO THINK IN TERMS OF PRESSURE GROUPS, NOT IN TERMS OF NEED OF THE WHOLE PEOPLE."

HOOVER URGED THINKING AND DEBATE ON THE GOVERNMENT PROBLEMS IN THE SCHOOLS AND "IN EVERY CORNER GROCERY."

"WE DARE NOT SEE THE BIRTHRIGHT OF POSTERITY TO INDIVIDUAL INDEPENDENCE, INITIATIVE AND FREEDOM OF CHOICE BARTERED FOR A MESS OF A COLLECTIVIST SYSTEM," HOOVER CONCLUDED.

"MY WORD TO YOU, MY FELLOW CITIZENS, ON THIS SEVENTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY IS THIS: THE FOUNDING FATHERS DEDICATED THE STRUCTURE OF OUR GOVERNMENT 'TO SECURE THE BLESSINGS OF LIBERTY TO OURSELVES AND OUR POSTERITY.' WE OF THIS GENERATION INHERITED THIS PRECIOUS BLESSING. YET KNLDMFTHRIFTS WE

POSTERITY.' WE OF THIS GENERATION INHERITED THIS PRECIOUS BLESSING. YET AS SPENDTHRIFTS WE ARE ON OUR WAY TO ROB POSTERITY OF ITS INHERITANCE.

"THE AMERICAN PEOPLE HAVE SOLVED MANY GREAT CRISES IN NATIONAL LIFE. THE QUALITIES OF SELF-RESTRAINT, BF INTEGRITY, OF CONSCIENCE AND COURAGE STILL LIVE IN OUR PEOPLE. IT IS NOT TOO LATE TO SUMMON THESE QUALITIES."

Britain Asks Bulgars To Recall Attache

London, Aug. 11 (A. P.).—Great Britain has asked Bulgaria to recall the press attache, Boris Temkov of Bulgaria's London legation, the Foreign Office announced today.

The announcement said this retaliated for a Bulgarian declaration July 29 that J. D. Blakeway, First Secretary of Britain's Sofia legation, was persona non grata (unwelcome) and must leave the country. A British spokesman said Bulgaria gave no reason for the declaration.

Yugoslavia Seizes Yards, Ends Russian Ship Deal

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 11 — Yugoslavia has taken over shipyards formerly controlled by a joint Soviet-Yugoslav company, a Tanjug broadcast tonight disclosed.

The official Yugoslav news agency broadcast a speech by Communications Minister Bozidar Maslaric to shipworkers at Novi Sad, in northeastern Yugoslavia. He said that Yugoslavia and Russia, now at odds, had been partners in the joint company, Juspad, operating the Novi Sad shipyards. But on Aug. 1, he added, he took over management of the company. AP

YUGOSLAVIA CALLED AN 'ENEMY' BY RUSSIA

LONDON, Friday, Aug. 12 (AP)—Russia termed Yugoslavia today an "enemy of the Soviet Union" and charged that Premier Marshal Tito's Government was bound to the "camp of foreign capitalists."

A note to Yugoslavia was broadcast by the Moscow radio in English. The note was the fourth in a series of sharp exchangees with Marshal Tito's regime over the Big Four rejection of Yugoslav territorial claims on Austria.

The note said that the Soviet Government had been led to this conclusion:

"That the Yugoslav Government is violating its allied obligations toward the Soviet Union, that it is behaving not as an ally but as an enemy of the Soviet Union, that strong ties of some kind bind the Yugoslav Government or the main members of this Government and the camp of foreign capitalists, that the Yugoslav Government is merging itself to an even greater extent with imperialist circles against the Soviet Union and entering into blocs with them, that the Soviet Union can no longer regard the Yugoslav Government as an ally of the Soviet Union, that the Soviet Government can no longer uphold the claims of the Yugoslav Government—especially those which the Yugoslav Government itself has given up, although it conceals this from the Yugoslav people—and if the Yugoslav Government prefers a united front with imperialist circles to a united front with the Soviet Union, then let those circles support her claims."

Yugoslavia and Russia have been at increasingly sharp odds since June, 1948, when the Tito Government was thrown out of the Soviet-led Communist Information Bureau and charged with "nationalist" deviations from Moscow-brand Marxism.

Hoffman In Eire On ERP Study Tour

Shannon, Ireland, Aug. 11 (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman, European Recovery Program administrator, arrived today on the first leg of a sixteen-day tour of Europe's Marshall Plan countries.

Hoffman left immediately for Dublin to discuss Ireland's activities under the recovery program before proceeding to London.

Spaak Named President Of Assembly

Strasbourg, Aug. 11 (AP)—Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgian Socialist leader, was unanimously elected today as the first president of the European Consultative Assembly.

The chunky little Belgian resigned yesterday as Belgium's Acting Premier and Foreign Minister so he could take over the top job in the newly created Council of Europe.

Nominated By Churchill

Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime Prime Minister, nominated Spaak for the assembly presidency. The 101 delegates from a dozen countries quickly indorsed the selection without opposition.

Delegates in private negotiations yesterday gave their support to Spaak, one of Europe's outstanding political figures and first president of the United Nations General Assembly. Actual voting was delayed until today to give Spaak time to deal with a Government shakeup in Brussels in which he resigned his premiership.

Recently Acting Premier

Spaak had been serving as Acting Premier since Belgian elections more than six weeks ago in which his Socialist party lost ground. He was succeeded as Belgian Premier by Gaston Eyskens, a Christian Socialist.

By quitting his Belgian Government post, Spaak became eligible for the Council of Europe Assembly presidency. Assembly rules barred him as a delegate while he served on the council's ministerial committee.

Council's Deliberative Body

The assembly is the deliberative body of the Council of Europe which opened its first sessions this week. The guiding body of the Council is the Ministerial Committee, composed of the foreign ministers of the twelve member nations—Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Italy, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Ireland, Greece and Turkey.

Spaak himself was not present in the hall when he was elected. He had not yet returned from Brussels. France's Edouard Herriot continued to serve as acting chairman until Spaak's arrival, expected later today.

Van Zeeland Succeeds Spaak

The new Belgian Government notified the assembly that Paul Van Zeeland was being appointed Belgian Foreign Minister and would succeed Spaak on the Ministerial Committee.

Four vice presidents were elected. They are:

Britain's Lord Layton, chairman of the boards of directors of corporations owning the News Chronicle and the Star; Francois de Menthon, of France; Stefano Jacini, of Italy, and Ole Bjoern Kraft, of Denmark.

Two others who were nominated —former Prime Minister Eamon de Valera of Ireland, and William Whiteley, chief Labor Government whip in Britain's House of Commons—trailed in the balloting. Churchill opposed Whiteley's nomination, contending that members of governments or cabinets should not hold official positions in the Assembly. AP

Strasbourg Police End Sit-Down by 2 in Bombed-Out Building

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 11 (AP).—Police ejected two members of Garry Davis's World Government Movement from a bombed-out building in Strasbourg's Cathedral Square today.

The two were Miss Ruth Allanbrook, of Wakefield, Mass., and an Alsatian member, M. Koune. They had started a combination sit-down and hunger strike to protest the lack of interest by the Council of Europe in their own program.

Police said they were endangering public safety by attracting a crowd within a ruined structure which might collapse.

New Belgium Cabinet To Be Sworn

Brussels, Aug. 11 (AP)—A new Belgian Cabinet is to be sworn in today, breaking a 50-day deadlock.

The announcement that agreement on a new coalition Government had been reached was made by Gaston Eyskens, a Social Christian, who said he would head a Cabinet made of Social Christians and Liberals.

The previous Cabinet, a coalition of Social Christians and Socialists, was headed by Socialist Paul-Henri Spaak.

Position Strengthened

The Social Christians, who favor the return to the throne of King Leopold, failed to win a majority in the June 26 elections, although they strengthened their position by winning 104 of the 212 seats in the Chamber of Deputies.

The Liberals decided to join a new Government when the Social Christians agreed to drop the question of the king's return from exile for the time being. The Liberals, a conservative group, also gained in the elections, winning 30 seats.

Charges France Veils U. S. Aid

Ohio Congresswoman Says Regime Should Tell People Facts of American Help.

Paris, Aug. 11 (A. P.).—Representative Frances P. Bolton (R.-Ohio) charged today that the French Government is not doing all it should to tell its people about American aid. She spoke at a luncheon of the American Club of Paris.

"Is it not the responsibility of the French Government, inasmuch as it controls the cinema and newspapers, to explain almost daily to the French people the reason and the working of the Marshall plan?" she asked reporters after her talk.

A French newsman explained that his country's movies and newspapers were not run by the Government.

She said in her speech that conditions were better in France than in England. "But to read some papers here," she continued, "you would think we Americans are the scum of the earth."

Mrs. Bolton is a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives. Asked what she thought the French Government ought to do, Mrs. Bolton replied:

"It should tell the people more, not the complications but the facts—the fact that the petrol for one day is French and for the two other days it comes from the United States. It should explain that if a farmer has to pay three times what he paid before the war for a tractor it is his own Government he is paying—that the tractor is a gift from us to his Government.

"There is a lot of discontent among the little people who are the strength of France."

Asked about the military aid program, Mrs. Bolton said: "We feel strongly that the European countries should understand that we are going to undertake a military aid program, but the speed depends on the plans for co-operation submitted." AP

Priest Forgiven By Paris Prelate

Paris, Aug. 11 (AP)—The acting Catholic archbishop of Paris has reversed his decision to punish the Rev. Jean Boulier for pro-Communist political activities, the semi-official French press agency said today.

Msgr. Roger Beaussart, acting head of the church in Paris since the death of Emmanuel Cardinal Suhard, announced June 22 Father Boulier would not be permitted to say mass after September 14. The priest was then in Czechoslovakia.

This morning, the day after Father Boulier's return, the two clerics had a long talk. Afterward, Father Boulier said:

"As soon as I got here, I asked Monsignor Beaussart for an audience, during which I was able to assure him of my loyalty to the obligations of my priesthood."

ANTI-JEWISH MOVE REBUKED

U.S. Governor In Bavaria Assails Letter-Writer

Munich, Germany, Aug. 11 (AP)—Murray D. Van Wagoner, American Military Governor of Bavaria, said tonight anti-Jewish forces in Germany "have begunto crawl again in the gutters."

His statement was in reply to an anti-Jewish letter published by the Sueddeutsche ueitung (South German newspaper).

The letter touched off a clash between Jewish displaced persons and German police yesterday in which three Jews and thirteen policemen were injured. The clash came after police had ordered 1,000 DP's planning to march on the newspaper to disperse. The police said the Jews had no permit for a public meeting.

"Go To America"

The letter published in the newspaper said in part:

"Why don't you (the Jews) go to America? But there they (Americans) also have no use for you. They have enough of these bloodsuckers. I am working for the Americans, and many have said already that they have forgiven us (Germans) everything except that we have not gassed all of them (the Jews) because now the Jews go to America."

In his statement Van Wagoner said:

"Although the attack on the Jewish people, made under the cowardly cloak of a fictitious name, does not merit an answer, the Military Government feels that you and the small, and I am sure equally cowardly group that charges your war views, should not be left unchallenged.

Called Unsigned Stigma

"Your venemous letter unjustly places a stigma upon the many right-thinking Germans who are now trying to atone for the blackest period in your history, which culminated with the gas chambers to which you refer so glibly.

"There is no doubt in my mind that you and your kind will try to undermine the constructive forces once again, either for personal gains or because of a depraved mentality that, carion-like, can find nourishment only in destruction.

"Only constant vigilance and practiced racial and religious tolerances on the part of right-thinking Germans can keep your crawling confined to the gutter where it belongs.

"Your letter should serve as an object lesson to the rest of your countrymen. For by it you have slandered not only the Jews but the German nation."

Earlier today Berlin Jews called a rally to protest action by police here toward the Jewish gathering yesterday and to urge "harshest action" against the publisher of the Sueddeutsche Zeitung.

AMG REBUKES GERMANS FOR NATIONALISM

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 11 (AP). The American Military Government tonight criticized western Germany's current federal election campaign for its "pronounced nationalism."

An AMG spokesman said in a German-language broadcast that "not a single party has a good word for the positive work of the Western Allies."

This was the first official American statement to the Germans on anti-Allied attacks by German candidates in the election, which will take place Sunday.

"One is forced to make comparisons with the past and to look with some anxiety to the future, which is being entrusted to such a forgetful, nationalistic people," he said.

He said German politicians were unanimous on only one point:

"A pronounced nationalism which sees all right on one side and all injustice and bad will on the other side."

Attacks Pressed

The spokesman warned that "opinion abroad has not overlooked the awakened nationalism nor the sudden forgetfulness of German politicians concerning the assistance the western Allies have rendered."

As he spoke, candidates for the new parliament carried on their blistering attacks on the Allies.

One of the first major disorders of the campaign occurred in Brunswick, when a group of men armed with lead pipe broke up a rally of the German Rightist party. Members of the extreme right-wing group battled the intruders before 50 policemen arrived.

Eyewitnesses said the armed group sang the "Internationale" (old Communist international song) as they stormed into the meeting. Six persons were injured.

Meanwhile, Allied observers say an unusually light vote in the election would reflect a growing distrust of German political leaders by large segments of the voters.

Both American and British observers place much of the blame on the type of campaign conducted by the politicians.

Youths Called Distrustful

One British observer said: "The Germans simply don't have any faith in their parties, they have been offered no constructive programs—only attacks against the allies. Youths, especially, are distrustful. Few of them will vote."

An American observer said: "Many voters have been looking anxiously for a party to offer them a concrete domestic program. They are disappointed in the parties they voted for the last time (in state elections). But they are offered no better place to turn. So they will simply stay away from the polls."

Recent editorials in several politically independent German newspapers have supported these theories.

Munich's Sueddeutsche Zeitung, deploring a lack of strong personalities among candidates, said the voters "can hardly distinguish between the candidates or even between the parties."

Gen. Friedrich Knolle, Ex-S.S. Leader, Caught

Bremen, Germany, Aug. 11 (AP)—Former S.S. (Elite Corps) Gen. Friedrich Knolle was arrested last night, German police announced today.

The former crony of S.S. Chief Heinrich Himmler had been living in Bremen as a laborer under the name of Fritz Goetten.

Police headquarters said he was charged with crimes against humanity. The trial is expected to take place before a German court in the British zone.

Missing Reich P.X. Cash Found

Bremerhaven, Germany, Aug. 11 (AP)—The German pay roll of 80,000 Deutsche marks (about $24,000) was missing today when the safe was opened at the main American Army post exchange. The United States provost marshal later reported all but about 6,000 marks ($2,000) had been found in the attic.

Lindbergh Sees German Camp

HOF, Germany, Aug. 11 (AP).—Charles A. Lindbergh visited a refugee camp near Hof today, the camp manager reported. He arrived without advance notice, talked with several members of the camp, then drove away. Elsewhere it was learned that Mr. Lindbergh is making a private survey of European reconstruction.

2 U. S. Soldiers Arrested In Slaying of Austrian

VIENNA, Aug. 11 (AP). — Two American soldiers have been arrested and charged with the murder of an Austrian civilian, the provost marshal's office said today.

They are Pvt. First Class Angress Brown, of Du Quoin, Ill., and Private Jerry L. Wright, of Cleveland, Ohio.

They are charged with killing Paul Ritzenberger in Wels, Austria, Aug. 1. The provost marshal said Ritzenberger was knocked off his bicycle and kicked to death. Wels is in the American-occupied zone.

Authorities said Brown was traced through the sale of a watch belonging to Ritzenberger. When arrested, he named Wright as his accomplice and accused him of the actual killing.

War Rules To Cover Civilians

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 11 (AP). Four Geneva conventions on the rules of war received final approval by a 60-nation conference today.

The conference adopted almost unanimously three revised agreements regulating the treatment of wounded soldiers and sailors and of prisoners of war and a new proposal on the treatment of civilians in occupied territory.

All four were based on drafts adopted by the Stockholm Red Cross conference last year. The Geneva conference was convened by the Swiss Government to work over the Stockholm drafts.

First Time In History

Under the convention on the treatment of civilians, the population of an occupied country in a future war will be protected by recognized international law for the first time in history. Although approved without opposition today, the conventions will be legally binding only on those countries which sign and ratify them later. A formal signing ceremony is scheduled in Geneva next September.

Many delegations, including those of the United States, the United Kingdom, Israel and the Communist bloc gave formal notice today of reservations they would make before signing.

Despite many differences over drafts, Communists and non-Communist delegations joined in approving the conventions and not one delegation cast a negative vote.

U.S. Makes Reservations

Only Israel and Burma recorded absentions.

The United States and the United Kingdom, though voting in favor of the four conventions, made express reservations on an article of the civilian convention which limits the right of an occupying power to impose the death penalty. Under this article, death sentences may be pronounced in an occupied country only if in accordance with the law of that country before the occupation began.

The conference earlier rejected a British and American proposal to permit death sentences for grave crimes against the occupation power even if the death penalty did not previously exist in the country concerned.

The Soviet Union and most of its satellites gave notice of reservations on several parts of the conventions, particularly an article of the prisoner-of-war convention dealing with war crimes.

Retain Benefits

Article 85 of the civilian convention says: "Prisoners-of-war prosecuted under the laws of the detaining power for acts committed prior to capture shall retain, even if convicted, the benefits of the present convention."

The Communist bloc made repeated but unsuccessful efforts throughout the conference to deprive "war criminals" of the benefits of the convention.

The delegate of the Holy See, Msgr. Paulo Bertoli, told the delegates after approval of the four conventions that he "deeeply regretted" the omission of a preamble containing a declaration of religious principles. The conference dropped the preamble when it appeared likely that a religious reference might lead the Soviet bloc to boycott the conventions.

The principal provisions of the new civilian convention will outlaw many of the occupation methods used by the Germans during two world wars. The taking of hostages, reprisals, torture and mass deportations are all expressly forbidden, and the occupation power is made directly responsible for feeding the civilian population.

To Set Up Neutral Zones

Article 15 of the convention provides for the setting up of neutralized security zones near the fighting areas to shelter wounded combatants and non combatants and any civilians taking no part in the fighting. Such zones are to be set up under special agreements between the countries at war.

The military conventions for the first time recognize prisoner-of-war status for partisans and grant military medical personnel taken prisoner full freedom to care for their captured compatriots.

The conference earlier this week unanimously approved a Mexican resolution declaring that "its work has been guided solely by humanitarian aims" and expressing the hope "that it may never become necessary to apply these conventions."

U.N. Group Starts Employment Study

AUG 12 1949

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 11 (AP)—The United Nations Economic and Social Council today voted to appoint experts to study ways of achieving full employment in the world.

This action was taken after the Council had rejected a resolution of the Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions charging the capitalist countries with exploiting workers and reducing the unemployment to an "inhumanly low standard of living."

The expert group was proposed in a resolution by the United States, the United Kingdom and France. The resolution said "while the recent decline in production and employment in some countries may turn out to be of a temporary character, it is desirable that all countries be prepared to deal with the problem of unemployment as the necessity for such action arises."

The economic and employment commission will examine the experts' report and submit recommendations to the next session of the Council.

Irish Death Rate High, Dutch Low in Europe

GENEVA, Aug. 11 (AP).—The World Health Organization, a United Nations agency, said today the Netherlands had the lowest death rate and Ireland the highest in Western Europe in 1947, the last year for which final figures are available.

In the Netherlands 8.1 persons in every 1,000 died in 1947. In Ireland, 14.9 persons in every 1,000 died. At the beginning of this century Ireland's death rate was 17.2 a 1,000, exactly the same as that of the Netherlands. AP

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 11 (AP).—U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie forecast today a period of continued relaxation of the world's tension.

"It is my impression," he said in a speech at a mass meeting in the Skansen open air museum, "that responsible statesmen all over the world are firmly resolved to prevent a new war, and that they will go a very long way to preserve the peace. I think that the relaxation of the international tension, observed during the last few months, will continue."

Some of the main reasons for this shift in the world outlook, Mr. Lie said, stem from the growing realization that there would be "no victors but only losers" in a third world war, and from what he called the strengthened influence of the United Nations.

"Often the U. N. alone has been standing between the provisional peace we are living in and the threat of a third world war," he said.

Discussing the efficiency of the United Nations in spite of such handicaps as the absence of the main peace treaties after World War II, the Secretary General observed:

"Too many people have been under the delusion that the U. N. was helpless without the military forces which the organization has not yet obtained.

"Actually, the stipulations of the Charter on the use of means of enforcement do not go very far. The role of the U. N. as world police chief has been overrated. The most important political task of this organization is as an organ of mediation on a world scope. The opportunities for mediation activities are virtually unlimited."

Mr. Lie listed these eight examples of U. N. accomplishments without the use of force "only four years after Hiroshima":

The withdrawal of all Soviet troops from Iran, and of British and French troops from Syria and Lebanon.

The handling of the Indonesian conflict—"three times this conflict flared up . . . each time the U. N. mediation commission managed to stop the war operations, and it is my personal hope that lasting peace will be achieved in Indonesia within the nearest future."

The Kashmir conflict between India and Pakistan, brought under control thanks to the U. N.

The Sudan dispute between Egypt and Britain; it was dealt with by the Security Council, and since then there have been "no ill-considered actions."

The Corfu dispute involving Albania and Great Britain, decided by the Hague court.

Palestine — "In twenty-six months the U. N. managed to find a solution of a problem which has harassed mankind for 2,000 years."

The lifting of the Berlin blockade — "The mediation efforts through the U. N. clearly played a decisive part in obtaining the result."

Dealing at some length with Palestine, Mr. Lie said the work on a final peace is proceeding and "appears to have good chances to succeed."

AUG 12 1949

Athens, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Greek Army stepped up its campaign against Communist-led guerrillas today by storming the rebel stronghold in the Vitsi triangle near the Albanian and Yugoslav borders.

Informed sources said Greek troops seized four strategic heights in the heavily fortified area where 7,000 guerrillas are believed entrenched.

The Vitsi triangle is about 60 miles north of the Grammos Mountain area where a major Greek Army offensive was launched last week.

Captured Areas Listed

Commandos who started moving last night were reported to have seized fortified heights of Baro and Lessits, overlooking the main road from Kastoria to Phlorina. Heights at Glavata and Polenata, which are east of Baro, also were reported captured.

Infantrymen were being rushed to the heights to meet an anticipated guerrilla counterattack.

The initial successes were regarded by military observers as highly significant because the Vitsi triangle is bristling with fortified positions defended by machine guns, mortars, minefields and an estimated 100 artillery pieces.

Army sources said the guerrillas still would be able to escape into neighboring Communist Albania, but the opinion here was that the guerrillas would try to make a stand.

Denies Albania Invaded

The Ministry of War has labeled "fantastic" a charge by the official radio of Albania that Greek Government forces have invaded Albanian soil.

The opening of the Vitsi front gave the Greek Army two major theaters of operations in their new six-day-old offensive. The Grammos Mountain front now may be relegated to a secondary place in importance.

Informed sources said the total guerrillas strength in Greece has been cut to 17,000, of which 13,000 are in the Gammos and Vitsi areas.

Greek planes hammered at the guerrillas with rocket bombs and machine-gun fire. The national army also is using tanks. AP

SOVIET HITS U. S. WRITERS

Scores Correspondents in Poland as 'Jackals of the Pen'

MOSCOW, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Soviet weekly New Times today attacked a group of American correspondents who are or have been based in Poland as "jackals of the pen." The list included Larry Allen of The Associated Press; Robert Conway, New York Daily News; Derek Selby of Britain's Kemsley Publications, and Sydney Gruson and Edward A. Morrow of THE NEW YORK TIMES.

New Times said those writers deliberately sent out false news on Poland and engaged in planned provocations there.

The weekly also attacked Prof. Gerold T. Robinson of Columbia University for a recent article in a foreign affairs publication. It said "anti-Soviet slander is his professional occupation as the director of the Russian (more exactly it should be said anti-Russian) Institute at Columbia University."

Russians Staging 'American' Plays

Moscow, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Vakhtangava Theater has scheduled for autumn production a play called "Missouri Waltz." The Transport Theater recently announced it would present a new play called "The Mad Haberdasher."

Canton's Defenders Retreating In South China, Paper Says

AUG 12 1949

S. AMOUSA

Canton, China, Aug. 11 (AP)—A southwestward withdrawal of the Nationalists' South China defense headquarters was reported today by Ta Kung Pao, Canton's leading paper.

While an army spokesman declined comment, this report lent credence to a general conviction that Gen. Pai Chung-hsi would pull back into his native Kwangsi Province rather than due south to defend the approaches of this provisional capital against the Communists.

The paper said Pai had moved his headquarters to Kyang, 50 miles southwest of Hengyang, which is 265 miles north of Canton. It said his rear echelon was established another 75 miles southwest at Chuanhsien, which is inside Kwangsi.

Denies Regime Quits Canton

The army's Canton spokesman denied Canton was being abandoned by the Government, but this could well be possible in the event of Pai's retreat into Kwangsi.

[It was reported Wednesday that gloom reigned among Nationalist officials and that best estimates were Canton would remain the capital another three to six weeks. Archives were reported being packed for transfer to Chungking, in the west, the provisional capital during the Japanese war.]

Gen. Teng Wen-yi, the army spokesman, said that on the front nearest to Canton, the Reds still were more than 250 miles from Canton. However, the Kiangsi provincial government has abandoned Kanhsien, 215 miles north of Canton.

The spokesman also said the Reds were repulsed at Shaoyang, 60 miles west of Hengyang.

Red Casualties Reported

Some 700 miles to the northwest, in the separate campaign against the Moslem province of Kansu, the spokesman said the Reds now were 95 miles from Lanchown provincial capital. He said the Communists had suffered 22,000 casualties there but did not tell over what period.

He also asserted anti-Communist uprising behind the Red lines in the Central China provinces of Honan, Hupeh and Anhwei now involved up to 240,000 men armed with 100,000 rifles. He said the Nationalists regarded these uprisings as important because they could disrupt Red communications.

[Dispatches from the Communist side recently have acknowledged considerable guerrilla activity in that area but have made clear that the Reds thus far regard it as more of an annoyance than a serious threat.]

240,000 Revolt In 3 Red-Held China Areas

S. AMOUSA

AUG 12 1949

Canton, Aug. 11 (AP)—A Nationalist Army spokesman said today an uprising involving around 240,000 men had developed in the Red-controlled provinces of Honan, Hupeh and Anhwei.

Gen. Teng Wen-yi, the spokesman, said Communist misrule in the recently conquered provinces caused the revolt. Other reasons for the uprisings were ruthless conscription of men and excessive requisitioning of food, he said.

Teng said the revolters possessed about 100,000 rifles. In one Hupeh mountain alone the rebels control fifteen districts, the General said.

Disrupting Transport

They are aiding the Nationalist cause by disrupting Red transport and communication lines, Teng said.

Teng scoffed at estimates that the Reds would take Canton in between three to six weeks.

[Today's Chinese edition of the Hong Kong Standard, published by Tiger Balm King Aw Boon-haw, was banned from Canton for publishing an Associated Press story quoting this estimate.]

"The Communists could be here in less than three weeks if they take airplanes," Teng said.

He said floods, epidemics and Nationalist resistance had slowed down the Communist advance in Central China. Teng said in each Red company of 200 men as a result of illness only about 80 able-bodied were left.

Overall Picture

The spokesman gave this picture of the overall war situation:

Kansu Province — The Reds thrusting along the Sian-Lanchow highway, took Tunghwei, 95 miles from Lanchow. In the general fighting in Kansu the Communists have suffered 22,000 casualties, as compared with 7,000 Government troops killed or disabled.

[Chinese casualty figures are often exaggerated.]

Shensi Province—Nationalists at Ankang, in the southeastern corner of the province, forced the attacking Reds to retreat southeastward. The commander of the 55th Red Division was killed in action.

Fukiep Province—No fighting in the last week, apart from mopping up of scattered Red guerrillas in the southern and western parts of the province. The Reds were building highways and making other preparations to attack coastal Foochow, provincial capital. The Nationalists are building strong defense lines on Foochow's outer perimeter.

In Kiangsi Area

Kiangsi Province—The Communists are still more than 37 miles from Kanhsien. Red attacks south of Suichwan have been repulsed. The Communists have suffered 2,500 casualties in this sector.

Hunan Province — Red forces northeast of Shaoyang, 65 miles west of Hengyang, have been thrown back. These forces consisted of a few local Communists and a few troops formerly with turncoat Nationalist Gen. Chen Ming-jen. More than two thirds of Chen's troops have rejoined Nationalist forces after receiving air-dropped appeals.

[Chen originally commanded three armies totaling 90,000 men.]

Headquarters Shifted

The Government spokesman's war picture was released after Ta Kung Pao, Canton's leading newspaper, said the central commander, Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, had shifted his operational headquarters from Hengyang 50 miles southwest to Kiyang. The move led observers to believe he would not defend the provisional capital of Canton.

The newspaper said he had shifted his rear eschelon to Chuanhsien on the Hunan-Kwangsi railroad inside Kwangsi province. It said Hengyang now is an advance field command post.

An army spokesman declined to comment.

White Paper Adds Up To Stupidities: Pravda

Moscow, Aug. 11 (AP)—Pravda said today the United States State Department's white paper on China adds up to this: "We (the State Department) committed stupidity after stupidity and we'll commit more stupidities in the future."

The commentary was written by the Communist party newspaper's top-ranking foreign-affairs analyst, David Zaslacsky.

"They say," wrote Zaslavsky, quoting a Russian proverb, "If one whips a rabbit long enough, he can learn to light matches. In distinction from the rabbit, it appears that one can whip an American diplomat for a long time and he learns precisely nothing."

"Stark Ignominy"

He went on: "For 1,054 pages the State Department subjects itself to flogging, publishing these documents of the American policy defeat in China.

"To these 1,054 pages of stark ignominy (Secretary of State) Acheson has added seventeen pages in his own style."

Zaslavsky said the State Department supporte da Chinese regime it openly characterizes as corrupt.

"Mercilessly Beat Chiang"

"How can one define this policy in relationship to statesmanship?" he asked.

Acheson mercilessly beat Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in the white paper, the writer said, adding: "In what way is Chiang worse than those who think like him in America?"

The commentator said United States aid to China did some good —because much of it fell into Communist hands.

Manila Orders Evacuation Of 2 China Cities

Manila, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Philippine Foreign Office tonight ordered the immediate evacuation by ship of all Filipino nationals and dependents of its consular staffs in Canton and the port of Amoy.

The Philippine liaison office in Canton and the consulate in Amoy however, will remain in operation pending a decision by the Government on whether to suspend the two offices in Nationalist China.

That decision is expected within the next 24 hours.

Acheson And Bevin China Policy Talks Hinted

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson and Foreign Minister Bevin will probably seek to co-ordinate American-British policies on China and the Far East in their conferences here early next month.

It was also learned today that Ambassador John Leighton Stuart, who returned yesterday from China, may not go back to his post and may not be replaced. Thus, the United States would cease for the time being to have an ambassador in China.

Well-informed speculation on both these developments grows out of the publication of the Truman Administration's White Paper which:

1. Marked the end of the policy of active support for the Chinese Nationalist Government.

2. Cleared the way for the development of new policies to deal with a situation in which the Communists are over-running most if not all of China and may threaten other Far Eastern countries.

Policy Of Co-Ordination

Diplomatic informants recall that Acheson has laid down as a principle of future American policy that this Government should coordinate its moves with those of other Western powers.

Consultations among the western capitals and western diplomats in China have actually been under way for several months. It is considered probable that in so far as British-American relations with China are concerned these will reach a climax during Bevin's visit here.

The expectation that Stuart will prove to be this country's last ambassador to China for some time grows out of the attitude taken by the United States toward both the Nationalists and the Communists.

A Dying Regime

On the one hand, the White Paper presented the Nationalists as a dying regime no longer meriting American support and incapable of withstanding the pressure of the Red armies.

On the other hand, the Communists themselves do not yet have a government and even if one is formed, as seems probable this fall, the State Department presently takes the view that the United States should be very slow in making any move to recognize it.

Stuart's position in the country in recent months had been unusual. He was accredited to the Nationalist Government but had, on State Department orders, declined to follow that Government when it fled to Canton. He has maintained his official residence in the Communist-held city of Nanking.

ation in the Far East were in the hands of the Department of the Army.

The general made his position clear after Senator William P. Knowland (R., Calif.) had introduced a resolution in Washington to have MacArthur return and state his views on the foreign arms aid bill.

UP TO MacARTHUR

President Truman said in Washington yesterday that he would sign an order for MacArthur to return any time the occupation commander in Japan wanted to return.

The President had been asked if he would approve the return of MacArthur from Japan to report to Congress on the Far Eastern situation and to testify on the arms-aid-to-Europe bill.

The President said he had said many times that MacArthur was free to return any time he wished to. It would take an order of the Commander-in-Chief, the President said, and MacArthur had not indicated that he wanted to come home. If he did, Mr. Truman said, he would issue the necessary order.

The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Service committees will consider the Knowland resolution today.

CITES 'CRITICAL EVENTS'

MacArthur said here that while he was "deeply appreciative of the honor" reflected in the proposal that he go to Washington he believed "that during this moment of critical events in the Far East the interests of the American people are better served by my remaining at my post here."

In addition to Knowland's resolution, a group of 10 Senators on Wednesday "urgently requested" that MacArthur return home to give his opinion on the arms measure. Knowland and 12 other Senators have proposed that $175,000,000 of the foreign arms bill be given to Nationalist China to aid in its fight against the Communists.

Senate Pleas Are Ignored By M'Arthur

Tokyo, Aug. 11 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur today ignored requests for comment on the demand of ten United States Senators that he go to Washington to testify on the arms-aid bill.

His last visit to the States was in 1937 when he was married. Since the war he has declined all invitations to return.

Sources close to the General have made it clear that unless he receives a direct order from President Truman or his army superiors he intends to remain in Japan until his job is completed. He has said he will consider that job done when a peace treaty is signed.

3-Day Sham Battle At Seoul Fatal to One

SEOUL, Aug. 11 (AP).—A three-day sham battle testing the defenses of Seoul ended today with one dead and two injured. Police said they believed a live bullet was used mistakenly, resulting in the death. Five thousand men participated.

The two injured were police. One fell down and the other ran into a tree. Neither was hurt seriously.

Johnson Is Due In Ottawa For Conferences

AUG 12 1949

Ottawa, Aug. 11 (AP)—Louis Johnson, United States Defense Secretary, is scheduled to arrive here today for talks with the Canadian Government.

His itinerary calls for a meeting with the Cabinet defense committee shortly after his arrival at Rockcliffe Airport.

Two members of the top advisory board on continental defense also will attend the meeting.

They are Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian chairman of the Joint Defense Board, and Maj.-Gen. Robert Walsh, of the United States Air Force, an American member.

Speculation About Meeting

Disclosure that they will attend caused immediate speculation about the meeting—no members of the board attended a similar meeting last year when the late James Forrestal, then United States Defense Secretary, visited Ottawa.

Official announcements have said only that Johnson and the Government will discuss "matters of mutual interest." That covers a lot of territory.

May Talk Of Equipment

Possible topics are joint Canadian-United States planning for defense of North America and planning by the signatories of the Atlantic Pact. There is also the possibility they will discuss Canadian procurement of United States military equipment. This has been made difficult in the past by United States legislation.

Canada and the United States are already firmly linked in continental defense planning. Plans call for virtual integration of the forces in defense of the Continent and there are also plans for increasing standardization of equipment.

U.N. Council Votes to End Middle East Arms Embargo

AUG 12 1949

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP).—The United Nations Security Council voted today to lift the Middle East arms embargo and other restrictions imposed during the Palestine fighting.

This was one of the principal effects of a joint French-Canadian resolution which was adopted 9 to 0, with Russia and the Soviet Ukraine abstaining.

TERMS OF RESOLUTION

The resolution provides:

1. That the armistice agreements between Israel and her Arab neighbors supersede the various U. N. truce orders.

2. That all U. N. cease-fire and truce resolutions—containing restrictions such as the arms embargo—be replaced by a simple cease-fire order.

3. That all functions previously assigned to Ralph J. Bunche, Palestine acting mediator, be transferred to the three-nation Palestine Conciliation Commission, on which the United States, France and Turkey are represented.

The resolution further expressed the hope that the Israeli government and the Arab countries would seek a final peace settlement either through direct negotiations or with the assistance of the Conciliation Commission.

Just before the final vote, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, Soviet delegate, failed in an effort to write in amendments which would have excluded the Conciliation Commission from further Israel-Arab peace talks and would have required the immediate withdrawal of all U. N. truce observers still in Palestine.

Texts of U. N. Resolutions on Palestine

AUG 12 1949

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 11—Following are the texts of resolutions on the Palestine situation adopted today by the United Nations Security Council:

Resolution on Armistice

THE SECURITY COUNCIL,

Having noted with satisfaction the several armistice agreements concluded by means of negotiations between the parties involved in the conflict in Palestine in pursuance of its resolution of 16 November, 1948 (S/1080);

EXPRESSES the hope that the Governments and authorities concerned, having undertaken by means of the negotiations now being conducted by the Palestine Conciliation Commission, to fulfill the request of the General Assembly in its resolution of 11 December, 1948, to extend the scope of the armistice negotiations and to seek agreement by negotiations concluded either with the Conciliation Commission or directly, will at an early date achieve agreement on the final settlement of all questions outstanding between them;

FINDS that the armistice agreements constitute an important step toward the establishment of permanent peace in Palestine and considers that these agreements supersede the truce provided for in the resolutions of the Security Council of 29 May and 15 July, 1948;

REAFFIRMS, pending the final peace settlement, the order contained in its resolution of 15 July, 1948, to the Governments and authorities concerned, pursuant to Article 40 of the Charter of the United Nations, to observe an unconditional cease-fire and, bearing in mind that the several armistice agreements include firm pledges against any further acts of hostility between the parties and also provide for their supervision by the parties themselves, relies upon the parties to ensure the continued application and observance of these agreements;

DECIDES that all functions assigned to the United Nations Mediator on Palestine having been discharged, the Acting Mediator is relieved of any further responsibility under Security Council resolutions;

NOTES that the armistice agreements provide that the execution of those agreements shall be supervised by mixed armistice commissions whose chairman in each case shall be the United Nations Chief of Staff of the truce supervision organization or a senior officer from the observer personnel of that organization designated by him following consultation with the parties to the agreements;

REQUESTS the Secretary-General to arrange for the continued service of such of the personnel of the present truce supervision organization as may be required in observing and maintaining the cease-fire, and as may be necessary in assisting the parties to the armistice agreements in the supervision of the application and observance of the terms of those agreements, with particular regard to the desires of the parties as expressed in the relevant articles of the agreements;

REQUESTS the Chief of Staff mentioned above to report to the Security Council on the observance of the cease-fire in Palestine in accordance with the terms of this resolution; and to keep the Palestine Conciliation Commission informed of matters affecting the commission's work under the General Assembly resolution of 11 December, 1948.

Resolution on Mediation Staff

THE SECURITY COUNCIL,

Having taken note of the report of the Acting United Nations Mediator on Palestine, submitted upon the completion of his responsibilities.

DESIRES to pay special tribute to the qualities of patience, perseverance and devotion to the ideal of international peace of the late Count Folke Bernadotte, who stabilized the situation in Palestine and who, together with ten members of his staff, gave his life in the service of the United Nations, and

DESIRES to express its deep appreciation of the qualities of act, understanding, perseverance and devotion to duty of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Acting United Nations Mediator on Palestine, who has brought to a successful conclusion the negotiation of armistice agreements between Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria on the one hand, and Israel on the other, and DESIRES also to associate in this expression of appreciation the members of the staff of the United Nations Mission in Palestine, including both the members of the United Nations Secretariat and the Belgian, French, Swedish and United States officers who served on the staff and as military observers in Palestine.

SENATORS HEAR HARRIMAN PLEA TO ARM EUROPE

AUG 12 1949

Marshall Plan Ambassador Warns Against Reds' Ruthlessness.

Washington, Aug. 11 (A. P.).—W. Averell Harriman, Marshall plan ambassador to Western Europe, said today that the United States faces a "determined, ruthless, and persistent opponent in Russia, and urged full approval of the administration's $1,450,000,000 foreign arms program.

"These forces must be met with equal determination and perseverance," he told the Senate Foreign Relations and armed Services Committees. "We cannot relax with early successes."

Harriman said that he has been 'gravely concerned over the threat to freedom and peace" that is posed by Russia, and added: "I am today convinced that, through the actions we have taken, and are proposing to take, the maintenance of peace and freedom is within our reach."

Harriman, once Ambassador to Moscow, said that it was his conviction that United States security "can be immeasurably increased" by arming the military forces of Western Europe.

Strength and Vigor.

"In looking at the world today, I feel that we need strong and vigorous partners, of like mind and intention,' Harriman said. "The North Atlantic treaty gives us this association. They are vigorous people, but they need help in rebuilding their strength."

Harriman said that there must be no delay in sending American arms and military equipment to the North Atlantic Pact nations. He added: "If we put off action on the proposed assistance today, or reduce it materially, doubts might well arise again; the subversive elements, the appeasers, and those who would rely on neutrality would attempt to undermine the present determination and confidence."

Backers of the program were reported to be heartened by news that Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) would not lead a fight against it.

Taft 'Won't Lead Fight' Against Arms Aid

AUG 12 1949

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Friends of President Truman's $1,450,000,000 arms-aid plan were cheered today by (1) word that Senator Taft (R., Ohio) won't lead a fight against it, and (2) strong support from the military chiefs.

Taft, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, said he probably will vote against the plan of arming friendly nations, but will not spearhead the opposition as he did against the North Atlantic treaty.

Taft came nowhere near winning his fight on the pact, but he gave it plenty of trouble.

Harriman Set To Testify

The joint chiefs of staff—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, of the Army; Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, of the Navy, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, of the Air Force—supported the arms plan at closed-door sessions of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees, and the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The Senate groups called for testimony today from W. Averell Harriman, ambassador at large, and Henry F. Grady, Ambassador to Greece.

Chairman Connally (D., Texas) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he is confident the Senate will approve the entire amount. It would be used for rearming the North Atlantic pact nations in addition to Iran, Greece, Turkey, Korea and the Philippines.

2 Vandenbergs At Odds

One group of senators headed by Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) favor a stopgap program until the North Atlantic defense committee comes into being and recommends a defense plan for western Europe.

This situation, senators said privately, has thrown the Michigan senator into opposition with his nephew, General Vandenberg.

General Vandenberg is reported to have told senators that he is opposed to any stopgap measures. He backs Bradley and Denfeld in their arguments that the entire amount is needed.

George "Not Convinced"

Bradley testified yesterday that whatever defense plans are made, the arms will be needed for Europe's armies and delay could prove costly. General Vandenberg is said to have backed this argument.

Senator George (D., Ga.) said the chiefs of staff did not convince him the full $1,450,000,000 will be needed in the first year. But he added he might go along with a plan which would spread this cost over a two-year period.

Taft declared it doesn't make much difference in fact whether the program is split in cash and contract authority. He argued this sort of thing is a device to get Congress to approve the entire $1,450,000,000 program.

TRUMAN HOLDS TO HIS OPINION ABOUT VAUGHAN

AUG 12 1949

Says Senate Investigation of Five Percenters Has Not Altered Attitude.

SAYS GRAY CAN'T OUST AID

Witness Tells Inquiry Chicago Firm Paid for Deep Freeze Unit Sent to General.

Washington, Aug. 11 (A. P.).—President Truman said today that his opinion of Major-Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, his Army aid, has not been changed by testimony brought out in a Senate committee investigation of 5 percenters.

Mr. Truman also told a news conference that the Secretary of the Army is not free to relieve Vaughan from active duty in the way two other major-generals have been suspended temporarily.

Secretary of the Army Gray suspended Major-Gen. Alden H. Waitt and Major-Gen. Herman Feldman after their names were brought out in the Senate investigation.

Opinion Remains Unchanged.

"Has anything that has happened on Capitol Hill changed your attitude toward Gen. Vaughan?" a reporter asked Mr. Truman.

Not in the slightest, the President replied.

Mr. Truman added that he has not discussed with Senator Hoey (D.-N. C.), chairman of the committee, the possibility of Vaughan testifying. He said he didn't want to influence Hoey's judgment—that he wanted Hoey to get the facts and satisfy himself. He reiterated that Vaughan is at liberty to testify at the hearings.

The President, in what appeared to be a strong feeling about his Army aid, commented on Vaughan's absence from the news conference by saying: "He's not afraid of you, don't worry about that."

Has No Comment.

In response to a question, Mr. Truman said he didn't know anything about a deep freeze which one witness told the committee earlier had been sent to Vaughan. Mr. Truman said he had no comment to make.

Albert J. Gross, a Milwaukee business man, told Senators he sent a deep freeze to Vaughan. He said it was paid for by the Albert Verly Company, a Chicago perfume manufacturing firm.

Senator Mundt (R.-S. D.) said the assumption is that Vaughan did not pay for the deep freeze.

But Hoey said the Senate Committee staff had not yet determined whether the deep freeze unit was a gift or a purchase. Therefore, he blocked this line of inquiry for the time being, over protests of two Republican Senators, McCarthy of Wisconsin and Mundt.

John Maragon, former Kansas City bootblack who claims Vaughan and others in high places here as his good friends, has told of having worked for the Verly perfume concern. Maragon has been questioned by committee investigators in the Senate 5 percenter inquiry, although he has denied any connection with the practice of helping land Government contracts for a fee.

Earlier, Mundt heatedly charged that a letter written by a WAA employee to Hunt in August, 1947, was a "blatant invitation for bribery or connivance of some kind."

Mundt spoke out after a committee investigator had read the contents of a letter which he said was written by Clarence W. Oehler to Hunt.

Match Covers Mentioned.

Another letter told of Oehler obtaining for Hunt match covers with "White House" "H. H. V." and "H. S. T." printed on them.

Francis D. Flanagan, committee investigator, said that Oehler was a warehouse specialist for the WAA in the Western area when he wrote letters to Hunt, formerly a $50-a-day consultant for WAA in Washington.

Oehler, now with the American Industrial Development Corporation of St. Louis, took the stand and denied receiving any pay from Hunt. Oehler also said that he had never corresponded with Mr. Truman concerning matches.

Letter Arouses Senator.

Mundt's ire was aroused when Flanagan read a letter dated August 15, 1947, in which Oehler told Hunt of plans to sell in his area automotive parts worth about $100,000,000 in acquisition value. Oehler wrote that "I will direct the program." He added that "I have carte blanche to sell them now on negotiated or bid or odd lot sale." The letter said "this is confidential information," expressed the belief that some manufacturers and dealers "can make a good deal procuring these parts."

Oehler took the witness stand and said he never received any pay or promise of pay from Hunt. He told the Senate subcommittee he was concerned that he might lose his job with WAA in a reduction of personnel.

"I was trying to build myself up with Col. Hunt so I would have a future job," Oehler declared.

He also asserted: "Any information I gave Col. Hunt was of a public nature. None of it was confidential."

Hoey asked: 'Did you make it confidential just to fool Mr. Hunt?"

Oehler acknowledged that statement after statement which he made in letters to Hunt were untrue. He conceded that his claims of being in charge of selling certain materials in August, 1947, and having "carte blanche" to dispose of $100,000,000 worth of automotive parts were misstatements.

Probers To Get Testimony On Gen. Waitt

AUG 12 1949

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Senate Investigations subcommittee today planned to take the lid off some of the evidence that led to the suspension of the Army Chemical Corps chief last July 16.

Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt was suspended as chief of the Chemical Corps by Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray on that date along with Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, quartermaster general.

Gray's Criticism

Gray said in a statement then that he acted because evidence secured by the Senate committee "indicated that each officer had exhibited a lack of that judgment and sense of propriety which must be expected of persons in their positions."

The committee is looking into the activities of "five percenters"—persons who seek Government contracts for others for a fee.

A committee aide told reporters the group plans to start in "on a matter affecting General Waitt" after first hearing testimony from Clarence Oehler. He said this matter would involve part of the evidence that led to the 56-year-old officer's suspension.

Oehler And Hunt Letters

Oehler, formerly supervisor of the War Assets Administration's storage warehouse division at Chicago, now is reported associated with the American Industrial Development Corporation, of St. Louis.

The committee wants to ask him about correspondence he is said to have conducted with James V. Hunt, Washington management counselor, in April, 1947, when Oehler was with WAA.

Hunt, a former army lieutenant colonel and war assets consultant is a prime figure in the investigation.

Vaughan Again Mentioned

The subcommittee has heard testimony from Paul Grindle, Framingham (Mass.) manufacturer, that Hunt named to him as "close personal friends" both Waitt and Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, President Truman's military aide.

Vaughan's name was brought into the hearing again yesterday by Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods. He testified that Vaughan had come to his office to see about hurrying up a construction permit for the Tanforan race track in California on January 12, 1948.

Gen. Waitt To Testify

Chairman Hoey (D., N.C.) told reporters there may be some references to Vaughan later. Other committee sources predicted in advance that Vaughan's name would figure today in connection with Waitt. Waitt himself is expected to take the stand tomorrow.

These sources said the committee plans to go into the negotiations of a Connecticut chemical research laboratory for an army contract in which Hunt has figured.

The committee heard yesterday from Albert W. Lewitt, one-time secretary to former Senator Hawkes (R., N.J.) about his dealings with Hunt.

They involved a transaction which resulted in the return of the Lido Beach Hotel, Long Island, N.Y., to its former owners, Frank Seiden and his sons, Milton and Leon.

Air Force B-36 Expert Called Back For Quiz

AUG 12 1949

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—An air force expert on the B-36 bomber was called in today for a round of questioning before the House Armed Services Committee.

The witness was Maj. Gen. Frederick I. Smith, Air Force requirements chief. For two days now he has traced uninterruptedly the 8-year history of the long-ranging superbomber.

Questions Held Back

Representative Van Zandt (R., Pa.), whose House speech last May touched off the congressional inquiry, told a reporter in advance: "There are a lot of members who want to ask a lot of questions."

Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.) restrained his fellow committeemen from assailing Smith with queries yesterday as he wound up a formal statement regarding the controversial airplane.

General Smith told the committee that decisions affecting the B-36 were made in the light of a combination of circumstances.

These included, he said, military requirements, the state of world affairs, the President's money program, and the problems of aircraft manufacturers.

Rose And Fell In Favor

He said the B-36 fell and rose in favor in the opinion of Air Force leaders during its growth from the experimental to the production stage.

Smith said Gen. George Kenney, chief of the Strategic Air Command in April of 1948, proposed relying on the new ship for refueling service and depending upon medium bombers for long-range operations.

Several months later, he went on, Kenney "reversed his previous opinion and agreed that continuation of the full (100) B-36 contract was the proper decision."

He said this was the result of comparison tests between a modified B-36 and other bombers.

LeMay Cited As Factor

It was Kenney's successor to the Strategic Air Command, Gen. Curtis LeMay, who figured in the plane being accepted as a strategic reconnaissance ship.

"In the Fall of 1948," Smith continued, "the B-36 had demonstrated outstanding performance capabilities."

About the same time, he said the decision regarding the future of the plane "was overshadowed by the graver problem of curtailing the over-all strength of the Air Force to fit the President's budget ceiling."

30.24- 4977

11 Air Groups Cut

"After December (1948)" he told the committee "the problem was no longer how to procure additional airplanes for 70 groups but how to cancel, with a minimum loss to the Government, the airplanes already on order."

A board of senior officers, he related, pared away eleven groups. He said this entailed the cancellation of orders for various types of planes other than the B-36.

One point of the inquiry is to pass on the circumstances of concentrating on the B-36.

Sept. Parley Here On British Finance

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Top British Cabinet officers will come to Washington next month to discuss Britain's long-range plans for dealing with the critical financial situation.

British Foreign Minister Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, are scheduled to present Britain's proposals to high-ranking American and Canadian officials at secret financial talks beginning September 7.

"No Proposals," Says Snyder

Government officials said Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder will head the American side. Paul Hoffman, ECA administrator, also may sit in.

Snyder, who began talks on the same topic in London last month, was asked at a news conference if the United States would have any proposals.

"No proposals," he replied. "We are going to have discussions and see what comes of it."

Devaluation Possible

Government officials in a position to know said Snyder's talks in London were "inconclusive" and that the Labor government advanced no definite proposals for coping with the money crisis.

Preparations for the September sessions aroused new speculation that Britain may be prepared to devalue the pound sterling.

'SUBVERSIVE' LABEL IS O.K.

Court Rules Government Can So Brand Units

AUG 12 1949

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The United States Court of Appeals ruled in a 2-to-1 decision today that the government has a right to brand certain organizations "subversive."

Loser in the decision was the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee which had contended it was a charitable organization, and not one out to overthrow, upset or destroy the government. It had been included in the "subversive list" prepared by Tom Clark, Attorney General, two years ago in connection with the loyalty check on federal employés.

The committee had challenged the listing in a suit in district court here. It was dismissed on motion of the government. Justices Bennett Champ Clark and James M. Proctor joined in affirming the District Court's decision.

But Justice H. W. Edgerton dissented.

Would Restrict Speech Freedom

Clark and Proctor said that in preparing the list of subversive organizations, the Justice Department had acted for the President of the United States. "Had the President performed the task himself, his acts could not have been challenged legally," they reasoned.

Edgerton said that since the suit was thrown out of District Court by the motion to dismiss, the Appeals Court had to accept the Anti-Fascist Committee's statement that it was a charitable organization. He also declared the group should have been given advance notice of a hearing before it was put on any subversive list.

He said the effect of the Attorney General's action was to restrict government employés' freedom of speech and assembly.

Not so, said Clark and Proctor.

"Anyone is free to join the committee and give it his support and encouragement. Everyone has a constitutional right to do these things, but no one has a constitutional right to be a government employé," they said.

Eleven members of the committee, including Dr. Edward K. Barsky, were convicted of contempt of Congress last year because of refusal to turn over records of their organization to the House Un-American Activities Committee.

U. S. 'Subversive' Label Upheld

AUG 12 1949

Court of Appeals Says Government Has Right to Classify Certain Groups.

Washington, Aug. 11 (A. P.).—The United States Court of Appeals upheld today the Federal Government's right to label certain groups "subversive." The two-to-one decision was handed down in the case of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee, which had appealed from its inclusion in Attorney-General Clark's "subversive list" two years ago.

The appeals court affirmed the United States district court here in dismissing the refugee committee's suit on a motion by the Government. The allegedly subversive organizations were named by the Attorney-General in connection with the loyalty check on Federal employees.

Action for President.

Justices Bennett Champ Clark and Jmes M. Proctor said that the Department of Justice had acted for the President of the United States, and that "had the President performed the task himself, his acts could not have been challenged legally."

Justice H. W. Edgerton filed a sharp dissent, saying that since the challenge was thrown out of the District Court on a simple motion to dismiss, the Appeals Court had to accept the statements of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee, which claimed that it was a charitable organization. If this were true, Edgerton said, to call it subversive was damaging and "contrary to fact."

Majority Opinion.

However, the majority said that the publication of the list, with the accompanying warning that membership in any of the organizations would be regarded as one test of Federal employee loyalty, was a necessary step in carrying out the loyalty program. Judges Clark and Proctor said that, contrary to the contentions of the Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee, "freedom of speech and assembly is denied no one."

"Any one is free to join the committee, and give it his support and encouragement," the court ruled. "Every one has a constitutional right to do these things, but no one has a constitutional right to be a governmental employee."

Dr. Edward K. Barsky, chairman of the committee, and ten other committee members were convicted of contempt of Congress last year. They refused to turn their committee records over to the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Reds Set Up UE, Ex-Aide Declares

AUG 12 1949

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP).—A self-identified former leader of efforts to Communize American labor unions said today the United Electrical Workers (CIO) was set up by Communists.

Testifying before a House Un-American Activities subcommittee, Joseph Zack Kornfeder also identified two men connected with the union as either Communists or former Communists. They are James Matles, international organizer, and James Lustig, who Kornfeder said is a union representative in the New York district.

CLAIMS RED DOMINATION

Representative Francis E. Walter (D., Pa.), a committee member, asked: "From its inception, was the United Electrical Workers dominated by Communists?"

"Yes," Kornfeder replied, "it was set up by them."

While he was testifying, a statement by the union was distributed in the committee room saying Kornfeder "has been peddling his 20-year-old stale, Red-baiting, frame-up stew for more than a decade."

Walter asked Kornfeder how the Communists operated to get control of unions.

"By infiltration," Kornfeder replied. "They set up secret groups in unions, and in that way elect officers and get control. This infiltration was successful in a number of instances, especially among food workers, painters, and in some of the building trades."

GOT MANY SYMPATHIZERS

Kornfeder said the number of converts to the Communist Party among union members was not great, "but as for sympathizers it was more successful."

Kornfeder said he had known Matles since 1925, and that he definitely was a member of the Communist Party in 1931 and 1932.

Asked whether Lustig also was a member of the party, the witness replied, "Yes, he was."

Kornfeder said that when he was in charge of Communist Party trade union activities in the New York district, he "requisitioned" Lustig to work under his direction.

ORGANIZER TESTIFIES

Earlier, Thomas Quinn, of Pittsburgh, field organizer for the UE, refused to tell the committee whether he is or ever has been a Communist.

"I decline to discuss with this committee questions of this nature," Quinn said.

Hoover Twitted And Hailed On Economy

AUG 12 1949

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Congressional reaction to Herbert Hoover's assertion that the United States is "on the last mile" toward the all-powerful state followed the usual economic grooves today.

Republicans and Southern Democrats generally held the former President was exactly right when he said in a seventy-fifth birthday address in Palo Alto, Cal., last night that "through Government spending and taxes our nation is blissfully driving down the back road" to collectivism.

Myers Points Back To 1932

Administration Democrats disagreed vigorously. As an example, Senator Myers, of Pennsylvania, the party's assistant leader in the Senate, said:

"On the economic front, Mr. Hoover has learned nothing in sixteen years. He is raising the same cry that he and those of his political views have raised for sixteen years.

"The whole structure of the Government is so much sounder and more stable than it was in 1932, when he was President, that I think no other answer is required."

Taft Hails "Basic Issue"

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, said that Hoover again has raised the fundamental issue of personal freedom as he has so often done in the past."

"It is the great, fundamental issue before the people today," Taft declared. "Mr. Hoover's fears are fully realized in the definite proposals in Congress to regulate or take over every field of private activity in the United States."

Senator Byrd (D., Va.), who has attacked President Truman's spending budget sharply, said he agrees thoroughly with Hoover. He added:

"I've been doing all in my power for retrenchment of Government spending ever since I've been here."

Not Too Late, Capehart Says

Senator Capehart (R., Ind.) said he thinks Hoover is right about his assertion that the Government is moving toward socialism by spending the people's savings through high taxes and high outlays.

There is no question in my mind that every night when we go to bed we are just one day nearer socialization under the present administration," the Indiana Senator said.

"It's still not too late to stop it if Congress has the courage to do it."

Reorganization Urged

In that connection, Senator McCarthy (R., Wis.) said he thinks Congress ought to stay in session until it acts on all of the Government reorganization proposals made by the commission which the former President has headed.

Thus far, McCarthy noted that Congress has passed only four out of nineteen reorganization bills that have been introduced.

"The money is there to be saved," he said. "It would be a mistake to adjourn until all of these reorganization plans have been acted upon."

Here's How Average Worker Gives 1 Week in Each Four to Uncle Sam

Palo Alto, Cal., Aug. 11.—The table of the number of days each year that the average working citizen must work to pay for Government spending, as presented last night by former President Herbert Hoover in his speech, follows. As figured by the former President it works out to one week in every working month:

Obligations for former wars	11
Current defense and the cold war	24
Other Federal expenses	12
State and local expenditures	14

ASSUMING ECA ALLOCATIONS WILL END AFTER 1952, THE EUROPEAN-RECOVERY PROGRAM ADMINISTRATOR TOLD REPORTERS, EUROPE "WILL HAVE TO EARN THROUGH EXPORTS ABOUT $3,500,000,000 -- OR THREE TIMES MORE THAN IT IS NOW EARNING."

THIS MEANS, HE SAID, THERE WILL HAVE TO BE A "REAL EFFORT" MADE BY EUROPE TO SELL GOODS TO AMERICA. HOFFMAN SAID THE NEW YORK AREA WAS NOT THE BEST MARKET FOR GOODS NOW, AS BELIEVED BY THE AVERAGE EUROPEAN MANUFACTURER--BUT "THERE IS A VERY BIG MARKET TO BE TAPPED IN THE SOUTHWEST."

HOFFMAN ARRIVED FROM THE UNITED STATES TODAY FOR A 16-DAY TOUR OF THE MARSHALL PLAN COUNTRIES.

NORBLAD MADE PUBLIC A LETTER TO HOFFMAN SAYING:

"IN VIEW OF THE FACT THAT THE BRITISH ECONOMY IS BEING SUBSTANTIALLY SUPPORTED BY ECA AMERICAN TAXPAYERS' FUNDS (AS IS EVIDENCED BY OUR CURRENT ANNUAL EXPENDITURES OF $1,300,000,000 IN THAT COUNTRY) THIS PURCHASE IS CERTAINLY CONTRARY TO THE INTENT OF CONGRESS IN APPROVING THE RECOVERY PROGRAM."

THE CONGRESSMAN ASKED HOFFMAN TO DETERMINE THE FACTS OF THE CASE SO THAT IN THE FUTURE ECA MONEY "WILL NOT BE USED DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY TO ASSIST THE SOVIET."

"AS YOU MAY KNOW," NORBLAD WROTE, "THERE ARE EXCESS STOCKS OF LUMBER IN THIS COUNTRY, AND MANY OF OUR MILLS IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST HAVE SHUT DOWN FOR LACK OF BUSINESS.

"CERTAINLY THE ECA WAS NOT APPROVED BY CONGRESS FOR THE PURPOSE OF SENDING FUNDS TO BENEFICIARY NATIONS TO EXPEND THE SOVIET--RATHER IT WAS TO REBUILD AND STRENGTHEN THOSE COUNTRIES AS A BULWARK AGAINST POSSIBLE SOVIET AGGRESSION."

NIGHT LEAD EUROPEAN ASSEMBLY
BY FRANK O'BRIEN

STRASBOURG, FRANCE, AUG.11-(AP)-WINSTON CHURCHILL, IN A VIGOROUS RETURN TO CONTINENTAL POLITICS, WON TWO VICTORIES TODAY IN THE CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY OF THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE.

HIS CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLY PRESIDENT, SOCIALIST EX-PREMIER PAUL-HENRI SPAAK OF BELGIUM, WAS ELECTED UNANIMOUSLY. SPAAK, WHO LOOKS ENOUGH LIKE CHRCHILL TO BE HIS BROTHER, WAS FIRST PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED NATIONS ASSEMBLY IN LONDON AND NEW YORK THREE YEARS AGO.

CHURCHILL'S SECOND SUCCESSFUL MANEUVER WAS MADE IN OPPOSITION TO THE CANDIDACY OF WILLIAM WHITELEY, THE LABOR GOVERNMENT'S PARLIAMENTARY SECRETARY OF THE BRITISH TREASURY, FOR ONE OF THE ASSEMBLY'S FOUR VICE-PRESIDENCIES. WHITELEY RAN FIFTH IN A FIELD OF SIX, BEING BARELY DEFEATED BY A BRITISH LORD.

THE ASSEMBLY IS THE 12-NATION FORMATIVE GROUP THAT HOPES TO BECOME THE PARLIAMENT OF EUROPE IN A DREAMED-OF FEDERATION OF CONTINENTAL STATES.

CHURCHILL, PRESIDENT SPAAK AND FOUR VICE-PRESIDENTS ALL ARE ARDENT PROMOTERS OF THE EUROPEAN MOVEMENT (CAP E, CAP M). THE VICE-PRESIDENTS AND THE VOTES THEY RECEIVED OUT OF 98 CAST ARE:

FRANCOIS DE MENTHON OF FRANCE, 90; STEFANO JACINI OF ITALY, 80; OLE BJOERN KRAFT OF DENMARK, 78, AND LORD LAYTON OF BRITAIN, 52.

WHITELEY WAS FIVE VOTES BEHIND LAYTON, A BRITISH NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER, WITH 47. THE SIXTH CANDIDATE, FORMER PREMIER EAMON DE VALERA OF IRELAND, GOT 15 VOTES.

THE 74-YEAR-OLD WARTIME PRIME MINISTER OF BRITAIN, WHO BLASTS AT THE LABOR GOVERNMENT REGULARLY AS MINORITY LEADER AT HOME, TOLD THE ASSEMBLY WHITELEY WAS HIS FRIEND AND THAT HE OPPOSED THE LABORITE ONLY BECAUSE ACTIVE GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS SHOULD BE KEPT FROM THE ASSEMBLY CHAIRMANSHIP.

WHILE CHURCHILL CONTENDED THE ISSUE "RISES ABOVE PERSONALITIES.... AND PARTY MATTERS," WHITELEY'S DEFEAT WAS REGARDED AS A SETBACK FOR THE BRITISH LABORITE BRAND OF SOCIALISM AND A VICTORY FOR CHURCHILL'S EUROPEAN MOVEMENT AND HIS FEDERATION HOPES.

HERBERT MORRISON, BRITISH DEPUTY PRIME MINISTER, CHARGED THE OPPOSITION TO WHITELEY WAS POLITICAL AND REGRETTABLE.

CHURCHILL SPOKE TO THE ASSEMBLY THREE TIMES DURING THE DAY, TWICE TO URGE REVOLT AGAINST "CONDITIONS WHICH WOULD NEVER BE ACCEPTED BY ANY PARLIAMENT."

HE AND OTHER DELEGATES OPENED UP WHAT APPEARS TO BE A REBELLION AGAINST POWERS HELD OVER THE ASSEMBLY BY THE COUNCIL'S COMMITTEE OF FOREIGN MINISTERS, OR "UPPER HOUSE" OF THIS PROPOSED FEDERATION.

CHURCHILL HIMSELF LED A STRONG ATTACK ON A RULE REQUIRING THE ASSEMBLY TO ASK COMMITTEE PERMISSION TO ADD TO THE AGENDA AND DO THIS WITHIN THREE DAYS OF A FORMAL ASSEMBLY OPENING.

SPAAK GOT THE ASSEMBLY TO AGREE ON FORMATION OF A SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO TAKE THIS UP WITH THE MINISTERS AND TRY TO MODIFY THE THREE-DAY RULE.

SPAAK AND CHURCHILL ARE AMONG THE WORLD'S MOST OUTSPOKEN FOES OF COMMUNISM. IN GENERAL DEBATE AT THE U.N. ASSEMBLY IN PARIS LAST FALL, SPAAK TOLD THE RUSSIANS THEY WERE TRYING TO WRECK THE PEACE AND WARNED OTHER DELEGATES RUSSIA HAS A FIFTH COLUMN THAT MAKES HITLER'S OLD ADVANCE GUARD SEEM LIKE A TROOP OF BOY SCOUTS.

LIKE CHURCHILL, SPAAK WAS BORN AN ARISTOCRAT. THE BELGIAN WAS A RABID SOCIALIST AS A YOUTH AND, STILL A SOCIALIST PARTY MEMBER, MODERATED HIS VIEWS LATER IN LIFE TO BECOME A MIDDLE-OF-THE-ROAD LIBERAL.

WHEN IT BECAME APPARENT THAT THE CHURCHILL-BACKED CANDIDACY OF SPAAK WAS A SURE BET, SPAAK RESIGNED IN BRUSSELS LAST NIGHT AS ACTING PREMIER AND FOREIGN MINISTER. HE PREVIOUSLY HAD BEEN BELGIAN PREMIER.

TAKING OVER AT THE AFTERNOON SESSION SPAAK SAID:

"IT IS NOT POSSIBLE TO REMAKE EUROPE TO OUR HEARTS' DESIRE IN ONE MONTH. YOU MUST MAKE A CHOICE AMONG THE PROBLEMS. AFTER THIS SESSION, THERE WILL BE OTHERS. IT IS INDISPENSABLE THAT SOMETHING REAL AND PRACTICAL RESULT FROM OUR WORK."

SPAAK ADJOURNED THE ASSEMBLY AT 6 P.M. UNTIL 3:30 P.M. TOMORROW AFTER LIVELY DEBATE BY CHURCHILL AND OTHERS ON THE AGENDA.

CHURCHILL IS SCHEDULED TO SPEAK TOMORROW AT A EUROPEAN MOVEMENT RALLY STARTING AT 6:30 P.M. (11:30 A.M., E.S.T.). THERE HAS BEEN NO HINT WHETHER HE PLANS A MAJOR POLITICAL ADDRESS SUCH AS HE MADE LAST SPRING IN BRUSSELS AT A SIMILAR RALLY.

THE COMMUNIST PARTY HAS CALLED ON ITS FOLLOWERS TO ATTEND, AN INDICATION THAT HECKLING MAY RESULT IN THE CENTRAL KLEBER SQUARE.

MJ521PED

THIS, CHURCHILL SAID, IS A "SERIOUS ISSUE OF PRINCIPLE." HE ADDED:

"I SUBMIT WITH ALL RESPECT THAT, IN BEGINNING OUR NEW INSTITUTION HERE, IT IS OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE THAT WE SHOULD SET THE HIGHEST STORE BY THE PROTECTION AND THE IMPARTIALITY OF THE CHAIR AND ITS DIVORCE FROM OTHER EXTERNAL GOVERNMENTAL ASSOCIATION."

BRITAIN'S CONSERVATIVE LEADER SAID THE ISSUE WAS ONE "WHICH RISES ABOVE PERSONALITIES; IT ALSO RISES ABOVE PARTY MATTERS."

WHITELEY'S DEFEAT WAS REGARDED, HOWEVER, AS A SETBACK FOR THE BRITISH LABORITES AND THEIR SOCIALIST SUPPORTERS FROM OTHER COUNTRIES REPRESENTED IN THE ASSEMBLY AND A VICTORY FOR CHURCHILL'S EUROPEAN MOVEMENT (CAPS E, M), WHICH FAVORS A FEDERATED EUROPE. ALL FOUR VICE PRESIDENTS ARE MEMBERS OF THE EUROPEAN MOVEMENT.

Y DONALD DOANE

FRANKFURT, GERMANY, AUG.11-(AP)-ALLIED OBSERVERS SAY AN UNUSUALLY LIGHT VOTE IN WESTERN GERMANY'S FEDERAL ELECTION SUNDAY WOULD REFLECT A GROWING DISTRUST OF GERMAN POLITICAL LEADERS BY LARGE SEGMENTS OF THE VOTERS.

THESE OBSERVERS PREDICT FEWER THAN 65 PER CENT OF THE 30,000,000 ELIGIBLE VOTERS WILL GO TO THE POLLS. GERMAN POLITICANS THEMSELVES PREDICT A TURNOUT NO HIGHER THAN 70 PER CENT. THIS WOULD BE A SHARP DROP FROM THE 75 AND 80 PER CENT VOTE CAST IN MOST STATE ELECTIONS SINCE THE WAR.

IT WILL BE THE FIRST FEDERAL ELECTION SINCE PRE-HITLER DAYS. IN IT WEST GERMANS WILL CHOOSE A 400-MEMBER PARLIAMENT FOR AN 11-STATE REPUBLIC IN THE U.S., BRITISH AND FRENCH OCCUPATION ZONES. THE PARLIAMENT THEN WILL NAME A PRESIDENT AND A PRIME MINISTER (CHANCELLOR WHO WILL ORGANIZE THE GOVERNMENT.

GERMAN POLITICIANS CITE OTHER REASONS FOR THE EXISTENCE OF A CAMPAIGN APATHY. THEY SAY IT IS HARVEST TIME AND BUSY FARMERS HAVE N TIME FOR POLITICS. THEY ALSO SAY MILLIONS OF NEW VOTERS ARE REFUGEES EXPELLED FROM OTHER COUNTRIES WHO HAVE NOT YET TAKEN ANY POLITICAL FOOTHOLD. OTHER MILLIONS ARE YOUTHS WHO HAVE NOT YET ACQUIRED POLITICAL INTERESTS.

STILL ANOTHER REASON PROBABLY WILL BE CLAIMED BY THE COMMUNISTS. THEY ARE ALMOST CERTAIN TO HAIL A LIGHT VOTE AS EVIDENCE THAT GERMANS DISAPPROVE OF THE IDEA OF CREATING A WEST GERMAN REPUBLIC WITHOUT INCLUDING THE RUSSIAN ZONE--THAT THEY REGARD IT AS ALLIED "SPLITTING" OF THEIR FATHERLAND.

BOTH AMERICAN AND BRITISH OBSERVERS, HOWEVER, PLACE MUCH OF THE BLAME ON THE TYPE OF CAMPAIGN CONDUCTED BY THE POLITICIANS, WHO SPENT A LARGE PART OF THEIR TIME ATTACKING THE WESTERN OCCUPATION POWERS.

ONE BRITISH OBSERVER SAID: "THE GERMANS SIMPLY DON'T HAVE ANY FAITH IN THEIR PARTIES, THEY HAVE BEEN OFFERED NO CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAMS---ONLY ATTACKS AGAINST THE ALLIES. YOUTHS, ESPECIALLY, ARE DISTRUSTFUL. FEW OF THEM WILL VOTE."

AN AMERICAN OBSERVER AGREED. HE SAID: "MANY VOTERS HAVE BEEN LOOKING ANXIOUSLY FOR A PARTY TO OFFER THEM A CONCRETE DOMESTIC PROGRAM. THEY ARE DISAPPOINTED IN THE PARTIES THEY VOTED FOR THE LAST TIME (IN STATE ELECTIONS). BUT THEY ARE OFFERED NO BETTER PLACE TO TURN. SO THEY WILL SIMPLY STAY AWAY FROM THE POLLS."

A SPOKESMAN FOR THE AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT TONIGHT CRITICIZED THE "PRONOUNCED NATIONALISM" OF THE CAMPAIGN. HE SAID IN A GERMAN-LANGUAGE RADIO BROADCAST THAT "NOT A SINGLE PARTY HAS A GOOD WORD FOR THE POSITIVE WORK OF THE WESTERN ALLIES." THIS WAS THE FIRST OFFICIAL AMERICAN STATEMENT TO THE GERMANS ON ANTI-ALLIED ATTACKS BY GERMAN CANDIDATES.

"ONE IS FORCED TO MAKE COMPARISONS WITH THE PAST AND TO LOOK WITH SOME ANXIETY TO THE FUTURE, WHICH IS BEING ENTRUSTED TO SUCH A FORGETFUL, NATIONALISTIC PEOPLE," HE SAID.

HE SAID GERMAN POLITICIANS ARE UNANIMOUS ON ONLY ONE POINT:

"A PRONOUNCED NATIONALISM WHICH SEES ALL RIGHT ON ONE SIDE AND ALL INJUSTICE AND BAD WILL ON THE OTHER SIDE."

THE SPOKESMAN WARNED THAT "OPINION ABROAD HAS NOT OVERLOOKED THE AWAKENED NATIONALISM NOR THE SUDDEN FORGETFULNESS OF GERMAN POLITICIANS CONCERNING THE ASSISTANCE THE WESTERN ALLIES HAVE RENDERED."

AS HE SPOKE, CANDIDATES FOR THE NEW PARLIAMENT CARRIED ON THEIR BLISTERING ATTACKS ON THE ALLIES.

ONE OF THE FIRST MAJOR DISORDERS OF THE CAMPAIGN OCCURRED IN BRUNSWICK, WHEN A GROUP OF MEN ARMED WITH LEAD PIPE BROKE UP A RALLY OF THE GERMAN RIGHTIST PARTY. MEMBERS OF THE EXTREME RIGHT-WING GROUP BATTLED THE INTRUDERS BEFORE 50 POLICEMEN ARRIVED. EYEWITNESSES SAID THE ARMED GROUP SANG THE "INTERNATIONALE" (OLD COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL SONG) AS THEY STORMED INTO THE MEETING. SIX PERSONS WERE INJURED.

RECENT EDITORIALS IN SEVERAL POLITICALLY INDEPENDENT GERMAN NEWSPAPERS HAVE SUPPORTED THESE THEORIES.

MUNICH'S SUEDDEUTSCHE ZEITUNG, DEPLORING A LACK OF STRONG PERSONALITIES AMONG CANDIDATES, SAID THE VOTERS "CAN HARDLY DISTINGUISH BETWEEN THE CANDIDATES OR EVEN BETWEEN THE PARTIES."

SEVERAL PAPERS, HOWEVER, URGED PEOPLE TO VOTE, WITH A WARNING THAT RADICAL GROUPS ALWAYS VOTE HEAVILY, AND THE FAILURE OF OTHERS TO VOTE GIVES RADICALS THE CHANCE THEY SEEK.

THE MAINZ ALLGEMEINE ZEITUNG DEFENDED THE ALLIES AND DECLARED THE OCCUPATION POWERS HAD GIVEN GERMANY A CHANCE TO REVIVE DEMOCRACY. IT SAID:

"CERTAINLY THERE ARE MANY THINGS IN THE POLICY OF THE OCCUPYING POWERS WHICH CAN BE CRITICIZED. BUT IS IT WISE TO SHARPEN THOSE DIFFERENCES OF OPINION AND THEREBY DIG DEEP DITCHES AGAIN AND SOW NEW DISTRUST BETWEEN OURSELVES AND OTHER NATIONS?"

THE ANNOUNCEMENT ADDED "PRESSURE AGAINST THE ENEMY CONTINUES" IN THE GRAMMOS MOUNTAINS AREA. AN ALL-OUT OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE GUERRILLAS' STRONGEST REMAINING CENTER OPENED LAST WEEK.

IN THE VITSI AREA, THE GREEK AIR FORCE HAMMERED GUERRILLA POSITIONS WITH ROCKETS, BOMBS AND MACHINEGUN FIRE. PLANES AND TANKS ALSO WERE BEING PRESSED INTO THE BATTLE BY THE ARMY.

COMMANDO TROOPS WHO STARTED MOVING IN LAST NIGHT SEIZED THE VITAL HEIGHTS OF BARO AND LESSITS, NORTH OF KASTORIA ON THE EASTERN SIDE OF THE MAIN ROAD FROM KASTORIA TO PHLORINA. FARTHER EAST, NATIONAL TROOPS CAPTURED GLAVATA AND POLENATA HEIGHTS.

(A BROADCAST BY THE TIRANA, ALBANIA, RADIO, HEARD IN LONDON, CHARGED THAT FIVE GREEK GOVERNMENT PLANES HAD FLOWN OVER ALBANIAN TERRITORY TODAY. THE ALBANIAN DEFENSE MINISTRY DECLARED YESTERDAY THAT SEVERAL HUNDRED GREEK TROOPS HAD BEEN KILLED OR CAPTURED ALONG THE 30-MILE FRONT. THE ATHENS GOVERNMENT HAS DENIED ANY ATTEMPT TO INVADE ALBANIA.)

BELGRADE,YUGOSLAVIA,AUG 11-(AP)-THE PATRIARCH OF YUGOSLAVIA'S SERBIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH SAID TODAY IT IS COMPLETELY LOYAL TO THE STATE AND DOES NOT CONSIDER POLITICAL CONVICTIONS IN MATTERS OF EXCOMMUNICATION.

THE PATRIARCH, DR.GAVRILO DOZIVH, EXPRESSED HIS VIEWS IN WRITING, IN ANSWER TO A REPORTER'S QUESTIONS. HE HEADS THE LEADING CHURCH IN YUGOSLAVIA. (AVAILABLE CENSUS FIGURES SHOWED ABOUT 48 PER CENT OF THE POPULATION ADHERING TO THE ORTHODOX CHURCH AND 37 PER CENT TO THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH.)

DR.DOZIVH SAID THERE IS NO CONFLICT BETWEEN HIS CHURCH AND PREMIER MARSHAL TITO'S COMMUNIST-DOMINATED GOVERNMENT. HE SAID THE CHURCH "IS COMPLETELY LOYAL TOWARD THE STATE AND STATE PARTIES, NOT INTERFERING IN POLITICS OR POLITICAL PRACTICE."

ASKED WHAT PROVISION HIS CHURCH HAS TAKEN ON THE QUESTION OF EXCOMMUNICATING PERSONS WHO SUPPORT COMMUNISM, THE GRAY-BEARDED PATRIARCH SAID:

"THE CHRISTIAN SERBIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH USED THE PUNISHMENT OF EXCOMMUNICATION VERY RARELY, ONLY AGAINST INDIVIDUAL STUBBORN PERSONS WHO COMMITTED SERIOUS RELIGIOUS VIOLATIONS AND WHO INSULTED THE RELIGION AND THE CHURCH, WITHOUT TAKING INTO CONSIDERATION HIS POLITICAL CONVICTIONS."

BELGRADE, AUG.11-(AP)-THE YUGOSLAV COMMUNIST NEWSPAPER BORBA DENIED TODAY COMINFORM CHARGES THAT PARENTS OF GREEK REFUGEE CHILDREN HERE HAD BEEN DENIED THE RIGHT TO DETERMINE THEIR YOUNGSTERS' FUTURE.

THE NEWSPAPER SAID THE GREEK CHILDREN SOUGHT SANCTUARY IN YUGOSLAVIA AT THE WISH OF THEIR PARENTS TO ESCAPE THE CIVIL STRIFE IN GREECE. IT SAID YUGOSLAV AUTHORITIES RESPECT THE WILL AND WISHES OF THE PARENTS.

ALL TOLD ABOUT 22,000 GREEK CHILDREN HAVE CROSSED INTO YUGOSLAVIA. ON THE BASIS OF OFFICIAL FIGURES, ABOUT HALF OF THEM REMAINED HERE IN CHILDREN CENTERS AND THE REST PASSED ON TO OTHER EASTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

THE CLAIM OF THE COMINFORM (COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL INFORMATION BUREAU) APPARENTLY STEMMED IN PART AT LEAST FROM YUGOSLAVIA'S OWN ACCUSATIONS THAT 63 YUGOSLAV CHILDREN SENT TO RUSSIA FOR SCHOOLING NOW ARE BEING HELD IN THE SOVIET UNION AS VIRTUAL CAPTIVES.

YUGOSLAVIA'S ACCUSATION WAS MADE FORMALLY TWO DAYS AGO. IT WAS REPEATED TODAY BY BORBA. THE NEWSPAPER PRINTED A NEW BATCH OF LETTERS CITING SPECIFIC CASES OF YUGOSLAV PARENTS WHO WANT THEIR CHILDREN HOME FROM RUSSIA IMMEDIATELY.

FOR MORE THAN A YEAR THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN AT ODDS WITH THE COUNTRIES IN THE MOSCOW-DIRECTED COMINFORM. YUGOSLAVIA IS SEEKING THE RETURN OF YUGOSLAV CHILDREN, PARTLY AT LEAST TO PREVENT THEM FROM RECEIVING SOVIET INDOCTRINATION AGAINST THEIR OWN GOVERNMENT.

(300) NIGHT LEAD MAC ARTHUR

WASHINGTON,AUG.11-(AP)-PRESIDENT TRUMAN PUT IT UP TO GENERAL DOUGLAS MAC ARTHUR TODAY WHETHER TO COME HOME FROM JAPAN. MAC ARTHUR PROMPTLY SAID "NO."

SOME CONGRESS MEMBERS HAVE BEEN ASKING THAT MAC ARTHUR BE ORDERED HOME TO ADVISE ON THE ADVANCE OF COMMUNISM IN THE ORIENT, AND HOW THAT PROBLEM AFFECTS THE ADMINISTRATION'S REQUEST FOR ARMS FOR EUROPE.

MAC ARTHUR SAID IN A STATEMENT ISSUED IN TOKYO THAT HIS VIEWS ON THE FAR EASTERN SITUATION ARE ALREADY WELL KNOWN TO THE DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY. HE ADDED HE BELIEVES HIS PRESENCE IS NEEDED IN JAPAN MORE THAN IN WASHINGTON.

AT HIS NEWS CONFERENCE, MR.TRUMAN SAID HE WOULD SIGN AN ORDER FOR MAC ARTHUR'S RETURN ANYTIME THE GENERAL WANTS TO COME.

THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATION RELATIONS COMMITTEE WILL VOTE TOMORROW AFTERNOON ON A RESOLUTION SPONSORED BY SENATOR KNOWLAND (R-CALIF) AND NINE OTHER SENATORS TO RECALL MAC ARTHUR.

KNOWLAND IS SPEARHEADING A DRIVE FOR AID TO NATIONALIST CHINA, WHILE THE ADMINISTRATION HAS WRITTEN OFF THE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT AS A FAILURE IN THE WAR AGAINST COMMUNISM.

SENATOR CONNALLY (D-TEX), CHAIRMAN OF THE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE, TOLD REPORTERS HE IS OPPOSED TO THE KNOWLAND RESOLUTION "BECAUSE IT BYPASSES THE PRESIDENT."

"BECAUSE OF THE CRITICAL AND EXPLOSIVE SITUATION IN THE FAR EAST," CONNALLY SAID, "I THINK GENERAL MACARTHUR CAN BEST SERVE THE INTERESTS OF THE UNITED STATES BY REMAINING WHERE HE IS AT PRESENT."

A REQUEST BY THE COMMITTEE FOR THE GENERAL'S RETURN, CONNALLY SAID, MIGHT CREATE MISUNDERSTANDING AND CONFUSION IN THE MINDS OF THE ORIENTALS WITHOUT HELPING SOLVE THE TROUBLES IN THAT AREA.

"OF COURSE," HE ADDED, "IF THE PRESIDENT DESIRES GENERAL MACARTHUR TO COME TO THE UNITED STATES THAT IS ANOTHER MATTER. IF GENERAL MACARTHUR DEEMS IT WISE TO REMAIN IN JAPAN THAT IS STILL ANOTHER MATTER. I WOULD RESPECT HIS VIEWS ON THAT SUBJECT."

TOKYO SOURCES CLOSE TO MAC ARTHUR HAVE SAID ON A NUMBER OF OCCASIONS THAT HE PLANNED TO REMAIN IN JAPAN UNTIL A PEACE TREATY IS SIGNED, UNLESS WASHINGTON ORDERS HIM HOME.

HE SAID IN HIS STATEMENT, ISSUED AFTER HE LEARNED OF THE PRESIDENT'S REMARK, THAT HE UNDERSTOOD THE FINAL DECISION WAS UP TO HIM, AND HE ADDED:

"IT IS DIFFICULT FOR ME TO IGNORE THE HEART-WARMING AND FRIENDLY OVERTURES TO RETURN TO MY NATIVE LAND, FOR WHICH IT IS ONLY NATURAL FOR ME TO LONG, JUST AS WOULD ANYONE ELSE UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES.

"BUT AN IMPELLING SENSE OF DUTY IN A POSITION OF HIGHLY-CRITICAL RESPONSIBILITY LEAVES ME WITH NO OTHER RECOURSE (BUT TO REMAIN)."

WASHINGTON,AUG.11-(AP)-SENATOR KNOWLAND (R-CALIF) WILL ASK THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS AND ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEES TO VOTE TODAY ON A RESOLUTION REQUESTING GENERAL DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S RETURN FROM JAPAN.

KNOWLAND AND NINE OTHER SENATORS PREVIOUSLY REQUESTED DEFENSE SECRETARY LOUIS JOHNSON TO ORDER MACARTHUR HOME FOR A REPORT TO CONGRESS.

THEY CONTEND CONGRESS SHOULD HEAR MACARTHUR WHILE COMMITTEES ARE STUDYING THE PRESIDENT'S $1,450,000,000 ARMS PROGRAM.

KNOWLAND ALSO IS A LEADER OF A SENATE GROUP WHICH IS SEEKING TO HAVE $175,000,000 IN MILITARY AID EARMARKED FOR NON-COMMUNIST CHINA.

SECRETARY JOHNSON HAS SAID HE WILL NOT ORDER MACARTHUR HOME WITHOUT PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S APPROVAL. AND THE WHITE HOUSE HAS SAID THE MACARTHUR IS FREE TO RETURN WHENEVER HE CHOOSES.

PRESIDENTIAL PRESS SECRETARY CHARLES G.ROSS RECALLED TODAY THAT MR. TRUMAN MADE THAT PLAIN AT A NEWS CONFERENCE MORE THAN A YEAR AGO.

ROSS WAS QUESTIONED BY NEWSMEN ABOUT EFFORTS BY SOME SENATORS TO HAVE MACARTHUR RETURN TO TESTIFY ON THE ARMS AID PROGRAM.

OTTAWA, AUG. 11-(AP)-U.S. DEFENSE SECRETARY LOUIS JOHNSON SAID TODAY "WE'VE NO FEARS ABOUT THE ALASKAN (DEFENSE) PICTURE, THANKS TO THE UNDERSTANDING WE HAVE IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE."

ON A ONE-DAY VISIT TO OTTAWA, JOHNSON AT A NEWS CONFERENCE ALSO:

1. INDICATED APPROVAL OF A PLAN, DISCUSSED AT AN EARLIER MEETING WITH THE CANADIAN CABINET DEFENSE COMMITTEE, TO ALLOW AN EXCHANGE OF CANADIAN AND U.S. MILITARY PRODUCTION WHICH WOULD PREVENT FURTHER STRAIN ON CANADA'S DOLLAR PROBLEM.

2. SAID THERE IS NO DISAGREEMENT BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES IN ANY ASPECT OF DEFENSE CO-OPERATION.

3. DECLINED TO DISCUSS THE POSSIBILITY OF A UNIFIED AMERICAN-CANADIAN REGIONAL COMMAND BECAUSE IT WOULD BE "PUTTING THE CART BEFORE THE HORSE" IN DEVELOPMENTS LEADING TO FORMATION OF ATLANTIC PACT ORGANIZATION.

THE SECRETARY DESCRIBED HIMSELF AS "TICKLED TO DEATH" WITH CANADA'S DEFENSE SET UP AND SAID, "I HAVE NEVER SPENT A MORE WORTHWHILE DAY IN MY LIFE NOR FELT MYSELF AMONG MORE UNDERSTANDING PEOPLE. WE ARE BROTHERS IN THE CAUSE OF PEACE."

HE MET WITH THE CABINET COMMITTEE, HEADED BY PRIME MINISTER LOUIS ST.LAURENT, FROM 11:30 A.M. TO NEARLY 1 P.M. ON "THE WHOLE FIELD OF DEFENSE."

CANADIAN ARMS PROCUREMENT IN THE UNITED STATES, NEWFOUNDLAND BASES HELD BY THE UNITED STATES, THE CANADIAN DEFENSE ORGANIZATION AND OTHER TOPICS WERE DISCUSSED.

NIGHT LEAD COMMUNISTS (400)

NEW YORK,AUG 11-(AP)-A COMMUNIST TRIAL DEFENDANT TODAY ADMITTED TEACHING THAT A WORKING-CLASS DICTATORSHIP CANNOT ARISE UNTIL A CAPITALIST STATE'S GOVERNMENT, ARMY AND POLICE FORCE ARE SMASHED.

AND SUCH A DICTATORSHIP, MODELED AFTER RUSSIA'S, CAN HAPPEN HERE, SAID ROBERT G.THOMPSON, COMMUNIST CHAIRMAN IN NEW YORK STATE.

THOMPSON, A WITNESS IN HIS OWN DEFENSE, WS ASKED BY GOVERNMENT ATTORNEY FRANK H.GORDON:

"DID YOU OR DO YOU NOW TACH THAT THE DICTATORSHIP OF THE PROLETARIAN CANNOT ARISE AS A RESULT OF THE PEACEFUL DEVELOPMENT OF BOURGEOISE SOCIETY AND BOURGEOIS DEMOCRACY, AND CAN ARISE ONLY BY THE SMASHING OF THE BOURGEOIS STATE MACHINE, THE BOURGEOIS ARMY, THE BOURGEOIS BUREAUCRATIC MACHINE AND THE BOURGEOIS POLICE?"

BEFORE ANSWERING, THOMPSON SAID THE COMMUNIST PARTY UNDERSTANDS THAT HISTORICALLY THE RULING CLASS OF THIS COUNTRY "IS VERY UNAPT TO GIVE UP CONTROL OF INDUSTRY AND THE POLICE POWER."

MOREOVER, HE SAID, THE RULING CLASS IS APT TO MEET EVERY MOVE FOR SOCIAL PROGRESS WITH VIOLENCE.

COMMUNISTS FEEL THAT NO PEOPLE'S FRONT COALITION COULD TAKE OVER A READY-MADE GOVOERNMENT MACHINE, THOMPSON SAID.

FINALLY, HE SAID VARIOUS PHASES OF THE STATE GOVERNMENT ARE "CORRODED WITH FASCIST-MINDED AND LYNCH-MINDED ELEMENT."

IN VIEW OF ALL THIS, HE ADDED, HIS ANSWER TO THE QUESTION WAS "YES."

HOWEVER, THE FINAL WORD APPARENTLY ESCAPED FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD R. MEDINA. THE COURT ORDERED THE QUESTION READ AGAIN AND DEMANDED A YES OR NO ANSWER.

THOMPSON PROTESTED THAT TO ANSWER WITHOUT HIS EXPLANATORY PREFACE WOULD PLACE HIM IN A STRAITJACKET. THEREUPON, JUDGE MEDINA TOLD THE GOVERNMENT TO GO ON TO ANOTHER QUESTION.

A CHECK LATER SHOWED THOMPSON'S "YES" ANSWER HAD BEEN HEARD BY THE COURT STENOGRAPHER AND RECORDED WITH THE TESTIMONY.

THOMPSON IS ONE OF 11 TOP AMERICAN COMMUNISTS ACCUSED OF CONSPIRING TO ADVOCATE THE VIOLENT OVERTHROW OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT.

EARLIER, THOMPSON TESTIFIED THAT A PEOPLE'S COALITION GOVERNMENT SUCH AS RUSSIA'S IS "A REAL AND EXISTING POSSIBILITY" IN THE U.S.

IN MAY, 1948, THOMPSON SAID HE REPORTED TO THE NATIONAL BOARD OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY THAT:

"THIS ROAD COALITION (OF WORKING PEOPLE) WOULD TRY TO ESTABLISH ITSELF AS THE ELECTED GOVERNMENT IN THE COUNTRY AND THAT THIS WAS A REAL AND EXISTING POSSIBILITY BECAUSE THE THREAT OF ECONOMIC CRISIS, WAR AND FASCISM HAD SET THE BROAD MASSES OF THE PEOPLE IN ACTION."

THOMPSONSAID HE COULD NOT RECALL BRANDING THE UNITED STATES AN "IMPERIALIST STATE" EXCEPT IN THE SENSE THAT "THE RULING CLASS IN AMERICA IS IMPERIALIST."

NIGHT LEAD COMMUNISTS (400)

WASHINGTON,AUG.11-(AP)-A STORY OF COMMUNIST AIMS TO DOMINATE AMERICAN LABOR UNIONS BY "INFILTRATION" WAS TOLD TO A HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES SUBCOMMITTEE TODAY BY A MAN WHO IDENTIFIED HIMSELF AS A FORMER COMMUNIST LEADER.

JOHN ZACK KORNFEDER, THE WITNESS, TESTIFIED THAT THE CIO-ELECTRICAL WORKERS UNION--NOW WITH ABOUT 600,000 MEMBERS--ORIGINALLY WAS SET-UP BY COMMUNISTS.

MOREOVER, HE IDENTIFIED TWO MEN NOW CONNECTED WITH THE UNION AS COMMUNISTS OR FORMER PARTY MEMBERS. THEY WERE JAMES MATLES, INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZER, AND JAMES LUSTIG, IDENTIFIED AS A UNION REPRESENTATIVE IN THE NEW YORK DISTRICT.

REP.WALTER (D-PENNA), A COMMITTEE MEMBER, ASKED KORNFEDER TO EXPLAN HOW COMMUNISTS GET CONTROL OF LABOR UNIONS.

"BY INFILTRATION," KORNFEDER RESPONDED. "THEY SET UP SECRET GROUPS IN UNIONS, AND IN THAT WAY ELECT OFFICERS AND GET CONTROL.

"THIS INFILTRATION WAS SUCCESSFUL IN A NUMBER OF INSTANCES, ESPECIALLY AMONG FOOD WORKERS, PAINTERS AND IN SOME OF THE BUILDING TRADES."

HE SAID COMMUNISTS ALSO SET UP INDEPENDENT UNIONS.

ACTUAL CONVERTS TO THE COMMUNIST PARTY AMONG UNION MEMBERS WERE NOT VERY GREAT, HE TOLD THE COMMITTEE, BUT ADDED: "AS FOR SYMPATHIZERS IT WAS MORE SUCCESSFUL."

AUG 12 1949

THOMAS QUINN, FIELD ORGANIZER FOR THE CIO-ELECTRICAL WORKERS, PITTSBURGH, PENNA., ALSO WAS CALLED BEFORE THE COMMITTEE. HE REFUSED TO SAY WHETHER HE IS OR EVER HAS BEEN A COMMUNIST.

"I DECLINE TO DISCUSS WITH THIS COMMITTEE QUESTIONS OF THIS NATURE," HE SAID. THEN HE CHARGED "THIS HEARING IS CALLED FOR THE SOLE PURPOSE OF INTERFERING WITH OUR LOCAL UNION ELECTIONS."

more

WHEN HE REPEATEDLY DECLINED TO ANSWER WHETHER HE IS OR HAS BEEN A COMMUNIST CHAIRMAN WOOD (D-GA) TOLD QUINN HE COULD LEAVE THE STAND.

LOUIS J.RUSSELL, AN INVESTIGATOR FOR THE COMMITTEE, THEN READ A DEPOSITION HE SAID WAS MADE BY RICHARD W.MCCLELLAN, PRESIDENT OF THE UE LOCAL 31 AT THE ERIE, PENNA., RESISTANCE CO., FROM 1943 TO 1945.

THE PAPER, AS READ BY RUSSELL, QUOTED MCCLELLAN AS SAYING HUGH HARLEY, A UE INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZER, HAD IDENTIFIED HIMSELF TO MCCLELLAN AS A COMMUNIST PARTY MEMBER. IT SAID THAT AT HARLEY INVITATION MCCLELLAN IN 1943 ATTENDED MEETINGS OF "THE COMMUNIST CELL IN THE CITY OF ERIE."

MCCLELLAN, AS QUOTED BY RUSSELL, SAID ONE PERSON ATTENDING ONE OF THE MEETINGS WAS JOHN NELSON, PRESIDENT OF LOCAL 506 "WHO THEN WAS ALSO SHOP STEWARD" AT GENERAL ELECTRIC. THE DEPOSITION ADDED THAT NELSON TOOK PART IN THE DISCUSSION, BOUGHT COMMUNIST LITERATURE AND PAID COMMUNIST DUES.

DURING THE HEARING, SOMEBODY IN THE AUDIENCE PASSED OUT A PRESS RELEASE UNDER THE NAME OF "UNITED ELECTRICAL, RADIO AND MACHINE WORKERS OF AMERICA-CIO," SAYING KORNFEDER "HAS BEEN PEDDLING HIS 20-YEAR OLD STALE, RED-BAITING, FRAME-UP STEW FOR MORE THAN A DECADE."

WASHN-ELECTRICAL WKRS-XXX SAID

CHAIRMAN WOOD (D-GA) PERMITTED QUINN TO READ A STATEMENT IN WHICH HE SAID "THIS HEARING IS CALLED FOR THE SOLE PURPOSE OF INTERFERING WITH OUR LOCAL UNION ELECTIONS."

QUINN THEN SAID HE WANTED TO DISCUSS A STORY IN A PITTSBURGH PAPER BY INGRID JEWELL. BUT WOOD CUT HIM SHORT, SAYING THE COMMITTEE IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR WHAT APPEARS IN THE NEWSPAPERS.

LOUIS J.RUSSELL, A COMMITTEE INVESTIGATOR, READ A DEPOSITION HE SAID WAS MADE BY RICHARD W.MCCLELLAN, PRESIDENT OF UE LOCAL 631 AT THE ERIE,PA.,RESISTANCE CO., FROM 1943 TO 1945.

RUSSELL QUOTED MCCLELLAN AS SAYING HE WAS INSTRUMENTAL IN AFFILIATING THIS UNION WITH CIO-UE AND THAT IN HIS WORK HE BECOME ACQUAINTED WITH HUGH HARLEY, AN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZER FOR UE.

MCCLELLAN'S DEPOSITION SAID THAT HARLEY "INFORMED ME HE WAS A MEMBER OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY AND HE SHOWED ME HIS DUES BOOK."

AT HARLEY'S INVITATION, THE DEPOSITION SET FORTH, MCCLELLAN ATTENDED MEETINGS OF "THE COMMUNIST CELL IN THE CITY OF ERIE." ONE MEETING IN 1943, THE PAPER SAID, WAS AT THE SOUTHWEST CORNER OF 25TH STREET AND PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE "IN THE SECOND FLOOR FLAT."

THE PARTY PLATFORM WAS DISCUSSED, LITERATURE SOLD AND COMMUNIST DUES COLLECTED, ACCORDING TO THE DEPOSITION.

IT SAIF FURTHER THAN AMONG THOSE PRESENT WAS JOHN NELSON, THE CURRENT PRESIDENT OF LOCAL 506 "WHO THEN WAS ALSO A SHOP STEWARD AT GENERAL ELECTRIC." NELSON, MCCLELLAN WAS QUOTED AS SAYING, TOOK PART IN THE DISCUSSION, BOUGHT COMMUNIST LITERATURE AND PAID COMMUNIST DUES.

VSECOND NIGHT LEAD ARMS (450)

BY JOHN B.OWEN

AUG 12 1949

WASHINGTON,AUG 11-(AP)-THE ADMINISTRATION TODAY DEFEATED, BY A HAIRLINE MARGIN, AN ATTEMPT TO SLASH IN HALF ITS ARMS AID PROGRAM FOR WESTERN EUROPE.

THE VOTE IN THE HOUSE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE WAS REPORTED UNOFFICIALLY TO HAVE BEEN A TIE--WHICH AUTOMATICALLY REJECTS AN AMENDMENT. THE NUMBER OF THE 36 MEMBERS PRESENT WAS NOT ANNOUNCED.

CHAIRMAN KEE (D-WVA) TOLD REPORTERS AFTER THE CLOSED SESSION THAT NO OTHER MAJOR AMENDMENTS WERE DISPOSED OF.

KEE SAID HE HOPES THAT THE FULL AMOUNT REQUESTED BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN--$1,450,000,000 FOR WESTERN EUROPE AND OTHER NATIONS--WOULD BE APPROVED PROBABLY MONDAY.

REP.RICHARDS (D-SC) OFFERED THE AMENDMENT TO AUTHORIZE $580,495,000 FOR ARMS AID TO EUROPEAN MEMBERS OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC ALLIANCE. THE BILL CARRIES $1,160,990,000 FOR THAT PURPOSE.

THE RICHARDS AMENDMENT BORE SOME SIMILARITY TO THE IDEA ADVANCED TUESDAY BY SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH). VANDENBERG WOULD CUT DOWN THE AMOUNT OF CASH TO BE APPROPRIATED FOR WESTERN EUROPE IN THIS SESSION OF CONGRESS BY THE AMOUNT PROPOSED BY RICHARDS.

BUT THE MICHIGAN SENATOR PROPOSED THAT CONTRACTS BE AUTHORIZED FOR THE REMAINDER. THAT WOULD MAKE THE COST COME LATER.

THE RICHARDS AMENDMENT IS IN LINE WITH A LARGE SEGMENT OF CONGRESSIONAL OPINION WHICH HAS ARGUED FROM THE FIRST THAT THE PROGRAM NEEDS REVISION. ON THE OTHER HAND, THE ADMINISTRATION CONTENDS IT IS THE BARE MINIMUM NEEDED TO "FILL THE VACUUM" OF EUROPEAN WEAKNESS AND HELP ERECT DEFENSES AGAINST RUSSIAN COMMUNISM.

THERE IS A POSSIBILITY THAT THE RICHARDS AMENDMENT MAY BE RECONSIDERED BY THE COMMITTEE--OR THAT A VARIATION OF IT WITH A DIFFERENT FIGURE WILL BE OFFERED.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN WAS NON COMMITTAL AT HIS NEWS CONFERENCE TODAY CONCERNING THE VANDENBERG PLAN. HE SAID HE HAD NOT DISCUSSED IT.

MEANWHILE, ANOTHER MOVE WAS AFOOT TO IRON OUT ONE OF THE MAJOR OBJECTIONS TO THE ARMS PROGRAM.

SENATOR DULLES (R-NY) SAID HE BELIEVES THE STATE DEPARTMENT WILL AGREE TO AN AMENDMENT SHIFTING CONTROL OF THE PROGRAM TO THE NORTH ATLANTIC ADVISORY COUNCIL, SOON TO BE SET UP.

DULLES SAT IN WITH SENATE COMMITTEES ON FOREIGN RELATIONS AND ARMED SERVICES WHO ARE HOLDING HEARINGS ON THE LEGISLATION.

AS SENATORS LOOKED CRITICALLY AT THE BILL AND CHALLENGED ANY LARGE SCALE DELIVERY OF ARMS TO WESTERN EUROPE WITHOUT APPROVAL OF THE ATLANTIC COUNCIL, DULLES REPORTED HE IS TALKING TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT ON THIS VERY SUBJECT.

HE TOLD A NEWSMAN LATER THAT HE BELIEVED THE DEPARTMENT WOULD ACCEPT A PLAN WHICH WOULD MEAN THE COUNCIL, RATHER THAN THE UNITED STATES, WOULD DISTRIBUTE THE ARMS AMONG THE VARIOUS ATLANTIC PACT NATIONS.

"I BELIEVE THEY (THE STATE DEPARTMENT) WILL GO ALONG ON THIS," DULLES SAID, "IF IT WILL NOT SLOW UP ARMS DELIVERIES."

DULLES TOLD THE COMMITTEES HE WANTS ARMS SHIPMENTS TO GO AHEAD AT ONCE BUT WOULD LIKE TO SEE THE MAJOR PORTION UNDER DIRECTION OF THE TREATY MEMBERS.

30.24- 4987

CHAIRMAN CONNALLY (D-TEX) OF THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE SAID HE HOPES TO END THE SENATE HEARINGS EARLY NEXT WEEK AND BEGIN WRITING AN ARMS BILL.

THE ATLANTIC TREATY PROVIDES FOR AN ADVISORY COUNCIL OF THE 12 NATIONS WITH AUTHORITY OVER ACTUAL PLANNING FOR DEFENSE AGAINST RUSSIAN AGGRESSION. IT HAS NOT BEEN SET UP. REPUBLICANS HAVE ARGUED THAT THE ADMINISTRATION'S PROGRAM OUGHT TO BE TIED IN CLOSER WITH THE COUNCIL'S AUTHORITY. BACKERS OF THE BILL CONTEND THE ACMS ARE NEEDED URGENTLY AND WANT THE FULL PROGRAM VOTED IMMEDIATELY EVEN THOUGH THE COUNCIL HAS NOT BEEN CREATED.

BOTH DULLES AND SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH), WHO HAVE BEEN CRITICAL OF THE BILL'S FORM, SPOKE OUT AT THE HEARING FOR IMMEDIATE ARMS AID. THEY HAVE URGED A STOP-GAP PLAN PENDING COUNCIL ACTION ON A LONG-RANGE PROGRAM.

"I DON'T WANT TO DO ANYTHING TO DELAY DELIVERIES," DULLES OBSERVED. "BUT I WANT TO SUPERIMPOSE THE COUNCIL ON THE ARMS PROGRAM AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE." HE WANTS ASSURANCE THAT THE BULK OF THE ARMS DISTRIBUTION BE LEFT TO COUNCIL AUTHORITY.

DULLES DISAGREED WITH AN AMENDMENT PROPOSED BY SENATOR LYNDON JOHNSON (D-TEX) WHICH WOULD MAKE ARMS DELIVERIES SUBJECT TO COUNCIL APPROVAL. HE SAID HE FEARED IT WOULD HOLD UP SPEEDY ARMS SHIPMENTS.

JOHNSON TODAY MENTIONED HIS AMENDMENT TO W.AVERELL HARRIMAN, AMBASSADOR-AT-LARGE. HARRIMAN SAID HE WOULD NOT WANT ANY AMENDMENT WHICH DELAYED OR BARRED SHIPMENTS OF ARMS.

HARRIMAN, FORMER AMBASSADOR TO RUSSIA, SAID THE SOVIET ATTITUDE MADE HIM "GRAVELY CONCERNED OVER THE THREAT TO PEACE AND FREEDOM."

HE DESCRIBED RUSSIA AS A "DETERMINED, RUTHLESS AND PERSISTENT" OPPONENT. ARMING WESTERN EUROPE, HE SAID, WOULD "IMMEASURABLY INCREASE" UNITED STATES SECURITY.

REDUCTION OR DELAY IN THE PROGRAM MIGHT CAUSE DOUBTS TO RISE AND UNDERMINE "THE PRESENT DETERMINATION AND CONFIDENCE," HE COUNSELED.

THE ADMINISTRATION HAS ASKED CONGRESS TO APPROPRIATE $1,450,000,000 FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30,1950, TO FURNISH NEW AND SURPLUS ARMS TO WESTERN EUROPE, GREECE, TURKEY, IRAN, KOREA AND THE PHILIPPINES. BY FAR THE MOST OF IT WOULD GO TO THE ATLANTIC TREATY PARTNERS IN EUROPE.

THE GOODS WOULD BE SHIPPED OVER A TWO-YEAR PERIOD.

SENATORS QUICKLY BEGAN HAMMERING AT HARRIMAN ABOUT THE COUNCIL'S SHARE IN THE PROGRAM. VANDENBERG POSED THESE QUESTIONS:

"WHY SHOULD THE COUNCIL BE CONFRONTED BY A TWO-YEAR PROGRAM ALREADY IN EXISTENCE? WHY SHOULD THIS PROGRAM BE WRITTEN OUTSIDE THE PACT? WHY SHOULD WE LEGISLATE ON A TWO-YEAR PROGRAM IF THE COUNCIL WILL BE READY IN TWO MONTHS?"

HARRIMAN SAID THAT THE FIVE WESTERN EUROPEAN NATIONS, BRITAIN, FRANCE, BELGIUM, THE NETHERLANDS AND LUXEMBOURG, WILL BE THE HARD CORE OF EUROPE'S DEFENSES AND THEY HAVE AGREED ON THE ARMS PLAN. IT WOULD ENCOURAGE THEM TO ENTER THE COUNCIL WITH AID ALREADY ASSURED, HE SAID.

VANDENBERG INSISTED THAT INTERIM AID COULD BE GIVEN AND THE COUNCIL GIVEN MAJOR DIRECTION OF THE PROGRAM.

HARRIMAN ARGUED THAT NATIONS WHO HELPED DRAW UP THE ARMS PLAN WILL BE MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL.

SENATOR SMITH (R-NJ) PUT IN THAT HE WOULD NOT UNDERSTAND WHY THE ADMINISTRATION DOES NOT CALL FOR INTERIM ARMS AID UNTIL THE COUNCIL MEETS. THE COUNCIL IS SUPPOSED TO WORK THIS OUT AND ALLOCATED THE ARMS," HE SAID.

(350) NIGHT LEAD BRADLEY

WASHINGTON,AUG.11-(AP)-GENERAL OMAR N.BRADLEY WAS SELECTED BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN TODAY FOR THE NATION'S NO. 1 MILITARY POST--PERMANENT CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF.

IN THAT POSITION HE WILL BE THE HIGHEST RANKING AMERICAN MILITARY OFFICER.

SELECTION OF "THE G.I.'S GENERAL", NOW SERVING AS ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF, HAD BEEN WIDELY ANTICIPATED. IT CAPS A CAREER WHICH INCLUDED SERVICE IN TWO WORLD WARS, COMMAND OF THE LARGEST BODY OF TROOPS EVER TO SERVE UNDER AN AMERICAN FIELD COMMANDER, AND THREE YEARS TENURE AS HEAD OF THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION.

BRADLEY, LIKE MR.TRUMAN, IS A NATIVE OF MISSOURI. THE PRESIDENT, WHO ANNOUNCED THE APPOINTMENT AT HIS NEWS CONFERENCE, SAID HE WAS NOT READY TO TELL WHO WOULD SUCCEED BRADLEY AS ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF.

THE POSITION OF PERMANENT CHAIRMAN WAS CREATED BY THE MILITARY UNIFICATION LAW WHICH THE PRESIDENT SIGNED YESTERDAY. BRADLEY WILL NOT HAVE ANY COMMAND AUTHORITY, OR EVEN A VOTE WITH THE JOINT CHIEFS, BUT HE WILL HAVE VAST PRESTIGE.

THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF ARE THE OPERATING HEADS OF THE ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE.

GEN.DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER HAS BEEN SERVING AS TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN PENDING ENACTMENT OF THE NEW LAW. MR.TRUMAN MADE PUBLIC A LETTER THANKING EISENHOWER FOR HIS SERVICES, AND SAYING HE WOULD RELY UPON HIM AS A CONSULTANT IN THE FUTURE.

THE PRESIDENT ALSO ANNOUNCED THAT HE IS NOMINATING ADMIRAL LOUIS DENFELD FOR AN ADDITIONAL TWO-YEAR TERM AS CHIEF OF NAVAL OPERATIONS. BRADLEY, DENFELD AND GEN.HOYT VANDENBERG OF THE AIR FORCE NOW MAKE UP THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF.

BRADLEY WAS BORN 56 YEARS AGO IN CLARK,MO. HE WAS GRADUATED FROM WEST POINT IN 1915 AND WAS THE FIRST IN HIS CLASS TO RISE TO BRIGADIER GENERAL.

HE WAS A CORPS COMMANDER IN NORTH AFRICA AND SICILY. HE HELD A KEY ROLE IN THE NORMANDY INVASION. IN COMMAND OF THE FIRST ARMY, HE LANDED WITH HIS MEN ON D-DAY AND LATER SMASHED THE GERMAN LINES AT ST.LO. HE ENDED THE WAR IN COMMAND OF THE 12TH U.S. ARMY GROUP, COMPRISED OF MORE THAN 1,300,000 COMBAT SOLDIERS.

THREE MONTHS AFTER THE END OF THE WAR PRESIDENT TRUMAN MADE HIM VETERANS ADMINISTRATOR. HE BECAME THE ARMY'S CHIEF OF STAFF LAST YEAR.

WASHINGTON,AUG.11-(AP)-PRESIDENT TRUMAN TODAY SENT THE FOLLOWING LETTER TO GEN.DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER AFTER ANNOUNCING THE APPOINTMENT OF GEN.OMAR N.BRADLEY AS CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF: (180)

MY DEAR GENERAL EISENHOWER:

WHEN I ASKED YOU, LAST FEBRUARY, TO SERVE TEMPORARILY AS PRESIDING OFFICER OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF, YOU RESPONDED LIKE THE GOOD SOLDIER YOU ARE. I KNOW HOW GREATLY THIS ASSIGNMENT DISRUPTED YOUR PLANS, AND I WANT YOU TO KNOW HOW MUCH I APPRECIATE ALL THAT YOU HAVE DONE, AS WELL AS ALL THAT YOU WILL DO IN THE FUTURE AS A CONSULTANT AND ADVISER.

THE CHIEFS HAVE MADE OUTSTANDING PROGRESS SINCE YOU BECAME THEIR

PRESIDING OFFICER. THIS PROGRESS HAS COME ABOUT BECAUSE OF TWO PRINCIPAL FACTORS: THE GREAT EFFORT YOU HAVE PUT INTO THE JOB, AND THE HIGH REGARD FOR YOUR OBJECTIVITY AND IMPARTIALITY WHICH ALL OF THE CHIEFS HAVE--A REGARD WHICH ALL OF THEM HAVE MENTIONED TO ME ON A NUMBER OF OCCASIONS.

THE NATION IS EXTREMELY FORTUNATE TO HAVE HAD THE BENEFIT OF THIS MOST RECENT SERVICE BY YOU. AS PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES AND AS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, I WANT TO THANK YOU FOR A DIFFICULT JOB WELL DONE.

SINCERELY YOURS,

/S/ HARRY S.TRUMAN

FOREIGN AID

WASHINGTON,AUG.11-(AP)-SENATE AND HOUSE MEMBERS CAME OUT OF CONFERENCE TODAY COMPLETELY DEADLOCKED ON ANY AGREEMENT OVER THE MULTI-BILLION DOLLAR FOREIGN AID PROGRAM.

EACH SIDE STOOD FIRM ON ITS VERSION OF THE AID MEASURE AND WERE IN DISPUTE OVER EVERY DIFFERENCE IN THE BILL.

THE CONFERENCE WILL MEET AGAIN TOMORROW AFTERNOON IN ANOTHER EFFORT TO REACH SOME COMPROMISE WHICH WILL BREAK THE MONEY BILL LOOSE FOR A FINAL VOTE IN BOTH HOUSES.

THE FIRST STUMBLING BLOCK IN THE BILL WAS A SENATE AMENDMENT TO PROVIDE $344,000 FOR A CONGRESSIONAL WATCHDOG COMMITTEE TO KEEP A FUTURE CHECK ON FOREIGN SPENDING.

ONE SENATOR SAID THE HOUSE MEMBERS FLATLY REFUSED EVEN TO DISCUSS THE WATCHDOG AMENDMENT. THEY WERE INSTRUCTED IN ADVANCE NOT TO ACCEPT THIS AMENDMENT, ON THE GROUND THE COMMITTEE WAS UNNECESSARY.

ANOTHER HOT DISPUTE, HE SAID, CENTERED AROUND A SENATE AMENDMENT PROVIDING $25,000 FOR A SECOND REVIEW OF THE DISMANTLING OF SOME 365 GERMAN INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

THE SENATE INSERTED THIS AMENDMENT IN A MOVE AIMED AT HALTING THE DESTRUCTION AND DISMANTLING OF PLANTS WHICH, SENATORS SAID, WOULD HELP THE RECOVERY OF GERMANY AND WESTERN EUROPE.

"THOSE ARE TWO OF THE HOTTEST ISSUES," A SENATOR SAID PRIVATELY, "BUT WE COULDN'T AGREE ON ANYTHING IN THE BILL."

HERE ARE SOME OTHER DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE SENATE AND HOUSE VERSIONS OF THE FOREIGN AID BILL:

(1) MONEY--THE HOUSE VOTED $3,568,470,000 TO THE ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION IN THE CURRENT YEAR--WITH THE MONEY TO BE SPENT IN 10 AND ONE-HALF MONTHS IF NECESSARY.

THE SENATE VOTED A 12-MONTH PROGRAM OF $3,778,380,000 WHICH IS ROUGHLY A 10 PERCENT CUT ON A MONTHLY SPENDING BASIS. THE HOUSE VOTED ALL CASH--THE SENATE INCLUDED $150,000,000 IN CONTRACT AUTHORITY.

(2) THE HOUSE VOTED $925,000,000 FOR ARMY OCCUPATION COSTS IN GERMANY, AUSTRIA, JAPAN AND THE RYUKYU ISLANDS; THE SENATE $900,000,000.

(3) THE HOUSE VOTED $50,000,000 AID FOR TURKEY AND GREECE; THE SENATE $45,000,000.

HOOVER

PALO ALTO, CALIF., AUG. 11-(AP)-THE NATION TODAY HAD THE SOBER WARNING OF ITS ONLY LIVING FORMER PRESIDENT THAT ITS SPENDING POLICIES, IF UNCHECKED, WILL ROB POSTERITY OF ITS INHERITANCE.

FORMER PRESIDENT HERBERT HOOVER, IN A SIGNIFICANT ADDRESS, ASSERTED LAST NIGHT THAT THE UNITED STATES "IS BLISSFULLY DRIVING DOWN THE BACK ROAD TO COLLECTIVISM AT TOP SPEED."

"WE HAVE NOT HAD A GREAT SOCIALIZATION OF PROPERTY," HE SAID, "BUT WE ARE ON THE LAST MILE TO COLLECTIVISM THROUGH GOVERNMENTAL COLLECTION AND SPENDING OF THE SAVINGS OF THE PEOPLE."

THE COUNTRY'S PRESIDENT FROM 1929 TO 1933 SPOKE BEFORE AN ESTIMATED 10,000 PERSONS IN THE BEAUTIFUL GRASS-CARPETED LAURENCE FROST MEMORIAL BOWL ON THE STANFORD UNIVERSITY, CAMPUS, VIRTUALLY IN THE SHADOW OF THE HOOVER INSTITUTE AND LIBRARY ON WAR, REVOLUTION AND PEACE, FOUNDED IN 1915.

THE OCCASION WAS HIS 75TH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION, SPONSORED BY THE UNIVERSITY IN TRIBUTE TO ITS MOST FAMOUS SON, A GRADUATE OF ITS FIRST CLASS IN 1895.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S MESSAGE OF CONGRATULATIONS AND GOOD WISHES WAS AMONG THE THOUSANDS WHICH CAME FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD. SOME OF THEM CAME FROM FOREIGN LANDS WHERE HOOVER'S ADMINISTRATION OF RELIEF ESTABLISHED HIS NAME AS A GREAT HUMANITARIAN.

HOOVER HEADED A SPECIAL COMMISSION ON GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION WHICH RECENTLY COMPLETED A TWO-YEAR STUDY WITH A REPORT RECOMMENDING ECONOMIES OF FOUR BILLION DOLLARS A YEAR.

IN HIS TALK, BROADCAST BY THE FOUR MAJOR NETWORKS, HE SAID:

"MY WORD TO YOU, MY FELLOW CITIZENS, ON THIS SEVENTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY IS THIS: THE FOUNDING FATHERS DEDICATED THE STRUCTURE OF OUR GOVERNMENT 'TO SECURE THE BLESSINGS OF LIBERTY TO OURSELVES AND OUR POSTERITY'. WE OF THIS GENERATION INHERITED THIS PRECIOUS BLESSING. YET AS SPENDTHRIFTS WE ARE ON OUR WAY TO ROB POSTERITY OF ITS INHERITANCE.

"THE AMERICAN PEOPLE HAVE SOLVED MANY GREAT CRISES IN NATIONAL LIFE. THE QUALITIES OF SELF-RESTRAINT, OF INTEGRITY, OF CONSCIENCE AND COURAGE STILL LIVE IN OUR PEOPLE. IT IS NOT TOO LATE TO SUMMON THESE QUALITIES."

ASSAILING NEW FEDERAL AND STATE PROPOSALS FOR SPENDING TAXES, HE SAID:

AUG 12 1949

"ALONG THIS ROAD OF SPENDING, THE GOVERNMENT EITHER TAKES OVER, WHICH IS SOCIALISM, OR DICTATES INSTITUTIONAL AND ECONOMIC LIFE, WHICH IS FASCISM."

HE SAID "THE AMERICAN MIND IS TROUBLED BY THE GROWTH OF COLLECTIVISM THROUGHOUT THE WORLD."

THE "FEW HUNDRED THOUSAND COMMUNISTS AND THEIR FELLOW TRAVELERS IN THIS COUNTRY" HE TERMED A "NUISANCE" WHO REQUIRE ATTENTION BUT WHO CANNOT DESTROY THE REPUBLIC. AND THERE ARE ALSO "THE DOCTRINAIRE SOCIALISTS WHO PEACEFULLY DREAM OF THEIR UTOPIA."

BUT HE EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT "A CONSIDERABLE GROUP OF FUZZY-MINDED PEOPLE WHO ARE ENGINEERING A COMPROMISE WITH ALL THESE EUROPEAN INFECTIONS."

"THEY FAIL TO REALIZE THAT OUR AMERICAN SYSTEM HAS GROWN AWAY FROM THE SYSTEMS OF EUROPE FOR 250 YEARS. THEY HAVE THE FOOLISH NOTION THAT A COLLECTIVIST ECONOMY CAN AT THE SAME TIME PRESERVE PERSONAL LIBERTY AND CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT."

HE POINTED TO THE "AUSTERITY" IN ENGLAND AS "A SUFFICIENT SPECTACLE."

HOOVER SAID "MR.AVERAGE WORKING CITIZEN" NOW MUST WORK 61 DAYS

A YEAR TO SUPPORT LOCAL, STATE AND FEDERAL GOVERNMENT. PROPOSED ADDITIONAL GOVERNMENT SPENDING WOULD TAKE ANOTHER 20 DAYS' WORK, HE SAID.

HE ESTIMATED THE COST OF ALL GOVERNMENT TO THE AVERAGE FAMILY, EXCLUSIVE OF FEDERAL DEBT SERVICE, HAD JUMPED FROM $200 TO $1,300 A YEAR IN THE LAST 20 YEARS, AND THAT THIS MIGHT GO TO $1,900 WITH DEBT SERVICE AND NEW PROPOSED EXPENDITURES. ABOUT ONE PERSON IN SEVEN NOW IS A REGULAR RECIPIENT OF GOVERNMENT MONIES, HE ASSERTED.

HE PLACED MUCH OF THE BLAME FOR HEAVY GOVERNMENT SPENDING ON THE PEOPLE THEMSELVES, AS REPRESENTED BY "THE MULTITUDE OF GREAT PRESSURE GROUPS."

HE URGED THINKING AND DEBATE IN THE SCHOOLS AND IN EVERY CORNER GROCERY ON THE PROBLEMS OF GOVERNMENT.

"WE DARE NOT SEE THE BIRTHRIGHT OF POSTERITY TO INDIVIDUAL INDEPENDENCE, INITIATIVE AND FREEDOM OF CHOICE BARTERED FOR A MESS OF COLLECTIVIST SYSTEM," HE DECLARED.

(800) NIGHT LEAD TRUMAN (ROUNDUP)

BY D.HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON,AUG.11-(AP)-PRESIDENT TRUMAN SAID TODAY THE REMARK OF FORMER PRESIDENT HOOVER THAT THE NATION IS "ON THE LAST MILE" OF THE BACK ROAD TO COLLECTIVISM SOUNDS FUNNY TO HIM AND HE DOESN'T THINK IT IS SO.

THE RETORT, ACCOMPANIED BY A CHUCKLE, CAME AT A NEWS CONFERENCE WHEN A REPORTER ASKED ABOUT THE SPEECH HOOVER MADE AT HIS 75TH BIRTHDAY CEREMONY YESTERDAY AT PALO ALTO,CALIF. THE NEWSMAN DID NOT MENTION THE FORMER PRESIDENT BY NAME BUT QUOTED THE REFERENCE TO COLLECTIVISM.

THE ELDER STATESMAN OF THE OPPOSITION PARTY, WHO WAS CONGRATULATED BY MR.TRUMAN IN A BIRTHDAY MESSAGE, DECLARED THAT "THROUGH GOVERNMENT SPENDING AND TAXES OUR NATION IS BLISSFULLY DRIVING DOWN THE BACK ROAD" TO COLLECTIVISM AND IS "ON THE LAST MILE."

WHEN THE QUESTION WAS PUT TODAY, THE PRESIDENT LAUGHED AND ASKED: WHAT WAS THAT? SAY THAT AGAIN. IT SOUNDS FUNNY TO ME. I DON'T KNOW WHAT THAT IS, BUT I DON'T THINK IT IS SO.

THE REPLY WAS IN CONTRAST TO THE STERN MANNER THE PRESIDENT ASSUMED IN ANSWERING OTHER QUESTIONS, PARTICULARLY ABOUT HIS MILITARY AIDE, MAJ.GEN.HARRY H.VAUGHAN. THE LATTER'S NAME HAS FIGURED PROMINENTLY IN THE SENATE INVESTIGATION OF THOSE WHO HELP BUSINESSMEN GET GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS FOR A FEE.

MR.TRUMAN SAID HE HAS NOT CHANGED HIS ATTITUDE TOWARD VAUGHAN IN THE SLIGHTEST IN THE LIGHT OF TESTIMONY SO FAR ADDUCED. HE REPEATED THAT VAUGHAN IS FREE TO TESTIFY IF CALLED, BUT THAT HE HAS NOT TALKED WITH CHAIRMAN HOEY (D-NC) OF THE COMMITTEE ABOUT THAT POSSIBILITY.

HE SAID HE DID NOT WANT IN ANY WAY TO INFLUENCE HOEY'S JUDGMENT, BUT WANTS THE SENATOR TO GET THE FACTS AND SATISFY HIMSELF.

HE REPLIED WITH A FIRM--HE WILL NOT--WHEN A REPORTER INQUIRED WHETHER SECRETARY OF THE ARMY GRAY WILL BE AS FREE TO RELIEVE VAUGHAN AS HE WAS IN TEMPORARILY SUSPENDING MAJOR GENERALS ALDEN H.WAITT, CHIEF OF THE CHEMICAL CORPS, AND HERMAN FELDMAN, QUARTERMASTER GENERAL.

GRAY ANNOUNCED THE SUSPENSIONS JULY 16, PENDING FURTHER INVESTIGATION BY THE SENATE COMMITTEE. HE SAID THE COMMITTEE HAD EVIDENCE INDICATING THE TWO GENERALS "EXHIBITED A LACK OF JUDGMENT AND SENSE OF PROPRIETY WHICH MUST BE EXPECTED OF PERSONS IN THEIR POSITIONS."

THE FIRST QUESTION PUT TODAY ABOUT VAUGHAN WAS THIS:

"MR.PRESIDENT, DO YOU THINK IT WAS WITHIN THE REALM OF PROPRIETY FOR YOUR MILITARY AIDE AND VETERANS' AFFAIRS COORDINATOR TO HELP A RACE TRACK GET SCARCE BUILDING MATERIALS WHEN THERE WAS A SERIOUS SHORTAGE OF THESE MATERIALS FOR VETERANS' HOUSING?"

MR.TRUMAN SAID HE WOULD NOT COMMENT ON THAT BECAUSE HE DID NOT KNOW IF THAT WAS A FACT. HE TOLD THE REPORTER HE DIDN'T EITHER. THE REPORTER CAME BACK WITH THE STATEMENT THAT IT WAS THE TESTIMONY OF THE PRESIDENT'S HOUSING EXPEDITER. STILL THE PRESIDENT WOULD NOT COMMENT

VAUGHAN WAS NOT PRESENT AT THE NEWS CONFERENCE FOR THE SECOND WEEK IN A ROW. WAS THIS SIGNIFICANT? MR.TRUMAN SAID NO, HE IMAGINED VAUGHAN HAD SOME OFFICE APPOINTMENTS. BUT VAUGHAN IS NOT AFRAID OF YOU, DON'T YOU WORRY ABOUT THAT, HE ADDED IN DEFENSE OF HIS ONE-TIME SENATE SECRETARY AND WAR BUDDY.

AFRAID OF WHO? ANOTHER REPORTER ASKED. AFRAID OF YOU, THE PRESIDENT SAID, POINTING.

ASKED IF HE INTENDED TO MAKE ANY PERSONAL DETERMINATION OF THE FACTS, MR.TRUMAN SAID HE DID NOT. HE ADDED HE IS NOT CONDUCTING THE HEARING, BUT THAT WHEN HE WAS HEAD OF THE WARTIME SENATE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE HE GOT THE FACTS.

AT THE OUTSET, THE PRESIDENT ANNOUNCED THE APPOINTMENT OF GEN.OMAR N.BRADLEY, NOW ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF, AS CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF OF ALL THE ARMED SERVICES, A JOB CREATED IN THE NEW UNIFICATION ACT SIGNED YESTERDAY.

GEN.DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER, PRESIDENT OF COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, WAS BEEN SERVING AS TEMPORARY PRESIDING OFFICER OF THE JOINT CHIEFS SINCE FEBRUARY.

THE PRESIDENT MADE PUBLIC A LETTER HE SENT TO EISENHOWER THANKING HIM FOR A "DIFFICULT JOB WELL DONE."

HE ALSO REAPPOINTED ADMIRAL LOUIS E.DENFELD AS CHIEF OF NAVAL OPERATIONS FOR ANOTHER TWO YEARS DATING FROM NEXT DEC. 15. HE SAID HE HAS NOT YET SELECTED A SUCCESSOR TO GEN.BRADLEY AS ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF.

AUG 12 1949

ON OTHER SUBJECTS THE PRESIDENT HAD THIS TO SAY:

HE STILL FEELS THAT GENERAL DOUGLAS MACARTHUR IS AT LIBERTY TO COME HOME IF HE SEES FIT, BUT THE GENERAL HAS YET TO SAY HE WANTS TO. A NUMBER OF SENATORS HAVE SUGGESTED THAT HE BE CALLED HOME TO TESTIFY ON CHINA, GENERAL PACIFIC QUESTIONS AND ARMS ASSISTANCE FOR EUROPE.

HE DISAGREES WITH A CONTENTION THAT HIS APPOINTMENT OF A FACT-FINDING BOARD IN THE STEEL DISPUTE WILL PROVE THE RUINATION OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING. CLARENCE B.RANDALL, PRESIDENT OF INLAND STEEL, SAID IN NEW YORK TODAY THAT CREATING THE BOARD MEANT THAT WAGES WILL BE FIXED BY THE GOVERNMENT AND COLLECTIVE BARGAINING ENDED. THE PRESIDENT SAID SUCH BOARDS HAVE BEEN SET UP FOR 15 OR 20 YEARS AND THEY WILL NOT END BARGAINING.

IT MAY TAKE THREE MONTHS TO WORK OUT A PLAN FOR CHANNELING FEDERAL CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS TO AREAS HARDEST HIT BY UNEMPLOYMENT. THERE IS NO INTENTION TO AVOID PUBLIC BIDDING IN THE LETTING OF SUCH CONTRACTS.

HE BELIEVES CONGRESS SHOULD STAY UNTIL IT PASSES AN AID-TO-EDUCATION BILL. HE WILL NOT COMMENT ON MINIMUM WAGE LEGISLATION UNTIL ONE REACHES HIS DESK.

IF HE CAN ARRANGE IT, HE WOULD LIKE TO GO TO DES MOINES,IOWA, TO ATTEND THE MEETING OF THE AMERICAN VETERANS OF WORLD WAR II.

THE PRESIDENT REMARKED THAT THE THERMOMETER READ 96 ON HIS OFFICE PORCH TODAY. IT WAS 84 INSIDE.

NIGHT LEAD FIVE PERCENTERS
BY STERLING F.GREEN

AUG 12 1949

WASHINGTON,AUG 11-(AP)-A FLEETING MENTION OF THE SHIPMENT OF A DEEP FREEZER TO MAJ.GEN.HARRY H.VAUGHAN CREATED TODAY WHAT SENATOR MUNDT (R-SD) CALLED AN "AROMA OF MYSTERY" IN THE SENATE INVESTIGATION T

FREEZER TO MAJ.GEN.HARRY H.VAUGHAN CREATED TODAY WHAT SENATOR MUNDT (R-SD) CALLED AN "AROMA OF MYSTERY" IN THE SENATE INVESTIGATION OF "FIVE PERCENTERS."

BUT PRESIDENT TRUMAN TOLD HIS NEWS CONFERENCE THE FREQUENT MENTION OF HIS ARMY AIDE IN THE SENATE PROBE HAD NOT CHANGED HIS OPINION OF VAUGHAN. HE MADE PLAIN THAT VAUGHAN WAS NOT GOING TO BE SUSPENDED, AS TWO OTHER GENERALS HAVE BEEN.

A MILWAUKEE BUSINESSMAN TOLD THE SENATORS HE SENT THE FREEZER TO VAUGHAN. IT WAS PAID FOR, SAID WITNESS ALBERT J.GROSS, BY THE ALBERT VERLY CO., CHICAGO PERFUME MANUFACTURERS.

SEVERAL OTHER WASHINGTONIANS GOT HOME FREEZERS PAID FOR BY THE PERFUME COMPANY, GROSS ADDED--AND HE WAS STOPPED AT ABOUT THAT POINT, WHILE SENATORS AND STAFF MEMBERS BUZZED AMONG THEMSELVES.

LATER, SOME SENATORS SAID THEY UNDERSTOOD GROSS WOULD HAVE TESTIFIED THAT AT LEAST FIVE FREEZING UNITS WERE SHIPPED TO VERY HIGHLY PLACED GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, OR THEIR FAMILIES. AT LEAST ONE OF THESE OFFICIALS WAS UNDERSTOOD TO HAVE DENIED, HOWEVER, THAT HE EVER GOT A FREEZER.

CHAIRMAN HOEY (D-NC) RULED THAT THE SPECIAL INVESTIGATING SUBCOMMITTEE DIDN'T KNOW YET WHETHER THE FREEZERS WERE PURCHASES OR GIFTS. HE STOPPED THE LINE OF TESTIMONY, PENDING FURTHER EVIDENCE.

BUT MUNDT, SPEAKING SWIFTLY, ALREADY HAD SLIPPED INTO THE RECORD A REMARK THAT IT WAS THE "ASSUMPTION" VAUGHAN HAD NOT PAID FOR HIS FREEZER.

MUNDT AND A FELLOW REPUBLICAN, SENATOR MCCARTHY (WIS) "RELUCTANTLY" AGREED TO HALT THE QUESTIONING. MUNDT COMPLAINED, HOWEVER, THAT HOEY'S RULING LEFT "AN AROMA OF MYSTERY."

IT WAS NOT THE ONLY MYSTERY. THE VERLY COMPANY, MCCARTHY RECALLED, FORMERLY EMPLOYED JOHN MARAGON, THE FABULOUS FORMER BOOTBLACK WHO VISITS VAUGHAN AT THE WHITE HOUSE AND HAS BEEN QUESTIONED PRIVATELY BY THE COMMITTEE.

NOR WAS IT THE ONLY AROMA. AS TENSION HEIGHTENED IN THE SMALL AND CROWDED HEARING CHAMBER, SENATOR MCCARTHY BROKE IT BY SUGGESTING THE COMMITTEE STAFF MIGHT TRY TO FIND SENATOR MUNDT SOME CIGARS "WITH TOBACCO IN THEM." MUNDT JOINED IN THE LAUGHTER AND WENT ON EMITTING BILLOWS OF SMOKE.

THE DAY'S QUEST FOR INFORMATION ON "FIVE PERCENTERS"--INDIVIDUALS WHO, FOR A PERCENTAGE FEE, GET FEDERAL CONTRACTS FOR BUSINESSMEN--PRODUCED THESE DEVELOPMENTS:

1. A FORMER WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATION OFFICIAL TESTIFIED HE SENT LETTERS CONTAINING INFORMATION ON SURPLUS OFFERINGS TO JAMES V.HUNT, THE NO. 1 TARGET OF THE SENATE PROBE INTO THE ALLEGED USE OF "INFLUENCE ON GOVERNMENT MEN.

2. SENATOR MUNDT CHARGED THAT ONE OF THE LETTERS TRANSMITTING THE INFORMATION WAS A "BLATANT INVITATION FOR BRIBERY OR CONNIVANCE" IN THE SALE OF $100,000,000 WORTH OF SURPLUS AUTOMOTIVE PARTS. THE WITNESS, CLARENCE W.OEHLER, SAID IT WAS MERELY PUBLIC INFORMATION.

3. THE FORMER WAA MAN, SAID HE FURNISHED HUNT WITH MATCH FOLDERS MARKED "WHITE HOUSE", "H.S.T.", AND "H.H.V."--THE INITIALS OF THE PRESIDENT AND HIS AIDE.

4. THE MILWAUKEEAN, GROSS, SAID HE HIRED HUNT IN 1946 TO HELP HIM GET SCARCE STEEL FOR $1,000 A MONTH AND 10 PERCENT OF THE STEEL PRICE. HE GOT NO STEEL, HE SAID, AND PAID ONLY $2,000 IN ALL.

AT THAT TIME, HUNT WAS WORKING FOR WAA, THE SURPLUS DISPOSAL AGENCY, AS A CONSULTANT AT $50 A DAY, GROSS TESTIFIED.

5. THE SENATORS WERE TOLD THAT A NEW YORK MANUFACTURER PURCHASED A $20,000 LEATHER GOODS PLANT TO PRODUCE BELTS UNDER A $782,000 ARMY CONTRACT, ONLY TO LEARN THAT THE CONTRACT WAS "ENTIRELY PHONEY." A FORMER ARMY QUARTERMASTER EMPLOYE "LANDED" THE FICTITIOUS CONTRACT FOR HIM, IT WAS TESTIFIED.

MOST OF THE REPORTERS WHO CROWDED INTO PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S OFFICE DIDN'T KNOW ABOUT THE DEEP FREEZE TESTIMONY, WHICH CAME LATE IN THE DAY. THEY HAD IN MIND YESTERDAY'S TESTIMONY--THAT VAUGHAN HELPED TANFORAN RACETRACK GET CLEARANCE FOR CONSTRUCTION IN EARLY 1948, WHEN A RECREATIONAL BUILDING WAS RESTRICTED FOR THE BENEFIT OF HOUSING.

THE FIRST QUESTION WAS: WHAT DID THE PRESIDENT THINK OF VAUGHAN HELPING THE RACETRACK OWNERS. MR.TRUMAN SAID HE DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS A FACT AND NEITHER DID THE REPORTER.

IT WAS NOTED THAT VAUGHAN WAS NOT PRESENT. HE USUALLY STANDS, FAULTLESSLY UNIFORMED, WITH OTHER STAFF MEMBERS BEHIND THE PRESIDENT. A REPORTER REMARKED ON HIS ABSENCE. THE PRESIDENT SAID:

HE'S NOT AFRAID OF YOU. DON'T WORRY ABOUT THAT.

MR.TRUMAN TOLD ANOTHER QUESTIONER THAT THE SECRETARY OF THE ARMY IS NOT FREE TO SUSPEND VAUGHAN FROM ACTIVE DUTY IN THE WAY THAT TWO OTHER MAJOR GENERALS HAVE BEEN SUSPENDED SINCE THE "FIVE PERCENT" STORM BLEW UP.

THE CHIEFS OF THE ARMY'S QUARTERMASTER CORPS AND CHEMICAL CORPS, GENERALS HERMAN FELDMAN AND ALDEN WAITT RESPECTIVELY, WERE SUSPENDED JULY 16.

THEN CAME THE CLINCHER: "HAS ANYTHING THAT HAS HAPPENED ON CAPITOL HILL CHANGED YOUR ATTITUDE TOWARD GENERAL VAUGHAN?"

NOT IN THE SLIGHTEST, SAID THE PRESIDENT.

HE REPEATED THAT VAUGHAN IS FREE TO TESTIFY AT THE HEARING IF HE CARES TO.

AUG 12 1949

AT THE OTHER END OF PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, WITNESS GROSS WAS TELLING THE SENATORS THAT HE HIRED HUNT TO FIND HIM STEEL AFTER HUNT SPOKE OF HAVING INFLUENCE WITH GENERAL VAUGHAN.

HE SAID HUNT ALSO CLAIMED FRIENDSHIP WITH FORMER POSTMASTER GENERAL ROBERT M.HANEGAN AND LT.GEN.EDMUND GREGORY, FORMER CHIEF OF THE WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATION.

GROSS, NOW WITH TRACTOR SPECIALTIES,INC., OF MILWAUKEE, SAID HE NEEDED STEEL DESPERATELY TO KEEP HIS MANUFACTURING FIRM FROM GOING OUT OF BUSINESS.

HE GAVE THE OPINION THAT HUNT WAS "SELLING ME A BILL OF GOODS--I GOT THE IMPRESSION I WAS IN VERY GOOD HANDS."

BUT THE DEAL PRODUCED "NOT ONE PENNY'S WORTH OF ANYTHING--NOT EVEN A DECENT LETTER," HE SAID.

GROSS TESTIFIED THAT ALL THE HOME FREEZERS HE SHIPPED TO WASHINGTON WERE PAID FOR EITHER BY THE VERLY COMPANY OR ITS HEAD, DAVID BENNETT.

LATER A COMMITTEE MEMBER TOLD REPORTERS THAT "FIVE OR SIX" FREEZERS WENT TO OTHER GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS BUT ADDED:

"IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN A PERFECTLY INNOCENT THING. WE WANT TO FIND OUT THE CIRCUMSTANCES BEFORE WE LET ANY MORE OF IT GO IN THE RECORD. WE DON'T WANT TO SMEAR ANYONE."

WILLIAM P.ROGERS, CHIEF COUNSEL FOR THE COMMITTEE, EXPLAINED THAT THE STAFF HAD NOT YET HAD A CHANCE TO LEARN WHERE THE MONEY CAME FROM. "NOTHING WILL BE LOST BY WAITING UNTIL TOMORROW," HE SAID.

GROSS SAID HIS LAWYER "GAVE ME A VERBAL SPANKING" FOR HAVING SIGNED THE CONTRACT WITH HUNT. HE TERMINATED IT, HE SAID, AFTER GIVING HUNT

30.24- 4991

"$1,000 WHEN I KISSED HIM HELLO AND $1,000 WHEN I KISSED HIM GOODBYE."

THE TESTIMONY-TAKING ENDED WITH THE SENATORS LISTENING ALMOST UNBELIEVINGLY TO A TALE OF FICTITIOUS ARMY CONTRACTS.

LT.COL.RALPH SCHALLER, CHIEF OF AIR FORCE PROCUREMENT INVESTIGATIONS, AND GEORGE L.LIVINGSTONE OF THE AURANTIC CORPORATION, BROOKLYN, WERE THE WITNESSES.

BOTH NAMED JOSEPH E.RIVERE OF LYNBROOK,L.I.,N.Y., A FORMER QUARTERMASTER CORPS EMPLOYE, AS THE MAN WHO PRODUCED THE CONTRACTS.

AT HIS LYNBROOK, N.Y., HOME, HIS WIFE SAID RIVERE WAS IN WASHINGTON BUT SHE DID NOT KNOW WHERE HE COULD BE REACHED FOR COMMENT THERE.

SCHALLER SAID OTTO L.HERBST, PRESIDENT OF THE HEGA KNITTING MILLS, YONKERS,N.Y., HAD PURCHASED THE NEW YORKER LEATHER GOODS CO. ON THE STRENGTH OF AN ARMY CONTRACT FOR 85,000 TROOP SAFETY BELTS.

THE COLONEL SAID HIS INQUIRY SHOWED THAT RIVERE HAD REPRESENTED TO HERBST HE COULD GET THE $782,000 CONTRACT AND ACTUALLY HAD PRODUCED A CONTRACT THAT WAS "FICTITIOUS." THE CASE HAS GONE TO THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT, HE SAID.

LIVINGSTONE TOLD THE SENATORS THAT RIVERE CAME TO HIM IN SEPTEMBER, 1948, CLAIMING THAT HE KNEW "EVERYBODY WHO WAS ANYBODY" IN THE QUARTERMASTER CORPS. LIVINGSTONE SAID HE PAID RIVERE $560 FOR EXPENSES ENTAILED IN GETTING HIM ARMY CONTRACTS.

RIVERE CAME UP WITH "WHAT APPEARED TO BE A CONTRACT" FOR 100,000 HALF-GALLONS OF INSECTICIDE, AT $95,000. LIVINGSTONE SAID HE IS NOW SATISFIED THE CONTRACT WAS A "COMPLETE FRAUD."

STAR WITNESS OF THE MORNING SESSION WAS OEHLER, THE FORMER WAA EMPLOYE FROM ST.LOUIS WHO TOLD HOW HE FURNISHED INFORMATION ON PENDING GOVERNMENT SURPLUS SALES TO HUNT.

IT PROMPTED MUNDT'S OUTCRY OF "INVITATION TO BRIBERY OR CONNIVANCE" AND WAS DESCRIBED BY WAA, IN A LETTER TO THE COMMITTEE, AS AN "IMPROPER DISCLOSURE" OF INFORMATION.

THE INFORMATION GIVEN HUNT WAS RESTRICTED DATA "NOT AVAILABLE TO THE PUBLIC," THE WAA LETTER SAID. AT THIS STAGE, THE AGENCY SAID, IT IS UNCERTAIN "WHETHER ANY CRIMINAL VIOLATION WAS INVOLVED."

BUT OEHLER, WEARILY MURMURING HIS TESTIMONY, SAID THE INFORMATION ON SALES OF AUTOMOTIVE PARTS WAS NOT CONFIDENTIAL, EVEN THOUGH HE SO DESCRIBED IT IN ONE OF HIS LETTERS TO HUNT.

"I WAS TRYING TO BUILD MYSELF UP WITH COLONEL HUNT SO I WOULD HAVE A FUTURE JOB," HE EXPLAINED.

ONE LETTER, IDENTIFIED AS HAVINVMBEEN OBTAINED FROM HUNT'S FILES, TOLD OF OEHLER FURNISHING HUNT WITH MATCH FOLDERS MARKED "WHITE HOUSE," "H.S.T." AND "H.H.V."

IN ANOTHER LETTER OEHLER WROTE: "YOU SAY HARRY V. WANTS TO HAVE MATCH SETS FOR AN AMBASSADOR. OKAY CAN DO."

OEHLER NOTIFIED HUNT HE WAS SHIPPING HIM ONE BOX EACH OF THE FOLDERS WITH DISTINGUISHED INITIALS "FOR YOUR PERSONAL USE AND FUN." HE WAS KEEPING A FEW FOR HIMSELF, HE SAID--"THE USUAL POLITICAL PERCENTAGE."

THE WITNESS ADMITTED WRITING A SERIES OF LETTERS IN 1947 ON SURPLUS DISPOSAL DEVELOPMENTS TO HUNT. THE LATTER, A FORMER QUARTERMASTER OFFICER, HAD BY THEN LEFT WAA AND SET UP HIS BUSINESS COUNSELOR OFFICE IN WASHINGTON.

HUNT HAS BEEN ACCUSED BY AN EARLIER WITNESS OF SELLING HIS "INFLUENCE WITH GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS IN THE LETTING OF GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS. HE HAS DENIED THE CHARGES, BUT BECAUSE OF ILLNESS HAS NOT BEEN CALLED FOR TESTIMONY.

AS FRANCIS D.FLANAGAN, COMMITTEE STAFF INVESTIGATOR, CONFRONTED OEHLER WITH THE LETTERS FROM HUNT'S FILES, OEHLER DECLARED HUNT NEITHER ASKED FOR THE SURPLUS INFORMATION NOR PAID FOR IT. FLANAGAN SAID HE FOUND NO EVIDENCE OF ANY PAYMENT.

OEHLER EXPLAINED HE WAS CONCERNED OVER LOSING HIS POSITION AS WAREHOUSE SPECIALIST FOR WAA IN THE WESTERN AREA. WAA WAS REDUCED ITS FORCE, HE SAID, AND HE FELT HUNT MIGHT BE OF HELP IN GETTING HIM INTO PRIVATE INDUSTRY.

"ANY INFORMATION I GAVE COLONEL HUNT WAS OF A PUBLIC NATURE," HE ADDED. "NONE OF IT WAS CONFIDENTIAL."

HOEY ASKED: "DID YOU MARK IT CONFIDENTIAL JUST TO FOOL MR.HUNT?"

"THAT'S RIGHT," SAID OEHLER.

THE LETTER WHICH STIRRED MUNDT'S OUTBURST WAS DATED AUG. 15,1947. IN IT OEHLER TOLD HUNT OF WAA PLANS TO SELL IN HIS AREA AUTOMOTIVE PARTS WHICH COST THE GOVERNMENT $100,000,000.

"I WILL DIRECT THE PROGRAM," OEHLER WROTE, ADDING: "I HAVE CARTE BLANCHE TO SELL THEM NOW ON NEGOTIATED OR BID OR ODD-LOT SALE."

THE LETTER SAID "THIS IS CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION," WITH THE WORDS "CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION" UNDERLINED. IT TOLD HUNT "THE TIME IS RIPE" TO GET INTO OPERATION. OEHLER SAID HE FELT SOME MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS "CAN MAKE A GOOD DEAL PROCURING THESE PARTS."

MUNDT SPOKE UP. HE ASKED FLANAGAN, WHO WAS READING THE MISSIVE ALOUD, WHETHER IT CONTAINED ANYTHING THAT "OFFERS ANY JUSTIFICATION FOR A WAA EMPLOYE PASSING ALONG THIS SECRET INFORMATION."

BEFORE FLANAGAN COULD REPLY, MUNDT DENOUNCED THE LETTER AS A "BLATANT INVITATION FOR BRIBERY OR CONNIVANCE OF SOME KIND."

THE SENATOR SAID OEHLER WAS TELLING HUNT IN EFFECT: "I GOT SOME PRETTY HOT STUFF, AND WE CAN GET TOGETHER." HE WENT ON:

"I SEE NO OTHER CONCEIVABLE JUSTIFICATION FOR A MAN ON THE INSIDE DISCLOSING SECRET INFORMATION OF TREMENDOUS VALUE TO SOMEONE WILLING TO CUT CORNERS."

BUT THE PARTLY BALD OEHLER SAT PASSIVELY AND, AS THE QUESTIONING DEVELOPED, ADMITTED THAT STATEMENT AFTER STATEMENT IN HIS LETTERS WAS UNTRUE.

ASKED WHETHER HE "MISREPRESENTED" IN CLAIMING TO BE IN CHARGE OF THE AUTO PARTS SALE, HE SAID "YES." ASKED WHETHER HE HAD CARTE BLANCHE FOR THE DISPOSAL, HE REPLIED:

"THAT'S A MISSTATEMENT. I HAD NO AUTHORITY. X X X I HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH THE DISPOSAL."

SENATOR MCCARTHY ASKED IF IT WERE TRUE, AS OEHLER HAD TOLD HUNT IN A LETTER, THAT IT WAS NECESSARY TO KNOW THE "PROPER GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL" TO OBTAIN FEDERAL CONTRACTS.

"ABSOLUTELY NOT," SAID THE WITNESS.

MCCARTHY BORED IN AGAIN. HE CALLED OEHLER'S ATTENTION TO HIS STATEMENT IN A LETTER THAT HUNT, BY APPROACHING TOP-LEVEL PEOPLE, "COULD HAVE ME CALLED TO WASHINGTON."

OEHLER CHUCKLED WANLY: "THAT'S A FIGMENT OF THE IMAGINATION."

THESE WERE AMONG FURTHER LETTERS READ INTO THE RECORD BY FLANAGAN:

MAY 1,1947, OEHLER TO HUNT: INFORMATION THAT THE ARMY AND NAVY PLANNED TO STORE SURPLUS MACHINE TOOLS IN ORDNANCE DEPOTS, WITH PRIVATE CONTRACTORS TO BE EMPLOYED TO "UNLOAD, SKID, CLEAN AND REPAIR" THEM AND MAINTAIN THE WAREHOUSES ON LONG-TERM CONTRACTS. OEHLER SAID "THE TIME FOR GETTING INTO THIS IS RIPE," AND SUGGESTED HUNT LINE UP

SOME CONTRACTORS.
AUG. 21,1947, OEHLER TO HUNT: A REPORT THAT OEHLER HAD LEARNED FROM RUFUS MATTHEWS, A CIVILIAN AIDE IN THE QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE, THAT THE QUARTERMASTER CORPS PLANNED TO EXPAND ITS STORAGE OPERATIONS AND LET CONTRACTS TO PRIVATE FIRMS. THE LETTER IDENTIFIED MATTHEWS AS GENERAL FELDMAN'S "RIGHT HAND MAN."
THIS APPARENTLY REFERRED TO MAJ.GEN.HERMAN FELDMAN, THE SUSPENDED QUARTERMASTER GENERAL. THE COMMITTEE PLANS TO REVEAL THE EVIDENCE WHICH LED TO FELDMAN'S SUSPENSION, MEMBERS SAID. BUT IN THIS MORNING'S HEARING, COMMITTEE COUNSEL WILLIAM ROGERS BROKE IN TO SAY THERE WAS NO EVIDENCE THAT MATTHEWS GAVE OEHLER ANY CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION FROM THE QUARTERMASTER CORPS.
"OEHLER'S PURPOSE IN A LOT OF THIS WAS ONLY TO IMPRESS HUNT," ROGERS REMINDED THE COMMITTEE.
SENATOR MARGARET CHASE SMITH (R-ME) WANTED TO KNOW WHETHER THERE WAS "ANY REAL INDICATION" THAT OEHLER "SOLD HIS SERVICES" TO HUNT.

FLANAGAN SAID NO. HE ADDED THAT HUNT DID CONTACT SOME OF THE COMPANIES MENTIONED BY OEHLER AND FAILED TO CONTACT OTHERS, SO "IT IS DIFFICULT TO TELL WHETHER HE CONTACTED THEM BECAUSE OF WHAT OEHLER SAID."
FLANAGAN PRODUCED ONE LETTER, ON WHITE HOUSE STATIONERY, WHICH SAID:
"JIM HUNT: COULD I GET SOME MATCHES MADE FOR MY FRIEND BILL PAWLEY, AMBASSADOR TO BRAZIL? THANKS. HARRY."
THEN FLANAGAN QUOTED FROM A LETTER DATED AUG.18, HUNT TO OEHLER, IN WHICH HUNT WROTE HE WAS INCLOSING A COPY OF THE SIIGNATURE OF AMBASSADOR WILLIAM D.PAWLEY, TO BE INSCRIBED ON A MATCH COVER.
FLANAGAN LEFT THE IMPRESSION THIS WAS CONNECTED WITH THE REQUEST FROM "HARRY V." MENTIONED EARLIER.
OEHLER TOLD THE COMMITTEE HE PAID FOR THE "H.S.T." AND "H.H.V." MATCHES PERSONALLY, AT 2 OR 3 CENTS A PACKAGE. HE SAID HE HAD NEVER HAD ANY CORRESPONDENCE WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN ABOUT THEM.
IN EARLIER TESTIMONY IT WAS DEVELOPED THAT HUNT ORDERED BOOKS OF MATCHES PRINTED "SWIPED FROM HARRY S.TRUMAN."

NIGHT LEAD B-36

AUG 12 1949

BY MORGAN REYNOLDS
WASHINGTON,AUG.11-(AP)-GEN.GEORGE C.KENNEY, WHO ONCE WANTED TO SCRAP THE B-36 PROGRAM UND TURN THE 10,000-MILE BOMBER INTO A FLYING FI
LING STATION, BOASTED TODAY: "NOBODY HAS A FIGHTER PLANE THAT COULD TOUCH IT."
"AS A NIGHT BOMBER OPERATING OVER 40,000 FEET, IT IS PERFECTLY SAFE TO TAKE IT ANYWHERE," THE 60-YEAR OLD PACIFIC WAR VETERAN TOLD THE HOUSE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE.
THE B-36, HE ADDED, CAN "DO ANYTHING" AS A COMBAT CRAFT.
KENNEY'S FLAT ENDORSEMENT OF THE PLANE HE SAID THREE YEARS AGO HE HAD "NO FAITH" IN, CAME AS THE COMMITTEE WENT INTO THE THIRD DAY OF ITS INVESTIGATION OF THE SUPERBOMBER'S HISTORY TO SEE WHETHER ANY POLITICAL OR BUSINESS INFLUENCE WAS INVOLVED IN THE PRODUCTION CONTRACT WITH CONSOLIDATED VULTEE AIRCRAFT CO.
THESE WERE OTHER HIGHLIGHTS:
1. ROBERT P.PATTERSON, FORMER SECRETARY OF WAR, SAID HE ACCEPTED "FULL RESPONSIBILITY" FOR GIVING CONSOLIDATED THE ORDER FOR 100 B-36S IN 1943 EVEN THOUGH THE PLANES HAD NOT THEN BEEN TESTED. HE ACKNOWLEGED THAT THE ACTION WAS "MOST UNUSUAL" BUT SAID THAT WHEN HE CAME INTO THE WAR DEPARTMENT HE WAS "SHOCKED" TO FIND "HOW WEAK WE WERE IN THE AIR."
PATTERSON SAID HE GAVE THE GO-HEAD SIGNAL AFTER TOM GRIDLER, THEN HEAD OF CONSOLIDATED, CAME TO HIM AND PROMISED TO BEAT THE PRODUCTION SCHEDULE BY "10 MONTHS" IF HIS COMPANY WAS GIVEN A 100-PLANE CONTRACT.
AFTER CONSULTING AIR FORCE OFFICIALS, PATTERSON SAID, "THEN AND THERE I GAVE HIM THE ORDER FOR 100 B-36S."
COMMITTEE COUNSEL JOSEPH B.KEENAN ASKED PATTERSON WHETHER HIS DECISION WAS "MOTIVATED IN ANY WAY" BY THE OWNERSHIP OF THE CONSOLIDATED CONCERN. PATTERSON REPLIED:
"NOT IN THE SLIGHTEST. I DIDN'T HAVE THE FAINTEST NOTION WHO HAD FINANCIAL INTEREST IN CONSOLIDATED. I HADN'T MET GIRDLER UNTIL THAT DAY IN 1943."
2. MAJ.GEN.FREDERICK H.SMITH, AIR FORCE REQUIREMENTS CHIEF, INDICATED THAT THE AIR STAFF EXPECTS TO REPLACE THE B-36 IN FIVE OR SIX YEARS WITH THE B-52, A JET BOMBER VERSION OF THE B-29 PRODUCED BY BOEING. SMITH GAVE NO DETAILS OF THE NEW CRAFT WHICH IS STILL IN THE EXPERIMENTAL STAGE. HE SAID NO ORDER HAS YET BEEN PLACED BY THE AIR FORCE.
2. LT.GEN.CURTIS LE MAY, WHO SUCCEEDED KENNEY LAST YEAR AS CHIEF OF THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND, TESTIFIED THAT THE B-36 "WILL FLY ANY COMBAT MISSION THAT I CAN FORESEE." HE BACKED KENNEY'S VIEW THAT NO KNOWN FIGHTER PLANE WOULD BE EFFECTIVE AGAINST THE HIGH-FLYING BOMBER. LE MAY SAID A NIGHT FIGHTER "MIGHT" CATCH A B-36 UNDER SOME CIRCUMSTANCES "BUT IT WOULD ONLY BE AN ACCIDENT."
LE MAY, WHO DIRECTED THE B-29 STRIKES AGAINST JAPAN AND THE DROPPIN OF THE TWO ATOM BOMBS WHICH LED TO NIPPON'S KNUCKLING, TOLD THE COMMITTEE THERE IS NO PLANE WHICH CANNOT BE SHOT DOWN, BUT THAT IT WOULD BE VERY DIFFICULT TO BRING A B-36 DOWN. HE SAID HIS ADVOCACY OF THE PLANE WAS BASED SOLELY ON ITS ABILITY TO GO "ANYWHERE" IN THE WORLD FROM BOMBING BASES IN THIS COUNTRY AND RETURN.
UNDER KEENAN'S QUESTIONING, LE MAY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE AIR FORCE HAS ITS EYES ON ANOTHER LONG RANGE BOMBER, BUT SAID "WHEN A BETTER BOMBER IS DEVELOPED, THE B-36 WON'T BE WIPED OUT BUT WILL BE RELEGATED TO SECOND PLACE."

more

SMITH, WHO HAD BEEN THE CHIEF WITNESS THE PAST TWO DAYS, EARLIER HAD TOLD THE COMMITTEE OF KENNEY'S OPPSOTION TO THE B-36 PROJECT IN WHICH OVER A HALF BILLION DOLLARS HAS BEEN INVESTED. HE TESTIFIED THAT IN 1946 AND AS LATE AS APRIL OF LAST YEAR THAT THE FORMER CHIEF OF THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND HAD INSISTED THAT THE B-36 WAS "INFERIOR" TO THE B-29 AND SHOULD BE USED AS A FLYING TANK CAR TO REFUEL MEDIUM BOMBERS FOR LONG RANGE MISSIONS.

KENNEY, HOWEVER, WHEN HE TOOK THE STAND MADE IT PLAIN THAT HIS PAST DOUBTS HAD BEEN OVERCOME BY CHANGES WHICH HAVE BEEN MADE IN THE SUPER-BOMBER.

AN AIR OFFICER SINCE 1917, KENNEY NOW IS COMMANDER OF THE AIR UNIVERSITY AT MAXWELL FIELD, ALA. DURING THE LAST WAR HE SERVED AS ALLIED AIR CHIEF IN THE PACIFIC.

KENNEY SAID HIS FIRST CONTACT WITH THE B-36 WAS IN 1941 WHEN HE RECOMMENDED THAT THE AIR FORCE BUY IT. THIS DECISION, HE SAID, WAS BASED ON PRELIMINARY PLANS SUBMITTED BY FOUR AIRPLANE MANUFACTURERS. AT THAT TIME KENNEY WAS CHIEF OF PROCUREMENT IN THE AIR MATERIAL COMMAND AT WRIGHT FIELD, OHIO.

ASKED BY KEENAN WHETHER THERE WERE "ANY POLITICAL RAMIFICATIONS" OR OTHER CONSIDERATIONS WHICH INFLUENCED THAT RECOMMENDATION, THE GENERAL REPLIED THAT HE APPROVED THE B-36 PLANS "SOLELY ON THE MERITS OF DESIGN."

KENNEY SAID HE DID NOT HAVE ANY FURTHER DEALINGS WITH THE B-36 PROJECT UNTIL AFTER HIS RETURN FROM THE PACIFIC IN LATE 1946 TO TAKE OVER THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND. HE TOLD THE COMMITTEE HE IMMEDIATELY INQUIRED ABOUT THE PLANE WHICH STILL HAD NOT FLOWN ALTHOUGH THE PRODUCTION SCHEDULE HAD CALLED FOR DELIVERY THE YEAR PREVIOUS.

"I WASN'T TOO HAPPY ABOUT THE INFORMATION I GOT," KENNEY SAID. "THE PLANE DIDN'T SEEM TO BE LIVING UP TO EXPECTATIONS."

HE REPORTED THAT THE PLANE WAS HAVING "A LOT OF TEETHING TOUBLES" WITH PROPELLERS, LANDING GEAR AND ENGINES WHICH "WERE VERY ALARMING TO ME."

"I WAS AN OPERATOR," KENNEY ADDED, "AND I WANTED SOMETHING THAT WOULD OPERATE. I WASN'T INTERESTED IN A LOT OF PRETTY PICTURES."

THE GENERAL THEN RELATED HOW HE RECOMMENDED TO GEN. CARL A. SPAATZ, THEN AIR FORCE COMMANDER, THAT THE B-36 PROGRAM BE REVIEWED AND PERHAPS CUT BACK OR DROPPED. SPAATZ, HOWEVER, AGREED WITH OTHER AIR OFFICERS WHO TOOK AN OPPOSITE VIEW AND THE PROGRAM WAS CONTINUED.

AFTER MORE UPS AND DOWNS, KENNEY SAID THE B-36 SHOWED MORE ENCOURAGING PERFORMANCE AND BY JUNE, 1948, MOST OF THE PLANE'S TROUBLES HAD BEEN ELIMINATED.

THAT WAS THE DATE, GEN.SMITH TESTIFIED YESTERDAY, THAT THE AIR HIGH COMMAND DECIDED TO GO AHEAD WITH THE FULL CONTRACT AFTER THE RUSSIANS CLAMPED DOWN THEIR BLOCKADE ON BERLIN. SINCE THAT TIME, SMITH SAID ADDITIONAL ORDERS FOR 75 MORE B-36S HAVE BEEN PLACED WITH CONSOLIDATED.

KENNEY SUMMED UP HIS VIEW OF THE IMPROVED MODEL THIS WAY:

"THE AIRPLANE ASTONISHED ME, AND I THINK IT ASTONISHED EVERYBODY ELSE. IT WAS ONE OF THOSE LUCKY FREAKS THAT TURNED OUT BETTER THAN IT LOOKED AT FIRST."

BY HARRY P.SNYDER

WASHINGTON, AUG.11-(AP)-GEN. GEORGE C.KENNEY SAID TODAY THE B-36 BOMBER "CAN GO ANYWHERE AND DO ANYTHING" AS A COMBAT PLANE.

ONCE ONE OF THE TOUGHEST FOES OF THE BIG PLANE, KENNEY GAVE IT THIS HIGH PRAISE BEFORE THE HOUSE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE:

"AS A NIGHT BOMBER, OPERATING OVER 40,000 FEET, IT IS PERFECTLY SAFE TO TAKE IT ANYWHERE. NOBODY HAS A FIGHTER PLANE THAT COULD TOUCH IT."

THE STUBBY, GRAY-HAIRED AIR FORCE PIONEER WAS A WARTIME ALLIED AIR COMMANDER IN THE PACIFIC.

HE TOLD HIS STORY TO THE COMMITTEE AFTER IT HEARD FORMER SECRETARY OF WAR ROBERT P.PATTERSON TAKE "FULL RESPONSIBILITY" FOR A PRE-TEST ORDER OF 100 B-36S GIVEN IN 1943 TO GET PRODUCTION ROLLING AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE.

LATER, LT.GEN.CURTIS LE MAY, LEADER OF THE B-29 STRIKES AGAINST JAPAN AND KENNEY'S SUCCESSOR AS THE CHIEF OF THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND, TOLD THE COMMITTEE:

"I KNOW OF NO NIGHT FIGHTER THAT COULD BE BROUGHT AGAINST IT (THE B-36) THAT WOULD BE EFFECTIVE."

LE MAY SAID A NIGHT FIGHTER "MIGHT, AND I SAY MIGHT" CATCH A B-36 UNDER SOME CIRCUMSTANCES, "BUT IT WOULD BE AN ACCIDENT."

THE GENERAL SAID THERE IS NO PLANE THAT CANNOT BE SHOW DOWN, BUT HE ADDED "IT WOULD BE VERY DIFFICULT" TO SHOOT DOWN A B-36.

LE MAY DID NOT AGREE WITH A KENNEY ASSERTION THAT THE B-36 SHOULD BE USED EXCLUSIVELY AS A NIGHT BOMBER. UNDER SOME CONDITIONS IT MIGHT BE ADVISABLE TO USE IT ON DAYLIGHT MISSIONS, HE SAID.

REP.HARDY (D-VA) ASKED LE MAY WHETHER HE THOUGHT THE DDVELOPMENT OF LAND-BASED BOMBERS SUCH AS THE B-36 HAD MADE CARRIER-BASED BOMBING UNNECESSARY.

THAT, LE MAY REPLIED, IS A QUESTION FOR THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF.

IN REPLY TO A QUESTION FROM REP.SHORT (R-MO), LE MAY SAID HE DOES NOT BELIEVE THERE IS ANY CARRIER-BASED BOMBER CAPABLE OF CARRYING OUT AN ATOMIC BOMB ATTACK.

BEFORE KENNEY LEFT THE WITNESS STAND, REP.VAN ZANDT (R-PA) ASKED HIM WHETHER HIS ONCE CRITICIZED VIEWS ON THE B-36 BOMBER HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH HIS TRANSFER LAST FALL FROM THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND TO COMMAND OF THE AIR UNIVERSITY.

"I DON'T THINK SO," KENNEY SAID. "IT NEVER OCCURRED TO ME."

AN AIR OFFICER SINCE 1917 AND NOW COMMANDER OF THE AIR UNIVERSITY AT MAXWELL FIELD, ALA., KENNEY SAID HIS FIRST CONTACT WITH THE B-36 WAS IN 1941, WHEN HE RECOMMENDED THAT THE AIR FORCE BUY IT.

THIS DECISION, HE SAID, WAS BASED ON PRELIMINARY DRAWINGS AND PLANS SUBMITTED BY FOUR AIRPLANE MANUFACTURERS. KENNEY WAS THEN CHIEF OF PROCUREMENT IN THE AIR MATERIEL COMMAND AT WRIGHT FIELD, OHIO.

KENNEY SAID HE APPROVED THE B-36 PLANS "SOLELY ON THE MERITS OF DESIGN." THIS, HE DECLARED, WAS "THE ONLY CONSIDERATION."

HE SAID HE NEXT MET THE B-36 WHEN HE RETURNED FROM THE PACIFIC AFTER THE WAR AND WAS GIVEN COMMAND OF THE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND IN LATE 1946. HE IMMEDIATELY BEGAN TO INQUIRE ABOUT THE PLANE, WHICH STILL HAD NOT FLOWN.

KENNEY SAID THAT "THE PLANE DIDN'T SEEM TO BE LIVING UP TO EXPEC-TATIONS."

IT WAS HAVING "A LOT OF TEETHING TROUBLES," WITH PROPELLERS, THE FLAP SYSTEM, LANDING GEAR AND ENGINES, AND THESE "WERE VERY ALARMING TO ME," HE ADDED.
KENNEY SAID HE RECOMMENDED TO GEN. CARL A.SPAATZ, THEN AIR FORCE COMMANDER, THAT THE B-36 PROGRAM BE REVIEWED AND PERHAPS CURTAILED.
BY JUNE OF 1948, HOWEVER, MOST OF THE PLANE'S TROUBLES HAD BEEN LICKED, KENNEY SAID, ADDING:
"THE AIRPLANE ASTONISHED ME, AND I THINK ASTONISHED EVERYBODY ELSE. THE YOUNGSTERS FLYING IT SAID THEY LIKED IT, AND WITH ALL THE TROUBLES CURED, I SAID 'ALL RIGHT, I'LL BUY IT'."
PATTERSON TOLD THE COMMITTEE HE WAS NOT MOTIVATED BY INTEREST IN ANY OF THE INDIVIDUALS CONNECTED WITH THE CONSOLIDATED AIRCRAFT COMPANY, WHICH BUILDS THE B-36.

GENERAL KENNEY TOLD THE COMMITTEE THE B36 IS A SUPERIOR SHIP AS A NIGHTTIME BOMBER.
"IF I SENT 100 B36S OUT AT NIGHT ON A MISSION," HE SAID, "I WOULD EXPECT TO GET BACK 100 AIRPLANES, BARRING ENGINE TROUBLE."
HE SAID NO ONE HAD A NIGHT FIGHTER THAT COULD SHOOT DOWN THE BIG SHIP AND ADDED THAT HE EXPECTED IT WOULD BE FIVE YEARS BEFORE SUCH AN INTERCEPTOR IS DEVELOPED.
"THERE IS NO REASON TO EXPECT ANYTHING SHOULD INTERFERE WITH THAT PLANE GOING IN AT NIGHT," HE SAID.
REP.SHORT (R-MO) ASKED IF HE THOUGHT THE NAVY'S BANSHEE JET FIGHTER COULD INTERCEPT THE B36.
"NOT AT NIGHT AND AT 40,000 FEET," HE RETORTED.
REP.VINSON (D-GA) ASKED HIM IF IT WERE TRUE THE B-36 IS "ONLY A NIGHT PLANE AND NOT A 24-HOUR PLANE."
"THAT'S THE WAY I WOULD USE IT," HE ANSWERED.
REP.VAN ZANDT (R-PA) ASKED THE GENERAL WHAT EFFECT A GUIDED MISSILE WOULD HAVE ON THE CRAFT.
"IF THEY GET A NIGHT FIGHTER WITH SEARCH RADAR," HE REPLIED, "THE B-36 WILL BECOME A TANKER."
ASKED BY REP.RIVERS (D-SC) IF THE AIR FORCE HAD ADEQUATE FIGHTER PLANES, KENNEY SAID HE DIDN'T KNOW BUT WHEN PRESSED FOR AN OPINION REPLIED, "WE NEED A NIGHT FIGHTER."
KENNEY SUGGESTED IN REPLY TO A QUERY BY SHORT REGARDING THE RUSSIAN AIR FORCE THAT IT SHOULD BE DIRECTED TO THE INTELLIGENCE SERVICE.
"I DON'T MIND SAYING, HOWEVER, THAT I AM NOT WORRIED ABOUT RUSSIAN AERONAUTICAL DEVELOPMENTS," HE SAID. "I THINK WE'VE DONE VERY WELL."
SHORT ASKED THE AIRMAN IF HE AGREED THAT CARRIER-BASED BOMBERS "CONTRIBUTED GREATLY TO OUR VICTORY IN THE PACIFIC" AND WAS TOLD:
"I THINK WE'D BETTER SPLIT SOME OF THE CREDIT."
"OH, THERE'S PLENTY OF GLORY TO GO AROUND," RETORTED SHORT. "I JUST DON'T WANT THE NAVY WASHED OUT."
VINSON OBSERVED THAT IN A RECENT STORY CARRIED BY THE UNITED STATES NEWS "IT LOOKS LIKE THE NAVY HAS ALREADY BEEN WASHED OUT." HE REFERRED TO AN ARTICLE BY DAVID LAWRENCE TO THE EFFECT THAT NAVY EQUIPMENT HAS BEEN CUT DOWN BY LARGE AMOUNTS.
"I KNOW," SAID SHORT, "BUT THERE WILL ALWAYS BE A NAVY."
COMMITTEE COUNSEL KEENAN WANTED TO KNOW IF SECRETARY OF THE AIR FORCE SYMINGTON "OR ANYONE ELSE" HAD INFLUENCED KENNY TO CHANGE HIS OPINION REGARDING THE VALUE OF THE B-36.
"NOBODY COULD SELL ME A BOMBER BUT A BOMBER," THE GENERAL REPLIED, ADDING THAT HE HAD NOT CHANGED HIS OPINION BUT THAT THE AIRCRAFT HAD BEEN CHANGED ENOUGH "TO GET THE BUGS OUT OF IT."
"ANYBODY WHO KNOWS ME," HE SAID, "WILL TELL YOU THAT NOBODY TELLS ME WHAT TO SAY ABOUT AN AIRPLANE."

THE COMMITTEE IS TRYING TO FIND OUT WHY THE AIR FORCE HAS PUSHED THE B36. THE INQUIRY STARTED AFTER REP.VAN ZANDT (R-PA) MADE A SPEECH IN THE HOUSE IN WHICH HE CRITIZIED THE PROGRAM, AND SAID:
"THERE ARE A LOT OF MEMBERS WHO WANT TO ASK A LOT OF QUESTIONS."
PATTERSON SAID HE ALSO HAD A HAND IN GETTING THE COMPANY A CONTRACT FOR THE FIRST TWO EXPERIMENTAL MODELS OF THE NEW LONG-RANGE AIRCRAFT IN 1941.
THE SHIPS HAD NOT BEEN TESTED, HE TOLD THE COMMITTEE, AND THE PLACING OF THE ORDER UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES WAS "MOST UNUSUAL."
"I WAS SHOCKED WHEN I CAME TO THE WAR DEPARTMENT AND FOUND HOW WEAK WE WERE IN THE AIR," PATTERSON SAID. "OUR AIR POWER PROGRAM WAS LARGELY A PAPER PROGRAM."
HE SAID HE WAS IMPRESSED WITH THE INFORMATION THAT THE B-36 BOMBER COULD CARRY A 10,000-POUND BOMB LOAD 10,000 MILES WITHOUT REFUELING.
PATTERSON SAID HE COULD RECALL QUITE CLEARLY THE DAY THE ORDER WAS PLACED FOR THE 100 B-36S.
"TOM GIRDLER, PRESIDENT OF CONSOLIDATED, CAME IN TO SEE ME," PATTERSON SAID. "HE ASKED ME HOW LONG THE WAR WOULD LAST. I SAID I DIDN'T KNOW.
"HE THEN ASKED ME: 'DO YOU WANT THE B-36 IN THE WAR?'
"I TOLD HIM: 'I CERTAINLY DO.'"
PATTERSON RELATED THAT GIRDLER EXPLAINED THAT HE WAS HAVING DIFFICULTY IN GETTING SUBCONTRACTORS TO PROVIDE NEEDED PARTS FOR THE BIG PLANE, AND ASKED:
"WHY DON'T YOU GIVE ME AN ORDER FOR 100? IF YOU DO, I WILL BEAT THE SCHEDULE (OF PRODUCTION) BY 10 MONTHS."
PATTERSON SAID HE CONSULTED WITH AIR FORCE HEADS AND "THEN AND THERE GAVE HIM THE ORDER FOR 100 B-36S."
ASKED BY COMMITTEE COUNSEL, JOSEPH B. KEENAN, IF ANY OF HIS DECISIONS REGARDING THE B-36 WERE "MOTIVATED IN ANY WAY" BY THE OWNERSHIP OF THE CONSOLIDATED CONCERN, PATTERSON REPLIED:
"NOT IN THE SLIGHTEST. I DIDN'T HAVE THE FAINTEST NOTION WHO HAD FINANCIAL INTEREST IN CONSOLIDATED. I HADN'T MET GIRDLER UNTIL THAT DAY IN 1943."

BEFORE PATTERSON TOOK THE STAND, MAJ.GEN. FREDERICK H. SMITH, CHIEF OF THE AIR FORCE'S REQUIREMENT SECTION, HAD BEEN QUESTIONED BY THE COMMITTEE.
SMITH YESTERDAY COMPLETED THE READING OF A LONG, DETAILED HISTORY OF THE B-36.
KEENAN ASKED SMITH WHETHER THERE HAD BEEN ANY "CHAPERONING, MONITORING OR REVIEW" OF HIS PREPARED TESTIMONY BY ANYONE FROM THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE'S OFFICE.
SMITH SAID NO, HE HADN'T BEEN COACHED.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN VINSON (D-GA) TOOK SMITH OVER THE BACKGROUND OF AN ORDER FROM PRESIDENT TRUMAN LAST YEAR WHICH CUT THE AIR FORCE FROM 56 COMBAT GROUPS TO 48. HE ASKED WHETHER CONTR
ETC. NT NA
RQUIRED BY THIS ORDER HAD COST THE GOVERNMENT ABOUT $44,000,000 (M).
GENERAL SMITH SAID THAT WAS AN ESTIMATED FIGURE, AND HE DID NOT KNOW THE EXACT ONE.

THE AIR FORCE CANCELLED ORDERS FOR 51 B-45 LIGHT, FOUR-ENGINE JET BOMBERS AND 118 F-93 FIGHTER PLANES FOLLOWING THE PRESIDENT'S DECISION, GENERAL SMITH SAID.
CANCELLATION OF A CONTRACT FOR 30 B-49 "FLYING WING" JET BOMBERS WAS DUE TO IMPROVED PERFORMANCE OF THE B-36, RATHER THAN THE PRESIDENTIAL CUTBACK, SMITH ADDED.
THREE SEPARATE PURCHASES OF B-36S HAVE BEEN MADE, SMITH SAID. THE FIRST WAS THE ORIGINAL CONTRACT FOR 100 PLANES. A BOARD OF SENIOR AIR FORCE OFFICERS LATER APPROVED ADDITIONAL ORDERS FOR 36 AND 39 PLANES.
VINSON ASKED WHETHER THESE DECISIONS WERE UNANIMOUS. GENERAL SMITH SAID THEY WERE, BUT ONLY AFTER "CONSIDERABLE CONSIDERATION." HE SAID "THERE WERE SOME DOUBTS" AMONG TOP AIR FORCE OFFICERS AS TO THE VALUE OF THE B-36 WHEN ADDITIONAL ORDERS WERE CONSIDERED.
SMITH SKETCHED FOR THE COMMITTEE A FEW DETAILS OF A NEW PLANE CALLED THE B-52, WHICH HE SAID WILL SUCCEED THE B-36 AS AN INTERCONTINENTAL BOMBER IN FIVE OR SIX YEARS. THE B-52, HE SAID, IS AN ALL JET HEAVY BOMBER, AND WILL BE MANUFACTURED BY BOEING.
IN HIS HISTORY OF THE B-36 SMITH TOLD THE COMMITTEE THAT THE DECISIONS AFFECTING THE B-36 WERE MADE IN THE LIGHT OF A COMBINATION OF CIRCUMSTANCES.

WASHINGTON, AUG.11-(AP)-SENATOR MCCARRAN (D-NEV) SAT TIGHT ON A DISPLACED PERSONS BILL TODAY DESPITE A DEMOCRAT-REPUBLICAN MOVE TO PRY THE MEASURE OUT OF THE SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE.
MCCARRAN, WHO HEADS THE COMMITTEE, INDICATED HE HASN'T CHANGED HIS MIND ABOUT HOLDING UP SENATE ACTION ON THE HOUSE-APPROVED MEASURE. IT IS DESIGNED TO MODIFY A BILL PASSED BY THE GOP 80TH CONGRESS WHICH PRESIDENT TRUMAN HAS SAID CONTAINED "ANTI-CATHOLIC AND ANTI-SEMITIC" PROVISIONS.
WITH MR.TRUMAN'S URGING, SENATOR LUCAS (D-ILL) TOOK UP WITH REPUBLICANS YESTERDAY THE QUESTION OF JOINTLY SPONSORING A RESOLUTION TO TAKE THE BILL AWAY FROM THE COMMITTEE AND BRING IT DIRECTLY BEFORE THE SENATE.
LUCS, LEADER OF THE SENATE DEMOCRATS, WALKED UNANNOUNCED INTO A MEETING OF THE REPUBLICAN POLICY COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS THE MATTER.
HE SAID HE AND CHAIRMAN TAFT (OHIO) OF THE SENATE GOP POLICY GROUP AGREED THEY WOULD SIGN A PETITION TO DISCHARGE THE COMMITTEE FROM CONSIDERING THE HOUSE BILL. HE ADDED THAT FIVE OTHER DEMOCRATS AND FIVE OTHER REPUBLICANS WOULD PUT THEIR NAMES ON THE PETITION.
TAFT TOLD REPORTERS HE JUST WANTED TO BE SURE THAT ONCE THIS WAS DONE, LUCAS WOULD BRING THE ISSUE BEFORE THE SENATE. LUCAS SAID HE WILL BRING IT UP BEFORE CONGRESS QUITS, BUT WON'T PUT IT AHEAD OF SOME OTHER IMPORTANT LEGISLATION SUCH AS THE RECIPROCAL TRADE AGREEMENTS AND MINIMUM WAGE BILLS.
LUCAS CONCEDED HE IS TREADING ON DIFFICULT GROUND IN TRYING TO DISLODGE MCCARRAN FROM HIS CONTROL OVER THE MEASURE.
IN THE FIRST PLACE, SENATORS DON'T LIKE TO TAKE ANY BILL AWAY FROM A COMMITTEE. THEY GENERALLY THINK THAT'S A BAD PRECEDENT, FOR FEAR THEY MIGHT GET CAUGHT IN A SIMILAR MOVEMENT ON SOME MEASURE THEY WANT TO PIGEON HOLE.
IN THE SECOND PLACE, SUCH ACTION BY THE SENATE GENERALLY IS REGARDED AS A SLAP AT THE COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN. MCCARRAN HAS BEEN AROUND THE SENATE SINCE 1933 AND HAS A LOT OF FRIENDS WHO MAY NOT WANT TO SEE HIM KICKED AROUND, DP BILL OR NO DP BILL.
LUCAS SAID HE ASKED FOR REPUBLICAN HELP BECAUSE HE CONSIDERS THE HOUSE-APPROVED BILL A BIPARTISAN MEASURE. IT WOULD BOOST FROM 200,000 TO 400,000 THE NUMBER OF HOMELESS EUROPEANS WHO COULD BE ADMITTED TO THIS COUNTRY AND TAKE SOME OF THE GEOGRAPHICAL AND OTHER RESTRICTIONS OFF THIS IMMIGRATION.
"THIS IS NOT A POLITICAL QUESTION," LUCAS SAID. "IT SHOULD BE APPROACHED FROM A HUMANITARIAN STANDPOINT."

DENVER,AUG 11 (AP)-FOR A YOUNG RUSSIAN WHO WANTS TO GET AHEAD IN THE SOVIET UNION, THE BEST THING TO DO IS JOIN THE COMMUNIST PARTY. BUT THAT'S NO SNAP.
THAT WAS THE STATEMENT LAST NIGHT OF DR.JOHN HAZARD OF COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, WHO ADDRESSED A PRESS-RADIO SEMINAR AT THE UNIVERSITY OF DENVER.
HAZARD SAID THAT TO WIN ADMISSION TO THE PARTY A PERSON HAD TO BE ENDORSED BY THREE PARTY MEMBERS.
EACH OF THE ENDORSERS IS PERSONALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE APPLICANT'S "GOOD AND FAITHFUL BEHAVIOR" AFTER HE IS ADMITTED.
ONCE ACCEPTED, THE NEW MEMBER IS ON PROBATION FOR ONE YEAR, DOING THE MOST UNPLEASANT AND ROUTINE OF PARTY TASKS TO PROVE HE IS WORTHY OF THE "HONOR AND RESPONSIBILITY OF PARTY MEMBERSHIP."
HAZARD SAID THAT WITH RELATIVELY FEW EXCEPTIONS, ONLY PARTY MEMBERS RISE TO POSITIONS OF IMPORTANCE IN THE SOVIET UNION. THIS, DESPITE THE FACT THAT THERE ARE ONLY ABOUT 6,000,000 (M) PARTY MEMBERS OUT OF A TOTAL POPULATION OF 200,000,000.

WASHINGTON, AUG.11-(AP)-JOHN J. MCCLOY, U.S. HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR GERMANY, TALKED OVER HIS PROBLEMS WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN TODAY AND QUOTED THE PRESIDENT AS HAVING SAID:
"YOU HAVE SOME INSOLUABLE PROBLEMS AND SO HAVE I."
MCCLOY TOLD REPORTERS HE WAS NOT TOO CONCERNED ABOUT THE RISE OF A MORE "ASSERTIVE" ATTITUDE BY THE GERMAN PEOPLE AND THE PRESS.
"IN MANY WAYS THIS IS HEALTHIER THAN NO REACTION AT ALL," HE SAID.
"I THINK THERE IS ENOUGH RIGHT-MINDED SENTIMENT TO COUNTERACT THE WRONG."
MCCLOY SAID THE AMERICAN OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES ARE TAKING OFF THE LICENSES UNDER WHICH THE GERMAN PRESS OPERATED TO GIVE GREATER FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION.
HOWEVER, HE SAID, THE OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES WILL RETAIN THEIR CONTROLS UNDER GENERAL OCCUPATION AUTHORITY AND WILL NOT PERMIT ACTIONS WHICH "INTERFERE WITH THE PRESTIGE" OF OCCUPATION OFFICIALS.

HE SAID HE IS LEAVING TOMORROW TO SPEND THE DAY IN MAINE WITH HIS MOTHER AND THEN WILL RETURN TO GERMANY.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.VA., AUG 10-(AP)-A PAPAL BLESSING HAS BEEN BESTOWED UPON AMERICAN AND CANADIAN MEMBERS OF THE DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA ATTENDING A MEETING OF THE NATIONAL CIRCLE AT THE GREENBRIER HOTEL HERE TODAY.

NATIONAL REGENT MRS. CAROLYN B.MANNING OF NEW BEDFORD, MASS., REPORTED THAT THE SOCIETY'S MEMBERSHIP WAS THE LARGEST IN ITS 52-YEAR HISTORY WITH 7,194 NEW MEMBERS ENROLLED IN THE LAST SIX MONTHS.

MRS. MANNING ALSO REPORTED THAT MORE THAN 40,000 PIECES OF CLOTHING HAD BEEN SHIPPED ABROAD SINCE THE END OF WORLD WAR II AND THAT 5,000 NEW GARMENTS HAD BEEN SENT THIS YEAR ALONE TO ROME FOR DISTRIBUTION TO EUROPE'S NEEDY.

ASSOCIATED PRESS SCIENCE REPORTER

BERKELEY,CALIF., AUG. 10-(AP)-A TINY COMMUNITY DESIGNED TO TEST AND EVALUATE THE PERSONALITIES OF INDIVIDUALS AND GROUPS OF PEOPLE IS TO BE ESTABLISHED AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

MODELED AFTER THE FAMED SYSTEM WHICH WAS USED BY THE GOVERNMENT TO PICK SPIES DURING WORLD WAR II, THE COMMUNITY WILL BE THE FIRST OF ITS KIND IN THE UNITED STATES.

IT WILL BE HEADED BY DR.DONALD W.MACKINNON, ONE OF THE KEY MEN IN THE SPY PICKING PROJECT UNDER THE WARTIME OFFICE OF STRATEGIC SERVICES (OSS).

THE PROJECT IS FINANCED WITH $100,000 FROM THE ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION. THE COMMUNITY WILL CONSIST OF A 20-ROOM FORMER FRATERNITY HOUSE, WHERE PEOPLE UNDER PERSONALITY OBSERVATION WILL LIVE FOR THREE-DAY PERIODS UNDER THE SCRUTINY OF A PLATOON OF PSYCHIATRISTS, PSYCHOLOGISTS AND OTHER EXPERTS IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RELATIONSHIPS.

MEDICAL AND ENGINEERING STUDENTS ESPECIALLY WILL BE TESTED. NOBODY WILL PASS OR FLUNK THE TESTS. THE INFORMATION ON EACH PERSON WILL BE FILED AWAY. AFTER THEIR GRADUATION IT MAY FURNISH SCINETISTS AND EDUCATORS WITH INFORMATION ABOUT WHAT TYPES OF PERSONALITY MAKE THE BEST DOCTORS AND ENGINEERS.

PEOPLE ALSO CAN BE TESTED FOR THEIR PERSONALITY QUALIFICATIONS FOR SPECIFIC JOBS. SETUPS CAN BE MADE TO TEST AN INDIVIDUAL'S REACTION TO ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL OR OCCUPATIONAL PROBLEMS. THIS IS INTENDED TO CONSTITUTE A REALISTIC WAY OF MATCHING MEN TO JOBS. THIS MAY BECOME IMPORTANT TO INDUSTRY AND GOVERNMENT.

SETTINGS ALSO CAN BE ARRANGED, DR.MACKINNON SAID, FOR STUDYING "IRRATIONAL SOCIAL ATTITUDES" SUCH AS RACIAL OR ECONOMIC GROUP CONFLICT, AND HOW PERSONALITY AFFECTS THE RELATIONSHIP OF ONE INDIVIDUAL TO ANOTHER.

ONE OF THE THINGS THAT HAS BAFFLED THE EXPERTS, DR.MACKINNON ADDED, IS THE COMPLETELY ADJUSTED PERSON--THE ONE WHO GETS ALONG WITH NEARLY EVERYBODY AND GETS AHEAD IN THE WORLD. WHAT ELEMENTS OF PERSONALITY MAKE THIS POSSIBLE?

AS HEAD OF THE OSS PERSONALITY CENTER NEAR WASHINGTON,D.C., DR. MACKINNON SAID RESEARCHERS FOUND THAT CAPABLE, WELL-ADJUSTED PEOPLE OFTEN WERE FOUND TO HAVE UNDERGONE PSYCHOLOGICALLY CRIPPLING EXPERIENCES. IN SOME WAY THESE PEOPLE CAPITALIZED UPON THE EXPERIENCES WHILE OTHERS WERE DEFEATED BY THEM.

DR.MACKINNON AND HIS COLLEAGUES HOPE TO FIND OUT WHAT PARTICULAR QUIRKS OF PERSONALITY MAKE A NEUROTIC OUT OF ONE PERSON AND A HEALTHY, USEFUL INDIVIDUAL OUT OF ANOTHER.

SAN FRANCISCO, AUG. 11-(AP)-TOKYO ROSE'S ATTORNEY BROUGHT THE FIRST ADMISSION FROM A GOVERNMENT WITNESS IN HER TREASON TRIAL TODAY THAT THERE WAS ACTUAL SURVEILLANCE OF THE "ZERO HOUT" RADIO PROGRAM AND THE PEOPLE ON IT.

MOTUMU NII, 40, GAVE HIS RADIO TOKYO BACKGROUND AS A TRANSLATOR AND REWRITE MAN, 1943 TO 1945. BUT HE SAID HE REALLY WAS SUPPOSED TO LISTEN IN ON THE WARTIME PROPAGANDA BROADCASTS AND CENSOR.

"YOU WERE PUT THERE TO SPY ON THEM--TO SEE WHAT THEY DID AND SAID OVER THE SAID, ISN'T THAT A FACT?" ASKED WAYNE COLLINS, COUNSEL FOR MRS. IVA TOGURI D'AQUINO, 33-YEAR-OLD TOKYO ROSE WHO IS CHARGED WITH TREASON.

"THAT WAS THE IDEA," NII SAID.

HE NEVER MADE ANY REPORTS TO HIS SUPERIORS, THE WITNESS ADDED.

UNDER QUESTIONING BY PROSECUTOR TOM DE WOLFE, NII RECALLED THE DEFENDANT, AS "ANNIE" OR "ORPHAN ANNIE," ONCE ASKED IN HER BROADCAST TO AMERICAN FORCES IN THE PACIFIC:

"WHY DON'T YOU STOP FIGHTING AND LISTEN TO GOOD MUSIC?"

ALSO:

"WHY DON'T YOU GO BACK TO YOUR LOVED ONES IN THE STATES INSTEAD OF FIGHTING IN THE JUNGLES WITH THE MOSQUITOES AND THE FOXHOLES?"

THE NAME OF WALLACE INCE CAME INTO THE TRIAL DURING THE DAY. INCE, NOW A U. S. ARMY MAJOR, WORKED AT RADIO TOKYO WHILE A PRISONER OF WAR. HE WAS A CAPTAIN AND A PRISONER OF WAR THEN.

NII TESTIFIED THAT THEODORE TAMBA, A DEFENSE ATTORNEY WHO QUESTIONED HIM IN TOKYO LAST SPRING, TOLD HIM:

"IF MRS. IVA TOGURA GETS INTO TROUBLE, MAYBE INCE WILL GET INTO IT TOO AND I WAS A FRIEND OF INCE."

ANOTHER GOVERNMENT WITNESS, EURASIAN MARY HIGUCHI, WAS QUESTIONED BY COLLINS REGARDING CONVERSATIONS WITH KENNETH PARKINS, AUSTRALIAN ARMY SERGEANT AND A WAR PRISONER. SHE DENIED SHE EVER TOLD PARKINS THAT ALL MRS. TOGURA DID WAS SPIN RECORDS OR THAT SHE NEVER HEARD TOKYO ROSE BROADCAST ABOUT ALLIED SHIP LOSSES.

MISS HIGUCHI WORKED AT RADIO TOKYO FROM 1943 TO 1945 AS A TYPIST.

CHURCHILL URGES 'UNITED EUROPE' AT FRENCH RALLY

Frank O'Brien

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 12 (AP)—Winston Churchill told the townspeople of this war-scarred old French—and German — speaking city tonight that Europe must unite in strength so great "that none will dare molest her tranquil sway."

Such a United Europe would be based on moral convictions that would win the gratitude of all mankind, he told an outdoor rally of the European Movement which he heads.

The wartime prime minister of Britain made his current keynote speech on European union to the people after he had spent two days wrangling in the first Consultative Assembly of the European Council for the assembly's right to parliamentary freedom.

Speaks In French

He spoke in French to the rally of about 1,000 Alsatians and at one point asked: "Are we to sink x x into final chaos through ideological wars thrust upon us by barbarous and wicked oligarchies xxx?"

Churchill got a one-minute ovation and he responded with the familiar V-for-Victory sign. Police guarded canal bridges between Churchill's rally and a communist protest gathering half a mile away. Communists first urged their ranks to attend the Churchill rally but changed their minds and met separately. There was no violence.

"We shall protect ourselves against being crushed and flattened out by any form of totalitarian tyranny, whether it be the hated Nazi domination which we have cast out, or by any other form or similar despotism," Churchill told the rally.

He did not mention communism or Russia.

No One's Enemy

" I myself am not the enemy of any race or nation in the world," he said. This statement was cheered by the crowd.

"Old feuds must die," Churchill said, "territorial ambitions must be set aside, national rivalries must be confined to proving who can render the truest service to the common cause."

In the assembly earlier, Churchill won a half-victory in the effort to break away from restrictions on what it can talk about. For the second straight day he championed the cause of parliamentary freedom for the 101-man, 12-nation body.

He and other assemblymen acted to liberalize the rules under which the European Council's committee of (foreign) ministers would have considerable power to decide what goes on the assembly's agenda.

Spaak, Ministers Confer

Assembly President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium met with the ministers' committee two hours and brought back an agreement allowing a two-thirds majority of the assembly to propose new topics for debate at any time during assembly sessions. The ministers agreed to receive agenda suggestions from Spaak and reply to the assembly within five days.

Spaak closed the assembly session at 6 p.m. so Churchill and other delegates might speak to the public from the balcony overlooking Kleber square.

The assembly spent all of today's session protesting the foreign ministers' powers over it. The upshot was the compromise which allows the assembly to define its own agenda for this year's session and promises it more latitude generally.

British To Renew Arming Of Arabs

London, Aug. 12 (AP)—The British said today they were resuming sales of arms to Arab nations with a view to security and strategic needs in the Middle East.

The announcement came a day after the United Nations lifted the arms embargo imposed during the Arab-Israeli war in Palestine.

The first shipments will deliver materiel contracted for before the embargo went into effect, the Foreign Office said.

Security, Strategy Discussed

Among the countries on the list are Egypt, Hashemite Jordan and Iraq, all of which have mutual-defense treaties with Britain. A spokesman said he could not name the countries to be supplied.

Anticipating the end of the arms embargo, Britain has discussed Middle East security and strategy setups the last few weeks with the United States and France and last month conferred with British envoys called from the eastern Mediterranean.

Seek Fighter Aircraft

The crux of the talks was reported to have been anti-Communist defense planning.

Iraq, Egypt and Hashemite Jordan are in the market for fighter aircraft. Jordan has no air force now but the British Royal Air Force has started training Jordan Army officers as pilots.

Jordan's warrior king, Abdullah, will visit Britain soon as a guest of the British Government. He is expected to discuss defense planning.

4 Doomed In Plot Against Yugoslavia

London, Aug. 12 (AP)—Four Moslems were sentenced to death in Sarajevo today for plotting to overthrow Yugoslavia's social order "with the aid of imperialist intervention," a Tanjug broadcast said.

Ten others were sent to prison for from three to twenty years, the Yugoslav news agency said in a Sarajevo dispatch.

They were identified as members and officials of the "Monarchist-Fascist organization 'young Moslems'." In a earlier report on the trial, Tanjug said one defendant had told the people's court the organization relied on "Englishmen and Americans."

"During the trial," Tanjug said, "the defendants admitted preparing assassinations of state and party leaders, organizing various sabotage acts and collecting arms . . . with the aim of carrying out their plans."

Tanjug earlier had reported testimony that the organization planned to carve a separate Moslem state out of Premier Marshal Tito's country.

Laborite Aide Assails Churchill Statement

Berkhamsted, England, Aug. 12 (AP)—A Labor Government official charged today that, unless Winston Churchill recants his statement that every major nationalized industry in Britain is in the red, "he stands convicted out of his own mouth of deliberately deceiving the public."

The official was Douglas Jay, Economic Secretary of the Treasury. He said that, contrary to the Conservative leader's charges in his political campaign speech of three weeks ago, the Government-held coal industry, the cable and wireless, and the Bank of England all show profits this year.

Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee attacked the Churchill speech two weeks ago as irresponsible. Churchill's address in Wolverhampton had been the opening salvo of the Conservative campaign for the 1950 general elections.

Hoffman Has Good Word For England

Bournemouth, England, Aug. 12 (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman, European Recovery Program administrator, beginning a tour of Marshall plan countries, said on his arrival here today that "England has really buckled down and started to make a very good job of it."

Asked about American criticisms of the way Britain is spending Marshall aid dollars, Hoffman said:

"The American people have demonstrated time and again that they have nothing but friendliness for their English cousins. But among cousins there is always criticism. That is to be expected."

Hoffman arrived from Dublin, Ireland, by plane with his wife and two children. He plans to fly to Paris tomorrow or Sunday.

Combat Uniform Streamlined For British Tommies

London, Aug. 12 (AP)—A new streamlined combat uniform for British troops was unveiled by the War Office today.

The old bulky olive-drab wool has been replaced with a water-repellent cloth made up into three basic garments:

A loose-zippered smock, waist length, which can be worn outside the pants in hot weather.

Loose trousers gathered with brief leggings at the ankles.

A three-quarter length greatcoat (what Americans would call a mackinaw) of hard finish with a warm lining.

A peaked cap which looks like those worn by the well-dressed skier tops the outfit.

The War Office said the uniform will be tested by troops in the United Kingdom, Germany, Austria and the Middle East in the next six months. Present combat wear, it said, "Gives poor protection against wind and cold and particularly rain—and the protection it does give is at the expense of freedom of movement."

12 Killed in Crash Of R. A. F. Plane

London, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The Air Ministry said today that twelve British service men were killed by the crash of a Royal Air Force passenger plane yesterday near Aden.

18 Nations Sign For War Rules

M. Goldsmith

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 12 (AP)—The United States and seventeen other nations formally signed today three revised Geneva Red Cross conventions relating to the treatment of prisoners of war and of wounded soldiers and sailors in any future conflict.

A fourth agreement, which would give civilians in an occupied country the protection of recognized international law for the first time in history, was signed by seventeen nations.

Outlaw Death Penalty

The United States did not sign the civilian convention because one of the agreement's articles outlaws the death penalty in any occupied country which abolished the death sentence prior to the occupation.

Nine nations signed all four conventions. They are: Austria, Chile, Colombia, Cuba, Denmark, Ecuador, Turkey, Uruguay and Switzerland.

The United States was the only major power to sign any of the agreements. Britain, France and the members of the Soviet bloc may do so later.

The conventions will become binding only on those nations which sign and subsequently ratify them.

German Election Tactics Scored By W. Allies

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Western Allies cracked down today on both Communists and resurgent Nationalists in western Germany's federal election campaign. R. O'Regan

The United States Military Government civil division in Berlin banned a German Communist election pamphlet depicting an American Army sergeant as a black marketeer.

British officials in Duesseldorf seized 500,000 copies of a Communist leaflet signed by seven former Nazi SS (Elite Guard) men. It told Germans to vote "for those who work for Germany's freedom in building a national front" and attacked the West's administration of Germany as colonial rule.

"Pronounced Nationalism"

An American Military Government spokesman lashed out last night at the "pronounced nationalism" displayed in the campaign. He warned that opinion abroad would not overlook "the sudden forgetfulness" by German politicians of American help.

The anti-Allied campaigning went on unabated, however.

Scattered violent incidents are marking the campaign, which winds up Sunday. Some 31,000,000 voters are expected to go to the polls that day to choose a West German Parliament.

The newest incident was an attack in Wattenschedi, in the Ruhr, on two men who carried placards of the left-of-center Social Democrats. Police said the two men were fired on by an unidentified person who escaped after the shots missed their targets.

Confiscation Order

In Berlin, the United States Civil Administration director, E. H. Litchfield, said the Communist pamphlet which was banned had been distributed by the thousands in the American and French zones. He ordered all copies confiscated.

"This is another example of the Communist party's efforts to confuse the domestic issues, which should be uppermost in the campaign, and to incite bitterness against the American occupation," Litchfield said.

The pamphlet, entitled "Jimmy's Lucky Days," described the sale by an American sergeant of cigarettes for jewelry and other valuables. It concluded with a call for votes against "the Toadies of Wall Street."

"Pen Pal" Campaign

West Germany's Communist boss, Max Reimann, demanded in a radio address last night that the Allies stop the program of dismantling German industries.

Soviet zone Communists have started a "pen pal" campaign to lure skilled labor from the Ruhr, and are sniping at the dismantling program and the Western zone elections in the process. Most of the letters talk about how well things are for workers in the Russian zone and say Ruhr workers' wages will be matched across the zonal border. But Ruhr Germans said they thought the Communist maneuver would have little effect on the elections.

in anther campaign speech that the Germans be "let alone to build up" their own homeland.

Wants Independence

"We want to be free and independent," Reimann told an audience of about 4,000 at an outdoor rally.

He drew his best round of applause from a generally apathetic audience when he declared the Germans are able to mend their own fences.

"We have lost two wars but we are still here," he shouted.

AIRLIFT TO OPERATE ON FIVE-DAY WEEK

BERLIN, Aug. 12. — (AP) The Berlin airlift is going on a five-day week. The crews will take tomorrow and Sunday off.

It's part of the gradual tapering down that will end the giant American and British supply project Oct. 31. The planes have been flying seven days a week.

RED OFFICIALS FREE GERMAN JOURNALISTS

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (AP)—Russian authorities tonight released three west German journalists who were arrested yesterday as they left the city.

Reinhold Apfel, editor of the Stuttgarter Zeitung, said Soviet sentries took them off a bus at a border point after Lotte Killian, a woman photographer from Stuttgart, had taken a picture of a Russian soldier.

Apfel said a sentry boarded the bus and demanded that she hand over the camera. When she insisted on a receipt for it, the Russian placed her under arrest. Apfel said he and Karl Steinhausen of Dena, the west German news agency, volunteered to go with her and also were arrested.

Earlier today police officials of both Berlin sectors, east and west, denied knowledge of the incident.

Reich Lawyers Leave For Trial Of Ilse Koch

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 12 (AP). Two German attorneys and a German judge left today for the United States to prepare for the new trial of Ilse Koch, former "Queen of Buchenwald" concentration camp.

They will interview former inmates of Buchenwald now living in the United States to obtain testimony for use in the trial. Mrs. Koch will be tried on charges of mistreating Germans in the camp. A storm of protest arose in the United States when her term of life imprisonment for war crimes was whittled to four years.

Making the trip to the United States are Dr. Johann Ilkow, special prosecutor; Dr. Ernst Jagomost, justice of the Bavarian District Court, and Dr. Alfred Seidl, defense counsel.

Albanian Revolt, Tito-Directed, Is Reported

Rome, Aug. 12 (AP)—Reports published in morning newspapers here today quoted radio Athens as saying a revolution had broken out in northern Albania.

The report, which was not credited to any source, said fighting was under way between Albanian Army units and Partisans. It said the revolt was being directed by agents of Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Albania, which is cut off from land communication with other Soviet satellites, has been on the outs with Tito since he was expelled from the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau). Several Albanian leaders charged with being pro-Tito recently were executed by the Albanian Government.

Report Unconfirmed

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 12 (AP)—Diplomatic sources here said today they had no knowledge of a revolution in Albania as reported by Rome newspapers.

Government officials here also disclaimed knowledge of an Albanian revolt, as did officials at the Albanian legation. The Albanians said they did not believe the report.

A spokesman at the French Embassy which, unlike the British and American, still has representation in Albania, also said he knew nothing about the report.

No Communications

Neither the Albanians nor French, however, have telephone or telegraph communications with Tirana, the Albanian capital.

There have been frequent reports here of hunger and unrest in the mountainous little country and occasional protests against Government requisition of foodstuffs.

But there has been no indication this had reached revolutionary proportions, even after the recent purge of some personally popular anti-Cominform leaders.

Slavs Liquidating Danube Accord With Russia

A. Singleton

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 12 (AP)—Yugoslavia announced today she will liquidate the jointly financed Russian-Yugoslav Yuspad Corporation, which had been set up for the control and development of mutual shipping interests.

Transport Minister Bozidar Maslaric said the activities of the company were "no different from the activities of capitalistic countries in old Yugoslavia, but that which was done in old Yugoslavia cannot be done in Tito's Yugoslavia, no matter who it is."

This newest development in the worsening relations between Stalinist Russia and Premier-Marshal Tito's Communist Yugoslavia was announced by the Transport Minister in a speech before transport workers at the Danube port of Novi Sad.

Harmful To People

Yuspad, he said, is harmful to the people of Yugoslavia. Yuspad is a coined name for the Yugoslav-Soviet Joint Danube Navigation Company. It was the existence of such companies under Yugoslav control which kept the Western powers from signing a Danube River agreement drafted here a year ago under the guidance of Andrei Y. Vishinsky, now Soviet Foreign Minister.

The workers were told by Maslaric that they will be under the administration of the Transport Ministry and "Yuspad will not appear any more to slow down your creative powers."

He charged Yuspad had been used by Russia to milk Yugoslavia of profits and rob workers of the fruit of their labors. Under the original plan, he said, the Novi Sad shipyard was a cog in a master scheme under which Yuspad was to build new shipyards and enlarge existing ones in Yugoslavia.

$300,000 Spent Abroad

Russia was to have contributed equipment for building and repairing vessels worth 67,000,000 dinars ($1,350,000). However, he said, Yuspad spent the equivalent of $300,000 abroad for materials in deals financed by Yugoslavia without contributions from Russia.

Yugoslavia has been placing increasing emphasis recently on rebuilding her shipping.

Italian Agency Tells Of Plot On Tito's Life

Trieste, Aug. 12 (AP)—Astra, an Italian news agency, said today a group of pro-Cominform Communists had plotted unsuccessfully to assassinate Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia with a Rusian-type mine July 29.

Quoting travelers to Trieste, Astra said traitors in the group betrayed the plot, and Tito's police arrested 30 suspects, including several soldiers.

The travelers were quoted as having said the plot was carefully planned over a long period by anti-Tito members of a "proletariat" sporting club at Pola, Yugoslavia, on the Adriatic.

A mine was placed at the entrance of a Pola shipbuilding yard which Tito was to visit the afternoon of July 29, according to the travelers.

Pola is a seaport on the southern tip of the Istrian peninsula, awarded to Yugoslavia under the Italian peace treaty. It is some 60 miles south of Trieste.

Red Political Rallies Dispersed By Ex-War Prisoners in Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 12 (AP)—Former German prisoners of war in Russia broke up communist political rallies in two cities today as western Germany's election campaign swept to a climax. The election for the new parliament will be held Sunday.

Shouting "we are fed up with Russians," recently returned prisoners charged into a communist meeting at Bentheim on the Dutch-German border and chased the speaker from the platform.

Won't Support Reds

One of the former prisoners then addressed the crowd, saying, "in our presence no one will support Soviet sub-humanity."

He pulled open his coat to show his ragged clothing and said:

"This is the way they dismissed us."

In the British zone city of Guetersloh, former prisoners heckled a communist speaker, demanding that he describe conditions in the Soviet zone of Germany. Police dispersed the meeting.

Max Reimann, number one communist in west Germany, demanded

Russ Delay Berlin Truck Travel Again

Berlin, Aug. 12 (AP) — Russian Army guards cut down West German truck traffic to Berlin for eight hours early today, United States military sources reported.

Passage through the Soviet checkpoint at Helmstedt, zonal frontier post on the main road from the British zone to Berlin, was cut down without warning at 2 A.M. to four trucks an hour.

Eight hours later the slowdown order was lifted and truck traffic began returning to normal. United States sources said more than 100 trucks were lined up in the slow-moving queue during the interval. There was no explanation.

U.S. Closes German Gift Agency

FRANKFURT, Aug. 12 (AP).—The United States military government today cancelled licenses of the Overseas Mail Order Service (OMOS) to send goods to Germany. An announcement said customs officials had uncovered "violations of regulations governing duty-free gift shipments." The nature of the violations was not given. An official said OMOS shipped gift parcels to Germans and displaced persons from the United States.

REBELS ROUTED BY U.S.-TRAINED GREEK SOLDIERS

L. S. Chakales

WITH THE GREEK ARMY AT KOZANE, Greece, Aug. 12—(AP) Communist guerrilla bands were believed fleeing into Albania tonight after the American-trained Greek army had ripped into the heart of their Vitsi mountain stronghold in 48 hours of heavy fighting.

Government troops, smashing through the main guerrilla defenses from the east and south, pushed forward into the core of the enemy's 400-square-mile Vitsi triangle fortress.

The goal of the current push—

NIGHT

coupled with the offensive farther north in the Mount Grammos area—is to blast out two key communist strongholds along the Albanian border.

May Cut Supply Line

The brunt of the army's attack on the Vitsi positions turned westward today. Greek officers believed they might overrun the vital juncture of the guerrillas' Albanian supply route with the Florina-Kastoria highway. This road has been kept closed by guerrilla defenders for more than a year.

As the battle developed early today the guerrillas struck back fiercely but were unable to blunt the impact of the army's assault. Mobile government columns fanned out through the rugged hill country and engaged the guerrillas in scores of skirmishes. Disorganized guerrilla units jockeyed around in apparent confusion in an area between Florina and Kastoria and the Albanian frontier.

Competent military observers said they believed if the Greek troops can hold up under anticipated counterattacks, they should be able to wipe out some 8,000 guerrillas in the Vitsi triangle alone.

Reds Die Fighting

Government intelligence officers said the guerrilla high command had issued orders for every man to die fighting. One senior officer said in some positions the guerrillas had obeyed and died to a man.

Casualty reports were incomplete, but two units of the Greek army were reported to have suffered heavy losses. Guerrilla convoys in the Vitsi region, however, were hammered by Greek Air Force planes.

(A guerrilla radio broadcast heard in London claimed 963 government troops were killed and 2,490 wounded in attacks on guerrilla positions in the Grammos-Vitsi zone Wednesday and Thursday).

Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, chief of the U. S. military missions to Greece, visited a Greek command post five miles outside government-held Kastoria today. He conferred with top Greek officers, including Gen. Constantine Ventiris, commander-in-chief on the Grammos-Vitsi front.

Violent Battle Rages In Greek Rebel Zone

L. S. Chakales

Headquarters, Vitsi Mountains, Greece, Aug. 12 (AP)—Violent fighting raged today in the heart of the Greek guerrillas' breached Vitsi triangle redoubt.

Thirty-six hours of fighting had carried Government troops through main guerrilla defenses and up to 10 miles deep in the 400-square-mile fortress area.

The guerrillas struck back violently in the night, but still had not blunted the impetus of the breakthrough.

Mobile columns paced by commandos fanned out and fought scores of skirmishes with the Communist-led rebels.

Fortress Objectives

The aim of the current drive, coupled with that in the Grammos area farther north, is to knock out two key Communist fortress areas along the Albanian frontier.

Competent military observers said that if the Greek Army can withstand anticipated counterattacks, it should be able to blitz 8,000 rebels in the Vitsi triangle alone.

Lieut. Gen. James Van Fleet, chief of the American military mission to Greece, paid a visit today to this command post, 5 miles outside Government-held Kastoria. Van Fleet conferred with Gen. Constantine Ventiris, Government commander in chief for Grammos-Vitsi, and other Greek officers.

Defense Lines Seized

Large parts of major guerrilla defense lines already are occupied by Government troops. They seized Baro Yiamata and Lessits Heights east of the Phlorina-Kastoria highway.

This road joins the main highway from Albania—over which the Government says the guerrillas get their supplies—at Vatohorion.

There were reports here that Vatohorion already is under Government artillery fire. Infantry from this command was said to be moving to cut the supply route.

Government intelligence said the guerrilla high command had issued orders for every guerrilla to die fighting. A senior officer said that in some positions they obeyed and died to a man.

Casualty reports were incomplete, but two units of the Greek Army were said to have suffered heavy losses.

Churchman Accuses Czechs

R Kasischke

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 12 (AP)—A high Catholic churchman reported today he has evidence that some Catholics arrested in the church-state war are being mistreated in Czechoslovak prisons.

This church source mentioned particularly Father Alois Zmrzlik, private secretary of the Vatican's mission in Prague. He was arrested during the first week of July and now is reported held in Pankrac prison here.

The church informant, whose name could not be divulged, claimed to have information that Father Zmrzlik had been beaten and was still being subjected to long interrogations. The source also claimed that attempts to get food parcels to the priest were thwarted.

New Controversy Possible

Despite diplomatic protests by Msgr. Gennaro Verolini, the former Vatican charge d'affaires here, the Czech Government has given no official information about Father Zmrzlik, who was reported seized while on an errand for the Vatican nunciature, the source said. No mention of the clergyman ever has been made by the official radio or the controlled Prague press.

Church sources said, however, that Dr. Antonin Mandl, secretary of the church's Catholic Action Society, reportedly was now receiving better treatment in prison. Mandl was arrested July 10 by security police as the Communist regime promoted its own Catholic action movement.

Meanwhile, the possibility of a new controversy between the Catholic Church and the Czech regime developed over the Vatican's appointment of two new bishops in Slovakia without first submitting their names for Government approval.

Loyalty Expressed

The new appointees, who are to be consecrated Sunday, are: Msgr. Ambrosius Lazik, who has been serving as apostolic administrator of Trnava, and Msgr. Robert Pobozny, who has been capitular vicar of Roznava.

Both clergymen have publicly expressed their loyalty to Archbishop Josef Beran, the Czech primate, by signing his last pastoral letter, issued June 26. That letter accused the Czech Government of persecuting the church. The state later branded this letter "a subversive and anti-state document."

[A Vatican dispatch said today the creation of two titular bishops in Slovakia was announced July 26 by the Holy See. The announcements said Monsignor Lazik had been named titular bishop of Appia, and Monsignor Pobozny titular bishop of Neila.

Prague Reports Denied

[Vatican sources explained the two bishops were not named for sees in Czechoslovakia, but were appointed titular bishops of places which existed in the early Christian centuries in Asia Minor.

[These sources said they were appointed by the consistorial congregation, and not by the congregation for the propagation of the faith, the latter being one that deals with "territories of infidels."]

The Vatican representative in the Czech capital denied reports given out by Prague diplomatic sources which claimed the two new bishops were appointed "bishops in partibus infidelium." They said this term meant the Vatican now considered Czechoslovakia was ruled by nonbelievers. A spokesman for the Holy See's nunciature, however, described these reports as untrue.

Only Titular Bishops

Under a new church control bill coming up for parliamentary action this fall, the Czech Government demands not only prior approval—on political grounds—of archbishops and bishops, but of all church appointments, including village priests.

A spokesman for the papal nunciature in Prague said the two newly-appointed church officers were only titular bishops, not bishops in residence. Therefore, the spokesman added, they do not require prior approval by the Government under an unofficial agreement which has existed between the Vatican and the Czech Government since before the last war.

Czech Bomb Ruins U.S. Aide's Car

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 12 (AP)—An American Embassy official here reported that a homemade bomb had wrecked his automobile early today. R Kasischke

The official was Capt. John Childs, of Lewiston, Maine, assistant air attaché at the Embassy.

He said the automobile was unoccupied and parked in front of his house at the time of the explosion. Nobody was injured but windows of buildings in the vicinity were shattered by the blast.

Parked In Front Of Residence

Captain Childs said he had parked his auto in the street in front of his residence at about 11.15 P.M. and retired about midnight. Some five minutes later, he said, he heard an explosion.

In the street a crowd had gathered around the vehicle. The car's front parts had been blown apart.

Childs said Czech police found parts of a fuse and metal casing.

"It looked like a homemade job," he said. "I have no theories about who might have planted it.

Captain Childs, who is single, is the son of Mrs. Mildred Childs, of Washington, D.C.

RUSSIA BLASTS AT YUGOSLAVIA

Enemy of the Soviet Union, Moscow Charges in Note to Belgrade

MOSCOW, Aug. 12—(AP) Russia today branded Yugoslavia as an enemy of the Soviet Union and an ally of foreign capitalists.

In a note to Belgrade, Russia charged that the Yugoslav government is in a bloc with the western powers and "more and more is joining up with imperialist circles against the U.S.S.R."

"Let the people of Yugoslavia know," the Russian note said, "the Soviet government looks on the present Yugoslav government not as a friend and ally but as an enemy and adversary of the Soviet Union."

The note was the fourth in a series of bitter diplomatic exchanges over what the government of Premier Marshal Tito regards as Russia's abandonment of Yugoslav territorial claims at the recent foreign ministers, conference in Paris.

The Kremlin attack on Yugoslavia, made public by the Moscow radio, said the Tito government, as early as April, 1947, was willing to abandon its basic claims for Austrian territory as compensation for war losses, but wanted to toss the responsibility for this decision to the Soviet government.

(At the Paris conference, Russia sided with the United States, Britain and France in rejecting Yugoslavia's claim for a slice of southern Austria. Prior to that meeting, the Soviet Union had supported the Yugoslav demands.

(The Soviet note referred to Yugoslavia as an "enemy" for the first time despite the fact Tito and the Kremlin have been at political odds for more than a year. In June, 1948, Tito and his top communist lieutenants were ousted from the cominform—Russia's network of eastern European satellites—for alleged deviations from the Marxist-Leninist line as laid down by Moscow.

(In London, diplomatic observers wondered whether this latest outbreak of name-calling might be a forerunner of a sharper Russian policy against Yugoslavia.

(Tito altered his troops in Yugoslav Macedonia last week—between communist Bulgaria and Albania—and charged his Soviet-dominated neighbors were spreading rumors of a possible Red army invasion there. The official Yugoslav news agency quoted Tito as dismissing the rumors as attempted intimidation, but he warned his army was prepared to fight any invader. Tito also predicted Bulgaria and Albania would repudiate the cominform).

SOVIET BRANDS YUGOSLAVIA ENEMY STATE

AUG 13 1949 DAY

Note Charges Tito Regime Is Fast Becoming Tied to Capitalists of West.

ASSAILS POLICY ON AUSTRIA

Asserts Belgrade Abandoned Its Basic Claims But Shifted Blame to Soviet.

Moscow, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—Soviet Russia denounced the Yugoslav Government today as an enemy of the Soviet Union and charged that Premier Marshal Tito's regime more and more is throwing in its lot with the West.

This sweeping Soviet attack, made public by the Moscow radio, was contained in a Russian note to Yugoslavia.

The note stated that Tito's regime as early as April, 1947, had been willing to abandon its basic claims for Austrian territory as compensation for war losses, but wished to shift the responsibility for this decision to the Soviet Government.

The note was the fourth in a series of bitter diplomatic exchanges between Moscow and Belgrade over what the Yugoslavs regarded as Russia's abandonment of Yugoslav territorial claims at the recent Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference in Paris.

First Use of 'Enemy.'

[Although Tito and the Kremlin have been at odds for more than a year, the note marked the first time that Russia had used the term "enemy" in referring to the Yugoslav Government. Diplomatic observers in London wondered whether this latest outbreak of name calling signaled a sharper Soviet policy against the Tito government. Last week Tito alerted his troops in Yugoslav Macedonia, between Communist Bulgaria and Albania, and said his Soviet-dominated neighbors were spreading rumors of a possible Red Army invasion there. The Yugoslav leader was quoted by his official news agency as dismissing the reports as attempted intimidation, but warned that he was ready to fight any invader.]

Referring to the present nature of Yugoslav-Russian relations, the Soviet note said:

"That certain strong ties bind the Yugoslav Government or chief persons in the Yugoslav Government with the camp of foreign capitalists.

"The Yugoslav Government more and more is joining up with imperialistic circles [the West] against the U. S. R. R. and is in a bloc with them.

"That the Soviet Government can no longer consider the Yugoslav Government as an ally.

"That the Soviet Government can no longer support claims of the Yugoslav Government, especially those claims which the Yugoslav Government has renounced, although it hides it from the Yugoslav people.

"That if the Yugoslav Government prefers a united front with the imperialists to a united front with the U. S. S. R., then let these circles (the imperialists) support its claims.

'Let the People Know.'

The Russians published a letter from Yugoslav Foreign Minister Edward Kardelj dated April 20, 1947, in which he offered variations of the minimum Yugoslav demands on Austria. In essence, these reduced Yugoslav's claims to a small piece of territory containing two electric power stations.

The Soviet note charged the Yugoslav Government was afraid to bear the responsibility for sacrificing national interests, but wanted instead to have the Soviet Union play that role. Russia refused to be cast as a "political swindler," the note said.

"Let the people of Yugoslavia know," the note said, "the Soviet Government looks on the present Yugoslav Government not as a friend and ally but as an enemy and adversary of the Soviet Union."

Potentate's Powerful Pen Brings $20,000

Damascus, Syria, Aug. 12 (A. P.).—The American-owned Transarabian pipeline bought President Husni Zayim's fountain pen last night for 60,000 Syrian pounds (about $20,000).

The money went to the Red Crescent, the Moslem world's version of the Red Cross. Zayim had donated the pen for auction. After two years of negotiation Transarabian recently was granted authorization to build a pipeline across Syria.

French Cede Viet Nam Town

SAIGON, Indo-China, Aug. 12 (AP).—The French Army announced today it had withdrawn troops from Backan, about sixty miles south of the Chinese border. The evacuation puts anti-French Nationalist guerillas in command of the central part of northern Viet Nam.

British To Take Aircraft Plant At Kaitak

AUG 13 1949

Hong Kong, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Hong Kong government notified the China National Aviation Corporation today the C.N.A.C. aircraft maintenance plant at Kaitak airport has been requisitioned for British military uses.

The company, largely financed by Americans, was ordered to move its personnel from the plant by August 15.

Airline executives have asked China's Ambassador to London, Cheng Tien-shih, through tht Chinese Foreign Office in Canton, to take up the matter with the British Government.

[The British are building up the military defenses of Hong Kong, a crown colony and Oriental trade center, to offset the possibility of invasion if the Chinese Communists sweep through to the South China Sea.]

COMMUNISTS MAKE NEW GAINS IN CHINA

Rumors Kanhsien Had Fallen Cannot Be Confirmed

AUG 13 1949

S. Moosa

Canton, China, Aug. 12 (AP)—Heavy fighting 215 miles northeast of Canton and continuing Communist gains in Mohammedan northwest China marked the civil war today.

Rumors that Kanhsien had fallen could not be confirmed, but pro-Government dispatches said the Chinese Reds were fighting on the outskirts of that Kiangsi provincial capital 215 miles from this Nationalist capital.

The Communists also were reported applying strong pressure 35 miles north of Hengyang on the railway leading to Canton. Hengyang, 265 miles north of Canton, is the junction point of a railway leading southwest into Kwangsi province.

Large-Scale Civilian Exodus

Military analysts speculated the Communists had no intention of attacking that strong fortress frontally, but aimed at squeezing Nationalist Gen. Pai Ching-hsi into withdrawing.

Meanwhile, Gen. Ma Pu-fang, Nationalist commander of the northwest front, arrived in Canton and immediately went into conference with Premier Yen Hsi-shan on his armies' urgent need for arms and munitions.

Travelers from Lanchow said the Communists were advancing steadily toward that capital of Kansu province. They said a large-scale civilian exodus was in progress. The Chinese Reds last were reported 95 miles away, having passed the worst of the mountain barriers upon which the defense had relied.

Two Armies Massed

Ma Pu-fang's cousin, Gen. Ma Hung-kwei, Governor of Kansu, has been in Canton for some time, seeking arms.

Official Nationalist reports stated the Communists also were preparing a special amphibious assault on the Chushan Islands, 115 miles southeast of Shanghai.

The nearest of these islands is only 7 miles off the mainland. They included important Nationalist air and naval bases. (It is from them that the Nationalists have been maintaining their blockade of Shanghai and making frequent air raids.)

The Nationalist report said Communist Gen. Chen Yi had massed two armies (possibly 60,000 men) and more than 1,000 junks for the attack.

Three Red Armies Near Gateway To Canton

Spencer Moosa

AUG 13 1949 DAY

Canton, Aug. 12 (AP)—Three Chinese Communist armies totaling 75,000 men are closing on Kanhsien, gateway to Kwangtung province and Canton, official Nationalist reports said today.

Kanhsien is 215 miles northwest of Canton. It lies in the valley of the Kan River, natural highway to this refugee capital.

The Nationalists admitted the loss of a town 12 miles northwest of Kanhsien.

[It was on this part of the front north of Canton that the Nationalists reported on Tuesday that 11,000 Red troops were surrounded.]

Location Of Armies

Wuyunchiao was seized by one of the three armies which Nationalists say have been committed by Gen. Liu Po-cheng, Communist commander.

Another army was said to be pressing south toward Kanhsien along the Kan River Valley. A third army was reported operating to the east. Liu is supposed to have three more armies in reserve.

Fighting due north of Canton was confined to skirmishes north of Hengshan, mountain strongpoint 25 miles north of Hengyang.

Hengyang, 265 miles north of Canton, earlier was reported to have been abandoned as headquarters for Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, commander in chief on the South China front.

Sea Assault Indicated

Another official dispatch said that Gen. Chen Yi, Communist commander in eastern China, was preparing an amphibious assault on the Chu Shan Islands about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai.

The islands provide air and naval bases for the Nationalist blockade of Shanghai and other Communist-held ports.

The report said more than 1,000 junks had been commandeered and two armies were massed at Chinhai and Siangshan, on the east coast near the islands.

Exodus From Lanchow

Foreign travelers from Lanchow, the threatened capital in northwestern China's Kansu province, said a large-scale exodus of civilians was in progress there.

Conveyances included ox carts, mule litters, saddle horses and heavy American trucks. Refugees were reported fleeing northwest along the highway which was once the silk route between China and the Western World.

The route runs through Kansu and across the remote province of Sinkiang, formerly known as Turkistan, and into Soviet Russia.

The travelers say the people of Lanchow have been watching with growing fear the approach of two Chinese Communist forces from the east and southeast.

Forces Retreat Steadily

Troops of Moslem General Ma Pu-fang, commander of Nationalist forces in Northwest China, have fallen back steadily.

The Communists were reported to have already crossed the highest of the mountain barriers through which many persons thought the Reds would not be able to find passage. General Ma was due in Canton today, presumably to press the Nationalist Government for supplies and arms.

In Lanchow, these travelers said, Ma was rumored to have exhausted much of his ammunition and small arms in battles fought around Sian, capital of Shensi province, last month. Failure of the Nationalist Government to make good these losses may explain Ma's retreat.

More Bomb Raids On Shanghai Reported

Shanghai, Aug. 12 (AP)—Shanghai has been subjected to a succession of bombing raids in the last 48 hours.

The raids have been carried out by from two to six planes.

[Nationalist planes have been hitting at Communist-held Shanghai intermittently since its fall several weeks ago. This dispatch, which came through Communist censorship, did not give any details of the raids or indicate any damage.]

Mrs. Truman Got Freezer, Invoice Shows, as Probers Scan 5 Per Cent Gift List

TWO UNITS SENT TO GEN. VAUGHAN, VOUCHERS REVEAL

Justice Vinson, Presidential Secretary Connelly Also Listed

WHITE HOUSE SILENT

Military Aide Also Charged with Plot to Steer Army Promotions

Sterling F. Green

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Invoices brought to the Senate's "five percenter" hearing—but not introduced—showed home freezers sent to Mrs. Harry S. Truman at Independence, Mo., and two to Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan in Washington, a committee member said tonight.

Three other Washingtonians received freezers, the vouchers reportedly showed. All of the units were paid for by the Albert Verley Co., Chicago perfume makers, it was testified yesterday.

The other invoices listed as recipients Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, Federal Reserve Governor James K. Vardaman, and Presidential Secretary Matt Connelly, the Senator told a reporter. In 1945, when the reported shipments began, Vinson was a reconversion director and later secretary of the treasury. Vardaman was President Truman's naval aide.

Maragon Linked

John Maragon, whose name has been threaded through the inquiry into alleged "influence" in the government, was then with the perfume firm.

The invoices were brought to yesterday's session by Albert J. Gross of Milwaukee. The businessman said he shipped units to a group of Washingtonians. He named Vaughan, then his testimony was halted.

A committee member said today he was informed Mrs. Truman sent a thank-you note to Gross, though he was merely the shipper. The member was uncertain whether Treasury Secretary Snyder was on Gross' list, as stated in one report.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), already had told reporters that Gross was 'entirely in the clear."

"I have seen the list of people who reportedly received freezer units, as published in the newspapers," McCarthy added. "My only comment is that George Allen should not be on the list."

Some reports had said that Allen, long - time presidential intimate and former director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, was on the list.

As a White House spokesman said he had "no information" on those stories, the sensation-spangled hearing on Capitol hill produced:

Charge Vaughan 'Plot'

1. Charges that Maj. Gen. Alden Waitt, chief of the army chemical corps, plotted with Vaughan, the president's military aide, to "cut the throats" of fellow officers who might have succeeded Waitt. The chemical chief is now suspended. Selection of a man to fill such a post as the chief of the Chemical corps would, in the usual course of events, be up to the Army's chief of staff. The selection would go to the White House for approval and then to the Senate for confirmation.

2. Testimony that Waitt wrote derogatory reports for Vaughan on the eight other officers—and one warmly praising himself in the office of James V. Hunt, key figure in the 'five percenter" probe.

3. A statement by Hunt's secretary that she personally carried Waitt's memo dispraising the other officers to Gen. Vaughan in the White House.

Vaughan To Testify

4. Announcement that Vaughan is willing to testify and "presumably" will be called—and a demand by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) that he appear.

5. Evidence that Hunt, a "management counselor" here, had advance word on the appointment of Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman as quartermaster corps chief, and passed it on to a private client with the comment: "It will not harm us in the least." Feldman, like Waitt is now under suspension by the army.

The mysterios deep-freezers bobbed up late yesterday. A Milwaukee businessman testified he shipped one to Vaughan four years ago and 'several" more to Washington persons—all paid for by the Albert Verley Co. of Chicago.

That is the firm which employed John Maragon, man-about-Washington, frequent White House caller, and a secret witness before the special investigating subcommittee.

A news story today named Mrs. Truman, Vinson, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, Federal Reserve board Governor James K. Vardaman, and former federal loan director George E. Allen as among the other recipients.

Allen Denies Charge

Allen, once called the Truman "Court Jester," denied it. Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told newsmen he has "no information whatever" about Mrs. Truman or the others. Chief Justice Vinson had no comment, saying he would prefer to have the facts come out in the Senate inquiry.

The names were kept out of the hearing record yesterday though the Milwaukee witness, Albert W. Gross, was reported to be ready to give them. Chairman Hoey (D-NC) cut him off, saying "we don't want to smear anyone" until the committee staff finds out who footed the bill for the freezers.

Hoey declared today: "We will reveal all the names on the list, except in cases where we find that someone listed did not actually receive a freezer." One person already has stated he did not, he added.

The committee is gunning for individuals who charge a percentage fee for helping businessmen get federal contracts through alleged "influence."

The charge that General Waitt tried to undercut the officers eligible to succeed him was made by Senator Mundt (R-SD). It followed the reading of testimony from Hunt's pretty brunette secretary, Miss Mildred Ortmeyer, that Waitt dictated the memo to her and had her carry it to Vaughan's office. It was titled "eligible officers for appointment to chief of chemical corps."

Mundt Charges Plot

Mundt exploded: "It looks to me like a sort of ingenious plot by which Hunt, Waitt and Vaughan have connived to cut the throats of all the other officers trying to get that job".

The committee's chief counsel, William P. Rogers, testified that Waitt has admitted dictating the memo in Hunt's office in May. When he was temporarily suspended on July 16, one of the grounds was "improperly furnishing data to an individual not in the military service and who was not entitled to receive such data."

The committee made public Waitt's memo, but also decided to release the Army's official fitness reports on the same men—totally different in tone and content but also written by Waitt.

Rogers told the committee a comparison shows it was clear that "what Waitt said about these officers behind their backs"—that is, in the memo for Vaughan—was "not a true evaluation."

General Waitt, he explained, "was interested in being considered to replace himself in his job." The appointment was to have been made this fall.

For example, the official fitness report said of Col. Hugh W. Rowan: "x x x An officer with great ability and an exceptionally fine mind." The Waitt-Vaughan memo said "x x x he might be accused of being lazy. He certainly has ability but his record doesn't entitle him to much consideration."

Of Col. Charles E. Loucks, official report: "x x x splendid technical background and wide training and experience x x x. I rely greatly on his sound judgement. He is general officer caliber." The Waitt-Vaughan memo: "x x x starts things but doesn't finish them."

TenGamblersCleanUp In Streets of Nanking

NANKING, Aug. 12 (AP).—Nanking residents were surprised yesterday to see ten smartly dressed shop owners sweeping the streets.

Communist police said the sweepers were being punished for gambling. They had been arrested in a police raid.

Chiang Aide Arrives in Tokyo

TOKYO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Wu Teh-Chen, one of Chiang Kai-shek's closest advisers, arrived in Tokyo tonight for what he called an "unofficial" visit and to meet with Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Mr. Wu, Minister without Portfolio in the Nationalist Chinese Cabinet, said that his trip had no connection with the proposed Pacific union.

CanadaWouldSwapWar Goods For U.S. Material

Ottawa, Aug. 12 (AP)—Canada has proposed to the United States that she be allowed to swap warships, aircraft, small arms ammunition and other Canadian war production for United States-made military equipment, informed quarters said today.

Louis A. Johnson, United States Defense Secretary, said here yesterday he personally is "very much in favor" of such an exchange scheme.

Its purpose, from Canada's point of view, would be to prevent further strain upon her reserves of United States dollars and to bolster her defense industry.

Canada's proposal that she produce such things as her developing anti-submarine destroyers for the United States was made in talks with United States Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt.

SENATE GROUPS VOTE TO REQUEST M'ARTHUR RETURN

AUG 13 1949

Conferees Back Move to Ask General Testify on Arms Aid Plan

DEBATE IS HEATED

Baldwin, M'Mahon Votes Are Opposite in 13-12 Party Line Ballot

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. — (AP) Climaxing angry debate, the combined Senate committees on Foreign Relations and Armed Services voted 13 to 12 today to invite General Douglas MacArthur to testify at the foreign arms aid hearing.

The vote came on a resolution of Senator Knowland (R-Calif) who is trying to get $175,000,000 of the proposed $1,450,000,000 arms fund earmarked for non-communist China.

Before this action, MacArthur in Tokyo made it clear he is not returning at this time. He said he is needed more where he is. He also said his command has not included China anyway."

Start Work Tuesday

Later, Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said the two groups will begin work of clearing the bill on Tuesday. He said witnesses who had asked to be heard will be allowed to file their statements for the record, but no more testimony will be taken. He noted that full hearings had been held by the House Foreign Affairs committee. Presumably if MacArthur decided to accept the invitation, arrangements would be changed.

In the House, forces fighting to slash the arms program retreated to the House floor where the bill is expected to arrive for debate next week.

Defeated in the committee, Reps. Richard (D-SC) and Vorys (R-Ohio) said they will drop the effort there and resume it before the House.

Meantime, Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Dulles (R-NY) were working on a formula to bring distribution of the arms for Europe under control of the North Atlantic Advisory Council when it goes to work.

Dulles said they hoped to have it completed over the week end in the form of an amendment to the bill.

Dulles said the formula would not necessarily affect the size of the arms program.

"If the present arms program should fit into the recommendations which are made by the council," Dulles said, "then it would not necessarily reduce the amount of arms. But if the council's plans should conflict with the present program, it might mean a cut."

No Delay

He made it clear, however, that there is no intention to delay arms deliveries to Europe.

The New York senator said yesterday he believes the State department will accept a plan to give the advisory council control of arms distribution. He has been in conference with State department officials on this matter.

One objection to the arms bill raised by Dulles and Vandenberg is their contention it would permit allocation of the $1,160,000,000 earmarked for Europe even before the council comes into being.

They argue that the purpose of the council is to recommend a unified defense plan—and therefore it should have authority over the distribution.

Both favor only a stop-gap delivery of arms until the council makes its recommendations.

Knowland said after the vote taken in a closed session of the two Senate committees that even the official invitation may not sway MacArthur. Other senators also said the narrowly divided vote would be no encouragement to the general to return.

Party Line Vote

It was almost a party line vote with two Democrats, Byrd of Virginia and Russell of Georgia, reported to have crossed over to join the Republicans and defeat the solid Democratic opposition.

One senator said that Republicans supporting Knowland were Vandenberg of Michigan, Wiley of Wisconsin, Smith of New Jersey, Hickenlooper of Iowa, Lodge of Massachusetts, Bridges of New Hampshire, Gurney of South Dakota, Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Morse of Oregon and Baldwin of Connecticut.

Democrats he reported opposed: George of Georgia, Thomas of Utah, Pepper of Florida, Green of Rhode Island, McMahon of Connecticut, Fulbright of Arkansas, Connally, Chapman of Kentucky, Johnson of Texas, Kefauver of Tennessee, Hunt of Wyoming and Tydings of Maryland.

The vote was said to have followed lengthy, angry debate. Knowland has contended that MacArthur should return and tell his story to the two committees because the arms question is of global character. Information on the Far East is needed to round out the picture at a critical time, he said.

May Favor Move

Knowland told reporters today that the joint committee action shows a large part of the membership "wants to hear its own witnesses and doesn't want to be spoon-fed from a white paper about conditions in China."

This was reference to the State department's summary last week of relations with the China government which accompanied its decision to quit direct support of the nationalist regime in combating communist advances.

Knowland's proposal to divert part of the arms to China would require that an American mission advise the Nationalists in "effective use" of the equipment.

The House Foreign Affairs committee made no major change in the arms bill.

A Richards amendment to chop $580,495,000 off the $1,160,990,000 for western Euroepan nations in the bill lost late yesterday on a reported 8 to 8 tie vote, which automatically rejected it. Another amendment was offered today to make a percentage cut amounting to the same reduction. Chairman Kee (D-WVa) ruled it out of order on the ground it was the same thing.

May Vote Monday

The 25-member committee decided tentatively to vote Monday on the bill which would authorize appropriations for equipment to strengthen the resistance powers of non-communist nations. Besides nations in the North Atlantic Pact, the bill provides aid to Greece, Turkey, Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

It was indicated the committee would leave the total virtually intact, but there was a move to split it into 60 per cent cash and 40 per cent contract authority. This simply means that the 40 per cent would be paid for later.

Kee told reporters he is not "violently opposed" to the idea since the effect would be the same. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) has suggested the split be 50 per cent cash and 50 per cent contract authority.

The committee adopted an amendment calling on Administrators of the program to work for "unified direction and effort" in setting up defense plans.

This is a point which has bothered committee members. They repeatedly fired questions at witnesses about the amount of cooperation to be expected among Atlantic Alliance members in the arms program.

The committee approved unanimously an amendment reaffirming the policy of this country to achieve international peace and security through the United Nations."

Acheson Says U.S. Will Act If Reds Attack Hong Kong

AUG 13 1949

John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(AP) Secretary of State Acheson indicated today that the United States would oppose, at least through the United Nations, any aggressive action by the Chinese communists to rest control of the great port of Hong Kong from the British.

At a news conference Acheson stopped short of saying flatly that the United States would back up the British at Hong Kong but he left the way open for such action.

Bevin Due Here

He also said in response to questions that British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and he might very well discuss the whole Chinese situation when Bevin comes here for a round of conferences early next month. The primary purpose of the conferences will be to devise ways of tackling Britain's economic crisis.

Also on the Chinese situation, Acheson said that Dr. John Leighton Stuart, American ambassador who returned here from China Wednesday, will enter fully into discussions on a new Chinese policy late next week. Meantime, he said, Stuart will be out of town for a few days rest.

The question of Hong Kong arose when a reporter asked Acheson whether the United States had reached a decision to back the British at their crown colony.

Have Discussed Situation

Acheson replied that the American government has talked with the British government about the situation. But he said that the answer to the question is very difficult because it depended on what happened and the American government would have to know what it was backing up.

He added firmly, however, that any action there which violated the United Nations charter would call for action in the Security Council and the United States of course would live up fully to its obligation under the charter.

This was in line with the general policy position had taken last week when the white paper on China was issued. At that time he told President Truman that this government should rely on the United Nations to act in event of real or threatened aggression by the Chinese communists against any of the countries bordering China.

British Apprehensive

There is apprehension among some officials here that in their sweep south through China, the communists may not stop at the borders of the territory which the nationalists have ruled but may invade or threaten to invade one or more of the countries neighboring China. The British have been worried about Hong Kong, one of the world's great trading centers.

Acheson did not indicate the scope of the Chinese talks he may have with Bevin but speculation is that they will embrace a much larger territory than Hong Kong. Acheson himself had previously stated that as a matter of basic principle the United States should seek to coordinate its moves and major policies in the Far East with the plans of the other western powers having interests in that part of the world.

AIR CHIEF RAPS 'SMEAR' TACTICS IN B-36 INQUIRY

Morgan Reynolds

Symington Defends Handling of Project, Denies Politics Involved

'CHECK' ON REDS

Gen. Vandenberg Says Plane, Atomic Bomb Forestall Russian Aggression

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(AP) Secretary of Air Stuart Symington today pasted a "smear" label on a congressman's charges there was misconduct in the Air Force's handling of the B-36 bomber program.

He hotly denied that the multi-million dollar investment in the 10,000-mile atom bomb carrier was based on "any considerations other than national security."

Symington then gave the House Armed Services committee a point-by-point "no truth" denial to the charges first made by Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa).

Van Zandt had told the House then that he had heard "disturbing" reports about top defense officials being involved in political and business deals relating to aircraft purchases.

Turning to Van Zandt Symington said:

Denies Any Dishonesty

"It didn't make any difference to the Air Force or me when charges were made about our intelligence with respect to the B-36. But when they say the entire high command of the Air Force is dishonest, I take very bitter exception to it."

The Pennsylvania congressman retorted that he had not claimed the charges he cited to the House were true. He said he had only told his colleagues he had "sufficient evidence" to justify a congressional investigation.

The House committee today

30.24- 5003

wound up its fourth session of public hearings aimed at determining whether or not, as Van Zandt says, there were outside influences which had a bearing on the award of the B-36 contract to Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Co.

Following his heated word exchange with Symington, Van Zandt issued a statement saying Committee Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) "is evidently engaged in a whitewash job on the B-36 bomber."

"The American people," he added, "are entitled to know the truth or falsity of the ugly and disturbing reports about the B-36 and the so-called related matters. And they will never know the truth or falsity of those reports until they are given a fair and impartial investigation."

Gen. Vandenberg on Stand

Before Symington took the stand, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, lashed out at the "false rumors and inuendoes," which he told the committee had damaged Air Force morale.

At the same time Vandenberg flatly declared that this country's possession of the atom bomb—plus the ability to "deliver it"—provides the major check on "the aggressive designs of Soviet leaders."

The tall slender air chief who has just returned from a military survey in Europe, bluntly told the lawmakers:

"There is only one major military threat to the security of the United States and the peace of the world. It is pointless to talk in riddles—this threat comes from the Soviet Union."

Vandenberg then went on to say that "for the next few years the B-36 provides the spearhead for the ready-for-combat force in being which this country must constantly have at hand."

Although he said he was not obligated professionally to defend Symington "I raise my voice, as any man might, who hears a friend unjustly accused."

Lauds Symington

The general said the air secretary "has labored tirelessly to produce effective and economical air power for the defense of this country." He added:

"That Mr. Symington could have entertained the idea of jeopardizing the security of this country by favoring inferior airplanes for the monetary advantage of a political party or because of the personal influence of any individual manufacturer is unthinkable."

When Symington took the stand in his own defense he read a statement denying point - by - point charges first made by Rep. Van Zandt last May.

At that time Van Zandt told the House he had heard reports that Symington planned to resign shortly to head an aircraft combine being formed by Floyd Odlum, head of Atlas corp., which controls Consolidated, the makers of the B-36. Van Zandt also reported that Odlum had helped Symington and Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson raise campaign funds for the Democratic party last Fall.

Symington said these charges were "not true." And he acidly remarked that Van Zandt, a committee member, "has been here hardly at all this afternoon."

Raps 'Anonymous' Paper

"I think he should stay in here and face us," Symington added.

The secretary also struck out at an "anonymous" document which was placed in the official committee records at the start of the hearings Tuesday.

That document for the most part was an expansion of Van Zandt's charges but it also said in its introduction that it was designed to show "efforts of the Atlas Corp. to take over the national military establishment."

In denying the charges contained in the paper, Symington said it was not available to Air Force officials "until it had done its insidious work of poisoning minds against one of the armed services and causing decent citizens to be sincerely troubled."

The air secretary commented that the document shows evidence of careful and long research, "some of it within the walls of the national military establishment itself." He did not elaborate on that remark but he challenged the paper's authors to "come forth with their proof x x x and establish the good faith and accuracy of these charges."

After questioning Symington at length as to whether any political or business influences swayed his decisions on the B-36 program—all of which brought flat denials—the committee recessed public hearings until Aug. 22.

World Government Impossible At Present Time, Austin Says

LENOX, Mass., Aug. 12—(AP) Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to the United Nations, said tonight creation of world government under present conditions is impossible.

Austin called upon advocates of the world government idea to give their support to the UN now and make their world government plan a long-range goal.

In a speech at the Berkshire Music festival, the former Vermont Senator took issue with those who feel that steps should be taken immediately toward a world government to replace the UN.

UN Best Possible

"We now have voluntary association," Austin said, "and we may continue to enjoy and develop that into what might be termed world government."

He said the UN "represents the highest degree of cooperation that is possible today in the family of nations."

"It must be clear," he said, "that, in the long run, any policy that is good for the United Nations will represent realistic congress toward world government, and that all intelligent work for world government ought to be work for the United Nations."

Austin opposed calling a world government conference now on two main grounds: first, he felt the conference would fail to get agreement among the big powers and, secondly, he felt the risks to peace were too great.

"There is scarcely a single feature of establishing a government for the whole world which does not contain risks of the peace," he said. "This should give us pause."

On the chances of getting big power agreement, Austin said:

"x x x I am persuaded by experience that we cannot at this time, or within the predictable future, have agreement among the five great powers upon such amendments of the charter as are indispensable for the transformation of the United Nations from a voluntary association into a government."

Author Mann Alarmed By Rise Of Nationalism In Germany

AUG 13 1949

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—Author Thomas Mann came back from Europe tonight concerned, he said, because the Germans complain they were better off under Hitler than they are today.

The Nobel prize-winning novelist arrived on the liner Nieuw Amsterdam after his first visit to his German homeland since Hitler exiled him in 1933.

"The way the de-Nazifications were handled is one of the most alarming symptoms," he said.

"It seems to me that the honestly democratic forces that obviously exist but in a dangerous minority, should be better supported by the Western democracies in their struggle against nationalism and militarism in every possible way."

Speaks From Notes

In his first-hand report on Germany, Dr. Mann, summing up his observations after sixteen years in exile, spoke from notes he had made.

"I did not speak to one decent and honest German who was not deeply concerned about the increasing nationalism in his country," the 74-year-old writer said.

"Widely responsible for this state of mind is the strange fact that the Germans do not realize and do not want to realize the causes of their actual conditions.

"The great majority of the people . . . complain: 'Under Hitler we were much better off.'"

Shortly before his departure May 10, Dr. Mann said he believed Russia sincerely wants peace and understanding with America.

During a visit to the Soviet zone of Germany, the Soviet-licensed press quoted him as saying there was room in the world for Russian communism and Westtrn capitalism.

Hard Time For Liberals

However, Dr. Mann said his visit to eastern Germany was "unpolitical."

He saw no solution to the bitter suffering of the German people, he said, "until there is a final understanding between the East and West."

He said he spoke in the Soviet zone on "the indestructible value of freedom and the dignity of human relations."

This evoked great applause, he declared, from a part of his audience that was "anti-regime."

He said people in the Soviet zone are divided, with the young people backing the Russian regime and their elders opposed to it.

Liberals have a hard time bucking the Communist trend in the eastern zone, Dr. Mann added.

Dr. Mann said he and his wife would stop in New York a couple of days and then leave for their home in Pacific Palisades, Cal.

ALASKA DEFENSELESS, GOV. GRUENING WARNS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Gov. Ernest Gruening told Congress today that Alaska was defenseless and that the territory could be captured tomorrow by a minor-scale airborne invasion.

"If there is another Pearl Harbor, and this time it will be a far more serious disaster than in 1941, it shall not be said that no warning has been given," Mr. Gruening said in a telegram to Senator Lester C. Hunt, Democrat, of Wyoming.

Mr. Hunt put the communication in The Congressional Record.

The Governor gave his estimate of Alaskan defenses in appealing to Congress to act quickly on a $137,738,712 defense authorization.

"I can state categorically," Mr. Gruening said, "that Alaska is defenseless and that the territory could be taken tomorrow by a minor-scale airborne invasion."

He said a report that Congress was deferring action at this session on the territory's defense authorization "appears to us unbelievable."

Congress has voted billions to check the advance of communism in Europe, Mr. Gruening said, but "it denies less than 2.5 per cent of that sum in authorization for the long-overdue defense construction of American territory fifty-four miles across the Bering Strait from our police-state neighbor."

He said that instead of making Alaska impregnable Congress, by failure to act, "is perpetuating Alaska as America's Achilles' heel."

GEN. J. L. COLLINS NAMED ARMY HEAD

Succeeds Bradley as Chief of Staff; T.T. Handy Gets European Command

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(AP) The Army today got a new chief of staff and a new commander for its forces in Europe.

Gen. Joseph Lawton Collins was picked for the top spot by President Truman. He named Collins, now vice chief of staff, to succeed Gen. Omar N. Bradley whom he nominated yesterday for the highest military post in the country—chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. Both selections are subject to Senate approval.

For the European command, Gen. Thomas T. Handy was named by Secretary of Defense Johnson to fill the post held until recently by Gen. Lucius D. Clay. Handy, a 57-year-old veteran of both World Wars, has been serving as head of the Fourth Army in San Antonio, Texas. A native of Tennessee, Handy is a graduate of Virginia Military institute.

Collins was born in New Orleans, May 1, 1896. He was graduated from the military academy and was commissioned a second lieutenant, April 20, 1917.

He saw service in both World Wars.

After World War II Collins became deputy commanding general of the Army Ground Forces in Washington.

He became director of information for the old War department in 1945. On Sept. 1, 1947, he was named the army's deputy chief of staff, now known as vice chief of staff.

Distinguished Record

Collins had a distinguished record in action in the last World War. He commanded troops in Guadalcanal before going to Europe. In Europe, he commanded the 7th Army corps which landed on Utah

Beach in Normandy on D-Day. His troops captured Cherbourg.

Later the corps under Collins spearheaded the attack of the First Army which made the breakthrough east of St. Lo. After numerous engagements in France and Belgium, the 7th corps broke through the Siegfried line defenses and captured Aachen. His troops participated with the First Army in the drive to the Rhine and the capture of Cologne.

Collins finally led the corps in its drive to the Elbe river where it made a junction with the Russians advancing from the east.

It was understood that Collins was Bradley's personal choice for his successor as chief of staff. They served together in Europe.

Ilgenfritz Named Munitions Chief

Washington, Aug. 12 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Carl A. Ilgenfritz, of Pittsburgh, to be chairman of the Munitions Board.

Ilgenfritz, a United States Steel Company executive, is a member of the American Iron and Steel Institute and the National Association of Purchasing Agents. He is a native of Youngstown, Ohio.

Secretary of Defense Johnson, who recommended the appointment to Mr. Truman, described Ilgenfritz as a Republican. The nomination is subject to Senate confirmation.

Post Long Vacant

The Munitions Board post long has been vacant.

Ilgenfritz has been acting as adviser to the Federal Bureau of Supply and also served on the Hoover governmental reorganization commission. He is a member of the international tin-study group, acting as adviser to the State Department.

LAST U. S. WITNESS TAKES STAND IN TOKYO ROSE TRIAL

AUG 13 1949

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12—(AP) The government called its final witnesses today to tell how Tokyo Rose tried to make allied troops in the Pacific jittery and homesick.

There also was sexy chatter about redheads as the prosecution neared the end of its case against Los Angeles born Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino. She is charged with treason for her wartime "Zero Hour" program from Radio Tokyo.

On two occasions, Sgt. Charles F. Hall testified, the woman he knew as "Orphan Ann" broadcast in advance that his 90th bomb group was going to move to new bases in New Guinea. This was supposed to be a military secret.

Told of Movements

During the week prior to Jan. 17, 1944, Hall related, the woman who came to be called Tokyo Rose dedicated her program to "the jolly rogers of the 90th bomb group." She knew the unit was moving on Jan. 17 from Dobodura to Nadzab, New Guinea, "and would have a reception committee waiting for us."

The group moved Jan. 17, Hall continued.

"When you got to Nadzab, what happened?" asked assistant prosecutor James Knapp.

"We got the Hell strafed out of us."

In another broadcast, Hall, a 19-year-Army veteran now stationed at Fort George Wright, Wash., said Tokyo Rose declared there were 21 different reasons "why we shouldn't sleep with a redhead."

"She said nobody went to bed to sleep with a redhead in the first place," the sergeant said.

Says Troops Deserted

Robert Cowan, 34, Los Angeles television producer, testified he was on "Orange Beach" on Levte in late October 1944 when he heard this "Zero Hour" admonition:

"You have been deserted. Your ships have left you. You will be driven back into the sea. You will be annihilated by the Japanese imperial Army and Navy."

A Filipino Army veteran, Mariano Villarin, described two visits to Radio Tokyo in 1944. He said he saw Mrs. D'Aquino broadcasting. He quoted one statement:

"Hello, honorable enemy. Why do you have to stay in the foxholes of New Guinea when your girl friends are running around with other men? It's about time you fellows went home."

Villarin said he was one of a group in the Philippines chosen to go to Tokyo for indoctrination.

3 JAILED REDS APPEAL TO U.S. SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Three communists jailed by Judge Harold R. Medina in New York on contempt charges today appealed to the supreme court.

The three are among the top-ranking communist officials on trial before Judge Medina on allegations that they worked for forcible overthrow of the government.

The trio—Gus Hall, Henry Winston, and Gilbert Green—were ordered to jail for the duration of the trial. They appealed to the high tribunal from a judgment of the U. S. circuit court in New York which upheld Judge Medina's action.

The supreme court is now in summer recess. Its next session will be on Oct. 3. No action on the appeals is expected before that time.

Petitions filed with the high court clerk by the three man contend that "whether or not intended," the effect of Judge Medina's action "is to pressure the petitioners, on pain of continued imprisonment, to hurry their defense to a close."

Foreign-Aid Measure Runs Into New Delay

Washington, Aug. 12 (AP)—The bill carrying billions for foreign aid ran into new delay today when Senate-House conferees trying to reach a compromise set it aside at least until Monday.

House members asked the delay because of other duties.

The bill is now six weeks behind schedule. It carries funds for the second full year of the Marshall plan beginning last July 1, together with financing for army occupation costs and aid for Greece and Turkey.

The Senate cut ten per cent from the House bill. It also tossed in amendments to complicate the task of the conferees.

SENATE APPROVES FUNDS FOR WIND TUNNEL TESTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(AP) The Senate today unanimously approved a $300,000,000 program to build wind tunnels to test faster-than-sound aircraft and guided missiles.

The bill now goes to the House, whose Armed Services committee has unanimously approved a similar measure.

Besides the wind tunnels, the bill calls for the establishment of an air engineering development center, the site of which has not been selected.

There will be nine large tunnels. Six will be constructed at the three laboratories of the National Advisory Council on Aeronautics. A seventh will be built at the David Taylor model basin, Carderock, Md. The other two will be at the new Air Engineering Center.

In addition, 13 smaller tunnels will be located at 13 universities.

The bill authorizes $4,400,000 for the 13 university-type tunnels; $6,600,000 for Carderock; $150,000,000 for the six NACA tunnels, and $150,000,000 for the development center and its two tunnels.

The budget, Tydings said, calls for an expenditure of only $30,000,000 during the current fiscal year on the program.

Harriman Wants Allies Of U.S. Well Equipped

New York, Aug. 12 (AP) — W. Averell Harriman said tonight that, in event of war, American soldiers "are entitled to have well-equipped allies."

Harriman, off for Europe as roving Marshall-plan representative, said there are millions of people in the Atlantic pact countries "who are willing to fight for the same causes as we are. . . ."

Such well-equipped allies, he said, "will be an added deterrent to war."

"IN ALL THIS WE ARE MOVING WITH THE SUPPORT OF THE MIGHTY REPUBLIC ACROSS THE ATLANTIC AND OF THE POWERFUL SELF-CONVENING STATES AND MEMBERS OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE X X X."

CHURCHILL, SPAAK, HENDRIK BRUGMANS OF HOLLAND, STEFANO JACINI OF ITALY, AND PAUL REYNAUD OF FRANCE ALL SPOKE FROM THE BALCONY OVERLOOKING KLEBER SQUARE IN THE HEART OF THE CITY.

REYNAUD TOLD THE RALLY THE U.S. STANDS BEHIND THE IDEA OF A UNITED EUROPE AND "WE WILL RAPIDLY LOSE ITS AID IF WE DO NOT FOLLOW ITS COUNSEL. HE CALLED ON THE GERMAN PEOPLE TO GIVE UP THEIR "POLICY OF BEATING THE FIST ON THE TABLE" IN RELATIONS WITH NEIGHBOR COUNTRIES AND BECOME A PEACEFUL MEMBER OF THE EUROPEAN FAMILY OF NATIONS.

"THE CAPITAL PROBLEM," REYNAUD SAID, "IS TO MAKE AN ECONOMICALLY LIVEABLE EUROPE. FOR THIS, IT IS NECESSARY TO GET RID OF THE DIVISION OF THE EUROPE OF TODAY" INTO SMALL NATIONAL STATES.

FIRST LEAD EUROPEAN COUNCIL

BY JOSEPH E. DYNAN

STRASBOURG, FRANCE, AUG. 12-(AP)-THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE'S FIRST ASSEMBLY WON A PARTIAL VICTORY TODAY IN ITS FIGHT FOR GREATER INDEPENDENCE FROM CONTROL BY THE 12 GOVERNMENTS ASSOCIATED WITH THE ORGANIZATION.

WINSTON CHURCHILL AND OTHER DELEGATES WHO FAVOR ESTABLISHING THE ASSEMBLY AS A FREE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT RELUCTANTLY AGREED TO A COMPROMISE SOLUTION.

THE DISPUTE CONCERNED WAYS OF ENLARGING THE ASSEMBLY'S AGENDA, THEREBY INCREASING THE SCOPE OF ITS DISCUSSIONS. UNDER THE COUNCIL STATUTE, THE AGENDA MUST FIRST BE APPROVED BY THE MINISTERIAL COMMITTEE WITHIN THE FIRST THREE DAYS OF THE ASSEMBLY SESSION. IT IS THROUGH THE MINISTERIAL COMMITTEE THAT THE 12 MEMBER GOVERNMENTS EXERCISE THEIR CONTROL OF THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE.

PRESIDENT PAUL-HENRI SPAAK OF BELGIUM PROMISED THE 101 MEMBERS OF THE ASSEMBLY THAT HE WILL "MAKE AN EFFORT AT CONCILIATION." HE HIMSELF INTRODUCED THE COMPROMISE PLAN AFTER SPENDING TWO HOURS IN DISCUSSIONS WITH THE MINISTERS.

UNDER THE COMPROMISE, ISSUES NOT ON THE ASSEMBLY'S ORIGINAL PROGRAM WILL BE REFERRED TO THE MINISTERS LATER IF BACKED BY TWO-THIRDS OF THE ASSEMBLY MEMBERS. THE MINISTERIAL COMMITTEE IS PLEDGED TO REPLY IN FIVE DAYS.

CHURCHILL BITTERLY ASSAILED THE TWO-THIRDS PROVISION SAYING: "WHY ALL THIS INTERFERENCE WITH THE FREEDOM OF DISCUSSION?"

SPAAK CITED THE ASSEMBLY'S PROVISIONAL PROCEDURE RULES, AS DRAFTED BY THE MINISTERIAL COMMITTEE, TO SHOW THAT A TWO-THIRDS MAJORITY IN NEEDED ON ANY RESOLUTION ANYWAY.

UNDER THE ASSEMBLY-MINISTERIAL AGREEMENT, THE ASSEMBLY IS TO COMPLETE THE ADOPTION OF AN AGENDA BY TOMORROW NIGHT FOR SUBMISSION TO THE MINISTERS. THE MINISTERS, IN TURN, WILL REPLY BY MONDAY OR TUESDAY MORNING.

SPAAK SAID THE MINISTERS ALSO HAD AGREED TO A WIDE INTERPRETATION OF A RULE WHEREBY SPAAK, AS ASSEMBLY PRESIDENT, CAN ADD A SUBJECT TO THE ASSEMBLY AGENDA AFTER CONSULTATION WITH THE CHAIRMAN OF THE MINISTERIAL COMMITTEE.

THE ASSEMBLY'S DRIVE FOR MORE POWER GOT UNDER WAY YESTERDAY. IT WAS LED BY CHURCHILL.

IN ONE OF HIS FIRST SPEECHES TO THE 101-MEMBER ASSEMBLY YESTERDAY, CHURCHILL RAPPED WHAT HE CALLED "CRIPPLING LIMITATION" ON ASSEMBLY DEBATE IMPOSED BY THE COUNCIL'S COMMITTEE OF FOREIGN MINISTERS.

THE COMMITTEE OF MINISTERS, REPRESENTING THE 12 GOVERNMENTS WHICH FORMED THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE, IS THE GUIDING BODY OF THE NEW EUROPEAN ORGANIZATION. THE COMMITTEE HAS THE POWER TO DECREE WHAT SUBJECTS SHALL BE DEBATED BY THE CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY.

CHURCHILL AND OTHER ADVOCATES OF SOME FORM OF EUROPEAN FEDERATION HOPE THE ASSEMBLY MAY BE THE FORERUNNER TO A GENUINE PARLIAMENT OF EUROPE, WITH LEGISLATIVE POWERS CUTTING ACROSS NATIONAL BOUNDARIES. AT PRESENT THE COUNCIL--DIVIDED INTO A CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY AND A COMMITTEE OF MINISTERS--HAS ONLY ADVISORY POWERS TO PROMOTE GREATER EUROPEAN UNITY.

INSPIRED BY CHURCHILL'S ORATORY, THE ASSEMBLY DELEGATES CLEARLY INDICATED THEY WILL SEEK GREATER AUTHORITY THAN THE MINISTERIAL COMMITTEE INTEND THEY SHALL HAVE.

FIRST INDICATION OF THE REVOLT CAME WHEN CHURCHILL AND OTHER DELEGATES OBJECTED TO WHAT THEY CALLED A THREE-DAY GAG RULE. UNDER THE RULE, NOTHING CAN BE ADDED TO THE ASSEMBLY'S AGENDA WITHOUT THE MINISTERIAL COMMITTEE'S APPROVAL. REQUESTS FOR SUCH ADDITIONS MUST BE MADE WITHIN THREE DAYS OF THE ASSEMBLY'S OPENING.

A10

CHURCHILL CALLED THE RULE A "CRIPPLING LIMITATION WHICH HAS NEVER BEEN ACCEPTED BY ANY ASSEMBLY WORTHY OF THE NAME FREE."

"WHY SHOULD THIS ARBITRARY LIMIT OF THREE DAYS BE THRUST DOWN OUR THROATS?" CHURCHILL DEMANDED. "THE ASSEMBLY MUST AT ITS OUTSET SHOW THAT IT HAS THE KIND OF SPIRIT UPON WHICH THE LIFE OF PARLIAMENTS HAVE BEEN BORN."

THE APPLAUSE WHICH GREETED THE BRITISH WARTIME PRIME MINISTER'S CHALLENGE SHOWED THE BULK OF THE ASSEMBLY--REPRESENTING ALL DIFFERENT POLITICAL GROUPS EXCEPT THE EXTREMES OF COMMUNISM AND FASCISM--DID INDEED HAVE THIS SPIRIT.

SOME MEMBERS LED BY FRANCE'S PIERRE-HENRI TEITGEN VERGED ON OPEN REVOLT WHEN TEITGEN MOVED AN AMENDMENT TO STRIKE OUT THE THREE-DAY GAG RULE. SPAAK RULED, HOWEVER, THAT SUCH A MOTION WAS OUT OF ORDER.

SPAAK, ALSO REGARDED AS AN ARDENT SUPPORTER OF EUROPEAN FEDERATION, WARNED THE DELEGATES AGAINST TRYING TO MOVE TOO SWIFTLY.

"IT IS NOT POSSIBLE TO REMAKE EUROPE TO OUR HEART'S DESIRE IN ONE MONTH," SPAAK DECLARED. "YOU MUST MAKE A CHOICE AMONG PROBLEMS. AFTER THIS SESSION, THERE WILL BE OTHERS. IT IS INDISPENSABLE THAT SOMETHING REAL AND PRAVTICAL RESULT 59. 974 294(."

SOVIET-YUGOSLAV (240)

LONDON, AUG 12-(AP)-RUSSIA TODAY CALLED MARSHAL TITO'S YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT AN "ENEMY AND FOE OF THE SOVIET UNION."

IT WAS THE FIRST TIME THE KREMLIN HAS HURLED THE TERM "ENEMY" AGAINST TITO, ALTHOUGH IT HAS BITTERLY DENOUNCED THE YUGOSLAV REGIME FOR THE LAST YEAR.

DIPLOMATIC OBSERVERS WERE WONDERING WHETHER THE LATEST OUTBREAK OF NAME CALLING SIGNALED A SHARPER SOVIET POLICY AGAINST THE TITO GOVERNMENT. MARSHAL TITO LAST WEEK ALERTED HIS TROOPS IN YUGOSLAV MACEDONIA, BETWEEN COMMUNIST BULGARIA AND ALBANIA, AND SAID HIS SOVIET-DOMINATED NEIGHBORS WERE SPREADING RUMORS OF A POSSIBLE RED ARMY INVASION THERE.

TITO WAS QUOTED BY HIS OFFICIAL NEWS AGENCY AS DISMISSING THE REPORTS AS ATTEMPTED INTIMIDATION BUT WARNED HE WAS READY TO FIGHT ANY INVADER.

THE SOVIET ATTACK WAS CONTAINED IN A RUSSIAN NOTE TO YUGOSLAVIA AND BROADCAST BY MOSCOW RADIO TODAY. IT WAS THE FOURTH IN A SERIES OF BITTER DIPLOMATIC EXCHANGES OVER RUSSIA'S ABANDONMENT OF YUGOSLAV CLAIMS TO A PORTION OF SOUTHERN AUSTRIA.

THE SOVIET NOTE ACCUSED THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT OF "MERGING ITSELF . . WITH IMPERIALIST CIRCLES (THE WEST) AGAINST THE SOVIET UNION AND ENTERING INTO BLOCS WITH THEM."

IN AN APPARENT MOVE TO STIR UP OPPOSITION TO TITO INSIDE YUGOSLAVIA, THE SOVIET NOTE ADDED:

"LET THE YUGOSLAV PEOPLE KNOW THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT DOES NOT REGARD THE PRESENT YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT AS A FRIEND AND ALLY BUT AS AN ENEMY AND FOE OF THE SOVIET UNION."

YUGOSLAV WAS EXPELLED FROM THE SOVIET-DOMINATED COMINFORM (COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL INFORMATION BUREAU) LAST SUMMER FOR REFUSING TO FOLLOW KREMLIN POLICY.

"THE UNITED KINGDOM IS PRODUCING ABOUT ONE THIRD MORE FROM AGRICULTURE THAN IN PRE WAR-PERIODS. THAT IS JUST ABOUT ON A PAR WITH THE INCREASED PRODUCTION IN THE UNITED STATES SINCE THE WAR."

THE UNRRA OFFICIAL SAID THERE WAS NO CHANCE THAT BRITAIN WOULD BECOME SELF SUFFICIENT IN FOOD.

THE FOUR AGREEMENTS WERE DRAWN UP BY A 60-NATION CONFERENCE HERE AND WERE APPROVED YESTERDAY, ALTHOUGH MANY DELEGATES GAVE NOTICE OF RESERVATIONS ON THE TEXTS AS ADOPTED. NOT ONE DELEGATION CAST A NEGATIVE VOTE. Geneva - (War convention) x x x ratify them.

ALL FOUR CONVENTIONS WERE BASED ON DRAFTS MADE AT A RED CROSS CONFERENCE IN STOCKHOLM LAST YEAR. ONLY THE CIVILIAN CONVENTION IS ENTIRELY NEW. THE OTHER THREE ARE REVISIONS OF RULES OF WAR WHICH WERE ADOPTED AT GENEVA IN 1929 AND WERE IN FORCE THROUGHOUT WORLD WAR II.

WHEN GENERALLY RATIFIED, THE CIVILIAN CONVENTION WILL FORMALLY OUTLAW OCCUPATION MEASURES SUCH AS THOSE USED BY THE NAZIS. IT WILL BAN THE TAKING OF HOSTAGES, REPRISALS, TORTURE AND MASS DEPORTATIONS.

THE CONFERENCE CHAIRMAN, SWISS FOREIGN MINISTER MAX PETITPIERRE, TOLD TODAY'S CLOSING SESSION THAT IT HAS "BECOME URGENT FOR CIVILIANS TO HAVE THEIR OWN CHARTER, LIKE THE WOUNDED AND THE PRISONERS OF WAR." HE DESCRIBED MODERN TOTAL WAR AS "BLIND AND DEVOURING."

OTHER PROVISIONS IN THE FOUR AGREEMENTS RECOGNIZE FOR THE FIRST TIME PRISONER-OF-WAR STATUS FOR PARTISANS AND GRANT CAPTIVE MILITARY MEDICAL PERSONNEL FREEDOM TO CARE FOR THEIR CAPTURED COMPATRIOTS. THEY ALSO PROVIDE FOR NEUTRALIZED SECURITY ZONES NEAR THE FIGHTING FRONTS TO SHELTER THE WOUNDED AND CIVILIANS.

THE MOUNTING CRITICISM OF WESTERN ALLIES ON ALL SIDES DREW A BITTER COMMENT FROM A U.S. MILITARY GOVERNMENT SPOKESMAN LAST NIGHT.

THE SPOKESMAN DECLARED IN A GERMAN-LANGUAGE BROADCAST THAT "NOT A SINGLE PARTY HAS A GOOD WORD FOR THE POSITIVE WORK OF THE WESTERN ALLIES." Add Frankfurt (Elections) x x x the elections.

"ONE IS FORCED TO MAKE COMPARISONS WITH THE PAST AND TO LOOK WITH SOME ANXIETY TO THE FUTURE, WHICH IS BEING ENTRUSTED TO SUCH A FORGETFUL, NATIONALISTIC PEOPLE," HE SAID.

THE SPOKESMAN DECLARED GERMAN POLITICIANS AGREE ON ONLY ONE POINT: "A PRONOUNCED NATIONALISM WHICH SEES ALL RIGHT ON ONE SIDE AND ALL INJUSTICE AND BAD WILL ON THE OTHER SIDE."

HE WARNED THAT "OPINION ABROAD HAS NOT OVERLOOKED THE AWAKENED NATIONALISM NOR THE SUDDEN FORGETFULNESS OF GERMAN POLITICIANS CONCERNING THE ASSISTANCE THE WESTERN ALLIES HAVE RENDERED."

EVEN AS HE SPOKE CANDIDATES FOR THE NEW PARLIAMENT CARRIED ON THEIR HEATED ATTACKS ON THE ALLIES.

BOTH AMERICAN AND BRITISH OBSERVERS CLAIM THESE ANTI-ALLIED REMARKS HAVE RESULTED IN A GENERAL APATHY AMONG THE GERMANY VOTERS. THESE OBSERVERS PREDICT A GROWING DISTRUST OF GERMAN POLITICAL LEADERS WILL RESULT IN A COMPARATIVELY LIGHT VOTE IN SUNDAY'S ELECTIONS.

WEST GERMANS CHOOSE A 400-MEMBER PARLIAMENT FOR AN 11-STATE REPUBLIC IN THE U.S., BRITISH AND FRENCH ZONES. THIS PARLIAMENT THEN WILL NAME A PRESIDENT AND A PRIME MINISTER (CHANCELLOR) WHO WILL ORGANIZE THE GOVERNMENT.

A14

ONE BRITISH OBSERVER SAID: "THE GERMANS SIMPLY DON'T HAVE ANY FAITH IN THEIR PARTIES. THEY HAVE BEEN OFFERED NO CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAMS--ONLY ATTACKS AGAINST THE ALLIES. YOUTHS ESPECIALLY ARE DISTRUSTFUL. FEW OF THEM WILL VOTE."

LEFT-WING SOCIAT

LEFT-WING SOCIAL DEMOCRATS ARE GIVEN A SLIGHT EDGE OVER THEIR CONSERVATIVE RIVALS THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS, IN MOST FORECASTS, BUT THE SAME FORECASTS PREDICT FORMATION OF A RIGHT-WING GOVERNMENT.

RESPONSIBLE WESTERN ALLIED OFFICIALS EXPLAINED THE ODD SITUATION LIKE THIS:

NEITHER PARTY IS EXPECTED TO WIN A MAJORITY OF THE SEATS IN PARLIAMENT. TO DO SO ONE WOULD HAVE TO POLL AT LEAST 51 PER CENT OF THE TOTAL VOTE.

ALLIED OFFICIALS SAID EITHER THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS OR THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS WILL BE LUCKY TO POLL 40 PER CENT. EACH PARTY IS MORE LIKELY TO GARNER 30 TO 35 PER CENT.

THIS WOULD FORCE THE FORMATION OF A COALITION GOVERNMENT. FOR THE CONSTITUTION REQUIRES THAT THE PRIME MINISTER BE APPROVED BY A MAJORITY VOTE OF PARLIAMENT, JUST AS IN BRITAIN.

IF NEITHER OF THE BIG PARTIES WINS A PARLIAMENTARY MAJORITY, IT MUST JOIN FORCES WITH ONE OR MORE MINOR PARTIES TO WIN ENOUGH SUPPORT IN PARLIAMENT TO FORM A GOVERNMENT.

ALLIED OFFICIALS SAID THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS HAVE A BETTER CHANCE OF DOING THIS THAN THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS.

PRAGUE,AUG.12-(AP)-THE VATICAN HAS APPOINTED TWO NEW BISHOPS IN SLOVAKIA IN AN ACTION WHICH MAY CAUSE A NEW CLASH BETWEEN CHURCH AND STATE HERE, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY.

THE NEW APPOINTEES ARE MONSIGNOR AMBROSIUS LAZIK, WHO HAS BEEN SERVING AS APOSTOLIC ADMINISTRATOR OF TRNAVA, AND MONSIGNOR ROBERT POBOZNY, WHO HAS BEEN CAPITULAR VICAR OF ROZNAVA.

THEY ARE TO BE CONSECRATED NEXT SUNDAY. BOTH HAVE EXPRESSED THEIR LOYALTY TO THE NATION'S PRIMATE, ARCHBISHOP JOSEF BERAN, BY SIGNING HIS LAST PASTORAL LETTER. THE LETTER WAS ISSUED JUNE 28, AND IT ACCUSED THE CZECHOSLOVAK GOVERNMENT OF PERSECUTING THE CHURCH AND ATTEMPTING TO CRUSH RELIGIOUS LIBERTY.

THIS PASTORAL LETTER HAS BEEN DENOUNCED BY THE GOVERNMENT AS A "SUBVERSIVE AND ANTI-STATE DOCUMENT" AND IT WAS HARDLY LIKELY THAT ANY MONSIGNORI WHO SIGNED IT WOULD BE ACCEPTABLE TO THE GOVERNMENT.

THE POSSIBILITY OF A NEW STATE-CHURCH CLASH OVER THESE APPOINTMENTS ARISES OUT OF THE UNOFFICIAL AGREEMENT WHICH HAS EXISTED BETWEEN THE CZECH GOVERNMENT AND THE VATICAN SINCE BEFORE THE LAST WAR.

UNDER THIS, THE STATE MAINTAINS THE RIGHT TO REJECT OR APPROVE ANY CANDIDATE FOR BISHOP PROPOSED BY THE VATICAN.

HOWEVER, THE VATICAN DIPLOMATIC REPRESENTATIVE HERE CLAIMED THIS ISSUE HAD BEEN CIRCUMVENTED. HE SAID THAT THE TWO NEW SLOVAKIAN BISHOPS WERE NOT NAMED BISHOPS IN RESIDENCE BUT MERELY TITULAR BISHOPS. HE CLAIMED THAT BY THIS PROCESS PRIOR APPROVAL OF THE GOVERNMENT WAS NOT REQUIRED.

ASKED WHETHER HE THOUGHT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD BE SATISFIED WITH THIS ARGUMENT, THE VATICAN REPRESENTATIVE SAID THIS REMAINED TO BE SEEN BUT HE FELT CERTAIN THE CHURCH WAS LEGALLY RIGHT IN THE MATTER. NO COMMENT WAS AVAILABLE FROM GOVERNMENT SOURCES AND THE CONTROLLED CZECH PRESS AND RADIO HAD MADE NO MENTION OF THE NEW CHURCH APPOINTMENTS.

A70

UNDER A CHURCH CONTROL BILL COMING UP FOR PARLIAMENTARY ACTION THIS FALL THE CZECH GOVERNMENT DEMANDS NOT ONLY PRIOR APPROVAL--ON POLITICAL GROUNDS-- OF ARCHBISHOPS AND BISHOPS BUT OF ALL CHURCH APPOINTMENTS, INCLUDING VILLAGE PRIESTS.

HOWEVER, THE VATICAN REPRESENTATIVE HERE DENIED REPORTS GIVEN OUT BY PRAGUE DIPLOMATIC SOURCES WHICH CLAIMED THE TWO NEW BISHOPS WERE APPOINTED "BISHOPS IN PARTIBUS INFIDELIUM." THEY EXPLAINED THIS TERM TO MEAN THAT THE VATICAN NOW CONSIDERED CZECHOSLOVAKIA AS RULED BY UNBELIEVERS.

(MSGR.LAZIK WAS APPOINTED TITULAR BISHOP OF APPIA AND MSGR.POBOZNY TITULAR BISHOP OF NEILA BY THE VATICAN JULY 26. VATICAN SOURCES SAID THE APPOINTMENTS WERE MADE BY THE CONSISTORIAL CONGREGATION.

(THESE VATICAN SOURCES SAID THE LATIN TERM "EPISCOPUS IN PARTIBUS INFIDELIUM" HAS BEEN REPLACED BY THE TERM "TITULAR BISHOP." THE VATICAN'S PONTIFICAL ANNUAL SAYS THE TERM "IN PARTIBUS INFIDELIUM" WAS ABOLISHED IN 1882 BY POPE LEO XIII IN FAVOR OF TITULAR BISHOP.

(THE TWO SLOVAK MONSIGNORS WERE NAMED TITULAR BISHOPS OF PLACES WHICH EXISTED IN THE EARLY CHRISTIAN ERA IN ASIA MINOR. THIS DID NOT MEAN THE CHURCH CONSIDERED CZECHOSLOVAKIA TO BE ADMINISTERED BY INFIEDLES, THE SOURCES SAID. FOR EXAMPLE, THEY SAID, BISHOP BERNARD SHEIL OF CHICAGO, ILL., IS TITULAR BISHOP OF PEGE IN THE HELLESPONT, BUT OBVIOUSLY CHICAGO IS NOT CONSIDERED UNDER INF

INFIDELS, THE SOURCES SAID. FOR EXAMPLE, THEY SAID, BISHOP BERNARD SHEIL OF CHICAGO, ILL., IS TITULAR BISHOP OF PEGE IN THE HELLESPONT, BUT OBVIOUSLY CHICAGO IS NOT CONSIDERED UNDER INFIDEL ADMINISTRATION.

MEANWHILE, THE OFFICIAL SLOVAK PRESS AGENCY REPORTED THAT DELEGATIONS FROM THE GOVERNMENT-SPONSORED CATHOLIC ACTION MOVEMENT WERE CALLING UPON SLOVAKIAN GISHOPS AND DEMANDING THAT THEY TRY ANEW TO REACH AGREEMENT WITH THE GOVERNMENT ON A NEW STATE-CHURCH ACCORD.

THESE REPORTS DESCRIBED THE DELEGATIONS AS COMPOSED OF CATHOLIC WORKERS, PEASANTS AND "WORKING INTELLIGENTSIA" WHO DESIRED TO COOPERATE WITH THE GOVERNMENT "ON OUR PATH TOWARDS SOCIALISM."

THE TRANSLATION OF "EPISCOPUS IN PARTIBUS INFIDELIUM" IS "BISHOP OF INFIDEL COUNTRIES."

DEALING WITH THE CURRENT STATUS OF RUSSIAN-YUGOSLAV RELATIONS, THE NEW SOVIET NOTE SAID:

"THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT MORE AND MORE IS JOINING UP WITH THE IMPERIALIST CIRCLES (THE WEST) AGAINST THE U.S.S.R. AND IS IN A BLOC WITH THEM.

"THAT CERTAIN STRONG TIES BIND THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT OR CHIEF PERSONS IN THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT WITH THE CAMP OF FOREIGN CAPITALISTS. Add Moscow - (Nite - Russ-Yugoslav) - x x x cominform).

"THAT THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT CAN NO LONGER CONSIDER THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT AS AN ALLY.

"THAT THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT CAN NO LONGER SUPPORT CLAIMS OF THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT, ESPECIALLY THOSE CLAIMS WHICH THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT HAS RENOUNCED, ALTHOUGH IT HIDES IT FROM THE YUGOSLAV PEOPLE.

"THAT IF THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT PREFERS A UNITED FRONT WITH THE IMPERIALISTS TO A UNITED FRONT WITH THE U.S.S.R., THEN LET THESE CIRCLES (THE IMPERIALISTS) SUPPORT ITS CLAIMS."

MOSCOW PUBLISHED A LETTER FROM EDWARD KARDELJ, YUGOSLAV FOREIGN MINISTER, DATED APRIL 20, 1947, IN WHICH HE OFFERED VARIATIONS ON THE MINIMUM YUGOSLAV DEMANDS ON AUSTRIA. IN EFFECT, IT REDUCED YUGOSLAVIA'S CLAIMS TO A SMALL STRIP OF TERRITORY CONTAINING TWO ELECTRIC POWER STATIONS.

RUSSIA CHARGED IN ITS NOTE YUGOSLAVIA WAS AFRAID TO BEAR THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR SACRIFICING NATIONAL INTERESTS AND WANTED TO HAVE THE SOVIET UNION PLAY THAT ROLE. THE NOTE ADDED THAT RUSSIA REFUSED TO PLAY THE PART OF A "POLITICAL SWINDLER."

EASTERN ALLIES APPLIED AN ECONOMIC SQUEEZE TO THE BALKAN NATION. EARLIER THIS MONTH YUGOSLAVIA AND ITALY SIGNED A ONE-YEAR TRADE AGREEMENT CALLING FOR AN EXCHANGE OF $93,000,000 OWRTH OF GOODS. THERE ALSO HAVE BEEN OTHER SIGNS THAT TITO IS SEEKING WESTERN TRADE TIES TO HELP HIM OVERCOME THE PRESSURE OF THE EASTERN BOYCOTT.

THE LATEST RUSSIAN NOTE WAS IN REPLY TO A PROTEST ON AUG.3 BY THE BELGRADE GOVERNMENT THAT RUSSIA WAS SELLING OUT AUSTRIA'S SLOVENES AND CARINTHIANS AND TRYING TO "COVER UP" THE DEAL WITH SLANDERS. MOSCOW TOOK THE STAND THAT TITO HAS BEEN CARRYING ON SECRET NEGOTIATIONS WITH BRITAIN ON THE AUSTRIAN INDEPENDENCE TREATY "BEHIND THE BACK OF THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT."

YUGOSLAVIA'S COMMUNIST GOVERNMENT, WHICH WAS INTIMATELY ASSOCIATED WITH THE OTHER COMMUNIST REGIMES OF EASTERN EUROPE IN THE IMMEDIATE POSTWAR PERIOD, WAS EXPELLED FROM THE MOSCOW-DIRECTED COMINFORM (COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL INFORMATION BUREAU) A LITTLE MORE THAN A YEAR AGO. THE KREMLIN ACCUSED TITO AND HIS FOLLOWERS OF NATIONALISTIC DEVIATIONS FROM ORTHODOX COMMUNISM.

RUSSIA AND THE COUNTRIES IN HER SPHERE THEN PUT AN ECONOMIC SQUEEZE ON YUGOSLAVIA. EARLIER THIS MONTH YUGOSLAVIA AND ITALY SIGNED A ONE-YEAR TRADE TREATY CALLING FOR AN EXCHANGE OF $93,000,000 WORTH OF GOODS AND THERE HAVE BEEN OTHER SIGNS THAT TITO IS LOOKING FOR TRADE FROM THE WEST TO HELP HIM BEAT EASTERN EUROPE'S ECONOMIC BOYCOTT.

A FURTHER STRAIN ON YUGOSLAV-RUSSIAN RELATIONS RESULTED LAST JUNE WHEN THE BIG FOUR FOREIGN MINISTERS REJECTED YUGOSLAV'S DEMANDS FOR A SLICE OF AUSTRIAN TERRITORY. IN EARLIER FOUR POWER MEETINGS, RUSSIA HAD SUPPORTED THE YUGOSLAV DEMAND.

THE LATEST SOVIET NOTE WAS IN REPLY TO BELGRADE'S FORMAL PROTEST OF AUG. 3 THAT RUSSIA WAS SELLING OUT AUSTRIA'S SLOVENES AND CARINTHIANS AND ATTEMPTING "TO COVER UP" THE DEAL WITH SLANDERS. MOSCOW IN TURN ACCUSED TITO OF CARRYING ON SECRET NEGOTIATIONS WITH BRITAIN ON THE AUSTRIAN INDEPENDENCE TREATY "BEHIND THE BACK OF THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT."

MOSCOW,AUG.12-(AP)-PRAVDA SAID TODAY THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS LEADERS HAVE REACHED A "NEW PHASE IN THE COLD WAR."

THE COMMUNIST PARTY ORGAN SAID THE NEW PHASE CONSISTS OF A RACE AGAINST TIME BY THESE LEADERS TO SEIZE KEY MILITARY, ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL POSITIONS IN WESTERN EUROPE AND THE REST OF THE WORLD BEFORE THE FULL WEIGHT OF THE ECONOMIC CRISIS IS FELT IN THE U.S. AND ABROAD.

THE ARTICLE, BY FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMENTATOR M. MARININ, SAID RECENT STATEMENTS BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN AND OTHER AMERICAN STATESMEN WERE DIRECTED AT FANNING ANTI-SOVIET WAR HYSTERIA TO A PEAK IN THE FACE OF POPULAR LETHARGY IN ORDER TO ENABLE THE U.S. TO:

1: TAKE OVER THE ORGANIZATIONAL APPARATUS BEING SET UP UNDER THE NORTH ATLANTIC PACT.

2: TAKE INTO AMERICAN HANDS THE LEADERSHIP OF ALL WESTERN EUROPE'S ARMED FORCES.

3: FORCE BRITAIN AND OTHER NATIONS TO DEVALUE THEIR CURRENCIES.

4: REMOVE OTHER BARRIERS IN THE PATH OF DOLLAR EXPANSION.

5: THUS TO SEIZE CAPITALIST MARKETS THROUGHOUT THE WORLD IN ORDER TO LESSEN THE BLOW UPON THE U.S. OF THE "RAPIDLY ADVANCING CRISIS" AND TRANSFER IT TO OTHER NATIONS.

THERE WAS MUCH UNCERTAINTY WITHIN LANCHOW AS TO WHAT THE CITY'S MOSLEM MINORITY AND MA'S TROOPS WILL DO IN CASE OF FIGHTING FOR LANCHOW OR IN THE EVENT OF A SUDDEN RETREAT.

THE ONLY PASSAGE FOR RETREAT IS A NARROW BRIDGE OVER THE SWIFT, FLOOD SWOLLEN YELLOW RIVER. Add Canton (Day) x x x Ma's retreat.

TOKYO, AUG. 12-(AP)-GENERAL MACARTHUR TODAY DECLINED A SENATE INVITATION TO RETURN TO WASHINGTON AND TESTIFY ON THE FOREIGN ARMS AID BILL.

THE OCCUPATION COMMANDER IN A STATEMENT GAVE THESE TWO MAIN REASONS:

1. HE'S NEEDED IN TOKYO "DURING THIS MOMENT OF CRITICAL EVENTS IN THE FAR EAST."

2. THE TESTIMONY WANTED FROM HIM CONCERNS CHINA, "WHICH HAS NEVER BEEN WITHIN THE AREA OF MY COMMAND RESPONSIBILITY."

ON TOP OF THAT, MACARTHUR SAID THAT "MY SPECIFIC VIEWS WITH RESPECT TO THE STRATEGIC POTENTIALITIES OF THE AREA EMBRACING MY FAR EAST COMMAND ARE FULLY ON FILE WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY."

THERE WAS QUITE AN UPSURGE OF DEMAND FOR HIS RETURN AMONG SENATORS IN WASHINGTON THIS WEEK. TEN SENATORS "URGENTLY REQUESTED" SECRETARY OF DEFENSE JOHNSON TO GET MACARTHUR HOME FOR HIS VIEWS ON THE ARMS MEASURE.

SENATOR KNOWLAND (R-CALIF) INTRODUCED A RESOLUTION TO THE SAME EFFECT. PRESIDENT TRUMAN SAID YESTERDAY HE WOULD SIGN AN ORDER FOR MACARTHUR TO RETURN ANY TIME THE OCCUPATION COMMANDER WANTED TO.

NO ONE WAS PARTICULARLY SURPRISED THAT MACARTHUR DECIDED TO PUT OFF A VISIT TO THE UNITED STATES. HIS CLOSE FRIENDS PREDICTED IT WHEN THE QUESTION FIRST WAS RAISED IN WASHINGTON THIS WEEK.

MACARTHUR'S STATEMENT SAID HE WAS EAGER TO RETURN BUT "THE INTERESTS OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE BETTER SERVED BY MY REMAINING AT MY POST HERE."

THE LAST TIME MACARTHUR WAS IN THE UNITED STATES WAS IN THE SPRING OF 1937.

SEOUL, AUG12-(AP)-BRIG. GEN. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, COMMANDER OF THE U.S. MILITARY ADVISORY MISSION TO KOREA, MISLAID HIS 35-FOOT CABIN BOAT.

HA, HA, WE SWIPED IT, THE COMMUNIST RADIO IN NORTHERN KOREA CHORTLED TODAY. THAT IS, THE BOAT WENT OVER TO THE COMMUNISTS. AND WHO ARE COMMUNISTS TO LOOK A GIFT HORSE, OR BOAT, IN THE MOUTH?

ROBERTS LEFT THE BOAT IN CHARGE OF A KOREAN CREW OF THREE AT NEARBY INCHON SUNDAY. THE REDS SAY THE BOAT SAILED IN MONDAY AND SURRENDERED AT MONGGOMPORI, A PORT 10 MILES INSIDE RED TERRITORY.

THE GENERAL WAS WITH U.S. AMBASSADOR JOHN J. MUCCIO WHEN HE LEARNED ABOUT THE COMMUNIST BROADCAST.

"THAT BOAT IS AMERICAN PROPERTY," ROBERTS EXCLAIMED. "IT CARRIES MY FLAG. CAN'T WE GET IT BACK?"

WELL, THE AMBASSADOR SAID, REPRESENTATIONS CAN BE MADE THROUGH MOSCOW.

BUT DON'T HOLD YOUR BREATH UNTIL MOSCOW MAKES THE KOREAN COMRADES DISGORGE IT, GENERAL.

OF COL.JOHN C.MACARTHUR, OFFICIAL REPORT: "ONE OF THE MOST VALUABLE OFFICERS ON WHOM I RELY GREATLY X X X ." WAITT-VAUGHAN MEMO: "X X X EXTREMELY CAPABLE AND FINE FELLOW. HE IS EXTREMELY NERVOUS, X X X AND IT IS VERY DOUBTFUL WHETHER HE COULD ABSORB THE PUNISHMENT OF THE OFFICE."

BRIG.GEN.EGBERT F.BULLENE, OFFICIAL REPORT: "A HIGHLY INTELLIGENT OFFICER X X X . UOULD MAKE AN EXCELLENT DIVISION COMMANDER." WAITT-VAUGHAN MEMO: "HE HAS NO TECHNICAL TRAINING X X X . HIS HEALTH RECORD SHOULD BE LOOKED INTO." Add Washn (5 per centers) x x x finish them."

ROGERS EMPHASIZED THAT THE COMMENTS MADE BY WAITT "SHOULD NOT REFLECT" ON THE OFFICERS NAMED.

THE MEMORANDUM ON WAITT--IN WHICH HE WAS REFERRED TO HIMSELF IN THE THIRD PERSON THROUGHOUT--WAS DICTATED BY WAITT ON THE SAME DAY, ACCORDING TO MISS ORTMEYER. SHE DID NOT APPEAR TODAY; ROGERS READ TESTIMONY SHE GAVE ON JULY 7 BEFORE ARMY AND COMMITTEE INVESTIGATORS.

THIS MEMO SAID:

"GENERAL WAITT IS RECOGNIZED AS ONE OF THE LEADING AUTHORITIES IN THE WORLD ON THE SUBJECT OF TOXICOLOGICAL WARFARE. X X X

"THIS COMES, NOT BECAUSE OF HIS POSITION AS CHIEF OF THE CHEMICAL CORPS, BUT BECAUSE OF HIS LONG AND VARIED EXPERIENCE IN CHEMICAL WARFARE IN WAR AND PEACE, HIS MANY YEARS OF STUDY AND HIS PUBLICATIONS AND WRITING ON THE SUBJECT."

IT REFERRED TO THE 1946 CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRY INTO THE GARSSON CONTRACT FRAUD CASE AS THE "UNFORTUNATE GARSSON AFFAIR."

AT THE TIME, WAITT DREW OFFICIAL CRITICISM FOR HAVING SOCIAL RELATIONS WITH THE GARSSON BROTHERS. THE NEW MEMO SAID:

"THE GARSSON CASE WAS SOMETHING GENERAL WAITT INHERITED AS HE HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH PROCUREMENT OR PRODUCTION DURING THE WAR."

A14WX

WAITT'S MILITARY AND SCIENTIFIC CAREER WAS RECORDED IN APPRECIATIVE DETAIL, WINDING UP WITH THE COMMENT THAT THE "HEADS OF THE CANADIAN AND BRITISH RESEARCH STAFFS WOULD BE VERY HAPPY TO SEE GENERAL WAITT REAPPOINTED."

ROGERS SAID GENERAL WAITT, WHILE ADMITTING HE DICTATED THE MEMO IN HUNT'S OFFICE, DENIES THAT HUNT KNEW WHAT WAS IN IT. HUNT MAKES THE SAME DENIAL, HE STATED. AT THIS MUNDT OBSERVED:

"WE ARE EXPECTED TO BELIEVE THAT WAITT DICTATED FIVE PAGES OF MATERIAL IN HUNT'S OFFICE WITHOUT HUNT KNOWING ABOUT IT."

MISS ORTMEYER TESTIFIED THAT WAITT ENTERED THE OFFICE, SPOKE BRIEFLY TO HUNT, AND THEN ACCOMPANIED HER INTO ANOTHER ROOM TO GIVE THE DICTATION. ASKED WHY THE MEMO WAS MADE, SHE REPLIED:

"TO THE BEST OF MY KNOWLEDGE IT WAS INFORMATION IN WHICH GENERAL VAUGHAN WAS INTERESTED."

SHE SAID SHE TOOK THE ORIGINAL OF THE MEMO TO VAUGHAN'S OFFICE PERSONALLY BECAUSE SHE KNEW VAUGHAN "WAS IN A HURRY" FOR THE PAPERS; THAT HE HAD AN APPOINTMENT WITH WAITT AND WANTED THE INFORMATION.

THE ACTIVITIES OF HUNT, A FORMER QUARTERMASTER OFFICER AND SURPLUS DISPOSAL OFFICIAL, TOUCHED OFF THE SENATE INVESTIGATION, AN INQUIRY BY THE ARMY INSPECTOR GENERAL, AND THE RESULTANT TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF GENERALS WAITT AND FELDMAN LAST MONTH.

FELDMAN'S NAME WAS LINKED TO HUNT TODAY IN TESTIMONY BY FRANCIS D. FLANAGAN, A COMMITTEE INVESTIGATOR. HE TOLD THE SENATORS THAT DR. NORMAN ARMITAGE, VICE PRESIDENT OF THE DEERING MILLIKEN RESEARCH TRUST, GREENWICH,CONN., MADE CONTACT WITH HUNT LAST FALL AFTER HEARING THAT HUNT COULD HELP HIM OBTAIN FEDERAL RESEARCH CONTRACTS.

FLANAGAN EXHIBITED A LETTER FROM HUNT TO ARMITAGE, DATED FEB. 28, 1949. IT CONTAINED THESE SENTENCES:

"FOR YOUR INFORMATION, IT IS POSSIBLE THAT WITHIN A WEEK OR TWO OUR FRIEND GEN.FELDMAN MAY BECOME THE QUARTERMASTER GENERAL, AND THAT MOVE, IF IT OCCURS, WILL NOT HARM US IN THE LEAST.

"SO, WE HAVE OUR FINGERS CROSSED."

AUG 13 1949

ANOTHER HUNT LETTER, THREE DAYS LATER, TOLD ARMITAGE THAT GEN.WAITT SAID HE "FEELS SURE HE COULD EXPEDITE A CHEMICAL RESEARCH CONTRACT FOR THE DEERING MILLIKEN TRUST IN TWO MONTHS INSTEAD OF THE CUSTOMARY THREE OR FOUR MONTHS."

AT THAT TIME, COMMITTEE INVESTIGATORS SAID, A CONTRACT EVALUATION BOARD HAD RECOMMENDED THAT THREE OR FOUR FIRMS BE CONSIDERED FOR THE CONTRACT--BUT DEERING MILLIKEN WAS NOT ON THE LIST.

PRESIDENTIAL ASSISTANT JOHN R.STEELMAN WAS AMONG THE PERSONS TO WHOM HUNT REFERRED ARMITAGE FOR REFERENCES. STEELMAN GAVE HUNT AN "O.K.", THE SENATORS WERE TOLD.

OTHER REFERENCES HUNT GAVE INCLUDED GEN.FELDMAN, THEN DEPUTY QUARTERMASTER GENERAL; GEN.WAITT; STUART SYMINGTON, SECRETARY FOR AIR; EUGENE ZUCKERT, ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF AIR; SENATOR STYLES BRIDGES (R-NH), AND COL.PAUL YOUNG, VICE PRESIDENT OF AIR CRAFT ENGINE AND PARTS CORP.

FLANAGAN SAID ARMITAGE SOUNDED OUT SEVERAL OF THESE, THEN MADE A NOTATION THAT STEELMAN SAID HUNT WAS "O.K." ZUCKERT ALSO WAS NOTED AS GIVING APPROVAL.

ARMITAGE DID NOT SEE EITHER FELDMAN OR WAITT, BUT LATER ON FLANAGAN EXHIBITED MEMORANDA FROM HUNT'S FILES INDICATING HE HAD PERSONALLY INTRODUCED ARMITAGE TO THE TWO OFFICERS.

ONE LETTER READ INTO THE RECORD SHOWED HUNT WAS TO RECEIVE $800 A MONTH AND EXPENSES FROM THE RESEARCH TRUST, WHICH WAS IDENTIFIED AS A CHARITABLE FOUNDATION "SET UP BY TEXTILE MILLS OWNED BY DEERING MILLIKEN CORP."

IN ADDITION HUNT WAS TO RECEIVE A BONUS OF 25 PERCENT A YEAR IF HIS WORK WAS "MODESTLY" SATISFACTORY AND 50 PERCENT IF IT WAS "EXCELLENT."

SENATOR BRIDGES, LISTED BY HUNT AS ONE OF THOSE WHO COULD GIVE REFERENCES FOR HIM, TOLD REPORTERS HE KNEW HUNT ONLY AS A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE QUARTERMASTER CORPS WHO FREQUENTLY VISITED THE CAPITOL. HUNT WAS FORMERLY WITH THE QUARTERMASTER CORPS. BRIDGES SAID HE KNEW NOTHING OF HUNT'S ACTIVITIES SINCE HE LEFT THE ARMY.

NIGHT LEAD GERMAN (280)
WASHINGTON,AUG 12-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES ACTED TO STRENGTHEN THE WEST'S POSITION IN BERLIN TODAY BY MAKING THE THREE WESTERN ZONES OF THE CITY ELIGIBLE FOR MARSHALL PLAN AID.
JOHN J.MCCLOY, U.S. HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR GERMANY, ANNOUNCED THE GOVERNMENT'S DECISION AT A NEWS CONFERENCE WHICH CLIMAXED HIS TEN DAYS OF DISCUSSIONS WITH TOP ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS.
MCCLOY SAID HIS VISIT HAS CLARIFIED THE WEST BERLIN ECONOMIC PICTURE AND THAT THE ECONOMIC COOPERATION ADMINISTRATION SHORTLY WOULD ANNOUNCE DIRECT ALLOCATIONS FOR THE RUSSIAN-SURROUNDED CITY.
WESTERN BERLIN IS NOT CONSIDERED A PART OF WESTERN GERMANY AND NEVER HAS RECEIVED ANY OF THE MILLIONS THE UNITED STATES HAS POURED INTO THE WESTERN OCCUPATION ZONES TO BETTER LIVING CONDITIONS THERE.
